Stoneman's Station
Near Falmouth 8th, March 63

Mr. Hathaway,

It is about time that we should report our doings to you again. Since my last communication the state of the roads has been such as to impede the progress of our work to some extent. We have however visited the 2nd, 3rd, 4th, 5th, 6th, 16th, 17th Regiments of Infantry, the 2nd and 8th Batteries, the Marine Artillery. We also sent some flour to the sick of the 7th Maine, and hope to visit that Regiment soon. We find an improvement in the general condition of health of the Regiments, which has no doubt been promoted by the favorable change in the rations, giving them much greater variety, also various sanitary measures, such as company cooks. Some of the hospitals too have been much improved in the internal arrangements. We have thought it might be well to give a statement of the amount distributed since our last report. We have aimed to make a fair division of these supplies, so that each regiment should receive its true proportion. We keep a list of all the articles distributed with the date of distribution which can be referred to at any time. Since the 24th July, comprising a period of one month (nearly one week of which we were in Washington) we have carried, as far as possible, placed in the hands of the sick men, give them information that they would receive it, or given to the hospitals the following articles.

Other articles have been distributed such as second hand clothing for discharged men, also some is situation in the 20th, we prepared many articles of diet to carry to them. On many regiments we have found their necessities required the articles that we had it in our power to bestow, and in every case we have met with a hearty reception, and are more than ever convinced of the importance of the Camp Relief Association.

Yours respectfully,
