Mountain View House.

Here is situated a hotel of rare attractiveness in beautiful location for summer boarders and at the same time in close proximity to the best places for fishing on Rangeley lake. Hunters in the season also find plenty of deer, partridge and woodcock near the hotel. The cuisine here is such as to hold patrons year after year, the rooms are what people from the cities like, large, well lighted and pleasant. We serve vegetables, berries, fish and game at appropriate times in the year and the table is always supplied with excellent fresh milk and cream. Pure water runs to the house from a spring above. This is a particularly good place for safe and pleasant boating and the drives and walks are unsurpassed. Croquet and lawn tennis grounds adjoin the house. Write for a free

A BEAVER TALE.

What of "Black Edward?" Just one word's enough.
His heart's as tender as his tales are "tug."
YOU see it's this way. A visit to the Rangeley Lake region without a little run up to Beaver pond is as rank a failure as half a pair of scissors, or the hole of a doughnut with the dough gone. Yes, "going up to Ed's" is like smoking opium, lying, or "warts"—it grows upon you; and the man who once sets his happy foot on the shores of old "Beaver" is as certain to return as—as well as a punched "quarter."

What do you do when you get there? Most people fish, others tramp those glorious old trails and just soak their hearts and minds in the delights of mountain, lake and forest;
for at Ed's remember, we're in the sure-enough backwoods.

Now as to the fishing, a word or two.
Guides talk, notwithstanding, I have never yet found a 10-pound trout plenty enough to be monotonous—never have, but the reasonable dissemination of "fishers"—it is chance also to be a true sportsman, could ask nothing better.

With easy reach of Ed's doors lie (even nature "lies" up there—I wonder why?), 5 or 6 lakes, in which the fly fishing is simply "great," and I say this after having fished every dam spot in that region many times.
Take "Ell Pond," for instance, around the "bead among the pads," or "Little Island" with a gentle ripple about sundown. Such incessant "rises" and such a run of fish marks that charming little pond as the acme of fly fishing possibilities.

What is there for the "Man behind the gun" up there? Simply this. In the open season he can easily get all the deer the law allows him, and will also find "Ruffed Grouse" (i. e.
"Partridge") in abundance. With Moose, Bear and Caribou the case is that of those 5 and 10-pound trout, they do not actually
"hang around the door yards."

How do you get to Beaver Pond?—thus.
The total of 27 miles from Rangeley Village is now covered by backboard to Kennebecago Lake, thence by steamer down that beautiful sheet of water, a very pleasant break in the journey, thence by backboard again, direct to Ed's Camps on Beaver Pond. The roads already good are constantly being bettered, and ladies and children can now with perfect comfort make a journey that once meant miles of rough and toilsome tramping.

At the Camps the accommodations leave nothing to be desired by those who realize that this is the "Backwoods" and not "Broadway." The cabins are clean, roomy, and thoroughly comfortable, beds and table excellent (and most of the food at least establishment) while the proprietor—i. e., the "Old Man," is a happy combination of kindness and pleasing fiction.

The first step for those who would like to see for themselves how much actual truth there is in all of the above, is to address ED GRANT & SON, Beaver Pond, Maine, and then "wait till something drops."

Trout Glad to Get Warm.

Just after the coldest of the recent cold days, a fisherman was in Phillips on his return from the lakes. He said that during the coldest day he was fishing on the lake and hooked a 2-pound trout. The fish made no resistance to being pulled in, even when in the bottom of the boat he did not flop around, but simply nestled up against the fisherman's feet and seemed glad to get in out of the cold water.

Pickeral on Barbed Wire.

A Freeman citizen, whose veracity is unquestioned, tells of a catch of pickerel he made last spring. A brook runs through his farm and early in the spring he strung a barbed wire fence along its shores. This brook was very susceptible to the rains and would rise rapidly at times. Just before one of the rains, he said, he put bait upon the barbs and waited for the brook to rise. When the water went down he went to the wire and found 365 pickeral hung up on the fence for him.

Blind Bass.

There may be some trout in the old Cobbosseecontee, but they're not nibbling to any noticeable extent just now.
The fish seem to be in a logy state.
One man, last Sunday, pulled a good sized bass in, hooked in the back of the neck. Blind and run up against the hook was the verdict.

Dipped a Trout.

Allen Holt of Weld dipped up a pail of water from one of the Weld brooks, one day this week. He was surprised, on looking into the pail, to find a nice trout. Of course he put him back, as it is unlawful to take any fish from the inlets to Lake Webb. These brooks are said to be literally filled with fish.

RANGELEY LAKE HOUSE.

Anglers Busy and Having Very Good Luck This Week.

Large Number on Rangeley Lake
---Cottages Filling Up.

[Special correspondence to the Maine Woods]
RANGELEY LAKE HOUSE,
RANGELEY, MAINE,
June 4, 1902.

The many arrivals of the past few days show that summer and the tourist have come. The weather has been warm and delightful, even if the rain falls with little warning. Not many have been fishing, but all seem content.

Monday, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. M. Cunningham and daughter of New York and servants arrived to remain here while their set of camps on the lake shore are being completed. They have named their camps "Loch Hame" which is the Scotch for home on the lake. They expressed much delight over the Scotch name given the railroad station at the foot of the lake.

Mr. Frederick Skinner, the Boston angler who fishes these waters all the season, came last Wednesday. Although Mr. Skinner does not allow his catch recorded, not even the twenty-six salmon averaging over 5 pounds, he remarked, "I have had my best day's fishing" one night recently. Joe Lamb is as usual his guide.

Mr. S. O. Lunt and wife of Boston are here for a two weeks' stay. Mr. Lunt intends to have a big salmon before he goes home.

This morning the following party of Worcester, Mass., gentlemen started for a trip to Seven Ponds: Messrs. J. Walter Flagg, O. B. Wood, A. S. Lowell, Philip Southgate, Theo P. Brown.

The Gilman cottage will be open until November. Tuesday night General J.

guides, Freeman and Isaac Tibbetts, are there for a few days.

The Bungalow was opened this week by Mr. Edw. and Herbert Northey of Salem, Mass., who are entertaining as their guests, four friends from the same city, Messrs. Wm. Sutton, Ernest Machado, Wm. Perry and Wm. Safford.

Tuesday afternoon Mr. Machado and guide, Joe Tibbetts, rowed up to call on friends. As Mr. M. had never done any fishing before he made a good beginning by landing three big salmon that weighed 4½, 5½ and 7½ pounds.

Mrs. Bowdoin of Salem, Mass., is stopping here while her son Mr. Proctor is in camp.

Landlord Marble spent the Sabbath in Portland with his children.

Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Young of Worcester, Mass., are spending a few days here.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Briggs of Summit, N. J., returned home via Bemis Monday, having much enjoyed their stay of two weeks at this hotel.

Mr. John F. Leech of Washington, D. C., has arrived for the summer and his wife and daughter will join him in two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Stevens and Mr. Lee of Boston, who for ten days have been enjoying the fishing at Camp Vive Vale, Mr. Stevens's place on the Narrows, came tonight for a long stay here.

Dr. Noble went to Portland Friday to preach at the State street church on Sunday. The Doctor and Mrs. Noble say Rangeley never seemed more beautiful to them than this year.

Mr. H. D. Turner and mother of Montclair, N. J., went home Monday, having had a delightful stay of nearly three weeks here. Mr. Turner had excellent luck fishing.

The bell boys are Geo. E. Stebbins of Shelburn Falls, Mass., who is a Bates college student, class of 1903; Lewis E. Chase of Freeport and Wm. G. Hill of Chebague Island.

Pickering Fishing at Chesterville Brings Good Results.

Salmon That Weigh Heavy
Caught at Clear Water.

[Special correspondence to the Maine Woods.]

ALLEN'S MILLS, JUNE 5, 1902.

One day this week Mr. and Mrs. A. Beekman Bergen of Tarrytown, N. Y., went to Chesterville. While there they caught 100 pickerel.

Hamilton Belcher of Farmington landed an 11½-pound salmon. Henry Knapp, with Charlie Wheeler of Farmington, landed a 7½-pound salmon. Square tails are rising to a fly.

Alonzo Sawtelle, one of the oldest and best known guides of this section, passed away after a long sickness of dropsy and heart failure last Thursday. He will be greatly missed by the sportsmen as he was a general favorite.

Seth E. Beedy of Farmington has put his gasoline launch, Nora, into the lake for the season. The prospect for fall shooting is good. The woodcock and partridges appear to be breeding well.

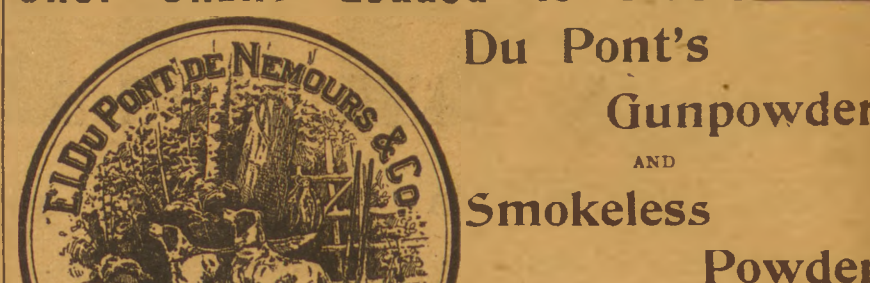

Stopping at the camps are Mr. and Mrs. William Smith, W. F. Campbell, J. Fred Roesch, W. S. Wood, all of Boston; Whit Sawyer, Robert Phillips of Stratton, Mr. and Mrs. Dodge, Albus Cushing of Boston. CRICKET.

To Regulate Fishing in Redington Pond.

The commissioners of fish and game will have a hearing June 6 at Phillips Hotel, in regard to the petition to restrict the fishing in Redington pond. It is asked that fishing be allowed only between sunrise and sunset and that none be allowed to take more than fifteen fish in one day.

BALD MOUNTAIN CAMPS.

Trout Catching and Camp Gossip

Camp Life as It Is Spent at Ellis's Camps.

[Special correspondence to MAINE WOODS.]

BALD MOUNTAIN CAMPS,

HAINES LANDING, JUNE 2, 1902.

Business at the camps has been rather quiet for the past week owing to the cold, stormy weather, but with the pleasant weather of the past few days, the visitors and fish alike have become more numerous.

The visitors for the past week have been: C. S. Foye, Boston; A. S. Hinds, Portland; Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Moors, Lawrence; Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Barrows, Irving Oakes, guide, Dr. B. F. Dunn, Portland; Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Skinner, Boston; M. H. Biebee, Jacksonville, Fla.; Wm. Allen, F. W. Perkins, Mechanic Falls; John W. White, Wakefield, P. H. Lulkin, guide; G. C. Moses, Bath, P. Gile, guide.

Mr. Walter G. Clarke returned home Wednesday. Elmer Snowman has handled the oars and net for this veteran sportsman. Mr. Clarke has had a very enjoyable trip and carries home a nice string of fish to show his friends.

Camp life has been brightened the past few days by the addition of F. L. Perkins, editor of the Mechanic Falls Ledger and a very enthusiastic fisherman. He is taking in the Four ponds and Capsule stream and lake as side issues this trip. Mr. Perkins reports the fishing O. K.

Mr. Wm. Allen has been very busy dividing his time between fishing and photographing and has succeeded in getting some very fine views. Mr. Allen is a devoted student of the camera and his pictures of fish and game with his landscapes are gems of beauty. Mr. Allen is also a fine apostle of Isaak Walton and shows a fine string of salmon and trout that he has caught.

We had a very severe squall strike here Monday but happily to report there were no serious accidents, although there is a funny experience of a very large man and small guide, who when the squall struck, landed on the dry ki and had to crawl on the loose logs about 20 feet to terra firma.

Mr. and Mrs. Robinson have been entertaining several of their friends the past week.

Dewey has a crew of workmen getting the logs ready for a new log camp as Landlord Ellis is crowded for room during July and August.

Mr. Allen reports the catch of a young salmon in Long pond with 16 red spots on each side last week.

BLACK BASS ARE BITING.

Brown Trout Taken at Waterford
One Day Late.

[Special correspondence to the Maine Woods]

WATERFORD, JUNE 2, 1902.

Black bass are biting in good shape in Keoka lake.

Fred Johnson caught a brown trout here the other day. It was the second one to be caught and was a beauty.

Mr. Eliphale Porter and family have arrived here for the summer. Mr. Porter is an earnest fisherman and hates to see fish killed just for the fun of catching them. He was instrumental in putting the salmon and other fish into our lake.

Your correspondent caught two bass in 20 minutes weighing 2½ and 12½ pounds.

CAT TOOK TO THE WOODS.

Baby Deer Came to Water With Shooting Contest and Other Beaver Pond News This Week.

[Special correspondence to the MAINE WOODS]

BEAVER POND, JUNE 4, 1902.

Beaver Pond people were very sorry to have Mr. Magee and his estimable wife leave Wednesday. They started for Rangeley Friday from Kennebec. Mr. and Mrs. Kidder of Wenham, who were to have come with them, were prevented by the sad news of the death of their son William, who died in England while spending the summer in company with his wife and three children. It was a dreadful blow to his parents as to all his friends, he having gone away from home as well as ever.

"Hal," one of the pair of cats at Beaver pond has once more returned to his old haunts after a protracted absence. He presents the appearance of a wild-cat and has lost part of one ear due to exposure to the cold, it is supposed. The latch string is left out for him nights and his friends are making every effort to make him at home, which effort is quite often met with ingratitude on the part of the said "Hal."

On Friday the gossip saw five deer during the afternoon. They were all large ones and two had their red coats and looked very sleek. Thursday a doe came into the pond followed by her fawn which was a very pretty and also unusual sight as Ed says the doe usually leaves her fawn in the woods.

The party consisting of Messrs. Morse, Erlich and Hecht visited Big Island Tuesday. They reported a good time, although they returned drenched by the heavy shower. They brought home a goodly string with several especially good trout.

A shooting contest was held at Beaver Pond Thursday and two purses were made up by those wishing to enter. The first purse was won by W. D. Grant who scored 42 points. The second purse was won by Mrs. W. D. Grant, score 41 points out of possible 50.

The survey party of the Rumford Falls & Rangeley road are staying at Beaver Pond for the present as they are unable to get their tenting outfit, which was left at Kennedy's logging camps, on account of the height of the water which cuts them off.

The ground about the camps is being graded, making a marked improvement in the appearance.

The gossip was much interested in the proceedings of Mr. Dibblee, head surveyor of the party working on the Rumford Falls & Rangeley railroad, as he was adjusting one of the instruments used in surveying. When the instrument is focused on a distant object, two very fine lines are seen to cross each other, through the glass. These lines which determine the level, the gossip learned much to her surprise, were the web of a spider, and looked like an ordinary hair, but were so fine as to be scarcely seen with the naked eye. Mr. Dibblee obtained a common spider and stroked him gently, which caused him to spin his web. This web was taken on a forked stick and afterward fitted over a bronze circle which is called the diaphragm. It is an extremely delicate piece of work.

W. Karney and wife, Miss Lucy DeL. Karney and maid and their colored servant of Washington, D. C., arrived here, and today are getting the cottage ready to occupy.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Magee of Wenham, Mass., their friends, Mr. A. S. Woodworth of Boston and Mr. Wm. Runkle of Orange, N. J., returned home this morning, after a stay here of several days, on their return from a trip to Kennebec and Seven Ponds.

The flag is now flying from Hi Side Camp. Mr. Abel H. Proctor and Mr. Nathaniel Heath of Boston and their

Friday evening at 7.30 o'clock, is the hearing at this hotel before the fish and game commissioners regarding the closing of this lake for early fishing, also asking for a fishway at the outlet of the lake.

Mr. Chas Varney's party of Lynn are among those coming this week.

The following is the fish record of this hotel for the past week:

May 27, 3½-pound salmon, E. C. Ostby, Providence, R. I., Joe Tibbetts, guide.

May 28, 5½-pound trout, E. C. Ostby, Providence, R. I., Joe Tibbetts, guide; 3-pound salmon, Mrs. Cornelia T. Crosby, Phillips, Isaac Tibbetts, guide; 4½-pound salmon, H. D. Turner, Montclair, N. J., Freeman Tibbetts, guide.

Trout Coming to the Fly at Spring Lake.Camp Life as Enjoyed at a Popular Dead River Resort.(Special Correspondence to the MAINE WOODS.)
FLAGSTAFF, June 2, 1902.

Spring Lake Camps were opened very early this season, as the ice left the surface in advance of the usual time, and from the first, to the present day, has been filled with sportsmen and women, who have enjoyed rare sport. Salmon were never so plenty as this year, and larger catches of these gamey fish have been recorded than any year before at this date, since the camps opened. Togue are plenty, and surprise the newcomers by their fighting qualities and the delicious flavor after cooking. Some fine square tailed trout have been taken on a fly, Mrs. B. C. J. Eastman of New York holding "high rod" as yet. The camps are in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Drew, who have made many friends by the faithful, conscientious and painstaking manner in which they look after the guests. A full season is booked and one of the most successful is anticipated, among the satisfactory and growing interests that have been centering here during the existence of this association.

Dr. and Mrs. Pray and Mr. and Mrs. C. I. Hurd spent Sunday at Grand falls. O. N. Mason and Mr. Wayland A. Wheaton went to Long falls Saturday. They report a volume of water, but grand scenery and they took many views to carry back to less fortunate friends who cannot come to this beautiful spot and see and enjoy what lavishment nature has bestowed for us.

SAM FARMER'S LETTER.

Former Proprietor of Old Barden
House Writes.Tells of Those Who Used to Register With Him.

ARKANSAS CITY, KAN., May 30, 1902.

To the Editor of the Maine Woods:

We enjoy very much reading all that is printed in the MAINE WOODS, especially about the hotels and camps now found in every corner of the Rangeley Lakes and Dead River regions. The contrast in the last twenty years is truly wonderful, people then living there had no idea of what would come in so short time. In looking back from 1878 to 1893, the time in which we occupied the old Barden House in Phillips, we remember the many sportsmen and tourists who, during those years, partook of our hospitality year after year, and whose meetings and greetings were always so friendly and whose faces are still so fresh in our memory. But when we reflect that so many of them have gone to that bourne from which no traveler ever returns, a terrible sadness comes over us from which there seems no escape, and there is no wonder we search the records of the MAINE WOODS to see who may be registered among the many who are still enjoying the hospitality of our many old friends, and that beautiful summer resort, the Rangeley lakes in Maine.

In looking over the late arrivals we see but very few whose names are found on our register twenty years ago.

COLD CAMPING.

Catches of Trout In Vicinity of Kingfield.Some Find the Mosquitoes More Ravenous Than Trout.

(Special correspondence to MAINE WOODS)

KINGFIELD, May 20, 1902.

W. S. Dolbier was at Alder brook, under Black Nubble, a few days ago. He caught about fifty very nice trout. A pair of large deer came out onto the bog while he was there and showed themselves. Saturday night it was so cold there that the box of bait that he left in the boat froze solid. A few days later he visited the same vicinity and had just as good luck, but the bait didn't freeze.

Messrs. Leon Thomas and Flave Vose fished Stanley stream the other day and got about 40 nice trout.

Mr. H. G. Winter and wife caught seventeen nice trout one day last week and Mr. Frank Collins and wife caught ten nice ones the same day at Tufts pond.

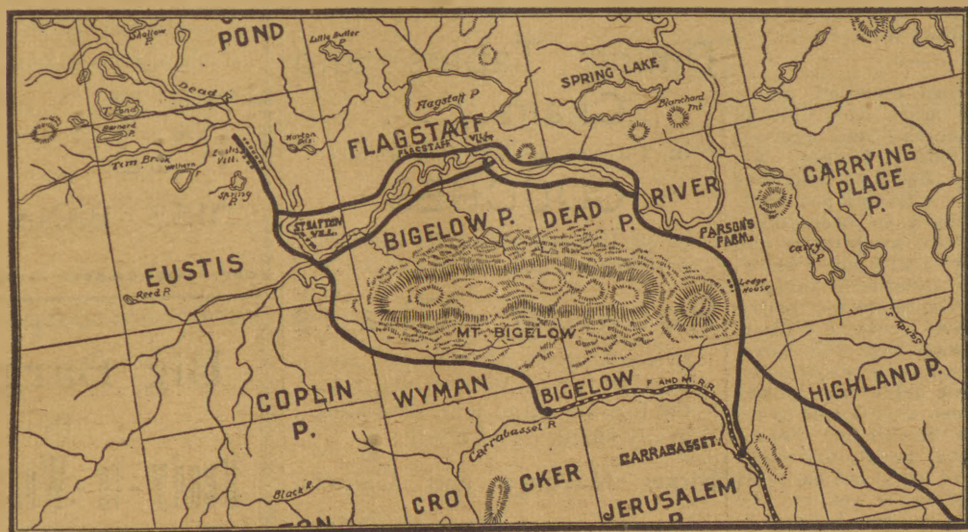

Mr. Charles Watson caught 100 trout on the Rapid stream the first of the week.

Mr. M. D. Brown of Lowell got a nice string on the Carrabassett Monday.

Mr. Bert Dolbier and Perley Morrill caught eleven trout at Tufts pond. The five largest weighed 2 pounds each.

Fishing parties report fair catches the past week, but admit that the mosquitoes are taking hold better than trout.

A party of eight young people spent Decoration day at Tufts pond and report a good and pleasant time, but failed secure any of the finny tribe.

BICYCLE ROADS IN THE DEAD RIVER REGION. Cut loaned by Sandy River Railroad Company.

Social gatherings in the guides' camp have been the diversion during the rainy days of the past week, with two evenings of minstrelsy with a chorus of twenty-eight voices, old time ballads, plantation and negro melodies, with banjo accompaniment. There was heaps of fun raging and the small hours of the morning called the happy family to their beds.

If you do not know where to go to find comfort and good sport and food fit to cure the worst dyspeptic, come in to "our family" and you'll "laugh, grow fat," and forget that there is a care in all the world.

The arrivals in camp thus far are as follows:

Harry Boardway, Madison; John Hennings, Portland; Mrs. J. A. Horn, Weld; Herbert W. Kimball, Ernest C. Prescott, Lewis Adams, Haverhill, Cliff Wing, guide; Dr. and Mrs. J. C. French, Milwaukee; Ansel Eames, guide; Geo. C. Moore, No. Chelmsford, Philander Taylor, guide; H. B. Moore, Brookline, Rufus Taylor, guide; Leroy S. Brown, Cambridge; Chas. A. Adams, Jamal a Plain; A. T. Hubbard, Cleveland, Cliff Wing, guide; H. C. Hardy, N. Y., Bernard Taylor, guide; T. B. and W. H. Parker, Lynn, Warren Wing, guide; Chas. R. Drew, Medford, Dion Blackwell, guide; Oliver Whyte, Medford, Walter Taylor, guide; Miss Gertrude Smith, No. Anson; C. D. Bass, New London, Rufus Taylor, guide; Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Pray, Exeter, P. H. Hall, guide; Mr. and Mrs. C. I. Hurd, Dover, Ellis Jones, guide; Mrs. B. C. J. Eastman, D. I., N. Y., Cliff Wing, guide; G. H. Cushman, Lynn, Philander Taylor, guide; J. H. Parks, Lynn, Rufus Taylor, guide; Howard Marston, Boston, Ed Jones, guide; O. N. Mason, Wayland A. Wheaton, Providence, Cliff Wing, guide; J. F. Morgan, Lynn, Rufus Taylor, guide; Emory Burbank, Whitesville, Eugene Burbank, guide; Warren Goodale, Clinton.

Among those we notice is Loren Coes, the inventor of the monkey wrench, of Worcester, Mass., now over 90, I believe. Mr. Coes, with his wife and daughter, Mrs. Whittier, and other friends were with us annually for many years and we are so glad to see he is still enjoying life. Long may he live. V. F. Prentice, also of Worcester, a sportsman of the first water and one of the first to notify us of his coming to see the ice go out.

Frederick Skinner's name is seen in the late arrivals at the lakes. He is one of the record sportsmen, having taken some of the whales from the lakes. Mr. Skinner is the son of the late Lucian Skinner of Boston, a noted sportsman and veteran fisherman at the Rangeleys, whom we first met at Rangeley in 1880. He was one of our guests for almost thirty years until he died. Mr. Skinner was a banker of rare ability and accumulated a fortune. He was a natural born sportsman. For fishing he went to Rangeley in the spring and for shooting the marshes in Rhode Island were his favorite grounds. We have spent many pleasant days with him fishing the streams and brooks around Phillips. The former, with Hon. H. O. Stanley, fish and game commissioner, of Dixfield are about all the names seen among the many who were sportsmen at the lakes twenty years ago. The great mass have died and still they go.

The Stonewall Problems.

PHILLIPS, June 3, 1902.

To the Editor of the Maine Woods:

In regard to the stonewall problem offered by Mr. Davis, I would offer this solution:

One man has $1.25, the other man 75 cents per rod. One part is harder in proportion as five-eighths and three-eighths by the statement. One man must build 62½ rods the other must build 37½ rods. Now the work has been made equal and the money must be equal also. Five-eighths of the 100 yards is 62½, and three-eighths is 37½ rods, that each man must do.

As to the one propounded by Mr. Lufkin, you have nothing to do with money, but to decide the labor in proportion to the statement. Where a one man builds 62½ rods the other man builds 37½ rods. The money will take care of itself. HENRY A. J. ROLFE.

Tory Hill, Phillips.

Charles Smith is riding a bicycle.

THE man who doesn't read advertisements isn't "all there." The woman who doesn't read advertisements isn't a woman.

THE advertiser wants to use a paper that is adding many new names to its subscription list every week. As a result many new people see the advertisements every week. THE MAINE WOODS offers to advertisers a valuable medium because its already large list is continually increasing. Not only is that true in its local circulation, but in the circulation among fishermen and hunters. Scores of new readers come to us every week.

ADVERTISING BUSINESS.

Why Young Men and Young Women Ought to Study It.

It is somewhat surprising to the average person to be told that the advertising business is the greatest business in the world. That this is a fact is shown by statistics.

As nearly as it is possible to estimate there are expended for advertising in the United States about $800,000,000 a year. This is an immense amount of money—a sum whose magnitude can be grasped when it is noted that the annual wheat crop of the country is worth but $319,000,000, the production of pig iron but $91,000,000, and that all the gold produced in the United States in one year amounts to but $210,000,000. It has just been pointed out by an eminent authority that the proper handling of this vast amount of advertising money and the proper preparation, making and placing of all kinds of advertising offers the most seductive and brilliantly profitable occupation for young men and women. The best of it is that the field is not crowded—that there is an actual dearth of people who really understand the advertising business. It is not a hard business to learn and can be learned quite inexpensively. One of the beauties of it is that you earn while you learn, thus paying expenses as you go along.

The advertising business pays very large salaries and the work is dignified and pleasant. Even those who do not contemplate going into the business should by all means study the art, as it has become demonstrated that business success is impossible without good advertising and that those who forge to the front and make the fortunes are those who have learned the principles of advertising and how to apply them. Public attention has been called to these matters by Mr. Charles Austin Bates, the well-known advertising specialist, Vanderbilt Building, New York, who has formulated a plan for the advertising business in all its branches and which plan, he says, will be explained without cost to anybody who is interested.

LETTERS TO MAINE WOODS.

Sam Farmer Tells of the Condition of the Crops.

ARKANSAS CITY, KAN., May 30, 1902.

To the Editor of the Maine Woods:

From five to six inches of rain has fallen recently during a week, the most for some length of time for several years. All crops are booming and a bountiful harvest is anticipated, although the wheat crop will be much less on account of so much rain being put into corn and oats. Wheat harvest will commence here next week, the early kinds now being full in the milk. The heads are long and heavy. Garden vegetables, such as beans, peas, strawberries, etc., are now at their best, also new potatoes.

All are rejoiced to see such a fine prospect for a bountiful feed crop. The fruit crop bids fair to be fully an average one. Peaches and apricots are fully half grown. Tame cherries are now ripe and plentiful.

I truly gave you a chill when we read of the heavy freeze in Maine about the 10th of May. Truly a harder freeze than I ever remember of being there so late in the season. Still there is time for good crops.

AMONG THE CHURCHES.

Mr. Ford Speaks of Prayer of Jesus For Disciples.

Missionary Sunday Observed at the Union Church.

Notes of Interest From the Churches of Phillips.

At the Methodist church Sunday morning, Rev. J. A. Ford preached from Luke xxii, 31, 32. And the Lord said, Simon, Simon, behold, Satan hath desired to have you, that he may sift you as wheat; but I have prayed for thee, that thy faith fail not; and when thou art converted, strengthen thy brethren.

Jesus was and is a watchful shepherd of his flock knowing them by name, leading into green pastures, beside still waters, following when gone astray, and bringing them safe into the fold secure from all danger. He knew what Peter would and warned him that he might prepare for the attack.

The warning came to the disciples like a thunder roll and lightning out of a clear sky. They were in the upper room, had partaken of the Lord's Supper, had listened to the wonderful words of counsel, but now they are astonished and alarmed. Jesus calms them, especially Peter, by saying, "I have prayed for thee that thy faith fail not altogether."

TENNYSON

tells us that "More things are wrought by prayer than the world dreams of." Jesus's prayer was the anchor that held Peter while he wrestled in the darkness with the evil one. Peter came out of that trial a better man; not so large, but purer and nobler. Look at him at Pentecost, brave, eloquent, filled with the Holy Spirit. He is Petros, the Rock. We learn from the lesson before us that and will not "suffer us to be tempted above what we are able to bear, but will with the temptation provide a way of escape." We ought to pray for one another. Who can estimate the value or the power of a mother's prayers for her children. Let us "pray without ceasing," not forgetting to work as we pray.

JESUS PRAYS FOR US

At the Union church a missionary sermon was preached by Rev. J. B. Ranger, who took for his text Acts i, 8, "And ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in Judea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost parts of the earth."

We like to read and to speak of those things which reveal the humanity of Christ, which show a likeness unto us, and declare him to be touched with the feeling of our infirmities. This text represents a trait which is common to mankind. Those things which most interest us are most in our thoughts, and speech about them is most upon our lips. We turn from contemplation of other matters to that which seems to us

OF PARAMOUNT INTEREST.

The great work of Christ was to save the souls of men. Beside that purpose all else became as nothing and as he was about to leave the world he spoke much to his disciples of the way in which this work might be continued.

We believe that the highest attainment possible to mankind is a likeness to Christ. This likeness is reached by seeking that which he sought, working for that for which he worked, and loving that which he loved. As he desired above all else that knowledge of his mission should be everywhere known, can we be like him and fail to attempt the spread of this knowledge?

These things are true of the nations which do not know the Savior. They were created by God, and there are before them great possibilities. Possibilities of advancement in knowledge, in culture, in character. This has been proven again and again as the light from Christian lands has reached some benighted soul or nation. They have a right to know these truths and have we a right to withhold the truth from them? Jesus lived and died for mankind because of his great love for the world. The great apostles told the story of the cross and the resurrection because of their love for the world. We shall do our part in this work, if it be done, because of love for the world. May we be workers together with God to the end that his kingdom come upon earth.

CHRIST DIED FOR THEM,

Obituary.

MARY P. VOSE.

The funeral services of Miss Mary P. Vose were held on Saturday, May 24, at 2 p. m., at the home of her father, Warren Vose of Kingfield, Rev. W. S. Ballou officiating.

Miss Vose was born in New Portland, Aug. 26, 1864, daughter of Warren and Matilda Vose. In the ninth year of her age, her parents moved to Kingfield where they have since resided. Her life has been spent at home in such devoted and faithful service to the home loves as to leave a void in its life not to be filled. But while ministering to the lives of others, her own life was so shadowed with misfortune that those who loved her can hardly wish her back, resting as we do, in the faith that for her all the limitations of earthly life have widened into the glorious liberty of a child of God. She will be greatly missed by many friends and in the home circle, where father, mother, two brothers and a sister are left to mourn her loss.

JOHN L. WILLIAMSON.

Mr. John L. Williamson, Kingfield's grand old man, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Lucinda Winter, Sunday morning, May 11. Silently as the evening shadows gather, the mist of death stole o'er him and peacefully he closed his eyes in the sleep that knows no waking here. He was a remarkably well preserved old gentleman and was in the full possession of his faculties up to the very last. At no time during his last illness did he suffer acutely. He was spared great physical pain but patiently and with implicit confidence he awaited the summons "Come home."

For eighty-five years he was a faithful servant of the Master, and during all these years remained an devoted member of the Free Baptist society. Never was he known to doubt; never did his faith weaken, but grew stronger and stronger and he went down like a shock of corn fully ripe for the garner above. How beautiful are the years pass by to grow more confident, to rest more secure.

His funeral took place Tuesday, May 13, the service being held at the Free Baptist church, conducted by the pastor, assisted by Rev. H. V. Davis of the Methodist church and Rev. H. S. Truman of the Evangelical church. His remains were taken to a room at the next day and interred by the side of his companion in life.

Nine children survive him, six girls and three boys, all being present at the funeral excepting John P., the son living in Pogo-nock, Conn., the message having failed to reach him in time. Mrs. Vose, his niece, and her husband, from Madison drove up and were present at the funeral.

A. E. SAUNDERS.

MRS. O. C. DOLBIER.

The funeral services of Mrs. O. C. Dolbier were held Wednesday, May 14, at 1 p. m., at the Universalist church, Kingfield, Rev. W. S. Ballou officiating. Mrs. Dolbier, daughter of Franklin and Mary West, was born at Constantia, Oneida county, N. Y., June 13, 1878. In 1892 Mr. West brought his family to Kingfield, where they have since made it their home. Here, Nov. 1, 1896, she was united in marriage to O. C. Dolbier. She passed away Monday, May 12, 1902, after a brief illness, leaving three small children motherless.

It is double duty now.

If she could speak, she'd say,

"Let not the ones we loved—

Now I have gone away—

"Be poor in love or care;

Be mother in my place.

And let them not forget

Their absent mother's face.

"Some day, who knows, perchance

Where friends can ne'er forget,

They'll clasp me in their arms,

And call me mother yet."

The sympathy of many friends goes out to Mr. Dolbier in the great loss of wife and mother.

ALFRED BERRY.

Mr. Alfred Berry, aged 75 years, died at the home of his son, George, at Salem, May 12. Deceased had been unwell for several years and was able to be around and do light work until within a few days of his death. About eight years ago he came to Salem from Chester, Penobscot county, with a part of his family, the children remaining and settling, two in Penobscot and one in Aroostook county.

Shortly after his arrival at Salem he united with the Free Baptist church and was, until his death, an active and consistent member of the church.

He was ever an enthusiastic supporter of all measures for the betterment of the moral and spiritual development of his fellow men. His sickness he bore with Christian fortitude and died rich in faith, leaving a record of a life well lived.

His funeral took place Wednesday afternoon, May 14, the services at his home and public place of worship being conducted by the Rev. J. B. Ranger. He was laid to rest in the cemetery. His remains and conducted the funeral in a simple and consistent manner. Deceased leaves seven children, three sons and four daughters. Lydia and John, who live at Chester; Josie, in Aroostook county; Matilda, wife of E. Pliny, in Weld; Emma, wife of Geo. Tash, in Freeman; Stillman, at Kingfield, and George, with whom he lived in Salem.

He was a kind father, a good neighbor, and will be greatly missed as a Christian worker in that place.

A. E. SAUNDERS.

SARAH V. BOOKER.

Mrs. Sarah V. Booker died at her home in Richmond on May 21. Mrs. Booker was the daughter of Gilbert and Nancy Voter and was born in Farmington in 1829. She married Jefferson Booker in 1861 and they lived in Lewiston for a long time, going to Richmond about sixteen years ago. They had two daughters. One died in infancy and the other is the wife of E. P. Curtis of that place. She leaves three sisters and four brothers—Mrs. Ira B. Davenport and Mrs. J. W. Shepard of Phillips and Mrs. H. H. Truitt of Freeman, Laforest Voter of Avon, W. S. Voter of Richmond, Allen B. Voter of Everett, Mass., and Lewis Voter of Farmington, the last mentioned being the youngest of eight children. With the exception of Mrs. Booker's father, who died in 1863, aged 52 years, this is the first death in the family. Two of her brothers served in the Civil War, Laforest enlisting in the 12th Maine in 1861 and Warren S. in the 28th Maine in 1862, both serving until the close of the war. Mrs. Booker was a faithful wife, a loving mother, and a kind and true friend, and will be sadly missed by her many friends in Richmond, Lewiston and Franklin county. Mrs. Booker was a member of the Free Baptist church in Richmond. The funeral was in Richmond from her late residence, Friday, May 23, at 2 p. m., and the four brothers acted as pall bearers. The burial was at the Reed cemetery.

Lang Plantation.

In a spelling match between Coplin and Lang schools, after an interesting contest, all went down but one from Coplin, Miss Sarah Blackwell, who spelled the word correctly, thus winning for Coplin.

The roads have recently been repaired from Dead River Station to Stratton.

A ball game is being arranged between the Coplin and Stratton school teams for next Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Leo Taylor and wife came from Rangleley and spent Sunday with his mother.

AMONG THE FARMERS.

A Prosperous Avon Farmer Who Takes Time For Recreation.

Chat About Profits in Oxen, Cows, Grain and Apples.

Work Can Be Done Cheaper With Oxen Than With Horses.

PHILLIPS, June 3, 1902.

To the Editor of the Maine Woods:

Seven hundred and forty acres of land is what Fred Morton of Avon owns, two hundred acres being tillage and pasture and five hundred and forty acres, wood and timberland. Enough hay was cut on this farm last year so that twenty-eight cattle, fifteen sheep and two horses were kept, and twenty tons of hay remain now in the barn. Twelve good cows make up the dairy on this farm, the cream being sold to the Turner Centre creamery. Four heavy oxen are kept to do the farm work, which, by the way, has always been the practice on this farm.

Mr. Morton says: "Dairying is the best hold the farmers have now and will be right along. The factories are always going to make the butter, for the market never will again call for the home made article. The market gets from the factories, butter all of the same grade, while the home made will show as many kinds as there are makers. No two women can make butter just alike. It is no use talking, the butter factories have come to stay. I know it used to be harped around that the cow business was being overdone, and that the time was close at hand when the butter market would be glutted, but the fact is the demand for good butter is increasing every year and the farmer who puts in a herd of good dairy cows makes no mistake."

Mr. Morton plants an acre or two of yellow corn each year and sows a good acreage of peas and oats. He says: "Peas and oats are the best crop, for a grain crop, of anything the farmer can raise. It yields well and is one of the best of feeds for cows. The farmers could raise the most of their grain and much cheaper, too, than they can buy it in Chicago. The orchard, if well cared for, is one of the most valuable adjuncts of the farm. It is a poor tree indeed that will not pay its owner a net profit of $1 per year after it comes into bearing."

The orchard on this farm consists of five hundred trees just coming into bearing. Ben Davis, Baldwins and King of Tompkins are the principal varieties. Mr. Morton would recommend to graft all native trees on the farm to Baldwins, for the true way to have the best success with Baldwins is to graft into native stock.

Mr. Morton handles quite a lot of oxen and cows, always being ready to buy a good yoke of cattle or a cow and as ready to sell again. He says: "There is more of a call for oxen this spring than for a long time and they are bringing good prices, too. There never has been a time when it did not pay good money to raise up a pair oxen and it is a thrifty farmer who always has a pair or two of steers on hand."

Mr. Morton's farm is under good cultivation and its owner is a pusher and a hard working man, but at the same time he takes some time for recreation each year. He owns a nice cottage at Sweet's pond and spends a few days there each season when the fishing is on.

Up on the Lake road, so-called, about two and one-half miles from Phillips village, is located the fine and productive farm of Winfield S. Badger. Mr. Badger was born on this farm and has always lived here. Although not much attention has been paid to orcharding, yet what trees there are produce fine fruit. You will agree with me, I know, when I say this is admirable orchard land, for it adjoins the renowned thrifty young orchard of Miss Georgine Wilbur.

This farm has always been well cared for and kept under a good state of cultivation. The mowing fields are looked after and no stones are allowed to remain to bother the machinery. Seventeen head of cattle, twenty-five sheep and four horses were fed at the barn last winter and plenty of hay is yet on the mow. Mr. Badger is a firm believer in oxen and steers. "The farmers," he says, "would do their work very much cheaper with oxen and then they can be turned into cash any day." This gentleman was asked what he would do for teamsters to drive the oxen as the young men nowadays know nothing whatever of wielding the goad stick. "Why," replied Mr. Badger, "we'll raise up some boys and teach them the goad stick and its uses."

"I guess there is not much difference," says he, "in the profit received from sheep or cows, but at the same time I like to have some of both kinds." Two hundred acres comprise this farm, an excellent wood lot, plenty of the best of pasture land and tillage that will raise good crops of all kinds.

Mr. E. W. Blodgett has sold his black 4-year-old gelding to Will Miller of Auburn, for a long price. It has been a good while since so valuable a youngster went out of Phillips. This colt was foaled the property of Mr. Charles Plaisted, who lives up on the Wheeler road. Mr. Plaisted has raised, probably, more colts that have brought big money than any other man in Phillips.

Frank Berry of Madrid drives into Phillips, once in a while, with a fine span of colts 4 and 5 years old, which he is handling for Mr. Will Lufkin of Madrid.

Good horses are very scarce everywhere and yet some fine hitchers are still seen around in the Franklin county towns.

NOTES.

Mr. E. C. Lufkin of Phillips has a handsome grade Durham heifer, seven months old, that girls 4 feet, 4 inches. There is but very little white on her.

HORSES IN PHILLIPS.

Racers That Will Trot In Maine This Season.

More Fast Ones Here Than We Ever Had Before.

Phillips has more speed this spring than the town ever had before. She has taken a new lease of life in the line of fast horses. There are several that have marks away down and they will enter for money this season.

Baron Wood, 2.24, owned by L. A. Worthley of Avon, is a blood bay. He stands 15-2. He is a good race horse. It is claimed that he has paced a full mile in 2.15 and the last half in 1.06. Mr. Worthley intends to race Baron Wood this season in various places in the state.

The bay mare, Marcia T, by Saint Croix, is being handled by DeBerna Ross of Phillips for T. M. Parker. This mare paced a mile last season in 2.39, and drove a horse out in 2.28 1/4. She ought to beat 2.20 this year. She is looking and acting fine. She is a blood bay, 15-2, very handsome and a very fast walker.

Bird Wilkes is a bay gelding with black points, by Mary Bird, he by Jay Bird, he by George Wilkes; dam by Bayard Wilkes. This little fellow is only 14.2 tall. He weighs 800 pounds. His owners, Furbish & Butler of Rangeley, think he can go a 2.30 gait. He is being handled by Dr. J. H. Rollin of Phillips. He is often referred to as the handsomest little trotter in the state of Maine.

G. E. Rideout has Don, with a mark of 2.32. He is a chestnut. He is looking fine and acting well. He stands 15.3 and weighs 1,000 pounds. Mr. Rideout plans to drive him in some of this season's races. Mr. Rideout's 4-years-old stallion by Alcayono stands 15.2 and weighs about 1,000 pounds. Mr. Rideout says this horse can go a 2.40 gait and he intends to work him some later in the season.

Mary, owned by E. B. Whorff, proprietor of the Phillips Hotel, is one of the nicest gentlemen's drivers in the country. She is a bay with black points and nice style. Mr. Whorff does not claim any great amount of speed for this horse but those who have ridden behind her claim that she can step just a little, say 2.40 to wagon. A little later on you'll hear from Mary.

In Maine

The Oxford County Advertiser is mourning because the girls have to go to their lake alone. And this is a part of what it says:

"The ladies seem to be enjoying themselves on the lake, thus far this season at any rate, to the exclusion of Norway bipseds of the masculine gender. The latter cannot be dragged with a yoke of steers into joining hands and having one good party, be it a sleigh ride in winter or an excursion in summer. They prefer loafing about in the stores and the streets to having an evening of genuine enjoyment on a lake, within three minutes' walk of the centre of the village."

Aurora has a little goat which is qualified to share the fame of Mary's little lamb. Only the goat did not go to school. He tried to go to a sewing circle; and acted like an escaped lodge goat. This is the way an Aurora correspondent tells of the incident.

Two ladies while walking to the circle were accompanied by a goat whose company was not much wanted. He chased them into E. E. Rowe's shed, and tried to coax their way out by feeding out a paiful of potatoes which Mr. Rowe had cut to plant, but finally were obliged to call for help from a stout man who used a great many stones before he succeeded in driving the goat away. Mr. Rowe will present his bill at the next meeting of the circle.

SO WEARY.

Weary and worn out all the time. Back weak and lame and aching. Headache, Nervous, Restless, Excitable. The Kidneys are sick.

Doan's Kidney Pills

cure every symptom of Kidney Ills, from common backache to complicated urinary disorders.

Mrs. Mark Hyde, of 45 Thornley street, Pawtucket, R. I., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have been used by both my husband and two daughters, and the relief obtained in every case was very satisfactory. My husband was bothered off and on for a long time with pains across his back, which at times became very severe. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, and procured a box from W. L. Wood's drug store. He used them, and in a very short time was rid of the backache. I always keep Doan's Kidney Pills on hand, and would not be without them."

For sale by all druggists; 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

The brown mare Frona that Dr. Rollin has had since March is owned by John R. Toothaker of Rangeley. Her mark is 2.25 1/4. By Bayard Wilkes, 1st dam by Glenarm, 2nd dam by Daniel Boone, 3rd dam by General Knox. Dr. Rollin says she is the fastest mare he ever rode behind to a wagon. Mr. Toothaker will probably race her a little this season.

Frank Haley's Iona, by Allectus, is looking well and strong this spring. She is a fast mare without a mark. Last season she could go a mile in 2.40. She is a nice young mare, steady gaited and a good road horse.

Elijah W. Blodgett of Phillips, until last week, owned one of the handsomest large carriage horses in Maine. He is jet black and is shaped up as well as any pony. He stands 16.2 high and weighs 1200 pounds. He has a band some gait and is perfectly kind. He is four years old. The pedigree has been given in MAINE WOODS before. Mr. Blodgett thinks he is the handsomest horse he ever owned. If so, the horse is a good one.

The Five Year Limit.

PHILLIPS, ME., June 2, 1902.

To the Editor of the Maine Woods:

It has been more or less discussed and the question asked, why our Superintendent of Schools Carrier should give permission to any one child who is not five years old to attend school and not allow other children of the same age the same privilege of attending.

Rev. J. B. Ranger the Orator of the Day.

[Special correspondence to the MAINE WOODS.]

STRONG, June 3, 1902.

Memorial day was appropriately observed in Strong. After the dinner in the hall the procession headed by the G. A. R., and followed by the Relief Corps, schools and citizens marched to the cemetery.

The teachers had carefully taught the children the meaning of Memorial day and they entered into the spirit of the day with enthusiasm. They sang several selections at the cemetery during the ceremony of decorating the graves.

The address by Rev. Mr. Ranger kept the close attention of the audience to the last. He made an earnest appeal that Memorial day be observed in a fitting manner, not with the ball game and horse race, though they may be all right in their places, but in a suitable way to honor and recall the memory of our fallen heroes, who gave their lives that we might have the blessings of the great and undivided nation.

The speaker showed in a very clear manner how the seeds of discord were planted in the nation with its first colonies. The colony of Jamestown, Va., was composed of masters and servants and a record a few years later says that "twenty niggers" were bought by that colony. The spirit of arrogance and greed was there from the founding of the colony.

This was in direct opposition to the spirit of the colony at Plymouth, whose constitution said that their laws should be equal and just. These two principles so directly opposed to each other that when developed they must bring discord and strife which they did in the great Civil war.

His tribute to Abraham Lincoln was especially tender and appreciative, but he said 'God's plans were greater than Lincoln's.' Lincoln said "The Union shall be preserved with or without slavery." God said "The Union shall be preserved and slavery shall be abolished." And it was so.

Miss Eda Willard read that memorable speech of Lincoln at Gettysburg and Miss Addie McLain read a very sweet poem.

The selections of music were very finely rendered, especially the trio by Mrs. Dyer and Misses Annie Howard and Frankie Keene. The music for this was composed for the occasion by Mrs. Dyer.

Rev. Mr. Whitcomb, the pastor of the Methodist church, in a very pleasing manner introduced the orator of the day and pronounced the benediction.

Miss Leona Fogg, who is teaching in Embden, made a short visit at home Friday and Saturday.

Miss Nellie Porter of Anson was in town Friday and Saturday.

The ball game Friday between the Strong and Phillips teams resulted in a victory for the Strong boys, the score being 14 to 8.

The drama, "The Spy of Gettysburg," was given by the High school Friday evening to a full house. The acting was highly spoken of.

The pulpits of both churches were supplied by new men last Sunday; the Methodist by Rev. Mr. Gillis of California and the Congregational by Rev. Mr. Peterson, the new pastor.

The social dance Saturday evening was well attended. Jones's orchestra furnished music.

by the temperature of the atmosphere.

We have a good supply of hot weather goods, and sell to every customer, not because we are good salesmen, but the reason is that the merchandise is good, and the prices right.

Yesterday we supplied some with shirt waists, storm skirts, crash skirts, wash skirts, suits; while others bought gingham, underwear, hosiery, corsets, wrappers, etc.

Today and tomorrow we will be glad to accommodate as many as time will permit.

—Mrs. M. A. Hood is the possessor of 81 turkey chicks.

—Edith Hoyt has returned from her visit to Livermore Falls.

—E. S. Bubier picked a handful of nice ripe strawberries on June 1.

—Mr. F. B. Sweetser returned to his work in Livermore Falls Tuesday.

—Mrs. Ellen Turner, Mrs. C. E. Parker and Master Glidden went to Newark Tuesday.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Schofield and daughter of Rangeley came the last of the week to call on relatives.

—Mr. Chas. E. Dill lost a good horse Tuesday. He had worked the horse on the road machine the day before.

—Mr. Arthur Taylor returned from Wilton Saturday. He started for Rumford Falls Tuesday morning.

—Workmen on the road on Blake hill were surprised Tuesday to hear a bullet whistle by within a few feet of their heads.

—Mr. Fred Voter returned Tuesday from Willimantic where he has been at work. He will visit for a few days before going back to work.

—The pupils of the High school have presented to the superintendent and school board a petition asking that the grounds be beautified.

—The saw crew at Austin & Co.'s mill sawed a cord of birch last Saturday in just thirty minutes. Mr. Alward of New Vineyard runs the big saw.

—Mr. O. G. Andrews and daughter, Hattie, of Gardiner, have been here the past week setting a monument in memory of Capt. Benj. Whitney. While here they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Cushman.

—A lady recently stepped into one of the stores in town and asked for a "pound of affectionates." "Will you have these mixed careases?" the clerk asked. She thought she would, and he dealt out a pound of kisses—candy ones.

—Not much birch in the round will be left in Austin & Co.'s yard by the middle of June. The birch in this yard is very nice and the boys are sawing from it excellent spool bars which are being stuck up under the supervision of Mr. Frank Orbeton.

—Phillips teacher—What is an active verb? Scholar—An active verb is one that represents action. Phillips teacher—What is a passive verb? Scholar—A passive verb is one that represents passion. Phillips teacher—What is Memorial day? Scholar—Washington's birthday.

—Rev. J. B. Ranger has been entertaining the past week, his mother, Mrs. Mary Ranger, his niece, Miss Maud Ranger, and his nephew, Mr. Chester Ranger, all of East Wilton. Miss Ranger is to teach the Cushman school on account of the sickness of the teacher, Miss Thompson.

—The people of Phillips should not fail to hear the 1902 Glee club of the Farmington State Normal school. They will give an entertainment in Lambert hall, Saturday evening. They have given a number of concerts and their work has been very highly spoken of. They should have a full house here.

—Excelsior Pomona grange holds a memorial service at Farmington June 15. They extend a cordial invitation to all patrons in this part of the county to join them on that day. It is expected that the services will be held in the Congregational church with the Rev. E. R. Smith as speaker. The program to be printed in the Farmington Chronicle as soon as mapped out.

—It is reported that a scarlet tanager has been seen near M. H. Davenport's. These birds are not often seen in this vicinity. About two years ago, one was seen over in the Dill woods, and a great many people went over there to get a sight of the bird. As they stay around for several hours in the same vicinity, people have an opportunity to go and look at them.

—Some of the children went into the store of E. R. Toothaker a few days ago and said they were going to burn up the Methodist church. Mr. Toothaker went out and looked around to see what they had done, but found no traces of fire. Later the children came in and he asked them if their fire burned, and they said it had gone out. He looked around again and found in the horse sheds a box and papers that had been set on fire, but fortunately did not burn long.

PAIN IN THE BACK.

A Sure Sign of Kidney Trouble. Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy will cure you.

Pain in the back is a never failing sign of kidney disease; another sure sign is the condition of the urine; if you have a pain in the back then look to the condition of your urine. Take a glass tumbler and fill it with urine; after it has stood 24 hours, if it has a sediment, if it is milky or cloudy, pale or discolored, stringy orropy, your kidneys and bladder are in a dangerous condition and need immediate attention, or the consequences may prove fatal.

F. C. Wilcox of 559 New Britain Ave., Hartford, Conn., says:

"I had a frightful pain in my back, the result of kidney trouble. My physician seemed powerless to relieve me. I determined to try Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy; it helped me wonderfully, and in a short time cured me completely."

Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is the one medicine that really cures all diseases of the kidneys, liver, bladder and blood, rheumatism, dyspepsia and chronic constipation. It is wonderful how it makes that pain in the back disappear, how it relieves the desire to urinate often, especially at night, and drives away that scalding pain in passing water and makes you well and strong.

It is for sale by all druggists in the New 50 Cent Size and the regular $1.00 size bottles—less than a cent a dose.

Sample bottle—enough for trial, free by mail.

Lucier's Minstrels.

When you see a good show REMEMBER THE NAME.

The well known Lucier's Novelty Comedy Company of minstrel fame will appear at Furbish Hall, Rangeley, Saturday, June 7; Lambert Hall, Phillips, Monday, June 9; Kingfield, June 10; Strong, June 11.

Grand street parade each noon by their Russian Uniformed Band.

Local News Department.

—Clifford Libby has finished work for the present at Rumford Falls and returned to Phillips Tuesday.

—The Phillips High school ball nine will play a nine from the Strong High school at the park, Saturday afternoon.

—The King's Daughters will meet Friday evening with Miss Albertine Butterfield at the home of Mrs. Fremont Scamman.

—Miss Mabel Hunter came home from her school in the Butterfield neighborhood, Tuesday night, suffering from an abscess in the throat. She hopes to be able to resume her duties Monday.

—Arrangements have been made with the Sandy River railroad for a special from Farmington to connect with the Maine Central at Farmington after the state convention in Portland, June 11.

—Miss Pearl Hoyt found a nest of a fresh water snipe the other day. The nest was simply a small depression in the dead grass. It contained two very large eggs (considering the size of the bird), which were mottled and odd looking.

—A special meeting of North Franklin Pomona Grange, P. of H., No. 22, will be held with Oquossoc grange, Rangeley, Thursday, June 19 at 10 a. m., to do whatever work that comes within the ritual. Picnic dinner.

CLARA A. FRENCH, Sec'y.

—At the regular meeting of James E. Cushman Post, No. 87, G. A. R., held at their hall Saturday, May 31, it was voted to extend sincere thanks to all who kindly assisted them in their Memorial day exercises. Also thanks to the citizens of the town for their interest and attendance.

W. S. RUSSELL, Adj't.

—The Lucier's Novelty Comedy company, too well known in this section to require any introduction, is billed for Monday night, June 9. The company also play in Rangeley, Kingfield and Strong. Read their advertisement in another column. It will be remembered that this is the company that has the famous blind musician for a leader. Nobody was ever disappointed in a Lucier show.

—A company went to Gull pond Sunday as the guests of Mr. Fletcher Pope, vice president of the Phillips & Rangeley railroad. In the party were Mr. Fletcher Pope, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Shepard, Miss Everdene Shepard, Mr. Arthur Shepard, Mr. F. N. Beal, the members of the Two Jolly Rovers show company, Mr. T. J. Mahan, Mrs. Ida Butterfield, Mr. J. W. School Notes.

A lyceum will be held in the High School room Friday afternoon in which the following program will be carried out: Recitations by Emma Timberlake, Pearl Hoyt, Harold Ross, Blanche Landers; essays by Blaine Beal, Victor Staples, Gertrude Cushman, Lynwood Toothaker; selections on the phonograph; quotations from James Russell Lowell, all; debate, Resolved That Labor Union is an Injury to the Country. Affirmative, Henry True, Blanche Calden; negative, Everdene Shepard, Floy Kelley.

Some of the pupils in the physiology class, when asked to find out how many times their pulse beat in a minute, remarked they hadn't any.

The seniors are busy rehearsing their drama, "Diamonds and Hearts," which is to be given in the near future.

The High school pupils, with the teachers and a few others, are planning on climbing Mount Blue next Saturday if pleasant.

The basketball team feel a little out of practice, as they have not played for a week, owing to rainy weather.

Ball Teams.

The small boys in the village seem to be pretty well filled with the baseball spirit. Two nines have been organized.

The Young Curves have as their club, the following: Willie Frazier, catcher; Levi Leavitt, pitcher; Ivan Harlow, 1st base; Ralph Cragin, 2nd base; Earland Staples, 3rd base; Cecil Harnden, short stop; Dannie Miner, right field; Bert McKinney, centre field; Floyd Parker, left field. They have bought new suits.

The Nine Curves have also organized. Their numbers are made up of Linwood Brown, catcher; Floyd Parker, pitcher; Bernard Beedy, 1st base; Harry Chandler, 2nd base; John Thomas, 3rd base; Ralph Harnden, short stop; Harold Hoyt, left field; Otto Harnden, centre field; Perley Phillips, right field. They will buy for themselves suits.

My little son had an attack of whooping cough and was threatened with pneumonia; but for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy we would have had a serious time of it. It also saved him from several severe attacks of croup.

MEMORIAL DAY EXERCISES.

Inspiriting Music Furnished by the Kingfield Band.

Address and Remarks Enthusiastically Received.

"Three Cheers and a Tiger" For Orator of the Day.

The exercises for the observance of Memorial day were in the hands of Jas. E. Cushman Post, G. A. R., and heartily did these veterans enter upon the performance of these duties. The weather conditions were not perfect, and the threatening rain was a disturbing element.

The line formed at the upper village in front of the Grange hall soon after 9.30. The forces were marshaled by Adjutant W. S. Russell. The Kingfield band was at the head of the procession and furnished very acceptable music. After the band came True Blue Council, No. 44, Jr. O. U. A. M., as escort, Jas. E. Cushman Post, No. 87, members of the schools and the citizens.

The line marched down Main street, Pleasant street, up Sawyer street, Main street, School street and to the cemetery, where the people assembled around the monument. The following program was then carried out:

Prayer, Rev. J. A. Ford
Singing, Choir
Remarks, Quartermaster F. B. Sweetser
Music, J. W. Brackett
Reading, H. B. Austin
Singing, Miss Lillian Sweetser
Choir

The grave of every soldier boy was remembered and decorated, not a one in the place but was the richer by some token left there by loving hands of comrades. These exercises finished, the Post, Jr. O. U. A. M., Relief corps and guests were served a dinner in the Grange hall.

In the afternoon, the column formed at 1.30 and marched to Lambert hall where the exercises of the afternoon were to be. The hall was filled and many were obliged to remain standing during the exercises. The program:

Music, Band
Prayer, Rev. J. A. Ford
Reading of the Memorial Orders, Adjutant W. S. Russell
Music, Blaine Morrison
Singing, Choir
Poem, Miss Blanche Kenniston
Music, Band
Poem, Miss Faye Haines
Address, H. F. Beedy, Esq.
Benediction.

At the close of the address a little feature was introduced that was not on the program, but was none the less enthusiastically carried out. Mr. J. W. Brackett came forward and suggested that the audience rise and give three rousing cheers for the speaker. The people were not slow to respond and they made the walls ring with their "three cheers and a tiger."

Mr. Beedy's address was enthusiastically received, and for a half hour he held the closest attention of his hearers. Tracing the history of our nation from its infancy, the speaker told of our growth till we are one of the world powers. The spirit of the minute-men of the Revolution is the spirit of today. Touching reference was made to the heroes who fought and bled for their country and for those who gave up their lives for the land they loved. Those who now decorate the graves of their fallen comrades will soon follow them, and the duty must be taken up by others.

Mr. Beedy dwelt upon the patriotism that was exhibited by our countrymen, paying a glowing tribute to their loyalty and bravery. He warmly endorsed granting pensions to the old soldiers and to those who were left without support by their death. Too much honor cannot be given to the defenders of our flag. They deserve it all.

High honor was paid to the heroic dead, those who were foremost in the ranks and fell while fighting and those who have died since the war. Their sacrifice has made us a united country.

While we honor the officers, we must not forget the soldiers in the ranks. Without their prompt obedience and bravery the outcome of the wars would have been changed. It was to these, particularly, that he gave credit. They bore the brunt of the battle and won the victory.

Commander J. H. Ellis has great credit for the admirable manner in which the exercises of the day were carried out. To the committee of arrangements, also, is due much for the excellent and successful program.

A large crowd was in attendance the entire day and every one spoke in highest terms of the exercises, praising alike the officers and those who assisted them.

The officers of the post are: Commander, J. H. Ellis; senior vice, Chas. Fairbanks; junior vice, Allison Parker; chaplain, Wm. H. McKeen; Q. M., Fred B. Sweetser; officer of the day, Cyrus N. Young; officer of the guard, Ezra McKeen; Adj't., W. S. Russell; committee of arrangements, Wm. H. McKeen, Ezra McKeen, J. H. Ellis.

The Kingfield band furnished excellent music throughout the day, and their appearance in Phillips again will give much pleasure to our people. Vocal selections were rendered in the cemetery and in the hall by a choir composed of Miss Cora E. Wheeler, Mrs. J. M. Wheeler, Messrs. J. B. Noble and E. E. Morse.

Virulent Cancer Cured.

Startling proof of a wonderful advance in medicine is given by druggist G. W. Roberts of Elizabeth, W. Va. An old man there had long suffered with what good doctors pronounced incurable cancer. They believed his case hopeless till he used Electric Bitters and applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve, which treatment completely cured him. When Electric Bitters are used to expel bilious, kidney and microbe poisons at the same time this salve exerts its matchless healing power, blood diseases, skin eruptions, ulcers and sores vanish. Bitters, 50c, Salve, 25c at W. A. D. Cragin's, Phillips; C. E. Dyer's, Strong; E. H. Whitney's, Rangeley; L. L. Mitchell's, Kingfield.

North Franklin Grange.

The regular meeting of North Franklin grange, held May 31, was well attended. All four degrees were conferred. It was voted to have an all day's meeting Saturday, June 14, meeting to begin at 10 a. m., sharp. Degrees to be worked in the forenoon. This grange is gaining steadily and much interest manifested.

Road Petition.

To the Honorable County Commissioners of the County of Franklin and State of Maine.

We, the undersigned, selectmen of the town of Freeman in said County of Franklin, hereby respectfully represent that common convenience and necessity require a change in the location of the highway in said town of Freeman leading from New Portland to Freeman Center, to avoid a bad washout, and ask that a new location be made as follows, to wit: Beginning at a point in said highway near the New Portland town line, thence in a westerly direction by the most feasible route, forty or fifty rods, running into said highway at the foot of the hill.

And we respectfully ask that so much of said highway as shall be rendered useless by said new location be discontinued.

And we further ask that the highway in said town of Freeman, leading from Walker Corner to the road that leads to North Freeman near the Bray place, be discontinued.

And we further ask that the highway leading from Walker Corner to John N. Richards' land in said town of Freeman, be discontinued.

And as in duty bound we will ever pray,

Dated at Freeman this 15th day of May, A. D. 1902.

FRANKLIN, SS: At a Court of County Commissioners, April term, 1902, second day, held by adjournment May 16th, A. D. 1902.

On the foregoing petition, satisfactory evidence having been received that the petitioners are responsible, and that an enquiry into the merits is expedient, and that they ought to be heard touching the matter set forth in said petition, it is ordered that thirty days' previous notice be given, that the County Commissioners will meet at the town house in said Freeman on Friday the twenty-seventh day of June, 1902, at ten o'clock in the forenoon; and thence proceed to view the route set forth in said petition, and other routes and roads connected therewith, and immediately afterwards hear the parties and their witnesses, and then take such further measures in the premises as may be adjudged proper. Said notice to be given by serving attested copies of said petition and this order thereon, upon the clerk of the said town of Freeman, and by posting up such copies in three public places in said town, and publishing the same in the MAINE WOODS, a publication printed in Phillips, in said county, that all persons and corporations interested therein attend and be heard if they think proper.

Attest, B. M. SMALL, Clerk.

COUNTY CONVENTION.

Republicans Nominate County Officers at Farmington.

Old Officers Called to Serve Another Term.

Contests For Some of the Desirable Officers.

[Special correspondence to the MAINE WOODS.]

FARMINGTON, June 4, 1902.

The Republicans of Franklin county, by their delegates, met in convention at Farmington Tuesday, June 3, in Music hall. The convention was called to order by H. H. Rice, chairman of the Republican county committee. The call for the convention was then read by J. S. Moores, after which, prayer was offered by Rev. E. R. Smith of the Old South church.

Hon. C. N. Blanchard, of Wilton, was nominated temporary chairman. J. M. S. Hunter, J. W. Brackett and G. G. Witham were appointed temporary secretaries. Upon taking the chair Mr. Blanchard made a forceful address which was enthusiastically received. He gave a review of the work of the Republican party, showing that the beneficial laws under which we have lived for many years were made by them. He told of the Wilson tariff bill and its effect upon the prosperity of our nation, and how good times returned when the Grand Old party again regained power. Then our industries were restored to life. Our nation is now a marvel and an object of envy to other nations—the result of the doings of the Republican party. This party is a party of action and of progress; of promise and performance. A graceful tribute was paid to our late President McKinley and to his worthy successor, President Roosevelt. A tribute was also paid to our eminent statesmen, Blaine, Dingey, Frye and Littlefield.

The county committee was made a committee on credentials. A vote was taken that the members of the delegations be empowered to fill vacancies. The committee on credentials reported that out of 134 delegates 133 were present. The temporary organization was then made permanent. As a committee on resolutions, Chairman Blanchard appointed C. G. Dummer of Weld, Justus Webster of Chesterville, W. W. Norcross of New Sharon, Orren Tufts of Kingfield and H. B. Austin of Phillips.

At this point, nominations for senator were in order. E. E. Richards, Esq., of Farmington, presented the name of Geo. M. Currier of Farmington. Mr. Currier was nominated by acclamation.

The first contest was over the nomination for sheriff. The chairman appointed to receive, sort and count votes, H. W. Allen of Strong, A. J. Linscott of Jay and H. W. Lowell of Farmington. Mr. W. G. Mallett of Farmington nominated for the office, the present sheriff, James F. Worthley of Strong. It had been the custom to give county officers two terms and he saw no reason why the custom should be changed in this case. He had heard of no intent to do anything in opposition to the custom until a very short time ago. There has been nothing, he said, in the administration of Mr. Worthley to give reason for wanting a change. He believed it only an act of justice to renominate one of the faithful adherents of the party.

The name of A. J. Merriman of Jay was put in nomination by Geo. G. Gammon of that town. He said that Jay had not had her share of county officers and they thought they were entitled to consideration at the hands of the convention. He thought the county had forgotten there was such a town as Jay. The balloting resulted in 124 votes being cast. Of these Mr. Worthley had 91 and Mr. Merriman had 33. Mr. Worthley was declared the nominee.

For county commissioner, Chas. R. Hall of Wilton and Rufus C. Stone of Jay were presented to the convention. The former was nominated by Dr. Perkins of Wilton and the latter by Silas Wright of Jay. Messrs. Tainter of Carthage, Bridges of Wilton and Adams of Jay were appointed to receive, sort and count the votes. The balloting resulted in 84 votes for Chas. R. Hall and 48 for Rufus C. Stone.

H. S. Wing, Esq., of Kingfield was nominated by acclamation for county attorney, as was B. M. Small, Esq., for clerk of courts.

For register of probate two candidates appeared, F. W. Butler, Esq., of Farmington and Hon. N. P. Noble, of Phillips. Mr. Butler was nominated by Mr. Geo. W. Clark, and Mr. Noble by Mr. D. F. Field. As a committee to receive, sort and count votes, the chair appointed Messrs. Bangs of Farmington, Brackett of Phillips and Wilbur of Avon. The balloting resulted in F. W. Butler receiving 89 votes and N. P. Noble, 35.

Mr. C. F. Coburn was renominated by acclamation for register of deeds and Mr. C. P. Merrill was awarded the same for county treasurer.

The choice of members for the county committee was made as follows: H. H. Rice, Farmington; H. A. Furbish, Rangeley; C. F. Hodgkins, Temple; Enoch Bridges, Wilton, and F. O. Smith of New Vineyard.

The committee on resolutions presented the following, which were unanimously adopted:

Resolved—That the Republicans of Franklin county, in convention assembled, adopt the following resolutions:

Resolved—That this convention reaffirms and adheres to those fundamental principles which have built up and sustained the Republican party since its inception.

Resolved—That we deplore the untimely death of our late President, William McKinley, whose able and patriotic administration will be an inspiration and guide to all future presidents.

Resolved—That we pledge our hearty and loyal support.

Resolved—That we endorse the wise and economic administration of Governor Hill, and that we express our appreciation for the watchful attention of our interests by our Representative at the National capital.

Resolved—That we hereby pledge our earnest support to the nominees of this convention.

The towns were represented by the following delegates:

Farmington—E. E. Richards, A. F. Gammon, F. O. Lyford, H. R. Palmer, John W. Nichols, A. L. Fenderson, W. G. Mallett, Geo. W. Wheeler, J. Currier Tarbox, Jos. F. How to Avoid Trouble.

Now is the time to provide yourself and family with a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It is almost certain to be needed before the summer is over, and if procured now may save you a trip to town in the night or in your busiest season. It is everywhere admitted to be the most successful medicine in use for bowel complaints, both for children and for adults. No family can afford to be without it. For sale by W. A. D. Cragin, Phillips; E. H. Whitney, Rangeley; C. E. Dyer, Strong and L. L. Mitchell, Kingfield.

BEN BUTLER, TEACHER.

Big Girls Tamed by Lugging in Wood.

Dismissed With Assurance That They Were Strong Girls.

One time Benjamin Butler engaged to teach a school on Sylvester hill in Avon. There had been considerable trouble in this school, for a few terms previous, the big girls especially annoying the teachers, and causing them a good deal of uneasiness. So Ben Butler was hired, not only to teach them from books but, as it afterward proved, to give these same big girls a lesson or two in physical culture.

The school opened the first morning with nothing of unusual interest save a few sly glances from the girls to the boys as the exercises proceeded. All went along merrily until the afternoon session, when one of these same big girls raised her hand and asked if she might go out. The request being granted, another hand soon went up with the same appeal. "Please may I go out." The same performance was gone through with until Ben had let out five of those girls the largest in the school.

Ben heard a good deal of giggling outside and well knew that a scheme was on foot for a racket of some kind. Soon the laughter subsided, the girls ran into the wood shed, each loaded on a big armful of wood and came marching into the schoolroom. As they came through the door and passed along to the proper place for unloading, Ben saw each one of them give the wink to the boys as much as to say, "This is the first straw but not the last." After the wood had been thrown down and the girls had started for their seats, Ben said: "Hold on a moment, girls. You have done nobly and well. You are good and strong girls. Now I want you to go out and get another armful, each one of you, and keep on doing the same until I give you further orders."

The girls hesitated a little, but seeing the determination in the teacher's face, and realizing that he meant business, proceeded to carry out his instructions. The next armful there was no winking to the boys, neither at any time during the lugging in of a full half cord of that wood.

After it was well piled, the girls were ordered to their seats, with the assurance that they were smart girls and very muscular. Ben had no further occasion to speak to one of those girls again during the term and, in fact, ever afterward they were ladies instead of girls.

Before the Trial Justice.

Walter Wood, Oscar Welch and Wm. Wright were brought before Trial Justice Lakin Thursday afternoon in the office of H. F. Beedy, Esq., charged with making a riot under circumstances which were reported in last week's paper. Though the men stoutly affirmed their innocence of anything but drunkenness, and Mr. Wright claimed that he was not guilty of that, the justice fined them each $5 and costs. The fine amounted to $13.50.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Rules of the Contest.

It is essential to the contest that the names of not less than two contestants appear and remain actively engaged until the close. In the event of the withdrawal of all active candidates but one, there can be no contest and the prize will be withdrawn.

A coupon will be printed in each and every issue of the MAINE WOODS until and including Friday, Aug. 22, 1902, which will contain the last coupon. The contest will close at the paper's business office at 6 o'clock p. m. the following Monday, Aug. 25, when the votes will be counted by a committee representing the leading contestants.

1. For every yearly new subscriber to this paper at $1 two hundred votes will be given. A new subscriber may pay as many years in advance as he wishes and receive votes at the rate of 200 for each $1 per year paid; but all these payments must be made in advance at one time.

2. For every $1 paid by present subscribers, either arrearages of accounts or in advance on present subscription, one hundred votes will be given.

3. Changes in subscriptions from one member to another of the same family, etc., made for the obvious purpose of securing the increased number of votes given to new subscribers, cannot be permitted.

4. Each issue of the MAINE WOODS will contain one coupon, which, when filled out and delivered at the MAINE WOODS office, will count as one vote.

There will be no single votes for sale; votes can only be obtained as above set forth, or by clipping from the paper the votes that appear below.

Votes will be counted each Wednesday during the contest and the figures of such counting printed in the following issue of the paper.

—Miss Carsley, one of the soloists, who will sing here Saturday night, is a pupil of Mrs. W. E. Bachellor. Miss McMurray, the reader, is a finished elocutionist, one of the finest the state has produced. The duet by Miss Ladd of Farmington and Miss March of Bridgeton is a very fine thing.

—Those who tried to secure wild flowers for Memorial day report that they had very hard work to get any. The ones that bloomed early had passed and those that would have come along next in order and would have been ready last week were killed by the frost.

—The music lovers of Hebron academy and the entire vicinity were offered a very delightful concert here (Hebron) last evening by the 1902 Glee club of the Farmington State Normal school. The singing of the club and the work of the soloists were such as to call forth the pronounced enthusiasm and encores and recalls galore. —Lewiston Journal, May 28.

—Mr. Fremont Scamman has not yet recovered from the shock he received last Wednesday evening. Mrs. Scamman sent him down street on an errand, expecting him to come right back like a good little man, but he delayed his coming and made calls on the way. When he did reach home he found the house taken by a small company of neighbors who proceeded to punish him for the audacity of having a birthday at that particular time. We do not learn that he feels hard toward them, but it was a shock to him just the same.

THE PHILLIPS TWINS.

Young Men Much In Evidence In Phillips Society.

Wondered Why "Mose" Had Two of 'Em Just Alike.

Engravers Think They Receive Two Photos of Same Person.

Among the most popular young people in town are the well-known "Harden twins," Guy and Don. Not only do they have a local reputation, but the knowledge of them is wide. They came to bless and brighten the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Harden twenty-three years ago, and their lives have been spent, for the most part, in the village of their birth.

The modest, unassuming manners, and uniform courtesy of these twins have made them exceedingly popular with not only those of their own age, but with all who know them. Always thoughtful of others, they have a large place in the hearts of all their acquaintances.

GUY L. HARDEN.

Twenty-three years ago these boys did not carry much weight in the community, though 3½ and 4 pounds of young humanity, with its claims backed up by a lusty voice can often have a great deal of influence. At any rate, these were the weights of the boys when they made their appearance into the world. Since that time there has seldom been a difference of two pounds in their weights.

As will be seen from the cuts here presented, they now bear a striking resemblance to each other. Of course, the likeness between them is not so marked as it was when they were younger. An amusing little incident is told of a little girl who used to live near them and who used to play with them a great deal, but who could not, for the life of her, tell them apart. Whenever she saw them going by she would say, "Hello, Guy—Don, I guess," and by so doing would be sure to get the right one.

When Fred Burns, as all the Phillips people call him, was a small boy and used to live at the Elmwood, Mr. Harden took the twins up to show them to him. Fred looked at them for a moment in surprise, and then managed to say, "Why, Mose, what did you have two of 'em just alike for?"

When the boys were quite young, their father was out walking with them, and met Mr. and Mrs. W. A. D. Cragin, who had but a short time before moved into town. Mrs. Cragin studied them for a time, and then declared that she could tell them apart. Mr. Cragin told her he thought she had not learned them. In about twenty minutes they all met again, and Mr. Cragin asked his wife to point out Guy. With all the confidence in the world, she pointed to Don.

As they grew older they became a source of trouble to a larger circle, and their teachers were often confounded beyond measure to find that when they were sure they had learned the boys that they were entirely at sea. Guy and Don used to wear stick pins with their initials on them. The teachers thought that would be a sure way of telling them apart, only to find that as soon as they were able to do so, the boys would quietly swap pins.

Mr. Harden says that only once to his knowledge was one of the boys sick without the other being sick at the same time. They are now just as thoughtful of each other as they are of themselves.

It was their fond ambition, at one time, to be physicians, then there would be the Drs. Harden. It would have made little difference which one was summoned to a case, for the patient could never have told which one of them called except by the slight difference in their voices. But this condition is not to be as only Don is to follow the medical profession. He kept up the reading of medicine and entered the Maine Medical school at Brunswick last winter. Guy has turned in another direction and is reading law with Timberlake & Noble of this town.

During the spring, Don was at home for a vacation for a few days, and going into his father's barber shop one day, saw Frank Orbeton. Now Frank had always known the boys and ought to have been able to distinguish between them if anybody could. Don went up to him and shook hands with him and was very glad to see him. Frank thought there was some joke and said to him, "Seems to me you are mighty glad to see me today, what's the matter?" Explanations followed and Frank was very glad to see Don, then.

It is seldom that one finds two young men whose musical talents are so nearly equal. Both are tenor singers, both play the violin and cornet. Don was, for some time before going to Brunswick, the tenor singer at the Union church. In their work in the schools they were very much alike, and were always near the head of their class. Both are graduates of Phillips High school, class of '97.

They have both been ushers at the Union church at the same time, and it is no wonder that strangers were perplexed at seeing them. One lady who attended church there saw them going down the aisles with the boxes, and remarked to one of the town's people that she didn't see how one young man could pass the box on both sides of the church at once.

Not long ago, a young lady from the west was visiting at Mr. Harden's and went with Guy to a party at Dr. Tukey's one evening. Don did not start out at the same time as he was just preparing for the event. Soon after the young lady came into the reception room, Guy came from the dressing room and sat down beside her and began to talk. Thinking it was Don, she said, "How did you get here so quickly?" I thought we left you at home changing your clothes.

For years, Guy has worked in the barber shop with his father, and Don has done the same at times. A year ago Guy went to Rangeley and bartered at the Rangeley Lake House for the summer. During this time, Don took his place in the shop. One day a guest from the Rangeley Lake House came in to have Moses shave him. He was about to be seated in the chair when he spied Don. He started back and said, "Well, it doesn't make much difference to you where you work, does it?" Don assured him that it didn't. "Why, last week I left you at the Rangeley Lake House barbing." Don told him he thought he must have his twin brother in mind, as he was up there then.

That next fall Don went to work for the MAINE WOODS. One Monday morning as he was about to take the train for Kingfield, three young ladies from the Rangeley Lake House saw him. "There's Guy," said one. "It looks like him," said the second. The third was still more cautious. She said, "It looks like him, but he has a twin brother, and this may be he." Don overheard their conversation, and walked through the car without noticing them at all, thus setting their minds at rest and answering their question.

One of the most amusing cases of mistaken identity of these twins was one that appeared in these columns last summer, under the title, "The Harden Duplicates." This will be well remembered and we do not use it again.

Not the least interesting incident about the boys happened when their photos were sent away for the purpose of having cuts made from them. About the time that the cuts were expected a letter was received from the engravers stating that they had received certain photos, and that two of them were evidently of the same person, and asking if a mistake had not been made in sending them.

TO YOUNG LADIES.

From the Treasurer of the Young People's Christian Temperance Association, Elizabeth Caine, Fond du Lac, Wis.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I want to tell you and all the young ladies of the country, how grateful I am to you for all the benefits I have received from using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I suffered for eight months from suppressed menstruation, and it effected my entire system until I became weak and debilitated, and at times felt that I had a hundred aches in as many places. I only used the Compound for a few weeks, but it wrought a change in me which I felt from the very beginning. I have been very regular since, have no pains, and find that my entire body is as if it was renewed. I gladly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to everybody."—Miss Elizabeth Caine, 69 W. Division St., Fond du Lac, Wis.—$5000 forfeit if about testimonial is not genuine.

At such a time the greatest aid to nature is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It prepares the young system for the coming change, and is the surest reliance for woman's ills of every nature.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all young women who are ill to write her for free advice. Address Lynn, Mass.

RANGELEY NEWS NOTES.

Enlargement and Remodeling of Rangeley Cemetery.

Commencement Concert Given by High School Class.

[Special correspondence to the MAINE WOODS.]

RANGELEY, June 3, 1902.

The "Two Jolly Rovers" show which was given at Furbish hall last week was much enjoyed by all present.

Misses Helen Haines and Nellie Lamb, with Dalton Haley as guide, fished Quimby pond Friday. They each had a good string of trout on their return.

Ed Lowell has been at the Mountain View guiding the past week.

Mrs. F. B. Peabody has been ill this week.

Mr. and Mrs. John Clarke have moved into Mr. John Collins's house on Allen street.

Mrs. Will Schofield and daughter have been in Phillips visiting recently.

Miss Emma Russell has been ill with liver trouble.

Ara Ross has been very ill with pneumonia.

Wallace, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Welch, is gaining slowly. He has had pneumonia.

Miss Eveline Oakes of Bemis visited her sister, Mrs. A. L. Robertson, over Sunday.

Ira Hoar is having an addition built onto his house on Middle street.

Wm. Tomlinson will soon move into his new house on Middle street. He was in Farmington one day recently and bought his furniture. Earle Hinton took Mr. Tomlinson's place at the Rangeley Lake House while he was away.

Anthony Tibbets has built a new piazza onto his residence on Allen street which improves the looks very much. Ed Lamb did the carpenter work.

J. R. Toothaker is enlarging his stable in the village. Mr. Toothaker will also build another large barn this spring.

The Commencement concert given in Furbish hall, Saturday evening, was a grand success in every way. The following program was carried out:

Instrumental duet,	Misses Starbird and Small	Class of 1902
March,	"Beautiful Springtime,"	Class of 1902

After this program there was a social hop which was much enjoyed by all present.

Miss Prudence Richardson is keeping books at the Mercantile store.

Miss Mabel Starbird of West Farmington was the guest of Mrs. W. L. Butler over Sunday.

Misses Mabel Hunter and Ella Small and Mr. Bennett of Farmington were the guests of Mrs. George Oakes over Sunday.

Mr. Dewey and his crew have moved the house that Nelson Hinds bought of Jas. Stuart. It is near Cliff Pillsbury's on Main street. Mr. Hinds has now sold it to Frank Gile, who will move his family there soon.

Nelson Hinds and Fred Soule have bought of Walter Oakes the land on the corner of Allen and Main streets. They are to erect a new house on the old site where the Jas. Stuart house was.

Miss Etta Wilber is at work for Mrs. Jos. Wilber, 2nd. Mrs. Wilber is in very poor health.

Misses Angie Jacobs and Della McKenney were up from Indian Rock to attend the ball Thursday evening.

Miss Lillian Lothrop visited her friend, Mrs. Ada Sprague, over Sunday. Geo. Bachelor is building an addition to his barn.

The cemetery at Rangeley has been greatly remodeled. Roads have been made between lots and walks between graves. It has been enlarged and a new iron fence put around it. Small maple trees have been set along the outside edge on Main street. The villagers contributed towards them this spring.

We are in receipt of an anonymous letter from Rangeley, which of course we do not publish because there was no name signed.

UP IN KINGFIELD

Special Town Meeting Held Saturday Night, May 31.

Jenkins & Bogert Teams Hauling From Lexington.

[Special correspondence to the Maine Woods.]

KINGFIELD, June 3, 1902.

W. H. H. Small, who was reported last week as being very sick with fever and ague, is again seen on our streets, but not yet as strong as before. Still he is improving.

At a town meeting held Saturday, May 31, the town voted to discontinue the road leading from the county road, near the guide board, east of the Indian stream, south to the line of the town of New Portland. There are no inhabitants living on the road and the winter rains washed the road so badly that it was thought best to discontinue rather than repair it.

Church street is being opened, graded and straightened under the supervision of Road Overseer Blon Stevens.

J. N. Parker, one of our respected townsmen, returned last week from Massachusetts and brought his bride with him. They will make their home with his daughter, Mrs. L. A. Norton. Judging from the smiles that are seen constantly on Mr. Parker's countenance he must be very happy and contented.

Ivory Soap.

Congratulations are cordially extended

Dr. O. W. Simmons and wife left town Monday noon for a week's visit among friends in other parts of the state.

Mrs. R. D. Simons and Master Elwin returned last week from Madison, where they had been visiting Mrs. Simons's father, Dr. Huncwiler, for a week.

The Jenkins & Bogert Co. put two teams on hauling squares from their mill in Lexington Monday. One of the teams is driven by Mr. Wilber of North New Portland. The company intend to put four teams on as soon as they can be secured.

Lumber Notes From West Phillips.

Mr. Jones, the Holman mill sawyer, reports 100,000 lumber sawed last week, which is a small amount considering the capacity of the mill. One day last week the mill cut out 20,000. Mr. Jas. Perkins, the head millwright of the Berlin Mills company, was here Monday looking after the business of the company. He said he should recommend sending at once an experienced millwright and engineer. Eighteen men are at present employed in and around the mill and still they are short handed. Mr. Jones says that if the mill can be made to run, it will average 30,000 per day.

Mrs. Daisy B. Bailey of Canton has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hannibal Smith, and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Kempton, recently and returned home last week.

The recent warm rain has revived vegetation and grass is looking uncommonly well for this time of the year. With frequent rains through June will ensure a large hay crop.

The farmers are rather late with their spring's work, owing to the cold dry weather of last week.

Bargs & Bell have moved a part of their mill to the village. They will haul the engine soon and we shall miss the smart little mill from the BORDER.
