HOTELS AND CAMPS

A BEAVER TALE.

What of "Black Edward"? Just one word's enough.

His heart's tender as his tales are "tuff." YOU see it's this way. A visit to the Rangeley Lake region without a little run up to Beaver pond is as rank a failure as half a pair of scissors, or the hole of a doughnut with the dough gone. Yes, "going up to Ed's" is like smoking opium, lying, or "warts"—it grows upon you; and the man who once sets his happy foot on the shins of old "Beaver" is as certain to return as—as well as a punched "quarter."

What do you do when you get there? Most people fly, others tramp those glorious old trails and just sink their hearts and minds in the delights of mountain, lake and forest; for at Ed's remember, we're in the sure-enough backwoods.

Now as to the fishing, a word or two. Guides talk notwithstanding, I have never yet found 5 and 10-pound trout plenty enough to be monotonous—never have, but the reasonable man with a fair idea of the proper dissemination of "feathers"—if he chance also to be a true sportsman, could ask nothing better.

Within easy reach of Ed's doors lie (even nature "lies" up there—I wonder why?), 5 or 6 lakes in which the fly fishing is simply "great," and I say this after having fished every damn spot in that region many times.

Take "Ell Pond," for instance, around the "bend among the pads," or "Little Island" with a gentle ripple about sundown. Such incessant "rises" and such a run of fish marks that charming little pond as the acme of fly fishing possibilities.

What is there for the "Man behind the gun" up there? Simply this. In the open season he can easily get all the deer the law allows him, and will also find "tufted grouse" (i. e. "Partridge") in abundance. With Moose, Bear and Caribou the case is that of those 5 and 10-pound trout, they do not actually "hang around the door yards."

How do you get to Beaver Pond?—th's. The total of 27 miles from Rangeley Village is now covered by backboard to Kennelago Lake, then by steamer down that beautiful sheet of water, a very pleasant break in the journey, then by backboard again, direct to Ed's Camps on Beaver Pond. The roads already gone are constantly being bettered, and ladies and children can now with perfect comfort make a journey that once meant miles of rough and toilsome tramping.

At the Camps the accommodations leave nothing to be desired by those who realize that this is the "Backwoods" and not "Broadway." The cabins are clean, roomy, and thoroughly comfortable, the beds and table excellent (and most of the food at least eatable) while the proprietor—i. e., the "Old Man," is a happy combination of kindness and pleasant fiction.

The first step for those who would like to see for themselves how much actual truth there is in all of the above, is to address

ED GRANT & SON, Beaver Pond, Maine, and then "wait 'til something drops."

OR REST

WILD GAME.

The Carrabassett Spring Farm is located on the Carrabassett river, in Jerusalem Township, Franklin county, Maine, nine miles from Kingfield. Carrabassett can be reached by boat or rail from Boston to Portland, Maine Central railroad, from Portland to Farmington, Sandy River, Franklin & Megantic railroad from Farmington to Carrabassett. In the hunting season, we will guarantee that the hunter can find deer and wild game as plenty in this vicinity, as anywhere in Maine. Wild deer can be seen quite often from the house, and the hunter does not have to buck-board or stage it a rod, as the depot is very near the house. A very objectionable feature to many elderly people, those who are not strong, and ladies, is the many miles of staging and buck-boarding, which they are obliged to take at many places; here it is avoided. Ladies can accompany their husbands and hunt, fish, and rest as they please. There are two trains daily, one mail, arriving at Carrabassett Telephone and post office in the house. A new and substantial cabin has been built on the shore of Reddington pond two miles from the farm house, where large game abound. For further particulars address, A. P. WING, Carrabassett, Me. or, C. G. SMITH, 38 Oliver St., Boston, Mass.

MOOSE DROVE HIM UP TREE

Bears Around Kingfield Killed and Getting In Their Work.

Foxes and Deer Are Easy For Hunters on Carrabassett.

[Special Correspondence to the MAINE WOODS.]

KINGFIELD, Oct. 8, 1901.

Mr. Mark Lander was out partridge hunting on Freeman Ridge one day last week and met a large moose. Having nothing but a shotgun with him, he didn't care to risk a shot and would have passed on, but the moose came towards him in a way that suggested fight. Mr. Lander had to climb a tree and wait until the moose had wandered off in search of other hunters.

Mr. R. F. Cook shot a large deer the first of the week.

While Mr. Bert Hewey was out hunting last Friday he saw two deer and one moose on Stanley hill. For some reason he didn't shoot and they soon were out of sight.

Milton Curtis and Frank Whitcher have each shot deer this season.

While Harden Beason and W. H. McMullen were out hunting they found a buck deer that had been shot at least two weeks ago. The deer was near an old orchard and had evidently been left where it was shot. A man who shoots deer in close time deserves punishment, but a man who will shoot a deer in close time for the mere pleasure of killing, deserves the full extent of the law, and if some of the guides around Kingfield could learn who the offender is, he would get his deserts.

Mr. Fred Dyer fired seven shots at a deer one day this week, five of them hitting him before he stopped.

At Riverside cottage, owned by the railroad men, a party got a deer this week.

Mr. Geo. Woodcock got a 250-pound buck deer last week.

Mr. Gene Perry shot at a big buck deer last week and brought him to the ground but the shell burst in his rifle and as it was impossible to fire another shot the deer escaped.

The bears are getting in their work among the farmers. Elmer Tufts lost five sheep one night last week and many, both farmers and hunters, begin to wish there was a bounty on bears even though the town pays for all sheep killed by bears.

One night the first of the week Bert Dolbier was made happy by shooting a large black bear.

Messrs. Mark Cross and Geo. Kennedy were out hunting a few days ago and one of them shot a bear. Before they reached home two more bears were seen, but being so heavily loaded they could not shoot before the bears had disappeared.

Mr. Frank Price and Mr. Staples of Lowell shot three deer at Tufts pond last week.

Four Foxes have been shot by one man here this season.

ONE MOOSE AND 64 DEER.

Large Amount of Game Seen by a Waltham, Mass., Party.

[Special correspondence to the MAINE WOODS.]

WALTHAM, MASS., Oct. 7, 1901.

I have threatened to write this for some time, but it is hard work to get at it. I have stated facts and nothing else and to us it was a rare experience. I enjoy thinking of it.

On our whole trip we saw sixty-four deer and one moose, caught forty-three large trout and one hundred and forty-six brook trout, and came home well pleased with our two weeks' trip to the Dead River region. The bear story you have had so will say nothing about that.

A party of four, including Supt. of Streets R. A. Jones, the popular druggist, E. E. Jennison, who has hunted in Nova Scotia years previous with Joe Picton as guide, and P. C. Blankinship of Marion, Mass., with myself to show the way, intend to start for the Ledge House Oct. 13 for a week's shooting. Will let you know later our luck. Mr. Jones and Mr. Jennison are crack glass ball shots and both have shot their deer so we expect some fun. W. J. BATES.

Deer at Reed's Mill.

The boarders at Mr. Geo. Stinchfield's are having fine luck. Mr. Will Ladd succeeded in getting two deer the first day of October, and the same week Mr. Shaw got a fine doe.

Greene's Farm House and Cottages.

One of the most popular resorts of the Dead River region, plenty of brook trout fishing near the house and three ponds on the farm stocked with trout and salmon. All kinds of game in near vicinity. Deer seen near the house. Several cottages well furnished and pleasantly located furnish accommodations for guests. Cuisine equal to any hotel in Maine. Elevation 1,600 feet. Hay fever unknown. Excellent teams connected with house.

GAME IS VERY PLENTIFUL.

Bull Moose Signs Showing Up to the Hunters.

Deer and Birds That Have Been Shot of Late.

Mr. H. M. Pierce, proprietor of King and Bartlett and Kibby Camps, was in Phillips a few days ago, accompanied by "Old Doug," otherwise Andrew Douglass, the veteran hunter and trapper of the Dead River region.

Mr. Pierce reports that business at King and Bartlett has been excellent during the past fishing season and that the prospect for hunters is very encouraging so far as game is concerned.

Partridges are very plentiful indeed, there being no trouble about getting all the law allows upon any day when the conditions are favorable for bird shooting.

The deer season opened up very well and Dr. Hawkes of New Jersey was the first man to bring a buck to camp. He was a handsome animal of good size and the antlers showed ten points.

Dr. Hawkes's friend, Dr. Eggleton, was also fortunate. Although he didn't get a ten-point buck, he got one with five points, in addition to a large doe. These gentlemen were unable to remain in camp until open time for moose. They were very anxious to try the moose hunting for the reason that they saw a great many signs of bulls in the woods.

J. H. Bratton of Boston, who has been at King and Bartlett for a few days, shot a fine buck on the 7th. Mr. Bratton will have him mounted by S. L. Crosby & Co. of Bangor.

The camps will be open for sportsmen until the last of November and Mr. Pierce invites all who want good shooting to visit his camps.

Camping and Shooting at Rangeley.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. M. Esty, Miss Georgie Esty and Miss Florence Look camped at Kennebago stream two days recently.

Mr. Geo. Keyes of North Jay and Mr. Arthur Merritt of Boston are spending a week at Loon lake. These gentlemen made the distance from Phillips to Redington on foot. They report a delightful walk and the pleasure of seeing two deer along the way.

Chas. Hamblin shot a nice buck deer last Saturday night near Wilson Pillsbury's farm. Mr. Hamblin spotted his game before he left his team. After putting up his horse he went out and shot the deer.

Elliott Russell and A. Y. Locke took a trip to Camp Among the Clouds last Saturday hunting for deer. The result of the hunt has not yet been announced.

PARTRIDGES AT HAND.

Hunter at Greene's Goes to Corner of Barn Only.

Special correspondence to the Maine Woods: GREENE'S FARM, Oct. 10, 1901.

The woods here are literally full of partridges this year. Mr. John Greene, who has been ill, went out today for the first time. When he reached the corner of the barn he found his birds in the field, shot them and returned to the house.

The hunters here now are Mr. C. P. Bullen, Providence; Mr. W. H. Hersey, Haverhill, and Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Barnes and son of New York.

Moose at Katahdin.

There have been thirteen guests at Chairback Mountain Camps the past week enjoying the beautiful autumn weather and trying the sport. Game of all kinds seems to be plentiful. While Capt. E. B. Smith of Boston was out hunting a few days ago he saw a fine bull moose but a half mile from camp. The first deer of the season was brought in Oct. 3.

The guests in camp are: Edward Jenkins, Waterville; Capt. E. B. Smith, Boston; F. A. Woodbury, East Boston; Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Cram and son, Biddeford; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lord, Kennebunk; Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Anthony, Mr. W. B. M. Stillman, Providence; Mr. Fogg, Bangor; D. Decker, Henderson.

FUR TRADE FORECAST.

Article For Next Weeks Maine Woods to Interest All.

Mr. N. C. Burbank of New Portland has contributed an article for next weeks MAINE WOODS in regard to furs that will interest all readers.

He writes of the treatment of the various Maine skins, the sale, market prices etc.

ARMS THE GREAT WING SHOT.

Partridges Are Up to the Limit In Dead River.

Sportsman Who Is Well Known Drowned From a Canoe.

(Special correspondence to MAINE WOODS.) FETTER, Oct. 10, 1901.

Never before were there so many deer seen and shot around Eustis at this season of the year as there have been during the past week. Nearly every hunter who goes into the woods returns either with his deer or a handsome brace of partridges. The following are some of the many who have visited the woods this past week:

Mr. C. N. Lines of New York City secured one doe weighing 75 pounds.

Mr. A. L. Savage of Flagstaff, while going to his work, a short distance into the woods, shot fifteen partridges and

REMINDEES OF THE SEASON.

BEARS MARCH SINGLE FILE.

Trapper Who Caught Bruin Gives Way to the Gunners.

Mother Bear Charged on Men But Was Shot.

EUSTIS, Oct. 9, 1901.

To the Editor of the Maine Woods:

When Dexter Bubier, Mr. Chas. Bly's able assistant, brought in a 300-pound black bear last week from his trap on the mountain it made quite a sensation among the tenderfeet in the camps here. None of the boarders were scared away, however, but some of the more timid ones slept on their arms and put an extra supply of toothpicks over the latches of their cabin doors that night.

There is a saying that things come in circles and to bear out the theory Mr. D. Pattison of Boston, with his guide, Ray Ricker of Eustis, came on a bear and three cubs within 30 minutes of camp. They shot them as they came on his return trip the following day shot fifteen more. Al says he only took thirty cartridges for he knew if he did he would shoot more than the law would allow him.

Mr. T. R. W. Arms of New York, the famous wing shot visited Eustis last week. Mr. Arms did not do much shooting on this trip but he will return in a few days and will no doubt secure his share of game.

Dr. Parks of Boston shot a fine fox one day recently.

Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Warden have been at the Shaw house for 10 days. They shot two deer, both does, returning home Monday.

Mr. Will Farron of Hinsdale, N. H., shot one deer Oct. 1, weighing 125 pounds and on the third he got a nice buck having ten points and weighing 250 pounds.

A Lewiston party of eight are at Chase pond for a few weeks outing. During the last day of fishing the party took two nice trout one weighing 1½ pounds and one 2½ pounds.

PICKFORD'S CAMPS ON SHORE OF RANGELEY LAKE.

through the woods, the three cubs bounding along in Indian file, and began wondering how long the procession was when the squealing of the third cub shot revealed the presence of the mother bear bringing up the rear of the procession. We cannot say what were the feelings of Messrs. Patterson and Ricker, when the old one charged on them, which, be it to her credit, she did with great ferocity. But we do know from a visit to the battle ground that they did their work well and quickly. The mother bear measured six feet, two inches from toes to tip of nose and the smaller ones weighed, approximately, 40 pounds each.

On their way back to camp Mr. Patterson, like a true sportsman, suggested that if they went more quietly they might get a buck. Well, as for me, I think that four bears in an afternoon is enough to test on for a while.

By the way, Mr. Patterson has been here about a week and in addition to the above he has caught 300 trout and shot twenty partridges. Perhaps it is as well we are not all as skillful.

MR. BARNES OF NEW YORK.

Mr. Bird of New York City was favored with a rare sight one day recently while paddling with his guide up the north branch of the Dead River. Upon the shore they saw two snow white deer. They were unable to secure either of them but it was a great pleasure to be able to even view them.

A sad accident happened at Atean pond one day last week. Dr. J. S. McClure of Massachusetts, who spends the greater part of his time at his camp on this pond, was paddling across the pond with his guide when the canoe was capsized. Dr. McClure was drowned but the guide was saved.

Fawn Baby's "Horns."

STRATTON, ME., Oct. 8, 1901.

To the Editor of the Maine Woods:

I would like to ask Mrs. Blauvelt, through your valuable paper, who the game wardens were that went to Deer pond to let loose the little fawn deer spoken of in MAINE WOODS of Oct. 4, and I would also like to know if she noticed how many points there were on this baby fawn's horns.

NELSON M. WELCH, Rangeley, Maine. Guide to Katahdin region.

Are You Going Hunting?

If so why not come to Spring Lake? One day's ride from Boston. Only 2½ miles of buckboard road. Lake 2½ miles long, 1½ miles wide, surrounded by mountains covered with green woods as well filled with deer as any section of Maine. Our canoe trip on six miles of dead water on Dead River cannot be beaten for October hunting. Within the past month parties taking this trip have seen several bull moose crossing the river, and bears are quite plenty in this section. Our camps are warm and well furnished. Our table is first-class and our guides cannot be beaten. We shall be pleased to correspond with you and furnish references if desired.

They had excellent weather and a very enjoyable outing. They saw a number of partridges but didn't get many good shots. The greatest success of the trip was made by Mr. Haley who shot a very large dog fox.

LIVED WITH INDIANS.

Maj. Seward Dill Recalls Time Wilbur Boy Was Stolen.

SOQUEL, CAL., Oct. 2, 1901.

To the Editor of the Maine Woods:

There was a remarkable thing once happened in what is now West Phillips, then the Northwest corner of Berlin about the year of 1821 or 1822. I think Mrs. Lavina Harden and Mrs. Orrin Robbins will remember the circumstances. A man by the name of Reuben Wilbur had in his family a boy perhaps 4 or 5 years old, the boy was out playing alone one day and as he did not return to the house his folks looked everywhere for him but no boy was to be found, the neighbors turned out and hunted all that night, and the next day all the people for miles turned out to look for the child, two of my brothers were there. It was given up as a mystery.

I was about 17 years old at the time and at work in Gardiner.

Some 35 or 40 years later two of the lost boys sisters were living in Westbrook near Portland, during the season a tribe of Indians were camping there and the sisters discovered a white man among them who looked like their family and on consulting with the Indians they said that they bought him of a trapper when a small boy, the white man was known and was in the vicinity of the Wilbur family and was afterwards killed by another white that was a trapper and hunter who killed him for robbing his traps. The stolen boy had grown to manhood and had married an Indian woman and had some children. His people got him away from the tribe a little while but it was not like Indian life so he went back to his wife's people. The clergyman at Soquel village is a nephew of the above named Reuben Wilbur and a cousin to the lost boy, he is a good preacher married a nice young lady and is much liked by the members of his parish.

The Edition of Maine Woods

This Week is 4,080.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 11, 1901.

BANGOR had a fine time with its musical festival last week, as will also Portland this week. The attractions are many.

In the past the Canadian Thanksgiving has usually been held in October. This year the Ottawa government has assigned Nov. 28th as Thanksgiving day so the celebrations will occur at the same time on each side of the line.

"I MEANT what I said when taking the oath of office. I would no sooner think of changing the policy of President McKinley than of changing a rifle that I knew to be the best rifle. If the game shifted I might raise or lower the sights, but change the old reliable gun—never."—President Roosevelt.

CHEMICAL and bacteriological examinations of the bullets and revolver with which President McKinley was shot, revealed the fact that both were free from poison.

PRIVATE SECRETARY CORTELYOU, replying to an enquiry of the Boston Transcript, states that President Roosevelt's name is pronounced as if it were spelled Rosyvelt.

WHEN President Roosevelt visits New Haven there will be no promiscuous hand shaking in the program of his reception, as it affords an opportunity for miscreants to do harm and it also involves great physical exhaustion.

The second attempt to launch the steel ship, Wm. P. Frye, on Oct. 3, was successful in every respect. Miss Caroline Frye Briggs, granddaughter of Senator Wm. P. Frye, christened the ship. The naming of the ship Wm. P. Frye was the earnest desire of the late Hon. Arthur Sewall.

MOOSE IN DOVER'S STREETS.

Cow Parades the Town and Falls on Concrete Walk.

[Special Correspondence to the MAINE WOODS.]

DOVER, ME., Oct. 7, 1901.

Last Saturday evening while the merchants of these twin towns, Dover and Foxcroft, were preparing to close their stores a full grown moose appeared in the busiest part of the town. It was first seen by Edgar Sanborn, near the covered bridge, but disappeared suddenly in an alley way near Mayo's factory. The animal evaded its pursuers for the time by swimming the river, but a little later walked up South street right into Union square.

The moose, as described by several, was a large cow. She was surprised by the shouts with which she was greeted and turned the corner so suddenly that she fell on the concrete, but regaining her feet and her composure at once she passed through the square and thence more leisurely up Main street to Dover. Finally, becoming tired of so much attention, she turned across the lawn of Dr. E. A. Thompson and disappeared behind the buildings.

Where the animal entered the town or made her exit, or her reasons for coming, are questions yet to be settled in Dover and Foxcroft at the time of writing.

A Curious Pet.

Edward B. Fox of Dover, is the owner of a pet which attracts much attention at the present time. It is a pig about six weeks old, and it follows everywhere Mr. Fox allows it to go. Piggie visits the stores, the barber shop, the post office, or any other place where master may have business, and will lie down close to his feet whenever he stops and wait until he is ready to move on. It is needless to say that Mr. Fox is very much attached to his little animal friend.

BEARS, BIRDS AND DEER.

Rifle Shots Kill Five Out of Fifteen Rangeley Birds.

Porcupines Cannot Throw Their Quills as Some Suppose.

Buck With Ten Point Antlers Shot Last Week.

[Special correspondence to the MAINE WOODS.]

RANGELEY, ME., Oct. 7, 1901.

As usual Billy Soule's camps are the first in this region to send in reports of successful hunters. One bear, five deer and many partridges were taken there last week. The bear was shot by E. S. Butler while swimming across the river near its mouth. Jim Wilcox was his guide. It weighs about 150 pounds and is being mounted by S. L. Crosby & Co. The deer thus far have been small, but the leaves are still on and have turned into so many shades and colors as to render still-hunting extremely difficult. In another week they will be nearly all off and there will be all kinds of deer killed in abundance.

It seems to be a first-rate year for partridges. One man has shot thirty in about a week and this without the aid of a dog. One flock of fifteen were seen, out of which five were killed with a rifle.

The presence of so many partridges supports the theory the writer has always held regarding the cause of the conditions of this bird. While the grown birds are destroyed by foxes, snares, guns, owls and possibly a few may be frozen under a crust in winter, yet a cold storm in June during the hatching season will destroy ten times more than all the other causes put together. It will be remembered that there were no long cold storms last spring and most of the broods passed that critical period safely and as a result we are having some good shooting.

The firm of S. L. Crosby & Co have a good supply of birds on hand in the process of mounting, also two deer heads, the bear above mentioned and a porcupine. This last specimen is not an enviable one to handle, but is extremely interesting. It at times seems almost a crime to explain that porcupines cannot throw their quills as an archer would shoot arrows, but such is most surely the case. When alarmed they roll themselves into a ball with their head and feet under them and present their back to the foe. The quills or spines are raised and crossed in every direction and the tail, which is thickly covered with spines, is used vigorously, striking quite a vicious blow. The spines when once fastened change owners quite easily, and a dog after one onslaught is often found with two or three hundred of them in his mouth and head.

Game Warden Esty returned on Saturday from a trip up the Kennebec river where he has been looking after the fishing interests. He reports no signs of illegal fishing and the collection of spawn having good success. The pool below the Rangeley dam has become well filled with large fish. In fact, there seems to be never have been so many there before and it is decided to seine it, taking the spawn of all those that are ripe, putting the fish out above the dam.

A large ten point buck was recently killed by one of Fremont Kimball's sons. The head was purchased by John Lilly at Mountain View and is now being mounted by S. L. Crosby & Co.

FOX SHOT BY MR. STANLEY.

Fish and Game Commissioner

Still a Good Shot.

[Special Correspondence to the MAINE WOODS.]

DIXFIELD, ME., Oct. 8, 1901.

A party consisting of local sportsmen recently left Dixfield on their annual trip to Webb River falls for a few days' outing. The party was composed of J. S. Harlow, H. S. Staples, T. P. Huston, A. H. Stockbridge, J. N. Thompson and C. H. Ames. The third day T. P. Huston shot the first deer and the party returned home with their game.

A party consisting of O. O. Gould, M. T. Howard and Jack Tupper went up Swift river and brought home a nice buck which was shot by Mr. Gould.

Fish and Game Commissioner H. O. Stanley, an old fox hunter, wanted to try his hand at a fox, October 4, so he and Z. W. Taylor with his Buckfield foxhound, went out and the commissioner was the lucky one as usual. Mr. Stanley says the young men are not in it with the veteran fox hunters. Mr. Taylor has been out two days and has two foxes.

Partridges are reported quite plenty but wild. E. S. Swett and party went out with his dog and bagged seven in one day.

MOOSE DIDN'T CHASE 'EM.

Hunters Who Got Game and Some Who Watched Moose.

Shooting Items From Various Points In State of Maine.

While E. I. Waddell and B. F. Owen of Presque Isle were out partridge hunting the other day, when near J. H. Oak's old lumber camps, they came upon a very large bull moose. There was not the sign of a tree or anything else for protection in case the animal charged upon them and they just stood still and wondered what the giant was going to do about it. After the trio had stood watching each other for about five minutes, the moose decided that they were not worth treading, since there was no tree in the vicinity, and leisurely walked away. It was a relief to the hunters to see his stately form disappearing.

A few nights ago, as Mr. J. B. Stuart and wife and Mr. Lyman J. Pendell and wife were enjoying a canoe trip up Presque Isle stream, they ran across three deer. On their return they found two moose splashing around in the water. As the craft appeared the animals went to the shore and stood for as much as a minute watching the proceedings. They then crashed away into the woods. This was not two miles from the village.

Elbridge Mansell of Dover returned from Schoodic last week with a deer. He had been in the vicinity hunting but a short time.

George Kimball of Cambridge brought the first deer of the season into Dexter. It was a good one and was brought in the first morning of the open season.

The first deer to be shot in the vicinity of Ellsworth was killed by Henry A. Frazier of Lakewood. The animal was shot in No. 8 plantation.

In Bangor the first deer to be placed on sale were shot by G. A. Sweet of East Eddington. He shot both of them near his home on Black Cap. They were both good bucks with fine heads. One weighed 210 and the other 220 pounds.

Mr. B. J. Hexter of Bangor brought a fine buck down from Katahdin Iron Works the other day. He also had a bag of 14 fat partridges.

BALL AT SPIDER LAKE.

Employees of Megantic Club Enjoy Festivities at Clubhouse.

[Special correspondence to the MAINE WOODS.]

SPIDER LAKE, Oct. 8, 1901.

On Saturday evening last, the employees of the Megantic Fish and Game corporation held their annual ball at the club headquarters on Spider lake.

The spacious hall of the new Guides' camp was cleared of the ordinary furniture and very handsomely decorated with Chinese lanterns, flags and evergreens. Comfortable seats were placed along the sides and the floor was beautifully waxed and polished.

About thirty couples were present and dancing was kept up most joyfully from an early hour till nearly midnight.

Delicious ice cream and cake, fragrant coffee, lemonade and most tempting homemade candies were bountifully supplied and all who were there declared that they had seldom enjoyed so much real pleasure in such a short time.

The young ladies of the clubhouse staff, Miss Mary Gillam, Miss Nancy Rourke and Miss Nellie Horne of Boston, Miss Jessie Fortier of Megantic and Miss Mary McDonald of Scotton, assisted by Captain Elijah Mills and guides, Girard, Mead, Boyle and Plowman, ably directed by Mr. L. F. Brundage, the popular club superintendent, made all the arrangements.

Mr. Philip Vaehon supplied the music, rendering many choice selections from popular waltzes, marches, etc., upon his very fine old violin in the most charming manner.

Mr. Joseph Frank acted as floor manager, calling out directions to the dancers in his usual happy style and being ably assisted by our friend, Captain Elijah Mills.

All the members of the staff were there, also many of the guides. A good many of the guests and members of the club joined heartily in the dancing and many friends came from distant points round Spider lake to enjoy the festivities.

The following members of the club assisted to make the ball a success by their presence and active cooperation, as well as enjoying the dancing, viz: Judge Nichols of Hartford, Conn., Mr. and Mrs. Bateman, Mr. and Mrs. Fallon, James N. Goodale, G. N. Phelps, Mr. and Mrs. Clas. R. Drew, Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Burnham of Boston; Mr. Miller and daughters of Philadelphia; Dr. Combes and son of Elmhurst, L. I.; I. M. M. Duff of Montreal and others.

Among the friends who were invited may be mentioned Mr. J. C. Clarke, I. P. of Spider lake and his guests, Rev. E. H. Graham, Mr. O. G. Langley, Dr. W. H. Lance, Mr. W. E. Christie and Mr. I. M. M. Duff.

Before separating a vote of thanks to the young ladies who had charge of the preparations was proposed by Mr. I. C. Clarke, I. P., in a most eloquent address and carried unanimously, after which all joined in the well-known song, "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows," and the evening was closed with "God Save the King."

Gunning at Livermore Falls.

About twenty of our boys have organized a shotgun club for trap shooting.

Deer have been shot in a radius of five miles of this village thus far this season. They seem to be more plenty this season than last in this vicinity.

E. Edgecomb and John Lamb have been at Weld trying to get a deer and for a little outing. They got some partridges, but no deer.

FLY FISHING FOR GIRLS.

Evolution In the Gentle Art Noted by New York Man.

NEW YORK CITY, Sept. 28, 1901.

To the Editor of the MAINE WOODS:

Boys and girls fish nowadays. Boys used to be trumps, but girls are as always—hearties, yet they fish and beat the boys. As the MAINE WOODS greets us weekly, we are amazed at the sports of the girls. Yes, pretty maidens, all in "good form" and "awfully nice." Still in our days we used to give a sly wink at the girls who played with the boys. Now rugged, active, athletic girls take part in sports that in our time were impossible. What is there of out-of-door sports that the girls do not do as well as the boys or better? They take their rifles and surely drop the big buck in his tracks. But in fishing nowadays (with the fly) there is poetry. We recollect in our days, perchance, when a girl did go fishing with us. We boys tried to think it was an effort to put the wiggling worm on for the girls. What! the girls put on a worm—never. Vulgar, it is today considered by a nineteenth century fisherman.

"Plug fishing!" Let us drive it out, the sooner the better. We wonder who has set fly fishing to be a game for the girls. Tell it not in Gethsemane but believe that no one has had more to do with it than "Fly Rod." Her jolly leather sporting suit seen at the Sportsmen's exposition in New York City stirred the red blood of many a lass and to them it was romance. And it is to us, too, for we get interested over the story of a rosy cheeked 13 years-old girl taking a big trout or landlocked salmon with a fly and the boys scarcely a bit behind. Fly fishing is refinement of high order.

Think of the exhilaration found in the exploration of a river or brook that sends a rush of blood from finger tips to the right and left ventricle of the heart. How many of us fathers worn out, almost, by family cares have been brought back to good cheer by these repeated "strikes" of speckled beauties. Hardly anything in all nature's treasures, so artistic, so inspiring as they.

We, under the recollection of past days, almost forget the purpose of this article, which is to congratulate the boys and girls that evolution has taken place from the vulgar wiggling fish worm to the attractive fly hook, the delicate bamboo rod and reels. How they whirl when a 7-pounder strikes. We are holding our breath as we live over our first big trout caught, a 4-pounder on a 5 1/2 ounce rod, after casting all day and just as the setting sun was saying good night, what a swirl in the water and in fifteen minutes we had him—a speckled trout—plump four pounds. How we did speed our home, ward way between Rangeley and the Quossoc clubhouse with darkness so deep one could almost feel it against the flushed cheek, flushed with joyous excitement over our trophy—"not love caught." Our tin lantern with "tallow dip" (no electric lights in '04) kept us off the many rocks of that oft "fated" trap of many a jolly fisherman now gone to their long home.

The boys and girls are full of life and expectation and we will let them be so. Let us not forget that mothers are deeft with the fly. What can there be nicer than to find whole families using the fly rod. How many happy reminiscences to talk over the crackling fire at home in the fall. Jeremiah Prince wrote, "I go a fishing." He caught his thoughts from St. Peter but Peter was not in it, he had never heard nor knew of Rangeley, yet he caught big fish. He would be called a poacher if caught at South bog with his nets (as some fellows were in '03) and they got their nets burned. Ask Joe Lamb and some of the older guides if they know who did it. Don't ask Ed Grant for he will tell you and then you won't know.

Steamers now leave from Rangeley for Bemis cottages, skirting all along the shore. What a transformation! And now a railroad through to Kennebec lake and one joining the Canadian Pacific. What a trip through to Puget sound! Salmon up there—why you can rake them in by windrows, but that is not taking them with a fly, but then there are "millions in it."

With all the magnificence and grandeur of the Canadian Pacific, if we want the best thing, drop us down at the Rangeleys. We stay for the month of September. We have never tried June, but we have many Septembers. Such scenes of beauty as have met our mortal vision. Words fail, they are not adequate. How blessed that the weight of years cannot blight the pleasant memories of those days.

Boys and girls take them in and make the world better for your having them and your fathers and mothers happier because they could give you outings amid nature's best.

Boys, read "Game Fish of the North" by Hon. Robert Roosevelt and note what he says about big trout at the Rangeleys and then write him a letter, perhaps he will revise his sayings or wish he had.

G. ALDEN MILLS.

SPORTSMEN'S SHOW AT N. Y.

The 8th Annual Exposition at Madison Square Garden.

Exhibits Better and More Varied Than Ever Before.

The Fly Casting Contest Will Be Very Attractive.

Since the first Sportsmen's show, held in 1895, marked improvement has been made each succeeding year, until, with the production of the 1901 show, the general opinion was that it would be difficult, if not impossible, to surpass it. The 1902 show, to open March 5th next, however, will outrival any preceding show, with no exception. The plan as now arranged promises the most picturesque show and one complete in every feature that appeals to the sportsman and every lover of outdoor sport. One of the many new and attractive features to be presented in March 1902, will be the Fly Casting contest. This contest will attract to the show not alone the many thousand fishermen in and around New York City, but also those from a distance, so great is the enthusiasm among the lovers of the sport. There will be also Rifle and Revolver contests.

The trade exhibits will occupy space on the gallery, the main floor being taken up with exhibits of camps, guides, woodsmen and trappers live game animals, game birds and game fishes, railroads and hotels from fishing and hunting sections, log cabins, and new features of life in the woods.

The exhibitors in the Sportsmen's show devote much time and attention to the preparation of the exhibits, and we therefore make this early announcement. In every instance the exhibitor is fully repaid for the time and expense involved, as in no other way can he so effectively and satisfactorily bring his product to the attention of the thousands upon thousands who visit the Sportsmen's show to examine the features presented, whether they be among the trade exhibits on the gallery or among the camps, guides, railroads and hotels on the main floor.

Early application should be made in order to secure desirable address. For further particulars address, J. A. H. DRESSER, Gen'l Man., P. O. Box 1353, New York City.

A Fiendish Attack.

An attack was lately made on C. F. Collier of Cherokee, Iowa, that nearly proved fatal. It came through his kidneys. His back got so lame he could not stoop without great pain, nor sit in a chair except propped by cushions. No remedy helped him until he tried Electric Bitters which effected such a wonderful change that he writes he feels like a new man. This marvelous medicine cures backache and kidney trouble, purifies the blood and builds up your health. Only 50c at W. A. D. Cragin's Drug Store.

LOCKPORT, NEW YORK.

Differences Between New York Life and Maine Life.

Some Funny Sightings at the Pan-American.

[Special correspondence to MAINE WOODS.]

LOCKPORT, N. Y., Oct. 7, 1901.

Today is the first of October a premonitory chill in the air. I presume in the homes of dear old Maine the good mistresses are thinking of making room for their best friend, the heater stove, in the sitting rooms. Some three weeks ago the excessive dampness of the season produced such a chill in the house here that the good wife and I concluded that there was a prose as well as a poetic side to the question of a gas "hot plate." It is very nice in the summer; it keeps the heat from the house and does not allure the flies. But when autumn comes we want the heat in the house and the flies disappear.

We invested $30 in a coal range and "fixings" and then looked up the question of fuel. Remembering the huge pile of soft wood Neighbor French would bestow upon anyone for a dollar and a quarter, your correspondent thought best to investigate the wood question here. But, alas! One dollar and fifty cents would buy a cord of hemlock slabs. But such an emasculated cord. A pile 8 feet long by 4 feet high by 8 inches wide. We concluded that coal, in spite of its proclivity to be forever getting to burning and then forever getting ready to go out, was far preferable. So we contented ourselves with 50 cents worth of wood. And I would give a good deal if some of the Maine millmen could see that 50 cent pile. It would cause them to experience cold shivers every time they throw a slab into the river. I could carry it into the shed in three armfuls.

I wonder how many of your readers ever wrestled with a coal fire in a kitchen range. For once the minister's better half was perfectly willing for him to take the initiative. An errand called up town and he was left alone to kindle the first fire. Nor was he entirely without experience. In the days of his bachelorhood for three years he had coal in his study fire. So the first kindling of the fire was no great task. But the next morning when it came to the "cutting off" the ashes and clinkers it was altogether another proposition. The dock ash grate partly turned when click! a clinker got into the way, and whack, down into the pan went coals, clinkers and ashes. Of course a new fire had to be built, and of course break fast would have been an hour late but for the despised "hot plate."

The next morning the fire was entirely

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling all about it, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper.

—Mr. Elliott A. Russell of Rangeley was in Phillips last Wednesday en route for Florence, Arizona, where he will be employed as cook by the Newburg Mining company of which Mr. W. V. Lander, formerly of Kingfield is the treasurer and Mr. Clem Skoffield, formerly of Rangeley, will be superintendent. This is the same mine in which Mr. W. A. Rich is interested.

Contagious Blood Poison

There is no poison so highly contagious, so deceptive and so destructive. Don't be too sure you are cured because all external signs of the disease have disappeared, and the doctor says you are well. Many persons have been dosed with Mercury and Potash for months or years, and pronounced cured—to realize when too late that the disease was only covered up—Like Begots Like—driven from the surface to break out again, and to their sorrow and mortification find those nearest and dearest to them have been infected by this loathsome disease, for no other poison is so surely transmitted from parent to child as this. Often a bad case of Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula or severe skin disease, an old sore or ulcer developing in middle life, can be traced to blood poison contracted in early life, for it remains smoldering in the system forever, unless properly treated and driven out in the beginning. S. S. S. is the only antidote for this peculiar virus, the only remedy known that can overcome it and drive it out of the blood, and it does this so thoroughly and effectually that there is never a return of the disease to embarrass or humiliate you afterwards.

SSS cures Contagious Blood Poison in any and all stages; contains no mineral to break down your constitution; it is purely vegetable and the only blood purifier known that cleanses the blood and at the same time builds up the general health.

Our little book on contagious blood poison is the most complete and instructive ever issued; it not only tells all about this disease, but also how to cure yourself at home. It is free and should be in the hands of everyone seeking a cure. Send for it.

COL. DOLBIER'S FUNERAL.

Marriage of Well Known Kingfield Young People.

News of Various Kinds From All Over the Town.

[Special correspondence to the MAINE WOODS.]

KINGFIELD, ME., Oct. 9, 1901.

Friday morning the funeral of one of Kingfield's oldest and most highly respected citizens, Col. Wm. Dolbier, was held at the Universalist church, Rev. W. S. Ballou conducting the services. Colonel Dolbier was born in Freeman, Aug. 2, 1817, the eldest son of Nathan and Polly Dolbier, spending his early life on the home farm near Kingfield. March 10, 1840, he married Martha Dyer, the ceremony taking place in West New Portland. They immediately went to housekeeping in a little log cabin on a farm about three miles north of Kingfield. In 1844, they moved into Kingfield village, where Mr. Dolbier spent a year in learning the blacksmith's trade. In 1845, they moved in to the house occupied by himself and wife until the day of his death. For nearly fifty years of honest labor, he was the village blacksmith, employing spare time in the service of the town in many ways. He has filled at different times every town office, except that of treasurer. He was captain of the first company of state militia organized in the town in the early days of "general training," afterwards being promoted to colonel of a state regiment, which command he held until he was honorably retired for age. In 1861, he was elected trial justice, which office he held until within the last three or four years. His conduct of the affairs of that position was characterized by such fairness and practical wisdom that only one appeal from his decisions was ever made, and that on a technicality of law. In 1867, he was elected representative, serving in the legislature one term. After nearly fifty years at the anvil, he went into the grange store as manager, finally buying out its stock, and after a time selling out to his son-in-law, Mr. J. E. Voter. For the last few years he has lived in quiet retirement, in the enjoyment of the respect and esteem of a large circle of friends. In his earlier years he became interested in the Millerite preaching, but through his own individual study of the bible soon thought his way into Universalism and continued a faithful and ardent supporter of that sect throughout his life. He passed away at 5 o'clock, Wednesday morning, October 2, leaving his faithful, lifelong companion, two sons and three daughters to mourn his loss.

Willie Stanley, son of B. T. Stanley, is sick with typhoid fever.

Mrs. Willie French left Monday for New York City, where she will spend the winter. Her brother, Dr. Everett Winter, accompanies her.

Dr. Edgar Pennell and Miss Annie Watson were united in marriage Thursday evening, Oct. 3, by Rev. W. S. Ballou at the parsonage. Dr. Pennell and wife will shortly set up housekeeping in their new home. Congratulations and hearty good wishes of the community attend them.

Dr. O. W. Simmors and wife spent Monday and Tuesday of last week in Farmington, visiting friends.

Mr. John Winter is at home for a few days. His friends are pleased to see him and to note his health is improving.

The protracted meetings held in the Evangelical church led by Rev. T. Beebe of Central Falls, R. I., and Pastor Ward are well attended. Mr. Beebe is an interesting and earnest speaker.

Owing to the rain Sept. 29, the baptism at East New Portland has been postponed to Sunday, Oct. 13, at 8 p. m.

Mr. C. Hutchins lost several sheep a few nights since by dogs.

Mrs. R. Saunders of Petitcodiac, N. B., has been visiting her son, Rev. A. E. Saunders. She was accompanied by her son, Z. Saunders of Petitcodiac, and Mrs. Joshua Saunders of South Portland, Me. All have returned.

The Anson F. B. quarterly meeting convened with the Kingfield church Sept. 25 and 26. The attendance was not large, but the services throughout were characterized by interest and deep spirituality. Ministers present: Rev. Mabel C. Andrews of Madison, L. Hutchins of East New Portland and the pastor, Rev. M. C. Andrews and Rev. A. E. Saunders were chosen delegates to other quarterly meetings. Reports were encouraging.

Miss Ora Lowe of Lewiston visited Miss Ethel Simmons last week.

Mr. Trainer has moved into Fred Mitchell's house.

Dan Abbot has bought the Fred Porter place.

Mr. Gene Jenkins and wife have returned from New York.

If you wish any of L. L. Mitchell's curtains call soon.

Those belonging to the festival chorus who will take part in the exercises at Portland are: Mr. Geo. H. Winter, Mrs. W. S. Ballou, Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Hutchins, Mrs. M. Ayer, Mrs. Horace Winter, Miss Elizabeth Porter, Miss Lydia Woodard, Fred Hutchins, Fred Cross of Skowhegan.

Dr. Kittredge and friends were at Camp Crazy last week.

Mr. Will Watson has gone to Dead River for a weeks hunting.

Mrs. O. B. Hutchins has returned from Boston with a fall line of millinery.

Mr. Sam Moores has moved into his new house on Church Street.

Mr. Carrol Butts is going to move into Mrs. Simmon's house.

Erman Stanley is running a lunch stand in his store.

Mr. Thompson and wife are visiting at Eben Williamson's.

Mrs. Will French has gone to New York to spend the winter.

Mr. Abner Phillips is entertaining friends from Boston.

Obituary.

Mr. David P. Peary who died at his home in Greenville Plantation, Rangeley Maine, Thursday, at 5 o'clock, p. m., September 19, 1901, was born at Denmark, Maine and moved with his parents to this town when twelve years of age he was one of the oldest residents of this town. In 1802 he enlisted in the army and served his country faithfully. He leaves a wife and five children two aged sisters and a large circle of friends to mourn his loss.

He has belonged to the F. B. church for many years and has been a faithful worker, true to his country and his God, and it may well be said of him "Well done thou good and faithful servant enter thou into the joys of thy Lord."

Rest, father, rest, in slumbers sweet,
For calm thy sun went down,
More welcome is this loved retreat,
Than honor or renown.

Thou art released from all thy pain,
Thy limbs will ache no more,
No care will visit thee again,
For danger now is o'er.

Thy soul has gone where Jesus dwells,
How cheering is the thought,
Where pain and sickness never comes,
And sorrow enters not.

The friends who stood around thy bed,
And dropped the parting tear,
So calm and peaceful was thy flight,
Were filled with grief to see.

We miss thee in our lonely home,
We never shall see thee more,
We wait to meet thee by and by,
On that eternal shore.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.

The Franklin Supreme Judicial court was busy for three days with the Elwell-Dixon cases, which have created much interest and have been most stubbornly fought. Mr. Geo. E. well brought suit against Mr. Abial Dixon and Mr. Dixon's son for trespass and assault. The parties were sued in two separate cases for $1000 each. Messrs. E. E. Richards and A. L. Fenderson were for the prosecution and E. O. Greenleaf for the defendant. Geo. Elwell testified that he asked Mr. Dixon, Sr., to leave his premises and he refused. After a few words Mr. Elwell was struck with a pitchfork. The jury brought in a verdict of $50 for the plaintiff in each case.

Other cases were: Dr. Chas. K. Donnell and his wife, Isa M. Donnell, now of Kingfield vs. John LeClair of Farmington, for an alleged assault by the defendant kicking Mrs. Donnell in the abdomen on the 17th of June last. Brown and Whitcomb appeared for the plfs. and Greenleaf for the def. The jury returned a verdict for the def.

Then came the case of Peter A. Fitzgerald of Jay vs. International Paper company, for pay for 375 hours of extra work during 125 nights at three hours per night. The defense was that the plf. worked only the same number of hours per night that the other employees did, from 6 p. m. till 7 a. m., an hour out for supper at midnight; and had been fully repaid for his services in weekly installments, and had never made any complaint when receiving his pay. The case was sent to the law court on report.

This case was followed by that of Edward S. Larrabee vs. Marshall D. P. Thompson, both of Kingfield, on an account annexed amounting to 100.83, for hay purchased last fall and winter, nine tons and 240 pounds at $10 per ton for the loose hay and $12 for the pressed. Kenniston and Holman appeared for the plf. and Richards for the def. The jury Friday afternoon returned a verdict for the def.

Following this case the court took up the case of Parson P. Davis vs. David W. Alexander, both of Jay, for trespass in allowing his (left's) horse to run on certain premises in Jay, formerly owned by the late Jesse R. Bean, after plf. had purchased the grass from Mr. Bean's widow in the summer of 1900. The jury reported a verdict for the def.

The case of Fred E. Adams of Avon vs. Heber H. Allen, deputy sheriff of Jay, came next. Pratt appeared for plf. and Richards for the def. The writ alleged that the def., on June 29 last, at the M. C. R. R. station at Chisholm, seized two gallons of alcohol and one quart of wine belonging to the plf.; that plf. wished to go to his house in Avon, as he was out of a job down there, and he was obliged to remain there 19 days till the 10th of July when the trial justice hearing was to come off, the def. making oath that the liquors were intended for unlawful sale; that the plf. suffered from the stigma of such an accusation; that on July 10 the def. claimed that he was not ready to proceed as an important witness was in a distant part of the state, and the case was continued one week, and he was obliged to return from his home in Avon, a distance of 32 miles, on July 17 to attend the hearing, when Mr. Allen did not produce any evidence, and the liquors were ordered returned to him. The jury in ten minutes returned a verdict for the def.

Wednesday morning the court took up the search and seizure case against Claude Hatch of Kingfield, who at last February term appeared as a witness and bible agent against Fred Carpenter of Chisholm. Holman appeared for respondent. The search and seizure of 15 "long-neckers" of whiskey was made by Deputy Small on the 28th of last June; the case was tried before Justice Dolber and an appeal was taken to this court. Ten witnesses, including two ladies, were called by State's Attorney Wing.

The excitement incident to traveling and change of food and water often brings on diarrhoea, and for this reason no one should leave home without a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. For sale by W. A. D. Cragin, Phillips; E. H. Whitney, Rangeley; Dyer's Drug Store, Strong, and Lester L. Mitchell, Kingfield.

To D. F. Hodges.

If I had sense, and sight, and time
How I would like to write a rhyme,
And tell you of the satisfaction
I felt, and of my soul's reaction
After I read your poem through,
And whispered to myself, " 'Tis true."
The portal of my girlhood days
Swung open and I seemed to gaze
On those old hills and flowing streams,
I seldom see except in dreams.
The school-boys I shall never forget;
Sweet memories linger round it yet.
Where is the goal we run to reach?
It was a false post, no doubt, I see.
Old "Father Time" counts days and years,
And still we run through smiles and tears,
And I am sure we'll reach a goal
Where rest and peace await the soul.

I'll change my strain in '02
I hope to meet again with you.
E. E. J. S. and N. C. B.
And Silas too, I hope to see,
And many more from far away,
Come home our next reunion day,

Lang Plantation.

About an inch of snow fell Sunday morning, Oct. 6.

Hunting season is now open and hunters are very numerous.

James Boardman shot a buck deer Oct. 1.

B. P. Stevens of Kingfield, while hunting in this place Oct. 1, saw a monster buck deer which had a beautiful set of antlers, but he was unable to get a shot at him as his time was limited and was obliged to return empty handed.

Dr. Wallace Webber, father and two brothers of Lewiston, have been spending a few days in this place hunting, but were obliged to start home much before the set time, the father falling and hurting himself quite seriously.

Mrs. F. S. Taylor and daughter, Freda, spent Saturday and Sunday at Flagstaff with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Viles.

Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Webber of Mt. Vernon recently visited their son, who is teaching in District No. 2. They report a pleasant as well as long journey, as they came through Phillips and Rangeley and returned by way of Kingfield and Lexington.

John Harris was in Rangeley last week canvassing.

The new schoolhouse in district No. 2 is up and plastered, ready for finish as soon as the plaster is dry.

Oscar Ross and wife of Rangeley were in town Sunday.

J. S. Harris sold a nice horse recently to Leon Savage of Stratton.

HOT GAME OF BALL.

Farmington and Wilton Play 11 Innings, With Score 4 to 5.

Bad Blood Between the Teams Makes It Unpleasant.

(Special correspondence to the Maine Woods.)

FARMINGTON, Oct. 5, 1901.

The F. S. N. S. and the W. A. played one of the best, if not the best game of ball that was ever played in Franklin county, Saturday at Wilton. For five and one-half innings neither side scored and in the meantime but two men reached third base. But in the last half of the fifth inning the Wilton boys "broke the ice" and brought in two runs.

Wright, McDonald and Haley made a pretty triple play in the inning, the first triple play made in this section of the state for years. Exceptionally fine plays were quite numerous, but much more noticeable on the Normal's side. Daisy made a catch which seemed impossible for anyone to make. By making this catch a very pretty double play was made and saved the game for the Normals for the time being.

At the beginning of the last half of the seventh inning Jones went into the box in place of Wright. This caused considerable trouble, there being a misunderstanding as to the agreements made. The Wiltons refused to finish the game. Three outside parties were selected to decide whether the Wilton boys should finish the game, or allow the umpire to forfeit the game to the Normals. Sewall, the manager of the W. A. team, gave his story to the judges (?) and Young of the Normals gave his version. The three men then withdrew and considered the case, finally deciding that it was not breaking the agreements to have Jones pitch. So the game was finished with him in the box.

A man from Wilton was the cause of considerable trouble. He made several attempts at interfering with the Normal players. As Bisbee was jumping the rope which held the crowd back from the base line, to catch a foul fly, this man pulled on the rope to trip Bisbee. Not satisfied with interfering once, he tried his luck again by kicking Jones, when he was running bases. Later on in the game several Wiltonites rushed into the diamond, swinging clubs at the umpire, and tried to "bulldoze" him and make him change some decisions which he had not made. After trying this several times, the umpire told them to take their places behind the rope and stay there or he would give the game to the Normals, and the "rioters" took their places.

From this time on the game went on in a gentlemanly way, and with two outs in the eleventh inning, the Wiltons scored the run needed, and won the game by the small score of 5 to 4.

Not satisfied with ringing every bell in Wilton, blowing the whistles and horns, they got an old brass trombone, accordion and other musical instruments, they came over about 9 p. m., to Farmington and serenaded Prof. Purington and insulted him, after which they had a brilliant (?) display of fireworks. The people of Farmington, as of Wilton, are greatly "stirred up" over the game.

Mr. W. L. Dunham and Mrs. Jemima Kinney visited Mrs. Wm. Harnden of Phillips one day last week.

Andover.

Sunday, a. m. we had a snowfall although it melted as fast as it descended and quickly turned to rain.

The summer travel is over and so is the Andover fair, the latter was well patronized, the weather the last day was fine, the first day it rained a little. 1100 adult tickets were sold and it was estimated that more than 1800 people were on the grounds. The houses which furnished dinners were well patronized, at the Congregational house upwards of $170.00 was received and there was an abundance of food left. At the fair ball $9 tickets were sold, the Universalist society furnished the supper and made $58.00. The oyster stew was unsurpassed and the viands first class. The Ellis River band of Rumford furnished fine music. The exhibit of stock was not up to the usual grade. The fancy work was fine and there was a great display of domestic rugs.

Miss Green of New Jersey who has been at E. S. Pears, left for her home Saturday, Oct. 5.

Mr. Malcolm Gregg, Owen Lovjoy, Lyman Ripley and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Andrews left for the Pan-American Oct. 5 via Niagara, returning via Hudson river and New York city.

We were much shocked to hear of the sudden death from explosion of a kerosene burner of Mrs. Cami Boothby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Berry. Mrs. Boothby had been in Bangor for some time employed, she was at this time in a large hotel. She was looking forward to a visit to her parents at Thanksgiving. Funeral services were on Monday p. m. at 2 o'clock conducted by Rev. G. B. Hannaford. Mr. Berry and family have the sympathy of the entire community in this trying hour.

Mr. James Noyes has sold his farm to Richard Morton of Andover. Mr. Morton having sold his to Chas. Chase of Upton. Mr. Noyes has purchased the Robert Henry place and will move there Nov. 1.

Bertha Glover preached at the M. E. church Oct. 6. She will preach at the same place Monday evening Oct. 7. There was a harvest concert fully attended at the M. E. church Sunday evening, Oct. 7.

TALK OF NORTH FRANKLIN.

—Mr. C. E. Cragin was in Lewiston last week.

—Miss Mae Davenport is very ill with gastric fever.

—Mrs. Bertha Norton of Farmington was in town last week.

—Mr. and Mrs. Lorin Haley of Rangeley were in town Friday.

—Mr. R. C. Reed of Mercer, Wis., is visiting friends in this vicinity.

—Mrs. J. C. Hinds of Stratton is visiting relatives and friends in town.

—Mr. T. G. Belcher of Farmington was in town Friday calling on friends.

—Mr. George W. Norton, editor of the Portland Evening Express, was in town last Monday.

—Miss Helen Seales of Farmington spent Saturday in town, the guest of Mrs. W. E. Millett.

—The popular clerk at Bald Mountain Camps, Mr. A. A. Ruffner of New York, is planning to be in a hotel in the south during the coming winter.

—At Madrid village last Thursday and Friday Rev. Mr. Ramey gave a course of lectures. A large attendance enjoyed the interesting talks.

—Major Seward Dill writes us from Soquel, California, that many of the farmers there are busy packing apples. They had a wind there a short time ago that blew off hundreds of barrels.

—Silas Wing and Wing Bros. & Co., raised more cranberries this year than ever before. The total pick amounted to 767 bushels. 201 bushels for Silas Wing and 566 bushels for Wing Bros. & Co.

—Quite a number from town took advantage of the Autumn Leaf excursion to Rangeley last Saturday. Among those who went are the following: Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Soule, Mrs. Wm. True, Mrs. John Teague, Misses Alberta Matthews and Minnie Saunders, Mrs. E. H. Kenniston, Bert Pratt, Mrs. Harry Staples, Horace Prescott and Hartley Kenniston.

—Circumstances bring to the mind of the paragrapher an interesting incident of old Phillips days. C. B. Calden was at work for Hiram O. Butterfield who was at that time and had previously been one of the selectmen of the town. One cold day in Mr. Butterfield's absence Calden borrowed an old coat; during the day he found in it a twenty dollar bill. Later Mr. Butterfield said he had considered it lost and that as it belonged to the town he had long ago paid it. An illustration of two honest men.

—Last Saturday evening at the close of business, the deposits in the Phillips Savings bank were larger than they have ever been before since the bank was organized in 1871. The business of the bank is gradually increasing and the showing for 1901 will no doubt be very gratifying indeed to all those who are interested in the institution. It may interest our readers to know that all of the valuables—stocks, bonds etc.—belonging to this institution are kept in safety deposit vaults in Portland.

—Some weeks ago Miss Crosby had cards printed at the office of MAINE WOODS which read as follows:

GREETING.

The time is down for
The date
The place is Shepard's hall
The cause is one to keep alive.

To all our friends, through far and near,
We crave your kind attention,
So please to lend us now your ear
While we a subject mention.

The ladies of this church will hold
On a day not distant far,
If we are correctly told—
A "Handkerchief Bazaar."

So this, then, is our plea in brief,
To help along our enterprise,
You each shall send a handkerchief,
Regardless of its kind or size.

To be without a handkerchief,
You know is quite distressing,
From every State let one be sent,
'Twill surely bring a blessing.

The "Union" of Cong'l Church
Of Phillips, Pine Tree State,
Will gratefully feel whatever you send,
Be they small or grate.

Miss C. T. Crosby, Fly Rod,
Phillips, Maine

These she has given to her friends and the Social Union are to give the bazaar the last week in October. "Have you all the handkerchiefs you need for the sale?" some one asked the other evening and Miss Crosby replied, "No, I want a hundred more and if the invitation is printed in the MAINE WOODS, I am sure many friends will gladly respond," and here is hoping they may.

IT'S NO USE.

A man simply can't make any sort of success in business if he's tortured with backache.

That means if his kidneys are out of order.

Backache is really kidney ache.

It is one of the first indications of kidney disease. It's bad enough of itself, but it leads to a great deal worse.

Unless it is stopped.

How?

Doan's Kidney Pills

There's not a form of kidney trouble that this wonderful little remedy will not cure, and the people say cured.

Mr. John C. Mellon, grocer and provision merchant at the corner of Bridge and 7th streets, Lowell, Mass., says:—

"In the spring of 1899 I was forced from severe pain in the back to procure Doan's Kidney Pills at Ellingwood & Co's drug store, at the corner of Merrimack and Central streets, and take a course of the treatment. It was speedily followed by absolute relief, and up to date I have not had a symptom of a return."

Doan's Kidney Pills for sale by all dealers, or sent by mail on receipt of price. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no substitute.

TALK OF NORTH FRANKLIN.

—Mr. F. H. Wilbur was in Fall River, Mass., on business last week.

—Misses Everdene Shepard and Christy Cragin were in Rangeley one day last week.

—A large attendance is desired at the Rebekah meeting this Friday evening. Refreshments will be served.

—Ernest Carville, who is stopping with Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Wilbur and attending school in town, has been ill the past week.

—Earle Carville, son of the late Dr. Z. V. Carville of Fall River, Mass., is attending school at Powder Point, Duxbury, Mass.

—Mr. and Mrs. Eli Brackley have moved into Mrs. Carrie Toothaker's house. Their goods came from Lewiston last Saturday.

—Mr. Charles Sweetser has moved into Mrs. Julius Blanchard's house and Mr. John Stewart will occupy the tenement vacated by Mr. Sweetser.

—Mr. Richard Ellsworth of the Mile Square, while riding in a carriage last Saturday, fell from the carriage and was taken up unconscious by Mr. Joseph Gleason, who happened to be riding behind. At last reports he was unconscious a good deal of the time.

—A pleasant party was that at Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hoar's last Friday evening, the event being a husking party. A merry crowd of young people took the ride in a hayrack. One of the young ladies made the remark next day, "We had such a lovely supper and everything tasted so good."

—Henry F. Pease, who has been instructor of drawing and manual training in the Red Bank public school since the death of John Frazee, has resigned to accept a position as instructor of manual training in the schools of Newark at an increase of $200 a year in salary. Mr. Pease entered upon his duties at Newark on Monday.—Red Bank (N. J.) Register.

—Rev. F. A. Noble, D. A., the retiring moderator of the National Congregational council which will be in session in Portland, Oct. 12th to 18th, is desirous of seeing the moderators of future councils adopt the custom of similar officials in the Congregational union of England and Wales, in delivering a formal moderator's address, an utterance that may be regarded as dignified and statesmanlike. His own theme will be, "The Kind of Preaching Which the New Conditions of These Times Demand."—Lewiston Journal.

Among the Churches.

At the Union church Rev. J. B. Ranger preached from words found in Psalm xvii, 15, "I shall be satisfied, when I awake, with thy likeness."

In all the vocabulary of human speech there are few words, it seems to me, more powerful to give pleasure and happiness than this word, satisfied. In my dealing with our fellow men in buying selling or exchanging an expression of satisfaction with that which has been given or received will often give gladness and joy of heart. To the young man who perhaps for the first time has left his home and has been engaged in teaching, the words of the superintendent at the close of the term telling him that he is satisfied with his efforts and his work, with the progress and advancement of the pupils under his instruction have a very pleasing sound. To know that service performed for another has proven satisfactory to the employer or the recipient is cause for rejoicing. And so I say that the word satisfied has power to call up visions of contentment and thoughts of happiness.

But as we look upon the faces of those we meet we cannot fail to be impressed with the truth that satisfaction is not the common possession of mankind. On many countenances are there marks of anxiety and unrest. We go to the quiet home in the country, and the spirit of anxiety is there. Perhaps all desired articles of comfort or luxury cannot be obtained; or the burden of a mortgage may be upon the farm. There may be a wayward child in the home, or disease may have laid its hand on some member of the family. We go to the city mansion. We may find everywhere the evidences of wealth. Still we perceive the same anxious spirit. The cares of business rest heavily upon the owner. There is great uncertainty attending the outcome of certain investments. He cannot reach the place of honor or influence which he desires. Here as in the former home there may be sickness or sin. There is an element of care and anxiety in the life. Sometimes it may appear that to certain ones is given all that could be wished. We see no cause for unrest, nothing further for which the ambition or the heart need long.

It may be one who has a high place in the land. But the care and responsibility placed upon that life is something which does not enter into the experience of those in lowlier stations. So, rather than a satisfied life this is an anxious life and in many ways it is better thus. It is right to feel the responsibility and the care, to exercise watchfulness, to be according to the scriptural injunction, "Not slothful in business."

These things have been said relate to the temporal life, to the uncertain affairs of this world. There is an old poem asking where rest and security may be found. After being told again and again of this or that place upon earth, that rest is not there, the questioner hears that it may be found in heaven. So the Psalmist says "I shall be satisfied when I awake, with thy likeness."

Man has a right to hope for the future. Among the writers of the Bible, sleep was often used to signify death. The awakening, then, points to the resurrection. Thus the word is used in this passage, I speak confidently of the hope for the future which belongs to man because of the authority of the Scriptures in which are many passages referring to glory and the eternal nature of the heavenly inheritance. I think that many times we make too little of the Word of God regarding these things. They are written for our comfort and encouragement; we should think more upon them, that they may work whereunto they were sent. The psalmist from amidst the cares and adversities of life, saw how one might attain perfect rest, content and satisfaction. The apostle declared that to be with Christ was far better than life in this world, and he spoke of the inheritance that fadeth not away. Christ often spoke of the life that was to come, and to the disciple upon the lonely isle of Patmos were revealed things too wonderful and too glorious for earthly speech.

But let us not deceive ourselves. All awaking from death will not be in "his likeness." The seed does not by dying send up shoots of an opposite nature from which it came. There is no transforming power in death. If death coming to us find no likeness to the Christ, no reaching after the spirit that dwell in him, the awaking will reveal none of that likeness. It is written that it is appointed to man once to die and after that the judgment. The judgment, the likeness with which we shall awake is most surely fixed by the likeness with which we fall asleep.

Palmer--Duley.

A very pretty home wedding occurred at noon, Wednesday, October 2, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Duley at Farmington Falls, when their daughter, Miss Nina, and Dr. Henry B. Palmer were united in marriage. The interior of the house had been decorated for the event with evergreen and flowers.

Mendelssohn's wedding march heralded the approach of the wedding party which descended from the upper story of the residence by way of the flower decked stairs and entered the north parlor. Miss Gladys A. Brown in a white muslin gown tripped like a fairy in front of the party and with white ribbons marked a path from the parlor door to the corner of the room directly opposite, where under an arch of evergreen the solemn yet happy words were pronounced by the Rev. E. R. Smith. The bride was charming in a white silk dress with train, with Irish lace collar, trimmed with white paun velvet and pearl buckles and carried a bouquet of white bride's roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Charlotte Duley, as maid of honor, who was handsomely gowned in white organdie over pink and carried a bouquet of pink bride's roses. Donald B. Cragin of Farmington attended the groom in the capacity of best man.

The beautiful ring ceremony was used, and a pleasing picture was presented by the party under the evergreen and as the impressive ritual was carried out.

Dr. and Mrs. Palmer held a brief reception upon the conclusion of the ceremony, and that they will have a happy and prosperous wedded life was the wish of those present. A wedding breakfast was served immediately following the reception, at which good cheer reigned complete.

The newly wedded pair were the recipients of many beautiful and costly tokens of the esteem of their many friends. They left town on the afternoon train on an extended wedding trip which will include, among other points of interest, Niagara, the Pan-American exposition, Hudson river and New York City. They will make their residence at No. 9 Broadway and will be at home after November 20.

to water but you can't make him drink.

You can't make him eat either. You can stuff food into a thin man's stomach but that doesn't make him use it.

Scott's Emulsion can make him use it. How? By making him hungry, of course. Scott's Emulsion makes a thin body hungry all over. Thought a thin body was naturally hungry didn't you? Well it isn't. A thin body is asleep—not working—gone on a strike. It doesn't try to use its food.

Scott's Emulsion wakes it up—puts it to work again making new flesh. That's the way to get fat.

RANGELEY IS BUILDING UP.

Scrap Over Two Pailfuls of Water Furnishes Goss p.

Man Narrowly Escapes Being Sawed In Two.

Entertainments and Personals From City on the Lake.

[Special Correspondence to the MAINE WOODS.]

RANGELEY, ME., Oct. 8, 1901.

Rangeley is still hustling along with its new houses and many who are not building new ones this fall are repairing the old. One of our contractors, Mr. A. J. Haley, informs a MAINE WOODS reporter that business is now at its very best. A twenty-four room, four tenement house belonging to Miller & Soule will soon be ready for occupancy. The J. F. Oakes house on Lake street, recently purchased by W. L. Butler, is assuming a new appearance under the hands of the carpenters. Bow windows and piazzas are being added and when completed it promises to be a very desirable place. Mr. J. A. Russell is remodeling his stable. H. T. Kimball is making some general improvements on his buildings. New seats have been placed in the White schoolhouse, also in the Primary and Intermediate school-rooms. Some other improvements have been made in the Intermediate room by changing the blackboards, etc. A new roofing has been put on the Oquossoc House and nearly every room will be papered and painted. Also a new store room has been added. The veranda at the Rangeley Lake House will be sheathed with hard pine and a platform will be built in front of the casino building. Many improvements are being made at Indian Rock. New sheds are being built and 70,000 shingles will be used in repairs for the Oquossoc Angling association.

Last Friday evening occurred the marriage of Miss Catherine Ida Twombly and Mr. Frank A. Brown at the home of the bride's parents. The wedding was private, only the family of the bride being present. The bride was daintily dressed in a dove colored suit and the groom wore the conventional black. The ceremony was performed by Dr. S. A. Ross. Mr. and Mrs. Brown left town on the early train Saturday morning for Mechanic Falls where they will spend the winter. Mr. Brown was engineer for the Rangeley Lakes Steamboat company on the steamboat Comet, during the summer.

One of the really interesting occurrences of the past week was a fight between a lady who resides in town and a man who is considered by her a trespasser. She forbade him the use of water on her premises and he took two pails full last Sunday morning in spite of her protests. It resulted in his turning a part of the water upon her and leaving with empty pails.

Mrs. Larry and her daughter Gladys will board at Mr. Fred York's this winter, while Mr. Larry will have charge of the Berlin Mills company in the woods.

While having a large log sawed at the mill of the Rangeley Steam Mill company one day recently, Mr. Fred Conant came very near meeting with a serious accident. Mr. Conant was assisting about the work and in bending over his back came in contact with the saw. The saw cut through his coat, suspenders and outside shirt just brushing his undershirt and leaving him without a scratch.

Mrs. H. A. Ham, mother of Mrs. Fred York is in Boston this week.

Miss Minnie Lane who has been working at the Rangeley Lake House is housekeeper at the Oquossoc this winter.

At the regular meeting of the Christian Endeavor, Wednesday, October 2, the following officers were chosen: President, Rev. R. S. W. Roberts; secretary, Miss Helen Haines; treasurer, Mrs. Emma McCard. The vice president, nominated by the committee, having declined the office has not yet been filled.

The entertainment given in the vestry last Friday evening was a decided success. The following program was carried out:

Reading, Song, Reading, Organ Solo, Reading, Song, Graphophone selections.

After the program refreshments of coffee and cake were served. Another entertainment will be given in two weeks. The receipts of the evening were $15.00.

Mrs. Fred Smith and Mr. Arthur Smith of New Vineyard visited at Mr. G. A. Proctor's recently.

An Antiquarian supper is to be given by the Knights of Pythias next Monday evening.

Miss Gustie Kempton has returned to her home in Phillips.

Mrs. Millie Porter, who has been working at Indian Rock, is stopping at her daughter's, Mrs. Walter Oakes.

Miss Lillian Walker of Phillips is visiting friends in town.

A man from the lumbering camps of Bean & Whitcomb, who is very sick, was brought out on the train Tuesday.
