If you take Hood's Sarsaparilla and receive as much benefit from it as did Mr. Benjamin C. Rose of Saunderson, R. I. He says, "My sickness and bad feelings from dyspepsia and nervous prostration extended over seven years. Physicians, medicines and treatments gave practically the same result,—no help, but Hood's Sarsaparilla did the work for me and did it well. Friends said I did not seem to be the same man. Hood's Sarsaparilla is a great spring medicine, a fine stomach and nerve tonic."

NEWSPAPER HISTORY

The Rockland Gazette was established in 1846. In 1854 the Courier was established as a weekly paper, and in 1882 the Free Press was established in 1882, and in 1901 changed its name to the Tribune. These papers consolidated March 17, 1907.

Everyone must strike in his own way. David with a sling in hand can do more than Saul in his glittering armor.—Ingelow.

Of 82 samples of penmanship submitted to the instructors at the Commercial college one day last week, the best was adjudged to be the work of Miss Ivy Young, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. William Young of Columbia avenue. It has been framed, and on exhibition in the southern window of the Norcross drug store, where its neatness and accuracy are being much admired.

If the plans of the Navy Department materialize the Naval Reserves will have a cruise to Bermuda the coming summer. The Department contemplates using the battleship Iowa for this purpose. Upon the completion of the Panama Canal the Maine divisions will cruise to Central America and pass through the Canal at the official opening. It's well worth while belonging to the Ship's Company these days.

A transportation official, who has just arranged for haulage of 40 cars of oyster shells, says it is remarkable how valuable oyster shells have become. They have been found to be excellent for building roads, for fertilizer and for making buttons. At Hampton, Va., can be seen the biggest pile of shells in the world, 50 feet high and 160 feet long, containing 200,000 bushels of shells which yielded something like 5,000,000 oysters. These shells will sell for probably $10,000, and before next season the pile will have disappeared, to make room for another pile.

What about the deposits of shells over Damariscotta way? We don't know about their making buttons—that doesn't much interest us—but if they can be utilized for road building, the ancient Indians who devoured oysters and stacked the shells into great mounds beside the river there were doing a greater work for posterity than they could possibly have wotted. Let our Lincoln county neighbor think upon this matter. She's got no end of roads that it might be profitable to spread those shells upon.

MR. EMERY'S FIRST TRIP

Owl's Head Man Tells How He Fed the Crew and the Fishes on Voyage to New York.

Rockport, Mass., Feb. 12. Sleeping almost under the shadow of Thatcher's Island lights for a few weeks on the land side I am reminded of the many times I have looked for Thatcher's Island lights from the sea side.

When I was 14 years old, with a pillow-case full of clothes that my mother had provided, I went on board the schooner Mirror as cook, bound to New York. Never shall I forget my first night on board in Owl's Head harbor all alone and as I lay in my bunk I heard the clock in the cabin tick and the ropes whipping the masts nearly the almost under the shadow of Thatcher's Island lights from the sea side.

At daylight the captain came on board, and with a fair wind we soon passed Monhegan where we met a south wind and boisterous seas, and all the way to Portland harbor, where we sought shelter. I not only fed the crew but the fishes. But old the joy of getting into smooth water. Thus ended my first day as a sailor.

The second night after leaving Portland harbor we met a southwest gale and stood in towards Thatcher's Island lights hoping to get into Cape Ann, but when we made Eastern Point light we found that it was impossible to fetch by, and the gale increased we hauled down everything but the two-reefed foresail, and heading off shore hove her too. Such plunging and jumping I had never seen.

I would have been glad to have crawled under father's barn, and I said: "If this is going to sea, I want none of it. What if a Cape Ann fishing schooner or some other craft should come tearing before the gale and run us down; it would be goodbye home." But we weathered the gale and by noon the next day we had all sails set and were on our way to Nantucket Shoals. We passed down the Cape Cod shore in the day-time with a fair wind, passing Highland Light perched on the bluff of the Cape, then Nauset's three lights, then Chatham's two lights, then coming to the Pollock Rip lightship, and anchored at what is termed the foot of Nantucket Shoals, the turning point for all vessels going over the Shoals or up the Cape.

A lightship was a wonderful sight to me. To think of their being anchored there and riding out fearful gales while vessels that are passing them may be hurrying to the shelter of a good harbor. We continued on our way over the Shoals, passing Handkerchief, Cross Rip and Sow and Pigs lightships, past Block Island, and through the Race to Long Island Sound. As we neared New York Steve Horton, a Hellgate pilot came on board chewing an unlighted cigar, and when that was gone another took its place. But when he took the wheel he proved that he knew his business, taking us safely through that seething, rushing current of Hell Gate.

Here let me say that when I commanded a vessel of my own, and needed a pilot, I found the Hell Gate pilot office in a liquor saloon on South street—a proper place you say. As we passed along Pilot Horton pointed out to us several wrecks piled upon the rocks where some unfortunate pilots had left them. As we passed along the East river and neared the docks on the New York side a complete forest of masts and yards came into view, and I stood in wonder and forgot that I had a sweet cake in the galley stove oven. We anchored in Buttermilk Channel and then I realized that we had reached the great city of New York.

The first opportunity I had I went ashore and took a look at the big ships lying at the docks. Each ship had a large square of canvas suspended from the fore-yard with the ship's name painted on it, where she was bound and the street and number of her agent. I learned the names of the ship's sails. Those on the mainmast are the mainsail, topsail, topgallant sail, royal, skysail, moon raker, skyscraper, stargazer, heaven's disturber, and sail above all. I have never seen a sail higher than the skysail.

When "Pape's Diapiesin" Reaches Stomach All Indigestion, Gas and Sourness Disappears.

You don't want a slow remedy when your stomach is bad—or an uncertain one—or a harmful one—your stomach is too valuable; you mustn't injure it with drastic drugs.

Pape's Diapiesin is noted for its speed in giving relief; its harmlessness; its certain unfailing action in regulating sick, sour, gassy stomachs. Its millions of cures in indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis and other stomach trouble has made it famous the world over.

Keep this perfect stomach doctor in your home—keep it handy—get a large fifty-cent case from any drug store and then if anyone should eat something which doesn't agree with them; if what they eat lays like lead, ferments and causes indigestion, gas, causes headache, dizziness and nausea; eruptions of acid and undigested food—remember as soon as Pape's Diapiesin comes in contact with the stomach all such distress vanishes. Its promptness, certainty and ease in overcoming the worst stomach disorders is a revelation to those who try it.

TENANT'S HARBOR DAYS

Of Ancient Memories That Are Aroused By Sights and Sounds.

CL.

Strange, isn't it, what memories sight or sound will bring to a person?

No, there isn't, son, but you listen for the tinkle of a cowbell."

A short time ago I was working as busy as a proverbial bee, when I heard the tinkle of a cowbell. The teamsters here about Boston use cowbells on their horses in winter. In a second, in the twinkling of an eye, I was in "Turkey" woods, down there in Maine, on a hot summer day, nearly forty years ago, berrying with dad. We had filled our dishes, and after eating a good many berries I was very dry, there was no water in sight, so I said to dad:

"I'm awful dry, pa—ain't there any water around here?"

"No, there ain't, son, but you listen for the tinkle of a cowbell."

Finally I located the desired sound, so I hollered to dad:

"I hear a cowbell over there!"

"All right, just wait till I make a birch bark dish and we will have a drink."

So dad selected a nice white birch and cutting off a generous slice of bark made a dish. Then we followed up the sound of the cowbell till we came to the cow, and while I made friends with her, dad performed the milkmaid act and relieved her of some of her lactical fluid.

Talk not to me, as the fellow said, of the necktie of the gods. No nectar ever tasted sweeter than that draught of warm milk tasted on that hot summer day.

In the same block with our store is a fish market. Occasionally, on my lunch hour, I go and gaze in the window at the "denizens of the deep" displayed therein. Here is a dish of fresh smelts, and as I look at them I am back again at the old place, either smelting at The Crick or else at the old mill-dam, or the little cove that makes in from the Georges river, just beyond the old Charles Fountain place. Ed., George, Rolle, Frank, Will, Freddie and most likely Harvey are there. We have plenty of fresh minnows, the smelts are biting well, and—what joy on earth is there to compare with it on a cool October day? I don't know the answer. After more than twenty-five years of city life I have failed to find it yet. Neither time, nor an active life, have erased from my mind memories of those happy boyhood days.

Here is a basket of clams, and as I look at them I am back again at the Big Rocks, with the gang, having either a clam bake or a clam chowder. Across my brain flits the memory of a clam bake I attended a few years ago while at home. It was at Clark Island and Al was going to "make the bake." As he was a fish warden we all thought it would be a dandy. Al made the fire on a ledge on the back side of the island, but neglected to put any small stones in the fire. After letting the fire burn the whole time he drew the fire, swept the ledge, put on the sea-weed and clams and covered the bake with canvas. When the time had elapsed for the bake to be done we drew off the canvas and tried a clam. Say! They were colder than when we put them on! Al had simply tried to heat the whole of Clark Island and failed in the attempt. It remained for two green-horns from Boston to draw that bake, build a new fire, put on plenty of small stones, get them good and hot, put the clams back again and have a clam bake that was a joy forever.

Here is a pile of lobsters, some of which are of good size and some, I fear, are no larger than some we had at a lobster boil on Spectacle Island a few years ago. It was given by the Village Improvement Society, or the Ladies' Sewing Circle or some kindred organization. I have forgotten just which one. Unfortunately, Al had to go down to the "port" that day, but that didn't prevent Bert and Jess, Nan and Elmer, Capt. Fred and his family, Capt. Dave and wife and the "Heavenly Twins," Fern, Ruth, Colly and a score of others from being present. Uncle Tom was in his element as mine host. We had the use of his cook stove and he said "there was only one woman in the whole crowd that knew how to run a lobster." She also knew how to eat lobsters. I can assure you. Why, she wouldn't even let us throw the shells into the deep, deep sea (the sea tells no tales) until she went through every shell and picked out the sweet-meats. I can hear her say as she finished the task: "Seeh a good time as I've hehd—seeh a good time as I've hehd!"

Here are some mackerel. As I gaze at them I can see twenty or thirty boats at anchor between Northern and Southern islands, each boat with two or more occupants throwing over toll and hauling in mackerel as fast as they can with two lines working. Isn't it a handsome sight, either in the early morn or the late afternoon, the mackerel schooling. As they glide and twist and turn in the water they shine like silver, and when they are biting well, what sport! I won't go back on my first love—smelting—but I'll give the mackerel second place.

Well, well! my lunch hour is up. I must drag myself away from that fish display and get back again to my regular job. Fish is high and I must work to obtain the wherewith to buy some. I could stand in front of that window and dream dreams all day long.

"Nothing to do but work, Nothing to eat but food, Nothing to see but sights, Nothing to quench but thirst." Boze.

YOUR FAVORITE POEM

Mary—A Reminiscence

She died in June, while yet the woodland sprays Waved o'er the outlet of this garden dell. Before the advent of these Autumn days And dark unseason'd verdure. As a belief, I ran my window gaze, yearning to forge Some comfort out of anguish, so fiery, The dull rain stream'd before the blossoms gorge.

By which, ere while, on each less genial morn, Our Mary pass'd, to gain her shelter'd lawn, With Death's dislocation rose upon her cheek. How often had I watch'd her, pale and weak, Pining the sword I and now I daily seek. The track by those slow peering footsteps worn, How faintly worn! though trodden every week.

TWICE-A-WEEK.

CIRCULATION AFFIDAVIT
Rockland, March 1, 1913.
Personally appeared Neil S. Perry, who on oath declares that he is president of the office of the Rockland Publishing Co., and that of the issue of The Courier-Gazette of February 25, 1913, there was printed a total of 4,266 copies. Before me: J. W. CROCKER, Notary Public.

ROCKLAND IS REPUBLICAN

Rockland is a Republican city. In the administration of its affairs by the men of that political party this community has gradually advanced to a position of prosperity and well-being that ranks it among the best of the small New England cities. Progress has been the motto of the men of Rockland. Our Republicans were progressive long before there was another party bearing that particular designation.

The progress of our city has been attained without suggestion from any responsible source of ill-management or graft. If any Republicans are thinking of voting next Monday to throw their party out of this honest, businesslike management they ought seriously to deliberate with themselves before taking such action. We are all Republicans and all progressive. The Republican who votes a third party ticket votes to turn the city over to Democratic rule. Don't do it.

MONEY AND BOOZE

Hyphenated Candidate May Not Want It, But Not So His Campaign Managers.

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—On page two of the "Opinion" of this week is the following manifesto that makes the average reader smile, who is conversant with the facts:

"Mr. Littlehale in his speeches of acceptance in both caucuses made it clear that he is not looking for, nor does he want, the support of the rum and money crowd. If he cannot be elected without the methods they employ, he doesn't want to be elected at all, and if he is elected, with a council in sympathy with his ideas of good municipal government, no heels need apply."

The above position is a dignified one, and has a high moral tone that would be a credit to the Democratic Progressive candidate for mayor, if true—but the managers want both booze and money for his campaign. Probably they could not find any in the old steam mill that the D. P. candidate rented to the Dondis family for a wholesale rumshop last season, and this may be the reason why a member of the Democratic city committee has called on many of the liquor dealers in town for both rum and money during the past few days. Democrat Who Knows.

LACK OF TACT

Method by Which Committeeman Doherty Was Overthrown Will Be Resented at the Polls.

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—

If the Democracy of Rockland wished to carry the city this spring, those who were running the machine should have used better judgment and more tact in conducting the mayoralty caucus. Every other ward in the city chose its own ward committeeman, which is right. Why then, was not Ward 4 allowed to do so? Did Spear and Staples fear that Mr. Doherty would be elected if it was left to the Democrats of the ward? It looks so, and so the apostates of the Democratic faith who haven't voted a straight ticket for years, had to enlist the services of Messrs. Howard and Herbert Churchill and others outside of the ward to put through a vote to have all of the wards name the committeeman for Ward Four.

It was simply a trick to put Mr. Doherty off of the committee. Mr. Benner, who was elected, did not seek the place. Mr. Murray tried to enter a protest, and ask that the ward might select its own committeeman, but he was promptly squelched by Chairman Payson, who ruled him out of order. It is a time when perfect harmony is needed; when factional quarrels should be sunk out of sight, but these men have no political foresight, as the result will show. Mr. Churchill was very hilarious over the affair that evening at a meeting of the "Owl Club" and declared that it was the one act of the caucus, that they (or rather he) intended to do. But many Democrats of the ward regard the act as an outrage which will be resented at the polls.

A Ward Four Democrat.

Some Campaign Considerations

Which Have To Do With the Opinion's Fears and the Progressives' Whims—Blethen Administration Spent Money and Has Something To Show For It.

With the city election only three days away it is the manifest intention of the voters to continue the administration of Mayor Blethen—the Rockland Opinion and Hyphenated Soreheads to the contrary notwithstanding. In preceding elections the Republicans have had to paddle their own canoe, and work hard for every inch of success they have achieved. This year they have voluntary promises of support from many substantial voters in the Democratic party—men who are not allied with any of the factional fights in that party, but who see in Mayor Blethen an undoubted champion of the improvements which have so long been a crying need in this city.

Where others would have faltered at an undertaking like the widening of Sea street; the building of the North end retaining wall, the paving of Main street, north, and other permanent improvements, Mayor Blethen has tackled those tasks boldly and unhesitatingly. The natural consequence is that our principal streets are now a source of pride instead of apology, and what's more we are enjoying privileges that otherwise must have been deferred to that period when our names would be indistinct on the tombstones. Mr. Blethen and his associates have carried forward this work without blare of trumpets, neither catering for the Knockers' approval nor caring for the Knockers' criticism. They have done things that we may enjoy in our own lifetime.

Angered because the city treasurer's report was not ready for its campaign issue, and vexed because it could not find traitorous tongues to aid in building a campaign bughear, the Opinion devotes a spiteful column to the assertion that the city government "dares not give the figures."

It is hardly necessary to state that this report with all its intricate statistics would have been presented to the city government at the customary time had not the trying illness and death of City Treasurer Adams' father occurred on the very week that the final tabulations are usually made. There is no family which death does not sooner or later enter, and to the bereaved ones it is not necessary to tell of the ordeal experienced by those who sit at the bedside during the final hours. This was peculiarly the situation with City Treasurer Adams, and the effect was such that his tabulations were not concluded until late yesterday—too late for the Opinion's scarecrow edition and too late to be available for The Courier-Gazette this morning. The report will be read at a special meeting of the city council this Friday afternoon, and the public is cordially invited to be present to hear it or to make as careful an inspection of it as they like. That is the sum of the financial mystery to which our contemporary has been pleased to refer, and we trust the Opinion will like it. There is an inelegant word that fits the other alternative. The Opinion's wrath culminates in the following paragraph:

"And, the damnable thing of all is, that not one iota of information as to the financial standing of the city can be obtained by anybody."

Nobody will tell the editor of the Opinion what he wants to know! "Damnable" indeed! And for the first time in his pampered existence something gets by his scarecrow issue. Horrible to contemplate!

Frthing at the mouth because neither he nor his scouts could get the desired information our contemporary falls back upon his old stock in trade, insinuation and underhanded abuse. For instance read the following paragraph which winds up the Opinion's column of spleen:

"We do not share the opinion that is quite frequently expressed that some great financial scandal is being covered up. We do not apprehend that there has been any defalcation, theft or anything of the kind."

Of course you don't, and neither does any fair-minded person, yet you drag in a dirty insinuation in the vain hope that some voter will be hoodwinked or influenced thereby. As well might we have quoted the prominent Democratic nominee, who is alleged to have said that he would not vote for "any d—d Irishman or Catholic." But we do not believe in personalities.

We have not haunted the city building day and night, as our contemporaries have, in an attempt at bulldozing or hoodwinking the city treasurer into divulging figures that even the Mayor had not seen; consequently we do not know how much the appropriations may have been overdrawn, if at all. Overdrafts have not been infrequent, even in years when there was little done outside of routine work, and it will occasion no astonishment if the city over-reached its pocket-money in bringing about the notable improvements that have been wrought in Mayor Blethen's second administration.

The improvements have cost money, and more money than was contemplated, for the simple reason that changes in the original plans were made at the request of the property owners concerned.

The unusual expenditures of last year not only brought results which are immensely pleasing to all good citizens, but they made available for city uses approximately $10,500 raised by private subscription. Take, for instance, the fine stretch of road built last summer on the northern side of Park street. This work cost about $5,000, and the city's share was a trifle over $600. We don't believe any taxpayer will object to that kind of "extravagance."

The Opinion is concerned because the road commissioner's report did not give the itemized expenditures arising from the removal of the rock crusher from Limerock street to its present location near the head of Cedar and Maverick streets. The prying nasal organ of our contemporary, in its grim and ceaseless pursuit of the treasurer's report, must have missed the fact that there is in the city clerk's office a memorandum of agreement between Mayor Blethen and Warren B. Gardner, in which all of the details of that transaction are explained. The cost of moving the crusher was exactly $600, and this included the rebuilding of the bins to twice their original size, and re-setting the crusher. Mr. Gardner's figures were made up on the basis of being able to move the bins whole, but this he was unable to do, and the extra work nearly consumed the few dollars' profit there was in the contract.

The construction of a new crusher platform cost $224. A new motor costing $75 took the place of the old engine and boiler which could not be operated economically. Housing the motor cost $64.40; a new jack-shaft cost $62.40 and laying a water pipe to the crusher cost $53, making the total cost $1078. "And it was the best spent thousand dollars we ever used," says Mayor Blethen. The crusher was no good where it stood, but now some practical results are being obtained from it.

The Progressives lost their individuality, and most of their followers, when they entered the Democratic combine, and their existence had been well-nigh forgotten until a communication on the front page of yesterday's Opinion recalled it. The communication is set in double column measure and gets the place of honor—this little group of politicians which the same newspaper was so roundly denouncing only a few months ago.

They say that politics makes strange bedfellows and truly it has come to pass, when the members of the Progressive city committee are found nestling their wise heads on the same pillow with the editorial statesmen of the Opinion staff, in their waking moments reviling another newspaper which has so cordially supported their ambitions in the past.

The article contributed by the Progressive city committee is one of those cure-all propositions like the patent medicine which is guaranteed to be equally good for sore throat or bunions. It predicts a direful increase in the tax rate, and assigns as the principal reason for that prophecy the extravagance of hunting for browntail moth nests. "This duty," says the Progressive city committee, "is undertaken by one of a crew of five or six men, while the rest do the heavy work of sitting on the curbing and picking up the small twigs as they fall."

We have a strong suspicion that this section of the city committee's letter is inspired by the Ward 7 Chameleon who had charge of the work in that section last spring. Was he the one who did the climbing, or one of the six who sat on the curbing, "amusing themselves with various games unknown to the Progressive city committee?"

The Progressive city committee is going to have reforms too numerous to mention, based, we should scarcely think, on the record made by an ex-mayor who is absolutely boss of the few Progressives that have chosen to follow him in this manifest attempt to wreck the party which elected him to the city office he now holds.

The standard-bearer of these reform measures is a man who wrought no miracles while a member of the board of aldermen—not even to the extent of favoring $2 per day for the city laborers. His pleasing personality and undisputed capacity for hymn singing may have been regarded as the requisites for a candidate who is slated to do the Rev. Dr. Parkhurst act for Rockland. The chances of his election are too remote for us to even speculate upon his probable mode of procedure—in the light of recent events and the Armour fire hospitality incident.

Rev. Robert Sutcliffe, former pastor of the Methodist church in this city, is now pastor of the First Methodist church in Lebanon, Ore. It is a new concrete structure, containing modern improvements, and is one of the finest in that conference. In four months Mr. Sutcliffe received more than 40 new members.

Philharmonic Social
The "social" by the Philharmonic Society Thursday evening was very largely attended, despite the storm, and the faithfulness and ability of the entertainment committee, composed of Mrs. Ada F. Mills, Mrs. Richard Elliott and Mrs. A. J. Bird was evidenced by the completeness of detail and the charming and delightful manner in which the program was rendered.

After the reading of the letters of regret from Mr. and Mrs. William R. Chapman at their inability to be present and expressions of their interest in and love for the Rockland chorus, a short rehearsal of the new Festival music was held, followed by the serving of delicious refreshments, with ice cream. Later an informal round of pleasure was experienced, consisting of vocal solos by Miss Thomas, recitations by Mrs. Elliott, piano solos and dancing. It proved to be one of the most enjoyable and pleasurable functions of the Society.

THE EXTRA SESSION

Tariff Bills and an Income Tax Measure Will be Ready for Its Consideration.

The extra session of Congress which President-elect Wilson has called to meet April 1, will find a number of tariff bills ready for its immediate consideration and other general policies mapped out for the new administration. The date received general approval in Congress. The letter from Democratic Leader Underwood upon which Mr. Wilson based his decision to convene the session April 1, was sent after members of the Ways and Means committee had agreed that it would be possible to perfect several of the tariff bills by that time.

Members of the committee predicted that those measures would consume less than a month in passing the House and that there would be no marked division of opinion in the committee over the preparation of any bills.

An income tax bill is being prepared by Representative Hull of Tennessee, and will probably be one of the earliest measures introduced in the House. Whether the currency will be taken up remains a question upon which members of both Houses are in doubt, but it is believed that the currency problem taken up as soon as it is possible to free upon a system of currency reform.

"DANDERINE" FOR FALLING HAIR OR DANDRUFF

Don't Pay 50 Cents for Worthless Hair Tonics—Use Old, Reliable, Harmless "Danderine"—Get Results.

This, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair, is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scourge. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast.

A little Danderine tonight—now—anytime—will surely save your hair. Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and after the first application you will say it was the best investment you ever made. Your hair will immediately take on that life, lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance; an incomparable gloss and softness, but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a growing in, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp.

Scrofula is a bad thing to inherit or acquire, but there is this about it—Hood's Sarsaparilla completely cures even the worst cases.—Adv.

IN SPORTING CIRCLES

The All-Maine team defeated Bath at roller polo last Saturday night 2 to 2. In the fastest and roughest game of the season there, Rodney Skinner of Rockland again played first rush and contributed his share toward the All-Maine team's victory.

Bill Carrigan, whose backstop work for the Red Sox placed Lewiston on the map, is now a real estate speculator. This week he bought a three-story wooden block in Auburn.

The Bowdoin school baseball league will consist of two divisions this season. In Division A will be South Portland, Deering and Brunswick high schools. Division B will contain Cony, Lewiston, Edward Little and Hallowell high schools. The winners of each division will meet in a best two out of three series for the championship of the league.

John J. McGraw, the little Napoleon of baseball, leader of the Giants and the highest priced manager in the game, according to John B. Foster, high schools, Division B will contain Cony, Lewiston, Edward Little and Hallowell high schools. The winners of each division will meet in a best two out of three series for the championship of the league.

George "Squanto" Wilson of Albion, former Bowdoin star football player and now a professor at the old diamond signed two contracts the other day; one with Pat Flaherty's league and the other with Dan Cupid's club of the Matrimonial league.

The first contract is for a single season and the second for life. Wilson has been signed as a catcher by Flaherty and as a husband by Cupid. In fulfilling this latter contract the former Bowdoin star agrees to furnish "good support" to his team mate who was Miss Edith Klein, a charming and popular young woman of Mount Vernon, and former student in the class of 1914 at Colby college.

The young people were married last Wednesday at the bride's home in Mt. Vernon. As a ball player in the professional ranks "Squanto" has had a little hard luck in the past two years. His arm has not been right most of the time, so it is reported, but this season he thinks his whip will be in fine shape and expects to make a good showing with the Lynn, Mass., team.

HOW TO GET FAT

Use Samose, Says Druggist C. H. Pendleton and Put On Good Flesh.

The almost universal interest in physical culture is the best evidence that can be offered as to the need of a simple and scientific method of making thin people fat, increasing strength and restoring health.

Athletics, when carried to an extreme, often result in straining the vital organs. How much better it would be for the average person to regain health, strength and flesh by using Samose. This flesh forming food is assimilated as soon as it enters the stomach; it helps the organs to assimilate the food and extract the flesh forming elements; it builds up the muscles and rounds out the limbs into shapely plumpness.

Samose has been so successful in making thin people fat and restoring the weak and run down to strength and health that C. H. Pendleton, the popular druggist, sells it under his personal guarantee to refund the money if it does not benefit.

CHILD'S HANDS CRACKED AND BLED

Poisoned by Brown Tail Moth. From Wrists Down Sore and Red. Scratched Until They Were Almost Raw. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Completely Cured Her.

9 France Place, Brockton, Mass.—"My girl was poisoned by the brown-tail moth when she was five years of age. Her hands from her wrists down were sore, red and bleeding. She scratched them until they were almost raw. She suffered through what they cracked and bled. Her hands and wrists looked so bad I was discouraged to take her out in company. It kept her from sleeping well. I tried—

Ointment, Ointment, and also a treatment with no avail. I was so discouraged I said 'I will see what the Cuticura Soap and Ointment will do.' I started to use them. I was obliged to keep her hands and wrists done up day and night in linen cloth saturated with the Cuticura Ointment, but always before it was applied I washed them in hot water and Cuticura Soap. The bathing soothed her wonderfully. When I took the cloth from her hands in the morning the dry skin would all peel off. Cuticura Soap and Ointment completely cured her. It has never returned." (Signed) Mrs. L. H. Allen, Feb. 10, 1912.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment do so much for poor complexioned, red, rough hands, and dry, thin and falling hair, and cost so little that it is almost criminal not to use them. Cuticura Soap (25c) and Cuticura Ointment (50c) are sold throughout the world. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. book on the skin and scalp. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. Home Remedies for Tobacco Using and Nervousness

Owes Life to This

Consumption Remedy

It is beyond human power to perform miracles. The makers of Eckman's Alternative, a remedy for Consumption, do not claim that it will restore every one to perfect health, but so many have voluntarily testified it saved their lives, that all men have the right to demand that it be investigated and try it. It should stop the night sweats, reduce fever, promote appetite, and give you the good old robust life. Read what it accomplished in this case—

Catherine Ave. and Ascut Place, Queen's Court, L. I.

"Gentlemen: I had the year 1905 taken with a heavy cold and a nasty cough and went to several doctors, including a specialist. Their medicines failed. I then went to the Catskills, but the cough still being there for more than a year and then went on a farm near Jersey City, a very sick man.

"My brother then recommended Eckman's Alternative to me very highly. At first I would not consent to use it, but nearly two years since I first took it. I am now cured and thank you that you would have buried long ago if it had not been for Eckman's Alternative. I wish to say a word for the goodness of Eckman's Alternative to me."

Wherever I go I highly recommend the Alternative as I owe my life to it."

SWORN AFFIDAVIT, J. H. TRESCHEER, Eckman's Alternative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles, and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. Ask for booklet telling of recoveries, and write to Eckman Laboratories, Philadelphia, Pa., for more evidence. For sale by all leading druggists.

Health Talks.

By Dr. True

We must trace sickness back to its source. We must ask the question, "Whence comes my sickness?"

My practice as a physician showed that nine-tenths of human sickness, from infancy to old age, comes from stomach or bowels being out of order.

Headaches, tired feeling, nervous depression, weakness, spots before the eyes, bad breath, sleeplessness, irritability, dizziness and many other signs of sickness stop if you treat the stomach and bowels right and get them into working order.

Look first to the stomach and bowels. Get them working right and health will be yours.

My prescription, known as Dr. True's Elixir, has done wonders for sick people, because it is the one remedy that you can rely on to set things right in the stomach and bowels.

Costs 35c, 50c and $1.00 and is sold by all druggists, big or little, everywhere. Druggists, as a rule, are very honest. They do not try to substitute something else for Dr. True's Elixir, because they know its value. Many druggists use it for their own families, for children or grown people.

Substantial Relief From Hemorrhoids

A SCIENTIFIC HOSPITAL HOME TREATMENT

Seldom can any prescribed remedy be altogether effective unless the general health of the patient is normal. In some cases, therefore, constitutional treatment is necessary in order that one may obtain the most satisfactory results.

The English Hemorrhoid Treatment recognizes this fact and has provided this Constitutional Treatment in its Tablets.

The English Hemorrhoid Treatment is a standard proprietary medicine; the formulae is on each box.

The English Hemorrhoid Treatment

ment is for sale and is distinctly recommended by 12 druggists in Rockland, Thomaston, Warren, Rockport and Camden.

The English Hemorrhoid Treatment is fully described in a booklet which can be obtained at most any drug store, or by writing direct to English Pharmaceutical Laboratories, Inc., 1531 Broadway, New York.

It is an excellent treatise on the subject and should be read by all who are afflicted. Make no mistake! Take no substitute! Ask your druggist! Ask your doctor!

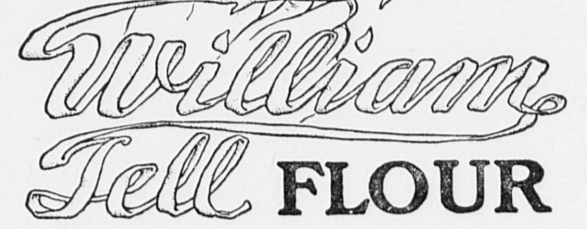

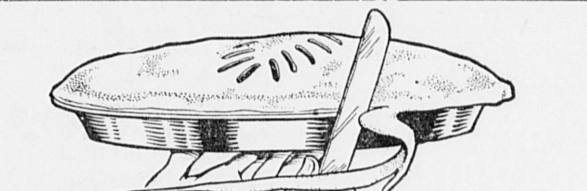

A Delightful Transformation

The Visitor: "Oh, how beautiful your home is since you had it fixed up!—And the electric lighting!—That's the best improvement of all."

The Hostess: "You certainly think so. It's so convenient. By pressing this button I have light instantly in every corner of the room. It costs so little too for all its comfort and cleanliness. I wish it had been put in before."

Have your house wired now and don't lose time in enjoying the many comforts electric service affords.

WHITTIER'S LETTERS

A Visit to Caribou Furnishes Him With Local Color On Railroad Strike.

Caribou, Feb. 16.

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:

There is rejoicing among the people of the Aroostook county on account of the fall of snow. Since last night about four inches has fallen, and it is still falling with every prospect for a season of good sleighing. Not only is the snow welcomed by the people with teams, but by pedestrians, for the streets have been glare ice and unsafe to walk on.

Yesterday with a suit case in each hand, I was going down a steep street when my feet went out from under me and I laid flat on my back. I heard an old man who witnessed the fall say (sotto voce): "Wish there wasn't a drop of the dumb stuff made!" It was a lie, said Pat, didn't you see me fall?"

It was with reluctance that I headed for this country, for between the lack of snow, the low price of potatoes, their principle product, and their inability to ship on account of the engineer and firemen's strike on the Bangor and Aroostook R. R., it certainly did not look promising for doing much business. Then there were newspaper accounts of six attempts to wreck trains of late and many cases of telegraph being cut or bunched, interfering with the running of trains. It is only fair to the strikers to say that no one accuses them of any responsibility in the matter.

The cancellation of one of the three through passenger trains each way, and the other trains being cut to five hours late at each station, due to the inability of new men to make time, makes it rather slow getting about. However, we are making fair time and hope to reach the line of the Maine Central railroad, where we can run on George's schedule time.

So much has been said in the daily papers about the strike that I will not attempt to discuss the merits of it. The engineers and firemen asked for an advance to equal that of the Maine Central and offered to arbitrate. This was not done, and the strike followed.

Not only has the traveling public been inconvenienced, but every industry has suffered and the loss to the county will amount to thousands of dollars. Except in places bordering on the Canadian Pacific railroad people have been unable to ship lumber and farm products and it looks as though there will be large quantities of potatoes lost. The crop of potatoes in the county for the year 1912 is estimated at 18,000,000 bushels with 8,000,000 bushels still in the hands of farmers and dealers and to market them it will require the aid of the railway.

The Canadian Pacific Railroad has given shippers and merchants the best service possible and are all loud in their praises of that road. Farmers are hauling to and from 15 miles to Canadian Pacific railroad points. The market today is 90 cents per barrel for table and $1.50 for seed potatoes.

The consensus of opinion is that the road will win. I am not in a position to venture an opinion. I only know it is costing a lot of money. President Todd's reason for not acceding to the demands of the strikers was that the road was not earning enough to pay them more wages.

In sight of this office there are two banks that handled $500,000 last year. One of them is now a much smaller amount. A dealer showed me his bank cards of deposit and where they were for $1200 or more for a car last year they were less than $500 this year.

This is certainly one off year for Aroostook county and everybody is feeling blue, but they are a plucky people and always ready to take their chance, and I am going to stay with them.

DON'T SCOLD CROSS, IRRITABLE CHILDREN

If Tongue is Coated, Stomach Sour, Breath Foul, Bowels Clogged, Give "Syrup of Figs."

Mother! Look at the tongue! See it is coated. If your child is listless, drooping, isn't sleeping well, restlessness, doesn't eat heartily or is cross, irritable, out of sorts with everybody, stomach sour, feverish, breath bad, has constipation, diarrhoea, sore throat, or is full of cold, it means the little ones' stomach, liver and 30 feet of bowels are filled with poisons and clogged up waste and need a gentle, thorough cleansing.

Give a teaspoonful of Syrup of Figs, and in a few hours the foul, decaying constipated matter, undigested food and sour bile will gently move on and out of its little bowels without nausea, griping or weakness, and you will surely have a well and smiling child shortly.

With Syrup of Figs you are not dragging your children, being composed entirely of luscious figs, senna and aromatics it cannot be harmful, besides they dearly love its delicious taste.

Mothers should always keep Syrup of Figs handy. It is the only stomach, liver and bowel cleanser and regular needed—a little given today will save a sick child tomorrow.

YOUR FRECKLES

Need Attention in February and March or Face May Stay Covered

Now is the time to take special care of the complexion if you wish it to look well the rest of the year. The February and March winds have a strong tendency to bring out freckles that may stay all Summer unless removed. Now is the time to use Othine—double strength.

This prescription for the removal of freckles is the discovery of an eminent skin specialist, and is so uniformly successful that it is sold by C. H. Pendleton under guarantee to refund the money if it fails. Get an ounce of Othine—double strength, and even a few applications should show a wonderful improvement, some of the smaller freckles even vanishing entirely.

Legislature Warming Up

And Knox County Matters Furnishing Some of the Heat Electrical Competition Uppermost.

The report of the judiciary committee to the people at a special election to be held next September, the question of granting the right of suffrage to women, was adopted in the House Wednesday after a lengthy debate, by a vote of 50 in favor of Mr. Newbert's motion to indefinitely postpone and 88 against that motion. These figures show that the friends of suffrage lack four votes of a sufficient number to secure the necessary two-thirds for submission to the people. Several members of the House were absent so there is no certainty that the necessary number may not be secured at the essential time when the resolve comes up for its passage to be engrossed. All votes cast in favor of indefinite postponement were cast by members of the Democratic party. The Knox county Democrats who favored woman's suffrage were Boman of Vinalhaven and Bucklin of Warren.

By a vote of 10 to 10 the Senate Tuesday voted against changing the time of the State election. Senator Boynton favored the minority report on the ground that it would save the State $16,000 annually. November will be much more convenient for farmers, fishermen and many others; the change is favored by the State Grange; the desire to carry Maine for moral effect tends to nerve to win and large sums of money are used for this purpose. Senator Boynton read a telegram from Vermont stating that the State Legislature had voted in favor of the change. Senator Cole, who signed the majority report opposed a change. He argued that the conditions are unique in Maine, especially in keeping the people informed on political issues. Political speakers can best be secured in September. With the referendum State affairs should be kept separate from national affairs so that they may not be confused and may be able to give more care to the matters referred to them.

The committee on Sea and Shore Fisheries has reported "Ought to pass a new draft" on act relating to taking smelts in the Georges river and its tributaries, the new draft making it unlawful to catch the smelts above "the fort," so called.

That a bill which was quietly introduced in the House several days ago by Representative Bragdon of Sullivan, is actually no other than a redraft of the famous Hastings bill, first presented in 1900, whereby jail sentences are rendered obligatory for convicted liquor dealers, was discovered Monday night. In the first important liquor legislation presented this winter and already stated a lively contest. It is said that the measure stands but little chance of being passed. The bill follows:

Section One. Section one of chapter 136 of the revised statutes is hereby amended by striking out all that part of said section beginning with the word "when" in the fifth line of said section and ending with the word "the fort," so called.

NOTICE

The Corporation of the Thomaston Savings Bank are hereby notified that their Annual Meeting will be held at their banking room on Tuesday, March 4, 1913, at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon, for the purpose of choosing a Board of Trustees for the ensuing year, and to transact any other business that may properly come before them.

For order, J. WALTER STROUT, Clerk of the Corporation.

the towns of Union and Warren in Knox county. The proposition was opposed by the Crawford Electric Co. of Union, which was represented by Arthur S. Littlefield of Rockland and by the Rockland, Thomaston & Camden Street Railway in the town of Warren, this company being represented by Job Montgomery.

Mr. Shaw who is asking for the pole rights is engaged in floating electrical companies in Knox county. Three companies are involved, the Dirigo Electric Company, which is a going concern, with charter rights to generate but not to distribute electricity; the Knox County Power Company, which is the property of Mr. Shaw himself, and the Knox County Electric Company, which is the property of Mr. Shaw himself, and the owner of certain rights and property.

Mr. Shaw stated that there is an agreement for the Knox County Power Company to lease the Dirigo company. It developed at the hearing that the Dirigo company's name is on $100,000 worth of bonds, a small part of which have been sold. Mr. Shaw claimed that he has 1500 horse power which can be developed at his dam in Union.

It seems that when he first proposed to issue bonds he put the proposition up to George E. Macomber of the Augusta Trust Company. Mr. Macomber at first was favorably impressed by the plan but later refused to have the bank certify the bonds.

Mr. Macomber stated at the hearing that Mr. Shaw had admitted to him that there was no property behind the bonds but that by selling bonds money could be raised for the purchase of the property. Mr. Macomber said that he asked Mr. Shaw what would happen to the people who bought the bonds if Shaw should be hit by lightning before he had sold the property and Mr. Shaw had not given him a satisfactory answer.

Mr. Shaw and Mr. Macomber became involved in a heated argument over the issue of this bond issue. Mr. Shaw later in the hearing claimed that Mr. Macomber had sent him to Herbert M. Heath to have a bond issue arranged, and that the amount of property behind them was fully understood at the time.

Mr. Macomber in his turn explained that he had sent Mr. Shaw to Mr. Heath who was the bank's attorney, and that Mr. Heath had simply investigated the legality of the incorporation of the company without any consideration as to the quality or character of the bonds.

It also developed that these bonds have since been tested by another engineer, testified tonight that in his opinion a dam on the St. Georges river controlled by Mr. Shaw's company, would develop 200 horse power if supported by a costly storage system.

The relations of the various companies were gone into at length and Mr. Shaw subjected to a severe cross fire of questions by members of the company and the attorneys. There were some very exciting clashes between Mr. Shaw and most every one who tackled him.

The second chapter of the story is expected before the legal affairs committee next week.

JANUARY TERM STAYS
The committee on Legal Affairs has voted "ought not to pass," on the act to abolish the January term of supreme court.

Citizens Meeting Thursday Welcomes Idea of Electrical Competition—Spicy Hearing.

One hundred citizens assembled in the Common Council chamber Thursday night to listen to a proposal made by H. M. Shaw relative to cheaper light and power. Mr. Shaw is promoter of an electrical plant which has been established at Hills Mills in Union, and is seeking from the present Legislature a charter which will give him the right to sell his power in Warren, Thomaston, Rockland and other parts of Knox county. The name of the operating corporation is the Knox County Power Co.

The meeting was called by the Rockland Board of Trade, but the invitation was a general one to all citizens, and the response showed how vitally interested they were. The discussion which followed Mr. Shaw's statement was a spicy one, and at times partook of a somewhat personal nature.

In the end a rising vote was taken, and it was practically unanimous in favor of opposing the competing company come to Rockland. A committee of 15 was raised to confer with Mr. Shaw and obtain a definite statement as to what he will be willing to do if the citizens will aid his company in securing the desired charter. In a general way his proposition seems to be that he will sell power 25 per cent cheaper than the new rate offered by the existing company.

Mr. Shaw claims for his plant a development of 1000 h. p. at a cost of $25,000 and says that if he can sell on the basis of 5 cents per kilowatt hour, 10 hours per day, his gross income will be $60,000. "My opponents acknowledge that I have 200 h. p.," said Mr. Shaw, "but even that amount is more than sufficient to furnish the towns we are seeking to enter."

"Do you stand ready to make a 25 per cent cut from the new rate offered by the R. T. & C. Street Railway?" asked A. S. Black.

Mr. Black then told his audience that he had investigated the same proposition in 1910, and read the engineers' report. Mr. Black believes there are great possibilities on this river, with proper development.

Mr. Shaw described at some length what he has already accomplished at Hills Mills. "This is really the key-way on the river and the only place where a head can be derived," he said. "Mr. A. Johnson accused the present company of being narrow and holding onto the tail of the kite. 'Manufacturers will come here if they can obtain a reasonable rate,' he declared. 'It means bread and butter to Rockland, and we intend to let in anybody who wants to come,' he added."

C. M. Walker in a speech of much vigor said the R. T. & C. Street Railway was assuming the dog in the manger policy. "By their opposition they have admitted that Mr. Shaw has plenty of power at Union," he said. "Do we want better rates for power and light? Exhibit A is seen in the crowd which is here this stormy night. We have come here to get lights for our houses at half the present rates, if we can. With cheaper power Rockland would be a city of 25,000 population, forsooth."

"What we need is cheap power," said David Talbot. "If we have it we can help our city. If a man is knocking at our door and wants to come in it's foolish not to hear what he has to say."

"Mr. Shaw, what can you say our city on street lights?" asked John L. Donohue.

"Twenty-five per cent," was the answer.

Oliver Otis was on record in favor of municipal ownership. While it might not be advisable to buy a plant, it would be well for the city to take charge of the distribution, or a Rockland company might be formed.

Mr. Shaw said that if the charter rights were granted he would gladly give an opinion.

"Let 'em in with both feet," urged E. J. Clifton.

The suggestion that Mr. Shaw's plant might be sold to the rival corporation was laughed aside. "We have no desire to sell," he said.

On motion of M. A. Johnson, seconded by C. M. Walker, a rising vote was taken as to whether those present favored granting a charter to Mr. Shaw's company. But few remained seated.

On A. S. Black's motion a committee of 15 was appointed to confer with Mr. Shaw.

The vaudeville as presented yesterday is an excellent one in every sense of the word; comedy and music prevail and together go to make up a bill of exceptional merit. An entertainment by itself is presented by Miss Helen Loraine, who gives splendid selections on the cello and violin, classical and popular. She is endowed with much musical talent and there is never a tone on either of the instruments that is out of place in her perfectly rendered selections.

The other act on the bill is the much talked of Cameron & Ward. These comedians are of the very best and won their reputation in the leading vaudeville houses in New York and Boston. With their clever singing and rapid-fire talk, they won instant favor with the audiences attending yesterday's performances.

The pictures for today and tomorrow are as follows: Pache Weekly, No. 50; "The Battle of Wits," a story of the Kentucky Hills; "The Sargeant," a western drama; "The Great-est Addition to the U. S. Navy," and "The Winking Parrot," an excellent comedy. Next Monday and Tuesday the two-reel feature, "At Napoleon's Command."

Mrs. Wallace R. Tarbox of Fryeburg, department president of the Ladies of the G. A. R., has been very ill for the past three weeks with what at one time seemed pneumonia. Mrs. Tarbox was called to Massachusetts to see a sick brother and contracted the severe cold and was obliged to return. Her brother died last Wednesday. Much sympathy is expressed for Mrs. Tarbox and her friends all over the State hope for her speedy recovery.

AGED WOMAN PERISHES

Mrs. Henry Simmons, who celebrated her 100th birthday Feb. 10, was burned to death at her home on Beechwood street, Thomaston, Thursday, while she alone. A young girl who lives there had been sent across the street on an errand. Returning she found Mrs. Simmons lying against a sofa horribly burned. It is thought that her dress caught fire while she was putting wood in the stove. Dr. Walker relieved her sufferings as far as possible, but she died at 7 p. m., six hours after the accident.

ALAS! POOR KEAGS

The Keag is in deep mourning over the sad defeat sustained by its crack polo team, which was vanquished by the Ash Pointers last Saturday, 7 to 1. Down on the banks of the Wassaw, Keag has been now so much gloom that the street lamps have to be lighted in the daytime. Even Al Sleeper has ceased to smile. "Here are the affecting details:

Keag—Carl Bogerson Jr., Al Sleeper Jr., Harvey Crowley Jr., Hollis Nason III, Jim McKay Jr.

Keeping Nat Hanna Busy

Job Cunningham of Vinalhaven Pours Vials of Sarcasm on the Sage of New Harbor.

Vinalhaven, Feb. 24.

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—
Allow me to reply to ex-Warden Hanna. What is the trouble, Cousin Nat? You seem all mixed up, and your mental steering gear out of order. First you start on horses then you go to autos, then you switch onto fur coats, ladies' hats and brush camps.

Now, dear cousin, I did not say that every fisherman on the coast of Maine had a boat that cost $1000 nor that they used them for pleasure. Any man in the lobster business who owns a boat costing $1000 has that boat to earn a living in. If a farmer owns an auto he has that for pleasure, and I don't presume that a horse costing $500 is used for working purposes, so that horse would be called a luxury. Now in regard to the $100 fur coat or a ladies' $8 hat; the lobster business would not support either.

Now, cousin Nat, I can see that you do not belong to the Bull Moose party; you are not progressive enough.

You said when you went lobstering your boat cost $12. She must have been a nice one. I can imagine she was all painted up with coal tar.

Now, dear cousin, I will invite you to go out some day when the wind is blowing, and when you are seven or eight miles to the leeward, and see if you think the boats are any better than the business calls for.

You certainly rate poor people's cares to heart. You said that the farmers want to eat our lobsters and that the State has protected our industry at the enormous sum of $200,000. You did not tell me the State expended to protect the farmers; yet the farm products are steadily increasing in price. When you were catching lobsters in your $12 boat you could buy butter for 22 cents per pound, potatoes at 30 cents per bushel, eggs for 15 cents per dozen, beefsteak at 15 cents per pound and all necessities at the same ratio. Now do the farmers when they have chickens that are fit for broilers sell them to the fisherman, or do they ship them where they get the best returns? I will tell you. They market them to their best advantage and no one blames them. What do they do with their best apples? Do they favor the poor people? I guess not. We get the wind-falls at pretty stiff prices. Where does all the surplus butter go to? Into the cold storage, so that they can get a good price for that, and eggs likewise.

Now, dear cousin Nat, you seem to take the State's interest at heart too much. Don't worry about it, the State will have money to do business with when you and I won't have a penny, and won't need it either. You say when you went lobstering in your $12 boat there were 400 men in the business and now there are 2800. What has brought this change about? Is it by selling in the State, or having an open market? (No, Nat, you are not progressive.)

I would like to ask if the farmer is using the same farming implements he did 35 years ago for planting and harvesting, or have they improved their condition? I think quite as much as the modern boat over your $12 one.

Now, dear cousin, you said, "suppose lumber was so high that people had to live in brush camps." Lumber is high. How many of the laboring people, do you think, could build a house? If they could not rent or buy a cheap, second hand house it would be a brush camp for the most of us.

You say that 20 wardens can't watch 2800 fishermen. That is all very true, but they can do a little more to earn their salary than they have been doing.

You said the buyers would be hungry to fill their pounds. I would like to ask you what would become of the out-of-state trade, which the dealers have been all these years working up? After two and a half months of idleness the dealers would find they had lost their customers.

Dear Nat, I am glad to inform you that I am not acquainted with this Kent person, but I wonder if they sent him to Wiscasset jail?

You are too sympathetic. You are trying to bear too much of the poor people's burdens. You won't fool yourself into believing it, will you? No, Nat, I don't think you will; either will any one else.

If you have any more to say "tell it to Sweeney."

Job Cunningham.

Peculiar After Effects of Grip This Year

Leaves Kidneys in Weakened Condition

Doctors in all parts of the country have been kept busy with the epidemic of grip which has visited so many homes. The symptoms of grip this year are very distressing and leave the system in a run down condition, particularly the kidneys which seem to suffer most, as every victim complains of lame back and urinary troubles which should not be neglected, as these danger signals often lead to more serious sickness, such as Bright's Disease. Local druggists report a large sale on Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root which so many people say soon heals and strengthens the kidneys after an attack of grip. Swamp-Root is a great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, and being an herbal compound, has a gentle healing effect on the kidneys, which is almost immediately noticed by those who try it. Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., offer to send a sample bottle of Swamp-Root, free by mail, to every sufferer who requests it. A trial will convince any one who may be in need of it. Regular size bottles 50c and $1.00. For sale at all druggists. Be sure to mention this paper.
