NOT A SICK DAY -For Over Thirty Years!

RESULT OF USING AYER'S PILLS

"Ayer's Cathartic Pills for over thirty years have kept me in good health, never having had a sick day in all that time. Before I was twenty I suffered almost continually-as a result of constipation - from dyspepsia, headaches, neuralgia, or boils and other eruptive diseases. When I became convinced that nine-tenths of my troubles were of Aver's Pills, with the most satisfactory results, never having a single attack that did not readily yield to this remed. My wife, who had been an invalid for years, also began to use Ayer's Pills, and her health was quickly restored. With my children I had noticed that nearly all their ailments were preceded by constipation, and I soon had the pleasure of knowing that with children as with parents, Ayer's Pills, if taken in season, avert all danger of sickness."-H. Harvest Concert at the Methodist Church.

A large congregation completely filled the Methodist church on Sunday evening, the occasion being the annual Harvest Concert by the Sunday School. The decorations were very tastful and appropriate. A large arch spanned the center of the platform near the front. The pillars supporting the arch were wound about with shining red apples, while at the top of each post was a trace of pop corn and at its base a trace of yellow corn. The arch itself was draped in green, with clusters of red berries at its summit. Directly behind the large arch and near the rear of the platform was a smaller arch hidden beneath a wealth of autumn leaves interspersed with red berries. Golden gates opened from this archway toward the rear and behind them was a pillar of autumn leaves covered caused by constipation, I began the use with clusters of grapes. Sheaves of corn were at the rear of the platform on either side, while in the front. occupying the same places, were pyramids embroidery, knitting, netting, tatting, of fruit and vegetables. Tables and smocking, lace making. and articles stands and even the margin of the particularly suited for home decorations platform were likewise laden with fruits and gifts. and vegetables. The following program was pleasingly rendered:

November 3.

Before the Ledger goes to press again, the great question, as to who shall be the next president of the United States, which has been agitating our people for the last four months, will probably have been settled.

The campaign this year has been fought on new issues, for the old one of the tariff, seemed to have been practically settled. The only difference between the parties, as they existed of old was, that one party held the offices and the other wanted them.

New ideas, however, have been germinating, for the past few years, especially in the West, and these have been championed by new bodies and are now largely collected in that known as the Populist party. Business, all over the country has been done largely on wind, and especially is this true in Scotch twinkle in his eye when he made the West. We are sorry to see these manifestions for either the story before or after election must be a lie-probably the story before, for the man who would lie without a cause must be depraved indeed. All this is for the sake of the common voter. Once in four years he is somebody. Once in four years politicians are anxious he shall have good pay and fare well generally but "after the ball" -well you know the song. Who will be elected? It is impossible to tell at this writing. Both sides claim it; but it will be a different election than usual if more than one wins. From all appearances it seems that McKinley is sure of 140 electoral votes, Bryan 130, with 160 in doubt. The candidate who gets the most this 160 will be the lucky man. Whoever he is, let us hope he will remember the common voter, without which he cannot get in, and who is generally the last to be remembered. It is not good wages, alone,

Mike Tobin, brakeman of the Berlin train, was badly bruised and shaken up, being on one of the ditched cars, but it is thought he is not seriously injured. There were seven or eight passengers on the Berlin train all of whom escaped uninjured. A VERY WILD FLOWER.

Within a garden once there grew
A flower that seemed the very pattern
Of all propriety. None knew
She was at heart a wandering slattern.

The gardener old, with care and pain, Had trained her up as she should grow, for dreamed amid his labor vain That rank rebellion lurked below.

A name sufficiently high sounding He diligently sought for her, Until he thought that the "Rebounding Elizabeth" he should prefer.

But when grown up the flower began To show the tastes within her hidden. At every chance quite wild she ran, In spite of being sternly chidden.

They told her beds for flowers were best. But daily greater grew her failings. Up to the fence she boldly pressed And stuck her head between the palings

Then to the street she struggled through, Tearing to rags her silk attire, And all along the road she grew, Regardless quite of dust and mire.

You'll find her now by country ways, A tattered tramp, though comely yet, With rosy cheek and saucy gaze, And known to all as "Bouncing Bet." -Mildred Howells in St. Nicholas.
