REPORT OF THE SUPERVISOR OF SCHOOLS.

To the legal voters of the town of Old Orchard:

In accordance with a provision of law, I herewith submit my annual report of the condition of the public schools for the year 1894.

The school law passed by the Legislature of 1893, abolishing school districts and putting the schools of the various towns under superintending school committees with a supervisor or superintendent at the option of the committee, went into operation the first of March, 1894. Under this law, at the last town election, Edward M. Yates, Jesse A. Randall, J. Wesley Duff, Charles A. Leavitt, and Wm. H. H. McAllister were chosen Superintending School Committee. In drawing lots for terms of office as provided by the law, Jesse A. Randall and J. Wesley Duff drew the three year terms; Edward M. Yates and Charles A. Leavitt, the two year terms, and Wm. H. H. McAllister, the one year term.

The committee was organized by the election of Edward M. Yates, chairman, and W. H. H. McAllister, supervisor and ex-officio secretary.

The financial condition of the schools will appear in the auditor's report and need not be repeated here.

The school census of 1894 showed 153 children of school age in the town of Old Orchard, the first of April. The school registers show nearly one hundred different pupils in the various schools during the year. The losses and gains by removals have been about the equal. One non-resident pupil has entered the High School with the purpose of taking the full course. A satisfactory rate of tuition has been fixed.

Mrs. Mary W. Means and Miss Emma D. Haines have been retained in their respective departments—the Primary and the Grammar—throughout the year. Mr. James A. Nichols succeeded Mr. Edgar Yates in the High School at the beginning of the fall term. Miss Lizzie E. Bowdoin has been employed as assistant in the High School on half time and pay, beginning with the fourth week of the fall term. For the accommodation of her classes a room has been partitioned off from the Grammar school room.

As at present organized, the schools seem to be giving general satisfaction, and the teachers are doing faithful work. A few minor changes have been made in the prescribed course of study. A class in Greek has been formed for the first time in the history of the High School. Vocal music has been introduced into the Grammar and High School grades without additional expense for instruction. Arrangements have been made for introducing drawing into the same grades. If the town will sustain them, it is the desire of the School Board to make our schools first-class in all respects, and to extend the High School course to a full four years course. We surely ought to do no less than to fit our children for college or for practical business life.

The matter of additional accommodations for our increasing school population and for the remoter sections of the town will demand consideration and settlement in the near future. The Primary School has been for some time overcrowded and should be at once relieved. This matter ought to be settled at the coming town meeting.

In making the appropriations for the coming year, it will be necessary to make a separate appropriation for repairs on the school buildings to conform to the law of 1893. A larger appropriation for school books will also be called for to replace books worn out by long and constant use. It will be desirable to exchange some of the text books for others of more recent date and more desirable contents. On the whole, however, the appropriations need not greatly exceed those of last year.

The care of the school buildings has been placed in charge of Mr. J. S. Clark, who has done his work faithfully. The Board regrets that it has not had more money at its disposal the compensated him more adequately for the service performed. This matter should receive attention at the approaching town meeting.

Very Respectfully Submitted,

W. H. H. McALLISTER, Supervisor.

DANIEL S. BICKFORD,	} Selectmen of Old Orchard.
B. FRANK MILLIKEN,
MILLARD F. PORTER,

In Memoriam.

Since our last annual meeting, Death, the grim Reaper, has removed from our midst two of our best known citizens, who were also past officers of the town.

EBENEZER C. STAPLES was born in Old Orchard, then a part of Saco, in March, 1808, and died Jan. 3, 1895, at the ripe age of 86 years and 10 months. He was at once one of our oldest citizens and one of the oldest native born residents of the town, his late residence being within one half mile of his birth-place and on the same farm property where he spent his life. Mr. Staples married Miss Eliza I. Buker. There were born to them six children, five of whom are now living. The wife of Mr. Staples died quite suddenly in Aug. 1888, aged 75 years and 9 months.

Although from his youth up, a plain farmer, Mr. Staples saw early the rare possibilities of "The Beach," as the coming summer resort, and acting as his settled convictions led him, he became the pioneer summer hotel man, of what is to-day one of the leading seaside resorts on the entire coast of the Atlantic. From small beginnings, with a handful of boarders, the enterprise grew until he lived to see his modest "Staples' Cottage" culminate in the present imposing and spacious Old Orchard House, and the matchless Beach become the favorite summer retreat of thousands of rest-seeking visitors from all over the land. As the largest landed proprietor at the beach proper; as a man diligent and honorable in business, always; as a tireless worker, almost to the day of his death; as a respected neighbor and honored townsman, his name will long hold a conspicuous place in the annals of this famed city by the sea, which he did so much to nourish and build up.

IRVING J. BROWN

was born in Raymond, this State, Feb. 3, 1848. He first came to Old Orchard, in 1874, and died, in the home reared by his own hands, June 21, 1894, aged 46 years and 4 months.

No man, among the many who came to Old Orchard in those years when its speedy development into a great summer resort began, more strongly impressed his individuality upon this town than did Irving J. Brown. In business, in politics, and in social life he was alert and indefatigable. He was for five years a member of our boards of Selectmen, Assessors, and Overseers of the Poor, and while, like other men, he may have made mistakes by his live enterprise and aggressive effort he did as much as any other man of his time to advance the interests of the town and open the way for its successful development. His activity in private affairs was no less notable than in public. His success in rescuing from decay and threatened collapse the unrivalled local property interest known as the "Camp Ground," in the face of obstacles almost insurmountable, was a marked instance of his foresight and indomitable push. Mr. Brown was a many-sided man. Imperious and unyielding as he was in matters of strict business, he had a big heart of sympathy for the unfortunate and suffering, and gave of his substance for their relief with open-handed generosity. The pressing cares of a large business, together with overwork, overcame at last, even his vigorous physical constitution, and he was stricken down in the very hour when a man should be at his best. By his early demise, the town loses an enthusiastic defender, a progressive, public-spirited citizen and an upright, manly man.
