

District 5 Votes New High School Bonds 777 To 307 In Light Vote

Those voters in Administrative School District 5 who took the time to vote Friday gave strong approval to the proposed $1,250,000 bond issue which will make a District high school possible. The vote was 777 Yes, 307 No.

Voters in Rockland's three wards voted as follows:
Ward 1 — 214 Yes - 81 No - 295 ballots cast.
Ward 2 — 232 Yes - 119 No - 351 ballots cast.
Ward 3 — 123 Yes - 73 No - 196 ballots cast.
South Thomaston — 106 Yes - 17 No - 123 ballots cast.

Owls Head — 102 Yes - 17 No - 119 ballots cast.
Total votes cast in District 5 were 1084.
Yes votes totaled 777, No votes totaled 307.

Eligible to vote in the District were 4,804 persons. Of this total, but 1084 voted on the issue in the special election, or 20½ per cent.

The special election was the first instance in which the City of Rockland used mechanical voting machines. It gave voters and officials alike an opportunity to familiarize themselves with the devices before the June Primaries. It was the first time in the State a city has conducted an election solely by machine.

In the towns of South Thomaston and Owls Head the traditional town meeting procedure was set aside after the formal opening to use the Australian ballot as required by the provisions of the Sinclair Act.

In Owls Head, 119 out of 513 registered voters cast ballots during the polling hours which opened at 1 p. m. The ballot clerks took just seven minutes to count and announce the vote under the guidance of Town Clerk Ellena Fredette.

South Thomaston Town Clerk Verna Baum announced the result in that community in a matter of 10 minutes. There were 123 ballots cast out of a possible 450 persons registered as voters in the community.

Only one minor hitch marred the otherwise perfect operation of the six machines. Jack Levy, representing the machine manufacturer, said a fuse in one machine at Ward Two apparently jiggled loose in moving the machine into place and broke contact just before noon. Levy was at South School at the time but arrived at the Community Building within five minutes and quickly resealed the fuse. The machine was out of operation only a matter of minutes. With a little more experience, Levy said, ward officials will be able to detect a fuse problem and correct it on the spot. It is the only thing in the machine that could malfunction, Levy said.

Under the Sinclair Act the board of directors of a school district must certify an election in the same way a city council or board of selectmen does in a municipal election. The board of School Administrative District 5 met at 8 p. m. Friday to certify the overwhelming vote in favor of authorizing the bond issue.

Superintendent of Schools Bruce Kinney said Friday evening that the firm of architects drawing plans for the new school, Bunker & Savage of Augusta, will be given orders immediately to proceed with final plans.

Once the plans are completed, Kinney commented, invitations to bid will be issued and once the bidder and his costs are determined, the bond issue which was voted favorably Friday will be offered on the money market.

The new school will be located west of Broadway between Cedar Street and Lawn Avenue and will have facilities which will permit full accreditation by the State Board of Education.

Record Turnout At Special Warren Town Meeting Reaffirms Decision To Erect New High School Building

WARREN — Warren voters turned out strong, Thursday evening, and re-affirmed at a special town meeting in Glover Hall, their previous vote to build a new high school. A total of 262 ballots was cast and the final count was 142 for and 120 against the new school. It drew the largest turnout ever drawn by a special town meeting in Warren, and probably the largest of any town meeting there. There was standing room only before the meeting started.

The voters thus confirmed their original vote at the May 16 meeting which was poorly attended and caused opponents of the new school to call for a second meeting.

The selectmen also were authorized to borrow $5,000 for use of the building committee in securing cost estimates and plans for the new structure. This committee was set up by vote of the May 16 meeting but has been inactive pending the action of the Thursday meeting. The members of the committee are Vernon Jordan, Carl Erickson, Walter Starrett, Earl Gammon and Howard Crockett.

The meeting also voted again to discontinue the Ninth Grade in the Warren school system for the coming year and to enter into an agreement with Union for the education of Ninth Grade pupils at Union, and arrange for their transportation. It was also voted to authorize the school committee to use a room in the Baptist vestry for the coming school year, and $3,000 was authorized for this project. By the vote Warren thus takes itself out of any future school set-up and decides to go it alone in the educational field. Overcrowding on the high school level forced the town to a decision before the start of another school year.

Lost And Frightened Lad In Thomaston Is Found Hiding Under A Garage

THOMASTON—A 10 year old boy who became lost in the woods in Thomaston, Thursday night, and became frightened about all the searchers was found hiding under a garage next door to his Booker Street home at 4:55 Friday afternoon.

Kenneth Collamore, son of Mrs. Eugene Winchenbach was playing in woods near his home about dusk and became lost. He wandered through the woods part of the night then laid down and went to sleep under a pine tree.

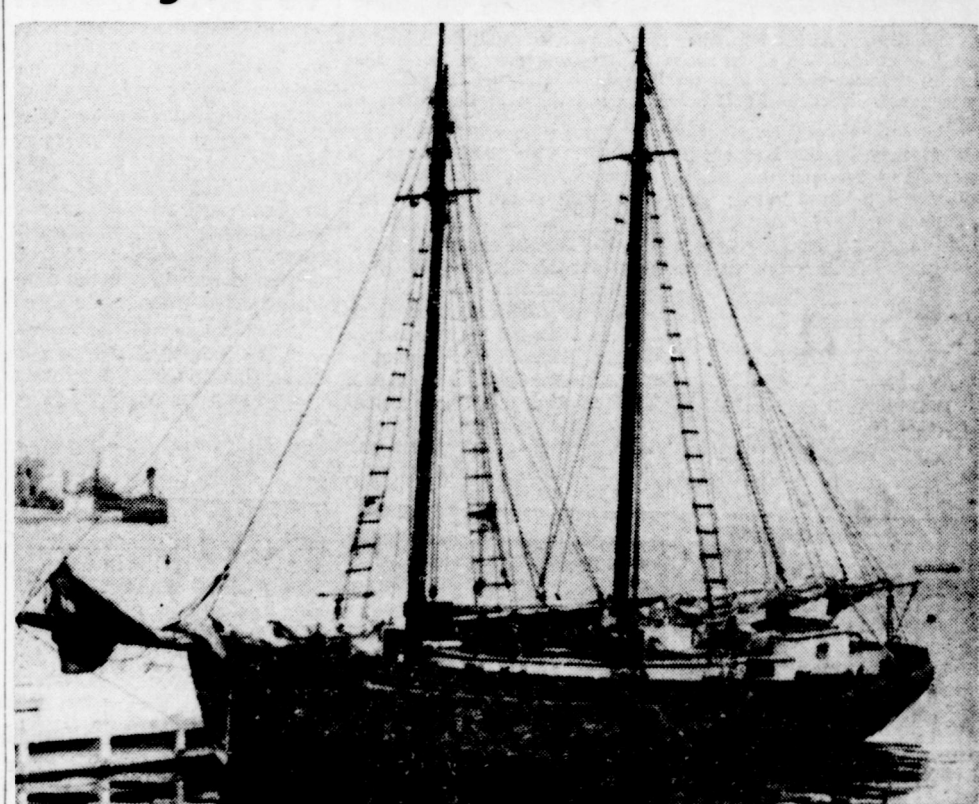

Early Friday morning he started to come out of the woods and overheard searchers talking about getting bloodhounds to find him. The frightened lad hid and sneaked out of the woods later to hide under a garage near his home.

For no apparent good reason a neighbor looked under the garage at 4:35 and there was the boy laying in the sand.

Thomaston Police Chief Alfred Teel led the search with the help of Thomaston firemen, State Police, high school boys, Sea and Shore Fisheries and Fish and Game wardens and a pair of bloodhounds. The dogs worked well, Teel said, but kept picking up two and three day old trails left by the lad who toured the area thoroughly while playing. The lad was told by the chief to be at home by 6 o'clock hereafter to avoid a repeat performance.

Chamber Reports Summer Program Started, Folder Out, Money In The Bank

A report which included hiring an executive secretary, setting up a summer program and money in the bank was given to members of the Rockland Chamber of Commerce by President Paul R. Huber at a dinner meeting at the Thorndike Hotel, Thursday evening.

Guest of honor was Charles W. Kalloch, the new executive secretary, but chamber directors took advantage of the gathering to seek ideas, wishes and even complaints from the 26 members who attended.

Huber reviewed the events taking place since the resignation of the previous secretary.

The directors came to the conclusion, Huber said, that the organization doesn't necessarily need new blood but new help from the blood it has.

The summer program will find the office on the Public Landing open from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. seven days a week during July and August. An information sheet which can be used for a place mat in a dining room or a mailing piece has been printed.

The chamber also is seeking well defined three lane traffic on Park Street from Union to Main, which the city has promised. And a citizens' committee has merged with the chamber to which most of the committee members belong and that group is working on off-street parking.

With all bills paid, and some of them rather long standing, Huber reported that the chamber has $3,000 in the bank. The organization has 150 dues paying members of whom about half are up to date.

Kalloch reviewed some of his personal background and said although he left Rockland 45 years ago, Rockland never left him. He outlined several areas in which he was working, or planned to work. Harbor development was a principal point.

During the discussion period, it was the virtually unanimous sentiment which can be used for a

Lightning Hits Home And Church In Washington And Liberty Wednesday

WASHINGTON — An early morning thunder storm, Wednesday, which set fire to a barn in Union also damaged a home in Washington and a church steeple just across the line in South Liberty.

A lightning bolt struck the home of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Smith on the old county road in Washington. It is known as the Edward Leiger place. The charge apparently followed telephone lines into the house, destroyed the wall telephone in the living room, ripped down plaster and set fire to a couch. Smith who was in another room with his wife and child at the time, extinguished the blaze before it gained headway.

Less than one half mile from the Smith home, a bolt struck the steeple of the South Liberty Baptist Church. No one saw the strike but it is believed the bolt hit a large ball on the top of the spire shattering it and the belfry. The church does not have a bell in the tower.

Some clapboards beneath the belfry were scorched but it is believed heavy rain quenched the fire. A carpenter estimated at least $800 damage was done to the belfry. The interior of the church was not damaged.

A wartime tour of duty in the Philippines during which Wells had the job of keeping a number of small boats operating by cannibalizing, finding spare parts and pure ingenuity stood him in good stead. "Experience scrounging came in mighty handy working on the schooner," Wells said smilingly Thursday.

All but the rough carpentry was done by Wells who will point with pride to a lighted compass box in the cockpit which he built around a military surplus tank compass.

On the fore deck is a surplus airplane wing tank which is used for liquid storage.

Below, Wells has built bunks to accommodate ordinary bed mattresses to avoid the expense of custom built ship mattresses. He devised a bowsprit lazy jack which doesn't work very well to catch the lowered jib but makes a very comfortable place to lay and read when the schooner is underway.

Wells installed a small diesel engine. While in Rockland, he will ground out the vessel and change the propeller. It has too much pitch for the engine.

A good look at the schooner will tell that she has not been fitted out as a yacht. It has heavy duty sails, rugged standing and running rigging and the general look of a comfortable, seaworthy craft.

To the frequent inquirers at the Rockland Public Landing, Wells reply is: "We're heading south where the weather's warm and the rum is cheap".

This is always a good world to the man who does good work in his chosen field.

Debate Team Fund Only $206 Away From Goal of $1,500 With Week Left To Deadline

There is but $206.50 remaining to put the Debating Club Fund over the top in the $1,500 drive which will send Rockland High School's championship debating team into national competition at San Diego this month.

Hackles Raised By Ad Soothed

"Don't dare to eat 'em, they may have a tranquilizer mixed in 'em," comments Les Dyer as he exhibits a carton of Tums sent him by unknown parties as a result of the furore over the Look advertisement. Perhaps he is going to send them to the editors of Look.

What may be the last of the controversy between the Maine Lobstermen's Association, the manufacturers of Tums, and Look Magazine has arrived in the office of MLA President Leslie Dyer. The manufacturers of the tablet alleged to ease the stress and strain of bellyaches brought about by overeating has, in a left handed approach, apologized for the advertisement in Look magazine.

The hue and cry from Dyer and his outraged MLA members quickly followed an advertisement in the picture magazine which showed, in a color illustration, a series of America's choice foods, prominent of which was lobsters, which presumably could cause acid indigestion—and which Tums could help.

A letter to Dyer from the Tums vice president follows:
May 27, 1960
Mr. Leslie B. Dyer, President
Maine Lobstermen's Association
427 Main Street
Rockland, Maine.
Dear Mr. Dyer:

We were certainly very sorry to receive your letter which was forwarded to us just the other day from Look magazine.

Your letter came as a complete surprise and shock to us for from the inception of the ad referred to in your letter until its final appearance in Look magazine we never intended the foods pictured to represent specifically those causing acid indigestion.

The illustration in the advertisement was intended to represent all of the wonderful foods available to us fortunate enough to live in this great land of ours. The implication is that we Americans, having so much wonderful food to eat, often experience acid indigestion and hence have need for a product like Tums.

We certainly want you to believe that in no way were we disparaging the great Maine lobsters.

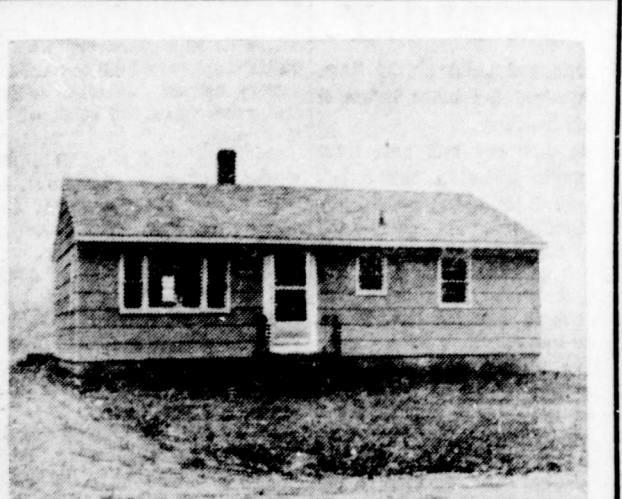

We are very sorry the ad has been misinterpreted.

Sincerely Yours,

AN OUTSTANDING PUBLIC SERVICE

We have had a splendid example this week of the value of service clubs to an area. It was the Glaucoma Detection Clinic held Wednesday at the Masonic Temple in Rockland. Close to 600 persons were served by the volunteer physicians and workers from opening at 1 p. m. through to closing time at 10 o'clock that evening. The sight-saving service was free to the public as the program is underwritten by Maine Sight, Inc. which is sponsored by the Lions Clubs of the state. Funds come from donations by Lions and projects which they carry out during each year. Volunteer workers at the clinics are Lions, their wives, members of nursing associations, nurses from area hospitals and others glad to give their time to assist others. While the Rockland Lions Club was the sponsoring organization, all other Lions Clubs in the area joined in the program wholeheartedly. The result was an outstanding service to the people of the area.

Democrats Announce As Write In Candidates

Two Democrats announced this week, their candidacies for places on the ballot otherwise unfilled by members of their party. Leroy Morong of Camden will seek the Democratic nomination for Legislator from the Camden, Hope and Appleton class towns. Ralph T. (Bud) Clark, Jr., of Rockland will seek the nomination for county commissioner.

Morong announced his candidacy at a meeting of Democratic County Committee at the home of Owen Smith, county chairman.

Morong is area supervisor of the Provident Mutual Life Insurance Company of Philadelphia. He was born in Maine and has lived in Camden for 26 years.

Clark is a graduate of Rockland High School, Class of '36. He attended Wentworth Institute in Boston and served with the Navy during World War 2, in the Pacific area aboard the USS Jason.

A painter and general contractor, he is the owner and manager of Clark's Color Center in Rockland, and manager of the Port of Rockland Drum and Bugle Corps. He is also associated with the All American Drum Corp Association, and was the organizer and president of the Northern New England Drum Corp Circuit.

He has served 15 years as

communications officer on the County and City Civil Defense team. Clark is a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars since 1943 and a past director of the parade and entertainment committee for the Lobster Festival. He also has served on the Democratic City Committee in the past.

He is married to the former Evelyn Sweeney and the couple has one child.

He is the son of Mrs. Mary Clark, and the late Ralph T. Clark, Sr.

RHS Seniors Dedicate Book To Alton Cole

The Senior Class at Rockland High School has dedicated its yearbook, the Cauldron, to social studies teacher Alton Cole. The dedication reads:

"As the curtains part they reveal the figure of a man—alone, in the center of the stage. This man has been an instrumental factor in the lives of every member of the class during the four years just past. He has taught them, led them, directed and guided them in many ways. He has earned their respect and their friendship and it is to him that the Class of 1960 respectfully and affectionately dedicates this book."

Chamber Reports

(Continued from Page One) timent of those present to resume monthly noon luncheon meetings in which the membership could be kept up to date on chamber activities.

A strong plea was made for a chamber program which would promote the tourist trade. Howard Dearborn of Rockport pointed out the tourist business has dropped in this area since the Maine Turnpike extension was opened. He pointed to the Maine Seaford Festival as an example of what promotion can do to bring people to the area.

This and other suggestions were referred to the board of directors.

BEAVERS AND SAINTS LOCKED IN TIE FOR LEAD IN MVL DIAMOND LOOP WITH 3 AND 0 RECORDS

The Rockport High Beavers and the St. George Saints continued to share first place in the Medomak Valley League Thursday as they defeated Appleton and Union respectively. Rockport won 5-0 and St. George by 14-3. In the other league game Warren defeated Bristol 11-3.

At Appleton Nate Peasley spun a one hitter over the home forces and fanned 14 in the process. The Beavers scored the decisive run in the first when Carroll Peasley singled and Keith May tripled. Denny Merrill had a good day at bat with a double and a triple. The only Appleton hit was by John Sukeforth.

Gary Harper was almost equally effective at Union for the Saints. He struck out 13 and his mates enjoyed two big innings to win easily. Errors in the third, when St. George went ahead to stay, led to five runs with the aid of singles by Joe Link and Stan Haskell, and a double by Tim Holmes. Both Link and Haskell had two hits for the winners.

At Warren the defending champions went down to defeat and lost all chance of repeating as champions as Art Heathcote hurled effectively and was backed by timely hitting. Warren scored their runs in clusters in the middle innings.

REDLEGS AND TORPEDOES WIN THURSDAY TWILIGHT CONTESTS

The Damariscotta Redlegs and the St. George Torpedoes were the winners in the Thursday evening Twilight League games played in Thomaston and Waldoboro. The Redlegs swamped the Clippers 13-5 and St. George won a squeaker from Waldoboro 3-1.

Lannie Oliver started for the Redlegs and was greeted by solo homers off the bats of Don Ledbury and Floyd Johnson. He gave way to Dave Gaw and the big southpaw held the Clippers safely in check for the rest of the distance.

Damariscotta banged 12 hits off starter Jim Halligan who was relieved by Ronnie Hill in the midst of a six run Redleg seventh. Freddie Burnham hit a homer with none on in the third and Howard Spencer had three hits for the winners.

At Waldoboro the home team was hurt by costly errors which led to the two decisive St. George runs in the fifth, one of which Gary Hyvarinen drove in with a single. He held the Townies to only two hits, by Stan Hanna and Bob Tibbetts. Walt Drinkwater had three hits for the winners who now share the league lead with Waldoboro.

Both games were held to seven innings as the visiting teams were late in arriving.

HIS FEET ARE ON THE GROUND

This man can see for many, many miles, but he's not up in the clouds; his feet are on the ground!

Contrary to what some people think, that's what the Church does for a man, too. Certainly it gives him a broader vision; it lifts up his eyes to see God and the eternal values of love, truth, justice and service which God inspires. It gives him a divine perspective from which to view his job, his family, his country — his life!

But the Church always keeps that man's feet on the ground! It accepts him for what he is — regardless of the clothes he wears or the job he holds. It looks into the face and sees it for what it is — a devilish cancer which only God can cure. It keeps a man squarely in this world while it lifts up his eyes to see another beyond the horizon.

And this is what the Church can do for you! It can give you greater vision. But it's not up in the clouds. It keeps your feet on the ground!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Mrs. Annie Hawkins

Mrs. Annie Hawkins is a spry little woman who at the age of 90 does all her own cooking and house work. During the summer months she lives all alone at her Long Cove home and in the winter lives with her daughter, Mrs. Phyllis Harvey, at 3 Lindsey Street, Rockland. She keeps house there while her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Leland Hawkins, at their home in Rockport. Refreshments were served which featured a beautifully decorated cake made by Mrs. Harvey.

MOTHER OF WASHINGTON MAN NOTES 99th BIRTHDAY WITH HER USUAL ACTIVE SCHEDULE

WASHINGTON — The mother of George B. Finley of Washington, Mrs. Emma Bruce Finley, spent her 99th birthday last Sunday active as always at her home at 20 Pleasant Street, Augusta.

She is believed to be the oldest widow of a Civil War veteran in Maine. Her husband, John Finley of Boston, died in 1914. They were married in 1883 and moved to Palermo where their eight sons and a daughter were born.

Mrs. Finley was born at Washington on May 29, 1861, daughter of Solomon and Lucinda (Marr) Bruce and at the age of 17 came to Augusta where she worked for a time in a cotton mill. She was in Augusta when she met her husband to be.

She cooked breakfast for herself and a visiting son last Sunday and attended morning services at the Penney Memorial United Baptist Church. Five children who are still living were with their mother Sunday: George Finley of Washington, Frank K. of Hartford, Conn., Raymond S. of Skowhegan, Irwin of Windsor and Mrs. Christabel Lawrie with whom she lives. She received over 200 cards from well wishers and numerous bouquets of flowers and cakes.

Among other guests Sunday were her granddaughter, a model, and her husband, who is a noted photographer. They told her about their projected round the world trip in which she was keenly interested. After her husband's death, Mrs. Finley returned to Augusta to live and her daughter joined her after retiring as a teacher in Brewer. The aged woman still leads a remarkably active life. She is unable to read because of failing eyesight but listens to the radio and keeps abreast of events.

"I don't go out nights much any more", she says. She used to attend meetings of the GAR Ladies but has given it up in recent years. The church service she attended Sunday was a special one for her and the congregation sang her favorite songs.

By the end of the day she was looking ahead to her 100th birthday.

Rockland Girl In Lasell Event On Race Day

A Rockland girl was a member of one of 15 crews taking part in a long time tradition of Lasell Junior College in Newton, Mass., recently. Carolyn Bird, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederic H. Bird, 21 Katahdin Avenue, participated in River Day races at the college.

The races, which are run off between all-girl crews in nine-place war canoes, are a unique survival of a once-flourishing sport in this section of the country, and keep alive an old Charles River racing tradition which goes well back into the middle of the last century. Lasell canoes have taken part since 1881.

JUNE IS DAIRY INDUSTRY MONTH IN PINE TREE STATE

Engineering Creeps Into Agriculture To Form Basis For Popular Field At Maine

ORONO—Armed with training in both agriculture and technology, an increasing number of University of Maine seniors are bidding farewell to the campus each June with degrees in the up-and-coming field of agricultural engineering.

"The number of students studying agricultural engineering here at Maine has more than doubled since I arrived on campus for the first time in 1954," reports Prof. Byron L. Bondurant, who is head of the department of agricultural engineering.

He said that this year's graduating class numbers 11 agricultural engineers as compared with the average class size of five in the early 1950's.

Prof. Bondurant's department is a unique one at the State University in that its professional curriculum comes under the jurisdiction of two of the university's four colleges—the College of Agriculture and the College of Technology.

And because it does, agricultural engineering students have an opportunity to receive the best of training each area.

"Our students come from the farm for the most part," Prof. Bondurant said. "They are interested in both farming and engineering and since the need for engineers in agricultural businesses is a growing one, students who do well are assured of finding challenging jobs when they graduate."

"They are trained in all of the fundamentals of engineering here at Maine and when they graduate, they are engineers in every sense of the word. The major difference between an agricultural engineer and a civil or mechanical engineer is that the former applies his knowledge to a particular industry or area, just as petroleum engineers or mining engineers do, for example."

Graduates in agricultural engineering at Maine, as well as from other universities, take jobs in four areas, Prof. Bondurant noted. The farm machinery industry hires the largest number and these engineers work on farm equipment design, development and testing.

"These men come up with new ideas for farm machines, design the machines, and before they

Farm Fly Controls

Fly control is a problem in both dairy and poultry farms. With good sanitation methods, and proper use of improved insecticides, there is no need for a real fly problem.

Recently, the County Agent has sent poultry farm fly recommendations to all poultrymen on our lists. If you want a copy, and have not received one, ask for one.

Dairy farm recommendations are now out. These recommendations are so lengthy that it is not practical to send them to all dairymen. So, if you want a copy, you will have to request it.

All recommendations have been cleared for allowable tolerances in meat and dairy products when used according to directions.

Notice To Orchardist

We are observing more oyster shell scale in orchards than usual. You must spray to obtain thorough coverage of all wood to control this pest.

Use DDT 50% WP at the rate of two pounds per 100 gallons for dilute spray. Use this when crawlers are first observed and repeat in 7 to 10 days to obtain best control.

Sheep Farm Plans

Sheepgrowers will be interested in a new booklet, Sheep Equipment Plans.

Available at County Extension Agent Gil Jaeger's office in Rockland, at cost, the plans are put out by Iowa State University.

The book contains plans for everything from lambing pens to self-feeders and hayracks to loading and or sorting shutes, dipping vats and even a roller-serie.

ceive training in the agricultural sciences. "The purpose of this is to make it possible for them to understand what is going on in other agricultural areas . . . so that they will be able to talk the farm language," Prof. Bondurant said.

A check of the university's catalogue shows that freshman year courses include general chemistry, engineering drawing, English, agricultural economics, trigonometry, algebra, and calculus. Typical sophomore courses are surveying, engineering materials and metallurgy, general physics, public speaking, general botany and applied mechanics statics.

Juniors take such courses as hydraulics, electrical circuits and machines, kinematics, heat engineering, strength of materials, agricultural power, technical composition, and applied mechanics-dynamics, while senior year courses include agricultural engineering, farm structure design, and agricultural process engineering, as well as agricultural and humanity electives.

"We urge high school students to take as much algebra and trigonometry as they can while in high school," Prof. Bondurant said. "This is terrifically important as the university will require a background in trigonometry of all entering freshmen starting in 1961," he said.

In addition, we want entering freshmen to be well prepared in other areas of mathematics and English."

Surprisingly enough, he noted, more engineering students at Maine have difficulty due to poor written and oral expression than to passing engineering courses.

An indication of the strength of Maine's program in agricultural engineering program at in-state tuition rates under the new regional co-operation program in which the six New England state universities are participating.

"We feel we have the best such program in New England," Prof. Bondurant said. "We know we have the largest number of students and the fact that Massachusetts and Rhode Island are sending their students to Maine means to us that our program is a solid one."

THE GRANGE CORNER

OCEAN VIEW GRANGE
By Nancy S. Link

Ocean View Grange of Martinsville met Monday with Montford Hupper, chaplain, presiding in the absence of Worthy Master Brian Routledge. The home economics committee announced that plans are being made for a dairy supper to be held on June 20 at the Grange Hall. Candy in fancy containers is now being sold to raise money for the furnace fund and is available from all members of the Martinsville Grange. Mrs. Virginia Fay is in charge of the candy sale and may be contacted for further information.

A Memorial Day program was presented by the lecturer and opened with a reading, "The Flag," by Richard Routledge. A game for the men of the Grange was won by William Wilson, and the boys' team won a game played by the young members present. Poems were read by Mrs. Rachel Routledge and Mrs. Fay. The Lecturer's March was won by Mrs. Nancy Link. Mrs. Barbara Hupper was at the piano for the evening.

The next meeting will be held on June 6 when there will be a game party to benefit the kitchen fund. Crazy lunch will be served.

GEORGES VALLEY GRANGE

On June 1st we entertained Pomona with only three of our members present.

Edith Gurney, whose birthday falls on the second, was honored with the Happy Birthday song. She has been our Grange secretary for 17 consecutive years.

Marguerite Griffin, chairman of the home economics and welfare committee, came but due to illness couldn't remain.

In behalf of our order, Arlene Holmes and Flossie Griffin are to be thanked for helping Sisters Ames, Wentworth and Stockbridge on the supper project.

Raymond Keating entered that great Grange above Wednesday. Brothers Brown and Keene remain about the same. Yours truly called on both since our last meeting.

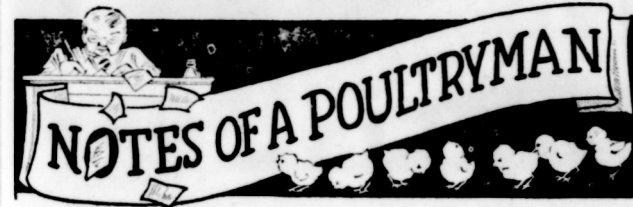

Sister Angie Fish remains in bed instead of sitting up as previously stated.

Our next regular meeting is June 7, but not open house. Please watch for that date to be announced.

MEGUNTICOOK GRANGE

Ronald Dolloff of Waldoboro, Subordinate Grange Deputy of Limerock Valley Pomona Grange, made his official visitation to Megunticook Grange Wednesday evening at a regular meeting. Memorial services in memoriam of four members deceased during the past year were conducted by Mrs. Mabel St. Clair and Mrs. Lucia Hopkins, with vocal solos by Mrs. Geraldine Dow, accompanied at the piano by Deputy Dolloff. The ceremony close with "Taps" by Dana Marriner. Included in a short program presented by the lecturer were remarks by Deputy Dolloff who presented a first place plaque which was awarded to Megunticook Grange for last year's work in Community Service; vocal solo by Wilbur Vannah, Progressive Grange, Winslows Mills. The Lecturer's March was won by Mrs. Rae Johnson. Forty-four members and visitors were present. It was announced that a Dairy Supper, featuring chicken pie and all the fixings, will be served by Megunticook Grange, June 18, at the Grange Hall. Tickets are now available from members of the Grange.

By Henry Teague

The average egg producer who has come through to this point is beyond a doubt an excellent poultryman with the ability to operate his farm with high efficiency. He wants to stay in it if there is any possible way to do it, but the fact remains that he must have prices for his eggs that will give him a reasonable profit.

Hen houses deteriorate faster than most buildings and thus need frequent repair work done. That is one of the problems facing most egg producers at the present time money enough to take care of vital expenses. While the major expense is always feed, there are such items as insurance, taxes, etc., that must be paid. Also it is certainly necessary that the poultryman and his family have enough to eat, clothing to wear, fuel, medicine and numerous other items that are absolutely necessary.

This is no news to any poultryman, but these facts seem to be disregarded by many who might be in a position to lend a hand in getting us out of this dilemma. We have looked to our members of Congress, the U.S.D.A., the national poultry and farm organizations and so far we have been offered little or nothing.

Where do we go from here? Most of us who have managed to come this far still hope for better prices for a few months of 1960, but as one poultryman told me the other day, it is a long, long way from egg prices in the thirties to prices in the fifties. And the prices are now in the thirties as we enter the sixth month of 1960, the year we were told was going to pull out those who stayed with their farms.

No union in the country would stand the abuse price wise that has been heaped on the poultryman. It would have been out on strike many months ago and maybe, one might say several years ago.

As most of you have noted, Jimmie Hoffa is now claiming that 1500 New Jersey egg producers are now members of the Teamsters' Union and plans may go forward to organize producers in several other states. Regardless of what one thinks of this idea, we all must admit that the New Jersey poultrymen have come out fighting. One might ponder on the idea that if we all had used some of the methods that have been tried in New Jersey we might be a bit further ahead today.

Resignation to one's fate may be a noble and humble attitude in some instances, but there seems to be altogether too much of it in the poultry industry. If fear of losing one's farm is a deterrent, why hesitate? Unless there is some big and unforeseen change in the attitude of the average poultryman, we are going to lose our farms anyway. It must be evident to every intelligent farmer that the only kind of a chance we have left is a fighting chance.

We may not agree on a lot of things, but we all sure agree that the price of eggs no longer gives us a living and it is past the time when we should be finding out just what has happened to the industry. After getting the basic facts in mind, the next step is to find out what can be done about it.
