

The Last Pipeful of Sickles Is as Fresh as the First

Because you slice Sickles off the plug as you use it, and all the original flavor and moisture are pressed into the plug and kept there by the natural leaf wrapper—so that every piece of Sickles Plug is bound to be fresh when it goes into your pipe. You are sure of a slow-burning, cool, sweet smoke always.

Ground-up tobacco keeps getting drier all the time—so dry that it clogs in the bottom of the package and has to be dug out. No wonder it burns fast, smokes hot and bites the tongue.

When you buy Sickles you get more tobacco—because you don't pay for a package—and you smoke all you get, because there's no tobacco spilled and wasted. Just try Sickles today—your dealer sells it.

STATE MUSEUM.

The entire first floor of the new south wing of the State House is occupied by the museum. These enlarged quarters give the long-needed space for displaying the valuable collection the museum now contains. This collection consists of more than four hundred mounted specimens of fish, birds and animals, together with a large number of geological specimens and many miscellaneous articles—such as samples of beaver cuttings, illegal devices used in fishing and hunting which have been seized by our wardens, etc., etc.

The idea of establishing such a museum originated with former Chairman Leroy T. Carleton of this commission, in 1897, he starting the collection with an albino deer skin and a mounted moose head; each year thereafter during his term of office many new specimens were secured—many being donated and some being purchased. The collection soon outgrew the small room it first occupied in a corner of the basement of the old State House, and after two years additional room was provided. These enlarged quarters were occupied until the State House was remodeled in 1909-10. Additional specimens were placed in the museum during the brief term of office of the late Chairman James W. Brackett, in 1910-11.

Since the museum has occupied its present quarters, many mounted specimens have been added—the following having been placed therein since July, 1911. In addition to young, 1 Puffin, 1 Willet, 1 Hudsonian Curlew, 1 Hudsonian Godwit, 2 Beetle-head Plover, 1 Least Sandpiper, Maryland Yellow-throated Warbler, Black-throated Green Warbler, male and female, Baltimore Oriole, adult (male) and young male, Cedar Waxwing, Western Yellow-throated Warbler, Western Bluebird, Blue Jay, Chimney Swift, male and female, Wood Pewee, 1 Yellow leg Plover, 2 Purple Sandpipers, 1 Northern Shrike, 1 Barred Owl, 1 Richardson's Owl, 1 Hawk Owl, 1 Great Gray Owl, 1 Rough-legged Hawk, 1 Loon, 1 Red-throated Loon, Black Duck, 2 Wood Duck, 1 Bald Eagle, 2 Prairie Chickens, 1 Hawk Owl, 1 Gray Squirrel, 1 Northern Hare (Melinistic Phase), Mallard, Scaup, Widgeon, Ring-necked Scaup, Black Duck, Red-eyed Vireo and nest, Yellow Warbler, Red-tailed Hawk, 1 Mourning Warbler, 1 Mourning Dove, 1 Three-toed Woodpecker, Doe Deer, Group Moose, Bull, Cow and Calf, 1 Square-tailed Trout, Long-tailed Shrew, Red-shouldered Hawk, Wilso Thrush, Green Jay, Rose-breasted Grosbeak, Fox Sparrow, Scaled Quail, Cooper Hawk, Pied-billed Grebe, Flicker, Bluebird, Buffle Head, Virginia Rail, (male), Northern Phalarope (male and female), Least Flycatcher, female, white-throated Sparrow.

Within a few months many valuable ecological specimens have been added to the museum, the largest collection being a portion of the famous collection secured in 1836 and 1861 by Legislative authority, consisting of about 600 specimens.

These specimens were placed in the possession and under the care of Colby college in 1899, where they remained until October of this year—long ago forgotten by the public generally—when, through the efforts of the present Chairman of this Commission, the necessary Council order was passed authorizing their removal to the new State Museum where they could be properly displayed and the transfer was immediately made.

salmon have been taken from Green lake since the ice went out three weeks ago! By the way, we have not this year seen that stereotyped Bangor story about the fishing at Green lake being ruined by the fish hatchery. This year the frequenters of Branch pond are complaining, one argument being that the German trout have driven the salmon from the lake. To ease their minds, let us quote from the American of last year, when the Branch pond fish were biting and the Bangor-Green Lake colony were holding a conclave to find out why the fish didn't bite in Green lake. At that time the Gossiper said: "Every fisherman knows that there are good days and bad days for fishing, and good years and bad years for certain ponds. While fishing in one pond is good this year, fishing in another nearby pond, where all conditions seem the same, is poor. The man who can tell why fish bite on one day and not on another or on year and not on another has never been born."—Independent Skowhegan Reporter.

To-morrow we commemorate Memorial day, and let us be making preparations for a proper observance of the day, that the memory of those who did service for their country may be kept fresh in the minds of all of us. The war scenes are some distance in the past and peace prevails throughout our borders, but we should not forget those who defended our flag through the dark days and show them all reverence.

CHANGE IN WARDEN SERVICE

Fish and Game Commissioners Decide upon Important Matter.

At a meeting of the Commissioners of Inland Fisheries and Game held on Wednesday, May 21, important changes in the workings of the Inland Fish and Game warden service of the state were decided upon.

Under the new arrangement a general warden will be appointed for each county, (Arcoosook county, however, on account of its extended border territory will have two chief wardens, and some of the small counties will be grouped into one) and these chief wardens will have charge of the warden service in their respective counties—the wardens therein to work under their direction, and for whose work they will be responsible. It is expected that this new system will give the state much better warden service than under the former arrangement of having one general warden for the state, as the chief county wardens can keep in close touch with the wardens working under them and keep the office constantly informed as to conditions in their respective localities; one chief warden for the state could not, of course, be in all the counties at the same time.

The Commissioners have not completed the list of appointments of chief wardens, but the following are announced to date: Arcoosook county, F. E. Jorgensen, Haywood, to have charge of all that county north of Monticello, and Township 8, Range 5; D. L. Cummings, Houlton, chief warden for the portion of Arcoosook county south of the line above indicated; Androscoggin and Kennebec county, E. D. Harwood, Augusta; Hancock and Penobscot county, Frank M. Perkins, Bradley; Wald, Knox, Lincoln and Sagadahoc counties, F. Ray Neal, Brooks; Oxford county south of Upton and Byron, Charles P. Gray, Fryeburg; Somerset county, Frank J. Durgin, The Forks; Washington county, A. O. Dennison, Milltown.

OUR TWO MINUTE SERMON

By Rev. M. S. Hutchins.

This sermon, and others to follow, will not occupy over two minutes of your time in reading. Although miniature in size they will be real sermons. They will be based on timely topics of the day.

MEMORIAL DAY.

We ought to hold and keep Memorial day as a sacred day. It is for the fallen heroes of our country's greatest war.

Once they were athrill with eagerness and life; now their throbbing heartbeats have been silenced for many weary years. Once they were merry with youthful jest and laughter; now their only utterances come on the requiem cadences of the wind as it wings its mournful way above their graves. Once they were loudly cheered by throngs of loyal bystanders watching them go past in all the splendor of their military equipment; now the vulgar multitude is wont to forget they ever lived. Once they stood where fiercest conflict centered and fought courageously for liberty and union; now no event is great or momencleaned. Schools will be closed Friday, May 30, to observe Memorial day.

Grammar. The pupils of the seventh grade will have recitations this afternoon, Thursday, May 29. The scholars in this room are also rehearsing songs and recitations for graduation.

Intermediate. Carl Beal has returned to school after a week's absence on account of sickness.

Beginning with May 28 this department will have three recitations every morning as a part of the morning exercises.

Miss Lelia Ross is ill with pneumonia.

Nearly all the pupils that were absent last week have returned to school and the attendance is much better.

YOUNG LADY GETS MONSTER TOGUE

Porter Pond Yields the Big Fish Which Measures 30 Inches in Length and 15 Inches Around

(Special to Maine Woods.) New Vineyard, May 27—Half laughing, half crying, from sheer excitement, and nearly exhausted, but wholly elated and triumphant, Rose, 17 years old daughter of Geo. Barker, engineer in the Fred O. Smith novelty mill of this place, came excitedly into the village yestous enough to arouse any response from the cold and silent marble that marks their resting places.

Though Memorial day is for these they do not need its ministrations. They are in the presence of One who has long ere this rewarded their fidelity. But we, the living, need Memorial day! We need it to remind us of the value of our heritage and to quicken true patriotism in our own hearts.

"A debt we ne'er can pay To them is justly due, And to the Nation's latest day Our children's children still shall say, 'They died for me and you!' Four hundred thousand of 'he brave' Made this, our ransomed soil, their grave. For me and you! God! friend, for me and you."

terday with her first big fish. She had been out with friends on the ever beautiful Porter lake where, after anchoring off Clark's Point, they were absorbed in still fishing. The others in the party had dreams of big fish, but it was reserved for Miss Barker to make the trip a success from the fisherman's viewpoint by hooking, and after an exciting struggle, landing the big togue.

The fish looked large to Miss Barker when taken from the water, but before she reached home, one mile from the lake, she found it also heavy and came trailing in the dust her fine trophy. When weighed after Miss Barker reached home it tipped the scales at 8 1/4 pounds, measured 30 inches in length and 15 inches around. Truly a catch to make any fisherman proud.

(Special to Maine Woods.)

Rangeley, May 27—John L. Philbrick has so far recovered as to be up and out of doors.

E. C. Hinkley returned Thursday night from Portland where he attended the Grand Lodge of Knights of Pythias. Mr. Hinkley was one of the 73 Knights who took the Past Chancellor's degree.

A little daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nile Monday morning, May 26.

Ed Handy and family are occupying the house recently built by Nelson Hinds near Fred Conant's.

The children in the third and fourth grades reminded their teacher, Miss Mabel Pease, of her birthday, the 26th by hanging her a nice Maybasket filled with post cards.

Mrs. Deborah Peary passed her 83rd birthday Friday of last week at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Harrison Bemis of Rangeley Plantation. Her son-in-law J. D. W. Quimby, who was 73 the same day, helped her to celebrate the event. Mrs. Peary enjoyed among other good things, a post card shower and a birthday cake made by Miss Ruth Hinkley.

Rev. Herman Childs preached Sunday morning to a good sized audience. The old soldiers, Sons of Veterans and Boy Scouts occupied pews reserved for them. The church was decorated with many flags and fitting music was rendered by the choir and quartet.

Mrs. H. B. McCard entered the Ladies' Aid society Wednesday afternoon of last week. Plans for the annual fair usually held in August, are being made.

Dr. F. F. Graves and his assistant, Mr. Elliot, are in town.

Rangeley was visited by a terrific squall Sunday afternoon between three and four o'clock. A guide, who was on the lake and made an unsuccessful attempt to reach a shore before the squall struck, reports whirlwinds which carried the water high into the air. At the village great hail stones fell and laid along he walks in rows for hours, some in sheltered places not melting until well into the day Monday. At least one family enjoyed ice cream frozen with hail stones.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kempton and Mr. and Mrs. Riley Hinkley drove to Madrid Sunday to attend the funeral of Mrs. Rachel Huntington.

Twenty-six young friends of Agis Oakes spent a pleasant evening at his home on Wednesday of last week. Many tokens of remembrance were left by the guests. The amusements of the evening consisted of various games. Ice cream and cake were served.

Miss Mabel Pease, the popular Primary school teacher, was given a "really and truly" surprise party Monday night at the home of Mrs. D. E. Hinkley, where she boards. Miss Pease very obligingly fell in with every plan that was made and thus unknowingly assisted in making the affair a complete success. Thirty-two guests enjoyed the evening passing the time with guessing contests, an amusing peanut hunt and a gum chewing contest participated in only by men. In this last Reed H. Ellis received a prize for modeling the most perfect gum cat. Delicious assorted cake, strawberry and pineapple mousse and confectionery were served. Miss Pease was presented with many nice gifts.

Mrs. Ralph Wedge of Dallas, and little child were thrown from a carriage near the bandstand one day recently causing considerable excitement for a few minutes. The mother escaped with slight injuries but the child's nose was broken. It was taken immediately to Dr. Colby's where an anaesthetic was administered and the injury remedied.

Agis Oakes fell into the lake Monday, the tipping of a narrow raft which he had built being the cause. Master Oakes was thoroughly drenched but not otherwise harmed.

Four Hundred Pound Bear Puts Up a Good Fight—Pelt in Prime Condition

Asa Brown has been losing some of his sheep by bears this spring and last Thursday about dark, he and his son Carroll saw the sheep running in the pasture with a large bear after them. Seizing their rifles they ran up into the pasture and commenced shooting at the bear which was about 20 rods from them, and running by them. After the first shot the bear turned and came straight toward them with his mouth wide open. They both kept on shooting until the bear fell within ten feet of them, but not dead. They had exhausted their ammunition and the boy went back to the house for another rifle. When he returned the bear had crawled into a dense thicket of spruces and lay there growling and snarling. They shot three times more but thought it best to wait until daylight before following him in.

The next morning they went to the thicket and found his Bearship dead. He was a monster weighing over 400 pounds and very fat. There were three bullets in his head, three in his chest, one through his abdomen, one through his right arm, two through his left forearm and three in his hips. The pelt was in prime condition.

Mr. Brown says that "It was no place

EXPERIENCE OF MOTHERHOOD

Advice to Expectant Mothers

The experience of Motherhood is a trying one to most women and marks distinctly an epoch in their lives. Not one woman in a hundred is prepared or understands how to properly care for herself. Of course nearly every woman nowadays has medical treatment at such times, but many approach the experience with an organism unfitted for the trial of strength, and when it is over her system has received a shock from which it is hard to recover. Following right upon this comes the nervous strain of caring for the child, and a distinct change in the mother results.

There is nothing more charming than a happy and healthy mother of children, and indeed child-birth under the right conditions need be no hazard to health or beauty. The unexplainable thing is that, with all the evidence of shattered nerves and broken health resulting from an unprepared condition, and with ample time in which to prepare, women will persist in going blindly to the trial.

Every woman at this time should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism.

In many homes once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

HORSES OF NORTHERN FRANKLIN COUNTY, MAINE

No. 4 Continued.

By S. W. Parlin.

Quite a number of years ago a stallion named Bronze was kept for a time at Phillips. He was then owned by Dr. Palmer, who once resided and practiced medicine in Phillips but afterwards moved to Farmington, where he died a few years ago. Bronze, if the writer's memory is not at fault, was bred by C. R. Bill of Biltown, N. S. and brought to Franklin county with the stallion Jack Rysdyk by Messrs. Tarbox Brothers of Farmington, Me. Bronze was by Hartford 10350, a son of Rysdyk 653, by Rysdyk's Hambletonian 10. His dam if the writer's memory is not at fault, was by the Morgan Bellfounder horse Lord Nelson, owned in the Maritime Provinces and was the sire of Jersey Lily 23414.

The late Samuel Farmer bred and raised a trotter called Silas, Bronze that probably could show a higher rate of speed for a quarter of a mile than any other trotter ever bred in Franklin county. It has been stated upon good authority that Silas trotted a quarter in 31 seconds but enlarged glands in his throat prevented him from trotting a full mile or even a half at that rate of speed. He was taken to Massachusetts and but few of the best trotters that he encountered there could out brush him for a quarter on the road. His dam was by Hinds Knox; second dam the Henry Webber mare, a wonderful roadster called Clara Bell by Black Sultan, a son of Gen. Knox 23114; and third dam of Hambletonian descent.

Mr. Joel H. Byron raised a stallion named Castilian, that was a full brother of the dam of Silas. Castilian was a good gaited trotter and showed considerable speed. The inheritance that he derived from his two close crosses of Gen. Knox combined with the Hambletonian strain through so good an individual as the Henry Webber mare should make his cross valuable in a brood mare.

Van Belmont 2.19% that was kept for a time in this vicinity probably was the fastest record trotting stallion that ever stood in Phillips. He was a representative of the Hambletonian 10 and Vermont Black Hawk 5, combination of blood lines; a combination that has produced such trotters as Uhlan 1.58, Major Delmar 1.59%. Hamburg Belle 2.014, e. c., and such pacers as Dan Patch p. 1.554, Minor Heir p. 1.5814, Audubon Boy p. 1.594, etc. Van Belmont 2.19% was by Harbinger 1, 899, whose sire was Almont 33, a son of Alexander's Abdallah 15, by Hambletonian 10. Harbinger's 1899 dam was Omega, by Hambletonian 10 and his second dam was Daisy Maid by Seely's American Star 14, the most successful brood mare sire of his day. Van Belmont's 2.19% dam was Lady, by Gen. Knox 2.3114, a son of Vermont Herc 141, by Sherman Black Hawk 142 a son of the renowned Vermont Black 5, king of the Morgan family in his day. Van Helmont's 2.19% second dam was by Garabaldi, a son of Drew Horse 114, one of the best stock horses in Maine in his day.

None of the foals that Van Belmont got while in Phillips have made standard records but his daughters that were from good dams should make valuable brood mares. Some of the produce of his daughters that are by good trotting sires are liable to make fast records if they get into the hands of careful, competent trainers. One of the handsomest two-year-old colts that the writer has seen in a long time is owned by Will Butler, a member of the Phillips Hardware company. This colt's sire is Lord Wilkes 45,200. The colt's dam was by Van Belmont 2.19%, and his second dam, as the writer was informed by Mr. Butler, was by Young Rolfe 2.214, the sire of Nelson 2.09. The colt is a good gaited trotter and makes a very attractive appearance in harness.

Lord Wilkes 45,200 was bought when two years old by the livery stable keeper Norris J. Hackett and was kept in Phillips about four years, but is now owned jointly by Messrs. White Butler of Farmington Grey Eagle, a son of the noted thoroughbred Grey Eagle by Woodpecker and he by Ber rand, a son of the renowned Sir Archy.

The fourth dam of Lord Wilkes 45200 was by a son of the thoroughbred Bonnie Laddie. The latter was by the thoroughbred imported Glencoe and his dam was by the thoroughbred Medoc, one of the best sons of the noted four-mile race winner American Eclipse. The second dam of Bonnie Laddie was by Sumpter, a distinguished son of Sir Archy, and his third dam was by Lewis Eclipse, a son of imported Diomed, winner of the first Derby race ran in England. The writer has seen three colts, now two years old by Lord Wilkes 45200 that for size, conformation and trotting action will compare favorably with colts of the same age on the best breeding farms in New England.

One of these colts, named Lord Wilkes, Jr., is owned by Norris J. Hackett of Phillips. His dam is by Tenorone 33792, one of the best bred sons of Alclayone 2.204 by Alcyone 2.27, and his second dam was by Franklin Wilkes, a son of Wilkes 8571 by Alcyone 2.27. This gives Lord Wilkes, Jr., three cross of Alcyone blood; and through the dam of Tenorone 33792 he inherits a cross from Alcantara 2.23, a full brother of Alcyone 2.27.

Another of these colts is owned by F. Leighton, proprietor of a livery stable in Wilton, Maine. Mr. Leighton obtained him from Mr. Hackett a few weeks ago. His stable name was Rowdy. His dam was by Tenorone 33792 and his second dam by Castilian, a son of Hinds' Knox by Gen. Knox 2.3114. Lord Wilkes, Jr. and Rowdy will be kept for stock purposes. The third of these two-year-old sons of Lord Wilkes 45200, is a very handsome chestnut geld ing stallion Nelson 2.09. Marbessa will be mated this season with Messrs. W. T. Hinds and son's Brayer 53645, a highly bred and promising son of Bingara 34707. The other daughter of Kimp on 2.234 is a very handsome black mare four year old compactly made, smoothly turned and highly finished. She has good natural trotting action but of late has shown an inclination to pace. She is owned by Oscar Beedy a barber of this village.

Among other well bred stallions that have stood in this vicinity during the past few years was Cressett 23426 by Lord Russell 4677, a full brother of the old time champion trotter Maud S. 2.08%. DeBernard Ross, Esq., a lawyer of this village, is driving a grey gelding by Cressett 23426 that shows speed at the trot. When very young Mr. Ross' horse got the handsome blocky made clean limbed mare recently bought by druggist Ed Whitney of this village and will be used as a combination harness and saddle animal.

Black Ledo 2.2914, a grey horse that is represented by quite a number of descendants in this vicinity, was a direct descendant of Rysdyk's Hambletonian 10. His sire was Mountain Ledo, and the latter was by Ledo, Jr., 25491; dam by Drew Horse 114. Ledo, Jr., 25491 was by Ledo 2415 and from a dam of untraced breeding. Ledo 2415 was by Rysdyk's Hambletonian 10; dam Miss Cooley, by Telegraph 301, a son of Cassius M. Clay 18; second dam by Friday, a thoroughbred son of imported Trustee. The get of Black Ledo 2.2914 are not large, but most of them are compactly made, hardy, wiry animals, with clean flat legs and many of them are ambitious roadsters.

country. Leaving there about 6 p. m., we head for Isle au Haut, so named by the French explorer Champlain, who gave the island this name (means in our language the High Land) the mountain is 550 feet elevation and affords a fine view

I find the Turners are somewhat surprised to see me at this early date; but are never at a loss to make you feel welcome. The extreme stillness on the island is very restful and you immediately feel the relief from business cares and outside troubles. It is the greatest place for Rest Cure in the country. I call on Clarence Turner and we make our plans for the next day's fishing. About 10 a. m. after partaking of some of Mrs. Turner's breakfast, (some of you city sports just imagine yourself here) fried cod, fried potatoes, coffee, muffins, etc. Lovely day and we are ready to start for the lake four miles away. After enjoying a beautiful ride and arriving at the lake ready for business, we are somewhat doubtful about the weather as it has changed since yesterday. It is colder and looks like rain, not very promising for fishing. After putting our rods together, we get into the boat and start out. We are baited with live minnows on the end hook of a six foot leader and worms on a hook two feet up. We take our rods out, Mr. Turner rowing while I tend the rods. I want to say a word about the lake right here. It lays right under the side of the mountains which rise at an angle of 45 degrees to a height of 550 feet; the sides are covered with a thick growth of white birch with now and then an evergreen. cedar or spruce, making a beautiful contrast with the gray rocks of the mountain. The lake is one and one fourth miles long and from 100 to and Harry Furbish of Rangeley. The horse is now in the hands of Trainer Columbus Burrijl. Lord Wilkes 45,200 is remarkably well bred. His sire was Wilkes 8571, one of the best sons of Alcyone 2.27, and the latter that died when but ten years old in 1887, is, conceded by good judges to have been the best son of the renowned George Wilkes 2.22 as a progenitor of fast record trotters and pacers.

The dam of Lord Wilkes 45,200 is Edna Baron, a very valuable daughter of Oakland Baron 2.094. The latter was one of the best sons of Baron Wilkes 2.18, when judged by what his descendants have accomplished as race winners. Baron Wilkes 2.18 was one of the very best sons of the famous Geo. Wilkes 2.22. Lord Wilkes' 45,200 second dam was Ednah Earl by Ashland Wilkes 2.174, the best son of the noted Red Wilkes 1749. The latter was by the noted George Wilkes 2.22 and was the most successful brood mare sire in the Wilkes family. The third dam of Lord Wilkes 45,200 was Molly (dam of Wilto 2.2214) by Edgewater 12730, whose sire was Curtis Hambletonian 539, a son of Hambletonian 10. The dam of Edgewater 12730 was by Embury's Lexington, a thoroughbred son of the famous four-mile record breaker Lexington, and Edgewater's 12730 second dam was by Kavanaugh's ing owned by the hardware dealer. Will Butler. This colt's dam was by Van Belmont 2.194, a son of Harbinger 1899, and his second dam was by Young Rolfe 2.214, the sire of Nelson 2.09. Mr. Butler's colt is handsome enough to win a blue ribbon in high-class company in the show ring. He shows quite a striking resemblance to Harbinger 1899, the paternal grandsire of his dam, but appears even more elegant and graceful in harness than did that handsome and highly bred son of Almont 33.

There are two handsome four-year-old mares in town, got by Kimpton 2.234. One is a racy looking natural pacer, chestnut in color with white stockings and a stripe in the face named Marbessa. She goes without hoppers, shows natural speed and has the appearance of one that might learn to go fast, which she is entitled to do by inheritance. Her sire Kimpton 2.234 was owned for a time by Dr. Bell of Strong. His sire was Aller on 2.094, that lowered the champion record for trotting stallions to 2.094. Kimpton's 2.234 dam was the great brood mare Hecuba by Messenger Duos 106. Marbessa is owned by Mr. Thompson a blacksmith in this village, who informs the writer that her dam was by Joe B. Nelson p. 2.134, a son of the one time noted champion trot

IN AGAIN, OUT AGAIN, GONE AGAIN, FLANAGAN.

(Written for Maine Woods.)

Rockland, Me., May 6,—This beautiful morning brings thoughts of fishing. All reports from the lakes in this vicinity, Alford's, Mirror, the lakes at Liberty and Belfast, show that the season is two or three weeks ahead of the usual time for fishing and the fever is in my blood this promising fishing weather. So I feel that I must take my annual trip to Isle au Haut. After fixing up my fishing gear, calling in the things I had loaned to other fishermen, and obtaining my live bait I am at last ready to start, with ten minutes to catch the boat. When I reach the wharf I find that the steamboat inspectors are there and it will be two or three hours before the boat will sail, so I go back to the store and wonder if this will bring me bad luck (you know all fishermen are superstitious.)

Well, at last we are started for the island on the steamer Vinalhaven, Capt. Barbour. The sea is smooth and the trip fine. We touch North Haven first with its fine summer cottages, nice stores, beautiful harbors, e. c. Everybody is busy getting ready for the summer visitors. Next, we take our departure for Stonington, the granite 300 feet wide with water clear as crystal.

We row a few rods across the head of the lake when all at once I have a strike and a small salmon, about a pound, breaks water about 20 yards away. I realize that he is not hooked very hard and after a rush for a few yards he came out of water again and shook himself free. I wonder if this is the luck we are going to have. After an hour or so, without any bites, the rain began to fall and we decided to go ashore and feed the horse and partake of our own lunch.

This took a little time, for our luck seemed poor and we were in no haste so after the rain had stopped, (Continued on page 7.)

True Anglers Use The Williams Barbless Hook

Because it is guaranteed to catch and hold better than a barbed hook, yet you can remove the little fish without injury. Yearlings, spawn, and their killing wastes thousands of eggs, this means certain ruin to a glorious sport. The Williams Barbless hook is a scientific and a practical lure, no mechanism, just its ingenious shape. It stands for a SQUARE deal to the future of the sport; a SQUARE deal to the little fish and a SQUARE deal to yourself as a sportsman. Imported standard flies, $1.50 per dozen, bait hooks 25 cents.
