Camden Appointee To Governor's Advisory Council On Education Blasts The Political Implications

CAMDEN — Political inferences attached to state press reports of new appointments to the Governor's Advisory Council on Education, Friday morning, have aroused the ire of Gilbert Leadbetter of Camden, member of the school board and one of the appointees. "I am definitely not a politician and I am sure Mrs. Katherine Brown of Hope (the other Knox County appointee) isn't," Leadbetter stated vigorously.

The executive committee of the advisory group protested to Gov. John H. Reed that he had appointed 28 people to the group without including any from a list of 52 suggested by the executive committee. Democratic candidate Frank M. Coffin quickly picked up the issue and blasted the Governor.

Coffin accused the Governor of making political appointments to a non-partisan committee.

"I received a letter from the Governor inviting me to be a member of this committee," Leadbetter stated. "Because I am very interested in education, I went to Augusta Thursday to find out what it was all about. Other new appointees and myself were made to feel very much out of place and even unwanted," Leadbetter continued.

"As far as I know, the executive committee didn't inquire about the qualifications of the new appointees. And I think the Governor showed courage in selecting people he thought would be interested in education and would devote some time to the committee rather than rubber stamping hand picked nominees," the Camden man stated.

"If any politics is being played, I think it is being done by the executive committee who don't like having their choices elected," Leadbetter stated. He went on to point out that the list didn't include anyone from two different counties.

Judge Sentences Escapade To Extra Prison Term

One prison inmate received an extended sentence while another's term was reduced by Justice Randolph A. Weatherbee in Knox Superior Court, Thursday. Rene Bouthillier, 25, of Biddeford received an additional one to two years when he pleaded guilty of escaping from the prison farm, May 9, this year by leaving the barracks basement through a wood scuttle.

Allie Hayden was granted a writ of error changing an original sentence of four to eight years to a three to six year term. He was originally sentenced in Piscataquis County on Sept. 8, 1958, for breaking, entering, and larceny and will soon be up for parole on his new sentence.

Henry Emerson Young, 38, of Thomaston was sentenced to one to three years in prison after he pleaded guilty to setting fires in the old family homestead on the Isaac Young estate Aug. 11 of this year.

Marcel Gagne, Augusta salesman, pleaded guilty to stealing $111.11 from Archie Hibbert, storekeeper in Washington, on July 11. A sentence to the Men's Reformatory was suspended and Gagne was placed on a two year probation.

Three More Sheep Are Destroyed On North Haven

NORTH HAVEN—Three more sheep have been killed on North Haven, apparently by dogs. Deputy Sheriff John Brown was called to the home of Lawrence Grant, near the village, Friday where he found three sheep had been killed.

The three, all young bucks, had been tied to a barn near the house. Other sheep in the pastures apparently had not been touched. A check of dogs in the vicinity failed to pinpoint the blame on any dog.

Deputy Brown is continuing the investigation.

Mrs. Elsa Kigel of Warren, Mrs. Virginia Ward of Damariscotta, Mrs. Anne Pinkham of West Rockport, and Mrs. Athleen Damon, Waldoboro.

PAIR RESCUED AFTER SMALL BOAT STRIKES LEDGE NEAR MARK ISLAND WEDNESDAY

NORTH HAVEN—Two North Haven men in their thirties survived a harrowing experience Wednesday night with only a thorough soaking and chill to remind them of the night. Harvey Demmons and William Hurd left North Haven for Camden about 5 p. m. On their return their 16 foot outboard boat struck a ledge between Mark and Saddle Islands and sheared the propeller pin.

The men paddled to nearby Mark Island but were wet when they landed. They found their matches had become wet but they were able to dry them out by placing the matches in their hats. Finally, fires were ignited from spare gasoline in the boat.

Mrs. Hurd called Alston Beverage at 10 p. m. to report that her husband had not returned from Camden. He gathered Edward Beverage, Rusty Crockett and Golden McDonald and they set out in Beverage's 26 foot boat.

Soon after the rescue boat left the confines of Pulpit Harbor, the fires on Mark Island were seen. The rescuers took Hurd and Demmons aboard but by that time the seas had kicked up enough to prevent the larger boat from returning to North Haven.

The 26 foot boat, with the smaller boat in tow, headed for Camden and arrived safely about 1 a. m. The group spent the night in Camden and returned to North Haven Thursday morning.

Mrs. McKay New Camden C of C Secretary

Among those at the head table at the annual banquet and meeting of the Camden-Rockport Chamber of Commerce Thursday evening at the Congregational Parish House were, left to right, Lloyd K. Allen, commissioner of the Department of Economic Development who was the speaker; Mrs. Thomas W. McKay, Jr., newly elected executive secretary of the Chamber; and Chamber president Marshall Foxwell.

CAMDEN — Mrs. Thomas W. McKay, Jr., was introduced as the new executive secretary of the Camden and Rockport Chamber of Commerce at the annual banquet and meeting of the Chamber at the Congregational Parish House Thursday evening. She replaces Fred E. Crockett, who resigned after long time service in the post.

Outgoing president, Norman Cote, introduced the new officers and directors and Colonel John Wilson served as master of ceremonies. Fred E. Crockett reviewed events of the past year and introduced Mrs. McKay.

The speaker of the evening was Lloyd K. Allen, commissioner of the State Department of Economic Development, who briefly described the work of the department and emphasized that there was never an effort "to tell anyone to do things". The only purpose, he said was "to offer advice and support toward community planning."

"All planning," he continued, "must start on the community level, from which it is hoped that it will grow to regional and eventually become state wide." He said that all Chambers of Commerce and like community groups are either going ahead or behind—there is no standing still.

Allen went on to discuss the great potential of the state's recreational areas which badly need further development. He said that he felt they had "no limits". On the question of labor, Allen stated that only recently parts of the state, notably in the southern end, have had to advertise out of state for skilled labor. In contrast, he said, some other parts of the state are listed as "distress areas."

Chamber officers for the coming year are: Marshall Foxwell, president; Keoneth Dickey, first vice president; Millet Perkins, second vice president; Kenneth Goodman, treasurer; and Mrs. McKay, secretary. The new directors are Perkins, Cedric Joyce, Henry Fisher and Richard Ayers.

The invocation was delivered by Rev. Gerald W. Swetnam and the benediction by Rev. Roscoe Riley.

SENTENCE TO BE PASSED MONDAY

Bennett Found Guilty Of Morals Offense Against 11-Year-Old Neighbor Girl

After deliberating less than two hours, Thursday afternoon, a Knox County Superior Court jury found Otto Bennett, 37, of Hope guilty of statutory rape of an 11 year old girl. Justice Randolph Weatherbee released Bennett on $7,500 bail pending sentencing on Monday. It is expected Bennett will enter an appeal.

The trial which ran six days in Knox County Superior Court climaxed Thursday afternoon shortly after 3 p. m. when the jury of eight men and four women announced its verdict.

Bennett's wife, who had sat through the six days of hearing as well as three days in Municipal Court last month broke down when the verdict was announced and sobbed hysterically proclaiming her husband's innocence. It was several minutes before bystanders and court officials could sufficiently calm her to leave the court room.

School Board, Parents Back Vinalhaven Teacher Assaulted While Chaperoning Teen Dance

VINALHAVEN — Charles Tanous, a Vinalhaven school teacher, conditionally withdrew his resignation, Thursday night, after members of the Vinalhaven School District Board promised him 100 percent backing in further investigation of a disturbance allegedly caused by three men in their 20's during a high school dance on Oct. 15. Tanous charged Jack Tupper, Dennis Tupper and Wyman Philbrook with assault on the night of the dance when he barred them to the dance for teenagers, which he was chaperoning. As a result, two were fined and one judged innocent by Judge Christy Adams in Rockland Municipal Court last week.

Tanous, in a letter to the school board, said that he felt that full justice had not been done and that he would not be able to extol the virtues of democracy and its protective-ness and justice for citizens on his pupils when his own experience had been just the opposite.

He withdrew his resignation after Superintendent Harold Wiggin assured him that his circumstances would be brought before the Maine Teacher's Association, the National Education Association, the State Board of Education and Knox County Attorney Curtis Payson.

Wiggin said if it was necessary to re-open the case on other charges that teachers, students and parents would stand behind Tanous to the fullest.

Mrs. Olga Carleton, school board chairman, said that "something must be done to prevent future incidents such as occurred here last week and that the people feel that they are very fortunate to have a man here of Mr. Tanous' calibre and definitely want him to stay."

The machine was demonstrated by the voters' service committee of the League of Women Voters. AN UNCOMFORTABLE SITUATION COULD BE BETTER

In a few days the hunting season will be on along the coast. With it will come the annual jousting between land owners and hunters. There has been a bit of it the past weeks during the bird season, but not on the scale which may be expected in November. Actually, both the hunter and the landowner have valid arguments.

The landowner who has had unpleasant experiences with hunters who failed to use good judgement and have endangered animals and family members by careless handling of firearms certainly has every right to post his land and bar hunters from it.

On the other hand, the hunter feels that he has the right to roam the woodlands at will, providing he respects the property and lives of others.

Both are right in their stands. It remains for the associations of sportsmen and individual hunters to prevail upon those who are careless with guns and thoughtless in the rights of landowners to mend their ways. Some progress has been made along these lines over the years with the result that many signs are appearing which grant hunting rights with the owner's permission. We would like to see more of these signs replacing the No Hunting ones. But, the hunter has got to earn the right by showing that hunting without danger to persons and property is possible.

The incident the other day at Chickawaukie Lake in which an irresponsible hunter blasted two pet ducks in front of the owner is the type of thing which leads to posting. The owner had called in his tame flock to point them out to the hunter so that he would not mistakenly gun them. The tame ducks had no sooner come into sight in response to the owner's call than the hunter killed two of them.

The hunters who are real sportsmen, and all but a very few are, should make it clear to those who violate owner rights and kill, such as the Chickawaukie hunter did, that they should either mend their ways or put up their guns.

FOOTBALL TIGERS TO MOVE TO FARMINGTON FOR GRID
ENCOUNTER ON SATURDAY

The Rockland Tigers go into their next to last game of the season Saturday afternoon against Farmington High School's Greyhounds on Hippach Field in Farmington at 2 o'clock.

Farmington, a new entry this year in the Kennebec Valley League, has posted a 3-1 record to date chiefly through the efforts of a 190 pound fullback named Tommy Barrows. This hard running operative has done most of the scoring for the Greyhounds. He also happens to be a cousin of Rockland Coach Bob Morrill and it is apparent that he must be stopped if the Tigers are to pick up the verdict.

The Tigers, who made their poorest showing of the year last Saturday, are determined to be up for this one and plan to show well in the home town of their well liked coach. Two of the injured, Charlie Finley and Bernie Jackson, are expected to see considerable action today as they appear to be about recovered from knee and ankle injuries, while Billy Karl also is likely to see service in the line after being out a month with a back injury.

The Tigers will probably take the field with Captain Billy Barbour and Sandy Ames on the flanks, Bob Fowler and Clark Earl at tackle, Captain Sandy Delano and Don Carter at guard, and Charlie Wade at center. Bobby Walker will go all the way at quarterback, with Wes Nichols and Butch Terrio at the halves, and Billy Jackson at fullback.

Others expected to see service are Jim Shaffer, Jimmy Johnston, Gary Winchenbaugh, Billy Karl and Captain Charlie Finley.

WHERE'S THE FIRE? — Knox Hospital staff was given a demonstration in the handling of fire apparatus Tuesday afternoon. Walter Dyer of the Rockland Fire Department, shown above, instructed the group in some of the finer points of using carbon dioxide and foam type extinguishers. Just prior to the taking of the above picture, the nurse holding the extinguisher had aimed the hose a little high and had given a good soaking to the surrounding area which explains the amused expressions of the onlookers. The demonstration was held in the parking lot near the emergency entrance of the hospital.

No Action On Manager Form Of Government Is Taken At Special St. George Session

TENANTS HARBOR—A special meeting in Tenants Harbor, Wednesday night, wound up very nearly where it started with regard to a town manager form of government. The only vote taken was to accept a split committee report, thank the committee, and dissolve the committee.

For the fifth time in a decade, last March, the question of adoption of a town manager form of government for St. George was brought before the voters. It was referred to a committee composed of Howard Monaghan, Harland Bragdon, Hugo Lehtinen, Ralph Sorrensen and Fred Schumaker.

Monaghan was elected moderator and the meeting quickly approved two articles to transfer funds from surplus to the contingent and road accounts. The total involved was $400.

Then the meeting came to article four which said: "To hear the report and recommendations of the committee appointed at last annual town meeting to investigate the advantages of a town manager."

When some citizens indicated a desire to take a vote on whether or not to adopt a town manager form of government, the moderator ruled them out of order and the meeting proceeded to accept the divided report (three committees in favor and two opposed), thanked the five, then discharged the committee.

The final article said: "To see what action the inhabitants wish to take on the recommendations of the town manager committee." Because that article did not clearly ask for a vote for or against a town manager form of government, no action at all was taken on the article and no action was taken on the divided report.

There even was some question as how the members of the committee stood. Bragdon and Lehtinen clearly stated they favored the town manager form while Sorrensen and Schumaker said they were not. Monaghan's affirmative answer was in the past tense.

The action and lack of it, Wednesday, does not call for any further meetings. It does not preclude the matter from being brought up at subsequent meetings, however.

The report of the committee was not given to the town clerk to be made a part of the record of the meeting. A number of copies were distributed among those attending but not every person received one.

The Netherlands is settling about an inch per century.

Rockland Receives $7,105 Federal Grant To Be Used In Planning Survey Of City

The City of Rockland has obtained a $7,105 grant from the federal government it was learned Wednesday afternoon. The money is to go toward the conducting of an extensive survey of the city's population, existing land use, economic structure, streets and transportation, schools and other public facilities, utilities, sewerage, zoning and the central business district.

The grant was confirmed to City Manager Charles Haynes, by Franklin Milliken, director of the research and planning division of the Department of Economic Development at Augusta.

The city and state each will contribute $3,552.50 to match the federal grant making the total available for the survey of $14,210.

Milliken said he received a telegram from the Housing and Home Finance agency's regional office at New York verifying the grant. A confirming letter is expected within two weeks at which time Milliken's department will take action on the grant.

Rockland's grant was part of a $25,000 grant made to four Maine communities including Mars Hill, Kennebunk, and Old Orchard Beach. Rockland's share was larger than expected in that the city had only asked for $6,750 in federal funds said Haynes.

Specific recommendations will be made following the study of the city's overall condition. The study would tie in with plans already submitted by the Boston consulting engineering firm of Bruce Campbell and Associates which includes a proposal for a new street to be called Shore Road that would run the length of the downtown waterfront. The city's share of the cost likely will be included in the 1961 budget said Haynes.

Wheeler's Wed 50 Years

TENANTS HARBOR—Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Wheeler observed their 50th wedding anniversary at their Tenants Harbor home, Friday. They were married at the Tenants Harbor Baptist Church parsonage, Oct. 21, 1910, by Rev. William C. Barrows. Mrs. Wheeler is the former Hattie Grace Smalley.

After their wedding, the Wheelers lived at Tenants Harbor and Camden and then for several years at Hyde Park, Mass. Mr. Wheeler, affectionately known as "Pete", had been a machinist at the Brooklyn Navy Yard in New York before their marriage for seven years. He continued in that line of work at Hyde Park, working in various shops there. Mrs. Wheeler was the forelady at the dining room of a self-service luncheon for six years and then became assistant to the cashier at B. S. Sturdevant Blower Works, now known as Western Electric. She handled the payroll for 1750 men in the shop during the periods when the cashier was on vacation and also handled the sale of Liberty Bonds.

In 1921, the Wheelers returned to their native town, Tenants Harbor, because of Mrs. Wheeler's illness, and they have remained there for the past 39 years.

Mrs. Wheeler received her edu-

And just who is Bill? A parent's mind stalls right in the middle of that intersection . . .

From what background has Bill come? In what moral direction is he heading? Where did Ruth meet him? Where will he take her?

Jolting the family's peace of mind, this sudden collision between confidence in our daughter and uncertainty about someone's son.

Another jolt: If Bill's parents are the right sort of people, they're probably wondering about our Ruth!

Many families have fewer such anxieties because they are active in the life of a church. Their boys and girls meet in an atmosphere that calls forth our best. Fun, friendship and inspiration are blended in worthwhile youth activities.

And if love blooms . . . no awkward compromise of conviction such as besets some . . . but a common faith in God to enrich a couple's affection and strengthen their marriage.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .

ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Mrs. Hattie Tibbets was at the piano for the evening meeting and program. Mrs. Ethel Coffin was escorted to the master's station where she received an auto robe sent to her from the National Grange because she was personally responsible for bringing ten new members into the Martinsville Grange during a specified period earlier this year. Mrs. Dora Harford, Mr. and Mrs. William Wilson, Forrest R. Davis, and Mrs. Marion Thompson were reported ill and cards signed for them. After the opening song, Emerson Link told jokes and several games were played with Billy Stewart and Mrs. Watts named winners of two of them. Master Routledge played several accordion numbers. Sorry to hear Irene Mink met with an accident last Monday. Courage Irene.

Angie Fish and Maynard Brown remain about the same.

Our installation will be in the near future and hope all our elected officers will be present.

A sink has been installed in the kitchen, also plastic storm windows have been put on the windows in the hall and on the two windows on the front downstairs. The Grange plans to put them on the dining room windows too. Anyway some of us do have the grange spirit left.

Extension Agents List '61 Programs

BRISTOL—Agents of the Knox-Lincoln Extension Association explained programs for 1961 at the annual meeting of the association at Bristol High School, Thursday night.

AGRICULTURE

Gilbert Jaeger, Agent

The Knox-Lincoln program in Extension work for 1961 was discussed and demonstrated and County Agent Gil Jaeger discussed the general program, pointing out the work which will be done on production and financial management in all projects.

Herbert Spear of North Nobleboro discussed the value of knowing what food value is in hay or silage and the factors returned in the analysis. He then showed the analysis of two hay samples from his farm. Using the production of a 1200 pound cow at 50 pounds of milk per day and a recommended grain ration for each hay sample, he showed, despite valuing the good hay well over the poor hay value, a 23 cent less cost of feed per day with the good hay. This amounts to $1200 per barn feeding season for a 25 cow herd. Mr. Spear did point out the need for feeding grain to the hay food value.

Leon Johnston of Jefferson discussed the value of central processing of dairy feed and production records. He pointed out the need of forage analysis to obtain correct feeding recommendations from Central Processing. The value of complete herd and individual cow records, breeding and dry date records for knowledge of strong and weak spots in the herd for management decisions was discussed.

Edward Peckham of Union spoke of the new central processing of poultry production records. He said that many farmers had the figures available, that this process does the needed calculation for the poultryman so that he can properly analyze what is happening in his flocks. Also, a report is received monthly concerning the production of different strains. Over a third of the flocks on test in Maine are from Knox-Lincoln Counties.

Millard Clark of Damariscotta and Glenwood Sukeforth of Waldoboro demonstrated the Christmas Tree Improvement Project by pruning a tree to properly shape it. They also showed a tree that had been pruned a year ago to show how it had improved in quality.

4-H CLUBS

Mrs. Leona Shibbes, Agent

Thirty-five of the 1960 4-H clubs are reorganized with officers, elected and programs planned for the new year. Five new clubs are organized with programs ready and projects all started. Six hundred projects have been sent in to date; more than we had last year on Dec. 1. It looks like another big year in 1961.

For the past five years, Knox-Lincoln Co., has maintained an average of 1050 projects per year; carried by an average of 50 4-H clubs. Some 213 girls enrolled last year in clothing and 254 boys and girls in foods. These two projects are by far the largest in the county, and from these demonstrations were selected.

FOODS—Anita Carroll, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Carroll of Union, had for her demonstration, "Making a milk drink", which would appeal to both young and old. Anita is 13 years old, in her fifth year as a member of Sunny Bakes 4-H Club led by Mrs. Mary Helen Hardie.

4-H STYLE SHOW—Kathy Wyllie from White Oak 4-H Club in Warren; Diane Lundeen, Grace Lehto and Louise Thayer from Warren Wonder Workers; Daphne Teague, Mildred Hancock, Sharon Overlock, Patricia Wren, Patty Norwood, Susan Foley, Diane Smith and Carrie Sue Smith from the Diligent Dozen, modeled dresses they had made the past year. Most of these were in the County 4-H Style Show held in the spring. Kathy Wyllie took part in the State 4-H Dress Revue at the University of Maine in June. She was the second highest scoring senior in the County show and entered the State revue as an escort for County winner Katherine Morse of Whitefield.

Donald Hamalainen, Amateur Farmers 4-H of West Rockport, is in his ninth year as a 4-H member. His Junior Leadership and Automotive projects were outstanding in the County the past year. He won the WRKD radio award as outstanding 4-H Boy in Knox-Lincoln County in 1960.

Claudia Jameson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Jameson is in her third year as a member of Happy Cookers 4-H Club of Waldoboro. She completed five projects in 1960. A blue ribbon winner, Claudia did an excellent job at Union Fair in the 4-H kitchen. She has started her foods project for 1961.

Sam Andrews, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Andrews, is in his third year as member of the Lobster Buys 4-H Club of Tenants Harbor. His Automotive project was outstanding with an excellent record book. He also took the Soil Conservation Project and constructed a drainage ditch according to recommended practices. In 1961, he is taking Soil Conservation and Automotive.

HOME ECONOMICS 1961

Miss Patricia Leavitt, Agent

Demonstrations by Mrs. Phyllis Russell of Waldoboro, Mrs. Martha Campbell of Warren and Frank Bailey of the Central Maine Power Company, provided a preview of the 1961 Extension Program at the annual meeting. Mrs. Phyllis Russell demonstrated bread making as Bread and Rolls the Easy Way will be offered next year. Other offerings in the foods program will be: The Home Freezer a Storehouse of Food, Meal Plan for the Day, Feeding Many in an Emergency and Weight Control.

"The procedure to follow when removing or putting in a permanent crease in Resin Treated fabric" was demonstrated by Mrs. Martha Campbell. Hers will be a portion of next year's Clothing Program. Other areas of the program will be Clothing's Modern Meanings, Plan and Pack your Travel Wardrobe, Let's Take Care of Our Clothes, and Clothing Construction Units.

Frank Bailey from the Central Maine Power Company gave a brief talk and demonstration on the effects of inadequate wiring. This will be a phase of next year's Adequate Wiring—The Key to a Safe Home.

Another Home Management program will be "Is There a Better Way?" This is a time and energy management program. Also offered is Linen and Blankets, a study of how and what to buy in this department. Kitchen Clinics will round out the Home Management Program.

The Family Life Program is offering Live and Learn, a study of the family after children have moved away and the husband is reaching retirement.

The 1961 Extension Program as outlined above will be supplemented by Know Your Neighbor and Crafts Programs.

4-H Club Doings

A girls' 4-H club, called the Golden Crown 4-H Club was organized Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Annie Ross, leader. Officers elected were: President, Mary Ann Ross; vice president, Vicki Lee Ross; secretary, Donna Haskell; treasurer, Linda Knowlton; reporter, Mary Rapose; Flag bearer, Wanda Lee Tims; and cheer leader, Ruth Holsipple.

It was voted to give a gift to the member attending the most meetings during the year. Dues are to be five cents each meeting. Project cards were filled out and Mrs. Ross gave out record sheets and books to the girls taking cooking projects. Sandwiches and punch which had been made by the girls were served for refreshments. Recreation included a game of musical chairs. The next meeting will be held at the home of Linda Knowlton on Oct. 27.

OWLS HEAD GRANGE

The regular meeting of Owls Head Grange was held on Oct. 11. Election of officers will be held at the next meeting.

A donation was made to Opportunity Farm. It was reported also that clothing had been donated to a family which was recently burned out.

The lecturer's program opened with a song by all members. Since this is Fire Prevention Week, each member was asked to mention some aid in the prevention of fires. Readings were given by Alice Rich and Herbert Montgomery. A solo, "In The Garden of Tomorrow", was sung by Irma Anderson. The Lecturer's March was won by Sandra Ripley and the Closing Thought was by Helen Brewer.

Inez Montgomery again reminded the members of the rummage sale to be held in November. Anyone, whether or not a Grange member, who has rummage to wish to donate, may do so by contacting either Inez Montgomery or Merle Weeks.

State Grange session will begin on Oct. 25 in Brewer. It was reported that a bus will be going from this area. The sixth degree will be worked on Wednesday evening, Oct. 26, at 8:30.

An invitation has been extended by Mt. Pleasant Grange to meet with them on Oct. 17 which is Booster Night for their Grange.

Membership Is Going Well Association Told

Millard Clark of Damariscotta, chairman of the K-L Extension Association membership campaign, presented the membership report at annual meeting Thursday.

Noting the earliness of annual meeting, and the fact that most women's groups had not yet held meetings, he said that the campaign seemed to be progressing most satisfactorily. He suggested that all people take advantage of the facilities available from the Extension Service.

At annual meeting time, the Alma, Appleton, Edgecomb and West Rockport men groups were 100 percent renewed. Chairmen of these groups are: Ted Ross, Wiscasset; Melville Greenleaf, Edgecomb; Roland Gushee, Appleton; and Henry Keller, West Rockport.

The Thomaston women's group was also 100 percent renewed. Mrs. Eleanor Clark, Thomaston, is chairman of that group. There were 293 men and 536

"Dollars and sense do not travel together." Prochnow that's your TPTD (thought for the day).

Washington now has an extension group. Seventeen enthusiastic women were at Marjorie Ludwig's home last Tuesday to organize their group. Officers elected were: Marjorie Ludwig, chairman; Gloria Brown, co-chairman; Ruth Boynton, vice chairman; Connie Johnston, secretary-treasurer; Dorothy Saunders, clothing leader; Elizabeth Grinnell, assistant clothing leader; Helvi Sainio, foods leader; Myrtle Peabody, assistant foods leader; Marlene Bartlett, home management leader; Charlene Moody, assistant home management leader.

You can see that they are keeping many persons busy filling an office. The person who has something to do usually attends meetings and gleams more from meetings.

This is an evening group and I'm sure they would welcome additional members. Call one of the chairmen if you are interested. Their first meeting will be Nov. 5 at the Masonic Hall.

Various people have told me that as the season progresses I will not be so eager to drive around in my small car. Coming back from Bangor in the fog, last Sunday, I was ready to believe them. But I had faith that the white line my car lights picked up would lead me home and sure enough it did. Perhaps we need more faith in the guiding light.

If you accidentally dipped a resin treated garment in chlorine bleach and the fabric yellowed, the white color can be restored by use of a leading color remover. Use one tablespoon of the color remover to one gallon of hot water. Soak the garment five to 10 minutes. Rinse thoroughly and wash with a good detergent.

Had an enjoyable afternoon at Mrs. Damon's in Warren, last Thursday, doing some annual meeting work. Here's a recipe she gave me which you might enjoy.

Athlete's Apple Sauce Cake

- 1 cup apple sauce, unsweetened
- 1 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup shortening
- 1 teaspoon soda (little heaping)
- 2 teaspoons vanilla
- 1 egg
- 1 dessert spoon cocoa
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1 teaspoon ginger
- 1 teaspoon clove
- 2 cups flour
- 1 cup raisins
- 1/2 cup dates
- 1/2 cup nuts
- Bake 350 degrees - 1 hour.

She says she creams the sugar and shortening together and "throws everything else together" in the conventional cake mixing manner.

It's good for the coming winter holidays and from having sampled it I'd say it's just plain good. Women who had joined for 1961 at meeting time. The goals for 1961 are 363 men and 827 women by June 15.

Indiana is usually not thought of as a fur-producing state, yet Hoosier trappers bagged 256,696 pelts in 1955.

Five copies of the Gettysburg Address, written in Lincoln's handwriting, are known to exist, (two in Library of Congress, third in files of Illinois State Historical Society, fourth in Cornell University library, fifth privately owned).
