"DONKEY PARTY."

On Saturday evening, Aug. 29, at eight o'clock, a number of the guests of the Merriconeag house took part in a "Donkey Party," which turned out to be a great agreement.

The party was arranged by Miss F.
B. Campbell and Edward F. Rode both both of New York. There were eighteen players, and the prizes were carried away by Mrs. Haskell, first prize which was an Indian made basket; Mr. Halsell second prize, cuff box of rare beauty; third prize Miss Eleanor M. Woolsey assorted candy; fourth prize Clarence A Rode Indian fourth prize, Clarence A. Rode, Indian cracker jar; fifth, M. Leal, box of animal crackers, appropriate for the oc-casion. After this was over the young folks adjourned to the parlor and had a game of stocks very similar to the "Stock Exchange" which was very exciting. Between laughing and talking the guests were gradualling drawing their attention to the very noisy crowd, which of course was part of the game. The evening festivities closed at 10 p. n. all having had a delightful

HON. E. L. PICKARD ENTERTAINS THE BASE BALL TEAM AT THEIR FIRST ANNUAL BANQUET.

Young Ladies Cross Bats with the Coland a Close Score Results.

Game at Chebeague Last Saturday.

On Monday, Aug. 24, the young gentlemen of the Auburn Colony measured their baseball abilities with the young ladies in a most interesting and exciting game in which the umpire, Dr. McCandless, of St. Louis, took the most prominent part. The boys were dressed in women's clothes and had to throw and bat with the left hand. The brilliant work of Miss H. H. Baxter as pitcher and Miss C. L. Bax-ter as first base-woman drew forth ter as first base-woman drew forth many rounds of loud applause from the brilliant throng who watched the amusing battle through its various vicissitudes in the five exciting innings. Victory finally rested with the boys by the close score of 12-11. Batteries: girls—Miss H. H. Baxter and Miss Fredrickson; boys—Mr. H. G. Lord and Mr. L. Dana.

On Thursday, Aug. 27, Mr Edward Pickard of Auburndale entertained the victorious colony baseball team at a most elaborate banquet which he a most elaborate banquet which he promises to make an annual fixture. The genial host is a very recent acquistion to the ranks of the game's devotees but already overflows with enthusiasm. The festive board was exquisitively adorned with flowers most tastefully arranged by the team's fair admirers. Besides the team and its host were Dr. Paul of Boston, Dr. McCandless of St. Louis, Mr. Hedges of Newark, N. J., The only regretable feature was the absence of the star third baseman, Mr. Leslie Lord, who was captured by the hostile fleet and unable to arrive in time. Mr. Pickard in a few well chosen words complimented the team on its excellent record. Dr. McCandless on its excellent record. team on its excellent record. Dr. Mc-Candless and Rev. H. R. ## DROPPED HIS SUPPER.

A Gull Loses His Hard Earned Meal While Flying High in Air.

A curious sight was presented to two of Harpswell's sojourners last Saturday afternoon when, riding up the West Harpswell road, they were astonished by a loud scream in mid air. Looking up they perceived two large sea gulls, one of which was evidently in some distress. The cause was made apparent when an oily fish, probably a pogie, dropped from its half mile elevation to the road in front them. Whether by accident or fear of capture by the other gull caused the loser to drop his prey was hard to conjecture. The deep marks of the gull's claws were left in the back of the fish, which weighed about one and one-half pounds.

BAYARD LODGE SEES LONG ISL-AND BY MOONLIGHT.

Moonlight Sail and Dance Enjoyed Tuesday Evening by South Portland Knights and Ladies.

One hundred of the Knights of Pyth-ias of Bayard lodge of South Portland, accompanied by their wives and la-dies visited Long Island Tuesday even-ing, sailing on the steamer, Sebascode-gan. Cushing's casino was the objec-tive point and while music was ren-dered by the ladies' Zylpha orchestra of Portland, the visiting Knights and ladies kept the dance floor lively. The occasion was most successfully con-ducted and heartily enjoyed.

CHANGE OF TIME.

Harpswell Boats will Resume the Two Trip Service Next Monday.

Next Monday the Sebascodegan will commence making two round trips a day on the Harpswell route. The Aucocisco carries the Holy Name The Aucocisco carries the Holy Name society of Portland to High Head on that day and on Tuesday hauls off to prepare for her winter service. The line has done more business this summer than ever before and, it is rumored, will absorb one, at least, of the smaller lines of the inner bay in the near future. Safe to say, if this is true, the change will be of benefit to the patrons of the smaller line.

LOST HIS PANAMA.

A COMEDY OF LOST NUMBERS

"Oh, Maria, I'm ruined! Our wedding will have to be postponed."
"For heaven's sake, George, what's the matter?" "I've lost twenty $100 bills." "Where?"

"Where? What nonsense! If I knew where, wouldn't I go and find them?

"One of the customers of the house came into the office last evening when I was alone and insisted on paying me $2,000. I told him that I would not receive it, as the safe was locked and didn't know the combination. Then he said he had to take a night train for New York and I must receive it, as he wouldn't carry it with him. Fearing he would report me to the firm and they would blame me, I consented and gave him a receipt. After he had gone I put the bills in my inside pocket and started for home. I can remember leaving the office and walking a short distance; then my memory stops. At the end of a blank I was lying on the sidewalk, with a crowd around me. The first thing I did was to put my hand in my pocket to feel for the bills.

They were gone." "Gone? Oh, George!" "A couple of policemen took me home, and mother persuaded me to go to bed." "But what was the matter with you?" "Why, the policemen say that I was undoubtedly followed by some person or persons who sandbagged me and took the money. Any one could see into the office, for the gas was on and the curtains not drawn. They may have seen me counting the bills and making a memorandum of their numbers after the customer had gone.

"You have the memorandum?" "That's what troubles me. If I had that, the bills could be recovered. I can't remember what I did with it."

"Don't distress yourself, George, dear. Since you remember making it, we must find it. First the office must be ransacked."

"The office has been ransacked. I don't believe I left it there." "Nor I. It would be more natural for you to take it with you. I hope you didn't put it in with the notes." "I don't know whether I did or not. My head aches yet, and I can't remember much of anything." "Do they blame you at the office?" "Oh, yes. They say that I had no business to receive the money." "And do they intimate—have they shown any disposition to suspect

"They don't say so, but they look it." "George, that memorandum must be found. You may have put it in some safe place in the office so unusual that it will be very hard to find it. You must attend to that. I can't help you. If you put it in any of your pockets, I will find it, for I will go home with you and turn them all inside out." "Mother has done that already. No. nothing can be done. There's no hope of tracing notes the numbers of which we don't know. We are taken from a height of happiness and plunged into an abyss of misery. Tomorrow instead of being married I may be behind bars."

"Cheer up. Come; let us go to your home, and I will make a search." . . . . . . "First give me your coat." "Here it is."

"Now your vest and trousers." "Here they are." "Your hat. You may have put the money in the lining. No; it is not in any of your pockets nor your hat. Did you have on gloves?" "No." "You wouldn't have put it in your shoes. I've examined all your outer clothing. I don't suppose you have any pockets in your underclothing?" "Not except in my nightshirt, in which I have a pocket for my handkerchief, but (contemptuously) I didn't have on my nightshirt on the street." "Certainly not. Have you got on the shirt you had on when you were rob-"No. Mother gave me a clean one

"If you will get me the soiled shirt, I'll not trouble you any more." "Here it is in the closet. But I must say that it seems very ridiculous to overbaul a shirt to find a memorandum. But father gave me a long lecture the other night to serve me, after being married, about the singular ways women have of getting at things, and it may be that after all (very contemptuously) there is some conne between $2,000 and a soiled shirt. Here it is."

"Where is the collar?" "Oh, that's in the closet too. I suppose you want the cuffs?"

"Well, here's the whole thing. By "These marks in pencil on the cuff!

A GAME FOR LIFE

[Original.] Two Union officers, prisoners of war, at Tullahoma, Tenn., were sitting in the jail yard playing euchre. A Confederate officer approached with a paper in his hand and spoke to them. "Captains Ward and Greenway, I am ordered to select one of you to be shot in retaliation for a Confederate of the same rank recently shot by the Federals at Murfreesboro under the false accusation of being a spy. Since you both come under the order you must draw lots to determine which shall suffer death." The prisoners paled at this grim an-

"We have cards here," said the older man. Ward. "Let us play a game of euchre."

"Make it a rubber," said the Confed-"Barton." said the younger man, "this is terrible."

"It is only death," replied the other,

"which we often face in another form." Barton Ward dealt the cards, and the game began. The first game he lost by a point: the second he won by a point; the third he lost badly. "Are you satisfied with the outcome?"

asked the man in gray. "I am."

The two Union officers embraced with emotion. As Barton Ward passed out of the jail yard to a file of soldiers standing in the street his conductor asked:

"Why did you give him the first and last games?" "Because he is idolized by his mother, whom I revere, and his sister,

"What shall I do, general?" the major persisted.

Early the next morning the Union advance guard, pressing down the road to Tullahoma, passing hastily thrown up defenses, finally came to the main fortifications, behind which the Confederates had expected to defend the town, and found them deserted. Press ing on, they came upon the rear guard of the Confederate army and captured a body of men, among them the Union prisoners who had been in jail at Tulahoma.
