LITTLE SHOES AND STOCKINGS.

Little Shoes and Stockings ! What a tale ye speak Of the swolen eyelid And the tear-wet cheek !

Of the nightly virgil, And the daily prayer ; Of the buried darling Present every where.

Brightly plaided Stockings, O, the finest wool; Roun led feet and dainty Each a stocking full; Tiny shoes of crimson, Shoes that never more Will awaken echoes

Not the wealth of Indies Could your worth eclips, Priceless little treasures. Pressed to whitened lips, As the mother muses, From the world apart,

From the tow-strewn floor.

Leaning on the arrow That has pierced her heart. Head of flaxen ringlets. Eyes of Heavens blue.

Parted mouth -a rose-bud-Pearls just peeping through, Soft arms foudly twining Round her neck at eve; Little Shoes and Stockings. These the dreams ye weave.

Weave her yet another Of the world of bliss ; Let the stricken mother Turu away from this; Bid her dream believing Little feet await, Waching for her passing Through the pearly gate. Cougregational Herald.

BRIDGTON, FRIDAY, DEC. 20, 1861. WAR WITH ENGLAND.

No sensible man has any desire that our ountry be drawn into a war with England. We are now contending with a powerful and lesperate foe; and were we obliged to diride our forces, and ward off the blows of Great Britian, on the one hand, and the South on the other, the rebels would gain an mmense advantage, the contest would be indefinitely prolonged, and we should suffer greatly in our commercial and civil inter. We are slow to believe, notwithstanding he ominous intelligence from Great Britian that England will make the Mason and Sli lell affair a pretext for a war with Amerifeel that the result of a war-to say the least-would be extremely doubtful. unless she has some great advintage to so cure, she will not-in cool blood-provoke war with America. But that nation has verything to loose by a war. Her comme have an eye wile open to such consilera tions-would suffer immensely. She would add largely to her oppressive debt, which well nigo renders the E glish nation bank root red ty ! Then she has her rival France just across the English channel, who would to cripple the British power, netwithstand hig her reported present sympathy with Eng land. " SMALL TALK."

Any one who has looked in upon a select circle of genuine village gossips, can testify that Mr. Whipple, in the following extract, has set up no man-of-straw to shoot at, but has denounced an evil that really exists, and really curses a certain phase of social life.

"SMALL TALK. But of all the expedients

READ THE EVIDENCE

Racine, Wis., Nov. 2, 1850.

To Dr. Herrick, Albany, N. Y.,—Dear Sir/ I cannot refrain from informing you of the wonderful effect of your Sugar Coated Pills on a boy living with me. While hard at work, drawing cord wood, he fell to the earth as it in a fit. was insensible and partially cold. We earried him to the house, and sent for a doctor, who bled him and gave him some medicine. He remained all night in the same situation. The doctor said he would die, and left him. My wife Insisted upon giving him some of your pills. We administered four in five hours, and shortly after two more, rubbling him with hot brandy and mustard. The pills operated powerfully At tour o'cock in the afternoon he opened his eyes and spoke, commenced getting better, and in three days went to work. More than fity of our citizens saw the boy, and will testly to what I have said. You are a stranger to me, but I thought I would write. Yours, ALEXANDER MORTON.

Speaking of Gen. McClellan, the Boston Post says-

The letters from Washington continue to speak of Gen. McClellan's exertions with en- cure. thusiasm. He does not abate anything of his activity and tremendous labor. "It is fortunate." a letter reads, "that he has a constitution of iron. He is not heavily built but his muscles are like whipcords. He has been known to take a two shilling piece between his thumb and fore finger, and bend it double." Just at the close of the last great review, heavy firing was heard in the direction of Fairfax; and Geo. McClellan, though he had been in the saddle all day, instead of returning home, dashed off to see what it meant. It is remarked that Napoleon and Washington had this power of endurance .-Napoleon in his first campaign, rode five horses to death in three days. It is the labor of such a Commander in Chief, nobly seconded by able officers around him, that he has made the army what it is. Kindness is the golden chain by which sosiety is bound together.
