Thinks His Boils Beat the Record

"I believe I had the most painful boils that ever afflicted a human being. They were big, came one after another, and held on a long time. I had read so much about Hood's Sarsaparilla for the blood that I was ready to try it. Inside of a month it seemed to me I had jumped from torture to bliss. I realized to the utmost the good of the best medicine, and I think the only medicine that would cure me. I recommend Hood's for the blood." Geo. N. ## SECURITIES FOR INVESTMENT

President Vanderlip of the National City Bank of New York, the largest National Bank in the United States, in an address in 1909, said in part:

"We have seen the Electric Lighting Business grow more rapidly than other form of Industrial Activity. A Business that will Double in Five Years as the Electric Light Business has done has in it a Vitality that is of course bound to Carry it to Enormous Proportions. ## The Rockland District

Progress All Along the Line Reported by Supt. Phelan
—Women's Large Hats Hide Men at Church—Ice Cream and Oysters a Slippery Foundation.

Rev. D. B. Phelan presented his sixth and last report as superintendent of the Rockland District in which he has done so much efficient work, and in which he has made so many friends. The report, nearly in full, is as follows:

Dear Fathers and Brethren—It gives me great pleasure to welcome the East Maine Conference to Rockland District and to the old, historic Pratt Memorial church, that has numbered among its pastors such men as George Pratt, J. O. Knowles and L. L. Hanson, and such laymen as Stephen Gould, E. H. Cochran and Andrew Ulmer.

Under the efficient leadership of its present pastor, Carl N. Garland, it is proving, after its more than 75 years of illustrious history that it has a present as well as a past.

Death's sable wing has not shadowed one of our parsonages this Conference year. Two of our aged brothers have fallen. Jessie R. Baker and James A. Moreland entered the land where they never grow old, and today they are with their beloved ones in the land of the living. These were splendid men; may their mantle fall on others.

Among the laymen who have passed from our church militant to the larger circle beyond the name of Charles E. Meservey deserves special mention. Judge Meservey in character and service was a splendid example of noble manhood. As the first president of the Men's Club of Pratt Memorial church, he did a noble work, and not only is he missed and mourned by the club of which he was the life, but by the whole city which he served so faithfully.

Rockland District was manned by 27 pastors, who were members of the East Maine Conference, six local preachers and three deaconess pastors. The preachers have been faithful and many of them will report some sheaves that have been garnered for their Lord and Master. No scar rests upon any of our parsonages. Preachers have been true and faithful in most every case to their trust. Rockland District is in a very healthful and prosperous condition considering the financial state of our country.

Athens—Has enjoyed a good year under the leadership of its energetic pastor. Four weeks of revival meetings; twelve conversions; six baptisms.

Boothbay Harbor—This church is well served by a very faithful pastor and stalwart preacher.

Bremen Circuit—Under the leadership of B. H. Tucker, a local preacher, is fast gaining its former place and the outlook is very hopeful. Camden—Has had a very prosperous year, financially and spiritually. Early in the Conference year $2,000 was bequeathed to the Conference Claimants' fund by the late Mrs. Elizabeth Deering Porter, and $2,000 to the local by the same elect lady. Two weeks of revival meetings; six conversions; four baptisms.

China—Has a band of hard working, consecrated men and women, who loved the church of their fathers.

Dixmont—Has been well served by Brother Charles E. Matteson since last November, Brother Warren having gone to Massachusetts.

Damariscotta—Started well, but through the transfer power of Bishop Hamilton the pastor went to the Rock River Conference. This charge has had no pastor since December.

Dresden—Under the inspirational leadership of its pastor has had a prosperous year. East Boothbay—Loves her pastor, and he preaches to the largest audiences of men and women, in proportion to the population, of any pastor in Rockland District. The Daniel D. Gillespie Memorial Methodist Episcopal church at Lincoln is about ready for dedication.

Friendship—Enjoyed for three months the preaching of G. Sidney Barbour, who was transferred to Michigan. The last seven months this charge has been well served by Brother Daniel P. Pelly, who comes up for admission on trial.

Georgetown and Arrowsic—Have enjoyed a very prosperous year. Five weeks of revival meetings; 16 conversions; three baptisms.

Harmony—Has been well served by Brother Thurston who has regained his health.

Hartland—Has enjoyed a year of peace and prosperity along all lines. The church through the Men's movement is getting a better hold of the community.

Vassalboro—Has been well cared for by the faithful pastor. Has an enrolled Sunday school of 500 members. Several weeks of revival meetings. Several additions to the church show a good year's work.

North Waldoboro—Under the energetic leadership of its pastor is fast coming to the front as a very desirable charge. Six weeks of revival meetings; three baptisms; $300 on improving the church at Orr's Corner, and $250 at North Waldoboro.

Pemaquid—Is still on the upgrade. Last year we reported the burning of our church edifice at New Harbor. On Sunday, Nov. 5, 1911, we dedicated a $7,000 church free of all debts. Only 11 months from the time the old building was burned, this gem of a church was ready for dedication.

Pittsfield—Four weeks of revival meetings; to conversions; eight baptisms.

Randolph—Every department of the church work has been well looked after, and the people are much encouraged.

Rockland—Old Pratt Memorial has felt the touch of a master workman, who needeth not to be ashamed of this year's hard work, for under his inspirational leadership she is renewing her age and marching on to signal victory along all lines. You who doubt open your eyes and look at the splendid improvement made on the interior of this church. The Men's Club has proved to be one of the strong departments of this church.

Rockport—With the consent of Bishop Cranston, Brother Reynolds left Rockport for Boston School of Theology early last fall. The Sunday school and Epworth League have done good work while this church has been without a pastor.

Searsport—Has three Sunday schools with some forty officers and teachers and about 200 scholars.

Spruce Head—The splendid work done among the young people of this village during the last two years by Ina L. Morgan, deaconess pastor, has proven a benediction to the church, by having it thoroughly renovated at an expense of over $500. Several weeks of revival meetings; four baptisms, and six joining the church.

Thomaston—Is prospering under the faithful labors of their pastor as the result of loyal visitation from house to house as a true shepherd, and his church and society are very much encouraged with the future outlook.

Union—The great benevolent enterprises of our church has received most careful attention and we are

KNOX SUPREME COURT

So Many Jurors Excused That Two Full Panels Could Not Be Obtained—The Organization.

The April term of Supreme judicial court for Knox county convened at 10 a. m., Tuesday, with Associate Justice George E. Bird of Portland presiding. Rev. Fr. James A. Flynn of St. Bernard's Catholic church acted as chaplain. The other court officers are as follows:

Gilford B. Butler of South Thomaston, clerk; Philip Howard of Rockland, county attorney; Adelbert J. Tolman of Rockland, sheriff; deputy sheriff Austin M. Titus of Union, clerk; John A. Hayden of Portland, stenographer; Fred A. Packard of Rockland, messenger. Deputy sheriffs in attendance are Charles F. Duffy of Camden, in charge of grand jury; Fred S. Small of Rockport, in charge of first traverse jury; John E. Doherty of Rockland, in charge of second jury; C. S. Coburn of Warren, turnkey and jailer; Ralph W. Davis of Friendship.

All 16 grand jurors answered to their names, but Edgar A. Southard of Rockland was excused from further service, at his request. Luke A. Spear is foreman. Owing to the number excused, there were not sufficient traverse jurors present to make two full panels and so the 11 jurors remaining after the first jury had been impaneled were designated as the supernumerary jury.

The first jury is composed of the following: Capt. Joshua Bartlett of Rockland, foreman; Fred B. Annis, Camden; William S. Colson, Rockland; Laureston Creamer, Cushing; Elden W. Davis, South Thomaston; Henry Harris, Warren; George H. Hurd, South Thomaston; Thomas McPhail, Thomaston; John D. Mitchell, Friendship; Ernest Rawley, St. George; Joseph A. Richards, Thomaston and Prince A. Tower, Rockland.

Supernumerary jury: Alexander Blood of Vinalhaven; Axel A. Brunberg, Rockland; Edgar H. Crockett, Rockland; Lewis M. Fields, Rockland; George N. Mank, Warren; H. E. Mank, Hope; Walter E. Morse, Washington; Randall Robbins, Union; Edward C. Stimpson, St. George; James W. Stinson, Rockport; Charles A. Towle, Appleton.

The following were excused from service: Frank L. Arrey, Vinalhaven; Frank Bowers, Camden; Roderick E. Gillis, North Haven; Horace S. Hobbs, Rockland, and Amos E. Russell, Rockport.

The docket was called after the jurors were impaneled and the Knox bar was well represented, though the absence of Hon. J. E. Moore, Hon. D. N. Mortland and Hon. A. S. Littlefield was noticed. Mr. Moore is in Boston, where he has been spending the winter and Mr. Littlefield is in attendance at the Federal court in Portland, where he is trying a case.

Linus A. Coggan of Boston was present, as was also C. Vey Holman of South Thomaston, formerly of Bangor.

Divorce hearings were in order Tuesday afternoon.

Further proceedings of the April term will be found on another page.

YOUR FAVORITE POEM

Old-fashioned poetry, but choice good.
—Isaac Walton.

The Sands of Dee
O Mary, go and call the cattle home,
And call the cattle home,
And call the cattle home,
Across the sands of Dee.

The creeping tide came up along the sand,
And o'er and o'er the sand,
And round and round the sand,
As far as eye could see;
The blinding mist came down and hid the land—
And never home came she.

'Oh, is it weed or fish or floating hair—
A tress o' golden hair,
O' drowned maiden's hair,

Was never salmon yet that shone so fair
Across the sands of Dee.

They row'd her in across the rolling foam,
The cruel crawling foam,
The cruel hungry foam,
To her grave beside the sea;
But still the boatmen hear her call the cattle home,
Across the sands of Dee.

Banquet at Thorndike Hotel Tonight With View to Forming a Local Automobile Association.

Automobile owners in Knox county are invited to participate in a banquet at the Thorndike hotel this Friday evening, at which it is expected that steps will be taken toward forming an organization in this county which shall be affiliated with the Maine State Automobile Association.

Motor-car owners have now become a powerful factor in the state's affairs, and realize that they can accomplish a great deal more by organization. Knox county, though a small corner of our great state, has nearly 200 automobile owners—108, to be exact—and thanks to Orel E. Davies we are able to publish the following list which he compiled:

EMPIRE THEATRE

The greatest of all matinee occasions for many months will take place this Saturday afternoon, at which time Manager Engley has arranged a feast for the little ones. Of course the center of attraction will be "Baby Mine," the educational and one of the greatest features ever secured for the benefit of the children. She has made herself a prime favorite all this week with everyone and it is sufficient to say that today we see one of the largest matinees of the year. Aida La Marr and Co. is a great novelty and made a great impression on the large audience present which goes to show that the week end of the big bill is going to be one of the strongest and most pleasing of the season. In the picture line there is an entire new change, all feature reels comprising dramatic and Western and comedy of the laughing kind, which pleases all. Next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons there will be the usual daily matinee with pictures and vaudeville. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights the Moose Big Minstrels will be the attraction. Remember, regular matinee every afternoon, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday; three big acts of vaudeville.

SURPRISED THE OXTONS
A party of Pleasant Valley Grange, surprised Mrs. Elbert Oxtan on a recent rainy evening at their home in Rockville. The ride was a little chilly but the crowd rapidly thawed out beside a roaring fire. For coal strikes have no terrors for the "Oxtans," they have "wood to burn"—acres of it—and they don't saw it "by hand" either. The evening was devoted to music, good, bad, indifferent (the Grange brand), reminiscences, etc., particular attention was given to the refreshments, of which there was an abundance and variety—not the least being some famous Spies and Kings from one of the finest orchards in this section. The writer should know, for he has kept tabs on it since a boy. Mrs. Oxtan, formerly one of Rockville's popular teachers, is well up in "Domestic Science," and considering the strenuous weather this winter the crowd voted to overlook the non-attendance to Grange meetings—hardly blaming Elbert from not caring to wander from his own fireside. Mr. Oxtan's parents and brother were present. In behalf of the party F. E. Post presented the host with a "rocker" as a slight remembrance of the thoroughly enjoyable occasion.

DANGER PERIOD OF WOMANS' LIFE FROM 45 to 50

Interesting Experience of Two Women—Their Statements Worth Reading.

Asheville, N.C.—"I suffered for years with female trouble while going through the Change of Life. I tried a local physician for a couple of years without any substantial benefit. Finally after repeated suggestions to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I quit my physician and commenced using it with the happiest results. I am today practically a well woman and anxious to contribute my mite towards inducing others to try your great medicine, as I am fully persuaded that it will cure the ailments from which I suffered if given a fair chance."

"If you think this letter will contribute anything towards further introducing your medicines to afflicted women who are passing through this trying period, it is with great pleasure I consent to its publication."—Mrs. JULIA A. MOORE, 17 East St., Asheville, N.C.

The Case of Mrs. Kirlin.

Circleville, Ohio.—"I can truthfully say that I never had anything do me so much good during Change of Life as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. 'Before I had taken one half a bottle of it I began to feel better, and I have continued taking it. My health is better than it has been for several years. If all women would take it they would escape untold pain and misery at this time of life.'—Mrs. ALICE KIRLIN, 358 W. Mill St., Circleville, Ohio.

The Change of Life is one of the most critical periods of a woman's existence. At such times women may rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

THE PRESIDENT'S ECONOMY RECORD

Taft Insists That Government Be Run on Sound Business Basis.

HIS PROGRESSIVE POLICY.

His Personal Efforts to Reduce Cost of Efficient Service Bring Results—Business Methods Applied—Economy and Efficiency Commission Fought by Democrats.

President Taft more than any of his predecessors in the White House has given strict attention to placing the government upon a business basis as regards its receipts and expenditures. Economy and efficiency became one of the cardinal policies of his administration as soon as he entered upon the presidency, and it was well for the country that this was so, for his administration inherited a deficit in the treasury of $58,000,000, which has now been transformed into a surplus of $30,000,000. The average citizen and taxpayer will be interested in this fact, because the problem which confronted the president at the outset, although upon a gigantic scale, was similar to that of the ordinary shopkeeper or business man, farmer or wage earner or even housewife who is called upon to make "both ends meet" either in business or in the home.

By law the secretary of the treasury is called upon every year to submit to congress in December the "estimates" of governmental expenditures for the next fiscal year, beginning the following July 1. As congress has to provide the money to run the government, the money has to be appropriated for specified purposes before it can be expended, and if this were not done before the beginning of the fiscal year the machinery of government would stop unless emergency provision could be made.

The "estimates" are prepared by the executive departments of which each member of the cabinet is a head. The cabinet officers get the "estimates" in their respective departments from their chiefs of bureaus and then combine them as the "estimates" for all departments. The "estimates" from all departments are then sent to the secretary of the treasury to be submitted to congress, and they then become the "estimates" for the cost of running the entire government during the next fiscal year. Upon these figures congress makes the greater part of its appropriations, amounting to more than $1,000,000,000 annually.

Until 1908 a more or less lax method of making estimates for the annual appropriations obtained throughout the government. The figures sent to congress each year, instead of showing indications of a careful "grubbing" all along the line, showed there was a disposition among the departments to vie with each other in getting as large appropriations as possible without considering whether or not the money demanded could be advantageously expended during the coming year. There was no standardization of supplies, and the various departments were paying varying prices for the same article.

What President Taft Did.

As soon as President Taft took office his system ceased. At the outset President Taft impressed upon his cabinet officials the absolute necessity of economy and efficiency in their departments. He admonished them that not a dollar beyond what was necessary to run the government efficiently in their departments, including a fair margin for progress, which is a part of efficiency in the program of President Taft, should be asked of congress. The effect was immediate. Every department began work at once to investigate its own expenditures and to devise ways and means of curtailing extravagances. The result was that congress received the lowest estimates it had seen in years. This was followed by a reduction in appropriations to correspond, always allowing for the natural growth of the government's activities, which represented a vast saving to the taxpayers of the country.

President Taft was not, however, satisfied that all had been done that could be done. He realized that the departments of the government, like individuals, are naturally prone to be proud of their own achievements and by reason of their familiarity with their own endeavors often insisted that their work was more important than the work of the other departments, relatively speaking. In order to correct that evil he asked congress to give him $100,000 for a commission of disinterested experts to investigate and report on the business of the government, with a view to further economy and efficiency. This came into official being the commission of that name.

This commission, among other duties, was directed to prepare the receipts and expenditures of the government on a "budget" basis, which is the system followed by practically all the leading nations of the world except the United States. Under this system it is possible for the humblest citizen to analyze the finances of the government at any time and to lay his finger upon the responsible political party in the event of extravagance or of stinginess. The system under which appropriations for the government of the United States have been made has even denied the experts in their endeavors to unravel the tangled skein of expenditures, so that it is a fair statement to say that no citizen of this country up to the present time has ever thoroughly understood where his taxes were expended.

The President's Position. At the present time the Democratic house of representatives is endeavoring to end the usefulness of the economy and efficiency commission by cutting off its appropriations. In a recent appeal to congress for funds to continue the great work it has begun, which all thinking men and women will approve, President Taft pointed out that the people of the country as a whole are interested chiefly in the following governmental objects: The national defense, the protection of persons and property, the promotion of friendly relations and the protection of American interests abroad, the regulation of commerce and industry, the promotion of agriculture, fisheries, forestry and mining, the promotion of manufacturing, commerce and banking, the promotion of transportation and communication, the postal service, including postal savings banks and parcels post; the care and utilization of the public domain, the promotion of education, art and science and recreation; the promotion of public health and the care and education of the Indians and other wards of the nation.

There are many other public questions, of course, but these are the vital and comprehensive ones, and the "budget" is proposed for the purpose of giving information as to the needs of these matters. The president, in order that his policy of economy and efficiency may be concluded and become one of the greatest achievements of his administration—that of placing the government on a business basis—wants congress to appropriate $250,000 more for the support of the commission now doing that work.

The economy and efficiency commission has already saved to the taxpayers of the country more than $3,000,000 annually by its suggestions and by the time it has completed its work it is believed ten times this sum can be saved annually to the taxpayers. In the matter of railroad fare for government officials alone it has found that $12,000,000 was expended in a single year at the highest prevailing railroad rates. At least a fourth of this can be saved by the application of business methods such as President Taft has applied and has insisted shall be applied to all the departments of the government.

ROCKLAND IN WAR TIMES

Gen. Berry's Farewell to His Regiment—Col. Walker in Command.

The progress of the Civil War, as especially relating to the interests of our own community, is set forth in this series of articles, reproduced from the Rockland Gazette files of the corresponding period in 1862.

Camp Knox, Near Fortress Monroe, March 31, 1862.

As government censorship is at present not a little jealous of Army correspondence, this letter must be modest in brevity and unpretentious in contents.

At this late hour, however, the numerous friends of the 4th are being publicly informed, as the above date indicates, that we have taken an excursion of some significance down the Potomac and Chesapeake and found ourselves in a more southern climate and much nearer some of the strongholds of rebellion.

Leaving Alexandria on Tuesday, the 18th inst., a safe and pleasant passage brought us to Fortress Monroe the next day. We are now at Hampton, the place which was laid waste by fire, through rebel infatuation.

The men were glad to leave the old scene of activity. The health of the Regiment is still good.

Col. Berry has closed his official connection with the regiment, but is still with us for a few days. The following are copies of his farewell address, and the remarks of Major Walker on assuming command:

Special Order

Headquarters, 4th Maine Regiment, March 25, 1862.

Having been ordered by the War Department to report for orders to Major General McClellan, commander of the Army of the Potomac, it becomes my duty to take my official leave of this regiment.

I part with the officers and men composing this command with very much regret. My intercourse with all has been the most pleasant nature. My friendship for officers and men alike is one of the strongest ever formed by me. I have every reason to believe it is more than reciprocated by this entire command. I can only say may it ever continue.

I shall watch with great interest your future and, judging by the past, I feel assured the Maine 4th will stand second to none during the period of its service. I shall be ever ready to assist wherever and whenever my poor services may avail you. When the time arrives and you are brought face to face to the foe, remember you carry with you your own reputation and that of your state. Strike then with a will for your country, your God and the right.

If in discharge of duty I have in any way wounded the feelings of any I beg them to forget. None is perfect and very few have more imperfections than myself.

The duties I have had to perform in organizing, disciplining and drilling a new Regiment have not been light.

I hope I may have done the service assigned me with the Excellency the Governor of Maine passing well, any rate I feel that I have endeavored to do my duty by you all, by my state and by my country. God bless you all.

H. G. Berry, Colonel.

Regimental Order No. 1

Headquarters 4th Maine Regiment, March 25, 1862.

The undersigned hereby assumes command of the 4th Maine Regiment held by our late Col. Henry G. Berry, now relieved from duty with this Regiment by a well earned promotion to a Brigadier Generalship.

It is not without feelings of diffidence and distrust in my own abilities that he enters upon the arduous and, to him, unaccustomed duties about to devolve upon him, particularly when he succeeds to such a commander as we have lost.

It will lessen his labors much, and he sincerely hopes and expects to have the cordial support of every officer and man in the Regiment on the side of good order and discipline.

The standard of the Regiment at present is high, let it lose none of its reputation in our hands.

The order heretofore issued from these headquarters will remain in force until specially altered or annulled.

E. Walker, Major 4th Me. Vols.

We hope that Col. Walker will receive the same allegiance that has been given so unanimously to Gen. Berry. In view of the duties and dangers that may be just before us, we trust that friends at home will remember us in their daily addresses to the God of Battles.

B. A. Chase.

Facts About Indigestion and Its Relief That Should Interest You.

Although indigestion and dyspepsia are so prevalent, most people do not thoroughly understand their cause and cure. There is no reason why most people should not eat anything they desire—if they will only chew it carefully and thoroughly.

Many actually starve themselves into sickness through fear of eating every good-looking food. They eat nothing good-tasting food, because it does not agree with them.

STUDY BANKING PROBLEMS

A Chapter of the American Institute of Banking in Rockland has been formed here—Arthur B. Richardson is President.

Recently there has been organized among the banks in Rockland a chapter of the American Institute of Banking, Section of the American Bankers Association. This organization has a membership, nationally, of about 12,000 in chapters extending from Bangor in Maine, to Seattle and Tacoma in Washington, and from Duluth on the north to New Orleans and Los Angeles on the south. Besides Rockland there are two other chapters in Maine, at Portland and Bangor. Rockland at present is the smallest city in the country having a chapter.

The object of the Institute is to fix and maintain a recognized standard of education in banking and finance and commercial and banking law by means of official examinations and the issuance of certificates for the same. It aims to educate bank men in the theory and practice of banking, including such principles as economics as apply to the banking business. It aims to develop familiarity with banking forms and accounts as now practiced and to convey an understanding of the principles involved in various banking transactions. It teaches of the development of banking institutions in this and other countries and a comprehension of the relations between banking and other industries. To meet these general requirements a general study course is provided by the Institute. It is conducted under two titles—Banking and Finance and Banking and Commercial Law.

The local chapter was organized about two months ago and is already well into the work. A meeting is held every week in the different banking rooms for the purpose of studying and discussing one of the subjects offered in the course. The membership at present is 11, but with the co-operation of several of the prominent bank men of the city, who are manifesting much interest in the chapter, a membership of 20 or 25 is expected in the near future. Any director, officer or employee in any financial institution in Knox county is eligible to membership. Later lectures on problems of current affairs will be regularly given by bankers, professional and business men, and by others so qualified.

The officers are as follows: President, A. B. Richardson; vice president, J. N. Southard; secretary and treasurer, Ernest McIntosh.

NEW ELECTION LAWS

Adequately Explained by Lewis A. Burleigh of Augusta.

The widespread demand for an adequate explanation of our new election laws has been admirably met in the 60 page compilation of Lewis A. Burleigh of Augusta, a member of the Kennebec Bar, in his work entitled "An Analysis and Interpretation of the Primary Election Law, Corrupt Practices Act, and Federal Election Law." The work is thoroughly up to date, as it includes an abstract of the new ballot law passed at the special session of the legislature on March 23, 1912. In a four-page leaflet accompanying and forming a part of the compilation is a complete and thorough explanation of the subject of enrollment of political parties, in connection with primary elections.

The compilation itself consists of a clear and concise preliminary explanation of the primary election law and its operation, followed by 104 logically arranged paragraphs of explanation and discussion of this law, and of the Corrupt Practices Act and the Federal Act relative to publicity of campaign contributions. The text of the three acts is then given in full, and a thorough and very comprehensive index is added. The work shows careful and accurate analysis at every step and will prove of great value to attorneys, committee men and the general public, who desire to ascertain their rights and liabilities under the new laws.

Published by Burleigh & Flynt, Augusta, who will send the work, postage prepaid, for $1.

DEMANDED HIS MONEY

Startling Affair at Brown's Head Followed by a Prompt Arrest

Thomas J. Young, who resides at Brown's Head, Vinahaven, was aroused from his slumbers late Monday night by a rapping at the door.

"Who's there?" asked Mr. Young.

"Your son; I'm hurt," was the answer.

Mr. Young hastened to unlatch the door when he was confronted by a masked man with a revolver in the other hand and a dark lantern in the other.

Mr. Young who is about 70, was commanded to throw up his hands. In complying he also turned the light in the night lamp, and with an oath the man in the mask knocked the lamp to the floor and the blazing oil spread over the kitchen floor.

Mr. Young ran to his daughter's room pursued by the burglar, who has demanded his money. This the burglar declined, however, when he found it amounted to only a dollar.

By this time the fire was gaining rapid headway and the burglar, after advising Mr. Young to attend to it disappeared in the darkness.

Detective Kallach was put at work on the case Wednesday, and arrested Carroll Hill of Yarmouth, who has been employed on the island as a well-digger. He is said to have been identified by Mr. Young and daughter as the night intruder. It is understood that the case has been presented to the grand jury.

Electric lights have been installed in the residence of Mrs. R. C. Thordike, Sea street.

Roland Crockett was very pleasantly surprised Friday evening on the occasion of his 20th birthday when 20 of his friends assembled at his home on Mechanic street, where the evening was delightfully spent with whist and music. Mr. Crockett was presented with 20 carnations and received the best wishes of his friends for a long and happy life. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served.

Sch. Adelia T. Carleton, Capt. David Kent, arrived in the harbor Tuesday during the storm, bound for Stockton Springs with phosphate.

Harold Young of Lincolnville, who has been spending several months at the home of his uncle, Sewell C. Young, left last week to visit friends in North Haven.

Capt. Ernest Torrey is in town after an absence of several months.

The Phillips house on Sea street is being repaired and remodeled and will be occupied by Mrs. Addie N. Phillips of Swampscott, Mass., for a summer residence.

The season has really opened and it is now up to the people of Rockport to get their deputies into commission. Automobiles and even "animals" are exceeding the speed limit on the macadam road between Rockland and Rockport. Last Sunday the mule known as "Carney," stepped out into the road and challenged an automobile for a race between Whitney's Corner and Highland Square.

At one time he showed speed of 20 miles an hour by the indicator. At the corner bowing courteously, he stepped aside and the writer understands that he waited there until he found an opportunity for another race homeward.

At the Baptist church Sunday morning there will be an Easter sermon and special music appropriate to the occasion will be furnished.

At 7.30 o'clock there will be an Easter concert given by the members of the choir and Sunday school.

The S. E. & H. L. Shepherd Company have recently purchased what is known as the William S. Hemingway house and real estate located on Summer street, Rockland. It is a very desirable property and unless they find a ready purchaser, will make improvements and rent it.

KNOX SUPREME COURT

The cases assigned for trial Wednesday were disposed of as follows: Frances E. Hurley vs. Lucy C. Farnsworth, admx., referred to Hon. William P. Whitehouse and Hon. George E. Bird. Foster & Foster and Littlefield; Heath & Andrews and Montgomery.

Alfred G. Hunt vs. Louise G. Duff, contined; Thompson's Starrett; Thomas E. Gushee and Ralph Gushee vs. Chandler W. Abbott, defaulted without prejudice, the entry to be taken off if good cause shown therefor. Montgomery and Thompson; Payson.

William J. Gamage vs. Georges Valley Railroad Company, continued. Set for trial first day of next term.

Johnston; Moore.

The following were admitted to citizenship Wednesday forenoon: Knut Gottfrid Franke, a native of Westervik, Sweden, now of Rockland.

Isidor Gordon of Rockland, a native of Gova, Russia.

Hill Dane of Rockland, a native of Russia.

Robert Carnie, a native of Aberdeenshire, Scotland, now of Vinahaven.

Henry T. Rising of Rockland was drawn as an additional juror, which completed the second traverse jury, Wednesday.

Divorce hearings were in order Wednesday afternoon.

The grand jury reported in part, Thursday, in order that Benjamin K. Ware of Washington might be finally excused from service on the jury, but the indictments returned will not be made public until the jury finally reports. All the indictments found up to that time were returned and the remaining fourteen jurors will consider any new matters.

The supernumerary traverse jury chose Walter E. Morse of Washington as foreman, Thursday, and the first case, The American Oil Pump and Tank Company vs. J. W. Ingraham, Jr., and Nancy K. Whitmore was opened to the first traverse jury Thursday morning and went to the jury that afternoon.

The defendants, as M. C. Whitmore & Co., signed a written contract for a 2000 gallon gasoline tank, with pump, filter and hose and other fittings, March 20, 1911, for which outfit they were to pay the plaintiff $320. F. O. B., Dayton, Ohio. The tank was a special size, the order was marked "rush" and the plaintiff claimed that it immediately purchased special metal sheets and had three days' work towards filling the order, when, at noon on March 24, it received a telegram from the defendants cancelling the order. Corroborative evidence followed in which the defendants repeatedly claimed that the equipment had been misrepresented to them and could not be relied upon and was not what they wanted, which the pumps of the make ordered did not measure right and insisted that they would not accept or install the outfit and should not pay for it. They claimed that they telegraphed promptly so as to save the plaintiff any expense and when the bill of lading was received they promptly returned it.

The plaintiff, relying on the written contract, which provided, among other things, that the contract could not be rescinded, insisting that there had been no misrepresentation and that installation and trial would demonstrate this fact, "shipped" the tank to Camden, where it remained for some time, the defendants refusing to receive it. As the contract also provided that the plaintiff should remain the property of the plaintiff until it was paid for, the plaintiff finally took the same to Reading, Mass., where it had a place of business, and sold it to recover $308, the contract price, plus freight and demurrage.

H. S. Crocker of Boston, New England selling agent for the plaintiff, and Walter Eastman of Boston, formerly employed by the plaintiff, now representing a competitor of the plaintiff, and J. W. Ingraham, Jr., one of the defendants, were the witnesses called by the defense. The defense endeavored to prove that the plaintiff had not complied with the representations of the agent who sold it to them.

The jury were instructed by Judge Bird to deduct the amount received by the plaintiff from the sale of the outfit ($275) from the gross amount they found due the plaintiff—if their verdict should be for the plaintiff. The jury reported just before adjournment, their finding being in favor of the plaintiff for $134.34.

Crawford for plaintiff; Robinson for defendants.

The result of the divorce hearings will not be known until the end of the term, when Judge Bird will sign the decrees in those cases in which divorce cases have been granted. Several other hearings have been held by the court but the decisions have not yet been announced.

There were 64 cases entered at this term of court, 22 of them being divorce libels and one an appeal from the decree of the Judge of Probate.

The grand jury will probably report this Friday. It is expected that Clarence Curtis of Washington, indicted for murder at the January term and now at the Augusta insane hospital, will be assigned at this term but not tried. Curtis murdered his sister in November and will probably be formally committed to the asylum for observation, as to his sanity by the court. He is now there on commitment of the municipal officers.

VINAHAVEN

Chris Roberts returned Monday to Bangor, where he is studying law.

Mrs. Rebecca Hunt went to Rockland Wednesday.

L. R. Smith received word Tuesday of the death of his brother Eben in Fitzwilliam. Deceased formerly lived in Vinahaven. He leaves a son Arthur; two sisters, Mrs. Nora C. Lott of Worcester, Mass., and Mrs. Lottie Houghton of South Framingham, and a brother, L. R. Smith of Vinahaven.

Miss Pearl Kittredge was hostess for the Relief Corps Tuesday. It was a very enjoyable session. The usual excellent supper included dandelion greens and ice cream. Mrs. Frank Gross of Isle au Haut, who is visiting Mrs. E. F. Field, was a guest.

Calvin Vinal, who with his wife has spent the winter in Minneapolis, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Edward Polson, has taken up a government claim in the vicinity of Lewiston, Maine.

There will be work in the Rebekah Lodge next Tuesday evening. The entertainment committee have prepared an entertaining program.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Berton Pierce sent Sunday at Crockett's River, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Winfield Leadbetter.

Leland Roberts has returned to Morris Plains, N. J.

An attractive display of Patton's Sun Proof Paint can be seen at Lane-Libby's.

Mrs. Ola Carver Ames was made a member of Marguerite Chapter last Monday evening. The work of the new officers was highly praised by past patron F. A. Grindle, who voiced the sentiments of the large company present. At the close of the meeting the entertainment committee presented the Lane Comedy Company in "Mystery," a one-act comedy containing a moral for young gentlemen.

Cast of characters: Bob Armstrong, an athletic young gentleman, B. I. Lane; Gordon Strong, another, B. I. Lane; Amy Lovekin, an amiable young lady, Mabel F. Lane; Nan Eager, a clever one, Bertha H. Raymond; Rose Grady, general of the household forces, Allie F. Lane.

It was a good story and well written, yet its charm depended on the cleverness of the performers. What may be said of anyone might be truly said of all the company. Each actor seemed to be a part and gave perfect satisfaction. The stage setting showed that care and time had been expended in the effort to please.

Amy's costume was of light blue silk with hose and shoes to match, poncee coat, large black hat and auto veil; Nan's, a chic white suit with picture hat of white with black velvet.

Armbruster was of rather more of a blonde type than is usually seen and the college air was becoming to them. So real was the performance that the audience was enthusiastic with "the girls" in their plots, serious with Bob and Gordie, as they were overcome with the mystery about them, and ready to shake hands with Rose Grady and congratulate themselves in her own words—"Ain't that the whole thing?" Members of the Star who did not attend Monday evening missed something unusual.

Grand King Cole will visit Atlantic Royal Arch Chapter this week for inspection.

A. C. Moore of Rockland was in town recently.

Services will be held Easter Sunday at First Church of Christ, Scientist, at the usual hour, 11.30 o'clock. All are welcome. Sir Knights of De Valois Commandery will attend in a body.

A WARTIME INCIDENT

Now Told in Print for the First Time
How a Copperhead Flag Was Pulled Down at Kellerman's Point, Cushing.

The Courier-Gazette is in receipt of the following interesting letter, written by Mrs. Ella Fales Simonds of Auburn, Mass., daughter of Lemond K. Fales of Co. I, 1st Maine Cavalry:

Having read all the articles appearing in your paper from time to time entitled "The War Fifty Years Ago," and being the patriotic daughter of a veteran who served his country during the four years of that war, I take the liberty of writing to tell you of a home incident that I believe was little known at the time, and probably forgotten now by those who did not know.

Some years ago I came into possession of some 800 letters written to my grandmother by her five sons who were serving in the Civil War. I carefully read and treasured them. Among others was one from Penelope M., which made mention of the patriotic act of his little brother Henry, commonly called "Bub" Fales.

Being endowed with a generous share of the proverbial "woman's curiosity," I wrote to my uncle Henry E. Fales of Boston, and asked him what it meant, and I will give you his account as he wrote it to me. He says:

"I suppose that I will have to acknowledge that I was the 'Bub' Fales that hauled down the so-called rebel flag, and I will describe the flag and the circumstances of its capture as far as I can remember it."

"I think the place where it was flying for several days was called Kellerman's Point. It was on the farm nearest the bridge on the left going to Cushing. The spot was quite a high point of land, directly opposite a wharf down the river about 1000 feet below the bridge—a wharf where the lumber schooners and coasters used to unload."

"The flag was large enough to contain, among other insulting things, the words 'Copperhead' and ' traitor,' and I may not be altogether correct in its description, but I can see that old rag and all its surroundings now. I must have been about twelve years old and could go about more than I could a little later. I remember going to see it several times, after I heard it was there, during two or three days."

"Having an intensely patriotic father and mother, and loved brothers at the front and two more who were likely to go, I could not bear to think of that insulting insignia flaunting in the face of loyal and doubtless rebels alike; so one day I proposed to the boys that we row over and capture it. One of the boys said that the owner had said he would shoot any man who attempted to haul it down. I had never heard of this before, but I said I did not think he would shoot and perhaps we could get it without his seeing us."

"After a little assurance on my part they finally consented and three of us started in a dory. I am not sure who the others were, but it seems now that they were Ed. Emery and Gill Stone."

"When we got across one stayed in the boat and the other followed me about half way up the bank, while I made my way to the fence where the flag was raised on a very high staff. I do not remember if it had halyards or if I climbed the pole, but I got it and returned to the boat in safety where the boys were ready to push off as soon as I stepped aboard, and we reached the other side without disaster."

"I presume our whole movements were seen from the home side, but no reception awaited us; instead a dead silence reigned. No one seemed to be interested or to care if we went into the kiln, where one of our men, Jack Grant I think, took the flag on the end of his iron poker and shoved it into the kiln fire."

"There you can see I remember the scene better than I do the details. I do not know where the town lies described. The flag may have been in Cushing or Wiscasset or I know. I never have told this except to my mother at the time, but it actually occurred, and I was the active one in it, as described above."

"This letter of my uncle's was written to me on Sept. 11, 1904, forty-two years after the occurrence described, and nearly on the anniversary of the battle called Second Bull Run which occurred between Aug. 27 and Sept. 2, 1862, the fortieth anniversary coming this present year of 1912."

"I think the act of 'hauling down the rebel flag' by this twelve-year-old boy was a brave and patriotic one and I am as proud of it in its line, as of the fact that my father and four uncles took an active part in the war of the Rebellion."

"If this should be deemed worthy of a place in your paper, and there are any among your readers who know of this incident and can add to it in any way, I will be glad to hear from them."

Miss Esley Bicknell is home from a visit in Belfast.

The following from the social columns of the Portland Express will interest the friends of the Rockland persons mentioned therein: "Guests of the Colonial hotel and invited friends were greatly interested and entertained Monday evening, when a delightful program was carried out in the music room of the hotel. Miss Mabel Holbrook, who gave a piano solo as the opening number was followed by a musical trio, Mrs. G. E. Dunton, mandolin, Miss Mollie D. Curtis, guitar, and Mrs. V. A. Stahl, mandolin. These ladies were heartily encored and their numbers given were much appreciated. Miss Frances Darker, whose talent as a vocalist is well known in her winning way rendered a solo and responded to an instant encore with a Japanese Love Song. Mrs. E. A. Fillmore was then introduced by Miss York and in an easy and interesting manner entertained the audience with an account of an 'open water' season passed in Labrador and the work being done there by Dr. Grenfell, C. M. G., and his assistants. Mrs. Fillmore is especially qualified to speak on this subject as she was superintendent of nurses in the hospital work established there by Dr. Grenfell and wears the insignia conferred for faithfulness in the work. At the close of her remarks another musical selection was given by the trio and Mrs. Darker sang selections from Carmen impromptu."

The annual meeting of the Shakespeare Society was held Monday evening with Mrs. George W. Smith, Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: President, Mrs. Winifred L. Simmons; vice president, Miss Elizabeth Jameson; secretary, Miss Mabel F. Lamb; treasurer, Miss Lottie Lawrence; program committee, Miss Alice Erskine, Mrs. A. T. Blackington and Mrs. Ensign Otis. The reading committee reported Shakespeare's "Measure for Measure" and Rostand's "Cyrano de Bergerac" for study next year. Mrs. A. T. Blackington was appointed delegate to the Maine Federation of Women's Clubs to be held in Bath next fall, and Mrs. Ensign Otis alternate. The picnic committee was appointed as follows: Mrs. H. A. Buffum, Miss Carrie Erskine, Mrs. F. B. Adams, Mrs. Irving Hix and Mrs. Madeline Bird; entertainment committee for picnic, Miss Marion Cobb, Mrs. R. J. Wasgatt, Miss Lucy Rhoades and Miss Mabel Lamb. At the conclusion of the business meeting the following program was presented: Piano duet, Mrs. Adams and Mrs. Smith; paper, "Impressions of the Play," Miss Morcy; piano solo, Miss Madeleine Bird; mandolin duet, Mrs. Mabel Lamb and Miss Lena Thordike; review, by Miss Lucy Rhoades, of Edwin Reed's "Coincidences, Bacon and Shakespeare," a book in which the author proves to his own satisfaction that Bacon wrote Shakespeare's plays, but which failed to convince these vocal admirers of the "Bard of Avon"; vocal solo, "If I were King," Mrs. Blackington; piano solo, Mrs. Smith.

Miss Mildred Gould of West Rockport, Miss M. M. Andrews of this city, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Clark and little son of Thomaston were the guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Jackson at the Highlands.

Robert M. Packard, who has been critically ill with pneumonia, is now out of danger and convalescing.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Bird and Adriel Bird are spending the week in Boston.

Miss Belle Spring of Hingham, Mass., is the guest of Mrs. J. H. Wiggins.

Mrs. Alfred S. Black delightfully entertained Lady Knox Chapter, D. A. R., at its regular meeting Monday afternoon. There was a large attendance and important business was dispatched by the regent. By request of the Chapter, Master Jerome Murrows read his prize essay entitled "A Daring Escape" and received many compliments both for his gracious manner and the merit of his composition. A piano solo by Mrs. George W. Smith followed and the program concluded with the reading of a humorous story by Mrs. Ada J. Blackington. The hostess served a delicious lunch. The next meeting will be a Colonial Tea party at Miss Alys A. Coburn's, 222 Broadway, and members are asked to go at 4 o'clock, and as many as possible in Colonial dress.

Methodists Hold One of the Best

East Maine Conference Getting Along Swimmingly, With Popular Bishop at Helm—Interesting Points Culled from Busy Sessions.

The East Maine Methodist Conference entered upon its third day this Friday morning. Affairs are moving along with the utmost harmony and expedition, and brilliant speakers from the fields of Methodist labor are contributing much to the interest of the sessions from the standpoint of the general public. Bishop Burt early won the hearts of the Conference members, and it is the frequently expressed opinion that he is one of the best presiding officers the old East Maine has ever had.

Tuesday's Proceedings

Candidates for the ministry, to the number of 30, wrestled with the business of the conference, and the examining board, of which Rev. F. Paladino of Bangor was president and Rev. Harry W. Norton of Patten was registrar.

There were nine students in the entering class. Lectures were delivered during the day by Rev. T. F. Jones, D. D., of Greenville and Rev. G. Edw. Allen of East Boothbay. Mr. Jones' subject was "A Study of the Message of the Modern Pulpit."

The two addresses proved very entertaining.

Bishop Forbes' lecture in the evening was delivered to a very appreciative audience, and one which would have been much larger but for inclement weather. Gems of wit and chunks of good sound sense abounded in the lecture. Here are a few extracts:

"I am opposed to church steeples and church bells. Both are relics of barbarism. Bells were all right before the Christian era, but since then I would have two big clocks, one to show the unpunctual members of the congregation how late they are; the other to show the ministers when to knock off."

"The business of the preacher isn't to save souls, but to save folks; not to save them from hell, but to save them from sin. Whatever hell may be it is the result of human wickedness and meanness. Heaven is the logical eloquence of a pure life."

"Preachers' sons are not the worst boys in town. Statistics show that a greater percentage of them rise to the positions of honor and responsibility than any other class of young men. I told my boy never to provoke a quarrel, but taught him never to take any man's dust just because he is a minister's son. It should be remembered, too, that boys do not receive all of their education at home."

"Our methods of evangelization are seriously at fault. Some of these days we are likely to see a man wicked enough to gather in the girls. Fix up a girl with 10 cents' worth of ribbon and she is ready for society, but you can't fix a boy so easy. If we cannot save the boys of this generation, where will the men of the next generation be? As the boys saved the Union half a century ago, so must they save the church of God today."

"It is a mistake to think that the old times are better than these. These are the best times. All the good that ever was in the world is here yet."

"If there isn't any personal devil, who is carrying on his business? There's enough raw material lying around to make several."

Wednesday's Proceedings

The formal opening of the 65th session took place Wednesday morning, and it is safe to say that it has been many years since the members of the East Maine Conference have assembled in a snowstorm on the 3d day of April.

Devotional exercises were conducted by Bishop William Burt, D. D., LL. D., assisted by the district superintendents and pastor Garland. The sacramental service followed.

Bishop Burt opened the business session of the conference with the remark that this was the first communion service in which he had seen the individual cup used. "Over in Europe," he said, "they are still of the opinion that the use of the common cup is the members of the conference were chided gently for the lack of spontaneity in their singing. A company of Methodist preachers ought to be ready to sing at any and all times," he remarked. The fervor with which the ensuing hymns were rendered showed that the shot had struck home.

Organization was effected with the following officers: Secretary, David H. Tribou, Bucksport; assistant secretary, Oscar S. Smith, Orono; statistical secretary, Charles F. Smith, Vinalhaven; treasurer, M. S. Hill, Belfast. The statistical secretary appointed as assistants Walter A. Smith, Carmel; George O. Richardson, Wiscasset; and Jason F. Thurston, Harbortown.

Among those who responded to the roll-call was Rev. G. G. Winslow, the dean of the Conference, which he joined in 1855.

The pastor who undertook to have the devotional services begin at 8 a. m. came to grief. "There were only three or four here on time this morning," said Bishop Burt, "and if that's the kind of attendance we are to have after listening to Dr. Forbes' lecture on punctuality last night what will we do with a service half an hour earlier?" The Conference was almost a unit for 8.30.

The city's address of welcome was delivered by ex-Mayor E. K. Gould, whose humor and cordiality pleased the visitors immensely. "We have told the police force to go on a vacation while you are here," said Col. Gould, "because we know everything will be nice and orderly while you are here. It doesn't need any official to stand here on the platform and tell you that you are welcome to Rockland. Hospitable Rockland people always prove that you are. And when you go you will leave behind the benediction that always follows the entertaining of a good guest."

Bishop Burt responded very heartily to the address of welcome, saying that Methodism stands for the highest ideals of citizenship. "Col. Gould states that they have given the police a vacation while we are here," said the Bishop, "if that's so, who is to protect us?" (Laughter.)

The annual reports of the superintendents of the three districts comprising the East Maine Conference read interestingly to the members: Supt. Phelan's report relating to the Rockland District, appears elsewhere in liberal abstract, and it is a matter of regret that lack of space does not permit us to use the other reports as well.

Rev. J. W. Hatch, reporting for the Bangor District, showed that there had been a net increase in membership of 380, with 240 baptisms. Property to the value of $26,130 has been acquired, and old debts to the amount of $7021 have been paid. Caribou had the largest gain in membership—43. That town has bought a lot and parsonage for $8000 and will build next season a new church costing $15,000. Milo Junction has dedicated a church costing $10,000 and churches have been rededicated at Brownville and Sanguenville.

Rev. H. B. Haskell, superintendent of the Bucksport district, reported that new churches had been dedicated at Surry and Morgan's Bay. Machias increased its membership 23, and leads the other churches in the district. Supt. Haskell paid tribute to the loyal and generous ones who had made possible a fund of $40,000 soon to be expended in improvements at the Bucksport Seminary. There are now 115 students there and the present value of the property is $23,500. Mr. Haskell retires from the superintendency of the Bucksport District at this session.

Chaplain C. A. Plumer presented his resignation as a trustee of the Conference, in which capacity he has served 33 years.

A check for $1205 was received from the Methodist Book Concern and one for $400 from the Board of Conference Claimants.

At the beginning of the afternoon session the Conference and its guests heard the privilege of listening to a fine conference sermon by Rev. M. S. Hill of Belfast, who is also treasurer of the Conference.

The temperance anniversary was presided over by Rev. Harry Norton and the address was delivered by Rev. Clarence True Wilson, D. D., secretary of the temperance society.

Dr. Wilson reviewed briefly the situation in national affairs, and then in a deeply interesting manner told of the progress being made in the cause of prohibition all over the globe. In this connection he expressed regret that the English speaking nations are not keeping pace with their sister nations in the suppression of the liquor and drug evil. The suppression of poppy growing in China, in the interests of the anti-opium movement, was told in a very interesting manner and aroused applause.

"Maine is but the leader in a world movement that is going to sweep the whole globe sooner or later," said the speaker. "There is not a blind tiger where there is not a blind officer," he declared, "and there is not a blind officer in Maine who is not taking something to keep his eyes closed."

The anniversary of the Sustentation society was presided over by Rev. James H. Grey of Calais. Addresses were made by the district superintendents, and it was the consensus of opinion that the rural charges must receive additional aid in order that the pastors may be given living wages.

There were two anniversaries in the evening—Conference Claimants presided over by Rev. Harry Norton, and the Board of Foreign Missions presided over by Rev. G. E. Edgett.

Addresses were delivered by Dr. E. C. Clemans and Rev. Dr. George M. Fowles.

Thursday's Proceedings

Bishop Burt explained that he had been laboring under the stress of a severe cold the previous day, which might account for his seeming lack of enthusiasm. His promise to "do better" was received with laughter and applause.

Dr. Forbes spoke in the interests of the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension and told how he would have been elected a Bishop, himself, in 1888 had he not lacked two points—qualifications and notes. "That was a pretty close call," said the speaker when the laughter had subsided.

"We ought to give as much to home missions as we do to foreign missions. One of these days we will talk in continents and think in millions. In our more than 100 conferences we'll wake up and begin to give in thousands and tens of thousands instead of in nickels and dimes. Every time you give a dollar to foreign missions play fair and give a dollar for home missions."

"Protestants of this day will not men to waste. Some day we will have the Home Missions Council which will give us a better system at less expense."

"I don't understand how any man can get enthusiastic over Calcutta and forget New York. When we get America evangelized we will be ready to start on the rest of the world. The New England states is a mission field which should have help while it is passing through a period when we are teaching the children of foreigners the English language."

Dr. Forbes talked from the foreign missionary standpoint, which, he said, is the most unselfish work of the church. Foreign Missions have been assigned 150,000,000 persons to evangelize, the work outside of the United States depends upon the Board of Foreign Missions. The business is handled on as good a basis as any other house in the country.

It is because of the tremendous success of the work that we are embarrassed for funds. Foreign countries are more receptive to the missionary influence than ever before. A man who doesn't give much to foreign missions either," said the speaker.

Miss Bertha Fowler, representing the Woman's Home Missionary Society brought greetings from an organization which has a membership of 178,295. In the last 30 years it has accumulated property valued at more than $3,000,000. Last year's receipts were $707,217. "We think we are doing things," said Miss Fowler, "but we don't have half enough funds to meet our increasing demands."

The reception of fraternal delegates proved a felicitous affair. Rev. E. R. Woodman of the Episcopal church, Rev. P. A. Allen of the Universalist church, Rev. W. J. Day of the First Baptist church and Rev. W. H. Mousley of the Congregational church made brief speeches in a witty vein, and were loudly applauded by the convention.

In the course of his response Bishop Burt said he did not believe in religious uniformity, as it always led to ecclesiastical tyranny. "We believe in Christian union, though," said the Bishop. "We also believe in rivalry, not in a commercial sense, but in the sense of emulation."

Rev. Dr. Charles F. Rice was introduced as Bishop Burt's professor at Middletown, and introduced himself as a plain, blunt man. In the course of remarks in behalf of the Board of Education he spoke of the great value which the loan fund had been to the Methodist denomination. More than 20,000 have received help from the loan fund since its inception. It has increased from $82,000 to $76,000, and East Maine Conference shared in the shrinkage.

Chaplain Plumer was induced by the unanimous and enthusiastic adoption of the convention to withdraw his resignation as conference trustee.

The anniversary of the Woman's Home Missionary Society was held in the afternoon with Mrs. M. A. Sherman as chairman. The address by Miss Bertha Fowler was one of much interest and inspiration. Officers were elected as follows: President, Mrs. C. H. Johonnet, Bangor; secretary, Mrs. E. S. Burnell, Sebect; corresponding secretary, Mrs. B. W. Russell, Newport; recording secretary, Mrs. M. S. Hill, Belfast; treasurer, Mrs. James H. Grey, Caribou; secretary of young people's work, Mrs. H. P. Taylor, Seabrook; secretary of mite boxes, Mrs. A. E. Luce, Dexter.

Prominent among the social features of the Conference was the reception to the Preachers' Wives Association in the Universalist church. In the receiving line were Mrs. D. B. Phelan, Mrs. J. W. Day, Mrs. C. H. Johonnet and Mrs. M. A. Sherman.

Music was furnished by the Outing Sextette, Miss Payson leader. The selections were so admirably rendered as to win much praise. Refreshments were served. The local concert in charge of Mrs. M. A. Sherman comprised Mrs. Viola Garland, Mrs. Annie Hanscom, Mrs. Rebecca Ingraham, Mrs. Ralph Sweet, Mrs. Wallace M. Little, Mrs. E. H. Hatch and Mrs. Ralph Bickford.

The anniversary of the Board of Education was addressed by Dr. Rice. Rev. C. H. Johonnet was chairman.

The executive session resulted in the admission of the following candidates: A. I. Oliver, G. A. Sargent, D. M. Angell, Ernest Barker, S. W. Robinson, J. R. Reynolds, J. Woodley, D. McGraw, Alfred Bishop, Harry Marr, D. H. McLain and Ernest Pugh. W. H. Powlesland, M. F. Bridgman, A. B. Carter and C. F. Beebe were retired from active service in the ministry and became supernumeraries.

Rev. D. B. Phelan presided at the evening session, which was the anniversary of the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension. Dr. Forbes was again the speaker.

The Sustentation Society elected the following officers: Rev. J. H. Grey, Caribou, president; Rev. C. F. Smith, Vinalhaven, vice president; Rev. H. A. Corey, Camden, secretary; Rev. G. E. Edgett, Calais, treasurer; Rev. F. Paladino, Bangor, auditor. Rev. C. N. Garland of Rockland and Rev. C. F. Smith of Vinalhaven were re-elected to the board of managers.

Rev. Wilbur Berry, D. D., of Waterville will deliver an address on temperance this Friday evening at the home of Dr. M. A. Sherman.

Dr. Berry will give a personal description of this week's outrage in Waterville, when Secretary Pringle was a victim of mob violence.

Delegates to the general conference are being elected this Friday morning.

JAMES MITCHELL DEAD

Builder of Lime Rock and Georges Valley Railroads Passes Away Suddenly in Canada.

James Mitchell, the well known contractor, who built the Georges Valley and Lime Rock railroads, and who at one time resided on Limerock street, this city, died suddenly in Calgary, N. W. T., Canada. The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon from the residence of Mrs. Mitchell's mother, Mrs. John N. Stewart, in Belfast.

The deceased was 50 years of age and had been engaged in railroad work for practically 40 years. He went to Belfast around 1870 and first engaged in the construction of the Belfast & Moosehead Lake railroad, now the Belfast branch of the M. C. R. R. He was the principal contractor on the Bangor and Bucksport branch, a section of the European & North American railroad, the Seaboard—Moosehead railroad, the Lime Rock railroad and the Georges Valley railroad, the Washington county railroad, a section of the Portland and Rumford Falls road. He then went west and built a road-mile section of the Canadian Pacific in Winnipeg 400 miles of the Great Northern through Minnesota, 100 miles of the Santa Fe. He also built the Drummond county railroad near the Intercolonial of Canada and sections of other Canadian railroads. He was also the builder of the water works at Norwood and Melrose, Mass., and of Bucksport.

For the last few years he had been interested in mining projects and the development of large enterprises. He was active up to the time of his death, which resulted from heart failure. He was widely known throughout Maine, of a genial disposition and a man of great energy and excellent business judgment.

He married Miss Etta Stuart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John St. Belafast & Moosehead Lake railroad, and with her daughter, Miss Margaret lives in New York; also two sons, John A. who was with his father and William S. of Melrose. Mr. Mitchell also leaves four brothers and two sisters.

Glenn Lawrence and family, who have been spending the winter at Lubec, have reopened their house on Walker place.

THE ROCKLAND DISTRICT

expecting a good advance in all the collections over last year. The Sunday school is up to date and one of the best on the District. The spiritual welfare of the people on this large circuit has been the first and constant care of their pastor.

Unity—Has expended $200 on improving and beautifying their church, and are now at work remodeling the parsonage at an estimated cost of $1,000.

Vinalhaven—Has been loyally served by its pastor, with an increasing number attending both Sunday school and church services. We are expecting that the benevolences will be reported in full.

Wiscasset—Has three Sunday schools, with nearly 300 in attendance; one Epworth League, with about 50 members; one Junior League, with more than 30 members, under the care of the pastor's wife. Two weeks of revival meetings, nine conversions and nine baptisms.

Woolwich—Four weeks of revival meetings. Three conversions, four waiting baptism.

The Sunday school has become an increasingly important factor in connection with our church and District, as such, it demands our most urgent attention. Unless we save the children to the fellowship of the church we are engaged in a losing contest with the powers of the world and the Devil. We, as the great Protestant church of America, must learn a lesson from the Roman Catholic church of New England and look after the boys and girls while young, for the church that does not grow its own ministry is a doomed church.

The work for men and boys still continues, and gives very great promise for the future. A number of churches on the District has some kind of men's organization, and it is a very hopeful sign, that the churches are waking up to the work of securing the presence of men at church. I do not believe that there has ever been as small a percentage of men at church as some sensational preachers and the press would have us think. The facts are that with large hats of the women you cannot always see the men that are looking on like a sea of hats. I admit that too few men go to church, and the new movement in brotherhoods, Bible classes and men's clubs is in the right direction.

We most heartily endorse the work of Rev. Chester J. Brown, our Conference Sunday school missionary. We still believe that our Conference furnishes a wide field for just such a man as Brother Brown has made himself to be. Keep him in East Maine Conference as our Sunday school missionary, and a sustentation fund to aid us, and in 10 years there will be no rural problem.

In some instance the Ladies' Aid Society has been the salvation of the church. Some of our circuits have been abandoned were it not for their help, but after all oysters and ice cream are slippery foundations for a permanent church. We need more loyalty, as pastors, officials and church members, to pass 70 of our Discipline, and to the means of grace, and to higher, holier and purer motives presented by the church.

We recognize the importance of the Epworth League in the development of the young people of our church for leadership in Christian service. We urge for it a more hearty support than ever before.

Rockland District Association is without an equal in the Conference, and is unequalled in all that goes to make an aggressive institution like this, worthy of the District and the men that put their time and talent into it. The first meeting was held at Athens, June 21, 1911. The second was held on Nov. 13-15 at Wiscasset, with a very large number of pastors present.

In making this report, I have given but a glimpse of the splendid achievements of the preachers of Rockland District. We have a loyal lot of pastors, local preachers, class leaders and officials who have shown appreciation and manifested the spirit of co-operation with me in all my work. These kind-hearted pastors have made it possible for me to enjoy those years of hard work, and I do trust and believe that he who has promised to give care to all the seed we plant in His name, will not forget that which we have done together.

In closing this, my sixth report as superintendent of Rockland District, I cannot adequately express my sense of appreciation to my brethren in the ministry and laity for the unfailing courtesy and helpfulness that have always been offered me in my work. I have greatly enjoyed the work of those six years and have tried to do my best. My prayer shall continue to ascend for this great District, with its intense life, opportunities and needs.

LOCAL BREVITIES

Joseph M. Porter is achieving international fame as an organizer. Now we find him across the border in New Brunswick instituting a lodge of the Loyal Order of Moose in St. Croix Valley. The St. Croix Times says: "The new lodge was organized in the Grange hall on Tuesday evening by J. M. Porter of Lewiston, organizer for the state of Maine, who made the ceremony very impressive and created a most favorable impression among the young 'moose.' The lodge starts with 75 charter members."

The Damariscotta Herald devotes nearly two columns to the exciting adventures which befel Almon Davis, a New Harbor fisherman, a few days ago. The rudder of Mr. Davis' boat was smashed during a gale and left him at the mercy of a heavy sea. With the aid of an oar he managed to make Hill's Island, where he beached his boat and took possession of a fisherman's deserted camp over night. He had no food but was fortunate enough to find materials for building a fire. He returned to New Harbor late the next afternoon, after having been given up for lost. Mr. Davis is a brother of Mrs. William Kelsey of this city.

The steamer Belfast, which has been running between Boston and Winterport all winter, has been taken off and sent to Bath for her annual overhauling and her place has been taken by the steamer Camden which has been running between Boston and Portland. She will make her first trip up the river to Bangor as soon as the ice goes out, which, on the average, has usually been about the end of the first week in April. The present two trip a week arrangement will continue until April 11, when the four trip a week schedule will go into effect. The Camden and the Belfast in commission. This arrangement will continue until the full summer schedule of a boat each day is adopted later in the season. Indications point to a brisk freight business this year from the very start of the season.

Leroy F. Morse, a Rockland boy, is engineer at present on a regular train running from Bangor to White River, Ontario. In a letter to a member of The Courier-Gazette staff he says: "There is nothing here but a few houses and a round-house, 138 miles apart. All days are alike, Sundays and all. My headquarters are at the Chalet Y. M. C. A. This is the only home a railroad man has in this country. Eight or 10 settlers' trains go through here every 24 hours. Most of the settlers this year are going up in the Peace River boat, 300 miles from any railroad. They say the climate is better and they can get plenty of lumber, which they are unable to do in Alberta. This would be a great place for Wood Thomas. He could set up a round-house and shoot all the game and catch all the fish he wanted to, with lots of Indians for company. I will be transferred to Winnipeg in six weeks. Received The Courier-Gazette yesterday, from home, and believe me I was some pleased."

"There's a GOOD Job! I Used Amatite ROOFING"

"NOW I have the best roof in this township. One that will last—one that's waterproof—one that will resist the hardest storms—and I didn't have a bit of trouble laying it."

That's about what every Amatite owner says. Its superiority over all other ready roofing is apparent to anyone who uses it. Amatite does away with all roofing troubles and unnecessary expenses because it is made with a real mineral surface that needs no painting. It is durable, fire retardant, practical, economical.

Don't buy any other roofing till you look up Amatite. Write to nearest office for samples.
