Fair and Storm.

[Special to the Press.]

SANFORD, Sept. 18.—The line storm and the fair of the Sanford Agricultural and Mechanical Association are evidently booked for the names dates. Rain began falling Sunday night and has continued almost without cessation up the present writing. The first day of the fair will be devoted to the entry of stock and articles for exhibition. The opening will be delayed one day and the fair will be continued to Saturday night.

Augusta Notes.

AUGUSTA, Sept. 18.—Governor Marble has appointed and commissioned Alonzo R. Nickerson, of Boothbay, as military secretary with rank of Major, vice Boothby promoted.

The Governor and Commander-in-Chief has issued an order at the request of the Adjutant General of Rhode Island granting permission to Co. E., 2d Regiment Infantry Rhode Island Militia, Capt. Bernard Hackett commanding, to enter this state as a military body, armed and equipped for the purpose of visiting the city of Portland between Oct. 3d and 6th, next.

Court at Alfred.

ALFRED, Sept. 18.—The Supreme Judicial Court for York county opened here today, Judge Charles Danforth presiding. The continued docket has 330 cases; the new entries are 125; twenty-six actions were assigned for trial. It will probably be a three weeks term.

Knox County Show.

ROCKLAND, Sept. 18.—The Knox county fair, which was to have opened today, has been postponed one day and will open tomorrow and close Saturday. The entries already made indicate an exceptionally successful fair. The horse trot promises to be the best for many years.

Caught in a Belt.

DOVER, Sept. 18.—Fred Priest, about 13 years old, employed in Dwelley's spool factory, was caught in a belt this afternoon, tearing his hand off and crushing his arm so that it was amputated above the elbow.

USE NIVALIS.

NIVALIS.
WHAT IS NIVALIS? I WILL TELL YOU. NIVALIS IS THE GREATEST DISCOVERY AND WONDER OF THE AGE. A skin preserver and tonic; it beautifies, and at the same time an eradicator of skin troubles. If you have a rough, pimply red complexion, USE NIVALIS.

If you have by the use of cosmetics, powders, pastes and pigments caused your natural, smooth skin to become coarse, and those most unsightly "blackheads" to appear, USE NIVILAS.

If you have a thin, delicate skin, easily affected by the weather, USE NIVALIS.

If God has given you that greatest boon to woman—a beautiful complexion, and you wish to preserve it, USE NIVALIS.

American women have to endure all degrees of temperature, from the blazing sun of our Summers to the biting blizzards of our Winters; added to these the peculiar dryness of our atmosphere has a tendency to dry and harden the epidermis, to develop sunburn, freckles, moth-patches, tan and pimples. This wonderful NIVALIS, by its "tonic action" on the skin, overcomes those evil effects of our climate.

It also removes the greater and graver troubles caused by the use of the many injurious face powders and cosmetics now upon the market, which clog the pores, coarsen the cells of the skin and, in fact, are not even cleanly. Throw them all aside! USE ONLY NIVALIS.

It is recommended by our best physicians and chemists, and it is beneficial instead of injurious; it cleanses and preserves a healthy skin instead of an evil.

It will cure eczema, salt rheum, erysipelas, and all other skin eruptions, and is also an excellent remedy for scalds and burns.

It acts as a magic balm to the skin, and men find it a perfect luxury for the face after shaving. In fact, the "knowing ones" always keep a bottle of NIVALIS handy to use in shaving mug, for it allays the disagreeable soreness left by the dullest razor. All women (and men, too, for that matter) desire a beautiful complexion, and ALL can have it by using this most wonderful discovery, NIVALIS, which will be found on sale at J. W. Perkins & Co., 94 Commercial St., or can be had direct from the proprietor, ST. JOHN & CO., No. 317 6th Ave., New York. PRICE, 50c. PER BOTTLE. UNITED IN CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Second Annual Conference of the Young People's Societies.

Proceedings of the First Day's Meeting in the Queen City.

What the President and Secretary Say in Their Reports.

[Special to the Press.]

BANGOR, Sept. 18.—The second annual conference of the Maine State Union of Young People's Societies of Christian Endeavor convened this afternoon, in the First Baptist church. Considering the unfavorable weather, a large number of delegates were present at the opening session. After an interesting service of prayer, the conference at 2.30 o'clock was called to order by V. R. Foss, of Portland, president.

Rev. T. E. Busfield, of Bangor, gave an address of welcome. His warm, cordial words of greeting were appropriately responded to by the president.

The records of the Lewiston conference were read by J. W. Stevenson, of Portland, secretary, and were approved.

The following committees were appointed:

Finance—A. B. Taylor, Bangor; W. N. Fielding, Peaks Island; Abbie H. Sawyer, Gray.

Nominations—Hattie C. Reynolds, Auburn; Emily Milliken, Augusta; Frank Dinsmore, Madison.

Resolutions—W. H. Gardner, Bucksport; M. Alice Metcalf, Portland; Ada E. Morton, Winthrop.

Credentials—H. Mabel Leach, Portland; Annie F. Swett, Oldtown; N. C. Dinsmore, Lewiston.

Entertainment—Fred K. Brown, Bangor; Hattie M. Burr, Bangor; Ida M. Webb, Bangor.

The report of the State officers were then given. The president's report follows:

PRESIDENT'S REPORT.

Dear Fellow Workers:

The past year has, under God, been one of constant blessing and fruitfulness. Our infant organization, by careful nourishing, has grown to be a stripling of no mean valor. Something has been accomplished the past year, but comparatively nothing to that which God will give us power to do if we surrender all to Him, consecrating every faculty of our being to His blessed house. Oh, what victories are in store for us in winning the lost to Christ, and training them for soldiers in His army. I trust the spirit of these meetings may be that of complete consecration, and that from every heart may go up the prayer, "Lord, what wilt Thou have me to do?"

You will be given interesting statistical facts regarding our growth in the secretary's report. It is not necessary for me to repeat these statements here. I think our most sanguine hopes, as expressed at the Lewiston conference, have been more than realized. A clear proof that God's seal is upon the movement from the fact that so many convertions are being reported from almost every society in the State, a few societies having had glorious ingatherings. One or two report more than a score of young converts brought into the Master's vineyard.

It has been our privilege to address quite a number of gatherings the past year. We have tried to faithfully present the interests of our work, and have been very much gratified at the encouragement received. We refer particularly to the Maine Baptist Convention at Bangor, the New England yearly meeting of Free Baptists at Portland, the Bangor Methodist Ministerial Association at East Corinth, and the Cumberland Baptist Association at Freeport. On each of these occasions our words were warmly received, and we have reason to believe that the information given removed much prejudice, elicited much sympathy and resulted in the formation of many societies.

Our great purpose, it seems to me, should be first, the salvation of souls; second, the training of young people for prayer meeting Christians. Can any church that is a Christian church can any pastor who is a Christian pastor, object to such a purpose? One pastor has referred to our society in the following language: "Its characteristics it seems to me, are these: First, it is aggressive. It is an out-looker and it is an in-gatherer; secondly, it is thoroughly practical in all its theories, it aims to bring the masses under the blessings of an active ministration; thirdly, it is thoroughly evangelical, it aims to divert und convert the young. In studying the work of this society I have been exceedingly gratified." The same pastor closes his interesting story, illustrating the work of our society:

"Johnny and Charlie were lost in the attic and locked in. They held a consultation. Johnny suggested that they pray. Charley said, 'well, Johnny, you pray and I will kick.'"

They were successful. So the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor have been Johnny and Charlie kicking and praying, and they have succeeded in opening doors of great usefulness in the Christian work. Misjudged and misunderstood, our State work must advance slowly; but I do believe when our objects are known and clearly understood, the doors of every sanctuary of evangelical church in Maine will be open to us, and I hope to live to see a Society of Christian Endeavor planted in every church, and all the hills and valleys of this commonwealth. If we are but faithful, this most desirable object will be consummated, and that not many years distant. I wish the anniversary occasions of our conference might be more generally observed. It has been my privilege to attend many such occasions during the year, and I can testify to the fact that these gatherings have been very helpful. In every case new impetus has been given to the work, and the societies more firmly established.

It may be impracticable to hold county and district conferences, but the same objects may be gained over these anniversary occasions, as it has grown to be a very commendable custom to invite delegates to attend from all the societies in the county, and an hour is set apart to listen to reports from these representatives.

Let us encourage the spirit of union and fellowship, recognizing no barriers of denomination or sect which shall prevent us from joining hearts and hands in fulfilling our grand mission for Christ and the church.

There is but on local "Union," that in Portland, composed of twelve societies. It has not developed much yet, but we trust the results will be very beneficial. I would recommend the adoption of the recently revised pledge by all of our societies, and in order to do this, it may be necessary for many societies to reorganize. I believe much treatment in many older societies would do a vast deal of good.

Many have not been quite careful enough either in the foundation or structure. Reorganization was the key-note of our last conference and the advice given was in a number of churches acted upon.

I know in one church, after a trying and courageous effort, the society reorganized, reducing its members from 90 to 15, but a precarious revival soon after followed and new material was added, bringing the active membership up to 63, so that the society today is very much stronger and more useful than a year ago.

Brethren, let us not raise the standard high, and live up to it! Let us run the colors up to the mast-head and keep them there! Nearly, if not quite, all the opposition having disappeared, the churches generally in sympathy with us, pastors earnestly co-operating and more important, the Holy Spirit dwelling with us, leading us in the ways of duty and usefulness, what opportunities, glorious and unprecedented comfort us? Shall we go forth and take the land?

Thousands of young men and young women in our State hungry for the bread of life, thirsty for waters of salvation, are waiting and looking to us for help. Shall we give it? Nothing is of so great importance as the work in which we are engaged. Let nothing distract our attention. Let our motto be, "This one thing I do," and may we all remember that I can do all things through Christ that strengtheneth me. May God give us greater faith in his promises and greater enthusiasm for His work.

We desire to sincerely thank all who has in any way rendered by kind word or work, assistance during the year, especially to our faithful secretary and treasurer, who have been exceedingly efficient in the performance of his duties.

Respectfully submitted,
V. RICHARD FOSS,
President.

SECRETARY'S REPORT.

The secretary's report presents the following facts: In 1881, the first society was organized in Williston church, Portland. Since then the societies have grown through the years, and in 1888 the number known and reported is 130. It is a significant fact that the largest gains have been made between the years 1885 and 1888. It was at the large and enthusiastic convention at Ocean Park, in 1885, that the United Society of Christian Endeavor was incorporated under the laws of Maine, and a fund raised to put a general secretary in the field. From this time dates the rapid multiplication of societies in Maine and throughout the Union. Since last year the active membership has increased from 1994 to 3278, and the associate from 554 to 1266, making a total gain of 2046.

These gratifying gains have been largely due to the efficient and energetic efforts of the State Superintendent, V. Richard Foss, and are a testimony to the value of wise organization in Christion work.

A very interesting hour was taken up in listening to one-minute reports from the societies represented. These reports generally indicated progress.

This evening, Hon. Hannibal Hamlin and George M. Ward, Esq., gave addresses.

CHARLES EASTMAN'S DEATH.

Suspicions of a Murder on the New Hampshire Border.

DOVER, Sept. 18.—Charles H. Eastman, a machinist of Berwick, mysteriously disappeared Saturday night. He had been drinking some with a man named Holton Wells, second hand in the cotton mills at Great Falls. At 1 o'clock in the morning Eastman started for his home in Berwick. Wells went with him to the bridge. Loud outcries were heard and the police ran up and met Wells coming back from the bridge. Being asked about the cries he said he hadn't heard any. Eastman's body was found this morning in the river near the bridge. There was a bruise on the head and traces of blood in the left eye.

A post mortem examination of Eastman's body this morning indicated death by violence. He probably did not breathe after striking the water. No water was found in his lungs. There was some clotted blood around the eyes. It is thought that he was beaten and thrown into the river by some person. The coroner has impanelled a jury and there is considerable excitement over the matter. Eastman was a member of the Biddeford lodge of Masons. The officers are looking after Wells and the result of the inquest may result in his arrest.

Coroner Jameson held an inquest this afternoon. The physicians testified that there was no water in Eastman's lungs or froth of any account. The skin was abraded on the forehead just below the hair, and both eyes were bruised the left one the worst. Patches of skin were gone from the upper lip underneath the moustache and also from both sides of the nose. A purple spot was found in the groin that might have resulted from a kick or decomposition. Dr. Swasey thought it an exceptional case and the facts found would not warrant an opinion. Drs. Hayes and Grant are quite positive that violence was done Eastman and he was dead or stunned before being thrown into the water.

Holton E. Wells, who was with Eastman just before his death, tells a straightforward story. He says he walked with Eastman as far as Tibbetts' corner. When near the bridge he said good night and turned back. He heard no cries or noise. He was not intoxicated.

The other testimony threw no light upon the mystery.

Politics in New York.

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—A Harrison and Morton banner was raised at Broadway and Leonard street this afternoon, by the Republicans, and speeches were made from a platform by Hon. Warner Miller and others. On the platform was Congressman Reed. This evening the hall of Cooper Union was filled by Republicans, and Mr. Miller again spoke.

Over in Brooklyn, a large Democratic rally was addressed by Mr. Mills of Texas, who defended the bill which bears his name.

THE STATE.

AROOSTOOK COUNTY

The survivors of the editorial excursion to Aroostook of 1858, held a reunion at the residence of J. B. Hall, in Presque Isle, Monday evening. Those present were J. M. Adams and wife of the Eastern Argus, E. H. Elwell and wife of the Portland Transcript, Brown Thurston and daughters of Portland, E. Rowell and wife of Hallowell, Dr. W. E. Lapham of Augusta, Dr. J. Q. A. Hawes of Hallowell, C. P. Roberts of Bangor, and a large party of Presque Isle and vicinity of Presque Isle. During the evening Governor elect Burleigh, wife and daughter joined the party. He was serenaded by the town band and replied briefly, acknowledging the compliment. The whole reunion was a pleasant and memorable occasion.

KENNEBEC COUNTY.

A daring theft was committed at the residence of Mrs. Isaac P. Lapham, at Litchfield Plains, last Saturday night. The thief entered the sleeping room of Rev. Mr. Ricker through the window while he was asleep and stole from him $91.35. Mr. Ricker's daughter, who sleeps in an upper room, hearing something, got up, and looking from a window saw a man standing under an oak tree near the house. She at once lit a lamp and aroused some of the family who came under the tree where the man was seen they found Mr. Ricker's coat, a $10 bill and his wallet in which was a $20 bill that the thief overlooked.

YORK COUNTY.

William P. Townshend of West Buxton, has leased his trout pond to five Portland gentlemen for a term of five years at $1000 a year. Mr. Townshend has been several years in stocking the pond and now has 20,000 trout there.

Alfred Lanergin, aged 15, had his right hand terribly lacerated Tuesday by the sudden starting of the machinery in the York Mills in Saco, where he is employed.

Portland Grocers and Flour Dealers' Association.

At a meeting of the executive committee of this association yesterday morning, the death of another of the members—Daniel W. True—was announced, and these resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, It having seemed good to an All-wise Providence to remove another from our number a prominent member, the fourth since our organization; therefore,

Resolved, That while we are grateful that so many of our original members are yet spared to the bustle and activity of business life, we recognize in the death of Daniel W. True, of Daniel W. True, and of those other associates who have preceded him to the life beyond, that we may be called upon to mourn the loss of our members more frequently in the future than we have in the past.

Resolved, That in the death of Daniel W. True, this association and the business community, sustain the loss of a valuable member, a good citizen, and an upright man.

Resolved, That the family and relatives of the deceased, we extend our sympathy in this hour of their sorrow.

Resolved, That the business house in which the deceased was senior partner, has the heartfelt sympathy of the association.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon the records, and a copy be transmitted to the family.

Portland, Me., Sept. 17, 1888.

Gray Fair.

The Gray fair was postponed to today, Thursday and Friday.

The following are the entries in the 2.35 class for Friday:

F. E. Crooker, Lewiston, b. g. Lucius A.
J. H. Twombly, Auburn, ch. m. Rennie P.
W. D. Haley, So. Gardiner, b. m. Fatinitza.
Walter Sutton, Lewiston, ch. m. Jane J.
Chas. Sawyer, Westbrook, ch. m. Meade.
F. P. Fox, Cornish, b. g. Frank A.
C. B. Gilman, Waterville, b. s. Gen. Hancock.

The entries in all the other trotting purses number from eight to twelve.

The game of ball on Thursday will be called at 10½ a. m. and will be between the Sentinels of South Portland, and the Grays of Gray.

Resolutions of Respect.

The 27th Maine Regimental Association has passed the following resolutions to the memory of John R. Carpenter, one of their number, who fell dead from heart disease at the regimental reunion at Kittery:

Whereas, The Great Commander of us all has this day bestowed the discharge, our comrade, John R. Carpenter, while on his way to join us in the pleasant duty of our annual reunion,

Resolved, That the twenty-seventh Maine Regiment Association express their recognition of the sterling qualities which characterized our late comrade, and extend to his widow their sincere sympathy in this affliction.

Resolved, That these resolutions be entered upon the records of the association, and that a copy of the same be sent by the secretary to the widow of Comrade Carpenter.

Good Templars.

The Grand Lodge of Maine, Good Templars, will meet in semi-annual session at Skowhegan, Oct. 10th. Grand Secretary Brackett will report the usual average condition of the order in the State, with about 400 lodges and temples, and 25,000 members in both branches, adults and juveniles. Half fare tickets over the leading railroads will be sold to the session, and reduced rates allowed at the hotels to members of the order who attend.

GENERAL NEWS.

An attempt was made Monday night to burn the railroad shops at Contocook, by setting fire to waste. The damage is not large.

Policeman Edward H. Murphy, of Brooklyn, was stabbed to death by Henry May, yesterday, because the officer refused to release a prisoner. May was arrested.

The New York Press publishes a letter from R. B. Lee of St. Louis, which says he has just returned from Arkansas, where he took part in the Union Labor party campaign. The Democrats, it is alleged, stole the ballot-box at townships which gave Union Labor majorities, and shot and killed many voters of that ticket. At Eldorado, the county seat of Union county, they took the poll books away from the judges and burned them, and then held a new election, at which no Union Labor man was permitted to vote.

OUR FRIENDS ACROSS THE BORDER.

Senator Sherman On Our Relations With the Canadian People.

Hostile Measures Will Not Lead To Political Union.

Opening of the Congress of the American Physicians.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—Senator Sherman's speech in the Senate this morning on the relations of the United States to Canada was a carefully prepared review of the President's message on retaliation and of the retaliation bill passed by the House in consequence of it. The care with which the argument is prepared is showed by the fact that Mr. Sherman read from manuscript, which is unusual with him.

Senator Sherman criticized the President for blending a dispute about the transhipment of fish with the vast interior commerce of the country. He said the measure of retaliation proposed by the President was out of all proportion to the complaint. Article 29 of the treaty of 1871 had not been terminated on the 1st of July, 1885. All the contracting parties treated that article as being in full force. The retaliation proposed by the President was retaliation against the United States. President Grant had been refused similar powers to those asked by President Cleveland. If Great Britain had violated or failed to observe the provisions of Article 29, Congress alone could prescribe a proper remedy. In this case Congress had furnished a remedy simple, ample and complete in the act of March 3, 1887.

He considered that it was not wise to give the President the additional powers of retaliation asked for. The time had come when the people of the United States and Canada should take a broader view of their relation to each other than had been hitherto practicable. The whole history of the two countries had been a continuous warning that they could not remain at peace with each other except by political, as well as commercial union. It would be better for all if the whole continent, north of Mexico, shared in the prosperity and blessing of the American Union. But the way to union with Canada was not by unfriendly legislation but by friendly overtures. The true policy of the government of the United States was to tender to Canada freedom of intercourse and make that tender in such a fraternal way that it should be an overture to the Canadian people to become a part of the American government. He saw in the success of that policy much that was good and nothing that was harmful to any part of the country.

Nor were there any difficulties in the way which should deter the Senate for the moment. The institutions of Canada were substantially like those of the United States, and the people of both countries were in the main of the same stock with the proximinity of the two countries was such that, while separated they might be enemies, if united they would be friends. The debt of Canada was no impediment. It could be assumed without being a burden. Union could only be accomplished with the free and hearty assent of both peoples. The use of any force would defeat the object which could not be promoted by controversies or retaliation. These measures looked to and generally endorsed in his own responsibility. Both Speaker Carlisle and Mr. Mills are provoked at this insubordination, which they think endangers the party interests. Neither of them were present at the caucus, the Speaker and Mrs. Carlisle having gone to Covington, Ky., and Mr. Mills having taken his family, by an indirect route, to his home in Texas.

Notes.

The committee investigating the charges against Mr. Stahlnecker finished the examination of Architect Smithmeyer this morning and adjourned until Friday, when Senator Voorhees will be heard.

Senator Stamford, who is in Europe, is suffering from a peculiar disease, being unable to sleep for any length of time or to resist sleeping a minute or two at any time.

He considered that it was not wise to give the President the additional powers of retaliation asked for. The time had come when the people of the United States and Canada should take a broader view of their relation to each other than had been hitherto practicable. He saw in the success of that policy much that was good and nothing that was harmful to any part of the country.

Nor were there any difficulties in the way which should deter the Senate for the moment. The institutions of Canada were substantially like those of the United States, and the people of both countries were in the main of the same stock with the proximinity of the two countries was such that, while separated they might be enemies, if united they would be friends. The debt of Canada was no impediment. It could be assumed without being a burden. Union could only be accomplished with the free and hearty assent of both peoples. The use of any force would defeat the object which could not be promoted by controversies or retaliation. These measures looked to and generally endorsed in his own responsibility. Both Speaker Carlisle and Mr. Mills are provoked at this insubordination, which they think endangers the party interests. Neither of them were present at the caucus, the Speaker and Mrs. Carlisle having gone to Covington, Ky., and Mr. Mills having taken his family, by an indirect route, to his home in Texas.

Notes.

The committee investigating the charges against Mr. Stahlnecker finished the examination of Architect Smithmeyer this morning and adjourned until Friday, when Senator Voorhees will be heard.

Senator Stamford, who is in Europe, is suffering from a peculiar disease, being unable to sleep for any length of time or to resist sleeping a minute or two at any time.

Foreign Notes.

A riot occurred Monday among the inmates of the Irish emigrants' home at Glasgow. The rioters wrecked the house and fought desperately with the police who were called on to quell the disturbance. Sixty-five arrests were made.

Mr. John Dillon has been released from Dundalk jail on account of the condition of his health.

THE WORST YET.

Yesterday Among the Sufferers at Jacksonville.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Sept. 18.—This was the most terrible day in the city's history. The new cases number 156. Hot sunshine on the soaked earth is very favorable to the development of fever and a large increase of the disease is expected for the remainder of the week. The official report of deaths is 20; total cases to date, 1203; total deaths, 153.

General Harrison's Visitors.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 18.—General Harrison had a very busy day, among his visitors being a large delegation from Vermillion county, Ill., another group of 800 from Louisville and Covington, Ky., and about 100 delegates who are attending the annual meeting of the National Association of Union ex-Prisoners of War. To each delegation he made a speech discussing the various questions of the day.

SUBURBAN NEWS.

WOODFORDS.

On Sunday last the Congregational church at Woodfords was addressed by Rev. Dr. Creegan, of Boston, on the subject of Foreign Missions. At the close of his earnest and eloquent appeal a collection was taken amounting to a little over one hundred dollars.

The ladies and children were addressed in the afternoon by Miss G. N. Kimball, of Van, Turkey, who greatly interested her audience.

GORHAM.

The State Normal school at Gorham was never in a more prosperous condition than it is today. In the boarding house, which, not long ago, was extensively repaired and newly furnished, there are fifty per cent. more boarders than the largest number ever before accommodated there. Under Prof. Corthell and his very able corps of assistants, the school is today inferior to few, if any such training schools in New England.

Hampton College Students.

Mr. Trissell, vice principal of the now celebrated Hampton Institute, was in the city yesterday making arrangements for a visit to Portland of Gen. Armstrong, and himself, with a delegation of the Indian and colored students. on Sunday, Nov. 25th. They will appear at State street church in the morning, Second Parish in the afternoon, and at Williston in the evening. The intent of the visit is to acquaint our people, and interest them in, the industrial education of the Indians and colored people at the South and West. Visits will also be made to Bangor, Waterville, Augusta, Brunswick, Lewiston and perhaps other places in Maine.

Mountain Trips.

The Maine Central Railroad announces several delightful trips over the Portland & Ogdensburg, with side excursions to places of interest at reduced rates. The advertisement gives full particulars of this fine chance to enjoy the scenery of the White Mountains at a season when it is at its best.

THE PRESS.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, SEPT. 19.

We do not read anonymous letters and communications. The name and address of the writer are in all cases indispensable, not necessarily for publication but as a guarantee of good faith.

We cannot undertake to return or preserve communications that are not used.

FOR PRESIDENT, BENJAMIN HARRISON, OF INDIANA.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT, LEVI P. MORTON, OF NEW YORK.

For Presidential Electors.

At Large—Horace H. Shaw, of Portland. Samuel N. Campbell, of Cherryfield.
First District—Mark M. Wentworth, of Kittery.
Second District—T. R. Simonton, of Camden.
Third District—Albert W. Cushman, of Ellsworth.
Fourth District—Lambert Sands, of Sebec.

The Canadians also are convinced that the Democrats won a victory in Maine. "The result in Maine is not one for General Harrison's friends to crow over to any great extent," sagely remarks the Toronto Globe.

Alson J. Streeter, candidate of the Union Labor party, is said to be by far the wealthiest of this year's Presidential candidates. But on this account his party do not seem to regard him with any the less complacency.

It is estimated that two thousand campaign speeches are delivered every night in Indiana, making it a very windy time for the Hoosiers. The free trade winds are the loudest, but they don't blow towards the White House this year.

The announcement that the Russians are going to arm the Cossacks with the Maxim guns recalls the expression of Napoleon about the nearness of the time when Europe would be either all Republican or all Cossack. If that event is still coming on, as many think, it is hardly appropriate that the Cossacks should be armed with a weapon invented by a State of Maine Yankee.

Young Emperor Frederick is a laboriously thorough German. He won't tolerate French words even on a bill of fare, and has banished the French menu for the German speisekarte. It must trouble this young terror to read in the annals of Prussia that Frederick the Great once wrote, in French, too, no doubt, to a certain famous Frenchman: "My royal titles shall run thus: By the Grace of God, King of Prussia, Elector of Brandenburg, possessor of Voltaire, etc."

The trouble in Boston over the text books used in the public schools, to which there has been objection by the Catholics, is showing an effect in the greater number of women who are preparing to vote in the next municipal election. Last year the number of women who were assessed for a poll tax in order that they might vote for the Boston school committee was 473, but this year about 1450 women, at a rough estimate, have been assessed, and the prospects are that the number will be increased largely before October 1. From 150 to 200 a day are now flocking to the office of the assessors of taxes, and there is every indication that the figure of 1885, when 1845 women were assessed, will be small compared with that of this year when assessment closes. Most of these women are Protestants, who evidently feel that the Catholics are too powerful in school affairs.

The Democrats claim that the great number of laborers employed in ways not affected by the tariff furnish the main part of the supply of labor, and the relation of this number to capital offered for employment, together with the productiveness of our industries, fixes the general rate of wages. —Argus.

There are no great number of laborers employed in this country in ways not affected by the tariff. The building up of an industry creates a new market for labor; and this means a new demand for labor which in turn means a greater scarcity of laborers. A scarcity of laborers means higher wages whether the work is in a protected or an unprotected industry. The tariff affects all laborers because it enlarges the common labor market in which every laborer offers his services. The Democrats used to understand this. When Andrew Jackson advocated the policy of building up industries in 1824 he said, "Draw from agriculture superabundant labor, employ it in mechanism and manufactures, thereby creating a home market for your breadstuffs and distributing labor to the most profitable account and benefit to the country." Andrew Jackson's idea of the effect of a tariff on labor is certainly clearer and more reasonable than the modern Democratic idea which the Argus, we have no doubt, states accurately.

The action begun by the officers of the Board of Trade to extend aid to suffering Jacksonville will meet with ready sympathy from the people of Portland. Jacksonville is a city very nearly as large as Portland, though not by any means so favorably situated for cleanliness and a combat with an epidemic. At a considerable distance from the ocean and its breezes, it has the added disadvantage of location on the low bank of the sluggish St. John's River. At its best, with no epidemic, Jacksonville during the month of September is a bad place for fevers. Of all the trying warm months September is considered the worst. With yellow fever epidemic the September exhalations from the damp and often filthy streets make horrible work. Two-thirds nearly of the inhabitants have fled; while the unfortunate remnant of a little over thirteen thousand are prevented either by poverty or the shot guns of the rigorous quarantine established around Jacksonville and along the approaches to every town whither they might flee, from leaving the city of death. All business is suspended, and the streets of the city are described as almost deserted, except for the crowds of silent and awe-struck negroes waiting for the distribution of food. Families of means are said to actually suffer for food because of the strict quarantine. Several of the most prominent physicians are already sick or dead, and the others, like Dr. Neal Mitchell, President of the Board of Health, are laboring heroically on, with almost the absolute certainty of death before them should they be stricken with the fever in their present condition of exhaustion. This is certainly a situation that calls loudly for charity, and one which the people of Portland will gladly do their part to alleviate.

The statement "that there is a greater demand for labor and higher wages when we have our home market to ourselves than there would be were that market thrown open to the rest of the world" is a peculiar statement. Does the PRESS advocate the total exclusion, by tariff legislation, of the importation of foreign goods? Does it not know that in order for us to participate in the gains of international trade, it is absolutely necessary that foreign goods of some kind should be imported? Does the PRESS wish a Chinese wall to be erected around the coast line of this country? If not, then what does that peculiar statement mean? If it is a good thing for England to "possess herself of foreign markets," why would it not be a good thing for the United States to do the same?—[Eastern Argus.

The PRESS does not advocate the raising of a Chinese wall around America; but it does advocate the retention of such a tariff protection that no English manufacturer shall be able to drive the products of our industry out of our own markets simply because he can hire his operatives at lower rates of wages than a self respecting American laborer can afford to work at. The home market is far more important to us than the foreign market can ever be, and it would be very foolish policy indeed to share with England this home market,—a market which takes more than 90 per cent. of the products of our agriculture and likewise absorbs by far the greater part of our manufactures,—in the hope of wresting from England thereby part of her foreign markets. The foreign markets would certainly be good for us as well as for England if we could get them without bringing our laborers down to the level of the English laborers. But who can suppose for a moment that it would be a wise policy to let into our magnificent home market a supply of foreign goods which must displace just so many goods made by our own wage-earners, simply for the purpose of bringing American labor down to the point where it can produce articles cheap enough to beat competition in that relatively small foreign market wherein the manufacturers of Germany, France and England are already cutting each other's throats in their keen strife for the supremacy? The mistake of the free traders is in despising the home market while they set up the foreign market as the fountain head of commercial plenty. It is easy to understand how this mistake is made. In England, whence emanate free trade ideas, the foreign market is the great source of wealth and plenty. On that short and narrow island are millions of toilers who can live only as they manufacture for others. Their island admits little diversity of soil, climate and productions; in short it is not favorable to that diversification of industry which gives to the United States commercial independence and a home market capable of taking care of almost all the productions of its laborers. It is easy to understand why the English statesmen lay great stress upon the preservation of their foreign markets; it ought to be equally easy to understand why the best American statesmanship should study to preserve the home market.

CURRENT COMMENT.

FOREIGN TRUSTS.

[Boston Journal.]

The attention of those Democratic papers which have insisted that such a thing as a "trust" is unknown in England is respectfully solicited to what the London Ironmonger has to say about the formation of a gigantic international steel rail trust which aims to parcel out the markets of the world among the railmakers of England, France, Belgium and Germany. Every maker of rails in Great Britain has entered the association, and so have all the French railmakers.

ROUGH ON KILGORE.

Why He is so Cordially Detested by Congressman Townshend's Wife.

An incident happened a few days ago, says a Washington letter to the Louisville Courier-Journal, which, while it did not amuse either of the parties interested, afforded a hearty laugh to the spectators, Delegate Smith, of Arizona was doing the honors to a friend, and, among other places, escorted him to the gallery in order to point out to him the distinguished men upon the floor. He talked steadily on, regardless of the fact that a member was indulging in an impassioned burst of oratory; but his friend, being impressed by the wild gestures of the speaker, asked who he was, whereupon Mr. Smith responded in an off-hand way, "Oh, that is Dick Townshend, and he makes me tired," and the next second was paralyzed by the movement of a lady sitting just in front of him, who, slowly turning her head, revealed the disgusted features of Mrs. Townshend.

However, Mr. Smith is a brave man, and when he recovered his breath he whispered to his friend: "I'm going now, and you must say 'Good-bye, Kilgore,' in a loud voice." Soon after he arose, and the amused friend bawled cheerfully, "Good-bye, Kilgore, see you later." And now Mrs. Townshend is mystifying all the friends of Mr. Kilgore by abusing that amiable and innocent man in season and out of season.

WIT AND WISDOM.

Miss Gulleless—Do you know why I have always taken a fancy to you, Mr. Bashful?

"Mr. Bashful (who has at last nerved himself up to the occasion and is about to declare his undying love)—I am sure I should like to know.

Miss G.—Well, it's because you're not one of those soft fellows who think because I am polite to them that I am in love. They're such bores, you know.

Declaration indefinitely postponed.

Do not despair of curing your sick headache, when you can so easily obtain Carter's Little Liver Pills. They will effect a prompt and permanent cure. Their action is mild and natural.

Mother—Well, how have the children behaved while I have been away?

Father—Oh, they've been cross and bad tempered.

Mother—Is that so? Well, where did they get their bad temper I'd like to know?

Father—I declare I can't tell. But I'm sure their mother hasn't lost any of hers.

A Hint to Puny People.

From their arrival on this planet to their usually early departure from it people of weak constitutions and angular physiques pass a sort of half-existence. Like dormice they burrow in their home retreats, afraid of heat, afraid of cold, constantly afraid that the shadow of the dread reaper will materialize and exact the forfeit which he demands from all sooner or later. No finer medicinal assurance of compensating vigor for the feeble exists than that afforded by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Used with persistence—hot with spurts and spasms—this genial and professionally commended tonic will do much toward infusing strength into a puny system, and rounding off scrawny angles in the human figure. Appetite, nerve tranquility and nightly repose are encouraged by it, and a malarial, rheumatic, bilious tendency overcome. It re-establishes digestion and prevents kidney troubles.

Bagley (sternly)—Aurelia, let this thing stop right here. Mr. De Twiller—

Aurelia—Oh, paw! Do you forbid Arthur the house?

Bagley—He may come every night in the week if he pleases, but he shall not bring his dog into my parlor. Last night its howlings kept me awake for an hour.

Aurelia—Why, paw; that was Arthur singing a selection from "Erminie."

To get relief from indigestion, bilious ness, constipation, torpid liver, without disturbing the stomach or purging the bowels, take a few doses of Carter's Little Liver Pills, they will please you.

On the back of a supper bill hailing from a transatlantic hotel are written the following lines:

Look carefully throughout this bill;
Enough, if print would only fill
Select some delicacy light
To tempt exacting appetite—
Then spot it.

The waiter leaves like fast express;
Is gone some half an hour or less;
Returns with imbecile grimace,
And, staring blandly in your face—
"Ain't got it."

Great Excitement at Congress Hall Over Dr. Smith's Wonderful Magnetic Healing of the Sick.

The most interesting, instructive and entertaining exhibition that ever took place in Portland is the public healing of the sick by Dr. Smith at Congress Hall every morning from 10 to 11 o'clock. Saturday morning an old lady who had lost the use of her right hand by having a needle accidentally driven into it, went upon the stage and in less than five minutes time she could open and close her hand with ease. An old lady who was so deaf that she could not hear the loudest tones was made to hear common conversation. A man who suffered from paralysis of the left side received a magnetic treatment and after the treatment he stated to the audience that nothing ever did him so much good as the treatment he had just received from Dr. Smith. George Hill who resides on Cousin's Island had been afflicted for a long time with a most distressing form of head ache. The pain commenced in the back part of the head and extended to the top of the head, forehead and eyes. He complained of a most distressing pain in the eyeballs. He could not move the eyes without experiencing the most agonizing pain. His countenance wore a pinched expression which was indicative of extreme suffering. The liver, stomach and bowels became inactive. He had consulted several physicians without receiving any benefit. He finally decided to call on Dr. Smith at the United States Hotel. He did so and was cured by two magnetic treatments. Dr. Smith will continue to heal the sick free of charge at Congress Hall every morning this week from 10 to 11 o'clock. The doctor is permanently located at the United States Hotel and may be consulted from 9 a. m. till 5 p. m. daily except Sundays. Dr. Smith will pay $500 to any person whom he undertakes to cure of the piles and fails to do so. He permanently cures fissures, fistula in ano, piles, hydrocele, varicocele, kidney and bladder diseases, and in fact all chronic diseases. Letters of enquiry must contain postage. sep16dtf

Six Grand Autumn Trips.

September and October are the most delightful months in the year for traveling, and Messrs. Raymond & Whitcomb, in recognition of this fact, have planned for this season some of their finest pleasure trips. Several excursions have already taken place this month, and others are announced for the closing weeks of September. Several fresh tours are advertised for October. One of these is a trip to Niagara Falls in a magnificent vestibuled train. Another is to Washington; a third is to Gettysburg, Fortress Monroe, Richmond, the Natural Bridge, the Caverns of Luray, Harper's Ferry, etc.; and still another to Northern New England and Canada. In addition to these attractive trips, there are excursions to Southern California during the season, the Pacific Coast via the Northern Pacific Railroad, and to Colorado. The advertisement also gives the dates of the Winter excursions to California, and of the three tours to Mexico. Descriptive circulars of any of these trips, or itineraries of the California and Mexico tours arranged for the winter and spring, can be obtained of W. Raymond, 296 Washington street, opposite School street, Boston.

Advice to Mothers.—MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub, awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

No Buffet should be without a bottle of Angostura Bitters, the world-renowned Appetizer and Invigorator, of exquisite flavor, endorsed by the medical profession for its wonderful restorative power. sept17eod&w1w

That tired, languid feeling and dull headache is very disagreeable. Take two of Carter's Little Liver Pills before retiring and you will find relief. They never fail to do good.

A WARNING.

The modes of death's approach are various, and statistics show conclusively that more persons die from diseases of the Throat and Lungs than any other. It is probable that everyone, without exception, receives vast numbers of Tubercle Germs into the system, and where these germs fall upon suitable soil they start into life and develop, at first slowly, and is shown by a slight tickling sensation in the throat, and if allowed to continue their ravages they extend to the lungs, producing Consumption, and to the head, causing Catarrh. Now all this is dangerous, and if allowed to proceed will, in time, cause death. At the onset you must act with promptness; allowing a cold to go without attention is dangerous, and may lose you your life. As soon as you feel that something is wrong with your Throat, Lungs or Nostrils, obtain a bottle of Boschee's German Syrup. It will give you immediate relief. nov8-d1y-eT

SUPERIOR COURT.

BEFORE JUDGE BONNEY.

TUESDAY—In the case of State against William Raymond, for being an accessory before the fact to the burglary by Moore, of the dwelling house of Roscoe G. Barbour, the jury were out from half past eleven until a quarter past three when they returned a verdict of guilty.

State vs. Eugene A. Smith. Indicted for the larceny of a horse and harness, the property of John Noyes, of Falmouth, on the night of the 20th of July last. The horse was found eight days after in a clam house on the shore, a mile distant, weak and famished; he evidently had nothing to eat since he was put there. Smith had been at work for Mr. Noyes, but was paid off and left the day that the horse was taken in the night. In an adjoining clam house in a bunk under some straw, was found an overcoat, and in the bushes near by an oil cloth suit and a pair of rubber boots which it is admitted belonged to Smith.

Smith was soon suspected of the larceny and was arrested the day after the loss of the horse and has been kept locked up until this time. The testimony for the government is all in.

G. M. Seiders, county attorney.
A. F. Moulton for defendant.

MUNICIPAL COURT.

BEFORE JUDGE GOULD.

TUESDAY—Albert Emery, Daniel Libby, Charles Neilson; intoxication. $3 and costs.

Charles Smith, Harry Washburn; intoxication. $5 and costs each.

George Thompson; intoxication. Fined $4 and costs.

Thos. J. Ross; vagabond. Three months in the county jail.

James Burns; common drunkard. Three months in the county jail.

Mary Davis; common drunkard. Three months in House of Correction.

Michael McDonough; common drunkard. Thirty days in the county jail.

Timothy Nally; larceny. Reform School during minority.

Richard Nally and James Conroy; larceny. Discharged.

BRIEF JOTTINGS.

There was but one session of the schools yesterday owing to the storm.

The Cumberland Farmers' Club will hold their fair on September 26th and 27th.

Cogawesco Tribe, I. O. R. M., conferred the warriors' degree on four candidates last evening.

The old Plummer house, No. 111 Middle street, will be remodelled for business purposes.

J. D. Barnes, Supreme Chief of the Order of Knights of the Golden Eagle, will visit Portland the latter part of this month, and, with the assistance of the Sir Knights of New Hampshire, will institute a castle in this city.

There have been 22 house lots sold at Falmouth Foreside, at Madokawando Landing; four each on the Randall and Stubbs tracts, and 11 on the Stackpole tract. Mr. G. B. Reeve's summer mansion will be 40 x 49 feet, and a pair of twin cottages are to be erected close by.

YELLOW FEVER.

Action by the Board of Trade for the Florida Sufferers.

A Letter From the Rev. H. E. Foss.

A special meeting of the managers of the Board of Trade was held yesterday morning to consider the condition of the people of Jacksonville, and other fever stricken districts in Florida. It was the unanimous opinion of all present that the necessities of the people in those places were such as to invoke the sympathies and assistance of all charitably disposed people, and the following resolutions were adopted:

Voted, That a committee of three be appointed by this Board to co-operate with such committees as the City Government may appoint for the purpose of soliciting and receiving subscriptions for the relief of sufferers from yellow fever in Jacksonville and other places.

Messrs. Hollis B. Hill, Louis A. Goudy and Sidney W. Thaxter were appointed said committee to act in behalf of this Board with full power to fill vacancies, or enlarge the committee from the Board's membership.

Rev. H. E. Foss sends the PRESS the following letter:

To the Editor of the Press:

The Board of Trade in conjunction with the City Government, having taken action looking toward the raising of a fund for fever stricken Jacksonville, as one deeply interested in that terribly scourged city, I ask space in your paper to present a brief statement of the case.

But little more than a month has passed since the disease became really epidemic, and yet more than one thousand persons have been smitten with this dread disorder, while the death roll includes some of the most faithful ministers, a number of the leading lawyers, nearly half a score of heroic physicians and not a few of the most successful business men of the city and for six weeks, at least, the new cases will increase at the rate of from 40 to 100 per day, and the list of the dead will grow longer and longer until a hard frost comes and that may not be expected much before December 1st.

The people remaining in the city are largely those who have no means which would have enabled them to leave the city weeks ago; business is prostrated; the workingman's occupation is gone and he can neither supply the ordinary wants of his family or provide proper treatment and remedies for them if stricken down.

The situation, in brief, is this: "A city of 35,000 inhabitants is reduced to 13,500, and those are hemmed in in their sorrow stricken city by scores of quarantines sustained by armed men; these people have no means of flight and if they had there are no places willing and able to receive them.

The bulk of the present population therefore must remain and nobly fight and forget their fear in constant work to alleviate the sufferings of others or calmly await their own almost inevitable attack.

To supply the necessities of life for these poor people $2,000 per day are needed, and in providing medical attendance, skilled nursing, proper remedies, to keep the city clean and properly disenfected and to meet the numerous demands, at least $2,000 more are required, so it is safe to place the daily need of money at $4,000.

It is a matter of simplest calculation then to discover that ere this fall destroyer departs, from $250,000 to $300,000 will be needed.

Thousands of Portland's people were once made homeless in a night, but Jacksonville's affliction is in some respects worse. She has plenty of comfortable and beautiful homes but alas they are tenantless, in some instances whole families having been swept away in a single week.

In view of these facts I appeal to the prosperous business men and the citizens in general of Portland, to respond with their well known and oft tried generosity and to send back to the Sunny South a practical assurance of sympathy.

H. E. Foss,
Pastor Trinity M. E. Church, Jacksonville, and Acting Pastor Pine St., M. E. Church, Portland.

PERSONAL.

Mr. Edwin H. Trafton, of the New York Mail and Express, is at Great Chebeague Island.

Rev. H. P. Winter entered upon his duties as pastor of the Dover and Foxcroft M. E. church, last Sunday.

Mr. R. O. Robbins, of the staff of the Bangor Commercial and a very capable journalist, is to take charge of the Piscataquis Observer.

Mr. Henry Noyes, for over forty years a resident of Chelsea, Mass., died Monday, aged about 76. He was a native of Castine, and during the border trouble was a captain of milltia, Five children survive him.

Mrs. M. T. Mulhall, nee Ella Latham, who died yesterday after a long illness, was formerly teacher in the North School. She was much respected as a teacher, and was a young lady highly regarded by all who knew her.

One of the pleasantest social events of the season in Augusta occurred Monday evening at the Arsenal Museum. Captain and Mrs. Michaelis and the other members of the Kennebec Club entertained the Misses Blaine and their guests, Miss Loring, daughter of Hon. George B. Loring of Massachusetts, and Miss Macomb of Washington, Hon. James G. Blaine and Hon. Elliott F. Shepard, of New York, were among the guests.

Canton Ridgely's Excursion.

Grand Canton Ridgely, No. 2, I. O. O. F., started on their first pilgrimage yesterday morning. About sixty chevaliers gathered at the hall, and the line of march was taken up at 7.20. With the chevaliers were Major General Oren B. Whitten, Major Frank Moseley, Capt. C. F. Tobie, of Component 1, Capt. H. K. Colesworthy, Component 5, Ensign C. H. Cloudman, Component 13.

The proposed route was abandoned on account of the rain, and the Canton, headed by Collins's First Regiment Band, marched up Congress to Preble, and down Preble to the Portland & Rochester station. Here a special train, in charge of Conductor John Connors, was in waiting. This the excursionists boarded immediately, and the train drew out of the station at 7.45. Yesterday the chevaliers were entertained at Manchester. They will go to Concord today, returning to Portland at night.

Ezekiel D. Gammon.

Ezekiel D. Gammon, the veteran painter, died in this city yesterday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock, after a long illness.

Mr. Gammon was born in Cape Elizabeth on June 14, 1807, and was therefore 81 years of age at the time of his decease. He was one of the original members of the old Portland Band, playing the base drum, but he only played occasionally with the band after 1843. He was also a member of the Citizens Relief Society, and of the Aged Brotherhood. He was a capital workman in his day, and a most genial person, full of stories and fun even to a short time before his death. He leaves a son, Edward, who resides West.

Presentation.

Yesterday morning Mr. Arthur H. Harding, who, during the past season, has officiated as clerk on the steamers Cadet and Emita was interviewed by many of the Evergreen cottagers, who patronize the boats, and presented by Mr. Hovey with an elegant gold and onyx watch charm for courtesies extended during the summer. Mr. Harding appropriately responded. It was a very handsome recognition of Mr. Harding's unvarying politeness as clerk of the boats.

Sneak Thieves.

Mr. Willis Roberts, U. S. vice consul at Coaticook, Canada, had a small handbag snatched from him at the Commercial street station yesterday morning. Later, Robert Christie and George Randall were arrested for the theft. Randall says that Christie took the valise, but he was drunk and didn't mean to steal it. This statement Christie denies. As the valise cannot be found, the police suspect a third party who has not been arrested.

Officer Hicks Has an Arm Broken.

Last night Officer Israel Hicks in assisting Officer Sparrow to arrest Patrick Busby for drunkenness and disturbance, had his arm broken short off above the elbow by Busby, who resisted the officer as best he could. He caught Officer Hicks by the arm and in the tussel succeeded in breaking it. Busby is now in the lockup.

Real Estate Transfers.

The following transfers of real estate in this county have been recorded at the Registry of Deeds:

New Gloucester—Lydia Jane Sparrow to Geo. E. Sparrow. $850.

John I. Sturgis to Augustus H. Merrill. $1 etc.

Scarboro—Asa M. Sylvester to Ellen L. Burditt. $175.

Buidgton—Eliza A. Taylor to James S. Martin. $1 etc.

AT CHICAGO.

Hon. William W. Thomas, Jr., Honored by the Scandinavians.

The Interocean says: Chicago is said to be the largest Swedish city in the world outside of Sweden. The little kingdom of Sweden has been for the last nine years the third in the list of contributors to the foreign population of the United States; and the Swedes, as a rule, do not remain in the cities, but they strike out into the prairies and backwoods and open new territory, making it productive and valuable.

Yesterday there arrived in Chicago the Hon. William W. Thomas, Jr., of Portland, Me., who is well known to all Scandinavians as the ex-United States Minister to Sweden. While Mr. Thomas is well acquainted with many former residents of Sweden he did not have time to stop and talk with them, but hopes to do so in the near future. Mr. Thomas is well posted regarding the Maine election and official life in Stockholm. American travelers have many times wished he were still located in Stockholm. Mr. Thomas is more closely identified with the Swedish-Americans than any other person in this country, having been consul to Gothenburg under President Lincoln, and served as American Minister under President Arthur. He was found in his apartments at the Grand Pacific Hotel. Mr. Thomas said:

"I am on my way to Minneapolis to deliver the address at the great Swedish celebration of the 250th anniversary of the landof the first Swedish colony in this country, which occurred on the banks of the Delaware in 1638. I really regard it as an exceptional compliment that these people should send so far for a man who is so distinctively American in birth as I to speak to them on such an occasion. But I have been most intimately identified with the Swedish people for many years. I think I was the first minister to Sweden who was able to address the King upon arrival there in his native tongue. In 1870 I brought over a colony of fifty Swedes and settled them in a backwoods township on the St. John's River in Maine. The colony numbers now over 2,000 persons."

"You have also translated into English some of the Swedish literature, have you not?"

"Yes, I have done much of such work, and it has served to bring me prominently before the Swedish people. One of the most interesting incidents connected with my stay in Sweden was connected with the American flag. Upon my arrival at Stockholm, I found no American flag among the possessions of the office, and I learned that it had never been the custom for foreign ministers to fly the flag of their countries. I determined to establish a precedent, and on the anniversary of the death of Gustavus Adolphus, I raised the Stars and Stripes. The idea pleased the people very greatly; they took it up, and since then the American flag is raised there on all national American holidays. Since I went to Sweden there has also been established a direct line of steamers from the United States to Sweden, which is of great value to America, as Sweden uses about $4,000,000 worth of corn and wheat from this country."

"What about the Maine election, Mr. Thomas?"

"I am just from the stump in Maine. The results are glorious. The prospects for the fall campaign, in the light of our victory in Maine, are very flattering, not only for that State, but for all of the Northeastern States. My observation leads me to say that the Maine the entire manufacturing interest of the State, without regard to previous political preferences, is in favor of the Republican ticket. The only wool-growing county we have is strongly Republican, and I could give the names of a great many farmers and manufacturers, many of them former Democrats, who are opposed to the policy of Cleveland, as outlined by the Mills bill."

"Do you regard the result in Maine as a significant indication for the entire North in the November election?"

"I would hardly say that. But it is certainly a most significant index for the manufacturing North. All the Northeastern States, and New York, Pennsylvania,—yes, and New Jersey—I feel quite confident of. We of the East are inclined to look upon New York as certain this year. One gentleman from that State, with whom I was talking, placed the majority in New York at 70,000. We are more afraid of Indiana, down East, than of any other Northern State, but I understand that Western Republicans look upon Indiana as certain. The result in Maine was accomplished against the most vigorous and determined opposition made by the Democrats since the Republican party was formed. Cleveland's letter of acceptance appeared that morning. Maine answered in the evening."

"Do you take any stump after speaking at Minneapolis?"

"Yes, in Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan. I may also speak a few times in Illinois, where there is such a large number of Swedes. I shall spend the latter part of the campaign in New York State."

"When were you last in Sweden, Mr. Thomas?"

"Last October I went there to get married, and in all my connection with the Swedish people I consider that the best thing I ever did. My term of office ended when I was civil-service-reformed out of office upon the accession of Mr. Cleveland."

The State Fair.

George E. Brackett of Belfast, one of the trustees of the State Agricultural Society, was in the city yesterday, on his way home, after closing up his department at Lewiston Monday. He reports one of, if not the most successful exhibition ever held by the society, in every particular. It was a success, both financially and as an exhibit of Maine's agriculture in every department.

The attendance Thursday was probably the largest ever known at a State fair in Maine, the receipts, etc., showing a crowd of at least 22,000 people on the park in the afternoon, and notwithstanding the storm of Wednesday the receipts were very satisfactory and will figure up about $24,000. The expenses of the year, including all premiums, bills, interest money, etc., will be over $18,000, and the indications are there will be some $5000 to go towards paying the debt of the society. A few seasons like the present will clear the incumbrances and leave the society clear of debt, and $50,000 worth of property in its park and appurtenances.

All the premiums awarded will be paid in full by the treasurer within sixty days, and sent by mail without any notice or call for them. The trustees will be in session at Lewiston, Monday, Oct. 10th, for the purpose of closing up the accounts and business of the fair, and all persons having bills against the society are requested to present them then, when they will be paid, if approved.

All the officers of the society were reelected, except in the third district, where A. F. Gerald of Fairfield was elected. He will not enter upon his duties on the board until 1889, when he will probably be assigned to the horse department.

In answer to the question as to date of the fair for 1889, Mr. Brackett stated that it would not probably be definitely fixed until the first meeting of the full board of trustees next January, but the indications all point to its being fixed for the second week in September.

Twelfth Maine Association.

The annual reunion of the 12th Maine Association occurs at Saccarappa today, and includes the wives and children of the veterans. The surviving members of the First Maine Battery are invited to join them. The regiment will meet at Bosworth Post Hall, at 9 a. m., and leave for the Portland & Rochester railroad station at 9.45 a. m. Upon arrival at Saccarappa, the business meeting will be held, and dinner will be served in the hall at 12.30 p. m. After dinner there will be music and a few short speeches, and a fine game of base ball between two of the best clubs in the State. Carriages will convey parties to places of public interest. The Saccarappa band will be in attendance all day, and there will be a social reunion and dance in the evening.

Home Camp Meeting.

Last night the Home Campmeeting opened at Chestnut street church, Presiding Elder Jones delivering the opening sermon, taking his text from Chronicles I. xxix:5. There was a large attendance considering the condition of the weather, and much interest was manifested. The exercises consisted of prayer and music, in which the members of the congregation took part. The campmeeting will last about two weeks. This afternoon, at 3 p. m., Rev. M. B. Pratt of Scarboro, will conduct the services, and in the evening Rev. A. S. Ladd of Auburn. The meetings will undoubtedly be largely attended, and many conversions will probably result.

Jurors Drawn.

At a meeting of the Board of Aldermen held yesterday morning, Mark Wiggin and Theodore A. Josselyn were drawn as grand jurors, and D. S. Murphy and J. W. Judge petit jurors for the United States Circuit Court.

Fell Dead.

William Spencer, of Ansonia, Conn., while pitching off a load of oates in the barn of Clement Humphrey at Gray, had a fit and dropped down dead on the load. It is supposed he died of heart disease. Mr. Spencer had been there but a few days, visiting his brother Job H. Spencer, and other relatives and friends. His age was about 62.

Quaker Rolled White Oats.

Plain, simple foods do not clog or cloy the stomach, but leaves body and mind in trim for active, untiring work, and pre-eminent among these stand the grain foods, whose healthfulness is universally admitted. Hygienists especially commend Oatmeal for its exceptionally nutritious qualities, but the difficulties hitherto encountered by the average housekeeper in cooking it thoroughly and making it palatable have always prevented its becoming universally popular. These two difficulties, however, have been completely overcome by the Quaker Mill Company, of Ravenna, Ohio, in their preparation known as Quaker Rolled White Oats, which are quickly and easily cooked, while the superior and peculiar drying processes used by them, retain in the manufactured product all the natural sweetness and flavor of the grain. These excellencies are being thoroughly appreciated by the public, and have secured for the "Quaker" brand the unrivalled popularity which it justly enjoys. Being healthful, delicious and so easily cooked, the Quaker Rolled White Oats have become a favorite breakfast dish. and are now known everywhere as the best article of the kind in the market.

Pears Soap secures a beautiful complexion.

C. S. Fairfield will run the barge Mayflower from the Gray station to the Fair Grounds during the continuance of Gray fair. Coupons attached to Maine Central tickets will be good between the station and grounds.

Neither Free Trade nor Protection is as essential as use of Index Soap.

A Fair Trial

Of Hood's Sarsaparilla will convince any reasonable person that it does possess great medicinal merit. We do not claim that every bottle will accomplish a miracle, but we know that nearly every bottle, taken according to directions, does produce positive benefit. Its peculiar curative power is shown by many remarkable cures.

"I was run down from close application to work, but was told I had malaria and was dosed with quinine, etc., which was useless. I decided to take Hood's Sarsaparilla and now am now feeling strong and cheerful. I feel satisfied it will benefit any one who gives it a fair trial." W. B. BEAMISH, 261 Spring street, New York City.

"It affords me much pleasure to recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla. My health two years ago was very poor. My friends thought I was going with consumption. I commenced using Hood's Sarsaparilla, took five bottles of it, and today I can do as hard a day's work as I ever could. It saved me from the grave and put me on my feet a sound, healthy man." WILL R. D. TRIBBEY, 144 East Main street, Wiggonsville, Ohio.

WANTED—Competent girl for general housework; references required. NO. 75 VAUGHAN ST. 19-1

If you are building a house it is reasonable to suppose that you have about decided to treat the walls of at least one room with some soft tint of the popular cartridge paper.

Do you know that a wide awake manufacturer in Scotland has made and sent over here a line of drapery curtains which so closely resemble cartridge paper in color and texture that at a little distance they look like one and the same thing? If you use cartridge paper for the walls you ought to have those "Doric" curtains for the windows. They come in a variety of exquisite colorings, with deep dado borders of another harmonizing shade of the some color; they are soft and clinging, and look heavy but are really very light. Considering that they are quite the latest novelty for Portieres they are sold at a very small price. We have a complete line of all the colors made and 'tis worth your while to look into our Draperies Department and see them.

Among the other new things which this department has just received are some high art silk Plushes and Velours for portieres and an entirely new line of drapery fringes which have been made to our own order to match the materials with which they are designed to be combined. All the new effects in upholstery tapestries, cretonnes and Madrasses, and another lot of those jute crumb cloths for dining room floors. These cloths are six feet by nine and cost a dollar five. There are only sixteen of them and this is the last lot we shall have.

Think of two hundred and eighty-six styles of lace curtains, all different. It would take a whole day to look at them all, but we have as many as that to show and the range of prices is from seventy-five dollars a pair down to as many cents. Is there any possibility of your not getting suited from such a stock?
