Col. 2:10

Dedication

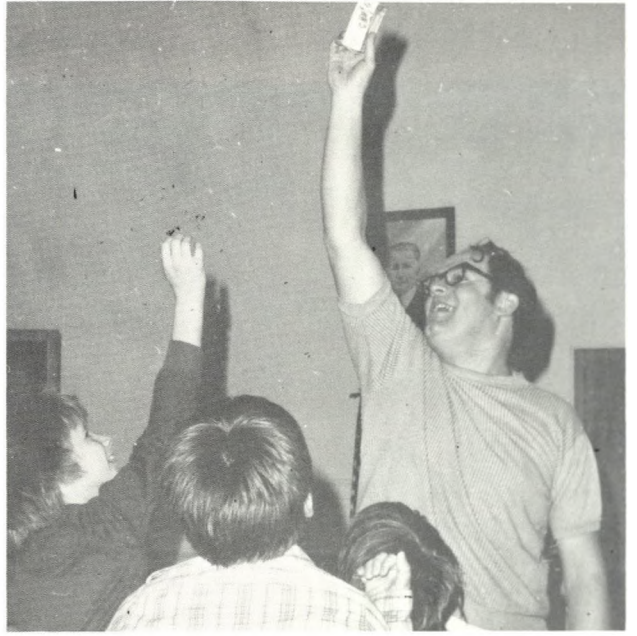

The Bible mentions many different gifts - teaching, preaching, prophesying, healing, and others. Although the task God gave the man we wish to recognize is not included in this list, his greatest ministry among us is letting his life shine as a testimony to God's love. He is loved for his sense of humor and concern for individuals. He is never seen in a classroom or leading chapel, but as he continues his work behind the scenes he is a comfort and inspiration to many of us. He is very busy but never too busy to listen.

Because of all this, the Senior Class of 1975 dedicates this edition of the WITNESS to one who ministers to our physical as well as our spiritual needs:

CHRISTIAN AMBITION

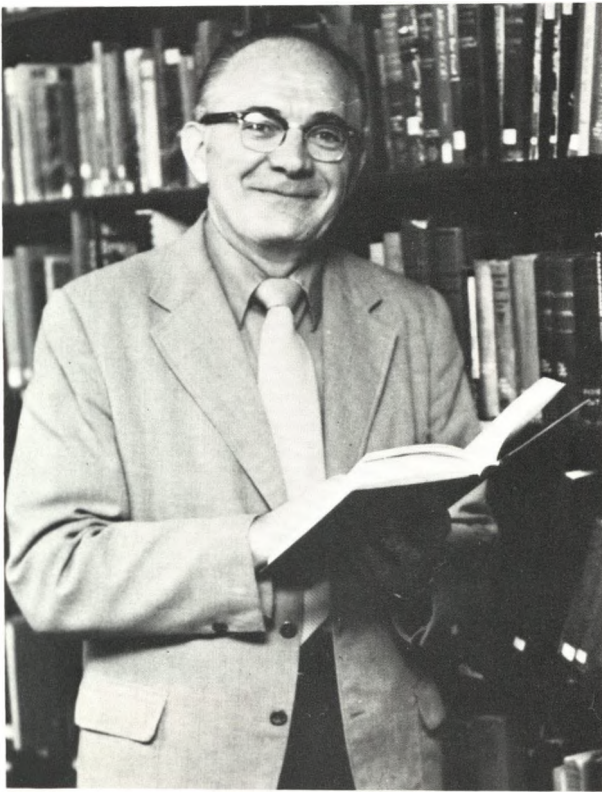

The Apostle Paul had one ambition in his life; in relation to his career he said to the Romans: "I have been ambitious to preach the Gospel, not where Christ was named, lest I should build upon another man's foundation; but as it is written, To whom he was not spoken of, they shall see: and they that have not heard shall understand" (Romans 15:20,21).

Paul could not be fenced in. He was a citizen of the Roman Empire and he wanted Christ to be known in every part - in Philippi, Corinth, Rome, Spain, and in how many more places besides those mentioned in the Bible we do not know. "Paul was in the grip of an insatiable passion for advance." The same should be true for the church in the present hour. To every known part of the world we must go with the message of life. How can this be done without the coming forth of youth with the call of God upon them? How can this be done without the Biblical training needed to fit the worker for his mission? Are you a Christian? Do you have a Christian ambition? "How shall they preach except they be sent?" "How beautiful are the feet of them that preach the gospel of peace, and bring glad tidings of good things."

- MR. HAROLD DUFF

The Dean's Page

"Ye are complete in Him" is a well-chosen class motto as taken from Colossians 2:10 and it certainly is appropriate for the uncertain times in which we live. The assurance of being "complete" in Christ was a refreshing safeguard in establishing believers in Colosse against the gnostic philosophical heresy of the later part of the first century, that sought to degrade Jesus and rob Him of His deity.

Remember that you go out to serve Christ too in a world that is increasingly "antichrist" in spirit. The humanistic, materialistic philosophy of our time certainly does not in any way give the preeminence to our Lord Jesus Christ. The Word of God warns, "Beware lest any man spoil you through philosophy and vain deceit, after the rudiments of the world, and not after Christ" (Colossians 2:8).

God has revealed Himself in finality in His Son in these last days. You have been called upon to make Him known. Your motto should be your message. As you have found the answer to life's greatest need in Christ, be reminded that there are still millions untold who need to hear of Him. May God make each of you a flaming evangel for Him in whom "ye are complete."

STUDENT MISSIONARY FELLOWSHIP

The Student Missionary Fellowship presents to the student body mission-centered opportunities and challenges. The officers are elected by the students to serve through various means. The SMF involves itself with prayer bands, missionary conference and banquet, chapel speakers, literature, films, and other activities.

The greatest faith project which the SMF sponsors is that of sending out student missionaries during the summer. The student body, through faith, supplies the financial and prayer support needed. After all, "How then shall they call on him in whom they have not believed? and how shall they believe in him of whom they have not heard? and how shall they hear without a preacher?" (Romans 10:14)

SUMMER MISSIONARIES

Salt Lake City, Utah

This summer (74) SMF sent me to Salt Lake City, Utah, to work among the Mormon people. I worked with Utah Bible Mission under the director, Rev. John Hornok, founder of the mission twenty-one years ago and now pastor of Murray Bible Church and director of Timpanogos Bible Camp.

I arrived in the Salt Lake Valley July 5th. Two days later I was way up in the mountains working as a counselor at Timpanogos Bible Camp. The Lord really blessed our two weeks of camp.

When camp ended I worked at the Hornok home doing secretarial work for the mission and helping Mrs. Hornok with the housework. Many guests stopped by but the Hornoks always seemed prepared for overnight guests. These guests were missionaries or church groups who wanted a better understanding of Mormonism. We call the house the "Hornok Hotel."

I had the chance to go door-to-door and talk to some of the Mormon people. They are very clean-cut and polite people and do not realize how lost they are. The Mormon Church sends out approximately 1000 missionaries per month to all parts of the world. It is hard to understand the Mormon cult unless you have seen the heart of the matter and the strong hold that the Mormon Church has on its members. Salt Lake City needs Christ!

By Walking

Summer missionaries? Why of course! Lord, we are willing to be summer missionaries in Italy. This was our first reaction to Paul MacKnight's request in the summer of '73. Then another inevitable question came to us. How? How are we going to be summer missionaries in Italy?

As we prayed for the MacKnight family in their ministry in Ravenna, Italy, and asked the Lord to show us His will for the coming summer, He opened our eyes to the principle of walking. How would we arrive in Italy? By walking!

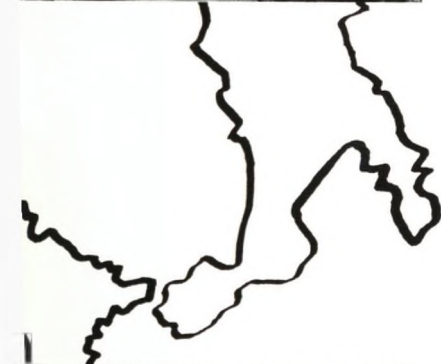

Now wait a minute! God does perform miracles, but . . . walking across the Atlantic? No, we don't mean physical walking, although that is a good illustration of the walking we did do. Think about it. When we decide to walk to a certain destination we put one foot after another, step by step, until we reach it. Unless we take those steps we won't reach that destination.

This is how we reached Italy. By trying to walk step by step in the good works which God had prepared beforehand for us (Ephesians 2:10), we began to see our decision and preparation to go to Italy as steps in His plan for our lives. Although there were days when we weren't fully obedient to God, we found forgiveness as His children and walked forward; and God enabled us to perform those works in Ravenna, Italy, during the summer of '74. So naturally we walked to Italy.

We spent our days there doing a variety of things. While Sandi spent much of her time relieving Margaret MacKnight of some household chores, I aided Paul MacKnight in completing some projects around their home. One of the most significant of these projects was the rebuilding of a concrete block structure which at one time was part of their house. Projected plans for this building are that it may serve as a bookstore when a road is put through near the MacKnight's backyard. Among other things, we repaired road signs and painted new ones advertising the church there in Ravenna; then we built a fence along one side of their property, and cared for their vegetable garden.

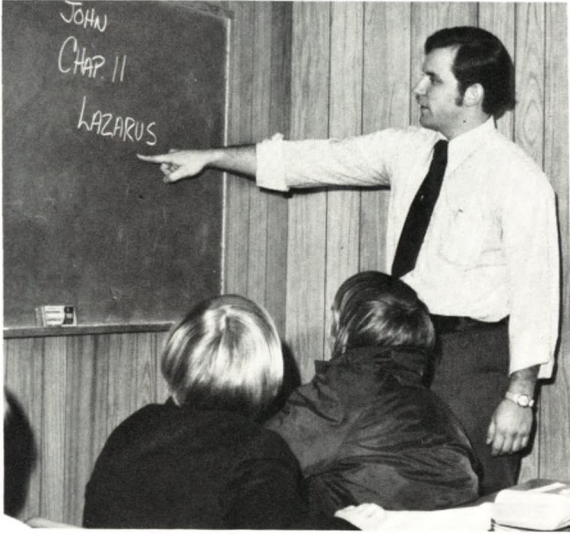

Though not much of our time was spent directly ministering the Gospel, we had opportunity to work in their bookstand in the marketplace. While Operation Mobilization was there in Ravenna, we went around with them on one occasion distributing gospel literature. We rejoice in these steps which God planned for us. They have left deep impressions upon our lives and become more meaningful in our walk with Christ each day.

Special Thanks

Mr. John Buffam

On behalf of the student body, the yearbook staff takes this opportunity to thank Mr. John Buffam. Mr. Buffam is loved for his dedication to God evidenced in every part of his life. As Mr. Buffam leaves us to follow God's leading elsewhere we know we will miss his example of diligent service for God. Besides his teaching responsibilities, Mr. Buffam has been yearbook advisor, advisor for the Junior Class, and served as head of Christian Service for several years.

Mr. Buffam, thank you for showing us a godly life based firmly on God. You have showed us the importance of prayer and study by your example. Thank you, Mr. Buffam, for your time, your labor of love, and your faithful prayers.

AN IMPORTANT APOLOGY

An unfortunate error has been made. In the SEN-

Ps. 147:2, it is Ps. 142:7: "Bring my soul out of prison that I may praise thy name. The righteous shall compass me about; for thou shalt deal bountifully with me." Please forgive us, Dottie.
