AN AUTUMN PROSE-POEM

"Just Talks—On Common Themes"

In the Lewiston Evening Journal

By ARTHUR G. STAPLES

I

T is my notion, that if any person is sick of drab towns and wants inspiration; or if any artist wants his faith renewed; or if any doubter wants to get religion; or any person is weary of life he better come up here in October and look around a bit.

I am saying that Maine in October has something to offer that you cannot buy anywhere else—and here it is free. An October day by the sea is something beyond words—a day when the waves are still and the sunlight mingles in all the colors of the ocean and the shore.

But the inland is better. Here is no sense of the season passing—but a sense of storing-up, of drinking-in; of harvest; of color. If you see a yellow pumpkin by the door, it looks as though it belonged there and nowhere else. If you see mountains, they are purple and mystical and fixed forever. If you see rolling hills, they are like a cloth of gold. If you see a roadside vista, it is like the entrance to a boudoir in the days of Aladdin. Our domain in Maine is like a woman in fine raiment. Solomon sang to her "thy lips are scarlet". The wind that comes this October day is from the "chambers of the south". The smoke from the town rises sleepily across intervales. Sounds of distant voices; of laborers in the fields, gathering the rowen, come from unseen places. One hears the water of the brooks run lazily under the bridge.

We are dressed (our State of Maine) for farewells to summer—all in our finest, with sumptuous colors. All our garden flowers are all crimsons and reds. Our sunsets are gold and tyrian dyes. We sweep our brush over everything, that brush being of the spectrum, sunset colors. Nothing elsewhere vies with it; because here we have the foliage; the height of land, the patience of autumn; the actinic powers of the sun; the modulations of upland and lowland with broad intervales.

Why! An elm; in an intervale; surrounded by golden and ruby hills is a poem, and an elm and an oak, side by side are an epic. Put a brook near by and we have a Ninth symphony. And you poor hurried people all go away from Maine before any of this happens. Talk of Japan in Cherry time. Consider Maine in harvest-time when Autumn is aflame!
MAINE INVITES YOU

MAINE

You're just a rugged, homespun State
Perched on the Nation's edge:
A stretch of woods, of fields and lakes,
   Of ocean-pounded ledge.

But rugged deeds and rugged men
   You've nurtured for your own;
Much good the world has harvested
   From broadcast seeds you've sown.

And so we love you, rugged State,
   We love your smiling skies;
We love you for your deep-piled snow,
   Your jagged coast we prize.

We love you for the lofty seat
   You've reared 'neath Heaven's dome.
But best of all, we love you, Maine,
   Because you're Maine—and Home!

the waters fine!
MAINE invites you to enjoy the glories of her forests, the beauty of her thousands of lakes and hills, the music of her brooks, the clamor of her streams, the sweep of her great rivers, and the majesty of her rock-bound coast and sea-girt islands.

Nowhere is scenery more varied and charming. Nowhere is summer more genial. Nowhere dwells a more hospitable people.

Maine extends a cordial invitation and assures you a friendly welcome whether you come for a week, for the summer or as a year around resident. Come by train, by boat, by motor, by air—but come.

You'll find Maine a state of great natural resources for the development of industry, a state with great areas of land of high fertility yielding potatoes, apples, peas and corn that set the world's standards, a state which after the roll of three centuries is still a land of promise and progress.

For Every Month of the Year

Maine is a wonderful resort for every month of the year. In summer it has no equal, and its advantages, its health-giving climate and its general accessibility are recognized everywhere. The spring months have been important ones always, for Maine is classed among the greatest fishing resorts of the country. Its lakes and rivers teem with salmon, trout and bass, as well as a score of other well known, but lesser regarded, as game fish. In the fall it is the mecca of the brush and shore bird and the big game hunter-sportsman who would go into the big woods, for Maine abounds in practically every wild animal known to this latitude. And now Maine is fast gaining recognition as a great winter resort. It has been found that a Maine winter is filled with possibilities for recreation and health. It is ideal for snow-shoeing, skiing, sleighing, tobogganning, skating and for all the other invigorating cold weather sports which are becoming popular.

Acadia National Park

Acadia National Park, the first national park east of the Mississippi river, is on Mount Desert Island. It has an area of about thirty square miles and contains a group of granite mountains which outcrop from the Atlantic Ocean. This national park was created by Congress in 1919 to preserve, for the nation, land in its natural state untouched by the inroads of modern civilization, and was named the Lafayette National Park. Since that time the name has been changed by the Public Lands Committee of the House of Representatives to Acadia National Park, as General Lafayette was not in any way identified with Mount Desert. Sieur de Monts received permission from the French King to colonize a section that was called Acadia. Visitors who may regard the section as the Acadia made memorable by Longfellow's beautiful poem of Evangeline, whose Acadia centered around the Nova Scotian village of Grand Pre, should not be confused, as Mount Desert was a part of the western section of the old French province of Acadia.

A new mountain automobile road in Acadia National Park, completed in 1934, extends to a height of about 1525 feet on the tip top of Cadillac Mountain. The eye perceives a wonderful panoramic view of fresh water lakes, the Atlantic Ocean fjords and islands. The growth of the park is unusual in that its expansion has been without governmental expense, due to gifts from public spirited people having their summer homes on Mount Desert Island.
Sun Baths Make One Feel and Be Stronger

Around other mountains on the island of Mount Desert wind miles of automobile roads and bridle paths constructed for public use through the generosity of John D. Rockefeller, Jr.

There are 200 miles of trails and foot paths reaching every mountain summit and traversing every valley. There are also some 30 miles of bridle paths.

Maine is Mountainous

Comparatively few people outside of Maine realize that the State is very mountainous in character and that its scenery, because of this fact, rivals in grandeur and picturesqueness any to be found elsewhere in the United States, barring possibly a few notable exceptions like Colorado. Its highest mountain peak is Katahdin, located slightly north and east of Moosehead Lake, and 5,285 feet in height. There are numerous other mountains in this immediate vicinity. Through the Rangeley region are many high mountains, including Bigelow, Snow and Saddleback. Other widely known elevations abound in many sections as one third of the State is mountainous.

The Boundless Surging Sea

The surging ocean has beaten for centuries against Maine's coast line till the whole shore is ragged out like a fringe. Ridges of bare rock jut far out into the sea, ending in reefs and rocky islands, rough hewn by the hand of nature from the rocky ribs of Maine.

Between these promontories, the neighboring ocean thrusts its waters, pushing its way with ceaseless motion farther and still farther inland, until the powerful tides have woven passages for the sea through the outer fringe of headlands and pressing onward have left their fragments behind in the form of countless islands and white sand beaches which dot the coast in every direction.

The Atlantic Seaboard

For scenic and vacation purposes the Coast of Maine lends itself to four divisions, each with its own characteristics.

Kittery to Portland

The territory Kittery to Cape Elizabeth includes York Harbor and Beach, Bald Head Cliffs, Ogunquit, Wells, the Kennebunks, Beach and Port, the Arundels, Biddeford Pool, Ferry Beach, Bay View, Old Orchard, Pine Point, Prouts Neck, Higgins Beach, Scarboro Beach, Crescent Beach, Cape Elizabeth and on to Portland. A series of wonderful surf bathing beaches so shelving that when the tide is out, there is exposed a wide stretch of white sea sand almost level, drawing the rays of the sun and becoming thoroughly warmed. As the incoming tidal waters flow over this sand the water is heated to a temperature ideal for sea bathing. Interspersed with rocky headlands the tidal surge is just sufficient to make excellent surf bathing and surf-board riding.

Cape Elizabeth to Penobscot Bay

That territory extending east from Portland to Rockland and Penobscot Bay includes the territory of Casco Bay with its hundred and more islands, Sebasco, the Boothbay Harbor Region including Southport and Newagen, Christmas Cove, Monhegan Island, Muscongus Bay, Damariscotta and Newcastle, Pemaquid and St. George's Bay. Its diversified scenery of ledge bordered shore, with a growth of spruce and fir stretching inland and sandy beaches tucked in between the outcropping ledges, is specially attractive to artists and writers, many of whom have their summer homes here to which they return each succeeding season. It is ideal for family cottage life.

Its hotels and boarding houses, while offering every comfort, are not

ORK BEACH invites you to make this delightful resort on the Maine Coast your vacation home this summer—to live exciting, thrilling days in this land of adventure and romance; or, if you prefer, the quiet seclusion of sunny nooks in rocky, wave dashed headlands—to breathe the cool, invigorating ocean air—to bathe in the foamy surf and bask on shining sands—to spend healthful, happy days among a congenial people and return sun-tanned and rejuvenated from the ‘best vacation ever.’

Rich with three centuries of historical background, York Beach and its fascinating hinterland and superb coastal scenery is Maine’s most unique and picturesque resort.

The right kind of people “summer” here. You’ll enjoy the comradery that fun-loving folks find in this hospitable resort.

The townspeople of York Beach have catered for half a century to a clientele that appreciates wholesome surroundings, clean sports, and freedom to enjoy, in their own way, the abounding vacation opportunities of this celebrated resort.

The Old York Jail Museum is a treasure house of English ideas and ideals of life and government in our Colonial period in the early days of American history and the connoisseur of antiques can romance and dream over the relics of a local civilization 300 years old. Collectors of souvenirs of Colonial days will revel in the antique shops of quaintness and charm with which this town abounds.

over pretentious and are therefore filled with people of modest means, those who wish to get away from the atmosphere of active social requirements and be where they may sail, swim, hike, go fishing, run a motor boat, dance or just loaf, read and rest and enjoy themselves in their own way.

There is social diversion in plenty, if desired, as there are Casinos, dance halls, bowling alleys, etc., for dancing and other indoor summer activities, but it is the kind that is relieved of tiresome formality.

Penobscot Bay to Frenchman’s Bay

The coastal estuaries from Rockland, Camden and Penobscot Bay to Frenchman’s Bay, Bar Harbor and Mount Desert Island grow more rugged, backed by majestic mountains and with a lessening number of beaches between rocky headlands. It is much sought after by artists looking for rugged effects in marine studies and by those who enjoy watching the surf break into spray and listen to the boom of the ever restless sea.

Frenchman’s Bay to Quoddy

East of Frenchman’s Bay the coastal line stretches away to Grand Manan and Campobello including the Sullivans, Sorrento, Petit Manan, Great Wass and Roque Islands, Machias Bay, Eastport and Lubec, the St. Croix River and Passamaquoddy Bay. This section of the Maine coast is not so well developed in a summer resort way, but with splendid possibilities and offering many opportunities for a combination of seashore and country life at modest priced boarding places and inexpensive housekeeping cottages and camps that may be rented.

It has a nationally known art colony and summer art school at Eastport.
Where Summer Breezes Blow

The traveler who enters Maine through its southern-most point, crosses the Piscataqua River into the old town of Kittery, opposite Portsmouth, New Hampshire. Settled in 1622, incorporated in 1651, it was the first town to receive a charter from Massachusetts Bay Colony. Here was built the Ranger, first ship to fly the Stars and Stripes, commanded by John Paul Jones and manned by men from along the Piscataqua shores.

At Kittery Point stands the mansion of Sir William Pepperell, who led the New England troops in 1747 in the siege of Louisburg.

The Kittery Navy Yard, an extensive modern government plant, is well worth a visit. Among the famous ships built here and equipped was the Kearsarge, designed for the express purpose of seeking out the Alabama, and launched in ninety days from the laying of its keel.

The eastbound traveler first enters York Village, with its colonial church, court house and museum, built in 1653 for a jail. From the village green April 21, 1775, marched the first troops to leave the District of Maine, in response to news from Lexington. York Village is the business center of the town, but has many summer residences.

The Yorks

A mile below York Village is York Harbor, one of the high class summer resorts of New England. This is essentially a village of substantial and beautiful summer homes which are largely owned by their occupants, with a proper proportion of attractive rented cottages, first-class hotels and boarding-houses all constituting one of the distinctive and wealthy summer colonies of New England. At this point York River empties into the sea, and forms a convenient and safe port of entry for yachts, large and small, with coastwise ocean views; yet in a few minutes' time, by canoe up river or by motor drives, one may be among the quiet woods and fields of the country.

At the Harbor the Short Sands beach, protected by two high headlands, affords ideal sea bathing. York Country Club, located a mile up river, is an old established and one of the most attractive eighteen-hole courses in New England—well bunkered and every variety of hazard. Ten tennis courts are maintained.

Along the shore, following the state highway east, and distant four miles is York Beach, another large summer resort, combining hotel and cottage life. Upon the rocky headlands, or bluffs, one of them tipped by "The Nubble" and its lighthouse, the unbroken Atlantic beats ceaselessly. Between York Harbor and York Beach stretching for a distance of nearly two miles is Long Beach, one of the broadest, smoothest and firmest stretches of sand, delightful for both bathing and driving and lined with attractive cottages and hotels.

Surf, Sun and Sand Bathing

A little beyond York Beach toward Ogunquit are York Cliffs and Bald Head Cliff, in all five or more miles of high rocky shore, typical of the Maine coast, and of interesting geological formation. Hotels and many fine summer homes mark the commanding view points, both ocean and inland, along the shore.

Ogunquit, meaning, in the Natick Indian tongue, "A Beautiful Place by the Sea," distinguished by the paintings of world-famous artists, is a spot unexcelled for scenic loveliness.

Bordering Ogunquit beach, sand dunes of picturesque character, with sea grasses pushing their blades up through the surface, constantly shift from one formation to another. A two mile long tide water river parallels the beach extending northward for three miles. So many artists make their summer homes in Ogunquit (Continued on Page 59) that it is referred to as "The Artists' Colony." Exhibitions are held at the art center and in individual studios throughout the summer of the work of artists who enjoy a national reputation. Ogunquit offers to the summer tourist one of nature's beauty spots where he may meet America's best people. Bathing, sailing, fishing, motoring, golf and tennis are the principal pastimes in this summer resort of many hotels, some of which have few superiors in palatial grandeur.

Offshore is the center of that new northern salt water sport, trolling with heavy rods and reels for giant tunas running from two hundred to fifteen hundred pounds of swift and hard fighting game fish. Many sportsmen authorities regard the tuna as the fastest fish that swims in any waters.

Kennebunk, Kennebunkport and Kennebunk Beach are the summer homes of writers and artists of international fame, household words, like Booth Tarkington, Margaret Deland, Abbott Graves and Kenneth Roberts. Among other facilities for enjoyment, is a golf course of 18 holes laid out with expert planning. The bathing beach is a lively place, and popular for children with their pails and shovels. Sailing is a favorite sport, and there is good fishing, both "Deep-sea" and off the rocks. Nearby is the Kennebunk River, a place of delight to canoeists. River sports, held annually, partake of the nature of a carnival.

What Booth Tarkington Says

The following has been contributed by Booth Tarkington:

"Kennebunkport grows more famous year by year as more novelists write of it and more painters paint it. Anciently Arundel, a 'little Yankee fishing village,' it long ago became a ship-building town where deep-sea magnates lived and fast clipper ships were built. After that came the hotels and summer colony on 'the Point'; for the place has more to offer than its picturesqueness. Even two-score years ago physicians said to worn-out and run-down patients, 'Go and get well in the healthiest place in the country, Kennebunkport, Maine. Breathe that air deeply, sleep as such breathing makes you sleep, eat sea-food, go fishing, sailing, canoeing and surf-bathing. You'll come home a new man!'

"The doctors were right and are still right today. Vacation at Kennebunkport of course means good fun, golf, tennis, dancing, sailing, fishing, surf-bathing, antiquing and romantic views of sea and coast; but, what's more important, it means good health and rested nerves.

"Kennebunkport has not only the sea and the great crescent of white beach and brown rocks, it has a lovely river that winds inland between wooded banks, and, near the harbor mouth, gives the canoeist or sailor of light craft, glimpses of such exquisite gardens as Margaret Deland's and that of the painter, Abbott Graves.

"For visitors who like good cooking we quote from Kenneth Roberts' 'Arundel' a tribute to an item of this neighborhood's diet: 'The small salt water perch which we call cunners we take at any season, or whensoever one desires the sweetest chowder that can be made from any fish. I have eaten the yellow stew that the Frenchmen in Quebec call boullabaze, or some such name, and brag about until their tongues go dry; and I say with due thought and seriousness that, compared with one of our cunner chowders, a boullabaze is fit only to place in a hill of green corn to fertilize it.'

"And from another writer resident here, a brief picture of the village: 'Away from the tumbled coast and the rocky woodland of pine and juniper, is the village itself. There are the little streets of clean, white, green-shuttered houses as old as the great wine-glass elms that drip shadows down upon the roofs; there is the white church with

Booth Tarkington.

Along Shore

Cape Porpoise, close at hand, is a bold, rugged place where the ocean provides the chief charm. Here are hotels famous for tempting dinners of lobster and other sea-foods. Goose Rocks and Fortunes Rocks are points of interest which ramblers delight to visit for their scenic attractions. Biddeford Pool has a substantial cottage and hotel development. Well known authors and artists have their summer homes at the Pool.

Eight miles inland from the Pool are the thriving manufacturing and residential cities of Biddeford and Saco connected by bridges across the Saco River. Biddeford is a point of divergence to the inland town of Sanford, the largest town in the State and the place where the Palm Beach Cloth is made. The Goodall Mills also probably made the fabric with which your automobile is upholstered as they are the largest producers in this country. A visit to this pretty, prosperous town and its woolen mills is always of interest.

Famed Old Orchard Beach and its Environs

The splendid sweep of firm, white sands that comprises Old Orchard’s wonderful beach is famed the world over. It has been the take-off of several transatlantic airplane flights. It stretches for miles eastward to Pine Point and westward to Bay View, and at low tide its broad expanse, curving along the crescent shore, offers one of the most princely playgrounds over which the blue sky bends. Add to this an exhilarating surf, the security which encompasses the bathers at their daily sport, and the cool sea breeze that nearly always blows, and it is not hard to understand the popularity of this old-established Maine resort. Ocean Park, Ferry Beach and Camp Ellis are all descriptive names and are reached from Old Orchard Beach. Bay View is a splendid white sand beach at the southern end of that wonderful bathing area stretching from Scarboro and Pine Point to the Saco River, the finest bathing area on the Atlantic seaboard. Bay View is over two miles from the congested area of Old Orchard yet easily accessible to varied amusements when desired.

The Scarboros

Pine Point, Scarboro, Scarboro Beach and Higgins Beach are just north of Old Orchard, and not far along is Prout’s Neck, with many cottages and good hotels. Because this neck of land stretches out into the ocean, it always has a cool sea breeze. A country club provides for golf, tennis and social affairs. There is an ideal bathing beach, with pleasant water, and entire freedom from undertow.

Portland

Portland (Maine's largest city), the birthplace of the great American poet, Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, rich in history as well as in natural beauty of environment, and located at the head of Casco Bay with its charmingly diversified shores and picturesque islands, is a gateway to the summer lands of Maine—to shore, mountains, lakes and woods. As a vacation point itself Portland offers the visitor the advantages of metropolitan hotels, stores and theatres only a few steps from the shore of a most delightful arm of the sea.

The Eastern and Western Promenades, at either end of the city, command marvelous views. The eastern view is of Casco Bay with its mainland shores stretching from Cape Elizabeth at Portland Head Light to the peninsula of Harpswell, these two points of a crescent twenty miles apart, enclosing an island-dotted ocean area of 200 square miles. The view of Portland Harbor and Casco Bay from Fort Allen Park on the Eastern Promenade, is considered one of the most impressive in the world. To the west is a beautiful land view with background of the White Mountains 65 miles in the distance, and with a succession of cottage colonies, sandy beaches and rocky headlands, culminating in Trundy's reef and the so-called "Two-Lights," though there is now only one light-house. Just beyond the outermost point of Cape Elizabeth is Crescent Beach and the Spurwinks. Nearer the city is Portland Head Light, one of the earliest to be built on the Atlantic seaboard and serving as a beacon to the entrance to Portland harbor.

Where to Get Reliable Information on All Vacation Questions

In Longfellow Square, Portland, Congress street at State, are the headquarters of the State of Maine Publicity Bureau with offices and a most attractive information bureau and rest room. Its travel counselors will answer any question you may ask, map out your route and plan your trip in all its details. Its resources are at your command and you are invited to call and make full use of all it has to offer in resort service, for which no charge is made.

MAIN E invites you to have the time of your life within its broad boundaries this summer. And Eastern Steamship Lines invites you to heighten the joy of your vacation days in Maine by traveling north on this modern ship, the S. S. Florida.

Though this sea journey lasts only an afternoon and a night, you can easily cram into it a shipload of happy, restful hours. There are deck-sports, exciting horse races, dances to the rhythm of a famous Manhattan orchestra. Headline entertainers will perform during the week-end trips.

Aside from such amusements, there’s the grateful relaxation of a cool sea voyage, plus the countless comforts renowned under the Eastern Steamship flag. The Florida was originally built for tropic cruising. You can imagine, then, how perfectly she adapts herself to summer travel. . . . Cool, airy staterooms, nearly all of them outside location. . . . Spacious lounges planned to circulate the soft summer breeze. . . . An expansive ballroom, and beyond it a lantern-lit deck for dancing under the stars. . . . Food that rings the bell with your newfound appetite. . . . Beds that leave the sole regret you spend only one night in them en route.

Casco Bay

The Summer Isles of Casco Bay, generally reputed to number as many as the days of the year, but more conservatively estimated at 122, have no limit to the opportunities that they include for holiday sport and vacation enjoyment. Some have smooth beaches, admirable for bathing, many wild and rocky cliffs, most of which are heavily wooded. Local steamer lines maintain regular schedules between Portland, the island landings and mainland communities on the bay shore.

Of the islands, Peaks is the nearest and is really a suburb of Portland. Long Island is the largest of the islands and with its rugged shores and bathing beaches, offers every opportunity for summer diversion.

Along the Foresides

Northward and eastward of Portland, along shore, the journey lies through Falmouth, Cumberland and Yarmouth, towns that lie along Casco Bay, their shores known by the quaint old name “Foresides” to distinguish them from the remainder of the locality with beautiful views of inner Casco Bay and seashore diversions as well as nearby golf courses and Country Club enjoyments.

Maine’s Only “Desert”

Freeport has an unique offering in its so-called “Desert of Maine.” There are acres and acres of shifting sands which are fast obliterating grasses, bushes, trees and even buildings. At one point it stretches away for nearly 75 acres and the total area now included in the desert is more than 200 acres. Each year sees an increase in the acreage, so that students who have visited and studied it are wondering where it will stop; what will be the eventual fate of the surrounding landscape.

Freeport is called “the birthplace of Maine” as the papers separating Maine from Massachusetts were signed here.

The Seat of Bowdoin College

Brunswick, a few miles beyond the Foresides, is the seat of Bowdoin College, and beneath its academic elms have sauntered in their student days the novelist Hawthorne, the poet Longfellow, and Franklin Pierce, afterward to be President of the United States. Here Elijah Kellogg laid the scenes of “Whispering Pine” series, inimitable stories of student life of long ago. Here also was written “Uncle Tom’s Cabin,” its author, Harriet Beecher Stowe, being the wife of a professor of Bowdoin. Maine hall the first of the college dormitories was built 100 years ago. Among Bowdoin men who have roomed in Maine hall are Senator William Pitt Fessenden, President Franklin Pierce, Nathaniel Hawthorne, Elijah Kellogg, General O. O. Howard, General Joshua L. Chamberlain, Chief Justice Melville W. Fuller and Senator William P. Frye.

Just south of Brunswick lies Princes Point, Harpswell, Bailey’s and Orr’s Islands, spruce-crowned and well equipped with hotels and cottages.

Bath, the Shipbuilding City

Bath is a rarely beautiful old New England city with streets shaded by great elms and other trees; its residential section has many fine old mansions, the homes of the many famous shipbuilders and master mariners who made Bath’s fame as a shipping city world-wide. It was on the banks of the Kennebec River, a short distance below Bath, that in 1607, thirteen years before the Pilgrims landed at Plymouth, the Popham colony built the first vessel constructed by civilized hands in the new world.

Down Sebasco Way

Sebasco possesses that rare combination of vacation charms, a private bathing beach, rocky points, close by a large fresh water lake suitable for boating and canoeing; trails through the firs, spruces and pines and a mountain from the summit of which may be seen at night a half score of light-

Sebasco property for several miles is bonded against the pest of mosquitoes, extermination work having been done, following a special survey by the Gorgas Memorial Institute.

Boothbay Harbor Region

Boothbay Harbor is a quaint old seaport, a short distance off the main line of travel. On the old muster field, in the vicinity of Boothbay Harbor, Paul Revere trained the revolutionary soldiers. Fishing craft and swift sailing yachts and motor boats of all kinds are at anchor or tied to the wharves touching elbows with the winding village street, the shopping and social centre for the many summer resorts surrounding it. Boothbay region includes Boothbay Harbor, East Boothbay, Bayville, West Boothbay Harbor, Southport, Linekin, Ocean Point, Newagen and others—all having the same scenic characteristics.

Squirrel Island is the objective of a great deal of vacation travel, as it is the oldest resort along this section of the shore. “Squirrel” is the summer home of many of the members of our college faculties, a famous Maine editor and a large representation of some of the brightest lights in the literary, professional and business world. Southport is one of the many beautiful islands on the Maine coast, six miles in length and three miles at its widest part and connected with the mainland by a drawbridge over the Samoset river, a beautiful arm of the sea. It is centrally located and affords the western formation of the waters of Boothbay Harbor.

Damariscotta-Newcastle Section

The twin towns of Damariscotta-Newcastle bordering Damariscotta river and of historic interest are gateways to a dozen lakes of bass and pickerel, trout and salmon. Salt water fishing is nearby and in the fall there is excellent fox, coon and deer hunting, and duck shooting in the spring in adjacent territory.

The famous oyster shell heaps antedating Columbus are a source of wonder and exploration. The Bristols, Bremen and Medomak are nearby with many attractive summer homes.

Christmas Cove

While Christmas Cove is geographically the southern end of Rutherford Island, it is virtually part of the mainland, being connected by a bridge.

Here precipitous cliffs face with bold defiance the Atlantic's broad flood; here, deep and dense, stretch groves of fir and spruce; here a grassy meadow slopes to the verge of a peaceful little bay. This rare variety is indeed the charm of this well favored section of the Maine coast.

Historic Pemaquid

At Pemaquid the antiquarians have unearthed the ruins of ancient fortifications of before Columbus days. Rugged coastline, a mile of curved white sand beach, trails through pine and spruce wooded areas and freedom from commercial atmosphere is perhaps what most charms the Pemaquid visitor when he first stays at its comfortable hotels and comes again and again.

New Harbor is a popular seashore resort of the "fishing village" type but with satisfactory hotels and a large cottage colony.

Monhegan—Out to Sea

Monhegan Island, rising from the sea ten miles offshore, attracts by its sheer picturesqueness and restfulness a loyal summer throng. The whole of Monhegan Island seems to be one immense rock rising to a considerable height out of the sea and yet having a remarkable spruce area in the bowl-like center of the island.

Booklet Gentleman Clientele

James C. Chute, Prop.
For over thirty years artists have been coming to Monhegan, attracted by the wild beauty of the place, many coming year after year and building summer homes. The surf after a storm is wonderful beyond description.

Between Monhegan and Pemaquid Point, which is on the mainland, was fought the historic sea battle between the English brig, “Boxer,” and the American brig, “Enterprise,” in the War of 1812.

Camden and Penobscot Bay

Eight miles northward along its shore from Rockland stands Camden, a delightful village over which the blue Camden Mountains, which dominate this western bay shore, stand like sentinels. Through the glens about the bases of these mountains lie the routes of several beautiful drives which wind by sequestered lakes, over rolling hills and beneath the boughs of luxuriant forests.

Back from the shore rise the Camden Mountains amid the glory of forests and lakes. The vacation colony is exceptionally joyous here, whether it lives close to and upon the water or inland among the rural charms.

Bangor—The Queen City of the East

Bangor, 60 miles from the sea, terminal of navigation on the Penobscot, is one of the chief cities of Maine in point of population and trade importance. Handsome residences on broad, shaded streets are homes of wealthy and influential citizens of the State. The social order is characterized by good taste and hospitality. Excellent hotels are found here, and the city is a distributing point to the playgrounds of the eastern Maine shore, northern and eastern woods and lake regions, and to those which lie beyond the international frontier. It is close by the famous Bangor salmon pool from which the first sea salmon caught in the spring is sent each year to the President of the United States.

Close at hand are the brilliant pleasure colonies of Lucerne-in-Maine, Bar Harbor, Seal Harbor, Northeast Harbor, Manset, and Southwest Harbor, where every attraction of a modern summer resort is offered.
Bar Harbor and Mount Desert Island

Bar Harbor, long rated as one of the famous watering places of the world, is the gathering place each summer for prominent people. Diplomats and other distinguished foreign visitors lend the éclat of their presence and the vivacity to youthful society that the presence of their entourages gives.

Entertainment, hospitality, enjoyment—these are three cardinal principles on which Bar Harbor is founded.

One of the finest outdoor swimming pools in the country is that of the Bar Harbor Swimming Club, which also maintains excellent tennis courts.

Walter Hagen says that the Kebo Valley Club has one of the finest and most sporty golf courses of the country. It lies at the foot of the mountains of Acadia National Park.

"Northeast Harbor" and "Seal Harbor" are situated on the southern shore of Mount Desert, directly across Somes Sound from Southwest Harbor. Perhaps the greatest attraction is the wooded mountains that rise back of dreamy little villages which, with modest dwellings and little chapel, are a scene of rest, close to nature.

Behind the villages are Asticou, Brown, Little Brown and Sargent mountains, and on the western side of Somes Sound are Robinson, Flying Mountain, Dog and the two Western mountains. The Sound and other sheltered arms of the sea, make attractive sailing for pleasure boats, and there is plenty of cod and haddock fishing off shore, and inland ponds well stocked with salmon and trout are easily accessible. A golf club, swimming pool, a library, and Neighborhood house, open to both summer and all-year residents, add to the attractions of life here.

Along the Ocean Drive

At Seal Harbor, four miles from Northeast Harbor, there is another summer settlement, from which the romantic country adjacent to Jordan Pond is reached by a road from the shore directly into the mountains.

In a tiny burial ground at Hulls Cove side by side, lie the bodies of Bartholomew and Marie Therese Gregoire, who once owned all Mount Desert, with its 60,000 acres.

FRYEBURG

Beautiful, Picturesque Old Maine Village

Has retained the typical atmosphere of a farming community in spite of the thousands of summer visitors who come to camp along its streams and beside its many ponds.

Located in the Saco River valley, 50 miles from Portland, in the foothills of the White Mountains.

Six boys' and girls' camps, accommodating several hundred boys and girls, two fine hotels, numerous old colonial houses open for tourists and many public camps and cottages on the ponds make it easy for visitors to find the kind of accommodation they desire.

Fryeburg offers much to the vacationists: brook trout fishing in the streams, pickerel, bass and white perch fishing in the many ponds; safe, clean, sandy beaches for bathing; interesting mountain trails for the hiker and good deer hunting for the hunter.

Here is the home of Fryeburg Academy where Daniel Webster once taught, one of the best equipped and most modern academies in the State.

and scenic beauty unsurpassed in Maine. They died in poverty!

Tradition tells that the Norsemen paid a visit here early in the eleventh century, when history records the round towers at Newport and the Fall River. There is a lapse in the history of Mount Desert till the year 1688, when the King of France granted to Antoine de la Motte Cadillac the whole of Mount Desert, and adjacent islands.

Cadillac died in 1719 without having taken possession, but in 1786 Madame de Gregoire and her husband, Bartholomew, laid claim to the estate and in their behalf Thomas Jefferson and LaFayette interceded to the General Court of Massachusetts, which at that time had jurisdiction over the territory, and in 1787 the grant was given upon which all the titles of real estate in Bar Harbor and vicinity are based today.

Mount Desert, although an island, is connected at Trenton with the mainland by a modern cement bridge that is a part of the splendid roads that characterize the locality.

All of this territory is a part of or adjacent to Acadia
National Park with its mountain highway of easy grades to the summit of Cadillac Mountain.

Deer Isle is a place of surprising charms. Though located in the very center of the Penobscot Bay resort region, Deer Isle has been less exploited than most sections of the Maine coast. About twelve miles long, and from a few rods wide in one place to six miles in another, this island invites the friendliness of all who dwell for any length of time within its confines. Scattered cottages and summer colonies are found here and there, but the island as a whole retains much of its primitive character.

The Sebago and Long Lake Region

The Sebago and Long Lake Regions which embrace Windham, Raymond, North and East Sebago, South Casco, Naples, Bridgton and Harrison is one of the most beautiful water-sheds in New England, a region that attracts the sportsman and vacationist, the artist, author and poet; and a mecca for thousands of automobile tourists from early April, when the ice first leaves the numerous lakes, until ice again forms over their surface. Fishing in the Spring, motoring, boating, bathing and recreations in the Summer, and hunting in the Fall.

In this natural playground there are scores of lakes varying in size from Sebago Lake with its 80 square miles of surface which, in connection with the other waterways, form a great thoroughfare for a number of counties, to lakes of but two and three square miles. Nearly all of these lakes are connected with one another by small streams, which in themselves are one of the region's most picturesque assets.

Raymond and South Casco on the shores of Sebago Lake about half an hour's run from Portland are typical Maine villages poetical in a setting of ancient elms—quiet, restful and attractive to the summer visitor seeking vacation joys. They are on the Theodore Roosevelt International Highway from Portland to the White Mountains and offer excellent accommodations for the tourists and plenty of good wholesome outdoor summer sport. On Jordan's River is located one of the State's fish hatcheries.

Naples is a popular resort for a summer's outing with every facility for enjoying fishing, camping, boating, bathing and pure mountain air. For the bass fisherman, no better sport can be found than in the region of which Naples is the center; the nearby ponds and lakes are stocked every year with salmon and red spot trout.

The town of Casco is bordered by five great ponds or lakes, each a favorite spot with vacationists, fishing enthusiasts, and autoists.

Bridgton and Harrison

Bridgton and Harrison at the head of Long Lake and bordering Highland Lake are famous centers for vacationists and it was in these towns that the first boy and girl summer camp idea was carried out with success. This region offers charming scenery with over a dozen beautiful lakes within its borders, and picturesque little streams and rapids are numerous. Each body of water has its special charm of varying shores, miniature islands and wonderful views of the White Mountain range in the background. Canoeing and bathing are sports much enjoyed, and the bass fishing is excellent.

Fryeburg and Lake Kezar
Fryeburg is associated with the first efforts of our distinguished American statesman, Webster, and our illustrious poet, Longfellow. Webster taught at the Fryeburg Academy, eking out his modest salary of $350 a year by copying deeds for the county registry; Longfellow's first poem, written at the age of thirteen, had for its theme "Lovewell's Flight," a sanguinary battle in which thirty-three white men engaged one hundred Indians upon the shore of the pond in Fryeburg which bears the name of the white leader, Lovewell.

Fryeburg is just coming into its own as a center for winter sports activities, with ski and snowshoeing trails, toboggan slides and skating areas.

Fifteen miles over a good road from Fryeburg, through the pine woods and along ridges that overlook beautiful lakes and the peaks of the White Mountain ranges, is the quiet country village of Lovell. Lake Kezar, which Lovell borders, is over nine miles long, and in some places a mile wide, well stocked with salmon, small mouth bass, pickerel and the like, and furnishes good, safe bathing and boating. Mount Washington, Kearsarge, and a dozen other peaks of greater or less degree are in full view, and the long range of foot-hills continues to make the environments of this village among the finest. Within the limits of the town are Mount Reho, McDaniels Hill, Christian Hill, and Mount Sebatos. This last named is one of the many marvels of the State, as here may be seen a cliff that is practically perpendicular for a distance of more than 250 feet. It can be scaled on the side by a peculiar formation of steps known as the Devil's Staircase. Mount Sebatos is 900 feet high and with its tremendous cliff is one of the great sights of this section.

prising the northwest corner of the present Mansion House was commenced. This building was first occupied in 1796, and during the following year was finished as an inn; a signpost was erected at the northwest corner with the sign bearing the words: "Wentworth Ricker, 1797."

The Rangeley Lakes

One of Maine's most famous chain of inland waters is the Rangeley Lakes situated in the western part of the State, popular as resorts because of their accessibility, both by railroad and highway, through Turner, Farmington and other gateways. The Rangeley Lakes are five in number and are connected by narrow waterways. They are widely known for the purity of their air and water, health-giving qualities, remarkable beauty, and their great salmon and trout fishing. They have an altitude of 1,500 feet above sea level and cover an area of about 80 square miles, the center of a wonderful lake and forest country, abounding in some of the finest fishing that America affords as well as good hunting. There is trolling in the lakes and fly fishing in Kennebago and Cupsuptic Streams and in the five mile Rapid River running from Middledam to Sunday Cove. A new highway to be opened in 1935 from Oquossoc to Wilson's Mills will open up virgin fishing waters and a splendid hunting country. It is the new gateway of direct motor travel from the White Mountains into Northwestern Maine. Beautiful mountains dot the surrounding country and there are many rivers and streams reached by some of the best highways in the United States.

Where formerly this entire region knew only the flannel woods shirt and heavy clothing worn by men who came here to rough it in a log cabin, we now find the light summer gowns and sport clothes of summer vacation resort society in hotels and camps offering every modern convenience and comfort of city homes. You may enjoy the romance of living in a log cabin but you will have the best of beds, open fires, bath rooms and verandas.

The Belgrade Country

In Central Maine are the Kennebec and Belgrade chains of lakes. They abound in trout and bass and have gained world-wide fame for their charm of scenery.

Kennebec chain comprises Maranacook (at the foot of which is the charming town of Winthrop) Lake Cobbosseecontee and Pleasant Ponds, which find an outlet into the Kennebec River. Lake Maranacook has for years been building up a reputation for good bass and trout fishing, with ample accommodations at Maranacook at the lower end and Readfield at the upper end of this beautiful sheet of water. Torsey Lake, in the town of Readfield, has an enviable reputation for the size and number of its small mouth black bass. Cobbosseecontee Stream, the outlet of Cobbosseecontee Lake, is one of few in Maine offering satisfactory stream fishing for black bass.

Belgrade Lakes chain embracing Belgrade Lakes Village, North Belgrade, Rome, Mount Vernon, Vienna, Smithfield and Oakland, because of the excellent bass, trout and salmon fishing in lakes and streams, picturesque mountain scenery and unexcelled outing delights, offer a pleasing variety of attractions to the vacationist. In these lakes remarkable catches of small-mouthed bass have been made. Fly-fishing for black bass begins the first of June and continues into and throughout July, and later comes on again to hold through the middle of September. The fishing in August is as good as any sportsman could wish, but is better earlier in the season. Of late years the square-tail trout fishing has developed rapidly so that it now equals that in many lakes in Maine and is fast rivaling the bass attractions for the fisherman.

Oakland is a gateway to the greater part of the Belgrade Lakes region also reached through Belgrade Village. Mount Vernon is on the western border.

Following the Arnold Trail

Due north of the Belgrade Lakes there is found a resort that has won nation-wide fame during the past few years. Here, at Lakewood, just a short distance from Skowhegan, and on the direct route via Jackman to the City of Quebec, a beautiful summer colony centers around a modern theatre where a company of Broadway stars present a series of Broadway stage successes throughout the summer season. The Lakewood theatre, cottage colony, country clubhouse and golf course are on the shore of a charming lake, where water sports and fishing are enjoyed. An excellent hard-surfaced highway stretches north from Lakewood through Bingham with its famous Wyman Dam and on to Quebec. The route is over the so-called Jackman highway through The Forks, named because of the confluence of the waters of the Dead River which have flowed down from the hills and lakes of Franklin County to join those of the Kennebec, which have come from Moosehead Lake. The Forks, Lake Parlin and Jackman sections are fishing and hunting centers of renown. Parlin and Jackman are close to the Canadian line, in a territory of lakes, meadows and mountains. The lakes have an abundance of trout, land-locked salmon and togue. There are partridge, woodcock and other game birds, the woods are alive with deer.

Jackman--On the Way to Quebec

At Jackman an excellent highway extends through a wilderness region to Rockwood on the shores of Moosehead Lake and across the lake are far famed Kineo and Kineo Mountain.

A fine new highway opened in the summer of 1934 extends south from Rockwood to Greenville crossing the West and East Outlets of Moosehead which flow into the Kennebec river, thence through Squaw Mountain on the southern shore of Moosehead Lake.

Famous Moosehead Lake

Moosehead Lake possesses some of the most superb scenery of the northeast. Located in the western central part of the State 1,023 feet above sea level, surrounded by splendid spruce and fir balsam forests, it has become universally recognized as a health resort, and famous for its unexcelled trout and salmon fishing in the lake, in Moose River the outlet of Brassua Lake and in other streams emptying into and leading from Moose-

Augusta--The Capital City

The capital city of Augusta has attractions in itself through its fine country club, for golf and tennis, and it is close by the many lakes of the Kennebec section.
Fort Western on the east bank of the Kennebec river in Augusta is a museum of early day history of Maine and Arnold's march to Quebec.

Maine's state house is one of the most beautiful in the country. The corner stone was laid in 1829.

It is built of Hallowell granite and its graceful tower is recognized as designed by Charles Bullfinch. The female figure which surmounts the tower was designed by W. Clark Noble of Gardiner.

Waterville and China

The City of Waterville is twenty miles north, a delightful elm-shaded city of business activity, the seat of Colby College and a gateway to the Belgrade Lakes region and northern and eastern central Maine.

China Lake, one of the best bass fishing waters in Maine, is reached from Augusta or Watervile over State highways. It is the water supply for the City of Watervile, so there are no hotels of size and it is quite distinctively a cottage colony region.

A few miles east of Watervile is Unity Lake in the town of Burnham offering good bass, perch and pickerel fishing, bathing, boating and nearby golf clubs.

Maine's Fishing Waters

To list the fishing waters in the north Maine woods country would mean an endless catalogue. There are numerous lakes and streams, dozens of fine basins famous for fishing, and farther north in western and northern Aroostook County are waters that have come rapidly into prominence. All these waters offer exceptionally fine sport and the salmon and trout taken from these waters are unsurpassed for size and gaminess.

LAKES
Katahdin Iron Works is the gateway to vast country of lakes and streams abounding in trout and in moose, deer, bear and other wild life. Iron was once mined here and buckboard route extends to Big Houston and other lake centers. Such waters as West and East Chair-back, Pleasant River and Gulf Hagar yield abundantly of square-tail trout which rise to the fly all through the summer months.

A gateway for climbing Mount Katahdin is the new highway opened in 1934 from Millinocket branching off to Windy Pitch, continuing on through the Katahdin country, following the waters of the West Branch in sight of the mountain and joining the older highway from Greenville via Ripogenus Dam to Soursnabunk Stream so that the circuit trip can now be made. Among the hundreds of northern lakes in Maine, none offer finer salmon fishing than do Square and Eagle Lakes in Northern Aroostook County and nowhere do the fish run larger.

One of the big advantages of these cold north-Maine waters is that there is good fly-fishing practically throughout the summer.

A vast hunting and fishing wilderness territory is reached from Ashland, particularly that section along the upper Machias River waters.

North of Dover-Foxcroft is Sebec Lake, which is twelve miles long and one of the best salmon and bass lakes in Maine. There is a good golf course at Guilford only twelve miles away and at the lake is ample opportunity for bathing, boating, canoeing and other water sports. Good highways for scenic trips extend to Moosehead and in many directions.

Maine moose always noted for their size and spread of antlers are now protected by law, but Maine continues its supremacy for fine deer and bear hunting.
