Memorial Services.

"On Fame's eternal camping-ground,
Their silent tents are spread,
And glory guards with solemn round
The bivouac of the dead."

Year after year the comrades of the dead, with music and flowers, march in solemn procession to do honor to those who have gone before, and in decorated halls the clearest gifts of oratory are devoted to memories of deeds of valor fresh in the memory of a few, but perpetuated in the public mind by this one day of each year.

The usual service preliminary to Decoration Day was held last Sunday, in the Congregational church, attended by Webster Post and Relief Corps in a body. Rev. A. C. Fulton, pastor of the church, delivered the memorial sermon in his most able manner, which touched every heart in the large audience present.

Yesterday's ceremonies were favored with perfect weather, and the entire program was carried out to the letter, without a hitch in the detail of arrangement or a shower to mar the comfort of its participants.

It was as usual a long, hard day for the veterans of Webster Post, the duties of the day commencing at 7.30 in the morning, when the post assembled and a detail of comrades proceeded to Mt. Pleasant cemetery where the graves of comrades were decorated in the usual form.

Returning to G. A. R. hall, the Post assembled and started at once for West Kennebunk and the Landing, accompanied by the Kennebunk Military band, which, by the way, came in for many compliments on their work during the entire day. At West Kennebunk the ritualistic service was held.

Proceeding to the lower village, after a short parade the veterans and band took dinner at the engine house, a liberal repast having been provided by the members of the Relief Corps.

The afternoon exercises commenced at G. A. R. hall at 2 o'clock when a line of March was formed as follows:

William Bourne, marshal; Kennebunk Military Band, Lieut. W. H. Miller Camp No. 44, S. of V. of Sanford, Webster Post No. 9, G. A. R., and the Young Ladies Flag Corps.

The line of march was taken to Mt. Hope cemetery, where the usual ordinance of decorating was carried out. At the opera house a large audience had assembled.

The exercises opened with a flag drill by the young ladies, who seemed to excel their former efforts in this pretty feature.

At the close of the drill Adjutant Littlefield read his annual report as follows:

"Within the past year we have gained four in membership, and have lost none by death in the last three years. This year we have decorated 176 graves, visiting five public cemeteries and covering a distance of about fifty miles.

"We take this opportunity of expressing our deep gratitude to the members of Jesse Webster Woman's Relief Corps for the great interest which they constantly take in the welfare of our organization. We owe our existence as an organization to the devoted, unselfish and patriotic efforts of the noble ladies comprising the Woman's Relief Corps. Our membership is small and our financial resources are too limited to meet the current expenses and several times we have been almost compelled, through the lack of funds, to surrender our charter as an organization; but in every emergency the Woman's Relief Corps has come to our assistance. Words fail to express the deep sense of gratitude felt by the members of Webster Post to the ladies of the Woman's Relief Corps for the prompt and successful assistance they have always so cheerfully rendered us."

The orator of the day was Hon. B. F. Chadbourne of Gorham, whose address was one of the most stirring ever heard here.

Card of Thanks.

Webster Post No. 9 G. A. R. desires to extend a vote of thanks to all who assisted them on Memorial Day in making the exercises worthy of the sacred occasion. Also to the ladies of the Lower Village and the Port for the bountiful dinner served. Eli Waterhouse, Commander; A. Littlefield, Adj.

Exciting Runaway.

Kennebunkport Team Caused Sensation on Main Street Saturday Evening Last.

Quite a sensation was created in Upper Main street Saturday night by the sudden bolting of a horse driven by Benj. Walker of Kennebunkport.

Mr. Walker had left his wife and three children in the carriage a moment and was just preparing to return to his seat when the horse took fright at something and started toward the fountain at a furious gate. Mr. Walker, who held the reins when the horse started, was thrown to the ground, but held pluckily to the "ribbons" and dragged along in the mad stampede several hundred feet to the Centennial Plot where the horse was caught by W. P. Allison after the carriage had been dragged over the plot curbing.

Strangely enough, the occupants of the carriage remained in their seats throughout the ordeal, and Mr. Walker escaped with no further injuries than soiled clothing and a few slight scratches.

York District Lodge

Held Its Quarterly Session With Salus Lodge, Wednesday Last. —Good Attendance Present.

The May session of the York District Lodge of the Independent Order of Good Templars, was held in Good Templar Hall, at Kennebunk, and was right royally entertained by Salus Lodge, on last Wednesday, May 24th.

The day was a perfect one and a profusion of floral decorations greeted the delegates as they entered the hall which, together with the cordial welcome by the members of Salus Lodge, added greatly to the enjoyment of the occasion. The Lodge was called to order at eleven o'clock A. M. by District Chief Templar, Miss Nellie L. Guilford of Old Orchard, with fair attendance from eight lodges.

After the opening exercises a partial report of the Credential Committee was given and the District Degree was conferred upon four candidates. Following the initiatory services, came the REPORTS OF OFFICERS.

The first to be given was the CHIEF TEMPLAR'S REPORT in which were many encouraging words concerning the condition of the lodges she had visited and the state of the Order as a whole. The report also contained several recommendations which, if put into practice, will greatly advance the Cause of Temperance and the Order. The report was well written and worthy of being printed entire.

At the close of the Chief Templar's report the Lodge closed in the District Degree and opened in the Subordinate Degree, so that members not eligible to the District Degree could be present and hear the discussions &c. Following this came the DISTRICT TREASURER'S REPORT which showed the finances in good condition, with all bills paid and a good balance in the treasury.

The District Superintendent of Juvenile Templars, Mrs. Jossie R. Pollard, of Kennebunk, gave a verbal report in which she stated there were two Templars in the district. One at Kennebunk, in connection with Salus Lodge and one at Old Orchard, in connection with Highland Lodge, but gave the credit for them to the faithful workers who organized them and have since cared for them, saying: "It is no thanks to the District Superintendent, as it was not her work." She then spoke concerning the importance of training the children. At the close of her remarks the announcement of the Public Meeting to be held in the evening, was made and a partial program read, after which the Lodge took a recess until two o'clock.

During recess the Members repaired to the Uniform Rank Hall where a sumptuous dinner was served by the members of Salus Lodge to the visiting delegates and others present. There is no need to say more. All who have eaten a dinner gotten up and served by the ladies of Kennebunk, especially those who belong to Salus Lodge, know that it must have been A ONE.

The afternoon session was called to order at 2 o'clock, P. M. All but three of the officers were present. There were also several other delegates who had arrived during recess, and the hall was well filled. Grand Counsellor, Rev. A. S. Bisbee of South Portland, and Past Grand Superintendent of Juvenile Templars, Mrs. Emily Cain, were also there and, after the opening exercises, were tendered the honors of the occasion and escorted to seats on the platform.

The report of the Credential Committee was called for at this time and the Chairman announced that there were eight candidates in waiting for the District Degree. They were duly initiated, making twelve members on whom the District Degree was conferred during the day. After initiation, the Lodge re-opened in the subordinate degree, and the REPORTS OF COMMITTEES were called for. The Committee on location reported that three invitations for the next District Lodge had been received. The place of the next meeting was left to the Executive to decide and the Lodges to be notified by the Secretary.

The Committee on Distribution reported on the several recommendations in the District Chief Templar's Report and their report was accepted.

REPORT OF LODGES, was next in order and were very encouraging indeed. The membership in the several lodges ranged from twenty to eighty-five, and without a single exception, every lodge represented reported increased interest, a healthy, growing condition and an earnest, active, harmonious, working membership.

THE GRANGE

Conducted by
J. W. BARKOW, Chatham, N. Y.,
Press Correspondent New York State Grange

SENSIBLE PATRONS.

Reference to Certain Restrictions
Not Adopted by a State Grange.

Sometimes the wisdom of a body is attested quite as much by what it refuses to do as by what it does, and some of the propositions turned down at the last meeting of the New York state grange may come in the former class. One asked for a repeal of the so called Armstrong-Higbee road law on the ground that the state law improves only the short, isolated sections of the road and that the amount of money expended seems exorbitant in comparison with the small amount of work accomplished.

Another proposition relative to the road question was not adopted. It was to the effect that, as the road commissioners elected under the present system are chosen without any reference to ability respecting the duties of the office and believing that the present method should be abolished and the public highway placed, in a measure, under state control, it was proposed to ask the grange to favor the delegation of power to the state engineer by the legislature and appoint under the civil service rules the highway commissioners in the counties and towns where they are to serve, but this resolution was not approved.

Another resolution recited the fact that the average farmer's son is not able to avail himself of a college agricultural course, and it was proposed by this resolution to ask the state legislature to provide the means of establishing a four months' agricultural course in each normal school in the state. The resolution was opposed, as it was deemed impracticable at the present time and unnecessary.

A WORTHY COMPLIMENT.

What an Editor Thinks of the Grange and Its Work.

Says H. W. Collingwood, editor of the Rural New Yorker:

"We would like to take a company of the city men who dread the future of this republic to such a meeting as was held at Ogdensburg (New York state grange). If they were able to recognize hope at all they would see it in this gathering of strong, earnest, well dressed men and women of the farm. It was one of those meetings in which one could start singing 'America' without words or notes and find 90 per cent of the audience capable of singing every line. We always come away from such meetings convinced that, while true to its fundamental principles, the grange is capable of doing better work for America's civilization than any other fraternal organization in the land. This is not because of its political or business power, though these are considerable, but because of its quiet, uplifting work in the home or in the rural community. The grange may elect governors or senators or presidents, yet we can see that a political victory of this sort might be won in such a way that it would be a moral defeat for the Order. The grange will make a vital mistake if it permits a few shrewd politicians to use it as a mouthpiece for their personal desires. Its strongest power is moral and social. Its best work is done quietly in the farm home, where every member tries to live up to the principles of the order."

The Grange and the Common School.

The granges throughout the United States should take a deeper interest in the common schools than they do in most sections, not only in relation to matters within the school building, but without—i. e., in making the grounds inviting and attractive, keeping the buildings in good condition, setting out shade trees and doing many such things as will make the school a pleasant and attractive place for children. Every subordinate grange in a rural community should have a committee to visit the school in its district and keep in touch with the work of the school. This committee should make reports occasionally to the subordinate grange in order that it may be helpful, if it can, to the school.

Insect Pests.

The state of Massachusetts is greatly stirred up by the ravages being made by the gypsy moth and brown tail moth upon its forest and fruit trees. The state grange of that state has taken action to prevent such depredations, and the New York state grange also voted to request the United States Department of agriculture to take such steps as would seem justifiable to prevent the spread of these insects in the state of New York and to ask the state legislature to enact laws to prevent this danger to the fruit and forest trees of the state.

The Woods Are Full of Them.

Granges are pretty thick in New Hampshire. One of every fifteen people in the state belongs to the grange, and two of every nineteen in the towns and villages are members. The town of Haverhill has five active subordinate granges, and one inhabitant in every eight is a Patron of Husbandry. In Litchfield one person in four is a member of the grange. In the town of Atkinson three out of every eight inhabitants are Patrons.

"Should rural schools be consolidated?" is the question in many states, and in this matter the grange should be interested.

"Do something" is a good motto for every grange.

POETS AND THUNDER.

A Description by Byron and a Comment on It by Scott.

Byron in the third canto of "Childe Harold" describes a thunderstorm in Switzerland which occurred at midnight on June 13, 1816. He notices the awful stillness which precedes it:

All heaven and earth are still, though not in sleep,
But breathless,
And!

From peak to peak, the rattling crags among,
Leaps the live thunder! Not from one lone cloud,
But every mountain now hath found a tongue,
And Jura answers, through her misty shroud,
Back to the joyous Alps, who call to her aloud!

The description is too long to quote, and, indeed, too well known, but Sir Walter Scott's criticism on it may not be so well known. He says:

"This is one of the most beautiful passages of the poem. The 'fierce and far delight' of a thunderstorm is here described in verse almost as vivid as its lightnings. The live thunder 'leaping among the rattling crags,' the voice of mountains, as if shouting to each other, the plashing of the big rain, the gleaming of the wide lake, lighted like a phosphoric sea, present a picture of sublime terror, yet of enjoyment, often attempted, but never so well, certainly never better, brought out in poetry."—Notes and Queries.

A HOT CHALLENGE.

Colonel Frank Wolford and His First Kentucky Cavalry.

In the essays by Eugene Newman on public men and events a good story is told of Frank Wolford, who commanded the First Kentucky cavalry of the Union army and who later was a representative in congress from that state.

It was said that the colonel of the First Kentucky had some novel commands that he "fired" at the boys, such as "Huddle up, there!" "Scatter out, there!" and "Form a line of fight!" It is related that when some West Point officers were sent out to investigate and report on the efficiency of certain volunteer regiments Wolford's cavalry fell under their scrutiny, and they criticized it very severely. Wolford heard them patiently and then said:

"See them two regiments over there? One is a Michigan and the other an Ohio squad. You have just passed them as all right. Now, I know nothing about your drills, your evolutions and your maneuvers. My boys know how to ride, how to shoot, how to fight and how to stand fire, and you take them two regiments over there I showed you. Station them where you please—on any ground, in town or country, in field or in forest—and I will take my regiment, and what we don't kill or cripple of them men and my boys will chase out of the state of Tennessee before the sun is in the heavens tomorrow morning."

Types of Old World Beauty.

It is said that when artists are seeking for models the palm for beauty and symmetry of figure is given to the girls of Spain, while the daughters of rural Ireland are a good second. The pretty faces and graceful throats are found among English maidens. A model for a perfect arm would be sought for among Grecian ladies, while a lady of the Turkish harem would be regarded as the possessor of a daintily commendable hand. Italians are usually good in figure and some of the most beautiful models, perfectly proportioned, are derived from the women of sunny Italy. Frenchwomen, as a rule, are not in request, being too thin and vivacious for the purpose, while the face and limbs of a German frau are too commonplace for artistic work.—London Standard.

When the Negro Was Created.

The Mexican Indians, as well as those of most of the Central American republics, have a superstition to the effect that the negro was made before either the white man or the Indian or even before the sun was created. They account for his color by declaring that he was made and dried in the dark. Their own race, they say, was made in the morning of the first day between daylight and sunup. On this account they delight in a term which they apply to each other and which signifies "dawn people." The white man, "who fears darkness and cannot stand heat," was made, according to their belief, at noon on the first day of creation.

Mme. de Remusat.

Mme. de Remusat had features so perfect that her contemporaries said she was worthy to sit as a model for a Greek goddess. The flesh of her face closely resembled alabaster, and yet she was not pale and did not give the impression of being in delicate health. Her beauty attracted universal attention to her, no matter where she went, and even in old age she retained most of her good looks.

Sarcasm.

In Boston the other day a young lawyer who spends most of his time trying to seem busy and prosperous went off for awhile, leaving on his door a card neatly marked, "Will be back in an hour." On his return he found that some envious rival had inscribed underneath "What for?"

MEDICINE FOR CAMPERS.

How to Treat Wounds and Cuts When Camping Out.

Those who camp out in the summer or take long trips through the woods will get some useful suggestions in the following article from Forest and Stream:

Did you ever notice how awkward one always is with his hands the first two or three days on a trip in the woods? Fingers seem to get in the way of every ax, knife, fire, splinter or thorn encountered, and the result is a pair of hands more or less damaged.

Adhesive plaster is good, but I have found a compound made as follows most useful and comforting: Equal parts by weight of Japan wax, mutton tallow and vaseline melted together. While warm add half as much glycerin. Fill a metal primer box with this, and at night rub it well into the hands. It is neither sticky nor unpleasant and will cure damaged hands or chapped lips very quickly. I have never tried it, but if raw linseed oil will mix readily with this compound it will be found advantageous. Rubbing it alone on the hands is a good plan; but, while it heals quickly, all surplus must be rubbed off or it will ruin any fabric with which it comes into contact and can never be removed in any ordinary way.

Tincture of grindella should never be omitted, as it is a rapid and certain cure for ivy poison and will alleviate the suffering induced by the bites of chiggers, sand flies and mosquitoes. I consider it the most valuable item in one's ditty box for summer trips.

A three ounce bottle of equal parts linseed oil and linewater is worth its weight in gold for sunburn and for ordinary burns as well. An ounce bottle of chloroform will surely drive chiggers and ticks away. Lacking this, use grain or wood alcohol. Either one must be applied locally, for these pests are not removed by ordinary means.

A tiny tin box of mercurial ointment will prevent rust in firearm barrels in which nitro powders are shot if the barrel is cleaned thoroughly before applying the ointment on a cloth patch. In places where sand flies and ticks are bad it will prove the right thing for the occasion, though not pleasant to apply to one's person.

Shellac or spar varnish will keep a cut closed if covered with a bit of muslin. A reserve supply of matches, the heads of which have been dipped in shellac and dried, should be kept handy in a vaseline bottle. These are "good" medicine when everything is wet.

How to Get Into a Hansom.

When two persons are about to get into a hansom common politeness prompts the first one to leave the seat nearest to the pavement vacant so that the second person may be able to enter easily. This is the theory of the thing, but practical experience tells one that it is easier for any one getting into a hansom when some one else is already there to take the seat farthest from the pavement than to take the one on the outside. Therefore if you are the first to get into a hansom take the seat nearest to the pavement, and your companion will easily be able to cross over you to get to the other seat.

How to Kill Dandelions.

In regard to the trouble owners of lawns and grass plots have in keeping them free from the pestiferous dandelion, a benevolent citizen who has experienced lots of this trouble writes to the Portland Oregonian to say that many people bring more of this trouble on themselves by trying to exterminate dandelions by cutting the plant off just below the ground. A great deal of this is done early in the spring by people collecting dandelion plants for "greens," they being an excellent and wholesome pot herb. This, it is said, does not kill the plant, but causes each root to throw out several shoots and thus multiplies the number of dandelions. The correspondent mentioned writes to impress his fellow sufferers that if when they cut off the dandelion plant below the ground they will drop a pinch of salt or a teaspoonful of coal oil on the root left in the ground it will effectually kill it. This may seem a troublesome job, but to one who is set on keeping his grass plot clear of dandelions it will in the end save a lot of trouble.

How to Save Starch.

After using a bowl of starch do not throw away what is left. Put the basin on one side and when the starch has dropped to the bottom pour off the water. Place the basin in the oven for five minutes. The starch will be found in hard cakes and can be put away ready for use another day.

How to Put Ropes in Windows.

To put new ropes in windows take off the strips and hold the lower sash in place. You will find a pocket in the casing about ten inches from the bottom, where the weights are concealed. Take the old ropes from the weights and sash, taking note of the method of fastening. Cut the rope to be put in three-quarters as long as the window. Take a small piece of iron that will slip through the pulleys easily and fasten it to a piece of twine. Tie the other end of the twine to the rope. Drop the small weight through the pulley until it comes down to the pocket. Pull the rope through the pulley and fasten it to the window weight and the sash in the same manner as the old one. Replace the sash and the side strips.

How to Remove Shine From Woolen. Lay the garment on a table as smoothly as possible; wring out a cloth in water as dry as you can; have a hot iron ready and put wet cloth on it; hold it close to the garment, but do not touch it. Go all over it, then brush quickly. The steam does the work. It will look like new.

YORK DISTRICT LODGE.

Dexter of Springvale and Mrs. Emily Cain, of Kennebunk, reported a gain in membership and the Grand Lodge out of debt. Members working harmoniously to advance the Temperance cause. No note of discouragement from the Grand Lodge.

Following these reports came the reports of inspectors in which the rank of the several lodges was given. The average was good, but two falling below one hundred. When the reports were all given it was found that Seaside Lodge of the Lower Village, had attained the highest rank and was awarded the Banner. This lodge had the banner last term and as it is next to the smallest lodge in the district, its members deserve to be commended in being able to retain it.

At this time as there was a delay in business, an instructive oration was given by H. S. Tvedt, after which a short recess was declared.

Lodge re-opened in the Subordinate degree, and was favored with some interesting remarks by Past Grand Superintendent of Juvenile Templars, Mrs. Emily Cain, and by a short yet ringing address by Rev. A. S. Bisbee, Grand Counselor of Maine. Following this the REPORTS OF COMMITTEES were given. The Committee on Missionary Work made a brief, but interesting report and recommended that a sum of money be appropriated for the use of the Executive in defraying traveling expenses while doing this work. The report was adopted. The COMMITTEE ON CREDENTIALS reported that there were present Representatives and alternates from eight lodges and three visitors. The report was accepted. Then came the report of the COMMITTEE ON RESOLUTIONS as follows:

York District Lodge assembled in quarterly session, enjoying the glory of the sunshine, buds and blossoms of the Springtime, rejoice that in the fields of temperance effort, as in Nature, all signs and omens are of the hopeful, inspiring nature, and point to the fruition of abundant harvests. Therefore

Resolved: That we express our hearty satisfaction at the ready results of the passage of the Sturgis bill; the liquors which have been sent back to Massachusetts; the dram shops which have been closed; the diminishing number of arrests for drunkenness in the larger centers of population in our State; the happier homes; the sunshine of joy among the children no longer deprived of parental love and care; all emphasize the importance of this step and foretell more glorious results to follow. We congratulate Governor Cobb upon the excellent character and high standing of the gentlemen appointed as Commissioners and as Good Templars shall stand ready to assist them in their work.

Resolved: That we extend to Sheriff Athorne our thanks for the degree of enforcement of the prohibitory law and the suppression of gambling attained in this county. We desire that still more shall be done in this direction, however, until these evils shall be driven from the country.

Resolved: That we welcome the Grand Counselor, Rev. A. S. Bisbee, at our session, we are glad to see his face and hear his cheering words.

Resolved: That we also extend a hearty Good Templars welcome to Sister Emily E. Cain, we remember her glorious work as Grand Superintendent of Juvenile Templars with pleasure and are always glad to have the privilege of seeing her at our sessions.

Resolved: That we extend to Salus Lodge thanks hearty and sincere for the generous measure of hospitality with which we have been greeted today. The garlands and flowers which have made the place of meeting pleasant are not more grateful to our senses than the warm words of welcome and kindly hand clasps which we have received.

SIGNED BY THE COMMITTEE. Next in order came the report of the COMMITTEE ON RECEPTION OF VISITORS which is as follows:

Kennebunk, Me., May 24th, 1905. Your Committee on fraternal reception of visitors in our Lodge rooms, would submit the following recommendations: We recommend to all Lodge Members that when visitors enter their lodge room door they should extend to them the right hand of fellowship and make them feel at home in our lodge room.

We recommend that they have a reception committee appointed to do that work, and let each member feel it their individual duty to see that all visitors are cordially welcomed, introduce them to each member present and invite them to come again.

Signed, OSCAR A. MC KENNEY, ZERA E. JONES. After the above recommendations the COMMITTEE ON JUVENILE WORK submitted the following report.

Kennebunk, Me., May 24th, 1905. Your Committee on Juvenile Work most earnestly recommend that all Subordinate Lodges support a Juvenile Temple, for the future depends largely upon our present junior societies for its temperance workers. If the older members would take an interest in the young people and help them realize the importance of this work, how much better prepared the young people would be to assume the responsibilities of their positions as members of the Good Templar Order.

Many of our lodge members look back to the time when they first took the obligation of the Juvenile Order and feel that had not been for that opportunity they would probably never have openly declared themselves on the side of temperance. If this is the case, is it not a duty we owe the children around us, to teach them the principles of temperance and of kindness one to another, which are the most important teachings of the juvenile department.

Signed, MINNIE M. HALFORD, MARY E. HOBBS, A. B. KENT.

At this time the District Counselor, Oscar A. Mc Kenney, was called to the chair by the Chief Templar and conducted the GOOD OF THE ORDER on the unique plan of "No excuses accepted or granted." There was no pre-arranged program, those taking part in the exercises being called at will by the District Chief Templar and the members. The extempore program is as follows:

Remarks by J. F. Briggs of Commonwealth Lodge, No. 4, of Massachusetts, who spoke concerning the work of the Temperance Educational Bureau and the training of the boys and girls. This was followed by remarks from C. W. Kelley of North Berwick, after which came the following:

Remarks by the District Treasurer, A. B. Kent, of Kennebunkport. Reading by Miss Nellie Shepherd. Reading by Miss Minnie Halford of Sanford.

Remarks by Past District Chief Templar, George Tarbox of Kennebunkport. Song by Harold Bowdin. Reading by Miss Frances Hutchins. Reading by Miss Fannie Adjutant. Remarks by William E. Barry on the Sturgis Bill and the failure of its enemies to show how it will "hurt business."

After this excellent program the Committee on the Evening Meeting reported and read the complete program, the meeting being announced to be held at 7.45 o'clock.

A few remarks were made by Rev. A. S. Bisbee, after which the Committee on the State of the Order reported that the Order in this District is in a live, growing condition.

Following this report came remarks by Past District Chief Templar, Don A. Wright, of Sanford, and by Deputy Right Worthy Grand Chief Templar, Frank H. Dexter, of Springvale, after which a short recess was taken.

After the Lodge re-opened, the Good of the Order was continued and the Lodge listened to some stirring remarks by Past Grand Chief Templar, Uriah A. Cain, of West Kennebunk.

The closing remarks were given by the District Chief Templar and the Lodge adjourned at 5-45 P. M.

THE PUBLIC MEETING. was held in the Vestry of the Unitarian Church and there was a good attendance. The meeting was called to order by Rev. H. L. Hanson, Pastor of the Baptist Church of Kennebunk, and a member of Salus Lodge who announced the following program as it was rendered.

Singing, "Nearer My God to Thee," by the Congregation.

Prayer by Rev. Wilber F. Holmes, pastor of the M. E. Church of Kennebunk.

Singing, "Prohibition," by the Juvenile Templars.

Address, by Frank H. Dexter of Springvale, who welcomed those present in the name of the Independent Order of Good Templars.

Solo, by Miss Lillian Oakes, the Juvenile Templar joining in the chorus. Next came a short, yet ringing address by Judge Cram of Kennebunk, who made an appeal for the welfare of the boys and girls. Judge Cram is well known as an earnest worker in the cause of temperance.

Song by the Juvenile Templars, entitled: "My Drink is Water Bright."

The Address of the evening was given by the Grand Counselor, Rev. A. S. Bisbee, of South Portland, in which he gave special attention to the legal side of the temperance question and the Sturgis Bill in particular. Among his pointed utterances were the following: "Prohibition has become the settled policy of the State. This is the best system known."

"We need both the law and the Gospel. The work of the Gospel is to keep people out of hell, but we must do something to keep hell out of the people."

"The world is looking to Maine."

"Enforcement of law does not injure any legitimate business in Portland unless it may be the business of the companies who sold ice to the rum-sellers, and the business of the police court and officers."

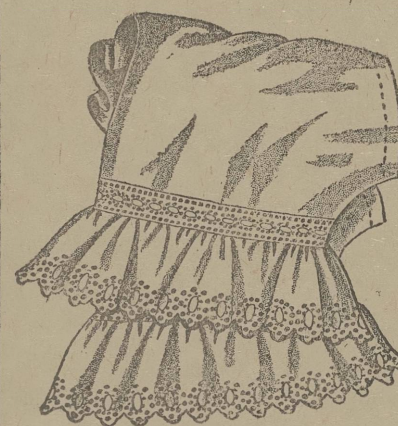

"As a rule, the men who are working for license are not over stocked with brains. Horse-thieves agree with them."

"Send a word of commendation to those in authority."

"The righteous cause is never defeated until it is deserted."

Considerable amusement was caused as he told of the discomfort of our County Attorney on the passage of the

Sturgis Bill. It seems that George Emery, our county attorney was at Augusta with other friends of the liquor traffic fighting the Bill, and as he came out of the Capitol after the Bill had been passed, he said: "A lot of us were elected on an enforcement platform and before we have had a chance to prove our ability the Legislature has appointed a guardian for every d—n one of us."

Oh! My!! Over two years in office before the Sturgis Bill was passed and "no chance to prove" his "ability!" Will somebody please tell us how long it takes a York County Official "to prove his ability?"

After the address an offering was received to aid in defraying expenses, after which all joined in singing "America," and the meeting closed with the Benediction pronounced by Rev. A. C. Fulton, pastor of the Congregational Church of Kennebunk.

The addresses were able, interesting, instructive and encouraging. The exercises of the juvenile department under the direction of their able superintendent, Mrs. W. E. Barry, were truly inspiring. As a whole all agreed that this was one of the best district lodge sessions held in a long time.

North Berwick.

The observance of Children's Day by the ladies of the Relief Corps last Wednesday was a very pleasant affair. The children were entertained in the afternoon with games and a nice lunch of ice cream was served to them. In the evening a supper was served for which the small sum of fifteen cents was charged. This was well patronized and a neat sum of money was realized by the ladies towards their Monument Fund.

Mrs. Wm. Allen, of Woodfords Me., formerly of this town, died at her home Monday May 21. The cause of her death was brain fever, which developed into acute mania. The funeral service occurred at the Baptist church of this village Wednesday afternoon. Remarks were made by her pastor, Rev. Mr. Wilson and sermon by Rev. Mr. Keene of the Oak woods church. The floral offerings were beautiful. She leaves three children, a father and mother Mr. and Mrs. John Ham of this town and a host of friends to mourn her loss.

Dr. W. H. Woodward's wife and young son were in town last Friday.

There was an exciting game of base ball played on the Sherburne grounds last Saturday afternoon between the "Americans" and Dovers which resulted in a victory for the Americans. Our boys are having great success this season.

B. A. Parker made quite a seizure Saturday night. He captured two Portland men at the Railroad Station here with four dress suit cases full of lager beer and whiskey—nearly 100 bottles. They were arraigned in court Monday and fined $800, which they paid and went on their way rejoicing.

The annual Thank Offering service at the Free Baptist church Sunday evening was very interesting and well attended. The best part of the program was the address of Miss Coombs, a returned missionary from Midnapore, India. She has spent twenty-three years of her life in that field and facts and incidents of her life there were very entertaining and instructive. Pleading selections were sung by the choir and a duet by Rev. and Mrs. J. L. Smith was much enjoyed.

The following program was rendered: Praise service; Responsive reading, No. 7 and 12; Prayer, by pastor, Rev. J. L. Smith; Singing, by choir; Reading, The call for the 15th annual Thank Offering Service; Recitation, Edythe Gupta; Singing, audience; Reading, by Mrs. Hurd; Remarks by pastor; Address, Miss Lavina C. Coombs; Duet, Rev. and Mrs. Smith; Collection; Singing, Miss Coombs; Counting of shekels, Benediction by pastor.

Opening Dance.

The opening dance at Cape Porpoise Monday evening was one of the most successful ever held at that popular resort, a big crowd being present from all quarters. Over 400 tickets were sold and never was an occasion of this kind more thoroughly enjoyed. The Ladies Arion Mandolin Club of Sanford, who furnished music for the occasion, received many compliments on the excellence of their work. This organization has made quite an enviable reputation at home for their dance music, which was well sustained at the Casino Monday evening. The floor management was directed by John Moran, the veteran dance master of Sanford, and everything went through in perfect harmony. If this event was a forerunner for the season the summer of 1905 will see more evening visitors at the Cape than ever before.
