

THE OLD ORCHARD APPLE

JOHN LITWINETZ
COUNCILMAN

"I wanted to get the people thinking about the problem", so says John Litwinetz. The problem was or is the cleanliness of the beach or better known as the NO FOOD/BEVERAGE PROPOSAL. This is John Litwinetz's style---the role of the devil's advocate to provide a vehicle for change through stimulation of the issues.

He's not only well educated by attending General Motors Institute in Michigan and Colorado State University, but he also feels he has been well educated by living a frugal life for which he has great value. His stay in Vietnam taught him about the "value of life". Friends came and went because of the fluidity of the service. Education came from many and varied situations and continues today.

Having been a resident of the area for four years, Litwinetz along with his wife, Meribeth, is the owner and operator of the Imperial House, a remnant of the Golden Years of OOB. When he first came to the town, he attended a Council Meeting and has been interested in politics such that he is now a Councilman with hopes of becoming State Representative in the fall.

What does John Litwinetz want to do for the town? "I want to eliminate the bitterness and the politicking in the town," says the mild Litwinetz as he rocked slowly in an antique rocker. "This is my major aim. 1976 has already been better." Involvement of the people---more people in town government is his second aim. Following this directive he suggested the Finance, Sewer, and Roads and Sidewalks Committees which all are now in use (or shortly will be).

"Society tends to forget its youth." This statement prompts Litwinetz to suggest a Youth Center which could be instrumental in aligning our youth with mainstream society again.

Probably the most publicized of all of his proposals has been the Senior Citizens Property Tax Refund which has been discussed in budget workshops since it provides for a structural change in the budget. Litwinetz has a strong affinity with Governor Longley's philosophy of greater local control and has proposed the tax refund which is a first in Maine in the Longley spirit.

In his role as devil's advocate Litwinetz proposed the revenue sharing or sales tax reimbursement which would bring into the town approximately $700,000.

A man who has lived here shortly but has done some good is a fair way to describe John Litwinetz.

SUSPICIOUS FIRE AT O.O.B. CLUB

May 25, 1976 5:45 AM

A fire was reported at the Red Carpet Club on West Grand Avenue. It was first seen by an off duty fireman.

The fire was fought for six hours, by men from Old Orchard Beach, Scarborough and Saco, while Biddeford covered the rest of town.

Approximately a hundred men and eight pieces of equipment were used to fight the flames.

Chief Smith believes that the fire started in the kitchen of the lounge, in the basement of the club.

Three firemen were taken to hospitals for smoke inhalation and exhaustion. Dean Daley was taken to the Webber, Lloyd Douglas of Engine Four Scarborough and Brad Emery of Old Orchard were taken to the Maine Medical Center.

Old Orchard police are working with Earl Silvers, Sargent of the State Arson Squad, and Lawrence Dolby State Fire Marshall.

There was a report of a young man seen running from the scene. The police are working on a composite sketch.

Dennis Dancoes recently purchased the club from Hereschel Desjardins.

CANDIDATES CORNER

John M. Kerry wants to represent District 117. He is visiting people everyday. Taking time from his family and work is hard since he feels family and work are priorities in his life, but he wants to share his experience and insight with and for others. Meghan and Tash (short for Natasha) brighten up the Kerry household with Linda overseeing the two. Kerry provides the guidance.

With Tash drawing snowmans quitely Kerry states pensively "I have spent the last six years working in Augusta promoting human services programs for those people that need assistance. I know the system and I know how it works. I have visited thousands of elderly people, over 100 nursing homes, the facilities of the mentally retarded and all of our correctional institutions in Maine. I believe my legislative experience, education, and my outlook as a businessman will provide the citizens of our area with the balanced type of representation that they want and deserve."

Working with a planned program for the future Kerry suggests a philosophy which is of Thomas Jefferson--"For Democracy to survive the people must remain eternally vigilant". Kerry has done his homework. He knows what he would like to do. In a seven page analysis of the issues Kerry pinpoints the issues, but also he feels that door to door visitation--the hard work must be done and is being done.

Some of Kerry's programs would be: the provision which would enable property tax relief for the working family and the elderly, the establishment of a "sunset law" which would eliminate ineffectual state programs and provide for definite termination dates for all state agencies, commissions, and bodies, the establishment of an Appropriations Budget Committee which would allocate funds according to the greatest needs of the people, not necessarily to the power of the special interest groups or lobby.

Kerry whose dad was Police Chief in Saco for twenty years is a graduate of Thornton and Cheverus High Schools. He then attended Holy Cross where he graduated in 1966. After graduating from Boston College Graduate School where he obtained a master's degree in social planning, Kerry joined Uncle Sam's Army and became an officer in the Intelligence Corps.

He has worked in the State Legislature for the past six years---5 as Director of Legislative Research for the Diocese of Portland and last year as legislative assistant for John Martin Speaker of the Maine House of Representatives.

RORY GET YOUR DORY THERE'S A HERRING IN THE BAY

By Rory O'Moore

As an outsider, and aware of O.O.B. citizen's affection for outsiders, I will make my suggestions (comments) as brief as possible. Old Orchard has the potential to regain its late 18th and early 19th century stature as a resort town with, as Mr. Cummings suggested, "a touch of class," but to realize these ends, some very serious problems have to be overcome.

Councilman Litwinetz's latest attempt to take up residence in the Byrd's nest is by far the greatest example of lunacy yet to be brought up in the Council Chambers, and I am aware of some of its competition. I am not denying the fact that litter is a problem on the beach, but "no food or drink?" Someone has got to be pulling someone's chain. This bit of legislation is going to save the town money? Who is going to enforce the law? Lifeguards? I believe they have more important duties. CETA workers? I am under the impression that the CETA program is designated to train people to be more "employable" how does "enforcer of assinine legislation" read on a resume? The local food merchants must have a fantastic lobby on the floor. It has always appeared to me, again prefaced by the fact that I am an "outsider" that the beach is more littered near the pier where the majority of the food sellers are located, I am not one to draw conclusions from impermissible evidence, but...

However, I guess whatever the council, in its ultimate wisdom, decides what will be law and I guess there won't be any harm done if the law is enforced as well as "no drinking of alcoholic beverages" has been.

Litterers should be punished, but not all people who take food on the beach are litterers. Are we going to see a six foot fence built along the pier to keep people from throwing cups overboard? If a seagull drops a french fry who is the litterer, the gull or the person throwing?... Now if OOB really wants to effect enforcement impossibilities, why doesn't the council pass legislation banning urination in the ocean.

The various vicissitudes of life are but the tools with which the Divine Architect shapes one's character. Mortals are placed here on earth to develop character.

Whether a man has good fortune or whether he has bad fortune is relatively unimportant; it is only his reaction to the good or bad misfortune that counts.

A man who suffers adversity and reacts in the proper way to that adversity has developed his character in such a way that he has achieved a net asset, so that in the long run he has been as fully benefited as though he had good fortune. A man should never be swollen with pride at triumph, nor should he be despondent over defeat. He should cooperate with destiny to strengthen his character by whatever experience life has to offer. A destination in life is unimportant. It is only what one does along the way that counts.

If a man has a talent and cannot use it, he has failed. If he has a talent and uses only half of it, he has partly failed. If he has a talent and learns to use the whole of it, he has gloriously succeeded, and won a satisfaction and a triumph few men ever know.

Perseverance is more prevailing than violence; and many things which cannot be overcome when they are together, yield themselves up when taken little by little.

MARY'S MORSELS

This tasty dish is one of the most famous of Greek foods and a perfect dish to serve at any dinner table or party.

A few years ago we had a party at the end of the summer season, for all the employees of the Sand Bar and at that time "Sweet Grease" band was playing for us. I served this dish on my buffet which made a great hit with Junior Guay and to this day he still talks about the stuffed grapevine leaves. So Junior, here is the recipe.

Stuffed Grapevine Leaves (Dolmathes)

1 lb. ground beef
1 large onion, chopped fine
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup rice
2 tbsp. mint leaf or parsley chopped fine
2 tbsp. butter
 $1\frac{1}{2}$ cup water
1 can canned tomatoes, pulp and juice
1 15-oz. jar grapevine leaves
Salt and Pepper

Mix the beef, onion, rice, mint, melted butter, salt and pepper and simmer for a few minutes, add tomatoes. Mix well. Rinse leaves in water to remove excess brine. Take one teaspoon of filling and place in center of one large leaf or two small ones, carefully fold over top and sides like an envelope and roll up like a miniature football. Arrange in compact layers in large saucepan and place a dish over the rolls, to prevent breaking apart when cooking. Add water, cook for 30 minutes over medium heat. Serve 5-6.

The making of the dish is the tart avgolemono sauce (lemon sauce) that can be used as you serve them.

Lemon Sauce

3 eggs - Juice of 1 lemon
Liquid from the above recipe
3 tbsp. water Salt and pepper.

Beat eggs, add lemon juice, water and juice from the cooked grapevine recipe, salt and pepper. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly until it thickens. It is now ready to serve over the grape leaves.

NOTE: Lettuce leaves may be used in place of the grape leaves by soaking them in hot water until they get a little wilted and proceed as directions for the grape leaves. You can also make stuffed cabbage leaves with the same filling. Boil the cabbage, the whole head as it comes, do not cup up. Remove from the water and peel off leaves, allowing them to cool, for easier handling. Trim off the outer stems and fill and cook according to the directions for the grapevine leaves. Lemon sauce can also be served with above.

Here is one of the most delicious and well known Greek pastries. It is a very rich pastry and in the Greek homes it is usually made for special occasion or holidays. The pastry sheet can be bought at Boucouvalas Market in Saco or T-Sisters Market in Biddeford.

Baklava

$1\frac{1}{2}$ lbs. butter
2 lbs. chopped walnuts
2 lbs. pastry sheets
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup sugar
1 tsp. cinnamon

Combine walnuts, sugar, cinnamon in large mixing bowl. Melt butter and brush bottom of pan 14x20" with melted butter and place one pastry sheet, brush with melted butter, repeating this process until four pastry sheets line the bottom of the baking pan.

Brush fourth layer with melted butter and sprinkle with nut mixture. Add another pastry sheet, brush with melted butter, sprinkle with nut mixture, repeating this until all the ingredients are used, ending with four top layers. Brush with butter and cut into diamond shapes. Bake for 1 hour at 300° until golden brown. While pastry is baking prepare syrup.

Syrup

2 cups sugar
2 cups water
1 tsp. lemon juice
 $\frac{1}{4}$ cup honey

Combine sugar and water and boil until thickened, stir in honey and lemon juice. Cool and pour over warm baklava.

(By the way Donna M. how did last weeks recipe for the meat balls come out? Did you enjoy them?)

CLUTTER COLLECTIONS

Perhaps the town council should take into consideration the amount of clutter in the form of empty cardboard cartons that are stacked out on the sidewalks near the curb in front of various merchants establishments.

There is, on the books, a town by-law written in 1929, stating that "no person shall obstruct or block any sidewalk or a public way."

Technically they are not blocking the public way, but, it gives the town the image of one of clutter or one that the Sanitation workers have gone on strike, much like the garbage men's strike in New York.

Perhaps, some thought should be given to designating specific hours during which no empty cardboard cartons shall be placed on the sidewalks of the town. Enforcement?

Enforcement, would and should fall under the jurisdiction of the License Inspector.

Another avenue for exploration would be for private Sanitary collectors to be hired by the merchants for removal of clutter.

Most of the residents have to bag up their trash and store it all week, of course we don't like it, but we don't stack it up on the curbs either, we have to live with it until collection day.

STYLE-CLASS-PRIDE

A little bit of style, a little bit of class and a little bit of civic pride.

The occasion of the 50th Anniversary of St. Margarete's Church gave the residents a preview of how the main street of the town can be up-graded in appearance by the installation of the flags and flagpoles by the Bi-Centennial Commission.

The splash of color helped brighten up the street and serves as a welcoming committee for the visitors to our town and diverts the eye from another dull, drab ordinary main street in any coastal resort town.

Ernest Brousseau has contacted all but four merchants on the main street to take charge of the raising and lowering of the flags each day and reports that the spirit of co-operation was most enthusiastic in all but one instance.

Leaving some of the flags up all night was a test of vigilance of merchants and the honesty of visitors. At first it was thought that three flags had been stolen, but it proved that the merchants were more vigilant than anticipated, for they had taken them for safe keeping.

Church Flags Stolen Reward Offered

The five flags of the Bi-Centennial, in front of St. Margarets Church, were stolen sometime after 1:15 AM, Sunday morning, while the members of the staff of the church had forgotten to take down the flags for the day while busily engaged in the festivities celebrating the 50th Anniversary of the church.

The Bi-Centennial Commission has offered a $50.00 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the thieves.

NOTHING

by Elizabeth Nieuwland

One of the curses of mod- ern American civilization is there is never a time when you are permitted to do nothing. Say, you're lying on the sofa, staring into space. Now you know there's work to be done; there's a piece of Kleenex on the floor waiting to be picked up, the cat is sit- ting at the door swishing his tail, the Christmas tree is still up tho it's past Valentine's Day, the dishes in the sink are not washing themselves, and the laundry hamper is bulging.

There you sit, pretty soon someone will come along and ask what you're doing, and you reply, 'nothing'.

They will ask if you want to watch TV, listen to the radio, or darn their socks. To which you reply that you do not feel like doing any- thing, and you are doing just that.

Someone else comes out and asks if you ar thinking, no, you are not even think- ing, you are juststaring into space.

It is against the New Eng- land conscience, the Puritan work ethic, and Maine trad- ition to allow anyone to just sit, but your question- ers are helpless in the face of such rebellion. They come in the room, move restles- sly about, wring their hands, wonder if they should call the doctor, and generally work themselves up into a state.

This lasts until supper- time, at which time you have to cook, wash the dishes, and scrub the kitchen floor.

The best thing to do is go to India and look up a guru, he will teach you con- templation, that means you can sit and stare into space all day if you want to, I'd go myself, if I had the fare.

SPIRIT OF '76

The town was treated to a special view of what the Bi-Centennial Commission, feels is the most unique in all of York County, and it is the "Town Color Gaurd". Dressed in exact authentic replicas of the uniforms issued to the men of York County and Old Orchard, during the Revolutionary War.

The town of York has a complete company of men dressed in Revolutionary War uniforms, but none are exactly alike.

Ernest Brousseau, Bi-Cen- tennial Commission, Stated "The purpose of the creation of the 18th Continental. Regimental Color Guard (The Town Color Guard) is that after participation in at least five parades the Commission will seek to have the color guards designated as "State Color Guards".

Special thanks are due to Mrs. Sandra Lord, Home Economics instructor at the High School, and all the members of the three classes who labored for well over a month to cut, sew, measure and dye the uniforms from material supplied by the Commission. Perhaps the most tedious part was the sewing of 52 buttons on each of the eight uniforms.

Presently the members of the color guard consists of high school students with three members not of the student body.

The Home Economics class made eight uniforms and there are currently three positions to be filled. The Commission hopes to have four men wearing the short breeches and four wearing the long trousers, with two color bearers.

This will be a true "Color Guard " available to all Civic, Fraternal and Patri- otic organizations for par- ticipation in local parades, State Conventions, transpor- tation provided, to and from the State Conventions.

High School functions will have first priority because it is the High School's contribution to the Bi-Centennial Cele- bration.

Their next apperance will be at the Memorial Day Parade.

For further information please contact Ernest Brousseau, Bi-Centennial Commission.

The Seagulls scored four more in the third, highlighted by a two run double by Billy Presby, and added two more in the fifth for good measure. Wells erupted in the seventh with three straight singles and a two run double by Jeff Baston, Billy Presby, who had been pitching good up to that point, was relieved by Andy Coreau who walked the first two batters he faced, the latter brining a home run. OOB TRACK TEAM LEFT TO RIGHT KEVIN MARTINE RICHARD , KAREN SMITH.

Track is mainly an individual sport that curtails a great deal of training and hard work. Old Orchard High School has no field, no home meets, and therefore the incentive is not exactly highly rated for track.

The past eight years Old Orchard has had a team participating in the Southern York County League.

Last year was the first for a girls team. Usually, a total of twenty-five girls and bous last throughout the track season, which begins around the last week of March and ends the last week in May. With the disadvantages mentioned above then what is the incentive for participating in track?

Coach John Ladakakas, who has had the team the past eight years says "The goal for anyone to set for themselves is to make it to the State Finals."

In 1974 Michele Roberge won the State Title in the 50 yard dash for girls. This year Old Orchard has two girls and one boy that have qualified for the Regional meet this Saturday, May 29. All three will be trying to qualify for the State Meet on June 5.

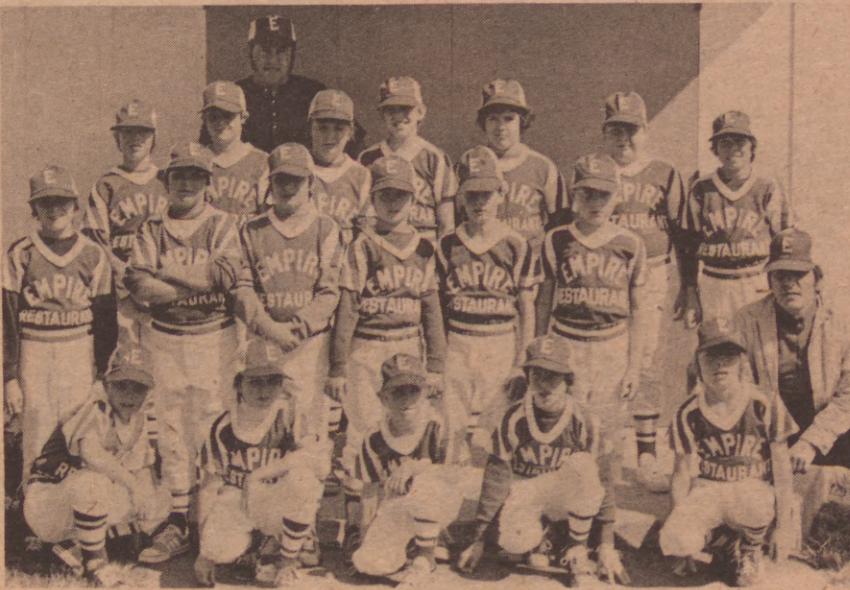

The boy on the team is Kevin Gillis, a two miler, a Junior at the high school and a hard trainer. Kevin has trained extremely hard this year. He runs the beach in the morning, runs with his coach in the afternoon and runs about five to ten miles each day. This paid off for him on last Saturday, he won the two mile race in our League meet with his best time of the year 10:20:5.

On the girls team another two miler, a freshman, Martine Richard in seven races has four wins and three seconds and will also be trying to qualify. She has improved her time each race and finished second in the League Meet with her best time 13:17.

Karen Smith, the other girl, who will be trying to qualify has been this route last year. Karen in her first year of track in 1975 accomplished a great deal. She runs the 220 yard dash. Last year, Karen made it all the way to the State. She finished 4th among the twelve girls who made it to the State Finals with a time of 28.6 seconds. She is trying to repeat and make it to that June 5 meet once again.

Coach Ladakakas, is proud of all three and is looking forward to this Saturday and he feels all three can do it. They have been dedicated, hard working kids who are great to work with and this is what it is all about, accomplishing a goal.

ROAD & SIDEWALK ADVISORY COMMISSION

As stated in last week's copy of The Apple, over $200,000 of work in the town's roads are needed. The roads of Old Orchard have been neglected in the past. Due to a suprising lack of information and an obvious lack of time, no overall comprhensive road plan can be realized for this year. Next year, however, for the first time, your Road and Sidewalk Commission will have the 3-5 year plan to restore the town's roads back to health, and it will be our only priority.

The Road and Sidewalk Commission will have to work in co-operation with the other Commissions of this town to have an effective, realistic, overall plan. For this year's budget request, the Commission as a result of several meetings and a couple of days on the road, came up with a list of 15 streets in three seperate areas.

The roads were selected along a tough guideline: 1) location of the road in regards to its area, 2) traffic volume, 3) use of the road.

The prices were based on $16 a ton for tar, $2.25 for gravel (gravel is only used when the road is not previously tarred). Twelve of the fifteen roads are not being completly redone, because not all of the roads need it. Area One:

- 1) Ocean Ave $4,720
- 2) Seaside Ave. $5,808
- 3) Casco $1,088
- 4) Colby $4,272
- 5) 6th Ave. $2,240
- 6) Conn. $3,184
- 7) Mass. $4,185

Area Two:

- 1) Ocean $1,520
- 2) Forest $3,648
- 3) Lake Ave. $5,744
- 4) Central $5,632
- 5) Summit & Ext. $6,416

Area Three:

- 1) Spring St. $2,568
- 2) New Salt Rd. $2,863
- 3) Erwin $1,120

Total cost of our proposal is $55,008.

Where oh where have the crosswalks gone? They have faded away, every last one.

The crosswalks are apparently painted every year. Since this is a year to year project, why aren't they being done? The Commission was informed, that technically, there was no paint. It would seem, since the crosswalks are painted every year, no planning would be needed. Order sufficient materials every year, and all is ready. The painting should be done before June (all the crosswalks, not just a selected few).

A formal reccomendation by the Road and Sidewalk Commission will be made at the next regular town meeting. Motorists seem to have little concern for pedestrians anyway, at least with a crosswalk the people can have central points to cross our crowded highways. Additional crosswalks at selected locations are also to be presented.

In some states, when a person steps on the crosswalk, the person, under law, has the right of way. The motorist has to stop and let the people cross the street. In Maine, no such law exists. Perhaps our many candidates to represent us, will take this issue to the Maine legislature for enactment. People come first, not machines.

OLD ORCHARD BEACH ATHLETIC BOOSTERS

The OOB Boosters would at this time like to announce that they will be having an Arts and Crafts fair on July 3rd-4th, from 10:00 am to 7:00 pm at the Veterans Memorial Park.

There will be tables for a Flea Market and everyone is welcome to sell their wares.

The Arts and Craft Fair is also looking for people interested in having their own booths at the fair.

For more information please contact Joyce McKee at 934-5559, any article requiring a truck should contact Nancy Schlatterer at 934-2538.

The responsibilities of the Road and Sidewalk Commission seem to grow at every town meeting. Recently, the town council gave to the Commission this years traffic regulation. This includes stop signs, one-way, parking regulation, and also areas set aside for the physically disabled.

The commission will recomend that the painting of the crosswalks every year and at an earlier date. The Commission will have another few days on the road as they prepare for their propsals on cold-patching. Cold Patching is an effort to cover over the holes in the road until funds can be found for their pavement. At the last town meeting, a new responsibility was added. A Traffic Committee will be formed with Saco, Biddeford and Old Orchard acting in unison.

The Road and Sidewalk Commission stands up and applauds The Apple for its work and its concern for our town, we wish them continued success.

RESCUE LEAGUE

The Volunteer Rescue Leauge will be holding a Public Awareness Day for the ciizens of Old Orchard Beach. It will be at the Loranger Jr. High School on Saturday May 29th from 10 AM to 6 PM.

They will be showing films and demonstrating the Heimlich Manuever.

The volunteers will be checking blood pressure, respitory and pulse rate, and everyone will recieve a card with their blood pessure recorded, so you will have it with you in case of an emergency.

There will be plenty of people there to answer any questions you may have about rescue work and ways to help someone in case of an emergency.

A Door Prize will be given, it is a First Aid Kit.

The public is invited to come and see the exhibits and to possibly learn something that may save someones' life.

SERENITY

When daylight breaks your slumber,
And your mind is calm from sleep,
Many blessing you can number,
As "Morning Communion" you keep.
You must put aside the negative thoughts that try breaking through,
Replace them all with the positive
Acts that you plan to do.
First, thank your Higher Power
For a peaceful nights repose, and build your daily "Tower"
in which to keep your "Lows" Replace them all with Highlights with which to fill your day,
Don't look for wrongs, just the rights
For this, you must fervently pray.
Start oll with a smile, not a frown,
This is the way it must be Let nothing, today get you down,
And you'll find serenity.

BY TIMOTHY W. TUCKER
POLITICAL EDITOR

"I may not agree with what you say, but I will defend until death your right to say it."

Voltaire

Until lately I think I have had more faith in people. It seems, however, that either because I have become more involved in politics or because I am writing for this paper that my faith in people namely politically minded has diminished greatly.

It is beyond some people to argue intelligently. Their arguments rarely make sense because they jump from subject to subject without knowing the facts. It is indeed difficult to debate with only one set of facts. Indeed it is unfair.

A point that is seldom argued but is a poignant one is that sometimes people who are very intelligent twist and distort the facts. Intelligence is misused and fair play is the issue. Would it be possible that those who hide under the guise of eloquence and intelligence are as despicable as those who are highly volatile and inatinal?

Geé, it's too bad that the No Food/Beverage Proposal wastes valuable time that the Council coulkd use providing plans for updating license charges and continuing urban renewal and beautification.

Politics are just about finished for Old Orchard. Summertime politics are put to beddy bye and the good times begin to roll.

Flags grace the streets. Without a doubt something has been added to the Old Orchard Beach scene. It is quite impressive.

Could it be possible to have the main arteries into OOB picked up on a daily schedule.
It seems the litterbugs know not when to throw their rubbish away, they do it all the time.

More barrels on the beach? Good idea.

Let's get the clarification on whether the Conservation Commission is legal or just a vehicle of discussion. It seems to be very controversial.

Anyone can see the Town Manager but some people just might be putting the Town Manager in a very bad position. They are seeing too much of him, thus people begin to talk.
Oh rumor. The downfall of a good man.

The power of citizen input could be very helpful. Let's say that if a group of citizens believe something should be done. A well meaning information study, could be presented at a Council Meeting (after being put on the agenda).

Again do the police have a supply of gasoline which could be used in an emergency?

A tip of the hat to the neighbor who rightly called the police when I inadver-tantly left my door open. The police came and shut the door. This again proves that citizen participation is getting better.

INTERVIEW

Note: Few individuals at OOB have spent more hours on the beach than Councilman Richard Marshall. As a former lifeguard captain for over a dozen years he knows the beach and the people who utilize it. Accordingly, our staff interviewed him regarding Councilman Litwinetz's controversial food and beverage ban.

APPLE: "Councilman Marshall, how do you feel about Mr. Litwinetz's proposal to prohibit families from consuming food and soda on the beach?"

MARSHALL: "Frankly, it is simply impractical.
Those of us who grew up here know that many mothers will prepare a small lunch for the children and send them off to the beach only to join them later after doing errands or housework. I cannot imagine, during the interim period, an officer of the law confiscating the kids' peanut butter and jelly sandwiches."

APPLE: "Mr. Litwinetz suggested that summer CETA personnel assist with the enforcement of such an ordinance. Is this possible?"

MARSHALL: "Until last year we had never been able to obtain any CETA positions. Chiefly, through Town Manager Plante's initiative we were granted 31 summer positions as well as 10 personnel under Titles I, IV and VI for extended periods. Four of the summer CETA employees were assigned to help clean the beach. CETA officials, at the county filed the four slots to Milestone. Also, workers under CETA can only work 28 hours per week (summer program). Would you close the beach after 12 noon?"

APPLE: "Why couldn't the police officers handle the enforcement duties?"

MARSHALL: "We only have 31 policemen for assignments during the summer season. Certainly, with such a limited force to be divided over three shifts and the tremendous population growth we could not deploy additional police officers for litter duty.

APPLE: "How do you feel about the $25.00 fine against those who would not comply with the ordinance?"

MARSHALL: "Our beach is a public place. As such, under state law, anyone littering could be fined up to $100.00. Keep in mind you must be 18 or older to enforce such a law in an official capacity. This would eliminate about all summer CETA personnel."

APPLE: "Would there really be a cost savings of about $30,000.?"

MARSHALL: "Absolutely not. Enforcement would be far more costly. At great cost you could reduce some of the litter, however, you would still have to pick up what remains.
Such would still involve beach cleaners, trucks and heavy duty equipment on the part of the town. The cost was kept down last year because of increased production by the beach cleaning personnel. In fact, Mr. Plante kept the crew down to 14 people as compared to over 20 helpers in 1974."

APPLE: "What do you think the Town Council will do with Mr. Litwinetz's proposed ordinance?"

MARSHALL: "Rather than antagonize our people with an unworkable ordinance, we should encourage more families to picnic on our beach.
The surf and sands are not only for the rich and well born. Children learn not to litter from their parents. We have a wholesome and perfect teaching site.
