Dear Friend:

Renting a camp or cottage is a delightful way to experience the splendors of Maine. As you browse through these pages, imagine yourself relaxing in your own cozy spot after a day full of Maine enchantment.

This guide is a reliable source of camp and cottage rentals. Owners and agents who list properties here are expected to obey The Golden Rule by dealing with others as they would want others to deal with them.

We track any complaints about an owner or agent who fails to live up to standards of honesty and fairness. If a pattern develops concerning a listing, it is removed.

Tens of thousands of people have used this guide to obtain just the spot they wanted. You, too, can use the guide confidently.

Meanwhile, we look forward to welcoming you to Maine. If you wish additional information, write or call the Maine Publicity Bureau. Or visit one of our information centers located in Kittery, Yarmouth, Fryeburg, Hampden, Calais and Houlton.

Whether this is your first visit or the most recent of many visits to Maine, we want it to be your best visit anywhere.

Sincerely,

James R. Thompson
Executive Director

Maine’s Tourism partnership: a private, non-profit corporation
Maine in a nutshell — that’s how a Maine visitor once described York County. For here in this "southern gateway to Maine" the state's traveling guest finds every form of natural advantage for vacationing, from world famous beaches of sparkling white sand to lakes and hills and shore where people have settled for more than 300 years.

Also included in this region are portions of Cumberland County as far north as Freeport and the state's most populous city, Portland.

From the fertile, rolling countryside of the southern Sebago-Long Lake Region to northern Franklin County, this lake and stream studded part of the state is a four-season paradise. Fishing, hunting, hiking, canoeing, camping, and skiing are but a few of the many attractions which bring visitors back to this region. The twin cities of Lewiston and Auburn form the State’s second-largest commercial, population, and travel center, while in the more rural, outlying areas are fertile orchards and farms, and small industries concerned with woodworking and paper products.

Coastal — Pemaquid Point. Pumpkin House ca 1783 — Most people offer you a vacation in Maine. We offer a trip to a rich past. A vacation filled with memories of Christopher Jacquins, a French Huguenot who, in 1783, built this Federal colonial in another part of the State. Now that the British are no longer a threat we have moved the house to one of the most spectacular oceanfront sites in Maine. French doors open to a wrap around porch perched high on a hill overlooking Monhegan Island and distant horizon. Long rolling ledges for perfect afternoon lobster cook-outs, except on stormy days when your own “thunder hole” will be a show of power and beauty. High pointed fir fence 2 acres of seclusion housing an abundance of wild flowers, birds and deer. Couples only, not suitable for children. Unsafe for pets.

Maine's Acadia Region spreads from eastern Penobscot Bay, across a scenic wonderland of islands, harbors and headlands, to Gouldsboro Bay. It reaches north to Bangor, then fans out across rolling hills and fertile farmland to the southern portions of the northern wilderness and beyond. The beauty of the Acadia region comes clearly into focus on Mount Desert Island, particularly within Acadia National Park, although beauty is certainly more the rule than the exception throughout the entire region.

Most of this region is privately owned pulp and paper company land, although much of it is accessible to the public. Relatively few highways disturb the unspoiled beauty of north and north-central Maine. Outdoor recreation is a major pastime here where lakes, mountains, and rivers rule supreme. Moosehead is the largest lake in the state, some 40 miles long, and Katahdin, in 200,000 acre Baxter State Park the highest mountain, and northern terminus for the Appalachian Trail.

AROOSTOOK COUNTY

Known as The County, Aroostook is the largest of Maine’s 16 counties. Bounded by Canada on the west, north, and east, 20% of the region is under potato cultivation, earning The County the moniker of Potato Empire of the World. Aroostook is rapidly becoming a four-season vacationland for fishing, camping, hiking, skiing, snowmobiling, golfing, boating, and much more.
