Augusta Topics.

[Special to the Press.]

AUGUSTA, Jan. 18.—The Governor has nominated Dr. J. Edward Dearborn of Parsonsfield, trustee of the Insane Hospital.

A large number of petitions, asking for the appointment of Col. J. W. Spaulding, as reporter of decisions, have been signed by soldiers and are to be presented to the Governor at an early day.

The Commission to examine the State treasurer's account is busily engaged and will probably complete its labors on Saturday. On Tuesday they burned $1,198,000 State of Maine cancelled bonds of the sinking fund in accordance with an act of the last legislature. None of the new three per cent bonds have been disposed of as yet. The report of the commission will show about $300,000 in cash in the hands of the treasurer January 1st.

Mr. I. B. King of Manchester, the oldest pensioner in the country, and one of the oldest in the State, died last week, aged 95 years. He was a pensioner of the war of 1812.

Good Bye, Bunker.

[Special to the Press.]

WATERVILLE, Jan. 18.—It is learned on the best of authority that this week's issue of the Waterville Democrat, of which Ben Bunker is the proprietor, will be its last, and the paper will be discontinued.

Lively Little Giants.

ROCKLAND, Jan. 18.—Some thirty-five "little giants" stored in the pump house at McLain's lime rock quarry, exploded this forenoon, blowing the building to atoms, and injuring the machinery. Alden McLain, who had charge of the pump, had just left the building. The terrific report startled the people within a radius of many miles.

A New Hotel.

BANGOR, Jan. 18.—It is understood that a new hotel will be erected in this city on the corner of Main and Middle streets, in place of the brick block at present located there. It is said the lot has been sold to a syndicate for $15,000. Mr. H. C. Chapman, proprietor of the Thorndike Hotel, Rockland, and Berry Brothers, the owners of that building, are among those interested in the new hotel.

A Wandering Ferry Boat.

BATH, Jan. 18.—Steamer Union of the People's Ferry Company, broke adrift from her landing last night and was not missed till morning. Travel between Bath and Woolwich was suspended till near noon, when the boat was found two miles above her landing by the tug Resolute, after the tug had run to the mouth of the Kennebec in fruitless search. The ferry boat received a broken rail and damaged her rudder while drifting in the river, having collided with the Knox & Lincoln ferry boat. The latter was uninjured.

LEWISTON'S MILLS.

Business Good, with Prospects Which Make Agents Hopeful.

LEWISTON, Jan. 18.—Casual talks with the mill agents and manufacturers find them hopeful. There is a good deal of life. Goods are well sold up, and the market is fairly active. Margins are small. There is strong talk of a syndicate to take hold of the Lewiston Mills. Most of the mills in these cities have paid their customary dividends this January, and some of them have increased over last year. "I think," says Mr. Jas. Dempsey of the Lewiston Bleachery, "that the condition of the market is good. It is, at least, so in our business, and the prospect is excellent for the coming year. There is not money enough in some classes of goods, but the tone of the market is satisfactory. I look for good business."

Agent Bean of the Androscoggin says that they have been having a satisfactory six months, and that the prospect is good. He thinks, however, that the tone of the market is not quite so satisfactory just at present as it has been, although he hopes for an immediate and seasonable improvement. He notes particularly the fact that the market is not nearly so lively in coarse goods.

Concerning the Androscoggin mills, it is currently said that they have attained a production fully equal to that before the reduction from 11 to 10 hours. This has been done by addition of machinery and improvement of methods. The mills are still undergoing changes and improvements in machinery and are being brought up to a high state of perfection. Spinning frames and sample looms are arriving now from the Saco Water Power Company of Biddeford. In the fine mill, the production for the week ending Jan. 14th, 1888, was 58,511 pounds. For the week ending Jan. 15th, 1887, the production was 54,935 pounds. For the week ending Dec. 31st, 1887, the production was 58,823 pounds. For the corresponding week of last year ending Jan. 1st, 1887, the production was 54,176 pounds. In the bag mill the production is about the same. For the week ending Jan 14th, 1888, the production of bags was 53,559. For the corresponding week of 1887, the production was 53,473.

MAINE SOLDIERS.

Governor Marble's Appointments.—The First General Orders of the Year.

AUGUSTA, Jan. 18.—Governor Marble has authorized the new military company recently recruited and formed in Lewiston as the Frye Light Guards, to be mustered into the Volunteer Militia in place of the Reserve Militia as first intended. Papers have been forwarded to them for this purpose.

Governor Marble having re-appointed the Staff of the late Gov. Bodwell, military commissions were made out and forwarded to each member from the Adjutant General's office, Tuesday.

The following order was issued Tuesday:

General Orders No. 1.

I. No officer of the Militia will be permitted to contract any bills, or to make any expenditures of money, on behalf of the State, for military purposes, without permission from these Headquarters, except such as trucking, expressage, freight or postage, when vouchers, receipted, for such expenditures must accompany the officer's bill for payment. Small blanks for this purpose have been prepared (Form 17½) and forwarded to company commanders, so as to preserve uniformity in form and uniformity throughout the Militia.

II. Owing to the limited appropriation for military purposes, as well as the failure to accomplish any beneficial results, paragraph II, of G. O. No. 9, series of 1885, is hereby revoked, to take effect January 1st, 1888. Officers who are entitled on duty, by proper authority, are entitled and will be allowed and paid per diem (pay and furnished transportation, but are not entitled and will not be allowed hotel or other expenses in addition to the per diem pay.

III. Upon the recommendation of the Colonel Commanding 2d Regiment (M. V. M., and in accordance with the Militia Law, Company "B," 2d Regiment (know as the "Hersey Light Infantry," Oldtown,) having fallen below the standard of efficiency for their retention in the service is hereby disbanded, and the enlisted men of said company are hereby honorably discharged from the Military service of the State.

IV. The commanding officer of 2d Regiment will detail an officer who will proceed to Oldtown under instructions from the Quartermaster General, and take charge of all military property in possession of said company and turn the same over to the Arsenal keeper at Bangor. Captain R. H. Wing and Lieut. Emmland will assist the officer so detailed, in collecting and turning over the stores.

V. Company commanders will collect and be ready to forward immediately, upon the receipt of the Cork Helmets, by freight to these Headquarters, with invoice, all the old coats, trousers, blouses and helmets charged against them and for which they are accountable.

Company Commanders will make requisition at their earliest convenience for the number of blouses required by their commands (not to exceed fifty), with size according to numbers.

ANOTHER LOST.

A Thomaston Ship, Loaded with Petroleum, Burned at Sea.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—A telegram from Sydney, New South Wales, states that the American ship, J. T. Berry, was burned at sea Jan. 9th, in lat, 34° south, long. 164° east. Fourteen persons are known to have been saved, and one boat, with 11 persons on board, is missing. Part of the crew and passengers have been landed at Nambuccra.

The J. T. Berry was a full-rigged ship of 1420 tons, and belonged in Thomaston, Me. She was commanded by Capt. Watts. She sailed from Philadelphia for Hiogo, Japan, Oct. 3d, and carried a cargo of refined petroleum.

ROBBED BY HIS GUARDIANS.

A Demented Veteran Deprived of $6000 Pension Money.

FOXBORO, Mass., Jan. 18.—Investigation by a special pension commissioner show that Dwight A. Barrett of East Foxboro, Mass., a veteran, has been robbed of about $6000 pension money by his guardians. Barrett has a head trouble which makes him irresponsible. The pension office records show that $6942 has been drawn on Barrett's account. His first guardian was his sister, Elizabeth S. Barrett, who drew $72 a month in his name for several years and also $1000 back pension, telling Barrett he was allowed only $8 a month. She was removed from her guardianship in 1884, up to which time it is supposed she got $3918 of Barrett's money. Charles Abbott of Malden, the guardian since 1884, is believed to have stolen $2592 of Barrett's money, having paid Barrett and his wife only $35.98. The latter have lived in poverty all these years.

A Veteran Clergyman.

LOWELL, Mass., Jan. 18.—The Rev. Jonathan Woodman died tonight in North Tewksbury, aged 89 years. He was one of the fathers of the Free Will Baptist denomination, and worked zealously for over seventy years in its behalf. His first pastorate, and last, was Sutton, Vt. He preached there thirty years. He also held pastorates at Lawrence, Lowell and various places in New Hampshire and Vermont.

MAINE FARMERS.

Board of Agriculture and Grangers' Committee at Augusta.

Mr. Harris Thinks Lively Discussions Better than Prosy Papers.

Both Organizations Ask for Money for the Experiment Station.

[Special to the Press.]

AUGUSTA, Jan. 18.—The Maine Board of Agriculture convened its annual meeting at the State House today, at 10.30 a. m., every member being present but Mr. Pike of Oxford county. The meeting was called to order by Vice President Burr, who read the call for the meeting, after which the member for Lincoln moved that the following committee on credentials be appointed: E. W. Stetson, E. J. Gilkey, and Thomas Daggett.

B. A. Burr of Bangor was elected president of the Board, and A. O. Pike of Fryeburg vice president.

Secretary Gilbert made a statement of the work of the Board for the past year, especially in holding institutes. During the fall and winter, 22 institutes were held, and four more have been arranged for. The appropriation for institutes, $1400, has been entirely expended.

Mr. W. W. Harris stated that, while he was in favor of a certain amount of addresses and lectures, he would have these prosy, long papers cut down, and discussion substituted.

The Secretary stated that many members of the legislature had not called for the agricultural reports, to which they were entitled, and there would be extra volumes which the members of the Board could have for distribution.

President Fernald, of the State College, referred to the failure of the appropriation in the Hatch bill, so-called, and said the Secretary of the Treasury had entered the needed appropriation in the urgency deficiency bill.

The following resolution, offered by Prof. M. C. Fernald, was then passed by the Board and telegraphed to Major Alvord at Washington:

That the Maine Board of Agriculture, recognizing the great importance to the agriculture of our country of the experiment work and investigations to be carried on by the experiment stations, organized under the Hatch bill, respectfully urges an immediate appropriation by Congress for this specific purpose.

The Grangers.

The executive committee of the Maine State Grange continues in session today. Gov. Robie arrived this morning. The committee have been looking over the ground in the State, and find there is a large number of agricultural towns that have heretofore been dormant in Grange work that are becoming interested, and there is reasonable prospect that a large number of new granges will be organized at once, and especially in Cumberland county, where there are but few granges compared with the farming population. An endeavor will be made to add to the strength of the order. Special agents have been appointed to look out for the interests of the grange in each county, and it is expected the order will make a larger increase this year than ever before. The finances of the Grange are found to be in an excellent condition, and the general interest was never better.

The following despatch was adopted, and forwarded to Washington:

AUGUSTA, Jan. 18, 1888.

Gen. W. H. Hatch, M. C., and Maj. H. E. Alvord, Washington, D. C.:

The executive committee of the Maine State Grange, in session, representing over 15,000 patrons, would respectfully and earnestly request that immediate action be taken for the passage of an unconditional appropriation for the experiment station, under the Hatch bill.

PENNSYLVANIA WORKINGMEN.

The State of Their Troubles in the Mining Districts.

READING, Penn., Jan. 18.—The framing of a memorial to President Corbin, of the Reading railroad is about to be followed by a public meeting to be held shortly for the purpose of giving additional force to the action of the city authorities. The general sentiment here is in favor of an amicable adjustment of the strike by the adoption of conciliatory methods on both sides. It is feared that unless this is done soon there will be no possibility of settling the strike for weeks to come. There are some business men who still think that arbitration is the way out of the difficulty, and it is believed that this could be secured if the miners would cut loose from the railway hands. This is how ever, improbable at present.

Various suggestions are being made, but that which seems to be viewed with most favor is that all other issues be dropped, and the miners and railroad company come to a decision as to what would be a fair adjustment of wages. The question of reinstating the discharged trainmen, it is claimed, can be disposed of afterwards.

No coal has been mined this week for shipment. The small quantities being carried are for the company's locomotives. Coal trains now consist of 12 to 14 cars; heretofore they have numbered from 140 to 150 cars. The trains are about to be lengthened, however, on account of the large number of locomotives that have been withdrawn from the road for repairs.

Viewed With Alarm.

The fact that both the Lehigh Valley and Reading miners are out is viewed with great alarm. This is the first time in the history of the coal regions that both districts were idle at the same time. Efforts are being made to secure non-union labor to run some of the mines, but it is not believed that this will prove successful. Agents of some of the individual collieries visited the iron ore district along the East Pennsylvania railroad this week for the purpose of hiring some of the miners who have been thrown out of employment by the suspension of operations at the ore mines, but they were unsuccessful. These miners have been receiving the miserable pittance of 65 to 90 cents per day, and their work has been of the most dangerous character. Now that they are unemployed, on account of the blowing out of the furnaces having cut off the demand for ore, their children are crying for bread. They were offered $2.50 to $2.65 per day to work in the coal mines, but refused. They are principally Pennsylvania Germans and allege as the reason for their refusal that they are afraid of being boycotted by the Irish and Welsh miners of the coal regions. The assurances of protection that were given them had no effect.

The coal yards in this city are almost depleted, and the retail dealers say it is next to impossible to obtain domestic sizes; that the agents of the furnaces in the Schuylkill valley are buying up all the coal, and the operators prefer to sell to them, because they save the cost of breaking it. All coal for household purposes now comes from the Wyoming region, and New York prices are charged the retail dealers of this section.

The fires in the Chestnut Hill furnaces at Columbia were banked today because the coal gave out. The mines in Maryland from which the ore was obtained have also stopped. This throws out several hundred hands. The fires in the Condella furnace, near Columbia, were also banked. Crowds of Hungarians and Italians pass through Reading nearly every day from the coal regions. They are among the most enthusiastic strikers. Seeing no prospect of work ahead in the Schuylkill regions they are leaving for their native land or other sections of the country.

WESTCHESTER, Pa., Jan. 18.—There is great suffering among the families of the idle iron workers at Coalville. The mills have not been running since the inauguration of the miners' strike.

A General Advance.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 18.—The Pennsylvania railroad has determined upon a general advance of wages on its lines west of this city. Hence there will be no strike. All the concessions asked for will be granted, even on the closed lines.

OUR SHIPPING INTERESTS.

Resolutions Adopted by the League in Session at Washington.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—The American Shipping and Industrial League today elected its officers. Gen. Joseph Wheeler of Alabama, was elected president with a vice president from each State and Territory represented.

This afternoon Admiral Porter and Gen. Imbden of Virginia, addressed the convention. Resolutions were adopted declaring that American shipping demands prompt and efficient measures for its restoration and recommending a bill to Congress authorizing the payment to any vessel, sail or steam, wholly owned or in the United States, and engaged in the foreign trade, of 30 cents per registered ton, for each thousand miles and pro rata, sailed between this and foreign countries, the United States hydraulic office to furnish the measurements and the payments to be made on the arrival of the vessel at a port of entry in the United States. The payment, at the rate of 30 cents per ton for each thousand miles sailed, is to continue for ten years and thereafter for nine years at a reduction of three cents per ton each year, upon each thousand miles sailed and pro rata, for any less distance travelled. The convention urges upon Congress the necessity for immediate provision for the defense of the coast and the ports on the lakes as well as the rebuilding and equipment of a strong and efficient navy, and adequate and progressive provision for the improvement of the harbors and rivers of the whole country, concurrently with the restoration and development of ocean commerce. It was also resolved:

That the United States mails ought to be carried between this and foreign countries in American ships, under our own flag as soon as practicable and consistent with certainty and celerity, and for such service the government ought to pay just and adequate compensation, regardless of the price at which other nations are willing to pay for this foreign service.

That the vast present and prospective manufacturing and commercial interests of the country entitles them to a foreign mail service, the promptness, celerity and certainty of which shall be insured in peace or war. The National patriotism, National pride and National ambition to extend our influence, our commerce and our markets throughout the world.

That such a service can only be relied upon in peace and war from American hands warmed by American hearts and under the American flag.

The convention adjourned sine die.

Randall's Man Beaten.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 18.—At a meeting of the Democratic State Central Committee this afternoon, Dallas Sanders, of Philadelphia, the candidate of Congressman Randall, was defeated for chairman by Elliot P. Kisner, of Luzerne county, put forward by Congressman Scott. The vote was: Kisner, 42; Sanders, 35. Robert E. Wright offered a resolution which was adopted, emphatically endorsing President Cleveland's administration and the line of policy laid down in his last message, and urging his reelection.

Shipwrecked Sailors Refused Shelter

NEW HAVEN, Jan. 18.—The three-masted schooner Ida A. Latham, Capt. Thatcher, Boston for New York light, anchored inside the breakwater last night to ride out the gale. She drifted on the rocks below Merwin's point and the crew reached the shore only after a hard struggle. They were refused shelter at a farm house and unceremoniously consigned to the barn, where they remained, suffering terribly from the cold. The schooner drifted away. The crew have been cared for at the Sailors' Home.

Warren weighs 1075 pounds and stands 15½ hands high. The breeding of the horse is very fine, as will be noticed while he is so powerfully built, smooth and sound that he seems capable of great speed. Herald, the sire of Gen. Warren, is a horse of grand size, standing 16½ hands high, and is now kept for stock purposes in Iowa. He received first premium in his class at the New England Fairs in 1874 and 1875, where he was entered under the name of Graphic, and at the Centennial in 1876 was awarded first premium for the two-year-old trotting stallion. The dam of Herald, Kitty Clyde, was sold for $1000 at auction a few years ago.

YORK COUNTY.

A petition is being circulated under the direction of the Biddeford Board of Trade asking Congress to appropriate $150,000 in accordance with the recommendation of Major J. A. Smith of the United States Corps of Engineers, for the improvement of the Saco river. The Board of Trade has collected statistics showing the amount of business done in Biddeford and Saco and these statistics, together with the resolutions passed by the Board, and the petition will shortly be forwarded to Congressman Reed who will present the matter in Washington.

Captain Edmund A. Dixon died in Eliot January 13. In the war he raised and commanded Company G., 27th Maine Regiment. After his return from the war he moved to Brighton, Mass. For the past two years he has been an invalid. He died at the old homestead, now owned and occupied by his only brother, Major Oliver Dixon. He leaves three married daughters.

IN GENERAL.

Warden Bean of the Maine State Prison, informed a reporter that he had gone over one hundred names of prisoners to ascertain what proportion of them drank liquors and to what extent, and found it to be as follows: Number who never drank, 49; number who drank some occasionally, 34; immoderate drinkers, 17.

A sea captain has been found who has a good word to say for that most mischievous of mollusks the teredo. The good sailor-man tells the San Francisco Bulletin that the teredo will make mincemeat of the great derelict raft floating about in the Atlantic Ocean. The Thoebe-Carlisle Contest.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—The views of the minority of the elections committee on the Thoebe-Carlisle contested election case were presented to the House this morning by Mr. Lyman of Iowa. The report says that had the case been submitted to the committee on the record, as made at the beginning of the present session, the vote would have been unanimous for the resolutions as adopted by the majority, but, at the first meeting of the committee, the contestant made a strong ex-parte showing by affidavits and otherwise in support of the motion to re-open the case. The minority feels that a case involving such grave charges of fraud should not be settled in a hasty, off hand manner, by the mere presentation of ex-parte affidavits and urged a fitting investigation of the case. Failing in this, it was unable to vote as it would have been glad to do in favor of sitting the members. It believes that a reasonable showing having been made by the contestant, he should in all justice and fair dealing be allowed to establish, by legal, competent evidence, if he can, the allegations of fraud made by him.

The report is signed by Messrs. Lyman, Lodge, Hank and Johnston of Indiana.

Mr. Rowell in a supplementary report states that he concurs in the majority report, only dessenting from the practice of trying desputed questions of fact upon ex-parte testimony.

Justice Lamar in Court.

The Supreme Court of the United States sits with a full bench to-day for the first time since May 4, 1885. The judicial oath was administered to Mr. Lamar in public immediately after to-day's session opened and he took his seat in the chair of the junior justice at the extreme left of the bench.

Watching Congress.

The National Tobacco Association met today and decided that, as the views of Congress and its probable action on the tobacco tax are undeveloped and uncertain, to do nothing in the matter at present. A committee was appointed to watch the action of Congress on the tax.

National Board of Trade.

The National Board of Trade opened its annual convention this noon and selected Frederick Fraley of Philadelphia as president and Hamilton A. Hill of Boston as secretary. Resolutions were adopted reaffirming the board's action regarding the necessity of a judicious national anti-adulteration law, petitioning Congress to enact a law providing that all packages containing impure or spurious lard be so labeled as to avoid deception, declaring that, in view of the large amount of traffic passing through Long Island Sound, adequate fortifications should be placed at its eastern entrance, advocating the enlargement of the shipyards of the coast and harbor defences, and favoring the improvement of navigable rivers and harbors by appropriations for the removal of obstructions to be made from time to time with a view to define the jurisdiction of the United States over them so that provision may be made by law to prevent obstructions therein.

Maine Custom Houses.

The Secretary of the Treasury has again modified his order relative to the force in Maine custon houses, so as to give two deputies in the Wiscasset District, one at Wiscasset and another at Boothbay, dropping the inspector at the latter place. In the Waldoboro District he gives four deputies and no other officers, and accompanies the order with directions to the collector to maintain customs facilities at Thomaston, St. George and Damariscotta as well as at Rockland and Waldoboro. The collector says it is impossible to keep all these offices open without two more men.

In the Belfast District the Secretary gives a deputy at Belst, one at Rockport, one at Vinalhaven (salary $100) and one at North Haven (salary $150.) No deputy is allowed at Camden. The order was, however, amended so as to direct the collector to maintain customs facilities at Camden. The deputy was stationed at Rockport and the records transferred there at the request of the collector.

Bureau of Animal Industry.

Dr. Salmon, Chief of the Government Bureau of Animal Industry, who figured in the Maine discussion about tuberculosis in cattle, last winter, has an unpleasant affair on his hands. Charges of a most serious character have been preferred before the Senate committee on agriculture against the management of this bureau by a committee of the Live Stock Commission of Illinois. The charges are that until last April Dr. Salmon was representative in Chicago was an inebriate who was then removed and made chief inspector at Baltimore; that this man, who is named Brumlow, had tried to force pleuro-pneumonia into the stock yards; that the inspectors were incompetent, and that Dr. Salmon had failed to do his duty in the matter. It is hoped the charges can be refuted.

4th CONGRESS--FIRST SESSION.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.

Among the bills introduced and referred was one by Mr. Hoar, fixing the salaries of justices of the United States District Court at $5000.

The resolution offered on Tuesday by Mr. Hale, calling on the Attorney General for information as to the appointment of Chas. R. Westbrook as assistant to the district attorney of New York was taken up and passed.

The morning business being finished, the bill for refunding the direct tax of 1861 was taken up. Senator Chandler's motion to recommit was rejected, and an amendment by Senator Edmunds, requiring all claims to be filed within six years, was agreed to. Several amendments of a verbal character were also agreed to.

Senator Vance offered an amendment extending the provisions of the bill to the cotton tax collected under the law of 1862, and subsequent laws. He said that if the direct tax was refunded, the cotton tax, also a direct tax, ought to be refunded. It was equally a hardship. Senators George and Barry advocated the amendment, and Senator Brown believed the cotton tax should be refunded. He said that whenever that question came up in such a shape that he could properly vote for it, he would do so; but the adoption of the cotton tax amendment would, he was convinced, defeat the pending measure, which ought to pass. He therefore should vote against the amendment.

Senator Morgan concurred with Senator Brown.

Senator Sherman believed that the cotton tax of from $60,000,000 to $80,000,000 had been right and just, and was ready to defend that position whenever it was assailed. If the amendment was adopted he would oppose the whole bill.

Senator Call, while advocating the amendment, opposed the whole bill.

Senator Beck favored the bill as a measure of justice but argued that it should not be encumbered with anything else.

Senatoor Voorhees also thought the amendment would defeat the bill.

Senator Hampton was excused from voting on the amendment because he was directly interested.

The amendment was rejected, 16 to 46.

Senator Chandler offered an amendment restricting the term of the first section to moneys paid by the State treasuries, and inserting in the third section a provision for the return to individuals of sums paid by them. Rejected, 10 to 48.

The bill was then passed, 48 to 10.

The bill directs the Secretary of the Treasury to credit each State and Territory and the District of Columbia with a sum equal to all the collections made therefrom, or from citizens, as inhabitants thereof, or other persons, under the first tax act of August 5, 1861, and remits all moneys still due to the United States under such act. It appropriates the amount necessary for the

We do not read anonymous letters and communications. The name and address of the writer are in all cases indispensable, not necessarily for publication but as a guarantee of good faith.

We cannot undertake to return or preserve communications that are not used.

Bath business men are evidently quick to wrath and Bath doctors are very forgiving.

The House appears to be doing nothing, and to be spending a good deal of breath to do it.

Judge John Lawrence, who administered the oath of office to Don Dickinson, has sworn in twenty-four Postmaster Generals. It is a pity he cannot swear out one Attorney General who is just now known of.

Another hot temperance fight is coming on. The people of St. Louis are soon to vote under the local option law of Missouri for rum or no rum. A hot fight is inevitable because, as they put it, there are "lots of Germans and lots of beer."

Prince Ferdinand tells the Bulgarians that he is ready to die in their defence. But how many Bulgarians are ready to die in the Prince's defence. The Prince should ascertain this before presuming to defy the powers too far.

Democratic office seekers are up and arming. The late Deputy Collector Cromwell's funeral has not yet taken place, nevertheless several Democratic patriots are already "working" for the place he leaves vacant. Mr. Benjamin Bunker is said to be one of them, and the potent Chairman Brown is backing him.

The Legislature of Washington Territory has re-enacted the woman suffrage law, but with the provision that women shall not do duty as jurors. The excuse probably was that "hanging out" for a verdict is too arduous duty for the women. There are some people however, who are unkind enough to say that Washington Territory legislators were very anxious to excuse women from jury duty because a woman juror is sure every time to use her influence against the liquor and other immoral interests.

The first meeting of York county Democrats to take measures to start a Democratic daily in Biddeford did not pan out very well. Most of the gentlemen expected were not present. Another attempt is to be made next Monday. The plan is to buy out the Maine Sentinel and convert it into a daily. The gentlemen interested can rest assured that it will be much easier to start a paper than to continue it after it is started. Democrats who can read English are not over and above plenty in Biddeford.

The shipping men in convention at Washington make out a strong case, but it is a case, we fear, that will get little sympathy from the Democratic majority in the House. The free traders who constitute the bulk of that majority believe in free ships, a policy that would probably do little for our merchant marine but would entirely extinguish the ship building industry. Some of the treasury surplus might be profitably devoted to fostering our shipping, but the diversion of any of it in that direction would weaken the free traders' excuse for their contemplated raid on the protective tariff, and for that reason, if for no other, they will be set against it.

The investigation into the accident at Haverhill so far as it has proceeded seems to show that the speed at which it has been the custom to run trains at the point where the disaster occurred was too great. There is always a tendency, of course, when going around a curve for the trucks to slide off the track, and of course the strain on the flanges of the wheels is increased. It unfortunately happened that a flange of one of the wheels of the fated train was weak and not able to bear the increased strain. The train slipped from the track, and its high momentum forced it into the water tank with tremendous force. Perhaps a more reasonable rate of speed would not have prevented the accident, but it would certainly have made it less destructive to life and property.

The St. John Globe has summed up briefly and forcibly the position in which Canada now finds herself in the fisheries dispute. "We warned, ordered off, seized," says the Globe; "we gave opportunities to fishermen to tell of occurrences, often no doubt in an exaggerated manner that gave a high official in the Cabinet of the United States some justification for describing our practices as 'brutal.' By the most strict and illiberal interpretation of a document 70 years old we went back to a past age to find ground for commercial restrictions entirely at variance with the spirit of to-day; and we left ourselves without a friend in the Senate or in the House of Representatives at Washington by our extreme courses; and the consequence has been that the government of the United States is compelled, in defense of the national honor, to refuse to allow the nation to be forced into making any monetary or commercial concessions to us." This frank statement has drawn down on the head of its author the maledictions of the Tory papers of Canada, to whom the truth is not pleasant just now. But any impartial observer will tell them that it is the truth. Perhaps even Mr. Joseph Chamberlain would tell them so if he should speak his mind.

In 1886 the Legislature of New York appointed a commission composed of Elbridge T. Gerry, Alfred P. Southwick and Matthew Hall to investigate and report upon the most humane and practical method of executing the death penalty. The commission have spent a year in the work and their investigation has been very thorough. Their report was made to the Legislature on Monday. It first gives a historical survey of the means employed by civilized nations to inflict the death penalty. When the chief idea in inflicting punishment was to wreak vengeance upon the culprit the mode was generally cruel, and the ingenuity of man was taxed to invent barbarous punishments. As this idea began to pass away and the protection of society and the reformation of the criminal began to assume prominence the cruel features of punishment began to disappear, till to-day the whole civilized world agrees that the most humane and painless method of inflicting the death penalty is the best method. The commission dismiss a number of methods that have been in vogue in the past as entirely out of the question because of their cruelty The guillotine is condemned because it is too bloody and too intimately associated with the scenes of the French Revolution. The garrote is condemned, because it frequently fails to work well and inflict needless pain. Shooting is objected to as uncertain and because its tendency would be to familiarize the public with the fatal use of fire arms. Hanging is also condemned, because of its cruel character, its liability to accidents, and the popular prejudice against it. The commission has received a great many suggestions as to the best substitute for the present method and a great many devices which their inventors are ready to warrant to produce instantaneous and painless death have been described to them. All things considered the commission believe that electricity supplies the best practical and humane method of inflicting the death penalty. The merits claimed for it are that death is instantaneous and painless; that there is practically no risk of accident; and that it is always certain. The commission recommends that a chair with a head and foot-rest should be used, in which the condemned man could be seated in a half-reclining position. One wire could be connected with the head-rest and the other with the foot-rest, which would be a metal plate. The electric current could be supplied by electric light wires. An independent line from the electric light plant could be constructed if desired. The cost would be nominal. Circulars were sent by the commissioners to supreme court judges county judges, district attorneys and sheriffs throughout the State asking opinions on modes of executing criminals. Out of 200 replies 80 favored hanging, and the remainder were in favor of a change. Eighty-seven were in favor of electricity, 8 preferred prison, 5 wanted the guillotine, 4 asked for the garrote, 7 desired other methods, and 8 would not commit themselves.

THE GILA MONSTER.

A Naturlist's Experience with the Vinagroom and Gr -E ting Turtle.

G. W. Dunn, the queer old white-haired naturalist whose rooms at the American Exchange Hotel form the oddest museum of animal life perhaps on the continent, leaves in a day or two for Cape St. Lucas to gather together a line of animal life hitherto unknown to scientists. Hundreds of people have in the last few weeks called and peeped into the old naturalist's strange collection. There the most horrible reptiles, tarantulas, poisonous scorpions and the most deadly insects from the burning climes of the South are to be found.

"Since the world began," said the gray-haired enthusiast last night, "there hasn't been but one naturalist at Cape St. Lucas and that was thirty years ago. It is a new land, but I know there are some strange things to be got down there that will startle even the scientists. For twenty years I have been travelling up and down the country, across the deserts and in the mountains, getting these strange specimens of animal life. And among the oddest in all my experience is the Gila monster. Now, to this day, many people think there is no such thing as a Gila monster. And yet, throughout the Colorado desert, especially along the Gila river, you may encounter thousands. On the contrary, too, you may scarcely see one. The Gila monster (Heloderma horidium) is almost as thick as your leg and about eighteen or twenty inches long. It has a head which is pretty near all mouth, and open clear back to its ears. The head is about as big as half of a cigar-box, set with little, vicious eyes, and the mouth is powerfully muscled and set with four sharp fangs and a lot of grinders. The color of the monster is reddish with brown spots. It has a blunt tail, as nearly all poisonous lizards have. I found these monsters living in the hot sand. They are are not good to fool with, and a man who is in the Gila monster business must know what he is about. One day last June I pulled up from the hot desert to a little ranch on the Colorado river. The man who owned the place had a pet Gila monster which he kept in a barrel. He stooped down to get him out to show him to me and some friends of his who were there, and the monster shut down on his thumb. He gripped it so tight that his jaws had to be pried open with an iron bar The man only lived a few hours and died in terrible spasms. Another man bitten while I was down there has ever since been paralyzed in the side. Hardly anybody ever gets over a bite from this terrible animal. Now a tarantula makes a bad sore, but it doesn't kill a man. I have got awake frequently in the morning, while camping out, and found tarantulas curled up on the edge of my blanket. They do that to keep warm but if you are careful about disturbing them they won't bite you.

"The horrible reptile called the vinagroom by the Mexicaus, and meaning "smelling like vinegar,' ranks next to the Gila monster in vicious and poisonous characteristics. The vinagroom (thelephonus excubitor) is found in the Oregon Mountains. There is nothing like it but itself. It is a kind of compound of scorpion, lobster and three or four kindred animals. It is four or five inches long, with long, stout claws, and is of a mottled brown color.

"Talking about strange features of animal life, we have on the Mojave desert a turtle that eats grass. It lives in holes in the sand which it makes to escape the intense heat of the sun. You may take a stick and get them out. They are the Xerobates Agassizii, just lately named for the great naturalist, a very pretty turtle that gets on good feeding to be about ten inches long and to weigh six to eight pounds. A woman down on the desert last summer where I was had eight or ten of them in an open pen, which she was fattening to eat. They ate grass like horses. When these turtles get fat, as they quickly do on the grass, they beat all the frogs or roast turkeys you ever ate. An ordinary one of these turtles is worth $3 or $4."

Mr. Dunn has been collecting for the California State University, but for years past he has travelled thousands of miles for the Smithsonian Institution, and he has also furnished Harvard and Yale and the older institutions of Europe with rare specimens.

PERSONAL AND PECULIAR.

The Castle of Chillon is to be thoroughly restored by the Swiss government and made a national museum.

Miss Louisa Corbin of New York is about to enter the English aristocracy as a bride of Mr. Horace Walpole, nephew and heir of Lord Orford. The English papers say that "the lady has great expectations."

Word comes from Europe that Mr. Willie Vanderbilt paid Coquelin, the actor of the Comedie Francaise, $3,000 to play before himself and Mrs. Vanderbilt on board their yacht, the Alva, at Constantinople.

Lord Dufferin, viceroy of India, showed a delegation of Mohammedans at Kurrachee recently why men of their religion were not given a greater share in government. To gain more influence in the affairs of the empire, he told them, they must have a higher standard of education. And before the viceroy left Kurrachee he laid the cornerstones of two important schools.

A recent law in Michigan commands each town to provide itself with a seal with which to seal election returns. The folks in the township of Star being frugal, told a local carver to cut the word "Star" upon the end of a stick. The artist was not quite up to the work of cutting the letters so they would appear properly on the seal, and that's the reason the recent local option returns from Star were sealed with "rats."

With characteristic indifference to the fame of everything and everybody not belonging to the Occident, a Western newspaper speaks of Edward Everett as "a somewhat prominent in this country at one time." The New York Ledger is happy since it has learned that the orator, statesman, President of Harvard, Governor of Massachusetts, Minister to England, United States Senator and Secretary of State is not entirely forgotten.

It is Absurd

For people to expect a cure for Indigestion, unless they refrain from eating what is unwholesome; but if anything will sharpen the appetite and give tone to the digestive organs, it is Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Thousands all over the land testify to the merits of this medicine.

Mrs. Sarah Burroughs, of 248 Eighth street, South Boston, writes: "My husband has taken Ayer's Sarsaparilla, for Dyspepsia and torpid liver, and has been greatly benefited."

A Confirmed Dyspeptic.

C. Canterbury, of 141 Franklin st., Boston, Mass., writes, that, suffering for years from Indigestion, he was at last induced to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla and, by its use, was entirely cured.

Mrs. Joseph Aubin, of High street, Holyoke, Mass., suffered for over a year from Dyspepsia, so that she could not eat substantial food, became very weak, and was unable to care for her family. Neither the medicines prescribed by physicians, nor any of the remedies advertised for the cure of Dyspepsia, helped her, until she commenced the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. "Three bottles of this medicine," she writes, "cured me."

WIT AND WISDOM.

Life is like a harness. There are traces of care, lines of trouble, bits of good fortune, breeches of good manners, bridled tongues, and everybody has a tug to pull through.

WHY do mothers and wives risk their domestic happiness and their children's future health by using cheap and unwholesome Flavoring Extracts, when they can buy and insist upon having Burnett's?

Little Bessie—Papa, I do hate to hear your pen scratch!

Father—It is the paper, dear.

Bessie—Well, papa, can't you get some paper that doesn't itch so bad?"

My friend, look here! you know how weak and nervous your wife is, and you know that Carter's Iron Pills will relieve her, now why not be fair about it and buy her a box?

The Texas Tribune says:—"The late atmospheric freshness has brought on many cases of cough and cold, and Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup is in great demand."

"What sound did ever heal but by degrees?" The thousand cases daily cured by Salvation Oil.

Miss Browning (of Boston)—Mr. Berrill, do you believe that a rose by any other name would smell as sweet?

Mr. Berrill (of Chicago)—It would to me.

Miss B. (innocently)—Why?

Mr. B. (miserably)—Because I have hay fever.

If you are nervous or dyspeptic try Carter's Little Nerve Pills. Dyspepsia makes you nervous, and nervousness makes you dyspeptic: either one renders you miserable, and these little pills cure both.

Conversation between a traveller and a lad of six or seven:

Traveller—Your grandfather seems very old. Do you know what his age is?

Boy—Not exactly, sir; but I'm sure he can't be very young. He's always been about the house as long as I can remember!

"The Table Robs more than the Thief"; Over-indulgence at the table robs many a one of good health, and without health life is not worth living. Little Hop Pills always cure such excesses and regulate the liver. All druggists sell them. Try. Judge.

English as she is wrote in Sweden.

The following note has been received at this office:

"Please send me by return of post the numbers which contain critiques over the little pianist Josef Hofmann. The payment shall I transmit instantly I say the amount."

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Country minister—Don't you know, little boy that it is wrong to fish on Sunday? Why don't you go home?

Little boy—I'm afraid to.

Country minister—Your father will punish you, will he?

Little boy—Yes, sir, if I don't bring home more fish than I've ketched so far.

The second tourist party for the Southern States and Mexico will leave Boston, Monday, March 12. This will be the last excursion of the season, and the entire trip will occupy only forty-seven days. The route through the South and Mexico is precisely the same as in the first grand tour, but California is not included. The entire journey will be made in the magnificent train of vestibuled Pullman palace cars recently constructed for the use of the firm, and which includes, in addition to luxurious sleeping cars, a dining car, barber's shop, bathroom, library, etc. Descriptive circulars may be obtained of W. Raymond, 296 Washington street, opposite School street. An advertisement in another column gives the dates of other excursions during February and the spring months, to California, Washington, etc., regarding which circulars may also be had. DON'T let that cold of yours run on. You think it is a light thing. But it may run into catarrh. Or into pneumonia. Or consumption.

Catarrh is disgusting. Pneumonia is dangerous. Consumption is death itself.

The breathing apparatus must be be kept healthy and clear of all obstructions and offensive matter. Otherwise there's trouble ahead.

All the diseases of the nose, parts, head, nose, throat, bronchial tubes and lungs, can be delightfully and entirely cured by the use of Boschee's German Syrup. CUMBERLAND COUNTY.

Chas. S. Deake, applt., from decree of Judge of Probate.

Rescript by Virgin, J.—Stat. 1887, c. 108, which provides that where an original will is produced for probate, the time during which it has been lost, suppressed, concealed or carried out of the State, shall not be taken as part of the limitation provided in R. S. c. 64, sec. 1, does not affect a pending case.

When a will has been fraudulently concealed by any person interested in its non-production, the statute bar of twenty years provided in R. S. c. 64, sec. 1, does not begin to run until the will is discovered.

Case remanded to Probate Court for the parties to try the question, whether or not the will of Benj. Deake was fraudulently concealed, to be heard on such testimony as the parties may severally adduce.

SUPERIOR COURT.

BEFORE JUDGE BONNEY.

WEDNESDAY.—State vs. Kate Flaherty. Indicted for keeping and maintaining a liquor nuisance at her dwelling house on Centre street. A woman testified to the purchase of four drinks of whiskey of the respondent on the afternoon of the 29th of December, and that on her attempting to go home she was so intoxicated the police arrested her and took her to the station. Her little boy, eight years of age, testified that he was with his mother, saw the purchase of the liquor and that his mother got none anywhere else that day.

The defendant, her husband and two daughters each testified that they were present at the time, and the woman was intoxicated when she came in and that no liquor was purchased, sold or given away in the house, and had not been for nearly two years. The jury went out at 11 o'clock, and at the adjournment of court at night had not agreed.

G. M. Seiders, county attorney.
D. A. Meaher.

BRIEF JOTTINGS.

Yesterday was fitful enough. Snow storm, sunshine, mild weather and cold weather.

The noon trains were forty-five minutes late yesterday on account of the storm.

The Masonic Token has been received from the press of Stephen Berry.

A fire alarm telegraph pole has been set at the corner of Brackett and Pine streets.

The Samaritan Association will meet this afternoon at Mrs. Lovelt's, No. 16 Wilmot street.

The winter trade in flowers is surprisingly large. One day last week one of our florists sold $150 worth of funeral designs.

Two blue birds were seen and heard twittering on a tree yesterday morning in the midst of the storm.

The meeting of the Ocean Insurance Company, called for yesterday, was adjourned one week without transacting any business.

There were heavy snow slides from the buildings in many parts of the city yesterday, and several persons narrowly escaped injury from the falling masses.

Isn't it about time the proprietors of Park street church had the sidewalks about that property properly cleared a reasonable time after a snow storm.

All the young people will be delighted to hear that the Dirigo Boat Club are to give a dance in City Hall, Wednesday evening, January 25th.

Tickets should now be secured for Mrs. John A. Bellows's course of readings from the modern English poets, the first on Tennyson, to be given at 96 Park street at 4 p. m. tomorrow.

Conductor Evans's train that left Gorham, N. H., on the Grand Trunk, at 4.25 yesterday morning, was delayed forty minutes at Lewiston Junction by a snow plow going off the track.

The Portland Stone Ware Company is changing its furnaces preparatory to burning petroleum instead of coal in firing its kilns, thereby effecting a considerable saving in fuel.

A fire in the sawdust which is laid under the top floor of the Pullman car Kennebec, which runs from Portland to Boston, was detected by Conductor Thomas and extinguished by the train men before serious injury was done.

Speaking of intelligent dogs, that of Wm. H. Baxter of Woodford's acts as a newspaper carrier. He tends out for the horse car from the city, never mistaking the right trip, picks up the newspaper thrown to him by the conductor, and carries it to his master at the house.

Passengers on the 4.30 p. m. train for Portland, Saturday, from Lewiston, were startled by three sharp whistles after leaving Falmouth, and the train was immediately stopped. On going back a few rods a gentleman and lady were discovered beside a demolished sleigh. No one was hurt.

The claim that the first sheet music printed in Maine has just been issued in Bangor is disputed by the Mount Desert Herald, which gives the names of two pieces published at that office in 1882. Ira Berry, whose office here was equipped for such work, printed sheet music years before the date claimed by the Herald.

They Did Well.

The Longfellow Statue Association has been sending circulars to business firms asking subscriptions to the statue. One of these circulars was sent to Goudy & Kent, the well known bakers on Pearl street. Mr. Goudy told the employes that the object was a good one and in fifteen minutes the hands contributed $30.10. If other firms do as well a large sum will be the result.

PINE STREET CHURCH.

Farewell Service in the Vestry Last Evening.

The congregation and friends of Rev. E. S. Stackpole of Pine street M. E. church met in the vestry of the church last evening to bid him farewell before his departure for Rome as a missionary. Capt. A. J. Pettengill called the meeting to order, and Rev. W. S. Jones, assisted by Rev. A. W. Pottle, was presiding elder. The exercises opened with music and Bible reading, which was followed by a prayer by the Rev. W. S. Jones. After the prayer a purse of money, contributed by those present, was presented to Mr. Stackpole by Mr. Pettengill, in a graceful manner, after which the following resolutions were read and unanimously adopted:

Whereas, our pastor and friend, Rev. E. S. Stackpole, has been called to a broader and more responsible field of labor; therefore,

Resolved, That we acknowledge with the deepest gratitude the self-sacrificing and noble manner in which he has ministered to the spiritual and temporal wants of this church.

Resolved, That in parting, our kindest wishes and prayers will ever attend him.

Among those to express regret at Mr. Stackpole's departure and bid him Godspeed in his new work were Rev. W. S. Jones, Rev. A. W. Pottle, Rev. Roscoe Sampson and Rev. N. T. Whitaker. A number of the members of the congregation made brief remarks expressive of their sorrow at being obliged to bid their pastor farewell. In response to the many kind words of his parishioners, Mr. Stackpole said: "I have very many things on my mind that I would like to say, but owing to the lateness of the hour I will say but a few words. I came to this church thinking it to be the call of Providence and have endeavored to raise the church to a broader faith, yet I have not seen all accomplished here that I would like to see. I came here for the good I could do, not for the good I might receive. From fifteen years ago I have been urged by friends to travel abroad. I have become more and more interested in missionary work, and it seems to me that the Lord is answering all my prayers and granting all my wishes. To be separated from friends is a great loss to me, but I trust you will pray for Italy and the success of the work there. I hope God's blessing may be with you and bye and bye we may expect to meet again in heaven."

The benediction was then pronounced, after which Mr. Stackpole held an informal reception. Mr. Stackpole will go to New York on Saturday, and sail from that city for Rome on the 8th of February.

PERSONAL.

Gen. T. W. Hyde of Bath has arrived home from England.

Dr. C. S. Whitman of Gardiner is said to be the oldest member of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company of Boston.

News has been received of the death of the widow of the late Professor Hamlin, of Harvard, formerly of Colby University.

Elihu B. Washburne's son, Hempstead Washburne, is a candidate for the Republican nomination for Congress in the Fourth Illinois District next fall.

Mr. J. C. Clay of this city is in Washington. Thursday evening, the 12th, he was present at the reception given by President Cleveland to the Diplomatic Corps.

Miss Myra E. Deering of Saco and Mr. D. F. Chapin of Granby Mass., were married Tuesday evening, in Saco. Mr. Chapin is superintendent of schools in Granby.

Miss Alice Drummond, Miss Cora Lincoln and Miss Florence Drummond, three of Waterville's best teachers, came to Portland yesterday, to visit the Butler school of this city.

A letter received from Rev. J. R. Crosser, at Edinburg, says that he is in excellent health and intends to return to this city in May or June. He also says that the intemperance of Edinburg is fearful, and he is more of an American than ever before.

Walter Allen, formerly of the PRESS, has prepared a history to be published by the Putnams, of Governor Chamberlain's reconstruction administration in South Carolina. His idea is to give documents and evidence, thus furnishing its readers with the means of making their own critical studies and estimates.

Rev. Mr. Dodge, who graduated from the Bangor Theological Seminary some years ago, is now in the mountains of Tennessee, where he has established a very flourishing mission, and is doing a very large amount of good. A few weeks ago, the Central church Sunday school in Bangor sent him $75. A letter received from Mr. Dodge since, said that the money came in just the nick of time. It was at a period when he had used every cent that he could obtain, and did not know where to look for the next supply.

Rev. Peter Parker, M. D., who died in Washington, D. C., Jan. 10th, aged 84 years, married Miss Harriet C. Webster of Augusta, and is well remembered by many in that city. Dr. Parker was a graduate of Yale, and in 1834 he went to China as medical missionary of the American Board, but afterwards severed his connection with the Board and carried on the medical mission and hospital in Canton, at his own expense. He was connected with the United States Legation to China from its establishment, as Interpreter, Secretary of Legation, and lastly Commissioner, with plenipotentiary powers, to revise the treaty of 1844. His wife and an only son survive him.

Church of the Messiah.

The meetings in progress in the vestry of the Church of the Messiah, are growing in interest, and the attendance is on the increase. Rev. Mr. Hamilton of Oakland preached Tuesday evening on "Righteousness," and last evening Rev. Mr. Gledhill of Gardiner delivered a sermon on the words of Paul, "What wilt thou have me to do?" The efforts of both these gentlemen were received with favor. Rev. Mr. Crosley has been on the war path during the week, providing for the debt. He announced at the close of the meeting last evening that something over $1400 had been subscribed, and the debt was virtually provided for. Rev. Mr. Perkins of Lewiston preaches this evening.

The Mayall Will.

In the Probate Court yesterday morning the will of Mary S. Mayall heretofore presented, was in order for probate. It is understood that Samuel Mayall and James H. Mayall, the brothers of Mary S. Mayall, who are the residuary legatees under the will made by her, since the filing of the petition for the appointment of a guardian, have made a compromise satisfactory to those interested under the first will and the last will has been admitted to probate by consent of all parties concerned.

Inventors.

This evening Mr. F. H. Fassett, the well-known architect, will deliver a lecture, in the free Mechanics' course, on "Inventors." The seats are free to the public and they will all be filled for what Mr. Fassett will have to say on the subject will prove highly interesting and instructive. The lecture will be given in the library room at 7.30 o'clock.

He Got Two Watches.

The man who failed to work the watch racket on W. F. Todd, succeeded at Morrison & Co.'s. Mr. Sargent, the watchmaker in charge of the store, handed the man two watches, one an open face and the other a hunting watch for Rev. Dr. Whitaker to select from, and Morrison & Co. are now two watches out.

Lucky Fishermen.

The harbor was very rough yesterday and quite a large number of fishermen put in. The fish houses presented a very busy scene and about 125,000 pounds of fish were landed. This is the largest amount of fish received in one day for more than five weeks. The fares ranged from 6,000 to 8,000 pounds and brought fair prices, as the market was bare.

District Division Sons of Temperance.

The District Division of the Sons of Temperance will hold their business session this afternoon at the hall of Portland Division. In the evening a public meeting will be held at Preble Chapel, and will be addressed by speakers from Casco, Raymond, Windham and Cumberland Mills.

Longshoremen's Ball.

The City Hall will be filled with merry dancers to-night because the Longshoremen's Benevolent Society will give their annual ball there. There will be a fine order of dances and Chandler will provide his most alluring music.

CACKLE-CACKLE.

Fine Exhibition of the Yarmouth Poultry Association.

The Yarmouth Poultry Association opened their second annual exhibition yesterday at Masonic Hall under the most favorable circumstances otherwise than the stormy weather, which did not prevent the poultry men from being on hand, for as soon as light yesterday morning lots of teams were unloading at the hall. All who would like to visit this show from this city should remember that the tickets on both railroads are one fare for the round trip.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

THE SYMPHONY CONCERT.

The last of three concerts in the Stockbridge course by the Boston Symphony Orchestra was given at City Hall last evening. Those who had read the programme, published in yesterday's PRESS, and thought they wouldn't attend because they were afraid that the make-up was too severe, made a great mistake. Not only were all the numbers well chosen but the concert was, if anything, too brief.

On this occasion Mr. Kneisel led as heretofore in place of Mr. Gericke, and we wish to say here that the latter named gentleman's absence was due to his bodily condition and not to any feeling of pique. It is no doubt true that, good conductor as Mr. Kneisel is, the orchestra, to be heard at its best, requires the guidance of the master hand.

A feature of last evening's concert, that seemed in perfect harmony with the surroundings, was the appearance of Mr. Fritz Giese, the great 'cellist, as soloist. There is no doubt that, to many, the engagement of a lady vocalist is very attractive, but, from a strictly musical point of view where one goes to hear an orchestral concert, such as the Boston Symphony Orchestra furnishes, one cannot get too much of the instrument. Mr. Giese's cluster of pieces was admirably selected, each in striking contrast to the other, displaying deep pathos, brightness, grace and airiness in turn, while from a technical point he left nothing to be desired.

Of the selections by the orchestra, the Brahm's overture was very odd; the Dvorak Adagio full of color; the Saint-Saens symphonic poem of "Phaeton" interesting, as such compositions are apt to be; the "Meditation" on a theme from "Faust," full of expression; the Bach gavotte, bright and tripping; and the programme fitly terminated with the grand overture from "Tannhauser," so many times given here, and always a favorite.

The last entertainment in the course will be given February 1st by the Haydns, accompanied by the Boston Germanians.

WILLIAM J. FLORENCE.

On next Monday and Tuesday evenings Mr. William J. Florence, who has not visited our city for four years, will again delight our fun-loving people at the Portland Theatre. On Monday evening he will produce the double bill of "Husband Hunting" and "Dombey and Son," and on Tuesday evening his latest success, "The Flirt." Mr. Florence is without doubt one of the greatest comedians on the stage today; an actor who can play any and all kinds of parts, and play them well. We have yet to read an unfriendly criticism of his acting in any piece he has ever played. The plays he will produce here are the best in his repertoire, and the characters entirely different from anything he has ever done here before, except his great character of Captain Cuttle, which so charmed his audience on the occasion of his last visit. The public look forward to a couple of evenings of pleasure in seeing him in something new.

NOTES.

Frank Mayo's "Nordeck" company was on the Erie train that was disabled on Tuesday, and several actors were hurt. Miss Frances Graham had an ankle dislocated and back sprained; Edwin Nolen, left hand crushed and afterwards amputated; Nell Gray, cut on the head; Robert Neil, thrown through window and badly bruised about the head and face; Lawrence Johnston, right arm broken; J. C. Harvey, head badly cut with glass.

Rev. Mr. Bayley has a Word to Say.

To the Editor of the Press:

The sermon preached in State street church last Sabbath morning was intended as a statement of facts, as such alone it has significance and value. So far as I know but a single statement made has been impugned, and as to that statement I will thank you for opportunity to say an additional word. As to the spirit of the discourse, and the purpose which inspired it, I have nothing to say, it must speak for itself.

My statement as to the use of intoxicating liquor by pupils of our public schools has been denied. In view of this denial I wish to say, first, that my statements were made upon the authority of teachers, and in their own words, save that, by an error which I regret, though it is not in the least material, I gave the age of the Kindergarten child referred to as "nine years," when I should have said "five." This is, I believe, the only erroneous statement in the sermon. And, secondly, I desire to say that I have the written statement of these teachers made subsequent to the preaching of the sermon, that the facts were as stated in the discourse.

The Mayor states, concerning the Kindergarten, that "no child there has ever been intoxicated." Two teachers of that school affirm over their signatures that "a child five years old frequently comes to the Kindergarten with every appearance of being under the influence of liquor."

The other teacher referred to, after declaring that her former statement was true "according to my (her) understanding of the words," adds "it is quite evident that they drink something which impairs their intellectual ability, many of them habitually."

To my mind those declarations justify the statement of the sermon that "the nefarious business of the rumseller is reaching even into our public schools for its victims."

Yet I would call attention to the fact that this particular subject is but a single and subordinate item in the indictment of facts presented by the sermon.

FRANK T. BAYLEY.

Hannibal A. Williams.

A great classical treat will be enjoyed by all who listen to Mr. Hannibal A. Williams's impersonation of the character of Shakespeare's Julius Caesar, at City Hall next Saturday evening in the Y. M. C. A. course. Mr. Williams has the endorsement of a great number of college presidents and professors, as well as the leading clergymen of all denominations, and secretaries of Young Men's Christian Associations. His enunciation is very distinct and his voice full, strong and flexible. His command of facial expression is admirable, showing that he has made a careful study of every word of the great drama, scenes from which he will present. The noble Brutus, sleek and subtle Cassius, imperious Cæsar, gracious and winsome yet withal crafty Antony, and other well known characters of the play will be brought realistically before his hearers by Mr. Williams's masterful powers of elocution and expression.

A Card.

Mrs. Caswell takes pleasure in introducing to the friends in Portland Miss L. B. Holbrook recently of Washington, D. C., as her successor in the school at 96 Part street. Having known Miss Holbrook intimately for several years, Mrs. Caswell is able to say with entire sincerity that there is no person to whom she would so willingly entrust the continuation of her own work. If she may be permitted to bespeak for Miss Holbrook the same cordial sympathy and generous appreciation that have made her own tasks easy, and which, at this moment of leave-taking, she would most gratefully acknowledge, she has no hesitation in predicting for the school a future no less satisfactory than its past has been.

RAILROAD MATTERS.

NOTES.

As soon as the shifting engine, now building at the Maine Central railroad shops in Waterville, is completed, two large engines for general work will be begun.

The Sewall safety car heater received a practical test Monday, on the New Brunswick railway, the first road in Canada that has adopted this system of heating. The heater was attached to the cars and locomotives in the company's shops at McAdam, the work being performed under the superintendence of representatives of the Sewall Company. All the passenger locomotives have been equipped for some time, and a number of the passenger coaches as well, but it was not until Monday morning that orders were given to despatch the train fully equipped with the new system. Two International railway trains are also being equipped, one with the Sewall system and the other with the Martin system.

The Kinks of a Century.

[Aroostook Pioneer.]

The father of Alexander Carr of Amity, was 100 years old yesterday. He is as smart as most men of 50, does nearly all the chores about the farm, and is enjoying the best of health this winter. Las summer he would frequently amuse the "younger boys" by springing from the floor and hitting his heels together twice before alighting.

A Seasonable Topic.

In our grandfathers' day they marked the fight of time by the "Old Farmer's Almanac." Now, the omnipresent Calendar is a perpetual reminder of the fleeting seasons.

The days in a year do not outnumber the sizes, shapes and styles in which it appears; and alike in the merchant's counting room, or lady's boudoir, it seems to have become one of the necessities of the utilitarian age in which we live.

The artist's talent, the engraver's cunning, and the printer's skill, combine in this connection to blend the ornamental with the useful; and the result is calendars of every degree of excellence, good, better and best.

The latter includes the one issued by N. W. Ayer & Son, Philadelphia, which will be forwarded to any address, securely enclosed, on receipt of 25 cents.

What is Scrofula.

It is that impurity in the blood, which, accumulating in the glands of the neck, produces unsightly lumps or swellings; which causes painful running sores on the arms, legs, or feet; which developes ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; which is the origin of pimples, cancerous growths, or the many other manifestations usually ascribed to "humors." It is a more formidable enemy than consumption or cancer alone, for scrofula combines the worst possible features of both. Being the most ancient, it is the most general of all diseases or affections, for very few persons are entirely free from it.

How can it be cured? By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the cures it has accomplished, often when other medicines have failed, has proven itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for this disease. Some of these cures are really wonderful. If you suffer from scrofula in any of its various forms, be sure to give Hood's Sarsaparilla a trial. Send for book of cures.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

WHAT HAVE WE TO OFFER TO-DAY?

We will tell you, or what will be better still, we will show all that visit our store this week the most

BEAUTIFUL PARLOR SUITS,

EVER SHOWN IN PORTLAND.

Not only that, but a better variety is scarcely seen whatever may be your preference as to style or upholstery. HERE you will find your choice. Our prices are unquestionably lower than can be made by any other dealer in New England. To those that have not seen our stock and have but a faint idea of the immense business we are not only trying to do but are doing, this statement may seem to be prepared for advertising purposes, for it is well known that each and every dealer in the land handle goods at a very small profit, too small in fact, to show a healthy state of affairs. That we

CAN AND DO UNDERSELL OTHERS,

IS KNOWN BY OUR CUSTOMERS.

That we get as good a profit is known to us. How we do it can be made clear to you and everybody if the following facts are considered on their true merits, and the importance that should be attached to the advantages we possess over every other dealer in buying goods is duly credited.

FIRST:

Our Large Purchases Place us in the FOREMOST RANKS — OF — BUYERS.

The Benefit of this Position is Incalculable.

Why?

Because the latest production of the Carpet Loom is brought to our notice immediately upon its appearance.

Every new and desirable Parlor Suit is offered for our inspection with all possible hustle as the manufacturers well know that our approval and acceptance of it makes its success certain, for our purchase is not limited to one or two or three Suits, but oftentimes to two hundred or three hundred.

THE SAME MAY BE SAID — OF — CHAMBER SETS, STOVES and RANGES, and a Host of Other Articles!

This, as will be seen, enables us to get the NEWEST and BEST GOODS. Our position as buyers is especially favorable to low buying, as the eagerness of manufacturers to turn their goods over rapidly and in large quantities at a time is so intense that the price is too often a second consideration with them, but the first with us. Freights are by no means to be overlooked in the summing up, as all that have paid transportation by the car or vessel load; and also by the piece-meal method, have realized. We have four stores under one roof and one rent: a Stove store, a Carpet store, a Furniture store, a Crockery store, and five of these in the State of Maine, making what is equal to twenty stores under five roofs, and the Portland store the finder for all, and consequently and the only place where nothing but the Newest goods are found, where the best assortment is shown, and the lowest prices ever made given. It matters not whether you are poor, well-to-do, or rich, whether you want to buy $1.00, $25, $200, $1000 or $10,000 worth of goods; all can be accomodated and are welcome.

COME AND SEE US — AND — BE CONVINCED that there is within the limits of your State and city an establishment that all who are interested in the State's progression should be proud of and support, particularly when a saving can be made by so doing.
