Vinalhaven Voters Accept Land And Funds From ICMS To Qualify For Aid To Erect New $80,000 Medical Center

VINALHAVEN—At a special town meeting Thursday night, Vinalhaven citizens voted to accept the Amburst Hill site of one and a half acres on which a proposed medical center building will be erected. The building is expected to cost $80,000, half of which has been allocated to the town by the Federal government.

The town also voted Thursday night to accept the sum of $17,000 in securities from the Island Community Medical Services towards the building, and to raise the sum of $500 yearly for the next three years in support of the facility. This with some $1,500 already pledged, means that about $20,000 will need to be raised by donations or other means before next June 30, when the Federal funds will no longer be available unless the project is underway, according to Mrs. Morgan E. Sutcliffe, chairman of the resident trustees of ICMS, whom the town selectmen have named as a town committee to attend to the details of fund raising and building.

The previous medical center was destroyed by fire over a year and a half ago and since then a temporary center has been set up in a former bakery building by Dr. Ralph Earle. The land on which the projected structure will be built was donated by Mr. and Mrs. Sam Slaughter, and a nearby strip on the hill was also donated by Mrs. Elizabeth Roberts. This was also accepted at the Thursday meeting and will be used for recreational purposes in time.

However, a respectable total for this time of year has been reached with 229 men and 302 women having joined for 1961. It is hoped that all those desiring to join will do so soon; and that men and women community chairmen will report before annual meeting. Dues may be paid at the office, if you so desire, or sent to Box 415, Rockland, or brought to Annual Meeting on the 20th.

Driver Whose Wife Was Killed In Accident Found Not Guilty Of Violation

William T. Fairclough, 76, of Reading, Mass., driver of a car that took his wife's life in an accident Aug. 31 in Warren was found not guilty in Rockland Municipal Court Friday morning on a charge of failing to return seasonably to the right of the road. Judge Christy Adams found Fairclough not guilty of the charge because there was reasonable doubt as to whether the respondent fell asleep at the wheel or blacked out.

A witness to the accident, who was following the Fairclough car took the stand during the hearing and told the court that there was nothing erratic about Fairclough's driving prior to his suddenly swerving over to the wrong side of the road. She said she had been following the car for quite a distance and that the four people in the two cars were unconscious when she rushed over after the head-on collision. Medical examination after the accident revealed that Mrs. Mabel V. Fairclough had died instantly from a massive skull fracture.

Fairclough took the stand himself and said that he had no idea of what caused his lapse at the wheel. He said that he had been driving a car for 50 years and this was his first accident. He said that he had experienced a little discomfort from a new pair of glasses that he was wearing, but did not feel drowsy. The last thing he remembered before the accident was looking over at his wife and seeing that she had fallen asleep.

As a result of the accident, Fairclough spent three weeks in the Knox County General Hospital. Miss Irene Walker, 56, and Mrs. Lucille Cross, 48, both of Takoma Park, Md., the occupants of the other car, were also hospitalized for three weeks.

In concluding the case Judge Adams said that he would get in touch with the Maine Secretary of State and suggest that they recommend to the Massachusetts Secretary of State that Fairclough have a physical examination in conjunction with his operator's license.

The Pine Tree Council through this drive hopes to enroll more boys who want to be Scouts in Friendship and throughout the state.

Among those working with Jones in heading up this campaign in Friendship are Lew Wallace, Carleton Simmons, Elmer Jameson, Russell Carter, Lew Benner, Dr. Frank Richardson, Sumner Carlson, Albert Jameson, Kenneth Simmons, Clinton Lawry, Lester Black, Al Roberts, Arthur Pennington, Elden Cook, Luther Wotton, Wayne Havener, Tauno Hendrickson, Arnold Rasmussen and Llewellyn Yattaw.

The Scout Finance Campaign hopes to have attained its goal at Friendship early so that it may hold its victory snack of refreshments at Luther Wotton's by the time the drive ordinarily will be getting under way in other towns.

"Our Council is made up of volunteers who have organized to bring Scouting to the boys of this area and give them a healthy and satisfying experience. We are responsible to see to it that every boy in the 10 southwestern counties of Maine is given the opportunity of enjoying the 'game of Scouting,'" remarked Jones, chairman of the Friendship drive.

The fire was not a large one but hard to keep under control and a section 100 feet by 20 feet was burned. It is thought that the fire was started by careless campers. The department answered the alarm at 4 in the afternoon.

Contractor Dewey Call hands a box placed in the foundation of St. Peter's Episcopal Church, May 30, 1884, to Rev. Ernest O. Kenyon, rector. Call found the box as a portion of foundation was removed to make way for a new parish house. Cornerstone Records Found While Working on St. Peter's Parish House

A chance discovery of a tin box by contractor Dewey Call, Thursday, opened a door to the past and provided some information to St. Peter's Episcopal Church never before known. Call found the box containing cornerstone records as his firm removed the east wall of the chapel foundation to make way for a new parish house. Some of the records came from the original church on Park Street which was opened in 1853.

Call found the partly rusted box, which measured 8 1/2 by 5 1/2 by 1 1/2, in a pile of rubble from the dry limerock wall. The wall had no mortar but was sheathed by cement. Call said he easily could have missed the box in the rubble but just happened to glance down and spot it.

Records of the church gave no indication the box existed. In 1951 and 1952 when the church was preparing for and holding its 100th anniversary, records were searched diligently for some reference to a cornerstone. The foundation of the building was closely inspected and still nothing was found.

The box contained a letter written by Erastus F. Dana, clerk of the parish in 1852, which had been placed in the cornerstone of the original church on Park Street near Union. It also contained a letter written May 30, 1884, the day the box was placed in the foundation; a list of donors to the new building; copies of The Courier-Gazette dated May 27, 1884, the Rockland Opinion, dated May 30, 1884, and Rockland Free Press, dated May 28, 1884; as well as copies of The Rockland Gazette dated July 8, 1853, and the Christian Witness and Church Advocate of Boston, dated July 1, 1853; and two church publications from the Episcopal Diocese of Maine dated 1853.

St. Peter's Episcopal Church was founded in 1853 as the following letter, found in the box, explains:

The Rockland Free Press had the most complete story and background of the cornerstone ceremony.

It reported that the chapel was 19 by 50 feet (now containing the sanctuary, chapel and choir loft) and was designed by W. R. Emerson of Boston. It was constructed by the W. H. Glover Company.

It was further reported that (Continued on Page Two)

Parade To Cap Fire Prevention Week

There will be color galore, Saturday afternoon, as National Fire Prevention Week winds up with a parade along Main Street in Rockland with gayly decorated bicycles, Junior Fire Marshals decked in their helmets and badges, and fire department apparatus. The parade will start at 2:30 sharp on South Main Street and will proceed along Main to Rankin Street. Cash prizes will go to the owners of the most appropriately decorated bicycles said Fire Chief Wesley Knight.

As a prelude to the parade, a treasure hunt will be staged Saturday morning with clues to the whereabouts of the items being given over radio station WRKD. Winners of this contest will receive silver dollar prizes in the amount of $5, $3, and $2.

Walter Boland and Walter Dyer of the fire department said, Friday, that the school program is going along as scheduled and that winners of the contests will be announced next week. Fire helmets and badges have been handed out as part of the Junior Fire Marshals' activities for the week. The four schools participating in the week's activities also will receive banners when the results of the Home Fire Inspection Reports are known. Each youngster was asked to take home an inspection report and complete it at which time they become eligible for the Junior Fire Marshal's badge and helmet.

LESS OF A WORLD FIGURE FOR HIS UNITED NATIONS TACTICS

The antics, the temper tantrums, the bad manners, the shouts, the posturing and the pounding of the rotund representative of the Soviet Union at the United Nations the past weeks may have done more to discredit Communism than all the efforts of the West in a dozen years. It was good that Khrushchev came. It is good that he made the threats he did and showed himself in his true light for all to see. The United States and the United Nations most certainly have not suffered in the eyes of the world for having suffered through 25 days of enduring Khrushchev.

The Public Says . . .

To The Editor:

The Courier-Gazette could be of great service to the people of Knox County if room could be found in one issue before Election Day, next month, to explain once and for all the correct way to vote — how to vote a straight ticket and how to split a ticket. It is unbelievable how many people think their vote will be automatically destroyed if they try to vote for candidates of both parties for different jobs in the State and in the Nation. It is even harder to understand that many are intending to stay home and not take advantage of our wonderful right to vote because they think their votes will be thrown out if they split the ticket. A brief and clear explanation, possibly illustrated, of exactly how to vote would do much to raise the percentage of votes cast in the State of Maine and our County. It is not too late to educate our voters and, be they Democratic or Republican, bring them intelligently to the polls on Nov. 8.

Yours sincerely,
Nancy S. Link

Owls Head Dog Best Male In Foxhound Trials

The foxhound, Aces Up, owned by Chester Stone of Owls Head, won the best of opposite sex prize at the bench show of the Brunswick Foxhound Club held, Wednesday night, at the Samoset Hotel Kennels. The 14 month old male also was judged the best male competing in the two day derby trials which ended Tuesday.

A New Hampshire dog, Electric Train, won the best of show prize. She is owned by the Winn Brothers of Nashua, and also was judged the best derby female.

Howard Sargent of Norwell, Mass., was judge of the bench show which is an annual feature of the field trials of the club, the oldest in America. It is presently holding the 69th annual trials over the Dutch Neck course in Waldoboro.

The club is presently engaged in all-age field trials which end Friday followed by the presentation of trophies in the lobby of the Hotel Thorndike where the group is making its headquarters. Sixty all-age hounds took part in the four day trials.

Tigers Going For Second Victory As They Invade Old Town On Saturday

The Rockland Tigers will play the Old Town Indians at the Canoe City Saturday afternoon and will be going for their second win in six starts. Old Town, having an off year, is winless to date, having dropped three while the Tigers only victory was over John Baptist.

Charley Finley, hard running Tiger back, will be unavailable for duty Coach Bob Morrill said Friday, as his knee which was injured in the Crosby game and re-injured in the Morse encounter, has not responded to treatment as hoped. Available for kicking duty for the first time in a month will be Bernie Jackson, but his still tender ankle, which was badly sprained, will not allow much running on his part Coach Morrill feels.

As things shape up now the Tigers will take the field with one of the three captains, Billy Barbour, at end along with Sandy Ames; Clark Earl and Dick Fowler at the tackle posts; Sandy Delano, another captain, and Don Carter in the guard slots; and Charlie Wade as center. Bobby Walker will direct the team from quarterback; Butch Terrio and Wes Nichols will likely start at the halfback positions; and Billy Jackson at fullback. Two who are sure to see action before the game is over are Parker Glover in the line and Jimmy Johnston in the backfield, along with Gary Winchenbaugh as a backer up on defense.

FOXHOUND TROPHY WINNERS—Mr. and Mrs. Chester Stone of Owls Head with the trophies and ribbons won by their 14-month-old foxhound, Aces Up. He was judged best of opposite sex in the bench show Wednesday night and as best male derby hound during field trials. The awards were made at the Thursday evening banquet of the Brunswick Foxhound Club at the Thorndike Hotel.

THOMASTON — The boys' basketball squad of Thomaston High reported, Wednesday after school, to Coach Nate King and the first practice session was held Friday night. Twenty turned out, including only three lettermen from last year.

Big Buck Is Badly Injured

CUSHING—A buck deer estimated to weigh over 200 pounds was struck on the Thomaston-Cushing road Tuesday night by a car operated by Kenneth Wilson of Cushing. The deer was badly injured by the impact and was destroyed by Game Warden Winfield Gordon. Wilson estimated damage to his car at about $50.

Warden Gordon also reported a Route 90 collision with a moose, Wednesday, by a car he said was operated by Robert Jones of Belfast. The moose, apparently uninjured, went in the woods and the car was undamaged as Jones was able to apply the brakes somewhat before the collision.

Fire Prevention

Fire Chief, was the guest speaker.

Chief Hawes outlined a vivid picture of the destructive force of fire and explained ways to help prevent fires and their ruinous effects!

An attentive group of girls and boys returned to their classrooms and were busy in arranging for written story report work covering the important message Chief Hawes had brought to them. Throughout the week these stories will be read and discussed in class and questions relative to the subject of fire will be reviewed.

Cornerstone

the cornerstone box from the old church on Park Street had been opened by some unauthorized person and its contents were scattered.

In 1884, the Episcopal parish had lost its status as a church and was a mission under the direction of the bishop.

The new chapel contained 24 pews in the chapel and eight in the gallery. None of these exist today. The chapel had a 500-pound bell and a memorial cross in the chancel. "given by some lady in memory of her dead husband", so reported The Free Press.

Up to 1884 the rectors had been the Revs. George S. Slatery (founder), Henry Howard, —Tucker, J. H. Ward, —Caswell, William Walker and F. N. Towers, who was serving when the chapel was opened.

The nave of the church was constructed in 1890.

Rev. Ernest O. Kenyon, present rector, said the fund should inspire the parish today in its endeavor to raise funds for the new parish house. Papers related how one woman, Mrs. S. M. Veavie, raised almost all the funds for the White Street chapel by herself. Such dedication is a great inspiration, Father Kenyon said. None of the papers said how much the chapel cost.

The new parish house, due to be occupied in March, will cost about $40,000.

Bennett Trial On Morals Count In Second Day

The State was still presenting its case, late Friday, in Knox County Superior Court in the second day of hearing of statutory rape charges against Otto Bennett, 37, of Hope. The case is expected to take at least one more day.

A 12-year-old girl, who has alleged that Bennett had improper relations with her on Sept. 1, 1959, Feb. 15, 1960 and May 8, 1960, took the stand Thursday. She told the jury that Bennett, who was hired as a farm hand by her father, was often alone with her and that they first had relations in September of 1959.

Others testifying for the state Thursday were Knox County Deputy Sheriff Lionel Heald and Augusta pathologist, Dr. Irving Goodoff.

Friday's hearing consisted of state's witness, William Hemenway, proprietor of Hemenway's Service Station in Camden, who employed Bennett for a period of time. The girl's mother also took the stand and said that she had told Bennett that he would get more done if he spent less time with her daughter and more time doing the chores on the farm.

Dr. Meldon G. Collins, an osteopath from Liberty also testified. He was a defense witness who was heard out of turn.

The case is being heard by a drawn jury of eight men and four women before Justice Randolph A. Weatherbee.

Some FHA Loan Restrictions Are Modified

Farmers who have regular off-farm employment, if otherwise eligible, may obtain farm operating and development loans from the Farmers Home Administration, under the recently revised regulations of the agency.

Darius D. Joy, Jr., Farmers Home Administration county supervisor for Knox and Lincoln Counties, said the new regulation was effective Oct. 1. Previously, except in rural development counties, a farmer had to spend most of his time farming in order to qualify for a loan.

Experience gained in rural development counties has shown that many farmers who are regularly employed off the farm can profitably use the Farmers Home Administration's credit facilities to increase the farm portions of their total incomes. The regulation, which had limited credit assistance to farmers who spend most of their time farming, prevented some from obtaining the maximum income from their farms and from taking advantage of opportunities for industrial and other off-farm employment.

Other eligibility requirements remain unchanged. Applicants must have sufficient farm experience to carry on sound farm operations, must need credit, and be unable to obtain financial assistance from other sources. As in the past, credit will be extended only to operators of farms that are family-type size or smaller. No loan will be made unless a plan for the coming year's farming operations shows that income from the farm and other sources will be large enough to enable the farm family to have a reasonable standard of living, pay debts, and have an adequate reserve for emergencies.

Loan funds may be used to pay farm operating costs, purchase equipment and livestock, pay farm development costs, and refinance certain debts. The interest rate is five percent. Repayment schedules depend upon the purpose for which funds are advanced and upon the estimated incomes from the farms. Usually, loans made for real estate purposes will be from funds advanced by private lenders and insured by the agency.

Technical farm and money management assistance is supplied to each borrower to the extent necessary. The Farmers Home Administration office serving Knox and Lincoln Counties is located at 457 Main Street, Rockland. The agency also supplies credit for farm housing and soil and water conservation.

In order to carry on we have to have officers and the loyal few just can hold only one office at a time.

A member who always helped in many ways has given us a nice oil heater to be installed before his meeting. Also, plastic storm windows will be installed before so to make the hall comfortable this winter.

Woodlot Of Forrest Wall Becomes Fifth Tree Farm In Knox County This Week

TENANTS HARBOR — Forrest A. Wall, "The Man from Maine" in Andrew Wyeth's famous painting, is the recipient of a Tree Farm Award made by American Forest Products Industries to encourage good forest management.

His is the fifth in Knox County and the 40th in Maine to receive the award. There are 303,000 acres under the tree farm system in the State of Maine.

Wall had 25 acres certified. He first became interested in conservation while overseas in World War I when he saw how European forests were managed. Although the Tree Farm requirement is to have tree acreage under management for three years, Wall has been carrying out the practice for some 30 years.

Firewood has been cut every year, over the years, for his own heat and he has taken lumber and pulp wood, even piling and lobster trap stock from time to time.

According to State Forester Robert Umberger, Wall's lot probably contains as much wood or more than when Wall started immediately following World War I.

State Forester Umberger presented the distinctive sign and certificate this week.

Heavy Farm Losses From Fire Points Up Need For Fire Prevention Week

Heavy farm fire losses in Maine during the past year emphasize the importance of observing National Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 9 to 15.

Mardis R. Warner, agricultural engineer for the Cooperative Extension Service of the University of Maine, announced the dates for the Week today. Warner is vice chairman of the Maine Farm and Home Safety Council.

Last year more than 11,000 people in the United States died needlessly in fires, Warner said. In addition, more than twice that number were severely burned or disfigured for life.

Property losses were high, too. Fire destroyed in 1959 an estimated $1,250,000,000 in property.

Warner said that the most frequent causes of fires in farm homes are defective heating equipment, faulty chimneys and wiring, defective and overloaded fuses, defective and overloaded wiring systems, and matches and smoking.

Warner suggested keeping the home free of fire hazards by regular inspections. One out of every two dwelling fires starts in either the kitchen or living room. Bedrooms and basements are next. A clean house seldom burns.

Special, safety-type lamps can help prevent fires in Maine haymows.

Frank R. Bailey, of the Central Maine Power Company, Augusta, reports that chaff, cobwebs, and dust often accumulate on electric lights in the barn haymows. This material can ignite and cause serious fires.

Bailey is a member of the executive committee and a former chairman of the Maine Farm and Home Safety Council. He suggests cleaning off the electric lights in the haymow. Also, it's wise to install a safety-type, haymow lamp.

These haymow lamps are inexpensive and are now available in Maine stores, reports Bailey. They feature a place around the socket to which a mason jar can be screwed. This jar covers the light bulb and prevents the heat from igniting the chaff, cobwebs, or dust.

The Farm and Home Safety Council official cites a case in which a Damariscotta farmer lost his barn by fire. This man left the lights on in the haymow of his barn. The heat from the bulb ignited chaff, cobwebs, and dust. Cleaning off the bulbs and installing the new safety-type lamps would have prevented this tragedy.

"Don't give fire a place to start!" is the slogan for National Fire Prevention Week, adds Bailey. Now is the time to make sure haymows and other danger points on the farm and in the home are safe from fire.

Patty's Potpourri

Miss Patricia Leavitt
H. D. A.

"There is so much good in the worst of us and so much bad in the best of us that it little behooves any of us to talk about the rest of us." This may be slightly misquoted, if so my apologies to the author, but as I recall this was the verse which hung on a wooden plaque in a restaurant in Cornish, where I once was a waitress. Read it; think about it; but most important of all — follow it.

Well, last week was a busy extension week, but one which left your Home Demonstration Agent enthused. The Sewing Machine Clinic in Nobleboro was well attended with 23 people there and 13 machines. Some of the machines were new; some were grandmother's, at least 50 years old, but still running well. I wonder if the new ones will still be making garments in 50 years?

One hundred twenty-five people, seven exhibits, and a registration table equals one very crowded Grange Hall. Yes, despite wind and rain, and teachers' convention, 125 people, adults and children, attended the Christmas Fair at Nobleboro on Thursday. All seemed to be enjoying the gift ideas, the beauty of the exhibits, and the children appeared to enjoy the fudge which was on sale. Some adults did, too! I might say right here that the response to our weight control announcement was not great. Unless several more people speak up, there will not be a weight control group this fall. Back to the Fair, Christmas booklets were given to all who were there. If your group was not represented, call the office for booklets. First come, first served.

Marjorie Ludwig, Washington, tells me that one leading pattern company has patterns for chubby girls. Call the office if you'd like information about this. Mothers of the chubby set could save much on their clothing dollar by making youngsters' dresses and with the choice of trims available on the market today, the home tailored dress could easily rival an expensive purchased one.

On Tuesday, I eagerly take my first boat trip to Vinalhaven for "The Clothing Consumer in Today's Market" meeting. Many of my fellow Home Demonstration Agents are green with envy because I have an island group. Hope I'm not green as a result of the boat trip! You'll hear more on this later.

An Extension bulletin here at the office tells how color makes you buy food. Yes, it's true — you buy coffee with a brown jar or label, because you can almost smell the aroma and taste the rich flavor. Color appeals to our senses. It stimulates pleasant taste, appetite and smell reactions. We come to associate a color with a product and reach for that color brand again. A light colored package sets off the tempting cake picture, true, but also the light color makes the package appear large. Result: you buy! The foil wrappings lend elegance and richness to a product and associate it with quality. And the color of fried chicken on a package! Would you buy it as eagerly were it in black and white?

We, as the food shopper for our family must be aware of color's influence on our buying habits and decisions.

Many people have told me they read this column. This pleases me. I trust you'll continue to do so.
