RANGELEY, Nov. 9, 1903.

Wednesday evening, Nov. 4, occurred the marriage of Miss Helen Winnifred Haines, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Haines, and Rev. Edwin Herbert Prescott, pastor of the Free Baptist church in Rangeley. The wedding, which was one of the most brilliant nuptial events that the town ever witnessed, occurred at the Rangeley Free Baptist church, where the bride is a prominent and much respected member, and was witnessed by hundreds of friends, every pew being filled.

The church was very prettily decorated with green and white. Long festoons of evergreens were attached to the ceiling and sides of the room, and on either side of the altar were screens thickly covered with evergreen and white flowers and studded with lighted tapers; while back of the altar, which was built for the occasion and covered with white, surmounted by ferns, was a high bank of foliage plants, ferns and palms. The relatives of the bride and groom, also the members of their Sunday school classes, occupied reserved seats in the front, which were roped off with white ribbon.

Promptly at 8 o'clock the strains of the Lohengrin wedding march, played by Mrs. Frank Russell, announced the arrival of the bridal party. The ushers, bridesmaids, maid of honor and the bride, escorted by her father, passed down the center aisle and were met at the altar by the groom and best man. The officiating clergyman was Rev. E. B. Tetley of Epsom, N. H., a college friend of the groom and a brother minister. The ring ceremony was used and was very impressive. At its conclusion the bridal party passed out while the organist played the wedding march by Mendelssohn.

The bride wore a most becoming dress of white silk muslin, very prettily made and trimmed with silk lace points and fagoting, and carried a bouquet of bride's roses. The bridal veil and orange blossoms were especially dainty and were the gifts of Mrs. E. P. Biss of Lexington, Mass. The maid of honor, Miss Muriel Haines, sister of the bride, wore all white and carried pinks and white carnations. Miss Edith Moulton of York and Miss Nellie Lamb of Rangeley wore white over blue, and Miss Ellen Johnston of Wilton and Miss May Carsley of Farmington wore white over pink. All four were intimate friends of the bride. The ushers were Ernest Hinkley, Harry Hutton, Dana Carlton and Berne Ellis. Olin R. Rowe was best man.

A wedding reception was held in the vestry of the church immediately following the ceremony and was attended by a large number of guests.

The vestry was most tastefully decorated with green and white crepe paper, plants and rock ferns, by Mrs. Charles Barrett and Mrs. Ada Sprague. Art squares and rugs covered the floor, and easy chairs and tables gave the room a homelike appearance. The bride and groom were assisted in receiving by the maid of honor, best man, and the four bridesmaids; the ushers being the same as in the church. The refreshments, consisting of ice cream and cake, were served by Mrs. Ella Rowe and Mrs. Ada Sprague, while the young ladies of the bride's Sunday school class acted as waitresses. The following program was carried out: Piano solo, Mrs. Frank Russell; singing, Mrs. W. L. Butler; reading, Mrs. Anna Dow; singing, Miss May Carsley.

Among the guests were Mrs. B. A. Moulton of Bangor, sister of the bride and Master Allen and Miss Elizabeth Moulton; Miss Edith Moulton of York, Miss Ella Johnston of Wilton and Mrs. S. F. Prescott of Manchester, N. H., mother of the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Prescott will make their home in Rangeley, where they have many friends who presented the wedded pair with a large number of beautiful presents, which with those sent by absent friends are as follows:

Kempton, Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Hinkley, William Lamb, Annie Wolf, Riley Hinkley; cold meat fork, Rev. G. E. Manton.

Tupper-Staples.

A charming home wedding was held Wednesday when Adelbert O. Tupper of Nova Scotia and Miss Belle Staples of Phillips were united in marriage at the future home of the contracting parties on Amble street, the ceremony being performed at 7.30 o'clock by the Rev. J. A. Ford, using the ring.

The bride was attired in a dark blue suit, trimmed with black silk applique, the waist being of dark blue silk and trimmed with white applique. She wore a large picture hat of blue velvet, trimmed with white silk applique and a long white plume. The groom wore the usual black.

The wedding was private, only a few intimate friends and relatives of the bride and groom being present. At the close of the ceremony a reception was tendered them at Wilbur's hall from 9 to 11 o'clock where a very pleasant evening was passed. Refreshments of ice cream, cake and fruit were served.

Music was furnished by Messrs. G. A. Staples, Charles Hammons of Phillips and W. L. Jones of Strong and a social hop was enjoyed till a late hour.

Mrs. Tupper is a native of Phillips and is well known here, while Mr. Tupper has, during the short time he has been in Phillips, gained many friends, and these friends unite in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Tupper a happy life.

The reception was to have been held at Phillips Hotel and invitations were sent out to that effect, but owing to the severe illness of Mr. Chas. Smith who was considered much worse on Wednesday, Mr. Chas. Mahoney, the proprietor, decided that it was best not to hold the reception there.

District No. 2, Phillips.

Henry Croteau has moved his family into Ashley Wing's house.

John Bonneau has returned from a visit to his home in Groveton, N. H.

Messrs. Geo. True and Arthur Rowe made a business trip to North Freeman last Monday.

Miss Susie Hackett spent Saturday and Sunday with Mrs. Frank Harnden.

Mrs. Linda Barrett accompanied by Miss Etta Calden drove out from Rangeley last Monday for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. George Haley.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Jones have returned from a visit to Jackson, N. H.

Mr. and Mrs. Lafayette Richardson of Mars Hill, Aroostook county, who have been visiting at T. R. Barker's, spent Thursday at Silas Wing's.

John McKenney and Artemus Smith are doing the threshing in this district this week. They report rather a light crop of grain for the amount of straw they find.

Willie Moores spent a few days the first of the week at Henry McKenney's.

George True of New Vineyard was the guest of his son, G. H. True and family the first of the week.

Linn Haley went to Rangeley last week to work for the winter.

As Morrill and Ashley Wing were returning from their work last Tuesday night, they saw a large bear about 10 rods from L. B. Field's stable under an apple tree. It being bright moonlight, they watched Bruin as he marched off up the hill toward the mountain.

RUBBER VS. LEATHER.

School Board and Principal Still In a Stew.

A Young Lady Who Had New Leather Heels "Padded."

Special correspondence to Maine Woodsman.

FARMINGTON, Nov. 10, 1903.

"To wear rubber heels or not to wear rubber heels" still seems to be the question. Whether it is better to adopt those appendages required by the law givers of the Farmington High school or to remain at home is still, with some, the question.

The excitement in regard to the new law requiring the use of rubber heels has somewhat subsided, but a feeling of dissatisfaction still lingers among many.

Nearly all of the expelled students have adopted the heels and gone back to school. Two exceptions are all we have been informed of. One young lady flatly refuses to wear them and we understand is backed up in this by her parents.

The other young lady returned to school minus the rubber heels. She was immediately expelled by Prof. Penell. Going directly to her father she related the fact, whereupon he took her shoes and had some soft leather pads placed upon the heels. He then called the school board together, took them to the Savings bank and had his daughter walk across the hard wood floor several times to show them the effect of the padded heels. A compromise was effected whereby the young lady was allowed to return to school and wear her padded heels.

Weld.

Frank Hodsdon has been finishing off a kitchen in the ell part of his house.

Wm. Parlin recently moved his family here from Madrid.

Messrs. Harry Masterman and Freeman Watts moved their cider press back from Carthage and have since been making cider in the grist mill where they were before going away.

Andrew Davenport of Phillips has been in town recently.

Leavitt Masterman is cooking in Temple for a crew of twelve men. These men are employed by H. H. Farrar to cut white and yellow birch for the American Enamel company.

Schools in town close this week. Truman Masterman, who has been visiting in Connecticut, returned home a few days ago.

The wedding reception of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. A. Kehew given Saturday evening was the chief social event of last week, and proved a very delightful occasion considering the weather. The guests began to arrive about 7 o'clock, and before long the rooms were filled. During the evening an oyster supper was served.

Owing probably to the cold, windy night the musicians did not appear. It is a rather poor crowd however, in which there are no musical persons and with the aid of the organ, some very creditable pieces, both vocal and instrumental were rendered. The couple in whose honor this occasion was given furnished the principal part of the music by singing several duets and solos.

During the evening Mr. and Mrs. Kehew took their stand in the parlor under the evergreen wreath beneath which they had been united nearly three weeks previous and there received the congratulations and best wishes of their many friends present.

Before the company broke up the gentlemen enjoyed a smoke on Mr. Kehew. But time is ever busy and before it was fairly realized a late hour had arrived, and before the last goodnight was said another day had been ushered in.

A source of considerable attraction were the tables on which the presents were arranged, a list of which follows: Oak rocker, bed spread, shade lamp, pair woolen blankets, table cover, damask table cloth, set Mrs. Pott's flat irons, two carving sets, cake plate, two pictures, lace top collar, toothpick holder with picks, silver mounted mustard pot, china sugar bowl and cream pitcher, two sugar shells, two butter knives, silver mounted pickle jar, pie knife, two meat forks, salad fork, pickle fork, glass berry set, cream ladle, two gravy ladles, silver syrup pitcher, half dozen fruit knives, one and a half dozen teaspoons, fruit dessert spoons, one dozen linen napkins, three linen tray cloths, twelve towels, three pairs pillow cases, glass tray, vase, and $20.00 in money.

Reception to Church Members.

A very pleasant evening was passed last Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. N. P. Noble, a reception being given to the new members of the Congregational church.

The evening was passed with games, and vocal and instrumental music. Dainty refreshments of chocolate, coffee, cake and marguerites were served from the dining room, Mrs. F. H. Wilbur presiding. A delightful time was enjoyed by all, Mr. and Mrs. Noble entertaining in their usual pleasing manner.

The new members of the Congregational church at Strong were also guests of Mr. and Mrs. Noble.

The Onlooker.

Sunday is getting to be a fearless day in the suburbs of Phillips. The man seen with a fair sized bag on his shoulders, supposed to contain veal, was watched by the Onlooker who expected to see the man drop dead; the reason for this was the fact that it was Sunday. The man no doubt had the same fear, for he ran like blazes when he found that he was seen. The reason the man did not drop was that he had no time to spare in which to do so. All this happened some time ago.

Yet Sabbath breakers do sometimes receive condign punishment. Once a Phillips man went out on the "first day morning" to dig worms for bait. It was not only the season for worms but also that in which farmers tie their male sheep to run-rounds. The man was busy, stooping and gathering his spoil, with his back turned to the animal. All at once this male sheep, which the Germans appropriately name the "rammer," darted forward! When the rear part of the man and the front part of the ram came together the result was terrific.

The man at first assumed an horizontal attitude; then he came to a perpendicular having a bunch of grass in each hand, but his mouth was a vacuum. The man did not swear; when the air filled his vacant mouth he simply called upon the name of his best girl, his utterance was not quite distinct, but the name sounded like—Gawdie Mytie.

Last summer Mrs. Onlooker obtained some fly paper from the Brick store. Later a Phillips hen observed a sheet, with pseudo flies on it, which had become detached from its nail near the outer door.

So she investigated and in doing so stepped upon the sheet; here she stood a while pulling first one foot and then the other from the strange plaster. Later a look of firm resolution came over her countenance and she squatted for a tremendous effort to fly; in doing this she sat down! Her flight ended ingloriously, and in four minutes she was the most horrible looking hen in Phillips!

Removing the plaster removed some feathers, while those left were loaded with sawdust and grass. The only medicine available was given to her and she "got it in the neck" and now lays with her ancestors.

Yet fly paper has its beneficent uses: Mrs. Onlooker keeps a lot of cats; one of these, a very large Thomas had for a long time given her much trouble by occasionally jumping upon the dining table. One day in doing this he alighted upon a sheet of fly paper and then there was a circus, what Naseby used to call a "cat cuss." That cat went around the room some eleven times—more or less—uttering the most blood-curdling yells which ever fell upon human ears! At last he went out an open window taking the wire screen with him.

He tore across the field for an eighth of a mile like a dog which had been cruelly turpented. This cat's was a case of greater cruelty than putting cats-up in bottles which is very common. Thomas returned before long; that fly paper had increased the size and stiffness of his tail to that of Mrs. Onlooker's rolling pin; he was taken in hand and his tail sheared, but he never has jumped upon the table from that day.

Obituary.

MRS. RACHEL M. ELLSWORTH.

Mrs. Rachel M. Ellsworth, widow of Daniel Ellsworth, formerly of the Mile Square, Avon, died at La Seur, Minn., on Nov. 2 and the remains were brought to Phillips for interment as mentioned last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth went to Minnesota in 1871. Mr. Ellsworth died April 8, 1898 and his remains were also interred in the new cemetery in Phillips.

Mr. Ellsworth was engaged in the lumber business at La Seur in company with Melvin B. Morton, who married his wife's sister. Mr. and Mrs. Morton accompanied Mrs. Ellsworth's remains to Phillips and the funeral was held from the residence of Geo. H. Hamlin of Avon, Mrs. Hamlin being a cousin of Mrs. Ellsworth.

RODE THE GOAT.

Visiting Knights of Pythias See Degree Worked.

Rank of Esquire Conferred and Banquet Served.

Last Thursday evening was a memorable occasion in the annals of the Sandy River lodge, No. 115, K. of P. of Phillips, for they not only demonstrated to their visiting brothers from Strong, Farmington and Kingfield that they were a very wide awake lodge, but also that they were hosts, who well understood the art of entertaining.

At about 8 o'clock the special train from Farmington and Strong reached Phillips, bringing representatives from Alpha lodge, No. 84, of Farmington, Marathon lodge, No. 96, of Strong and Alhambra lodge, No. 93, of Kingfield, about 50 in all. They at once proceeded to the hall of Sandy River lodge at the upper village, where the meeting was called to order, and the rank of Esquire was conferred on one candidate by the degree team of Sandy River lodge. It was done in a very impressive manner and received many compliments from the visiting brothers.

After the business of the evening was over, adjournment was in order and all repaired to the banquet hall where full justice was done to the tempting viands both by the out of town members and the home lodge.

Among the visitors present was Past Grand Chancellor Bucknam of Woodfords, who made some very interesting remarks during the evening.

A very pleasant evening was passed by all and at a late hour reluctant good-byes were said and with a cheer for Sandy River lodge, the visiting K. P.'s started homeward.

True Account of Reed's Mill Accident.

REED'S MILL, Nov. 9, 1903.

To the Editor of Maine Woodsman:

Seeing there were so many versions of the shooting accident near Reed's Mill I thought I would write you a true account of the same as it occurred on Nov. 3. I was riding down on the handcar as stated and when about one and one-fourth miles above the station I saw the freight train approaching, so the section men stopped the car and we all got off to remove the car from the track. But the section men decided that they had time to run down a few rods to a jigger, where it would be more convenient to remove the car. So they ran the car down and I picked up my gun which I had laid down to assist them, and started to run down behind the car and while doing so caught my foot on something which threw me. As I fell forward the gun was brought in front of me and the hammer must have come in contact with something with sufficient force to discharge the gun, the load of fifteen buckshot striking the inside of my left thigh about one inch below the groin, cutting out a piece of flesh about $\frac{1}{4}$ of an inch deep (in the deepest place) an inch wide and $\frac{1}{2}$ inches long.

L. C. REED.

Notes From the Logging Camps.

Last week, Wednesday, was a day of accidents in the logging camps of No. 6. Gus White was the first victim; a fellow workman was driving a steel wedge when a piece of the steel flew from it striking White in one eye and cutting it so badly that the colored part ran out. By advice of Dr. Hilton White went to Portland for treatment.

Mr. Sheriff, who is one of the Rangeley guides, cut his foot badly; he is yet in camp, but it will be a fortnight before he goes to work. Jim Rogers was struck by a limb from a falling tree and a bad gash cut in his scalp. All these accidents occurred the same day and all were men in Pat Redmond's crew.

Two men at Lockhart's camp were hurt, one on the same day as the others. One injured his ankle and the other cut his foot. Both will have to lay by for a while.

There are additions to the camps since last week. Mr. Lockhart now has 63 men; Redmond 65 and Laves 50. To those add 20 more at the Depot Camp.

Larry Petrie and Albert McBeth were both laid up last week from knee pox; these are workmen at Haley's camp. W. T. Beedy 1 ft from the same camp last Saturday being sick.

Four heavy oxen were added to the Haley camp last week; two trains of birch went over the No. 6 road; neither were quite so large as Aldrich used to pilot down.

AMONG THE CHURCHES.

At the Union church Rev. Mr. Peterson spoke upon the work of the American board of Congregational foreign missions, giving some statements as heard at the recent national meeting of that board at Manchester, N. H. The text was the last two verses of the Gospel as given by Matthew, "Go ye therefore, and make disciples of all the nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost; teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I commanded you: and lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world."

In Christ's last meeting with his disciples, in his closing words before his ascension he gave them their commission and charge concerning their work in his kingdom. From the cross he had said, "It is finished." The sacrifice had been completed, his work for the redemption of mankind accomplished. But as he stands for the last time with disciples his farseeing vision reaches beyond the little land in which his earthly life was passed, and he knows that all lands are to hear his name and own its power. The promises given by God in the centuries that had past are the assurance that he has not laid down his life in vain, but that in him all nations of the earth shall be blessed. He has seen that it is expedient that he go away, that the Spirit may come with power upon the disciples. He charges them to do their part in the work of adding disciples to those already made and so helping to fulfill the promises of God.

The apostles accepted this charge as a most sacred trust. They believed the world was to hear and accept the message of their God and his Christ. They believed that the promises of God which Paul, in the first chapter of the epistles to the Romans says were given by the prophets in the Holy Scriptures, were being fulfilled. Paul spoke the thought of them all when, in this same chapter he says, "I am not ashamed of the gospel: for it is the power of God unto salvation to everyone that believeth."

Their faith took hold of the promises and they believed that the world was to be won to Christ. Rome was the center of the political and commercial world. To reach this was to assure the most rapid dissemination of the faith they taught. We find Paul, that most valiant apostle with face set steadfastly toward Rome, turned back again and again, yet ever seeking to reach the "Imperial city" that he might there proclaim the gospel of Christ. At last reaching the goal, though by ways which he did not seek, he stood as a faithful witness to the power of that salvation, which he preached.

From this beginning, mission work has gone on through the centuries. All Christian lands and denominations have societies for systematic work in mission fields. I wish to speak in particular of the "American board" by which title is known the society which conducts the mission work of the Congregational churches of this country. It is a mighty organization of forces, its work planned and conducted by 350 picked men of means, ability and training. Its business is conducted in such a way that everywhere the name of the American board is honored and in many places it is the most satisfactory medium through which foreign financial affairs can be transacted.

At the recent meeting in Manchester three motives for the great efforts and continued work of the board were given. The first is the authority of Christ. The command given to Peter and the other disciples was accepted by Paul, by Timothy by succeeding apostles as spoken to themselves. It is spoken to all Christians today. We are the servants of Christ. It is our work to obey him. On his authority, and because it is his command, we seek to gain him disciples in all nations.

The second reason or motive is that Christ's command has its basis in our common humanity. All men are brothers. As such we have compassion one for another. Where we see burdens resting heavily, where we see men held down by ignorance, by sin, by any degradation, we wish to help and lift up. This humanity is the key word of the efforts of men today, and it is the fruit of Christ's word. We see in him the great helper, the source of the strength that shall lift men up, and we go to tell men of him.

The third motive is found in our debt to the past. To the lands of our forefathers light was brought by the missionaries from Rome. Knowledge, light, civilization, have come to us from the past. Those who have given to those who had not. Ours in turn it is to give to those who yet have not, and who sit in the lands of darkness. "Freely ye have received, freely give."

Let me tell you a few things in regard to the special work of the American board. It was organized 90 years ago. Today it has 549 missionaries with 350 native helpers. These are in many lands, for the board has sent its workers and carried the scriptures printed in their own language to people speaking 23 different languages. It has 530 churches with 55,000 members, and 60,000 Sunday school pupils. Preaching is sustained by it in 1600 places.

Its educational features are a growing work. Permanent schools are established, many of which have now become self supporting. There are 1,100 common schools under its care. These have 46,000 pupils, all of which are trained in its truths. The higher institutions of learning number 132 with 11,000 pupils who are trained to become leaders in all the walks of life. Industrial training is in many schools made a part of the work.

Many persons who do not receive instruction directly from the schools are benefited by the literature distributed, the influence of which reaches oftentimes places that the teachers can not, for where men can not go, books can enter. Last year 87,000,000 pages were sent out on their mission of good.

Another branch of the work is seen in the hospitals. Healing the body often opens the heart. The board has 28 hospitals and 42 dispensaries. So careful is the management that 300,000 patients have been treated at an average cost of only 5 cents each, and best of all each one of these many thousands hear of Christ.

Messages of transformation in individuals, in communities and in the general conditions of living come from India and Japan, from Turkey and China, from Africa, from Spain and Mexico.

The business management of the organization is of the ablest. As suggested at first its credit is as good as gold. So carefully and economically are its affairs conducted that only 8 1/2 per cent of the moneys received are consumed in the transaction of business and the sustaining of the necessary mechanism of such a gigantic organization. The remainder is expended in the mission fields themselves.

Is not here an opportunity to help by our means in carrying out the commission of Christ and in answering the appeal which the needs of our brothers yet in darkness make to us?

A collection for the work of the American board was then taken.

Flagstaff.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Swift of Livermore are in town for the winter.

A party of sportsmen are at Cliff Wing's cabins on the Spencer. Cliff Wing and Leo Standish are guides.

J. A. Rice of Solon was in town with Davis Sewing machines for sale last week.

Al Dolbier of Farmington was in town Saturday buying fur.

A boiler inspector was here to inspect the boiler at the steam mill Sunday forenoon.

The ladies of the Eastern Star are rehearsing for a farce, entitled, "Female Masonry," to be played Friday evening, Nov. 20. This will be followed by a grand ball and an oyster supper served by the ladies of the chapter, all at reasonable prices, the proceeds for the benefit of Somerset Chapter, O. E. S.

Miss Ena Wright has gone to Boston to spend the winter with her brother, A. E. Wright.

J. F. Collins and daughter of New Portland have been visiting his son, Geo. Collins.

Edwin Grose, with a crew of men, is pressing hay in this vicinity. They pressed 20 1/2 tons in one day at W. M. Viles's. This is a big day's work.

The waterworks have been extended across the mill stream to the residence of Ray Viles and D. A. Butler the past week.

Alvin Wing, while hunting at the foot of Mt. Bigelow recently, shot a fisher. It is very rare that one of these sly animals is secured without a trap. He sold the skin to Al Dolbier for $9.

Ansel Eames has been on the sick list the past week. Master Kinley Lincoln is suffering from an abscess in his throat.

Tory Hill, Phillips.

Deer are quite plenty on the Hill and are seen often. Will Gates shot one the other morning a few rods from his barn.

Mrs. R. L. Sprague has gone to Massachusetts to spend the winter with her daughter.

Mrs. John Ranger, with her son and daughter, are visiting at Geo. Hood's. Sidney Gay visited at L. B. Bunnell's one day last week.

Frank Willard of New Sharon has been visiting his mother, Mrs. Will Mitchell, recently. He made her a present of a very nice fur coat.

Emery Moore has been doing some mason work for William Moores.

Avon.

Harry Berry and Mr. Goodwin of West Farmington are up under the mountain packing apples.

Howard Sanborn of Fairbanks visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Hillgrove, over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Morton visited relatives in Dixfield and Rumford last week.

John Gay and Fred Allen were at R. L. Hillgrove's over Sunday.

Carroll Russell shot a deer recently.

Mrs. Andrew Wilbur and daughter, Lizzie, recently visited relatives in Temple.

R. L. Hillgrove is in Farmington this week.

Frank Morrison and Fred Morton are in the woods logging for Byron & Haley.

A Remarkable Case.

One of the most remarkable cases of a cold, deep seated on the lungs, causing pneumonia, is that of Mrs. Gertrude E. Fenner, Marion Ind., who was entirely cured by the use of One Minute Cough cure. She says: "The coughing and straining so weakened me that I ran down in weight from 148 to 92 pounds. I tried a number of remedies to no avail until I used One Minute Cough cure. Four bottles of this wonderful remedy cured me entirely of the cough, strengthened my lungs and restored me to my normal weight, health and strength." Sold by W. A. D. Cragin.

Wilton.

The second meeting of the Bible class occurred last week with a good attendance and much interest is being manifested.

UP IN KINGFIELD.

Special correspondence to Maine Woodsman
KINGFIELD, Nov. 9, 1903.

A corrected report of the accidental shooting of Mark Cross at Tufts pond, Wednesday night of last week, should be published in justice to all concerned. Cross was waiting at the turn of the road, which leads to Birch point, for Mr. Geo. Staples of Lowell, his employer, who was to be driven there upon the arrival of the evening train. Tired of waiting and a little cold he crossed the road into the orchard near by and as he was moving about was mistaken for a bear by Fred Libby, who was out with his gun loaded with bird shot looking for partridge.

Libby did not expect to kill the bear but thought that he would risk a shot just for the name of firing at one. He thinks he was fifty yards distant. As he fired he started for a tree which he proposed to climb should the bear turn on him. Cross, who received seven of the shot, four in the head and three in parts of the body, was apparently unconscious for a few moments, but soon made outcry which Libby responded to and had him brought to Kingfield at once for care and treatment.

The shot were probed for the following morning by Doctors Pennell of Kingfield and Hilton of Phillips and all recovered but one in the throat. The shot were about No. 2. Mr. Cross since the operation has been getting on well and no serious results are anticipated. He is a native of Kingfield and had designed to remain here all winter, work being dull in brick laying in Lowell, where he has been employed. It is said of Cross that at 16 years of age he was the champion shot of Franklin county. He is now 28. He is stopping at the home of his old friend, Bert Doblier.

The following incident will show how the most cool, deliberate and methodical minds may be quickly upset by the advent of something new and unexpected in their lives. While County Attorney Wing and Trial Justice O. C. Dolbier were on their way to Rangeley to examine into the recent supposed incendiary case and while on a smooth level piece of road, with Mr. Wing holding the reins, suddenly the horse missed his footing, tripped, fell and became entangled in the harness. Mr. Dolbier quickly sprang out and took the horse by the head. Mr. Wing also alighted, then thrusting his hands into his pocket began promenading around, saying, "What shall I do? what shall I do? "Do!" said Mr. Dolbier, "unhitch that horse and let him up!" These words had the desired effect and soon they were jogging on again. No wonder witnesses became flurried when something unexpected happens.

Mr. Abram Lodge, A. F. & A. M., installed the following officers Thursday evening, Nov. 5, Past District Deputy Grand Master Frank Stanley officiating. C. L. Barker acted as grand marshal: H. G. Winter, W. M.; Fred Hutchins, S. W.; J. E. Voter, J. W.; E. E. Jenkins, Treas.; A. C. Woodard, Sec.; Frank Hutchins, S. D.; Will Lovejoy, J. D.; Carroll E. Young, S. S.; Hartley Sprague, J. S.; W. G. Doyen, C.; C. L. Barker, T. It was decided to have a supper at K. of P. hall, Thursday evening, Nov. 19, and all members and their ladies are invited to be present. The purpose of the meeting is to make preparations for finishing the new hall which will be ready Jan. 1st. A large and enthusiastic attendance is hoped for and expected.

Leslie Wilkins has returned home from Jefferson Medical college because of ill health.

Chas. Barker has returned from a visit of several weeks with his sons in Providence.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hodgman will board with U. S. Jacobs as soon as Mrs. Hodgman is able to be moved. She is reported gaining slowly.

Otto Butts came home from Lewiston Saturday. He will visit for a while and later he and Ross Jordan propose to go to Pittsburg, Pa., for the winter.

Chas. Foster was quite sick early in the week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Littlefield of Wells Beach have been visiting her mother Mrs. Jas. Lord, and brother, Fred Blanchard. They spent several days at Dead River last week and while there Fred got a deer and shot at an albino buck that he considered the handsomest specimen he ever saw.

Bion Stevens is cutting wood on the Doyen lot on the side of Freeman Ridge. He has contracted 125 cords to private parties and 150 cords to the Huse mill, and expects orders for more.

Mrs. Daniel Cushman and Mrs. Wm. McMullen were at Portland and other places last week.

Wm. Witham will build a stable on his lot, North Main street, this fall.

E. S. and W. V. Larrabee made a business trip to Phillips Saturday.

Mrs. Nathan Dolbier of New Portland is attending Mrs. Angier Jacobs, who is now able to be up.

Miss Josephine Thompson finishes a very successful term of school in the west part of the town this week.

Mrs. Kate Porter visited in Farmington Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Al. Beal of North Anson called on Mrs. W. S. Jacobs one day recently on their return from Spring lake. Mr. Beal spends his summers in the Klondike regions.

Kingfield Churches.

F. B. CHURCH.

The pastor speaking of the Master's will in business life said in part: If asked to state in plain, simple, direct language what that will was he could do no better than quote the Apostle Paul. Romans xii, 11, "Not slothful in business, fervent in spirit, serving the Lord."

This in condensed form is the Master's will because it touches the life throughout. Gradually lifts one from the busy cares of life into thought communion and relationship with the Divine. The early Christians accepting the new faith did so believing the Lord was soon to appear for them. That they were in a very short time to be translated from earth to Heaven. This brought about an apathy, an indifference for temporal things and gave birth to the idea that to be a Christian meant disqualification for the ordinary affairs of life.

But today there is a change and the world wants Christians because they are industrious. Because they are fervent in spirit and the pages of history are ablaze with deeds of men and women and boys and girls who became great because of their strong religious tendencies.

Today we need not emphasize the first and second parts of our text, for generally speaking people are industrious enough and fervent enough but the question is, Is it all done with the thought and purpose of serving the Lord? The first two won't suffice. That is but part of his will. Subscribe to the last and it will be complete.

We should do all this because we should treat the Master as we treat one another at least. A gentleman supplies another with means. Sets him up in business. What will that man do?

Will he not consult his partner? Seek advice? Ask directions? Assuredly. Now the Master has started us in life. Set us going. Given us health, strength and ability. Power of body and mind. In short all that we are and have comes from him. Should we not treat him with the same courtesy. And yet I fear too much business is carried on without ever asking his advice. Consulting with him, talking it over. This is not right. It is not just. It is not honorable and if the whole will of the Master was lived out and everything done with the view of serving the Lord there would be less villainy, less corruptions and thousands of iniquitous dues exterminated. Again we should do the Master's will because he loves us. He wants to bear our burdens. At no time is the Master's help needed more than in the common affairs of life. Mothers in the worry of domestic life. Fathers in the battle for bread. Business men in mercantile life with all its worry and disappointments when thousands misunderstand you. Do not see the noble effort you are secretly perhaps putting forth for a nobler life. The Master sees, understands and knows all about it. Let him come in to aid, to encourage, to sympathize with you and while diligent in business and fervent in spirit, do his whole will by doing all with the thought of serving the Lord.

EVANGELICAL CHURCH.

In the Evangelical church the pastor preached from the text found in Rom. vi. 16. He said in part: "In the preceding chapter Paul tells us that we are justified by faith, 'Therefore being justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ.' Peace is the direct opposite of rebellion, strife, turmoil and dissension. It is a sense of quietness, restfulness, brought about a complete cessation of hostilities and the entire surrender to the supreme power of God. What a relief when we realize that the inward strife is ended and Christ, the burden bearer, has lifted our load of guilt and sin!"

"The sin question is the subject uppermost in the minds of both preacher and laity. The question that meets us today and which you and I must solve for ourselves is, 'What relationship do we as professed Christians and church members bear towards sin? Are we hugging some secret sin to our breasts and indulging in its forbidden pleasure?' If so, remember, 'That the way of the transgressor is hard,' also be sure your sin will find you out sooner or later."

God knows the secrets of men's hearts and unless we fully repent and forsake sin of every character, there will come a time when God will show us up in our true light and then it will be too late to make amends. Remember the Word, 'Now is the accepted time and now is the day of salvation.'

Our text reveals to us an easy solution to this important question, What is my bearing towards sin or how does sin stand in relationship to me? Am I under its dominion? Does it bear an influence upon my life? Am I led to 'fulfill its commands in any way? Do I give it a place in my heart? These are questions that are vital to us. Let us carefully examine ourselves in regard to them; not with just a passing thought, but with the careful attention they deserve. Under the light of our text, how can we make any mistake? 'Know ye not, that to whom ye yield yourselves servants to obey, his servants ye are to whom ye obey; whether of sin unto death or of obedience unto righteousness.' In the twelfth verse of this chapter Paul states our proper relationship to sin. 'Let not sin therefore reign in your mortal body that ye should obey it in the lusts thereof.' Dr. Adam Clarke in commenting on the verse says in substance: 'Let there be no sin remaining in your body, for if there still remain any sin or carnality, it will exercise a certain amount of control or reign to a certain extent.' It is therefore necessary if we meet God's requirements that we be cleansed from all sin. This is possible. The Word asserts that if we meet the conditions, walking in the light as he is in the light or walking in holiness as God is holy, the blood of Jesus Christ, his son, cleanses us from all sin.

STATE OF MAINE.

By the Governor A PROCLAMATION.

In observance of the custom established by our forefathers and conforming to the proclamation of the President, I, John F. Hill, governor of Maine, hereby designate THURSDAY, THE TWENTY-SIXTH DAY OF NOVEMBER, INSTANT, as a day of public Thanksgiving to Almighty God for the multitude of blessings which we have received at His hand and for the expression of our gratitude for His loving kindness.

On that day let all unnecessary labor be suspended and in our homes and accustomed places of worship let us unite in making this a time of grateful and heartfelt thanksgiving.

The year now approaching its close has been one of prosperity to the state and the Nation. To the highest degree we have enjoyed every blessing of civilized life and as we give thanks to Him whose watchful care ruleth over all, let us remember the unfortunate and needy that they also may share in our prosperity.

GIVEN at the Executive chamber at Augusta this sixth day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and three and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and twenty-eighth.

JOHN F. HILL,
By the Governor.

BYRON BOYD,
Secretary of State.

GOVERNOR HILL is to designate Thursday, November 26, as Thanksgiving day.

MAINE now has 272 Rural Free Delivery routes in Maine.

MR. W. J. RYAN has been making his 22nd annual tour through Maine selling the Old Farmer's almanacs for the year 1904. Mr. Ryan is totally blind but this does not prevent him from making his trips each year.

It is reported that sixty persons from the Holy Ghost and Us society at Shiloh are traveling about the country looking for work. Some left of their own accord and others for reasons best known to the officials of Shiloh. Rev. Frank W. Sandford, the founder of the colony, has been in Boston for the past six weeks.

RUMFORD FALLS reckons that $157,080 represents her permanent improvements this year. A large share of this has been expended by the three well-known companies, the Rumford Falls Realty, the Rumford Falls Power and the Rumford Falls Light and Water company.

A LUBEC man thus describes the town in which he lives: "Lubec is situated on a neck of land surrounded by a large bump of dampness, often called by people possessing money 'aqua.' People are industrious and it is quite a busy place when the sardine spends his summer with us. This year they have shunned us, owing to the way they have been used in years past. But there are some people who are on intimate terms with the Bloaters who seem to think with the aid of a Methodist minister, fasting and prayer they can induce the business promoters to return. We have eight months winter and eight months summer. This phenomenon is owing to whether you are talking to a native or golf player. We have very little sickness and only a few are afflicted with music, and basket ball is under control. We have waterworks, electric lights and are making almost enough to pay our taxes."

RANGELEY NEWS NOTES.

Special correspondence to MAINE WOODSMAN.

RANGELEY, Nov. 10, 1903.

Moore & Co., of Borton are making a preliminary survey at Rangeley for the purpose of getting an appropriate idea of the chance of supplying the village with water.

Moore & Co., are contractors and builders of hydraulic works and are represented here by John Brown, a civil engineer. Arthur Oakes is working in company with Brown.

It is proposed to bring the water from Saddleback stream, a distance of four and a quarter miles.

Mrs. Melvin Tibbetts has returned from a visit of several weeks with friends in Dixfield. She was accompanied by Miss Lola and three younger children.

Mrs. Geneva Ellis has just received an invalid's table sent her by Mrs. Howe, a lady who spent the summer at the Rangeley Lake House.

Miss Guida Huntoon is working for Mrs. Lucy Herrick.

Mrs. H. T. Kimball who has been ill for some time, was taken worse last week, but is now somewhat better.

The schools in town close this week with the exception of the High school, which will continue two weeks longer.

C. E. Huntoon's teams went into the woods Tuesday, to work for the winter.

The pupils of the village schools held a meeting of the School league last Friday evening.

Mrs. Betsey Tibbetts and son, Axel, returned from North Anson Saturday.

Mrs. Alice Coburn has been visiting friends in town.

Rev. Arthur Golder occupied the pulpit of the Free Baptist church Sunday, and preached a very interesting sermon from Philippians 2, xiii. Mr. Golder goes this week to assume his new pastorate in Cherryfield.

Rev. and Mrs. Prescott have begun housekeeping in the Geo. Snowman house on Main street.

Walter Frances, who has spent nearly two months boarding at Dexter Lamb's, returned to his home in Taunton, Mass., much improved in health.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stewart have taken rent on Lake street.

Nate Ellis was not able to take part in the big potato contest this fall but he has some turnips that he thinks will compare favorably with any others. He has six turnips that weigh 63 pounds. The largest weighed 14 pounds and 2 ounces.

W. S. Skofield, the well known clerk of Neal, Oakes & Quimby is soon to start on the road as drummer for the winter.

On Tuesday last Deputy Sheriff Geo. M. Esty went with a search warrant to the Italian camp at Oquossoc, owned by Gentile and Lavongna and found one keg and fifteen bottles of lager beer and Wednesday they paid $100 and costs. Mr. Esty also seized sixteen half barrels of beer at the station consigned to the same party.

Trial of Dennis Taylor For Incendiarism.

The trial of Dennis Taylor for incendiarism has been the leading topic of conversation during the past week. Public sentiment is strongly against Dennis, but when the subject of motive, his personal character, and the possibility of his getting home at the time he was seen there, and the lack of direct evidence, is taken into consideration there is a strong position for the defendant.

Perhaps the best evidence against him is the similarity of the hand writing, which County Attorney Wing obtained from him at the trial and which is said to correspond with that of the notices which have been found pasted to the buildings threatening to burn them if a certain woman—Mertie Giles—was allowed to remain in the same.

As the story goes Mrs. Giles has been driven from place to place the past summer by these notices. Some of the notices were printed, thus disguising the hand writing. She finally went to live with her father at Coplin plantation and soon the anonymous notice was pasted on the barn door. Her father, Henry Tibbetts, decided to take the risk rather than turn away his daughter, and the result is manifest.

Dennis was arrested at his home by Deputy Sheriff Geo. M. Esty, on Thursday and tried the same day at Furbish hall by H. S. Wing and O. C. Dolbier of Kingfield.

Dennis objected to being tried without counsel which was denied him by Justice Dolbier on the grounds that it was to be only a preliminary hearing. Dennis called three witnesses, his father, mother and brother. The county had six. Henry Tibbetts, Nelson Hinds, G. M. Esty, Alexis Blodgett, Reuben Wilbur and Isaac Green.

Each witness was only examined on a few general questions.

Henry Tibbetts testified to the arrangement of his buildings and the burning occurred about 6.30 p. m. Said he did not suppose he had an enemy in the world. His loss was almost complete, including live stock in the barn. He described tracks found in the sand and gravel back of the barn leading both to and from the barn. Those going from it were of a man running at full speed.

Nelson Hinds testified to having been called at about midnight to drive to the Taylor place and find if Dennis was at home. He overtook Dennis just before reaching the door of the Taylor house, and engaged him in conversation in regard to working for him in the logging woods. Dennis had his rifle and made no excuse for being out at that hour.

Reuben Wilbur testified to accompanying Hinds on the same ride and of seeing Dennis, but not wishing to be seen by him, left the carriage before Hinds got within speaking distance.

George Esty testified to having arrested him at his home and also to having taken from the premises several pairs of shoes that were in court.

Isaac Greene testified to having seen the fire and driving to the place with all speed, found the building nearly consumed. The next morning he made a second call and saw the tracks which he was able to follow some eighty rods. The man had a shoe on one foot and a rubber on the other. The nails in the shoe heel marked the rocks and logs, and the tap on the rubber shoe left the impression of a long point that extended from the ball of the foot ending in a point at the heel under the instep. He had taken careful measurements of the track which he said corresponded with those of the shoes taken from the Taylor house.

Alexis Blodgett testified to Mrs. Giles having worked in his family last summer, and of Dennis having called on her twice. The testimony of Mr. and Mrs. Isaiah Taylor and Dennis's brother were similar. That he left home soon after dinner and returned about four o'clock. Retired with the family at eight o'clock at 12.05 got up and with his rifle went out for an hour to look for deer.

Dennis was questioned in the forenoon and again in the afternoon. He was questioned principally in regard to his schooling, and was finally induced to write a few words. Later he was put through a course of spelling. He proved to be a very bad speller. Cross examined, he contradicted himself on two matters of small importance.

County Attorney Wing closed the trial by calling the attention of the court to testimonies of certain witnesses, but more especially to a similarity in the writing and spelling of Dennis's and that of the notices found printed, some of which are in existence.

Justice Dolbier thought the evidence sufficient to bind the prisoner over to the grand jury and placed his bonds at $8,000. Failing to get bonds of this amount, he was taken to the Farmington jail on Friday.

The distance between the Taylor place and the Tibbetts place that was burned is estimated about 12 miles. About 5 miles of this is in dense woods, either with very poor roads or none at all. That he could make this journey in the night time, though with a good moon, is a question in his favor. His excuse for being out at one o'clock for deer is a good one as every hunter knows. These, and many other questions that will come up at the February term of court seems to indicate that the case will be strongly defended.

It is expected that the Giles woman will furnish evidence that will throw new light on the whole affair, and perhaps be the most important witness for the state.

Fire at Coplin Plantation.

Special correspondence to Maine Woodsman.

RANGELEY, Nov. 9, 1903.

The home of Henry Tibbetts of Coplin Plantation was destroyed by fire on Sunday night. Fire was discovered in the barn about 6.30. The buildings being old and not large they were quickly leveled to the ground before scarcely any of the household goods could be saved.

Since then other facts have been brought to light which have aroused a great deal of interest throughout the neighborhood. It seems that Mr. Tibbetts's daughter, Bertha Giles, separated from her husband about a year ago. She hired to do general housework for John R. Toothaker, a prominent business man of Rangeley.

Soon after she began work Mr. Toothaker received an anonymous letter printed with pencil to the effect that if he harbored her his buildings would be burned. Not wishing to take the risk of keeping her he let her go. She soon accepted a position with Abram Ross as house maid. Before long Mr. Ross found a note pinned to his barn similar to the one Mr. Toothaker received through the mail. Mr. Ross, thinking it best to keep on the safe side, dismissed Mrs. Giles who went to live with her father and mother at Coplin Plantation.

Soon after her abode here her father found the same anonymous notice pinned to his own barn. Mr. Tibbetts hesitated about turning away his own daughter and watched for further signs of danger. The blaze on Sunday night proved that the culprit was in earnest.

Mrs. Giles recommended that a certain person be looked for that same night. A man was despatched with haste to his home and saw him arrive about midnight. Deputy Sheriff Geo. M. Esty has been informed of the circumstances and will investigate the case.

They cure biliousness, torpid liver, jaundice, sick headache, constipation, etc. They do not purge and weaken, but cleanse and strengthen. Sold by W. A. D. Cragin.

Big Catch of Fish.

An extraordinary tale of mackerel occurred at Folkestone the other day. It was during a heavy sea in the English channel, so heavy that many of the nets had to be cut away in order to save the overlaid boats. Three smacks got 50,000 mackerel, one having to its own share 20,000, and six others had each about 10,000. This great catch was disposed of partly by being sent to London and Paris in ice and partly by being retailed on the street, the price being $1.44 for 120 and 16 and 18 for 24 cents. Almost at the same time Scottish fishing boats were achieving a remarkable catch of herring off the coast of Scarborough, which has given employment to the troops of Scotch fishergirls who follow the boats at this season of the year.

MUNYON'S Great Triumph

The Blessing of Thousands.

CURED OF INSOMNIA,
CURED OF NERVOUSNESS,
CURED OF INDIGESTION,

Given to Him as the Discoverer

of

PAW PAW.

No stomach is beyond the help of Munyon's Paw Paw, no matter how wearied or inflamed or abused it may be. Improvement starts with the first dose. Vicious appetites are weakened from the outset and are soon entirely obliterated. The slavery to drink, to morphine, to stimulants of any kind that is wrecking so many careers and shortening so many lives is a disease. There is no hope to escape this slavery without getting the stomach into normal condition. There can be none of this slavery if the stomach is in normal condition. Munyon's Paw Paw will restore almost any stomach to its youthful vigor. Ministers of the gospel, temperance workers, philanthropists and well wishers for the race, wherever they are, can in no way scatter blessings so great and so important to the physical and mental welfare of the intemperate as by bringing them to a knowledge of Munyon's Paw Paw.

What Mr. J. D. Hall, Jr., manager, Providence, News Summer Resort Bureau says about Munyon's Paw Paw: "I find by personal use of Munyon's Paw Paw that as a tonic it invigorates, and for inaction of the stomach that it is indeed a wonderful medicine. I cheerfully recommend it to all who are in need of a superior digestive agent."

Hundreds of thousands more are saying the same thing. Paw Paw takes away the appetite for strong drink. It lifts you up and holds you up.

At all druggists $1.00 per bottle. Paw Paw Laxative Pills 25c a bottle.

FARMINGTON NEWS.

Special correspondence to Maine Woodsman.

FARMINGTON, Nov. 10, 1903.

Excelsior Pomona Grange, P. of H., met with Farmington Grange, No. 12, P. of H., Nov. 5, and had an all day's session. Owing to the rather inclement weather not as many were present as it was hoped would be, but enough members were present to make the meeting very interesting indeed. The meeting opened as usual, with Worthy Master E. E. Paine in the chair. Then Sister A. C. Greenleaf made an eloquent address of welcome that was gracefully responded to by Brother Samuel York of New Sharon. Mr. York is a man of versatile ability and his remarks were applauded to the echo. Then came a short business session, after which came adjournment for dinner. Of course, the dinner was a typical grange dinner, in which the sufficient bean was a prominent feature. At 1 o'clock the afternoon session opened in the fourth degree and then the business meeting adjourned. Immediately after, Sister A. C. Greenleaf gave a very enjoyable piano solo and then the general meeting was given in charge of Secretary D. H. Knowlton, who is naturally a parliamentarian. It had been decided to devote the afternoon to the fruit question, so the first remarks were by Brother Knowlton on the growing and marketing of fruit. Mr. Knowlton's remarks were listened to with much pleasure. Mrs. Anna Butterfield of East Wilton read a poem by Eugene Field. Worthy master of Excelsior, P. H. Hines, talked a few minutes on shipping apples. Mr. Hines's remarks showed not a little careful thought on the subject. Then Brother York and Brother Jones made interesting remarks on the same subject. Brother Knowlton then called on Brother Benj. Titcomb for remarks. Brother Titcomb responded by giving a short history of the Titcomb family, which has always been an apple growing family. He also gave a short talk on apple picking. Then came a duet by Sister A. C. Greenleaf and Sister Chester Greenwood that was listened to with much pleasure by all. Sisters Bertha Knowlton and R. H. Smith talked interestingly on ways of serving apples. Mrs. R. H. Smith made some especially part remarks on baked apples. It seems there is more than one way to bake apples. Sister Morrill of Farmington Falls read a paper on apple sauce making. The great subject of apple pies was ably handled by Sister Persis Adams. Sister Jones told about apple dumplings and Brother D. C. Clark gave a good talk on jelly making. To break the monotony of apple talk, Sister Emily Greenwood gave a greatly enjoyed reading. Sister Chester Greenwood was the last speaker on the program, with remarks on the genuine apple eater. The rest of the program had to be referred by reason of the lateness of the hour and the rain.

Friday evening the young men of the town gave a very enjoyable social hop in Drummond hall that was attended by many of the young people. Priscilla Alden's orchestra was in attendance. There were ten dances on the program, to which several extras were added. The dance was greatly enjoyed by all present.

Friday night the large two story house owned by Mrs. Ephraim Allen burned to the ground with all its contents. It is thought that the fire originated in the ell portion of the house, and is thought to have been of incendiary origin. Among the contents of the house was a handsome upright piano.

The fire department responded very promptly to the alarm of fire, but was unable to check the flames. It is said the house was fully insured in Currier's agency. The fire occurred about 10.30 o'clock.

very prettily decorated for the occasion. About 40 of Mr. and Mrs. Trask's friends were present.

Cora Allen and Cora Vehue spent Sunday at Miss Vehue's home in North Farmington.

Benj. Hayes spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mellen Hayes.

Edwin Hayes of Buffalo, N. Y., is visiting his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Mellen Hayes.

Clarence Knowlton, who severely injured his back some time ago, is much better.

Thursday evening of last week Hon. and Mrs. H. H. Rice entertained the Ideal whist club. This is the first meeting of the season. A very delightful evening was spent.

Next Saturday the Abbott school and a team from Kents Hill play football at this village, so it is confidently hoped by Prof. Church and his pupils of Little Blue.

The next entertainment of the Farmington course will occur Nov. 19. The Rooney's Boys' Concert company will be the attraction, and judging by their press notices, they give a very excellent entertainment.

Grocer E. A. Odell, who is obliged to vacate his present store on Broadway, owing to the sale of the building, has rented a store on Main street, in the Knowlton-McLeary building, where he will move his stock at once.

Saturday afternoon the Little Blues and Livermore Falls High school played football on the Abbott grounds, with a resulting score of 5-5. The game was of two fifteen-minute halves and was a warm one from start to finish. The game was called at 1.30, the Abbotts winning the toss up and the Livermore Falls team having the kickoff. Prof. Pennell of the Farmington High school and Prof. Pike of the Livermore Falls High school acted as score keepers. Had the Abbotts not fumbled badly in the first half they might have won the game. As it was the decision was so close that it has been referred to higher authority for judgment. The Abbott team: Centre, Frank Hyde; right guard, Howard H. Kimball; left guard, Wm. Jameson; right tackle, Rolando Miranda; left tackle, Russell W. Trimpi; right end, Walter D. McCarthy; left end, Harry M. Flint; quarter back, Ernest Carville; right half back, Grosvenor Jackson; left half back, Francis P. Washburn; full back, George C. Buerkel.

A. N. Sargent of Farmington visited his sister, Mrs. N. H. Sawyer and family in Madison last week. While there Mr. Sargent made a trip to Skowhegan.

NAMES OF DISEASES.

Definiteness in Them Is Conspicuously Lacking in Medical Science.

One of the first essentials in the study of any science is a definite nomenclature: the fixing of one name to one thing, for without that there can be no common ground of discussion, and the words of a writer may convey a wrong impression, and give rise to erroneous ideas, the opposite, perhaps, of what was intended, says Youth's Companion.

Unfortunately definiteness in names is conspicuously lacking in medical science, and not only in the popular names of diseases, but even in the terms employed by physicians themselves. This confusion of speech is particularly unfortunate in medicine, for it may be the occasion of very serious errors. For example, a mother hears that a neighbor's child has membranous sore throat. That seems a simple little thing, and she takes no care to keep her own child away from the neighbor's house. The neighbors themselves are not alarmed, but even let the little visitor into the sick-room. If the doctor had not employed a euphemism, but had called the "membranous sore throat" diphtheria, every one would have known the gravity of the case, and other children would not have been needlessly exposed.

Much misunderstanding results from the loose use of the word "typhoid." It really means resembling typhus, and so the term was attached to a fever some of the symptoms of which resemble those of typhus fever. But it is applied also in the form of an adjective to other conditions and diseases. Thus the "typhoid state" is a condition of extreme weakness with temporary mental clouding, such as one sees in the third or fourth week of a severe typhoid fever. In the same way the term typhoid pneumonia is sometimes employed to designate a pneumonia in which the patient is overcome by the poison of the disease, and has fallen into the "typhoid state;" but it does not imply a mixture of typhoid fever and pneumonia, as is popularly believed.

Inflammation of the lungs and lung fever are popular expressions meaning pneumonia, but the term pneumonia itself is applied to several entirely distinct diseases of the lungs.

Scarlatina is another name for scarlet fever, and it does not signify a mild form of the disease. Varioloid also is real smallpox only in mild form; and a varioloid patient may give smallpox in most virulent form to an unprotected person.

All this goes to show that diseases, like other things, should be called by their right names.

WE OVERDO EVERYTHING.

Whether It Be Work or Play the People of This Country Go at It Too Strenuously.

This is the age of the men who do things. They are our leaders and heroes. We adore achievement. We worship success. The "strenuous life" has become our ideal, and the president of the United States, whom we all admire, is the exemplar of that life, says the Wall Street Journal.

There is a lack of great thinkers. The glory of our time is the men who do. We have no poets like those who inspired, and charmed and soothed our forefathers. We import our best music and our best art. If we produce some great painters and musicians, they go to Europe where the "atmosphere" is more congenial. The air of this country is too bracing for fine arts, and the best thinking is done in France and Germany, where life is less rapid than in the United States.

The types of our nation and time are the skyscraper, with its frames of steel, the electric motor and the stock tape. We have now no great philosophers of calm, serene lives, like Emerson, who never did anything except to write a few thousand words which have left their impress upon the life of the world. We do not love money more than our forefathers did, but we love the making of money far more. We work fewer hours, but with more intenseness and nervous energy. We measure our labor, not by degrees and diplomas, but by horsepower units and kilowatt hours.

The men who do things are not content with small achievements. They work on a scale of continents. They are the captains in the conquests of the markets. They build immense railroads and canals. They consolidate industries. They create big banks. They bridge oceans with ships. They regulate competition so as to reduce its waste. They are ever seeking new ways of making consumption keep pace with the productive energies of the country. They are the men who keep labor employed.

There is reason, therefore, in the admiration which we give to these men. Admiration is the coin which the world pays to its leaders. It is a great thing to be able to do things, not merely as most of us are content to do, by laying one brick upon another, but by waving a magic wand, or, like Aladdin rubbing a lamp, rear vast structures almost in a night, thousands of hands doing one's bidding. It is a great thing to be able to do one thing supremely well, to be able, like Stevenson, to say, "one thing I do." In this age we have specialized endeavor. Each man does one thing, and if he is of the right kind seeks to do that thing supremely well. The result is an astonishing rapidity and high quality of production. But it will be observed that the keynote which is always sounded is, "do," "do." So intent are we on doing that we give ourselves very little time for thinking. Even in our recreation we are forever doing and never resting. With our nerves at the highest point of tension, we do not allow ourselves time for repose and thought.

This is the great defect of this age. We not only do, but we overdo. We work, but we overwork. We play and we overplay. We eat and we overeat. We speculate and we overspeculate.

The most pressing need is more time for thought. After all, it is not action that keeps things moving, but thought, and that nation is not the greatest and the most powerful which does not produce men who think as well as men who do.

This fact has a vital bearing upon the business situation. Much of our present depression in Wall street is the result of overdoing and overthinking. We were too eager to get rich quick, and too eager to crowd into half a decade what should have been the legitimate achievements of twenty years, and we are now paying the penalty of overpromotion. And fact is that as a nation we have become a trifle too strenuous.

Card of Thanks.

God hath taken our darling from us, and we long to meet her on the beautiful shore where there is no more pain or sorrow. God hath taken our darling from us and we think of her often, think what a dear little girl she has been to us all. How much we miss her, our darling. Think how busy she used to be. Thanks to all those that helped during the dear little one's sickness. Thanks to all those who brought flowers for the little one. MR. AND MRS. ANDREW WILBUR.

Memoria In Aeterna.

We desire to tender our sincere thanks to the Knights Templar of Phillips, the Patrons of Husbandry and our many neighbors and friends for their assistance and sympathy in our great bereavement.

Through the turmoil of this world's conflict, Through the grief, woe and strife, Friends like these will be remembered To the end of earthly life.

And across the golden sunset, 'Mid the stars beyond earth's shade, Out there in the grand hereafter Memory's light will never fade.

JAMES MORRISON, J. BLAINE MORRISON, MR. AND MRS. O. A. YOUNG, MR. AND MRS. HAROLD WORTHLEY, MR. AND MRS. GEORGE H. CHICK.

Worms

Hundreds of children and adults have worms, but are treated for other diseases. The symptoms are—indigestion, with a variable appetite; foul tongue; offensive breath; hard and full belly with occasional gripings and pains about the navel; eyes heavy and dull; itching of the nose; short, dry cough; grinding of the teeth; starting during sleep; slow fever; and often in children, convulsions.

TRUE'S ELIXIR

Is the best worm remedy made. It has been in use since 1851. Is purely vegetable, harmless and effectual. Where no worms are present it acts as a Tonic, and corrects the condition of the mucous membrane of the stomach and bowels. A positive cure for Constipation and Biliousness, and a valuable remedy in all the common complaints of children. Price 35 cts. Ask your druggist for it. Dr. J. F. TRUE & Co., Auburn, Me. Special treatment for Tape Worms. Free Pamphlet.

Are You a Cog?

Do you work day in and day out for small wages, and with little hope of advancement? We can help you leave the ranks of the poorly paid many and become one of the well-paid few.

Thousands have already doubled or largely increased their salaries by following our plan. We can help you qualify at home, in spare time, and at small expense, for any of the following positions:

Mechanical, Electrical, Steam, Civil, or Mining Engineer; Electrician; Surveyor; Draftsman; Ornamental Designer; Architect; Chemist; Bookkeeper; Stenographer; Teacher; Show-Card Writer; Window Dresser; or Ad Writer.

Write TODAY, stating which position interests you, to Phillips, Me., Nov. 4, 1903.

Mr. R. E. CHIPMAN,

Dear Sir:—I wish to thank you for calling my attention to, and enrolling me as a student in the International Correspondence Schools.

I have taken a course in Steam Engineering, (including Electrical subjects) and I am well pleased with it. There is no time thrown away in learning. I work every day and study what spare time I get. I have received much benefit from the course. One gets the same benefit as they would to work for no pay two or three years. I hope other young men will be interested for scholarship in the "I. C. S." It will help them to get more pay and less work. I know by experience.

Yours truly,

E. G. SWEETSIR, Phillips, Me.

UP-TO-DATE ADVERTISING.

In these days live merchants are looking for profit. They are placing their advertisements where, in their best judgement, they will do them the most good. Time was, we are told, when the store keeper used to give the newspaper man an advertisement, "just to help out the paper."

That would be considered a senseless performance now.

We want advertisements from people who want to get their money's worth out of their advertising.

We want advertisements from people who intend to give their advertisements some care and attention.

We want advertisements from business people who realize that they have something to say to the more than ten thousand readers of MAINE WOODSMAN, if they would make their business all that it should be.

To such people, the MAINE WOODSMAN advertising columns present indeed a rare bargain. The MAINE WOODSMAN has the readers—more than ten thousand of them—without which all advertising would be a failure—money thrown away.

But IT PAYS to advertise in MAINE WOODSMAN. If in doubt try it.

Classified advertisements only one cent a word.

—A social hop was held at Wilbur's hall last Monday evening under the auspices of the class of '03, P. H. S. A very enjoyable time was enjoyed by all. Music was furnished by Dr. Hilton, Maurice Wade and Miss Deering. Cake and coffee were served.

—Samuel B. Wing of Phillips, with his granddaughter, Miss Saymie Barden, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Brackett at the Lockwood House at Harper's Ferry, W. Va. They came through from Everett, Mass., in one day and arrived in fine condition. They plan to spend the winter at Harper's Ferry.

—The date for Mr. Chipman, manager for the International Correspondence school, to visit Phillips was postponed to November 16 on account of the extension of business elsewhere, which made it impossible for him to arrive on the date previously named. Mr. Chipman has a window display at D. F. Hoyt & Co.'s store that will be found interesting.

—Postmaster Haley has been authorized by the post office department to start the fourth free rural delivery route from the Phillips office. The new route will take in the valley road to the Dill mill, turn over the Julius Blanchard hill, back by the post office and over the Mile Square to Carson's corner through the Wheeler neighborhood to the over-head bridge; then over Tory Hill down to T. B. Hunter's; retrace to Cushman's turn, by Roscoe Cushman's by the Parlin place and over the Pratt road, then to post office. U. S. Jacobs will be the carrier on this route. This changes routes one and three. Route one, G. E. Rideout, carrier, will be direct to Madrid village, across the bridge at the foot of Beech hill road to Reed's Mill, thence to the Allen and Field bridges to McKenney corner and Marrow corner up the West Phillips road to D. F. Hodges's and return to Beede Brothers' and up the new road and down by Elbridge Dill's to the office. Route three will go through the upper village by E. J. Ross's by Bragg corner and the Prescott neighborhood to Wing's turn, then to Berlin Mills and Madrid Station; return to Wing's turn, then via the Allen's bridge to the Stowers school house, by Reed's Mill to the Byron turn, then to East Madrid and the East Madrid school house by Ira Davenport's to the Salem road then to M. H. Davenport's place of the ford, across the river and home. This is M. H. Davenport's route.

Doan's Kidney Pills, A Modern Medicine for Every Kidney Ill.

Mr. T. H. Hughes, of Saxtons River, Vt., employed by B. F. Locke & Co., says: "My kidneys did not act properly for years, and it gradually grew on me. For two or three years they troubled me very much with a dull, aching pain across my back and in my loins. If I stood on my feet for any length of time, I felt the pain across my back more and my legs became numb. When the pain in my back got so bad that I could stand it no longer, I put on plasters, and I used a great many of them, but they only afforded me temporary relief. I also used medicines of all kinds, but they did not reach the cause. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, and so well recommended, that I was induced to give them a trial, and I got them at Andrew's drug store. They gave me immediate relief. After the treatment I seldom felt any symptoms of my former troubles, but when I did I took a few of Doan's Kidney Pills and it soon left me. My rheumatic pains were not so severe, and I did not have that tired, languid feeling. I had more energy in doing my work and give all the credit to Doan's Kidney Pills. They did me a great deal of good, and I feel justified in recommending them to others as a good and reliable medicine."

STRONG NEWS.

Special correspondence to Maine Wood man.
STRONG, Nov. 10, 1903.

Wednesday evening of last week Mr.
and Mrs. Jesse Phillips celebrated the tenth anniversary of their marriage at their pretty home, upper Main street.
The early part of the evening was devoted to sociability and a general good time. About 10 30 refreshments of coffee, cake and confectionery were served by volunteer waiters. Mr. and Mrs.
Phillips were the recipients of many beautiful and appropriate presents, among which we notice the following:
Carving set, Hartson Welch; glass cake stand, James Welch; fancy dish, Elsie Goodin; cake plate, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Look; glass pickle dish, Anna Bangs; one large vase, Mrs. A. G. Eustis; one enameled bowl, Mrs. Lucy Norton, Miss Grace Norton; one pair vases an i bonbon dish, Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Witham; one pair large vases, Mrs. May Lewis, Mr.
Roy Lewis; one glass set, Mr. and Mrs.
Isaiah Welch; toothpick holder, Harold Welch; pair dessert spoons, Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Starbird; bonbon dish, Mrs.
W. I. Smith; nickel teakettle, Bert Huff, Dan Huff, Harry Lambert, Merton Lambert; pair towels, Mr. and Mrs. Wm.
Welch; tray cloth, Henry and Mae Welch; pair towels, Mrs. Moores and Miss M. Lain; pair towels, Mr. and Mrs.
Bates; bed spread, Mr. and Mrs. Lee
Daggett, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Carr; $3,
Mr. and Mrs. Emery Haley; 25 cents;
10 cents; glass water set, Lida Mitchell,
Mr. and Mrs. F. Welch, Mrs. Ellen Kilkerney, Mellie Kilkenney, Mrs. David Richardson, Mrs. Julia Norton, Flora
Jackman, Avis Welch.

Mrs. Olive Dodge was tendered a little surprise party for all concerned.
The party was arranged by Mrs. Dodge's boarders and a few invited friends. During the evening some very nice refreshments were served, that included ice cream and cake. Then in a few well chosen words Rev. O. W. Peterson presented Mrs. Dodge, in behalf of friends present, a slight token of their regard and esteem. Soon after, all repaired to Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Mason's rooms, and enjoyed some fine music.

S. H. Conant went to New Portland Wednesday night to visit his brother-in-law, Dr. H. S. Spear.

Daniel Maer of West Virginia, has been in town several days.

Fred Taylor was in Farmington one day recently.

B. B. Harvey was in Farmington on business Wednesday.

Mr. Marshall Moores has been clerking for Druggist C. E. Dyer for a few days past.

Owing to the energetic measures being taken by small boys and others, the "skunk question" is now becoming a thing of the past.

Everyone is now preparing to eat a hearty Thanksgiving dinner.

This week Friday the village schools all close. The Senior class of the High school is planning on a little hop for Friday evening, for which Dyer's orchestra will furnish music.

Chas. Thompson has finished repairs on his home on Main street.

Repairs on the Porter house lately purchased by the Chas. Foster estate, are progressing in a very satisfactory manner indeed. The house will be used as a boarding house, and may be used as a hotel.

It is stated that R. F. Whiting, has sold his blacksmith business, and that he will soon move onto a farm.

Friday it snowed a little; Saturday it snowed a few flakes and was very cold.
Is winter here?

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Tirrell spent Saturday in Farmington.

A very enjoyable Epworth league sociable occurred Friday evening at Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Starbirds. All report a good time.

The toothpick mill has only run part of the time the past week.

Miss Inez Davis of Farmington is spending a few days with her friend,
Miss Lorette Johnson, South Strong.

Daniel Mayer was in Kingfield a few days last week on business.

Messrs. Philip D. Stubbs and Geo.
Pratt attended the Bowdoin-Colby football game at Waterville, Saturday, returning home Sunday.

Friday evening Misses Freda Fogg and Emmie Stubbs were in Phillips,
the guests of Hon. and Mrs. N. P. Noble.
They were accompanied by P. D. Stubbs, Esq.

Mrs. Dora Gilkey spent a few days of last week with Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Clark, South Strong.

Mr. and Mrs. Amos True of Yarmouth are in town for a few days' visit with friends. While Mr. True is absent
Mr. Ralph Lewis will take charge of the mill.

Harold Pratt of Farmington was in town over Sunday.

Our butcher, Mr. Scott Kingsley, has bought a house of Wallace Welch and will probably occupy it in the spring.
It is stated that Will Eustis will occupy the house this winter.

Wm. Smith, a veteran of the civil war, whose illness was mentioned last week,
was slightly better at last reports.

Mrs. P. H. Stubbs was in Phillips one day last week.

Miss Clair M. Knowlton has returned from a very pleasant trip to Portland and vicinity.

Mr. Ernest Mayer, while en route from Rangeley to Kingfield the other day,

tarried a short time with his friend, Dr.
C. W. Bell.

Mrs. Nancy Daggett is spending a few weeks in Boston and New York, the guests of friends and relatives.

Howard Staples was home from Phillips over Sunday, the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Enoch Staples.

Benj. Jones will go to Boston soon to commence his course in the Burdett Business college.

What is becoming of all of the sheep?
Last Sunday nearly eight hundred were driven through South Strong alone. It was said the Farmington Live Stock company were the owners.

We are pleased to report that Mrs. J.
H. Conant, who has been on the sick list, is now very much better.

The local lodge of this place, K. of P.,
accompanied by the Farmington lodge, visited their brothers of the Phillips lodge Thursday night of last week.
The trip to and from Phillips was made by special train. The Strong delegation report a very excellent time and we presume that is also the verdict of the Farmington lodge.

Have't you an item for this column?
Don't think because, possibly, you imagine the item has little news value, that it is devoid of any interest to anyone.
Possibly some friend or relative in a distant state will read the item of home news with great interest. Such has been known to be the case, you know.
So if you have an item of news, why not jot it down and when the WOODSMAN correspondent heaves in sight just way-lay him and give him the news?

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Burns and family visited Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Haines, Farmington, one day the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. John Briggs, West
Farmington, visited Mr. and Mrs. A. W.
Briggs and Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Sanborn
the last of last week.

Jones's orchestra gave a dance Saturday night in Bell's hall that was attended by about twenty couples. Probably more would have been present had the night been less inclement.

Messrs. James Packard and Wm.
Mace called in Farmington Sunday.

C. B. Richardson is quite ill with a severe cold.

James Presson has built him a new ice house.

Fred Taylor has purchased the Geo.
Mace house.

Mrs. Ellen Kilkenney is clerking for
L. G. Hunter & Co.

Miss Alice Foster is in Haverhill,
Mass, visiting her cousin, Miss Grace
Foster of that city.

The Epworth league will serve a supper in Bates hall, Saturday evening, to be followed by a social in Bell's hall.

Misses Florence Luce and Delia Wyman spent Saturday in New Vineyard.

Morton Vaughan goes to Houlton this week to act as agent of the American Bible society.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Roberts of Farmington have been in town, the guests of Mrs. Roberts's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed
Goldsmith.

Rev. G. E. Howard, the M. E. pastor, was called to Winterport, Friday, by a despatch announcing the serious illness of his wife at that place. Mrs. Howard was en route from Island Falls to Strong and while visiting her sister in Winterport was suddenly taken ill.

We learn that Joseph Vaughan, the young son of Edward Vaughan of Norridgewock, formerly of this place, is seriously ill with appendicitis.

Word reached this place not long since of the death of Will Jones, the youngest child of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Jones of Topska, Kan., formerly of this town. Mr. Jones was 20 years of age at the time of his death.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Grover and daughter, Alma Grover, Andover, Me., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Frank Welch.

Messrs. Ed Cushman and Wm. Stewart of Phillips were in town Saturday.

Walter Bradford of West Farmington was in town over Sunday.

The Ladies' Aid meet with Mrs. Albert Daggett next Saturday.

Mrs. O. P. Dudley of West Farmington has been visiting her friend, Mrs. C.
W. Shaw.

Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Starbird were in Phillips Sunday.

Miss Lillian Locke of Freeman was in town Monday.

The Enquirers met with Mrs. Albert
Daggett last Wednesday and discussed
Ralph Waldo Emerson. The next meeting of the club will be with Mrs. Bertha Mitchell and Hawthorne will be taken up.

G. E. Spaulding, one of the prosperous farmers in the Spaulding neighborhood tells the WOODSMAN that he will winter three yoke of steers this winter besides three cows. Mr. Spaulding did not raise any corn this year but instead had a handsome piece of potatoes.

Madrid.

People are hustling with their apples to market. Some to Lowell & Co.,
Farmington and others to Boston.

Ether Smith and wife took a drive to Madison a short time ago to visit her sister, Mrs. Newell Sawyer.

Lewis Reed is comfortable and all hope he will soon recover from his gun shot wound.

Cured of Piles After 40 Years.

Mr. C. Haney of Geneva, O., had the piles for 40 years. Doctors and dollars could do him no lasting good. DeWitt's Witch Hazel salve cured him permanently. Invaluable for cuts, burns, bruises, sprains, lacerations, eczema,
tetter, salt rheum and all other skin diseases. Look for the name DeWitt on the package—all others are cheap, worthless counterfeits. Sold by W. A.
D. Cragin.

Under this heading we shall publish each week cooking receipts which have been tried and proved good. Will our readers please send in receipts for their favorite dishes?

Afternoon Tea.

FROST COOKIES.

Cream $\frac{1}{2}$ cup butter; add to it gradually 1 cup of sugar. Beat well for about five minutes, then add $\frac{1}{2}$ cup milk, $\frac{1}{2}$ measure each acid and soda (or 1 heaping teaspoon acid and $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon soda) of Horsford's Bread preparation and enough flour to make a smooth dough. Roll out on board, cut with a round biscuit or cake cutter, sprinkle thickly with granulated sugar and bake in a very moderate oven; do not brown them.

VANILLA DROPS.

Cream $\frac{1}{2}$ cup butter and 2 cups sugar;
add 2 eggs well beaten, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup water, 1 measure each acid and soda (or 2 heaping teaspoonfuls acid 1 moderately heaping teaspoonful soda) of Horsford's Bread preparation and enough flour to make a pretty stiff batter. Flavor with vanilla sugar or essence of vanilla to taste; drop on a well-greased baking pan and bake in a moderately quick oven until a light brown.

COCONUT COOKIES.

Cream $\frac{1}{2}$ cup butter with 1 cup sugar;
add to it 2 eggs well beaten, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup milk, 1 cup cocoanut, $\frac{1}{2}$ measure each acid and soda (or 1 heaping teaspoonful acid and $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoonful soda) of Horsford's Bread preparation. Stir in enough flour to make stiff enough to roll. Roll out on a board, cut with cake cutter and bake in a quick oven.

GINGER CRISPS.

Mix together $\frac{1}{2}$ cup butter, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup of sugar, 1 cup molasses, 1 measure each acid and soda (or 2 heaping teaspoons acid and 1 moderately heaping teaspoon-fuls soda) of Horsford's Bread preparation, 2 level teaspoonfuls ginger, and flour enough to roll. Roll out very thin and cut with round cutter. Bake in a hot oven, until well brown.

FIVE O'CLOCK TEAS.

Beat $\frac{1}{2}$ cup butter, $1\frac{1}{2}$ cups powdered sugar and yolks of 4 eggs together until very light; then add 1 cup water and $1\frac{1}{2}$ cups sifted flour; beat until perfectly smooth. Beat egg whites to a stiff froth, fold in carefully; then add another $1\frac{1}{2}$ cups flour in which you have sifted a scant measure each acid and soda (or 2 teaspoonfuls acid slightly rounded and 1 level teaspoonful soda) of Horsford's Bread preparation; mix well. Drop by half teaspoonfuls into a well-buttered baking tin; the batter must not be thin enough to run; bake in a moderate oven ten minutes. When done trim a uniform size with a biscuit cutter; make into little jelly cakes by spreading them with different kinds of jelly or marmalade; ice with different colored icing flavored to correspond with the filling.

Cake.

SILVER CAKE.

Cream $\frac{1}{2}$ cup butter with $1\frac{1}{2}$ cups white sugar; add $\frac{1}{2}$ cup milk, $2\frac{1}{2}$ cups flour, $\frac{1}{2}$ measure each acid and soda (or 1 heaping teaspoonful acid and $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoonful soda) of Horsford's Bread preparation. Stir in carefully the whites of 6 eggs beaten to a stiff froth. Flavor with almond.

SNOW BOUND CAKE.

Cream $\frac{1}{2}$ cup butter; add to it 2 cups
sugar, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup milk, about two cups flour, $\frac{1}{2}$ measure each acid and soda (or 1 heaping teaspoonful acid and $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoonful
soda) of Horsford's Bread preparation.
Stir in the well-beaten whites of 8 eggs.
Bake in a moderate oven about $\frac{1}{2}$ of an hour. Beat up the whites of 2 eggs and 3 tablespoonfuls powdered sugar until stiff; spread over the cake, covering top and sides completely; then sprinkle thickly with grated cocoanut. Stand away to dry.

FRUIT LUNCH.

Cream $\frac{1}{2}$ cup butter; add to it 2 cups
sugar, 1 cup of milk, 3 eggs, well beaten, grated peel of $\frac{1}{2}$ lemon, 3 cups flour and 1 measure each acid and soda (or 2 heaping teaspoonfuls acid and 1 moderately heaping teaspoonful soda) of Horsford's Bread preparation. Now stir in $\frac{1}{2}$ cup candied pineapple and citron, and bake in moderate oven, $\frac{1}{2}$ of an hour.

NUGAT CAKE.

Cream 1 cup butter with $1\frac{1}{2}$ cups sugar; add 1 cup water or milk; flavor with orange-flower water or grated peel of orange; add 3 cups flour sifted with $\frac{1}{2}$ measure each acid and soda (or 1 heap-
ing teaspoonful acid and $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoonful
soda) of Horsford's Bread preparation.
Mix carefully, then fold in the well beaten whites of 5 eggs. Bake in 3 layers in a moderately quick oven 20 minutes. When done make a boiled icing; stir into it chopped nuts of different kinds and spread between the layers.
Dust the top well with powdered sugar.

Sour Stomach

No appetite, loss of strength, nervousness, headache, constipation, bad breath, general debility, sour risings, and catarrh of the stomach are all due to indigestion. Kodol cures indigestion. This new discovery reproduces the natural juices of digestion as they exist in a healthy stomach, combined with the greatest known tonic and reconstructive properties. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure does not only cure indigestion and dyspepsia, but this famous remedy cures all stomach troubles by cleansing, purifying, sweetening and strengthening the mucous membranes lining the stomach.

Mr. S. S. Ball, of Ravenswood, W. Va., says: "I was troubled with sour stomach for twenty years. Kodol cured me and we are now using it in milk for baby."

—In the item about the man who went to Portland on account of losing an eye, the man's name is Gus Howard.

—Mrs. Rachel Howard suffered a shock about two weeks ago and is confined to her bed.

—Last Tuesday Miss Ellen Hewey was thrown from her wagon while riding down the Reed hill near Charles Giles's and quite severely shaken up. The horse became frightened at something that he smelled, probably a wild animal, and he backed until the wagon was overturned.

—The King's Daughters enjoyed another of their 'tasting' parties last Friday evening, meeting at the home of Mrs. A. S. Beedy, and they more than tasted of the good things contributed. Mrs. Arno Pratt served a fine fish chowder, piping hot. Other edibles generously sampled were coffee jelly, tapioca cream, apple and chocolate pie, sandwiches, salad, doughnuts, assorted cake, tarts, nabiscos, olives, pickles, crackers and cheese, salted peanuts, confectionery, coffee. The members are working on a quilt to be given where needed at some future time. Several names were proposed for membership at the last meeting. The society is growing rapidly and the advisability of hiring a room to hold their meetings in is being talked up a little.

Eustis Rebuilding.

Already Eustis people have begun to rebuild. John P. Sylvester is the first to have a house up and enclosed. His building is two stories 22x24 feet, with an ell 14x16. It is on the site of the Sylvester Bros' store, which was consumed.

W. Harry Sylvester is building a little lower down on the same side a house 22x26 feet, one story and a half with an ell 14x28.

John W. Sylvester will at once build a house and stable.

Andrew Douglass will build in the spring.

The firm of Chase & Sargent has been dissolved, G. W. Chase retiring and A. B. Sargent continuing the business. He will build a stable this fall and a hotel in the spring.

Fred Gordon and Fred Davis also expect to rebuild.

No doubt others will be inspired by these examples so that the prospect is very encouraging, and it is confidently expected that by the close of another season Eustis will assume something like her former position upon the map, and renew her importance in the affairs of a very busy, thriving and picturesque section of the state. All that can be done to further these ends from whatsoever source is praiseworthy indeed.

Reed's Mill, Madrid.

One of the pleasantest social events of the season was that of the Dunham and Kinney reunion held at the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. Solomon Dunham Wednesday, Nov. 4. Nearly 80 relatives were present and all enjoyed a bountiful picnic dinner. They organized and will hold reunions each year. The next one will be with Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Dunham sometime in August.

Among those to get a deer lately were Jesse Webber and Bert Kinney.

Lewis Reed met with a painful accident last Tuesday by getting shot in his leg.

H. O. Sargent is laying about 50 rods aqueduct.

THE WISE TERRIER.

Smart Dog Avoided a Flogging and Let His Comrade Take Punishment for Two.

The family of a man, not unknown to the public life of the great city, resides for the greater part of the year on a farm within comparatively easy reach of the city, says the Brooklyn Eagle. Among the four-footed possessions are two dogs, one a fox terrier of approved breeding and another, cherished wholly for his watchfulness and activity at night, a mongrel, a cross of a field spaniel and a collie. The two are great friends and have acquired a canine vice of hunting together with a supreme contempt for the game laws enacted by the state. As the master is liable to be held responsible for the violations, orders were given that the practice of the dogs should be discouraged, and so they were beaten after every return from a hunting trip. While their habit was checked, it was not wholly broken. The terrier was the culprit, for it persuaded its bigger friend to disobedience. In the course of time it was apparent that the terrier realized that a flogging was fairly certain to follow a return from such a trip. The other day they were seen to approach their home from the rear, skirting warily to the barn. At the corner of it they held a consultation, when the collie reluctantly and cringingly made his way to the house, the terrier watching sharply from a vantage point the result. It was a whipping, whereupon the terrier took to the orchard, and, curling up under a tree, went to sleep while it waited for the affair to blow over.
