

MR. H. A. BRYANT OF WILTON.

WHAT is the key whose magic charm
 To all alike unlocks
 The riches held in niggard store
 In Nature's treasure box?
 The secret's out, the spell is told,
 That boundless wealth forebodes;
 The talisman for General Weal
 And Progress is—Good Roads.
 He saw the vision, seeks the Goal
 And strives to make more true
 The Golden age of common Good
 That waits for me and you.
