

THE PRESS
THURSDAY MORNING, MARCH 1.

FOR MAYOR,
Charles J. Chapman

The Massachusetts House of Representatives differs with the Senate on the question of granting to the voters the right to vote in the election. The bill rejected by the Senate by one vote, has been passed by 118 affirmative to 95 negative votes.

The Massachusetts Democrats are making a concerted movement on the town and city officials this spring, in preparation for the fall campaign. With these added to the federal taxing and the administration has delivered to them, they hope, no doubt, to make Massachusetts Democratic. But if possession of office operates on Democrats in Massachusetts as it does in Maine, we shall look for a Republican tidal wave in the old Bay State next fall.

The Argus yesterday indulged in a feeble arraignment of Mayor Chapman's administration of the finances of the city. Weak as the showing was, it would have been less impressive had the Argus stuck to facts. It coolly increased the expenses of the Centennial celebration $10,000 by taking no account of the receipts. It assumed that the expenditures of the Mayor and others in their attempt to annex the town of Deering was $1,791.31. Now it appears by the auditor's report that the whole expense incurred for all matters presented before the legislature affecting the city's interests was only $1,291.01, or $500 less than the Argus says was spent on the Deering matter alone. This expenditure covered the Deering annexation, the bridge and Stroudwater bridge matters, ferry landing, free text book matter, water company tax bill and legislation affecting the Portland and Ogunquit railroad. Mayor Chapman and City Solicitor Symonds gave their time, and a good deal of it, to the bridge and annexation matters without recompense. As for the annexation of the Deering, that was the pet idea of the Deering administration and figured as one of its grandest achievements in the Argus. The Cloughs bill was approved by a majority of the city government, while the late Alderman Gallagher was chairman, while Mr. Deering was mayor. One of the Argus's anonymous corps on Tuesday charged Mayor Chapman with selling land to the Maine Central for $500,000 for $500,000 which was worth $300,000. The sale took place during Mayor Deering's administration.

The failure of the New York grand jury to find an indictment for grand larceny against Jay Gould and Russell Sage implies that in the jury's opinion the use which the proxy wife of the late August Spies, the anarchist, is to devote her life to telling the story of her lover's fate.

Mr. Smalley, in the New York Tribune, says it is reported that Andrew Carnegie's "Triumph of Democracy," since it was condemned by the Wolverhampton grand jury has had the enormous sale of thirty thousand copies.

Henri de Laszere, a French historian, conceived the idea of making a special edition of the Bible for rich Roman Catholics. Whatever he thought, likely to offend a fanatical taste by the inclusion of the sacred scriptures, however, has forbidden the carrying out of this plan.

The attempt to return Wilfrid Blunt to Parliament for Deering while he is still in an Irish prison is developing the hottest sort of a campaign, in which women take part. Mrs. Gladstone and Lady Anne Blunt, Byron's granddaughter, being active on the side of the Union Pacific. The former pictures of Blunt in prison garb, which are expected to stir up a big Democratic vote.

Ellen Terry on Monday celebrated her fortieth birthday, and declared to a reporter: "I was born in Coventry, in Shakespeare's shire, thank God. My father and mother were both on the stage. They and when both were under nineteen years of age." Miss Terry says she has now but one wish. It is to help Mr. Irving in his great and beautiful work, for it is a grand work he is doing.

There may, possibly, be room for difference of opinion as to who will best serve the city's interests at this juncture—Mayor Chapman or Gen. Neal Dow. Honest men, may differ as to that, but there can be no room for doubt that the man who goes to the polls and votes for Gen. Dow, not because he believes he is the better man for Mayor, but simply out of curiosity to see what he will do, is acting from unworthy motives and is false to his duties as a citizen. We believe that at this time the interests of the city will be better served by the election of Mr. Chapman to be its Mayor than Gen. Neal Dow. We have given reasons for this opinion which we believe sound. The only quarrel we have with men who honestly think otherwise is with their judgment and that we think is very poor. But to need if there be any, who propose to vote for Gen. Dow not because they think he is the better man for Mayor or even a proper man for that office, but out of curiosity to see what he will do, that they are well-taken and that which impudently qualifies them for the rights of citizenship.

THE DUBLINER'S STRIKE.
[New York Evening Post.]
People will be disposed to say that men as calm and self-controlled and self-representing as these would hardly take a step so serious unless they had at least a good deal of right on their side.

THE ENGINEERS' REPUTATION.
[Hartford Post.]
It is just a little bit interesting now to observe that the highest praise ever given to the profession of the engineer, as it is given by the Hon. Chauncey M. Depew, J. L. D., president of the New York Central. His eloquent eulogy of the profession and its leader (who has ordered the present strike) is a masterpiece of the kind in people's minds.

EFFECT OF THE DECLINATIONS.
[Boston Post.]
Mr. Blaine has reiterated, in an interview with Mr. Crawford, the European correspondent of the New York World, the intention to allow his name to be presented at the Chicago convention, being somewhat more explicit than in his formal letter to Chairman Jones. These declarations, however, do not lessen the esteem in which Mr. Blaine is held by his countrymen; they only add to the regret that they cannot again march under his leadership.

A PROPOSITION WISE AND STRIKING.
[Albany Journal.]
Mr. Blaine is famous for his terse epigrammatic utterances, the products of his original mind and wide experience. In his latest public utterance he declares that a defeated candidate has no right to offer himself a second time for election, and that the law renewed defeat for his party. The proposition is a striking one, but as has been demonstrated repeatedly, Mr. Blaine's proposals are apt to be full of wisdom. History tells us that his inferiority to the other candidates are not usually strong candidates for a second contest.

PERSONAL AND PECULIAR.
The sister of Abraham Lincoln's widow, and wife of his friend N. W. Edwards, has died at Springfield, Ill.

Miss Nina Zenzi, the proxy wife of the late August Spies, the anarchist, is to devote her life to telling the story of her lover's fate.

Mr. Smalley, in the New York Tribune, says it is reported that Andrew Carnegie's "Triumph of Democracy," since it was condemned by the Wolverhampton grand jury has had the enormous sale of thirty thousand copies.

Henri de Laszere, a French historian, conceived the idea of making a special edition of the Bible for rich Roman Catholics. Whatever he thought, likely to offend a fanatical taste by the inclusion of the sacred scriptures, however, has forbidden the carrying out of this plan.

The attempt to return Wilfrid Blunt to Parliament for Deering while he is still in an Irish prison is developing the hottest sort of a campaign, in which women take part. Mrs. Gladstone and Lady Anne Blunt, Byron's granddaughter, being active on the side of the Union Pacific. The former pictures of Blunt in prison garb, which are expected to stir up a big Democratic vote.

Ellen Terry on Monday celebrated her fortieth birthday, and declared to a reporter: "I was born in Coventry, in Shakespeare's shire, thank God. My father and mother were both on the stage. They and when both were under nineteen years of age." Miss Terry says she has now but one wish. It is to help Mr. Irving in his great and beautiful work, for it is a grand work he is doing.

There is an impression prevailing—how well founded it we do not undertake to say—that Gen. Dow will get a considerable support from voters animated purely by curiosity. Such a motive is manifestly a very improper one. It is among the duties of a chief magistrate, who has in his keeping interests affecting the welfare of every citizen, and the man who allows himself to be guided by it is false to his duty. There is no duty that falls to the lot of the citizen that ought to be more conscientiously performed than the duty of voting, because there is no duty that may be so fraught with consequences for good or evil. It is among the possibilities that a single vote may determine who is to be our next chief magistrate, and every voter who goes to the polls next Monday should bear this in mind, and vote as he would vote if he absolutely knew that his vote was to decide the contest. He will then vote conscientiously and for what he believes to be the best interest of the city. When he has done that he has
