New Century Community Program Bond Funded Activities

MAINE HISTORICAL SOCIETY

March 16, 2011

All bond monies received by the Maine Historical Society have been used to support the digital information infrastructure of the Maine Memory Network, now serving 210 collaborating organizations and 300,000 unique visitors per year. This includes programming costs, the purchase of equipment (servers and computers), and other web design and development consultants. The Historical Society received $100,000 from the 2005 bond, and $300,000 from the 2007 bond, all of which has been spent, encumbered, or forecast through 2012.

Note: The use of bond monies for the building of electronic information resources, infrastructure, and digital networks was approved in a meeting with members of the CAC and Attorney General Steve Rowe and Treasurer Dale McCormick, June 11, 2004.

Portland Trails	Portland	Humanities	$5,000
-----------------	----------	-------------------	---------

This grant funds permanent educational and interpretive signage along Portland Trails' walking path on the historic Cumberland and Oxford (County) Canal. Portland Trails is working with 3 guest scholars to create this signage for two locations in the Fore River Sanctuary overlooking important canal sites.

Proj. Dir.: Nan Cumming

07-08-INF-02 Abbe Museum - Textile Display Cases

Abbe Museum	Bar Harbor	Humanities	$1,900
-------------	------------	-------------------	---------

This grant will fund the building of two textile cases, made to conservation standards, for the Abbe Museum in Bar Harbor. The Museum has never been able to accept textiles on loan from other institutions because it hasn't had the proper display cases. That will change in 2008 with this acquisition of cases built by a local Bar Harbor carpenter.

Proj. Dir.: Raney Bench

07-08-INF-03 Educational Enhancements at the Portland Observatory Museum (1807)

Greater Portland Landmarks, Inc.	Portland	Humanities	$3,050

Proj. Dir.: Hilary Bassett

07-08-INF-04 Lighting Our Past for the Future

Franco-American Heritage Center	Lewiston	Humanities	$3,227
---------------------------------	----------	-------------------	---------

The Franco-American Heritage Center will obtain museum-quality lighting for 18 exhibit cases and two murals in their downtown Lewiston location. The cases house photographs, musical instruments, household items, crafts, maps, military memorabilia, and other examples of Franco-American culture.

Proj. Dir.: Rita Dubé

07-08-INF-05 Making Mount Desert Island History Accessible by Touch Screen Exhibit

Mount Desert Island Historical Society	Mount Desert	Humanities	$4,300
--	--------------	-------------------	---------

The historical society is creating a touch screen exhibit, funded by this grant, that will be a user-friendly entry point for exploring the history of Mount Desert Island, including its social history, labor and economics, and architecture. Touch screen buttons leading to photographic images will introduce viewers to stories being narrated by local experts.

Proj. Dir.: Charlotte Singleton

07-08-INF-06 Portland Harbor Museum 2008-2009 Educational Initiative

Portland Harbor Museum	Portland	Humanities	$10,000
------------------------	----------	-------------------	----------

This grant funds technical needs for developing 3 web-based curricula for Maine schools. Each relates to the impact of world events on ordinary life around Casco Bay, with topics such as commerce in the age of clipper ships, South Portland's Ferry Village neighborhood in World War II, and Casco Bay in the colonial era. All curricula will align with the Maine Learning Results.

Proj. Dir.: Mark R. Thompson

07-08-INF-08 Fisheries: A New Exhibit at Penobscot Marine Museum

Penobscot Marine Museum	Searsport	Humanities	$8,500
-------------------------	-----------	-------------------	---------

This comprehensive permanent exhibit will combine gear, photographs, models of boats, and educational films to inform visitors about the four major types of Maine fisheries (catching shell, ground, sea run, and schooling fish). Visitors will view fisheries from various perspectives and gain an understanding of both their past and today's questions about their future.

Proj. Dir.: Ben Fuller

07-08-INF-09 Musee on the Web

Assoc. culturelle et historique du Mont-Carmel	Lille	Humanities	$10,000
--	-------	-------------------	----------

The grant supports the development of a bilingual website to explain this museum's renovation process, showcase items from the collection, and serve as a resource for students and educators. The museum, which is dedicated to the preservation and development of Acadian and Québécois cultures, is now housed in a renovated church in the St. John Valley.

Proj. Dir.: Joseph Donald Cyr

08-09-INF-01 Martha Ballard Exhibit

Arnold Expedition Historical Society	Shapleigh	Humanities	$5,000
--------------------------------------	-----------	-------------------	---------

In conjunction with renovations to the Reuben Colburn House in Pittston, the historical society will create a permanent interpretive exhibit focused on the world of Martha Ballard, (1735-1812), Maine's famous midwife. In addition to general information about colonial life, one room of the house will be turned into a "borning" or "birthing" room of Martha's time.

Proj. Dir.: Thomas A. Desjardin

08-09-INF-02 The Stanley Museum: Virtual Exhibit--Reaching Beyond Kingfield

The Stanley Museum	Kingfield	Humanities	$5,000
--------------------	-----------	-------------------	---------

This project involves vastly improved accessibility, storage, and long-term preservation of the museum's records and artifacts, including the process of cataloging and digitizing the collections. A virtual exhibit is planned in cooperation with the Maine Memory Network, making the information available to a much wider and more diverse audience.

Proj. Dir.: Howard Randall

08-09-INF-03 Winslow Homer: Wood Engravings Access Project

Portland Museum of Art	Portland	Humanities	$8,850
------------------------	----------	-------------------	---------

The museum is digitizing its collection of 400 wood engravings by Winslow Homer and making them accessible for the first time to a broad general audience through the museum's website. In-gallery access to these images will be provided, allowing visitors to view the engravings, zoom in on the finest details, and get a more complete understanding of Homer's work.

Proj. Dir.: Dana Baldwin

08-09-INF-04 Audio/Visual Equipment for Portland Public Library Renovation

Portland Public Library	Portland	Humanities	$10,000
-------------------------	----------	-------------------	----------

This project covers purchase and installation of a large audio/visual system at the library's Monument Square location. The equipment will provide the technology needed to significantly improve the delivery of quality humanities programs, enhance audience experience through appropriate sound amplification and visual quality, and record events for wider dissemination.

Proj. Dir.: Wendy Nowell

08-09-INF-05 Beech Nut Historic District Interpretive Project

Coastal Mountains Land Trust	Camden	Humanities	$4,950
------------------------------	--------	-------------------	---------

Beech Nut is a sod-roofed stone hut on the Land Trust's 295-acre Beech Hill Preserve in Rockport. This Infrastructure project involves producing a permanent interpretive history panel for the exterior of the building and historically accurate replica table inside the building, both of which will provide information to visitors about the history and conservation of Beech Hill.

Award

08-09-INF-06 Maine Woods Interpretive Kiosk System

Mountain Counties Heritage	Farmington	Humanities	$10,000
----------------------------	------------	-------------------	----------

Representatives from nine communities in western Maine collaborated to create a traveling exhibit with local stories of regional significance. The exhibit uses digital formats delivered through a touch screen kiosk to present the local and natural history of participating communities. This grant placed touch screen kiosks permanently in Farmington and Skowhegan.

Proj. Dir.: Bruce Hazard

08-09-INF-07 Microfilm Reader/Printer Purchase

Bethel Historical Society	Bethel	Humanities	$8,000
---------------------------	--------	-------------------	---------

The purchase of a versatile microfilm reader/printer eliminated the need to manually copy the society's large microfilm collection of newspaper, census records, local vital records, and more than 20,000 pages of Maine cemetery listings. Having these records conveniently available allows the general public to do much more research work through the library.

Proj. Dir.: Stanley R. Howe

08-09-INF-08 Old York Orientation Video

Museums of Old York	York	Humanities	$8,000
---------------------	------	-------------------	---------

As part of a comprehensive plan for Old York's new visitor center, an orientation video is being produced that will include an overview of York's history and the Museum's creation, providing a permanent introduction to and historical context for the historic museum buildings.

Proj. Dir.: Scott Stevens

08-09-INF-09 Rebuilding the Swan's Island Educational Society's history collection, preservation and presentation

Swan's Island Educational Society	Swan's Island	Humanities	$10,000
-----------------------------------	---------------	-------------------	----------

Swan's Island's small library and historical museum complex was destroyed in a July 2008 fire. To fulfill their dual mission of providing library and museum services, the Educational Society purchased equipment with the technology to create and preserve an extensive digital and virtual museum and exhibit presence while settling into a moderately small physical space.

Proj. Dir.: Candis Joyce

08-09-INF-10 Village Voices Exhibition at the Counting House Museum

Old Berwick Historical Society	South Berwick	Humanities	$10,000
--------------------------------	---------------	-------------------	----------

This new, permanent display doubles the exhibit capacity of the Counting House Museum in South Berwick by providing six custom display/storage cases for the second-floor hall. As an outcome of this exhibit, visitors will be able to better understand the influences which transformed southwestern Maine from a rural economy to an industrial community.

Proj. Dir.: Nina Maurer

09-10-INF-01 Erskine Academy Archives Display Initiative

Erskine Academy	South China	Humanities	$4,000
-----------------	-------------	-------------------	---------

Infrastructure grant money will help furnish the alumni meeting and activity area as well as space for displaying the academy's archives. Once finished, this area will house permanent archives being donated by Board President Barry Thomas, the school's unofficial archivist who has collected books, memorabilia, and photographs for the last 50 years.

Proj. Dir.: Nina Tilander

09-10-INF-02 Northern Maine Community College Library Exhibit Display Cases

Northern Maine Community College	Presque Isle	Humanities	$3,500.5
----------------------------------	--------------	-------------------	-----------

The E. Perrin Edmunds Library at NMCC will use this funding to build permanent exhibit display cases to provide visitors with engaging displays of material from their archives as well as items loaned from other organizations. The cases also will allow the library to display the works of local artists and build exhibits on various themes coordinated with monthly local events.

09-10-INF-06 Interpreting the Past to Sustain the Future

Rufus Porter Museum, Inc.	Bridgton	Humanities	$2,276
---------------------------	----------	-------------------	---------

This grant will allow the museum to improve their website and install a public address system. The website will be interactive to allow visitors not only to learn about the life of Rufus Porter but also to find information about the region's history, restoration of wall murals, and decorative arts. The new public address system will improve the quality of museum presentations.

09-10-INF-07 LED and CFL Lighting Project

Wm. A.Farnsworth Library and Art Museum	Rockland	Humanities	$10,000
---	----------	-------------------	----------

Existing lighting in museum galleries and public spaces will be replaced with energy efficient LED and CFL lamps to better light exhibitions and displays, promote a healthier environment by reducing the energy footprint, provide budget relief for financial sustainability, and perhaps serve as an example of leadership for Rockland and other Maine communities.

Proj. Dir.: Jeffrey Charland

09-10-INF-08 Skolfield-Whittier House Tour Improvement Project

Pejepscot Historical Society	Brunswick	Humanities	$10,000
------------------------------	-----------	-------------------	----------

The Skolfield-Whittier House is a unique time capsule of local history between 1862 and 1925. The lighting fixtures, which date back to 1891, produce low light levels which hinder tours. This project would involve rewiring the original lighting fixtures to handle higher wattage light bulbs, thus increasing light and improving the experience of visitors touring the house.

Proj. Dir.: Brian C. Collins

09-10-INF-09 A Virtual Tour of the Brick House Historic District

Frances Perkins Center	Newcastle	Humanities	$6,723
------------------------	-----------	-------------------	---------

The center will create a web-based series of slide shows, audio clips, and videos, each connected to a specific aspect or location in the Perkins homestead or surrounding landscape. The virtual tour will include a "clickable" aspect that allows visitors to experience images and sounds connected with specific parts of the house which dates back to the 1700s.

09-10-INF-10 Wikawame: The Wigwam Project

Hudson Museum, Univ. of Maine	Orono	Humanities	$3,000
-------------------------------	-------	-------------------	---------

This project will create a birchbark wigwam which will become the centerpiece of the Hudson Museum's Maine Indian Gallery. Barry Dana, a Penobscot Master Artist, will help create the wigwam expected to be a long-term focal point providing humanities based infrastructure in the gallery for education programs with elementary and secondary school students.

Proj. Dir.: Gretchen Faulkner

09-10-INF-11 Rangeley Outdoor Sporting Heritage Museum Interpretive Program

Rangeley Lakes Region Historical Society	Rangeley	Humanities	$5,148
--	----------	-------------------	---------

The historical society will acquire and use interpretive computer equipment and creative content to enhance the museum experience for visitors. This will allow the presentation of never-before-seen films and photos of historically important personalities and events in the region.

Proj. Dir.: Don Palmer

10-11-INF-01 Camden Conference Curriculum Enrichment Project

Camden Conference (on foreign affairs)	Camden	Humanities	$9,640.23
--	--------	-------------------	------------

This project is designed to provide online study guides for teacher/student use in high school social studies courses. The study guides will preserve video content from each year's Camden Conference, exploring topics of major foreign affairs interest for the United States. The study guides will organize conference content and be available each year online for free.

Proj. Dir.: John Bird

10-11-INF-02 Little Chebeague Island Interpretation, Signage, Website and Curriculum Development

Maine Island Trail Association	Portland	Humanities	$5,750
--------------------------------	----------	-------------------	---------

The Association will research and develop interpretive infrastructure for Little Chebeague Island that showcases the island's unique cultural, historical, and environmental features. The project will include 30 on-island signs, 2 informational kiosks, and website content and curriculum materials to preserve the island's stories in a way that engages visitors of all ages.

Proj. Dir.: Brian Marcaurelle

10-11-INF-03 The Moving Panorama of Pilgrim's Progress

Dyer Library/Saco Musuem	Saco	Humanities	$10,000
--------------------------	------	-------------------	----------

This grant will complete a project to conserve the historic "moving panorama" originally created in 1851 and make it accessible permanently to audiences once again. A full-sized replica of the fragile original will be created, using high-resolution photography, along with a mechanism that will allow the replica to be unfurled in motion for audiences as originally intended.

Proj. Dir.: Jessica Skwire Routhier

10-11-INF-04 "Seabag: Visible Storage Exhibit" at Penobscot Marine Museum

Penobscot Marine Museum	Searsport	Humanities	$4,105
-------------------------	-----------	-------------------	---------

This new, permanent exhibition space will enable the museum to make much more of their collection items available to the public. The Visible Storage Center will display large, thematic groupings of art and artifacts to visitors. Another element will be a study center, including a computer terminal where visitors can explore a searchable database of collections.

Proj. Dir.: Ben Fuller

10-11-INF-05 Searchable Digitized Collections for Maine Humanities Education

Osher Map Library Associates	Portland	Humanities	$7,500
------------------------------	----------	-------------------	---------

This second phase of an innovative technology pilot project by Osher Map Library will digitize its rare map and book collections, allowing free public access through its website. By adding optical character recognition to digitized books, the project will allow full-text searches of early books, regardless of the language and typeface.

10-11-INF-06 They came, they served. Elles sont venues, elles ont servi.

Franco-American Heritage Center	Lewiston	Humanities	$10,000
---------------------------------	----------	-------------------	----------

A permanent, interactive exhibit will use bilingual videotaped interviews, oral histories, photographs, and other memorabilia to explain the enduring legacy of the Sisters of Charity to Lewiston-Auburn's 19th and 20th century religious, community, health, and cultural life. Recorded interviews will create a lasting testament for Heritage Center visitors.

Proj. Dir.: Rita Dubé

10-11-INF-07 Upgrading Digital Projectors

Maine Film Center c/o Railroad Sq. Cinema	Waterville	Humanities	$8,500
---	------------	-------------------	---------

This grant will allow the purchase of two new digital projectors to enhance the visual experience for filmmakers and their audience. The new projectors will enable the Center to screen the many and varied digital film formats used in current filmmaking around the world and to partner with area colleges, schools, and other organizations as an educational resource.

MAINE STATE ARCHIVES

March 16, 2011

See the following spreadsheet for 2005 bond fund awards.

From the 2007 bond, the Archives provided the seed money to construct an e-portal, Maine InfoNet as the fiscal agent, to bring Encoded Archival Description into common use to the major repositories in Maine, including the University of Maine, Bates, Bowdoin, Colby, Northeast Historic Film, University of New England, and the State Archives as the primary participants. The Maine State Library, Maine Historical Society, University of Southern Maine and Margaret Chase Smith Library will also be affiliated as the project develops. The idea is to have a common source and common language for the public and researchers to access holdings from diverse institutions.

The Archives is also providing software acquisition and training assistance to 34 historical societies and other repositories to bring them into 21st Century technology and allow them to likewise share a common tool as a precursor to them similarly making their holdings available on-line.

Phase Two, which is pending, will likely involve bridge funding to move from a common portal design into full implementation, and a reach out to the smaller repositories so that they can avail themselves to the system.
