A BEAVER TALE.

What of "Black Edward"? Just one word's enough.
His heart's as tender as his tales are "tuff."

YOU see it's this way. A visit to the Rangeley Lake region without a little run up to Beaver Pond is as rank a failure as half a pair of scissors, or the hole of a doughnut with the dough gone. Yes, "Goning up to Ed's" is like smoking opium (ying, or "wasting" water as you say), and the man who once sets his happy foot on the shores of old "Beaver" is as certain to return as—as well as a punched "quarter."

What is there for the "Man behind the gun," up there? Simply this. In the open season he can easily get all the deer the law allows him, and will also find "Ruffed Grouse" (i. e. "Partridge") in abundance. With Moose, Bear and Caribou the case is that of those 5 and 10-pound trout, they do not actually "hang around the door ways."

How do you get to Beaver Pond?—th's. The total of 27 miles from Rangeley Village is now covered by buckboard to Kennebec Lake, thence by steamer down that beautiful sheet of water, a very pleasant break in the journey, thence by buckboard again, direct to Ed's Camps on Beaver Pond. The roads already good are constantly being bettered, and ladies and children can now with perfect comfort make a journey that once meant miles of rough and tollsome tramping.

At the Camps the accommodations leave nothing to be desired by those who realize that this is the "Backwoods" and not "Broadway." The cabins are clean, roomy, and thoroughly comfortable, beds and table excellent (and most of the food at least eatable) while the proprietor—i. e., the "Old Man," is a happy combination of kindness and pleasing fiction.

The first step for those who would like to see for themselves how much actual truth there is in all of the above, is to address Ed GRANT & SON, Beaver Pond, Maine, and then "wait til something drops."

then said the mosquitoes could not touch us. It was only ten minutes afterwards when one mosquito bored his way through the one-fourth inch kettle and then a second one got through his bill. Our only salvation was to clinch the bills as they came through, and this we did, one by one, till it seemed as if the kettle bottom was like a sieve. All of a sudden the mosquitoes lifted the kettle from us and flew off over the pond. We were not troubled again for we decamped early the next morning from that locality. We have heard nothing of the kettle since but would prize it as a souvenir if we could get it.

Trout Swallowed Ground Mole. THE BIRCHES, July 23, 1902.

To the Editor of the Maine Woods:
The communication of Mr. Barnes in your last issue in regard to the finding of a frog in the stomach of a trout, shows but one more of the various articles of the trout's food. A short time ago when Mr. J. D. Brigham of Westbrook, Mr. T. H. Hazleton and party of Portland were at the Birches they chartered the steamer, Metallus, for a day's fishing, among the fish secured was a handsome 3-pound trout, which the guide, Bob Martin, found when dressing had a good-sized ground mole in its stomach. This was the second mole Guide Martin had found in the stomach of trout here this season. It would hardly seem that the trout has as dainty a taste as its appearance would suggest

RANGELEY LAKE HOUSE.

[Special correspondence to the Maine Woods.]

RANGELEY LAKE HOUSE,
RANGELEY, MAINE,
July 30, 1902.

Fishing on Rangeley lake is now better than it has been before this month. The trolling is first-class. In fact the best work here is done by this method at present.

Today Mr. Thomas S. Steele of Boston caught a 64-pound salmon.

Mr. C. A. Post of Flushing, L. I., went out with a friend without a guide, thinking he would do a little trolling. It was but a short time before he had hooked onto a 7-pound salmon. The fish was played for an hour and was landed without a net.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Cruickshank of New York each secured a good fish today. Mr. Cruickshank landed a 6-pounder and Mrs. Cruickshank secured one of 5 pounds.

Nearly two hundred guests are here and the social life of this hotel is at its height.

The progressive euchre parties which occur every Saturday are very pleasant and some skillful playing is developed.

Last Saturday evening a large party took part in the game and the prizes were awarded as follows: Ladies' prizes, Mrs. Jenness, 1st prize, Miss Morrison of New York, 2nd prize; gentlemen's prizes, Hon. F. E. Gilman of Montreal, 1st prize, Mr. C. A. Post of New York, 2nd prize and Mr. J. B. Martindale of New York got the consolation prize.

The golf links are in great demand during this good weather, while boating, fishing, driving and bathing make the days pass pleasantly.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Reese and son of Philadelphia are to be here for a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Knott of Philadelphia, who have been at Kennebago, have returned here.

Mr. John D. Loomis, the well known cigar manufacturer, with his son have been stopping here.

H. S. Sparhawk of Philadelphia is a guest of M. E. Smith. They recently took a very pleasant trip to Mt. Saddleback.

Mr. D. R. Hooker, Mr. C. R. Hooker and Miss Hooker of New Haven, Ct., arrived here Saturday to spend the remainder of the season at this house.

Mr. A. E. Field of Brooklyn is here for a few days and is then going to the White Mountains.

Wednesday night Mr. J. E. Dill chartered the new steamboat of the Rangeley Lakes Steamboat company and gave the help of the hotel the use of it for an evening's ride. About forty-five went on the excursion. They visited Mountain View and then sailed around the island. As they reached home their cheers for Mr. Dill testified to their appreciation of his kindness.

The fishing on the lake is very good for this time of the season. Many good catches are being made. Mr. F. N. Wells of Connecticut with Freeman Tibbets as guide, caught last Friday twelve fish, the largest weighing 2 1/2 pounds. Monday Mr. Wells caught a salmon that weighed 4 1/2 pounds and Tuesday he succeeded in landing one that weighed 9 1/2 pounds.

MOOSELOOKMEGUNTIC HOUSE.

[Special correspondence to the MAINE WOODS.]

MOOSELOOKMEGUNTIC HOUSE,
HAINE'S LANDING, July 29, 1902.

After a week crowded with sport and pleasure and a good record for the fishermen there still remain at the Mooselookmeguntic many who are enjoying the fishing and recreation. The fishing remains pretty good and there have been several good catches.

Mr. Fred E. Jones of Brookline returned home after a much enjoyed trip. His last day's fishing was very successful as he added to his record three large salmon that weighed 3 1/2, 4 1/2 and 6 pounds. He had some great sport with his 6-pounder which jumped into and out of the boat three times before being landed.

Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Pinkney of Brooklyn and a party of four, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert W. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Reckless of Redbank, N. J., arrived for a few weeks' stay at the Mooselookmeguntic House. All of the party are expert fishermen and have already begun to bring in nice strings of fish.

Mr. George S. Payson, the Portland banker, with Mrs. Payson and Master Edwin Payson, spent several days here. They were accompanied by Mr. H. L. Whipple, a real estate broker of Portland, Mrs. Whipple, Miss Elizabeth Whipple and Miss Jeannette Whipple. Their stay was an enjoyable one in every particular.

Another party who are enjoying a few weeks' stay here consists of Mr. N. Foster and family of East Orange, N. J.

Mr. David S. Snow, a well-known Portland attorney, who has been spending some time here with his family, left Monday after a pleasant sojourn here.

The Hon. Jos. W. Symonds of Portland, with his son, Mr. Stuart Symonds, arrived Friday for a week's recreation and rest at Haines Landing. The Judge expects to do some fishing while here and has already begun to cast his line.

Until this season we have been untouched by the ping pong craze, but since excellent tables have been added to the Mooselookmeguntic House club-room, which has been built adjoining the boathouse, we have fallen victims to the fascinating game. Many contests have been played out. Of the gentlemen players, Mr. Sydney Larrabee of Portland so far holds the palm, but many skillful ones are working hard to use up his honors.

A nice bowling alley has also been added for the pleasure of the young people. A tennis court will be added in a few days. These sports, however, do not in the least detract from the fishing.

A large party came up from the Birches Thursday to test the hospitality of Landlord Page by enjoying one of his good dinners. They were in the party fourteen people and they were chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Lea of Philadelphia. Mr. Lea with parties of friends has enjoyed these dinners of Page's from time to time for several years past.

Since the agreeable change of the weather there have been many drives taken from here to Rangeley. They are always enjoyed.

The young people of the hotel and camps went on an all day's outing to Bald Mountain a few days ago. They lunched on Bald top and returned late in the afternoon after a much enjoyed trip. The party consisted of Messrs. Larrabee, Mr. Herbert Brown of Philadelphia, Mr. Tucker of Orange, N. J., and Lucien Snow of Portland; the Misses Whipple of Portland, the Misses Tooker and several others.

Mr. John Alburger, a prominent merchant of Philadelphia, with his daughter, Miss Anna Price Alburger and maid are still here. They will remain all summer. Miss Alburger is one of Philadelphia's leading society ladies.

Late arrivals are: H. J. Burrows, East Orange, N. J.; O. B. Dodge, Caspauville; Jesse H. Rice, New York City; Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Lea and party of twelve, Philadelphia; Paul Taylor Brown, Brooklyn; Jos. W. Symonds, Stuart Symonds, Hon. Seth L. Larrabee, Bishop O'Connell, Chas. S. Chase, Lucien Snow, Flo Deluca, Portland; Edw. J. Moriarty, Concord, Mass.; Kenneth Hart, Boston; James Coombs, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. P. Hooker, New Haven, Conn.; Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Cruickshank, New York City.

Trout For Clear Water Pond. Seven thousand five hundred brook trout arrived at Farmington on the noon train Tuesday and were at once taken to Allen's Mills where they were liberated in Clear Water pond. The fish came from the Green Lake fish hatchery.

CLEAR WATER CAMPS. CARRY PONDS CAMPS

[Special correspondence to MAINE WOODS.] BINGHAM, July 28, 1902.

Things have been very lively here of late. All went to Farmington on a straw ride and while there attended a dance, which was much enjoyed.

One evening in the middle of the week the most of the guests went over the mountain to a Mr. Furbish's farm. There had a very enjoyable time with dancing, music and sociability. Ice cream, cake, maple candy and sweet cider were served.

On Saturday, by the kind invitation of Llewellyn Norton, a baked bean supper and lawn party were enjoyed by the guests of the camps.

William Johnson of Boston went brook fishing one day this week, bringing back a string of fifty beauties.

Mr. Duesenberg, New York, has had fine luck brook fishing.

The black bass are rising to fly. Master Frank Cowan caught one from the wharf that weighed 3 pounds.

Late arrivals: A. C. Sawyer, H. W. Willey, L. W. Wetherell, S. W. Sanford, Boston; J. A. Milliken, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Belcher, John Hennings, Portland; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Butler, E. S. Dingley and wife, E. H. Dingley, Roland Dingley, Farmington; Miss Marion King, East Orange, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Austin, New York; Miss Ella Briggs, Milton, Mass.; Miss Jordan, Auburn.

There is a wild-cat staying around the camps. Mr. James McKenney saw him pass the other day in an old road not 30 yards away. He has been heard in the night several times and Proprietor Lane is watching for him. We expect to have his hide soon.

In my opinion this is going to be one of the greatest hunting seasons ever known and the Kennebec Valley region is at the front as a game region.

Oddities at Nicolai's.

At Peter Nicolai's store in Rangeley village one finds everything that they could wish in the line of souvenirs. Nearly all of the articles are not only ornamental, but are useful. During the winter Mr. Nicolai makes his goods for the coming season and the supply is nearly inexhaustible. He has been here many years and the success of his business has far outreached his expectations.

Last fall he built a store and has made a very attractive place. Among the many things to choose from are pictures of Indian chiefs set in peculiar frames, clay jugs, made and used by the western Indians, bows and arrows, such as the early Indians used, miniature wigwags, baskets of all sizes and shapes made of sweet grass, for every conceivable use. There are pipes, tomahawks, war clubs, paddles, canoes, slippers made of moose hide with beaded work and seal skin slippers. Wholesale skins are displayed, which can be made into vests or cloaks as the purchaser wishes.

Mr. Nicolai takes very good care of his store and everything is tastefully arranged.

MUNYON SPRINGS CAMPS.

[Special Correspondence to MAINE WOODS.]
MUNYON SPRINGS CAMP,
RANGELEY, July 28, 1902.

Prof. Munyon has a cottage under construction that bids fair to be the most elaborate and expensive cottage on the lake. It is situated on the point below his other cottages on a cliff high above the water. It is to be 55x51 feet, with a piazza 10 feet wide around all. In front are three balconies, the first one 12 feet from the water. The third one, 34 feet from the water, is to be an observatory of octagon shape.

The first story will contain two sleeping rooms and a large reception room finished in colored birch and having a rock fireplace. Winding stairs five feet wide will lead to the second story. The second story will have five sleeping rooms with bathrooms. The hall will be finished in native oak, the sleeping rooms in polished ash.

The sides of the cottage are to be shingled; the posts of the piazza will have the shingled effect, with arches between. The piazza is to extend out over the water for ten feet, with seven stone pillars supporting it.

Prof. Munyon has ordered 5000 rose plants to be distributed about these cottages.

The name of this cottage has been discussed for a long time, but none has yet been decided upon. As it has been found so difficult to get a name appropriate, it has been decided to leave the selection of a name with the readers of MAINE WOODS. Then a committee will be chosen to select the best name sent in.

What would you name a cottage situated on a bed of cliffs and surrounded by a profusion of roses? Anyone who wishes to name Prof. Munyon's cottage will please send the name to the MAINE WOODS office.

Mr. A. J. Haley has drawn the plans and is now superintending the building of this cottage. Mr. Haley has engaged with Prof. Munyon and will work for him continuously. He will go to Munyon's Island, Palm Beach, Florida, in the winter and return here for the summer.

Miss H. E. Bryant, the English horticulturist, who is with Prof. Munyon here, will go to Florida soon to work at his winter home.

M. M. Gillam and wife of New York are expected soon.

Prof. Munyon's son, Duke, with his wife, are to be here soon.

LOON LAKE CAMPS.

[Special correspondence to the MAINE WOODS.]
RANGELEY, July 28, 1902.

As we seated ourselves at luncheon the other day we were surprised to see but a single peanut on our plates, and were more so when upon opening the same a roll of parchment came tumbling out. Upon it was engraved an invitation from Mrs. Parkhurst in verse asking our presence at a farewell party to her friend, I might say our friend and fellow guest, Mr. Ralph Ostby. By 7.45 in the evening the camps were in wild commotion and Mr. Elliot Parkhurst had to exert all his strength to keep the ladies and gentlemen from entering the hall before everything was ready and when at last we were permitted to pass, the artistic draping of the hall almost took the breath from all.

Games were entered into, which afforded great sport and for which prizes were given. The winner of the first prize for ladies was Mrs. Augustus Champlain. It was a hat pin with sapphire centre, surrounded with pearls. The first prize for gentlemen was won by Mr. W. Archibald, a bunch of gold tipped toothpicks. When all had enjoyed themselves to their heart's content, we all repaired to the dining room to participate in an elaborate but late dinner, while Mr. Jackson entertained us with some wonderful work with bottles. The evening was brought to a close with a vote of thanks to Mrs. Parkhurst and all joining hands while singing Auld Lang Syne. A GUEST.

PLEASANT ISLAND CAMPS.

[Special correspondence to the MAINE WOODS.]
PLEASANT ISLAND CAMPS,
HAINES LANDING,
July 28, 1902.

"On every side there may be found Unworked mines of joy."

Up the Cuspsitic is the place to go for fly fishing. The veriest virago is easily satisfied there. While we are catching trout, the sportsmen on Mooselookung are catching salmon and they are good ones, too. This season's ways, as to weather, are past finding out and the wisest among us, even Uncle Ned, can't explain its vagaries. If variety is the spice of life, then we certainly have had all spice.

Things are moving at a brisk pace here now and all the camps are well filled. Mr. A. G. Fisk of Boston and New York, Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Maurice of Montgomery, Vt., and Mr. Frank P. Clark of Cincinnati, O., have just arrived.

Mr. Alfred Mudge of Boston, a member of the old and widely known printing house of Alfred Mudge & Son, will return this week for a two weeks' stay. Dr. M. P. Manton of Detroit, Mich., with his family and Dr. O. A. Parker of Wakefield, Mass., with a party of five, will soon be here.

Mr. Haebrouch of Yonkers, N. Y., has been here for a week setting up a new motor for Mr. A. J. Hobbs's naphtha launch. She is now in first-class order and fairly makes the water boil with her rapid pace, under the careful guidance of Mr. C. A. Hobbs and John Thibedeau, guide.

The sound of the locomotive whistle, and even of the bell, are now heard in seemingly close proximity to the camps.

Not the least among the many delights of the camp is the privilege of looking at the tackle brought in by the sportsmen. Their fly books reveal all the colors of the rainbow, and their tackle is almost as ethereal in texture. They are the real thing and the sportsmen know how to land a fish when it is once hooked. It would make "mighty interestin' readin'" if a record could be made of all the big ones lost which, "though lost to sight are to memory dear"—and to pocketbook also.

Peter Nicolai, a Penobscot Indian, was here today with as handsome a lot of basket work as one often sees. The ladies were delighted and so was Peter, for he scooped in a good number of shekels. Besides his regular business, he is the recipient of an annuity from the United States government. I know by his looks and manner that he is a thrifty, prosperous red man. His home is in Old Town. He has been a well-known hunter and guide. J. C. H.

GREENE'S FARM HOUSE.

[Special correspondence to MAINE WOODS.]
GREENE'S FARM, COPLIN,
July 28, 1902.

The private fish ponds belonging to Mr. Greene are being constantly replenished and one has but to drop a worm on the water to get good proof that many beautiful trout inhabit each pool. This is a source of much amusement to the guests who are allowed to fish there at times.

Large parties are expected soon. Recent arrivals are: John Macadam, Moore, Pa.; Chas. E. Phipps, Cadis Phipps, Boston; Mrs. H. M. Thompson, Herman E. Thompson, Lowell; and Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Loomis, New Haven; C. H. Norman, Newark, N. J.; Athel Kendrick, New York.

Weld Pond Notes.

Mr. Eben Newman, Willie Hammond, Miss Hammond and Mrs. Walker were capsized in Webb lake last Saturday. They were rescued by Victor Masterman.

Victor Masterman caught about 20 pickerel last week.

Harold Foster caught a black bass, weight 3 pounds and a pickerel, weight 5 pounds.

BEAVER POND CAMPS.

[Special correspondence to the MAINE WOODS.]
BEAVER POND, July 28, 1902.

Mr. A. Lincoln Filene returned to Beaver Pond Sunday after an absence of two weeks. He was accompanied by Mrs. Filene and friends Mr. Ferdinand Strauss, Mrs. Strauss and son Leon, all of Boston. The party is guided by Orin S. Dyke of Hanover, Me. and Herbert Spencer. Mr. Filene and party fished at Ell pond, Wednesday. They also visited the Megantic Club camps, making a pleasant day's trip.

Dr. F. H. Morse of Melrose, Mass., accompanied by his wife and daughter, Miss A. B. Barker and Mr. B. R. Houghton and wife of Boston, passed Wednesday night and Thursday morning at Beaver Pond. They proceeded to Big Island the next day where they will make a short visit at Big Island. Mr. Morse is a member of the Megantic club.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cushman are spending a week at Beaver Pond, guests of Mrs. Cushman's father, Ed Grant.

There is a new addition to the collection of pets at Beaver Pond in the shape of three very handsome black cocker spaniel pups. They are thoroughbreds and it is exceedingly interesting to watch the antics of the little fellows as they are carefully guarded by Teddy, the pet of the camps, who considers it great treat to have so many companions. He is very gentle with them seeming to know by instinct that the little fellows are under his care. The puppies are for sale.

The gossip is in receipt of an excellent water color painting of the "Fish Hog," or the man who brings in more fish than he can use. The picture represents a hog dressed in man's clothing, loaded with fish. The painting was executed by Mr. Alexander T. Pope of Boston. Properly framed it will occupy a conspicuous position in the office, where it is hoped it may serve as a hint to those who are inclined to be hoggish in fishing.

REDINGTON CAMPS.

[Special correspondence to the MAINE WOODS.]
REDINGTON, July 28, 1902.

Bears and deer are getting to be regular visitors on the shores of the pond. One day last week while fishing Mr. Joe Boston and Master Vinton Hough had the pleasure of seeing two bears come down to the shore and drink, taking their time before returning into the woods.

J. A. Cruikshank and wife, New York City; A. C. Sawyer, W. H. Bliss and wife, Boston; J. A. Milliken, Portland; Walter Grover, Phillips; Mrs. Van Nostitz, Zschoxan, Germany; W. H. Haines, guide, Rangeley; F. A. Mayo and wife, M. J. Quinn and wife, Livermore Falls; James Walker, Harry Elwell, East Wilton.

FIVE-POUND TROUT.

Broke Away With Fifty Feet of Brand New Line.

Guide Doing the Cake Walk With Prize at His Feet.

[Special correspondence to the MAINE WOODS.]
EUSTIS, July 28, 1902.

Dead river, a famous brook trout field of this section, is nearly every day giving up some of the trout that are so thickly distributed throughout its entire course. Some of the guides who work on this river have lived near its banks since childhood and every pool and rapid is familiar to them.

Strange experiences must necessarily come to those who have followed the windings of this river for years and with all kinds of people. One morning a sportsman had gone up the river for quite a distance, leaving his guide below. They were going to fish towards each other and on meeting cook their trout for lunch. The sportsman had floated down the river but a little way when he noticed ahead of him a ripple that seemed to be moving across the stream. On getting nearer he could see the back fin of an enormous trout sticking from the water. Trembling with excitement the man threw his line in that direction and the fish made a rush for it.

The battle that followed was so fierce that the man lost control of his canoe and the current swept them down stream. They had not gone far when the canoe struck a rock and stopped so suddenly that the fishline was broken and the trout with about fifty feet of line swam off down the stream.

The sportsman was nearly broken-hearted but he put some new hooks on the remainder of his fishline and continued fishing down the river. He made many good catches but none of them could equal the one he lost.

As he came in sight of his guide a little later he saw something that made him think the guide had lost his reason or had taken too much firewater, for the man stood on the shore doing a sort of a cakewalk or a war dance around some object on the ground. Drawing nearer the sportsman saw a trout that weighed about 5 pounds taking his last few gasps for breath. Closer observation showed that about fifty feet of line was attached to the fish.

The guide's part of the story was this: He was fishing in rather shallow water when he saw this big fish coming directly toward him. As he moved the fish darted to one side and was going by when he noticed the long line trailing behind. With a bound he was out of the canoe and had caught the line. Winding it around his hands he started for the shore. The fish was taken nearly twenty feet up into the woods before it was considered safe to leave him.

Trout enough had been taken for one day and it was a happy party that started homeward.

Moose Is Dead.

The cow moose that has been in Phillips for a few weeks past died a few days ago. It is understood that there is another cow moose roaming around the outskirts of the village accompanied by a bull and a calf.

[Special correspondence to the Maine Woods.]
RANGELEY, July 20, 1902.

At Pickford's Camps business is good and the engagements ahead for next month will fill the cottages to overflowing. Mr. Pickford will put up some canvas tents to accommodate those who wish to use them in real camping out style.

Many changes will be made there before next season and they will be able to accommodate more guests. Every season so far it has been necessary to refuse many who would like to come here for the season.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Saunders, Miss Saunders and Miss Jean Saunders of New York are occupying Camp Brooklyn.

Recently an aquarium was started in front of the cottages by Messrs. Howard Clarke and Dwight Porter. It was not very large but easily accommodated all of the fish that were caught. Most of the fish were caught by Misses Porter and Clarke, with the help of Howard Clarke, Jr., who is a young man 8 years old. Since his arrival he has given everybody, even the guides, points in the art of fishing. The aquarium was soon filled with trout and salmon and the pet cat, "Pickford," wandering around discovered this chance for a lunch and made the most of it, catching the fish and eating them.

MOOSE AT KINGFIELD.

Animals Frequently Seen In Fields Near Village.

[Special correspondence to Maine Woods.]
KINGFIELD, July 29, 1902.

The moose are certainly increasing around here. Every two or three days someone comes in and tells of seeing one or more of the animals. Len Carville saw a cow and calf moose at Grindstone pond Sunday. Messrs. Fred Blanchard and J. F. Sullivan went to within a few feet of a big one recently. They had a camera with them, but they didn't get any picture. He has been seen at close quarters by several other parties. It is rumored that they do not all like to get very near to the moose, perhaps they wouldn't care to admit it. Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Thurston and Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Wyman were at Tufts pond Saturday and took fourteen fish on a fly in a few minutes. There were thirteen trout and one salmon.

Messrs. A. C. Woodard and S. J. Wyman were at the pond for a day recently and were not unsuccessful.

Moccasin Manufacturers.

The hustling young business men who form the company of M. L. Getchell & Co., of Monmouth have built up a large business in moccasins. From the beginning their trade has steadily increased, but it has been built up by the proven merit of their products. They put out everything that a hunter needs to wear for a boot on his hunting trip if he wants to make it in comfort.

Their advertisement appears in another column and their booklet, which they are pleased to send upon request, gives particulars about the various articles of their manufacture.

Richardson Pond Notes.

H. S. Tucker of Indianapolis recently caught a trout weighing 7½ pounds at Richardson pond. The fish is being mounted by Nash.

D. O. Tiffany of New York caught seven fish in one day, weighing from 3 to 6 pounds, Dan Haywood, guide.

[Special correspondence to the Maine Woods.]
BALD MOUNTAIN CAMPS,
HAINES LANDING, July 28, 1902.

Pleasant weather and a jolly crowd keep things booming at these camps. The sport has been good and some beauties were caught the past week, the largest one being an 8-pound salmon, caught by Mr. L. A. Martin, our old reliable. He came back with a good story about that fish. He says he got the strike and at the same time got one on his other line. The big one got off, jumped out of the water. As he saw the size of it, he threw his line, the fish jumped for it, and in seven minutes he was landed. He says he can prove it. Mr. A. S. Hinds returned on Thursday and the E. hel May is making her daily excursions.

Mr. Jesse I. Rice of New York, with John Oakes, guide, made some good catches of salmon, 6½, 6 and 4 pounds and a 4½-pound trout.

Mr. Lewis A. Thompson, Jr. of Philadelphia, though he is only 12 years old, is a thorough sportsman. He landed two salmon of 2 and 3 pounds each. He is just as handy with the gun and nearly every day brings in something for the cook. The rest of the family are enjoying themselves making excursions to the different lakes.

Mr. L. A. Martin's catch for the week is as follows: Salmon, 8, 4, 3, 2½ pounds; trout, 6, 2½ pounds. Mrs. Martin certainly leads the ladies and has a record this week to be proud of: Salmon, 4½, 4½ pounds; trout, 3, 2½ pounds.

Mrs. John G. Godding of Boston arrived Saturday. Her camp is nearly ready. She hopes to occupy it after the first of August when Mr. Godding will join her.

Our friends below the point are making some good catches. Mr. C. A. Robinson took ten in two days, running from 3 to 5 pounds. Mr. Sam'l Boothby has also landed some good ones.

Mr. C. J. Cole of Portland will take a well earned rest at his beautiful camp where one may always find a jolly party. Messrs. Ricker & Son of Poland Springs have commenced building on their camp.

Mr. J. E. Stephens of Rumford Falls is taking a vacation at his camp.

Bald Mountain is more popular than ever this year and every evening all our friends meet here to get their mail and enjoy a quiet chat. Of course the ladies don't tell fish stories.

Regular sessions of County Commissioners Court, last Tuesday of April and last Tuesday of December.

AMONG THE CHURCHES.

The subject of the discourse given by Rev. J. B. Ranger at the Union church was "God's Way to the Human Heart." The text was from Ezek. xxxiii, 4: "And the glory of the Lord came into the house by the way of the gate whose prospect is toward the east."

We acknowledge the infinite wisdom, power and holiness of God, his supreme authority. There are two classes of limitations, and only two, which are put upon the exercise of his power. One is that made by the human will in regard to the entrance of God into the heart and life, for God will not coerce the will with which he has endowed mankind; the other is found in the divine nature itself, for anything unholy, unjust, unloving, in any way wrong, God cannot do. If, then, our wills control his presence in our hearts, let us question how the way may be prepared and the gate opened toward the place of his coming.

First, we must have confidence in God; we must believe and trust in him. To believe in the power of his presence and the reality of his love and care is the first step toward opening our hearts to his coming. Again, there must be a sense of need. We may accept the truths concerning the attributes of God, we may have full confidence in his creative power, in his strength and knowledge, yet if there be a spirit of self sufficiency we shall not desire God with us. When a person considers his position, his opportunities, his responsibilities and possibilities, not only present but future, not in time only but in eternity, he realizes the need of strength beyond his own, and this consciousness of need is a step toward receiving God. Furthermore, there must be humility, and I use the word as embracing the thought of submission. God cannot dwell in a wilful heart nor in one that harbors rebellion.

The ordinances of the church are among the helps God has given to develop the sense of need and the spirit of humility. As one receives the ordinance of baptism and considers its significance, as he asks "Are my sins buried in the fountain of God's love and am I dead to them? Do I rise cleansed by the crimson flow of the Savior's blood?" the realization of need and the necessity of the presence of the Holy Spirit must be strengthened. So, also, as at the communion table one asks, "Has Christ become my strength, does he give energy to my life?"

We must also be ready to be used by God, be willing that the results of his presence and work shall be manifested in our lives. Only as the hand of the Divine Sculptor works his will our lives attain the beauty and sympathy which in his purpose for us they have. If in our hearts there be confidence in God, a consciousness of dependence and need the spirit of submission and obedience, then is the gate open "toward the east," then will the "glory of the Lord" fill our lives.

At the Methodist church Rev. John A. Ford preached from Hebrews x, 25, "Not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together as the manner of some is, but exhorting one another." The subject was Church Attendance.

The Jews were and are today a church-going people. The disciples and the members of the primitive church were found on the Sabbath in their place of worship. At the time of this epistle to the Hebrews the church was persecuted so that they met in private places and some were kept away through fear of their enemies.

Christians ought to go to church without any urging, but we find that in the early days they needed stirring up so we find in these days the necessity of exhorting the brethren to be faithful to the means of grace. It is a duty, then a privilege and a source of joy and strength to attend church services. The Christian who wilfully neglects the means of grace can not long maintain his Christian experience, but those who are deprived of the means of grace on account of sickness obtain the blessing of God at the homes.

The church service is to worship God, not the choir, the minister or the people. Inside of the church doors the cares, trials and sorrows of life should not be taken. Let Jesus bear them and devote the hour to true worship. If the church wants to see the people filling up the house then she must get right herself. It is not much use to expect the world's people to attend church when those that are called God's people do not.

Remove the churches and the influence for good that they exert then this nation of ours would go to ruin faster than a loaded train down hill without any brakes. The little handful in this place and that city is the salt of the earth that preserves the whole lump from decay and death.

A Cure For Cholera Infantum.

"Last May," says Mrs. Curtis Baker of Bookwalter, Ohio, "an infant child of our neighbor's was suffering from cholera infantum. The doctor had given up all hopes of recovery. I took a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy to the house, telling them I felt sure it would do good, if used according to directions. In two days' time the child had fully recovered, and is now (nearly a year since) a vigorous, healthy girl. I have recommended this Remedy frequently and have never known it to fail in any single instance." For sale by W. A. D. Cragin, Phillips; E. H. Whitney, Rangeley; C. E. Dyer, Strong, and L. L. Mitchell, Kingfield.

S. G. HALEY.

A Prominent Farmer and Trader In Phillips Town.

Some of the Ventures of a Wide-Awake Business Man.

Over in Avon about four miles from Phillips is the farm now owned by Mr. S. G. Haley of Phillips. This was originally the Buck and John Phillips farms and later known as the Rollins farm. It used to be two farms but they have been put together thus making one large farm of 800 acres.

On this farm, Mr. Haley will cut in the neighborhood of 100 tons of hay this year. The farm is mostly upland and is an A 1 piece of property. This is the third summer that Mr. Haley has run it and he is satisfied with his efforts. He says he is sure that a man may take a good farm and stock it with cows and make money out of it. This farm pays all the running expenses and yields a good profit besides. When this is considered it must be noted that all the help here has to be hired that there are no boys to do the chores, etc. Taxes and interest on the money invested are counted before the profit is taken into consideration.

This is mostly tillage and pasture land, though perhaps one-third of it is woodland. He is milking now twenty-two cows but has had as high as 45 to milk. Forty cows could easily be wintered, and fifty would not be an excess for summer. He would have had more there now had he not sold off a number in the spring without replacing them by others.

Each year he puts in about five or seven acres of fodder corn with which he fills up his silo. This he considers a valuable thing to have on a farm, and would not be without it. No grain is raised on the farm. Mr. Haley only tries to get feed for the cows, that is his only object when he plants. Seeding down is done when he plants the corn or else with Hungarian grass.

As an auxiliary to the cows, he raises and sells veal and pork, these, with cows and cream, are the outputs of the farm. Just at present there are but about twenty hogs there, though the number is often as high as 75 or 100.

Eugene Graffam is in charge of the place, and Mr. Haley says he is one of the best men for this situation that he knows. Mr. Graffam has lots of energy and makes the things around him keep on the move. Mr. Graffam is the only man there in the winter, but in the other seasons more men are needed and used.

The cream goes to the Sandy River creamery, of which Mr. Haley is proprietor, and from here a portion is sent to Rangeley and the Dead River country, the remainder being made into butter which finds a ready market in the same territory and around town.

When Mr. Haley started the creamery in 1892, Alton Brown was associated with him for a time. With the exception of a short time last year, he has been the proprietor. The Rangeley Lake House is one of the principal customers for cream and butter.

For over twenty years Mr. Haley has been a prominent figure in trade in this town. He first bought out the meat business of Leonard Pratt in the brick store. He soon dropped the meat department and handled groceries and dry goods. From here he went to the upper village into the grange store, but soon took the store he now occupies.

Here he handles meats, groceries, crockery, etc. If one is desirous of finding a good supply of these things, whether for camp use or to supply an elaborate household, one has only to consult with Mr. Haley and all his needs will be supplied in short order. Look over his shelves and look into his meat shop and you will not wonder that he does an enormous business.

He furnishes the Rangeley trade with large numbers of chickens, spring lambs and eggs, besides furnishing his large number of customers right at home. Then, he ships to Boston large supplies of meats of all kinds. This is not all, for all country produce is in his line of business, and everything can be made to form a part of his trade.

The most of the hides and wool skins of this section come to him and pass through his hands. Considering the many different branches of his business, he pays out to the farmers a very large amount of money in the course of a year. This season he bought in the neighborhood of 25,000 pounds of wool. He handles perhaps over 100 cows every year.

An important item in the past year's accounts was that of apples. Several vessel loads were sent to Liverpool by him and a number of carloads were shipped to Boston. He also sent away several carloads of cider apples.

Mr. Haley's varied interests keep him pretty well occupied, so that the management of the store devolves upon his son Frank and his son-in-law, Herman Beal, and these these young men will be found ready to wait upon customers to the best of their ability.

While Mr. Haley is very fond of a good horse, and always has one to drive, he is not a horse man as many understand the term. He does not deal in horses, but he has no hesitation in buying a good one when he finds what he wants.

In this connection, it may be well to speak of Mr. Haley's interests in the wild lands. With Mr. C. E. Parker, under the firm name of Haley & Parker, he is doing considerable in lumber. Haley & Parker have about 1500 acres, mostly in West Phillips and No. 6, and some in Avon. They have now 1000 or 1200 cords of poplar down and peeled and will put in about 2000 cords of poplar and birch next winter. The peeled poplar goes to the Warren Paper company, while the white stock goes to Strong to be made into toothpicks.

Mr. Haley is a man held in high esteem by his townsmen and who has been honored in many ways. He is at present postmaster of this town.

[We would call attention to Mr. Haley's neat advertisement which appears in another column. He has been an advertiser in his home paper for years and finds it a profitable course to pursue.—Ed.]

STRONG.

[Special correspondence to the Maine Woods.]

STRONG, July 28, 1902.

Fine weather for hoeing. Mrs. M. A. Will is visiting friends in Brunswick and Rockland.

Mrs. O. A. Norton of Lewiston is visiting relatives and friends and the scenes of her childhood.

It looks now as if corn would need some very careful nursing if we are to be rewarded by a goodly yield.

Will I. Smith is building a new stable which will be connected to his residence.

Chas. W. Shaw has purchased the land owned by E. K. Hitchcock and is contemplating building a home in the near future. He will no doubt have a few choice lots for sale.

Daggett & Will have the addition to their store completed, making a block nearly 100 feet in length. They will add to their grocery and feed business a full line of hardware, of which an announcement will be made a little later.

The Strong baseball team played a game with the High school nine at Farmington last Saturday, resulting in a score of 7 to 17 in favor of Strong. Would it not be a good plan for lovers of the sport to arrange for a series of games by offering a purse to the winning team? What do you say, Mr. Editor?

A crew of Italians passed through this place to Salem Saturday last to work on the Franklin & Megantic railroad in cutting down a few steep grades. W. D. Smith, who has done considerable work for the narrow gauge railroads in this section, has the contract.

What will the weather be tomorrow is what is daily heard on the street.

Woodchucks and the orange hawkweed have been two very conspicuous, although not welcome, flowers the past month.

Mr. P. W. Mason has been taking a two weeks' vacation, visiting in Howland, Augusta and Portland. He returned Monday.

South Strong.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley R. Cuthren will spend the summer with Mrs. Nathaniel Cuthren of Farmington.

One day last week Frank Arnold of Farmington, who is supposed to be one of the best checker players in the county, came up and sailed into our local sharp, Mr. C. W. Skillings. Thirteen games were played, Mr. Arnold winning nine, Mr. Skillings two and two were drawn.

C. W. Skillings caught 110 trout on Skillings brook last week.

Geo. Wheeler, Jr. and Roland Howard of Farmington fished on the Skillings brook Friday, catching 46 good trout. A good many of them would weigh a pound. This is no fish story; see the point?

It was croquet everywhere last week during the rainy season. Big and little played and the whack of the mallet was heard from morning till night. Ping pong has not yet made its appearance here, but it is expected "most any day."

Had your picture taken by one of our snapshot friends yet?

Sidney Darlin, who was mentioned last week as working for Roy Atkinson, served in the United States army three years and one month. Mr. Darlin's period of enlistment included the Spanish-American war. During a part of the war he was stationed in Cuba, being one of the men that removed the mines from Havana harbor soon after the occupation of that city by the American soldiers.

July 28, 1902.

Many people invade the Birches and the days are full of activity, occupied by steamboat rides, fishing and canoeing. Although the fishing is generally supposed to be at its lowest ebb at this time of the season, yet for the past week many good catches have been made.

BLAKESLEE LAKE CAMPS.

[Special correspondence to the Maine Woods.]

EUSTIS, July 28, 1902.

Fishing is better than ever. Here we can catch all the trout we want, rain or shine.

Mr. Tinker and Mr. Fitzpatrick of Waterbury, Conn., are keeping a record of all the trout caught by them. In two weeks they caught 412 trout, weighing a little less than 200 pounds. These gentlemen while fishing in Davis pond, one and one-half miles from the home camps, saw a big cow moose and three deer. After supper they went fishing with the ladies on the lake and caught twenty trout, weighing just 10 pounds. Mr. Fitzpatrick, while fishing in Baker stream, landed a trout that weighed 1 pound and 10 ounces. He took the Royal Coachman.

Parmachenee Belle and Red Ibis continue to be the favorite flies. Of late they take a Black Gnat or Black Hackle.

Mr. Henry M. Ricker and party were at the camps for the past two weeks and left well pleased for their outing.

CAMP BEMIS.

[Special correspondence to the MAINE WOODS.]

BEMIS, July 28, 1902.

Many people pass through here on their way to and from the lake region. The amount of travel keeps everybody here bustling. The only party for the season to arrive here and be absolutely ignorant of their whereabouts, came last Sunday. Two men who are not at all familiar with the Rangeley Lake region and who have been for some time working at Major Harrison's camps on the south shore of Rangeley lake, had a desire to see something of the country. Sunday they started out to walk along the shore of the lake and coming to some paths they followed them. As they went deeper into the woods other paths were found. These trails led them over mountains and through valleys, and about noon they came in sight of some cottages. On drawing nearer they found they were at Camp Bemis and that they were just in time for dinner. They were confident they were on the same lake they had left in the morning and were only convinced by the use of maps and strong arguments. After finding how far they were from home they decided to return by steamboat.

UPPER DAM HOUSE.

[Special correspondence to the MAINE WOODS.]

UPPER DAM, July 28, 1902.

The people are still holding to the pools and many a good fish is taken from the water. At this season of the year the pools are filled with trout and salmon, weighing from 3 to 7 or 8 pounds and it is a common sight to see them jumping up the dam trying to get to the lake above. Several attempts have been made to photograph the fish as they were in the air and it is understood that some of the artists were successful.

Many people are expected here soon and there are a large number of engagements ahead for the remainder of the season.

Upper Dam House arrivals:

Monday, July 21. E. Baruck, Dr. and Mrs. M. L. Tirrell, New York; Mrs. Harold E. Watson, Portland; Miss Mabel Blackman, Lincoln Centre.

Saw a Bear.

[Special correspondence to the MAINE WOODS.]

EUSTIS, July 28, 1002.

They are having a good laugh at a Eustis man's experience with a bear a few days ago. Wm. Hanscom and wife were at Chase Pond Camps fishing recently. With their guide they were out in a boat, and heard a noise up on the bank of the stream. Hanscom went to where the sound came from and in a short time came back at high speed and very much excited. He made a misstep and went into the water instead of the boat. When he was able to talk he told of the first bear he had ever seen. He described it as about 6½ feet high, 60 feet long and weighing close onto a ton. The guide suggested that he was some excited, but he asserts that he was not. They say William has not regained his natural color yet and talks bear in his sleep.

IT MATTERS NOT

How Sick You Are or How Many Physicians Have Failed to Help You.

Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy will Cure You if a Cure is Possible.

Doctors are not infallible and there are many instances where they have decided a case was hopeless and then the patients astonished everyone by getting well and the sole cause of their cure was Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. A case in point is that of James Lettuce of Canajoharie, N. Y., who writes:

"Some years ago I was attacked with pains in my back and side that were fearful in the extreme. I could not control my kidneys at all and what came from them was mucous and blood. I was in a terrible state and suffered intensely. A prominent physician of Albany, N. Y., decided that an operation was all that would save me. I dreaded that and commenced to take Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. I felt better almost instantly. When I had taken about two bottles, the flow from the bladder was much cleaner, the pain stopped, and I was saved from the surgeon's knife and am now well."

Dr. W. H. Morse, the famous physician of Westfield, N. J., has this to say of this great medicine:

"I have known it to cure chronic inflammation of the kidneys, where the attending physician pronounced the case incurable."

No form of kidney, liver, bladder or blood disease, or the distressing sicknesses so common to women, can long withstand the great curative power of this famous specific. Its record of cures has made it famous in medical circles everywhere.

It is for sale by all druggists in the Now 50 Cent Size and the regular $1.00 size bottles—less than a cent a dose.

THREE WERE DROWNED.

Went to Indian Rock After Their Mail.

Paul Virgin's Wife Drowned but He Was Saved.

[Special correspondence to MAINE WOODS.]

RANGELEY, July 31, 1902.

A sad drowning accident occurred on Kennebag stream last night in which three persons lost their lives. Mr. Paul Virgin, his wife, a man employed on the extension of the Portland & Rumford Falls railroad and a man from the camps went to Indian Rock in a boat after their mail. They called for their mail about 8 o'clock and started back up the stream towards Kennebag Farm. All were drowned but Mr. Virgin.

At 9.40 Thursday morning MAINE WOODS received from Indian Rock by telephone that the body of one of the three that were drowned had been recovered. All of the available men from Indian Rock, the Kennebag Farm and other places in that vicinity were working diligently at that hour for the recovery of the bodies, but since the recovery of the one body there had been but little to encourage the searches so far as the people at Indian Rock had been able to learn.

The man who drowned was a cousin of Mrs. Virgin.

They started from Indian Rock at about 10 o'clock in the evening and nothing was known of them at the Kennebag Farm where they were employed, until 4 o'clock this morning, when Mr. Virgin arrived there and made the sad announcement that his three companions were drowned.

The bare fact is about all Mr. Virgin has imparted up to this time.

In reply to the question, "How did it happen?" Mr. Virgin says he can hardly tell. He did everything that he could do to save the unfortunate people and it is understood that he got his wife into the boat two or three times, but she would not stay in. She was probably so excited that she lost her head.

The Kennebag Farm is only a short distance from Indian Rock.

DYNAMITE AND MINERS.

Long Immunity From Accident Results In Contempt of Danger.

"After a miner had handled dynamite for eight or ten years without a serious mishap it is a good idea to put him to doing something else about the works," said a gentleman of this city who has had a great deal of experience with high explosives. "The chances are a hundred to one that his long immunity from accident has given him such a contempt for danger that he is an unconscious menace to everybody on the premises. He will do things that not only imperil his own life, but the lives of all his comrades. To give you an illustration, once I had an old Cornishman at work at a mine in which I was interested and had intrusted him with a general supervision of all the blasting. He had been handling dynamite for twenty years or more and was justly regarded as an expert. During that entire period he had never had an accident worth speaking of, and by degrees the care and vigilance that were responsible for his excellent record had worn away until he was beginning to entertain the delusion, common to old hands, that the danger of the stuff was very much exaggerated.

"One day I was passing through a cut where some blasting had been going on and noticed the old Cornishman hammering a drill into what seemed to be a boring in the rock. I asked him what he was doing, and he told me coolly there was a cartridge in the hole that had failed to explode and he was 'just knockin' out the tamin' to re-prime it.' I was horrified, for at every blow he was liable to explode the dynamite, and I ordered him sternly to stop and never repeat such a performance. The proper method would have been to have drilled a new hole near by and exploded the first charge, with a second blast. He obeyed sullenly, grumbling to himself, and less than a month afterward was blown up while doing exactly the same thing. He lost his left arm at the shoulder, his left eye and part of his left ear. He also lost his contempt for dynamite, and when he finally emerged from the hospital I gave him back his former job. I never had a more scrupulously careful employee than he was from that time on. It seems a brutal thing to say, but there is nothing that does an old dynamite hand as much good as to get blown up once or twice."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

A Peculiar Word.

The word "habit" is one of the most peculiar in our language. If you take off the first letter, you still have "a bit." If you remove the second, the word "bit" is still on hand. Decapitate that by removing the "b" and it is still a word. Take off the "i," and you find the old "habit" not "a" totally destroyed.

The 2.34, 2.27 and 2.20 classes the second day, with purses of $100 for the first and $200 each for the other two. Mrs. Scott Ellis of West Farmington was considerably injured Sunday while putting her horse into one of the stalls back of the Old South church. The horse backed and caught her between the wheel and the side of the stall, then the wheels passed over her and the horse stepped on her. Assistance came in response to her cries and she was taken to the house of Hon. J. C. Holman. It was found that though no bones were broken she had received some severe sprains.

Mr. I. S. Jacobs, driver on Route 3 of the rural delivery, was thrown from his team Monday and received a broken shoulder. The horse became frightened at the train and ran up Depot street. Mr. Jacobs was unable to gain control of his steed and was tipped out when the turn was made onto Broadway. As Mr. Jacobs is over 70 years of age this fracture is particularly bad. He is attended by Dr. A. G. Howard.

Deputy Sheriff W. B. Small came here with a two-horse load of liquors Saturday. They were seized by him last week at Bigelow and Eustis. Part of the goods was billed to Thos. B. Tague of Eustis. The hearing was held before Trial Justice O. C. Doibier, Friday, and the goods declared forfeited. Mr. Tague claimed a part of them.

The popular home school for boys at Little Blue is soon to be reopened. The new building to replace the one destroyed by fire a few years ago is going up as fast as it can consistently with good work. Principal Geo. Dudley Church informs us that the school will probably open Oct. 2.

Mr. Glenn C. Taylor, who has been the guest of R. H. Searles, has returned to Boston.

Warts.

A simple remedy for warts is a dram of salicylic acid with an ounce of colloidum in a bottle which has a tiny brush run through the cork. Apply this mixture to the warts twice a day, and in a few days they will dry up and fall off.—Ladies' Home Journal.

—Master Ivan Harlow is proving to be quite an artist with the jackknife. To the wonder of his companions, he occasionally whittles out a wooden representation of a razor or a pocketknife. His work is very nearly perfect. It will be remembered by some of our readers that Ivan's father, Mr. E. V. Harlow, had a liking for fine woodwork. Mr. M. W. Harlow has a violin that Mr. Harlow made several years ago that is hard to excel for quality or tone. The young man Harlow seems to have inherited his father's genius for fine woodwork with edge tools.

Rangeley vs. Strong.

Strong and Rangeley played a rattling game of ball on the Phillips grounds last Thursday afternoon. The score at the half of the ninth inning stood four to nothing in favor of strong.

The game was distinguished by very strong battery work throughout. Jones the pitcher for Strong, struck out fifteen men and Taylor, the Rangeley pitcher, struck out ten.

Following is a list of the players and their positions: Strong, C. Durrell, r. f.; G. Dickey, 1 b.; Johnson, 2 b.; Ben Jones, p.; T. Luce, 3 b.; F. Allen, s. s.; H. Allen, c. f.; Vining, c.; Packard, l. f.; Rangeley, Watts, l. f.; Ellis, 2 b.; Mason, s. s.; Haley, c.; Hoar, c. f.; Porter, 1 b.; Hill, 3 b.; Taylor, p.; Nash, r. f.

The umpire was T. R. Wing. The score by innings:

Strong—1 0 2 0 1 0 0 0—4.

Rangeley—0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0.

Now a great many of the North Franklin baseball enthusiasts would like very much to see a game between Strong and Weld on the Phillips diamond. Phillips is accessible for both teams and it has the added advantage of being neutral ground.

Obituary.

GEORGE W. WARREN.

After an illness of about eight months Mr. Geo. W. Warren of Phillips died July 20 at the ripe old age of seventy-nine years, eight months and eleven days.

Mr. Warren was born in China, Me., Nov. 9, 1822. At the age of seven years his parents moved to Concord, Me., where he remained until thirty-one years of age. On Oct. 9, 1852 he was married to Miss Julia A. Young of Concord. After their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Warren settled in Vassalboro. Having lived there for ten years they moved to Phillips where they have lived ever since. For several years after coming to Phillips Mr. Warren worked in the carriage shop, but the greater part of his time has been spent in the grist mill. For at least twenty years he has been found grinding the grain at the end of the bridge.

Mr. Warren was a highly respected citizen, honest and upright in all of his dealings. Although a man of few words, yet those words could ever be relied upon, and his face will be missed by those long accustomed to seeing him so diligently engaged in his labor. The family which survives him consists of Mrs. Warren and their adopted son, Mr. Lucian Warren of Phillips.

The funeral services were held at his late home July 22, conducted by Rev. J. B. Ranger. Thus another landmark is removed from the community.

KINGFIELD NEWS NOTES.

Sufferers From Explosion Are Getting Along Well.

Work on the Curves and Grades of Franklin & Megantic.

[Special correspondence to MAINE WOODS.] KINGFIELD, July 29, 1902.

The children who were injured by the explosion at North Freeman a week ago are doing as well as could be expected. While it is not thought that they will lose their eyesight it will doubtless always be weak.

More details of the accident given by Dr. Simons are as follows: Mrs. Witham had just taken down from a shelf two pails of dirt in which plants had been growing. Allie Witham took them around the barn and was going to throw them away. Little Zora Bachelier was by his side. On the way out he fell down and an explosion followed. The pail in his right hand had the bottom blown out and the dirt stirred up some. The other pail had some of the stubble of the plants. These were scorched and the dirt was baked over hard. Allie's hands were burned differently. The smell of the earth indicated that black powder was in one. There were no matches around. A flash, report and smoke accompanied the explosion.

It is hoped now that the scarlet fever cases have been checked. There have been nine cases in all but only one has been very sick and that one but for a few days.

It may be interesting to know that on Depot street there are 36 children under ten years of age, and on Main street from the hotel to the corner beyond the hill there are 37.

The Kingfield Fire company are planning to have a ladder truck soon. They recently purchased a hose reel that will carry 600 feet of hose. They have a good method of drying the hose. It is hung from near the roof, letting the ends go to the basement where a fire is built and the warm air rising does the work. The department has rooms at the town building. An addition was made to it recently to receive the hose cart.

Mrs. R. Frank Cook and Mrs. Wallace Libby and child have been visiting friends in Phillips and Madrid for a few days. They returned Monday.

Rev. and Mrs. W. S. Ballou returned to Kingfield Friday night.

Miss Happie Vose went to Portland last week. She went to the hospital to have a tumor removed. Dr. Simmons accompanied her.

Geo. McMullen and Chas. Campbell were out from Bigelow over Sunday.

Dr. Mores recently sold an organ to N. P. Harris of Salem.

Mr. Joel Sanborn of Boston was in town a few days last week.

W. P. Watson has gone to Norridge, work on a visit to his mother and his sister, Mrs. A. D. Brackley.

Mr. F. W. Cross is stopping at Mrs. Blanchard's for a week and enjoying fly fishing at Tufts pond.

Mr. Walter Morrison of Haverhill called on Dr. W. W. Mores last week.

Mrs. Vesta Barden of Phillips visited at H. S. Wing's last week.

D. S. Austin sold a nice horse to John Pooler of Eustis Monday last.

A. G. Winter has purchased Oliver B. of J. W. Oliver and is using him for a road horse.

Mrs. Oren Tufts is quite sick this week.

Mrs. Sarah Rounds of Danville is visiting her daughter, Mrs. A. R. Thurston. Dr. Simons was called to Eustis and Stratton Saturday night.

MISS LAURA HOWARD,

President South End Ladies' Golf Club, Chicago, Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound After the Best Doctors Had Failed To Help Her.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I can thank you for perfect health to-day. Life looked so dark to me a year or two ago. I had constant pains, my limbs swelled, I had dizzy spells, and never knew one day how I would feel the next. I was nervous and had no appetite, neither could I sleep soundly nights. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, used in conjunction with your Sanative Wash, did more for me than all the medicines and the skill of the doctors. For eight months I have enjoyed perfect health. I verily believe that most of the doctors are guessing and experimenting when they try to cure a woman with an assortment of complications, such as mine; but you do not guess. How I wish all suffering women could only know of your remedy; there would be less suffering I know."—LAURA HOWARD, 113 Newberry Ave., Chicago, Ill. —$5000 forfeit if above testimonial is not genuine.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Parker were in Farmington Monday getting things together for housekeeping.

Mr. Geo. Cross and his daughter, Mrs. J. K. Viles of North New Portland went to Tim pond last week. Mr. Cross is about 70 years of age and never rode in the cars before. He has been to Tim pond every year, but has always avoided riding in the cars.

Messrs. Ralph Norton and Ernest Norton are visiting their cousin, Mrs. D. S. Austin. They will also visit their grandfather, Tis ram Norton, a part of the time.

The executive committee of the Webster Library association have made a provisional list of books to be put into the library. They have about $200 available for that purpose now. They have purchased a stamp for the librarian.

The Franklin & Megantic Railway company is straightening out some of the curves in the track near Salem and between that place and Kingfield. They will also cut down some of the hardest grades. A crew of Italians is now on the ground doing the work. The brush has been cut along the line of the road.
