Last week's Omissions.

Bank of the United States.—The Directors of the U. S. Bank on the 2d inst. made a report on the state of the bank, from which it appears that the amount received on account of discounts, exchange and interest accruing during the first half of the present year is $956,566; received during the same period, on account of interest which had accrued before, $54,739; total $1,011,305.

Expenses of the bank and offices during the same period, including the semiannual appropriation of $45,000 to extinguish the bonus, and other semiannual appropriations, $280,829. The balance after deducting this amount would authorize a dividend of 2 per cent, and leave a surplus of $50,760. But the directors have made certain other appropriations for the extinguishment of the premium on the two millions six per cent loan, and for other purposes, and declare a dividend of only 1 1-2 per cent, leaving a balance to be carried to the credit of profit and loss of $5,481.

The estimates of the losses at the several offices give an aggregate of $3,547,838, which exceeds the estimate of January last by $25,362.—For the extinguishment of losses a specific fund had been created, out of the past profits, of $3,555,000.—There are 37,513 shares, transferred to the bank, on which the bank retains the dividends, amounting in the present instance to $56,269.

The cost of the banking houses at Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, Richmond, Norfolk, Fayetteville, Charleston, Savannah, N. Orleans, and Louisville, is $775,617. To cover the loss on these buildings, and such as will probably be hereafter erected or purchased, and also the bonus, and the premium on the four millions of 5 per cent loan, they have increased the semi-annual appropriation to $60,000.

Good luck for clam men.—A few days since, two men were digging clams at a beach near Patchogue, L. I. when one of them dug out of the sand near low water mark, a tarpaulin hat, with about two hundred Spanish dollars, tied tight therein.—The cash was discoloured, and is supposed to have been thrown on shore by the surf. They immediately brought their shell fish to market, which was accompanied with the enchanting air of fine clams, &c. and afterwards went snacks with the a-vails.

N. Y. Paper.

The People of Fayal have declared in favour of the Constitution—established a new Government—sent an Envoy to Lisbon—and refused further submission to the anti-constitutional authority which continues to rule at Terceira.

A new weekly paper, under the title of the "Andover Inquirer," has been recently established at Andover.

The prize of $10,000 drawn in the last Spring Lottery, has fallen to the lot of a Lawyer and Deputy Sheriff, of Berkshire. The ticket was sold by Mr. James Watrous, of Pittsfield.

The gold and silver coined at the royal mints in Mexico, in 1820, amounted to nearly ten millions and a half of dollars. Most of which has arrived in Spain—yet Spain is one of the poorest nations on earth.

Mr. Darby, in one of his historical lectures at Philadelphia, stated, that the preceding year, 1820, and the 730th year of Rome, are the two years in which, during 3000 years past, there has been the least war and bloodshed. In fact, 1820 was the most tranquil year in the history of the world.

The Legislature of New-Hampshire has levied a tax on Bank Stock, and appropriated the proceeds for the establishment of a Literary Fund.

The report that the Spanish part of St. Domingo has been taken possession of by the revolutionary forces, has been contradicted.

VIENNA, MAY 10.—"The affairs of Turkey are drawing to a close. The Ottoman army has taken the field sooner than was expected. Its vanguard advanced, on the 19th of April, from Fokschani to Braila. The Greeks immediately fell back.—The next day the Seraskier himself made a general reconnaissance at the head of a corps of 8,000 men, and the Greeks again fell back some leagues. Ypsilanti and Theodore bear such a violent hatred to each other, that it would not be surprising if they soon came to blows. One of them has about 3 or 4000 men, the other 10 or 12,000. All these troops are half-naked, and unarmed: they subsist only by pillage, which they exercise with a degree of ferocity that makes no difference between friends and enemies.

We receive the following details from Hungary:—On the 19th ult. the Turks pushed a reconnaissance towards Galatz. The vanguard of the Greeks, about 700 men, fell back on the main body. The Turks, who were 4,000 strong, not only did not advance, but retired into their fortress of Braila. On the 21st the whole Ottoman corps of 8,000 men commanded by a Pacha who is lately arrived from Constantinople, again advanced on the road to Galatz. The Greeks retreated, partly into the fortress where they have a numerous garrison, and partly on board their fleet, which is stationed near that place. The Turks have contented themselves with occupying the country three or four leagues round Braila.

As for Ypsilanti, after quitting Bucharest, on the 13th of April, where he left a garrison, it seems that he marched to the Danube, persisting in his project of making an irruption into Bulgaria, where he expects to find numerous partizans.

THE OLIO.

The Monk and the Jew.

An unbelieving Jew one day,
Was skating o'er the icy way,
Which being brittle let him in,
Just deep enough to catch his chin;
And in that woful plight he hung,
With only power to move his tongue,
A brother skater near at hand;
A Papist borne in foreign land,
With hasty strokes directly flew,
To save poor Mordecai the Jew.
'But first, quoth he, I must enjoin
'That you renounce your faith for mine,
'There's no entreaty else will do;
'Tis heresy to help a Jew.'
'Forswear mine faith, no, God forbid,
'That would be very base indeed;
'Come never mind such things as these,
'Tink, tink, how very hard to freeze;
'More cool you do, more cool you be,
'Vat signifies your faith to me;
'So tink again how cold and wet,
'And help me out von little bit.'
'By holy mass 'tis hard I own,
'To see a man both hang and drown,
'And cant relieve him from his plight,
'Because he is an Israelite,
'The church refuses all assistance,
'Beyond a certain pale and distance;
'And all the service I can lend,
'Is praying for your soul my friend.'
'Pray for mine soul ha! ha! you make me laugh,
'You better help me out by half,
'My soul I warrant will take care
'To pray for her own self my dear,
'So tink a little now for me,
'Tis I am in the hole not she.'
'The church forbid it, friend, and faith.'
'Well, if I must believe, I must,
'But help me out von little first,
'No; not an inch without Amen,
'That seals the whole.' Yet hear me den;
'I heer renounce for cool and ail,
'The race of Jews both great and small;
'Tis the worst trade beneath the sun,
'Or worst religion, dats all von;
'Dey cheat and dey deer living pile,
'Dey lie and steal, dey lie be right;
'I'll go to mass as soon as ever
'I get toder side the river—
'So help me out my christian friend,
'Dat I may do as I intend.'
'Perhaps you do intend to cheat,
'When once you get upon your feet.'
'No! no, I do intend to be
A christian, such a one as dee'
(For thought the Jew he is as much
A christian man, as I am such.)
The Bigot Papist joyful hearted,
To bear a heretic converted,
'This was a lucky fall for you,
'You'd better die a christian now,
'For if you live you'll break your vow;
'Then said no more, but in a thrice
Pop'd Mordecai beneath the ice."

"IS HE RICH?"

From the general use of this question, may be derived the influence which riches have upon the minds of the generality of mankind. The other day dame Chitterling had a gentleman apply for a daughter, but her answer could not be obtained till time and opportunity offered to enquire whether he possessed a plenty of the treasures of this world. An emigrant, when he first steps his foot on shore, is surveyed attentively, and the first enquiry is, "Is he rich?" If negatived, he is levelled; if he is really so, without searching into the qualifications of the man, he is raised to the honors of receiving a bow, and the homage of time and opportunity from every description; the young ladies all have hopes of an easy settlement, could they but win his affections, and the money is counted and attended to, while sense and virtue, in rags, may wander neglected.

"Is he rich?" demands old father Greybeard—if he is not, he shall not have a daughter of mine: no poverty-struck man shall have a penny of my property.—"Is he rich?" says old Gripus—if he is not, I will not trust him a farthing. Poor mortals! the rich man needs not the help of the miser; it is the poor and industrious who stand in need of your assistance; the daughter of a man who lives well in the world, may make as happy a match with a poor man, as with one dignified by rank or fortune. View the transitory changes of fortune: to-day a king may become a beggar—to-morrow a beggar may become a king; but will change alter the blood which flows in his veins? Beluded man! fancy not that money can purchase health or contentment: the child in the cottage, with his roasted potatoe, shews as many smiles, and has as many winning ways, looks as healthy, and is better prepared for the vicissitudes of disease, than the pampered babe, who is fed and nursed under the tenderness of a fond and indulgent mother, who, through love, vitiates its blood, by an excess of delicious morsels. Thus riches may have ill consequences, when badly applied.

"Is he rich?" says the doctor; then I will closely attend him, I will visit him day and night, I will not give up as long as I have a chance med. vis. and advice; but the poor man in pain may linger day after day, and see not the face of his physician.

"Is he rich?" says the counsel of a poor man, unable to give a fee to his lawyer, being also a defendant; if he is, your case is bad you had best get rid of it without any further cost; but was he rich also, the lawyer would on with spectacles, search folio after folio, and right or wrong attempt to plead his cause.

"Is he rich?" asks the priest; and if he is, you will see him constantly visited and treated with attention; a parson never despises a parishioner who can keep a good cask of wine in his house, or even those who can furnish a bowl of punch occasionally.

Having shewn the effects of riches, and that they are made of material consequence among mankind in general, should we not endeavor beyond every thing else, to come at the treasure. Give a man, who before was despised and kicked, cash, he will immediately be caressed and thought suitable company. Thus mankind vary according to the changes of life, and treat the generality of things in a superficial way. Adieu, dame Chitterling, father Greybeard, and Gripus; and you, doctor Fillpurse, lawyer Quibble and priest Punchbowl—ye all study things temporal more than spiritual;—but, the day is coming, when money will not ease pain, purchase a pardon, fee a judge, or make wedlock easy.—Port. Gazette.

—000*000—
From the N. H. Patriot
SONG.

WHEN I was a chit, just got into my teens,
And the men would be asking a kiss;
Thinks I to myself, I scarce know what it means,
But I think I ought not to say, Yes;
To be sure it was fine,
When they call'd me divine,
Tho' I've simper'd and cried, "Let me go—"
"O dear, Sir, O la!"
"I'll acquaint my mamma,
"If thus you keep teasing and squeezing me so."

Improving in skill, as advancing in years,
Each lesson of love got by heart,
More eager my hopes, more decided my fears:
Pure nature sought refuge in art—
At each swain that drew nigh,
I look'd under my eye,
And loitered pretending to go;
If prest to sit down,
I exclaimed with a frown,
"How dare you keep teasing and squeezing me so!"

Coquetting's now o'er and settled for life,
Each feeling is fairly confessed;
Attached to the duties of parent and wife,
'Tis nature still reigns in my breast;
To my heart's bosom friend,
I no coldness pretend.
Nor from him, seem anxious to go:
Nor ever complain,
With affected disdain;
But doubt whether squeezing he teasing or no!

—000*000*000*000—

Affording to keep a conscience.—It is well known that the private sentiments and opinion of the great Arch Deacon, Paley, were at variance with the doctrines of the church of which he was a Dignitary, and that he used to say as a reason for not quitting her communion that "he could not afford to keep a conscience." Mr. W—, an English Unitarian Missionary, relates, that at Barnby-doon, in the north of England one of his friends had his sincerity put to the test. He is a poor man; a mechanic, the clerk of the village, died lately, and the office was offered to this poor man, which he firmly declined, saying, I "believe but in one God and how can I in conscience say, Amen to three!"

JESSE OLDFASON.

an eloquent vindication of the literary and scientific character of our country from the sarcasms and cavils of European writers, and an assertion of the brilliant success that has thus far attended our system of government, which has already endured for more than one generation of the sons of men. We will say no more of this performance: at present, than that we hope it will soon be in the hands of all our readers, in a shape which will enable them to preserve it for their own benefit and for that of their posterity, as being the best exposition of the causes, motives, and effects of our revolution, that, in so compendious a shape, is any where to be met with.

EASTPORT:

SATURDAY, JULY 24, 1821.

NEW PACKETS.—On Tuesday last was launched from the ship-yard of JOHN BREWER, Esq. in Robinson, the schooner ST. CROIX, intended as a regular packet between Eastport and Boston, to be commanded by capt. A. Brooks. On the same day, was launched at Calais, the schooner BOSTON, also intended as a regular packet between this place and Boston, and is to be commanded by capt. JOHN SHACKFORD. They are both, we understand, superior built vessels, and have accommodations for passengers inferior to none whatever.

At a meeting of Republicans of the County of Hancock, held at Castine on the 11th inst. the Hon. ALBION K. PARRIS, was nominated as a candidate for Governor at the ensuing election; and it was agreed to support the Hon. WM. D. WILLIAMSON for representative to Congress at the election to be held on the 10th day of Sept. next. Another meeting of Republicans was also held on the same day, at Nobleborough, (Lincoln county) at which it was agreed to support Gen. J. WINGATE, jr. as a candidate for Governor.

EARLY POTATOES.—We yesterday saw some Potatoes of good size, raised on the farm of Mr. JOSEPH CONER, near Broad Cove, in this Town. We mention this because it is much earlier, as we are informed, than they were ever raised in this place before.

Beware of Counterfeiters.

A few days since two men were apprehended in this Town for passing Counterfeit Dollars. On examination they stated that they received them from a person in Oak Bay, and told so plausible a story that they were permitted to pass on. No sooner were they released than they decamped, leaving the Dollars (17) in the possession of Messrs. BUCK & TINKHAM, who received them, but discovered the cheat in season to retain their Goods. The dollars are badly executed and need only a slight examination to detect them. A Ten Dollar Bill of New-Haven Bank has been of fered at several stores in town within a few days.

LATEST FROM EUROPE.

Very short arrivals from Europe in New-York, have brought London news to the 8th June.

The Congress of Sovereigns and Ministers before they separated issued a Joint Declaration of their motives, proceedings, and future intentions, for general information; and afterwards the Prime Ministers of Austria and Russia were directed by their Masters to transmit separate Circulars to all the Courts of Europe, and probably to the government of the United States, explaining and justifying those motives and conduct;—condemning the proceedings in Naples and Piedmont which made their interference indispensable;—solemnly protesting against the charges by which they have been accused of having been actuated by ambition, a restless spirit, or lust of dominion; availing that they have not in any instance belied their former declarations; and boldly announcing their determination

“to continue faithful to their measures, whatever new proof Providence may have reserved for them. Called,” they add, “to watch over the peace of Europe, to protect it not only against the errors and passions which might compromise it in the relations between power and power, but PARTICULARLY against all those baneful attempts which would deliver the civilized world to the horrors of an universal anarchy, they thought they should profane a vocation so august by the narrow calculations of a vulgar policy. As every thing is simple, open and frankly avowed, in the system which they have embraced, they submit it in confidence to the judgment of all enlightened governments.”

LORD LONDONDERRY, in the British House of Commons, acknowledged that the copies of these circulars printed in the papers, were correct, and Mr. S. WORTLEY pronounced the principles avowed in them to be highly dangerous to British Liberty, and gave notice that he should shortly call the attention of the House to them.

The advices received from Turkey continued to be distressing to humanity, recounting as they did numerous assassinations of Christians and Mahomedans, by men pretending to advocate and promote the cause of religion. There were indications that the Revolution in the Grecian States bordering on the Archipelago, and the isles thereof, gathered strength and consistency; but accounts in the other parts of European Turkey continued too contradictory to warrant any anticipations of the result. The Ottoman Porte was certainly making great efforts to quell all the insurrections.

In France, Germany, Russia, &c. every thing remained peaceable and stationary.

In Spain parties continued vindictive; but the Constitutionalists were every where the lords of the Ascendant. Numerous excesses were daily committed on the Anti-Constitutionalists and Clergy, disgraceful to any nation pretending to be governed by laws.

In England, affairs of Finance, and the Coronation and Journeys of the King engrossed most of the public attention. The Opposition were constantly goading the Ministers to retrench the expenses of the State, and to abolish useless offices, and were continually holding out the example of America for imitation. The Ministers answered, that the expenses of the nation had been lessened nearly two millions sterling this year;—that since the war 20 millions of taxes had been abolished;—that the public stocks were continually rising and furnishing evidence of the eligible state of the public credit; and that the condition of England would not suffer by a comparison with that of any other kingdom in Europe; and the Chancellor of the Exchequer remarked, that even the United States, with all their retrenchments, republican economy, and acknowledged prosperity, had this year been compelled to resort to a loan of several millions to defray the ordinary expenses of the government.

Continued.

Fire at Boston.—A wooden shop occupied by Mr. Richard Humphreys, a joiner—a building occupied by Mr. Amos B. Parker as a Book-store, one occupied by Messrs. Michael Melton & Co. as a Crockery-Ware Store, and by Benjamin Morrill, as a Dry Goods Store, all in Union street, were destroyed by Fire, in Boston, on Saturday morning last.

Fire at Charlestown.—A fire broke out on Thursday morning 13th inst. in a block of wooden buildings in Charlestown, situated near the square. Before the progress of the flames could be arrested five buildings of three stories in height with two barns in rear of them, were totally consumed. The buildings destroyed were in the occupation of Messrs. T. Thompson, Jr. and Son, Iron store and dwelling-house; David Austin, Dry Goods; Marshall Johnson, W. I. Goods; Joseph Tufts, Esq. Office; and Mr. McElroy, and Mr. Hunt, tailors. The estate belonged to Messrs. T. Thompson, Jr. Nathaniel Austin, Esq. and the heirs of the late Deacon Larkin. The principal part of the goods and furniture was removed from the buildings and saved. Besides the buildings consumed, the following were considerably injured by the effects of the fire: Dwelling house owned by Misses Bradstreet; store occupied by James Bird, Jr. and dwelling house over by Dr. S. Kidder; store occupied by M. Skilton, and the looking glass factory and dwelling house of Messrs. Kidder & Carter. The fire is not traced to any certain origin, but is supposed to have originated by accident.

Fourth July Toast, at Nobleborough, VT.

By Stephen Greenleaf, Esq.—The American Farmer—May they enjoy the rewards of their labour, in abundant harvests, flowing vintage, full granaries, crowded barns, large dairies, teeming herds, lusty bullocks, glittering stables, stout horses, fine fleeces, fat hogs, great potatoes, huge pumpkins, a good market, fair prices, no cheating—no visits by the worm, the fly, the grasshopper, the mildew, by early frosts, by direct taxes, by needless subscriptions, by sheriffs or constables—and beware of being over-reached by merchants, wheedled by lawyers, beguiled by butchers, swindled by gamblers, beset by pick-pockets, dunned by tavern keepers, coaxed by jills, or deceived by one another!

The votes for a Member of Congress for the 5th Congressional district, were as follows:—For Hon. Ebenezer Herrick, 1038; Peter Grant, Esq. 260; E. T. Warren, Esq. 480. There were also a number of scattered votes, leaving about 72 majority for Mr. Herrick.

New-York, July 11. Com. BARRON.—The Court of Enquiry in the case of Com. BARRON, closed its sittings yesterday; and, if we are correctly informed, there was not a shadow of evidence in support of the surmises against this gentleman's character. It may now be reasonably hoped that the Commodore will not only be restored to the confidence of his government, and fellow citizens, but to a command suitable to his rank.

Extract of a letter from George Moore, Esq. American Consul at Trieste, Austria, to a gentleman in Baltimore, dated 11th May.

“By a vessel arrived to day, in 16 days from Constantinople, we hear that the Greek Patriarch and four Bishops had been hung, by order of the Government; and that subsequently, almost a general massacre of the Greeks had commenced, which was still going forward when this vessel sailed.—The English Ambassador had several shots fired at him, and only escaped assassination by running. The Greek insurrection in the Morea is going on favorably. A descendant of the Old Greek Emperors is arrived here from Russia—it is supposed with the view of proceeding to the Morea, to join his countrymen in their endeavors to throw off the Turkish Yoke.”

NOVEL CELEBRATION.

The day was celebrated at Newark, N. J. by an Agricultural, Commercial, and Mechanical Procession.—The following articles furnish a sample of the exhibition:—

The Agricultural Procession was led by a Plough and Harrow, drawn by two yokes of oxen; and closed by a wagon, with 6 horses, in which there were 32 persons representing the Agricultural Society.

The Mechanic Procession was led “by nine Tailors at work in a shop neatly erected, and drawn by four horses.” [Thirty-one other trades followed. The shoemakers finished a shoe while the procession was moving to Church. The Worsted Manufacturers kept their machinery in constant operation by the movement of the hind wheels of the wagon upon which it was erected; every part being complete, and in full work.]

The Commercial Interest was represented by a beautiful boat, 12 feet long, drawn on ways by horses, and completely rigged as the “Independence 74.” She was manned by boys, who fired a salute at starting.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The Executive Council of this State adjourned 9th inst. to meet again 13th of October.

Royal Clark, Esq. is appointed postmaster at Bangor, vice Hon. Mr. Williamson, resigned.

The Hon. John Forsyth, United States minister plenipotentiary at the court of Spain, sailed from New-York on the 5th inst. for Cadiz.

A counterfeit $5 bill, U. S. bank, was discovered by Gilbert & Dean, Boston, on Saturday last; letter C. dated Sept. 7, 1819—very coarsely done, and easily detected.

An unsuccessful attempt has lately been made to rob the vaults of the Coos bank, in New-Hampshire.—The robbers however, got possession of an iron chest, and pillaged a chest of $46—of which, however, 30 were counterfeit. The property was speedily recovered, and the robbers, James Riley and Daniel Campbell, apprehended and committed for trial.

The passengers in the ship Mary-Ann, arrived in England (May 26) in 56 days from St. Helena, reported, that on the day they sailed, BONAPARTE, who had been ill for some days, had most unexpectedly sent for the Governor, Sir H. Lowe, and his (Napoleon's) dissolution was hourly expected.

Woman.—A woman whose ruling passion is not vanity, is superior to any man of equal faculties.

The Yellow-Fever has again made its appearance in Baltimore.

The weather during the seven first days of July is said to have been so cold at Washington, that some flakes of snow were seen to fall, and that fires were necessary to render a sitting room comfortable!

POSTSCRIPT!

✂ We stop the Press to announce the arrival of the fast sailing sch. Dunn, capt. Teasum, from Boston with the following highly interesting Letter addressed to the Editor:—

Boston, July 19, 1821.

Sir—Your Note for Types, Paper, Ink, &c. has been long due, and unless it is immediately paid you may expect to be waited upon by Washington, ss. Greeting. G N.

MARRIAGES.

In this town, by J. D. Weston, Esq. Mr. William O'Connor, to Miss Rose O'Connor.
In Newburyport, Mr. Oliver Hale, to Miss Sarah Toppam.

DEATHS.

In this town, Mrs. Betsey, wife of Mr. Daniel Drew, aged 24. A child of Capt. Jacob Mabee, of Campo-Bello, aged 22 months.

In Bloomfield, Penn. Mrs. Temperance, wife of Samuel Downes, Esq. She was a professor of religion, and died calling on the Lord to receive her soul.

In Warren, Miss Mary Lawrence, aged 20—Mrs. Stall—Mr. Buxton, killed by a liab from a tree he was falling—widow Rebecca Robinson—widow Starret—Mrs. Matthews, wife of Robert Matthews.

In Gaudaloupe, Capt. Lawrence Crawford and 2 seamen—Joshua Anderson and Emery Bugs, all of Warren.

In Denmark, (Oxford County) Mrs. Ann Osgood aged 27, wife of Col. Joshua B. Osgood.

In Walpole, NH Gen. Amasa Allen, aged 69. He was a soldier of the Revolution, and has since been called by his fellow citizens to sustain high civil and military offices, in all of which he distinguished himself by a prompt and active discharge of his duty.

In Barnet, Mr. George Garland, aged 84, and Mr. Andrew Lackee, aged 85. They were both natives of Scotland—came to this country in the same ship—lived together, bachelors, in the same house for a number of years, and died on the same day within a few hours of each other.

In Boston, Mr. Daniel Hives, mason, aged 77. Those who have well known the deceased for fifty years, fully believe the truth of the declaration made by him just before his death, “that he was not conscious of having wronged any man in his life.” By industry and steady habits he acquired an ample competency, and continued to find pleasure in the moderate pursuit of his vocation to the last month of his life. Though a peaceable citizen he never withheld his services from his country. He was a steady disciple of the school of Washington: his benevolence was without ostentation; and the full discharge of all the christian duties, in him, was never clouded by bigotry, or evil speaking of others. *Bost. NOTICE TO MARINERS.

✂ Hamburg Floating Light.—Notice is hereby given, that to prevent mistaking the Floating Light at the mouth of the Elbe, for that at the mouth of the Weser, the Floating Light at the mouth of the Elbe, will, during the day, from and after the 1st of May, show a Red Flag at the mast head Hamburg, April 23, 1821.

INTERESTING TO MERCHANTS.
By an act of Parliament, the port of Cowes in the Isle of Wight has been thrown open for warehousing American and Portuguese produce free of duty. This fact is not generally known to our merchants, and its promulgation may at this time be essentially beneficial. The port of Cowes is one of the safest and finest Roads for shipping, well sheltered, and at a distance of about 70 miles only south of London either by the way of Portsmouth or Southampton. It lies also nearly oppo-nite to Havre on the French coast, offering a most commodious place of depot for our produce intended for the French market. French vessels now ply between Cowes and Havre, and have already carried over several American cargoes, thereby avoiding the high tonnage duties imposed of late by the French government on American vessels. Another advantage of Cowes is that the port charges are more moderate than at any other English port. The facility and attention of the customs, the short distance to London, the easy supply of provisions and water, the admirable construction of the dry docks, gives to Cowes very great advantages, and offer to our merchants in the European trade a safe and convenient halting place either for advice or for discharging their cargoes. N. Y. Gazette.

ANOTHER SUSPICIOUS AFFAIR.

NORFOLK, July 2.—There appears to have been a Providential interference in the circumstance of the arrival at this port, of the brig Rose-in-Bloom, put in, in distress, from Philadelphia for New-Orleans. On inquiring of Capt. Smith of the particulars of her passage, &c. it came out that she is owned by Daniel Scull and E. I. Hollingshead, of Philadelphia, the same persons who were the owners and shippers of the sloop Norfolk—Capt. S. never had any previous acquaintance with either of the persons, but states, that they observed to him when he took charge, that he was to proceed to New-Orleans, where they had sent funds by the sloop Norfolk, and where their agents would load the brig without detention and give him his instructions. Suffice it to say, that whatever object these shippers had in view, and however extensive may have been the ramifications which they had planned to carry on their villainous designs, they certainly are partially frustrated—and is it not a little singular that the port of Norfolk should bring up by accident their two vessels to bear witness, as it were, against them?

AFFAIR OF THE SLOOP NORFOLK.—The following additional particulars of this most atrocious transaction we give upon the authority of a letter received here by yesterday's mail from Philadelphia:—Two of the persons concerned, to wit, Hollingshead and Hulme, have been arrested upon the evidence from this place and that of the master of the sloop. Green and Scull have not been found—the latter was reported to have set out for this place. From the contents of this letter it would appear, that the master was not a party, but that the design which was conceived in Philadelphia, was to have destroyed both the vessel and crew, by means of the bottle of oil of vitriol, which, in the way it was packed, was expected to burst, or discharge its contents by the consumption of the cork with which it was stopped, before the vessel could possibly arrive at New-Orleans. Norfolk Herald—[Scull has since been taken.
