Plans Revealed For Large New Bowling Alley

A proposed Rockland Bowl-O-Drome and supermarket are depicted in the above drawings by architect Lucien Geoffrion of New Hampshire. The contractor, William H. MacNeill of Littleton, N. H., hopes to complete the Bowl-O-Drome next April if he gets the go ahead from the City Council in September. The front section of the building at right contains a promenade with separate snack bar and lounge. The glassed-in area at the back is set aside for 24 bowling lanes which would be increased to 32 lanes in two years according to MacNeill's tentative plans. The contractor presently has an option to buy the property from Mrs. Charles Fales of 75 Maverick Street. The two lots known as 75 and 115 Maverick Street cover an area of 38 acres. The building on the left is the proposed supermarket which would be released to a national chain when completed.

Plans for a giant new bowling arena on Maverick Street in Rockland coupled with a probable proposed supermarket were revealed Monday night when a petition for a zone change was submitted to the Rockland City Council. The 24 alley air conditioned "Bowl-O-Drome" is the baby of William H. MacNeill, a Littleton, N. H., contractor, who has a similar project under way at Littleton.

Charles W. Donovan of the Sycamore Realty Co., real estate agent for MacNeill, was present at the monthly council meeting to seek a rezoning ordinance that would permit the building of the alleys as well as a supermarket on the Fales property on Maverick Street. Donovan said that if the official go ahead was given by the city the 140 by 170 foot steel structure building would be ready by next April.

A. Alan Grossman, attorney on MacNeill's behalf said that his client has an option to buy the parcel of property at 73 and 115 Maverick Street now owned by Mrs. Charles Fales. The land now covers some 38 acres and the house in which Mrs. Fales lives separates the two lots. The house would remain where it is during Mrs. Fales lifetime Grossman said.

A parking lot for 200 cars would face Maverick Street as drawn up in the architects plans. The building would have a glass front and have a spacious lounge and snack bar inside. Donovan said that a local manager would operate the premises upon completion of the structure. The cost of the project was not revealed but would possibly run in excess of $200,000.

The proposed supermarket which would be located at 75 Maverick Street would be released to a national chain. However, plans for it are not definite as yet and it will not likely be in operation until sometime later than the "Bowl-O-Drome".

The rezoning of the area from residential zone B to commercial zone C will be decided at a public hearing to be held on Sept. 12. This rezoning will be necessary before the project can be put into action.

In other business at the council meeting a proposal to change an ordinance to allow a taxicab company operating in the city to transfer the ownership of some of its cabs to drivers was turned down by a vote of four to one. A. Alan Grossman representing the taxicab company submitted a sample contract that was in fact a "limited partnership" between the company and its driver. The council decided against setting a precedent in adopting the plan following a public hearing.

The council also passed three proposed ordinance amendments to a public hearing on Sept. 12. Two of the amendments involved zone changes and the other the regulation of bus stops and taxi stands on city streets.

The first zone change would permit the construction of a Rockland branch of the First National Bank of Portland on the property bounded by School, Union and Limerock Streets. The other would permit the building of the "Bowl-O-Drome" and supermarket on Maverick Street. The council was unanimous in (Continued on Page Two) Bicknell, II, chairman of the Rockland City Council, from the officers and men of the naval destroyer USS Miller. The destroyer was a popular attraction to the crowds that lined the public landing over the weekend.

Pair Injured In Car Mishap In South Warren

SOUTH WARREN—Two people were injured when a car turned on its side after leaving Route 131 between Warren and Thomaston Wednesday morning at 7:45.

Mrs. Almira Wormell, 54, of Portland, the driver of the car, was following two unidentified cars when the first one slowed down to make a right hand turn. She lost control of her car when she attempted to brake and the car spun into a field adjoining the road.

Both Mrs. Wormell and her passenger, Christy Smith, 37, of Steuben received back injuries and were later examined by a local doctor. State Police, who investigated the accident, reported damages to the car were in excess of $250 to the front end and left side.

Small Car Comes Out On Short End Of Encounter With Heavy Trailer

A New York man, Phillip Broughton, 76, was hospitalized when his car was jammed under a trailer and dragged some 200 feet into the side road leading to the Dragon Cement Company in Thomaston, Tuesday afternoon at 2:30. State Trooper Arthur Wood said Broughton, who was returning to New York from his summer cottage in Cushing, was attempting to pass the Merrill Transport trailer truck when the accident occurred. Broughton was rushed to Knox County General Hospital where he was treated for severe cuts around his right eye. The driver of the truck was Earl C. Dow, 28, of Searsport. Broughton's car was estimated at a total loss of $650.

Bargains Galore Await Shoppers During $$ Days

Coastal Maine's largest summer shopping event, Rockland Dollar Days, offer more shopping savings than ever before, according to the Merchants Committee of the Rockland Chamber of Commerce. Some fortunate shopper will find himself or herself with a 10-foot molded plywood boat and outboard motor come Saturday night and hundreds will find themselves with long awaited values.

The three-day event is under the sponsorship of the Chamber of Commerce and is directed by Kennedy Crane, Jr. Some 50 awards will be presented and the names will be announced on special Dollar Days programs on WRKD at 7:15, Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings. Ted Lawrence will be in charge of the awards again this year.

The boat is on display in the Central Maine Power Company window. The grand prize will be announced Saturday night. Gift certificates may be picked up at Lloyd's Drug Store immediately after the program Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, and at the Chamber of Commerce office the next day or Monday.

Participating stores are displaying Dollar Day banners which mean values galore will be found inside. Each store also will have a container for Dollar Days slips which should be filled out in clear handwriting or printing.

Charles Kallach, executive secretary of the Rockland Chamber of Commerce, left, stands with Clayton Bitter beside a Johnson outboard motor similar to the one being offered as first prize for some lucky shopper during Rockland Dollar Days which start today and continue through Saturday. A total of 50 prizes will be given.

It was reported that Mr. Snowman had carried a tool box to the top of the ramp from a Socony boat and returned to the float to drag a hose up the ramp. He collapsed at the top of the ramp. He was born in Ashland, May 16, 1901, the son of William and George Torney Snowman.

EDITORIAL
FESTIVAL CREDITS

While the Festival is still fresh in our minds we must give credit to the crews of the Highway Department who set up, maintained and dismantled the booths and other equipment of the Festival in addition to keeping the grounds clean over the weekend. Also deserving mention are the Rockland police officers and the sheriff's deputies who took on the job of traffic control and carried it out successfully. The greatest accomplishment of all was the fending off of the stream of near panhandlers who have infested the streets at Festival time for years. Police Chief Maurice Benner took the long needed step and kept them outside the city limits. Their absence made the Festival a lot pleasanter.

IT SEEMS A LONG TIME AGO

It seems a long time ago that everyone was scurrying about in an effort to establish new parking spaces for use by local folks and visitors alike this summer. The possibilities were many and it seemed at the time that something would come of the meetings among merchants and between representatives of the merchants and the municipal officers, what has happened is not completely clear. It may be that either group, or both, dropped the all important ball. Perhaps the coming of fall with its crisp days and falling leaves will bring renewed action, and hopes, for added parking lots in the summer of 1961.

Tigers To Report For Grid Practice Wednesday Leading To 8-Game Football Slate

With Rockland High School Football practice only a week away—it is scheduled to start Aug. 17—Coach Bob Morrill has written the following open letter to all prospective candidates for the 1960 Tiger team:

"To Football Hopefuls:
Summer vacation is nearly over and it is time to think about school and FOOTBALL.

"Last year six varsity players graduated. Who will take their place? Those leaving were co-captains Avard Walker and Bob Huntley, John Koster, Dave Morey, Larry Terrio and Louie Alex.

"Practice will begin with the issuing of equipment, physicals, and payment of insurance on Wednesday, Aug. 17, at 5 o'clock at the high school. Those able to get a physical exam before that are urged to. A note should be brought from the doctor giving his approval to you playing.

"Football insurance is $4.50 this year and must be paid during the first week of practice."

Rockland will play the following schedule:

September
10 Madison
17 Skowhegan

Redleg Win Over League Leaders Tightens K Race Of Twilight Loop Crown

DAMARISCOTTA — The Damariscotta Redlegs rallied in the seventh and final inning to eke out a 6-5 decision over the league leading St. George Torpedoes Tuesday night and crept to within a game of the losers with two to play.

Trailing by four as they came to bat for the last time, the Redlegs exploded against the tiring Dave Lowell as Dave Gaw, Freddy Burnham, Hal Anderson and Forrest Hunt all singled and Don Bowman walked. Bowman scored the winning run, sliding across the plate safely to barely beat the throw on an infield grounder hit by Charlie Chapman. Lowell was replaced by Charlie Mahoney in the midst of the uprising, but too late.

The only homer of the game was a two run smash by Buddy Mosher in the fifth which sent the Torpedoes ahead for the first time. St. George outhit the winners 14-9 but were unable to bunch them effectively. In addition to scoring the winning run Bowman took the hill in the top of the seventh to squelch a rally by the visitors and became the winning pitcher. Ken Rice was the starter, followed by Charlie Chapman in the middle innings. Hiding, Seastrom had three hits for the losers while Hal Anderson, Freddy Burnham and Howard Spencer all had a brace for the Redlegs.

Score:
St. George 010 020 2-5-14-1
Damariscotta 100 000 5-6 -9-2

Active Owls Head Woman Dies Suddenly

Mrs. Effie Dyer

OWLS HEAD—Mrs. Effie Dyer, 86, of Ash Point died in Rockland late Monday afternoon after having been ill only a brief period of time. A most active person despite her advanced years she had attended the Maine Seafoods Festival parade Saturday morning.

Well known in the area, she was a charter member of Owls Head Grange and held a post on the executive committee. Also, she was a member of Lime-rock Valley Pomona Grange, the State Grange and National Grange. Other affiliations included membership in Forget-Me-Not Chapter, Order of Eastern Stars; the Owls Head Extension Group and Knox County General Hospital Auxiliary.

Mrs. Dyer was born in South Thomaston Dec. 10, 1873, the daughter of Edwin and Emma Heard Witham. The family home was in the section of South Thomaston which is now Ash Point. She was married to Linwood E. Dyer of Ash Point July 27, 1890. Of this union four children were born, Harold who died in infancy, Randall W. Dyer, Mrs. Marion E. Harvey, who died while her two sons were in infancy, and Mrs. Ellena E. Fredette.

Survivors include her daughter with whom she made her home; two grandsons, Francis L. Dyer of Owls Head and Maurice R. Harvey of Ash Point; seven great grandchildren and one great-great grandchild, Leslie Lufkin of Rockland; also, a sister, Mrs. Florence McConchie of Rockland; and two brothers, Nathan L. Witham and Elmer Witham of Rockland; and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the late residence in Ash Point with Rev. Charles R. Monteith of the Rockland Congregational Church officiating. Bearers will be her nephews, Edwin and Clayton Witham of Rockland, Irving McConchie of Rockland and Arnold McConchie of Owls Head.

Interment will be at the Ash Point Cemetery. "Aunt Effie" or "Gram", as she was affectionately known throughout the county, was a tireless community worker and a leader in many charitable projects over her long lifetime. In addition to her own family she brought up two grandsons, Maurice and Robert Harvey.

Interested in her home and the welfare of her relatives and neighbors, she carried out the daily tasks of each day with cheerfulness and wisdom. Her genial disposition and quick repartee will long be remembered by all who knew her.

During World Wars I and II, many thousands of pounds of gold coins were paid to African natives, for labor and for cattle—and none of it has ever returned into trade channels. The disposition and present use of this money is unknown.

Veterans Are Honored At Unity Raceway

UNITY — A capacity crowd joined with the drivers and management at Unity Raceway last Sunday in honoring the tracks oldest and one of its most popular drivers. Mac Tillson of Augusta was presented a large trophy on the occasion. Blackie Hilliard, another Augusta driver, shared somewhat in the spotlight as he received a special trophy honoring him for having entered more races than any other driver at the track.

The Stock Car Feature race was the outstanding race of the day with the win going to Ray Penfold of Gardiner. Second was taken at the last minute by Rudy Caron of Augusta, and third went to Keith Fuller of Liberty. Fuller with his powerful low slung Ford coupe was the hero of the day as he set the torrid pace for the whole field. A heating motor forced him back in the last two laps.

The Bomber Feature was won in a waltz tempo by Clint Fyler of Jefferson as motor troubles gradually folded the field of cars to only four in the last few laps. Dick King of Clinton was second and Woody Woodard of Bangor placed third.

Doing nothing may be lots of fun, but the results seldom are.

None Opposed To Smelting At Chickawaukie

A petition to open the tributaries and shores of Lake Chickawaukie to smelt fishermen next spring was given public hearing in the Rockland council chambers on Tuesday afternoon. All those present were in favor of the move which was urged by the Knox County Fish and Game Association.

George Bucknam, deputy of the State Inland Fisheries and Game Department, conducted the hearing and said he would report favorably to the advisory council of the department which is slated to meet Sept. 21. He felt that present indications were that smelt fishing would be allowed during the spring run of the small fish. Smelt run upstream in abundance to lay their eggs as soon as the ice goes out in the spring. They are a salmon-like fish and are expected to be five or six inches long next spring. They are usually caught at night with small mesh nets. Fishermen are limited to a catch of four quarts a night.

Bucknam said that last year's run was "fabulous" and that there are abundant fish in the lake to warrant giving the netting the benefit of smelt netting. Robert Foye, regional biologist for the fisheries department, and Walter Bisset, district game warden, were both present at the hearing and urged acceptance of the petition by the advisory council.

The Red Sea port of Massina, Eritrea, is regarded as having the world's hottest climate—a yearly average of 86°.

The Grand Banks, off Newfoundland, are classed as the foggiest areas of the world.

The New York City police have more horses than the Canadian Mounties do.

Plans Revealed

authorizing city manager Charles Haynes to accept a $7000 loan from the Housing and Home Finance agency to complete a preliminary survey of sewer needs in Rockland. Haynes said the engineering firm of Fay, Spofford and Thorndike of Boston will most likely do the survey as soon as negotiations with the finance agency are complete.

The council also ordered the manager to borrow $4000 for one year to pay the final installment on the Michigan tractor-loader purchased by the city.

Guest boats of all sizes and types continue to use the new float at the Public Landing and the new red and yellow guest moorings. The latest and largest boat being the 42-foot motor yacht Topsal out of Boston. During the Festival all of the moorings were in use, and many of the visiting boats remained overnight.

The new side float for skiffs and dinghies is very much appreciated by boat owners using the main float, and many have stopped in the Chamber office to express their appreciation of the greatly improved boating facilities here.

Desert Song To Open Monday At Brunswick

BRUNSWICK—Ever since Sigmund Romberg's "The Desert Song" thundered across the theatre stages of the world, it has been a perennial favorite. Years will roll away and memories will crowd in, as The Brunswick Summer Playhouse presents this robust survivor from one of the most sensational years of the 20's.

The setting of "The Desert Song", a mountainous section of North Morocco that lies along the Mediterranean Sea, and the story of spies and adventurers, provide the suspense and glamor to this exciting and tuneful operetta. "The Desert Song" possesses audience-appeal combination of melodic love songs and swash-buckling, full-throated male singing ensembles.

Making their debut to Brunswick audiences will be Lila Page and Charles Barlow. Miss Page's credits include appearances on radio and nationwide television, a tour of the United States and Europe with the Horace Heidt Show, and as the leading soprano with the Bonn Civic Opera Company in Germany. Mr. Barlow's extensive repertoire includes musical comedy, pop, continental, French, German and Italian operas and operettas.

"The Desert Song" will be playing at the Brunswick Summer Playhouse on beautiful Bowdoin Campus, nightly, Monday through Saturday, Aug. 15 through 20 at 8:30, with matinees, Wednesday and Saturday at 2:30. Sigmund Romberg "put out sugar of a very good brand" and "The Desert Song" is destined to be another hit for the Brunswick Summer Playhouse.

Former Rockland Pastor, National Guard Chaplain, Retires In California

Rev. Corwin H. Olds, D.D., pastor of the Rockland Congregational Church for several years prior to World War 2, has announced his retirement from the pastorate of the Congregational Church of Campbell, Calif.

Prior to retiring from the ministry, he served the California parish 12 years during which time a new church structure was obtained and the enrollment of the parish tripled. He left Rockland as World War 2 approached in his role as chaplain of the 152nd Field Artillery, Maine National Guard and saw service into 1946. He advanced to the rank of colonel in the Army Chaplain Corps and became chief of chaplains for the mid-Pacific area with headquarters at Fort Shafter near Honolulu. He later was commissioned a brigadier general in the Chaplain Corps, the rank which he held upon retirement from active military service.

Following the war, he was assistant to the president of the Pacific School of Religion for some time before taking up duties as pastor at Campbell.

Prior to coming to Rockland in the mid-thirties, he was an executive of Freese's store in Bangor and studied for the ministry at Bangor Theological Seminary. In addition to his store duties and studies, he served small parishes near Bangor until taking the full time pastorate at Rockland.

The family will make their home in Campbell where Mrs. Olds is city treasurer.

The daughter, Mrs. Jessie Barker, lives in Campbell. Their two sons, Lt. Cmdr. C. A. Olds USN and Capt. James H. Olds, USMC, are stationed in Okinawa where Dr. Olds visited them recently.

Co-op Fences
Make Friendly
Neighbors

Home owners can build neighborhood good will by co-operative planning of fence designs. Harmonious fence styles can be worked out to set the tone of the neighborhood and to meet the requirements of each home owner.

The main thing, says Portland landscape architect Chandler Fairbank, who has had outstanding success in designing community landscaping projects, is to avoid clashes in the size or texture of wood fencing.

The variety of wood fences is endless, Fairbank points out. There is a fence for every need, whether it is for containment, for decoration, for boundary identification, for privacy, or for visual or noise shields.

A good fence, Fairbank advises, can bring out the best features of a home, like the frame does for a picture. Aesthetic qualities are important in a fence. Fences may be formal, informal, rustic elaborate, costly or inexpensive.

The City was required to spend 78 hours during the month in preparation for the Seafoods Festival.

The full report is as follows:

CITY'S FIRE PROTECTION SET UP UNDER INSPECTION OF NEW ENGLAND RATING ASSOCIATION

A full scale inspection of fire protection is being carried out in Rockland, this week, by an engineer from the New England Fire Insurance Rating Association. City Manager Charles Haynes reported that the inspection is being carried out as a result of a request he made last April.

Haynes said, it is hoped that Rockland may move into a higher fire insurance bracket thereby reducing insurance rates for its residents. The City is now under a class C rating and has been since 1950. Haynes says he doubts if the rate will be improved by this inspection due to the location of the present fire station. It is on a narrow one way street which lessens its effectiveness considerably, he stated.

The manager said the City may find it feasible to build a new station at some future time at a cost which would be about the same as the saving residents would make on insurance rates. Figures for such a project are not available now, Haynes said.

To me, the charm of outdoor Maine would not be the perpetual gleaming diadem that it is were it not for one of its timest jewels—the black capped chickadee. And I am sure no one who is familiar with his "cheery" greeting at every corner of Maine's vast countryside will disagree with me.

Nor does he peek at you furtively through your shrubbery or the branches of your outdoor haunts to "spring" his husky salute. Usually he comes quite close, "belts out" his greeting jubilantly and then regards your reaction from a precarious perch above hanging upside down scarcely out of arms reach.

Those moments of long outdoor jaunts when interest lags and muscles tire as we tramp the tangled banks of trout streams, "swat" mosquitos in the oppressive humidity of sheltered berry patches or beat the numbness from our freezing hands to the cadence of our snowshoe stride across a drifted swamp, are merely temporary ills to be shrugged off with a faltering smile when once his boyant song is heard. And no matter where he finds you, his love of human sociality will inspire the best that's in him and you "are in for it"—that familiar, almost squeaky "chick-a-dee-dee-dee" that has cheered lonely and weary souls and brought smiles and a prompt reply from the lips of hardened trappers, lumberjacks and wilderness folks since Mother Nature first endowed this scant handful of smoke colored fluff with an indomitable spirit of good-will, placed a black cap on its tiny round head and bade it spread cheer wherever it goes.

And lest you think the spreading of good cheer is his only achievement, listen while I tell you what I saw a happy group of chickadees doing just last week.

This year rather more than the usual number of tent caterpillar nests have infested large areas of wild and farm fruit trees all over Knox County.

It so happened that one such nest (quite out of reach to burn) came on an apple tree near my camp and gave me the "shivers" thinking of the day when the crawling "wooly worms" would be dropping from their gossamer nest down the back of my neck when I least expected it.

Musing on the problem one fine morning last week, I suddenly heard the enthusiastic din of several chickadees bouncing from limb to limb along the bank

I'd leave a New England boiled dinner to the cats anytime to watch the gymnastics of a bunch of feeding chickadees—so watch I did.

Without delay (and indicating long experience at the job) they assailed the nest.

In several minutes they extracted at least a dozen baby caterpillars each from the lower portions of the nest—beat them into "bite-size" portions on a nearby limb and downed them heartily.

The payoff in gymnastics came when an occasional caterpillar would wiggle free and drop towards the ground, only to be retrieved by a nimble chickadee before it landed.

"Marsh Mary"

Presented herewith are photos of the "Marsh Mary"—a delightfully pleasing little bush-like plant which grows profusely on the South Thomaston Marsh.

Its tiny blossoms are pale blue. The bush, a branching, clumpy growth six to ten inches tall, bears its foliage at the base of the main stalk. The leaves are

Staff Changes At Academy Are Announced

CASINE — Lt. (j.g.) Samuel Smith and Chief Gunners Mate Charles W. Cooper have assumed their duties as instructors in the Department of Naval Science at the Maine Maritime Academy. Lt. Smith has replaced Lt. (j.g.) Patrick Logan, who is leaving the Navy for advanced study in Medical School at the University of Indiana. Chief Cooper has relieved Chief Gunners Mate Chester Hovemale, who has retired from the Navy after 20 years of active service.

A native of East Millinocket, Lt. Smith is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson E. Smith. He is a graduate of the Garritt Schenck High School in East Millinocket, and was graduated from the Maine Maritime Academy in 1958.

While in the Navy, Lt. Smith has served as assistant engineering officer aboard the USS San Marcos (LSD-25) for two tours of duty in the Mediterranean, and one cruise in the Great Lakes.

Prior to reporting for duty at the Maine Maritime Academy, Lt. Smith attended Instructors School at the naval station in Norfolk, Va.

Lt. Smith, married to the former Margaret Ellis, of Millinocket, and two children, Mark and Catherine, are residing on Battle Avenue, in Castine.

Chief Cooper, the son of Mrs. Blanche Cooper, is a native of Oakland, Md. He attended Oakland High School and upon graduation went directly into the Navy.

During World War II and the Korean War, Chief Cooper served two years in the European Theatre, and four years in the Pacific Theatre. From 1950 through 1952 he served a three year tour of duty in the Atlantic.

Chief Cooper's most recent assignment has been a four year tour in the Pacific.

He has attended Gunners Mate School in 1951 and 1956, and has instructed at the Recruit Training Command in Bainbridge, Md., from 1952 to 1956.

Chief Cooper is married to the former Blanche Tracy. They have three children, David, Jeffery and Janet. The Coopers reside on Pleasant Street, in Castine.

An estimated total of 36.4 cubic miles of matter was discharged during one volcanic eruption in the East Indies in 1815.

Thomaston Scrapbook Makes History Live

By F. L. S. Morse

Old dam at Creek Hill, Thomaston, now long gone, is shown in a view taken on the lower side of the dam.

The Creek Siftings

A copy of a periodical by this name, dated April 2, 1892, Vol. 1, Number 2 is before me. This paper was published at Mill River every Saturday morning by Harry A. Starrett. Harry was the youngest son of David J. and Ann Harrington Starrett.

The paper was a single sheet some eight by 12 inches and was doubled so as to present four printed pages, six inches wide and eight inches high. There were five ads. One solicited job printing for bill heads, cards and envelopes by the publisher. There was one of W. E. Vinal's new dry goods store. One announced that M. D. Watts did horse shoeing and jobbing. George E. Tuttle, harness and collar maker, had an ad while another told us that Starrett Brothers had a fresh lot of boneless fish. I'll wager that the fish was salt instead of fish.

Omitting the poetry and miscellany we present the news of the week ending April 2, 1892.

Creek News

"A sure sign that spring has come—the boys playing marbles and the girls rolling hoops.

"One night last week as Mrs. Eugene Fales and daughter were returning from the Corner, they saw some object on the sidewalk near Mike Cullen's. Upon nearing it, they perceived it to be a young man laying across the sidewalk. It is supposed that he was tired and took the sidewalk for a feather bed." (Please note that it was a man not a hen).

"Mr. James Roberts, who has been visiting his daughter Mrs. E. P. Starrett has returned home to Portsmouth, N. H.

"Send us ten cents in silver and we will send the Siftings for ten weeks.

"Vinal Allen is hauling rock for Burgess, O'Brien and Company.

You would make a better hitching post, Johnnie, than you would a plank for a sidewalk.

"Capt. Brown arrived home Wednesday, March 23.

"John Stetson spent last week in Camden.

"On account of the ice going out of the Creek, the men have stopped fishing with hook and line.

"George Lovejoy has moved into the Hiram Wight house, lately purchased by C. H. Lovejoy.

"W. R. Feyler has brought the stock and leased the building where J. W. Peabody had a blacksmith shop.

"The Sunday School on the Hill has sent away for books, to the amount of $25. Give the school your support." (This school was held in the old church on the Hill).

"W. F. Gay contemplates cutting down the large willow tree at the back of his house.

"Will Burkett has just purchased one of the latest style dog carts.

"Mr. Sanford Parker will move to Westbrook, Mass., next Tuesday. Mr. Wilson will occupy his house.

"Patrick Woodcock has moved into his new home on the New Road. We congratulate him.

"Phil Parks has taken down his barn and is going to rebuild it.

"The Creek is all right now, it has the frame of an imported mule.

"The Ginger Club has not been heard from this week.

"We thank the Press for the very favorable notices they were pleased to give the 'Siftings' last week.

"The Billie B. is being painted and got ready for use. The C. B. S. E. B. is receiving extensive repairs and Gay and Stackpole are repairing their boat.

"Mrs. Alwilda Wotton has returned home from Friendship where she has been visiting friends.

"Lincoln Butler has returned home to Gloucester, Mass.

"Herbert Thomas was confined to his home last week with rheumatism.

"Last week while one of our Corner young men was fishing near Mr. Allen's lime kiln, he accidentally dropped his oil stove, which he had for keeping his tent warm, into the river. After a short time he managed to get it out, but in its fall it was broken so he had to go to the Corner to get it mended. While he was gone some one turned his tent around so that the door was in front of the hole. When he came back with his stove he set it down, and away it went through the hole again, so he thought it was time to take a drink, so he took out his bottle and it was empty, so he had to go and get it filled again. When he came back he hung the bottle up in his tent but he happened to hit it with his head and down it dropped into the hole. We understand that a few minutes later the bottle floated up into the hole of another tent. So we leave this young man until another day when we hope to see him in better luck.

"We leave the doings of our town meeting for our little brother, The Thomaston Herald.

"They tried to defeat our road commissioner but he got there just the same.

"Wm. E. Vinal with his splendid stock of Dry Goods is making it an object for the citizens of Knox Co. to visit his store and satisfy themselves that it is the place to buy goods in his line.

"D. J. Starrett has been at Pleasant Point papering this week.

"When you begin to clean house don't forget the Universal Clothes Cleaner. It removes grease, paint and oil spots when everything else fails. It makes washing easy and clothes look white. For sale by T. B. Brown and Starrett Brothers.

"All out of town subscribers must pay postage as our subscription is so low we can't pay it."

The photograph was taken from below the dam some time in the 1890's. Several persons are seen on the bridge but cannot be identified.

Both picture and newspaper are used through the courtesy of our good friend Albert Lovejoy of Knox Street, former United States Army soldier and for many years driver for American Express from the Rockland office.

NUMBERS TO PLAY

0 4 8 10 16 20 22
24 28 30 36 44 46 48
50 56 60 64 68 70 74
76 84 86 88 90 96 98

Here's how to play "LUCKY 11"

- "Lucky 11" is played by matching the numbers on your card against the 28 indicated game numbers appearing in the weekly First National ads in this newspaper.
- Pencil an X lightly over those numbers on your card that match those game numbers appearing in the First National ad.
- If you can X-out five numbers in a row on your card, either down, across or diagonally, as indicated by the arrows, you have won a prize! The prize will be indicated by an arrow on the card.
- If you have a winner, fill out the required information on the back of the card and mail it to First National Stores, Box 37, Eastchester, N.Y. You'll receive your prize within 15 days. (Do not bring the card back to the store.)
- If you haven't a winner this week—erase the X's from your card and save it to play against the game numbers in First National's next weekly ad in this newspaper, and against each succeeding set of game numbers.
- Save this "Lucky 11" ad and every "Lucky 11" ad that appears in this newspaper—a previous ad may have winning numbers for a new card.
- Any one card and any one ad can be matched to claim a winner, but all game numbers must come from a separate ad or reprint. Numbers from more than one ad cannot be combined to make a winning card.
- Cards will be given to adults only. No purchase is required!
- Complete rules and instructions on every "Lucky 11" card.
- Employees of First National Stores and their immediate families are not eligible to play this game.

VA Can Pay For Ambulance If Authorized

TOGUS—The Veterans Administration can pay for ambulance service or other transportation of patients to its hospitals only when prior authorization has been given, Dr. Joseph S. Weltman, manager, VA Center, Togus, said today.

In medical emergencies, the private physician who telephones a VA hospital to request emergency admission of a veteran may secure the travel authorization from the hospital by telephone at the same time.

The physician requesting the emergency admission should tell the hospital whether it is for an illness or injury that has been rated service-connected, and if it is not, whether the veteran can afford to pay for travel to the hospital.

Veterans admitted to VA hospitals for treatment of non-service-connected conditions are entitled to necessary travel to and from the hospital at Government expense, provided prior travel authorization is obtained from the hospital.

Veterans admitted to VA hospitals for treatment of non-service-connected conditions are entitled to this travel at Government expense only if they affirm under oath that they cannot afford to pay the cost of the travel and if prior travel authorization from the hospital has been obtained.

Academy Award Winner Coming To Lakewood

Joan Fontaine

LAKEWOOD—Academy Award winning film star, Joan Fontaine, will make her Lakewood Theater debut, when she appears in "Susan and God", Monday, Aug. 15 through Saturday, Aug. 20, at the nation's oldest summer theater.

The current attraction at Lakewood finds comic Henry Morgan, who will conclude his week long run, Saturday, in "Accent On Youth", a popular family comedy.

Miss Fontaine, who will play Susan in Rachel Crothers' popular play "Susan and God", is one of the screen's most glamorous international stars, who won the industry's highest award, the Oscar, in "Suspicion".

In addition to winning the award for "Suspicion", Miss Fontaine was nominated for an Oscar on three occasions. "Rebecca" and "The Constant Nymph" were the films that won her other great critical acclaim. Filmgoers also applauded Miss Fontaine in "Letter From An Unknown Woman", "Jane Eyre", "A Certain Smile", "Until They Sail" and many other pictures. It was only a few seasons back, however, that Miss Fontaine made her Broadway debut, in the starring role of "Tea and Sympathy".

Miss Fontaine will be adorned in glamorous attire, and her wardrobe for the play includes a suit by Chanel, an evening gown by Jacques Griffe, a negligee by Bergdorf Goodman, a two piece suit by Lavin Costello, pajamas by Emilio Pucci and a wool dress by Anny Blatt of Paris.

Miss Fontaine's leading man is Lauren Gilbert, who can currently be seen in the film "Susan and God". Others in the show include William Traylor, Gil Tilbury, Dorothy Laming, John Laming, John Milligan, Lily Lodge, Arthur Marlowe and Helena DeCrespo.

School Bulge Puts Pressure On Town Budgets

The bulge in school population will hit Maine high schools this fall and as a direct result town and city budgets can be expected to bulge, too.

Bigger high school enrollments will hit Maine communities in the pocket book because high schools cost more to run than elementary schools. In fact, they cost a lot more to run. In Maine the average expenditure per elementary student is $195.65; per secondary student the expenditure is $347.98.

The certain increase in numbers of high school age children is one of the factors that has caused experts to predict that school costs will double in the next decade.

The situation is reflected in a number of communities where new high school buildings are already planned or under discussion. Plans for a new high school in cities like Rockland, Gardiner, Auburn, and Augusta is the direct consequence of overcrowding in the maternity wards 14 years ago.

Population records show that this fall the first wave of the "bulge" will be flooding into freshman classes all over Maine. In the years before 1946 Maine's annual birthrate remained relatively steady. Then in 1946 it jumped 25 percent from the year before to 20.627. The upward climb has continued and in 1957 the stork flew in 23.908. After this the rate drops to 21.000 and 22.000 to climb again in 1958 to 23.155.

The "bulge" has already been reflected in new elementary buildings all over the state. Now, as inexorably as the accumulation of candles on a birthday cake, the babies of 1946 are moving into high school.

When the population growth is plotted on a graph it becomes clear that today there are 15,000 more high school age youngsters in Maine than there were six years ago. By 1972 we can expect to have 22,600 more high schoolers than we have today.

In 1960 we stand only part way up the slope that arches across the graph paper.

The earliest recorded execution of a white person in U. S. was that of John Billington, of Plymouth, Mass., on Sept. 30, 1630, for murder.

Vacation Trips Can Be Easy History Lessons

Parents will use family outings to give their children a vacation-time boost toward better work in history if they follow a suggestion made by Maine social studies teachers.

A family picnic or drive may profitably be directed toward one of Maine's many historic houses, forts, or museums, according to the latest issue of the Social Studies Letter, published periodically by the Maine Teachers Association. Children find their history studies have more meaning when they have seen the places where history has happened and viewed the furniture and implements used in other days.

The Social Studies Letter, edited by Perham Amsden, Bangor High School, is distributed to all Maine social studies teachers. It suggests that teachers can promote summer learning by "advertising" nearby historic places to their students.

"So many parents wish they had some place to go that would be 'different'. Maybe we could give them valuable help by putting a list into the hands of Johnny and Mary which would indicate places of interest for them to see."

Amsden noted, "it is impossible for me to suggest all the places that are available, but a few possibilities come to mind and many more can be added according to your own location:

During the summer, our state capitol is open with guides available. That probably should be a "must" on everyone's list. Perhaps when we mention the architecture of Charles Bulfinch, they will have some idea of what he did by an examination of our capitol building. Augusta also has its Blaine Mansion and Fort Western as attractions. In Brunswick a stop at the Harriet Beecher Stowe House would be of interest, to see its relatively unchanged interior. Caribou offers its Nylander Museum of historical matter and a rock collection.

Castine is a beautiful spot in the summer, and has many fine old sea captain's homes, and offers Ft. George and the Blake House. The Black Mansion at Ellsworth and the Baxter Museum at Gorham are well worth noting, too. Kennebunk and Kennebunkport would merit several trips. An historical museum is located on Kennebunk's main street: the Lafayette Elm, the Weddinsack House and the Storer House are among Kennebunk's attractions. At the port, many sea captain's homes and the Booth Tarkington House are

Indonesian Rail Officials To Visit Maine

PORTLAND—Three officials of the Vietnam Railway System will arrive Monday for a two-week study tour of the Maine Central Railroad.

Guests of the Maine Central for a close look at American railroad operations will be Nguyen Q. Dat, Nguyen C. Khoan and Phan Truong, residents of Saigon, Vietnam. All three are veteran employees of the government-owned Vietnam Railway System. Dat is chief of operations and traffic; Khoan is chief technical officer; and Truong is chief inspector of work shops.

Sponsored by the International Co-operation Administration, the two-week stay of the Vietnamese railroad officials is designed to acquaint them with the latest techniques and procedures of diesel railroad operations. What they learn in Maine will soon be applied in the conversion of the Vietnam Railway System from steam to diesel power.

General Manager Roy E. Baker of the Maine Central has assigned four operating department officials to act as instructors for the Vietnamese guests. They are R. F. Dole, mechanical engineer; J. D. Rourke, superintendent of car maintenance; H. G. Hook, superintendent of locomotive maintenance; and G. P. Silva, superintendent of the Maine Central's Waterville Shops.

A tentative schedule calls for the guests to spend about half their visit at the Waterville Shops, and the remainder at key points throughout the Maine Central System.

In the Kittery-Portsmouth area one can find a museum of Spanish-American War trophies, the Pepperell House, Fort McClary, and the Congregational Church—the oldest church in Maine. Just a few miles from there, a visit to the old Goal in York Village would interest most youngsters. Winslow has its Fort Halifax. Prospect has its Fort Knox with good picnic facilities. Pemaquid has a replica of Fort William Henry. The Knox Mansion in Thomaston is open for a fee during the summer. Machias offers the Burnham tavern. Searsport has its Penobscot Marine Museum. Waterville its Redington Museum, and the Wiscasset area is filled with beautiful old homes. A trip to Sabbathday Lake Village, near Poland Spring, will also show an interesting religious experiment in Maine history—the Shaker settlement.

CARS LINE UP FOR FAIR—Thirty years ago, Union Fair was no less popular than today and this old postcard proves the point. Found among a group of family photos by Mrs. Irene J. Mink of Appleton, the picture shows a long line of Model T's headed for the fairgrounds. In the center can be seen the bridge across the Georges River. In the passing year, brush and trees have grown up to change the appearance of the landscape and buildings have been erected. Mrs. Mink commented: "How the dust did fly when those old Model T's got underway. What an exciting event the fair was to us then."

The Mississippi River moves some 400 million cubic yards of mud into the Gulf each year—and each cubic yard weighs some 3,000 pounds.

Advice On Marriage: Man's creator seems to have given the best reason for marriage in Genesis 2:18—"It is not good for man to be alone."

More Than Fair Share: Total U. S. population rose 80% in the years between 1910 and 1950, but 11 western states showed a 230% increase.

U. S. Premiere At Boothbay Playhouse

BOOTHBAY—Now through Saturday the Boothbay Playhouse will present the American premiere of the Emlyn Williams play "Trespass," with special music by Richard Addinsell.

Author of "Night Must Fall" and "The Corn Is Green" as well as a noted actor of stage and screen, Williams wrote "Trespass" for the famous French actress Francoise Rosay, who starred in the London production. Richard Addinsell wrote the well-known "Warsaw Concerto" and frequently composes for the stage and films. The Playhouse secured permission to present the American Premiere of "Trespass" after three months of negotiations with Emlyn Williams.

A ghost story in six scenes set at a small holiday resort on the Welsh coast and in an ancient castle, "Trespass" will include in its cast Lisa Roland in the role played originally by Francoise Rosay, with Gloria Stefan, William Damon, John G. Owens, Margaret Murray, Jerry Todd, Ann Boulton, Don Colles, and Margery Apley. The comedy is directed by Franklin not concerns the recently widowed wife of a famous orchestra leader and her attempt to communicate beyond the barrier of death.

Sascha Maurer will exhibit in the Lounge recent watercolors painted in the Virgin Islands, the exhibition extending through Saturday, Aug. 20.

The current play at the Boothbay Playhouse is Joe Masteroff's new comedy "The Warm Peninsula" in one of its first summer theatre presentations. A hit of the most recent Broadway season starring Julie Harris and June Havoc, "The Warm Peninsula" toured the U.S. for 17 weeks before its New York success. Gloria Stefan plays the leading role of an inexperienced working girl from Milwaukee who inherits some insurance money from her mother and goes to Miami Beach for a vacation. There she hopes that "Something will happen" to bring her love and life. The people she meets and what she discovers are revealed with the humor, warmth and understanding expected in a hit of the caliber of "The Warm Peninsula." The professional resident cast includes Gloria Stefan, Lisa Roland, Margaret Murray, John C. Owens, Don Colles, Jerry Todd, and Claggett Read. The comedy is directed by Franklin

CHECK YOUR CAR - CHECK ACCIDENTS!

"We have been considerably impressed and depressed by the degree to which the home determines what goes on in the school. It is nonsense to say the school has taken over the function of the home. All one needs to do is to visit a low-income district of a large city then a high-income suburban district to see the entirely separate problems with which the home confronts the school." Dr. James B. Conant speaking to high school principals on his survey of American junior and senior high schools.
