The inspiring sunshine of the season has touched the heart of an Indianapolis girl, who concludes a love letter thus: "The ring is round, the dish is square, and we'll be married the next State fair. The bell shall ring, the drum shall play, and we'll go dancing all the way. Answer soon. Mary."

It is reported, says the Lawrence Eagle, that one of our peace-loving husbands a few months ago, agreed to give his wife three dollars a week to maintain comparative silence, deducting one cent for each superfluous word she uttered. She now owes him nearly enough to pay the city debt.

"The longer I live," said Sydney Smith, "the more I am convinced that the apothecary is of more importance than philosophy, and that half the unhappiness of life proceeds from little stoppages, from a duct choked up, from food pressing in the wrong place, from a vexed duodenum, of an agitated pylorus."

A few days since a buxom woman brought to the register of wills a will made by her husband, which she desired to file for probate. "When did he die? inquired the sympathetic clerk to whom the document was handed. "Why, bless you," responded the woman, "he aint dead yet, but he gave me that (pointing to the will), and he drinks a quart of liquor every day, and I guess," continued she, with a laugh, "he'll play out in about three months." The officer had no more to say, and quietly filed away the will. —Baltimore American.

Associated Dairying in Maine.

BY GEO. E. BRACKETT, BELFAST.

Associated Dairying in Maine is no longer an experiment, it is a fact—a successful reality—and now and hereafter it must rank among the leading branches of agriculture in our State. Its growth and progress has been rapid and smacks somewhat of the marvellous, being more like the operation of events among our Western cousins, than what is usual in old conservative slow-plodding, down-east. The little cheese factory of two years ago located away up in the Sandy river valley, has grown to a score in operation last year, and another twe ve-month will witness more than three score associated dairies scattered throughout our State, so deep is the interest of our farmers in this question. Truly the seed has not fallen upon poor soil for the harvest already is many-fold.

And this is only the beginning. The little spark is kindling a strong fire for the fuel is plenty and there are willing hands to supply it. There is room enough in Maine for two hundred of these farmer's manufactories without fear of crowding, and still be no danger of glutting the market.

These companies are organized all over the State, and their unpretentious little factories adorn many a quiet cross-road-corner, while one can hardly take up a copy of a newspaper published in Maine without seeing accounts of new cheese factory companies organized, or of discussions which usually lead to the same result.

Let me refer to my own county as an example. Two years ago the subject of cheese factories was almost unknown. Our farmers had heard of such operations being carried on in New York, but that they were adapted to the wants of Waldo county farmers was not taken into consideration. It was also rumored that there was such a factory in operation in some part of Maine, but how, or even where, was somewhat a question of doubt But some of our earnest farmers, feeling that something must be done for self-preservation, and thinking, here, perhaps, was an opportunity, looked into the matter a little—read, investigated and labored practically and the result has been four factories were in successful operation the past milk season, seven more are organized and ready for work next spring, and several others are in process of incubation. Whole amount of cheese manufactured last season was 42.040 lbs. or over 21 tons. Average price obtained, 15 1-2 cts. per lb. Total value of cheese in market $6,616.30. Average cost of manufacture 3 1-2 cts. per lb. Average number of pounds of milk to a pound of cheese 9 6-10 or a fraction over 9 1-2 lbs. Average price of shares $25; extremes $10 and $50. The number of cows furnishing milk to those factories ranged from 80 to 200 to each. The work in a factory manufacturing the milk of EVERY regular attache of the PRESS is furnished with a Card certificate countersigned by Stanley T. Pullen, Editor. All railway, steamboat and hotel managers will confer a favor upon us by demanding credentials of every person claiming to represent our journal, as we have information that several "bummers" are seeking courtesies in the name of the PRESS, and we have no disposition to be, even passively, a party to such frauds.

We do not read anonymous letters and communications. The name and address of the writer are in all cases indispensable, not necessarily for publication but as a guaranty of good faith.

Thursday, the Sixteenth Day of April

next, as a day of PUBLIC HUMILIATION, FASTING AND PRAYER.

Let us as a people unite in such an observance of that day as will bring us in closer communion with Him from whom cometh all our mercies, thereby gaining new strength to resist temptation and overcome evil, and causing even our toils and trials to be blessed to our present and eternal good.

Given at the Council Chamber, in Augusta, this twenty-fifth day of March, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four, and of the Independence of the United States of America the ninety-eighth. NELSON DINGLEY, JR.

By the Governor.

GEORGE G. STACY, Secretary of State.

THE stock gamblers of Wall street have voted to observe Good Friday by closing their board. Next!

AND now currency Doctor Kelley announces to the House that he will again offer his 3.65 convertible bond panacea. Mr. Kelley, Wednesday was April fool's day.

THE currency debate in the House yesterday was decidedly breezy. Some gentlemen were so much in earnest that outside of Congress, one would remark that the "dander" was up.

THE Hubbard postal telegraph humbug was reported in the Senate yesterday. It is, however, a harmless fraud, since no body of men outside of a lunatic asylum, would ever make the measure a law.

THE poor boy's friend, in the House yesterday, thanked God that he had always given his votes for the country. Now, Benjamin, are you confident that both eyes were on duty for the country when you smuggled that little Sanborn-Sawyer-Butler amendment into an appropriation bill that is giving poor Richardson so much trouble now?

ALL over the business world, almost universal business stagnation is reported. The banks of London, Berlin, Paris and New York, all report an abundance and cheapness of money, and, at the same time, a marked depression in business. In this country the distrust engendered by the September panic continues to check investment and enterprise, and as a natural consequence, there is a congestion of currency in New York and other money centres.

UNTIL April 1st, Senator Jones of Nevada, has been pointed out as the member who has an annual income of five millions. It has also been intimated that he vanquished the veteran Nye, whom he succeeds, by bringing to bear upon the members of the Legislature the irresistible blandishments of his income. April first he surprised the Senate by one of the most telling hard money speeches that has penetrated the inflation fog, putting the talkist Morton hors du combat. Hereafter he will be known as the man who floored Morton.

WITH the comming of summer we expected it, deplored it, dreaded it as the run of an epidemic, but had made up our mind that we should be spared while wintry blasts swept the fields; but, alas, the winter of our discontent is not made summer while the first game of base ball was played at the "Hub" yesterday, Fast Day. Shade of Gov. Winthrop and associates; would you ever have set the fashion of a day of public fast ever to pray away Indians, had you known that your degenerate sons would have profaned your memories by inaugurating thereon the season's campaign of such a barbarous game?

IT has come to light since the death of Senator Sumner that President Lincoln offered the Chief Justiceship of the Supreme Court to Senator Sumner before the appointment of Mr. Chase. Mr. Sumner replied that there was a time when this office would have been the realized dream of his youth, but now it must not and cannot be." The reason Mr. Sumner gave was that the breach between the President and Mr. Chase must be healed to save the Republican party intact to fulfill its mission. This decision was very creditable to Senator Sumner, but the cause that led him to make it does not place Judge Chase in a very enviable light, particularly when it is remembered that the destinies of a nation striving for existence depended upon the unity of the party which Mr. Chase was ready to divide if he was not pacified.

A GENTLEMAN who attended the recent agricultural meetings in our State says that there is a growing feeling among many farmers in the granger interest to make war upon what they term "middlemen." At the recent meeting at Waterville several gentlemen took ground in favor of farmers selling their own produce directly to the consumer, or that an agent of their own sell directly to those who retail it in cities and elsewhere. The theory is a good one and if all farmers were able and organized it might possibly be done, yet there is a probability that in practice the scheme generally applied would prove a failure. On the other hand it must be admitted that the cost of farm products and indeed all of the necessaries of life is greatly enhanced in consequence of the number of men who handle them and must derive a profit sufficient for a living therefrom. Again there is an army of speculators who have little to do with getting farm products to market, but by purchasing early and in such quantities as to control the market are rather an obstacle between the producer and consumer. These are scarcely middlemen in the proper sense, and it may not be polite to say just what relation they bear to the public.

That there are too many middlemen, there can be no doubt. Every city and village is crowded with them and from the farms they flock cityward in crowds. Farmers are aware of this fact and it is a matter for congratulation that the leading agriculturists at their meetings in this State discuss plans to prevent this exodus from the rural districts and present arguments to show that the farm has greater opportunities for money making than the city. In this connection, it is well to recall the responsibility for this immense army of middlemen. If one goes into a farming community, he will hear farmers in the presence of their sons disparaging the pursuit of agriculture. It is this constant teaching or rather complaining of fathers to sons which sends the latter to the city in crowd sand is the cause of thousands of vacant farms in Maine to-day. Then this most pernicious of all nonsense that school committees, doctors, lawyers and ministers, to say nothing of teachers, recite to school children on set occasions, is mischievous in the extreme. How vast the army of bummers these good people have recruited, how immense the number of idlers, defaulters and small politicians they have started in business by declaring that a president of the United States, governors of the States, members of Congress, Astors and merchant princes were undoubtedly in the schools they were then addressing, will never be known.

Our farmers and grangers may attempt to reduce the number of consumers that live off the results of theirs and other producers toil but very little can be accomplished so long as they deplore their own condition before their sons and allow those who shape public opinions to fill the heads of the young with the pernicious ideas which are the source of the present mischief of which they complain.

Current Notes.

The Hartford Courant published a stirring address written by Michael Scanlan formerly of the Irish Republic newspaper, to the Irish Republicans of Connecticut, in which he sets forth the reasons why they and all Irish voters should vote with the Republicans.

The Tribune thinks that Mr. Frank Smith official reporter of the House of Representatives at $5,000 a year, and President of the Young Men's Christian Association, has no right to share a contract given by the Washington board of public works from which he receives $20,000 as his share of the profits. If it is a fair thing, why not Frank Smith official reporter and President of the Y. M. C. A.? If a theft why worse for him than any other small thief. Pecksniff may be more contemptible but no worse than Fagin the Jew.

Dr. Edwin Curtis of New York publishes a letter in the Tribune in which he declares that alcohol in ordinary amounts "is wholly consumed in the system; that it acts the part, if not taken in overdoses, of an easily digested food; that instead of being a mere stimulant, it gives actual strength and serves for the repair of wasted tissue." Before this announcement the opponents of this theory seemed to have made their case. Perhaps Dr. Curtis don't believe in the Temperance movement.

The Hartford Courant says that it is hardly creditable to the country that so great a soldier as Gen. Sherman, "to whom we owe so much, should be in any manner pinched and harrassed by the petty annoyances of poverty for himself and his family. We wonder that this should be so, when General Sherman is not only a genius to whom we owe much of the brilliancy of our national military reputation, but he is a man whose open, frank and sincere manner, honesty and magnanimity attract the popular regard. The military bill before congress proposes a sort of humiliation to him in the reduction of his personal staff. Surely congress can afford to respect his feelings, and exalt the honor of his rank, if the country is to give him no other reward."

The Boston Advertiser urges the President to veto the inflation bill and predicts that if the Morton policy goes on he will quite possibly appear as the presidential candidate of a party which will advocate the building of railroads by the general government.

Washington News and Gossip.

THE AGRICULTURAL REPORT.

The department of agriculture has prepared for its monthly report, just ready, a statement giving all information attainable in regard to the transactions of the granges. The result of a cooperative scheme among the farmers for the purchase of agricultural implements is quite fully set forth. It appears from the reports received that, in this character, the purchases alone of the farmers of the West thus associated were between $6,000,000 and $8,000,000.

PAY OF GAUGERS.

The House appropriation bill reduces the salary of gangers from $7 to $5 per day. In these times of financial distress, when economy is the order of the day, each should bear his portion of reduced expenses. Yet gangers are here from Lonisville and Cincinnati, buttonholing Congressmen, and trying to prevent the reduction instead of being at their post earning their wages. How many competent men would willingly accept the position at the reduced rate of $5 per day.

A BIT OF GOSSIP.

The Washington letter of the Springfield Republican says that "there are a good many gentlemen here who watch the settlement of this financial controversy with sleepless vigilance. Blaine, Conkling, Morton and others I could name are on the alert for the future. Logan and Morton feel that they must make a point in some direction, for Blaine has made several of late. His western friends are claiming that he set up the transportation committee and carried its bill through the House. I suppose this is literally true. The majority was only five, and the influence of the Speaker determined a dozen votes. Indeed, he could easily have defeated the bill with votes from his own State but he did not care to, and by and by the "grangers" will be reminded of this splendid management of the Speaker."

It further says that the Washington Board of Public Works roughly criticise the Speaker for having made so strong a Committee of Investigation on the part of the House.

THE SOUTH CAROLINA MEMORIALISTS.

The old South Carolina dons who come here as oppressed tax-payers, to ask Congress to relieve them from negro rule, have had their guns spiked by a statement from the Republican Central Committee of that State, which shows that their argument is bad and its sustaining figures are incorrect.

THE RHODE ISLAND ELECTION.—The Providence Journal speaks thus of the election and its bearing upon the Senatorial question:

This result of the election of general officers will be entirely satisfactory to the people of the State of all parties. The chief interest of the election, of course, centered in the choice of members of the General Assembly, upon which, on the first Tuesday of June will devolve the duty of electing a United States Senator in place of Mr. Sprague. The contest was mainly between the friends of Gen. Burnside and the friends of all other candidates for that position. The result in this regard is claimed by both parties to be satisfactory, and both parties overlap each other largely in their classifications of the members elect. We have attempted no classification, but from what we know of the political character and affiliations of the Assemblymen elected, we are inclined to look for lofty and intelligent independence of action on the Senatorial question, and should hesitate to believe that even one-third of the new members are encumbered by personal pledges, or have in any way so committed themselves that they cannot be moved on this, as on all questions, by considerations of the public good. It certainly cannot be known who the successful candidate will be until the meeting of the General Assembly, and even then there may be resolute friends of the respective candidates, who, as in Massachusetts, will stick to their choice through various ballotings. At any rate, whoever may be the fortunate candidate, the constitution of the General Assembly gives assurance that none but an able man and a sound Republican can hope to succeed to the seat of Mr. Sprague.

The election in this city was unexpectedly close. The issue was squarely made here by the Burnside Executive Committee between the friends of the General and the friends of all other candidates, and no man was allowed a place on the Burnside Assembly ticket who was not willing to wear the badge of fealty to the interests of the gallant soldier. Indeed, one gentleman, who was nominated by the Convention after a sharp discussion, was afterwards most shabbily and dishonorably treated. Amos W. Snow accepted the nomination of the convention, but declared that if elected he should vote for such candidate as his judgment approved for U. S. Senator. His name was therefore dropped by the committee of the convention from nearly all the tickets, and on the others was placed at a number sure to secure his defeat. This pitiable manœuvre may be left to the comments of Gen. Burnside's best friends. The opposition to this ticket from all other interests was so strong that at 4 o'clock it was decidedly in the minority. Soon afterwards the corrupt use of money in its behalf commenced in several of the wards in a remarkably open and unblushing manner. The result of this course, which, it is said, was prompted by representatives of the liquor interest to prevent the election of prohibition Assemblymen, was to secure the election of eight out of the thirteen candidates on the Burnside ticket, while for Senator and four Representatives there was no choice.

The Temperance Movement.

The temperance movement in the Western States and elsewhere does not appear to lose any of its vigor, but on the other hand is gaining conquests every day. The following are a few samples of the items published in many exchanges:

The stock of two large liquor dealers at Burlington, Iowa, has been seized under the stringent law of the State, and confiscated. Another firm has shipped their stock (valued at $25,000) to St. Louis.

There is a prayer meeting every afternoon in Lansing, Mich., where a temperance ticket is in nomination.

At Kankakee, Ill., a wealthy liquor dealer has a score of suits pending against him for selling without license.

At Miamasburg, O., a prohibitory ordinance has been passed, and inflamed nose-pimples are losing their fiery hue.

Many grocers in Ohio have received notices from liquor dealers that they can ship whiskey in boxes so that the crusading women may be deceived into the belief that it is candles or tea.

At Fort Wayne, Ind., preparations are making for a gala anti-intemperance day, April 11. In the evening there will be a torchlight procession. Several dealers have been sued and are fined so heavily as to be compelled to give up business.

The friends of temperance in Montreal are getting up a monster petition for presentation to the Dominion Parliament. The ladies are taking an active part in the movement. Every house is to be visited with a view to obtaining signatures

At two places in Cincinnati, on the 27th inst., the praying ladies were interrupted by a noisy, drunken crowd, and a riot was apprehended, but the ladies kept on praying amid the tumult. At one place beer was thrown upon them. A Philadelphia liquor dealer, drawn by curiosity to one of the prayer gatherings, was converted and declared his purpose to go home and quit the traffic. The money he brought with him to invest in whiskey, he declared his purpose to give to the cause of temperance.

WALDO COUNTY.

Gen. S. F. Nickerson has sold his property in Searsport, and has removed to Boston where he has opened a law office.

The Age says a party of young men in Searsport who, one evening a week or two ago, serenaded a gentleman who they supposed had just been married, delighting his ears with the melodious sounds of fish horns and tin pans, are dissatisfied with the result. Instead of inviting them in to partake of hospitalities, he, a few days after, invited them to an entertainment before a trial justice who fined them $10 each.

A ladies' Temperance Society has been organized at Belfast, and Mrs. W. H. Burrell elected President.

Hay is $17 per ton in Belfast, Jackson potatoes 75c per bushel, butter 40c per pound and eggs 15c per dozen.

The freight transportation on the Belfast Branch Railroad is more than double what it was last year.

The Journal says Belfast is infested by a class of bummers who sponge their living out of the public by lying in jail most of the time for petty offences.

IN GENERAL.

The Board of Examining Surgeons Wednesday, at Augusta, had their monthly examination of applicants for new pensions and an increase of pensions. Thirty-two applicants were examined.

The Pull Down Practice.

Death laughs when he sees the weak and feeble bled, blistered, salivated, opiumized, or griped with violent purgatives. He knows that under such treatment they cannot long survive. In direct conflict with this pull down practice is the principle upon which Hostetter's Stomach Bitters operate. The effect of this incomparable vegetable restorative is to build up the system and invigorate the constitution. It imparts appetite and assists digestion, enriches and cleanses the blood, regulates and tones the liver and the bowels, and establishes and perpetuates a healthy habit of body. By a happy combination of vegetable extracts—tonic aperient and anti-bilious—with a pure stimulant, these effects are simultaneously produced. There is no prescription of the pharmacopœia that has the same scope. You may find among its formulas scourges for the bowels, stimulants for the stomach, sedatives for the nerves, but no grand combination medicine that, like Hostetter's Bitters, is at once a tonic, an aperient, a corrective and an alterative.

Several liquor raids were made Wednesday on the liquor dealers of Rockland. Several bars have discontinued until the fever is over. The proprietor of the "Le Grande" has draped his bar in mourning.

Tuesday evening an inmate of the lock-up in Rockland was taken ill, and the city physician being summoned, prescribed a bowl of gruel and ordered patolman Witham to go to a neighboring saloon and get it. He flatly refused and called the attention of the doctor to the late order passed by the City Council forbidding any officer from receiving gifts of any kind from any saloon keeper. The doctor was obliged to hunt up the Mayor and the pair went for the gruel.

William Beattle of Rockland, a well known and highly respected resident of that place, died on Monday at the age of 74 years. He was a lawyer by profession, and won an enviable reputation in his practice. His daughter married Mr. Cobb, the Mayor of Boston.

Gen. S. F. Nickerson has sold his property in Searsport, and has removed to Boston where he has opened a law office.

The Age says a party of young men in Searsport who, one evening a week or two ago, serenaded a gentleman who they supposed had just been married, delighting his ears with the melodious sounds of fish horns and tin pans, are dissatisfied with the result. Instead of inviting them in to partake of hospitalities, he, a few days after, invited them to an entertainment before a trial justice who fined them $10 each.

A ladies' Temperance Society has been organized at Belfast, and Mrs. W. H. Burrell elected President.

The Pull Down Practice.

Death laughs when he sees the weak and feeble bled, blistered, salivated, opiumized, or griped with violent purgatives. He knows that under such treatment they cannot long survive. In direct conflict with this pull down practice is the principle upon which Hostetter's Stomach Bitters operate. The effect of this incomparable vegetable restorative is to build up the system and invigorate the constitution. It imparts appetite and assists digestion, enriches and cleanses the blood, regulates and tones the liver and the bowels, and establishes and perpetuates a healthy habit of body. By a happy combination of vegetable extracts—tonic aperient and anti-bilious—with a pure stimulant, these effects are simultaneously produced. There is no prescription of the pharmacopœia that has the same scope. You may find among its formulas scourges for the bowels, stimulants for the stomach, sedatives for the nerves, but no grand combination medicine that, like Hostetter's Bitters, is at once a tonic, an aperient, a corrective and an alterative.

Dr. Schenck's Standard Remedies!

The standard remedies for all diseases of the lungs are SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, SCHENCK'S SEA-WEED TONIC, and SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS, and if taken before the lungs are destroyed, a speedy cure is effected.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. Schenck, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary diseases.

The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs; nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To enable the Pulmonic Syrup to do this, Schenck's Mandrake Pills and Schenck's Sea-weed Tonic must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver. Schenck's Mandrake Pills act on the liver, removing all obstructions, relaxe the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved.

Schenck's Sea Weed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative; the alkali of which it is composed mixes with the food, and prevents souring. It assists the digestion, by toning up the stomach to a healthy condition, so that the food and Pulmonic Syrup will make good blood; then the lungs heal, and the patient will surely get well if care is taken to prevent fresh cold.

Dr. Schenck can be consulted at the Quincy House, Boston, on Wednesday, March 25th, April 8th and 22nd, May 13th and 27th.

Advice will be given free, but for a thorough examination with the Respirometer, the charge is $5.00.

Schenck's Medicines are sold by all Druggists throughout the country.

Law Court.

The following cases at Law have been decided by the Full Court:

YORK COUNTY.

Harriet Hill et al., in equity, vs. William Stevenson; on Bill, answer and proof; "Decree as prayed for."

Rescript.—A delivery to a donee of a Savings Bank book with the intent to give such donee the deposits represented by the book is a good delivery, and vests an equitable title to such deposits in the donee without assignment.

The delivery may be to the donee, or to some other person for the donee.

A judgment in a suit upon an administrator's bond in which the administrator was found guilty of official neglect in not including the money deposited in the Savings Bank and was required to and did inventory such money and collect the same, is no bar to a suit by the donee to recover it from his hands.—(Appleton, C. J.)

CUMBERLAND COUNTY.

Inhabitants of Falmouth vs. Inhabitants of Windham: on exceptions and motion for new trial by defendants; "Motion and exceptions overruled."

Rescript.—The testimony is conflicting. The result depends upon the credibility of the witnesses, and there is no decided balance of testimony either way. In such cases a motion for a new trial, because the verdict is against the weight of testimony, will be overruled.

As to the motion on the ground of newly discovered testimony, it is quite apparent that that testimony, so far as it is material, might have been discovered before the trial by the use of ordinary diligence. For that reason this motion must be overruled.

The exceptions to the ruling excluding the question put to the plaintiff's witness, Varney, cannot be sustained. It is true that the ground on which it was made was not in accordance with the rule heretofore adopted and practised upon in this State. But the case does not show that the defendants were prejudiced by the ruling, so far as it was erroneous, but the reverse. The witness afterward testified in full for the defendants, and it does not appear that they had any occasion to avail themselves in the examination, or otherwise, of any of the privileges usually accorded to a party in regard to an opponent's witness.

FASHIONABLE WEDDING.—A fashionable wedding took place at No. 52½ State street yesterday at 12 m., the contracting parties being Miss Nellie A. Randall, daughter of John Randall, esq., of this city, and Mr. George Ernest Jenkins of Montreal. The bridesmaids were Miss Hattie S. Pierce of Augusta, and Miss Annie Prince of this city, while Mr. Walter R. Baker of Ottawa, and Mr. Alex Riddell of Montreal, acted as groomsmen. The ceremony was performed by Rev Dr. Jenkins of Montreal, assisted by Rev. Dr. Hill of this city. The bride was attired in white corded train silk, beautifully trimmed with lace and orange blossoms and in the customary bridal vail. The bridesmaids were tastefully attired in white tarleton, adorned with a profusion of beautiful flowers. The house seemed to be one mass of flowers with a large marriage bell of camelias, azalias and smilax suspended over the bridal party. Altogether the affair was one of the pleasantest that has taken place in our city for some time. About two hundred friends of the parties were present, many from Montreal, Boston and Providence. The bridal presents were numerous and costly, and greatly admired. The happy couple left in the six o'clock train last evening on their bridal tour. After this they return to Montreal, where they make their future residence.

THE LORD'S SUPPER.—The Lord's supper will be celebrated in the First Parish church this Friday evening, at half past seven o'clock The most appropriate time in the year for this memorial service would be that observed for many years at King's Chapel, Boston, namely, Good Friday eve; the very anniversary of its institution. Next best to this, it seems to us, is that now selected by the First Parish, Good Friday evening, the anniversary of that solemn act of self-sacrifice, which the right commemorates. As a sacred memorial of the Savior of mankind, it must lose its force when made of too frequent recurrence, and gain it its power over the heart when more closely associated with the dates of the Gospel history.

BIBLE SOCIETY OF MAINE.—The Bible Society of Maine held its annual meeting yesterday afternoon and elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President, Rev. Wm. B. Hayden; Vice-President, Edward Gould; Corresponding Secretary, Rev. Asa Dalton; Recording Secretary, Wm. H. Hoobs; Treasurer, Oliver Gerrish; Auditors, Rufus H. Hinkley, Mark P. Emery; Trustees, Rev. Thomas B. Ripley, Rev. Wm. H. Shailer, S. W. Larrabee, Washington Ryan, Rev. Charles F. Dole, W. W. Brown, N. D. Curtis, H. W. Shaylor, Alfred Woodman, Rev. Thomas Hill, DD., S. T. Courser, James Noyes. A committee was chosen to make arrangements for the anniversary near at hand.

POLICE NOTES.—Officers Rich and Gribben arrested two men yesterday afternoon for indulging in a little discussion in regard to real estate. The men and a woman came out of the City Building about noon, one of the men having a deed in his hand. Presently the men fell to blows, and the deed was torn. Subsequently they were arrested.

Yesterday morning officers Mosely, Lawton and Walker arrested three boys named Kennedy, Guptill and Leavitt, who escaped from the Reform School the night before.

SMASHUPS.—A man driving a beach wagon attempted to pass between two freight trains on Commercial street yesterday morning. The trains came together, the wagon was smashed, the horse was bruised and the man escaped without injury.

Mr. W. H. Fessenden's horse ran away yesterday afternoon, tearing off the top of the sunshade to which he was attached and breaking one of the shafts.

INSTALLATION.—The officers elect of Portland Division No. 95 Sons of Temperance for the ensuing term, will be installed this evening at 7½ o'clock at the Hall of the Division No. 351½ Congress street. The ceremonies will be open to the public.

PERSONAL.—Capt. Chas. A. Boutelle, editor of the Bangor Whig is in town.

M. C. M. A. Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Maine Charitable Mechanic Association was held at Mechanics' Hall last evening for the choice of officers, presentation of annual reports, &c. Toward the close of the regular business a testimonial was offered to one of the oldest members of the Association.

The president's report represents the condition of the Association as flattering. He recommends some needful repairs to the building, and further appropriation for the library. The library has been newly catalogued and classified. The free course of lectures during the past winter is favorably spoken of, and a popular course next season is suggested. The constitution and by-laws are in the hands of a committee for revision.

From the report of the Secretary, Mr. Geo. A. Harmon, we learn that twelve stated meetings of the Association, and ten stated and three special meetings of the government have been holden during the past year. Ten new members have been elected. Two have been dismissed for non payment of dues. Seven members have been lost by death, viz: F. A. Gerrish, James Mountford, Wm. H. Cushing, Chas. Averill, J. W. Sweet, Granville Chase and Wm. Parker. The whole number of members liable to assessment is 252, of which number 86 live out of the city. Five life members have been admitted during the past year. Two hundred and sixty-eight dollars have been collected for assessments, and $40 for initiation. The whole amount collected was $308. A successful course of lectures was conducted during the winter. On January 1st the bonds of the Association, $25,000, were delivered to the care of the Association by the Trustees; having all been paid, thus freeing the Association from its entire indebtedness. Since then the bonds have been burned. There has been considerable sickness among its members which has been attended to by the charity committee, and by calls from members.

The Treasurer reported all bills paid and $5.03 in the treasury.

The Librarian reported 260 new volumes added to the library, making about 4000 volumes now in the library.

After the reading of reports and election of officers, the President of the Association, stepped forward and presented to Charles Holden, esq., an elegant silver tea-set as a testimonial of regard for the services he had rendered as chairman of the committee which has so admirably conducted the liquidation of the Association debt. The service is of six pieces, i valued at $200, and bears the following inscription: "Presented to Brother Charles Holden by the Maine Charitable Mechanic Association as a testimonial for his successful efforts in freeing the Association from its bonded debt, April 2d, 1874." Each piece is marked with the letter H. The set is from the jewelry establishment of G. A. Harmon, and will be on exhibition there for a few days. In presenting it President Pingree made the following appropriate remarks:

Brother Charles Holden:

For eleven years you have as the financial agent, in the capacity of chairman of the Trustees of the school fund, occupied the most responsible position in this Association. In this position your executive ability, industrious vigilance, carefulness and honesty have been thoroughly tested and have secured the fullest confidence of your brethren. Under your chairmanship the bonded debt incurred in the construction of Mechanics' Hall has been extinguished. You have performed the labor of placing and changing our investments in a manner that has secured the largest amount of income and interest. You have done all this without receiving or expecting pecuniary compensation or profit.

And now in token of the appreciation in which your brethren regard your faithful service, in behalf of the Maine Charitable Mechanic Association I present you with this service. Long may you live to enjoy the confidence of your brethren and to partake of the refreshing beverage that service may dispense, in that peace of mind which a good conscience is sure to secure to the faithful.

Mr. Holden responded in a very appropriate manner. He remarked that it was reward enough to know that his purposes had been accomplished. He said that the occasion was the brightest and happiest of his life, and referred to the early days of the Association when the bonds were first issued. He spoke in high terms of several of his co-laborers in the Association, and particularly mentioned the great services rendered by the late N. A. Foster, while in the Legislature in securing a lot of wild land which brought $11,000 to the Association. The work in the Association has been steady from the start. The darkest time was when the bonds matured. The holders of them wanted their money, and the Association did not have it. At last the money was raised and the Association went on. He stated that Dr. Johnson once defined a mechanic as a mean fellow, but now that definition is not applicable. He closed by congratulating the Association on owning such a fine building, worth at least $60,000.

C. P. Kimball, esq., being called upon replied in a very complimentary manner. He thought that this was a great occasion for the Association. The debt was all paid, and they were prepared to take a fresh start. He spoke of Charles Holden, as being worthy of any trust that has ever been entrusted to him. To him the Association was indebted for its prosperity. It was Mr. Holden who induced the Maine Savings Bank to take the first $1000 of bonds. Mr. Foster also gave the Association a great help in a very dark hour. These gentlemen will always be held in grateful remembrance by the Association.

The following gentlemen were elected officers: L. F. Pingree, President; Geo. O. Littlefield, Vice President; Daniel Carpenter, Treasurer; Geo. A. Harmon, Recording Secretary; Chas. Holden, Corresponding Secretary; S. H. Colesworthy, G. L. Bailey, Lyman N. Kimball, A. S. Mitchell, Loring Lombard, D. G. Drinkwater, Trustees; A. H. Waite, Ward 1, Geo. C. Littlefield, Ward 2, Richard Cole, Ward 3, S. A. Nash, Ward 4, A. D. Smith, Ward 5, Daniel Carpenter, Ward 6, and J. B. Thorndike, Ward 7, Charity Committee.

At the close of the meeting Mr. Holden invited the Association to go down to the oyster saloon of Mr. Hatch and "take something." The meeting adjourned to the aforesoid saloon, where the members were soon busy inspecting the bivalves. At the close of the report Mr. Holden arose and commenced the following toasts, which were happily responded to:

The President—Brother Pingree. A good mechanic, upon whom was attempted the wickedness of sending him to the Legislature. But the citizens put a stop to that. He was too good a man to be spoiled in that way. Let him stand upon his own legs, and give us his thoughts on this occasion.

The Vice President—Brother Littlefield. He may be a little field, but he is quite sufficient for his place. All he needs is a fair sight, which he is sure to get in this association, and he won't have to engage any legs of his predecessor, in order to walk into our affections as our next President.

A Good Mechanic—One of the best carpenters in our ranks is named Dow. He carries his fore plane in his mouth. Let it wag.

Harmony is an excellent thing among Brethren. We have among us a pretty good Harmon without the Y.

Bro. Larrabee—Not able to be with us—but with so fine an ear for everything touching the welfare of the association, that at this moment he is listening for the sound of good cheer from his Brethren. May his health improve till we welcome his presence among us again.

Bro. Sewall C. Chase—Let him tell us of his experience in getting up these Bonds which have so tried our patience for the past years. It is thought that he had a finger in that pie.

The Barnes of this association are superior to some houses outside of it.

It is hoped that we shall not have to Wait long for Bro. Winslow Ellis to tell his testimony to the other evidences of the evening.

We have among us our Brother Walker. He is still strong in the temperance faith. Let him make it manifest in this temperance assembly.

Among the numerous Banks which the country is crowded, there is not a truer one than the Banks of this association.

The man who goes by steam—Capt. Coyle. He is as great on the wind. Let him give us a blast from his never failing reservoir.

Freight on Furniture.

MR. EDITOR.—You are in error in your item which alleged that the Maine Central railroad charges $1.88 freight on an extension table from Bangor to Portland. These figures are thirty-three per cent. above the real rate.

TRUTH.

Can't say as to the real rates, but the shipper informs us that the freight on several extension tables was billed to him at $1.88 each. He refused to take the goods, when, as a compromise, a discount was made.

MAUNDAY THURSDAY.—Yesterday was Maunday Thursday, the day on which our Savior instituted the Holy Eucharist. It was observed with imposing ceremonies at the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception, and an immense congregation was in attendance to witness the consecration of the oils and the procession of the blessed sacrament. Bishop Bacon acted as celebrant, assisted by priests from various parts of his diocese. Two hundred little girls clothed in white, and bearing sprigs of myrtle, were followed in the procession by the sisters of mercy and the acolytes, bearing wax tapers and surrounding the silver crozier. Following these came the clergy in their sacerdotal robes and the Bishop bearing the blessed sacrament.

In the evening the repository was illuminated for a time. The tapers were then extinguished, the crucifixes draped in black, and the altars denuded in commemoration of the eve of the Passion. The crucifixes will remain draped until Easter.

TO FARMERS.—We understand that some choice varieties of seed oats and barley, from the department of Agriculture at Washington, have been received by S. B. SENATE.

WASHINGTON, April 2.

The bill amending the miners' act having come back from the House amended, it was referred to the Mining Committee.

The Louisville & Portland canal bill, amended also, was returned from the House and after debate was laid over.

Memorials of the survivors of the Polaris expedition asking aid, and of the widow of Capt. Hall for a pension were presented and referred to the Naval Committee.

Mr. Sherman stated that Mrs. Hall and children are in destitute circumstances.

The bill from the House revising the pension laws was recommitted.

Mr. Ramsey from the Post Office Committee, reported a bill providing for transmission of correspondence by telegraph.

The bill reported from the Committee on Post Offices and Post Roads to provide for the transmission of correspondence by telegraph is the Hubbard postal telegraph minor bill, unchanged except in matters of detail. It proposes to incorporate Gardner G. Hubbard and his associates as the Postal Telegraph Company on condition that it shall contract with the Postmaster General for the transmission of correspondence by telegraph at rates and in accordance with the provisions elaborately prescribed in the bill, and heretofore in all essential features fully published.

Mr. Buckingham introduced a bill to confer upon the United States Courts exclusive jurisdiction over Indian reservations, and for the punishment of crimes committed by and against the Indians. Referred to Committee on Indian Affairs.

The bill for redemption and reissue of United States notes and for free banking was taken up.

Mr. Merrimon offered a substitute for the third section, allowing national banks $46,000,000 in circulating notes additional to those now allowed, to be distributed among States as provided in section 1. Rejected.

Nays—Allison, Bogy, Boreman, Carpenter, Clayton, Conover, Ferry of Connecticut, Ferry of Michigan, Goldthwaite, Gordon, Harvey, Hitchcock, Ingalls, Johnson, Lewis, Logan, McCreery, Merrimon, Mitchell, Morton, Norwood, Oglesby, Patterson, Pease, Pratt, Ramsey, Robertson, Spencer, Tipton, West, Windom—31.

Mr. Davis of West Virginia, offered a substitute for that of Mr. Merrimon, providing that $50,000,000 in national bank circulation shall be withdrawn from States in excess and issued to States having less than their proportion. Rejected, yeas 20, nays 31, as follows:

Yeas—Anthony, Conkling, Cooper, Cragin, Davis, Fenton, Frelinghuysen, Hager, Hamilton of Maryland, Hamilton of Texas, Hamlin, Jones, Kelly, Morrill of Vermont, Sargent, Saulsbury, Schurz, Sherman Thurman, Wadleigh—20.

The question recurred on Mr. Merrimon's substitute, and it was adopted, as follows:

Yeas—Messrs. Allison, Bogy, Boreman, Carpenter, Clayton, Conover, Davis, Ferry of Michigan, Goldthwaite, Gordon, Harvey, Hitchcock, Ingalls. Johnston, Lewis, Logan, McCreery, Merrimon, Mitchell, Morton, Norwood, Oglesby, Patterson, Pearce, Pratt, Ramsey, Robertson, Sherman, Spencer, Thurman, Tipton, West, Windom—33.

Nays—Messrs. Anthony, Boutwell, Chandler, Conkling, Cooper, Cragin, Ferry of Connecticut, Frelinghuysen, Hager, Hamilton of Maryland, Hamilton of Texas, Hamlin, Jones, Kelly, Morrill of Vermont, Sargent, Saulsbury, Stewart, Stockton—19.

Mr. Frelinghuysen offered an amendment similar to that moved by him a few days ago for accumulation of gold coin in Treasury, with a view to resumption of specie payments at some future day. Rejected—yeas 16, nays 31.

Mr. Thurman offered as an additional section that from and after June 30, 1874, one-twentieth of the custom dues should be paid in United States legal tender notes; after June 30, 1875, one-tenth, and after June 30, 1875, one-fifth of the custom duties shall be so paid.

Mr. Wright offered as an amendment of the above the following: Whenever the same can be done without violation of the pledge made by the act of Feb. 25, 1862, for the payment of the interest on the public debt and providing a sinking fund.

Mr. Thurman accepted the amendment.

Mr. Scott said the amendment if adopted would undoubtedly cause the defeat of the bill in the House of Representatives. The provision was one affecting the revenue, and therefore could not be originated in the Senate.

Mr. Hamlin said he would support the amendment of the gentleman from Ohio in the hope that the adoption of it would cause the House to lay the bill on the table, the better for the country. (Laughter.) He was for hard money and wanted to see the bill defeated somewhere.

Mr. Thurman's amendment was rejected—yeas 19, nays 27.

Mr. Saulsbury offered an amendment to the first section of the bill, authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to redeem legal tender notes on the first of January, 1876, in sums of $1000 and any multiple thereof at the rate of $100 in coin for $103 in currency, and six months thereafter at the rate $100 in coin for $108 in currency, on the first of January, 1877, $100 in coin for $106 in currency, and six months thereafter $100 in coin for $104 currency, on the first of January, 1878, $100 in coin for $102 in currency, and six months thereafter he shall redeem them at their face value. Rejected—yeas 7, nays 31.

Mr. Morrill of Vermont, offered as an amendment to the substitute of Mr. Merrimon, the bill recently introduced in the House refusing national banks to keep an amount in U. S. notes equal to 5 per cent. of their circulation on deposit in the Treasury of the United States, to be used only for the redemption of such circulation, and providing that it shall be redeemed in greenbacks. After some discussion the amendment was withdrawn.

Mr. Anthony said to morrow being Good Friday, a day observed by the whole Christian world, he thought the Senate should not meet as it has been customary during the long session to adjourn over that day, and he therefore moved to lay the pending bill aside that he might make a motion to adjourn over.

The yeas and nays were called and the motion was agreed to, yeas 22, nays 21.

The bill was laid aside and Mr. Anthony moved that when the Senate adjourn to-day it be to meet Monday next.

Mr. Morton said this motion was calculated to waste the time of the Senate.

Mr. Anthony said when he was accused of wasting the time of the Senate by a Senator who had not spoken more hours than he (Anthony) had minutes, he would defend himself, but not till then. (Laughter.)

Mr. Tipton said if the Senate adjourn over to-morrow on account of its piety it would take some Sunday session to make up lost time.

Mr. Ferry of Michigan, moved to amend the motion of Mr. Anthony so as to provide that the Senate should meet on Saturday. He was willing to give one day, but hoped there would be a session Saturday to make up for it.

Pending the discussion on the motion to adjourn over, Mr. Ferry of Michigan, moved to proceed with the consideration of executive business.

Mr. Anthony gave notice that to-morrow he would ask the Senate to ajourn.

Mr. Ingalls introduced a bill to incorporate the Colorado Canal and Land Company. Referred to Committee on Public Lands.

Mr. Windom introduced a bill to enable the Memonites from Russia to effect a permanent settlement on public lands of the United States. Referred to Committee on Public Lands.

Mr. Ferry's motion was agreed to and the Senate went into executive sess on. At 5 20 the doors were reopened and the Senate adjourned till to-morrow.

HOUSE.

Mr. Storm said that remarks derogatory to him were printed in Mr. Kendall's speech yesterday, which the latter did not utter.

Mr. Kendall said they were uttered.

The Speaker said it was not right to put any thing in speeches of a personal character which were not spoken.

Mr. Conger reported a bill from the Committee on Commerce, authorizing the appointment of a person to report authentic information regarding the seal fisheries and fur trade of Alaska, condition of the natives, etc. with a salary of eight dollars per day and actual travelling expenses. Considerable debate ensued and the bill was laid over.

Mr. Mellish of New York, presented memorials of the East Side, West Side and North Side Associations of the city of New York, in favor of increased appropriations at Hell Gate It recites that the annual loss arising from these obstructions is $1 500,000, that one in fifty sailing vessels entering the passage sustains injury by being forced by the violence of currents on rocks and shoals and that 19,408 vessels passed the gate in four months. In consequence of the exhaustion of the appropriations work had been suspended at Hell Gate since the 20th of November. It was referred to the Committee on Commerce.

The House resumed the consideration of the currency bill.

Speeches were made by Mr. Niles against the bill and by Mr. Harris in favor of more currency, and by Mr. Burchard in favor of free banking and a reduction of the reserve of banks from 25 to 50 per cent.

Mr. Wilson of Ind., gave notice of a substitute for the pending bill, substantially the same, particularly as to free banking, but admitting an elastic currency to the wants of legitimate trade. He did not believe in the redistribution policy. He was willing that New England should have all the facilities for business it now had and all he asked for was that the South and West should not be deprived of like facilities. He warned New England that the South and West could control the government if they chose, but that if they did it would be on principles of justice to all, and equal rights and privileges to all. He feared, however, that was not the spirit of the East.

Mr. Dawes of Mass., did not understand on what grounds Mr. Wilson arraigned New England for any vote of her Representatives against free banking. It did not occur to him that they have given a single vote against free banking. So far as he understood the tone of public opinion in New England it was as much in favor of free banking as was the public sentiment of the West and South. All that New England desired was that free banking should be hedged in with safeguards so the country should not have a repetition of wild cat currency.

Mr. Maynard of Tenn., suggested that the votes of the New England members had been with only one exception against making the currency bill a special order.

Mr. Dawes ventured to say that if Mr. Maynard brought in a bill for free banking properly guarded, he would find no objection to it on the part of New England.

Mr. G. F. Hoar said there had never been a period since the organization of the government, when the people of New England did not hold to policies to which the people of the rest of the country did not subsequently adhere, and he was sorry to hear his colleague (Dawes) apologize for or flinch from any attitude which New England took on this floor. (Noise and confusion.)

Mr. Dawes—with some manifestation of feeling—"I do not know what occasion my colleague has to say I am apologizing for the attitude of New England. I was giving my idea of the sentiment of the people of New England on the question of free banking. If I have done it in a manner that looks like apologizing, I understand the nature of a fair and candid statement before the House of what I believe to be the tone of public sentiment in New England. I am not here watching any of my colleagues to see whether I can find occasion to set myself above them as standing up for the rights of New England better than they. (Laughter and encouraging remarks.)

Mr. Wilson of Ind., said it was very evident these gentlemen cannot harmoniously settle the attitude of New England for themselves, and I certainly do not propose to settle it for them.

Mr. Hawley of Conn., (amid great noise and confusion,) said: As representing one little section of New England, I can tell you what my position is. I do not care how much money there is in the country. The more the better if it is good money. I do not care how much capital there is in the country. The more the better. It is capital that they want in Indiana, more than money, and it is because we have been in Connecticut two hundred years and saved every dollar we have earned and put it in the savings banks that we happen to have money. Let the gentleman report a bill that will withdraw legal tender notes and establish free banking and I will vote for it. Only, for Heaven's sake, do not disgust the people any more with "wild currency." Before I will vote for one dollar of expansion I will consent that you take all circulation form my next door neighbor, if you cannot find relief in any other way, to provide for more free banking. I speak for Connecticut.

Mr. Butler of Mass.—I think that I should be allowed to say a word here. (Laughter.) I have the advantage of neither having to apologize for New England or for any vote I have given while representing her on this floor. I have given votes for the country, thank God, and I thought I was doidg my duty to New England when I never arrayed her or her interests against the interests of the whole country. I am not willing to flood the country with this irredeemable paper money issued by corporations in order that they may make money out of it, and withdraw the money of the people, the greenback currency, which is the only basis on which all the bank paper is sustained. The gentleman from Connecticut (Hawley) is quite willing to have free banking if he can have more bank paper in New England than elsewhere, out of which bankers can make profits and have all the chances of grinding the poor man. He is

POETRY.

Secure.

BY AMELIA E. DALEY.

The winds blow hard. What then?
He holds them in the hollow of His hand;
The furious billows will sink when His command
Bids them be calm again.

The night is dark. What then?
To Him the darkness is as bright as day:
At His command the shades will flee away,
And all be light again.

The wave is deep. What then?
For Israel's host the waters upright stood,
And He whose power controlled that raging flood
Still succors helpless men.

He knoweth all: the end
Is clear as the beginning to His eye,
Then walk in peace, secure though storms roll by:
He knoweth all, O friend!

A roof may be covered with a very cheap shingle, and by application of this slate be made to last from 20 to 25 years. Old roofs can be patched and coated, lokiug much better and lasting longer than new shingles without the slate, for

One-third the Cost of Re-shingling.

The expense of slating new shingles is only about the cost of simply laying them. The Slate is FIRE-PROOF against sparks of flying embers, as may be easily tested by any one, and appears from the fact that Insurance Co.'s make the Same Tariff as for Slated Roofs.

For tin and iron it has no equal, as it expands by heat, contracts by cold, and never cracks or scales. For Cemetery fences it is particularly adapted, as it will not corrode in the most exposed places. Roofs covered with Tar Sheathing Felt can be made water tight at a small expense.

This Slate Paint is therefore it does not affect the water from the roof, if turned off from the cistern for the first one or two rains.

The Paint has a very heavy body, but is easily applied with a 4 or 6 inch paste brush.

On decayed shingles it fills up the holes and pores, hardens them and gives a new substantial roof that will last for years. Curled or warped shingles, it brings to their place and keeps them there. It fills up all holes in Tin or Felt roofs, and stops the leaks, one coat being equal to five of ordinary paint.

The color of the Slate when first applied is dark purple, changing in about a month to a light uniform slate color and is
