— Waiting for voters' choices —

BUCKSPORT AREA — Amid the national frenzy over who will be the nation's president for the next four years, area voters took a calmer, more restrained demeanor.

While they, too, voted in record numbers, the lines progressed smoothly at each of the polling places in this area. Civility was everywhere as voters patiently made their way through the lines.

Though it has become customary to stay up late, until all of the results are in, some went reluctantly to bed their usual time or gave up so they could be at work and be able to function.

With ranked-choice voting, early and absentee voting, a new set of challenges has made it more confusing and frustrating to those of us who like to see the end of the election on time and a clear outcome.

The recent riots and continued decisiveness have put a dark cloud over what should be a proud moment in our country. We should be setting an example to the world. We don't need to mimic third world behavior.

News Analysis

With only less than half a dozen states left to decide the winner for the highest office in this great country, we all can still keep one eye on the voting and get on with our lives.

The future is what is important, to make changes to the things we find that didn't work out well this time. Maybe to reflect on what went right would be even a better way to get through this together. We need to work together, to stop the hatred that people are harboring about things they don't even understand.

Let's educate ourselves so we don't lose this country entirely.

Winter of discontent?

A thin layer of snow brings a brief sense of peace as a sharply divided nation goes about the task of voting on Tuesday. Here, historic Wilson Hall continues to undergo the restoration to its former glory at its site just up the hill from one of the town's many venerable cemeteries.

IN THE WORKS . . .

A weekly compilation of tidbits gleaned from the news

PARK HERE! — The transition of the former Nason residential property behind the Main Street buildings - a project in gestation through four town managers - finally got started this week.

The property was purchased and the home on it razed during the administration of former Town Manager Roger R. Raymond, and he's been retired from that post for years. Photo on Page 3.

DIGGING IN — Now that the voters have given their blessing this week, two massive culvert replacement projects will move ahead in the spring. The voters overwhelmingly backed the project, and they also backed a $50,000 increase to $300,000, the amount the council can spend on a project without additional voter approval.

The culverts were backed by a wider margin, but the increase in the single project spending limit still was decisive, and reflects the growing cost of many municipal projects and purchases.

PUMP PROJECT — The long-awaited improvements to the fuel pumps at the municipal marina are underway, and will be ready for boaters when the marina reopens in the spring.

WINTER'S COMING — The sure signs of impending winter are upon us: the town's docks have been lifted and the municipal rest rooms were closed for the season last week.

EYE ON THE BALL The coaches of the Golden Bucks football team are finding themselves very frustrated this year.

As noted by one very seasoned coach, this year's team is an especially good one, the kind that only comes along at the high school every couple of decades or so. He went on to say this year's team is doing the best it can, even though it is limited to seven-on-seven team play this season.

The number of people at each game is severely limited by the Covid-19 health precautions, but the coach said that has not lessened the team's enthusiasm to play as a team. And that has kept this year's team a great one to coach - and to watch.

FINDING CASH — To replace the damaged floats at the municipal marina is going to require dipping into the marina's reserves built up since 2014.

Animal officer charged

Officials mum about details of alleged thefts

BUCKSPORT — Local police have charged one of its emergency dispatchers who also serves as the animal control officer with multiple thefts—each a Class B felony.

It's known that Daniel Joy, 55, of Bucksport suddenly resigned on Monday, Oct. 26, knowing that he was under investigation for what was described as a series of thefts.

Joy is scheduled to be in court in January, but police, town and district attorney's office personnel are offering few details on what prompted the charges to be placed last Friday (10/30).

Joy reportedly was scheduled to meet with Town Manager Susan M. Lessard and, perhaps, others to discuss the investigation. However, Joy - an employee of the Police Department since resigned before that session could be held.

Upon his resignation, Joy was given a check in full payment for his most recent service to the department. As a result of the resignation, Joy reportedly forfeited all pension and health insurance benefits.

In the meantime, the local police department has begun advertising for a new emergency police and fire call dispatcher, and Joy's animal control officer duties have been transferred to the assistant animal control officer, Allyson Corriveau-Moore.

David Winchester, the assistant police chief, said he has been advised to refer all inquiries to the district attorney's office in Ellsworth or to Susan M. Lessard, Bucksport's town manager.

In Bucksport Not much to report

BUCKSPORT – Tuesday's municipal election here was a long, persistent yawn followed by a slumber, finally giving way to a deep sleep. All four candidates for Town Council and RSU 25 School Board seats ran unopposed.

Mayor Peter Stewart and incumbent Town Councilor Mark Eastman went through the campaign motions but quickly found nothing to talk about after former Mayor David Keene entered and, almost as quickly, withdrew a few days later.

Keene decided he didn't want to run if Stewart wanted another term.

For the record, Stewart drew 1,958 votes while Eastman outpolled him with 2,088.

In the School Board race, Thomas Foster, the chair of the panel, and his sister-in-law, Abigail Foster, easily won the two open Bucksport seats on the eight-member, four-town committee. Thomas Foster got 1,937 votes and Abigail Foster 2,015.

Local voters also backed the spending to repair or replace downtown retaining walls that have been reported to be failing for some years. The vote was 1,863 in favor and 861 against.

They more narrowly agreed the Town Council can spend up to $300,000 on a single project without asking for voter approval on a referendum ballot. The extra $50,000 was added on a referendum vote of 1,460 to 1,216.

Enough already!

The world awoke yesterday (11/4) to find the mightiest, supposedly technologically advanced nation on the planet has no duly elected president.

What has been a years-long political circus inevitably slipped to its dreaded but long-predicted conclusion. Both of the major political parties now have cleared the confusing center rings of our nation to send in competing corps of lawyers, as if they can bring order out of the chaos.

EDITORIAL

Now, however, it's very clear that months of nattering, chattering heads have yet again found themselves falling on their collective spears. Forget journalism. Forget the pursuit of the truth. Muddy things up with more runaway partisanship. And, oh yes, be sucked down the ever-swirling drain of millions of dollars of polling that seems to have taught nobody anything, even after the recent presidential debacles.

The mass media was wrong on a grand scale once again. The polls the media relied on were so pocked with holes they could do nothing but sink.

Forget about the hordes massing in the portions of the country not regularly reported upon by the big, know-it-all media because those opinions did not jibe with the ones so regularly traded among those traveling the New York-to-Washington, D.C. corridor. Forget those people, too, for those in the depths of Silicon Valley do not value those folks. In the cyber world, manipulating public opinion via social media now has become a way of life. In silicon land, so many of those Midwest or rural opiniuons are just that: opinions. They certainly are not viewed as facts for in the phony world there are no facts, just opinions to be tamed or twisted.

The nation will survive a few days or weeks more of this nonsense, but we persist at our peril.

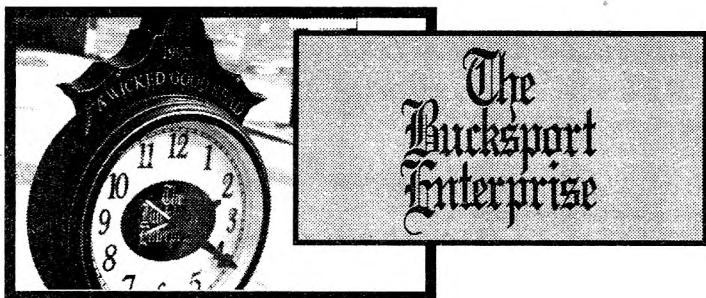

It's now absolutely crucial that we learn who our president is going to be come January. Just as important, we deserve to know up-front and transparently - how and where that person was elected.

The stain inflicted on our democracy by those who practice manipulation rather than sharing the truth will not be easily or quickly erased.

The electorate did not fail us. Indeed, the voters turned out in record numbers and at considerable sacrifice of their time. No, it is the media that has failed us - again.

As someone who has taken great pride in being a defender of the public's right to know, it's painful to daily watch those who call themselves "journalists" stray so far from the basic vision. These are people who prefer to interview one another hob-nob with those they deem to think are so important or so powerful and trade awards at rubber chicken banquets with the enthusiasm of film stars.

Personally, I prefer the company of ink-stained wretches, for they tend to be far more savvy and colorful than any self-proclaimed "journalist."

LETTER . . . TO THE EDITOR

Of slavery and greed

To the editor,

A thank you to all of the children who participated in the Halloween festivities this year. I am always amazed at their polite and respectful manners. Usually about 100 to 200 children knock on my door; and they all take one piece of candy. I have to ask them, sometimes more than once, to take another piece. I thank their parents for the teaching of good values, values that will enable their children to make good choices thru life.

Basic rights are continually being denied to blacks year after year. I read that opinion last week, so let's take a look. Home ownership by non-whites in NYC is equal to or greater than that of whites. Go to Philly airport, or La Guardia or to the Motor Vehicle Dept. It's hard to find what is a racially biased term, a white person. We celebrate Black history and Hispanic history month, as well as Indigenous People's Day, but condemn Columbus to save our souls. According to archeologists, American Natives immigrated to this land from Siberia, the Caucasus, Northern Asia and southern France. Natives did have wars between Tribes and did take slaves. In 2016, profits from their Casinos reached $31 billion. A Tribe issues $90,000 a month to its people, another $30,000. Yet 58% of Tribes receive no shares. Sound familiar.

In 1492, Columbus, a sea captain, hired by Spain is today blamed for instituting slavery in America, even though he never set foot in North America. Spain and Portugal in 1441 were competing to be the leaders in the slave trade, and we celebrate a month for them; raiding as well as buying slaves from the African coast. Yes, Black African countries were also involved in the slave market. Most Native Americans were used as slaves, killed or exported to Spain. When more slaves were needed, Spain began raiding the coast of Africa. Early on, Muslim Spain would buy Christians from the middle east to be used as slaves, 30,00 in one clip from what I have read. Jews and Muslims took Christian slaves at one point. Rome fed Christians to their lion's for sport. Nazi's killed Jews, Christians and Atheists. At least they weren't biased. Columbian drug lords, how many lives, black, white, green or yellow have been destroyed by their greed. In Cambodia, during the 1970's, the communist Khmer Rouge party killed over 2 million of its people in a quest for power.

Yet America is continually being portrayed today, by some, as denying basic human rights. How many millionaire sports figures and aren't they disproportionately of one color. There are 7 Indo- American billionaires in 2020. We have places of worship for all, and sometime on the same block, and sometimes sharing the same place of worship so as to help establish the other; as the Jews did for a Muslim sect in Hollis, NY. This group of Muslims, are interesting. They believe that they have found the Tomb of Christ, and they guard it from any desecration. I met with them once and maybe I will someday write about them.

I read a message Sunday, in a local Pastor's bulletin. It stated, "Division and strife are not marks of sanctity, unity and peace are". We are all part of humanity, but personal choice sets us apart. Thank goodness for children, at least their masks are not permanent.

Joseph Davanzo

Help needed to spread Christmas joy

Volunteers ask public's support amid Covid-19

BUCKSPORT AREA – A lot of people are coping with the impact - and the fears - generated by the Covid-19 pandemic, but some local folks don't want that to dampen the holidays of the youngest among us.

As a result, this Christmas these people have launched the Christmas is for Kids 2020

Campaign.

The program serves Bucksport, Verona Island and Orland children whose parents or guardians qualify for assistance at Bucksport Community Concerns.

The local, all-volunteer group works year-round to help neighbors under financial stress, but at Christmas there are some special ways to brighten a child's holiday season...

Those who want to buy a gift for a child or support this year's campaign, can:

- Purchase a gift from

Amazon selected to fulfill a child's wish by visiting <https://tinyurl.com/y5c739hj> or by scanning the Q code.

• Starting very soon, go to the Bucksport Seaboard Federal Credit Union and see area children's wishes in the lobby hanging on the credit union's traditional Christmas tree.

Instructions are at the credit union on how the system works.(and donors can drop off a pair of new socks for the needy of all ages.)

• Mail a tax-deductible donations to: Bucksport Community Concerns - Attn: Christmas is for Kids, Post Office Box 603, Bucksport, ME 04416

• Drop off a donation at the Bangor Savings Bank to go directly into the Bucksport Community Concerns' bank account. Because the group is staffed entirely by volunteers virtually every penny goes toward its varied efforts to help residents of this area.

• Locations in all three area towns have Christmas is for Kids donation jars should you want to donate your spare change.

These include Tozier's Variety store, Huckleberries gift shop, the Talk 'n Shop thrift store, BookStacks and Irving — all located on Main Street here in Bucksport; and Fort View Variety on Verona Island, and Tradewinds in Orland.

Maine distributing Covid testing gear

AUGUSTA— The Maine Department of Health and Human Services has a strategy to distribute an allocation of rapid COVID-19 antigen tests to ensure access for all Maine residents, especially those at greater risk of exposure to the virus.

The federal government is distributing the Abbott BinaxNOW COVID-19 point-of-care antigen tests to all 50 states and the District of Columbia. DHHS expects Maine to receive approximately 400,000 BinaxNOW tests periodically through December and has begun receiving shipments. The tests can detect coronavirus infection from a nasal swab sample in approximately fifteen minutes.

Maine has already built a robust and successful testing strategy that helps us lead the nation in the fight against the COVID-19 pandemic," said DHHS Commissioner Jeanne Lambrew. "The addition of the BinaxNOW rapid antigen tests will provide a new layer of protection for Maine people as we remain vigilant against this virus."

DHHS is partnering with Walgreens to distribute the bulk of the tests, approximately 300,000, to 65 pharmacy locations from Kittery to Madawaska. This testing will be available to the public as a drive-through service in November.

"Walgreens is honored to be recognized by the state of Maine to further increase access to COVID-19 testing and in the coming weeks we look forward to serving as a BinaxNOW COVID-19 testing location in select Maine pharmacies," said Rick Gates, senior vice president of pharmacy, Walgreens.

"Pharmacists' role as part of the health care system and patients' care teams has never been more critical or clear. Walgreens has a long history of stepping up to support our customers and communities in times of need, and we're pleased to be working in collaboration with Maine health officials on this effort."

After a request for quotes process, DHHS issued a preliminary award to Walgreens and is now finalizing an agreement.

The remaining 100,000 BinaxNOW tests will be distributed through a process that prioritizes access for Maine people who are symptomatic or at elevated risk of exposure to and illness from COVID-19, such as critical infrastructure staff including health care workers, law enforcement and public safety personnel, first responders, and school staff. Qualified organizations that follow DHHS guidance for use of the BinaxNOW tests may now apply for an allocation. Since demand may exceed the available supply, DHHS will prioritize facilities that will use them for high-risk populations, in high-risk settings, or where access to COVID-19 testing is otherwise limited.

sities overseas. He studied Russian history and literature at Harvard and political science at Yale. He has lived and worked in Russia, Tanzania, Ecuador and Vietnam and consulted in China, Mongolia and Bolivia. He and his wife Charlotte live in Hall Quarry.

Benson has been engaged in national and international government affairs activities in the White House, the Pentagon and with the Weyerhaeuser Co. He also served in the United States Army with responsibilities including senior positions in the offices of the Secretary of Defense and the Secretary of the Army, as well as Korea, Vietnam and Alaska. He retired as a full colonel, having served two combat tours during which he was awarded two Distinguished Flying Crosses and the Bronze star Medal for Valor.

He was elected as a White House Fellow and served as a member of the President's Commission on White House Fellowships under Presidents George H.W. Bush and Bill Clinton. He, too, resides on Mount Desert Island.

Shelter has new manager

BUCKSPORT — The municipal animal shelter

She has been the assistant manager there for some time, and will serve until a new permanent manager is appointed.

In the meantime, the shelter has some cats, each ready for adoption.

Compiled from official reports and interviews with police and fire personnel.

– Alleged theft

The investigation into Joy's conduct was launched relatively recently. The probe quickly came to a head after department officials allegedly discovered some irregularities within the emergency dispatch division.

Lessard, the town manager, said she called the meeting with Joy, based solely on information about Joy's conduct while on the job.

Lessard said she considered it important to act quickly because the integrity of all town employees while carrying out their public responsibilities must be open to total public scrutiny.

Joy initially joined the local agency as a police officer. He later transitioned to the dispatch desk at the Public Safety Building. He also became the animal control officer, and served in that capacity for several area communities.

Joy long has been known for his compassion in dealing with animals, and prided the shelter for its efforts to aid as many animals as possible, rather than euthanize them.

He also built a corps of dedicated volunteers to assist him with the seven-day-a-week, 365-days-a-year shelter operation. Prior to that, Joy often visited the shelter daily to assure that all of the animals were properly housed, cleaned and fed.

The shelter off Central Street has undergone a major refurbishment over the past couple of years. The heat and water systems were also improved.

Rosen keeps Senate seat, outpolling Uhlenhake

BUCKSPORT AREA – In a much-watched and heavily financed campaign, Kimberley Rosen of Bucksport easily held on to her seat in the state Senate, a major win for the minority Republicans.

She was challenged by Bev Uhlenhake of Brewer for the second time in two years, but the Democrat again came up short.

The District 8 Senate seat has long been targeted by the Democrats, both state-wide and from outside Maine. However, the victory now means Rosen will be term-limited from the Senate when her new term expires.

Downes and Hutchins gain major victories

BUCKSPORT AREA – The area's two Republicans seeking seats in the state House of Representatives rolled to impressive victories on Tuesday.

Kathy L. Downes, the Bucksport town councilor and former town clerk here for over 26 years, was making her first run for the State House while her opponent, Democrat Nicolas Delli Paoli was making his first run for elective office in Maine. Downes ended up with 64 percent of the vote in the two-town (Bucksport and Orrington) district.

Sherman Hutchins of Penobscot was returned to the Legislature, also by a good margin. He turned back a challenge from Democrat Veronica Magnan, from Stockton Springs, who once represented the sprawling district in the House.

Downes had the endorsement of the incumbent, Richard Campbell, and both Richard Rosen and his wife, Kimberley, both of whom also had represented the district for a number of years.

Delli Paoli did a significant amount of door-to-door campaigning in both Bucksport and Orland, while Downes limited her shoe leather campaigning somewhat because of the Covid-19 pandemic.

The town councilors are going to be asked to provide a loan to the marina to underwrite the repairs. A contractor now is being recruited. A new dolphin also would be installed as part of the project.

Once the repairs are done, the marina would repay the money over a period of several years. The town has sought to make - and keep - the marina self-supporting and self-sustaining financially.

Michael Ormsby, the manager of the marina, has suggested the town ought to begin replacing the dock sessions over a ten-year period so that they all won't come due for an upgrade at the same time. Some of the sections to be replaced now are well older than 20 years, and are showing the wear-and-tear that goes along with that amount of time on the rugged coastline, Ormsby said.

FERRET FINDER –

A furry ferret was found after it fled on foot. The Dresser Road resident who found the ferret told police on Oct. 27 he would hold on to the critter until its owner showed up to claim it. At mid-week, the police were not aware of anyone stepping forward to claim the ferret.

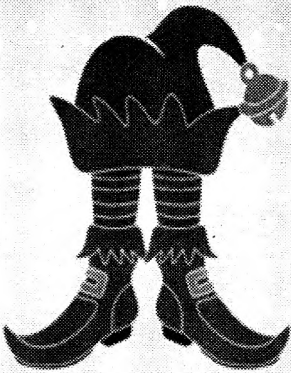

The police were unable to provide a detailed description of the ferret other than to say, "It looks like a ferret!"

A police officer last Friday (10/30) rustled up a small flock of stray chickens. The birds were strutting their stuff on the Millvale Road.

Hileman again spurs Bucks to victories

COACH CHRIS JONES

BANGOR – Forty-one years ago this past week Herb Albert was at the top of the charts, 10 was the # 1 movie and Maine Running Hall of Famer Gerry Clapper would win in an eight-day window Class B Regionals and the State cross-country meet representing Bucksport High School. That capped off what would be a Bucksport Hall of Fame cross-country career, his senior year.

Fast forward four decades to this past weekend at Saxl Park in Bangor, the day Bucksport High freshman Will Hileman would capture the combined Penobscot Valley Conference cross-country and Regional Qualifier for the Veterans Day State Meet.

Along with the Golden Bucks boys' team Hileman qualified and will compete next Wednesday, returning to Saxl Park for the 5K meet. Although not all of the teams were allowed to participate at the meet because of the state's Covid-19 restrictions, last years and this year's two top teams in Eastern Maine were competing along with the individual winner of last year's Penobscot Valley Conference C and Regional race from Orono.

Hileman who was not considered a favorite by anyone other than his coach going into the race last Saturday, was nervous before the race. Still, all of the pressure was really squarely on the defending champ. Although early in October at the Festival of Champions, McClellan had beaten Hileman by mere tenths of a second, it wasn't as close as it seemed as McClellan lead over Hileman vanished over the last half of a mile as Hileman closed on him toward the finish.

Saturday's race was distinctly different, as the two would race together this time for most of the run. The course at Saxl Park is downhill for much of the rest of the race until the last section which essentially is flat.

As the race started, a group of four runners including Houlton's top runner and Orono's # 2 racer broke away from the pack. By mile one, Hileman and Orono's McClellan separated themselves from the other two and it became a two-man race for the last two miles, including the tough uphill. In fact the last half of the course is all uphill.

McClellan would try to drop Hileman who would match every surge and at mile two Hileman made his move and McClellan could not answer it.

That allowed Hileman to surge ahead and extend his lead all the way to the finish, completing the 5K course in 16:57. That was twenty seconds ahead of his competitor, and his time would prove to be he was fastest on the course that day. That time also was one of only three to crack the 17-minute mark. The other two top runners were from Class B schools.

Not only did Hileman become the first Golden Buck boy to win the PVC and Regionals since 1979, he became just the third Buck to capture the individual regional crown in Coach Christopher Jones 33 year tenure as the cross-country coach.

The other two Regional winners were the Patten sisters, Melissa and Bethany. Hileman also is the first freshman boy since 2011 to win a PVC individual XC title.

After Hileman was senior Antony Smith running his second-to-last cross country race of his HS career. He would break the 20 minute barrier for the first time on a 5K course this year with a time of 19:20 and finish two places shy of the top ten in twelfth place.

Running together for almost the entire race was Jimbo Palkie and Gage Bruns, the Bucks third and fourth runner, respectively, would finish sixteenth and seventeenth on Saturday with times of 20:10 and 20:11. Continuing his consistent fifth place finish for the Bucks team all season was freshman Micheal Johnson. His time of 22:29 was mere seconds off his best 5K time when he placed 25th. Not too far behind him, running 22:59 was Liam Swift. It was his best 5K time of the year and he was only two places behind Johnson in 27th place.

Rounding out the top seven for the team was Rylee Whalen whose 25:49 was good enough for 36th place.

In the girls' race, the Bucks would toe three girls to the line for the first time since September. Becca Ireland continued a string of top 10 finishes and although she said she started out too fast, she was able to finish high enough to secure one of the two spots for individuals who get to move on to the state meet in two weeks.

Ella Orcutt who started in the second wave 30 seconds after the first completed the 5K course in 28:18 and in 25th place.

Running her last cross-country meet of her career was Hope Rankin, who has battled a knee issue for over a month now, unsure whether she could finish because of that knee. Still, she persevered in the 32nd position.

LOOKING AHEAD

The boys' team will compete at Saxl Park on Veterans Day at 9:30 and Becca Ireland will compete on Nov. 14 on the same site. The Penobscot Valley Conference will host one last meet this Saturday for all non-state qualifiers at Saxl Park and as of right now could include two Buck runners, Cameron Evans and Ella Orcutt.

CONFERENCE EVENT LIMITED TO ONLY THREE SCHOOLS

COACH CHRIS JONES

SEARSPORT – On Friday (10/30) the Golden Bucks made the short trip to Searsport to compete in their second tri-meet of the shortened cross-country season.

The Bucks were facing their host Searsport and George Stevens Academy (GSA). This year, the course was about two tenths shorter than it was last year. Unfortunately, it didn't remove the challenging hill in the middle of the course, one the Bucksport team had to run twice.

For the second time in three weeks, freshman Will Hileman came away with the overall victory, completing the 2.9-mile course in 17:50. He pulled away from the second place finisher with a mile to go to the finish line, 17 seconds ahead of him.

In fifth place and second for the team was Antony Smith. It was his best meet to date and the first time he was the # 2 runner for the team this year. He finished his race in a time of 20:00.

James Palkie who ran close to Smith for most of the race before fading to seventh place, was 29 seconds behind him with a time of 20:29.

Returning to a course he knows well, was the third place finisher for the team Gage Bruns, who finished in a time of 21:44, putting him just outside the top 10, in eleventh place.

Rounding out the top five was Micheal Johnson, finishing in a time of 23:04. His sprint at the end put him just four seconds ahead of the next finisher, placing Johnson in the 18th position. The final two runners were Liam Swift who had his best finish so far this year and finished in 21st in a time of 23:49.

Rylee Whalen was the 27th runner to cross the finish line on Friday in a time of 27:59.

The Golden Bucks placed second as a team, with a score of 41; it was their best finish so far this season.

In the girls' race, Becca Ireland continued her streak of good races this season with a third place finish Friday. Running in second place for most of the race she just could not hold off GSA's second place runner. Despite that, she still had a strong finish and finished in a time of 23:41.

Ella Orcutt was the Bucks other female runner, she would complete her race in 29:38, good enough for tenth place.

LOOKING AHEAD

On Saturday the Golden Bucks, will host their only meet this season with George Stevens Academy, Ellsworth, Mount Desert Island, Deer Island-Stonington and Searsport traveling to Bucksport to compete in the Hancock County meet.

The meet will be a varsity-only competition with the first race (the boys' events) starting at 11 a.m. and the girls' race starting roughly 10 minutes after the boys run.
