The incoming junior warden of Aurora Lodge of Masons, Walter R. Loker, right, pins a flower on the lapel of the new master, Albert W. Bernier as marshal, and Charles A. Duncan as chaplain. Solist was Barbara Robbins and accompanist, Alice Walgren. Alfred L. Nichols was presented the past master's jewel.

Some 130 members and guests attended the semi-public installation of officers of Aurora Lodge, Wednesday night. The installing suite consisted of Edward M. Lawrence, George X. Bernier and Charles A. Duncan, all past masters of Aurora Lodge.

In charge of lighting arrangements was Raymond L. Watts. A delightful selection of songs rendered by Barbara Robbins of South Portland was enthusiastically received by all present. Her accompanist was Alice Walgren, also of South Portland.

Officers of Rockland Lodge acted as ushers for the evening. Refreshments were prepared and served by the ladies of Golden Rod Chapter, OES, under the direction of Worthy Matron Margaret Simmons.

The retiring master, Alfred L. Nichols was presented with a Past Masters' Jewel as the finale of the ceremonies.

Honored guests present were: From the Grand Lodge of Maine, John M. Littlefield, Grand Master, and William Jordan, Grand Sword Bearer, both of Auburn; from the Ancient Accepted Scottish Rite of Free Masonry, Donald S. Higgins of Bangor, deputy for Maine; from the Grand Commandery of Maine, Albert W. Hoffes of Camden, past Grand commander; from the Grand Council of Maine, Leman W. Oxtom of West Rockport, grand captain of the guard; and from the Grand Royal Arch Chapter of Maine, Rockland C. Walter of Waldoboro, grand steward.

Thirty-third degree Masons were Edward R. Veazie, William E. Kosler, George X. Bernier and Lloyd M. Richardson, all of Rockland; from the Grand Chapter of Maine Order of Eastern Star, Mrs. Priscilla Moss of Thomaston, Grand Martha, and Mrs. Margaret Simmons of Rockland, Grand Representative to Rhode Island; from the Grand Assembly of Maine, Order of the Rainbow for Girls, Miss Duella Martin of Rockland, Grand Associate Advisor.

Master Ferrier thanked the many willing hands which had participated in helping to make the installation a success and extended an invitation to all present to partake of refreshment and adjournment was then made to the banquet hall.

OWLS HEAD FIRE COMPANY TO SEEK FUNDS AND PERMISSION AT TOWN MEETING TO BUILD STATION

Plans were discussed at the regular meeting of the Volunteer Fire Department Monday night to start building the new fire station this year.

Two articles will be included in the town warrant to be voted on at Town Meeting in March. One article calls for a sum of money to be borrowed for building the station; this loan to be paid at the rate of at least $1,000 per year. The second article requests the voters to authorize the fire chief and the board of directors of the fire company, which consists of the three Selectmen and the officers of the fire company to supervise construction of the new fire station and to attend to such other matters as may arise in connection with the administration of said building.

It is felt that because of increasing costs of labor and materials that a new station can be built now at a lower cost, rather than waiting until later.

Plans for the new building include a fireproof room in which the town records can be stored. These are now stored in private homes and in the Central School. Space will also be provided for a Selectmen's office.

At present the fire apparatus and equipment is housed in an inadequate wooden building and one truck is housed in a private garage, with the total value of all this equipment about $25,000. The location of the new building will be directly across from the old fire station on land donated by Maynard Bray. There is also the possibility of another revision in insurance rates with the building of the new fire station. All money in the building fund of the Fire Company raised by suppers, donations, etc., totalling about $3,000 shall be used in the construction of said building.

REQUESTS FOR FUNDS SHOW INCREASES FOR SCHOOLS AND ADMINISTRATION AT WARREN

Nearly 50 people turned out Thursday night, to air proposed budget items for the Town of Warren. It was the regular open budget meeting of the Town Budget Committee but wound up as a small town meeting on airing school problems, as an added feature. Selectmen presented requests for funds which would just about meet the 1957 general administration budget and the School Committee presented requests showing an increase of about $10,500 more than last year.

The Budget Committee will consider the requests and make recommendations to the town at the March Town meeting.

Decreases were made in the general administration budget during the past two years but Selectmen pointed out rising costs make it impossible to hold the line.

The school requests included funds for an additional full time high school teacher, bringing the faculty to four, and to provide extra space. The high school enrollment this year is 72 and is expected to jump to 90 next year. Several possible solutions to the crowding have been discussed but no decision has been reached.

School funds also are needed to bring the high school building up to State standards. School Committee Chairman Charles Kigel said lighting, plumbing and fire safety have to be improved to obtain State approval. This is not accreditation but approval.

The meeting turned into a discussion of possible solutions to the high school problem with suggestions of building a new building or joining a district being offered. A straw vote of sentiment found 18 in favor of a new building six in favor of joining a district and the rest abstaining.

Pair of Rockport Selectmen To Run Again In March

Two veteran members of the Rockport Board of Selectmen, Rupert C. Stevens and David R. Eaton, disclosed their intentions, Friday afternoon, of seeking reelection at the annual town meeting, March 21.

Eaton, 36, who represents Glen Cove, is currently chairman of the board on which he has served since 1955. Before his election five years ago, he was on the town budget committee.

A veteran of World War II and the Korean War, Eaton boasts of a total of 17 years in the active and reserve components of the Air Force. He now holds the rank of master sergeant. He is affiliated with the Masons and the Grange.

Stevens, 35, rounds out his fourth year on the Board of Selectmen and represents Rockport Village. He is clerk of the board for three years.

He was in the Army during World War II and is now active in the Masons, Lions and the Order of Eastern Star.

Former Rockland Man To Leave Bristol Pulpit

Rev. Ronald Carver, formerly of Rockland, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Benner, Lime-rock Street, has resigned from the Bristol Baptist Church, where he has been pastor for four and a half years, to accept a call from the Calvary Baptist Church in Claremont, N. H. He will take up his duties on Sunday, Feb. 7.

Rev. Mr. Carver married the former Constance Hatch of Bowdoinham and they have three daughters, Linda, Shannese and Faya Jane. He graduated from Providence Bible School in 1950, Taylor University in Upland, Ind., in 1952, and Fuller Seminary in Pasadena, Calif., in 1955.

A gift from the Auxiliary was presented to Mrs. Miller, and she in turn presented gifts to her officers. She also gave Maude Winchenbach a past president's badge, and a gift to Frances Warner in appreciation of her work for the group.

Special Education Class To Begin At North School

A special education class will begin Monday for the first time in the history of the Rockland school system, Superintendent Bruce Kinney announced Friday. The class will be held at North School.

Mrs. Nancy Grant, whose husband, Hamilton, is education officer at the Maine State Prison, has been retained as teacher of the class. About 15 children are expected to be taught in the class.

FIGURES ON FOUR-YEAR HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING ARE SOUGHT BY SAD 5 DIRECTORS FOR STUDY

After hearing more information from its building needs committee, the board of directors of School Administrative District Five voted to ask Bunker and Savage, firm of architects, for specifications and estimates of the cost of a four year high school building. The action was taken at a special meeting of the board, Thursday night.

The board already has studied figures for a three year building and seeks figures on a four year structure for comparison. The considered three year building would contain about 70,474 square feet and a four year would contain about 79,200 square feet.

A preliminary building committee to work with C. Edwin Tabbutt, the architect, was appointed composed of Irving McConchie, William Karl, Melton Sturges and Lloyd Painter.

A new teachers pay scale for which money was included in the proposed budget was adopted as follows: $2,350 to $3,950 for two year non-degree teachers; $2,550 to $4,150 for three year non-degree teachers; $3,500 to $4,700 for teachers with bachelor degrees; $3,700 to $4,900 for teachers with masters degrees. The new scale amounts to increases in maximums of $100 for non-degree and bachelor degree teachers and $200 for teachers with masters degrees.

The budget will be acted upon by voters of Rockland, Owls Head and South Thomaston at a meeting at Rockland High School on Jan. 28.

Chairman A. Alan Grossman appointed a committee to completely review the insurance program of the district. Named were Chairman Dr. Robert Chisholm, Walter Loker, Melton Sturges, and Mrs. Margaret Knowlton.

The next regular meeting in February will be held at the Owls Head Central School. On Monday, the board will be guests of the Kiwanis Club at a joint meeting of Kiwanis, Lions and Rotary Clubs at the Owls Head Central School.

Miller's Low Bidder On New Rockland Cruiser

Miller's Garage, Inc., of Rockland was awarded the bid to furnish the City of Rockland Police Department with a new police cruiser, City Manager Charles Haynes announced, Friday, after the bids were opened.

Miller's bid of $1,859, was the lowest of the four submitted, Haynes added, and does not include a trade in of the department's patrol wagon. The new cruiser, scheduled to be delivered between 30 days and 40 days, will be a Plymouth two door sedan, with a V-8 motor and standard shift.

It will replace the wagon as the department's second vehicle. The City Manager explained that the wagon will be used by the City Highway Department when the new cruiser arrives.

Rockland Scouts To Try Winter Camping At Union

About 16 Scouts from Rockland Boy Scout Troop 202 and Scout Official Donald E. Parker departed at 4 p. m. Friday to spend a weekend at Beaver Lodge in East Union.

The group, who will use the time to practice winter camping and advance up the Scout ladder, will break camp early Sunday morning and head for home.

Transportation from the McLain School, where the Scouts met Friday, was provided by several parents.

The inch started out as the width of a man's thumb. That was a sound idea as long as one man was doing the measuring. But when two men began arguing over a boundary, they needed a thumb they both respected. The chief might provide the standard measurement for a village, but there was trouble again when another village was involved.

Rockland Had King Sized Force In 1905

The given name, Frank, predominated on the Rockland Police Department about 1905 when The Big Five, as the regulars were then known, reigned over the City's world renowned waterfront. There was Frank Sherer, Frank Post, Frank Levensaler and the Department's horse rented from Berry Brothers' Stable who was also known as Frank. Frank Post at plus six feet in height and 250 pounds in weight was the spindling member of the squad. The others went from there on up in height and pounds to put the fear of the law and a good ash night stick into those who believed that Rockland was as wide open a liberty town as stories about it in seaports the world around would have it. From left to right, they are: Marshal Walter Fernald, Bill Landers, Frank Sherer, Frank Post, Deputy Marshal Frank Levensaler and George Hayden. Charles Heckbert was the paddy wagon driver.

Loans in force at the bank at the close of the fiscal year were reported as about 10 per cent higher than the previous year. Also, demands for loans from regular bank customers led the officials to confine loans, to as large an extent as possible, to regular customers residing in or doing business in the territory served by the bank and its branches.

Again named as members of the advisory board in Knox County were: Charles H. Berry, Putnam P. Bicknell, William K. Bicknell, E.

MAKES ONE THINK A LITTLE

The news Friday morning that the Russians hit the bulseye in an 8000-mile rocket shot into the Pacific was, and is, a little more than disconcerting. It takes only a look at the world map to realize that an 8000 mile arc from the firing point at Tyura Tam near the Aral Sea brings nearly all the United States within the range of a Soviet rocket. Announcements by the Soviet news agency, Tass, said that the rocket reached a top speed of 16,500 miles per hour, which if we on the coast of Maine come in the range would give us a little less than a half hour to dig in after a rocket was fired, providing by some unforeseeable chance we were warned when it was launched. The accuracy of the rocket is startling. If reports are true, they missed the exact target point by only 1.24 miles. To bring it closer to home, a shot aimed at the center of the Rockland business district would have landed in Rockville in one direction or at Coopers Beach in Owls Head in another. Not very comforting at that. The Russians claim that the test is a part of their program to shoot a multi-stage rocket into space with either Venus or Mars as the target. We have 5000 mile rockets which are reported to have hit target areas to within less than two miles of center, and there are promises of greater range and more accuracy to come. Let's hope the Russians want a peaceful world as much as we do and that their leaders, and ours, continue to shoot for watery targets or the planets and not at population centers and military installations in the other nation for generations to come.

Beaver Gals Top Rockland 58-42 At Rockport Gym

The Rockland girls dropped a 58-42 decision to the Medomak Valley League leading Rockport girls, Wednesday afternoon, in a game played at Rockport. A poor third period in which the Rockland lassies were held to only seven points while the Beaverettes racked up 17 blew the game open and Rockland could not catch up in a last period rally.

Dot Uimer of the home forces was the day's scoring leader with 23 points, closely followed by Rockland's Elsa Iivonen with 22. The Rockland Junior Varsity won easily, however, by 43-19.

MCCR Begins New Policy Suggested By Maine PUC

A seven-point program was ordered into effect Wednesday by E. Spencer Miller, president of the Maine Central Railroad.

At a meeting of the Maine Central executive staff, Miller noted that the PUC has made suggestions to management, the general public, the Maine Legislature, railroad labor, city and town governments—in the hope that events might justify the continuance of some passenger service.

"While it will be interesting to see if any of the other parties do anything at all," Miller said, "we will."

The PUC ordered the Maine Central to operate two specified round-trip passenger trains via Augusta for a trial period of one year, and at the same time made various suggestions and recommendations.

In line with such suggestions to the Maine Central, Miller instructed his executive staff as follows:

1. New timetables will be issued showing connections to Boston, New York and St. John, N. B.
2. Closer system of inspection will be set up with respect to cleaning coaches including seats and windows and to make sure that they are as attractive as possible leaving each terminal.
3. Schedules of trains will be

K-L Coaches Set Cross Country Rules At League Meeting

Knox-Lincoln M League principals and coaches held their mid-winter meeting Wednesday night at Waldoboro High School and heard the report of the cross country committee whose recommendations were accepted.

Among recommendations accepted were that the course be at least 2.5 miles and no more than 2.7 miles in length; that three timers be picked from among the coaches; and that two judges be named from teachers who do not coach.

The committee also recommended that the course be plainly marked at all corners, as in last fall's meet some of the runners got off the course thus spoiling their school's chances of winning.

The special committee was made up of Principal Ralph Hilton of Wiscasset Academy, and coaches Beryl Leach of Camden High and Andrew Williamson of Lincoln Academy.

Site of the cross country meet will shift from year to year on a rotating basis, as will the annual track meet and the prize speaking contest. The next league meeting is scheduled on March 16 at Boothbay Region High School.

arranged to insure insofar as possible operation on time with sufficient station time and with some latitude in the schedule. Close watch will be kept on performance, with reports made and corrective action taken.

4. Special attention will be given to passenger train performance and precedence to freight trains only where such is necessary in the interest of safe operation and the reasonable requirements of the particular situation.

5. A new advertising program will be developed and instituted, directed at stimulating passenger sales.

6. The railroad's tax department will contact local assessors in all municipalities to obtain lower and more realistic valuations.

7. A program will be instituted for the disposition of surplus property, including rolling stock and particularly station facilities and land used in connection therewith. New layouts in the Portland Terminal with respect to passenger facilities on the north side of the tracks at Union Station and with respect to freight house facilities for the Post Office Department will have priority.

Miller said the Maine Central will soon announce the schedules of the new passenger train service.

Biologist Urges Fish and Game To Keep Active

The Knox County Fish and Game Association was admonished not to become "a chowder society" by a State biologist at its January meeting held Thursday night at the Knights of Columbus Hall. Steve Powell, the speaker, also stated that the State has 21,000 acres of land under game management and that there is plenty of conservation work to be done by fish and game groups.

Powell, who is connected with the game management program of the Inland Fish and Game Department, also showed movies of geese in the Merrymeeting Bay area.

The Association voted to again rear pheasants this summer at the Beaver Lodge site and 500 were ordered from the State. Last year the club reared 400 and later liberated them throughout the area. The cost of rearing the 400 came to $186 it was reported.

The February meeting will be held in the Thomaston Knights of Pythias Hall on the 18th.

Exemptions Are Explained By IRS District Director

Every taxpayer is entitled to at least one personal exemption of $600 in filing his Federal income tax return for 1959, Whitney L. Wheeler, director of Internal Revenue for Augusta District, said today.

He added that a taxpayer who was 65 or older on Jan. 1, 1960, or who was blind at the end of 1959 is entitled to an extra $600 exemption, and if both conditions existed, he gets two extra exemptions of $600 each. The same exemptions for the same conditions apply to his wife if a joint return is filed. Wheeler said a taxpayer who files a separate return may claim his wife's exemption or exemptions only if she had no income and was not the dependent of another taxpayer.

"If your husband or wife died during 1959," Wheeler said, "the number of his or her exemptions is determined as of the date of death. Be sure to check the appropriate blocks on your return."

SNOW MAY BE FOR THE BIRDS AS FAR AS HUMANS ARE CONCERNED BUT TOUGH ON FEATHERED FRIENDS

The wild birds are finding it very hard now to get anything to eat.

At this season of the year, all of the foods which they need to survive are covered up by the snow and ice. From late spring to fall, there is enough food for them, insects, wild fruit, weed seeds, nuts, waste grain or green plants, but during the winter and early spring they need help from their human friends.

Our birds can be kept from starving by putting food out for them in a sheltered place, in feeding stations out of the reach of cats. Foods that they seem to like best are peanut butter on dry bread, all kinds of dry crumbs, such as cookies, doughnuts, and cake, hay chaff, cracked corn and suet sticks. Suet sticks are made by melting suet and stirring in oatmeal, peanut butter, crumbs or cracked corn. Let this harden and hang or place in the trees or the feeding stations.

Four Saturday Tilts On Tap In Coastal Basketball Circles

Basketball activity continues on several fronts, Saturday, as the Thomaston Clippers invade Rockport; Union goes to Boothbay Region; and the Rockland High Freshmen and Junior High squads are scheduled for day games with the Frosh and JH crews of Waterville High in the Elm city.

Rockport defeated the Clippers in sudden death overtime in the first game at Thomaston and will be favored to win at home. Union, loser in five out of six battles with Class M foes this season, will be the underdogs at Boothbay Region where the Seahawks are hard to beat.

Department of correction — MISStakes broke out all over this week. For example, this department stated that Dave Pound of Rockport scored 18 points for the Maine Frosh—Dave Pound did, but he is the one from Millinocket and starred for Stearns High instead of Rockport. The Rockport Dave Pound is now a sophomore at Maine. This ghastly error was duly noted by George Heath and heaven knows how many more.

Old friend Frank Wincepaw, one time Mr. Baseball of Knox County, caught the other error—it was stated that the 1938 Rockland High team was the first to go to a tournament. Instead it was the second, as the 1924 crew, of which Wink was a member, went to the Bates tourney where they lost to Gould Academy in the first game 24-14. Others on the squad were Dick and Sidney Snow, Ken Nosworthy, Wendall Thornton and Elmer Rising.

The old Bates tourney was run somewhat differently than the present set-up. Schools who felt they were worthy could apply for entrance, and were generally accepted if they had a decent record for the season. It was more or less a first come, first served affair and a school did not necessarily have to be large to be accepted, as Mexico High and Gould scarcely qualified as large schools, and both took part. The total score of the Gould-Rockland game was 11 points less than Tuesday total of 49 scored last Tuesday night by Crosby and Rockland in the second quarter alone, which shows how much the game has changed through the years.

More Americans have died in auto accidents than have died as a result of being military casualties in all the wars the United States has engaged in.

Check On Social Security Credits Bureau Advises

If you are in employment or self-employment that counts toward social security, be sure that you get credit for your earnings. George M. Field, district manager of the Augusta social security office, said today.

The amount of benefits which may become payable to you and your dependents or your survivors are figured from the average earnings credited to your social security account. To become eligible for any benefits you must have been in work covered by social security for a certain length of time. If your earnings are not correctly reported, benefit payments to you and your family may be reduced; if your work under social security is not reported you will not get credit for years which you may need to be insured at time of retirement or in case of your disability or death.

Field said that most people now reaching age 65 need to have at least four and one-half years of earnings on their social security account. People reaching 65 later will need even more credits. (A man born in 1906 or later or a woman born in 1909 or later will need 10 years of social security credits.) For disability benefit payments (age 50 to 65) at least five years of social security credit are needed.

An employed person should make sure that his employer reports his wages correctly; if he works for himself he should report his net earnings when he files his income tax return and pay the social security tax on those earnings every year. Field said.

Failure to make a yearly report is a violation of the law and can result in penalties and interest charges on unpaid social security taxes. Failure to report, moreover, can result in the wiping out of social security insurance protection altogether. The law says that earnings must get on the record within three years, three months and 15 days after the taxable year in which they were earned. As an example, Field pointed out that a self-employed person who failed to report his 1955 earnings by April 15, 1959, can never get social security credit for that year.

Guard against the possibility of losing earnings credits or your insured status by reporting regularly and correctly. Also ask for a statement of your social security account at least once every three years. Field said. A new leaflet entitled "Social Security Credits" may be obtained by writing to the Social Security Office, Post Office Building, Augusta.

Municipal Court

THURSDAY

Charles Schofield, 25, of 15 Grove Street, Rockland, was found innocent of a charge of passing a stop sign. Associate Judge Dominic Cuccinello made the finding in Municipal Court, Thursday morning, after Rockland Police testified that Schofield allegedly went through the stop sign at the intersection of North Main and Birch Streets, Rockland, Jan. 20, without coming to a full stop.

FRIDAY

Carl A. Achorn, Jr., 22, of 91 Broadway, Rockland, was found guilty, in Municipal Court, Friday morning, of a charge of driving a vehicle while under the influence of liquor. Judge Christy C. Adams levied a $250 fine and suspended his driver's license for 10 days.

The respondent's appeal to the February term of Knox Superior Court was noted and he was released in $500 bond, furnished by his father. Rockland police, who arrested him, Jan. 15, on Park Street, Rockland, presented evidence of a blood test which indicated .26 per cent of alcohol in Achorn's blood at the time of his arrest.

Mrs. Dora Emery, 39, of 10 Dunton Avenue, Rockland, was also found guilty of a complaint of drunken driving after she waived hearing of the warrant in open court. After she was meted out a $135 fine, she was released in sureties of $275, pending her appeal to the February term of Knox Superior Court. Rockland police arrested her, Jan. 18, on Main Street, Rockland.

Keith W. Jenkins of Waldoboro faced charges of failing to comply with a court order to support his three children, ages eight, six and three. State Health & Welfare Department investigator, Harvey Childs, stated in the warrant that the Knox County Superior Court issued the order calling for the support, May 21, 1957.

Judge Adams found him guilty and continued the complaint for sentence to April 22, and released him in $200 bond.

MTA To Present Four Scholarships Of $500 Each

Scholarships, valued at $500 each will be awarded to four of the 50 to 60 highest honors winners in the Maine Teachers Association Academic Recognition Program. Thurlow Pitts, chairman of the Recognition Committee, announced Thursday.

All highest honors students will be given special recognition on May 14 at Colby College, where they will receive handsome individual trophies and certificates. President Lloyd H. Elliott, of the University of Maine, will speak at the special awards assembly that will follow a banquet in Roberts Union.

The State winners, expected to number between 50 and 60, will be selected on the basis of performance in College Board Achievement Tests that will be given at test centers in Maine March 12. All seniors who received honors or high honors in the Academic Recognition program as a result of scores in National Merit Scholarship Tests are eligible to compete for State honors.

Winners of honors and high honors were announced in December by the Recognition Committee. They are receiving certificates in special assemblies and banquets that are being sponsored this month by teachers clubs and civic groups all over Maine.

The Academic Recognition Program was initiated to stimulate scholarship achievement among high school students, according to Mr. Pitts who is principal of Ellsworth High School and vice president of MTA.

He said the money for the four scholarships comes from a fund of $2,000 appropriated by the MTA Representative Assembly to be awarded at the discretion of the Recognition Committee. The decision to divide the sum into four $500 scholarships was made at a recent committee meeting.

Criteria for selecting the scholarship winners from among the State honor students will be set up by a subcommittee composed of Superintendent Walter Leach, New Sharon, Karlton L. Higgins, principal of Oxford High School, Mrs. Marion Bagley, social studies teacher at Machias High School.

CHAINS

These hands might have painted the world's greatest masterpiece. These hands might have played faultlessly the most difficult concerto. These hands might have mixed a compound that would destroy disease. These hands might have been raised in blessing over a trusting mankind.

Instead they are chained. Somewhere, somehow, they failed. Perhaps they reached over a counter and stealthily snatched a jewel. Perhaps they searched a safe and took what other hands had worked for. Perhaps they held the gun that wiped out a life. Somewhere they went wrong. Somewhere they failed.

Hands do not act by themselves. Personalities control them—personalities swayed by impulses and convictions, good and bad. The Church, your Church, is waiting to guide hands, minds, hearts and lives. Here good impulses, right convictions are born and nurtured. Here, in God's House, hands learn to move aright to find life's work, unchained and triumphant.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Deadline Close For Registration Of All Aliens

C. C. Doughty, district director of the Immigration and Naturalization Service, said today aliens in Maine have only one more week in which to comply with the Federal law requiring that aliens report their address to the Government during January of each year.

The Immigration official urged all aliens who have not yet complied to go as soon as possible to the nearest Post Office or Immigration Service office to file the report.

Parents or guardians must file the report for alien children under 14 years of age.

Doughty said the address report is required each year from all aliens except those in diplomatic status, representatives of certain international organizations and persons admitted temporarily as agricultural laborers.

He pointed out willful failure to comply carried penalties including a fine and deportation.

The official said an estimated 17,000 aliens in this state have already complied with the address report requirements, compared to over 19,000 who filed address reports last year.

Slow down and live, the life you save may be your own.

See you in The Bangor Daily News!

THE NEW NEW ENGLAND

It Pays to Blow Your Horn

Silent selling is a thing of the past. You can have the best mousetrap in the world but it won't sell unless you blow your horn and beat the drums to attract attention.

New England is proving it wants and has space for new industries. That's why it leads the rest of the country in developing industrial parks. Some 114 industrial parks have been established in the six state region. Another 27 are in the planning stage. An estimated $60 million has been invested for acquiring land, construction, and promotion of the ventures ranging from 1.724 to 3 acres in size.

Our communities are seeking new payrolls to boost their economic structure or to replace a faltering industry. A new industrial payroll is a priceless possession that means more jobs, more dollars in circulation, more prosperity and greater security.

For example, a new 100-man factory in an average community can mean $590,000 MORE personal income and $360,000 MORE retail sales per year, 174 MORE workers employed and 112 MORE households.

New plants also mean new taxes for local and state governments and help to lighten the load on individuals. So blow your horn and always remember to talk up your town and region.

This message was prepared by The New England Council for Economic Development and is published by this newspaper as a public service in cooperation with the New England Daily Newspaper Association and the New England Weekly Press Association. The New England Council, Stabler Building, Boston 16, Mass.

MAKE A PERFECT LOAF OF BREAD

Add a bonus of good old-fashioned flavor to mid-winter meals with a loaf of fragrant, crusty home-baked bread. If the time-honored art of bread-making is new to you, don't be afraid to try it. There's nothing mysterious or difficult about yeast-raised breads. Just follow the directions and you'll be awarded the satisfaction of a beautiful loaf.

YEAST-RAISED WHITE BREAD
1 cup milk
3 tablespoons sugar
2 1/2 teaspoons salt
6 tablespoons margarine or butter.
1 cup warm, not hot, water (lukewarm for compressed yeast)
1 package or cake yeast, active dry or compressed
6 cups sifted enriched flour

Scald milk. Stir in sugar, salt and margarine or butter. Cool to lukewarm. Measure water into large mixing bowl (warm, not hot, for active dry yeast; lukewarm for compressed). Sprinkle or crumble in yeast and stir until dissolved. Add lukewarm milk mixture. Add 3 cups of flour and beat until smooth. Stir in remaining flour to make a soft dough, and stir until smooth. Turn out on lightly floured board. Knead until smooth and elastic, about 8 to 10 minutes. Place in greased bowl; brush with shortening. Cover and let rise in warm place (85°), free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour. Punch down and turn out on board. Divide in half and let rest 15 to 20 minutes. Shape into two loaves. Place in greased bread pans 9x5x3 inches. Cover and let rise in warm place, free from draft, until center is slightly higher than edge of pan, about 1 hour. Bake in 400-degree oven about 50 minutes.

ANIMAL SCIENCE PROGRAM AT UNIVERSITY OF MAINE PROMOTES VARIETY OF RESEARCH PROJECTS

The student, a University of Maine senior enrolled in the department of animal science, carefully studied the laboratory apparatus before him, and then made a few notes on the results of his efforts.

A few feet away, two of his professors and a graduate student were also hard at work on more advanced research projects.

The student's goal: Learning the effects of the addition of alcohol to a cow's rations as it applies to livestock production.

Prof. Bruce R. Poulton, head of the State University's department of animal science, watched the men at work and commented:

"This isn't at all an unusual scene for students in our department who are majoring in animal science or one of its allied fields."

"We allow the students plenty of freedom in setting up their own research projects involving farm animals."

"Naturally, we supervise these projects closely, but this freedom of choice permits the students to gain a great deal of personal satisfaction from their studies while at the same time putting their classroom information to work."

"And it also gives the students close association with their instructors," Dr. Poulton continued. "I think this is one of the best features of the program which we offer to the high school student who may be interested in coming to the university to participate in our program."

Dr. Poulton, who looks more like a professional basketball player than a college professor because of his six-foot, six-inch frame, gave this advice to the interested high school student:

GRANGE NEWS OF KNOX-LINCOLN COUNTIES

TIGHTER FARM MONEY IN K-L COUNTIES SHOWN IN DROP IN FHA LOANS AND COLLECTIONS

A tighter money situation in Knox and Lincoln Counties for farmers in 1959 was reflected in a year end report by Darius D. Joy, county supervisor for the Farmers' Home Administration. The total borrowed through FHA in 1959 was $392,590 compared to $540,265 in 1958 and collections totaled $383,551 compared to $427,897 in 1958.

Joy pointed out the amount loaned was down due in part to the FHA interest rate of four per cent which was not attractive to county lending institutions through which FHA loans must be financed. This was particularly true in short term operating loans, Joy said.

With no appreciable decrease in collections of long term loans, the decrease was in short term operating loans. This decrease was due to the fact that the majority of the borrowers in this office were poultrymen and for the past year the price for eggs averaged nine cents per dozen less than in 1958. Joy stated. This resulted in a reduction of income by $1.62 per bird based on a production of 18 dozen eggs per hen. The average price received for eggs by the farmers in these counties for 1958 was 44 cents per dozen and in 1959, 35 cents. In addition to this reduction, he also was faced with the increase in the cost of living, machinery, equipment and other farm operating expenses.

During the past year, Farmers' Home Administration borrowers used approximately $285,510 in operating loans to pay for fertilizer, seed, feed, fuel and other items needed to carry out their regular farming operations. These loans also included funds to buy livestock and machinery needed to expand or modernize and put their farming programs on a sounder basis for present day competition.

In addition to funds for operating purposes, farm families in Knox and Lincoln Counties borrowed $107,080 for real estate investments during the past year. Some families used real estate loans to improve farms, enlarge farms of inadequate size, or refinance farm debts. Others built or modernized farm houses and essential farm buildings, carried out better soil conservation practices, and effected needed land development.

Besides making and servicing loans, Joy visits borrowers' farms throughout the year to help with farm management problems. He estimated he made 350 farm visits during the year, that he held 28 county committee meetings at which time 111 applications for loans were reviewed and 22 farms were inspected by the committee.

Eligible applicants are those who have or can obtain land, labor and other resources necessary for good farming, but who cannot adequately finance their operations with credit available to them from other lenders. The supervisor also helps applicants to obtain credit needs from other local lenders through the FHA system of credit counseling. Credit is extended by the Farmers' Home Administration only when it is not available from other sources.

Mildly Optimistic Farm Business Forecast Advanced

Although the national outlook for agricultural income in 1960 is gloomy, Maine farmers have reason to be mildly optimistic. That's the word today from Lewis E. Clark, Extension Service farm management specialist, University of Maine.

Prospects for 1960 are that potato prices for the 1959 crop will be substantially better than the low prices received for the bulk of the 1959 crop.

Egg prices are expected to improve with reduced supplies. However, they'll average considerably below prices received in most recent years. Broiler prices probably will be slightly higher than the low levels of 1959.

Milk production will probably be more nearly in line with demand in 1960. This means that Maine dairymen should have a good year in spite of greater production costs, said Clark.

Turning again to poultry, Clark said that nationally the total 1960 output of eggs and poultry meat probably will be little, if any, above the 1959 figure. This would relieve one of the pressures toward low prices that operated last year. In 1960, egg production is likely to be a little below 1959. Broiler production may be up slightly, but only because of late season increases. Turkey production may merely duplicate, or only slightly exceed, the record 1959 crop.

Predictions are that egg prices may increase for the entire year some two or three cents per dozen above the 1959 average of about 32 cents. The increase probably won't begin until the second quarter of this year.

Broiler prices probably will be slightly higher than the estimated 16 cents a pound for 1959. It looks as though broiler production might be three or four per cent above the estimated 1959 output of 1.7 billion birds.

The outlook for potato prices during the next several months is considerably better than it was at this time a year ago, Clark reported. Current potato supplies are materially smaller than those of a year ago, but they're ample to maintain civilian consumption at 1959 levels.

Florida and California potato acreages are down about one-sixth this winter, so production should be at least moderately below last year. Potato growers, dealers, and consumers can expect higher prices through the winter and spring seasons.

Cautious optimism is the way Clark looks at the dairy outlook. Improved prospects for milk prices in 1960 reflect the recent downward adjustment in milk production. This followed five consecutive years of new production records. The downturn in milk production in the past two years is primarily the result of a rise in beef cattle prices compared with milk prices, although adjustments were taking place in dairying for other reasons, too.

Even with some increase in milk production in 1960, the supply of milk products per person will be under the level of 1959. Retail prices should rise. For considerable periods this year, prices to farmers for milk and butterfat probably will be above 1959 levels. This should mean that the prices will average above last year.

The volume of dairy products sold by farmers this year should be a new record high. Cash receipts will increase significantly over 1959 to a new high record. Cost of feed may be lower, but costs of most other items used in production probably will be higher. Net income from the dairy enterprise probably will total at least as high as in 1959, if not a little higher.

By Henry Teague

Nothing seems to be too encouraging about the egg market at the present moment. Browns are showing more strength than whites, but the price for browns is still too low to give the farmers much encouragement.

It has been a sad week for the owners of Leghorns. White eggs came up with the browns a little while and then started dropping away. At the present moment, the whites are three cents under browns on large and extra large and four cents under on mediums.

Egg producers are quite divided in their thinking about the market for 1960. Some believe there is going to be a substantial rise later on and they are putting chicks under brooders at the present time. Others are playing the waiting game, some because that is the way they think and others because no credit is available to them at present.

Poultrymen are being asked to make too many decisions at the present time and they have no basis of fact to work on. The egg market is so fouled up as far as producers are concerned that the future of the industry as we have known it over the past decade is very much in doubt. There seems to be a lot of credit available still for automated operations and large operations, but the squeeze is certainly being put on the average and the small farmer. So much capital is involved in raising even a few thousand birds to laying that most farmers will simply have to give up if there is no break very soon.

Last Sunday, "Red" Curtin wrote in the Boston Herald that receipts of eggs continue to be alarmingly high. They talk about surplus production and at the same time talk of less birds and it gets very confusing. Then they throw in consumer resistance and a drop in consumption of eggs. The government steps in and buys dried eggs. So you ask, what really has happened to the price of eggs? I am beginning to think that nobody actually knows and no one seems to be doing much about it, at least effectively.

We turn to our Congressmen and Senators. We seek help from the USDA and not too much comes out of it. We get a little sympathy here and there concerning our problems, but little real understanding. A lot of lay persons think that if a poultryman can still live decently and drive an automobile, he must be making money. How wrong can they be?

Most of the poultrymen are stubborn enough to reach in and take enough money from the thousands of dollars that roll by them to live reasonably. The result is more debt and this will lead eventually to farm abandonment or forced eviction.

Many of us living in this greatest of all prosperous eras feel that we have a right to a fair living if we operate efficiently. We are producing a basic food commodity under a system of price control that is ruining the family farmer.

The poultry industry should be a prosperous segment of the country's economy and it has got to be sooner or later. If egg prices do not rise substantially this year, the cut back is going to be terrific, and eventually the time will come when eggs will hit the sky in prices. That would be all wrong, but it has happened before with eggs at the farm reaching well over a dollar lar a dozen and it can happen again. But heretofore it has been caused by war and the poultrymen who were left on all farms enjoyed huge profits.

Most of us do not want that to happen for several reasons, among them being the fact that extreme prices can only be temporary. Most of us are simply looking for average yearly profit that will provide us with a decent living.

Our government has spent untold millions and even billions to help solve the economic problems in many foreign countries. Huge sums are still being spent for this same purpose.

Our government is also spending gigantic sums for farm subsidies which many think are not particularly effective.

If there are half a million poultrymen in this country, one can safely say that at least 2,000,000 persons are directly affected by egg prices. Millions more are more concerned with the prices of eggs than they know. A bad slump in egg prices over an extended period keeps poultrymen from spending normally for consumer goods. It cuts down on the taxes they can pay.

That seems to make it important enough so that the government should step in at the critical time and give the industry some real help. It has got to be active, intelligent help and we need it now. A few months from now will be too late for a lot of poultrymen.

Membership In K-L Extension Is Up Over Last Year

Some 15,832 men and women by Jan. 1 had paid their membership dues for 1960 in their County Extension Associations in Maine.

H. Earl Megquier of Gray, president of the Maine Extension Association, reported today that this membership was 231 more than that of a year ago. During December, Extension Association membership rose by 1,280 members. Largest increases were in Kennebec, Central Aroostook, Hancock, and Waldo Counties.

Megquier noted that Hancock County had already topped by 109 its Extension Association membership total for all of last year. He also said that York County Extension Association had exactly equaled its 1959 enrollment. Memberships will continue to be accepted until June.

Twelve Maine areas had larger Extension memberships on Jan. 1 than they did a year earlier. They were Hancock, Washington, Southern Aroostook, Oxford, York, Somerset, Cumberland, Penobscot, Androscoggin-Sagadahoc, Northern Aroostook, Waldo, and Knox-Lincoln.

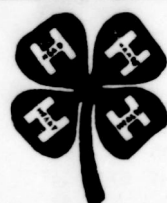

Largest County Extension Associations were Aroostook, 1,747; Hancock, 1,439; Cumberland, 1,329; Androscoggin - Sagadahoc, 1,248; York, 1,233; Penobscot, 1,201; Waldo, 1,146; and Oxford, 1,112.

Aroostook County had the largest enrollment of men and Hancock County had the most women Extension members.

New Program Set For Conservation School In Summer

Something new has been added to the regular summer session of Maine's Conservation School this year. The innovation is a one-week adult course for non-teachers to provide background material in the field of conservation of our natural resources. During the regular summer session, teachers attend the school for academic credit.

Any interested person may apply for the one-week course, which is slated for the week of June 6-10 or the following week, or both weeks if the demand should warrant a double session. Subjects to be covered include water, forestry, soil and geology, fish and wildlife, and outdoor recreation.

Professor Robert Miller of Gorham State Teachers' College will be the instructor, with aid from specialists of various resource agencies. Living accommodations are provided at the Freeman-Waterhouse campus which also provides many permanent exhibits of interest on its 150 acres.

Requests for reservations or additional information should be sent to Franklin A. Downie, director, Maine's Conservation School, Room 612, State Office Building, Augusta.

Auto accidents caused 1,350,000 disabling injuries last year.

The Holstein-Friesian Association of America has announced the completion of outstanding official production records by registered Holstein cows owned by—

Eben C. Hargrett, Damariscotta Mills; Brigen Tidy Daisy 3752502 produced 18,753 pounds milk and 721 pounds butterfat in 365 days on twice daily milking as a five-year-old.

Herbert A. Hawes, Union; Seven Tree Tutts Premier 3406187 produced 18,286 pounds milk and 744 pounds butterfat in 362 days on twice daily milking as an eight-year-old.

Round Top Farms, Damariscotta; Roto Golden Inka 3584147 produced 14,330 pounds milk and 578 pounds butterfat in 261 days on twice daily milking as a six-year-old.

University of Maine working in close cooperation with the national Holstein organization, supervised the weighing and testing of production as a part of the Herd Improvement Registry program. This official testing program, commonly referred to as HIR, provides continuing lactation and lifetime production records on every cow in participating registered Holstein herds.

Tree Talk

White pines, large or small give a graceful background of foliage to landscaping winter or summer.

When small, the trees are compact and pyramidal in form. But they grow a foot or more a year and soon may not be serving the landscape design for which they were planted.

Now in winter, says Dr. Philip L. Rusden of the Bartlett Tree Research Laboratories, is the time to take a second look at these trees to determine whether pruning may be in order.

Hemlock and many of the spruces can be controlled or "held back" and even reduced in size by judicious pruning. So can white pines but the shearing must be just right.

White pine needles are not distributed evenly along the current year's growth, but are bunched so that there's a portion of the twig where there are no needles at all. "Never cut at these bare spots. Always snip where needles are, leaving some needles on the twig. It is at the base of these remaining needles that new buds will form. If the cut is made where there are no needles, then that portion of the twig will die back to the previous year's growth of needles.

Fir trees, on the other hand, should rarely be pruned. Pruning seems to impair their usefulness.

Winter Pruning
Austrian, red, Chinese black and mugo pines may require pruning this winter. Remove and burn dead and dying branches.
