Local Woman In Her 70s Recipient Of Dollar Days Award Of Boat And Motor

A retired Rockland woman in her 70's, Mrs. Annie F. Elwell of 15 Grace Street, is the surprised and proud owner of a 10-foot molded plywood boat and outboard motor, the number one award of Rockland Dollar Days, last Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Mrs. Elwell's name heads the list of 45 persons who received Dollar Day awards.

As so often happens, it was the first prize Mrs. Elwell can recall receiving. She has little use for a boat but her son Frank on Lous Island has, so down to Lous Island it will go. The happy winner says she believes she placed the charmed Dollar Day ticket in a box at Perry's Market where she trades regularly.

Gift certificates may be claimed at the Rockland Chamber of Commerce office on the Public Landing. Those not picked up this week will be mailed out to recipients.

Repair Work On Harbor Church Progresses Well

TENANTS HARBOR—Much of the damage done to the Tenants Harbor Baptist Church by lightning last June has been repaired and work is progressing steadily on the steeple. The latest list of contributors to the repair fund for storm damage includes the Bar Mills Baptist Church and the First Church of Christ Scientist, Camden, as well as the St. George IOOF and individuals from Oregon to Maine. There have been many anonymous contributions and gifts from the membership of the Harbor Church.

Donations from outside the St. George area have come from: John Rajala, Coos Bay, Oregon; Mr. and Mrs. John Ricker, Somerville, Mass.; Richard Wathen, Washington, D. C.; Albert Smith, Arlington, Mass.; Mrs. Maxine Bartlett, Rockland; James Cant, Jr., Philadelphia, Pa.; Henry Cant, Whitinsville, Mass.; Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Patterson, Lowell, Mass.; Mrs. Kathryn Kilpinen, Cohasset, Mass.; Mrs. Gus Zimmerman, Ridgewood, N. J.; and Mr. and Mrs. David G. Rennie, Rye, N. Y.

St. George contributors include Walter D. Whitehead, Nelson Loudon, Mrs. John Coles, Calvin Smith, Mrs. Jean Bachellor, Mrs. Lila Falia, Clarence J. Dwyer, Harry Watters, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Anderson and Karen, Mr. and Mrs. Hilding Seastrom and Kim, Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Wall, Mr. and Mrs. James MacDonald, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hanson, Mr. and Mrs. Whitney Wheeler, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Minzy and Hugo Lehtinen.

Now that the storm damage fund has reached its goal, the Ladies Circle of the church turns to the job for which it was reactivated last spring, that of raising money to pay the first full-time minister the Harbor Church has had and paying utility bills and keeping the parsonage and church building in repair. A musical evening is planned as soon as a date can be chosen. A public supper will be held at the Masonic Hall at Tenants Harbor, Aug. 27, under the chairmanship of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dowling.

Returns From Army Duty In Turkey Sunday

CAMDEN—Capt. Ernest Whitney, U. S. Army Signal Corps, arrived at his home in Camden, Sunday, from Turkey, where he has been stationed for a year with the Joint U. S. Military Mission, for aid to Turkey. His wife and daughter have been at their home in Camden during the year that he has been overseas.

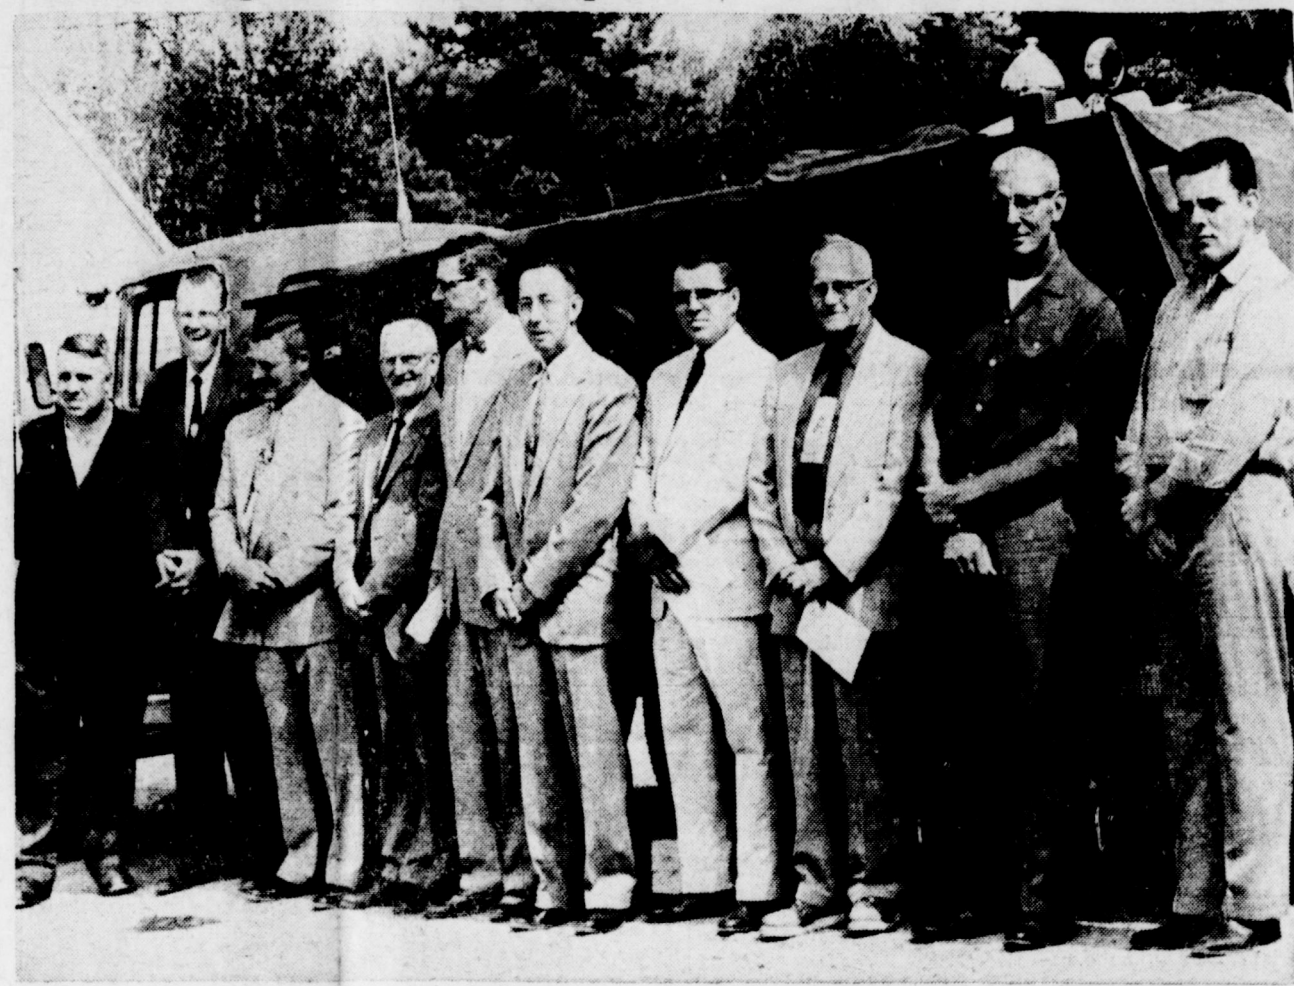

Captain Whitney is the son of Mrs. Maude Whitney of Rockport. During the time he was in Turkey his specific assignment was as Signal Corps advisor to the 14th Horse Mounted Cavalry during its reorganization into armored Cavalry. The Cavalry is one of the oldest Turkish Army Units, and has a glorious past history. It took part in the Russo-Turkish combat from 1914 to 1918, and also served under Mustafa Kemal Apoturk in the revolution, liberating Turkey from the British, French and Greeks after World War I. It also was present at the Turkish-Russian border dispute approximately 10 years ago and at the present time it is defending the Assyrian border of Turkey.

Captain Whitney's division was stationed in Urfa, Turkey, one of the oldest cities in the world and also the first Syric speaking Christian city which today is completely Mohammedan. After spending a vacation in Camden, he and his family will go to Fort Meade, Md., where the Captain will be stationed with the 35th Artillery Brigade, which is a part of the Washington, D. C., Air Defense Force.

Community Effort Exemplified In New Fire Station

Camden; Chief Wesley Knight, Rockland; Chief Earl Montgomery of Owls Head; Assistant Chief George Grafton, Thomaston; Chief Edwin Anderson, Thomaston, Chief Henry Hilton and Allan Benner of the Waldoboro Fire Department.

The modern station was put into service after the ceremonies with the trucks being moved across the street from where they have been housed several years in a converted schoolhouse.

OWLS HEAD—The new fire station of the Owls Head Volunteer Fire Company, which also houses the new town offices, was dedicated Sunday afternoon before an audience estimated in excess of 200 persons.

Master of ceremonies was Albert E. MacPhail who has served the community for years as town meeting moderator.

The structure was dedicated to the memory of the late Dr. W. Bradford Adams who was the first president of the Owls Head Volunteer Fire Company. Dr. Adams, noted Springfield, Mass., physician, retired to Owls Head several years ago and until his last illness took an active part in community affairs. He was the prime mover in the formation of the fire company and served on the school committee. A bronze plaque on the front of the building which bears the legend "In Memory of Dr. W. B. Adams" was unveiled by his grandson, William Bradford Adams, 3d.

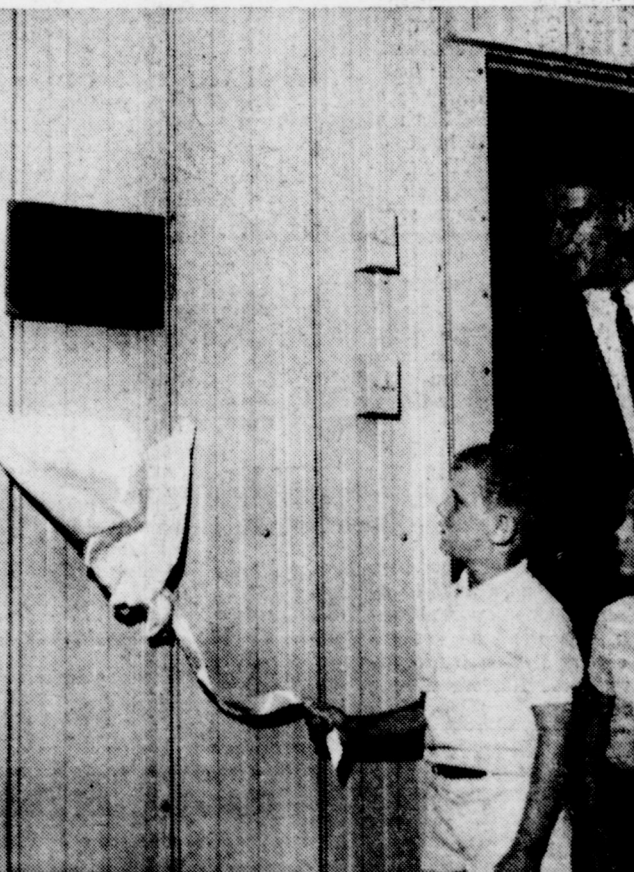

The invocation was given by Rev. Charles Ellis and the benediction by Rev. Charles R. Monteth.

The welcome was extended by MacPhail who also introduced firemen from other communities and visiting municipal officers.

Chief Earl Montgomery commented that the dedication ceremonies then being held would never have been possible had it not been for volunteer workers who raised funds for the structure, the townspeople who voted funds in town meeting and those members of the department who gave their skills and time to complete the interior of the building.

Chief Allan Payson of the Camden Fire Department credited Dr. Adams with the start of the department. He recalled the purchase of the first truck, a surplus unit from the Camden department, and the training session which led to a full fledged and skilled company of volunteer fire fighters in Owls Head.

Chief Wesley Knight of Rockland directed attention to the President J. Owen Weeks of the Owls Head Volunteer Fire Company, who was also the department's first chief, observed that Dr. Adams was a distinct asset to the community. He cited many instances of his service to the town and its people.

Mrs. Adams expressed her pleasure and that of the family in the dedication of the fire house in memory of her husband.

Library Given Manuscript About Calderwoods

NORTH HAVEN—Mrs. Harry E. Ring (Lena Calderwood) of Bath, who was a native of North Haven and has for several years been chairman of genealogical records for Colonel Dummer Sewell Chapter, DAR, of Bath and much interested in the subject, Thursday presented the North Haven Library a manuscript containing data of the descendants of John and Elizabeth McCurdy Calderwood who were in Warren in 1750 and shortly afterward settled in Vinalhaven.

The material for the manuscript was compiled by the late Jessie Calderwood over a long period of years, and was loaned to Mrs. Ring by the late Herbert Calderwood of Bath who was a nephew of Jessie.

John and Elizabeth Calderwood had 13 children, and as many of them married into the Carver family, Mrs. Ring has added a supplement containing data concerning the family of Israel Carver who came to Vinalhaven about the same time as John Calderwood. There is much of interest to North Haven Calderwood—Carver relatives in this manuscript.

PUBLIC RELATIONS WELL CARRIED OUT

The seventeen towns and two plantations of Lincoln County are observing this week the bicentenary of the county. Considerable work by numerous committees has gone into the planning of the event which offers not one or two, but several affairs each day in widely scattered sections of the county. An outstanding job has been done in spreading before year around residents and summer visitors alike the history of the area dating back into the early 1600's. The history of early America is there to see in the old Pownalborough Court House, the ancient fort at Pemaquid, the Old German Church at Walldoboro and many other sites. The present day facilities for the entertainment of summer folks are emphasized along with things historical. All in all, the Lincoln County Bicentenary is a masterpiece of public relations for a beautiful area.

FRANK BARRETT NICHOLS

The dean of Maine newspaper men, Frank Barrett Nichols of Bath, died Friday in his ninety-second year. Mr. Nichols started his newspaper career in Rockland in 1894 in company with two partners in the founding of the Rockland Daily Star. A year later, he joined the staff of the Bath Daily Times and moved up to become its owner and publisher for the past sixty-three years. Nationally known, he was one of the very few living charter members of the Associated Press and the oldest living member of the Maine Press Association which he once served as president. On his sixtieth anniversary as publisher of The Bath Daily Times he was extended national recognition by President Eisenhower and a year later was honored by the New England Weekly Press Association and the Maine Press Association in convention at the Samoset Hotel in Rockland as Maine's and New England's oldest active publisher. His passing removes from the Maine newspaper scene one of its most considerate and courteous leaders and one who will be long remembered.

Six Lettermen's Jobs To Be Up For Grabs On RHS Grid Squad This Season

By Bob Mayo

The practice call for football at Rockland High School has gone out for Wednesday afternoon at the high school at 5 o'clock when physicals will be taken, equipment issued, and other preliminaries of the season disposed of.

With the season's first game less than a month away, it is likely that Coach Bob Morrill will drive his charges through two practice sessions daily in an effort to find replacements for the six lettermen who were lost by graduation, and get the offensive and defensive routines polished as much as possible.

Last year, the Tigers were 4-4 on the season, astounding everyone. Starting with a green squad as the Tigers did last year, the break even mark was considered good. Members of last year's team missing will be the All-Eastern end Bob Huntley, co-captain with the other end, Avard Walker; rugged linemen Dave Morey and John Koster; and the hard running pair of Larry Terrio and Louie Alex - Larry the outside, open field ace, and Louie the inside man when a few yards were needed for the down.

Missing from the Tiger schedule this year is Boothbay Region which has been a fixture for some years and two years ago was the State Class D Champion. The Seahawks will play a small school Kennebec Valley Conference schedule this year for the most part. Farmington replaces the Seahawks on the Tiger schedule which opens here against ancient and honorable rival Madison. The starting is Sept. 10 and the Tigers follow on the 17th with Skowhegan here. The Indians, on the road back to pigskin glory after several lean years, are expected to furnish extremely stout opposition to the Orange and Black.

The next date, here with John Baptist on the 24th, should be another interesting struggle as Rockland edged the Crusaders in the game at Bangor last year. On Oct. 1 the Tigers go out of town for the first time as they journey upriver to the fair of the Crosby Lions where Ted Heroux and company are expected to be rugged under new Coach Frank Glazier who has had practice sessions going off and on since mid-July as he seeks to install the so-called "belly series" off the split and winged T's. Whatever the Belfast plan of attack Ted Heroux is bound to be the ace and usually must be stopped at the line of scrimmage if at all. Much of Crosby's success will hinge on finding a slick ball handling quarterback.

On Oct. 8 the final home game of the year finds Morse here for the 1960 renewal of a football rivalry which extends back to the early '20's. The Shipbuilders handed the Tigers a defeat a year ago and are always formidable. Following this, Rockland visits Old Town, Farmington and Lawrence of Fairfield away.

Also missing from the Rockland schedule is Winslow. The Black Raiders have never been beaten by a Rockland team. The closest was a tie game in the early '20's. Several have been won by a one point margin by the Central Maine perennial powerhouse but even the greatest Tiger elevens always struck Winslow when the Raiders were a little better.

who performed the feat twice last year.

On Sunday, the Rockland club held a Scotch foursome in which the team of Mrs. Stanley Griswold and Harold Simmons took low gross honors with 42; second gross went to Miss Helen Doherty and Armand Plourd at 43; and third to Mrs. Homer Robinson and Hervey C. Allen who finished with 45.

In the net division, first place was taken by Mrs. Rose Gernick and Gene Kenniston, 46-31; second by Mrs. Henry Allen and George Starr, 47-33; third, a tie between the teams of Mrs. Earle Anderson and Ray Cross, 44-34, and Mrs. Charles Huntley and Fred Spaulding, 49-34.

TORPEDOES SCUTTLE CLIPPERS TO GRAB ASSURANCE OF AT LEAST TIE FOR K-L PENNANT

THOMASTON—The St. George Torpedoes took another giant step toward the Twilight League pennant Sunday as they defeated the Thomaston Clippers 7-3 and maintained their one game lead over Damariscotta which edged Walldoboro Sunday 4-3. The loss dropped the Clippers out of any chance at the playoffs.

With one game remaining, St. George now can do no worse than tie for the flag.

Thomaston, suffering from the absence of key players Sunday, committed 10 errors to spoil the sparkling four hit pitching performance of Floyd Johnson. The pattern of the game was set in the first inning when two errors and a walk set the stage for a two run Buddy Mosher single. All the Torpedoe runs were unearned. Gary Seavey of the Clippers was the only player having two hits.

Freddy Burnham was the big noise in the Damariscotta win over Walldoboro as he had three hits, one a solo homer which opened the scoring in the second inning. The last of his bingles drove in Don Bowman with the winning run in the ninth to end a terrific pitching duel between the big lefty Red Lazarus of the Redlegs and Travis Paine of the Walldoboro team. Each fanned 12 and allowed six hits apiece but Burnham's clouting made the difference.

Lloyd Hodgkins sent the Townies into a temporary lead in the fifth with a two run blast over the friendly left field fence.

Health For All

Not a Moment To Waste!

There is perhaps nothing more frightening than to find a child strangling and choking on something that has gotten into its windpipe. This is a real emergency. Death can come quickly.

There are some things you can do to prevent such tragic accidents.

... Don't give small children nuts, popcorn, or cake with nuts until they have learned to chew properly.

... Chop meat for small children very fine.

... Don't let a child run around while he is eating.

... Never hold pins or tacks in your own mouth. Children imitate.

KLEBA L. WILLIS

GLEN COVE—Kleba L. Willis, 57, of Glen Cove, died Monday

If a child gets something into his windpipe anyway, make for the nearest doctor or hospital emergency room. On the way, let him try to cough the object up. But unless he coughs it right out, keep going, even though he may seem to be breathing more easily. An object anywhere in the air passages must be removed. Don't hold a child up by the heels and slap his back. That may jam the object against the glottis, the flap which closes the windpipe, and cut off his breath completely. Go as fast as you can . . . minutes count. You can pay your traffic fines later.

Musical Notes

The Medley Concert

A small but most appreciative audience attended the Medleys concert at Rockland Community Building last Wednesday evening.

Without a doubt The Medleys are the most attractive couple in the duo-piano field, and many were heard to remark what a lovely couple they were, and how nice they looked on the spotless Community Building stage. The Community Building has never looked nicer, and a lot of credit goes to Mr. McLain and his staff.

The Medleys opened their concert with Bach's "Sheep May Safely Graze". This piece has a fresh, pastoral character, and a gracious and beautiful melody. Their second number was Saint-Saens' "Variations on a Theme of Beethoven, Op. 35"—this is a favorite of all two piano teams and serves as an excellent vehicle for the variations. The Medleys were outstanding in this number. They closed the first half of the program with Chopin's ever popular "Rondo in C Major, Op. 73". This is Chopin's only contribution to the two piano literature. From its improvisational beginning to the grand finale, it is filled with an aristocratic refinement that only the great "Poet of the Piano" was able to capture.

The second half opened with Poulenc's "Sonata", this like many un-familiar numbers will have to be heard several times really to be understood. I found this number the least interesting and little long. This was followed by the lovely "Romance, Op. 17" of Rachmaninoff. The nocturne-like beauty of the Romance with its haunting melodies, lingers pleasantly in one's memory. The closing number was Luboshutz "Fantasy on Themes from Johann Strauss' 'Die Fledermaus'." They certainly have thoroughly mastered this number. If one closed his eyes and just listened, it would seem the Luboshutz-Nemenoff duo were at the keyboard—but this evening they were in the audience and Pat and Bill Medley were at the keyboard.

The Medleys were called back and gave three encores before the audience would let them leave. Of these encores "Coronation Scene", from the opera "Boris Godunoff" by Moussorgsky was most outstanding.

The audience was well represented by our summer musicians, noted were: Bidu Sayao, Mme. Lea Luboshutz, Mr. and Mrs. Pierre Luboshutz, Carlos Balzede, Mr. and Mrs. Vladimir Lokoloff, Jeffrey and Ronald Farlowe, Susan Edelman, Carolyn Abbott and William Harms.

A reception for 60 guests was held at the private dining room of the Thorndike Hotel following the concert with The Medleys as guests of honor.

Big Air Show Set At Auburn On August 27-28

LEWISTON-AUBURN—A return to the old-fashioned, high-spirited Maine Aero Rendezvous—which years ago thrilled all Maine annually at the old Augusta Airport—is being featured this year by the Southern Maine Aero Club which last season brought countless thousands here to see the super jet USAF Thunder-jets.

The two-day show will be held at the Municipal Airport in Auburn Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 27 and 28. In any case the Youth Aviation Fund of the Aero Club benefits from proceeds which are used to financially assist worthy young people anxious for a professional career in aviation.

The program starts, both days, at 10 a. m. and continues without interruption until the final event at 5 in the afternoon.

A two and a half hour thrill and precision flying show will be presented by Bill Sweet's Internationally Famous National Championship Air Shows. The daring pilots (all National Trophy winners) perform in piston-driven souped-up aerobatic jobs that perform at sensation-ally low level altitudes so that

The St. Peter's Episcopal Church Bazaar and smorgasbord held Saturday at the church was very successful and the eight booths which were operated from 2 to 4 p. m. carried out the theme of the affair, "Along The Coast of Maine". Those attending the affair were entertained by a Children's United Nations Parade. The highlight of the day for the children who attended was a ride on fire truck number two of the Rockland Fire Department. Games carrying out the Maine coast theme furnished entertainment for them while their parents browsed among the booths.

The booth which took in the most money was the foods booth. The one which attracted the most interest was the handicrafts booth in which was displayed many interesting decorated pieces of driftwood and polished stones picked up along the beaches.

There are "Comedy-Batics" as well by the Bill Sweet performers, all of which will be announced by Sweet himself who is an internationally famous aviation writer and is the original of the Zack Moseley "Smilin' Jack" comic strip character, "Sill Sweet."

The Cambridge (Mass.) Sky Divers—U.S. College and Olympics parachute specialists—will repeat their exhibitions which were the hit of the show last year; and Joe Virehow, Rockland Pioneer crop duster, will give daily exhibitions of dusting and aerial spraying.

An exhibit of antique and experimental planes as well as modern commercial ships is another feature. The Maine Air National Guard will not only give a fly-over with F-89 jets but will also put on a helicopter show; and social events including banquet and dance, will be held at Poland Spring Hotel Saturday evening. Jack Stover of Freeport is general chairman and director.

Maybe kids ask so many questions so they can find out how little Mom and Pop really know.

Some night when you're driving along a dark road, don't be startled if you see a huge head of Donald Duck, Popeye the Sailor or some other cartoon character gleaming out of the darkness ahead of you. It probably will be a nighttime safety device, which more and more trucking companies are adopting for your benefit.

THE DRIVER'S SEAT

Some night when you're driving along a dark road, don't be startled if you see a huge head of Donald Duck, Popeye the Sailor or some other cartoon character gleaming out of the darkness ahead of you. It probably will be a nighttime safety device, which more and more trucking companies are adopting for your benefit.

Rear-end collisions at night have become a major problem for many trucking firms. Motorists, unable to see the size and bulk of trucks in the darkness, are often confused by truck tail-lights and follow too closely behind the huge vehicles, only to find themselves unable to stop in time when the truck ahead stops or slows down. This is an increasingly common occurrence on high-speed tollways where drivers often fail to judge correctly the distance they need for stopping.

Truckers have found that reflective materials which indicate the size and bulk of their big trucks and trailers are an aid to following drivers in estimating distance. Many of them have adopted reflective striping that spans the width of the rear of the truck.

Other trucking firms have combined business with safety by using king-sized company names and trademarks in reflective materials to identify their vehicles. Often these trademarks take the form of familiar cartoon characters.

When a driver sees the huge head of his favorite cartoon character shining brightly out of the darkness in the beams of his headlights, he seems to become doubly alert and more able to detect the truck ahead and thus drive more carefully and avoid accidents.

You'll be seeing more and more of these giant trademarks shining through the night on highways all over the country. When you see them, remember that trucking firms have adopted them to help you drive more safely at night.

Nosing into an intersection or pulling out from a line of cars is like a fighter sticking out his jaw. Someone may come along and knock your block off. Engine blocks, like broken heads, are expensive to fix.

Highway safety authorities have found how important color is to motorists. These authorities now use signs that not only show up brightly during daylight but even reflect color at night. They say that, if it's important that you see a sign's color at noon it's just as important you see it at midnight.

Girl Scouts Have Ball Camping Out

Clean up time following supper cooked out of doors by members of Rockland Girl Scout Troop 14 found five of the girls too engrossed in their task to notice the photographer. It is regrettable that the squeals elicited by the flash going off could not be recorded. In the foreground, kneeling at the bucket are left to right, Jean Miller, and Carol Aho. Standing is Judy French and wearing the on the face sailor hat is Ann Walker. Hidden behind Carol is Linda Studley. In the background is the duty roster.

Girl Scouts of Troop 14 spent Friday afternoon and night and all day Saturday in the spacious back yard of Mr. and Mrs. Jalo E. Ranta, 456 Old County Road, using camping skills and demonstrating increased proficiency toward their Five Point Program requirements.

The girls literally lived outdoors for the two days despite a heavy dew Friday night. A special feature was a stint in the Ranta's sauna following Friday night's supper. The Five Point Program as described by leader Mrs. Richard French is considered a springboard into Senior Scouting activities. It is an assurance that the first year program includes five important items: the outdoors, service, preparedness, knowledge of the Girl Scout Council, and special hobbies.

The girls had special projects such as pitching two tents, digging a latrine, preparing three different meals over an open fire, and packing a well balanced lunch.

On Saturday the troop went on a trip to Belfast to attend a horse show with swimming at Megunticook Lake on their return.

On the outing were: Mrs. French, Mrs. Walter Gay, Carol Aho, Judy French, Rosalyn Gay, Jean Miller, June Ranta, Carolyn Staples, Linda Studley, Sally Sylvester and Ann Walker.

Nearly $3,000 Realized From Camden Gala Day

"What am I bid for this beautiful set of china?" calls forth Alexander Gillmor in stentorian tones developed in years practicing before the bar. Gillmor aided and abetted by Erskine York as the clown Yorkie extracted the most possible for a motley assortment of items at the auction accompanying Camden

Gala Day, Saturday. Almost every conceivable type of item went on the block to benefit the Camden Community Hospital. Just a small portion of the crowd is shown in the foreground. The improvised stage was the scene of several harp selections by Miss Suzanne Rowles, a student of Carlos Salzedo. Photo by Gross

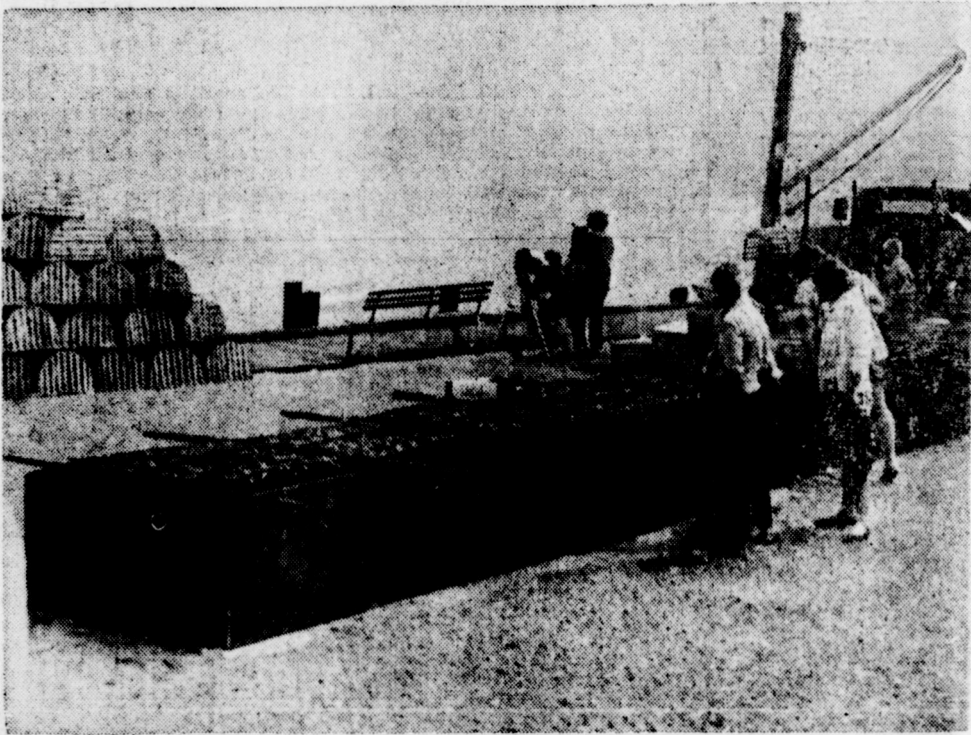

CAMDEN — The annual Gala Day at Camden, Saturday, was called a huge success by officials who said the amount of money raised would be "close to $3,000". A large crowd viewed the morning parade through the Camden streets which ended at the waterfront.

There were various articles of food on sale and cars of ancient vintage on display. A barbecue pit had been set up by Ralph Hunt of Lincolnville and some 300 barbecued chickens were disposed of at noon.

The high spot of the affair was the auction which ran through much of the afternoon with Alexander Gillmor and Darius Joy serving as auctioneers. Mrs. Eugene Rich assisted by modeling various items of apparel which were auctioned off and also helped direct the parade along with Theodore V. Spraul.

The general chairman of the affair was Fred Crockett and assisting in various capacities were Henry Fisher, Raymond Goodridge, Mrs. Bertha Strong, Mrs. Dorothy Cox, Mrs. Murray Austin and Mrs. Richard Tucker.

The name of Mrs. M. L. Austin of Chestnut Street was drawn from the barrel for a trip to Bermuda. She has not as yet reached a decision regarding the award. She not only was a member of the committee planning the affair but also made a trip to England last spring. A child drew the name from hundreds of slips of paper in a large revolving barrel.

This long charcoal barbecue pit served more than 300 hot chicken dinners to patrons of Camden Gala Day Saturday. Under the direction of Ralph Hunt, the broiling of the chicken sent delicious odors wafting over Camden to draw people to the Public Landing. An auction, parade, games and booths made the affair a success. Photo by Gros
