AN AUSTRALIAN ASPIRANT.

The America's Cup to be Sought from a New Quarter.

BOSTON, Oct. 17.—It appears probable that a challenge for the America's cup may come from a new quarter of the globe. The Australians, not content with the rowing championship, intend to build a yacht that will compete in the summer of 1890 with the then holder of this cup.

Walter Reeks, naval architect, of Sydney, N. S. W., has come to Boston to begin his acquaintance with our yachts and waters, and proposes on his return to design and build for a gentleman of wealth there his ideal yacht for the challenge. Mr. Reeks comes under the auspices of Messrs. Henry W. Peabody & Co.

He first called upon Mr. Burgess, who received him with the utmost courtesy and frankness, and enabled him to see the Volunteer and other yachts of his design now in winter quarters. Mr. Reeks will make but a short stay in America. He will shortly visit New York and other yachting centers.

The Potato Crop.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Oct. 17.—There will be a fair average crop of potatoes in New England, according to the New England Homestead. The yield is below the average in New York, and there is not a full crop at the West. Rot is doing much damage to the late crop in the East. Prices range from 30 to 60 cents. A considerable increase in acreage is reported in the Provinces. The crop in Great Britain and Europe is very short. The Homestead thinks a gradual advance to 75 cents per bushel at Boston and New York probable. It advises selling steadily in small lots.

A despatch from Bevier, Missouri, says that the coal miners' strike in that town will probably end without further bloodshed. Last evening the operators and miners' committee announced themselves ready to arbitrate. They met and the operators offered a slight advance, about one-third of the demand made by the miners. The indications are that the proposition will be accepted.

Not Up in Their Political Duties.

[Gardiner Home Journal.]

Capt. Collins, Pilot Baker, Steward Dunphy, and we do not know but some of the other officers of the Star of the East, never voted at a Presidential election, having always been away from home on election day. The boat being in Boston Tuesdays, they cannot vote in Maine very conveniently, but as they are about equally divided in politics, the general result is not affected.

JOY IN UNION.

The Town Votes to Go Into Railroad Building.

[Special to the Press.]

ROCKLAND, Oct. 17.—The citizens of Union, at a town meeting this afternoon, voted 244 to 88 in favor of loaning the credit of the town to its legal limit of $29,000 to aid in the construction of a railroad from Union to the Knox & Lincoln road at Warren. Mitchell & Spofford, railroad contractors, now building the Lime Rock road at Rockland, have offered to build the road for $41,000, equip it and have it in running order next season, and this action of the town is the first step to meet that offer. The promoters of the project have held frequent meetings, and the result of the town meeting is a great victory for them. The vote was greeted with the widest expressions of delight. Guns were fired, church bells rung, and tonight the houses were illuminated. Measures will be immediately taken to raise the remaining $12,000. Warren Hills was moderators of the meeting, and ex-Congressman F. E. Littlehale and E. L. Thompson were appointed a committee to contract for building the road.

No New Cases of Diphtheria in Brunswick.

[Special to the Press.]

BRUNSWICK, Oct. 17.—Dr. Adams, of the Brunswick board of health, says there is only one case of diphtheria in Brunswick, and that there has been no new case since Monday.

Lobsters Plenty.

[Special to the Press.]

AUGUSTA, Oct. 17.—Fish Commissioner Counce of Thomaston said today that his wardens reported that lobsters were more abundant along the Maine coast than they had been for 20 years. The great pound at Vinalhaven had been filled with 125,000 lobsters which were purchased at 3½ cents each.

The News in Richmond.

[Special to the Press.]

RICHMOND, Oct. 17.—Rev. William C. Stiles of Pittsfield, N. H., has accepted the call to the Congregationalist church at Richmond, and will take charge of his new pastorate about the first of November. The salary is $1000 and the parsonage.

The net receipts from the recent fair in aid of the new shoe factory, including the proceeds from the sale of house lots, are $1235.

Work on the new factory building is going forward rapidly. The frame is about all up.

State Pistol Shoot.

[Special to the Press.]

AUGUSTA, Oct. 17.—Capt. W. Scott Choate and other Augusta parties are arranging for a State pistol shoot, to be held in this city on the range. There are many good shots here, and in other sections, and it is proposed to shoot for a badge and the State championship. The badge has already been procured and is a very neat affair. There is also a movement to form a State Association for pistol practice, and a code of by-laws has been prepared.

Burglary at Mechanic Falls.

MECHANIC FALLS, Oct. 17.—The store and bakery of William C. Bridge was entered last night and about one hundred dollars worth of goods taken. The thieves gained entrance by sliding back a window, and after gaining admittance to a shed cut a hole in the door large enough to thrust their hands through and lift the latch of the door in the main store. The goods taken were cigars, fruit, bakers' goods and silver ware.

William G. Cray's Heroism.

BEDFAST, Oct. 17.—As the 11 a. m. passenger train was approaching Belfast yesterday, William G. Gray, a flagman, stationed at the crossing about fifty rods above the depot, received an injury which caused his death. While the cars were passing, Stephen Fletcher of Stockton drove up. His horse became unmanageable, and Gray, at the risk of his own life, attempted to save the life of the other. While seizing and holding the horse by the bridle, he was thrown against the rear car and received a fracture of the skull, dying therefrom in two hours. Fletcher was not injured. Gray was 23 years old and married.

Bath Machine Shops Running.

BATH, Oct. 17.—The machine shops which have for some years borne the name of the New England Iron Works, now known as the southern division of the Bath Iron Works, were started up this morning after being idle for about a month. A small crew of machinists are at work, and in a few days the force will be increased, which can be taken as an assurance that one or more contracts will soon be closed, if not already taken. From what is said about the works, there is reason to believe that a contract has been obtained to build the engines and boilers for a large steamer, the hull of which is to be constructed by the New England Company.

Races at Gray.

GRAY, Oct. 17.—The races announced for today have been postponed until tomorrow, on account of the rain, but the last heat in the continued 2.40 class was trotted, and the race was taken by Grey Bunker. Wanderer got second money, Saltpetre third, and Meade fourth. The summary was as follows:

BETTER OFF THAN HIS NEIGHBORS.

Fruit, Candy and Luxury for a Penobscot County Pauper.

Matters Discussed by the Governor and Council Yesterday.

Secretary Gilbert Tells of the Troubles of Maine Farmers.

[Special to the Press.]

AUGUSTA, Oct. 17.—Governor Marble was asked today in regard to his statement that the State pauper law was greatly abused. In illustration he produced a bill for pauper support from a Penobscot county town, which is a wonder. It purports to be for supplies furnished one man from June 21 to September 3, only a little more than two months, and amounts to $143.09. Among the several hundred articles enumerated are many which are simply ridiculous, and many which may be classed as luxuries, and would not be purchased by one prudent family in fifty. Among them are such articles as Magic oil, oranges, candy, nuts, canned salmon, under vests, knife, fish hooks, bird seed, insect powder, castor oil, electric oil, Lewis's Elixir, carbolic acid, rod irons, kid boots and a wash board. Fruit, confectionery and patent medicines appear very frequently, and were evidently wanted often by this State pauper.

This, the Governor said, was a sample of the bills sent in for the State to pay, and he did not propose to draw warrants for the payment of them or to be a party to such frauds. Many of these of late have been cut down, and there has been more or less grumbling. But it is hardly reasonable to expect that the State's paupers are to live better than the average citizen, and town officials will do well to bear this in mind and make the expenses of these people reasonable.

Governor and Council.

[Special to the Press.]

AUGUSTA, Oct. 17.—The Governor and Council in session this morning passed an order instructing the Secretary of State to place the September election returns before them, which being complied with the committee on election returns, Councillors Rand, Carter and Hunt, entered upon the work of counting and tabulating them with the exception of the gubernatorial returns which will be counted by the Legislature. It will require about three weeks to complete the task, and Mr. Walter B. Rand, son of the Councillor, and Maj. C. J. House, have been employed as clerks. One for more members of the committee will be present all the time.

A warrant was passed paying the State Fair Association the $1000 voted them for special premiums by the Legislature.

The matter of draining the quarry pond at the State Prison was referred to the Legislature. Warden Bean writes that he will be able to drain it ten feet with the syphon which he has in operation.

The Council adjourned today to meet November 22d, when they will proceed to count the vote for Presidential electors. The law also requires them to meet November 29th for the same purpose.

Governor Marble's appointment of Thanksgiving Day will conform with that of the President's.

Rev. Fred E. Carver, of Canton plantation has been commissioned to solemnize marriages.

Digging Potatoes in the Water.

[Special to the Press.]

AUGUSTA, Oct. 17.—Hon. C. A. Gilbert, secretary of the Maine Board of Agriculture is making arrangements to enter upon his institute work for the present year. Farmers' institutes will be held as follows: Sorrento, Oct. 25; Sedgwick, Nov. 1; Island Falls, Nov. 8; Houlton, Nov. 9; North Pond, Nov. 14; Sebec, Nov. 15. Arrangements have not been completed for the remainder of the institutes, but they will continue until the close of the year, being held in every county. Several lecturers from outside the State have been engaged, and Hon. C. M. Mitchell of Fairfield and G. M. Gowell of Bowdoinham will assist.

Secretary Gilbert was asked regarding the damage to our agricultural interests through the frost and unprecedented bad weather. He said: "The damage is simply immense, and cannot be appreciated by people not familiar with the situation. It cannot be measured by a money value. I know of one man with 12 acres of good ensilage corn, and the field on which it stands is such a mire that a man cannot cross it. In Aroostook there are thousands of acres of grain remaining uncut, and much of that cut weeks ago is practically a total loss. I saw one farmer digging potatoes in the rain. Another man lost 24 acres of beans, the fertilizers for which he had to purchase and the work he hired done. In addition to the loss of crops farmers have lost a large amount of time, having been unable to do anything since the State fair. The first crop is practically harvested, and in many sections of the State is fully up to one of our best crops, particularly in Androscoggin and Kennebec counties. The fruit is fine and perfect, which accounts in part for the large yield in barrels. One small farm in my town 800 barrels have been picked."

Members of the Board of Agriculture are to be chosen this year in Aroostook, Piscataquis, Franklin, Knox and Waldo counties.

Dr. G. M. Twitchell has made an extensive engagement to do lecture work under the auspices of local granges. Next Saturday evening he speaks at Pittsfield, and the week following goes to Knox county to hold a series of meetings there. Probably he will fill an engagement in Piscataquis county later on.

NEW ENGLAND SUNDAY SCHOOLS.

What has Been Done During the Past Year.

LEWISTON, Oct. 17.—At today's meeting of the New England Sunday School convention, when State reports were called for Rev. B. P. Snow of Willard, reported for Maine.

Mr. Snow spoke, in preface, of the satisfaction that the State of Maine felt in the coming of the convention to this State. He said that the condition of the Sabbath School work in Maine was improving every year. In the way of statistics he stated that there are 244 Congregational churches in Maine, 15 local conferences, 21,161 church members, 260 Sunday Schools, 15,000 families connected with the Congregational Sunday Schools, 23,000 officers, teachers and members of the Sunday Schools of the church. The population of the State of Maine is about 650,000 at the present time. The Sunday Schools at the best and most liberal estimate have only about 104,000; the Baptists have about 17,000 officers, members and teachers, and the Methodists 27,000 in the Sunday Schools.

Maine has about 213,000 children between the ages of four and 21, and there about 104,000 of them in the Sunday Schools; and this leaves 109,000 who are not in the Sabbath Schools of the State. The schools of Maine are so widely scattered and the territory so great that it seems harder here than in other more thickly settled States. Distance does not lend enchantment to the view in this case.

Rev. Mr. Snow, in conclusion, said that he thought the condition of the Sunday Schools of Maine were hopeful, and far brighter than in times gone by. He knew that there is room for improvement, but felt that there is no cause for discouragement.

The committee on nominations, through Dr. Meserve, reported the following list of officers:

President—Hon. David N. Camp, New Britain, Conn.

Vice Presidents—Hon. Nelson Dingley, Lewiston, Me.; Hon. Frank Fairbanks, St. Johnsbury, Vt.; Rev. J. G. Vose, D. D., Providence, R. I.; Mr. Hall, Dover, N. H.; Samuel B. Capen, Boston, Mass.; William H. Hall, West Hartford, Conn.

Secretary—Rev. F. S. Hatch, Monson, Mass.

Statistical Secretary—George Beal, Boston, Mass.

Treasurer—F. C. Jones, Farmington, Conn.

Executive Committee—Maine, A. G. Dewey, Portland; Rev. G. M. Howe, Lewiston. New Hampshire, Rev. Cyrus Richardson, Nashua; Rev. G. H. DeBevoise, Keene. Vermont, Rev. J. H. Barbitt, West Brattleboro; Rev. C. H. Merrill, St. Johnsbury. Massachusetts, Hon. T. W. Bicknell, Boston; Rev. Smith Baker, Lowell. Rhode Island, Rev. J. H. McIlvaine, D. D., Providence; J. W. Danielson, Esq., Providence. Connecticut, W. R. Burnham, Norwich; Rev. Graham Taylor, D. D., Hartford.

These were unanimously elected.

The next session of the convention will be held in Boston. M. C. Hazard addressed the convention on the grading of the Sunday schools. He was followed by Rev. A. E. Winship of Boston, who spoke on the teachers' work in the class. This evening, after the vesper service, Rev. S. L. Blake spoke on the Bible.

Terrible Destitution.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 17.—M. J. Horpman of this city, who was commissioned to investigate the condition of the farmers in Ramsey, Dak., who were reported to be starving to death, returned last night. He says there are 70 families who are absolutely destitute of food and fuel, and something must be done immediately. The real condition of the people is beyond description. Men, women and children are in rags, and they have not a cent of money. Their crops were totally destroyed, and their land, stock and farm implements are mortgaged. Absolute distress prevailed everywhere. A minister was living in one room with his wife and two small children. One of the latter was wrapped up in a crib, in order to keep warm, and the other was shivering with cold and emaciated with hunger.

There was no fuel with the exception of a little dry manure, which is all that any of the families have to burn, and the only thing they had to eat was a dry crust of bread. Mr. Horpman says the frost which came in August destroyed all of the wheat that there was, as well as all vegetables.

MACKENZIE'S WORK.

The Times Says Sir Morell Did His Share of the Cutting.

LONDON, Oct. 16.—The Times devotes an entire page to an impartial review of both Dr. Mackenzie's book and the report of the German physicians on the illness of the late Emperor Frederick, and after a calm dissection of both decides that Mackenzie is shown to have applied the knife in the treatment of the Kaiser's throat oftener than did his German colleagues. The prolongation of the unfortunate controversy does not help Mackenzie, except in the increase of the sale of his book, but on the contrary swells the already large number of persons who believe that he has permitted himself to make statements which the circumstances do not justify and whose absolute accuracy he cannot prove. It is understood that the New York Herald agreed to pay £400 for the exclusive use of the extracts from the book published in the Paris edition, but it is believed that it will now decline to pay the sum, on the ground that the prior publication of the matter in the Medical Journal was a violation of agreement. Schidrowitz, the London agent of the Vienna Neue Freie Presse, who is generally believed to have furnished the unauthorized extracts from the book, is also the correspondent of the Berlin Tagblatt, which paper published the extracts simultaneously with its Vienna and Paris contemporaries on Friday last.

The Times Case.

LONDON, Oct. 17.—The opinion generally prevails among lawyers that the Times case, as delivered to Mr. Parnell's solicitors, is startlingly weak, and predictions are freely made that it will fall to the ground. The newspapers are commenting on the case without reserve, apparently oblivious of the fact that the Parnell commission is a court of justice and that Justice Hannen is notoriously severe upon persons whose utterances have a tendency to prejudice cases which are or may subsequently come before him. In the view scores of editors have qualified themselves for imprisonment for contempt of court.

Chong May Come.

MONTREAL, Oct. 17.—King Tye Chong, the merchant who has been compelled to ask permission to go to New York to attend to his business, has been informed that he can go, and that the exclusion of Chinese intended by the government refers only to Coolies.

Foreign Notes.

A dozen mutilated bodies have been found on the coast at Calais, at which the steamer Ville de Calais was sunk by an explosion of petroleum, Tuesday.

His Excellency, the Count of Premio-Real, Spanish Consul General at Quebec, while handling a revolver yesterday morning accidentally shot himself and died almost instantly.

War Over Man's Evolution.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Oct. 17.—The bitter fight of the Southern Presbyterians over the evolution question has been renewed. Rev. Dr. James Woodrow, while professor of natural science in the Columbia Theological Seminary, contended that the supposition of the of evolution of man was not inconsistent with the Bible. For this he was removed. The Charleston Presbytery last week passed a resolution, 2 to 1, prohibiting any one within the church writing upon or criticising the decision of the general assembly at Baltimore which condemned Dr. Woodrow's teachings. The state synod, now in annual session at Greenwood, has adopted resolutions condemning the action of the Charleston Presbytery as unconstitutional, irregular and unwise. The synod directs the Charleston Presbytery to correct one and correct its irregular proceedings. This is a victory for the Woodrow evolution element. It is probable that the whole matter will be taken before the general assembly of the Southern Presbyterian church.

America's Exhibit.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—The following extract from a note just received from one of the jurors of the Brussells Exposition shows that, though the number of American exhibitors was not as large as it should have been, the reputation of American artisans for ingenuity and talent was fully sustained by those who represented them at the exposition. The writer, under date of the 5th of October, says: "I have just finished the duties of juror at the exposition, and must let you hear of the returns. In the agricultural machines, on which subject I was put, we got for the United States the diplomas of honor, the highest award and one gold medal in other words, a diploma of honor for each exhibitor but one, and he really only deserved the gold medal. The other exhibitors fared equally well, for, out of 73 exposants, 54 got distinctions of greater or less degree. I think we have reason to congratulate ourselves."

Acting in Dead Earnest.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Margaret Mather Haborkorn was the cynosure of all eyes in Justice Andrews' chamber of the Supreme Court, special term this morning.

The occasion was the trial of a suit brought by Mr. Hull for an injunction to restrain Miss Mather from carrying out a contract made with Manager Gilmore and Director Rehearsal, entering into any contract with any other manager.

President Foster, of the Board of Aldermen, for Mr. Hill, read the complaint alleging that the actress had a prior contract with that manager. Judge Dittenhoefer, for Miss Mather, read a paragraph of the contract, which provided that if at any time Manager Hill was dissatisfied he could claim a release from the contract.

The lawyer claimed that this was inequitable, and asked that the suit be dismissed. The motion was denied.

Chicago Citizens Indignant.

CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—Mayor Baldenweck and a committee of Lake View citizens waited on President Yerkes this afternoon and made a plea that the company carry out the settlement as generally understood by giving the old men full employment instead of three-fifths of the time. Yerkes emphatically refused. An indignation meeting of the residents of the North Side and Lake View was held at the Sherman House, and the 300 gentlemen present organized a protective association. A petition from the ex-strikers was taken under advisement asking aid in compelling Yerkes to carry out the strike agreement. A new man named John Smith had his jaw broken this afternoon by a mob and was otherwise seriously hurt.

Commercial Mountaineers.

PLYMOUTH, N. H., Oct. 17.—The annual reunion and banquet of the commercial travellers was held in the parlors of the Pemigewasset House this evening. They organized a White Mountain commercial travelling men's association. Frank Cressey of Boston, is president; Harry Leslie, J. H. Dow and M. Barry, vice presidents; and George Sanders of Laconia, secretary and treasurer. The executive committee is Frank Cressey of Boston, Ed. Blake of Centre Harbor, A. H. Hook and E. W. Soburn of Portland, and J. J. Bartlett of Concord.

The Engineers' Brotherhood.

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 17.—The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers began its annual convention here today with 397 delegates. Mayor Ellison delivered an address of welcome and Governor Lee extended a greeting in behalf of the State. Chief Arthur delivered his annual address. Thirty-two new divisions were established the past year. The membership is now 25,000.

Time to Remove Quarantine.

DECATUR, Ala., Oct. 17.—There were only two new new cases in the last 20 hours and no deaths. One case is dangerous. State Health Officer Cochran says all the quarantine in North Alabama should be removed.

Races at Mystic.

BOSTON, Oct. 17.—At Mystic Park today, the 2.28 race was won by Gratz, with R. M. Wilkes second. The 2.34 class, for a purse of $300, was won by R. D. F., with Cheveleto second; time, 2.29½. The 2.22 race, for a purse of $300, was won by Alex Boy, with Rex second; time, 2.26¾.

Jacksonville's Report.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 17.—Today there were 36 new cases and three deaths. At South Jacksonville many new cases are reported.

Wild Cheers for Blaine, Who is Unable to Speak.

News from the Centres of the Presidential Struggle.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Oct. 17.—Mr. Blaine, Gen. Alger, Gen. Gibson and other distinguished speakers arrived on the battle ground at 12.40. Their coming was announced by the booming of cannon. Ten thousand people clamored around the little station, and the confusion was very great. Mr. Blaine was not feeling well. He caught a slight cold last night. He followed Generals Alger and Gibson to the tabernacle half an hour later. The mammoth building was crowded to suffocation and ten thousand were clamoring outside to get in. Ex-Secretary Richard W. Thompson was permanent chairman. Gen. Alger addressed the multitude for half an hour and when he declared that Gen. Benj. Harrison would be the next occupant of the White House, the audience went wild, their cheers being re-echoed by thousands outside. Gen. King, of Baltimore, was the next speaker. In the midst of his speech Mr. Blaine arrived and the multitude rose and cheered frantically for several minutes. Chairman Thompson announced that Mr. Blaine's voice would not permit him to make a speech today. His general health was good but his throat was again troubling him and he must be excused. Mr. Blaine came forward and received another ovation. The confusion, however, was so great that he did not attempt to say a word. Gen. Hovey tried to speak but he was constantly interrupted by the confusion. After remaining a few moments Mr. Blaine retired to his car and left at 2.40 for Chicago.

Mr. Blaine in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—Mr. Blaine, accompanied by Walker Blaine, Gen. Alger and Gen. King, arrived at eight o'clock this evening. They were not expected and there was no demonstration other than the cheering by a number of railroad men and others. Mr. Blaine is still suffering from his cold. He speaks here Saturday afternoon and will leave for the East Sunday evening.

The Old Roman Claims Indiana.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Oct. 17.—About 30,000 strangers came to town today to see and honor Judge Thurman. The procession of campaign clubs from all over northern Indiana was reviewed by the Judge from a balcony of the Wayne House, and was almost an hour in passing. Frances Cleveland clubs, composed of girls, formed an attractive feature. Judge Thurman was driven to Hamilton's fields, whither the crowd had preceded him. His appearance upon the platform was greeted with prolonged cheers, which continued until, without being introduced, he advanced to the front and spoke. In the course of his remarks he said: "A Democrat all my life, it was impossible for me to see the zeal, energy and patriotism of the party without feeling my heart swell with emotion and making me prouder than ever of this great and worthy Democratic ticket. [Enthusiastic applause.] I say this Democratic State, because, although I am not a prophet or the son of a prophet, I am about as good a guesser at political results as ever you saw. [Laughter.] And when I am told by your Governor, by Senator Voorhees, by my old friend Joe McDonald and divers others of the patriarchs and sons of that party, that Indiana is safe for Cleveland and Thurman, I believe it is, as I believe in Democratic doctrine." [Applause.] Having finished his speech, Mr. Thurman, in answer to local cries from the rear, passed over to the other side of the stand and expressed his regrets that the tax on his voice prevented his making further remarks. On the west side of the platform he was presented with a gold headed hickory cane, and was then driven back to his hotel. The afternoon trains brought greater crowds into the city. Tonight a brilliant torchlight parade at once and correct its irregular proceedings. This is a victory for the Woodrow evolution element. It is probable that the whole matter will be taken before the general assembly of the Southern Presbyterian church.

Col. Erhardt's Letter.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Col. Erhardt's letter of acceptance was sent to the chairman of the Republican County Convention yesterday, and is as follows:

NEW YORK, Oct. 16, 1888.

Hon. Edward Mitchell, Chairman Republican County Convention, William H. Bellamy, Secretary:

Gentlemen:—I have the honor to accept the nomination for Mayor tendered me by the Republican party. If elected, I shall try to be as good a mayor as possible. I expect to be elected. Democratic leaders concede that this will cast at least 100,000 votes in this city for Harrison and Morton. These votes, if cast for the Republican county ticket, will of course elect it as against our divided and disorganized adversaries.

I expect to receive these votes, because I know that no Republican will find in any scrutiny of my life as a Republican, or as a citizen, any justification for voting against a candidate to whose support the good faith of his party is pledged by a fair and unanimous nomination.

The Democratic party now has substantially entire possession of the city government. Of the twenty-five gentlemen who constitute the heads of the eleven department, twenty-one are Democrats and but three are Republicans. In nine of these departments all the heads are Democratic. The District Attorney, the Surrogate, the three Excise Commissioners, the Recorder, Sheriff, County Clerk, Register and the eighteen judges of the Supreme and Superior city courts all are Democrats. Republicans formerly held many of these offices, but for several years the appointing power has followed the policy frankly avowed by the present mayor, of filling vacancies with none but Democrats.

The city government has thus become a great Democratic machine, and notwithstanding even the pure character and public spirit of the present mayor, its revenues, patronage and power have been, and still are, among the great agencies and supports of the Democratic party in National and State elections. I do not believe that Republicans will vote to continue this condition.

The most purely non-partisan view must lead to the conclusion that some change in this universal Democratic control would be beneficial to the public service. The city government ought to be neither a Democratic nor a Republican machine.

Democratic Colonists in Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, Oct 17.—The Gorman ring is determined to hold its supremacy at any cost. Numerous attempts have been made to violate the new registration laws, as the Democratic bosses realize that the names of hundreds of dead men formerly voted by repeaters can be used no longer. The colonization scheme, it appears, is being actively worked to supply the number of fraudulent names stricken from the registration books. The United States Chief Supervisor, G. Morris Bond, has made an important discovery. The registration book of the first precinct of the Ninth Ward shows 59 voters registered from a little house containing a bar room and four small sleeping apartments, the liquor selling occupying one of these. An investigation is making which promises to bring other similar cases to light.

The Outlook in New Jersey.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Dr. H. K. Carroll, one of the editors of the Independent, who has taken an active part in the recent local option elections in New Jersey, having spoken at a number of meetings in the northern part of the State for local option, regards the outlook as especially favorable to the Republicans. The Prohibition vote, he believes, will show a great falling off.

"I speak from what I have heard and seen during the recent canvass," said Mr. Carroll. "If I were at liberty to name those who have formerly voted the Prohibition ticket who I know will vote for Harrison and Morton this year it would cause much surprise. The reason of the change is apparent. Most of the Prohibitionists were Republicans, and if Democrats they voted with the Third Party on principle. They thought that they had nothing to expect from either of the old parties. When the Republican party took the step toward local option they regarded it as a simple party measure, and their leaders who were interested personally in holding them together, and 'The Voice,' a party organ, called out 'fraud' and 'farce' and other names to that effect. Now the men who voted the Prohibition ticket are learning that the Republican party means just what the law says, and the Prohibition party in New Jersey, I think, is going to pieces, having served its purpose."

The Herald Creates Consternation.

ALBANY, Oct. 17.—A New York despatch to the Albany Journal says: "The sensation of yesterday was the semi-editorial expression of the New York Herald that that State was lost to Mr. Cleveland. It dwelt on the "defections of life-long Democrats among the farmers" everywhere, upon the active Democratic organization to "knife" Cleveland in Rochester, upon the "smash-up" of the Democrats in Steuben county, and the great "mistake" of Cleveland in raising the tariff issue. It was a remarkable despatch to appear on the editorial page of a Cleveland paper, and caused consternation in the ranks of the Democracy. It is no secret that Mr. Bennett, who has recently returned home, has sent out a private and trusted agent to make a canvass of this State. The despatch that he received and printed is the result of this agent's careful observation. It confirms the result of the canvass of the State made by representatives of both the Democratic and Republican State committees. It confirms the impression that is now widespread and deepening every day that there is absolutely no doubt that the electorial vote of this State will be cast for Harrison and Morton.

To Secure Fair Elections.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 17.—In anticipation of Democratic frauds at the polls, the Republicans of Indiana have petitioned the United States Court to appoint Federal supervisors of the election in this State, and accordingly Judge Woods has named W. A. Van Buren as the chief supervisor, who qualified today and at once began making appointments. It is expected that a Deputy United States Marshal for each voting precinct will also be appointed, but thus far there has been no petition for them.

Ten days ago, when the managers of the Democratic campaign in Indiana were loudly clamoring for some kind of an organization that would give assurance of a fair election, they did not expect any such test of their sincerity as was quickly applied by the committee of one hundred, which, through its executive officers, at once addressed letters to the chairmen of the Democratic State and county committees, inviting co-operation in its work and soliciting contributions to the fund for the payment of a reward of $100 for the detection and conviction of every person violating the election laws. Similar letters were addressed to the Republican committees in this city, both of which were promptly responded to with checks for the amounts asked, but the Democratic campaign committees made no reply until today. In the meantime, they have had no little trouble in devising a plausible pretext for declining to co-operate with the committee. In his delayed letter sent to the executive officers of the citizens' committee today, C. L. Jewett, the Democratic State chairman, states that he was directed to decline to aid the committee, because it was local in its operations.

In another letter addressed to Chairman Huston, of the Republican State committee, Chairman Jewett announces that he would be compelled to act alone, and had constituted a committee in

Why is Hill in Indiana? is a frequent question. Without doubt he is there to raise Hill.

The Hon. Abram S. Hewitt's remarks upon Tammany do not appear calculated to promote that harmony which Mr. Cleveland's friends are sighing for. They give the impression that he carries in his hand not an olive branch, but a sharp and pointed knife.

The Manchester Union reports the Hon. William L. Putnam as saying in his speech in Manchester:

It may be that the Democratic party has no good in it, that it is entirely worthless.

Evidently Mr. Putnam suspects the truth. But he somewhat exaggerates it. The Democratic party is not entirely destitute of good, neither is it entirely worthless. But the little leaven in it is far from enough to leaven the whole lump.

There never was a Presidential candidate of a great party so little known as Benjamin Harrison of Indianapolis.—[Boston Globe.

We are not disposed to deny that the newspaper that discovered a Democratic victory in Maine last month may be a connoisseur on the subject of "little known" things and persons. But the Globe must have mistaken the name. Grover Cleveland, as he appeared in 1884 was the greatest unknown who ever came into the American political field.

The Democratic orators continue to give testimony that the country is not going to the dogs under the protective system. Speaking at Mitchell, Indiana, last week, David B. Hill declared that "the country is reasonably prosperous, our people are receiving good wages, and everywhere there is contentment." The next day Mr. Carlisle declared in New York that "the North has never had so good a market in the South for its products as it has now, and the South has never had the use of so much Northern capital as it has now." This is pretty well for a people who are, according to the Democratic orators, taxed to death from the cradle to the grave.

The American manufacturer is not the tender house plant that the free traders would have you believe. He is not only known in his own great home market, in Europe and in South America; but the children of the setting sun in the far off marts of the Land of the White Elephant extol his ability and his enterprise. Minister Jacob T. Child who represents our country at the court of Siam says that there American goods are liked better than any others, as is proved by the fact that German and English manufacturers commonly counterfeit our trade-marks. All the petroleum used in Siam comes from America, the country is supplied with flour from San Francisco, much American machinery is used, and a great quantity of our cotton and woolen fabrics are bought.

When the Hon. William L. Putnam opened the Democratic side of the Maine campaign he did not disguise the fact that he was for a tariff for revenue only. When he spoke at the Bangor barbecue he even intimated that a tariff for protection was in conflict with the constitution. But here he is in Concord, N. H., arguing as well as we can make out from the report of his speech in the Boston Herald—that the tariff on sugar—the tax he calls it—should be retained, because if it were removed Louisiana would be bankrupted by the competition of German and French beet sugar. This is good protection doctrine. But if an industry confined to one State and exhibiting no signs of growth should be protected from the competition of Germany and France why should not an industry which is found in almost every State of the Union be exposed to foreign competition? In other words, why should the sugar producer be shielded from the competition of France and Germany and the wool producer be exposed to the competition of Australia? There is but one logical answer, and as Mr. Putnam has a logical mind, he must give it—If the sugar producer is protected, so also should the wool producer be. It looks as if Mr. Putnam has gone over to the protection Democrats, and now fought with Mr. Randall rather than with Mr. Carlisle. The Maine campaign had a highly educational effect.

In Case of War.

Happily the danger of a war between the United States and Great Britain is so small as to be inappreciable. Speculations, therefore, of the result of such a war need worry no one, even when the speculator is so consequential a person as the Secretary of the Navy. Probably the Secretary had no better reason for talking about war than that a conversation on that subject presented fewer dangers than a conversation on American politics. However, he talked interestingly, and stated some facts not generally known, or if known liable to be overlooked in predicting the result of a war between this country and England. If the contest should be on land, the Secretary pointed out that our superiority of numbers alone would ensure us the victory. The population of the United States is 60,000,000, while the population of Great Britain and her colonies is only 45,000,000. A purely land contest would inevitably result in the defeat of the English, and probably, too, in the annexation of Canada to the United States. Canada could not bring into the field any force comparable with what the United States could raise. The total strength of the active militia of Canada is only 37,346, while the militia of the American States that lie upon the border numbers over 57,000. Great Britain's naval strength would be of little use on the St. Lawrence and great lakes, for before she could possibly get any of her ships into the lakes we should have taken possession of the canals leading to them.

But of course Great Britain's principal weapon would be her navy, and with this she would undoubtedly attempt to enter our harbors and destroy our seaboard cities. Secretary Whitney points out, however, that almost all our ports are easily defensible by torpedoes. The principal exceptions are San Francisco on the Pacific coast and Portland on the Atlantic coast. But England, the Secretary further points out, is far more vulnerable through her commerce than the United States through any deficiency of coast defences. There is afloat every day in the year of English commerce the value of $200,000,000. It would be utterly impossible for England to protect this commerce from the fast cruisers which we should fit out on the declaration of war. The injury which we could inflict upon England in this way would be enormous. And our blows, too, would be struck at the vitals of the English nation, for a very large per cent. of the freights of England's ships are her food supply. The prospect of such destruction would produce a panic in London within 48 hours after war was declared. We could not fight British ironclads, the Secretary says, and therefore our pride might be wounded, but we could successfully defend our ports, and could inflict incalculable damage on our adversary through her commerce and speedily compel her to cry for peace.

Real and Apparent Social Changes.

The rapid immigration of foreigners and the large families which they bring with them or possess themselves of after arriving in this country have afforded a problem for much discussion and speculation. Some have thought that the face of society, especially in New England, was to be wholly changed, and that a new race recruited from the large and flourishing families of foreign born citizens, would take the place of the dwindling families of those whose ancestors first settled the country. There has been much to encourage such speculations, not only as revealed by common observation, but as shown by the more accurate statistics of the census. The census has shown in Maine, for instance that in 1850 the average size of the native family was 5.64; in 1860, 5.20; in 1870, 4.78; and in 1880 only 4.58. Common observation, on the other hand, has seemed to show that the families of the foreign born are averaging much larger in number; whence the inference that it is only a matter of time when New England society will be completely changed. Such inferences have not been peculiar to New England alone. In Canada where the people of French descent are in continual rivalry with their neighbors of British birth the question of race predominance has been much discussed and studied. The French families of Quebec are generally much larger than the British families of Ontario and the Maritime Provinces. Hence has arisen in the Dominion a popular belief that the French are destined in time to possess themselves of all Canada. Many of the French themselves have been captivated with this idea, which has been heralded both by their orators and their newspapers. One French Canadian newspaper, indeed, not long ago served notice on New England that in time the valleys of Maine and Vermont would be wanted and taken by this earth-populating and earth-possessing race, who would in their new conquest speak the French language and worship according to the rites of the Roman Catholic religion. Professor Goldwin Smith, who has been investigating the race problem in Canada was so impressed with the apparent vigor of the French Canadians of Quebec that he recommended annexation as the best means of restoring the balance of race and religion in Canada. But the Toronto Globe, before sharing the general alarm, has been examining the facts of the situation. Its conclusions are such as were indicated not long ago by the report of vital statistics in the city of Lewiston in this State; viz. that large numbers of births did not necessarily indicate a permanent increase of population. In Lewiston of the children in the largest foreign families, astonishingly few reached manhood and womanhood. The Toronto Globe finds in the broader and better field of observation in Canada that while in Quebec there are more children under eleven years of age in proportion to population than in Ontario, there are less between the ages of eleven and twenty; so that the advantage of a greater birth rate among the Canadians of Quebec is offset by the greater death rate among the young. And this is a fact that should be taken into account in all speculations as to social changes whether in Canada or New England.

CURRENT COMMENT.

BANKS AND HIGGINSON.

[Lowell Courier.]

The Higginson party in the Fifth district are making large boasts of what they are going to get from the colored vote. The colored Republican who deserts Banks for Higginson is even sillier than a Mugwump. Col. Higginson once commanded a colored regiment, but Gen. Banks commanded a good many of them. To day Higginson is marching shoulder to shoulder with the scoundrels who, when he and his colored men were in service, would have hung the whole lot to the nearest tree.

THE COMING MAN.

[Senator Joseph R. Hawley.]

For six years I have been in close contact with Benjamin Harrison discussing in the national Senate a great variety of affairs. You learn all about a man under such circumstances. He is a strong man, a clear thinker, powerful in argument, and without a flaw in his character. He was a brilliant soldier and is a very able lawyer. There is no weak spot in his armor. He has been making speeches nearly every day since he was nominated. I do not know the man whom I would have trusted to make so many speeches in his own campaign without doing any harm. You notice that a certain other candidate keeps his mouth shut tight! But Harrison has not slipped once by so much as a word. He has made a number of phrases that will stay, like that in relation to the tendency of the Mills bill, "It is not the length of the step but the direction." He has shown himself a greater man than his friends believed him to be. I am confident as President of the United States he will more than satisfy all expectations.

SINGING FOR HARRISON.

Spontaneous Enthusiasm that Recalls the Days of 1840.

[N. Y. Mail and Express.]

The singing Harrison and Morton clubs are playing a most important part in the present campaign.

It seems as though the campaign of 1840, of "Tippecanoe and Tyler, Too," when songs as well as speeches helped elect, as President, the grandfather of the present Republican candidate for the same office is repeating itself. It had been supposed that the ballad and song formerly so potent in politics, had had its day, but the large audiences that attend the Harrison and Morton meeting where good singing is alternated with good speaking proves that this is not so.

One reason for the success of these meetings is that the campaign songs have been set to airs familiar to all. There are few who are not able to at least hum such old-time airs as "John Brown's Body," "Marching through Georgia," "Rally Round the Flag, Boys," "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp," or a dozen others which are used.

Probably the most unique of these clubs where vocalism is a leading feature, is that which has daily meetings at No. 5 Broadway, adjoining the headquarters of the Republicans of the First Assembly district. The singing club is the outcome of the efforts of that genial Republican, A. R. Whitney. This section of the city is the home of hundreds of Irish voters, and every Irishman likes good singing. It is the stamping ground, too, of longshoremen and of workingmen of all sorts and conditions, and hundreds pass the headquarters every few minutes. The club occupies a large room on the ground floor that will easily accommodate 1,500 persons, and although the headquarters have been but just opened, they are too small for the daily public meetings, which last from 3.30 p. m. to 4.30 p. m.

Taken altogether, the meeting yesterday afternoon was one of the most picturesque and, at the same time, stirring political meetings that could probably be seen in any part of New York city. It was in a sense impromptu, but if the enthusiasm had been manufactured it could not have been so spontaneous and hearty. Many of the men, too, who were most enthusiastic were men who, in the past, have been Democrats.

The personnel of the meeting was such as is not usually seen. A wealthy merchant from the Produce Exchange a block away stood shoulder to shoulder with a brawny longshoreman whose cotton hook was thrust in his belt. Clerks and street laborers sat side by side, and in the background hovered meditative prospective citizens, who wondered what it was all about.

A. R. Whitney himself, in a snuff-colored business suit, distributed a pamphlet of songs about, requested everybody to come up to the front, stop smoking and sing. To set a good example, he sang himself, and at the odd times when the other twelve hundred singers would give him a chance to be heard he showed that he was not a bad singer either.

"Gentlemen," said Mr. Whitney, "we will open with song No. 1 in the pamphlet, and in the meantime what is the matter with Harrison?"

Twelve hundred men promptly and unanimously ventured the opinion that "Harrison is all right." Then they expressed a further opinion that "Whitney is all right;" and to shut the thing off Whitney started the singing. The first song has been sung before, but it was sung with enthusiasm just the same. It was "The Battle has Just Begun," and the air was "John Brown's Body." Here is one verse that was sung with a will:

The Empire State in thunder tones repeats the battle call;
The Empire State is led by one whose name is dear to all;
The Empire State with Morton hurls the cowards to the wall.
As we go marching on.—Chorus.

Hits at Cleveland seemed especially welcome, and the following verse was greeted with vociferous applause:

The collar of the Sheriff and the red bandana rag,
The shackle of free traders and the Bourbon party tag,
Shall never see the light again beneath our starry flag.
As we go marching on.—Cho.

This song was followed by "Under the Banner of Protection" to the air of "Marching through Georgia," and in this the following verses were the favorites:

Harrison the soldier fought in many a mortal fray;
Harrison the soldier honors both the Blue and Gray—
Fishing, though, he never went on Decoration Day—
Under the banner "Protection."—Cho.

Harrison the soldier wore a Union Army suit;
Harrison the soldier faced the murderous salute—
Even tho' he never shirked or hired a substitute—
Under the banner "Protection."—Cho.

Then came a song to the air of "Rally Round the Flag, Boys," and the enthusiasm grew. It recalled to many the congregational singing of ye old-time tune of "When Johnnie Comes Marching Home Again," the lungs of the singers seemed to grow stronger as they sang this verse:

The Lion will growl across the main,
Hurrah! Hurrah!
While Grover echoes back the strain,
Yoo-hoo! Yoo-hoo!
And over to England, in a pet,
Our Lion clan President will get!
And we'll all feel gay when Tippecanoe goes in.

The old airs seemed to warm up the audience. A burly longshoreman stepped up to a merchant from Broadway who had no song pamphlet and gave him half of his; thus they sang together, one in broadcloth, the other in overalls.

Between these songs Prof. J. A. Adams sang a song, written by himself, which proved to be the hit of the day. It was cheered again and again and encored until the Professor got tired. Here is the song to the air of "I'm Going Far Away:"

CLEVELAND'S LAMENT.

I am going far away, far away to leave you now
And up Salt River I am quickly sailing,
And I'll take my tribe along, and we'll sing our parting song
As we sail back to Buffalo, my home.

Tune Chorus of—"The Ole Cabin Home."

CHORUS—Down in the corn fields,
Hear that mournful sound,
All the Democrats are weeping,
Grover's in the cold, cold ground.

I'm going far away, far away from Washington,
For I've heard some dreadful tidings from Chicago,
That the G. O. P.'s alive, and with Harrison will
Us away back to Buffalo, my home.—Cho.

Here are two more verses, which are sung to the air of "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp," and arouse great enthusiasm:

Ever thus New Jersey stood, for our common country's good,
With a bold and daring front to every foe;
And where once her blood was shed, now she gives her vote instead
For protection—free trade wrongs to overthrow—Cho.

Shall the State within whose breast, Kearny and Kilpatrick rest,
Stain the memory of her boys who wore the blue?
No, while State and Union stand, we will pledge each strong right hand,
She will honor evermore her heroes true.
—Cho.

LIGHT LEADER, the Wonderful Lamp."
Then the Moon went into eclipse undone,
For the LUX-DUX only competes with the Sun.

This describes our Pearl Street side, while the Middle Street side, although not as beautiful to look upon, is really INVITING and possesses nearly as much INTEREST, particularly at this time when WINTER is casting about unwelcome warnings of his early approach, but all can bid defiance to his ICY BREATH, snowy mantle, and cheerless company, when an

THE PRESS.

THURSDAY MORNING, OCT. 18.

WIT AND WISDOM.

"Mr. Brief," said the judge grimly, "it seems to me that you are wasting time; you might as well attempt to make the court believe that two and two do not make four."

Brief settled his eyeglasses a little more firmly on his nose and responded blandly:

"May it please your Honor, I am prepared to do that. Two and two make 22."

The shadow of a smile played around the corners of the judge's mouth as he sat back in his chair and said:

"You may go on with your argument Mr. Brief."

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Miss Gotham (to Mr. Wabash, recently returned from Africa)—I suppose you were at court while in London, Mr. Wabash?

Mr. Wabash (uneasily)—Well—er—yes, Miss Gotham, but only once, and then I got off with a merely nominal fine.

Derangement of the liver with constipation, injures the complexion, induces pimples, sallow skin. Remove the cause by using Carter's Little Liver Pills. One a dose. Try them.

Fenderson—Yes, I am going to speak pretty soon—just as soon as I get my ideas into shape, you know.

Fogg—Oh, I wouldn't wait for that, Fendy; the people are anxious to hear you. Why not take somebody else's ideas that are already in shape?

All good Grocers sell and recommend Burnett's Flavoring Extracts. Housekeepers should ask for and insist upon having these goods, and send back the nauseous mess sent home under the name of extracts.

No. 2—Can't.

No. 1—Go ask your mother if you can't.

No. 2—Can't ask her; she is out somewheres looking for me.

For the relief and cure of the inflammation and congestion called a "cold in the head" there is more potency in Ely's Cream Balm than in anything else it is possible to prescribe. This preparation has for years past been making a brilliant success as a remedy for cold in the head, catarrh and hay fever. Used in the initial stages of these complaints Cream Balm prevents any serious development of the symptoms, while almost numberless cases are on record of radical cures of chronic catarrh and hay fever after all other modes of treatment have proved of no avail.

Editor—You say you wish this poem to appear in my paper anonymously?

Would-be-contributor—Yes; I don't want any name to it.

Editor—Then I can't publish it.

Contributor—Why not?

Editor—Because I am conscientious about this matter. I don't want any unjust suspicion to fall upon some innocent person.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

REVIEW OF PORTLAND WHOLESALE MARKET

FOR THE WEEK ENDING Oct. 17.

Business in Flour is very dull, owing to the unsettled condition of the Wheat markets, which show quite a sharp decline for the week, and the advantage appears to be with the buying interest; prices have no material change from last week. Mills hold up well on values, but there is little or no demand, and concessions would have to be made to move large lots. The Cincinnati Prices Current says: "Notwithstanding the decline during the week, there are still many well-informed parties in the trade who believe that higher rather than lower prices will be experienced in the future. The deficit in the world's supply is apparent and real, and under this condition the natural tendency is upward. It is a mistake to assert that the recent advance is due wholly to speculative control. There is something beyond mere speculation in this rise, which is warranted by the statistical position of supplies not only in this country but throughout the world. There is good authority for the expectation of high prices for breadstuffs during the next twelve months." Corn is unchanged; the stock here is very light and prices are well maintained. In Provisions, the market is about steady for Pork; Beef is firmer and higher, but for Lard values are weak with a decline of ¼c a pound. Sugar is steady and unchanged with fair inquiry; granulated is quoted at 7⅞c; stock in the four ports at latest dates was 54,230 tons against 98,420 tons in 1887, and 135,379 tons in 1886. Molasses is firm with a very small stock at all points; stock in the four ports at latest dates was 1269 hogsheads against 5967 hogsheads in 1887 and 4168 hogsheads in 1886. Fresh Beef steady; fair trade; sides are quoted now at 5@7c ⅌ lb, hindquarters 6@11c, fore qtrs 5@6½c, rounds with flanks 8@9½c, rump loins 8@12c, rumps 10@13c, loins 10@18c, ratios at 4@6c, backs 5@7c, chucks 6c, short rib cuts 8@11c. No change in dry fish; the market is entirely bare of Mackerel. Beans in good demand and higher for Yellow, Eyes. Butter has improved and all grades are firm and higher; the Elgin market shows an advance of 2c ⅌ lb from last week, and is active at 26c. The position of the Cheese market is a firm one, and the recent rise is sustained. Eggs have been rather scarce and are a trifle better, near-by fresh stock bringing 24c in small lots. Onions and Sweet Potatoes are easier. In Naval Stores we notice higher figures on Turpentine and Tar with a slight decline on Oakum. Camphor has advanced to 35@37. Linseed and Boiled Oil is up 1c.

Sneezing Catarrh.

The distressing sneeze, sneeze, sneeze, the acrid, watery discharges from the eyes and nose, the painful inflammation extending to the throat, the swelling of the mucous linings, causing choking sensations, cough, ringing noises in the head and splitting headaches,—how familiar these symptoms are to thousands who suffer periodically from hgad colds or influenza, and who live in ignorance of the fact that a single application of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE for CATARRH will afford instantaneous relief.

But this treatment in cases of simple Catarrh gives but a faint idea of what this remedy will do in the chronic forms, where the breathing is obstructed by choking, and the offensive accumulations, the hearing affected, smell and taste gone, throat ulcerated and hacking cough gradually fastening itself upon the debilitated system. Then it is that the marvellous curative power of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE manifests itself in instantaneous and grateful relief. Cure begins from the first application. It is rapid, radical, permanent, economical, safe.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE consists of one bottle of the RADICAL CURE, one box CATARRHAL SOLVENT and an IMPROVED INHALER; price, $1.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The First Symptoms

Of all Lung diseases are much the same: feverishness, loss of appetite, sore throat, pains in the chest and back, headache, etc. In a few days you may be well, or, on the other hand, you may be down with Pneumonia or "galloping Consumption." Run no risks, but begin immediately to take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

Several years ago, James Birchard, of Darien, Conn., was severely ill. The doctors said he was in Consumption, and that they could do nothing for him, but advised him, as a last resort, to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. After taking this medicine, two or three months, he was pronounced a well man. His health remains good to the present day.

J. S. Bradley, Malden, Mass., writes: "Three winters ago I took a severe cold, which rapidly developed into Bronchitis and Consumption. I was so weak that I could not sit up, was much emaciated, and coughed incessantly. I consulted several doctors, but they were powerless, and all agreed that I was in Consumption. At last, a friend brought me a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. From the first dose, I found relief. Two bottles cured me, and my health has since been perfect."

IMPRISONED SEVEN YEARS.

Released by Drs. Smith and McMullen, the Magnetic Physician, at the U. S. Hotel.

Dyspepsia in any form is a terrible disease, but to suffer with it so bad as to be confined to one's house, and most of the time to the bed, is something to ponder on. A. C. Redman, living near Portsmouth, N. H., was taken about 12 years ago with an acute form of indigestion. He paid no attention to it at first—thinking it would pass away. He continued to grow worse, however, and it soon settled into chronic dyspepsia in its worst form. His stomach in the pit was so tender he could not lay the weight of his hand upon it, and the contents of the stomach would ferment, causing a heated full feeling, with belching of gas and sourness. The heart palpitated very badly, and the bowels were much constipated. He lost in flesh and gradually ran down until about seven years ago he could do nothing whatever. And since then he has been confined to the house and bed, having given up every hope of ever being better; and, in fact, waiting for death to take him. An uncle of his, Mr. Alexander Redman, had been reading of the great cures being performed by Drs. Smith and McMullen, the Magnetic Physicians, at the U. S. Hotel, and coaxed his nephew into making one more trial for health. After much trouble they succeeded in getting him to Springfield. Drs. Smith and McMullen told him his case was curable, and he was treated before leaving the room. The first treatment revived and rested him so he could walk to some friends in the city. And strange as it may seem, he now, after five treatments, is a well man and looking for employment. He can eat anything without distress, and is fast regaining his old-time weight. Drs. Smith and McMullen treat all forms of chronic diseases, and they are permanently located at the United States Hotel, where they can be consulted free from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

F. O. Bailey & Co. will sell at 10 o'clock this morning the furniture and Steinway piano at No. 69 State street. See auction notice.

In Brief, And To The Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Greene's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Greene's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.

BEFORE JUDGE WALTON.

WEDNESDAY—Delia Coyne by her next friend, vs. Lewis A. Goudy et al. Action to recover damages for personal injuries said to be caused by the negligence of the defendants. The plaintiff was employed by the defendants in the confectionery department at their bakery and she had her foot and ankle jammed and bruised by the freight elevator, which she claims was improperly constructed or improperly guarded, and that it was such improper construction that alone caused the injury. No bones were broken but her ankle was injured to such an extent that she was unable to use it for two or three months. Damages claimed, one thousand dollars. At noon the jury, by direction of the court, took a view of the location and the manner of working the elevator.

The defendants claim that the elevator was properly constructed and that the injury occurred solely by the negligence or want of care on the part of the plaintiff. The defendants also claim that the plaintiff has greatly exaggerated her injury. Testimony for defence in progress.

Frank W. Robinson for defendants.
C. W. Goddard for plaintiff.

MUNICIPAL COURT.

BEFORE JUDGE GOULD.

WEDNESDAY—John Lewis and Michael Quigley; intoxication. Fined $3 and costs each.

Michael Kelleher, James Brophy and Miles Kavanaugh; intoxication. Each fined $4 and one-third costs.

Mary H. Wyer; vagabond and idle person. Four months in city house of correction.

William Adams and John Conley; larceny. Reform School during their minority.

Simon Goldman; receiving stolen goods. Bound over to the grand jury in the sum of $500.

An Elegant Banner.

Miss Alice Gould, the artist, has just finished painting an elegant banner for the National Women's Christian Temperance Union, and it will be presented to the society on Friday evening by Mrs. Elizabeth Thompson, of Stamford, Conn. The banner is 72x54 inches in size, of white silk, and bears the representation of the flags of all nations, thirty-five in number. Over the top in a scroll is the motto of the National Union, "For God, for Home and Humanity." In the centre of the banner is a cloud burst, from which issue hands and hearts—after the fashion of the cherubs and the Madonna—and in the very centre is the all-seeing eye. The banner is encircled with a spray of arbutus, the emblem of the society, and also bear a white cross, with the motto, "The Lord gave the word; great was the company of those that published it. Psalms lxviii, 11." The banner is mounted on a gilt staff, with a white dove perched upon the sphere that surmounts it. This elegant banner will be on exhibition at J. A. Merrill & Co.'s, on Middle street, today.

TWO SWINDLERS

Try to Play a Portlander for a Large Amount.

He Proves too Sharp for the Little Game.

Monday morning, early, one of Portland's well known citizens, Mr. John D. Leathe, was standing on the Western Promenade enjoying the beautiful prospect, in the rare sunshine, when he was accosted by a well dressed, gentlemanly appearing man, who asked him what building it was that loomed up in the distance. The Portlander replied that it was the State Reform School.

"And what building is this on the right?" said the stranger.

"That," answered the Portlander, "is the Maine General Hospital."

"Are you an old resident of Portland?" asked the stranger.

"I have resided here 36 years," replied the Portlander.

"Then you probably knew my father," said the young man. "He was for a number of years a cashier of the Casco Bank, named Small, and after his death my mother and myself moved West. Then I went into business, and have been remarkably successful. Lately I married, and my wife and I came East so that she may see our early home. She is so pleased with the city that I have decided to buy a house here, and my mother will occupy it while my wife and I make a European tour. When we return we shall settle down in the house with my mother."

"Have you decided on a house," said the Portlander, with a twinkle in his eye, "because I own several houses, one of which might suit your fancy."

"I have no doubt of it," said the stranger, "and I will call upon you this afternoon with my wife, and we will look at them."

The couple parted, and each went his way. In the afternoon, as the Portlander was passing down Spring street, he met the stranger coming up. The stranger said he was on the way to his house to see him and tell him that his wife would not be able to look at houses until the next day. He then asked the Portlander to walk with him, and the gentleman consented. During the walk the stranger said that when he left Chicago he drew in a lottery two sets of Bancroft's "United States;" beautiful editions. Of course he had no use for more than one copy, and he would give the Portlander the other if he would call at his house with him. This the Portlander agreed to, and shortly the stranger stopped at a house on Oxford street and pulled the door bell.

A man answered the bell and invited the gentlemen in. Upon entering the parlor the man who answered the bell told the stranger that the books arrived by express, but had been so carelessly handled that he had been compelled to send them to Boston to have them rebound and generally fixed up. "Well," said the stranger, turning to the Portlander, "you will have to wait a week for the volumes. Now, at the same time that I drew the books I also drew a dollar. I don't want to send all the way to Chicago for a dollar. What would you do about it?"

The man of the house piped up and asked him why he didn't try his chances for more than a dollar.

"How's that," said the stranger.

"I'll show you," said the man of the house.

The man then showed a large card like a loto card, divided into numbered squares. The stranger was told to place his dollar on any one of the numbers, and then draw four cards from an ordinary pack of cards. If the added numbers of the four cards was the same as the number on the other card on which his money had been placed, the better would receive a thousand dollars. The stranger bet his dollar and lost. Then he tried again and won. Two packages, apparently containing $500 each, were placed in his hands. "Now," said the stranger, turning to the Portlander, "try your luck." The Portlander did so, and was told he had gained $10,000, but in the case of so large a sum $3,500 must be deposited before the money was paid over. The stranger took the Portlander into the entry and said: "My wife has $1,500. I have drawn $1,000, and if you could raise $1,000, we can 'scoop' the $10,000."

"All right," said the Portlander. "I can raise several thousands if necessary." So the two men left the house. When they reached Preble street the Portlander turned to the stranger and said: "Young man, I am not as green as you may think. My hair is gray, and I have seen life in my day. You are a swindler, and when I see a policeman I will give you in charge." The stranger quickly took flight. When the Portlander was asked why he didn't wait until he saw a policeman, he said "because he didn't want to be mixed up in such a scrape."

The police were informed and visited the house, but the scamps had left.

The Flower Festival.

The Ladies Aid of the Church of the Messiah are to be congratulated on the very attractive entertainment they have prepared for the public in City Hall, and it is to be regretted that the heavy showers the early part of last evening prevented the large attendance they would otherwise have benefited by. As it was, there was quite a large audience, who, by their applause and encores, showed their gratification.

The hall had been prettily decorated to represent a French flower festival. The galleries were festooned with red and white cambric, the festoons caught up with clusters of roses and a background of evergreen. Atkinson arranged a little parlor under the rear balcony, in which the furniture and draperies harmonized perfectly, and also, by his draping of the windows on the stage, and the graceful grouping of rich furniture, relieved the great platform of its accustomed bareness. About the hall, under the galleries, booths were erected for the sale of the usual fancy articles, and a French cafe occupied a prominent position on the right of the platform.

The dances, which constituted the features of the evening, were the War of the Roses, French flower dance and French form dance, and they were all executed with much precision, and reflected great credit on Mr. Gilbert, the instructor of the dancers, and also their conductor. To stirring music from Gilbert's full orchestra, the grand entry was made, consisting of young ladies dressed in white, their costumes garlanded with roses, while each one carried a basket of roses on her arm, and also of little girls dressed in white, with broad red sashes, each one carrying a garland of roses. The procession ended with a number of young misses and masters in evening costume.

To a very stirring march, in which was incorporated the strains of the Marseillaise, the thirty young ladies executed a number of very interesting manœuvres, during which they pelted each other with the queen of flowers. Then followed the eighteen little girls in the flower dance, before their Queen, Miss Georgie Ford, who was accompanied by her maids of honor, Miss Hattie Webb and Josie Scott. The little ones won a hearty encore, the skipping rope figure taking immensely and had to repeat the dance. The French forms dance was a pretty dance for the ball room, and was gracefully executed.

Between the dances Miss Annie Allen recited with good effect, in costume, Josephine's surrender of her diadem to Napoleon, and Miss Winifred H. Smith appeared as Mary, Queen of Scots, in the celebrated interview with Elizabeth, presented by Miss Clara L. Sawyer. Miss Annie Greely sang a ballad delightfully, and the orchestra played a selection with much taste and expression. An excellent supper was served in Reception hall.

Today dinner will be served from 12 to 2 p. m. There will be a sale of articles from 2 to 6 p. m., and supper from 6 to 7.30 p. m. At 8 p. m. last evening's entertainment will be repeated and followed by a promenade concert.

Those Excursions to the Notch.

The Maine Central Company was again annoyed by bad weather yesterday, but if "Old Prob." has hit it right, today should be just the one for the excursion to the Notch. Everyone who has been so fortunate as to see the autumn foliage this year says that it never was finer all along the line of the mountain division of the road, and the great excess of rain has kept the water-courses full, and the verdure remarkably fresh for this time of year. Remember to take a lunch basket, and that if you can't get away till 12.50 p. m. you will then have an hour at Fabyan's before returning.

A LUCKY DAY ON THE BANKS.

Over Two Hundred Thousand Pounds of Fish Landed Yesterday.

Yesterday was a busy day at the fish houses. In the forenoon the fishing schooners began to come in and they continued to arrive until late in the afternoon when the greater part of the fishing fleet was in port. The catches, which consisted of cod, haddock and hake, mostly hake, amounted to between 200,000 and 300,000 pounds, and varied in size from 10,000 to 40,000 pounds each. The schooner Mary E. Daniels had about the best luck of any vessel of the fleet. Her catch, which was taken in one day, amounted to 40,000 pounds This netted each member of the crew about $50 for his day's work, a very respectable sum indeed.

The scene yesterday afternoon at John Loveitt & Co.'s and J. W. Trefethen & Co.'s, the two great fish houses on Commercial wharf, was a remarkably busy as well as a very interesting one. A dozen fishing schooners, all with good catches, were made fast to the wharf, and fishermen, dressed in their oiled suits, were busy throwing the fish in baskets with their two tined forks. As soon as a basket was full it was hoisted to the fish house on the wharf, weighed, and then the fish thrown in a pile or put in boxes and covered with ice. In John Loveitt & Co.'s store half a score of men were kept busy weighing the fish and filling large boxes full of the slippery cod and haddock ready to be shipped away. In J. W. Trefethen's each man was working as if his life depended upon what he did. Vessels were unloading at two doors of the house and the fish was thrown into a huge pile in the middle of the floor by men who worked rapidly with two tined forks. There were 50,000 pounds of fish in the big pile when the writer saw it yesterday afternoon. At the end of the wharf a score of fishermen who had unloaded their catch and received their pay, were lolling upon boxes and barrels or leaning against the fish houses, smoking, spinning yarns and cracking jokes.

The ship furnishing stores were also busy, for the fishermen spent their money with lavish hands. Quantities of provisions, hooks, fishing tackle and so forth were purchased by the hardy seamen, and the old black pipe was laid away for a cigar. Such are the scenes on the docks when the fleet comes in after a lucky day on the banks.

WEDDINGS.

COOMBS-MOODY.

There was a pretty wedding at St. Paul's church at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when Miss Laura B. Moody of this city, was married to Mr. J. H. Coombs of Apalachicola, Fla. The church was crowded with the friends of the parties. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Dalton. Mr. and Mrs. Coombs left on the 6 o'clock train for a trip through the Western States, after which they will reside in Florida. The couple take with them to their Southern home the well wishes of many friends.

WYZANSKI-GOLDSTEIN.

A charming wedding took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Barnard Aaronson, on Brackett street Tuesday afternoon, the contracting parties being Mr. Maurice Wyzanski of Whitman, Mass., and Eva B. Goldstein, daughter of Mr. Barnard Aaronson of this city. The ceremony was performed by Rabbi H. S. Soher of Boston, assisted by Mr. Barnard Aaronson of this city. A large number of friends were present from Boston and vicinity. The presents were numerous and costly.

WRIGHT-FESSENDEN.

Notwithstanding the inclement weather last evening, an audience almost filling the seating capacity of the Gospel Mission, assembled to witness the marriage of Mr. Sidney Wright of London, England, and Miss Lizzie Fessenden of Portland. The ceremony was performed by Rev. S. F. Pearson in a very impressive manner, after which a reception was held in the vestry, where for almost a full hour the happy couple received the congratulations and best wishes of their numerous friends.

PERSONAL.

Mr. Cyrus Greene, who has been quite sick at his home in Deering, is slowly recovering.

Mrs. Dr. H. B. Hill, wife of the assistant superintendent of the Insane Hospital at Augusta, is seriously ill.

Hon. Herbert M. Heath of Augusta, who will probably be the next president of the Maine Senate, was in the city yesterday.

Mrs. Jacob McLellan, who has been failing for some time past, died at her residence on Danforth street yesterday afternoon.

The funeral of Mr. Charles D. Bearce took place from his former residence on Chestnut street yesterday afternoon. The Aged Brotherhood attended.

Rev. N. H. Harriman, formerly of Bangor, has resigned the pastorate of the Pilgrim church in Providence. He will probably devote himself to evangelistic work.

Col. Charles B. Merrill, who for the past five years has been the able president of the Bath Military and Naval Orphan Asylum, has sent his resignation to Governor Marble. Ill health is the reason of the colonel's resignation.

Captain Robert Crockett, a prominent shipmaster and business man of Rockland, died at his home in that city, yesterday morning, aged 73 years. He followed the sea until the commencement of the war. He then engaged in shipbuilding in Rockland. He was active in municipal affairs and once represented the city in the legislature.

Gen. George L. Beal has resigned his position of inspector general on the staff of Governor Marble, and the Governor has appointed and commissioned Col. Hollis B. Hill of Portland, inspector general with the rank of brigadier general. Lieut. Col. Fred E. Boothby of Portland, has been appointed commissary general with the rank of colonel, vice Hill promoted; and Major Alonzo R. Nickerson of Boothbay, has been appointed lieutenant colonel and aide-de-camp, vice Boothby promoted.

Fair of the Woman's Auxiliary.

The auxiliary of the Young Men's Christian Association have decided to continue their fair another day, so that their many friends who were not able to attend yesterday on account of the rainy weather, may have an opportunity to do so today. The fair will continue through today and this evening, and all interested in the association work are cordially invited to call on the ladies at Y. M. C. A. hall and patronize the different tables, as well as the dining room. An oyster supper will be served after 5.30 o'clock in the afternoon, and the gentlemen are invited to come and take supper instead of going to their homes. The ladies have quite an assortment of very useful articles, which will be sold at reasonable prices. Admission is free, and a cordial invitation is extended to all.

J. M. Dyer & Co.

This fashionable dry goods firm are offering a line of dress goods, in plain, side-barred and combinations, that should be seen by the ladies of this city before the assortment is broken. By many of those who have seen the goods, the statement has been made that this line of dress goods is the handsomest ever exhibited in Portland. The firm also display elegant black gros grain silks, the celebrated Guinet make, and ladies and gentlemen's underwear in natural wools, at prices and in variety, that they say has never been approached in Portland. The sale of these goods will continue all this week, and we doubt not the store will be crowded by the lady shoppers.

Portland Turnverein.

The Portland Turnverein was never in a more flourishing condition than it is at present, and the benefit derived from exercise there is appreciated by a large number of men who find it a pleasant resort. Last night was the visiting night and 125 persons were present. A class of 50 members highly entertained the visitors by giving them an admirable exhibition which was witnessed from beginning to end with unabated interest. At the next monthly meeting which occurs tomorrow, the association will vote whether or not to enlarge their present quarters in accordance with the plans and specifications to be then presented. The presence of each member is urgently requested.

There is prospect of having portraits of all the deceased members of Washington Bar, about 100 in all, made and placed in the court house.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

THE BOSTONIANS.

"Mignon" and "Don Pasquale," will be heard in this city for the first time tomorrow and Saturday of this week, when presented by the Bostonians. All the artists will appear—Marie Stone, Mrs. Jessie Bartlett Davis, Josephine Bartlett, Miss Maconda, Gorden, Barnabee, Karl, Dixon, Macdonald, Montgomery, Hoff and Ricci. Half fare and late trains on the railroads. Don't delay purchasing tickets at once at Stockbridge's. Course tickets exchanged if desired.

At the Saturday matinee the opera which will be given will be "Don Pasquale," not the "Bohemian Girl," as previously announced. "Dorothy" is one of the prettiest operas known to the stage, bright, popular, amusing, and it was only by great effort that Mr. Stockbridge succeeded in getting the management to present it. It should be one of the greatest drawing cards that Portland has known for many seasons. It has run for 200 nights in London, and the Bostonians played it for two weeks to crowded houses in Chicago. It will be given Saturday evening.

The following will be the cast of the operas:

MIGNON.

Wilhelm Meister	Tom Karl
Lothario	Ricardo Ricci
Laertes	J. W. Montgomery
Giarmo	Fred E. Dixon
Zaffari	H. E. Dole
Antonio	A. Nichols
Mignon	Juliette Corden
Filina	Marie Stone
Frederic	Jessie Bartlett Davis

DON PASQUALE.

Don Pasquale	Mr. H. C. Barnabee
Ernesto	Mr. Edwin Hoff
Doctor Malatesta	Mr. W. H. Macdonald
Norina	Miss Juliette Corden
Andrea	Mr. A. E. Nichols
A Notary	Mr. Fred Dixon

In the cast of Dorothy will appear Marie Stone, Jessie Bartlett Davis, Charlotta Maconda, Edwin Hoff, H. C. Barnabee, W. H. Macdonald, Ricardo Ricci.

The price of matinee tickets will remain the same, half the cost of evening tickets.

NOTES.

Denman Thompson's 55th birthday was celebrated Monday. When "Uncle Josh" arrived at the theatre in New York he found a large carved oak and silver frame in his dressing room containing portraits of himself and his entire company, a gift from the organization. On a card attached were the words: "We all wish you many happy returns of the day."

The Portland Male Quartette will sing at Freeport tonight, assisted by Mr. Robert Whitcomb, reader.

RAILWAY MATTERS.

MAINE CENTRAL.

It is reported that the Maine Central have offered the Canadian Pacific terms for running rights from Portland to Fabyan's, which is 5 per cent on $17,500 per miles, and one-half the cost of making the road first-class, and to divide the cost of keeping the road in repair, each company to pay according to the number of cars run. All local business to be done by the Maine Central. The Canadian Pacific management are considering the proposition.

AN IMMENSE ENGINE.

A mammoth locomotive is now nearly completed at the Hinckley Works, Albany street for the Atchison railroad. It is designed by G. S. Story of New York, carries two cabs, one over the center of the boiler for the engineer, the other in the old style for the fireman. It is the largest passenger locomotive ever built. All the wheels are of paper, with steel tires, and the driving wheels the largest ever manufactured. A Worthington steam pump so works that a great part of the exhausted steam is pumped back, and serves to heat the water in the tank. Another economy in fuel is the work of a large combustion chamber, which burns up all the gas. It is expected to make 80 miles an hour with ten passenger cars, on an ordinary road.

NOTES.

Connection of the Canadian Pacific telegraph line was made Monday night, between Vanceboro and Mattawamkeag. The line will not be extended to St. John until after the 22d of this month, when the injunction case is to be argued. The linemen have been making good progress in setting up the wires, and the line will be completed to St. John by the last of December.

The directors of the Bangor & Piscataquis railroad voted Tuesday afternoon to reopen the old lumberman's road from the Katahdin Iron Works to the head of Chesuncook. This will enable parties lumbering on Chamberlain Lake to get in their men and supplies cheaper than by way of Patten.

Real Estate Transfers.

The following transfers of real estate in this county have been recorded at the Registry of Deeds:

Standish—M. R. Coolbroth, et al, to Ida B. Staples. $45.

Pownal—R. S. Skillins to Charles Mayberry. $1 etc.

Out of Sorts

Is a feeling peculiar to persons of dyspeptic tendency, or it may be caused by change of climate-season or life. The stomach is out of order, the head aches or does not feel right, appetite is capricious, the nerves seem overworked, the mind is confused and irritable. This condition finds an excellent corrective in Hood's Sarsaparilla which, by its regulating and toning powers, soon restores harmony to the system, and gives that strength of mind, nerves, and body, which makes one feel perfectly well.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

I have used Hood's Sarsaparilla in my family for three years, and have taken it personally with great success. It has always built up my system by giving me a good appetite, has cleared my skin and has made me sleep. I have suffered from nervous prostration, and have been cured by nothing but Hood's Sarsaparilla and occasionally a few of Hood's Pills." G. F. JUNKERMANN, Supt. of Music in Public Schools, Cincinnati, O.

Cures Dyspepsia

"I suffered a great while with dyspepsia, and tried a good many remedies. A friend urged me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, and I have now taken two bottles. It has entirely cured me of dyspepsia, and a scrofulous affection has also entirely disappeared. I can hardly find words to express my high appreciation of Hood's Sarsaparilla." ALLEN H. MELHOM, City Hotel, Lancaster, Pa.

We shall put on sale to-day a lot of fine Umbrellas made from "Gloria" Cloth with sterling silver handles at $2.48. Includes cases.

Also a lot of "Glorias" at $1.50 with silverine handles.

Children's "Greenaway" Gossamer Circulars, all sizes, for $1.25. This is the most popular shape in a rainy day garment for children and the price is very low for the quality.

We are showing an elegant line of cloth finish rubber garments for ladies in a variety of shapes, and a special bargain at $2.00. We are the agents for Chas. Mackintosh of London and we have ready to show a complete line of samples of the celebrated goods of his make. Physicians and others whose business or profession takes them out of doors in stormy weather should investigate the claims of the "Mackintosh" goods.
