Two Military Bands To Be Festival Features

The 18th Army Band, stationed at Fort Devens, Mass., will be on of the features of the 1960 Maine Seafoods Festival, entertainment vice president Mrs. Ruth Hoch has announced. Directed by CWO Ralph P. Dials, the 29-man band was organized in 1948. Most of the band members are service trained at the Navy School of Music. Several of the newer members have been with symphony orchestras before they entered the Army. The 18th Army Band, like all army bands, has a dual role in the service. Besides its musical function, the band would, in time of war, serve as a security guard force, as prisoner-of-war escorts, or in similar capacities.

U. S. Army Photo

Two Armed Forces bands will be among the featured musical groups taking part in the 14th annual Maine Seafoods Festival at Rockland on Aug. 5, 6 and 7.

A 45 piece Air Force band from Westover Field and a 29 man 18th Army band from Fort Devens are scheduled to parade and to give special concerts during the three day marine pageant.

The Fort Devens musicians will play for the Festival coronation ceremonies Friday evening and later at the Coronation Ball. Both Army and Air Force bands will take part in the mile long parade which will get underway at 10:30 a. m. on Saturday, and both will give concerts as part of the evening entertainment on the Festival grounds. Sunday afternoon, following the Memorial Service for Maine men lost at sea, the Westover band will give another concert.

While music may be food for the soul, the body will not be neglected at this year's celebration. Tons of Maine lobster, piping hot and fresh from the sea, will be served to hungry visitors, starting with the evening meal on Friday and winding up at dusk on Sunday. In addition to King Lobster, other seafoods, including Maine sardines, clams and fresh fried fish portions will also be served.

Highlight of the opening day program will be the colorful coronation of the 1960 Maine Sea Goddess which this year is expected to attract a crowd of over 12,000 spectators. Records have topped again as 26 Sea Princesses will compete for the title — more than have ever been assembled at any previous Festival.

King Neptune and his salty court of mermaids, pirates, sea hags and over-grown lobsters will be on hand to greet the new princesses and their uniformed escorts from the Maine Maritime Academy. When Neptune has made his selection, the Sea Goddess will receive her crown from Governor John H. Reed.

Another feature of this year's Festival will be a herring seining demonstration. For the first time ever, the public will be given a ring-side seat for the entire operation of spotting and catching the famous Maine sardine.

Not only will the demonstration be conducted in plain sight of Festival visitors, but also each step will be described and explained over a special public address system. The audience will also be able to listen in on actual radio conversations between the spotter plane, the seine boats and the carrier vessels.

The Maine Department of Sea and Shore Fisheries, which is co-operating with the sponsor of this event — the Maine Sardine Council — will provide a patrol boat which will serve as communications center for the demonstration.

Rockland Woman Bound Over To Grand Jury On Charge Arising From Fires July 10

Mrs. Dora Emery, 40, of Rockland was bound over to the October term of Knox County Superior Court, Tuesday, on an arson charge. Bail of $2,000 was continued by Judge Christy Adams in Rockland Municipal Court.

Her arraignment resulted from three fires discovered in her apartment on West Meadow Road, Sunday, July 10. The respondent pleaded not guilty to the charge and waived hearing.

It was the quick action of Charles Stone, Sr., of Ash Point that prevented the fire from wiping out the building owned by Hugh Little of Rockland. He fought the trash fires in the living room, kitchen and shed of the apartment before the Rockland Fire Department arrived on the scene. Mrs. Emery was removed from the building as firemen doused the flames. Fire Chief Wesley Knight later brought charges against her.

Mrs. Emery also was charged with intoxication which was continued for sentence on Aug. 5.

Open Air Circus Is Headed For Rockland Soon

The circus will return to Rockland, this year, but in a somewhat different setting. The Rockland Firemen's Welfare Fund will sponsor the open air Scott Brothers Indoor and Ball Park Circus at the South School Field on Aug. 2 with proceeds earmarked for the welfare fund.

The Scott Brothers Indoor and Ball Park Circus was originated a few years ago, when conditions forced "The Big One" to fold its tents and revert to indoor auditoriums and ball parks. Scott Brothers carries its own seats, lights, equipment, staging, paraphernalia and animals — but the tent is missing.

Though the tent might not be there, the performance and acts will be the same; you will be riveted to your seats by the daring and amazing Kenny Sherburne, famous juggler and unicyclist, Col. Kit Carson Noble will amaze with his manipulation of various bullwhips, along with tight rope walkers, trained dogs, goats, funny clowns, Liberty Horses, acrobats, and many other well known circus acts.

Scott Brothers Circus has a motto, "The Circus will never die", which will manifest itself in the performers on the European style circus. They are rich in circus history and all are fine trouper, from the smallest members of the troupe, five and six years old, to Kit and Kim Noble who will amaze on the roly-boly and the rolling globe. They were born in the proverbial actor's trunk.

Tickets now on sale from any member of the Rockland Fire Department.

Our word quarantine comes from the Latin for 40—which was the original number of days for mourning of deceased, or isolation for disease.

Knoxers Move To Second Round of District Playoffs By 10-7 Win Over Belfast

THOMASTON—The Knox Suburban Little League team defeated Belfast 10-7, Monday night, to enter the second round of the District Two play-offs. The Knox Suburban squad was paced to the win by pitcher Gary Woodcock who fanned the first seven batters he faced in the game and issued only one walk over the route.

On the other hand, three Belfast pitchers gave up 14 walks, all of which figured in the scoring and gave Knox Suburban the win even though they were outbatted by the visitors by a 5-3 margin. One of the three Knox Subur-

Antique Show To Benefit Camden Hospital To Be Held At Gym August 3 Through 6

CAMDEN — The 10th annual Camden Antique Show will be held in the high school gymnasium Wednesday through Saturday, Aug. 3 through 6. It is sponsored by the Camden Community Hospital Auxiliary and the proceeds from the show will be donated to the Linen Fund. On each of the four days the show will be open from 11 a. m. until 10 p. m. Members of the Auxiliary will serve as hostesses and the Camden Historical Society will have a loan exhibit of paintings and old maps on the stage.

Hostesses will be: Mrs. John Wilson, Mrs. Alexander R. Gilmer, Mrs. G. Carlton Underwood, Mrs. Ruth M. Perry, Mrs. Joseph Badger, Mrs. John S. Anderregg, Mrs. Henry Fisher, Mrs. Eugene Rich, Mrs. Paul A.

Millington, Mrs. J. Hugh Montgomery, Mrs. John Montgomery and Mrs. Raymond W. Tibbets. Mrs. Morgan Elmer and Mrs. Joseph Sutton are co-chairmen of the Ways and Means Committee of the Auxiliary which will benefit from the part the members are taking in the show. An added attraction will be an exhibit on the stage of pictures, maps, and articles of historical interest by the Camden Historical Society.

"Many people erroneously believe that so-called antique shows are exhibits only," said J. Gresham Wilson of Old Saybrook, Conn., manager of the show. "This is not correct. Everything displayed will be for sale."

There will be 27 booths filled with choice antiques of almost every known category for when a dealer goes to a show, he also picks from his stock the finest items. There will be several booths which will feature furniture, both period pieces as well as the very popular pine cottage items.

Defines Antique
Wilson says that controversy surrounds the defining of antiques and the determining of the value. "One definition of antiques frequently given," Wilson says, "has the weight of government authority. In 1930, the United States Customs ruled that an object had to be at least 100 years old to be classified antique, and so admitted duty free to this country. Since then, 'made before 1890' has been the most widely used definition of antiques."

Wilson pointed out, however, that this definition may be applied to a variety of things that

LET'S DO IT THIS WEEKEND

Festival week is close at hand. Visitors to the city measure local participation in Maine's greatest summer event by what they see. If stores and buildings are decorated and there are indications of some real effort on the part of window decorators to obtain a festival atmosphere, they feel that they have come to an alive city in which the people are fully supporting the event so widely publicized. Please, let's not let them down—or ourselves for that matter.

To be sure, our decorations will not be the glamorous creations of metropolitan centers. But they can be real Down East in flavor and nautical in design. Lobster pots, pot buoys, life preservers, compasses, fish nets, boats and boat gear are all old stuff to us but the summer folks love them. Let's show them off enough to keep the summer folks talking about this year's Festival until it is time for them to start Maineward for the next one. Come the weekend, why not decorate so that on Monday the town will be in full festival dress?

St. George Closes Gap By Nipping Waldoboro 8-7

WALDOBORO—The St. George Torpedoes upset the Waldoboro Townies in an exciting game on Monday night 8-7 to go into a second place tie with Waldoboro one game behind league leading Damariscotta.

A homer in the sixth inning by Roger Smith proved to be the winning margin as Hilding Seastrom was on base at the time. Smith also came on as the third Torpedoe hurler to kill a Waldoboro rally in the seventh that came within one of tying the score. He was substantially aided by center fielder Buddy Mosher who twice save the game for the visitors; in the seventh by a running shoe string catch of a sinking liner with two on; and again in the eighth when he leaned over the barrier to take a home run away from Bobby Howe.

The game was a make-up of one previously rained out.
Score: St. George 200 042 00—8-10-4
Waldoboro 210 000 40—7-6-2
Mahoney, Harper (5), R. Smith (7) and Seastrom; Verge, Chase (5) and Hanna.

Travellers through the mountains of South America report seeing, in many areas, remains of towns, and scattered rural residences, in or near mountain tops, often on or above snow lines, where soil produces nothing, there is no game, water, fuel, roads or mines. Reason is unknown, unless the climate has changed radically.

We call a small knife a "pen knife" because they were once used to sharpen quill pens; we still speak of "pin money" as small change, as that was once hoarded to buy pins.

Eastern Linnox Club Tops Western All-Stars to Make State Tourney At Gardiner

WALDOBORO — The Eastern All-Star Linnox League team defeated the Western Linnox League All-Stars 13-0 in the elimination game here Tuesday night and will meet the Bangor team in a first round game of the state tourney at Gardiner on Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock.

The Western All-Stars were held to only three hits by the expert chucking of Wally Heathcote who also received excellent support from his mates. The Eastern All-Stars clinched the win in the second inning when they tallied seven runs on singles by Wentworth, Graffam, Hansen, Berry, and Pound, plus a walk and an error.

Wayne Hansen and Ken Creamer each had three hits for the winners.

ONE-HITTER WINS FOR CAMDEN OVER WALDOBORO IN LITTLE LEAGUE ALL-STAR CONTEST

WALDOBORO — The Camden Little League All-Stars blanked the Waldoboro All-Stars 8-0 Monday night behind the fine one hit pitching of Tommy MacFarland who gave up only a second inning single to Dick Ralph. The only other Waldoboro base runner reached on an error.

Camden clinched the verdict with six runs in the fourth inning. Jay Foster opened the rally with a homer; the bases were then filled by two walks and a hit batsman and the lead runner, Dick Porter, stole home; Frank Perry doubled for another run; and MacFarland completed the scoring with a three run homer.

In the next inning, Camden's Gene Philbrook socked a four bagger with one on to complete the scoring. MacFarland fanned only seven but received excellent support from his mates.

ST. GEORGE TAKES OVER LOOP SECOND SLOT WITH WIN OVER CLIPPERS AS TOWNIES LOSE

The St. George Torpedoes came on with two runs in the bottom of the ninth to edge the Thomaston Clippers 6-5 Tuesday night and take over sole possession of second place in the league from Waldoboro which lost to Damariscotta 6-1.

The Clippers apparently had the game wrapped up as they scored two in the eighth to go ahead. However, with two out in the ninth, two walks, a damaging error and a single by Buddy Mosher put the home team over.

The Clippers sank deeper in the league cellar by losing and are now three games off the pace. Bud Hodgkins paced the winners at bat with three hits and Don Ledbury had two for the Clippers. Lannie Oliver tossed a sharp two hitter at the Waldoboro Townies, the only hits being singles by Bobby Howe in the first inning and Dick Schofield in the second. The Redlegs went ahead to stay in the fourth when they scored two on a wild pitch, walk, and singles by Howard Spencer and Hal Anderson.

The Damariscotta team thus held their one game lead over the St. George team. Don Bowman, Anderson and Oliver all had two hits for the winners.

Wild Crashes Feature of Card At Unity

UNITY — Racing fans who attended last Sunday's races at Unity Raceway witnessed one of the wildest racing schedules ever seen at the local track. In one pile-up after another fans were twice hushed to silence as drivers were pulled unconscious from their wrecked cars. Harvey Landry rolled over in the first lap of the Bomber Feature Race and while unconscious Landry was held safe by his seat belt. John McKenney's car actually leaped over Landry's car. Both cars were demolished but both drivers escaped with only minor scratches. It was one of the most unusual accidents witnessed by veteran track officials.

Bangor's Wild Bill Carlton was knocked out in the Stock Car Feature when he and popular Mac Tillson came together in the third lap. Track Doctor William Gunderman of Clinton was several minutes bringing Carlton around and pronouncing him all right.

Bob Cote, speedy newcomer from Lewiston, was in the lead and half a lap from winning the Stock Car Feature when he snapped over end. He walked away unhurt. Dave Darveau of Augusta went on to win the Stock Car Feature after Cote's mishap. Harold Wilcox of Bangor finished a close second and Blackie Hilliard of Augusta was third.

DROWN-PROOF SCHOOL FOR NON-SWIMMERS, SWIMMERS TO START AT CAMDEN "Y"

CAMDEN — Drown-proofing schools for both swimmers and non-swimmers will be held in August at the new Camden YMCA on Chestnut Street. These are the same courses taught naval trainees during World War 2 and should be taken by everyone having anything to do with the water, from wading to water skiing.

For swimmers the course will start on August 8 and continue through the 12th; for non-swimmers the start will be Monday, Aug. 15, and will continue through Aug. 26. A $5 registration fee will be charged and the money will be used to purchase needed physical education equipment. Locker fees are $5 for non-swimmers during the two week period and $2.50 for swimmers during their one week course.

William Lunt, physical education director at the Camden Y will be the instructor. He learned the drown-proofing technique at Springfield College under Charles Sylvia who wrote the current YMCA life saving manual.

It is emphasized that, should the student be dissatisfied with the results of the course, his or her $5 registration fee will be cheerfully refunded.

Classes for women are scheduled for 8:30 to 9:30 in the morning, followed by the men's classes to 10:30.

Barry Lyons of Skowhegan won the Bomber Feature Race after leader Chet Kinney, also of Skowhegan, dropped out with a flat tire. Lomer Pelletier of Waterville was second and Albert Robinson of Fairfield Center was third. Racing continues each Sunday at 2:30 p. m. at Unity.

Story of Bubble Curtain In Sears Magazine

In the July edition of Sears East Wind, a monthly publication for the employees of Sears, Roebuck and Company in Eastern United States, is featured an article written by John Aziz of the Rockland store on a new technique of catching herring by the use of a curtain of air bubbles.

The article makes special mention of Captain Jack Dodge of Spruce Head, who implements the bubble method in the Rockland area. Keith A. Smith, director of the Boothbay Harbor Experimental Station of the United States Bureau of Commercial Fisheries, is credited with discovering the idea. It first dawned on him when he saw that fish in an aquarium would not swim through a stream of air bubbles rising to the surface of the tank.

He then experimented by encircling a school of herring with a curtain of bubbles and brought them ashore in Tenants Harbor.

The article goes on to tell how upwards of 1200 bushels of herring are brought in in a single catch by the use of a heavy plastic pipe which happens to be a product of Sears. A public demonstration of this method will be one of the features of the Seafoods Festival in Rockland Aug. 5-6-7.

Mrs. Florence Sherman was guest of honor at a party celebrating her 85th birthday Tuesday afternoon at the Rose Smith Nursing Home on Masonic Street, where she has lived for the last four years. Richard Todd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Todd, 32 Grace Street, holds the medal worn by C. Maxwell Ames, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell Ames of 17 Masonic Street. Max Ames, Jr., and Richard Todd were elected to the Order of the Arrow by the troop. This is an honorary camping society. Todd was also elected to the position of Junior Assistant Scoutmaster, and all members of the troop received a special 50th Jubilee patch while participating in the camporee.

The troop received an average of B plus for camp site inspection. The boys were accompanied to camp by their leader, Donald E. Parker, and former Scoutmaster Harold Whitehill camped with them for two nights as a special guest.

LOCAL SCOUTS IMPRESSED WITH PAGEANTRY OPENING JAMBOREE NEAR PIKES PEAK

Eight Scouts from Knox County are attending the 50th National Jamboree at Colorado Springs, Colo. Covering the event for The Courier is Scout Richard Sallinen of Rockland. His first report follows:

COLORADO SPRINGS — At 9 o'clock Friday morning an aerial bomb burst over General Headquarters area which signaled the official opening of the 50th National Jamboree.

As the bomb's fragments fell earthward, a beautiful new 50-star flag ran up the 70-foot flagstaff. The Central Indian Band of 125 pieces furnished music for the occasion.

The same day, Pikes Peak blew its top for the Jamboree pageant. The Troop from Pikes Peak Council was on the top of the 14,107 foot giant to set off the biggest fireworks the mountain has ever seen.

The grand opening of the Jamboree was in the arena with 56,000 boys attending. There was beautiful music from the Scout band, Indian dancing, horsemanship, a huge pageant to the founding of America, and a brilliant flash of fireworks.

Wes Klammann, national director of camping, led us in Scout songs and also got us acquainted with Matt Dillon, the TV star.

Flags flew from every state in the Union and from those free countries of the world whose Scouts are with us.

The Honorable Steve McNichols, governor of Colorado, welcomed us to his state.

A Pony Express rider came from Missouri with a greeting from President Eisenhower.

Very truly yours,
Richard Sallinen

Rockporter Is Named To Post At Playhouse

KENNEBUNKPORT — Robert C. Currier, producer of Maine's famous Kennebunkport Playhouse, has announced the appointment of Harry F. Melching, Jr., to the position of technical director at the Playhouse for the 1960 summer season.

Melching, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry F. Melching, Sr., Sea Street, Rockport, moved to the Rockport area from Maryland in 1951. He has been seen in this area in the movie version of "Peyton Place", in the Camden Hills Theater's 1958 production of "Teahouse of the August Moon," also touring the New England area in children's theatre.

Since then he has appeared on Broadway with "Te Theatre National Populaire", appearing with Girard Philippe, Mario Caesares and Jean Velar. Melching, in addition to making several Pilot Films, has done extensive work in the fields of stage management and technical direction.

This season, Melching will be working with such notables of the entertainment world as Imogene Coca, Hugh O'Brian, Tom Poston, Tallulah Bankhead, Henry Morgan, Jane Morgan and Faye Emerson.

In the fall, Melching plans to return to New York and resume his acting career.

WINS SCHOLARSHIP — Jon P. Pitman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Johnson Pitman of North Vassalboro and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Pitman of Appleton, has been awarded a scholarship to Colby College. He graduated from North Vassalboro Elementary School in 1956 and from Coburn Classical Institute in Waterville in June, as valedictorian of both classes.

While at Coburn, he was active in the band for four years, the newspapers for three years, sophomore debating and year book, three years, business manager of the year book, his senior year; the honor roll, all four years; and class vice president, his senior year. This last year he received the Line and Learn Silver Key presented by the National Association of Broadcasters, as an outstanding student in mathematics and science.

painting of the original Montpelier from the Women Descendants of the Honorable and Ancient Artillery Society; and Senator Margaret Chase Smith.

Senator Smith said she was particularly interested in the commemorative services for General Knox as she had served on many military committees. She urged Americans not to fail to honor their military in peace time as well as in war for their sacrifices and services rendered. That in these particularly different and uncertain times Americans must be united and strong and uphold the dignity of this great nation and accept with good grace whatever duties they may be called upon to undertake.

The guests adjourned to the Oval Room for refreshments served by the General Knox Chapter of the DAR.

If George Washington were to apply for military service today he would not be able to pass the basic physical exam—yet, he still made out o. k.

Attendance At Memorial Is Reported Good

THOMASTON — The increasing interest in Montpelier during this year culminated in the attendance on Monday at the all day exercises in Thomaston marking the birthday anniversary of General Henry Knox. At the morning services at his grave, 30 people were present against eight or nine last year. One hundred and eight went to the luncheon at the Federated Church, and at the Mansion, over 350 visitors were checked in during the day. Many new members to the Knox Memorial Association were cordially welcomed.

During the afternoon exercises, the audience was most appreciative of the beautiful voice of Miss Helen Rosengren and the Color Guard and Corps of the Camden By The Sea Junior Drum and Bugle Corps. Speeches were heard by Mrs. Harry Grover, State Regent of the DAR; Mrs. Ernest Bailey, who presented the are younger. Among these are articles made by machine as well as by hand. The date of 1830, he continued, serves as a convenient dividing line between the age of craftsmanship and the machine age. "This transition did not occur overnight", he emphasized. It had begun before 1800, and continued with the gradual industrialization of the old-time crafts.

In Europe, articles as recent as 1830 seem quite young. In contrast with classic temples or medieval cathedrals, a chair of 1700 is modern.

"No wonder Europeans smile indulgently", Wilson said, "when we speak of American antiques. Except for Indian relics and a few Spanish buildings in the Southwest, the oldest of them can boast only 300 years. Paradoxically, perhaps, the age of antiques is not really their most important attribute. It is not just because they are old that they are collected, but because they also have artistic merit and historical interest. These are the qualities, more than age, that gives them financial value."

Wilson warned that fond hopes of reaping a fortune from grandmother's old dinner set are dashed to nothing. "The real value of an antique," he said, "is just what it is worth to its owner and to a prospective purchaser if it is offered for sale. There can be no set prices for antiques."

"Today, dealers buy antiques, in general, that appeal to them or those in which they specialize", he said. "In most cases they pay the asking price, add their markup and thus establish a retail price. It is interesting to note that sometimes two similar items may have different prices. This is due to the fact that one dealer paid less for his purchase than the other. No other business operates on such a structure."

Wilson emphasized that all items on display at the Camden Antiques Show will be for sale with one exception, a hand-carved, life-size figure of a goat which was made in Germany more than a hundred years ago. The goat was once part of a carousel in Reading, Pa.

"There is a plenitude of wooden horses from those old carousels," Wilson said, "but the goat figures are a real rarity."

Wilson operates some 16 antique shows a year, traditionally uses the horned animal as a mascot at the entrance to all of his shows. One visitor was heard to remark: "There is Mr. Wilson's goat. He long ago decided at these shows that nobody could get his goat."

Miniatures at Montpelier Catch Eye Of Visitors To Gen. Knox Memorial

Miniature rooms, similar to some of those in Montpelier, are displayed in the ground-floor corridor of the Gen. Knox Memorial in Thomaston. Custodian A. E. Guertin spent 1,450 hours making each piece of furniture in the displays shown above. Every item is hand made, down to tiny knives and forks on the dining room table. The bed in the top photo is about eight inches high and the pictures in the drawing room are about the size of a fifty-cent piece. The scale is an inch to the foot. Photo by Gross Patient, a skill in miniature craftsmanship and devotion to a project are reflected in a special exhibit to be found on the ground floor of Montpelier in Thomaston.

A. E. Guertin, custodian of the memorial to General Henry Knox, spent 1,450 hours over three years creating four rooms of the mansion in miniature.

Making use of many different cast off articles, Guertin carved, filed, hammered, cast, soldered, painted, stained, pasted, and otherwise constructed four shadow box type displays.

He built tiny furniture such as a six inch tall high boy in which each drawer and the tiny brass hardware operate; a tilt top table two inches high which actually tilts; a chandelier so delicate it is hard to believe, made from odds and ends; plus tables, chairs, copper cookware, tiny silverware, and dozens of other articles.

Although not duplicating specific rooms in every detail, the display consists of a drawing room, dining room, bedroom and kitchen.

All the work was done by hand with no machine tools whatever involved. The scale is an inch to the foot which means the miniature of a foot long knife is pretty tiny.

Guertin spent eight hours or more filing down one piece of square brass stock into an inch high candlestick; two or three hours filing brass stock thin enough for drawer pulls.

He adapted tools to fit the job. Jewelers' files, small carving tools and even shoemaker's awls were used in the labor of love.

The bedroom's main features are the high boy and a canopy bed. However, there are a bed table with a tiny candlestick, folding card table, wallpaper, rug on the floor and even a tiny pitcher and bowl on the wash stand.

A complete silver table setting for four is among the highlights of the dining room. The knives, forks, plates, cups and saucers were hammered and shaped from an old silver plate. The chairs have seats made from old linen to simulate rush. This room, too, has a chandelier, but less ornate than the one in the drawing room. Guertin used the back of an old watch in fashioning a bull's-eye mirror.

Two wing back chairs, a sofa, tiny tables, a fireplace, pictures on the wall and the intricate chandelier are highlights of the drawing room.

The kitchen is dominated by a large fireplace very similar to the one just down the corridor from the exhibit. Guertin has duplicated in miniature a hutch and even the wooden sink. Hanging on the walls are copper pots and pans made to scale.

Many of the pieces of furniture are made from wood taken from an old chest while others are made of pine. Even modern day plastic finds a place in the display as two decanters, one-half inch tall complete with stoppers, were filed from solid pieces of clear plastic.

Brass nuts formed the bases for a pair of lamps in the drawing room. The chimneys were cut glass finials from old lamps.

Buertin is a former teacher who came to the Knox Mansion as custodian seven years ago. He has restored or repaired a number of articles in the mansion and has never used machine tools.

THE COURIER GETS AROUND—Lt. Edward Sleeper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland Sleeper of Rockland, ignores the performance of seven-months old daughter Sonja to keep posted on doings in his home town. Mrs. Olav Thorvaldsen of Glen Cove, visiting her daughter and son-in-law at their home near Westover Air Force Base in Massachusetts, snapped this picture of her granddaughter. It was not until the picture was developed that Mrs. Thorvaldsen realized her son-in-law was more interested in The Courier than his daughter. Mrs. Thorvaldsen recently returned after spending a week with the Sleepers.

SARDINE SANDWICH FOR 72 CONCOCTED BY MAINE SCOUTS AT JAMBOREE SKILL-O-RAMA

COLORADO SPRINGS, COLO.—A gigantic Maine sardine sandwich designed to provide a meal for 77 persons was a highlight of the National Boy Scout Jamboree Wednesday.

The colorful seafood spectacular was concocted by Troop 72 of the Maine Pine Tree Council as its project in the week long Skill-O-Rama which is a feature of the 60,000 boy encampment.

Troops from all sections of the country vie for honors as they perform feats of science, art, cookery and other activities.

If the enthusiastic applause accorded the Maine boys as they completed and served their masterpiece is any indication they should be among the top winners when the Skill-O-Rama awards are made later in the week.

The sandwich was assembled as a three-decker with a five foot loaf of bread made by a Portland baking firm and shipped by air to the site. The filling consisted of mustard butter on the bread, chopped lettuce, sliced green peppers, sliced tomatoes and raw onions and whole sardines. It was originated by Mrs. Agnes Gibbs, the Maine Sardine Council's home economist.

Selected as a team to prepare the sandwich were Burton Olmstead, Bruce Cassidy and David Rideout of Cape Elizabeth, Robert Tripp, John Chamberlain, David Cass and Phillip Woodbury of South Portland and Jay Smith of Ogunquit. Assistant Scoutmaster Lorin Woods of South Paris supervised the activity.

The sandwich was quickly devoured by 75 Scouts and visiting onlookers.

There are about 500 known varieties of fleas, only four or five of which prefer man to beast fowl—fortunately.

Former Glen Cove Woman And Husband Are Feted

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur A. Marks

PORTLAND, OREGON — A former Glen Cove woman and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur A. Marks, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary, July 10, and were honored at a reception attended by more than 100 persons.

Mrs. Marks, the former Maude Lane, came to Portland, Ore., from Glen Cove with her mother, brothers and sisters in October of 1909. The following July she married Marks, whose family were Oregon pioneers.

In 1947, Mr. and Mrs. Marks with their son Kenneth, his wife Marguerite and infant daughter Diane visited friends and relatives in Rockland and Glen Cove. In 1954, Mrs. Larry Ferland (Julia Marks) and her husband also came to Rockland for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Marks have two sons, Kenneth A. and Robert, and a daughter, Julia C., now Mrs. Larry Ferland, all now living in Portland. There are four grandchildren, Diane, Joan and Stanley Marks, and Carol Rae, now Mrs. Philip Mathis.

For many years Mr. Marks worked as a stevedore, until in World War II he entered the shipyards as a rigger. He missed death by a miracle when a massive roll of cable slipped from an overhead sling and struck him down, crushing his left shoulder and inflicting multiple fractures on his left arm and leg. A woefully short-handed hospital staff was very happy to furnish Mrs. Marks with a cot in her husband's room where she remained day and night during his months of hospitalization. Due to skillful surgery, plus his wife's devoted nursing he was able to return to the shipyards until the end of the war, and today he shows very little evidence of his ordeal.

After the war Mr. Marks managed several apartment houses in Portland and elsewhere in Oregon, finally taking charge of the 45 unit Granada Court apartments at 2323 North Pacific Street in Portland where the Marks now reside.

Out of town guests were Mr. Mark's sister, Hazel Marks, from Astoria, Oregon, and Mrs. Marks' brother, Phil Lane, from Los Angeles, a former Glen Cove man and RT&C employee.

Monhegan

Pearl Bogdanove has returned to the island after a brief stay at Knox Hospital.

Rosemarie and Peter Aldin of Boston, Mass., are guests for 10 days at the Richards cottage.

she will attend the annual meeting of the Sea Coast Mission Society.

Arthur Wallace and son Arthur of Somerville, Mass., were weekend guests of his sister, Julia Davis, and family. They are vacationing with Mrs. Wallace in Tenants Harbor with their uncle, Captain Ellsworth Wallace.

Henley and June Day, Jack Cabot and Paul Wallace went to Hinkley Friday to bring home. Stephen for his vacation. Paul will remain at the school after a month's vacation at home.

Mrs. Colleen Butterfield of Bath is spending a few weeks on the island.

Chris Nicholson and George Schloss have returned home from a trip to Block Island.

Rev. and Mrs. John Gammere went to Rockland last week for several days.

Mrs. Harriet Richards and daughter Louise of Columbus, Ohio, friends of Rev. Gertrude Anderson, have been vacationing at the Island Inn.

Dr. William Hekking is entertaining his son, Donald Hekking, and family of Cleveland, Ohio, who arrived Wednesday.

Leicester Bernstein
It is with regret and a deep sense of loss that we learn of the death in New York last week of Leicester Bernstein at the age of 78. Mr. Bernstein has been a long time familiar figure in the summer life of the island and was beloved by the summer colony and Monhegan residents alike. The warmth and friendliness of his personality and his sincere interest in people he met was felt by us all. He dearly loved the island and its people loved him.

His passing has taken another of the "old timers" so loved and respected through the years and we miss them. His love for the island was evidenced to people who visited him in his New York apartment by the many beautiful paintings of Monhegan and articles so reminiscent of the island. Whether in the boat or on the wharf watching the boats come and go there was always a cheery greeting and wave. He had watched the younger generation grow up and was keenly interested in their welfare. He had been ill the greater part of the past year and died July 15 at a New York hospital. Funeral services were held Monday, July 18, in New York.

To a courteous, kindly gentleman whom we will always remember with deep respect and affection, we say "Farewell".

"Miss Brooks" Is Coming To Lakewood Aug. 1

Eve Arden

LAKEWOOD—Eve Arden, popular star of TV and films, will make her initial stage appearance at the Lakewood Theatre, in the recent Broadway comedy hit, "Goodbye Charlie", which will open Monday, Aug. 1, and play through Saturday, Aug. 6.

"Sunrise At Campobello", the current attraction at the world famous summer theatre, plays through this Saturday night. Portraying Franklin D. Roosevelt, is Howard Keel, popular star of stage and screen.

Miss Arden, beloved for her famous radio and TV program, "Our Miss Brooks" is one of the leading comedienne of our times. Hollywood first revealed her comic talents in the film "Stage Door", which was followed by a successful stage appearance in "Let's Face It" with Danny Kaye. Later, Miss Arden was seen in such films as "Doughgirls", "Mildred Pierce", "Night and Day", and numerous others. Just recently, she completed her latest picture, "The Dark At The Top of the Stairs".

No estimate of Eve Arden could be complete without mention of "Our Miss Brooks", which has probably won her the greatest single recognition and popular public acclaim. The highest rated comedy show for many years,

"Our Miss Brooks" reached equal heights when the transition was made to television. In 1953, she was awarded the Emmy as TV's favorite comedienne.

Playing opposite Eve Arden in the George Axelrod comedy is her husband in private life, Brooks West. Featured also is Donna Pearson, and Frank Roberts. Irja Jensen, Charles C. Welch and William Conn, in a production that has been directed by Michael Egan.

Lakewood has performances nightly, with curtain at 8:15, and matinees on Wednesday and Saturday at 2:30.

Here's how to play "LUCKY 11"

- "Lucky 11" is played by matching the numbers on your card against the 28 indicated game numbers appearing in the weekly First National ad in this newspaper.
- Pencil an X lightly over those numbers on your card that match those game numbers appearing in the First National ad.
- If you can X-out five numbers in a row on your card, either down, across or diagonally, as indicated by the arrows, you have won a prize! The prize will be indicated by an arrow on the card.
- If you have a winner, fill out the required information on the back of the card and mail it to First National Stores, Box 37, Eastchester, N.Y. You'll receive your prize within 15 days. (Do not bring the card back to the store.)
- If you haven't a winner this week — erase the X's from your card and save it to play against the game numbers in First National's next weekly ad in this newspaper, and against each succeeding set of game numbers.
- Save this "Lucky 11" ad and every "Lucky 11" ad that appears in this newspaper — a previous ad may have winning numbers for a new card.
- Any one card and any one ad can be matched to claim a winner, but all game numbers must come from a separate ad or reprint. Numbers from more than one ad cannot be combined to make a winning card.
- Cards will be given to adults only. No purchase is required!
- Complete rules and instructions on every "Lucky 11" card.
- Employees of First National Stores and their immediate families are not eligible to play this game.
