Potato Rustlers Plague Prison

THOMASTON — Thieves are making off with potatoes from fields leased by the Maine State Prison and Warden Alan Robbins is not happy. The fields are located in Warren, Thomaston and St. George, some distance from the Prison Farm so prison guards cannot keep an eye on them. The warden said State Police have been alerted and signs will be posted for "No Trespassing".

The prison has about 50 acres planted to potatoes and the thefts were discovered when preparations were made to start digging. The warden said the thefts were not on a large scale but large enough to be serious. He was unable to estimate just how many had been stolen.

Not only does the prison raise enough potatoes for its own use but furnishes potatoes for other state institutions.

Although the prison has raised potatoes for years, the fields have not been hit before.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Leavitt Coffin, Mrs. Clyde Warner, Mrs. William Cummings and Mrs. John Root. Mrs. James Cousins was hostess to the group at her summer home in Warren.

New Changes In Social Security Law Explained

Social security amendments signed by the President on Sept. 13 will bring benefits to an estimated 125,000 additional disabled workers and to the members of their families throughout the country, George Field, Manager of the Augusta Social Security Office, announced today.

Field pointed out that the change regarding disability benefits is only one of a number of changes made by the amendments. The new law will bring increased benefits to 400,000 children and, through liberalized work requirements, will make some 250,000 people age 65 or over eligible for benefits. Other significant provisions increase the number of people eligible for benefits and increase benefits in some instances.

Former Local Man Indicted By Hancock Grand Jury On Indecent Liberties Count

ELLSWORTH — The Hancock County Grand Jury Wednesday evening returned two indictments charging indecent liberties against the Rev. Lawrence E. Heard, a native of Owls Head and formerly pastor of the Pentecostal Church in Camden.

He was bound over to the Superior Court on July 22 when probable cause was found on a charge of taking indecent liberties with a 14-year-old boy who was living at the parsonage temporarily. The boy was the son of a member of the parish and seven witnesses were heard on the case during a long municipal court session in Ellsworth at the time.

The Rev. Heard is married and the father of one child. He now resides in Sedgwick and serves a church there and another in Bar Harbor. He left Camden about a year ago.

CREWS GO TO WORK COMPILING NEW CITY DIRECTORY FOR ROCKLAND, CAMDEN, ROCKPORT

For the first time in slightly more than four years, the H. A. Manning Publishing Company of Springfield, Mass., is in the process of compiling a new city directory for Rockland, Camden and Rockport.

The Rockland crew, headed by Thomas Holt, is comprised of Miss C. Louise Williams and Richard B. White, all experienced in directory work. The work began this week and the crew already has encountered many changes and additions and it is expected that the new book will please the public and prove resourcefully interesting.

The Camden - Rockport crew has Richard Barry of Nashua, N. H., also an experienced directory man. The book will list householders, all citizenry 18 years and older, churches, Federal, State and local organizations, clubs, also general information.

The history of the city directory is not an invention of the 20th century; London issued its first directory in 1640 and contained only the names of "gentlemen of accounts"; Paris published a directory in 1691.

The first American city directory was published in Philadelphia in 1785 and listed 3,570 names, including Benjamin Franklin; then New York published a book in 1786 and Boston compiled its first directory in 1789, in which was listed Paul Revere, goldsmith.

For years now, the city directory has become an established institution, almost regardless of size of cities and towns.

Special efforts are made to have them accurate; to be sure changes between the compiling and the publishing are found, but by and large they are in the minority.

The general public by cooperation and willingness always helps speed the book to completion. It pleases the contributors, the company and makes it possible for the crew to get on its way to the next job.

Freeman Young, 87, Uses Spare Time To Paint Home

"Retired? Sure I'll retire when I'm old enough", retorted Freeman S. Young, veteran Rockland real estate agent, as he energetically painted his house this week. "I'm only 87 and what good would I be sitting around the house all day," he added. Young showed evidence of being a long way from "old enough" as he climbed a ladder to paint the front of his South Main Street home.

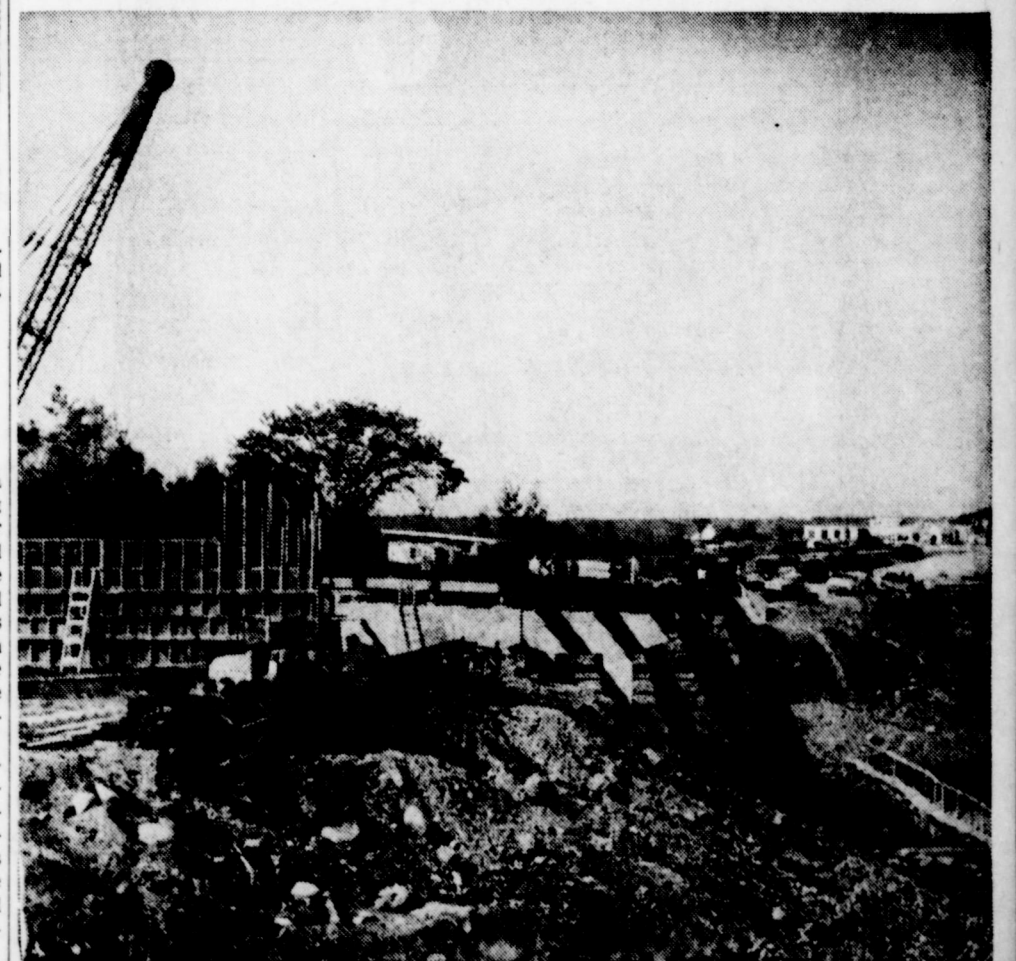

A successful real estate man for 37 years, Young claims to have sold property on every street in Rockland and to have had a part in bringing every industry to Rockland that has come here in the last three decades.

Only a slight limp remains from a fall into a filling station grease pit five years ago that probably would have crippled a less hardy individual. Young moved up and down the ladder with ease and told how he had cleaned out the putty in the cracks of the flush boarded house this summer. He has lived at the corner of South Main and Ocean Streets since 1919. "I think it was 1919", he pondered, "I know I did something in 1919".

One of the community's outspoken proponents of more industry, Young worked diligently to bring Van Baalen's garment factory to Rockland. "Yes sir. That was a good one", he reflected. Young also played key roles in bringing in the sardine plants.

When did he expect to finish painting his house? "There's no hurry, I've got plenty of time", he answered.

Tigers Face Another Top Football Foe In Indians Of Skowhegan Here Today

The Rockland Tigers, already bloodied in battle, make their second start of the year Saturday against the Skowhegan Indians at South Field. Skowhegan, which scouted the Madison-Rockland game in force last week, is noted for spread formations of the T and a wide open game. It seems likely that the pigskin will be thrown plenty tomorrow. Kickoff will be at 1:30 p. m.

Rockland has the very real advantage of having played a game while the Indians it will be the first start of the year, and no matter how many practice sessions are held, there is still no substitute for game experience, win or lose.

Rockland will probably go with

Jimmy Johnston and Sandy Ames at ends; Clark Earl and Bob Fowler, tackles; Billy Karl and Captain Sandy Delano at guard; Captain Billy Barbour, center; Bobby Walker, quarterback; Captain Charlie Finley and Billy Jackson, halfbacks; and Bernard Jackson at fullback.

Should Rockland start on the defense Francis Terrio, John Stratton and Bob Bradley will be in the lineup taking the field. Out of the Skowhegan game will be back Wes Nichols who suffered a severe chest bruise against Madison.

The Tigers have gone through a grueling week of practice scrimmages and will be better prepared for battle than they were a week ago when early mistakes, plus luck and the wind, combined to get them off to a poor start in the first half.

All things considered the Tigers are favored here by six points.

JUNIOR LEAGUE AT OWLS HEAD HAD 57 BOYS PLAYING BASEBALL

OWLS HEAD — The Owls Head Junior League baseball teams this year completed their fourth year, with boys in the 8-12 age group making up the teams under the direction of Lloyd Painter.

The boys were split into two groups for the first time this year, one of the eight and nine year olds and the other those of 10, 11 and 12. There were 23 in the younger group and 34 in the older.

The old group played outside games with Rockland Junior League teams and also Thomaston and, although they did not win, the experience was much enjoyed by the boys. In this group were Bobby Moore, Terry Morang, Don Wiley, Joe Pulkkinen, Roddy and Tommy Painter.

Steve Young, John Glover, Lewis Dyer, Ted Knight, Karl Pulkkinen, Billy Bray, John Bergren, Billy Tinker, Bob Salo, John Walker, Al McNeilly, and Ronnie Sellers. Those who will be too old for Junior League play another year are Billy Tinker, John Walker and Tommy Painter.

Those in the younger group were: Allan Pulkkinen, Tommy Bray, Irving Kallio, David Stanley, George Tinker, Michael Kvorjak, Peter Walker, Gregory Mason, Peter Oakes, Paul Salo, Billy Glover, James Entwistle, Jim Jilson, Gary Stone, David Perry, Gary Hussey, Jim Kirk, and Bob Harvey.

The league wishes to extend appreciation to all who contributed to its success.

AMBITIOUS PROGRAM SET UP FOR YEAR BY KNOX COUNTY FISH AND GAME ASSOCIATION

HOPE — Earl Kelley, new game warden in District 18, was introduced at the Thursday evening meeting of the Knox County Fish and Game Association. He replaces Walter Bisset who served the District over eight years.

Members voted approval of the $3,000 winterizing project at the Lodge which is expected to be completed before winter. Included in this outlay is a 10 by 12 basement room under the ell section of the lodge which will eventually be used for a heating plant.

Fred Ludwig, club president, outlined plans for the annual Ladies Night which will be held at the Lodge next Thursday evening, Sept. 22. Supper will be served at 6:30 o'clock and at 7:15, following which a 40 minute program will be given by entertainer John Gallus. Reservations for the affair should be made by Tuesday.

The 380 pheasants raised on the club grounds have been released throughout the county, it was reported, and the club is now awaiting notice from the State as to when an equal number of State raised birds will be released. The pheasant rearing pens built by the men of the Coast Guard buoy tender Laurel have been completed.

Supper served by the Beavers preceded the meeting and movies were shown by Merrill Thomas of Rockland afterwards.

Sixth Grader Earns Gold Medal Award At Union

Kenneth Beverage recently became the first elementary student to earn a Gold Medal award at Union. Bandmaster Freeman Garniss presents the medal to Kenneth as his principal, Miss Ida Hughes, looks on proudly.

UNION — At early season assemblies at Union High School and Union Central School, members of the Union School Band were presented awards including the unusual presentation of a gold medal Bandsman First Class award to sixth grader Kenneth Beverage. It was the first time an elementary school student has earned a gold medal.

Bandmaster Freeman Garniss made the presentations.

Members receiving awards at the high school assembly were: Silver medal of the Bandsman Second Class rating — Dorothy Eckert, Susan Webb, Ronald Bennett, John Clark, Carol Hardie, Zoa Hawes, Lorraine Messer, JoAnn Kennedy, Susan Peckham, Sally Peckham, Keith Cramer, Henry Aho, Wayne Cunningham, James Howard, and Ronald Gordon.

Gold medal of the Bandsman First Class rating, for the first time, John Walker, Judy Beverage, Linda Collins, Lee Saudier and Patricia Farrow. Mary Hardie and Arthur Nisbet won the gold medal for the second year, and are eligible to audition for membership in the Maine All-State Band, since they are now both members of the senior high school.

Bowling Alley Due To Be Open First of Month

ROCKPORT — Nearing completion is the eight lane bowling alley of Howard Dearborn called Oakland Park Lanes which he hopes to have in operation by the first of October. Structural work on the 122 by 50 foot building has been completed and the alleys are now being installed by a crew of experts from Pawtucket, R. I.

The building is the first in Maine to be constructed of Butler structural steel and it is completely insulated. An added feature is an inch thick acoustical ceiling which will cut the noise of bowling by 50%. The alleys are being built to the latest specifications of the New England Bowling Association with plenty of light overhead. The balls are all of one color and weight, and the plastic candle pins are the best obtainable. The alleys are also equipped with Bowl-Mor automatic pin setters.

In the lobby area, the walls are of cement block and in this area is an office, meeting room, service counter, and wall to wall carpeting. The bowling pit is set slightly below the lobby level and theater seats will be installed for spectators.

The parking area in front of the building can accommodate 40 or more cars and the building itself is situated three miles from Rockland and five from Camden on Route 1. Bowling leagues are now being booked for the winter and Dearborn reports some nights filled already.

A PROPOSAL WORTH CONSIDERING

In the column, The People Say, in this edition a long time member of the Civil War patriotic bodies has her say on the future location of the Soldiers and Sailors Monument. She suggests that the monument with its flagpole and the Civil War cannons be installed either on the library lawn facing Union Street or in the park area bounded by Limerock and White Streets. They are soon to be moved to make way for a new bank building on the GAR Hall site. The bank has agreed to locate the monument wherever the Civil War Memorial Association directs. The lady's proposal certainly has merit and should receive consideration by the municipal officers and the officers of the Civil War Memorial Association.

The Public Says . . .

Proper Home For GAR Memorials

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:

I understand that the Grand Army Memorial marker and benches will be moved in the near future onto the lawn of the property on Limerock Street recently purchased by the "Memorial Association", and that the cannons will be placed in the back yard. Having talked with several citizens regarding this, we all agree to this site. So I wish to ask others if they think that this is a fitting place for the memorial which honors the heroes of the Civil War?

As a member of many years standing, and a past president of Ruth Mayhew Tent, Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War, I think that the proper place for the memorial marker is as near the city center as possible. The only park, in fact green grass the city can truly boast of, is the Library lawn and the lot at the corner of White and Limerock Streets. (And I understand this corner lot has been doomed to become a parking lot). Can we save it by moving the monument, benches and cannon to this site, so everyone can enjoy and appreciate the memorial of our heroes of long ago? (The City of Rockland is pledged to care for and preserve this memorial and the ground upon which it stands forever).

By moving this memorial to the lot at White and Limerock Streets would also assure us that the center of town comprising the Hospital, Community Building, Court House, Telephone Building, the Library and St. Peter's Episcopal Church, as well as the contemplated bank building, would be preserved for posterity and be a center for which Rockland could well be proud. Would someone else express their opinion? I really think a vote should be taken on this important matter.

Rockland surely is a very unattractive city as it now stands and almost any improvement would be appreciated.

Rockland Harrier Squad With Many Veterans Back Begins Training Process

The Rockland High School cross country squad has reported to Coach Larry Plummer and is working out nightly in preparation for the opening of the harrier season. Sixteen have reported including the heavy point winners from last year, Alan Post and Bob Hillgrove, who were usually close behind last year's ace, Bert Vanorse.

Coach Plummer has not as yet a complete schedule but expects to have open dates filled in soon. Last year Rockland had one of its better squads in recent years as it chalked up a mark of 11-2 in dual meetings, losing only to Vinalhaven and Fairfield. This year's squad includes ance, Field explained that a person can now qualify for disability benefits without regard to his age. If he has worked long enough under social security and if his disability is severe enough to meet the definition in the social security law, he and eligible members of his family may draw the benefits even if he has not reached 50, which was the age requirement in the prior law.

New Changes

"Those who have already made application to have their social security records frozen because of their disability do not need to take any action now," Field said. "The Social Security Administration has their records on file and will write to them telling them what they should do. However, those disabled people who have not had a previous contact with a social security office to discuss disability protection should get in touch with our office right away because benefits cannot be paid until an application for them is made."

Another change made by the new amendments affects people entitled to benefits and who are working, Field explained. Unchanged is the rule that a person can get social security benefits for every month of the year if his earnings for the year do not go over $1200. But, for amounts over $1200 — the following formula applies beginning in 1961: One dollar in benefits is withheld for each $2 of earnings between $1200 and $1500. If a person earns more than $1500, he forfeits a dollar in benefits for each dollar that his earnings go over the $1500 amount. However, in spite of this rule, no one will forfeit benefits for any month that he earns $100 or less in wages. If he is self-employed, he does not forfeit a benefit for any month that he does not engage actively in the affairs of his business.

Field said that there are about 25,000 people — many of them aged widows — who will benefit by changes in the law which permit payment of monthly checks to eligible survivors of working people who died between April 1, 1938, and Dec. 31, 1939, with at least a year and a half of work under social security. Before this change, survivors could not receive benefits on the social security account of anyone who died before 1940. Also, a dependent widower can now get benefits even if his wife died before 1950, if the wife met the work requirements under social security. Before this change, dependent widowers could not become eligible for benefits unless the person on whose social security account the benefits were claimed died in or after September 1950. But no one can receive benefits under this provision until he has made a claim for them through the local social security district office.

For further information about how these amendments affect you, phone, write, or call at your social security district office, Post Office Building, Augusta. A representative from the Augusta office makes regular visits to Waterville, Rockland, Skowhegan, Waldoboro, Boothbay Harbor and Madison.

New Mormon Elder Arrives

Elder James L. Case

When the great sailor and discoverer, Christopher Columbus, first landed on this, the American Continent, he found a land different than any then known: this land was full of enchantment beyond the realms of imagination. This new land was full of opportunities, which when exploited became the great land America is today; but without doubt, the strangest sight Mr. Columbus found when he dropped his anchor on the shores of America, was the fact that this new land was already occupied! He found a man unique in every detail. This man was red! One of the great questions that has plagued mankind since the white man's invasion on this continent is, "Whence cometh this Redman?"

Some say this redman was just placed here by God; some say they are from Asian descent. Yet still this question, "Whence cometh this Redman?", goes unanswered.

Two young men, Elder James L. Case and Elder Wilford L. Day, have left their homes in the western part of this great country for two years, entirely at their own time and expense.

Why? Because, among other things, they have the answer to the question "Whence cometh this Redman?"

These two young men are ministers for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, which to some is more commonly called the Mormon Church. The word "Mormon" comes from an ancient manuscript which was written by the people who once lived upon the American Continent, and whose civilizations and cultures are now being discovered by the scientists and archaeologists.

This manuscript or ancient record was kept from generation to generation by men of God—men called Prophets—who lived among these people. This record gives a great account how Jesus Christ, shortly after his resurrection in the Holy Land, appeared to these people here on the American Continent, and gave them the same Gospel and teachings that He had given to the Jews in the Holy Land.

Christ's visitation to this continent explains why when the first Christian missionaries went to these people in south and central America, they found that they already had a corrupt form of Christianity; they were practicing a form of the sacra-

Precision in a Pipe Organ

You know what precision it requires to build a bridge, or an engine, or a watch. The same exactness goes into the construction of a pipe organ.

But the men who make pipe organs, like all others who build, have a feeling for the USE of their product.

An organ will lead hundreds in their worship of God. It will support a talented choir in the rendition of a sacred cantata. Or it will blend with a host of untrained voices to raise a stirring hymn to God. It will sing softly while Christians commune, or thunder majestically a great recession.

And yet this valuable organ whose creation requires such skill and precision is secondary in the life of the Church. It is simply an instrument, like this weekly advertisement, to help the Church fulfill its Mission. That Mission is to lead you, and your family, and your world, to the Lord.

When the organ calls men to worship — be there!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

No Land Added To Soil Bank In Knox County

There will be no sign up this fall of additional land or contracts under the Soil Bank Conservation Reserve, Mrs. John L. Powell, Knox-Lincoln County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office manager, said Friday in response to inquiries from farmers regarding the status of the program.

Mrs. Powell also said that program contracts which expire in 1960 or later are no longer eligible to be extended for an additional period of years. "Under the Soil Bank Act enacted in May of 1956," Mrs. Powell explained, "the Secretary of Agriculture was authorized to enter into Conservation Reserve contracts with producers during the fire year period 1956-1960."

"The sign up under the 1960 program was held last fall, so that farmers would know in advance of the cropping season whether their land would be accepted into the Conservation Reserve. Since the authorization to enter into new contracts has not been extended beyond 1960, there will be no sign up period this fall."

"Farmers should understand, however, that the existing contracts for 1960 and previous years will remain in effect and payments will continue to be made under them for the period of the contracts and in accordance with contract terms. The annual Department of Agriculture appropriation bills provide money with which to meet obligations already on the books."

CLOTHING EXTENSION TOPIC — A meeting of the Knox and Lincoln County Women's Extension took place in the Farnsworth Museum Friday afternoon. A display of clothing was shown to the group of more than 40 women who gathered to hear a discussion on "The Clothing Consumer in Today's Market." Shown examining one of the articles of clothing are Mrs. Kay Weiners, clothing leader of the Camden Extension; Mrs. Marie Connell, chairman of the Camden Extension; Miss Patricia Leavitt, home demonstration agent of the Knox and Lincoln Extension; and Miss Jean Spearin, clothing specialist from the University of Maine.

Nationally, there are more than 300,000 Conservation Reserve contracts in effect in 1960, covering a total acreage of approximately 28.6 million acres in 48 states. The average rental payment is $11.85 per acre, and the rental payments for 1960 will amount to about $338 million.

NOTES OF A POULTRYMAN

By Henry Teague

What does the threat of a hurricane mean to poultrymen? While the approach of Donna worried us all, many of the things such as the cutting off of lights and telephone and possibly water for a day or so would be little more than inconveniences to the average householder. But to the poultryman it could mean disaster, in the case of electricity and water.

One hundred hens drink several gallons of water a day with each gallon weight eight pounds plus container. Many of the hen and broiler houses in Maine are serviced by electrically operated pumps bringing water into the buildings from springs, wells, ponds and artesian wells. These birds are housed in many instances in multi-storied buildings. Just the thought of carrying water for a flock of 15 to 20 thousand broilers or perhaps 10 thousand hens is frightening.

What would happen to a flock out of water for even 24 hours? In the case of both broilers and hens, hundreds and perhaps thousands would smother around the waterers. It could throw a flock of hens completely out of egg production by causing a molt and it might take several months to bring them back to laying and the poultryman would never recover financially on that flock.

So electricity and water tie in together on many farms. But electricity serves another purpose in the case of hens. Laying birds have lights which lengthen the day in the pens to 14 hours. If anything happens to these lights, production is upset.

Poultry houses present a huge surface to the wind and hurricane winds often blow these houses to pieces causing great hardship and often putting a poultryman completely out of business if he is not properly insured.

Most Maine poultry houses are built much more strongly than those in the south due to the fact that our houses here have to withstand heavy winter storms and great weights of snow on the roofs. So we have a better chance of having the buildings survive hurricane winds.

Some poultrymen have installed generators which can take care of the water and electricity problems. During the hurricane a few years ago when power was off for several days, some of the ingenious poultrymen hooked up their lawnmower gasoline motors to their pumps and got by that way.

At this particular time egg producers have no wish to have production upset in any way for at last egg prices are decent again and we have hopes that reasonable prices will continue for several months. So let's hope no more hurricanes come up the coast for a long, long time.

Membership, the '61 program, meetings, election of officers, and annual meetings. These were some of the issues which welcomed me to Rockland and Knox-Lincoln Counties as Home Demonstration Agent. At first the introductions were hazy, but now the fog is lifting and the coast looks clear. Hurricane Donna was upsetting I'll admit!

Miss Gene West was in the office Sept. 2, and we went to Damariscotta where I met Mrs. Virginia Ward at her restaurant, Mrs. Anne Pinkham of West Rockport and Mrs. Elizabeth Rice at Walpole. Since then I've gradually been able to meet others, so that some of the names have picked up faces.

Sept. 7 and 8 were spent at the University of Maine in a training program. All new Home Demonstrations Agents in the state learned many of the ropes of our chosen profession. With the many meetings and uncomfortable humidity, I'm sure we felt at the end of our ropes as the two day session came to a close.

Being an Extension member should serve a helpful and educational, as well as social function. If it isn't this way to Knox-Lincoln Counties, should strive to make it so. Several membership letters have come into the office and if Extension is meaningful to you, yours will be in soon, too.

Twenty-seven percent of farm people were injured in a recent one year period according to a survey bulletin just received. Perhaps facts like this will prompt you to attend your Extension meeting on "Health and Safety in the Home". On Sept. 27 and 29 there will be leader training classes on home safety.
