JUVENILES ORGANIZE AT STRONG.

Franklin's Musical Town Now Claims Youngest Band In State.

The business section of Strong was taken somewhat by storm one day last week when all unheralded a sound of revelry and music was heard from the street. The occasion was a somewhat unique serenade as the initiative appearance of the youngest band ever organized in the state. Since that time open air concerts have been a daily occurrence and all Strong now awaits with great anticipation the sound of drum and cymbal.

Augustus Richardson, Berchard Look, Lloyd True, William Rounds, Kenneth Hight, Clifford Rounds, Frank Small and Holman Daggett are the youthful musicians. Their ages range from 3 to 9 years. Master Clifford Rounds, who is the youngest member, beats his drum with just as much respect for time and rhythm as the oldest member of the bunch and his military bearing would do credit to any regiment.

Decked in their military paper hats and crimson ribbon sashes, heralded by noise of drum and clash of cymbal, the little pageant marches by and many gather to witness the performance. Their instruments while rather crude are a triumph of artistic deception.

At the close of each concert the treasurer usually passes the hat and a question as to the use they intend to make of the pennies and nickles and quarters that drop in, is always met with the positive reply that it all goes toward the expenses.

The boys plan to buy fifes as soon as they can raise enough money and then they will form a fife and drum corps.

The organization of the band was effected wholly among themselves and at their own initiative.

MAINE EXPLORERS.

Search For Spruce and Cedar In Canadian Forest

(Special correspondence to MAINE WOODSMAN).
GASPE PENINSULA, P. Q.,
July 29, 1907.

Perhaps it will be interesting to my many friends in Franklin county to hear from me, as it has been some time since I was up that way. I am down here in the Matapedia valley and on the Gaspé Peninsula in charge of a party of explorers. There are five of us in the party, a guide, cook and three explorers and we are looking for spruce and cedar lumber. The explorers are all from Maine. We left Maine the first of June. We are 300 miles northeast of Quebec and over 100 miles north of the most northeasterly part of Maine.

The spruce in this section is all white, no black or timber spruce. The growth on the highlands is mostly fir. In the valleys there is the finest cedar I ever saw, sound and large. It is not an uncommon thing to find cedar three feet and even four feet at the butt.

It is a hard forest to travel through, so much underbrush, but we average about 10 miles per day.

There has been lots of rain in this country since we struck here. It has rained every day for the last eight days, so we are wet every day, as we have to camp about where night overtakes us.

The seasons are very short here. The grass is about two-thirds grown at this date. The snow falls very deep here, from five to seven feet deep, and by the looks I should say even deeper, for I have measured some stumps that were eight feet high. They never use but one horse for a team to log with, and when the snow gets very deep they yard the logs with men on a sled. The sleds are made with long wide runners, with two bunks and they put the logs upon these bunks, and with man's strength haul them to the yards.

We find these queer sleds at most every camp we pass.

Another thing I notice that is very primitive, carts made with block wheel. They take a large log and saw a piece off the end and use it for wheels as we used to make our trucks when we were boys 50 years ago.

This country is certainly 60 years behind the times. The towns back near the timber limits are but lately settled and they are all French, but are very honest and industrious. Anyone wants to understand the French language to get along well here. The tracts we have to explore contain 200 square miles, but we are about done and are in hopes to be able to get back in season to attend the reunion at West Phillips.

There are lots of moose in this territory. We often see them at the shore of the ponds, but we have not had any trout. The brooks look like trout brooks, but we have tried them and they are not here. But very few deer and now and then a caribou are seen.

No mountains and not very high ridges are found, although from the tract we are on now we can look onto the St. Lawrence river. About half of our territory lays south of the Matapedia river which flows into the Restigouche river and the Restigouche flows into the Bay Chaleur.

GEORGE L. SMITH.

Returns to Old Home After 30 Years' Absence.

PHILLIPS, July 30, 1907.

To the Editor of MAINE WOODSMAN:

Leaving Phillips at 7.30 a. m. on the morning of June 3, 1907, to visit the old home of my childhood in the province of New Brunswick, I reached Lincoln in Penobscot county at 3.35 p. m. where I was met by my brother, A. L. Matthews, and visited him a few days.

I had been absent from the provinces for 30 long years. The reader may naturally suppose there were many changes wrought during my long absence.

There were many farms that were in a flourishing condition when I came away that had grown up to become a forest. The farm buildings were all gone with the exception of a few old sheds, left only as the last rose of summer that marked the spot. I had been in the timber and other forests and hillsides, which were timber lands in my early life, had been cleared and beautiful fields of grass took the place. Farm buildings were built up very beautiful to behold.

As I neared the old home of my early life and gazed out on the old farm where I had spent my boyhood, my thoughts were turned backward to the happiest days of my life. Twenty minutes' drive brought me to the home of my sister, a woman of strange appearance to me yet I must well know that she was the person that I had come to see and I must recognize her as my sister. I suppose I must have appeared to her very much the same. I remained with her for a few days. I then boarded a stage coach and took my departure homeward bound, and as I drove away a thought came to my mind, shall I ever visit here again?

Well, I very much enjoyed the visit and I think after 30 years' absence from a place very familiar to one, they are well paid for their trouble. Nevertheless, there were places that marked spots of pleasure to me that I could scarcely refrain from shedding tears.

Stalwart young men approached me with a hand shake unrecognizable to me.

The eastern bound train, carried me safely back to my adopted home in Phillips again where I must settle down to the busy cares of life and I shall never reflect my time and expense to enjoy such a visit again.

J. L. MATTHEWS.

A Chinese Solomon.

Two Chinamen, brothers, well advanced in age, quarreled over a piece of land which they had jointly inherited from their father and went to law. The native magistrate heard the testimony on both sides and determined that both were wrong and both right, according to the different points of view. Therefore, instead of rendering a judgment in favor of either, he ordered that both be locked up in a cage with their heads fastened face to face and kept there until they settled their quarrel. The cage is a sort of cage in which prisoners are placed with their necks locked into a hole in a board. It resembles somewhat the stocks which were used for the punishment of malefactors in olden times. When the brothers were placed in the cage, they were both very stubborn and indignant, but toward the end of the second day they began to weaken and on the third day reached a satisfactory settlement and were released.

WEST PHILLIPS REUNION.

GATHERING OF FORMER RESIDENTS OF PHILLIPS AND VICINITY.

Speeches by Residents and Visitors and Letters of Regret From Those Who Couldn't Come.

Another of the annual West Phillips reunions has passed into history, a reunion which will be remembered with pleasure by the large number present, estimated to be very nearly or quite 200. It was remarked by one who has been present at past reunions that it was the largest number yet.

The day was bright and sunshiny but rather breezy and on this account it was thought best to hold the exercises in the schoolhouse instead of on the lawn as had been planned.

A train left Phillips at 8.30, which took a goodly number, and from that time until 11 o'clock the arrivals were many.

The president, Mr. Chandler Lufkin, called the company to order and prayer was offered by Rev. M. S. Hutchins. The company joined in singing America with Mr. D. F. Hodges as director and Mrs. T. R. Spaulding accompanist.

Mr. Bion Wing in his address gave them all a most cordial welcome and that it was most sincere no one could doubt. Rev. N. C. Brackett was down on the program for the response, but as he was unable to be present he sent a letter, which was read by H. F. Beedy, Esq. The president then dismissed the company until after 1 o'clock when they dispersed to enjoy a basket picnic. Hot coffee and beans had been furnished for all and several remarked "what tastes better than good baked beans in a place like this?"

Mrs. F. J. Toothaker and Mrs. Chandler Lufkin served ice cream, which was generously partaken of.

After dinner had been partaken of and a social hour enjoyed, the company were again called to order and the following officers were elected for 1908: George L. Smith of Augusta, president; Charles L. Prescott, vice president; Mrs. Levi B. Field, secretary and treasurer. The officers were given power to appoint all other committees needed.

The idea of the association having a little financial aid was talked up by several and no doubt in the near future a sum will be raised yearly by small assessments from the members and others who wish to add their mite, to carry on the necessary expenses of these reunions.

The following program was carried out:

Reminiscences,	Geo. L. Lakin, Esq.
Instrumental music,
Recitation,	Mrs. Spaulding, Ether Smith
Recitation,	Miss Mollie Hescock
Poem,	Miss Vivian Wing
Instrumental music,	Mrs. Mary Smith Kimball
Address,	De Berna Ross, Esq.

GILBERT L. KEMPTON

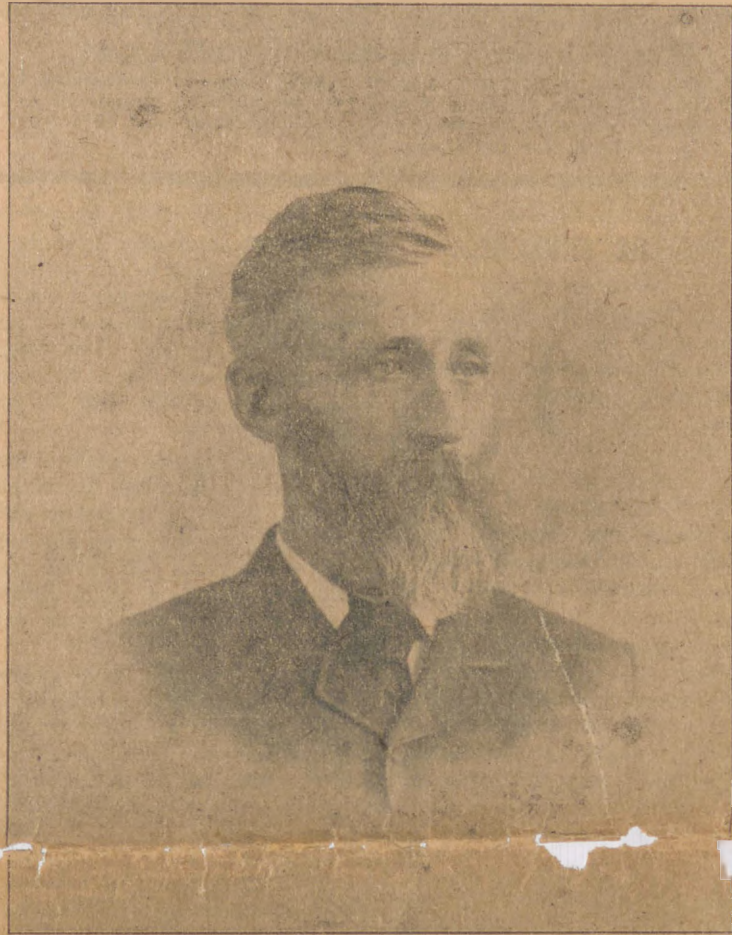

The following were called upon for remarks and who responded with the exception of a very few: Messrs. S. B. Wing, C. J. Beedy, G. L. Smith, Herbert Stowers, Reuben Sargent, H. F. Beedy, James Morrison, S. H. Beedy, Roscoe Whitney, D. F. Hodges, Benj. Butler, C. L. Kempton, Bion Wing, Lewis Prescott, Bell Beedy; Mdms. Mary Kimball, Bridgman, Frank Gray, H. R. Butterfield, J. C. Wells, Octavia Blanchard, J. W. Brackett, Henry McKenney, A. A. Blanchard, G. L. Kempton.

The address by De Berna Ross, Esq., was well delivered and appropriate, and received very favorable comment. The reminiscences by Judge Lakin were enjoyed, as he recalled many of the old residents, but his personal remarks about his bashfulness in regard to the girls in his younger days were rather doubted by some of his female schoolmates of those days who were present.

I have been riding over Henry county in a buggy and on horseback the past few days. The roads are best suited to horseback riding. Yesterday I looked over a four-hundred acre farm once owned and occupied as a home by Patrick Henry. If the great orator and patriot didn't farm it better than the present owners are doing it, he didn't deserve the honor of having the county named for him.

Possibly some of you may have noticed that Henry county, Va., took the first premium on chewing tobacco at the St. Louis fair. Though there may be money in raising tobacco, it has been an unmitigated curse to the people and country. Its effect on the land that grows it is much the same that it is on the small boy that uses it. There are three and four hundred-acre farms here of good land originally, that fifty years ago or so were covered with a heavy growth of oak

JUDGE JAMES MORRISON OF PHILLIPS

A beautiful poem was read by Mrs. Mary Smith Kimball. It was not original but it was especially appropriate for the occasion, and as she remarked, it expressed her sentiments exactly. It was entitled, "In Dear Old Maine."

Many regrets were expressed that Rev. A. S. Ladd, Rev. N. C. Brackett, Mrs. Jennie Blanchard and others were unable to be with them.

We predict that the reunion of 1908 will be still larger.

It was interesting to note that three pupils were present on this occasion who attended school there 50 years ago and was taught by Benj. Butler. They were Mdms. H. R. Butterfield, Mary McKenney, Charles Lufkin.

Two lively games of ball were played by both old and young. We are sorry to note that Harold Worthley got his eyelid cut badly while playing ball.

The following letters were received and read:

To the friends assembled for their annual reunion, greeting:

I had planned to be with you. Though I had accepted no less than four invitations in Maine and New Hampshire to preach at camp meetings—not including my own district meeting at Old Orchard—I was careful to reserve the date of the reunion. But other circumstances have so shaped themselves that I am obliged to deny myself the delightful privilege. May you have sunny skies, refreshing breezes, limber tongues, pleasant memories, happy hearts and good appetites.

I shall wait with all the patience that I can command for the report of your pleasant gathering. At my time of life it seems to me that I cannot afford to miss a single occasion of this kind, but our gospel is one of self-denial and we ought to practice what we preach.

May abundant blessings be upon you and yours, not only on this glad day but in all the coming days that are before you, and through God's abounding mercy may we all participate in the eternal reunion in the better country.

Yours in strong bonds,
A. S. LADD.

Ogunquit, Aug. 12, 1907.

Hillsdale Farm, Home of Rev. J. C. Newcomer, Boxwood, R. F. D., Henry County, Va., August 8, 1907.

Dear Home Friends—I cannot tell you how deeply I regret my inability to be with you at the reunion. A journey from Harper's Ferry to Phillips is more of a burden than it was thirty years ago and just now we, Mrs. Brackett and I, are more than half as far southwest of Harper's Ferry as Phillips is northeast of it, or in round numbers more than 1,000 miles from my native hills. But hills are here, too. Twenty miles westward over across Patrick county rise the high summits of the Blue ridge, now so exhausted by tobacco raising that they won't bring $10 an acre, or half the cost of the buildings on them.

The climate here is delightful at present, Celeste says it is the year around, but if I was young, as we all used to be, I would rather have a good Franklin county farm to live on, than I have yet seen in Henry county, Virginia. With much love and the earnest hope to meet you in the fall of 1908, and a sincere prayer that the Great Father may bless and keep you all, I am,

Yours truly,
N. C. BRACKETT.

SPRINGFIELD, Aug. 10, 1907.

My Dear Old Friends, Also My New Friends—I wish I could be with you today but I shall be with you in heart. Shall try to be with you in 1908. I hope you will have a good day and a grand time. I well know the absent ones are never forgotten.

Yours truly,
JENNIE B.

BOOK PLATES.

They Came Within Fifty Years After the Invention of Printing.

It was within half a century from the invention of printing that book plates were introduced as identifying marks to indicate the ownership of the volume.

Germany, the fatherland of printing from movable type and of wood cutting for making impressions in ink on paper, is likewise the home land of the book plate.

The earliest dated woodcut of accepted authenticity is the well known "St. Christopher of 1423," which was discovered in the Carthusian monastery of Buxheim, in Suabia.

It was to insure the right of ownership in a book that the owner had it marked with the coat of arms of the family or some other heraldic device. Libraries were kept intact and passed from generation to generation, bearing the emblem of the family.

The first book plate in France is dated 1574; in Sweden, 1575; Switzerland, 1607, and Italy, 1623. The earliest English book plate is found in a folio volume once the property of Cardinal Wolsey and afterward belonging to his royal master.

The earliest mention of the book plate in English literature is by Pepys, July 16, 1688. The first known book plate in America belonged to Governor Dudley. Paul Revere, the patriot, was one of the first American engravers of book plates and a designer of great ability.—Journal of American History.

TIRED AND SICK YET MUST WORK

"Man may work from sun to sun but woman's work is never done." In order to keep the home neat and pretty, the children well dressed and tidy, women overdo and often suffer in silence, drifting along from bad to worse, knowing well that they ought to have help to overcome the pains and aches which daily make life a burden.

It is to these women that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, comes as a blessing. When the spirits are depressed, the head and back aches, there are dragging-down pains, nervousness, sleeplessness, and reluctance to go anywhere, these are only symptoms which unless heeded, are soon followed by the worst forms of Female Complaints.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound keeps the feminine organism in a strong and healthy condition. It cures inflammation, ulceration, displacements, and organic troubles. In preparing for child-birth and to carry women safely through the Change of Life it is most efficient.

Mrs. Augustus Lyon, of East Earl, Pa., writes:—Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—"For a long time I suffered from female troubles and had all kinds of aches and pains in the lower part of back and sides. I could not sleep and had no appetite. Since taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and following the advice which you gave me I feel like a new woman and I cannot praise your medicine too highly."

Mrs. Pinkham's Invitation to Women

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to write Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Out of her vast volume of experience she probably has the very knowledge that will help your case. Her advice is free and always helpful.

MRS. AUG. LYON

AMONG THE CHURCHES.

Rev. J. B. Lapham, formerly a presiding elder of the Augusta district in the Maine conference of the Methodist church, was the speaker at the Methodist church Sunday afternoon. He came to Phillips in the interest of the Christian Civic league of Maine in whose work he is assisting.

Mr. Lapham's text was the first clause of Phil. i, 27, "Let your conversation be as cometh the gospel of Christ."

Paul, as he wrote this epistle, was in prison at Rome. It was uncertain regarding the outcome of the trial which he awaited. The result might be acquitted or it might be conviction. Should it be the latter, there was for him speedy death. As he thinks of it, he would rejoice to die, and be with Christ. Yet he thinks not of himself alone. There are the churches that he has planted. The converts ignorant of so many things in which they need his instruction. Because they need him so much he believes that it will be God's will for their sakes to protect him from his enemies a little longer. He expects to see them again, yet he writes as one who may be giving his last counsel, and he writes of those things which seem to him to be of the highest importance. He wishes them so to walk in the Christian way that they may be a light unto Asia. This text is a part of his counsel, "Let your conversation be as cometh the gospel of Christ."

Now this word conversation has here a significance more than is given in our ordinary use of the word. The root is the same as that from which we derive the words city—citizens. Paul is saying to Philipians that they are to live as citizens of a kingdom ruled by Christ. To do this they must have the spirit of Jesus. So he comes to the foundation of all his preaching—salvation. They are saved through grace which gives them the presence and spirit of Jesus.

Power comes through the spirit. You know how necessary is power if one is to accomplish anything of worth. The manufacturer may have abundance of material at hand. His factory may be equipped with approved machinery, but unless there is water to turn the wheels or steam or other power to set and keep in motion his engines, he cannot apply the material to his use. The promise to the disciples was "ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you."

The promise had been and was being fulfilled. The disciples had received and were receiving power to suffer, power for work too great for power simply human. As the divine power wrought through them, so the divine in us will work that too great for us alone.

Paul's converts, and Paul would say the same to us today, as he then said to them, were to speak the words of God, they were to work out the plans of God. Then as now, and now as then, living better than words. They were to live the life taught by the gospel, and so living bring blessing to peoples about them. The influence of such living would fall as a benediction upon all who should be affected by it. One individual so living in the church will make that church a light, but let the whole church live according to the gospel and its beneficent power would reach the entire community.

To the Philippians church it was given to carry on the work of Paul. To many a one God gives special work, but he also gives the power for the work. Our country has had, in the past, great work to do for humanity. It has still great work to do. We wonder, sometimes, about God's purposes. Why did he wait so long before he called this land to its part in the world's progress? We cannot read all his ways, but we see that he waited till the people and the times were ready. When this New World was first brought to the knowledge of the Old, the people in it were not ready for the work to be done here. The Puritans and the Pilgrims were prepared by their experiences and hopes and brought to the waiting land.

Our history reads strangely. We have wonderful resources. Agricultural resources varied and abundant; mineral wealth beyond computation. There are canons rich with precious metal, which we are yet to bring to our service. We are a people before whom open wonderful possibilities of commerce and wealth and material progress. Yet these outside things are not the great, not the true riches. We have been growing up, developing in some of the higher things of true greatness and helpfulness, also. Piracy was once known in our waters, but it has been banished. Slavery had a home in our land, but it is no longer known. Other evils have been overcome.

We are now in the midst of battle against evils that assail. The greatest in its baleful results is intemperance. When difficulties of other kinds are in our pathway we roll up our sleeves and go at them. We should get into the line of battle against this. This state of Maine has stood in the front ranks. The influence of fifty-four years as a prohibition state, has not been without avail. There has been great progress in the attitude of the people toward temperance. Georgia in its recent vote on the question of prohibition stood in the senate, 36 in favor to 8 against; in the house, 138 for prohibition to 39 against. Do you know that one-half of the territory of the United States is now prohibition territory? This includes the prohibition of states and counties and that found under local option laws.

But now Maine needs help. She is disgraced by the disregard of law within her borders. To meet this need in 1899 the Christian Civic league of Maine was formed, largely through the efforts of Wilbur F. Berry. It endeavors to teach the sacredness of law. Law is the expression of the mind and will of the people, and it should be enforced.

The Civic league is to help the people rule the rulers; to help it to teach the dangers of disregarding law and so encouraging lawlessness. As its representative I am here to arouse a deeper sense of the importance of its work, and to see who among you will stand for law and for prohibition. The enemy will fight hard for this state of Maine. Money will not be lacking in the hands of those who wish to win the state for license and to destroy the influence for temperance that she has gained. Let all friends of righteousness and progress rally to uphold her banners, and by voice and vote keep her from falling. In this matter, "Let your conversation be such as becometh the gospel of Christ."

I will mail you free, to prove merit samples of my Dr. Shoop's Restorative, and my Book on either Dyspepsia, The Heart or The Kidneys. Troubles of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nerves—mean Stomach weakness, always. And the Heart, and Kidneys as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy even claims to treat the "inside nerves." Also for bloating, biliousness, bad breath or complexion, use Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Write me to-day for sample and free Book. Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. The Restorative is sold by all dealers.

THOSE SPLITTING HEADACHES!

Sick, Nervous or Neuralgic Headaches Cured by Simple Anodyne.

Nothing is more distressing and weakening than a headache. It takes all the tuck out of anyone, and drives the sufferer to a darkened bed-room so that work has to be neglected.

A 25 ct. bottle of Neuralgic Anodyne will save many days of pain and weakness, as it is guaranteed to cure or relieve any form of headache or the money will be refunded. It differs from other headache remedies, as it is used internally and externally, thus reaching the source of the nerve pains, strengthening the whole nervous system, and at the same time finding its way locally through the pores of the skin to the aching tissues and throbbing nerves.

Neuralgic Anodyne is also invaluable in relieving and curing neuralgia and rheumatism, and is sold everywhere. Made by The Twitchell-Champion Co., Portland, Me.

To prove unquestionably, and beyond any doubt, that Catarrh of the nose and throat can be cured, I am furnishing patients through druggists, small free Trial Boxes of Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure. I do this because I am so certain, that Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure will bring actual substantial help. Nothing certainly, is so convincing as a physical test of any article of real, genuine merit. But that article must possess true merit, else the test will condemn, rather than advance it. Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure is a snow white, healing and aseptic balm, put up in beautiful nickel capped glass jars at 50c. Such soothing agents as Oil Eucalyptus, Thymol, Menthol, etc., are incorporated into a velvety cream like Petrolatum, imported by Dr. Shoop from Europe. A Hair Dressing

Nearly every one likes a fine hair dressing. Something to make the hair more manageable; to keep it from being too rough, or from splitting at the ends. Something, too, that will feed the hair at the same time, a regular hair-food. Well-fed hair will be strong, and will remain where it belongs—on the head, not on the comb!

At the Free Baptist church on Sunday evening last E. H. Emery, Sanford, of the Christian Civic league of Maine, with special reference to the issues of temperance, delivered a most interesting address before a large audience. A hundred or more stereopticon views were exhibited, illustrating pertinent and important facts which the officials of the league wish announced to the citizens of every community, regarding the high license system and temperance forces of the 20th century.

One afternoon recently Miss Lena Page, the 10-years-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Page, entertained more than 20 members of the Dolls' club at her home. Peanut butter sandwiches, assorted cakes and iced lemonade were served by the hostess who prepared the lunch, making the cakes with no assistance from others. We infer there are young ladies more than double Miss Lena's age who could scarcely equal her culinary skill.

Owing to the ill health of her husband, W. H. Small, Mrs. Small, after a thirteen years' service as teacher of one of the boys' classes in the Universalist Sunday school, where she has been a most faithful and efficient teacher seldom absent from the work she was deeply interested in, has resigned. At the present time the class numbers six, namely, Norman Small, Philip Porter, Reginald Schafer, Clive Small, Ellery Butts and Donald Norton, who presented Mrs. Small a prettily framed landscape picture, showing the love in which she was held as their teacher and expressing regret at her resignation.

Rev. Mr. Bruce will hold a midweek service there every two weeks.

A most bountiful repast was prepared by the ladies and a large number did ample justice to the viands which were spread on tables beneath the trees near the pleasant little cottage owned by F. B. Hutchins, which was kindly opened and at the disposal of the lodge.

At Grace Universalist church on Sunday morning Rev. Louis J. Richards of Fort Plain, N. Y., occupied the pulpit and delivered a most impressive sermon from Psalm xxxvii, 37. At the conclusion of the service Mrs. Otis F. Alvord of Rome, N. Y., rendered a solo which was greatly enjoyed as she has an extremely sweet voice which shows much cultivation.

The Limit of Life

The most eminent medical scientists are unanimous in the conclusion that the generally accepted limitation of human life is many years below the attainment possible with the advanced knowledge of which the race is now possessed. The critical period, that determines its duration, seems to be between 50 and 60; the proper care of the body during this decade cannot be too strongly urged; carelessness then being fatal to longevity. Nature's best helper after 50 is Electric Bitters, the scientific tonic medicine that revitalizes every organ of the body. Guaranteed by W. A. D. Cragin, Phillips; L. L. Mitchell, Kingfield; C. E. Dyer, Strong; E. H. Whitney, Rangeley, Druggists. 50c.

The Knock-out Blow.

The blow which knocked out Corbett was a revelation to the prize fighters. From the earliest days of the ring the knock-out blow was aimed for the jaw, the temple or the jugular vein. Stomach punches were thrown in to worry and weary the fighter, but if a scientific man had told one of the old fighters that the most vulnerable spot was the region of the stomach, he'd have laughed at him for an ignoramus. Dr. Pierce is bringing home to the public a parallel fact; that the stomach is the most vulnerable organ out of the prize ring as well as in it. We protect our heads, throats, feet and lungs, but the stomach we are utterly indifferent to, until disease finds the solar plexus and knocks us out. Make your stomach sound and strong by the use of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and you protect yourself in your most vulnerable spot. "Golden Medical Discovery" cures "weak stomach," indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver, bad, thin and impure blood and other diseases of the organs of digestion and nutrition.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" has a specific curative effect upon all mucous surfaces and hence cures catarrh, no matter where located or what stage it may have reached. In Nasal Catarrh it is well to cleanse the passages with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy fluid while using the "Discovery" as a constitutional remedy. Why the "Golden Medical Discovery" cures catarrhal diseases, as of the stomach, bowels, bladder and other pelvic organs will be plain to you if you will read a booklet of extracts from the writings of eminent medical authorities, endorsing its ingredients and explaining their curative properties. It is mailed free on request. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. This booklet gives all the ingredients entering into Dr. Pierce's medicines from which it will be seen that they contain not a drop of alcohol, pure, triple-refined glycerine being used instead.

"Sam" Expects to Visit Maine Very Soon.
ARKANSAS CITY, KANSAS,
July 29, 1907.

To the Editor of MAINE WOODSMAN:
The very sharp drought of the past few weeks was broken Friday night of the 26th inst., with a copious shower which lasted till nearly noon and the next night another heavy rain fell, relieving the people all over the country of the fear of losing the corn crop, which now has a fine prospect of a bountiful yield, and everybody is smiling. The wheat is much better than expected and of very fine quality, all of which is the only assurity of good times.

Mr. A. D. Prescott and Harry Farrar, both Franklin county boys, have just returned from an extended trip through California, Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Wyoming, Colorado and other states. Mr. Prescott last night gave a description of their trip in part and what they saw and said it is a wonderful country, though very different from the middle states and more like New England though much more gigantic. The mountains are much higher, the tops being capped with snow. On their way they spent a few days in Los Angeles and called on a few friends, among whom was Mr. E. A. Roger from Rangeley and Mrs. Emma Davis, mother and daughter, who are living in an elegant home in Los Angeles and in comfortable health. They said the daughter is a charming young lady and moves in the best of society and that Mrs. Record is in the best of health and has grown old but little in her looks.

They next visited Portland, Oregon, a few days, thence to Seattle where they saw A. J. Blethen, formerly connected with the Abbott school for boys in Farmington, now editor of the Seattle Times and has become very wealthy and is estimated to be worth $250,000. He is a large stock owner in that paper, valued at a half million dollars, another financier from Franklin county, Maine. (Neglected to mention their few days' visit in San Francisco. They next visited Spokane and Colorado Springs on their way home. They enjoyed a trip on the Columbia river and investigated the salmon fisheries and how they are caught by throwing them into a box as they come down the river and when the box is full are shut off and the big fellows taken out. A great deal more could be said but space forbids. Rumors were current here that these gentlemen were making the trip with a view to invest money, which is entirely denied by them. It does not look reasonable that two men owning 40,000 acres of land in Kansas and any amount of city property here, would for a moment think of absenting themselves from their homes here.

Mr. Prescott told the writer there are many places in the southwest, west and northwest for intelligent men to make fortunes but when it is all summed up and the millions of acres of the rich prairie soil that need no fertilizers for so many years and the mild climate in the middle states, there is no better place for one to spend their days and enjoy making trips either to east or west than Kansas, that being the center.

There is no better place for one to enjoy the summer than Maine and in California in winter. And when the nation owns the railroads and interurban railroads are constructed, as they are sure to be built, then life will be worth living. It is not the high priced fares that make money for the railroads, but the big crowds that cannot afford to pay high fares, which has been demonstrated by all the big cities who have interurbans running in all directions carrying people many miles for a few cents. We are soon expecting to have one in Arkansas City.

Mrs. A. D. Prescott will, in a few days, go to Colorado Springs for an outing. Her health has been quite poor for a few weeks and was informed a few minutes ago by telephone from Mrs. Alice Worthley that Mrs. Edna Underwood, her daughter, will leave Kansas City for the same place this week with the hope of getting relief from her rheumatic troubles.

Mrs. Farmer has so much improved in health that I am planning to go to Maine soon and if nothing happens to prevent

REACH THE SPOT.

To cure an aching back,
The pains of rheumatism,
The tired-out feelings,
You must reach the spot—get at the cause.

In most cases 'tis the kidneys.
Doan's Kidney Pills are for the kidneys.

Charles Bierbach, stone contractor, living at 2625 Chestnut St., Erie, Pa., says: "For two years I had kidney trouble, and there was such a severe pain through my loins and limbs that I could not stoop or straighten up without great pain, had difficulty in getting about and was unable to rest at night, arising in the morning tired and worn out. The kidney secretions were irregular and deposited a heavy sediment. Doctors treated me for rheumatism, but failed to help me. I lost all confidence in medicine, but Doan's Kidney Pills relieved me so quickly and so thoroughly that I gladly made a statement to that effect for publication. This was in 1898, and during the six years which have elapsed I have never known Doan's Kidney Pills to fail."

A FREE TRIAL of this great kidney medicine which cured Mr. Bierbach will be mailed on application to any part of the United States. Address Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. For sale by all druggists; price, 50 cents per box.

Chesley Pinkham was called to Farmington on Friday last by the death of his brother, James Pinkham.

It is with much regret we publish the following account of the sudden death of our old friend and esteemed townsman, Mr. George Meader, of Fowler, Ind., who only recently came to visit his brother, R. F. Meader. He was accompanied by his two daughters and his little grandson.

George Meader was born in Allen's Mills, Maine, and lived there until a young man. He went to Indiana some 47 years ago, and by his ability and perseverance won for himself success. He was an inventor and was granted many patents on many inventions; besides this he was a prosperous farmer.

Mr. Meader married Hepsey Rogers, a lady from his own native town. He chose wisely an agreeable companion and a great helpmeet. She passed away two months previous to his death.

They accumulated a good property and became well off financially. They leave three daughters and a son, all having families and settled near Fowler.

Mr. Meader was a thorough musician and for many years was the leading bass in Franklin, Kennebec and Penobscot counties at musical conventions led by Professor B. F. Baker of Boston, Mass.

He arrived at Madison July 29. After visiting relatives there he came to West's Mills and visited Mrs. E. M. Black at Hon. F. W. Patterson's, where they were highly entertained. From there they went to the old home place, Allen's Mills, arriving there Saturday p. m., August 3. He and his party were entertained at Mr. Goldsmith's. The following Monday all took a sail around Clear Water pond, and he expressed himself as already feeling better and said he felt that he was well repaid for his journey there. While he was eating his dinner he was stricken with a paralytic shock, from which he died the following Thursday forenoon.

Delay is dangerous when the eyes need attention. Every day that eyes which need glasses are forced to work without them is making them so much worse.

If headaches or anything else lead you to think that you may need glasses, I earnestly urge you not to wait any longer, but come to my office at once and find out.

MUNICIPAL COURT.

JUVENILE OFFENSES FORM CHIEF BUSINESS IN RECENT SESSION.

The Wood Boys Are Again Arraigned For Breaking and Entering and Larceny. Two Boys From Industry Sentenced For Malicious Mischief.

If business in Junior criminal conduct continues at its present pace in the municipal court, Judge Locke may deem it wise to recommend to the county the establishment of a Juvenile court, where youthful offenders may receive special judicial attention.

For the past two weeks the only offenders who have appeared before the court have been boys under 15 years of age.

Fresh from their recent court experience when they were called to answer for the charge of the larceny of $38 from Frank L. Butler's grain store, the Wood boys, Ardine and Melville, on Wednesday of last week again appeared before Judge Locke to answer for a similar offence perpetrated at the store of the W. W. Small Co. The offenders had entered through a window in the basement and from thence through a trap door to the store. The only goods the company was absolutely sure had been stolen was an Iver Johnson revolver. This was later found to be in the possession of the boys' father, Mr. Wood.

The defence claimed that this revolver had been found in the tool chest on the old transfer on the Sandy River railroad at Farmington by Joe Boston.

The prosecution failed in the evidence to connect the boys with the case and they were discharged. The revolver was identified by the W. W. Small Co. and returned to them.

On Wednesday, July 31, two Industry boys, Norman Fowler and Arthur Fickett, were arraigned before Judge Locke on the charge of malicious mischief against Mr. Sanford Spencer of the same town. The boys, according to the testimony, had gone out to Mr. Spencer's house near Henry Oliver's mill about nine o'clock in the evening and after creeping up to the house, stepped back and threw stones through the window. The boys pleaded not guilty but were found guilty and fined $5 and costs. F. W. Bailey, Esq., for the defense appealed, and Judge Locke bound the boys over under $50 bonds for their personal appearance at the September term of the Supreme court.

Some Trials.

Deputy Sheriff Harry E. Bell of Phillips arrested George Goldsmith of Salem last Saturday night on complaint of John F. Marson of Strong for alleged undue familiarity with Marson's wife, Theresa Marson.

Marson was present and he caused to be summoned for the state, several prominent citizens of the town of Salem, viz: Edgar Will, town clerk; Walter Heath, postmaster and Arthur Jones and N. P. Harris. These gentlemen were more or less familiar with the fact that Marson's wife and the respondent went riding, to dances, etc., together and that they had been often in public together but they didn't know anything to help the state in the allegations of Marson.

There was an attempt made to prove that Goldsmith paid Mrs. Marson's board, but Fred Childs, who boards at the same place and is a son of Mrs. Childs of Salem, where Mrs. Marson boards, swore that Mrs. Marson works to pay the board of herself and her baby.

Harry F. Beedy, Esq., appeared for the state and DeBerna Ross, Esq., for the respondent. Trial Justice Cony M. Hoyt could not discover probable cause for holding the respondent and discharged him.

Alice Childs, wife of Fred Childs of Phillips, appeared before Trial Justice Cony M. Hoyt last Monday on complaint of Sarah Lozena Barker, wife of Leroy G. Barker, who alleges that Mrs. Childs assaulted her on the evening of Saturday, August 10, on the sidewalk near the pavilion at Phillips upper village.

Sarah Leeman, Annie Will, Ronald Walsh and Hollis Holt were summoned by the state. There was a good deal of spicy testimony, some of it not suitable to print, and after a delay of 24 hours and the appearance of Ernest Voter, who saw the scrap, Trial Justice Cony M. Hoyt fined Mrs. Childs $1 and costs, amounting to $14.63. Harry F. Beedy, Esq., for state; DeBerna Ross for defence.

Stimulation Without Irritation.

That is the watchword. That is what Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup does. Cleanses and stimulates the bowels without irritation in any form. W. A. D. Cragin, Phillips; L. L. Mitchell, Kingfield.

Mrs. Fred O'Brien of Avon was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Bell last Wednesday and brought before Trial Justice Cony M. Hoyt on complaint of her niece, Mrs. Fred Childs, who alleged assault and battery. Nobody appearing to testify against Mrs. O'Brien she was discharged.

DOUGHERTY ISLAND.

It Is the Most Remote and Desolate Spot on Earth.

Which is the loneliest, most desolate and most inaccessible island on the face of the globe? Many people would doubtless plump for one of the Crozets, in the south Atlantic ocean. And yet Hog Island, the westernmost of the group, is by no means an undesirable place of residence, abounding as it does in hares and rabbits, penguins, albatrosses and sea elephants.

Herd island, in the same seas, is far more isolated as well as more barren, but it possesses, as does Hog, a shelter hut for castaways, and it is visited by whalers occasionally. So, too, is South Georgia, but it has no shelter hut, and as it is right out of the track of shipping any one unlucky enough to be cast away thereon would stand a very poor chance of ever getting off alive.

Bouvet island, in the same seas, is visited even more rarely, and on the last occasion when a ship touched there five corpses were found frozen on the beach, grim mementos of some unrecorded tragedy of the sea. Possession island, in its turn, is still lonelier and more inhospitable than Bouvet.

But probably the palm in this direction must be ascribed to Dougherty island, on which, so far as is known, no landing has ever been effected. It has only been sighted twice in a century and is officially described in the admiralty sailing directions as "the most remote and isolated spot on earth."—Pearson's Weekly.

Eyes Keen For Colors.

A young man who had made application for the position of clerk in the silk department of a large store was questioned closely as to the exact shade of a great variety of samples shown him. "We do that," the superintendent explained, "to make sure that you are not color blind. A dry goods store is the one place where color blindness is a positive bar to efficiency. Very often you hear of color blind workmen in all other branches of business. There are, it appears, even color blind engineers and color blind artists, but the big stores absolutely shut out men who have not a keen eye for all colors."—New York Post.

They All Thought About Alike.

Three "tired" citizens—a lawyer, a doctor and a newspaper man—sat in a back room in the gray light of the early dawn. On the table were many empty bottles and a couple of packs of cards. As they sat in silence a rat scurried across the hearth into the darkness beyond. The three men shifted their feet and looked at each other uneasily. After a long pause the lawyer spoke. "I know what you fellows are thinking," he said; "you think I thought I saw a rat, but I didn't."—Argonaut.

Observant Man.

It is a popular belief that no men "understand dress." Still, it should be known that they have a sort of rough appreciation of general effects. They can distinguish between the woman who dresses well by instinct and one who does so with an effort. They are able to recognize at a glance the girls and women who go through life in the wrong kind of garments and wearing hats which infatuation has impelled them to buy against their better judgment. — London Lady's Pictorial.

Microscopic.

The best microscopes are warranted to magnify about 16,000 times. Those are the kind most people would make use of in examining their neighbors' faults.—Washington Post.

Farm Notes.

We have mentioned the Dill brothers fine oat field in Phillips, now if they would tell the particular method employed in raising them they would confer a benefit to other readers of the WOODSMAN.

C. E. Dill, Beedy brothers and W. S. Hodges are among the few who finished haying last week. Walter has also cut hay around Berlin Mills landing and next week expects, with two men and three horses, to get Judge Morrison's hay on the Walker place.

Will Mitchell and J. R. Doyen are also among those who have finished haying. The hay of the latter was cut by Norman Calden, done by the job. I think Hezekiah Lufkin had some of the stoutest grass on this road. As a whole the hay crop will be about 90 per cent of last year's crop. How so much good hay has gone into the barns is almost a mystery.

In my diary of the 8th inst., is written: Signs of a dry spell. I hope this is not to be true, for in spite of all the bad hay weather of last month the streams are low and the ground has little water in it.

Potato beetles have been thick, wise are those who apply bordeaux or boxal and thus kill beetles and guard against future rot. Apples on the intervalle farms are nearly none, on the hills there will be a fair crop.

Will Calden has been helping the Dill brothers who expect to finish haying this week. Will and Russell Campbell will help Walter Hodges in cutting Mr. Morrison's hay.

For a change, if the day is fine, take the road over the hill, going or coming, to West Phillips and take your field glass with you. Coming down that way by the busy haymakers we could but notice that splendid field of oats belonging to Will and Joe Dill, the largest, most even, in short the best piece of oats we have seen this year. Across the road Charlie Pinkham was driving the mowing machine through very stout grass and a little further along Charles Berry was opening bunches where there must have been two tons to the acre.
