

Six Divorces Are Granted By Justice Dufresne

Six divorces were granted by Judge Armand Dufresne of Auburn at hearings in Superior Court Thursday. All six divorces were granted on the grounds of cruel and abusive treatment.

They are as follows: Margaret F. McCormick from James A. McCormick, both of Camden, married at Camden, July 2, 1955. Custody of Maurie A., minor child granted to the mother.

Marie Eveline Mopps Camden from Herbert H. Mopps of Massena, N. Y., married at Massena, April 18, 1953.

Dorothy M. Urquhart from Douglas M. Urquhart, both of Camden, married at Camden, Oct. 16, 1959.

Virginia M. Sturdee from Charles R. Sturdee, both of Camden, married at South Portland, Aug. 4, 1948. Custody of Gerald Scott granted to mother.

Mary D. Shaw of St. George from George R. Shaw of Rockland, married at Rockland, June 22, 1957. Custody of Bryan R. and Kathleen E. granted to the mother.

Janette L. Kearly of Thomaston from Robert F. Kearly of Blaine, married at Rockland, May 25, 1956. Custody of Aimee Elizabeth granted to the mother.

Basil The Seal Falls Victim To Menace Of The Deep

VICTIM AND VILLIAN — Basil, the five month old seal which delighted thousands with his tricks during the Seafoods Festival with his owner Harry Goodridge of Rockport, met with a sudden end Wednesday. Goodridge was cruising about three miles off shore near Mark Island when he noticed his two foot seal flip overboard. Within a minute the seal was devoured by an 11 foot man-eating white shark. Goodridge then harpooned the shark and after a struggle that last for an hour and a half brought the dead shark aboard. Basil was reared on a bottle after Goodridge captured him at the age of two months. His owner taught him a series of tricks which delighted spectators at the Seafoods Festival and in his home grounds at Rockport. Goodridge said later that he hoped to capture another baby seal next spring in the same area where Basil met his fate. The picture at left was taken at the Seafoods Festival showing Goodridge holding Basil at the Blue Fins skin divers exhibit. At right is the villain.

Family Reunion Also Farewell Party In Camden

CAMDEN — The Morey-Cook family reunion was held last Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene St. Clair, Harrison Avenue, in Camden. A bon voyage party was held at the same time, honoring Seaman First Class William Doucette, home on a 30 day furlough from Norfolk, Va. He left this week for a three-year tour of duty in Stuttgart, Germany. Mrs. Doucette and daughters Yvonne and Brenda will join him in the fall.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Everett Libby and daughter Kay of Manchester, N. H., Mr. and Mrs. LeForest Doucette of Bangor, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Small, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Small and children Gary, Deborah and Stephen, Herbert Libby, Mrs. Martha Alley, Mrs. Aletha Munro, all of Rockland, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Cates and children Stephen, Martin, Daniel and Mathew, Mrs. Lois Doucette and Mrs. Mary Mitchell, all of Camden; Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Snowdeal, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hall and children Brenda and Brent, and Miss Elizabeth Doucette, all of Belfast.

Head Of One Of Maine's Largest Trucking Firms, Sherwood Upham Is Dead

Sherwood S. (Sparky) Upham, 49, head of the truck transportation system of Boston & Rockland Transportation Company operating from Boston to Rockland and into Nova Scotia, died early Friday morning. He had been in ill health for some time, but had maintained active contact with his business.

He was founder of the U. & G. Motor Express in the mid-1930's between Portland and Rockland. Over the years he expanded the business and founded the Boston & Rockland Transportation Company operating between Boston and Maine points. In recent years, the trucking company's lines were extended into Nova Scotia.

He was president of Boston & Rockland Transportation Company of Rockland; Boston & Rockland Transportation Company, Ltd., of Yarmouth, Nova Scotia and of the U & G Express of Rockland. He held life membership in the Rockland Lodge of Elks.

Operator of one of the largest est fleets of trucks in the New England States, he was always ready to loan the facilities of his firm for civic projects. On countless occasions over the years he made available the services of his company without charge to many local projects, preferring that his contributions not be made known generally.

He was born in Rockland, Jan. 19, 1911, the son of Walter G. Upham of Rockland and Mrs. Geneva Richardson of Rockland.

Surviving are his parents; his widow, Mrs. Irma Kaler Upham; two brothers, Donald Upham of Waterville and Clarence Upham of Rockland; one sister, Mrs. Beatrice Stewart of Hammond, Ind.; and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be held Sunday at 3 p. m. from the First Baptist Church in Rockland. Interment will be in Achorn Cemetery.

Funeral arrangements are being made through Russell Funeral Home.

MYERS PROMOTED TO DISTRICT TELEPHONE JOB AT BANGOR AS BOSTON MAN COMES HERE

Robert C. Hoar of Beverly, Mass., has been named manager of the Belfast-Rockland District of the Telephone Company. He succeeds Reginald E. Myers who has served the area two years.

Myers, who has already been relieved of duty here, goes to Bangor where he will be district director of sales and services for the eastern part of Maine.

Hoar has been attached to the company's directory office in Boston and has at time served as acting manager in telephone districts in northeastern Massachusetts. He is a Brown University graduate, single, and a former Navy officer. He has been with the Telephone Company since 1956.

Symphonette Is Well Received At St. George

TENANTS HARBOR—The St. George Symphonette made its first appearance of the season at the band concert and variety show held at the St. George baseball field Thursday. John Parker directed the group in six numbers which were enthusiastically received by the usual large audience, braving cold winds and fog-heavy air to enjoy the third concert in August.

A mobile public address system was brought down from Rockland by Al French who played with the band and symphonette. Elmer Tibbetts announced the numbers and Nancy Link was at the piano, a mobile piano as it was in Henry Low.

Thomaston Man Is Charged With Arson Attempt After Fire Discovered In House

THOMASTON — Henry Young, 33, of Thomaston is being held in county jail on bail of $1500 following a charge of attempted arson heard in Rockland Municipal Court Friday morning.

Police Chief Alfred Teel arrested Young at the home of Isaac Young of Thomaston after he allegedly set fires on the first and second floors of the building.

Wesley Reynolds, a neighbor of the Young home, noticed smoke coming from the building and called the Thomaston Fire Department at 11:20 a. m. Firemen were able to extinguish the blaze before it was able to make any headway. A mattress soaked with kerosene had been jammed against the door of an upstairs bedroom and was blazing. A fire had also been started with newspapers stuffed into a waste paper basket on the ground floor.

Judge Christy Adams continued the charge against Young without plea until Aug. 15 when the case will be prosecuted by County Attorney Curtis Payson.

She is 99, "going on 100." When Mrs. Ruth Stinson Webb was born on June 26, 1861, Fort Sumter had just fallen and volunteers from Maine were headed for their grim destiny at Antietam, The Wilderness, and Gettysburg. She vaguely remembers hearing the grown-ups talking about the Civil War when she was five or six.

The only girl in a family of 11, she describes herself as a tomboy in her youth—probably in self defense. She remembers picking up lobsters with her bare hands while wading on the beaches near Stonington where she was born, and often, she says, her brothers and father brought home "half a boat load of lobsters." She adds that they "ate all we could and threw the rest overboard." Refrigeration had not come to the coast at that point.

Leaving home at 16 to care for a grandmother, she later married and moved with her husband, a mason, to various parts of Massachusetts including Reading and Charlestown.

Widowed in her middle age, she moved to Rockland where

Veteran Lightkeeper Retires

Albert F. Osgood of Vinalhaven was honored at the Rockland Coast Guard mooring Friday afternoon, on his 23 years of service as a lighthouse keeper. Osgood retired from the Curtis Island Lighthouse on June 30 of this year. Chief Bos'n William Brock presented him with a set of binoculars as a memento of his valued service.

Osgood's 23 years of service included six years on Half-Way Rock, six years on Saddle Back, two years on Two Bush and finally eight years on Curtis Island. He also served in the Coast Guard for three years and four months from January 1942. In the First World War he was nine months in the Army. Prior to becoming a lighthouse keeper, he worked 23 years in the stone quarry in Vinalhaven where he was born.

Osgood remembers many fierce storms that raked his lighthouses but one in particular stands out in his memory. A fierce gale blew down the bell tower and part of his house on Saddle Back in March of 1947.

TOWERS OVER LANDSCAPE — The new storage bins at the Dragon Cement Company in Thomaston will be ready for use October 1. The battery of six bins is 134 feet high and has a storage capacity of 150,000 barrels which raises the storage capacity of the Thomaston plant to 13 percent of yearly production. The Rust Engineering Company of Pittsburgh, Pa., did the cement construction in exactly 11 days elapsed time, working around the clock. This company also constructed the twin 200 foot stacks when the plant was originally built. Railroad lines run into the silos on one end and trucks will be run in and loaded at the other end. The steel units for discharging the cement into the carriers are now being installed.

Union Chamber Undertakes To Find Bank To Set Up Branch For Towns In Area

UNION—The people of Union and surrounding towns are not taking the news of the closing of the Union branch of the Depositors Trust Company with resignation. The Chamber of Commerce found plenty of enthusiasm, Thursday night, when a meeting was called to see what could be done to bring another bank to the town.

Grevis Payson heads a committee composed of B. M. Clark,

Dr. Arnold Walker, Ernest Cunningham, and Robert Heath which has contacted other banks about coming to Union. The committee reported encouraging response from banks contacted.

More than 25 people turned out for the meeting and eagerly took on the task of circulating a questionnaire through the area regarding use of a bank. The meeting was presided over by Alan Demuth, president of the Chamber.

Outstanding Artists To Offer Talents To Benefit New Camden Area YMCA

CAMDEN — Artists William Harms, pianist, and Helen Rosengren, soprano, will appear at the Camden Opera House, Monday, Aug. 15, at 8 p. m. for the benefit of the new Camden YMCA.

Harms, American born pianist of Dutch descent, made his first public appearance in a formal concert at the age of six in Kansas City, Mo., where he was born. At that time critics and musicians recognized a rare new talent on the musical horizon.

After completing his academic education at Ottawa University and the University of Pennsylvania, he studied piano with Mollie Margolies in New York in preparation for his entrance examination at the Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia. While there, he was awarded a full scholarship to study with the late Moriz Rosenthal. Following this he studied with Abram Chasins, whose interest prompted him to bring Harms to the attention of the world renowned Josef Hofman. The impression he made resulted in another full scholarship to study with Hofman at the Curtis Institute and at Camden in the summer. After seven years, Harms was appointed to the faculty at Curtis Institute. He made his formal debut as a soloist with the New York Philharmonic Orchestra in New York. He has to his credit solo recitals at both Carnegie Hall and Town Hall in New York City and has been soloist with leading symphony orchestras under such conductors as Leopold, Stowski, Jose Iturbe and Fritz Reiner.

Soprano Helen Rosengren studied at Curtis Institute under Madam Euphemia Gianinni Gregory. She has appeared in a variety of operas and oratorios in Philadelphia. She sang the leading role in "Sister Angelica" presented by Curtis Institute of Music; was soloist with the Mendelssohn Club; the Germantown

IT MAY BE LEGAL, BUT IS IT SAFE?

Are all the regulations governing the moving of heavy earth-moving equipment over the highways being observed? When one encounters a rapidly moving flatbed trailer with a bulldozer aboard, and the bulldozer blade projecting into the highway beyond the trailer bed, it is a fearsome prospect for a moment. Such situations may be permitted under special regulations. They may be within the limits of the eight foot width permitted vehicles in Maine. Nevertheless, they present a mental, if not a physical hazard to the oncoming driver. The death of two men in a light truck which collided with the tracks of a power shovel being hauled on a flatbed truck Thursday morning in Lamoine points up the situation. It all may be legal, and the greater part of the owners and operators of heavy equipment may hue to the letter of the law. However, those few who do not offer the possibilities of a fearful accident to the fellow operating a car or another truck.

THE SUPREME ISSUE

Herbert Hoover spoke to the Republican National Convention on its opening. And what he had to say had nothing to do with political partisanship. It was directed to everyone, of any political allegiance, who believes in the ideals and principles that created and sustained this nation. The former President recognizes the great problems of the time - foreign, domestic, economic, and social. But to his mind one issue is supreme - the moral issue.

This country is now, in his words, "in the midst of a frightening moral slump." We see it in the soaring crime rates, and in corruption in certain areas of government, business and labor. Then, on top of that, he said, "... Communist conspiracies and their 'fronts' have poured their Marxist poisons into our people. We have also been brainwashed with another Communist basic tenet. They insist that love of country, pride of a people in their history, their ideals, and their accomplishments is wicked nationalism."

What, then is the national need? It is a "rebirth of a great spiritual force which has been impaired by cynicism and weakened by foreign infections." We need, in other words, to once more remember what so many of us seem to have forgotten - the meaning of the word America. To quote Mr. Hoover once again, "For centuries the word America among the great masses of people over the world has been an emblem of hope, of more security in life - and more freedom."

If we lose sight of this, all the military power on earth, and all the economic strength that anyone can imagine, will not save us from ultimate destruction.

Municipal Court

THURSDAY

There were three traffic violation cases heard in Rockland Municipal Court Thursday morning. Per Eskill Peterson, 59, of Lannon, Wis., was charged with driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor on Union Street in Rockland, Aug. 10. The case was continued, without plea until Aug. 16 to await the outcome of a blood test. Bail was set at $200.

Kathleen B. Seavey, 58, of Bangor pleaded guilty to failing to stop at a stop sign at School Street in Camden. She was proceeding along Elm Street, when she failed to stop at the intersection, on Aug. 6. She paid a fine of $15.

Neil M. Roberts, 25, of Lewiston was found guilty of driving his truck too close to a car preceding him on U.S. Route 1 in Warren, Aug. 8. Judge Christy Adams levied a fine of $20 saying that Roberts was not prudent enough in following the car of Francis Weaver of Thomaston in view of the wet road and visibility. Weaver's car was quite badly damaged when struck by Roberts truck, following which State Police made the arrest.

The summer season is at its height, beautiful weather, tourists visiting, summer residents are firmly entrenched in their cottages and their children enjoyed the boating and beaches.

Water skiing seems to be the thing of the moment, with Chester Davis giving all those with venturous spirits a fast ski tow. Sandra and Charles Culver, Douglas and Derena Anderson, Kathy and Carl Schwab made good use of Larry Anderson's water skis.

The weekend found the village with a very cosmopolitan look with MGs, Renaults, Ramblers, Mercedes Benzs, Cheviets, Fords and Volkswagens of all colors and sizes parked outside the door of the new Ocean House. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Duboff, Brookline, Mass.; Mr. and Mrs. Parker Lichtenstein and family of Grandville, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Adams of West Bransford, Mass.; Suzanne Stahl of Princeton, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Richardson of Gifford, N. H.; Mr. and Mrs. J. Stoness Harford of Bayside, N. Y.; and Miss Josephine Salvucci and nephew Richard of Newton, Mass.

Dr. and Mrs. Harry A. Naumer entertained daughter Dorothy and husband Dave at a surprise cocktail party, celebrating their 15th wedding anniversary. Dr. and Mrs. David Brown of Darien, Conn., were the guests of honor. Mr. and Mrs. William Dennin of Wellesley Hills, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. J. Stoness Harford of Bayside, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jenkins of Terrace Park, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ditchett of West Acton, Mass., Dr. and Mrs. Eugene Dalrymple of Camden, Mr. and Mrs. Julian Hoeftke of Hyannis, Mass., Ned Merrill of Turkey Cove, New Bedford, N. Y., and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dunne of Orono celebrated the anniversary evening, and finally broke off the reminiscing at 11 p. m. to launch Lionel Heal's and Stoness Harford's "yacht". A race was planned for the next day. Winner by default was Heal and Harford, so declared by "Sir Stony."

Aug. 6 was also the birthday of Mrs. Harry Naumer, who entertained friends and neighbors celebrating the birthday of Mrs.

Rosa Seavey, as well. Guests who dropped in were Mrs. George Hill, Mrs. William Cole, Mrs. Charles Dalrymple, Mr. and Mrs. Alan Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Parson, George Wright, Mr. and Mrs. William Thon, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Mignault of Essex Junction, Vt., visiting Mrs. Eva Cogan at the New Ocean House over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Stow Wengenworth have returned to Greenport, Long Island. Friends and neighbors are sorry to learn of the death of his father.

Rev. Robert G. McKinney, having just been called from the field, will deliver his first message at the 10:30 a. m. service at the Port Clyde Baptist Church Sunday. The newly formed Junior Choir will sing "We Have A Story To Tell The Nations", and Miss Brenda Priestly will sing a solo, "The Holy City". Sunday School will immediately follow the service. The annual business meeting of the Chapel Society of the church will be held Tuesday at 7 p. m.

CLIPPERS WIN TO TIGHTEN RACE FOR THIRD PLACE SPOT IN K-L TWILIGHT LEAGUE

THOMASTON-The Thomaston Clippers rallied in the final inning to nip the Waldoboro Townies 8-6 Thursday night. The win upped the 1st place Thomaston team to within a game of the third place Townies. Each has two to play.

Bob Tweedie, who went the six inning route for the Clippers, was hit hard but kept the visitors from a big rally throughout. Meanwhile, the Clippers trailed throughout the game until a six run outburst in the sixth put them over.

Tweedie opened the big inning with a single and scored ahead of Floyd Johnson as the rangy slugger blasted one over the fence; Don Carlson doubled and Lou Cook singled for another run; two walks loaded the bases and set the stage for a Don Woodbury double and two more; two more walks forced in the final run before Bob Spear, third of three Waldoboro pitchers to work in the sixth, could put out the fire.

The other homer of the game was a two run first frame blast by Stan Hanna for the Townies. Lloyd Hodgkins of the Townies had three hits while mate Bobby Howe and Thomaston's Tweedie and Ledbury had two each.

Score:
Waldoboro 202 011-6-11-2
Thomaston 002 006-8-9-3

Camden—The annual meeting of the Three-Quarter Century Club will be held on Wednesday, Aug. 17 at the University of Maine gymnasium at Orono. The Camden Lions Club will sponsor a bus from Camden to transport the members. Also, all members of the Golden Age Club are invited. The bus will leave the Village Green at 8 o'clock. Anyone requiring transportation from their home to the bus may contact Bob Barron at the IGA Foodliner. Members are asked not to forget their lunch.

Along The Coast—Living on the Coast of Maine is supposed to make folks act and feel younger but apparently The Courier-Gazette is thwarting that noble effort in at least one case. Philip Broughton of Cushing, whose car was in collision with a trailer truck on the Cement Plant flat, was reported Thursday as being 76 years old. One of those "reliable sources" assures us that Broughton is much younger; young enough so he has bounced right back after suffering a gash requiring 16 stitches and a severe shaking up.

Rockland—The directors of the Rockland Golf Club will meet Monday evening at the club starting at 7:30.

Rockport—Dr. Lewis H. Rohrbaugh of Rockport, vice president for academic affairs at Boston University, will present the candidates for degrees at the summer commencement exercises of the University, Saturday, Aug. 20.

Union—Charles Farmer, 27, of Union was taken to Camden Community Hospital following an accident in which his car left the road between Hope and East Union, went over a 12 foot embankment and plunged into a stream, Thursday night. He was traveling towards East Union when he struck a rut and lost control of his '59 truck belonging to a blueberry concern. State Trooper Arthur Wood said the truck was a total loss and that Farmer who suffered lacerations and contusions was taken to the hospital by a passing motorist. Farmer was released from the hospital after receiving treatment.

Rockland—Leslie Little, an 81-year-old Bucksport man, was rushed to the Knox County General Hospital Thursday morning by the fire department's rescue squad. He said he felt "heavy headed" after walking from his car on Lindsey Street to the Ferry Terminal and port officials called the rescue squad. Little was released from the hospital after an examination by a doctor on duty revealed no serious illness.

Rockland—Firemen investigated a chimney fire shortly before noon on Thursday. They reported no damage to the home of Fred Thompson, 25 Hill Street after extinguishing the blaze.

CARD OF THANKS
I wish to thank all my friends for remembering me with cards and letters while I am here at the Veterans Hospital. I am getting along very well, but of course will be here for some time.

Rockland Has One Of Few Coastal Customs Offices

By Ronald Campbell
Contrary to popular belief the apprehension of smugglers forms a very small portion of a customs officer's work, particularly in the City of Rockland. George A. Boulter, who has been running a one man show as far as customs is concerned in Rockland, says that marine administration accounts for 95 percent of his work.

Boulter's office is on the second floor of the post office building in Rockland. The customs flag can be seen waving above the roof of the building, but few people know of the valuable service performed by Boulter in one of the few international customs ports along the Coast of Maine.

Boulter has covered the coastal area between Camden and South Bristol for the past six years enforcing marine customs laws. One of these laws is that every commercial boat in excess of five tons must be documented. Documentation consists of licenses, enrollments and registers which have to be renewed every year. Private owners of boats have the option of documentation of boats over five tons. More and more private owners are having their boats documented, says Boulter, the reason being that crew members of a documented boat receive free hospitalization. Another factor is that boat ownership is officially established by referring to the registry kept on file by the customs.

One of Boulter's jobs is to determine the tonnage of a vessel. He says people often think that tonnage is determined by the maximum load a boat can carry. This is a misconception in that a ton is equivalent to every hundred cubic feet of content below the deck of the boat. It requires many calculations to determine the tonnage of a vessel and makes Boulter's job a highly technical one.

Stipulations that are set down Andrews of Thomaston, Mrs. Esther Keating of Appleton, Mrs. Sadie Cunningham and Wilson Merriam of Union, Mrs. Clara Leach and Mrs. Carolyn Thompson of Bath, with Eugene Calderwood a guest. Following the supper, a social hour was enjoyed with singing and games.

Church Notices
Warren Baptist Church: Services at 10 a. m. and 7 p. m. Rev. Lee A. Perry of Malden, Mass., a former pastor, will be guest pastor. Mrs. Anne Stred, Mrs. Mary Erickson and Miss Lois Norwood will sing a trio number.

Second Congregational Church: Morning worship service at 10:30 with Communion. A. Dean Lundstrom, pastor.

Members of the Three Quarter Century Club who wish to attend the annual meeting Wednesday, Aug. 17, and wishing transportation, are asked to call Carl Perry, president of the Warren Lions Club, by Monday, Aug. 15. Those attending are asked to bring their own lunch.

by customs laws are that the master of every documented boat has to be a citizen of the United States. Corporated owners of boats have to be 75 percent United States citizens.

After a boat has been documented it is assigned a registry number from customs headquarters in Washington, D. C. This number has to be distinctly cut on the bow of the boat. Some 135 boats are registered in this fashion in the Rockland area at the present time. Any bills of sale or mortgage papers effecting the boat has to go through customs.

Boulter also is called upon to inspect imports into the United States from foreign countries. A shipment of gypsum for the Dragon Cement plant is expected next week. The cargo will have to be listed and entry forms submitted so that the appraiser may apply the correct rate of duty. An entry fee of $1.50 is charged for shipments less than two tons and $2.50 over two tons. Five times a year a tonnage tax of two cents a ton is made on Canadian imports and five cents a ton on European imports. The biggest importation in the Rockland area in the past five years has been of lobster boats from Nova Scotia, said Boulter. Many tourists have made imports from far away places such as Kenya, Hong Kong, Tahiti. On one occasion a shipment of diamonds from Antwerp, Belgium was inspected by Boulter.

Boulter also issues licenses to foreign ships to allow them to cruise along the U. S. coastline. He never has a dull moment, and has covered a great deal of ground in his six years tenure in the Rockland area.

Health For All

The Writing On The Bottle
The doctor pulls his prescription pad toward him and scribbles away like mad for a couple of minutes. All that's needed is the name of the pills and how many of them. What's he doing? Writing his life story?

No, he's writing directions for taking the medicine. The druggist will type them on the label he puts on the bottle—and if you know what's good for you, you'll follow them.

"One tablet three times a day"—That's not the same as three tablets once a day. If you take all three at once, you may get a dangerous overdose. The doctor wants you to spread the pills out over the day so the medicine will be working in you all day long.

"Before meals"—Yes, it makes a difference. The medicine may be designed to influence your digestion. The doctor wants it to be waiting in your stomach when food comes down to meet it. Some drugs work faster or have a more powerful effect when taken on an empty stomach.

"After meals"—Some medicines, while doing well the job they're supposed to do, tend to upset the stomach. They're less likely to do so if taken into a full stomach rather than an empty one. If the doctor wants to tone down the effect of a drug, he'll tell you to take it after meals. Some sedatives, for instance, would make you drowsy if taken before meals but just calm you down if taken after meals.

Whatever the directions, follow them faithfully. The doctor wasn't just exercising his fountain pen.

One thing we have left after taxes—a firm conviction that they are tooooo high.

Perhaps the aged lady is proudest of her ability as a gardener. "I'm the best one in Rockland," she declared as she displayed her backyard patch which contains potatoes, onions, cucumbers, and other vegetables, all of which she planted this spring herself. It is a garden of which anyone might well be proud.

Mrs. Webb has two grandchildren, Arthur Collins of Reading, Mass., and Charles Collins of Haverhill. Arthur and his family are currently visiting her. There are five great-grandchildren. Her own children, both girls, are deceased.

And to what does the person who may be the oldest in Knox County ascribe her long life and health? She professes not to know but it would seem to be hard work and faith in God.

Pemaquid Seminar To Note Lincoln County's 200th Anniversary Next Week

DAMARISCOTTA — Pemaquid Seminar.

Seminar will celebrate the 200th anniversary of Lincoln County with a stimulating program, including a reading of his poetry by the distinguished poet, John Holmes. Holmes, who has published a number of books of poetry and a recent handbook for poets titled, "Writing Poetry," will be reading from his work on Tuesday, Aug. 16, at 8 o'clock. The public is cordially invited to attend free of charge, and may also participate in an afternoon program on that day beginning at 3 o'clock when Mrs. John Holmes and Dr. Albert McLean will conduct playreading groups concerned with Shakespeare's tragedies, Hamlet and Othello. Mrs. Holmes, also a member of the Tufts University faculty and a poet, will give a public lecture on Saturday evening, Aug. 13, on "The Modern View in British Literature."

Professor Holmes is expected to read from his forthcoming collection of poems, "The Fortune Teller," as well as choice pieces from "Map Of My Country," "The Double Root" and "The Symbols." He has been the Phi Beta Kappa poet at Harvard, the College of William and Mary, and twice at Tufts. His poems have appeared in many magazines, among them the Atlantic, Harpers, The New Yorker, The Nation and Poetry. In 1958 he was the recipient of the William Rose Benet prize for the best poem published in the Saturday Review. Not only has he contributed greatly to American poetry but he has encouraged many students and poets to excellence in this art, among them John Ciardi, Maxine Kumin and Anne Sexton. He has also encouraged interest in modern poetry workshops meeting at Tufts University, Chautauquus, the University of New Hampshire and

Mrs. Holmes has contributed poems and essays to the Saturday Review, Audience and the Christian Science Monitor, and is now collaborating with her husband on a book to be titled "Poetry In The Making." This summer she has been a Fellow in the Brandeis Institute in Literature.

Happiness has been defined as having good health and a poor memory.

Ingraham Family Holds Its 83rd Annual Reunion

GLEN COVE—The eighty-third annual reunion of the descendants of Job, Joseph, Josiah and Nancy Ingraham, was held at Penobscot View Grange Hall, Glen Cove, Aug. 4.

Oliver P. Ingraham of Rockland and Miss Louise V. Butler of South Thomaston and Downey, Calif., the former being chairman of arrangements and the latter chairman of entertainment were at the hall to extend cordial greetings to early arrivals.

The eighty-third annual business meeting at 2 o'clock, President Coyt M. Ingraham of Knox, presiding, was in order. "America" was sung and Salute to the Flag of the United States of America was given, led by Randall Compton of Rockport, with Mrs. Karl B. Sturgis at the piano.

The chair appointed Mrs. Louise S. Ingraham, Miss Louise V. Butler and Mrs. Charles Gregory to serve as a nominating committee to submit a slate of officers for 1961 and to suggest a meeting-place and report at once. These officers nominated were declared elected: President Coyt M. Ingraham; first vice president, Elden Vose; second vice president, John W. Ingraham; secretary, Mrs. Mabel K. Rollins; treasurer, Mrs. Marion Cash; historian, Mrs. Frank H. Ingraham. Committee chairmen: Arrangements, Oliver P. Ingraham; entertainment, Miss Louise V. Butler; necrology, Mrs. Clara I. Whitcomb; place of meeting, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Cash, Rockport.

At roll-call, seven responded as descendants of Job, one of Joseph, none of Josiah and Nancy. The senior lady, Mrs. Bertha S. Thomas and senior man, Prof. Edwin B. Rollins were congratulated and Mrs. Thomas was thanked for bringing old-time family letters written from clipper ships in foreign ports. The youngest present was Paula M. Ingraham, five months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ingraham of Knox. Miss Sari Ryder traveled the longest distance to attend, coming from West Bridgewater, Mass.

Mrs. Clara I. Whitcomb, necrologist, quoted some beautifully appropriate lines of poetry, as all bowed, honoring those who have passed on during the year: Mrs. Margery In-

"Isn't it wonderful, what man can do?" But when looking at man's work, we often overlook the Hand of God. Man harnessed the power in this great dam, but God created it. Long before man discovered the turbine or the electric motor, God placed the power at man's disposal.

God is the source of every one of man's inventive and ingenious undertakings. He gives us the natural resources and the intelligence to use them. And He wants us to use them constructively.

Our Christian faith teaches us of God's power and the vastness of its scope. It teaches us the right use of these blessings, so that life may be enriched by them. Go to church and learn God's plan of love for us and our fellowman. It will mean a better world for all of us.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Food Sense—Not Nonsense

By Marjorie Mayo

With all of the fruits and berries in season now, it is time to have a jam session. In our grandmother's day making jams and jellies was a long and tiresome process, as the fruit juices and sugar had to be cooked for many long hours before they were of the right consistency to jell. Now with the pectin that can be bought in any grocery store, the juice and sugar needs to be boiled for only one minute. With this short method, there is no reason why the modern housewife cannot have her shelves lined with glasses of jams and jellies glistening like jewels in the sun.

During the cold winter months, mother can be proud to serve these fruits of her labor, with hot biscuits, meats or with toast or muffins for breakfast. Jellies and jams are wonderful as a filling for layer cakes, jelly rolls, tarts and turnovers.

Apple butter is another old time recipe which in grandmother's day took six or eight hours to cook. Now it does not take so long as the quantity is smaller and less cider is used. If unable to get sweet cider, substitute apple juice plus four or five drops of red food coloring.

Frozen Strawberry Jam so easy to make and delicious to eat—you will enjoy it all winter long.

FROZEN STRAWBERRY JAM
1 quart strawberries, washed and hulled
4 cups sugar

2 tablespoons ascorbic-acid mixture

Place strawberries in a large saucepan. Add sugar and ascorbic-acid mixture. Place over low heat and stir until sugar melts. Continue cooking 20 minutes, stirring occasionally. Remove from heat; turn into freezing container. Seal, label and freeze. Makes 1½ pints jam.

STRAWBERRY JAM
(In Glasses)

About 2 quarts fully ripe strawberries (4 cups crushed)
7 cups (3 pounds) granulated sugar
½ 8 ounce bottle liquid fruit pectin.

Wash and hull strawberries. Scald 10 medium jelly glasses. Start melting paraffin in small pot over hot water. With masher, crush berries well, a layer at a time. Into large saucepan, measure four cups crushed berries. Stir in sugar. Bring to a full rolling boil over high heat; boil hard one minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Stir in pectin at once. With metal spoon, skim off foam. Then stir and skim by turns five minutes, to cool slightly and help prevent fruit's floating. Fill glasses at once; paraffin, cool and cover. Makes 10 medium glasses.

Blackberries may be substituted for the strawberries. Put half of the crushed berries through a sieve to remove some of the seeds.

BLUEBERRY

This is a wonderful blend of fruits.

3 cups finely cut rhubarb or 1 (12 to 16 ounce) package frozen rhubarb, thawed
3 cups crushed blueberries
7 cups sugar
1 (6 ounce) bottle liquid fruit pectin.

If fresh rhubarb is used, simmer gently until tender. Combine with blueberries in large saucepan, add sugar; mix. Place over high heat; bring to full, rolling boil and boil hard one minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat, add pectin. Stir and skim for five minutes. Ladle into hot sterilized glasses. Cover at once with thin layer of paraffin. Makes about nine glasses.

Take More Care When 'Dog Tired'

ORONO—Fatigue and carelessness are the number one causes of home accidents. Things go wrong when you're "dog tired". Reflexes slow down. Your mind isn't fully alert. Hands fumble. Feet trip over things. Eyes don't see possible dangers. This is a perfect setup for an accident, reports Mrs. Pauline E. Lush, Extension Service home management specialist, University of Maine. Homemakers, more than any other one group, are guilty of working when overtired. Taking a 10-minute break will produce amazing results and cut down on home accidents.

Hurrying is brought on by waiting until the last minute and then rushing to get a job done or to get ready to leave home for outside activities. Hurrying tops the list of causes of home accidents, said Mrs. Lush.

Hurry tempts mother to use too small a kettle. Food boils over and mother or child receives a burn. Father uses a knife for a screw driver, or a chair for a makeshift ladder. Cuts or falls result.

Outer space travel may hold its perils but potential destruction lurks as close as the stairs in your own home, Mrs. Lush explained. We need inner space research as well as outer, for many of the stairways in newly designed homes are irregular in proportion and steeply pitched. An adequate stair is about six inches high and has a 12-inch tread.

Most stairway trips by homemakers today involve carrying laundry, cleaning equipment, groceries, or young children. To prevent falls in this danger zone, Mrs. Lush suggested repairing broken steps; keeping toys, boxes, tools, and other articles off stairs; keeping small rugs away from the head or foot of stairs; providing hand rails; and having stairways well lighted. How many more hazards can you find lurking on your stairs?

Keep accidents out of your kitchen, urged the Extension specialist. Scalds and burns rank high among kitchen accidents. Here Mrs. Lush has listed a few simple precautions that will help to prevent them:

Try to keep the children out of the line of traffic while you're working in the kitchen. A gate at the kitchen door will keep small children out while you're using hot water or fat for cooking.

Make it a habit to turn handles of all pots and pans toward the back of the range or table. Never let them protrude over the edge.

Be careful where you put electrical devices in your kitchen. A cord dangling from a coffee percolator or toaster naturally invites inspection by youngsters. Keep it well out of their reach. Avoid the possibility, too, of tripping over cords that may upset fans, sweepers, heaters, or other electrical equipment.

Keep matches out of reach of small children. Use only safety matches, if there are children in your family. Provide a non-flammable receptacle for burned matches. It may save a life. Safety makes sense.

SPICED PEACH JAM

4 cups (about 3 pounds) ripe peaches, peeled, pitted and ground or chopped fine
¼ cup lemon juice
7½ cups of sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon cloves
½ teaspoon allspice
½ (6 ounce) bottle liquid fruit pectin
Combine peaches and lemon juice.

Add sugar and spices; mix well. Place over high heat and bring to a full rolling boil; boil hard one minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat; immediately stir in pectin. Skim off foam with metal spoon. Cool slightly; stir and skim by turns for five minutes. Ladle into hot sterilized jars and seal. Makes six half-pints. Let jam set for about two weeks before using.

APPLE BUTTER

Wash, drain and slice six pounds (about ½ peck) tart apples into kettle. Add one pint cider and cook until apples are mushy. Press apples and juice through sieve to remove skin and seeds. Boil apples until thick, then add 1½ teaspoons ground cinnamon, ½ teaspoon each cloves and salt and from 1 to 3 cups sugar, brown or white, to suit your taste. The general rule is ¾ cup sugar to 1 cup sieved apple, but you may prefer more or less. Cook mixture until thick enough to round up in spoon. Watch it! Takes a heap of stirring to prevent sticking and scorching. Butter spatters, so stir with long handle spoon or paddle. Pour boiling hot butter into fruit jars. Put lid on jar; screw band tight. Process pints 10 minutes in a boiling-water bath.

Apple butter is fine for pie filling. For a nine inch pie, add a few dates or raisins, chopped nuts, and a dab of butter to two cups of apple butter. It may be used also for filling for turnovers.

A total of 2,500 people in New York City make their living by washing windows—most of them are high ones, too.

Six Outstanding 4-H Members Selected To Spend Week At Conservation Camp

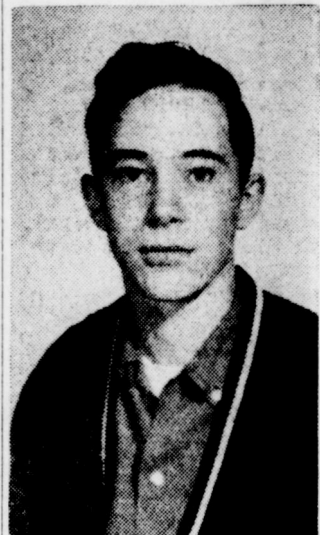

Sam Andrews

Douglas Daniel

David Kontio

Michael Nilsen

Robert Umberger, Jr.

Robert Wilbur

Six outstanding 4-H club members from Knox and Lincoln Counties will be rewarded for their efforts of the past year by attending 4-H Conservation Camp at Freeman Waterhouse campus, Bryant Pond, from Aug. 21 through 26. Selected were Robert Wilbur of Alna, Sam Andrews of Whitefield, Douglas Daniel of Washington, David Kontio of West Rockport, and Robert Umberger, Jr., of West Rockport.

Among the activities during the week will be conservation, forestry, geology, entomology, and land judging. Robert Umberger, Sr., will be the instructor from Knox-Lincoln. He is Extension farm forester for the Knox-Lincoln-Waldo area.

Robert Wilbur, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Wilbur of Alna, is 14 years of age and has been a 4-H member of Alna Sod Busters, led by Kenneth Chaney, for five years. For projects this year, he is taking Junior Leadership, Tractor, Woodworking and Automotive.

Sam Andrews, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Andrews of Tenants Harbor, is 17 years of age and a member of the Lobster Buoys 4-H Club led by Mrs. Gertrude Hull. He is taking Foods, Soil Conservation and Automotive projects.

Michael Nilsen, 15 years of age, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Nilsen of Whitefield. He is in his fifth year as a member of the Sheepscot Valley 4-H Club led by John Dancer. Michael's projects are: Dairy, Electric Forestry, Junior Leadership, Tractor and Automotive.

Douglas Daniel, son of Mrs. Wyota Daniel of Washington, is 15 years old and a fifth year member of the Washington Pine Tree 4-H Club led by Conrad Steele. For projects, Douglas is taking Dairy, Sheep and Woodworking.

David Kontio, 17 years old, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kontio of West Rockport and has been in 4-H Club work for seven years as a member of the Amateur Farmers 4-H Club. This year David is taking Forestry and Garden Projects.

Robert Umberger is 14 years old and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Umberger, Sr., of West Rockport. He is a member of the Amateur Farmers 4-H Club in his fourth year, taking Forestry and Woodworking.

Camp opens officially at 4:30 p. m. Sunday, Aug. 21, with registration. A family picnic follows for all parents who bring their 4-H members to the camp.

Frank Downing, camp director, will be in charge, assisted by Clinton Conant, 4-H agent at large, from Orono and Mrs. Patricia T. Ricker 4-H agent from Kennebec County.

Sponsors for the six boys are Rockland Kiwanis Club, Rockland and Rockport Lime Company, Round Top Farms, W. C. Ladd and Sons Insurance Co., Knox-Lincoln Soil Conservation District, Knox-Lincoln 4-H Leaders Association, Stephen Powell of Cedar Grove, Elmer Hart of Warren and Roy Thurston of Union have already contributed to the expenses of these 4-H boys to the Freeman Waterhouse Conservation Campus.

Farmers Home Loans Totaling $346,130 Were Made In Two Counties During Past Year

Loans totaling $346,130 were made by the Farmers Home Administration to farm families in Knox and Lincoln Counties during the 1960 fiscal year (from July 1, 1959 to June 30, 1960) according to Darius D. Joy, Jr., the agency's county supervisor.

Borrowers repaid $427,454 during the year on loans of all types obtained from the Farmers Home Administration. Their repayments on loans came mainly from the sale of poultry, poultry products, dairy cattle and dairy products.

Improvements which these county farmers have achieved, Joy states, include better dairy herds; higher producing cows; increased egg production per hen; increased production of forage crops; better pastures; and better living conditions for the families and livestock. In addition, better and more efficient farm machinery and equipment were made available to improve the efficiency of their farm units.

Throughout the counties are many farm families who have borrowed in former years and are still making scheduled repayments on their operating or real estate loans. Many other families now farming in Knox and Lincoln Counties and who borrowed from FHA, have now repaid their loans in full and are financing their needs through banks and other lenders.

The bulk of the funds borrowed are operating loans, those made to pay costs of feed, seed, fertilizer, pesticides, livestock, machinery and equipment, and to make recommended adjustments in farming systems. These types of funds, Joy said, have an interest rate of 5 percent per annum and terms of repayment up to seven years. Borrowing during the year to meet this type of need totaled $278,780.

Farm real estate loans during the year amounted to $67,350. Farmers used these loans to improve or purchase farms or farm land; to refinance farms or other debts; to build or repair farm buildings including dwellings; and to finance other essential farm construction; to install bulk milk tanks and other permanent equipment; establish good permanent pasture and to otherwise improve their farms. These types of funds, Joy states, have an interest rate of four or five percent depending on the source and terms of repayment up to 40 years.

There were no emergency loans made in Knox and Lincoln Counties for the 1960 fiscal year as conditions both physical and economical were not of the type and to the extent to justify the counties to be designated as emergency loan counties.

Poultry Day At Bowdoin Set For August 24

ORONO—Maine's annual Poultry Day will be held at Bowdoin College in Brunswick on Wednesday, Aug. 24.

All poultrymen and others concerned with the poultry industry are invited, said today Harry C. Whelden, Extension Service poultry specialist, University of Maine. The Maine Poultry Improvement Association and the Poultry Science Department of the University of Maine are sponsoring Poultry Day.

The program runs from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. on August 24. A chicken barbecue will be served at noon, rain or shine.

Reports on poultry industry affairs will be featured on the morning program. Representatives of five poultry industry associations will speak.

In the afternoon, the poultrymen will take a new look at management. Speakers will discuss poultry health, mechanization, feeding and environment.

The final topic will be "How To Evaluate Egg Contracts."

Serving on the program committee for this year's Poultry Day are Emerson Mitchell, of Lisbon Falls, as chairman, and William Milligan, of Sanford, and Charles Kigel, of Warren.

THE GRANGE CORNER

OCEAN VIEW GRANGE
By Nancy Link

Ocean View Grange of Martinsville, with two Community Service projects completed, is one of the more than 5,000 Subordinate Granges which are participating in the National Grange contest for Community Service. The first place award of $10,000 is offered by the Sears-Roebuck Foundation, co-sponsor of the contest, and this is supplemented by additional awards totaling over $50,000. Master Herschel D. Newsum of the National Grange commenting on the purpose of the contest says, "It is to encourage rural citizens to keep alive the self-help principle and to motivate folks in our rural communities to build better the place in which they live." During the 13 years of the contest many thousands of rural communities have been improved by donations of more than 50,000,000 man-hours of labor, by providing improvements totaling over $500,000,000 in dollar value and by developing community interest and pride of inestimable value.

Ocean View's first project was to raise funds to replace the old wood-burning furnace which has now outlasted its usefulness in a building used by many organizations in the St. George area and by individuals for sales, suppers, parties and meetings. This goal was met in May and the new furnace should be in use by winter. When in June the Tenants Harbor Baptist Church was damaged by lightning, the Grange joined all those in the communities to raise over $2,000 to repair all damages and replace the ruined steeple of the church. One Grange member, Everett Watts, originated the idea of a Mug-up supper, sold over $200 worth of tickets personally, handled the whole affair and with this one supper added $700 to the church repair fund. Members of Ocean View Grange took part in every fund-raising event for the church, and the Grange chairman handled all publicity for the fund in two newspapers and radio announcements. This goal was also reached, only six weeks after the storm. And it proves that any community project no matter how unplanned it may be at the beginning will succeed when everyone works with a purpose and for a purpose.

The National finalists in the contest will be announced in September and the final winners in October after all top Granges have been visited by a judging committee of five nationally-known agricultural and educational leaders.
