TENTING IN A HOWLING NORTHEASTER.

Maine Soldier Boys March to Camp Marble in the Rain,

While the Band Plays "There's a Land That is Fairer Than Day."

Officers Busy Getting the Encampment in Running Order.

[Special to the Press.]

AUGUSTA, Aug. 13.—The first day of the encampment of the State militia opened with a disagreeable northeast storm in progress, a cold, drizzling rain falling, rendering the field where the tents are pitched wet and soggy, so that a walk of ten rods through the tall grass would thoroughly soak one's feet unless they were encased in rubber boots. Yet, regardless of nature's unpleasantness, the finishing arrangements for the reception of the troops were made in the forenoon, and staff officers of the brigade commander were moving to and fro between headquarters and the company camp on business or engaged in their several tents Assistant Adjutant Lunt arrived Saturday night, and finds no lack of occupation in attending to the clerical and other business at headquarters, which falls upon his shoulders. Mr. Lunt is one of the youngest and brightest newspaper men in the State, being on the staff of the Bangor Commercial, and will do excellent service during the encampment. He will have a clerk and an assistant to aid him.

One of the early arrivals this morning was Major B. J. Hill, of Auburn, one of the field officers of the First Regiment. He drove through from his home in the morning in five hours. The details from the several companies have been on the grounds since Saturday, making the tents ready, and all were prepared when the soldier boys arrived this morning. The first company to make its appearance was a new one, the Tillson Light Infantry of Rockland, which came on the 9 a. m. train. The Skowhegan company came next, on the 10 a. m. local train, from the east, and shortly after 11 o'clock, Co. F of Augusta marched into camp. A few minutes before noon, the special trains arrived with all the remaining companies except the Frontier Guards, and at 12.30 the companies strode up State street over the left hand sidewalk, with rifle muzzles lowered, and wearing their overcoats. They climbed the hill to the camp wearily, in the rain, the band leading and playing "There's a Land that is Fairer than Day." The Frontier Guards came on the afternoon express.

The fare for today is beefsteak, salt pork, bread and coffee. There is a cook house for each company, with the characteristic stove pipe issuing from the roof. Every company is also favored with a mess tent.

The horses of the officers are stabled in a barn adjacent to the grounds.

Capt. Choate, of Co. F, will be unable to enter camp until Wednesday, business not permitting.

The following general orders have been issued:

HEADQUARTERS FIRST BRIGADE,
Maine Volunteer Militia,
Camp Marble, Augusta, Aug. 13, 1888.

General Orders, No. 4.

I.—Hours of service, duty and roll-call during the encampment are published as follows:

	A. M.		A. M.
Reveille, Roll-call, Set up Drill and Police of Quarters	6.00	Drill	9 30
Surgeon's Call	6.45	Recall	11.30
Breakfast	7.00	Orderly hour	12.00
Regimental Guard Mounting	8.00	Dinner	P. M. 12.30
Inspection of quarters	8.45	Drill	2.30
		Recall	4.30
		Dress Parade	5.30

In spection and Muster immediately after Dress Parade.

	P. M.		P. M.
Supper	6.30	Tattoo	10.30
Retreat	7.00	Taps	11.00

II.—All calls will first be sounded at brigade headquarters, and repeated successively from the right to the left of the line. Musicians' call will be sounded at brigade headquarters ten minutes previous to calls for reveille, guard mounting, drills, dress parade and tattoo.

III.—The commanding officers of the Battery will cause one gun to be fired daily, at reveille and retreat.

IV.—On Monday, Aug. 13, guard-mounting will be at 2 p. m.

V.—The commanding officer of each regiment and the battery are severally charged with the guard of their own commands. Paragraph 1095 Revised Regulations, U. S. Army, should be read in this duty. They will promptly notify the general commanding of all instructions given their camp guards. The old guard will only be excused from morning drills.

VI.—All officers will be required to remain within the limits of the brigade camp, and not depart therefrom without permission from their commanding officer. All enlisted men are hereby forbidden to leave the limits of brigade camp without a pass signed by their company commander, approved by the colonel of their regiment. Only a limited number of passes will be given each day, and those should only be given to men who give prompt and faithful attention to their duties in camp and will conduct themselves as gentlemen during their absence from camp.

VII.—Dress coats and sashes will not be worn except on escort, guard duty, dress parades, inspections and review.

By Command of

BRIGADIER GENERAL MITCHELL.
CLARENCE S. LUNT,
Major and Ass't Ad.-t Gen'l.

The entire afternoon and evening has been devoted to settling the men in camp so that they could have a comfortable night's rest. The weather was so cold, wet and disagreeable that it was somewhat difficult. It was slow work moving the supplies and equipments across the field without wetting them. Every staff officer was busy throughout the afternoon to make the men comfortable. Gen. Mitchell, who was constantly at work, was wet through, and tonight members of the staff and the men are all more or less drenched. As far as is around, the outlook is rather a dubious one. Everyone is hoping for a fair day tomorrow, and is anxiously looking forward to the morning hours to see how the weather is clouded sky. The General instructed the company commanders to allow three mattresses to each tent. Two of these were to be placed crosswise on the tent floor, and the third across, and at the ends of the two Sufficient straw, in ticks, was to be placed at the head of the mattresses, on which to lay the pillows. One of these beds would accomodate six men. In most of the cases where these instructions were carried out the men are very comfortable. The men were enough mattresses to accomodate all the men if they had been arranged in that way, but in distributing some men got more than their share, and their places were supplied with ticks filled with dry hay from a barn near by, all the straw sent to camp being wet down by the time it arrived. Tomorrow all will be rectified. It was impossible to do any routine work today other than what was necessary to settle the brigade in camp. The men seem to be orderly and quiet, and satisfied with their condition, knowing that all is being done to make them comfortable that is possible under the circumstances.

There was no regular guard mount today. Co. F. of Augusta, were detailed to perform duty as guard at Brigade Headquarters until 8 o'clock tomorrow morning. Other guards have been mounted only sufficient to look after the property.

The camp was formally opened at noon by the firing of a gun by the battery.

Tonight Lt. Col. E. H. Ballard of the First Regiment, was detailed as officer of the guard for tomorrow. Capt. W. A. Goss, commanding Co. D., Second Regiment, was ordered to report with his command at Brigade Headquarters tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock, for guard and other duties. Captain E. C. Newcomb of the Frontier Guards, was ordered with his command to report to Col. Brett, of the Second Regiment, to do duty on battalion drill, in place of Co. D, while the latter company is on duty at brigade headquarters.

From the reports of the several companies, made tonight, the total strength of the militia, absent and present, including officers and men, is 1001; strength of the command present in camp, 754.

A Hampden man was taken down with the measles and sent home.

At 10 o'clock tonight ten men from Co. A., of the First Regiment were in the hay barn near the grounds, filling their ticks with straw.

Chandler's Band of Portland, is the First Regiment Band, and the Bangor Band acts for the Second Regiment.

One of the familiar faces on the grounds is that of Drum Major Bean of Portland, who is always welcome here.

If the weather clears sufficiently there will be a brigade dress parade tomorrow night.

Col. H. M. Sprague is one of the most efficient officers in camp, and the general of the brigade is much pleased with his presence at headquarters.

The men are much pleased with their food. There is an abundance of it. It is well cooked, and is clean and palatable.

Over Three Hundred Soldiers Killed.

ROME, Aug. 13.—An official despatch from Massowah contains the following startling intelligence: Three hundred and fifty auxiliary troops, under command of Italian officers, have been destroyed by Abyssinians. The killed included all the officers. An attack was made by the auxiliaries upon Saganati. The catastrophe was due to treachery on the part of the native allies, who joined the enemy during the fighting.

A Building Falls.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Aug. 13.—One of the most violent rain storms for years passed over this city this morning. The rain began before daylight and continued with some force all the morning. But for 1½ hours after eight, it came down faster than the sewers could carry it off and the hillside streets were badly washed all over town. Cellars were flooded and trains delayed by the sand washed upon the track. The contents of the blocked sewers gushed through the manholes in the centre of the street and driving was dangerous. The most serious loss was in the falling of the three story iron and brick front of a new store building for L. Diamond at Randall and Charles streets. The front was completed and men were at work on the roof when the storm had cleared. A flood of surface water loosened the light soil about the foundations and the whole front fell outward. No one was injured.

Political Notes.

At the largest caucus ever held in Paris A. J. Curtis, Esq., was elected as Republican candidate to represent the district composed of Paris, Buckfield and Milton Plantation. Mr. Curtis is a young man of successful business capacity, and of a stainless character.

The Workingmen's Republican Club of Paris, have elected the following: A. C. T. King, president; Captain G. C. Pratt, vice president; Henry Muzzey, treasurer; Leonard Briggs, marshal; F. C. Merrill, captain; E. N. Bolster, O. A. Maxim, T. F. Hathaway and H. A. Fuller, executive and financial committee. Hon. Herbert M. Heath will address the club at an early date.

There was a large attendance at the meeting of the Republican Club, Bangor, Saturday evening, the greater part of the audience being laboring men, who listened with close attention to the remarks of William Engel, Esq., L. A. Barker, Esq., and Representative Boutelle, all of whom devoted themselves to a discussion of the tariff question. Mr. Engel is engaged in manufacturing lumber at Orono and Milford, and is also interested in a mill in Nova Scotia, which he leases to parties there who carry it on. On a recent visit there he took occasion to inquire of the head man what wages were paid in the different positions to men in the mill, and to compare them with the wages paid by him at Orono and Milford, with the following result: Gangmen, Nova Scotia, $1.50 per day; Maine, $2.25 per day and board; the men who roll on the logs, Nova Scotia, $1.25 per day; Maine, $1.75 per day; man who works on the bed, Nova Scotia, $1.00; Maine, $1.50 a day; head edger, Nova Scotia, $1.50 a day; Maine, $2.25 a day. Mr. Engel also took pains to see what the Nova Scotia men brought in their dinner pails, and he found that the same difference existed there that there did in Maine.

Wm. DeWitt Hyde, D. D., President of Bowdoin College, will address the Democratic Club in Brunswick this evening in Town Hall on the tariff question.

The Republicans of Camden opened the campaign Saturday evening, raising a Harrison and Morton flag. The speaking was by Thomas Savage of Boston, C. E. Littlefield, D. R. Mortland and I. P. Pierce, of Rockland.

The Republicans of Waldoboro held their caucus for choice of delegates Friday evening. The following is the list of delegates: George Bliss, E. O. Clark, George Winslow, George W. Singer, J. T. Sanborn, C. P. Redman and O. L. Head. A full list of alternates was chosen, of whom David H. Benner is chairman.

Senator Spooner, of Wisconsin, has promised Mr. Manley that he will speak in Maine the last week of the canvass. Chas. Emory Smith, of Philadelphia, has agreed to make three speeches in Maine.

Mr. W. W. Bradstreet, a well known citizen of Gardiner, and understood to be one of the wealthiest men in town, who has always been a Democrat, has announced a thorough change in his political affiliations. Conversing with several gentlemen, Saturday afternoon, Mr. Bradstreet said: "I have always been a Democrat, but cannot longer support the views of free trade which they uphold, nor can I vote for Cleveland. If I vote at all this fall I shall vote for the Republican nominee."

A fine campaign flag, bearing the names of Harrison and Morton and Burleigh, was raised by the Republicans of Locke's Mills, Saturday evening, to the music of the Silver Spangled Banner by the Cornet band. After marching to the church, H. C. Berry called the meeting to order, and Hon. William H. Looney of Portland gave an able address to a full house, on the issues of the campaign. The Republicans may well feel proud of their campaign flag, as it is the first one ever raised in the village, showing, as it does, that they are alive this year, and will be heard from at the fall elections.

The "Manliest Man."

[Alice Stone Blackwell, in Christian Union.]

Mrs. Corbin says that men are "born to physical and intellectual mastery over women," and that the more manly they are the more strongly they are convinced of their prerogative in this respect. If it were true that the manliest men were opposed to woman suffrage, the fact would certainly be presumptive evidence against it. But the contrary is the case. Of the men now recognized as the noblest who have lived within the last forty years, a remarkably large proportion have been outspoken in favor of equal rights for women. Lincoln declared for woman suffrage in the early days of the movement; Garfield voted for it in Congress; Seward said, "Justice is on the side of woman suffrage;" Charles Sumner said, "In the progress of civilization woman suffrage is sure to come;" Chief Justice Chase said, "I think there will be no end to the good that will come by woman suffrage, on the elected, on elections, on government and on woman herself." Longfellow said, "Woman suffrage is undoubtedly coming, and I, for one, expect a great deal of good to result from it." Whittier says, "For over forty years I have not hesitated to declare my conviction that justice and fair dealing, and the democratic principle of government, including the equal rights and privileges of citizenship, irrespective of sex," Emerson said, "It is very cheap wit that finds it so droll that a woman should vote. If the winds, the passions, and the ox are allowed a full vote, through the hands of a half-brutal, intemperate population, I think it but fair that the virtues, the aspirations, should be represented by full votes, as an offset, through the purest of the people." Henry Ward Beecher, in reply to the precise objection urged by Mrs. Corbin, "Why not remain at home and have been more greatly in affairs through husband, father, brother?" answered, "Because, while woman is excluded with contempt from political duties, her advice and influence at home are always the minimum. If once she began to accept public patriotic duties she then would exert a tenfold indirect influence at home. But now men take it for granted that women know nothing of public affairs, and that all their suggestions must, of course, be the result of an ignorant simplicity. A woman is not made a safe adviser by being kept at home in ignorance of all public affairs and if she informs herself intelligently, then why should she [not act just as much as a man?" Among those who have expressed themselves in favor of equal rights for women may be mentioned Charles Kingsley and F. D. Maurice, Garrison and Phillips, Heber Newton, James Freeman Clarke, Phillips Brooks, Huxley, Spencer, Robert Browning and George W. Cable. The list of names might easily be mentioned; but perhaps enough have been given to show that the manliest men are not always the most strongly convinced that they are entitled to "mastery over women."

Chartreuse, Vermouth and Anisette can be had; Cigars sell for a quarter each while a pack of cards are worth 75 cents.

A freight train on the Erie road near Shohola, N. Y., was run down by an express train yesterday morning after being derailed. Forty persons were injured and a carload of valuable horses belonging to Lillie Langtry and Fred Gerhbardt were burned. The engineer was probably fatally hurt and the fireman burned to death.

Professor Perrin, charged with attempting to shoot Gen. Boulanger in Paris, has been released from custody. He fired in self-defence after being knocked down by Boulanger's adherents and did not aim at Boulanger.

THOUSANDS GREET MR. BLAINE

His Journey from New York to Boston a Continuous Ovation.

Workmen in Factories by the Way Suspend Their Occupation,

And Farmers Drive to the Nearest Railway Stations.

The Issue of the Campaign Forcibly Presented

In Short Speeches Received with Great Enthusiam.

Ten Thousand Bostonians Crowd Commonwealth Avenue,

And Give Mr. Blaine a Rousing Reception in the Evening.

BOSTON, Aug. 13.—When the train bearing Mr. Blaine and his party arrived this afternoon, Mr. Blaine, on alighting from the car, was conducted to an open barouche. Dr. Burden, chairman of the State Committee, took a seat beside him, and the four horses attached were driven slowly along the streets to the Vendome. Mr. Blaine appeared tired and worn. The party arrived at the hotel at 6.35 o'clock, and was welcomed by some 200 people, who sent up a loud huzzah. Mr. Blaine lifted his hat, and directly was conducted to the suite of rooms prepared for him. Soon after the lobbies of the hotel were crowded with sympathizers, and the Cadet Band played inspiring airs. The Blaine party was soon conducted to the supper room, and at intervals fireworks were displayed. The throng increased on Commonwealth avenue until, at 8.45 o'clock, there must have been some 8,000 for 10,000 people present. The multitude amused itself by crying in chorus: "Blaine, Blaine, James G. Blaine," and finally the crowd sang: "We won't go home until morning." At a little before 9 o'clock the air was rent with the noise of pyrotechnic bombs, and the whole avenue was brilliantly illuminated. This was the signal for the appearance of Mr. Blaine, who was preceded by Secretary Southworth and followed by Dr. Burden, Hon. Henry Cabot Lodge, Hon. A. W. Beard and others. Mr. Blaine's appearance evoked tremendous cheers which were renewed again and again. While they were being given, Mr. Blaine turned to Dr. Burden and remarked of the balcony on which he stood: "There is something insecure about this." The Doctor reassured him, however. Dr. Burden said:

Fellow Citizens:—During the past week the people of the United States have beheld a most unprecedented spectacle. Thousands of citizens from all parts of the Union have come to New York for the purpose of welcoming home a private citizen. [Loud applause]. He comes among us tonight, not as a candidate for office, not with the pomp and display of a general, but as a private soldier in the ranks, ready for orders. [Cheers]. But our general, Ben. Harrison [tremendous applause] will not allow him to remain long as a private soldier in the ranks. [Cheers]. He will issue him his commission as commander-in-chief of the Republican forces in the field [loud cheers] and the Republicans of Massachusetts and everywhere else will press where they see his white plume and battle [cheers] in the thickest of the fight, and then the Republicans of the Old Bay State, under the magnificent leadership of the Plumed Knight of Maine [applause], will carry her electoral vote by more than 40,000 plurality [loud cheers] for Harrison and Morton. [Applause]. Fellow citizens: I now have the pleasure of introducing James G. Blaine. [Long continued cheers].

Mr. Blaine waved his hand for silence, but it was sometime before he could be heard. At length he said:

My voice has been so much worn today by much speaking that I doubt whether I may be heard to the limit of this great assembly to return thanks for the honor conferred by return to New England, but for all the absence and feeling of exile which a man feels who remains beyond the sea for a year, I am overwhelmed over and over again by the magnificent welcome I have received since I touched my native shore. [Loud applause.] From no town, city or State, has this been more grateful than from Boston and the great and leading State of Massachusetts. [Cheers.] Never since the Republican party came into existence, more fitting than at this time, on no issue, and under no exigency, has Massachusetts failed to respond for the right. [Applause.] Never was Massachusetts called on to perform a more important part for a more beneficent end than in this year of grace 1888, in electing Harson and Morton. [Cheers and cries of "We can do it" and "We will." What Massachusetts says she can do she will do. [Renewed applause.] Already our opponents have taken the alarm and the Long Men's Democratic Club, of Massachusetts have set themselves the task to prove that you can introduce free trade to the United States without reducing the wages of the American laborer. They are alarmed. [Cries of "They ought to be."] President Cleveland is alarmed, the supporters of the Mills bill are alarmed, and the Democratic party is alarmed because they know the mighty power of that host which earns its bread by the sweat of its brow and will resent any attempt to place their wages on the low basis of the European plan. [Cheers.] We will now let the Democratic party know that this is no fight for the manufacturer. They can take care of themselves. [Applause.] But this is a fight for the strong arm and the sturdy heart of the American laborer. [Cries of "good, good."] If we have free trade the factories will not be closed, but if kept open the operatives will be retained at half the present wages. [Loud applause.] That is the issue which should be pressed home on the Democratic party. They should be arraigned as I arraign them, as conspirators against the welfare of every laboring man. [Cheers.] Let that be the issue and watchword of Republicans and defeat is impossible.

Thanking the great gathering for its reception, Mr. Blaine withdrew amidst a hurricane of applause. The display of fireworks was then continued. A large set piece representing a portrait of Mr. Blaine evoked loud applause.

FROM NEW YORK TO BOSTON.

Mr. Blaine Given a Parting Ovation at the Metropolis.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—James G. Blaine started on his homeward trip from New York by the 11 o'clock train this morning on the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad.

Mr. Blaine and party drove from the Fifth Avenue Hotel, reaching the depot ten minutes ahead of time. A large crowd had congregated on the sidewalk opposite the entrance to the depot, and when Mr. Blaine stepped from his carriage a loud shout went up from the crowd.

A passage was made through the mass of people, and uncovering his head Mr. Blaine smilingly passed into the depot. The special car designed to carry the party was an observation car, used by the president of the road.

As he ascended to the platform a sea of persons standing on the elevated railroad station bridge, and on the balcony surrounding the interior of the structure, met his gaze. As he looked up the assemblage cheered, and Mr. Blaine doffed his hat in recognition of the ovation. During the few minutes stay in the depot, Mr. Blaine held an informal reception; the depot yard was filled with people of note.

The train moved, which event was marked by a loud explosion of torpedoes which had been placed on the track to salute the departing party. Cheer after cheer was given by the assembled throng which numbered several thousand, and as the train slowly left the depot men waved their hats, while the ladies present waved their handkerchiefs and parasols enthusiastically. Mr. Blaine returned the salutes by slowly waving his hat in his hand and bowing again and again as he stood alone on the platform. The train was far out of the depot when Mr. Blaine left the platform and entered the car.

The Reception at Stamford.

BRIDGEPORT, Ct., Aug. 13.—When the train reached Stamford, Ct., at 11.57, it was greeted with cheers from two thousand or more men and women gathered there in waiting, whose voices of welcome were accompanied by waving of handkerchiefs and hats. The band played "Hail to the Chief" and mingled salutes of cannon and numerous cartridges placed on the track resounded amid the cheers.

Mr. Fessenden introduced Mr. Blaine to the assemblage. When the cheers had subsided Mr. Blaine said:

I thank this large assembly quite beyond the power of my expression for the compliment they pay me as I journey homeward in the brief moment of train stopping. I have time only to add to my thanks an admonition and a request. That admonition is: that if Connecticut shall maintain her great prosperity, if she shall maintain her favored position among the industrial and prosperous communities of the United States, [cheers] she must be up and doing. She must see to it that no harm shall come to the Republic or to her by the inaction or neglect of her Republican citizens.

It is not improbable that in the political struggle that is now upon us, the post of honor and responsibility shall rest upon Connecticut. It is not improbable that the presidential election of 1888 may be settled on this soil of your State. [Cheers.] My request is that each and every one of you shall regard the task of carrying Connecticut for Harrison and Morton as imposed upon him. [Cheers.] Believing that you are awake to your duty, I shall proceed to Maine and her Republicans will show Connecticut the path in which she would walk.

I thank you, gentlemen, once more, and bid you good morning. [Cheers and a voice, "You shall be disappointed."]

At South Norwalk the train scarcely came to a halt before hundreds gathered about it. Mr. Blaine stood on the platform and bowed his acknowledgment to the cheers, but there was no time for him to make even a brief speech.

Enthusiasm in Bridgeport.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 13.—At Bridgeport, the assemblage was larger and more enthusiastic than at Stamford. It was marked by the same features; cheers, playing of a band, waving of flags and handkerchiefs, and salutes of artillery.

Mr. Blaine seemed much pleased with his hearty reception, and instead of seeming to feel the speech making expected, to be a bore, he entered upon it with the enthusiasm of a boy on a holiday lark. Mr. Blaine said:

Fellow Citizens—I know exactly what this big crowd means. It means that you are resolved to carry Connecticut for Harrison and Morton. [Cheers.] If Connecticut votes for Harrison and Morton, I give you my pledge that they will be the next President and Vice President of the United States. [Cheers.] I cannot say more than to ask you to make it certain and to add my very sincere thanks for the great compliment you pay me in greeting me so magnificently. Bridgeport has more than once turned out to testify her friendship for me. [Lord cheering.]

Business Abandoned in New Haven.

BOSTON, Aug. 13.—It seemed as though half the population of New Haven had abandoned business and waited at the depot to receive Mr. Blaine. A large proportion of the assemblage consisted of ladies. Hugh Dailey headed the delegation of the Republican town committee, who came to receive Mr. Blaine. For the first time since leaving New York, Mr. Blaine left the car and was escorted to a platform erected outside the depot, where a large assemblage stood and cheered while waiting for a speech. Mr. Blaine was introduced by Mr. Dailey who said: "Fellow citizens: Allow me to present to you America's greatest citizen, Mr. James G. Blaine." Mr. Blaine said:

"Since I last had the pleasure of passing through your beautiful city I have seen much of countries beyond the sea, but I am sure I have nowhere seen any people associated in any form of government constituting as commander-in-chief of the Republican forces in the field [loud cheers] and the Republicans of Massachusetts and everywhere else will press where they see his white plume and battle [cheers] in the thickest of the fight, and then the Republicans of the Old Bay State, under the magnificent leadership of the Plumed Knight of Maine [applause], will carry her electoral vote by more than 40,000 plurality [loud cheers] for Harrison and Morton. [Applause]. Fellow citizens: I now have the pleasure of introducing James G. Blaine. [Long continued cheers].

Mr. Blaine waved his hand for silence, but it was sometime before he could be heard. At length he said:

My voice has been so much worn today by much speaking that I doubt whether I may be heard to the limit of this great assembly to return thanks for the honor conferred by return to New England, but for all the absence and feeling of exile which a man feels who remains beyond the sea for a year, I am overwhelmed over and over again by the magnificent welcome I have received since I touched my native shore. OF NEW YORK.

For Representatives to Congress,

First District—THOMAS B. REED.
Second District—NELSON DINGLEY, JR.
Third District—SETH L. MILLIKEN.
Fourth District—CHARLES A. BOUTELLE.

The Temperance Herald denies that the Hon. William H. Vinton was ever a Prohibitionist. There appears to be no great amount of anxiety anywhere to claim Mr. Vinton.

President Cleveland appears to have dodged on the river and harbor bill. He has neither signed it nor vetoed it but suffered it to become a law without his signature. Had this not been a Presidential year the New York Sun has no doubt he would have vetoed the bill.

In Canada there are a variety of reasons assigned for the retirement of Sir George Stephen from the presidency of the Canadian Pacific railway. The Tories all say he has retired because his work of putting the enterprise through to a triumphant conclusion is done and he wishes to enjoy a well-earned rest; while on the other hand the "Grits" say that after putting thousands of dollars of plunder into his own pocket and saddling the Dominion with an enormous debt he has betaken himself to England to escape the deluge. The facts of the case seem to be that Sir George Stephen has a magnificent fortune and Canada has a magnificent railroad and a magnificent debt.

It will be difficult to make the American people believe that a party led by free traders is not for free trade. Carlise is a member of the Cobden Club, Mills is a free trader according to his own testimony, Secretary of State Bayard is a member of the Cobden Club, Secretary of the Treasury Fairchild is a member of the New York Free Trade Club, President Cleveland "argues the free trade position" according to English testimony, which is expert testimony on any free trade point, and in this State Messrs. Putnam and Allen are following suit. It is no wonder that the farmers, lumbermen and manufacturers are flocking over to the Republicans.

It it is not due to the demoralizing effect of the republican system of government, to what shall we attribute the fact that there were 512 divorces in Maine last year against six or seven in the whole of Canada?—St. John Telegraph.

This is a strange question in view of the fact that the government of Canada is a republican form of government in everything but name. The nominal rule of the House of Hanover, to be sure, sheds a monarchical twilight over our neighbors; but nobody ever supposed that the traditions of that house were such as to give a moral backbone to institutions that are essentially republican in nature, and hence, according to the Telegraph's reasoning, prone to cause moral degeneracy.

It appears to be the view of the "tariff reformers" that the Mills bill will do no injury to Maine, notwithstanding it removes the protective duty from a large per cent. of her products. The Canadians are quite sure, however, that the opening of our markets to the products of the maritime provinces will be a very great benefit to them. The Halifax papers are daily crying for the removal of the duties which prevent Nova Scotia products from competing on equal terms with the products of our own State. "Would it not be an advantage," asks the Halifax Chronicle in a way that indicates that it knows that nothing but an affirmative answer is possible, "to a farmer in Nova Scotia if during the past twenty-one years, there had been a free market for potatoes in the United States?" There is not a farmer in the provinces of Nova Scotia or New Brunswick who doubts that the removal of the tariff from products similar to those produced in Maine would be an advantage to him; for then he could send his products to our markets. Now if this would be a benefit to Nova Scotia farmers, must it not be an injury to Maine farmers? The Nova Scotia farmer pays less for his labor, therefore he can sell his product at a lower price than the Maine farmer. If then he is admitted to the latter's market on equal terms he can undersell him and thus either drive him out of the market, or compel him to take less for his products; which means a reduction of the wages of his labor.

The big raft which has arrived in New York is valued at $45,000. There are 22,000 logs in the structure worth about two dollars each. It is said that their actual cost was about $13,000, and that it cost $10,000 more, leaving an estimated profit of about $21,000 to its plucky builders, after they have paid their incidental expenses. In New York just now they are estimating the blow dealt at the lumber coasting trade by the successful navigation of this great raft. To freight a log to New York costs by schooner about one dollar a stick. A schooner can carry about 500 sticks. To transport the logs composing the Joggins-Leary raft would have required 44 schooners. The freight bill would have been about $22,000. This added to the $13,000, the first cost of the logs would make $35,000, leaving about $9,000 profit. The balance in favor of the raft scheme is therefore about $12,000. But it is not at all certain that the Canadian government will allow its coasting trade to be cut into in this way, for it is said that future rafts are already planned. Measures are already on foot to secure the passage of a special law prohibiting the future construction of like craft, except such as come under the laws governing the imposition of duties. Had the Joggins raft been dutiable the cost of export would have been $2.00 per thousand feet or about $10,000 for the raft. Even this would leave a large margin in favor of the raft; but it must be remembered that the risks are large, and that an accident like that which befell the first raft is so costly as to wipe out all the profits of several ventures of the kind.

Democrats and the Tariff.

The Democratic papers, the Argus included, are all vociferating that they are not for free trade. Their protestations to this effect would command more belief if they would stop denouncing protection. If protection be robbery, as they declare, then of course they are not for protection. And if not for protection, then what are they for? There are only two systems under which duties are laid—one system which regards duties merely as a means of raising revenue and therefore in laying them keeps this object solely in view; and the other, which looks upon duties not merely as a source of revenue, but also as a means of protecting home industries from the destructive competition of similar industries abroad. The Republican position in this campaign is perfectly clear. Republicans would lay duties so as to protect home industries—that is to say, they would lay them largely upon articles the like of which are produced in this country. Now are the Democrats in favor of this policy? If so, what does Mr. Putnam mean when he says great principles are at stake in this campaign? If the two parties agree perfectly upon the principle that should control in the imposing of duties surely there can be no great principle at stake in this campaign, for it is fought solely upon the tariff question, and Mr. Putnam has been talking nonsense. So has Mr. Charles E. Allen. So has the Argus up to a very recent period. So has every Democratic Congressman who spoke upon the Mills bill in Congress. Yesterday the Argus contained a very elaborate tribute to the Hon. Samuel J. Randall. Mr. Randall opposed the Mills bill on the ground that it was an assault on protection and a step in the direction of free trade. So strenuous was his opposition that could he not have secured a pair he would have risen from his sick bed, at the risk of his life, rather than permit the Mills bill to go through the House without leaving on record his protest against it. Mr. Randall is a Democrat. He has been honored by the Democrats by election to the speakership. He was under strong temptation to vote for this bill on political grounds. But so strong was his conviction that the bill was a blow at the economic theory which he had held all his life, and which the district he represents and the State in which it lives believed in that he was ready to risk his political standing and imperil his life even rather than assent to its passage. Yet now the Democratic press and the Democratic orators have become so thoroughly frightened at the stampede from their ranks that they are attempting to palm off the Mills bill as nothing but a mild measure of tariff reduction. The average of duties under it, they say, is very little less than the average under the present tariff. Of reconstructing our tariff system on a basis of revenue only they never had the slightest thought. And they apparently really expect to convince the American people that the mountains have been laboring to bring forth the ridiculous mouse of a five per cent reduction in the average of the present tariff. Their estimate of the innocence of the American people is altogether too high.

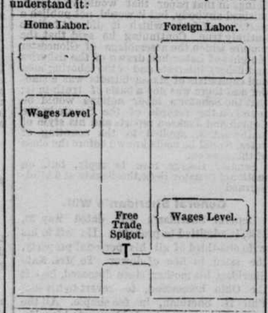
CURRENT COMMENT.

THE SOLID SOUTH AS A DIVINE FAVOR.
[Hartford Courant.]

In accepting his renomination Wednesday, Governor Gordon, of Georgia, who is a Presbyterian elder as well as a governor and an ex-general, piously returned thanks to the Almighty for the present political solidity of the South, while expressing a hope that a time might come when it would cease to be "necessary." What queer things good men do sometimes!

THE TARIFF SITUATION.
[New York Press.]

Here is the situation, so that any one can understand it:



What will be the effect if turned?

THE DEMOCRATIC SIDE.

What Hamlin, Cilley, Clifford and the Morrills did to Stem the Tippecanoe Tide.

[Boston Traveller.]

In what has recently been said of the memorable political contest of 1840 very little has been told of what was said and done by the Democrats. The Whigs were the victors, and naturally the survivors of those who followed the victorious army take more pride in the story of the canvass than do those who marched with the defeated army. We hear of the Harrison log cabins, Harrison newspapers, Harrison songs, Harrison Almanacs and Harrison banners; and recently many mementoes of the campaign, preserved by the rejoicing and exultant Whigs, or held as heirlooms, have been exhibited to an admiring public. The Democrats had less to be proud of, and it is not strange, since Van Buren afterwards turned against his party, that there are brought out no such mementoes of their part in the contest, though it is probable that some of them are still in existence. Although the Whigs had a large majority in the electoral college, there was never a time until the returns began to come in that the Democrats were not hoping for a victory. They had had full control of the government, except for a brief period, for nearly a third of a century. They had learned the power of patronage, and how to use it. They had the prestige of successive victories, and they were in possession of the government. They had a standard bearer who was cunning, unscrupulous, and full of devices, and he had reached the presidency by successive steps that made his followers look upon his as "a man of destiny." The man having the second place on the ticket was a brave soldier, enjoying the credit of having personally slain the greatest Indian warrior that the white men of this country have known, and having many elements of popularity, while the story that his wife—if she were his wife—was a negro and a slave was at that time no bar to his political advancement. It was an era of political giants, and the Democratic party had its full share of them. Even in Massachusetts, where it was said that the party was "kept conveniently small" so that the aspirants for honors and patronage could be better served, the list comprised such men as David Henshaw, Robert Rantoul, Isaac Davis, Charles Thompson, Samuel B. Phinney, Marcus Morton, Charles G. Greene, Nathaniel Greene, Arthur W. Austin, Caleb Stetson and B. F. Hallet. A few of the leaders in other States were Levi Woodbury, Isaac Hill, Franklin Pierce, John P. Hale, Charles G. Atherton and Henry Hubbard in New Hampshire; Hannibal Hamlin, Jonathan Cilley, Nathan Clifford and the Morrills of Maine; William L. Marcy, Silas Wright, Thomas H. Benton, John C. Calhoun, Robert J. Walker, John A. Dix, James K. Polk, James Buchanan, Simon Cameron, Lewis Cass, and younger men not so well known then, but prominent leaders only a few years later. They met argument with argument, ridicule with ridicule, and Whig songs with Democratic songs. They drank, and sang, and shouted, as did the Whigs. Their song books were carried into every township, and earnest Democrats sang as loudly and as enthusiastically as did their opponents. One of these, a parody of one popular with the Whigs, is given from memory as follows:

Did you ever hear of the farmer
Who lived out in the West?
Of all the men for President
The Whigs call him the best.
They would put him in the capitol
Because they can't get Clay.
So they sing a Harrison song by night
They are ashamed to sing by day.

When gathered in council
Among the wise and great,
He always sought to serve himself,
And sometimes served the State.
A statesman he of vigor yet,
His guards and keepers say,
And they sing a Harrison song by night—
Hard cider swig by day.

They had their campaign newspapers, one of which, called the Magician—"The Little Magician" being a pet name of Martin Van Buren—which had many of the characteristics of Greeley's "Log Cabin." They designated the Whig candidate as "Granny Harrison," they attacked his war record, and even went so far as to charge him with cowardice. Pretending that some of the women of Indiana had once in derision given him a petticoat, he was nicknamed "The Petticoat Candidate," and Whig processions often had these articles of feminine apparel insultingly suspended near their line of march as they passed by the haunts of the people whom they designated as Locofocos. And the victory, great as it was, proved almost a barren one. The President was worried to death by seekers of office, the Vice President, who had been nominated as a matter of policy rather than because of character and principles, became a traitor, and Congress, held by a slight tenure, soon passed into the control of the Democrats, who were really stronger after their defeat than the Whigs found themselves when they began to gather the fruits of victory. It was a battle where enthusiasm triumphed over discipline, but the defeated army was neither routed nor demoralized, and in the next campaign it gained a victory, even though the Whig party fought under the most popular leader of his generation, and for principles dear to the American people.

Lord and Lady Randolph Churchill are to visit this country in the fall. They will add two more to the number of distinguished guests who will make Newport gay this season. Leonard Jerome, who has a cottage at Newport, will entertain them. Lady Randolph is one of Mr. Jerome's three daughters, and she is probably the brightest of the three. She met Lord Randolph Churchill while travelling on the continent of Europe, some years ago, and he was attracted by her powers as a conversationalist and her brilliant wit. Lord Randolph Churchill has never visited this country. He is the youngest son of the late Duke of Marlborough, and is a brother of the present Duke, who recently followed his brother's example by marrying an American lady. Lord Randolph Churchill is a member of Parliament for Paddington. He is a Tory. That is to say, he sits on the Tory side of the House of Commons, but it is claimed by many that in heart he is really a Radical. He is a short, thick-set man, with clear, sharp features, and wears a heavy black mostauche. He has an active, nervous temperament, and seems to be always on the go. He is a good orator, speaks clearly and distinctly and argues well. All his speeches are very telling and show a good deal of ability.

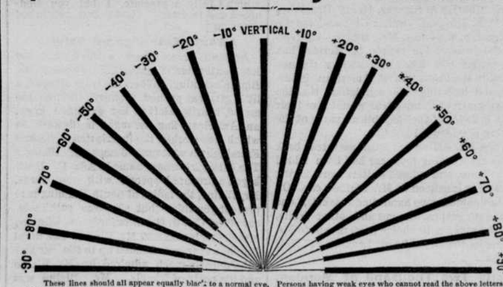
Spectacles and Eye Glasses!



These lines should all appear equally blac; to a normal eye. Persons having weak eyes who cannot read the above letters and to whom the lines do not appear equally black at five or ten feet, have a visual imperfection which common spectacles will not improve. They must have special lenses ground to correct the deformity of their corneas. This defect is called ASTIGMATISM. THIS PRINT should be read with ease at ten inches and is a test for NEAR VISION.

We have a large assortment and are prepared to adjust the same upon scientific principles. We use NACHET'S TRIAL CASE, together with the OPTHALMOSCOPIC TEST LENSE, combining the best methods known for detecting all optical defects of the eye and determining the lenses needed for their correction.

now occupy two floors that run the entire length and breadth of our building, and a handsomer display of these BEAUTIFUL GOODS we have never seen, with colors harmonizing so nicely as to give the idea all were intended for the same place. The pretty and NEW BROWNS, OLD GOLDS, BLUES, GARNETS, OLIVES and other beautiful shades in green and other colors that seem certainly to have reached the HEIGHT OF PERFECTION, $35.00, $40.00, $50.00, $60.00, $75.00, and up to $200.00, these suits are sold at, and we have but a few suits each of our last purchase, therefore an early selection will most likely be the best. No change will be made in the prices as they are marked to sell at sight.

PARLOR STOVES,

while not in actual demand just at present deserve the attention of those who inform themselves in advance. Our line is now complete, embraces the MOST DESIRABLE OF last year, and the IMPROVEMENTS of this. At least COME and SEE what we have, and rely upon our word that WE WILL NOT BE UNDERSOLD. We have the finest line in New England. New goods constantly arriving, and all going at lower prices than ever.

FINANCIAL.

TO THE HOLDERS OF
United States 4 1-2 Per Cent Bonds,
DUE 1891.

We beg to call your attention to the fact that the above mentioned United States Bonds at the present price yield only

Two and One-quarter Per Cent

(2 1-4) interest, and that as they approach maturity the price will decline until the whole premium will be wiped out.

We therefore advise the holders of these Bonds to sell or exchange them for other securities. We have on hand a desirable list of City, County, Railroad and Water Bonds, suitable for Trust Funds, and would be pleased to have the holders of the above mentioned Bonds communicate with us.

PORTLAND 6s
Maturing Nov., 1888, paid at our office on presentation, and for which we will allow a premium and accrued interest. We would also invite the attention of holders of

State of Maine 6s, due 1889,
[which have now only ONE YEAR more to run] to the importance of availing of the premium which can now be realized upon them, as a few months hence they will command no premium at all. We think it is also important to convert the

United States 4 1-2 Per Cent Bonds,
[which now have but little over THREE YEARS to run]
in order to obtain the present high premium which must gradually and surely become less as they approach maturity. We are offering some excellent securities which we can recommend to holders of above bonds, or in exchange for any other securities soon to mature, and we shall be happy to communicate or confer with them regarding such exchange.

WIT AND WISDOM.

Young girl (at summer resort)—What a lot of wedding parties there are here!

Experienced dame—I thought so at first, but I see that I was mistaken. Most of the couples are only engaged.

Girl—Why, how can you tell the difference so quick?

Dame—Where a couple are engaged, my dear, the gentleman looks after the comfort of the lady; when they are married the lady looks after the comfort of the gentleman.

Palpitation of the heart, nervousness, trembling, nervous headache, cold hands and feet, pain in the back, and other forms of weakness are relieved by Carter's Iron Pills made especially for the blood, nerves and complexion.

"Well, Abe, they tell me you went to pop the question to Miss Chloe last evening. How did you make out?"

"Me? Clar to goodness, sah, I made out de side winder, an' mighty feeble yes, lemme tell ye."

"Then you got the mitten?"

"Mitten! Dey warnt no mitten 'bout it, twar jist de holes in 'em, and my jaw sorter jingles yit wid de memb'rance."

Hay Fever sufferers ought to know of its efficacy. Ely's Cream Balm was recommended to me as a preventive for hay fever. Have been using it since the 9th of August and have found it a specific for that much dreaded disease. For ten years I have been a great sufferer from August 9th till frost, and have tried many alleged remedies, but Ely's Cream Balm is the only preventive I have ever found.—F. B. Ainsworth, Publisher, Indianapolis, Ind.

"Are your berries good?" asked a lady of a street hawker standing at the door.

"Not very good, I'm afraid, ma'am," said the hawker frankly.

"I'll take six boxes," said the lady in extreme surprise. "Probably the berries aren't worth the quarter you ask for them, but it's worth a quarter any time to hear a hawker tell the truth."

For any cause of nervousness, sleeplessness, weak stomach, indigestion, dyspepsia, try Carter's Little Nerve Pills. Relief is sure. The only nerve medicine for the price in market.

Little Ernest, only four years old, after standing at the window for a long time one day in silent admiration of a terrific thunderstorm, turned to his mother with a deep sigh and said, softly:

"God's sky is getting some awful big cracks in it, mamma."

ALL good Grocers sell and recommend Burnett's Flavoring Extracts. Housekeepers should ask and insist upon having these goods, and send back the nauseous mess sent home under the name of extracts.

Mrs. Sappington (whose son George is a suiter for Miss Lucy Lighthead's hand)—Most men are such bores, you know, dear Miss Lighthead. But George—George is never at a loss for a topic of conversation, is he?

Miss Lightehead—No, indeed, he is not, Mrs. Sappington. George is always talking about himself.

KANSAS CITY INVESTMENTS.

KAW CITY LAND CO.

Of Kansas City, Mo.

Office 113 DEVONSHIRE ST., Boston.

Incorporated under the laws of Missouri to buy, sell and improve lands in and about Kansas City.

Kansas City is the most rapidly growing and prosperous city on the continent, and as a field for safe and profitable real estate investment it is unequaled. The history of the few land companies which have selected it as a field for operations is one of enormous profits rapidly accumulated. As this Company enters the field under more favorable auspices than any of its predecessors, the projectors anticipate at least an equally prosperous existence. A limited amount of the capital stock is now offered to the public, and it will be sold on the "Waddell" plan, it offers a most favorable opportunity for investment. The Company controls a large tract of land unequalled by any in Kansas City for immediate development, and at a price so low as to insure very large profits. The Prospectus is full of information, will repay a careful perusal, and will be furnished upon application. Correspondence solicited.

The Raymond & Whitcomb Excursions—A Grand Tour Across the Continent.

Nothing more attractive and comprehensive in the way of a trip across the continent could be devised than the excursion advertised for Monday, September 10. The party leaving on that date will visit the Yellowstone National Park, spending over a week in that land of wonders, after which a tour will be made through to the Pacific Coast. The route covers the Pacific Northwest country very thoroughly, and then extends southward to and through California. The Pacific Coast will be traversed for over 1,600 miles—from British Columbia to the Mexico line. The stay in California can be extended through the winter, spring and early summer if desired, and the return is by a southern route. Circulars regarding any of these trips may be obtained of W. Raymond, 296 Washington street, opposite School, Boston, Mass.

At 11 a. m. today, F. O. Bailey & Co. will sell at No. 7 Central Wharf about 250 barrels of flour, about 250 barrels of meal, beef, etc., for benefit of whom it may concern. See auction column.

All cases of weak or lame back, backache, rheumatism, will find relief by wearing one of Carter's Smart Weed and Belladonna Backache Plasters. Price 25 cents. Try them.

AN EXPLANATION.

What is this "nervous trouble" with which so many seem now to be afflicted? If you will remember a few years ago the word Malaria was comparatively unknown,—to-day it is as common as any word in the English language, yet this word covers only the meaning of another word used by our forefathers in time past. So it is with nervous diseases, as they and Malaria are intended to cover what our grandfathers called Biliousness, and all are caused by troubles that arise from a diseased condition of the Liver which in performing its functions finding it cannot dispose of the bile through the ordinary channel is compelled to pass it off through the system, causing nervous troubles, Malaria, Bilious Fever, etc. You who are suffering can well appreciate a cure. We recommend Green's August Flower. Its cures are marvelous.

BRIEF JOTTINGS.

The Falmouth Club, the new Democratic club of this city, was opened last night.

It was the Portland Male Quartette which sang at Maranocook, Sunday.

The public schools of Deering will begin on Monday, Sept. 10th.

The Board of Aldermen will meet Friday to certify to the correctness of the voting lists.

Mr. J. A. Farrell has sold his Irish setter dog Bucho, a brother to the prize winner King Pin, to T. W. Peabody of Connecticut.

Wednesday, Aug. 22d, there will be on excursion to Little Diamond island, in aid of the Catholic Orphan Asylum on High street.

Mr. Swasey, of the firm of Swasey, Lamson & Co., has bought a farm at Exeter, N. H., of 300 acres, and is fitting it up for a stock farm.

Jones & Hitchings of this city, are now making four 20-horse power engines. Three of them are for Portland parties, and the other for a Buxton man.

Henry Nelson of Portland has purchased the stock in the drug store at Springvale, recently occupied by C. C. Luce, and will continue business at the same stand.

Special examining agents from Washington are expected to arrive in a few days to examine officials at the custom house and look over the books.

The schools of Westbrook will commence the first Monday in September. Nearly all of the teachers have received their appointments.

The annual excursion of Norway Lodge of Odd Fellows will take place today. The party will come to Portland by the Grand Trunk and go to the islands in the Casco Bay boats.

The Democratic State Committee was in session here yesterday. Hon. Arthur Sewall, of the National Democratic Committee, Hon. William L. Putnam and William H. Clifford were present.

YESTERDAY'S RAINFALL.

This Year's Weather Unprecedented for Fifteen Years.

Facts and Figures Concerning the Rainfall and Temperature.

So far as weather is concerned, this has been a most extraordinary year, and yesterday was no exception to the unusual state of things. During the recent rainy weather, which began on Monday afternoon of last week, the fall of water has been as follows: On Monday, .38 of an inch; on Tuesday, .47 of an inch; on Thursday, .12; on Sunday, .22; and yesterday, up to 8 o'clock last night, 1.17 inches, making in all 2.46 inches. There was a fresh wind all day yesterday, and the heavy rain did much damage, numerous washouts of greater or less extent being reported. The harbor presented a wild scene. The waves were white-capped and a number of vessels dragged their anchors, but no marine disasters were reported. It was a remarkably cold rain storm, the mercury standing at 58° at the warmest part of the day, and 52° at the coldest. At 8 a. m. yesterday, the thermometer indicated 56°; at 3 p. m., 54°; and at 8 p. m., 54°. Thus far this year, there is a deficiency of temperature, as compared with the normal temperature of the past 15 years of 971°. During the 15 years ending Janury 1, 1888, the average temperature of the different years have been about the same, and if this year is to have a corresponding amount of warm weather a very hot season is yet to come before snow falls. So far as rain is concerned, up to 8 o'clock last night, we have had 4.76 inches more rain fall than the normal amount for the past 15 years for the same time, and putting this and that together it is fair to reckon on a hot, dry fall, unless this year is to continue to have unprecedented weather.

Every day of this month so far, except the 2nd, has been below the normal temperature of the corresponding days in August of the past 15 years. The normal temperature of August 13th, for the last 15 years is 69°. The second day of August this year was above the normal temperature.

CITY GOVERNMENT.

Special Meeting of the Mayor and Aldermen Yesterday.

There was a special meeting of the Board of Mayor and Aldermen yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, at which Mayor Chapman presided. Aldermen Gatley, Cunningham and Shaw were absent.

An insane person was committed to the asylum at Augusta.

Alderman Smith offered an order providing for the appropriation of $100 from the contingent fund to enable the Board of Health to ascertain the cause of the stench attributed to Back Bay and why it is more prevalent at night than in the daytime. Mr. Smith said that his observation had led him to the belief that the stench was caused by the incoming tide stopping the mouths of the sewers and thus causing the culverts to emit these disagreeable odors. The remedy would be to procure a constant current of air through the sewers, either by pipes communicating with the open air or other means. Mr. Smith thought that a large part of the odor noticed at Deering Bridge came from the old mill pond, the piggery and the tannery. But he thought that there was another cause of the odor.

The Mayor thought that the uncovered piece of flats on the Deering side of the bay might produce the stench, or materially help in so doing.

The order, as proposed, requiring the appropriation of money which can be done only by concurrent action of the two boards, it was amended so as to be a simple request to the Board of Health to make the necessary investigation.

City Clerk Burgess stated that no systematic investigation of the nuisance had ever been made. Reports to the Board of Health concerning the stench are very numerous.

The order was passed as amended.

An order was passed directing the clerk to furnish the Republican, Democratic and Prohibitory headquarters with a copy of the voting lists and to sell such copies to all other parties at the price of one dollar per set.

The Mayor was authorized to attend the meeting of the stockholders of the Portland & Ogdensburg Railway Company to ratify the lease, and cast the vote of the city.

The police department reported in the past month that the arc electric lights were out for 373 hours, costing the city $11.06 and that the incandescent were out 256 hours, costing 96 cents. This makes a total of $12.02 against $16.35 for the three preceding months. The arc light corner of Grove and Portland streets was reported out nearly all the time. Its total headed the record with 210 hours.

Petitions of Thomas Towle, to erect a new wooden building at 133 Washington street, Charles H. Hale, Beckett street and Wm. H. Howard, 424 St. John street, were referred.

The report of the commissioners of the Atlantic and St. Lawrence sinking fund was received and placed on file.

The Board adjourned.

On Their Annual Pilgrimage.

The noon Montreal train over the Grand Trunk road from this city bore a party of Biddeford French Canadians on their annual pilgrimage to St. Ann's shrine near Quebec. The train which brought them from Biddeford was a little late and for this reason the Grand Trunk train was delayed. It was about 1.30 o'clock when they arrived, and soon the platform was thronged. There were children too small to be without their mothers, aged men, who long ago learned to labor in the mills in which for three score years they have earned their daily bread; matrons, young women and young men, all with cheerful faces in anticipation of once more visiting the home of their childhood and the shrine. There were 125 in all, and with them they carried bags and bundles of all sizes and shapes. They all seemed happy and the din of busy conversation filled the depot until the train departed.

Veteran Republican Club.

The rain last night did not keep the Veteran Republicans from turning out to attend the meeting, which was held in the club rooms in Brown block. Gen. Perry, president of the club, was absent, and Secretary Leach presided. The meeting was an enthusiastic one. The club was addressed by L. B. Dennett, Esq., who reviewed the speeches made in Congress by Mr. Mills, author of the Mills bill. Next Monday there will be another meeting of the club, at which important business will be transacted. The meeting will be addressed by some prominent Republican whose name will be made public later. A full attendance of the club is desired.

Thatcher Post.

A campaign badge, made in close imitation of a Grand Army badge, has been sent to this city by a New York dealer. A picture of either Cleveland or Harrison is intended to be inserted in it. Thatcher Post, of the Grand Army, has passed resolutions severely condemning it, on account of its similarity to their badge and the evident intention to deceive people by conveying the impression that a Grand Army man would make a political use of his badge. The Post also passed resolutions against the attempt of any man or body of men to use the Post for political purposes, and declaring the man who shall make such an attempt their enemy.

Rev. Elijah Kellogg.

Rev. Elijah Kellogg, who is acceptably supplying the pulpit of Rev. George W. Reynolds, of the Congregational church, Gorham, during his vacation, will also preach at the Free Baptist church, South Gorham, on Sunday next, Aug. 19th, at 2 o'clock p. m. Fifty-three years ago Mr. Kellogg, assisted subsequently by Geo. S. Prentis, D. D., now of Brooklyn, N. Y., formed a Sunday school at Cool Kiln Corner. Now he wishes to meet again his old friends and their descendants. The occasion will be one of universal interest to the older citizens of South Gorham, and doubtless there will be a large attendance.

Departed for the Muster.

The Portland Light Infantry and the Mechanic Blues left for Camp Marble, Augusta, this morning escorted by Chandler's First Regiment Band.

The companies appeared remarkably well and the men were looking finely.

Officer Greely Restored.

Police Officer Greely, who has been under suspension, was yesterday restored to active standing in the force by vote of the committee on police.

THE GREAT RALLY.

Arrangements Completed for the Grand Republican Demonstration.

The arrangements for the grand Republican rally of Wednesday are nearly completed. The special trains from points on the various roads will arrive at the Union Station between the hours of 5 and 6 on Wednesday afternoon. A procession of the various city campaign clubs and the visiting organizations will there be formed under the charge of Marshal Whitman Sawyer and his aids, and the line of march will be taken to City Hall. Citizens of Portland who are not members of any of the clubs or campaign organizations, and who wish to participate in the parade, are requested to assemble at the corner of State and Congress streets about 5.30, where they will be organized under the charge of Major W. H. Green of Marshal Sawyer's staff, and join the procession as it moves down Congress street. Mr. Blaine and the other speakers will review the procession at some point between State street and City Hall.

The afternoon meeting in City Hall will begin at 2.30 and be presided over by the Hon. Henry B. Cleaves of this city, and it will be addressed by ex-Senator Warner Miller of New York, Hon. Nelson Dingley and Hon. Seth L. Milliken. The evening meeting will open at 8 o'clock and be presided over by Colonel J. W. Spaulding. It will be addressed by Hon. A. W. Tenney of New York, and Hon. Thomas B. Reed. If all cannot be accommodated in City Hall, overflow meetings will be held which some of the above speakers will address.

A telegram received from Mr. Manley last night said that Mr. Blaine said he should speak in the afternoon.

A NEW STORE HOUSE.

A Large Brick Building to be Erected by the Grand Trunk Company.

Grand Trunk employes have begun the erection of a storehouse in the rear of the passenger station which is to be 140x40 feet on the ground. The building is being built on the site of the storehouse which has just been removed. It will be made of brick with a stone foundation and is to be two stories high. The Grand Trunk railroad company's engineer made the plans and all the work will be done by the company's men. The mason work will be executed by M. L. Conley and the wood work by A. Finley. In one end of the building handsome store offices will be fitted and they will occupy a space 28x40 feet. The present store room in the passenger depot will be an office for the train despatcher and yard master. The new building will be completed as quickly as possible and it is expected that it will be ready for occupancy some time in October. It will cost $7,000. The building which has been removed, has been used as a store house for railroad supplies since 1852.

PERSONAL.

Hon. S. S. Brown, of Waterville, was in town yesterday.

Mr. A. F. Berry, clerk of the locomotive department of the Grand Trunk railroad, is in Chicago.

Hon. George F. Emery, of Portland, and Hon. John Goodenough, of Baltimore, will go to Paris Hill this week to revisit the scenes of their youth.

John Reed, secretary of the Odd Fellows, Mutual Relief Association, and F. W. Brooks are registered at the St. Julian Hotel.

Alton Hurlba, author of the popular novel "Eugenia, a Friend's Victim," and Mr. Frederic Peakes, the celebrated musician, of Philadelphia, were registered at the Preble yesterday, en route to Bridgton.

Young Men's Republican Club.

The regular monthly meeting of the Young Men's Republican Club was held at their rooms last night. Business relating to Wednesday's parade was arranged. Yesterday's Fish Arrivals.

The arrivals of mackerel yesterday were larger than those of any one day for several weeks, and the prospect of a good mackerel season looks a little more encouraging, although it is the opinion of the fish dealers that the mackerel fisheries will be a failure this year. Yesterday the schooner Lizzie Maud landed 90 barrels of fish worth from $22 to $25 per barrel; John Somes, 30 barrels; George Washington, 6 barrels. The Arizona landed 60,000 pounds of cod, and the Juliette 4,000 pounds of cod and haddock.

At the Hotels.

The hotels were all full last night. At the Preble House there were over 100 arrivals and many persons were turned away who arrived after the house was full. There were 125 arrivals at the United States Hotel and more than a hundred at the Falmouth. Prominent among the arrivals were many Odd Fellows from different part of the State who have come to attend the annual meeting of Odd Fellows, which takes place here today and tomorrow.

Labor Day.

At the meeting of the delegates of the different labor unions, held at 559½ Congress street last evening, committees were appointed to see what arrangements can be made in regard to a parade and excursion on Labor Day, September 3d, said committee to report next Monday evening at 8 o'clock. It is earnestly hoped that all unions not represented will send delegates on that evening.

Frank W. Knight.

The funeral of the late Frank W. Knight, who was killed by the cars on the Maine Central road last Saturday, will take place at his late residence on Cushman street this afternoon at 1.30 o'clock. There will be a large attendance of Maine Central officials and employes.

AUGUSTA REPUBLICAN RALLY.

How the Trains will Run to Accommodate the Public.

This will be a great day at Augusta. The Republican rally to be held there this evening will be one of the grandest political demonstrations ever held at the capital, and the attendance of Republicans will be very large. Special trains will be run from Bangor, Dexter, Skowhegan, Lewiston, Bath and Portland, to arrive in Augusta at 6 p. m. The special train leaves here at 3.40 o'clock p. m. A committee will meet each train at the depot in Augusta and escort the companies to the hall, where supper will be served. Mr. Blaine and party are due in Augusta at 7.15 p. m., and as all the other trains are to arrive more than an hour earlier, he will be greeted by a vast throng of Republicans from all over the State, who will be drawn up in line to receive him and escort him to his home.

From Skowhegan at least 200 will be present; from Dexter at least 100; from Bangor 200 are known to have prepared to go; from Richmond 200, from Waterville 200, from Lewiston 200, from Bath 200, and from Brunswick 100 is the number known to have decided to attend the great rally. At least seven brass bands will discourse music on the occasion.

Returning from Augusta the trains will leave at 11 p. m.

Several of the uniformed campaign companies will leave this afternoon by the special train. They will assemble at Republican drill hall, Federal street, and accompanied by the Yarmouth Band, will march to the depot. They will halt in front of the Portland Club House, where a Harrison and Morton flag will be thrown out, and thence march to the depot.

The Portland Club will accompany Mr. Blaine on his special train, which will leave for Augusta at 4.30. The members of the club are requested to meet at the Club House at 4 o'clock. Horse cars will leave the Club House for the depot at 4.15. A large number of the members have signified their intention of going. They are to wear a dark suit, light tall hat, white necktie and to carry a cane. A band accompanies the club, and lunch will be provided on the train going and coming. Tickets to be had at the Club House and on the train, of the committee.

A special to the PRESS from Augusta says: "The executive committee made the final arrangements for Mr. Blaine's reception tonight. O. N. Blackington and Lewis Selbing were appointed a committee to go to Brunswick and meet the uniformed clubs, and T. W. Brooks and S. S. Randall to Waterville for a like purpose. W. H. Williams was selected to receive the Irish American and Tippecanoe Club of Bangor, and J. J. Maher, the Loyal League; H. H. Heath, the Newport club; W. E. Bigelow, the Skowhegan men, and H. L. Blanchard, the Portland clubs. All clubs from the West go to Meonian Hall, all from the East to Granite Hall.

Temperance Notes.

Wednesday evening a public temperance meeting was held in the church at Biddeford Pool. The speakers were Mrs. Dr. Healey of Biddeford, and S. S. Knight of Portland. The music was fine and there was a good audience in attendance.

The lodge at Sebago Lake is flourishing finely. Thirty-one members were initiated during the quarter commencing in May, and the average attendance is 47.

The lodge has voted to have a juvenile temple, and it will be installed very soon.

State Deputy S. S. Knight installed the officers of the lodge for the ensuing quarter, Saturday evening Professor J. E. W. Smith of East Parsonsfield, was present and gave some very fine recitations.

RINES BROS.

The political campaign is waxing hot and both parties are preparing for a big effort in November. Uniformed companies are multiplying and squads of solid citizens will soon be marching through the mud in support of one candidate or the other and every man who hasn't a uniform must wear a badge of some kind to show that he isn't a member of the other party. If you are a committee-man it is more than likely that you'll be called upon at short notice to find badges for two or three hundred men, and you won't know where to go for them. Come to us.

We are prepared to make to order any kind of a badge for any occasion, at any price and in any quantity, and our facilities for quick work are better than those of any other house hereabouts.

For use on ribbon badges we have invented and had made in large quantities a pin for fastening which everybody acknowledges to be the best thing of the kind in the market. It is adjustable to all widths of ribbon, holds the badge in place and is very cheap.

We also have in stock Button Hole Badges, Bandannas, Handkerchiefs and Flags, which we can furnish by the quantity to clubs at manufacturers' prices.

If you are buying anything in this line send for our prices and samples.
