A BEAVER TALE

What of "Black Edward"? Just one word's enough.

His heart's as tender as his tales are "tuff."

YOU see it's this way. A visit to the Rangeley Lake region without a little run up to Beaver pond is as rank a failure as half a pair of scissors, or the hole of a doughnut with the dough gone. Yes, "Going up to Ed's" is like smoking opium. Flying, or "beating" it grows upon you, and the man who once seizes his happy foot on the shores of old "Beaver" is as certain to return as—as well as a punctured "quarter."

What do you do when you get there? Most people fish, others tramp those glorious old trails and just soak their hearts and minds in the delights of mountain, lake and forest; for at Ed's, remember, we're in the sure-enough backwoods.

Now as to the fishing, a word or two. Guides talk, notwithstanding, I have never yet found 5 and 10-pound trout plenty enough to be monotonous—never have, but the reasonable man with a fair idea of the proper dissemination of "feathers"—if he chance also to be a true sportsman, could ask nothing better.

Within easy reach of Ed's doors lie (even nature "lies" up there—I wonder why?) 3 or 4 lakes in which the fly fishing is simply "great," and I say this after having fished every dam spot in that region many times.

Take "El Pond," for instance, around the "head" among the pines, or "Little Island" with a gentle ripple about sundown. Such incessant "rise," and such a run of fish marks that charming little pond as the a me of fly fishing possibilities.

What is there for the "Man behind the gun," up there? Simply this. In the open season he can easily get all the deer the law allows him, and will also find "Ruffed Grouse" (i. e. "Partridge") in abundance. With Moose, Bear and Caribou the case is that of those 5 and 10-pound trout, they do not actually "hide" around the door yards.

How do you get to Beaver Pond?—thru S. The total of 27 miles from Rangeley Village is now covered by backboard to Kennebago Lake, thence by steamer down that beautiful sheet of water, a very pleasant break in the journey, thence by backboard again, direct to Ed's Camps on Beaver Pond. The roads already good are constantly being bettered, and ladies and children can now with perfect comfort make a journey that once meant miles of rough and toilsome tramping.

At the Camps the accommodations leave nothing to be desired by those who realize that this is the "Backwoods" and not "Broadway." The cabins are clean, roomy, and thoroughly comfortable, beds and table excellent, and most of the food at least eatable) while the proprietor—i. e. the "Old Man," is a happy combination of kindness and pleasant fellow.

The first step for those who would like to see for themselves how much actual truth there is in all of the above, is to address Ed GRANT & SONS, Beaver Pond, Maine, and then "wait till something drops."

Fish and Game Oddities.

We invite our readers to send contributions for this column.

Foxes and Deer.

John Shepard of Bray Hill, who always knows what is going on in regard to the wild game of this section, says that foxes are much more plentiful in Phillips than they have been before for years. Mr. Shepard says that one of the reasons why young white birch matures so slowly is because the deer eat off the tops of the young sprouts. He says this has been done repeatedly to some young crops.

Trout Struck His Nose.

Frank Hight of Greenville owns a really and truly tame trout. He has had the trout in a spring for the past five years. Many times he has fed him anglerworms from his hand. The trout will always bite at a finger when he has a chance. One day only a short time ago Hight got down on all fours to drink out of the spring, not having a drinking cup there. He put his face into the water unsuspectingly enough, not thinking of the trout. He had been in that position only a moment when the trout made a strike and grabbed Hight's nose. The nose went up quickly and the trout with it and the fish didn't fall back into the water until he had been carried clear of it by the nose of his victim.

Name of a Pond.

There has been more or less said at various times in regard to the name of Gull pond. Mr. Fletcher Pope, manager of the Phillips & Rangeley railroad, printed some stationery for his camp awhile ago upon which he calls it Salmon Lake. Salmon Lake is a very pretty name but there are so many people who are in the habit of calling it Gull pond that they do not catch on very promptly.

MAINE WOODS thinks Gull pond is a prettier name and much less common place than Salmon Lake. In spite of the fact that we have always rather approved of the old name in place of the new, it seems that we have not always been given credit for entertaining that view. One of the summer visitors at Rangeley was out walking awhile ago when he came in sight of Gull pond. Meeting a Rangeley man he stopped him and asked if "that sheet of water was Gull pond." "Sh-sh," said the man, "don't say that. MAINE WOODS has changed the name of this sheet of water to Salmon Lake. It won't do to call it anything else."

FISHED FOR A RECORD.

[Special correspondence to MAINE WOODS.]
STRATTON, Aug. 22, 1902.

I thought you might like a letter telling of a fishing trip I took Saturday. I will write it for your paper.

Recently a party consisting of Edgar Hinds, Joseph Derouche and Wm. E. Dill of Stratton and Louis Campbell of South Gardiner took a trip to a little pond between the horns of Mount Bigelow where fish were put in over 30 years ago and have not been heard from since.

They did not expect to catch any, but had a good day's sport and came home to astonish every one with four square-tailed trout, the largest of which weighed eight pounds, the four weighing 28 pounds, the largest catch ever made here.

HAINES LANDING, Aug. 25, 1902.

With every camp full at this beautiful spot, our guests have enjoyed themselves to their hearts content. It is quite the proper thing now, to get an early start before the break of day, to get a glimpse of a deer and every morning some of our people have been amply repaid. The sunsets the past week have been beyond description, and are worth a long trip to see.

The Misses McInnes of Morrissett, Pa., gave a ladies progressive whist party in their pretty camp, three tables were in play, Mrs. C. A. Robinson won the first prize, Mrs. J. Foster Jack the second, Mrs. A. S. Hinds with her free generosity was satisfied with the booty. Refreshments were served, and the ladies declared they got along quite nicely without the male sex. A stag party will probably follow.

Miss Margaret Haven has become quite an expert with the rod and landed a very pretty three-pound salmon after a hard fight, and as she claims without the assistance of Mr. Charlie Hinds. His story is defended but we will let them fight it out.

Mrs. H. F. French of Boston, landed a 2 1/2-pound salmon from our wharf, this is rather unusual at this season of the year. It shows that they have not gone into deep water yet.

Mr. W. C. Richardson took a trip up Cupsuptic stream and came back with a basket full of speckled beauties.

At our regular Saturday night card party, the Misses McInnes, carried off both prizes, something should be done to break up this combination, which is a strong one.

Dr. J. Foster Jack, is out every day, and has brought in several nice ones, from 1 1/2 to 3-pounds. He is a very persistent fisherman, and deserves success.

Mr. F. P. Stearns of Tufts College went out the other day and gave his wife a few points by landing several nice salmon.

Gen'l. E. B. Newton of Boston, it seems has gone back a little, for Mrs. Newton, has one 3 1/2, and 2 1/2 salmon, and 2 1/2 trout to her credit, and Miss R.

SEVEN PONDS.

[Special correspondence to the MAINE WOODS.]

BEAVER POND, Aug. 27, 1902.

Among the late arrivals are Dighton W. Forrest, New York City and Mr. Sumner Weil of Boston, Mass. Mr. Weil is the guest of his sister, Mrs. A. Lincoln Filene, who is occupying Camp Beaver Verroc.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Lassell, Whitinsville, accompanied by Miss Whitin and Miss Krum of St. Louis arrived at Beaver Pond, Aug. 18. They are making their headquarters at the Whitin's camp on Kennebago lake. They were guided by Elmer Snowman.

Mr. L. M. Moffett of Philadelphia, Pa., who has been staying at Kennebago arrived at Beaver Pond Aug. 19.

A party of gentlemen, Messrs. E. A. Grozier, A. L. Filene, H. W. Wiggins, A. E. Blackmar and son, Edward and D. W. Forrest, fished the Meadow grounds, August 19. They reported excellent success with rod and fly and each man was satisfied with little count and size of fish taken.

Several record fish have been captured lately by Dr. John Thompson of Portland, Me., weight two pounds, and one by Miss Daisy Ives of New York City, weighing three pounds. The August fly fishing is especially good this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Noble, Miss Daisy Ives and Chas. M. Myers, guided by Joseph Lamb, spent Monday night at Big Island.

A very painful accident happened to Mr. Hubert L. Moffett, a guest at Beaver Pond. This young gentleman is very much interesting in photography and in company with Dan Heywood of Rangeley attempted to take a flash light picture of a deer on Ell pond Aug. 20, which resulted in an explosion destroying, it is feared, the sight of one eye.

Dr. D. J. Clough of the Eye and Ear Infirmary of Portland was telegraphed for immediately by and arrived arrived Aug. 22. The young man's mother and aunt arrived Aug 21, and started for his home in Philadelphia Monday. The young man, who was extremely popular, has the heartfelt sympathy of the camp in his misfortune.

Beaver Pond still continues full to the limit. Among the late arrivals are: Aug. 18, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Lassell, Miss Whitin, Whitinsville; Miss Krum, St. Louis, Mo.; Elmer Snowman, James Matthieson, Rangeley.

Aug. 19, Mrs. M. Moffett, Mrs. Moffett, Philadelphia; Mr. Sinnott, Pennsylvania; Dr. D. J. Clough, Portland.

Aug. 23, A. Major, New York.

Aug. 24, H. A. Furbish, Rangeley.

Tibbott, E. Tibbott, Abner Hinkley, Harry F. Hinkley, Farmington; Chas. S. Warren, New York; Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Field, Phillips; Miss Hortense Strongman, Brooklyn.

Fishing is gaining every day with the coming of cool weather. Guests are delighted with the prospect of good fly fishing for the last four weeks in open season.

There are many who are looking their rifles over to see that they are in proper condition for the fall hunting.

The Elliott party is expected soon.

Jackman Hunting.

Jackman has long been noted as being located in as good a territory for hunting and fishing as there is in northern Maine. One will be slow indeed, who cannot go into that region and shoot his complement of moose and deer during the fast approaching hunting season. When one gets into that region he necessarily wants a comfortable, clean and homelike place to make his headquarters. When in Jackman and vicinity he will stop at the Henderson House, where he will find everything to his liking, as to the tables, and well laid too. The rooms are all that need be desired, the beds are fresh and clean, in fact, everything about the house is first class in every respect. Then, Mr. Fred Henderson, who is the proprietor of this house, also has a set of camps located at Long pond, 30 miles north of Moosehead Lake, where he accommodates sportsmen in the hunting and fishing season. At these camps one will find everything that heart could wish in readiness for his comfort and convenience. If one should want any information regarding this great hunting and fishing resort write to Fred Henderson, Jackman, Me.

MIDDLE DAM NOTES.

(Special correspondence to the MAINE WOODS)

MIDDLEDAM, Aug. 25, 1902.

This month promises to be the busiest month of the season. Guests are glad of any accommodations so they can stay here and enjoy the fly fishing. The house is full of guests, many of whom have been coming here year after year.

The fly fishing was never better than at present and the fishermen are genuine sportsmen. They do not keep the small fish and every day many trout and salmon are caught and put back into the lake, weighing from 1 to 2 pounds.

Dr. Norfolk of New York, with Will Loughlin as guide, caught two trout weighing 3½ and 2½ pounds in the Pond-in-River.

Mr. Chas. Wiswell caught a 4-pound trout on a fly in the Pond-in-River.

Robert A. Livingston of New York took a large salmon on a fly in swift water recently. The fish put up a hard fight, but was nearly captured when the hook broke and the salmon escaped. Robert Livingston, Jr., who has been visiting his father here for a few weeks returned home last week.

J. Norfolk of Springfield is a guest of his father, Dr. Norfolk, who has been stopping here several weeks. Mrs. Norfolk arrives Tuesday.

W. W. Cutting is guiding two of the students who are stopping here. They are at Parmachenee for two weeks. On their return two other students will go, until they have all visited the lake.

A crew of men are still working on the carry between Umbagog and Richardson lakes, and the road is growing better each day.

L. F. Corne of Cambridge is a guest here for a few days.

Recent arrivals are:

Monday, Aug. 18. Mrs. C. M. Lea, Miss Lea, Miss M. V. Lea, Dr. J. G. Herchelworth, A. E. Irwin, Philadelphia; Mrs. Anderson, Cincinnati; P. H. Hudson, H. T. Bell, New York; Mrs. Holt, M. T. FLY ROD'S NOTE BOOK

For more than a dozen summers, and for the past nine seasons accompanied by his charming wife and daughters, Mr. H. C. Kennedy of Brooklyn, N. Y., has been "at home" in one of the most attractive log cabins at the Birches.

He is one of those noble, genial gentlemen, who is always doing something

Kennedy, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Bynner of Boston and Mr. Harry Irwin, son of May Irwin, the actress, spent the time arranging the long table for the feast and never was a more beautiful table spread in the Maine woods. There was a large center piece of grapes, peaches, pears, plums, etc., arranged with ferns and the scarlet bunch berry, which decorated the table, under the evergreen trees.

A little past noon the steamer returned and all were seated at the table. Judge Fuller of Massachusetts was toast master and in most fitting and well chosen words paid a high tribute to the popular gentleman, Mr. Kennedy, whose birthday was thus celebrated.

With much feeling Mr. Kennedy responded and thanked the dear friends. Speeches from Dr. Wells of New York, Mr. H. G. Brown of Boston and others followed. Then in clear, sparkling spring water brought from the island, all drank to the health and wished many more years of happiness to Mr. Kennedy and family.

CARRY PONDS CAMPS

(Special correspondence to the MAINE WOODS.)

CARRY POND CAMPS, Aug. 25, 1902.

Mr. W. H. H. Ward, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Talcott took a trip over the old Canada road to Rowe Ponds Camps a few days ago, returning the same day, and a party of ladies from Rowe Ponds Camps accompanied them back and stayed at Carry Ponds Camps over night, returning to Rowe Ponds Camps the next day.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. H. Ward will return to their home in Amherst, Mass., on the 28th of August, after being in camp about three months. Mr. Ward is much improved in health. Mr. Ward has taken about 1300 trout with fly, returning many of them to the water. The fly-fishing at Little Carry is fine at this time, some fine strings being taken there.

Dr. J. L. Hildreth and daughter and Dr. G. W. Gay of Cambridge have returned home after a week in camp having some fine sport fly fishing. Dr. Hildreth's daughter, Mrs. Barrett, took in a few hours' fishing with fly thirty-four fine trout. R. V. Ham and Chas. Hunsell were their guides.

Dr. Rogers, wife and son of Boston have arrived in camp for several weeks' stay.

Dr. E. H. Stevens and party of Cambridge arrived Monday, Aug. 25. Dr. Cragin and party of Kingstone, N. Y., will arrive Sept. 1. Several other parties are to arrive in September. The prospects at this resort look good for September. Mr. Wm. Lumsden, wife, son and daughter were in camp a few days and returned home well pleased.

Deer and moose are very plenty in this section and we are looking forward for a good fall trade. Several parties have already made arrangements to come here.

Mr. H. J. Lane has been presented with a book by W. R. Brown of Berlin, N. H., "Arnold's Expedition to Quebec," giving a full description of the expedition and is read with great interest by the guests here.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

KING AND BARTLETT.

(Special correspondence to the MAINE WOODS)

SPENCER, Aug. 25, 1902.

King and Bartlett Camps are doing a rushing business this season. Everybody seems to be coming our way. They know a good thing when they see it and when they can stay no longer with us they go home and send their friends to visit us.

The cool weather of the last week has improved the fishing wonderfully and it is no trouble for us to feed our fish hungry guests on trout and salmon once or twice a day. Our guests visiting the Spencer Lake Camps invariably return laden with togue, which baked in Mrs. Pierce's inimitable style are a delicacy to be wished for.

A jolly party that visited the Spencer Lake Camps last week was composed of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Hathaway and son Phil of Boston, Miss Marion Hathaway of Willimantic, Conn., with guides Billy Myers and Otis Witham. They report having seen 27 deer, one of which was a white one, and one bear. The bear was swimming in the lake when Billy Myers saw it and paddled the two ladies up to within a boat's length of it and kept close to it until it landed and went into the woods. None of the party were armed except Miss Marion who carried with her her fiercest looks but they did not strike the bear in a vital spot.

A party consisting of Mr. and Mrs. J. Howard Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Appleton, G. E. Howe and W. L. Hurlbut of Boston with guides Frank Savage, George Douglass, Billy Myers and Otis Witham left for our Spencer Lake Camps yesterday to be gone for several days.

C. W. Fuller and L. A. Waterman of Providence, R. I., A. K. Tichenor, Philadelphia, W. B. Stevens, Jr., New York City and Adam Sutcliffe of Pawtucket, R. I., came over from Blakeslee Camps to pay us a neighborly visit and renew old acquaintances.

Geo. Day is still kept busy making souvenir paddles for our guests and some of the guests at Deer Pond.

Mr. Henry Craig Fleming of Philadelphia, and Frank Ewing of New York, have rigged a sailboat after their own ideas.

There is a rival boat manned by Phil Hathaway and Buzz Ewing, and the race between the two boats furnished excitement for the whole camp yesterday. The Hathaway boat had a little the best of it yesterday, but, as both parties are adding improvements to their boats it is hard to say at this writing which crew will eventually carry off the honors.

A great many of our guests enjoy climbing King and Bartlett mountain and looking down on the world beneath them and for an appetizer I know of nothing better.

Andrew Douglass, the veteran guide, is with us for a few days. He is still hale and hearty and as frisky as a spring lamb.

Dr. B. W. Gleason of Boston, and Dan Pastime of Enchanted pond, paid us a visit a short time ago.

Dr. Louis Fernandes Criado and wife, with son Roger will leave for their home in New York, on the 27th inst., after a pleasant visit here of three months.

The late arrivals are:

Dr. B. W. Gleason, Mr. A. H. Hathaway and wife, Philip M. Hathaway, J. Howard Edwards and wife, Jno. H. Appleton and wife, Geo. E. Howe, W. S. Hurlbut, G. L. Elske, N. F. McCarthy, E. A. Baislis, Geo. J. Emerson, R. T. Morse, Boston; Miss Marion Hathaway, C. F. Risedorf, Willimantic, Conn.; Billy Long, P. C. LaForge, Port Richmond, N. Y.; L. A. Waterman, C. W. Fuller, Providence, R. I.; A. R. Tichenor, Philadelphia; W. B. Stevens, Jr., Robert L. Stodard, New York; H. Alling, G. E. L. Phelps, New Haven, Conn.; Adam Sutcliffe, Pawtucket, R. I.; J. F. Conwell, New Bedford, Mass.; C. H. Knox, Hartford, Conn.; W. H. Elliott, Brighton, Mass.; Andrew Douglass, Eustis, Me.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 29, 1902.

THE experience of a Bangor physician who found a black snake in bed with him at his camp the other morning, should serve as a warning to other campers.

Fish plenty—prices high.—Exchange. To the above may be added, beef scarce, hotel rates gone up.

NOTHING more interesting in trout news has come to our desk for a long time than the letter from Stratton which is printed in another column. The Dead river region has always furnished the best of trout-fishing. That locality is famed for deer, bear and bird shooting, but the idea of an almost unknown pond up on the side of Bigelow mountain giving up seven and eight-pound square lake trout!

That region is to be congratulated.

OVER in Canada they want to protect frogs because there is so great a demand for frogs legs in the United States. It hasn't yet been decided whether frogs are game or fish so they propose to enact a separate statute for the special benefit of the frog industry.

COAST AND INLAND.

Ricker Hotels Patronized by Returning Tourists.

Probably no first year was ever so successful in Maine hotel life as the first year of the Samoset under its new management, the Ricker Hotel Co. Guests from almost every state, delighted with the attractions offered by this hotel, are now enjoying its hospitality.

The spacious lawns in front of the hotel afford a continuous round of gaiety.

Every out-of-door sport from lawn tennis to golf is indulged in. The trolley rides to Camden, Thomaston and Warren are among the pleasant features of the place, while the carriage drives are unsurpassed. Not by the least to be mentioned is the new thoroughfare which has recently been completed by the shore.

The Samoset is not without its musical attractions. The orchestra is under the management of Mr. A. Knutz of the Boston Symphony and it has been a source of much entertainment during the present season.

One of the greatest attractions is the breakwater. This is about one mile in length and was built at a cost of over a million and a half dollars. It has taken twenty years to build it. The completion of this breakwater after the removal of the ledges and heavy rocks from the harbor itself gives Rockland as safe and spacious a harbor as can be found on the Atlantic coast.

The evenings at the Samoset are one delightful round of pleasure. Concerts and euvre parties prevail, after which is dancing.

The enthusiasm of the guests at this place speaks well for its future. Parties returning from their summer in camp, where they have spent the time in fishing, rowing and tramping through the forests, would find the quiet and restful and yet entertaining feature of the life here just the thing for the conclusion of a summer's outing.

Many of those returning from the Rangeley Lakes have for years found it very pleasant to spend a few days at the Poland Spring House or the Mansion House at South Poland.

Now there is the added attraction on the coast, in the Samoset.

KINEO HOUSE STORY.

[Special correspondence to the MAINE WOODS.]

KINEO, MOOSEHEAD LAKE,)
Aug. 25, 1902. }

Fall fishing is coming on rapidly. Reports of phenomenal catches in the back ponds are being brought out by the campers and the big fellows are once more rising in the lake.

Dennis Tracey of Bangor has taken a number of large trout from the fishing wharf, directly in front of the hotel, and numerous other catches have been made near by.

Wm. H. Dougherty and son, Nelson, of Brooklyn are out after four weeks in camp at Brassua lake, only a short distance from the hotel. Mr. Dougherty and his son are experts with the rod, at home in the canoe and great lovers of the wilderness, coming here annually and spending the greater part of their time in camp. Fishing is only incidental with them and they spend only a

THE BANGOR LETTER.

[Special correspondence to the MAINE WOODS.]
BANGOR, Aug. 26, 1902.

Everything is lost sight of here this week except the Eastern Maine State fair or as it is commonly called, Beal's show. This year there is an added interest in the fair because of the fact that President Roosevelt will be present for a few hours tomorrow, Wednesday, and make an address—the first which a president of the United States has delivered in Maine in many years. The speech will be nonpartisan and will be listened to with much eagerness by the people of Eastern Maine, who have always had a warm spot in their hearts for Rough Rider Teddy. They will be pleased at the opportunity thus presented for them to pay homage to the chief executive of the nation.

The president will arrive here about noon and after lunch at the Bangor House will go to the fair grounds,

Recently a party went down to Bar Harbor and thence to the fishing ground in a steamer. Previous to going one of the party got saving or speculative, whichever you think describes it best. He went 'round to a friend of his who carries on a meat market and picked out a nice lot of corned beef and the price being high, owing to the trust, he dickered with the friend to take his pay in sea fish, cod and haddock which he was to catch the next day. The man made the trade and the fisherman left home next morning brimful of the idea that he was not only going to catch all the fish that he would need, but a sufficient number to pay for the corned beef that would be used the next week.

As usually occurs on such occasions, the unexpected happened. He fished industriously all day long; used up more bait than any man aboard the boat and didn't catch a fish.

Another chap who went on the excursion came home, well burned about the nose and cheeks, but happy and content, for he had a good big string of cod, haddock and some hake and he could see visions of nice chowders, fries and bakes and who wouldn't be happy under such circumstances? But, like all men, he couldn't be satisfied to show the fish to his friends, he needs must tell about the trip and the catch and that proved his undoing.

He started telling about the trip and what he caught. At the start he went all right and was conservative as a Quaker, but as he neared the end of the narrative he became warmed up to the subject matter of the talk and exclaimed:

"Why, some of them fish had tails on them that were 22 feet long."

Up to that time it had been supposed that the party was a temperance one, but now there are doubts.

Another man who has tested the joys of deep sea fishing, is a local newspaper man, a representative of one of the large Boston Dailies. He has just returned from a cruise down the Penobscot bay in a coasting schooner and in addition to being well browned by the sun and salt water has a stock of nautical terms and a regular hornpipe gait and can give an old Grand Banker points on sea fishing. He got confidential the other day while telling about the trip down the bay and especially that part of it which dealt with the fishing. While in this mode he confided in a friend that it was nothing new for him to have two lines out at once and be hauling up a big cod on one end and a haddock on the other at the same time.

As the deer hunting season approaches the question of whether the Bangor market men will handle venison this fall or not is again coming into discussion. Last season, after a lapse of a year, the market men handled this commodity. The year previous they refused to take out a license to sell game and went to the legislature to secure a change in the law compelling them to secure a license to sell. They failed to secure it and so last fall decided to take out licenses and handle the deer, which they did.

It is generally believed that they will do the same thing this fall.

As to whether they will endeavor to secure one that suits them better when the legislature shall assemble in August next winter is now a matter that is entirely problematical and it is doubtful if even the market men themselves could answer it at this time with any degree of certainty.

part of their time with the rod, finding the main pleasure in woods life as well.

During their outing the fishermen took 230 trout all of average large size. The best day's catch numbered 24 trout and one salmon, averaging 1½ pounds in weight. 138 deer were counted.

"We took only such trout as we could use," said Mr. Dougherty to the MAINE Woods correspondent, "fishing but part of the time. We could easily have taken twice the number, had we so desired."

T. J. O'Donahue, H. K. Dougherty, Henry Feucht-wanger of New York City and J. H. Hentz, Jr., of Philadelphia are back from a week's trip on the north branch of the Penobscot. Headquarters were made at Green Mountain pool and plenty of big ones were taken, the largest weighing three pounds.

"I have never before seen the trout rising more readily or fighting with more zest," was Mr. Dougherty's comment.

W. H. Bell of Washington, D. C., has gone, after several fishing trips. At Mountain pond near Lily Bay and Spencer pond, reached from Spencer bay, he found trout numberless and took many doubles and triples.

MANY GUESTS.

The big hotel is still filled and the annex and cottages are being brought into play to accommodate the overflow. For nearly three weeks now the "house count" has ranged from four to five hundred daily, all of which means that Kineo has never before seen such a season.

WOMEN'S PING PONG.

The women's championship ping pong tournament which ended Thursday, was one of the features of the week. The list of entries was large and many of the contests hard fought. In the semi-final and final rounds the best two out of three sets with dense sets, were played. Miss M. Smyth of Philadelphia, won from Miss Elizabeth Goff of Pawtucket, 6-4, 6-3, 5-7, 9-4. Miss Hughes of England was a doughty opponent in the semi-final round with Miss Goff.

The players were: Miss Doremus, Miss J. Weil, Miss L. Weil, Mrs. M. D. Paterson, New York City; Mrs. Albert Rosengarten, Mrs. M. G. Rosengarten, CARRABASSETT SPRING FARM.

[Special correspondence to the MAINE WOODS.]

CARRABASSETT, Aug. 18, 1902.

This charming resort in the Carrabasset valley, so well known to hunters as a ledge in the open season, is justly becoming a favorite summer home for refugees from the city's heat and noise. Forty miles northeast of the celebrated Rangeleys, surrounded by mountain and evergreen forests, it is in a latitude and environment to insure clear, bracing atmosphere during the day and an abundance of cold oxygen at night.

The accommodations are exceptionally good. A well kept farm furnishes the greatest variety of fresh vegetables, while the daily mail train brings all the table luxuries which the city markets supply. Thus the excellent cook is enabled to furnish a remarkably good cuisine.

The farmhouse furnishes a central dining-room, and lodges ten or more guests beneath its roof. The chief charm, however, is found in the several cottages which have been built along the banks of the river for guests. These cottages are well equipped with superior beds, many easy chairs, broad piazzas, and can be made comfortable in cold days by roaring open fires. At the desire of patrons, tents are often pitched along the river banks, and in this way more than an hundred guests can be accommodated.

Here the angler finds, in the Carrabasset and its tributary streams, a practically inexhaustible supply of trout, for these waters are too far away to be "fished to death" by the summer sportsman. For the enjoyment of any who wish a closer acquaintance with woodlife, Mr. C. G. Smith, the owner of the place, has provided at Redington pond, two miles further into the wilderness of his estate, log cabins, where one may find actual camp living.

The artist and the lover of nature will find time enough in one season to make the acquaintance of half the attractions which the valley offers in murmuring river and brook, shimmer of lake, forest solitude, and breezy mountain climb.

Popples Brook falls, easily reached by drive from the house, is a favorite spot for picnic parties. The cascades do not suffer by comparison with the most

PLEASANT ISLAND CAMPS.

[Special correspondence to the MAINE WOODS.]

PLEASANT ISLAND CAMPS,
HAINES LANDING,
Aug. 25, 1902.

These are stirring times. The woods are full of campers. Billy and his lone clerk are busy as two bees, while all the rest of the staff are on the jump from early morn till dewy eve.

The season of really good weather, now possible, is all too short and I will not bring shekel's enough to atone for the heavily and unusual weather of past weeks.

But what is the use of repining? Behind the clouds is the sun still shining. Thy fate is the common fate of all. Into each life some rain must fall. Some days must be dark and dreary.

Longfellow.

Having thus become reconciled to the inevitable, and being in a reasonable frame of mind, we find in every day at this delightful spot whatever the weather and though tinged with sadness, a healthy tonic and a life giving force.

They are furnished by the air, the landscape, the waterscape and the sky scape. Nothing could possibly exceed in beauty and grandeur, the glorious sunrise of Wednesday morning, the sunsets almost every evening, the moonlight on the Cuscuta and the grand cloud scenery of the evening sky. Among those who enjoy this sort of thing and who lately have joined our family are:

INDIAN ROCK CAMPS.

[Special correspondence to the MAINE WOODS.]

HANOVER, Aug. 27, 1902.

The past week has been fine. Some fine fish have been taken near camp. Herbert Rowell caught a 4-pound salmon and a number of smaller ones at the wharf. Some one of the guests comes in with fish every morning.

Next season Mr. Holt will build some fine log cabins.

Master Fred Pike and his friend, Joe Sanford, with their guide, W. C. Holt, took from Horseshoe brook seventy-five fine brook trout. The same week the boy went to Stony and came back with thirty-five fine trout.

Moose, bear, deer and birds have made their appearance at camp and will be looked after later on.

Birch Lodge is filled with company and will be the remainder of the season. The Blue Ribbon club of 35 of East Bethel took dinner at camp last week.

Mr. Neal Holt of Berlin, N. H., who has a lot of sporting blood, has been spending a week's vacation at Indian Rock camp. He is one of the head clerks for Berlin Dry Goods Co., Berlin Falls, N. H.

Mr. Holt is making a specialty of fine Sunday dinners.

Recent arrivals are: G. A. Virgih, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Virgih, H. C. Denton and family, Owen Smith, Rumford Falls; A. G. Howe, Hanover; Fred Pike, Brookline, Mass.; Mrs. Ida Hutchins, Lowell, Mass.; L. Y. Berley, Portland; M. Hastings, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Hastings, Worcester; Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Swallow, New York City.

Trade Notes.

Peters Factory Loaded shells have scored many victories during the last few weeks. In New England the superior scores made with this ammunition have been marked. At Auburn, Me., it forged its way to the front, and at the Interstate association competition at Brunswick, Me., Neaf Appgar, who has been shooting particularly strong of late, made the remarkable run of 100 straight targets and 90 out of 100, winning first average, while H. G. Wheeler was second with the same ammunition. Then followed the fine work at Portsmouth, N. H., and Fitchburg, Mass.; in fact all through the New England circuit the records made with this ammunition are of the highest order, and leaves one in a quandary which to ad-

Summer Safeguards

It is the duty of the head of every household to provide against the health-perils peculiar to summer. Promptness in the treatment of these maladies would often prevent serious illness, perhaps death.—MUNYON.

Munyon's Homoeopathic Home Remedies are the surest safeguards against disease. If they are not in the house they should be bought and kept on hand. In case of sudden development of the symptoms of any trouble the proper cure for that trouble should immediately be obtained at the druggist's.

For indigestion and dyspepsia take Munyon's Dyspepsia Cure. For headache from heat, or caused by nervousness or prostration, take Munyon's Headache Cure—it will cure in three minutes. For biliousness, jaundice and liver troubles Munyon's Liver Cure affords quick and permanent relief. For disorders of the blood, and eruptions that are chiefly annoying in summer, take Munyon's Blood Cure. Munyon's Rheumatism Cure is felt usually in one to three hours and in a few days cures entirely.

Munyon's Pile Ointment speedily and positively cures all forms of piles and is especially efficacious in alleviating the pain intensified during hot weather. If you are subject to colics, cramps and diarrhoea always be fortified with Munyon's D. D. and C. cure. Munyon's Constipation Cure has relieved thousands of the most obstinate cases where everything else has failed.

A separate cure for each disease; at all druggists, 25c a vial.

more most, the skill of the shooters or the excellence of the ammunition. Certainly the work done with Peters factory loaded shells show them to be of high quality, and when loaded with the modern powders are capable of the finest work when in the hands of skilled marksmen.

At the Greenvilles, Pa., shoot, James Atkinson of New Castle, Pa., won high average, shooting a 95 per cent. gait. He used Peters Ideal Factory Loaded shells and DuPont powder.

New U. M. C. Bullet.

The defeat of the American rifleman by the Canadian and Irish teams has spurred many experts, who had faith in American marksmanship, to look for the cause in the rifle and ammunition and the adaptation of one to the other.

Dr. Hudson, who has been recognized as an authority in ballistics, after experiments with different barrels fitted to the Krag rifle, decided that a quicker twist than Government Standard would throw the 220 grain bullet with more gyrostatic stability and consequently greater accuracy at 1000 yards.

The ammunition companies also conducted experiments in changing, in a slight degree, the bullet so that it would function better in the Krag as now chambered.

A few weeks ago Mr. Thomas of the U. M. C. Co. visited Sea Girt with an improved bullet, which was made without the three rings of the government model and had certain other technical changes. With this bullet Lieut. Leizcar of the Eighth Pennsylvania made 72 out of 75 at 1000 yards, which is the best score made up to that time with the service Krag, 70 being the best score made last year with a service military rifle in the International Matches. The best Canadian score made by the winning team last year was 64.

This new U. M. C. bullet has been further tested at the Springfield, Walnut Hill and Creedmoor ranges by military and other experts. It has proved a success thus far and may be the means of returning the Palma medal, which was carried off by the Canadian rifle team last autumn.

This contest for the trophy will take place in September.

SO WEARY.

Weary and worn out all the time. Back weak and lame and aching. Headache, Nervous, Restless, Excitable. The Kidneys are sick.

Doan's Kidney Pills

cure every symptom of Kidney Ills, from common backache to complicated urinary disorders.

Mrs. Mark Hyde, of 45 Thornley street, Pawtucket, R. I., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have been used by both my husband and myself, and the relief obtained in every case was very satisfactory. My husband was bothered off and on for a long time with pains across his back, which at times became very severe. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, and procured a box from W. L. Wood's drug store. He used them, and in a very short time was rid of the backache. I always keep Doan's Kidney Pills on hand, and would not be without them."

MOUNTAIN VIEW HOUSE.

[Special correspondence to Maine Woods.]
MOUNTAIN VIEW, Aug. 26, 1902.
"On with the dance! let joy be unconfined."
Byron.

As the social season approaches its end, it becomes more absorbing and the functions follow each other fast, if not furious.

The past week was, perhaps, the busiest one of the season here and as the house was full to its utmost capacity, there was plenty of material for hops and card parties.

The principal events were a German, on Wednesday evening, a children's party, Thursday evening, and a progressive enche party, Saturday.

The German was given by Miss Hannah Cairns of Plainfield, N. J., in honor of her daughter Edith's birthday and was a successful and enjoyable party. The large hall and ante-room, were tastefully decorated for the occasion by the young folks, the material coming entirely from the woods and fields about here. Festoons of evergreen started from a bell of evergreen and cornell, (bunch plums) in the center of the ceiling and extended to the chandeliers and on to the four corners in graceful loops of green. The immense fire-place was appropriately decked with glowing golden rods; while fir balsam trees seemed to grow from great mounds of evergreen in the nooks and corners of the main room.

In the ante-room were many charming effects, produced by combinations of evergreen, cornell and fir trees and branches. A wreath of cornell berries and leaves, closely resembled a Christmas wreath of holly, and the huge bowl of lemonade was wound about with a spray of autumn leaves, which appeared thus prematurely, but opportunely, for this occasion.

Too much space would be required to give a full list of those assisting in the decorating as there was a host engaged in the work; but Harry Rowland, Miss Grace Rowell and Miss Edith Bolles directed the trimming of the hall and Roger Holloway and Joe Blakiston are entitled to the principal credit for the original decorations of the small rooms.

There was a long list of patronesses among whom were Mrs. Rowland, Mrs. Colton, Mrs. Bolles and Mrs. Lewis. Preceding the opening of the dance, a reception was held by Mrs. Cairns and her daughter. Previous to the first figure of the German, Masters Herbert and Ormonde Kranich in appropriate costume entertained the company with a Japanese song.

The German, led by Beach Seyms, opened about 8:30 and lasted, with occasional intervals for rest and refreshments, as Bunthorne says, until about midnight.

Mr. Kranich presided very acceptably at the piano.

The figures were interesting and the favors pretty and unique.

The children's party was a great success being participated in by 10 little ones, whose ages ranged from three to 12 years. The details of the party were arranged and conducted by Mrs. DeGroot, Mrs. Kranich, and Mr. Rosenblatt. Miss Grace Rowell at the piano enlivened the proceedings with some well played selections.

The potato race was exciting and closely contested. It was run in heats, two children contesting each time, the final heats being between the winners.

Miss Alma DeGroot won the first prize having easily distanced all her competitors until in the final she had a hard fight against Miss Roberta Blakiston who played for Master Martin who was too lame to take part. In this final, Miss DeGroot, by cool and plucky work, managed to land her last potato in the plate a couple of seconds ahead, Master Martin taking second prize.

There were other events in which prizes were won by Misses Bolles and Hunt and Masters Rosenblatt, Hunt and Sheldon.

After the games the children were marshalled in line and marched around the hall to two fir trees from which baskets of confectionery depended and each child was presented with one.

At the progressive enche party Saturday evening, prizes were won by Mrs. Rowell and Mrs. Kranich and by Messrs. Kranich and Joe Blakiston.

There was an interesting raffle for a fine buck's head with a pair of snowshoes as second prize. At the last moment Mrs. DeGroot took one of the remaining tickets which proved to be the winning one while Mr. Ackerman drew the second prize; a costly one as he had promised the young lady who drew the numbers from the hat, a box of Huyler's candy if she got the snowshoes for him and he was as good as his word writing to New York for a large box which came by express and was generously passed around by the recipient.

Mr. Bowley treats his help and his animals so well that they are always looking out for his welfare. This fact was startlingly exemplified recently by one of his horses, which was driven to Haines Landing by a guest and hitched to a sturdy post while the passengers went to admire the contents of the show room of "Nash of Maine."

This post was originally set by a surveyor as a boundary mark and was piled about with many large rocks, but the frost had loosened its anchorage so that the animal in tossing his head hit ed the post clear of the hole and evidently thinking it a good thing, concluded to take it home to Mountain View, but was finally caught before any damage was done.

As I suggested in a previous letter to your paper the need of more hitching posts it is possible that the word had reached the horses and that they are enlisting in the work. Let us hope that they will not be the only ones to follow up this suggestion.

Ira Huntton, when returning to Rangeley with Marchetti's fruit wagon the other day, had a short race with a deer. He was driving along the town road near Hunter cove when the deer sprang into the road and kept just ahead of the horse for about a hundred yards, leaving the road about twenty feet ahead of the team.

We are glad to be able to state that Miss Florence Holt of Putnam, Conn., who spent most of the summer here, is much improved in health.

E. E. PATRIDGE.

Enjoyed Camping Out.

[Special correspondence to MAINE WOODS.]
VIENNA, Aug. 25, 1902.

J. W. Allen and wife of Mt. Vernon and I. R. Bradley and wife of Vienna have just returned from a week's outing at Dead River dam. We left home Thursday, the 14th, with team, driving to Farmington, New Vineyard, West New Portland and North New Portland where we stopped for the night with brother Quint.

Friday we got an early start and a more pleasant morning never dawned on the mountains and valleys of that section. The trip that day was made over Lexington flats and heights of land to Mt. Bigelow House where we arrived for dinner. After partaking of one of those dinners such as our host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Parsons know how to prepare for the hungry wayfarer, we started out for the canoe trip down river. We arrived at Long falls in season to catch a few trout for supper. As night was fast coming on we got out our blankets and camped for the night.

On rising Saturday morning we found it clear and cold. Ice had formed during the night on one canoe that lay on the bank. The sun, however, soon drove the cold air away. After a cold lunch with some hot coffee we started across the carry of two miles with the canoe on our shoulders. At the foot of the falls we again launched our canoe and set out for the dam and camps.

This was quite an eventful trip: we saw eight deer and one bear. Bruin, I presume, knew that we had nothing to harm him with so gave us a good view of his bearship.

We arrived at camp at about two o'clock p. m. We were not long in getting the camp opened up and a fire started, preparatory for a late dinner. After we had eaten our fill we took our rods and paid a visit to the doghole and cold brook and caught a few more of those speckled beauties such as those waters offered. After partaking of a late supper we fixed up our bunks and laid our weary bodies to rest.

Sunday morning found us all well and very much refreshed. The air was yet quite cool and the ground white with frost. We had a late breakfast, after which we all decided it would be useless for us to think of attending church, so a trip up the Spencer as far as the forks was suggested. There we found a set of lumber camps, which were a novelty for the ladies. We also found game quite plenty. On our return to camp we caught a few trout and thus we passed the Sabbath in the woods.

Monday opened up clear and warm and we caught what trout we needed in the morning. The remainder of the day we spent around camp and at Grand falls which is one of the most beautiful places in that region. In the forenoon Mrs. Eastman and friend with guide from Spring lake, enroute for Spencer pond, passed our camp. In the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Solone of New Jersey, with guide, came down from Spring lake and stopped all night; we enjoyed their company very much. Rev. Mr. White of Brockton, Mass., with guide, occupied the small cabin and we found them very agreeable company.

Tuesday we all arose quite early as that was the day set for us to say goodbye to Dead River dam and its many attractions. It was about 7:30 when we were well loaded ready for our return of twelve miles to civilization. We stopped for rest and refreshment at the Viles farm, arriving at our hotel in season for tea. The moon being at its full we took a short drive around Bigelow, which we enjoyed very much.

Wednesday dawned bright and clear and when the sun arose from behind those eastern hills it presented to our view a picture that was beautiful to look upon. I will not at this time attempt to describe it. It was full 8 o'clock when we turned our backs on old Bigelow, with its lofty summit and said good-bye to our host and hostess and started on our return home by way of Carrabassett and Kingfield. At Carrabassett Spring Farm, we stopped and took a look at the bears and other animals. We arrived home Thursday, all somewhat tired but perfectly satisfied with our trip.

MOOSELOOKMEGUNTIC HOUSE.

[Special correspondence to Maine Woods.]
MOOSELOOKMEGUNTIC HOUSE,
HAINEs LANDING, Aug. 26, 1902.

The height of the season has now been reached at the Mooselookmeguntic and never has the famous old resort known a gayer or more varied week than the past one and consequently this has been a big week, where the departures and the arrivals have about equaled each other. After this week the departures will gradually exceed the arrivals, but there will be no great exodus from the resort until after the first of September.

The social gaiety of the place still continues intensely active and there are numerous events to take up the time and attention of the visitors who have been here during the past fortnight in greater numbers than any previous season. The midsummer baseball games, whilst and enche parties last week were well attended and were the most interesting of the summer.

One of the most interesting social events of the week was the grand concert and cake walk given for the pleasure of the guests of the Mooselookmeguntic House and vicinity by J. S. Jones, Friday evening, Aug. 22, which was a grand success in every respect. A program of about eight different selections aside from the cake walk was rendered to the utmost satisfaction of all who had the pleasure of attending. The program consisted of singing of coon songs, old plantation melodies, jig dancing and the final, a grand cake walk which was the best ever given at this place. This close contest was between Austin S. Purnell of Berlin, Md., and his partner, and J. S. Jones of Washington, D. C., and his partner. J. S. Jones and his partner were considered the best walkers, but the cake was given to Austin Purnell and his partner on account of a painful accident at the close of the contest to Miss Jennie Farmer, J. S. Jones's partner, by the dislocation of her knee cap.

Another social event of the week was a matched game of baseball played by Haines Landing vs. the Birches, which was well attended by visitors from all the surrounding hotels and camps of the vicinity.

The score was twenty-three to eleven in favor of the Haines Landing team. Another game will be played during the week by the Haines Landing vs. the Rangeleys.

Mrs. C. W. Middleton of Germantown, Pa., has entertained a great number of friends during the week at her camp, the Dew Drop Inn, by whilst parties. Among the most successful players are Mrs. Middleton and Mrs. A. J. Wormelsdorf of Pottsville, Pa., who is a well known champion of the Rangeley lakes.

Among the noted players of the main hotel is Mrs. Robert Snodgrass of Harrisburg, Pa., Mrs. Chas. V. Faile of New York, Mrs. Joseph Paul of Washington, D. C., Mrs. E. C. Dean of Washington, D. C., and Mrs. W. J. Norcross of Brookline, Mass. While the fishing of the past week has been a little bit off, other pleasures peculiar to the regular custom of Haines Landing have been so great that there can be no complaint made concerning one week's poor fishing, although all the fish taken within the past few days have been taken on the fly and the September days promise to render great satisfaction to the angler, who is made happy by the casting of the fly.

Col. A. J. Wormelsdorf of Pottsville, Pa., haven't as yet begun his usual earnest fishing but will within the next few days. Every one is looking forward to great success for this noted angler who fishes no other way than the casting of the fly. One of this week's lucky sportsmen, is Mr. Stuart Symond of Portland, the son of Judge Symond of that city, Tuesday, Aug. 26th, he brought in two beauties that weighed 3½ and 5 pounds each, they were both salmon. Chas. Toothaker is guiding young Mr. Symond.

MEGANTIC CLUB NOTES.

[Special correspondence to the Maine Woods.]
AGNES, P. Q., Aug. 25, 1902.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Nicolls will spend six weeks on the preserve. The fishing continues good on the Spider river and many hundred are yanked out daily but only the 2, 3 and 4-pounders are reserved for the clubhouse use.

As the hunting season opens one month earlier in Canada than it does in Maine it will be very lively around the clubhouse for the next month.

Arrivals at the clubhouse are: Dr. A. S. Draper and wife, Boston; Dr. A. B. Kellogg and wife, Miss Mabel Barbour, Mr. L. Barbour, Hartford; I. W. Rockwell, Miss I. A. Booker, Boston; J. C. Clark, Arthur W. Wilks, Miss A. W. Wilks, Miss York Wilks, C. Schofield, Montreal; Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Nicolls, Franz Nicolais, Boston; Thos. I. Rider, Chas. C. Lewis, Springfield.

Campers at Stratton.

[Special Correspondence to the MAINE WOODS.]
STRATTON, Aug. 27, 1902.

Mrs. M. C. Eustis of Newport, R. I., with her little son, George Morris, are occupying the Jones Camps at Stony Brook, Stratton, for the months of August and September.

Mrs. Eustis is an enthusiastic sports-woman and makes frequent fishing trips, always with good success. She is an excellent shot and has made some good records and is patiently waiting for bird shooting.

This is Mrs. Eustis's first trip to Maine, but she is very much pleased with the state. Ellis Jones is her guide.

THE BARKER.

[Special Correspondence to the MAINE WOODS.]
HAINEs LANDING, Aug. 25, 1902.

Captain Barker's new hotel attracts many guests and some very pleasant parties are enjoying the summer here. The house opened with a good number and since, many people have visited The Barker. Everyone is delighted with the location and the service, which makes it one of the most modern hotels in the Rangeleys.

Mr. Peter E. Reilly, Miss K. Gourley and Miss Helen M. Tynan of Patterson, N. J., Elizabeth C. Reilly of Lambertville, N. J., and Gertrude Conroy of Halifax, N. J., were among the first guests.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Richards of Watertown, Mass., have been staying here since Aug. 9. Mr. Richards has been spending his summer among the Rangeley lakes for many years.

E. W. Hyde and wife of New York were guests here for a few days.

Mrs. T. G. Moulton, Miss Smith and Miss Jennette Moulton of Exeter, N. H., have visited The Barker.

Waldo A. Rich, Jr., Margaret E. Rich and Alfred B. Rich and wife of Boston were guests here for awhile.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Sheldon and Miss Cummings of Boston arrived Aug. 16 for a few weeks' stay.

Edw. H. Phipps and H. C. Parker of New York arrived here Aug. 18.

Many people from the other houses call here for the day and one would feel that they had not seen the Rangeley hotels without a visit to the Barker.

LOON LAKE CAMPS.

[Special correspondence to the Maine Woods.]
RANGELEY, Aug. 26, 1902.

The camps are well filled with guests and everybody seems to be enjoying camp life with its day sports of rowing, fishing and tramping, and a brilliant office fire with games and reading for the evenings. So great is the restfulness and harmony of the place that a stranger looking into the office in the evening would assert, these surely are members of one family.

The only distinctively social event of the week was a farewell party given Thursday evening in honor of three Providence gentlemen, who were to leave camp Friday. The decoration of the office was a unique arrangement of Japanese fans, lanterns and evergreens. The guests were becomingly attired. Walter Hough, Walter Hough, Jr., and Percy Carpenter, the gentlemen in whose honor the party was given, being accorded special privilege to add a linen collar to their evening suit. The games were various and entered into with great zest, the potato race affording the greatest amusement. Bountiful refreshments were served, a leading dish being Welsh rabbit on popcorn.

The fishing is good and growing better every day. Some handsome catches of trout and salmon have been made this week.

Deer are more plenty than ever before. Mr. Thorne, who finds restful pleasure in deer stalking, saw eight Tuesday afternoon, while sitting on the shore of one of the lakes. Sunday morning there was one feeding on the shore of this lake.

Recent arrivals:
John G. Throne, Mr. Jacob S. Van Wyck, Margaret Van Wyck, Brooklyn; Mr. H. R. Mallory and wife, New York; J. N. M. Clough, Dr. W. C. Tallan, A. M. Williams and wife, Boston; Mr. William Field, Charles S. Lutes, New Haven; W. Kingsley Low, Emory M. Porter, Margaret Guild, R. G. Cameron, Mrs. B. PAIN IN THE BACK.

A Sure Sign of Kidney Trouble. Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy will cure you.

Pain in the back is a never failing sign of kidney disease; another sure sign is the condition of the urine; if you have a pain in the back then look to the condition of your urine. Take a glass tumbler and fill it with urine; after it has stood 24 hours, if it has a sediment, if it is milky or cloudy, pale or discolored, stringy orropy, your kidneys and bladder are in a dangerous condition and need immediate attention, or the consequences may prove fatal. F. C. Wilcox of 359 New Britain ave., Hartford, Conn., says:

"I had a frightful pain in my back, the result of kidney trouble. My physician seemed powerless to relieve me. I determined to try Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy; it helped me wonderfully, and in a short time cured me completely."

Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is the one medicine that really cures all diseases of the kidneys, liver, bladder and blood, rheumatism, dyspepsia and chronic constipation. It is wonderful how it makes that pain in the back disappear, how it relieves the desire to urinate often, especially at night, and drives away that scalding pain in passing water and makes you well and strong.

It is for sale by all druggists in the New 50 Cent Size and the regular $1.00 size bottles—less than a cent a dose. Sample bottle—enough for trial, free by mail. Dr. David Kennedy Corporation, Rondout, N. Y.

LAKESIDE HOUSE.

[Special correspondence to MAINE WOODS.]
LAKESIDE, N. H., Aug. 25, 1902.

The travel to the Lakeside House by teams via Bethel and Grafton Notch has been unusually large this season and is now on the increase. Many continue the drive to Dixville Notch, spending a night at Lakeside each way. During the week a large party of the guests of the house made a trip to the Balsams, going on the steamer to Errol Dam and taking teams at that place.

Parties of guests from the Balsams frequently come to Errol Dam and from there make an excursion up the Magalloway river, returning the same day. There is no more beautiful steamboat ride than on this river whose shores are heavily wooded and present a view that can be found nowhere else. The Lakeside House has been full the past week.

Phillips vs. Strong.

The Phillips and Strong baseball teams played the best game of ball ever seen in Phillips on Bangs's island last Tuesday afternoon.

It was a hard fought battle from start to finish, largely between the two batteries. Both did excellent work and the final score at the close of the first half of the ninth inning was 6 to 7 in favor of Phillips.

The feature of the game in the field was a phenomenal play by Willie Steward, centre fielder for Phillips. It saved the day for Phillips. The Strong boys were at bat. There were two outs and three men on bases. The Strong batter knocked a very long fly. It went skyward with a whirl and bid fair to land in Toothaker park. Willie showed his good judgment by starting when the ball left the bat. He judged it right but he had to run without a let up. A second before he got the ball the spectators would all have bet against him, but he jumped in season to reach the ball and he held it. Plays like this are what prove a man to be a good player with sufficient nerve to "come to time" when he's really needed.

The boys all played well and took advantage of such chances as came their way.

Phillips is proud of her ball team.

Haines Landing vs. Rangeley.

Tuesday the ball team at Haines Landing met the Rangeley ball team on the Rangeley Hotel grounds. From start to finish the game was a contest of skill and jolly. During the game three umpires were disabled, M. B. Skoldfield, R. S. W. Roberts and Austin Hinkley. The Haines Landing line-up was:

C. Loring Haley; p. Paul Colburn; l. b. Abner Hinkley; 2 b. Richards; 3 b. Ralph Trask; l. f. Eugene Briggs; c. f. Benjamin Briggs; r. f. Billy Porter.

The winning run was made with two men out and two men on bases. The score was 12 to 13 in favor of Haines Landing. At the beginning of the ninth inning the score was in favor of Rangeley, 11 to 12. With two men on bases the Haines Landing people were given a base on three strikes and decided the game. Rangeley players:

CAMPMEETING AT STRONG.

The campmeeting at Strong, as per announcement, commenced on Monday evening, the 18th inst., under the leadership of Rev. E. T. Adams, a former pastor, who, 32 years ago or so, saw one of the great revivals of this church.

The first meeting, though small, was interesting and gave promise of results. On Tuesday morning the prayer meeting at 8:30 was led by Brother Adams and proved a good whet of the spiritual appetite. At 10 o'clock Rev. B. V. Davis of Kingfield, preached from Matt. 23-37, part of the Redeemer's wall over Jerusalem, setting forth the danger of rejecting offered mercy and the intensity of divine desire to save the lost. At 1 o'clock the prayer meeting was led by the local pastor and this was followed by preaching by Rev. W. P. Lord of Farmington, Hebrews 13-3. 'The Christians responsibility in helping the burdened of the world.'

The meeting at six was led by Rev. G. B. Hancroft of Rumford and at 7.30 Rev. H. S. Ryder of Anson preached. This order of services was followed, except that the 1 o'clock prayer meetings were replaced by children's meetings conducted by Mrs. Adams, which were said to be the most interesting held on the grounds. This interest at every meeting was well sustained and the attendance had increased when the storm on Thursday noon drove the people from the auditorium to the Phillips chapel where services were continued.

The promise of fair weather proved unreliable and Friday afternoon brought not only showers but flood. On Sunday afternoon and evening meetings were held in the Methodist church. Sunday morning dawned with brilliant sunlight and balmy air. The weather giving promise of good behavior the managers decided to return to the camp ground for the day's services.

Besides the preachers already named Rev. S. C. A. Terhune of Woodford's, G. D. Holmes of Lewiston and G. B. Hancroft of Rumford were in attendance and preached effective sermons. Rev. T. W. Whiteside of Strong preached at the stand Sunday forenoon and Dr. A. S. Ladd of Brunswick in the afternoon, when nearly 1000 people filled the auditorium. Rev. U. L. Walker and wife lately returned from their missionary work in Africa, were present and Mrs. Walker spoke very entertainingly at 1 o'clock from the stand.

The evening service was held at the church and Brother Adams preached one of his best sermons, Dr. Ladd and Rev. Mr. Peterson of the Congregational church offering prayer.

We were pleased also to have with us Brother Packard of Skowhegan, an effective layman, now president of the Anson Campmeeting association, whose services were much enjoyed.

Miss Frances Keen of Strong was faithful and skillful at the organ, as she has been for several years in the Methodist church at this place. The preaching has been of a high order, deeply spiritual and intellectually bright, and we believe the results will be glorious.

HUTCHINS REUNION.

Gathering of Relatives and Friends at Old Home.

Event of Social Importance at East New Portland.

Special correspondence to MAINE WOODS
EAST NEW PORTLAND, ME.,
Aug. 27, 1902.

The fourth annual reunion of the Hutchins connection convened at the old Hutchins homestead at East New Portland on August 20, it being the place of the settlement of David and Mary Hutchins, the first settlers of New Portland township. The place is now owned and occupied by Mary A. Hutchins and her son-in-law, C. H. Nye and wife. The day was all that could be desired and the connections with a few invited guests assembled to the number of one hundred and seventy-five or more.

There were 150 registered while some failed to register. Good humor and words of kindly greeting rendered the occasion one of great interest and profit, and the most enjoyable of any former of these gatherings.

It was voted to hold the next reunion at the same place on the third Wednesday in August 1902.

Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: President, Fred Hutchins of Kingfield; vice president, Chas. Hutchins of Phillips; recording secretary, Melvin Hutchins, corresponding secretary, Florence Webb, East New Portland; committee of arrangements, Rev. L. Hutchins, East New Portland; Bert Hutchins, North New Portland; A. S. Parsons, New Portland.

The following program was very successfully carried out:

Singing, American, all
Prayer, Rev. R. B. Hutchins
Address of Welcome, Fred Hutchins
Response, Chas. Hutchins
Singing, "Auld Lang Syne," all
Recitation, Miss Mabel Hutchins
Instrumental Music, Raymond and Harvey Lamplier

GLUTTON OF YEARS AGO.

North Franklin Old Timer Who Thought He'd "Busted."

Trick by Boys at First Looked Serious to Victim.

A good many years ago there lived in a North Franklin county town a man whose chief delight lay in eating. He was called a glutton and a glutton he really was. He would eat anything eatable and host of things that most people would hardly think in any way palatable at least.

His chief diet in the fall and first of the winter was baked pumpkin and milk. No stoves were in existence at that time, so the pumpkins were baked before the open fireplace with which every house was provided.

This man lived alone and although he was never meddlesome, the boys of the neighborhood enjoyed a little fun and an innocent laugh once in awhile at his expense. He was very much in the habit of talking to himself, and at these times his friends liked to listen in secret and hear the old man chatter. One evening some of the neighborhood boys took a stroll over to the cabin for the purpose of hearing Uncle talk.

As they neared the cabin they found the meeting had commenced and peering in at the window it was discovered that the occupant was not only talking, but also baking pumpkins for his supper. The boys knew that it was the usual custom for him after eating pumpkin and milk to lie down before the fire and go to sleep. There was an entrance to the cabin from the back way which also led up attic where the old man kept his pumpkins, and just above where the old man lay. The attic floor was simply loose boards with large cracks between them and could be moved aside easily. The boys laid down on the floor and had a fine chance to view the old man and hear what was said. After the pumpkin had baked and supper had been eaten our glutton began to think he had eaten too much, so he mused in this wise: "Now, stomach, you don't feel very well, but I guess you'll stand it, but I do wish you hadn't eaten so much, but, however, I guess we will lie down and give you a chance to digest." Suiting the action to the word he laid down, but he was not comfortable, so he unbuttoned his waistcoat, saying: "Poor stomach, don't bust. I'm afraid you will, but oh, dear, stomach, don't bust."

During the time this panorama was being given the boys had, by good fortune, found a large rotten pumpkin which they thought could be used to lay there in apparent agony the boys dropped the rotten pumpkin, aiming it to strike the exact spot that the old man was lecturing. Of course the pumpkin was smashed to smithereens and at the same time Uncle jumped to his feet exclaiming: "There, old stomach, I didn't think you'd bust, but I knew you would, oh dear!"

Print and Prosper

Yes! certainly an old saying, a very old one, but like many another, it would not have lived to grow old if it were not actual fact.

My business is printing the sort of things that will make yours "prosper" and of course, if I am kept "hard at it" making your business "prosper" mine is not exactly suffering as it were? It's simply a case of two axes being "ground" on the same stone.

I print anything from a handsome illustrated catalogue down to a cheap little card or label, and I never undertake a small job without trying to make it so Extra Good that when a larger one is wanted it will not escape me.

The next time you want anything that a printer should be able to build for you I'd be glad to show you a lot of my "doings" and to surprise you with their moderate cost.

—Mr. Fred E. Lynn of Strong was at Phillips, Friday.

—Miss Grace Masterman of Weld is doing table work at Comfort Cottage.

—Frank Phillips, a finisher in Austin & Co.'s spool mill, has been out a few days on account of sickness.

—James Sample is working for C. H. McKenzie & Co., Rumford Falls, in their tailoring department.

—H. W. True has not quite sold out his goods yet and he has marked what there is left very low.

—We are pleased to learn that Mrs. Chas. Fairbanks, who has been quite ill with liver trouble, is much better.

—Quite a large lot of ties have been sawed recently at Austin & Co.'s mill for the Phillips & Rangeley railroad.

—Rev. J. A. Ford, wife and little child are at Turner village, visiting relatives and friends for a week or two.

—A. L. Pratt & Co., have put a meat cart on the road. It is in charge of Mr. N. E. Vining, an experienced cutter.

—Stamp collecting, is a great "fad" with the young people now, and some odd and valuable stamps have been gathered in.

—The Phillips Hardware company recently received an order from Mr. Clem Skolfield, who is in Arizona, for two shot guns.

—Mr. and Mrs. Lindall Wilbur of Boston and Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Bean of Phillips camped out at East Madrid a day or two last week.

—Mr. D. O. Gleason has moved to Mexico, where he formerly lived. His son, Mr. H. O. Gleason went over with a load of goods last week.

—Mr. Abel E. Bunnell and wife went to East Wilton Saturday to attend the Franklin County Registered Stock Breeders' association.

—Rabbit foot clover is now in blossom. This is a rare plant in this vicinity but may be found by the roadside near Rufus Bean's.

—Hazelnuts are very plenty and will be ripe enough to gather the last of this month. Why don't the boys organize a hazelnutting squad?

—Supt. Currier has been making necessary repairs on the village school building, preparatory to the commencement of the fall term. S. L. Savage did the work.

—Mr. and Mrs. Adelphus Parker entertained Mr. and Mrs. Maxim, who were enjoying a carriage drive from Buckfield to Madrid to visit their uncle, Isaac Smith.

—During the thunder storm of Friday evening it became necessary to shut down at the electric light station for a short time on account of so much electricity coming in over the wire.

—Miss Nellie Thompson, who held a series of meetings in the Methodist church here last winter, is one of the speakers at the campmeetings now in progress in Maxfield.

—Mrs. Carrie Toothaker has sold her house on Main street to Mr. Fred Hough of R-dington, manager of the sportsmen's camps at that place. Mr. Hough will be in Phillips during the winters at least.

—Mr. Carl Cragin, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. D. Cragin, who is a telegraph operator in Chicago was in Philadelphia last week to see his mother and his sister, Miss Christine Cragin, who are visiting friends there.

—The showers of Friday afternoon of last week backed up from the south and south-east. There was a heavy rainfall. It rained hard all of Friday night and Saturday forenoon. The lightning was not so vivid here. It kept more in the line of Salem and Kingfield.

—The adjourned meeting to make arrangements for improving the village cemeteries will be next Saturday evening at the P. B. vestry, at 7 o'clock, instead of Friday evening as given in the MAINE WOODS last week. Let all interested try and attend.

—Mr. Hiram Hutton of Greenleaf, Kansas, is in North Franklin visiting relatives and friends. This is Mr. Hutton's first visit to Maine since 1890. He was also here 18 years ago. Mr. Hutton brought with him a stalk of corn that is eleven feet long. It was originally not less than twelve feet.

—Mr. and Mrs. Geo. F. Foster of Melrose Highlands and Mr. Abbott Cragin of Farmington spent last Sunday with Mr. W. A. D. Cragin. Mrs. Foster is a niece of Mr. Cragin and daughter of Mr. Simon Cragin of Melrose Highlands. Mr. Foster is a commercial traveler for the hardware firm of Bolles, Wilde & Co., Boston.

—Mrs. Edna Underwood of Kansas City, Missouri, who is stopping with relatives and friends in Phillips, went to Rangeley one day last week and while waiting on the platform for a train, a man stepped up behind her and made a grab for her gold watch. She saw his hand just in time and making the remark, "not this time" she would be thief slunk in behind the station and disappeared.

—Last week these prices ruled on the following merchandise at Wilbur & Co.'s, store in Phillips. Corn, 88 cents per bushel; oats, 72 cents per bushel; meal, $1.75 cents per bag; bran, $1.35 and $1.40 per hundred pounds; mixed feed, $1.50 per hundred pounds; eggs, 22 cents per dozen; potatoes, 85 cents per bushel; beans, $2.75 per bushel; pork and lard, 13 cents per pound; flour $4.75 and $5.25 per barrel.

—The farmers are watching the pumpkins, squashes, turkeys and other products, hoping they will get large enough to make a good appearance at the coming fair. The ladies, too, are preparing some dainty handiwork to be shown at the North Franklin Agricultural society's show and fair. Got in all the good steers, sleek heifers, fine colts and comely pigs, as well as the poultry. In fact, take to the fair grounds everything that goes to make up a first-class cattle show. Let's have the best show this year that North Franklin ever knew.

RANGELEY NEWS NOTES

[Special correspondence to the Maine Woods.]

RANGELEY, Aug. 26, 1902.

The dance last Thursday evening was very well attended and many people from out of town were present.

Mr. E. O. Noyes who is staying at Mountain View, chartered the steamer Christine to take the help at the house up to the dance returning afterward.

Quite a number of people from Farmington and Phillips came in on the excursion Thursday, many of them taking a ride down the lake and back.

At Gull pond the dam is being newly planked and gravelled, and a screen is to be put in to keep the fish from running out. Mr. Wardsworth who is doing the work intends to build two more camps and an ice house here soon.

Miss May Evelyn Watts, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Blanche Watts had a party last Saturday afternoon in celebration of her second birthday. The young people present were Misses Florence Barker, Florence Matheson, Ruth Tibbets, Susie Tibbets, Irene Kompton, Elita Blodgett, Margaret Whitney, Fay Worthley. Masters Donald Matheson, Willard Hervey and Maxwell Neil. Games and a large supply of ice cream and other refreshments made the afternoon pass very quickly. Among the presents received by Miss Watts was a child's silver set, a silver mug, a gold ring, books, blocks, dining room set, dolls, bouquets, and many other presents.

Mr. Geo. Dennison of Phillips has been in town taking orders for nursery stock.

The storm that visited Rangeley last Friday contained enough hail in it to make the ground white and on the side-walks. Snow balling was an easy matter. Messrs. Donn Ross, Will Rideout, Howard Leavitt, Will Hellen and wife, Misses Katie Toothaker and Mabel Hunter of Phillips came in to the ball game last Thursday.

Mr. Guy Hinkley was in Phillips last week.

Mr. Chas. Richardson, who spends his summers at Sandy River pond, was in town Thursday.

Mr. G. L. Lakin of Phillips, the state deputy of the United Order of Golden Cross, is in town working up candidates for the order. In less than a week he has written sixteen applications representing over fourteen thousand dollars insurance. The grand commander of the state, Mr. Douglass of Lisbon Falls, will be present at the initiation of the candidates. Probably about thirty will join that night.

Mr. C. Upham of Boston is visiting his brother-in-law, Mr. Geo. Estey.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hinkley of Sandy River pond were in town last Saturday.

Mr. I. W. Greene and daughter of Greene's Farm, Dead River, with friends, were in town last week.

Mr. Geo. Thomas of Farmington is working for Mr. G. A. Proctor.

Mr. A. J. Haley was in Lewiston on business last week.

Mr. G. L. Harden of Phillips was in town the first of the week.

Mrs. Annie Hewey is confined to her bed by sickness.

Mr. Chas. Dunham and wife of Phillips were guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Dow over Sunday.

A. L. Libby was in Phillips Tuesday.

Ned Clark and friend of Farmington are visiting Mrs. George Dow.

Moses Ward of Phillips was in town Saturday.

Albert Atwood of Phillips has been visiting Leon Timberlake at his cottage.

Mr. Felton of Boston, who has been staying at Gene Herrick's, has been troubled with insomnia for some time. Recently he became worse and his brother was sent for. Mr. Felton refused to go home unless Mr. Herrick accompanied him and so they all went to Boston last week.

Mrs. James Thompson is quite ill.

Dr. Peabody, superintendent of schools, has engaged the following teachers: Harry Small of Portland, principal; Mrs. Small, assistant; Anna L. Manter of West Farmington, teacher of the intermediate school; Florence M. Look of Farmington, teacher of the Primary school. Schools will commence September 8.

Miss Annie Hunkins of Portland is staying at John Herrick's.

David Haley and wife are visiting their daughter, Mrs. Frank Dennison, at Brewer.

Dr. Lewis of Bridgeport, Conn., who is staying at Mountain View, occupied the pulpit here last Sunday.

Wednesday a party of Sunday school scholars had an excursion and picnic down the lake.

Margaret Wilbur, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wilbur, died suddenly last week. The girl had not been well for a long time but was not considered dangerously sick. Thursday she was taken with convulsions.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ira Russell last Monday.

Dr. Peabody and wife took a carriage drive to New Vineyard last week.

PHILLIPS vs. RANGELEY.

Rangeley Beaten by a Score of 13 to 1.

[Special correspondence to MAINE WOODS.]

RANGELEY, Aug. 25, 1902.

Last Thursday the Phillips baseball team came in for the game which was to have been played in the afternoon. About as soon as they reached Rangeley one of those "wet" rains which frequently visit the state this summer commenced and the game had to be postponed. The Rangeley boys generously offered to pay all expenses if they would stay until Friday and they stayed. Friday morning the game commenced. It was peculiar in certain respects. For several weeks the Phillips boys had been training down to the required weight, dieting themselves and in every way preparing to play a hard game of ball. They were the first to the bat and they found the curves of Taylor not as hard to hit as they expected.

When the Rangeleys came to the bat they didn't get a score, but it was looked upon more as a mistake than as good playing on the part of their opponents.

The Phillips team continued to run in a few scores each inning and the Rangeley boys continued to cut holes in the ozone with their bats. At the end of the eighth inning they stood 13 to 0, but a final rally by the Rangeleys gave them a score.

When the game was about half through the Phillips heads began to swell and at the end of the contest they were obliged to put their hats on with shoe horns.

Position of Rangeley players were:

umpires were: Messrs. Guy Everett and Austin Hinkley.

Some of the ladies of Rangeley are getting up a ball team and have challenged the regular nine for a game soon. The nine will accept on condition that the ladies play left-handed and give them the benefit of all close decisions.

State Bank Supervisors.

It is generally recognized that the formation of the National Association of Supervisors of State Banks, which took place at Detroit, means greater efficiency in the administration of state banking departments through the interchange of ideas. Mr. F. E. Timberlake of Augusta, Me., who was honored by election as chairman of the executive committee, is a gentleman who has become thoroughly familiar with the duties of his office and is known as a hard worker. Mr. Timberlake throws himself with great energy into any work which he undertakes, and no doubt in a great measure is his success in office due to this quality. The association acted wisely in selecting gentlemen of his stamp to prominent offices, for it will at once win the confidence of the banking world.—The Financial Review.

UP IN KINGFIELD.

[Special correspondence to the MAINE WOODS.]

KINGFIELD, Aug. 26, 1902.

Mrs. R. Woodcock, who received quite a severe shock during the heavy shower Friday, is all right now.

The four-years-old daughter of Rev. Mr. Truman was insensible until Saturday morning from the effects of the shock she received Friday, while in the tent in which Mrs. Barker was killed.

Mrs. E. C. Williamson, son and daughter have gone to Massachusetts. They will visit at Boston, Worcester and Springfield. Mrs. Williamson will also visit her old home in Vermont. They will be absent two months.

Mr. E. C. Williamson in company with the Messrs. Thompson and their ladies, whom he is entertaining, were at Tufts pond last Friday for a fishing trip. The party were all much taken with the scenery and the gaminess of the trout at this renowned fishway.

Mr. Stephen Smith of Boston and Miss Ray Saunders of Portland are visiting at the home of Rev. and Mrs. A. E. Saunders for a week.

Mrs. Chas. Dolbier and a lady friend, while driving from New Vineyard Friday evening after the shower, in the darkness, drove into the swollen brook near Herbert Wood's place. The bridge had been washed away. The water was so deep and the current so strong that both ladies were taken from the carriage and carried down the stream. They finally grabbed hold of some bushes and hung on until their cries brought Mr. Wood to the rescue. It was a very narrow escape from drowning. The horse had to be helped out but the carriage remained in the stream until the next morning.

Fred Collins and wife, who have been working at a hotel at Maranocook, have returned to their home in Kingfield.

Mrs. Barker, who was killed by lightning Friday, leaves four children, the youngest being a daughter about 15 years of age.

W. B. Small, who has been at Bigelow for a few days, came home Saturday. John Glidden has resigned his position on the railroad and Ed Berry is filling the vacancy.

Signal Light Chapter, No. 81, Order of the Eastern Star, was constituted at French's opera house Wednesday evening, Aug. 20, by Worthy Matron of the Grand Chapter of the Eastern Star of Maine Mrs. E. O. Bean of Readfield, assisted by the grand marshal, Mrs. Cole of East Livermore. There were eighty present by invitation. After the installation of the officers all repaired to the banquet hall and were richly served. The officers installed were: Matron, Josephine Jenkins; patron, Horace C. Gilbert; associate matron, Estelle Tufts; chaplain, Angie Doyen; secretary, Alice Simons; treasurer, Lila Wing; conductress, Lydia Hutchins; associate conductress, Lydia Voter; Ada, Maude Huse; Ruth, Angie Jacobs; Esther, Elma Mitchell; Martha, Jennie Wyman; elector, Emma Hodgman; warden, Mary E. Small; sentinel, H. G. Winter.

Mrs. Pierce of Lewiston arrived in town Saturday evening and is at the home of her brother, Mr. Charles Barker.

Among those who were more or less injured at the Evangelical tent Friday afternoon by the lightning stroke which killed Mrs. Barker, are Mrs. Levi Morse, Mrs. R. Woodcock, Master Arthur Woodcock, Willie Howe, Rev. Mr. Truman's little child of Kingfield and Mrs. G. Wyman of Stratton. Several others were knocked down but not seriously hurt.

The shower of Friday is pronounced by the older residents to be the heaviest that Kingfield ever knew.

Mr. Frank Hutchins is pushing forward the work on his canning factory which he is building preparatory to the fall business.

Mr. W. S. Dolbier and Eugene Perry have repaired their hunting camp at Lexington, getting it in readiness for the fall hunting.

J. F. Ashford and wife of Windsor, Maine are at Kingfield visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Wilkins. Mr. Ashford has been assistant messenger of the state senate for ten years. He is kindly remembered by Senator Noble.

Mr. Edgar Pullen and family are stopping in town a while, the guests of Mr. Pullen's father, the station agent here.

Mr. A. D. Drummond and daughter, Mrs. Thompson, of East Corinth are visiting friends and relatives in Kingfield.

Mrs. A. G. Winter is happy in having the company of her mother, Mrs. Roesch and sister, Mrs. Duhogue, who with her husband and little child, are guests at the home of Mr. Winter. All are from Brooklyn, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Faust of Roxbury, Mass., are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Winter. Mrs. Faust is the daughter of Mr. John Winter and returns to see her relatives and friends once a year.

Mrs. Wm. Nickerson of Anson was in Kingfield last week calling upon friends.

Mrs. Lester Durrell has gone to Lowell Junction, Mass., for two or three weeks to visit her mother.

The attendance at the Free Baptist church Sunday morning, Aug. 17, was large, many visitors being present. Some of these were once residents of Kingfield and the old church, though now remodelled, recalled many tender recollections of the past. It was a profitable day. The members and friends give strangers a warm welcome and visitors are made to feel at home.

Mrs. Phillips is visiting at the home of her son, Mr. John Phillips. Her many friends are pleased to see her. Though an elderly lady she enjoys a fair degree of health and strength and is always cheerful and happy.

Monday evening, Aug. 18, the executive committee assembled at the library room and completed the work of selecting new books for the library. The new list consists of 181 volumes to cost about $150. The committee authorized the preparation and printing of 200 copies of a catalogue for the use of the members of the association. The new installment of books will complete the following sets: American Men of Letters, The Story of the Nations, American Statesmen Series and 29 volumes of the English Men of Letters series. A few works on art and popular science, together with 90 volumes of standard modern fiction completes the list. The committee feel that the new list will greatly add to the value and attractions of the library.
