"Write me while I am away," said Jones to Mrs. Jones, after an affectionate good-bye. "Treacherous man!" meditated the lady. "Not one letter does he get! He wants to sell them to one of these Western papers."

History furnishes no such instance of mean ingratitude as of the guest who, when the nuptial festivities of Patrick Flood's daughter were at their height the other evening in Albany, stole a keg of lager beer which the doting father had set up in the back yard.

The London Musical World is severe on Anton Rubinstein, whom Philadelphians appeared to like so much. It calls one of his valses (why valse?) one of the most elephantine, rhinocerosian, hippopotamusian, mammothian, behemothian, krakonian pieces of dance-music (Polyphemus, the one-eyed, could alone have danced to it with anything like nimbleness) ever heard.

Barkeepers, with one accord, state that Secretary Bristow can always find free drinks at their bars as a small testimonial of the approbation with which they regarded the recent revolution in scrip. "By the spacious firmament on high!" remarked one of the short-change-making fraternity, "I can ring in two tens and a quarter on a fellow for eighty-five cents twice in three times now, and he needn't be tight either."

The Sort of Bridegroom an Old Bachelor Makes.

I am still married, and intend remaining so for some months to come. But marriage is a fearful and risky business. No one knows what may turn up on either side. Temper and temperament are such peculiar things. However, all as yet is quiet on the Potomac. The marriage service has never been fully written out. People who marry don't know what they are promising. The bond should read: "You promise to take this man or this woman for life; you must not after this walk or talk with any other woman, if you are a man, or any other man, if you are a woman, save in the most circumspect and guarded manner; you must not become interested in any other woman; if you are interested you must not show it; you must consider your wife or your husband as the incomparable man or woman in the universe; there must be none other like unto him or her; if there be, or you think there be, you must if possible not believe it, or try not to believe it; you must now be wholly devoted to each other; you must also now lay aside all remembrance of your old flames; you must get rid of the idea that you ever had any regard for them; if you had, you must try and make yourself believe you had not, and if such a notion will stick to you, you must never mention it to each other, or there will be a row."

EVERY regular attache of the PRESS is furnished with a Card certificate countersigned by Stanley T. Pullen, Editor. All railway, steamboat and hotel managers will confer a favor upon us by demanding credentials of every person claiming to represent our journal, as we have information that several "bummers" are seeking courtesies in the name of the PRESS, and we have no disposition to be, even passively, a party to such frauds.

We do not read anonymous letters and communications. The name and address of the writer are in all cases indispensable, not necessarily for publication but as a guaranty of good faith.

We cannot undertake to return or reserve communications that are not used.

Ohio Republicanism.

The platform of the Republican Convention of Ohio, held at Columbus, Wednesday, indicates that in that state at least both parties go into the canvass with clearly defined and antagonistic principles. The Republicans in their admirable platform denounce repudiation in every form, and demand that the government shall pay its honest debts in the money recognized by the commercial world. They also reaffirm the Philadelphia platform, which demands a return to specie payments, and, as if to make the declaration stronger, assert that the Republicans of Ohio believe in immediate measures to gradually restore our paper money to a specie basis. On the other hand, with great unanimity, the Democrats re-assert their adherence to Mr. Pendleton's scheme of paying the national debt in greenbacks, and, without a mention of specie payment, declare that the currency of the country should be regulated by the demands of business.

Until within a few weeks this question of the currency has been the most important before the nation, and basing the result of the canvass upon the utterances of both parties upon this single issue, the Republicans of Ohio ought to succeed.

In this connection, it is curious to notice the important change of sentiment taking place among the Western Republicans on this subject of the currency. Directly after the panic it was given out that the men of the West demanded an expansion of the currency, and a greater part of the members of Congress from that section acted on that presumption. What might have been the case when that country was suffering from the gripes of the panic, cannot now be known; but it is true that the Republicans of Ohio have entirely recovered from such a fallacy, and if Messrs. Morton and Logan had not supplicated partial endorsement in their states, Indiana and Illinois would, to-day, stand on the honest platform of Ohio.

But since the Republicans of Maine held their State Convention, encouraged by the utterances of Demoratic conventions, politicians and journals of the North, the hot-headed Democracy of the South, by their lawless acts and violence, have revived the old issue, involving not only the right of citizens to exercise, without molestation, the right of the ballot but even the privilege of living in peace. Until within a few weeks the Republican party had considered this matter forever settled, and were ready to turn their attention to those measures of reform which must follow the final adjustment of the question affecting the right of American citizens to enjoy in peace all their political privileges. But since a few Democratic successes in the North and the assurances of such leaders as Senator Eaton of Connecticut, that they will be their champions, the Southern Democracy have disclosed their purpose to secure victory by a system of bloody deeds that will keep every defenceless colored man from the polls.

Intent on securing past successes, the Republicans of Ohio turn their faces to the old issue and declare that first of all things American citizens, regardless of race or color, must have their personal rights secured, even if the federal government is obliged to interpose its strong arm. Thus, the Ohio Republicans but express the sentiment of the entire party, and Maine will respond by the return of its present delegation to Congress by substantial majorities.

Meanwhile, our adversaries, eager to be restored to public confidence, will ignore this issue and all other issues, preferring as political scavengers to hunt the streets for petty scandal and to make capital out of distorted facts.

THIS has been, hereabouts, a season of marchings and paradings to an unusual degree—what with secret society reunions, military excursions, musters and all the rest—and the tendency toward large and fine bands of music has been quite marked, giving rise sometimes to what might be called tadpole processions—with a tremendous head of music and officers, and a ridiculous tail of marching privates. This sort of disproportion is, however, by no means new, but finds a rival in the warlike excursion told in sprightly vein by Aytoun:

Fhairshon swore a feud,
Against the clan McTavish,
Marched into their land
To murder and to ravish;

For he did resolve
To extirpate the vipers
With four-and-twenty-men
And five-and-thirty pipers.

THE English are determined to do away with bribery in elections, if legal enactments are of avail. The new election law makes the payment even of traveling expenses illegal, if the agent knows the elector is about to vote for his candidate. Some of the convictions under the law are very amusing to all except the convicted parties. For example, Baron Grant announced previous to the election that on a certain day thereafter he would give a supper and a display of fireworks and that those who should attend would be presented with a rosette and a badge bearing his portrait. The judicial authorities construed this as an illegal inducement. Really the British elector must be made of different stuff from his American brother to be influenced by the promise of a badge and a rosette. Even an election supper is not ordinarily a feast for the gods, and should not warp a man's judgment to any extraordinary extent.

TEMPLE BAR has been slavishly imitating Davy Crockett's celebrated coon. It was given out one day that the venerable structure would probably be torn down, and next day, as soon indeed as ever it heard the news, the old pile began to tumble of its own accord, and it was found necessary to stay its suicidal course with props. As there are no heads of traitors on its pikes now there seems to be no good reason why it should continue to exist. However, it is not too late to procure the heads. Brooklyn stands ready to furnish one.

THE number of letters transmitted through the post office in the year 1869 was 502,000,000; in the year which ended June 30th 1874, 900,000,000—an increase due to the voluminous correspondence called forth by efforts to suppress the Beecher scandal. These 398,000,000 letters are understood to be in Mr. Frank Moulton's possession and are to be photo-lithographed and published in the Graphic.

IT is announced that on Monday the 21st inst. the first number of The Republic, a first class daily Republican newspaper, will be issued by the New York Republican Newspaper Association. It will be a "double sheet devoted to the general news of the day, and the review and discussion of the various political, financial and literary events of the time."

SOME idea of the distress in Arkansas, consequent on the failure of crops, may be gathered from the proposition introduced into the convention at Little Rock, to the effect that no execution shall issue upon any judgment in the state for eighteen months, and that no sale shall be made upon any decree in chancery for the same period.

Current Notes.

The Boston Advertiser in speaking of the defeat of Judge Poland in Vermont, says that in addition to the local influences against him, "some support was given by one or two things in the official conduct of Judge Poland, which his opponents magnified out of all proportion to the importance. The measure of the last session, which has been industriously represented as a "press-gag law," has been used against him persistently and with malice. Whatever errors of judgment Mr. Poland may have made, he has rendered important services to his state and country not to be soon forgotten."

We had never wished T. T. anything so bad as that. G. F. T. says he has written him sixteen letters within a week.—N. Y. Mail.

In noticing the Southern outrages, the Hartford Courant remarks: "Meanwhile for every union-lover there is food for thought in the significant fact that these murders and outrages are most epidemic whenever temporary successes, south and north, have inflated the old rebel-democratic party with the hope of again crawling into power."

That is certainly no poor country which in a year marked by financial disturbance was able to increase its exports to the extent of $50,000,000 upon imports of foreign goods decreased nearly $70,000,000. The net result is the reduction of our foreign indebtedness on merchandise and specie account by over $120,000,000 in one year. The civilized world will have no long hesitation in lending to a country which knows how to pay so well as these figures indicate.—Stockholder.

The French correspondent of the Arcadian writes as follows concerning the great Brooklyn scandal: The Beecher-Tilton scandal is enchanting, interesting and delighting Europe. The Journal de Marseillaise calls it "l'Affaire Beecher, Stilton et Victoria Vodhull.' Beecher, Stilton et Victoria Vodhull are described as clergymen of the Anglican denomination, and a wonderful account is given of their adventures. It would seem that these three persons have somehow or other been led astray by Madame Breechestow, who is stated on good authority to be 'the mother of Uncle Tom.'"

One of the highest English authorities, writing in the London Times, shows that the British harvest will reach 112 to 120 million bushels, and that but 64 to 72 million bushels will be needed by Great Britain outside her home crops. To supply this demand, our own and other grain-producing countries will have probably 88 million bushels to offer, for which there will be no other competitor in the markets of the world. England will therefore be oblized to import only 110 million dollars' worth instead of the 175 of the past year, and in her markets grain will scarcely be worth more than 12 shillings the bushel. In short, the great buyer of the world has the advantage of an over-supply, and the consequences will be felt severely by our farmers.

Of the Southern outrages, the Springfield Republican (independent) says: "It is almost impossible to overstate the gravity of the situation, the magnitude of the peril, the necessity for prompt and energetic action. We are not thinking now of the fall elections, nor even of the probability of armed federal interference with its train of consequences. We are thinking of the inevitable reaction in public sentiment at the North; we are thinking of the inevitable halt to all progress, moral, political, material, at the South. The prospect is simply appalling."

The Louisville Courier-Journal cries out: "We give it up. There was a chance that the next House of Representatives would not be Radical. That chance is gone. The outbreaks in Kentucky and the massacre in Tennessee settle that much. No people, no party could stand under such a load as the people of the South and the Democratic party of the North are forced to carry.

A LIST OF OUTRAGES.—The following is a condensed statement of some of the current outrages in the southern states:

On Friday last a passenger train on the Alabama and Chattanooga railroad was stopped, at York station, in Alabama, by a false signal, and the colored mail agent was taken by masked citizens and murdered, simply because his skin was black. In the same state, in Lee county, a gang of Ku-Klux (now known as "white men,") made a brutal assault upon a negro congregation peacefully engaged in Sunday evening worship, killed and wounded several, and burned the church. Congressman Hays, of Alabama, a Republican, belongs in a district where the colored voters have a majority of ten thousand. But he does not dare visit Sumter county for fear of assassination, and says that if the election were held to-day the intimidation is so great that hardly any negro votes would be polled. Mr. Hays is not a carpet-bagger, but a native of Alabama, a graduate of the University of Georgia, and has devoted his life to cotton-planting and agricultural pursuits. Congressman Perham of the same state, also a Republican, was recently compelled to fly by night from his district to escape a conspiracy against his life. Mr. Perham is a native of North Carolina, but since his third year of age has lived in Alabama, and served in the confederate army. His crime, like that of Mr. Hays, is that he dared to join the Republican party. Judge Martin, sixth auditor of the treasury, a resident of Alabama, left his home and returned to Washington, feeling that his life was unsafe because he was a Republican. And a long list of similar incidents might be mentioned to show the condition of affairs in this state.

The outrages in Tennessee are fresh in mind, the latest being the dastardly murder of a colored school teacher in one county, and the lynching of sixteen negroes in another.

There is a tedious monotony in this style of news from the southern states, showing a general revival of the feeling which cropped out in the Ku-Klux outrages, and was only suppressed by the strong arm of the federal government. The chairman of the Texas Republican committee asserts that 600 political murders have been committed in that state since Governor Coke was inaugurated. In Arkansas, under the misrule of the Clayton ring and the inefficiency of Baxter, murders and outrages by the wholesale are reported.

CONGREGATIONAL NATIONAL COUNCIL.—The programme for the National Council of Congregational churches, to be held in New Haven Sept. 30th, is announced as follows:

The opening sermon will be preached on Wednesday evening, by Rev. Richard S. Storrs, D. D. Of topics for consideration previously suggested, papers will be read as follows:

Rev. Zachary Eddy, D. D., of Michigan, upon the occasions of hope for an immediate general effusion of the Holy Spirit.

Rev. I. E. Dwinel, D. D., of California, upon the Fellowship of the Churches.

Rev. N. G. Clark, D. D., of Massachusetts, upon Our Foreign Missionary Churches—their internal organization, mutual relations, and relations to the churches at home.

Rev. D. B. Coe, D. D., of New York city, upon Christian Comity between denominations on the Home Field.

Rev. C. L. Goodell of Missouri, upon the Mutual aspects of our different Benevolent Agencies.

Rev. Pres. A. D. Smith, D. D., of New Hampshire, upon the Internal spiritual condition of our colleges.

Hon. Henry P. Haven of Connecticut, upon Sabbath Schools, city missions and similar agencies.

Rev. W. H. H. Murray of Massachusetts, upon the Conditions of pulpit effectiveness among the multitude.

Rev. A. F. Beard of New York, upon the development of latent power in churches and individuals.

Rev. Pres. J. H. Fairchild, D. D., of Ohio, upon the character essential to the religion which will take strong hold of the American people.

A committee of the last Council will report regarding the Consolidation of Benevolent Societies.

The Provisional Committee will also report necessary and occasional items of business.

Obituary.

Rev. Amos Brown, LL.D.

This distinguished teacher, professor and minister, died at Havana, N. Y., August 27th. He will be remembered by many of the readers of the PRESS as the successful principal of Fryeburg and of Gorham academies for a term of years, commencing in 1835 and terminating in 1848, when he was called to the pastorate of the Congregational church in Machias, where he devoted all his energies to the work of the ministry for three years. Afterward he was principal of a seminary at Ovid, New York, and in 1858 he removed from Ovid to Havana to engage in the preparatory work in the establishment of the People's College, of New York. He was President of this college for several years, and was compelled to retire in consequence of a decline of health, the result of a protracted strain upon his nervous energies to complete the favorite plan of his life. For several years Dr. Brown devoted his energies in procuring the passage through Congress of the Agricultural College bill, and there is abundant testimony that the success of this measure was mainly owing to his persevering efforts. He will long be remembered as one of the distinguished educators of the country. He was born in Kensington N. H., March 11th 1804. His pupils were strongly attached to him, for whom he cherished a paternal interest and affection. And many in this state will read the announcement of his death with unfeigned sorrow. F. R.

A FRENCH DECISION.—The French are a peculiar people, and their peculiarity comes out in queer spots sometimes. A recent judicial decision is an instance of it. Who would suppose that a man hasn't a right to his own name? Yet a French court has decided that under certain circumstances he hasn't. It seems that a Dutchman named Moet, has been selling champagne, using the brand "Moet & Co.," which some purchasers have confounded with the brand of Moet & Chandon, the well known wine dealers. The latter firm brought a suit against Moet, who was ordered to discontinue using the title on his wines, and was also fined $7000 damages. This appears a clear case of injustice, If a man may not use his own name in his business the case is certainly hard. Moet may have had a fraudulent purpose in his use of his own name, but to prove such a fact would be extremely difficult. The point involved in this French decision is that a man may make a trademark of a name which he bears in common with others, and thus shut all others of that name out of the line of business he pursues.

MCMAHON AS THE AVATAR OF NAPOLEON III.—The French peasantry, says a wise London Times correspondent, don't believe that Napoleon III is dead, and Marshal McMahon's recent journey through the provinces, intended to convince them of his tangible existence, has had just the contrary effect, for they now say they have seen the emperor himself, dressed as he always was, with mustaches and short hair, just a little grayer than formerly. They were, it is true, told that it was the marshal-president, but they knew better, they were sure that the empire existed in Paris, and as for this septennat, what sort of a fable was that? But it really makes no odds what the French peasants believe, and one might as reasonably despair for the republic when the Pennsylvania Dutchmen vote for Andrew Jackson, as consider France lost when the people see in McMahon only a revived Napoleon.

CROPS IN NEBRASKA.—The Governor of Nebraska has made a report in regard to the crops, and though, as he says, they will fall short in amount over those of last year, the prospect on the whole is favorable. Small grain averages well in yield and quality; corn crop, less than an average; roots, short; fruits, abundant, but poor in quality; oats and hay, moderate. The wheat crop is exceptionally fine, and as a whole the Governor says, the state will have more than ever before. So much for the croakers. Nebraska, for a new state, is well off.

OBSCENE POSTAL CARDS.—A Washington special says that the mischievous character of the postal cards, urged at the time the law was under consideration by Congress, seems to be realized, for it is a source of great complaint at the Post Office Department that cards of a very coarse, vulgar and improper character are very frequently in the mails. This is particularly true since the Beecher scandal arose. The mails are burdened with cards containing improper and ribald jokes and doggerel having reference to the Brooklyn scandal, and postmasters are directed to exercise unusual care to prevent such cards passing through the mails.

THE GRANGERS IN CALIFORNIA.—The latest accounts from the interior of California state that the farmers are pouring in their grain to the warehouses in immense quantities, and they refuse to sell at present prices and are determined to hold on. The Livermore Grange has just shipped to Liverpool four hundred tons of wheat, and the Grangers say that as soon as the Salinas & Monterey narrow gauge railroad is completed, in about thirty days, they will put on a steamer to San Francisco and load vessels direct to Liverpool with wheat this season.

WATERVILLE CLASSICAL INSTITUTE.—The fall term of the Waterville Classical Institute commenced this week. The attendance is large, especially in the classical department, the senior class of the college preparatory course numbering twenty, while others are expected. The other classes are also large.

Mr. James A. Froude, the historian, according to the London Academy, is now on his way to this country. Mr. William E. Forster, the English statesman, is expected to arrive here at an early day.

The statement that Mrs. Celia Burleigh, the well-known lady preacher and speaker on reform, is an inmate of the City Hospital at Rochester, N. Y., far advanced in consumption, and utterly without home or friends, is contradicted. She is at the Danville Water Cure, too ill to be moved. This will be good news to the large number of persons who must have felt that if Mrs. Burleigh were in want, it was very little to the credit of those who called themselves her friends and accepted her services in her prosperous days.

STATE NEWS.

FRANKLIN COUNTY.

Capt. Ebenezer Childs, who died last week, was one of the veterans of the war of 1812, and the oldest U. S. invalid pensioner upon the rolls of the Augusta agency. He was commissioned captain in the 8th Regiment U. S. Infantry, and was honorably discharged in 1814, on account of a nearly fatal wound in the side which he received at Fort Erie, Canada. For many years he has been an honored resident of Farmington.

Sunday the most violent tempest of the season, accompanied by heavy thunder and sharp lightning, passed over Farmington about four o'clock p. m. At intervals hail stones as large as good sized peas came down, so that at one time the streets were quite white with them.—No damage was done.

HANCOCK COUNTY.

Schooner H. S. Boynton, Davis, from the Grand Banks, arrived at Lamoine, Aug. 31, with 1300 quintals of fish. She had on board one of the crew of six men belonging to the provinces, whose vessel struck a drift while they were out fishing. Unable to find their vessel they cruised for a long time in their dories and were at length picked up by a barque, carried back to the banks and put on board different vessels.

KENNEBEC COUNTY.

Readfield has a case of triplets.

A workman named Sullivan broke his leg badly at the Hallowell granite quarries on Tuesday. An embankment caved in upon him.

At about 8 o'clock, 30th inst., two barns belonging to John Hubbard and Henry Balentine in Fayette, were burned together with some five tons of hay, a mowing machine and a part of a thrashing machine, one covered carriage and some farming tools. Origin of the fire not known, but supposed to be the work of an incendiary. Insured in the Fayette Mutual for $500. This company has been organized some twelve years and this is the first loss they have had.

PENOBSCOT COUNTY.

SOMERSET COUNTY.

Norridgewock jail is empty.

Mr. H. C. Burleigh of Fairfield, the great stock-breeder, has twenty-two Hereford cattle at the New England Fair. Among the lot is one yoke of oxen six years old, whose girth is eight feet. Seven feet eight inches is the circumference of a pair of twin four-year olds.—There is also a young bull, whose weight is twelve hundred pounds. Compton Ladd, the imported bull and sire of the entire herd with the exception of two heifers, is one of the number. This animal has taken forty-four first prizes at different fairs.

WALDO COUNTY.

A mail route has been established between Freedom Village and Centre Montville.

James Savery of Searsport, who severely cut his foot about six weeks ago, and has since had violent fits of insanity, so much so that two stout men were required to hold him, was last week taken to the insane hospital at Augusta.

Mrs. Harding of Jackson, who was thrown from a carriage in Monroe a few weeks since, has recently died of injuries then received.

James H. Henderson of Belfast died on Sunday last from injuries received recently while attempting to climb a fence.

One day last week John Condon of Belfast threw a seine around a school of porgies off Patterson's Point, and caught the whole lot, 280 barrels. They made 20 casks of oil.

WASHINGTON COUNTY.

On Tuesday two of the smartest and most accomplished young ladies of Calais walked, on a wager, from that city to Robbinston and back, a distance of about twenty miles. On the return it was rainy, muddy and dark, but the brave girls kept on their way and came in a little wet and bespattered. They were in the best of spirits and ready, if there had been one, to attend a ball.

YORK COUNTY.

Owing to a loose truck, car 137, on the Bangor train of the Eastern Railroad was thrown from the track at Kittery, Wednesday afternoon. The train, fortunately, was slowing up and no great damage was done. The train did not arrive in Boston, however, in time to connect with the trains from the West.

A Masonic Mutual Relief Association has been organized in the eighteenth masonic district, having its headquarters at Limerick, with the following list of officers: President, M. R. Brackett; Vice President, Ira S. Libby; Secretary, Fred W. Libby; Treasurer, Edwin Ilsley; Examining and Finance Committee, H. H. Burbank, Edwin Sadler and R. G. Dearborn.

The ceremony of laying the corner stone of the new Episcopal church in Biddeford took place yesterday afternoon. The children assembled at Hardy's Hall, and marched to the new structure on Bacon street. On the way they were met by the clergy in robes. The stone was placed, and an address was made by the Bishop, after which the people adjourned to the hall, where a collation was spread. The vestry is to be ready for occupancy by December 1st.

The Stomach as an Avenger.

For every breach in the laws of health that we commit the stomach inflicts a penalty. Headache, billiousness, nervous tremors, constipation, colic, heartburn, nausea, debility and mental depression are only a few of the punishments which an outraged stomach is capable of imposing upon us. To bring back this vengeful organ to its normal condition—to placate, invigorate and regulate it—there is nothing in the wide world so potent as a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Under the operation of this beneficent vegetable corrective and tonic, the gastric juice becomes a pure and healthful solvent and resumes its natural flow. The effect is the same on the biliary secretion, and in fact all the fluids of the body, and the final result is the removal of every painful or unpleasant symptom occasioned by the rebellious action of the digestive organ.

WHITE'S

SPECIALTY FOR DYSPEPSIA.

This is the only prompt, efficient and safe master of such symptoms as loss of appetite, heartburn, palpitation of the heart, dizziness, sleeplessness, melancholy, costiveness, wind, mental and physical debility, as well as many others, which, if neglected, will soon place "the house we live in" beyond the reach of any remedy.

I had "Dyspepsia" twenty years, sometimes able to eat only the plainest food, and very little of that. I tried physicians and remedies without relief until I learned of "White's Specialty for Dyspepsia," which has entirely cured me. (Signed)

SQUALL ON LAKE SEBAGO.—Almost an Accident.—Yesterday afternoon about half-past five as the steamer Mt. Pleasant was proceeding down Lake Sebago, she was struck by one of the severest squalls of wind that has been known in that section for years, if ever. So suddenly did the wind strike the steamer that she was thrown quite on her beam ends, causing all the cargo, furniture and ballast to tumble to that side. Capt. Shaw undertook to put the boat head to the wind, but being so far out of water, the rudder had no effect. He then signalled for the steam to be shut off and, driven by the wind, she drifted down toward the shore nearly half an hour, when, the wind abating somewhat, he was enabled to partially right the boat and proceed to her landing which had been passed in the fury of the blast. There were about fifty passengers, mostly ladies, on board, many of whom became almost frantic; and prayers, shrieks and shouting mingled with the voice of the tornado. Many of the passengers put on life preservers. Fortunately no one was injured. The steamer was about four miles from Standish when she was struck by the squall. Capt. Shaw, who was cool throughout, says the boat being a side wheel steamer could not have been tipped over. Those who have always resided about the lake as ythat they never saw anything like it in the way of a storm. It was first seen as a black belt sweeping down the lake when two miles away, and the next moment the steamer was struck and the water was as white as snow.

STATE PIGEON TOURNAMENT.—The first state pigeon tournament ever held in Maine comes off at Lewiston next Tuesday and Wednesday at the driving park, under the auspices of the Androscoggin Sporting Club. Among the prizes offered are a diamond badge valued at $100, an elegant fly rod and a Smith & Wesson revolver. The contestants will shoot at fifteen birds each. The Forest City and Maine Shooting Clubs of this city will be present, and Portland will be represented by about thirty guns. Arrangements have been made with the Grand Trunk railroad by which members of these clubs will be taken to Lewiston and back for one dollar. Tickets can be procured of Mr. Frank W. Smith, at W. S. Dana & Co.'s Commercial street. The tournament closes with a sweepstakes, open to all amateurs.

City Valuation.

Those persons who put implicit confidence in dates and utterly disregard tenses are charging this journal with having written down Portland as progressing backwards because of an error in Thursday's issue. It was there stated: "The assessed valuation of the city for 1873 is $30,723,936, and the valuation for 1874 was $29,821,012." The transposition of dates was apparent enough, but as it appears that some were misled we take the earliest opportunity to say that the city valuation shows an increase of $902,924, over the valuation of last year.

SAM SHARPLEY.—City Hall will doubtless be crowded this evening, as the celebrated Sam Sharpley troupe will be there in full blast. This is what the Cincinnati Enquirer thinks of the entertainment: Sharpley's Minstrels had an immence audiense last evening. The entertainment is a quick succession of music, dancing, burlesque and attractive acts of sundry kinds, presenting a profusely liberal programme at popular prices, and in a style to captivate the million.

VISITING HOOKS.—The Washington Hook and Ladder Company held a meeting last evening and voted to receive the America Hook and Ladder Company of Newburyport, next Tuesday. The visiting company will be met at the depot and escorted through the principal streets and to City Building, where a collation will be taken. Everything will be done to make the reception most cordial.

CHEAP EXCURSIONS.—It should be remembered that excursion tickets can still be bought over the Ogdensburg road and the lake steamer to Bridgton or Harrison and return. These rates will be granted but a short time, and pleasure seekers should govern themselves accordingly.

The Ogdensburg are also selling tickets to the White Mountain at excursion rates.

ACCIDENT.—As a number of men were engaged yesterday in discharging coal from a vessel, for James Williams, a plank gave way, striking three men and injuring them severely.

THE STOCKBRIDGE CONCERT.

A Brilliant Success.

City Hall was filled last night with as fine an audience as Portland can afford, to greet Will H. Stockbridge on his return from Europe, and to hear him and the distinguished artists who assisted him. The rain, which began an hour or two before the time for the concert, had but slight effect on the attendance, and from seven to eight o'clock the passages to the hall were thronged with people. At eight all ingress by the main stairway was cut off, and late comers were sent to the back stairway leading to the rear of the hall. This is a very sensible and commendable arrangement, preventing the disturbance which results from entrance at the side, and permitting the large doors to be closed, much to the comfort and safety of those occupying seats near the doors, who are thus protected from disagreeable drafts of cold air.

The concert was a brilliant success in all points, and must have been in the highest degree gratifying to the young beneficiary, whose modesty, industry and faithful study in cultivating his talents have drawn to him a general kindly feeling. His appearance was greeted with a warm round of applause. As he sang his first piece, "Don Carlo," it was apparent that his study abroad had much developed his sweet tenor voice, and a marked improvement was perceptible in his stage manners. As was natural, he was exceedingly nervous, and somewhat hoarse from his sea voyage, and hence could not do himself full justice. But the signs of development were distinctly visible, and the effect was very pleasing to his audience. In response to a hearty encore he sang the little English piece, "Row gently here my Gondolier" in a very acceptable manner, evoking more applause. He sang also a duo with Miss Cary, "Una Notte in Venezia," and a solo by Gottschalk, "O Loving Heart, Trust on," in both of which he merited and received very vigorous approval. His general appearance is much improved, and he looks hearty and healthy. He will be a valuable addition to the musical talent of this city.

Miss Cary was, of course, glorious. The vigor, fire and heartiness of her bearing and movements are in themselves inspiring, and her voice was in its full power and magnificence. She took her public by storm and especially delighted them by giving as an encore to her first piece, the negro melody "The Old Folks at Home," making a new revelation to the most of her auditors of the pathos and beauty of which the song is capable. In response to the rapturous and importunate encore of her second solo, to which she yielded with her accustomed good nature, she sang the charming lullaby, "Birds of the Night," by Sullivan, in a charming manner. She was never received here with more enthusiasm, which is saying a good deal, as she has always been a prime favorite in Portland. She evidently goes to her season's work with abounding health and freshness and with the best promise of new triumphs.

Signor Del Puente, who made on this occasion his first appearance in Portland, achieved a decided success. His voice is a highly dramatic baritone of great power and brilliance, which found opportunity for display in his first song, "Il Balen," from Trovatore. He responded to the ardent applause with a repetition of a part of the same piece. But it was in the second part that he chiefly pleased the audience by his irresistibly comic rendering of "Largo al Factotum," repetition of which was demanded most energetically and was given with even greater effect than before.

With our home singers, who kindly consented to assist their fellow musician, we had every reason to be satisfied, despite the severe competition to which they were subjected from the eminent artists who appeared. Miss Barker's song was notably good, showing more power and volume of voice than she has ever before exhibited, with no diminution of the sweetness which always distinguished her singing. The quartette sang admirably, particularly in the second part. Of the accompaniments, it is only necessary to say they were by Kotzschmar, to say they were all that could be desired. In fact, it was an entertainment without weak points, and was in all parts eminently satisfactory—creditable to all the artists and to Mr Ira Stockbridge, who has managed the affair for his brother from the beginning with skill and discretion. We append the programme:

AN IMPORTANT ARREST.—Several months since a woman named Elizabeth Stewart, about 30 years of age, made her appearance in Boston, where she hired a fine house and also furniture to furnish it in grand style. After she had lived in the house a few weeks a young man appeared on the scene, and lived in the house. The two were not long together before the furniture was mortgaged, a large sum of money realized, and then it was sold at auction. Very naturally about this time they left the city for parts unknown. Detective Wade of the Massachusetts state police force took the matter in hand, and soon traced the man to Indiana, where he was arrested and brought to Boston. But his arrest did not help the matter much, as he did not do the business. The detective heard that the woman was in this city, and the noon train from Boston yesterday brought him here. The detective engaged the services of Deputy Marshal Williams and set about the search. By some means the woman became aware of the arrival from the "Hub," and began to dodge the officers. But at last they found her at the house of a friend on Oxford street and arrested her. She was arrested about 5 o'clock, and left for Boston on the 6 o'clock train.

Deputy Williams had a very slight clew to work on, but he made good use of what he had, as the result shows.

BOARD OF TRADE.—The regular monthly meeting of the managers of the Board of Trade was held yesterday morning, Messrs. Geo. W. Woodman, Chas. H. Haskell, A. K. Shurtleff, Samuel J. Anderson, W. S. Dana, Chas. E. Jose, G. C. Tyler, M. N. Rich and J. S. Bedlow were appointed a committee to consider the expediency of—and with full powers to carry out—the arrangements for an excursion over the Portland & Ogdensburg railroad to Bemis, thence by stages through the Notch to the Crawford House.

The committee met last evening at the Falmouth and held a consultation as to the proposed excrusion. The general feeling of the meeting was in favor of it, and a sub-committee was appointed to make the necessary arrangements.

ANOTHER CARY CONCERT.—This evening the people of Falmouth will have an opportunity to hear Miss Annie Louise Cary. It is quite unnecessary to remind them of the opportunity, for they have been looking forward to it for two weeks. The concert will be given in the brick church, West Falmouth. Miss Cary will be assisted by Miss Nellie Barker, Mr. Will H. Stockbridge, Mr. W. R. Howard, and Mr. W. S. Beckett, with Miss Lizzie Dyer as pianist. Such an array of talent very seldom appears outside the limits of a city, and Falmouth is extremely fortunate. There will be a number of visitors go out from this city. The ride is a very pleasant one, and it is worth a journey of more than six miles any time to hear Miss Cary.

NEW WHARVES.—Mr. Samuel Teague has just built at Little Hog Island for the Light House Department a pile wharf 140 feet long and 93 feet wide. It is built of oak and hard pine, and at low tide there are fifteen feet of water around it. The Department proposes to transfer to that island its coal, buoys, &c.

Mr. Teague has also constructed a pile wharf 215x25 for the Ferry Company at the Cape, and a railroad bridge 500 feet long for Messrs. Jose and Brown at the sugar house.

AN ERROR.—A member of the Republican City Committee desires us to correct the statement of the Advertiser that those of the committee opposed to Mr. Drummond voted to have the caucuses called at an earlier day than usual. The fact is the members of the committee known to favor Mr. Hamlin voted against every proposition for holding the caucuses earlier than the customary time.

Pets and Pests.

MR. EDITOR:—It may be a difficult position for any one to give advice to both parties who are at variance, especially where there are good reasons urged by each. One may be told to protect his dog even if he has to throw a brick at the one who attempts injury to his pet; and to another to protect his person and property against the dog whether the property be in live stock, fowl, or plant. In either case even though unjustly, decision may be rendered in favor of him who wields the greatest influence. The dog is a general feature in every city; our city is not deficient in the supply of this specie, useful in some instances—a nuisance for the greater part.

The number of inferior curs which are treasured as household pets are, mainly, to the community what the word pets would imply if there were an "s" inserted midway.

A burglar said that one of the things he feared most was a yap dog; and probably because of his readiness to give an alarm, for he is always ready to yap. Especially of a moonlight night, hardly a footstep can be heard when the little upstart gives his signal like a frightened victim; in wide contrast to some noble "Tray" who in silence waits his opportunity. But nine-tenths of his alarms are uncalled for, while a neighborhood is disturbed by the incessant barking—not by one alone, for others respond and keep up a jubilee until every membrane in their throats prevents, for a time, any more bark from escaping. If it had not been a quiet time in the house breaking line the past week or more, any one might have thought that a dozen houses were in danger on Friday morning about 3 o'clock, so frequently on or near Clark street, and could have been heard in any house with an open window in the limits of Brackett, Emery, Spring and Pine streets. If there is no other or better way to rid us of the extra amount needed, give us a dog pound. If all the people in the city who privately complain of this intolerable nuisance, were to be heard before the city authorities the result would be an effectual work accomplished. Amen; so let it be. DUTY.

A Live Farmers' Club.

MR. EDITOR:—Notwithstanding the reported depression in the lumber business, one might suppose the trade fairly active if he had been on the road from Walnut Hill to Cumberland last Monday. Forty-two pairs of oxen and horses were in line loaded with lumber. Halting for a while to rest their teams, the owners without much ceremony metamorphosed themselves into a picnic, and were soon quietly getting into condition for further journeying. Enquiry as to the cause of so unusual a procession led to the information that the Cumberland Farmers' Club had purchased new fair grounds at West Cumberland, built a first class trotting track and were drawing this lumber to inclose them. The teamsters were members of the club, and a seemingly more jolly set of fellows never swung a goad over a pair of pullers, or pulled rein over a matched pair of farm workers. They were very enthusiastic with regard to their coming fair, said they were going to make a better show of neat cattle than they ever had done, as the surrounding were associated with them. If earnestness and concentrated effort is indicative of success, we may expect the Cumberland Farmers' Club will give a show in October well worthy the attention of those interested in agricultural matters.

MATTERS IN MAINE.

THE STATE MUSTER.

Third Day—Review by Governor

[Special to Press.]

BANGOR, Sept. 3.—The day has been a busy one at the state muster ground. The crowd of spectators was even greater than yesterday. The morning reports of the several companies aggregate 771 officers and men, divided as follows: First Regiment—Co. A, 49; Co. B, 54; Co. C, 47; Co. D, 49; Co. E, 50; Co. F, 57; Co. G, 58; Co. H, 52; Co. I, 57; Co. K, 53. Unattached companies—Montgomery Guards of Portland, 50; Biddeford Light Infantry, 51; Cobura Cadets, 41: Androscoggin Light Artillery, 88. Nine men sick of colds appeared at Surgeon's call. The morning roll call showed that all the militia were on hand. The artillery drill attracted unusual attention, the evolutions with horses attached to the guns were made on the gallop, while the service of the pieces was performed with the precision and rapidity of veterans. The battalion drill to-day was a decided improvement on that of yesterday. At 11 o'clock Gov. Dingley made an informal call upon Gen. Chamberlain at his headquarters. Many other distinguished visitors paid their respects to that officer at his quarters.

To-day perfect order is maintained on the grounds. Sergeant Noyes, of the Androscoggin Artillery, stripped the uniforms off of three men of that company for drunkenness. They were then sent out of camp. Evidently this command intends to maintain its reputation for orderly conduct. The featura of the day, however, was the reception of Gov. Dingley and the review which followed. About two o'clock the Governor and staff, mounted and escorted by the unattached battalion, entered the field and were received with the Governor's salute of fifteen guns. At 4 o'clock the bugle sounded the call for review and inspection, and after evolutions by the division, they were inspected by Gen. Dyer, Inspector General, and subsequently reviewed by Gov. Dingley and staff, accompanied by Gen. Chamberlain and staff. The review was very fine, and was witnessed by over 10,000 interested spectators.

A shower, which had been threatening during the afternoon, began at the conclusion of the review, and those in attendance had just time to get away from the field before the rain came down in torrents, lasting till between 9 and 10 o'clock and causing a suspension of dress parade and other intended movements of the day.

In the evening a reception, complimentary to Gen. Chamberlain and staff, was given at City Hall, which was attended by Gov. Dingley and staff and other distinguished visitors, and by a large number of the citizens of this place. It was a very brilliant affair.

The Kearsarge steam fire engine company are entertaining the Eben Simpson steam fire engine company of Biddeford to-day. A banquet is being served at the Rockingham House.

MASSACHUSETTS.

An Important Decision.

BOSTON, Sept. 3.—Judge Shepley recorded an important decision in the United States Circuit Court to-day. May 17th, 1871, Sidney Dillon filed a bill against George M. Barnard et als., assignees, and Wm. Hart et als., trustees of the Boston, Hartford and Erie Railroad Company, to enforce a lien on the property. The defendants filed demurrers on the 27th of September following, and the decision to-day has sustained the demurrer. The court has issued a decree in accordance.

Suicide.

James Hagar, aged 56 years, master mechanic of the Boston and Maine railroad, shot himself this morning with a Spencer rifle at his residence, Bunker Hill District. He was highly respected. No cause is assigned for the act.

Token of Respect.

The New England Shoe and Leather Association held a meeting to-day and passed resolutions of respect to the memory of Solomon R. Spaulding, long known as one of the most prominent and wealthy leather merchants of Boston.

Decision in a Forgery Case.

In the case of Nathan Mathews against the Massachusetts National Bank, Judge Shepley of the United States District Court to-day decided that the plaintiff was entitled to judgment and the case should be referred to an auditor to assess damages. This suit was brought by Mathews to recover from the bank damages resulting from the reception from James A. Coe as collateral for $25,000 loaned a fraudulent certificate of 200 shares of Boston & Albany Railroad stock surrendered by the bank to Coe two years previous with transfer in blank and the name of the cashier on the back. Said certificate of 200 shares was originally given to the bank by Coe as collateral for $22,000 borrowed and subsequently proved to be a forgery from two shares which resulted in the trial and conviction of Coe for obtaining money under false pretences. The defendants claimed that the cashier had no authority to bind the bank by contract, and the certificate to Coe was not performed with any purpose of sale of certificate or stock supposed to be represented by it.

The Court held that the cashier had authority to act according to the general usage and course of business conducted by banks. Transfers of certificates of stock held as collaterals were common transactions with banks. The signature of the cashier was that of the bank. His signature was given for the purpose of transferring title, and whenever the blank was filled a contract was established between the party who has signed the blank assignment and the person whose name is rightfully filled in as assignee. Matthews did not know but what the certificate was genuine, and were it any one's business to inquire into that matter, it was that of the bank officers before giving to the fraudulent certificate the appearance of genuineness through their signature. The bank erred in placing confidence in Coe to obtain the transfer of stock from the Railroad Co., instead of taking the certificate directly from the company. They rendered themselves still more liable by delivering to Coe a forged instrument authenticated by their signature in blank to transfer, thus giving it a currency and negotiability which it would not have possessed had they made the transfer directly to Coe. Thus the bank put in the power of Coe to commit fraud upon Mathews, on which this suit was founded.

The conclusion is that the bank is precluded from setting up forgery as a defence, and the plaintiff is entitled to judgment as above.

NEW YORK.

Specie Shipments.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—The specie shipments to Europe to-day aggregate $250,200, of which $100,000 was in gold coin and the balance in silver.

A Good Offer.

Alderman Ottendoffer to-day informed Comptroller Green that bankers in Frankfort Germany, would take $5,000,000 or $6,000,000 worth of New York city securities at 103 and a fraction, to be decided on, providing the loan was one issue and amounted to $5,000,000 or over. The matter will, it is likely, be brought before the Board of Estimate and Appointment at the next meeting.

A Singular Discovery.

A rich vein of hematite iron ore was discovered at the corner of Washington and North Moore streets in this city yesterday, while excavating for the foundation of a new building. It is said to be the first mineral of any kind found in the soil of Manhattan Island.

Immigration.

The German Emigration Society reports that 31,779 Germans have arrived at this port since the first of January last. The number for the first eight months of 1873 was 73,724, showing a falling off this year of more than fifty per cent.

One thousand and ten Mennonites arrived here yesterday and will leave to-day for Dakota.

Steamer Burned.

The steamer River Belle, owned in Providence and valued at $100,000, plying between here and Long Branch, was burned at Pier 8, North River, this morning. Damage $75,000.

Decision in Bankruptcy.

Judge Blatchford, in a bankruptcy case, gave a decision yesterday to the effect that when the assets of a bankrupt fail to reach fifty per cent. of the claims proved against the estate, he cannot have a discharge unless by the consent of a majority in number and value of his creditors, in accordance with the provisions of the act of 1868, which the court holds has not been modified by subsequent legislation.

A Police Judge Censured.

This afternoon Police Judge Smith entered Judge Donahue's private room in the Supreme Court to ask for an adjournment of the hearing of charges arising out of a habeas corpus case, that the return be made as to the complaint and evidence being made before committal was false. The District Attorney admitted the traverse to be true. Then Judge Smith entered into an extenuation. He said that the person, Libby Dana, was arrested about a week ago on suspicion of connection with a robbery. Police Captain Tynan asked for an adjournment to get more evidence, but afterwards came to him in the special sessions and produced a record of Libby's indictment, conviction and discharge on his own recognizance in 1872. Not being acquainted with the practice he asked the clerk, Mr. Johnson, if that was enough to make a commitment and he said yes. Relying on Captain Tynon and the clerk, and presuming that it was all correct, he signed the commitment made out, without ever knowing its contents. Judge Donahue severely censured the police judge, and said that Charlick and Gardner had been convicted for less. It was his opinion that practices were being carried on in the Police Courts which it was necessary to stop. Panel houses and policy officers were tolerated and crime sustained for pecuniary and political assistance. He then discharged the prisoner and he was re-arrested for another charge. Judge Donahue then wrote a letter to District Attorney Phelps requesting him to lay the papers in this case before the grand jury.

Municipal Frauds.

Investigation shows that the books of the department of charters and corporations have not been written up since May 1873, and that during last year the appropriation was exhausted in the spring and no complete record can be found of the expenditures, but it is ascertained that the major portions of the amount expended last year have been incorporated into bills of this year in such a manner as to defy a specification of the exact amount. The alterations of this year's bills in this manner amount to nearly $100,000, which doubtless cover the questionable transactions of last year, if not the present year.

A German Society.

The Grand Lodge of the German order of Harrigans is now in session here with Grand Master Rosenthal in the chair. Twenty-one lodges are represented from as many different states. The Grand Secretary's report shows the number of lodges in the United States to be 329 with a membership of 22,273. During the past year $358,083.12 were paid to widows and orphans, and $250,082.24 was paid out in cases of sickness to 6205 brothers and 771 widows.

WASHINGTON.

The Department of Justice issues Instructions in Regard to Southern Outrages.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—As a result of the conference held at the War Department at noon to-day, the following was issued this afternoon:

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE, Washington, D. C., Sept. 3.

Sir:—Outrages of various descriptions, and in some cases, atrocious murders have been committed in your district, by bodies of armed men sometimes in disguise, and with a view, it is believed of overawing and intimidating peaceable and law abiding citizens, and depriving them of the rights guaranteed to them by the Constitution and laws of the United States. Your attention is directed to an act of Congress passed April 8, 1866, entitled an act to protect all persons in the United States in their civil rights and to furnish means for their vindication, and to another passed April 30, entitled an act to enforce the provisions of the 14th amendment to the constitution of the United States and for other purposes; also to one passed May 30, 1870, entitled an act to enforce the right of citizens to vote in several States of this Union, and for other purposes which with their amendments, make these deeds of violence and blood an offence within the jurisdiction of the general government.

I consider it my duty, in view of these circumstances, to instruct you to proceed with all possible energency and despatch to detect, expose, arrest and punish the perpetrators of these crimes, and to that end you are to spare no effort or necessary expense. Troops of the United States will be stationed at different points in your district for the purpose of giving you all needful aid in the discharge of your official duties.

You understand of course, that no interference with any political or party action not in violation of law, but the protection of all classes of citizens, white and colored, in the free exercise of the elective franchise and the enjoyment of the other rights and privileges to which they are entitled under the constitution and laws as citizens of the United States.

These instructions are issued by the authority of the President and with the concurrence of the Secretary of War,

Very respectfully,
GEORGE H. WILLIAMS,
Attorney General.

The above is addressed to the U. S. Marshals and Attorneys, and is prepared with the approval and endorsement of the President, to whom the substantial points were submitted submitted during the recent visit of the Attorney General to Long Branch.

President's Instructions to the Secretary of War.

The following letter was received here today:

LONG BRANCH, N. J., Sept. 2.

To Gen. W. W. Belknap, Secretary of War: The recent atrocities in the South, particularly in Louisiana, Alabama and South Carolina, show a disregard for law, civil rights and personal protection that ought not to be tolerated in any civilized government. It looks as if unless speedily checked, matters must become worse until life and property there will receive no protection from local authority until such authority becomes powerless. Under such circumstances it is the duty of the government to give all the aid for the protection of life and civil rights legally authorized. To this end I wish you would consult with the Attorney General, who is well informed as to the outrages already committed and the localities where the greatest danger lies, and so order troops as to be available in the case of necessity. All proceedings for the protection of the South will be under the Law Department of the government and will be directed by the Attorney General in accordance with the provisions of the enforcement act.

No instructions need, therefore, be given the troops ordered into the Southern States except as they may be transmitted from time to time on the advice from the Attorney General or circumstances may determine hereafter.

Yours truly, U. S. GRANT.

THE BROOKLYN AFFAIR.

Mrs. Tilton's Private Statement.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—The Brooklyn Morning Union says:

The following most important statement has been made by a most intimate friend of Mrs. Tilton, who frequently visits her and enjoys her entire confidence. Mrs. Tilton feels most keenly, said this friend, the cruelty with which she has been treated by both Mr. Beecher and the Plymouth church committee in their reports; but at the same time she is aware that, having thrown herself in the breach, she must abide the consequence. She regrets exceedingly that when she left her husband's house she did not take with her or destroy all that correspondence which he has given to the world. A great majority of her letters she secured through a friend who had the entree of the house after a portion of her correspondence was published in the Chicago Tribune. She does not feel at all unkindly towards Mr. Tilton for using these instruments in his own defence, but blames herself for giving him the opportunity. She is much vexed at many statements that have been accredited to her about her feeling towards her husband, and takes exception especially to that remark which she is said to have made, that "if Theodore will come and beg my pardon for all this upon his knees I will forgive him and return to his house." Mrs. Tilton decisively says, "He must not come to me until he has publicly and forever retracted all that he has said that is untrue about myself and Mr. Beecher." Mrs. Tilton, this friend says, is not seeking a legal separation from her husband. She will take no action of this kind because she knows that if she should be separated from her husband he would still meet her frequently in his visits to his children, and it would be impossible to maintain the separation.

This sounds as if Mrs. Tilton is impressed with the belief that they will not always live apart.

During the early days of the scandal, her father, Judge Morse, drew up papers of separation, but his daughter refused to sign them, and he never offered them to his son-in-law, Mr. Tilton.

It is said that Tilton in his forthcoming statement will refute the assertion that the original charge against Beecher was only improper advances, and not adultery. Mr. Tilton will publish a letter from Mr. Talmage, clerk of the church, setting forth the charges formerly preferred against Tilton by West; the third allegation is that Tilton accused Beecher of criminal intimacy with his wife.

Enough.

It is now said the statement of Moulton and Tilton will not be published till next week.

The general public seems to have in a great measure dropped the subject.

THE LOUISIANA MASSACRE.

Reward Offered for the Murderers—Statement by Gov. Kellogg.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 3.—Gov. Kellogg has issued a proclamation, placing a reward of $5000 a head on all the persons implicated in the Coushatta affair, and accompanying his proclamation by the following statement:

To the Public:—Having felt it my duty to issue my proclamation offering a large reward for the apprehension and conviction of the murderers in the Coushatta outrage, and to the end that the law-abiding citizens of the state may fully comprehend the magnitude of the crime committed, and be induced to render more active assistance to the officers of the law, I deem it proper to make the following statement of facts, gathered from reliable information received at the Executive Department:

On or about the 28th day of August, 1874, a body of persons belonging to a semi-military organization, known as the White League of Louisiana, assembled in the town of Coushatta, parish of Red River, in this state, for the purpose of compelling, by force of arms, the state officials of that parish to resign their positions. The officers were men of good character, most of them being largely interested in planting and mercantile pursuits. They held their position with the full consent of an admittedly large majority of the legal voters of the parish, this being a heavily Republican parish, as admitted by their fusion returning boards. The only known objection to them was that they were of Republican principles.

Frank Edgerton, duly qualified as Sheriff of the parish in strict compliance with the laws of the state and of the United States, summoned a posse committatus of citizens, white and colored, to assist him in protecting the parish officers in the exercise of their undoubted rights and duties from the threatened unlawful violence of the White League.

His posse, consisting of 65 men, were overpowered by a superior force assembled from adjacent parishes, and finally, after several colored and White men had been killed, surrendered themselves prisoners with the explicit guarantee that their lives would be spared if the more prominent Republicans would agree to leave the parish and those holding office would resign. These stipulations, though unlawfully exacted were complied with. Part of the Republican officials were then locked up in jail for the night.

The following named persons were among those who surrendered and resigned: Homer J. Twitchell, planter and tax collector of Red River parish, and deputy U. S. postmaster in charge of the post-office at Coushatta; Robert A. Dewees, supervisor of registration of De Soto parish; Clark Holland, a merchant and supervisor of registration for Red River parish; W. F. Howell, parish attorney and U. S. counsel; Frank S. Edgerton, sheriff of Red River parish, and M. E. Willis, a merchant and justice of the peace.

On the following morning, Sunday, the 30th, these persons were bound together two and two, conducted by an armed guard to McFarland's plantatian, just over the parish line of Red River, within the boundaries of Bossier parish, about 40 miles east of the Texas line. There they were set upon and deliberately murdered in cold blood. On the night preceding the murder members of the White League of Caddo parish, mounted and armed, left Shreveport and were seen rididing in the direction of the place where the murders were committed. Their bodies were buried where they felt without inquest or adv formality whatever.

(Signed) WM. J. KELLOG,
Governor.

POETRY.

Farewell to the Sea.

BY ALICE OSBORNE.

Fresh is the rain, and grey the sea and sky;
The island rocks are only noise and foam,
And evening winds are hastening on to roam
The moody shore, and kiss the wild rose dry,
Beside the darkened brook, beneath a thorn-bush high.

Now all the yellow light lies on the sea,
A broadening bar along the farthest grey;
But meet it is to turn the eyes away
Shoreward, and think of mountain, flower and tree,
Till woodland airs are blent with murmurs of the sea.

The winds have left the main, and many a leaf
Is rustling inland; rainy tree-trunks gleam;
The ghost of Rain is walking on the stream,
A gentle sprite, for shapes of fear and grief
Haunt but the fog-blown shore, and wave-devoured reef.

Inland I go, unmindful of the loss,
But sea and shore are kin, and counterparts
Of form and color show the wedded hearts.
Because there grows a greyish woodland moss,
Dearer is sea-weed grey, the hollow breakers toss.

History of Seven Days.

he news for the week ending Wednesday Night Sept. 2d.

THE GREAT SCANDAL.

Last Friday evening Plymouth church was crammed to its utmost capacity to hear the report of the Investigating Committee to which had been entrusted the examination of the charges against Mr. Beecher. The full report would fill between five and six columns of this paper in solid type. It begins by giving the letters of Mr. Beecher which led to the appointment of the committee. Thirty-seven persons were invited to testify before the committee, all of whom complied with the request except Frank Carpenter. In the report of the committee there are no new developments in the case and no testimony is given throwing additional light upon the question. The report assumes that both Tilton and Moulton are conspirators and shows that Tiltons first charge was that Mr. Beecher had made improper proposals to Mrs. Tilton, but, as time passed, they concluded to make it adultery. So far as the first charge is concerned the Committee have the testimony of Messrs. Belcher and Harmon that for more than two years, Tilton's charge was only that of improper advances. There could be no mistake about this for it so appeared in Mr. Tilton's "true story" which he read to his friends an dmade the subject of cenversation with newspaper people. It was not until Tilton had worked up his case that the charge of adultery was thought of—when Mr. Beecher had signed that senseless apology written by Moulton, and Tilton, by threat and solicitation, had extorted from his wife those singular confessions that the charge of adultery was made. The Committee proceed to show by the testimony taken that there was no such idea as adultery in the case: First, because Mr. Beecher's offense whatever it was, was one that Tilton could forgive which could not be true if it had been adultery; second, that in his cross-examination, Tilton said that Beecher said he had done Tilton wrong but not so much as some others, referring to Mrs. Beecher and others, who on learning the cruelty of Tilton to his wife interfered to persuade her to leave him and influenced Bowen to discharge him from the Independent and Brooklyn Union; third, by the letter of Moulton to Beecher who had learned of Tilton's bad faith in retailing the stories to his associates, and wrote Moulton that he would make a statement public which would "bear the light of the judgment day,' in which he (Moulton) advised Mr. Beecher against this course, but says to him: "You can stand if the whole case is published to-morrow." The report dwells at some length upon Tilton's troubles and applies the rules of evidence to the testimony from which they conclude that Mr. Beecher is not guilty of any impropriety in connection with Mrs. Tilton, but censure him for allowing himself to be made the dupe of Tilton and Moulton in connection with the case. The church and society unanimously adopted the report of the committee and the conclusions arrived at. Moulton, who was present, interrupted Mr. Raymond, who was making a speech defending Mr. Beecher and accusing Moulton, by calling him (Raymond) a liar. This interruption was followed by considerable confusion and cries of, "give him hell," "put him out," but poli cemen being present and the appeal of the presiding officer prevented any assault on the mutual friend. As Moulton left the church, a rush was made for him by part of the crowd, but he was safely escorted to his carriage by the police and went home. This action toward Moulton, however detestable he may be, was disgraceful in the extreme.

It is said that both Moulton and Tilton are now engaged in elaborating new statements, and that the former will present a case against Mr. Beecher where he confessed adultery with another woman than Mrs. Tilton, of which he has certain proof.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

Postmaster General Jewell took charge of the postal department Tuesday. Mr. Jewell through change of trains lost his connection for Washington at New York but having promised the President to take charge of the office Tuesday, he secured a locomotive and car and arrived in Baltimore in time to take the Washington train. He will make no change in the officers of the department at present. Mr, Rambush, clerk in the foreign mail bureau, goes o the postal convention at Switzerland, the object of which is to consult, simplify and reduce postal rates between all nations.

A treaty of friendship between the United States and Peru has been proclaimed.

The Attorney General decides that the law of last year providing that only actual traveling expenses shall be allowed persons employed by the United States, cuts off the allowance of mileage to U. S. marshals.

POLITICAL.

In this state the Republicans have made their nominations in every county except Aroostook, where the convention is held to-day. Most of these conventions have been characterized by an unusual degree of harmony and the candidates are generally worthy of party support. Our voting readers should not forget that the annual election takes place a week from next Monday, September 14th.

All of the Democratic state conventions held last week, declared against the civil rights bill, and those of Missouri and Ohio for paper money and payment of 5-20 bonds in greenbacks. The so-called Democratic convention in Illinois was an independent affair and is so claimed by the leading Chicago papers.

The Boston Journal concludes, after looking in the field, that there is no demoralization in the Republican ranks in that state, such as several independent journals discover and have predicted for years. Gen. Butler wants to go to Congress again, and the Republicans in Judge Hoar's district are signing a paper urging him to again be a candidate. The same request has been made to George F. Hoar of the Worcester district. About 50 merchants in Boston gave Congressman Dawes a dinner Thursday. In a speech, Mr. Dawes said he was in Boston by an agreement with the Ways and Means Committee with reference to the revenue laws.

The Fenian Convention has been in session in New York the past week. A new constitution was adopted and Col. John O'Mahony elected head Centre.

In a letter ex-Secretary McCulloch urges the withdrawal of legal tenders in order that a basis may be reached. He favors free banking and a revenue tariff.

The Republicans of New Jersey on Thursday last nominated Hon. George A. Halsey for Governor by acclamation. The convention demanded an early resumption of specie payments.

The biennial election in Vermont took place Tuesday for state officers, congressmen and a legislature. The indications are that the Republican majority on the state ticket, although Judge Peck, the Republican candidate for governor, has the most popular Democrat in the state for an opponent, will be quite up to that of 1872. Messrs. Hendee and Joyce, Republicans, are elected to Congress by large majorities. In the second district, however, it looks as though Judge Poland would fail of a reelection. From the returns received, Dennison, Independent Republican, leads Poland. There was a good deal of independent voting, the cities and large towns in several cases electing Democratic representatives through the aid of liberal (rum) votes.

INDIAN AFFAIRS.

The rigorous policy inaugurated against the bad Indians has had a decisive and salutary effect. Only one outrage appears during the past week—the murder of six surveyors of Lawrence, Ks., 20 miles from Fort Dodge, on Wednesday of last week. Gen. Davidson from Indian Territory reports that his expedition against the war-path Indians has been successful and in consequence, large numbers who were growing uneasy, have returned to their reservations praying for peace. This same report comes from all directions. The savages see that the military mean business, and business they appreciate. Gen. Davidson under the direction of Gen. Sheridan is pursuing hostile Indians, who are to be punished wherever found. The same is true of all the border commands.

The Black Hills expedition of Gen. Custer has returned to Fort Lincoln. He confirms all that has been reported of the rich country he visited. He marched about 1000 miles and reports that his command is in good condition to take the field again. Miners and explorers are anxious to visit the new country as soon as the Indian title is extinguished or as satisfied that the government will not interfere.

CRIMES AND CASUALTIES.

Saturday at Henryville, Ind., two men met another named Gardner walking on the railroad track near the town. They seized him, robbed him and then fastened him to the track over a culvert. Before a train came along he loosened all the cords but one which bound his ankle to the rail. Thus confined, the train run over him crushing his leg so that he fell into the culvert where he was found. After telling the story he died. Two men have been arrested on suspicion.

Horace Williams of East Leverett, Mass. aged 22, shot himself Saturday because he feared arrest for abusing a horse.

Henry Balt engineer of a switching train at Springfield, Mass., has been arrested for causing a fatal accident at a crossing in that city recently.

Among the larger fires the past week are the following: Clark s Thread factory Newark, N J, loss $37,500, insured; Cleveland, O., loss $25 000; cooper shops of Kimball, Shaffer & Co., Baltimore, loss $20,000; steam mills of Walter Fessenden & Sons, West Townsend, Mass., loss $4,000;

SOUTHERN TROUBLES.

During the week the reports of violence in several of the Southern states have been frequent enough and sufficiently outrageous and bloody to convince any candid mind that there exists a powerful organization of white men in those states which is determined by intimidation and cruelty to overawe the colored citizens and thus eliminate their influence in political affairs by keeping them from voting. The condition of these people is most deplorable; for, used to abuse, in mortal fear of the violence of their late masters who look upon them as the cause of all their woes, ignorant, superstitious, the press, the telegraph and all the means of communication in the hands of those who are just now trying to show that they are seditious, the African of the South is little better off, and not so safe as when he was the property of his present persecutors.

Last week our record closed with the murder of sixteen negroes, in jail for alleged, but not proven, attempt to create a disturbance in Gibson county, Tennessee, from which they were taken by a band of masked men and murdered in a manner so fiendish as to put the men committing the deed on a level with the savages on the Indian border. So outrageous was this act that Gov. Brown of that State has offered a reward for the murderers, but no one of them has yet been arrested.

Following after this is a bloody affair in Conshatta, one of the remote parishes of Louisiana on the Red River. First comes a report of negroes arming; next of the capture of the political leaders, both whites and negroes and the resignation of parish officers to save their lives; then the murder of six of these leaders, white men, while being taken as prisoners to Shreveport, by a party of masked men alleged to be Texans. Taking the story of the "white leaguers" for it, they are at fault, but they are not to be fully credited. The advices are to the effect that it is the plan of the "white leaguers" to run out of that country every white Republican. Gov. Kellogg has raised a regiment of picked white men to be attached to Gen. Longstreet's brigade, whose duty it will be, so far as they are able, to prevent white league outrages.

Reports of violence in individual cases come from various states, and are so well authenticated that the Federal authorities will doubtless give them attention, though President Grant is extremely adverse to any exercise of federal power in states which ought to be quiet. Further particulars may be found elsewhere.

BUSINESS CROPS, ETC.

Reports from the larger cities indicate that the fall trade, especially in dry goods and boots and shoes has begun in good earnest. The stock, however, is quite large. Manufacturers are not very hopeful at present. Money in the "big places" is easy and cheap on good paper. Crop reports continue favorable except for the hog crop, which will be about two-thirds last year. Drouth is injuring cotton in some states. The reports from our own state continue favorable, though slight frosts occurred in Aroostook, Washington and elsewhere last week, doing little injury. Fruit in Eastern Maine is reported better than anticipated.

The general impression in money circles is that the changes brought about by the currency act of the last Congress is an improvement on the old order of things.

Granger Governor Taylor of Wisconsin, in a speech the other day, declared that the railroad would lose less than 5 per cent. of earnings as compared with last year because of the new granger laws.

FOREIGN.

In Spain there is little new. The war goe on without much change, though if a balance were struck the Carlists have lost during the week. Russia declines to recognize the Republic. Considerable small fighting is reported in Cuba, with general success in favor of the insurgents.

The International Congress at Brussels has adjourned. It didn't do much.

France is quiet now that the Assembly is not in session.

Forest fires are reported at Black Rapids, Ontario, doing great damage.

St. John has a bad horse disease, taken from an American circus. Half of the horses are unfit for work and many have died.

THE LATEST.

The Ohio Republican Conuention was held yesterday. The resolutions denounce repudiation and favor a speedy return to specie payments with free banking when a legal tender dollar is as good as one of gold.

The latest advices from Louisiana plainly show that the murder of the Red River parish officers was an unparalleled atrocity. Most of the murdered men were United States officials

The latest returns from Vermont show tha the Republican majority on the state ticket will be up to the old time figure considering the light vote. Congressman Poland is badly beaten, the bolting Republican candidate in behalf of the district, being about 1500 ahead of him. The Legislature is overwhelmingly Republican.

With a running mate in another sulky, Goldsmith Maid trotted a mile yesterday in 2-14—three-quarters of a minute better than than her best time heretofore. She made a half mile in 1.06½.

Gold closed Wednesday at 1.09 3-4 and has vibrated between that figure and 109½ during the week.

MEDICAL

Treatise on Nervous Diseases

— AND THE —

Cordial Balm of Syricum.

During the year 1865 Dr. G. Edgar Lothrop had a new and peculiar drug, from the interior of Africa, brought prominently under his notice by the very strange effect it produced on an animal who had accidentally swallowed a large quantity. Owing to this circumstance he was led to make many experiments on the lower animals, and he soon discovered that it had a very peculiar effect on the Nervous System. This induced him to experiment both on himself and some of his patients, and such was the wonderfully beneficial effects, and so rapid the cure of those afflicted with nervous diseases, that he finally came to the conclusion that he had discovered a new and valuable addition to the medicines of the pharmacopœa. He soon found that this medicine, in conjunction with some others, cured nervous diseases of all kinds with a certainty and rapidity of which he had no previous conception.

A few words on that special disease generally known as Nervous Debility or Weakness. This is the most common brought on by total ignorance of the fearful pernicious effects, but it is also brought on in many cases brought on through no fault of the person afflicted, but by disease, long confinement, and several other causes—but in all cases the effect on the constitution is the same. Heretofore, there has been no cure for this disease, but Dr. Lothrop, having put up this medicine in the form of CORDIAL BALM OF SYRICUM AND TONIC PILLS, combined with other medicines, offers them to all sufferers as a safe and speedy cure. Our Lunatic Asylums are full of patients, in many cases brought hither by the effects of Nervous Debility. Many thousands suffer in silence, hopeless of relief, having often been deceived by unprincipled quacks. Such is not the case with Dr. G. Edgar Lothrop's CORDIAL BALM OF SYRICUM and TONIC PILLS. A very short trial will demonstrate their efficacy.

Any who suffer from the effects of over indulgence in tobacco, or alcoholic stimulants, Palpitation of the Heart, St. Vitus' Dance, Epilepsy, Nervous Headache, Sleeplessness, Restlessness during Sleep, Loss of Memory, Irritability, Nervousness, Twitching of the Nerves, and all other Nervous Diseases, will find this medicine a real blessing.

Should any person into whose hands this notice comes, have a friend whom he knows or thinks is afflicted with any Nervous Disease, Nervous Debility, etc., he will confer a real kindness on his friend by sending it to him, so as to give him an opportunity of being cured by the use of Dr. Lothrop's CORDIAL BALM OF SYRICUM and TONIC PILLS.

No Extra Insurance to Pay!

No Danger from Explosion—No liability to get out of Order.

In short it is the SIMPLEST, SAFEST, most DURABLE and most ECONOMICAL Engine in the world. We fully guarantee them to fill the above particulars. COLT'S ARMS CO. have spared no expense in getting up SPECIAL TOOLS AND MACHINES with which to build these Engines, so that every part is made up to gauge, and are perfectly interchangeable, the importance of which will be understood by all who are at all familiar with machinery. Thus, every Engine of a given size is an exact duplicate of every other one of that size, and in case of breakage, the broken part can be immediately replaced by its perfect duplicate.

The inventor of this Engine had in view, in its construction, the great need that exists for a perfect Steam Engine—of small power—adapted to all kinds of light mechanical work, and that should also combine all that is good in Steam Engineering.

The first point was, to secure a perfectly philosophical Boiler and Furnace, in order to insure the most perfect combustion, and to take up the greatest possible amount of heat in generating steam.

The second point was, to make a perfect cut-off Engine, working steam expansively, and keeping up the temperature of the cylinder to prevent loss by radiation or condensation.

The third point was, to combine and make the whole a mechanically and scientifically correct machine; all its parts being provided with means to take up lost motion, so that it may be used for any number of years, and always run smoothly. In all these particulars as much care has been taken as in the larpest and most perfect engine ever constructed.

The result is—THE GREATEST AMOUNT OF POWER PROPORTIONED TO THE AMOUNT OF FUEL CONSUMED—thus proving the fact—well known to men of science—that water is the best medium to transmit the mechanical forces, generated in the combustion of fuel, to the production of motive power.
