SAD 5 Bus Contractor In Receivership But School Transportation Continues

Wood's Bus Service of Rockland has filed for bankruptcy and the business has been placed in the hands of a receiver, directors of School Administrative District 5 were told Thursday night. The firm has the contract to furnish transportation in the district. Chairman A. Alan Grossman told the board he was assured by receiver Harry Marcus of Portland that the school busses will be operated through the school year if it is in any way possible.

The Rockland firm also operates the public bus line for Thomaston, Rockland, Rockport and Camden plus a taxi business. At the October meeting the board extended Wood's contract because the firm said it would be able to refinance with a longer contract. Grossman said apparently Wood was not successful.

The firm filed for bankruptcy under chapter 11 of the Federal Bankruptcy Act and Marcus and Marcus of Portland was appointed receiver. Grossman said the law firm has posted a bond to carry out the receivership. The business will be operated by the law firm through Herbert C. (Buddy) Wood.

The board chairman pointed out the receiver would operate the business until the case comes into bankruptcy court in April. A performance bond held by Wood expires at the end of December. They are sold only on a one calendar year basis.

If the creditors should agree on a plan of operation the action could be withdrawn, Grossman said.

The board would have to seek a new transportation set up only if the court ordered the firm liquidated to satisfy creditors.

The total weight of insects on the world is believed to exceed the total weight of all animals of the land area of the earth. There are some 85,000 species of insects, some 10,000 of which are harmful to man.

Big Job Ahead For SAD Band Boosters

A new organization has a big task cut out for it but has put the shoulder to the wheel. The SAD Band Boosters have banded together to raise funds for new uniforms for the Rockland High School band and bids indicate the project will cost from $2700 upward to $3800. Mrs. Lawrence Lord is chairman of the group which is well underway trying to switch from the SAD Band Boosters to the GLAD band boosters. Seven different firms submitted bids ranging from $68 per uniform to $98 per uniform. Bids on majorette uniforms ranged from $60 to $70. No local clothing stores submitted bids. No action will be taken on bids until more money has been earned. The coffers now hold about $400 with many projects in the wind. Other officers are Mrs. Ronald Lord and Mrs. Natalie Mazzeo, secretaries, and Mrs. George Lilienthal, treasurer. Among upcoming projects are a candy sale, and a dance at Spruce Head on Dec. 3. The organization also has sent out 100 letters to business and professional people in the area.

Artist Who Gave Works To Soviet Union Never Made Offer To Farnsworth Museum Say Officials Of Boston Safe Deposit

The William A. Farnsworth Art Museum and Library has been given wide publicity as the result of Rockwell Kent, noted artist, giving his large collection of paintings to the Soviet Union. Kent, speaking in Moscow, said he had offered the collection valued at between $200,000 and $300,000 to the Farnsworth Museum but it was refused. A spokesman for the Boston Safe Deposit and Trust Company, trustees of the museum, said Kent's assertion is entirely untrue.

Some seven years ago, the museum was considering a one-man Rockwell Kent show. In talking with Kent about the possibilities of a show, Kent stated that he had some friends who would be willing to erect a new wing on the museum to house his work. Not only did nothing come of the offer, Kent subsequently came under fire of the so called McCarthy Committee for alleged Communist association. (Continued on Page Three)

Planning Has Part In Future Of 40-Fathom

Regional planning can play an important part in any possible expansion of Forty Fathom Fisheries the firm's purchasing agent Arthur N. Thurston, Jr., told the Knox County Regional Planning Commission at a regular meeting, Thursday night.

An excellent acceptance of the company's breaded portions product has started the firm to expand that part of its operation. As soon as space can be prepared at the Crockett Point plant, the breaded portions process will be expanded.

Thurston said particularly important in an expansion plan would be better water facilities at the Southend shipyard through dredging.

Other speakers were Hans Klunker of the James Sewall Company of Old Town and Stanley Weymouth of the State Highway Commission State Aid Road Department.

At the next meeting, Dec. 8, the Sewall Company will make a full progress report.

Rotary Christmas Concert Features Two Outstanding Choral Groups On Dec. 11

Two outstanding choral organizations will be presented by the Rockland Rotary Club, Dec. 11, in its annual Christmas Concert at the Rockland Community Building at 3:30 p. m.

This year the concert will be presented by the Bowdoin College Glee Club and Brunswick Choral Society, both under the direction of Prof. Robert K.

Beckwith. The program will consist of traditional Christmas music and the audience will be invited to join in the singing of some Christmas carols.

The proceeds from the annual Christmas concerts provide the funds for the Rotary Club Scholarship Fund, which is available to worthy students in this area.

New "Mac" At C. G. Mooring

A pair of "Macs" prepared to change places at the Rockland Coast Guard Mooring on Thursday. Chief Bos'n Mate Archie W. McLaughlin of 319 Broadway will retire on Dec. 1 and to replace him as officer in charge of the mooring will be Chief Bos'n Mate Leonard McClay, who arrived late Wednesday. Because Chief McLaughlin has leave time coming, Chief McClay arrived early to become familiar with the post before his predecessor departs.

Chief McLaughlin has spent much of his 20-year Coast Guard career in Maine. He is a native of Tenants Harbor and graduated from St. George High School in 1936. He enlisted in the Coast Guard at Battery Park in New York City in 1940. After serving at shore installations at Virginia Beach, Va., and New London, Conn., plus a tour of duty on the Coast Guard Cutter Dione, he was assigned to a life boat station at the mouth of the Kennebec River. During World War 2, he was stationed at Popham Beach and in small patrol craft in the Kennebec and Casco Bay areas.

The longest single tour was six years at Damariscove Life Boat Station off Boothbay. It since has been moved to Boothbay. As officer in charge of the Rockland Mooring for the past three years, he has been responsible for the base operation, and a 40-foot rescue craft.

The new officer in charge, Chief McClay, is a 30-year-old bachelor. He noted he has spent most of his 12 years in the Coast Guard at sea on rescue vessels. A native of Marblehead, Mass., he comes to Rockland from a short tour of shore duty at Providence, R. I.

Bids Sought For New SAD 5 High School To Be Opened In Rockland On December 15

SOUTH THOMASTON—Bids on a new million and a quarter dollar high school for School Administrative District 5 will be opened at the next regular meeting of directors, Dec. 15 at North School, it was voted at the November meeting at South Thomaston, Thursday night.

Advertisements for bids have been sent to newspapers, one of which appears in this edition of The Courier-Gazette. Others will appear in the Bangor and Portland papers.

The Maine insurance department has issued a permit to build the structure and the State Department of Education has asked for two minor changes in plans with respect to an extra exit in the auditorium and a set of doors to break up a long corridor.

The directors authorized the building committee to make the changes asked by the State Department and any minor changes the New England Fire Underwriters might request.

Supt. Bruce Kinney told the board all the necessary material has been sent to the First National Bank of Boston in preparation for floating the $1,250,000 bond issue approved at referendum last spring. Bonds will be floated when bids are in and a contract is set.

The building committee recommended that provision be made in an easement which the district is negotiating with Wilpas Sallinen, Lawn Avenue, to include a 'Y' in the sewer line from the new school to the main so that if Sallinen builds on the lot to be crossed by the line a home service could be added with little effort. The recommendation was accepted.

Car Demolished In North Haven

A 1954 sedan was completely demolished on Crabtree Road in North Haven Monday night at 9:30 when it glanced off a parked station wagon, overturned and came to rest against a telephone pole.

Robert Williams, 17, of North Haven told police that his view was obscured by a heavy fog and he saw the parked wagon too late to avoid it. Williams and his passenger, Victor M. Engberg of North Haven escaped injury.

Indictments Against Four Lincoln County Store Keepers For Smut Sales Filed In Court

WISCASSET — Four cases alleging the unlawful sale of obscene literature were filed without plea in Friday's session of Lincoln County Superior Court according to County Attorney Blinn Perkins. The person involved in another similar case did not appear Friday as he was on a hunting trip.

The four were: Byron Adams of Wiscasset, seven counts of unlawful sale of obscene literature; William Clark of Damariscotta, six counts of unlawful sale of obscene literature; Catherine Seader of Boothbay Harbor, seven counts of unlawful sale of obscene literature; and William Freeman of Waldoboro, four counts of unlawful sale of obscene literature. County Attorney Perkins made the motion to file the cases without plea. The cases were the first in the state to be brought against individual dealers, it is believed.

In Waldo County last spring a Bangor newsdealer, Herbert Kaufman, was indicted for the distribution of publications depicting lust, sadism, etc., and of distributing publications depicting lust only. The first indictment was filed after being continued to the October term of Waldo County Superior Court, and Kaufman was fined $50 on the second which he paid.

Old Law Doesn't Always Work: The supply of free speech always seems to exceed the demand.

CAMDEN STORE EXPANDS — The Tweed Shop, Friday afternoon, held a fashion show in connection with the completed enlargement of the store which added 200 square feet of floor space. Left to right are Mrs. Norman Cole, Mrs. Edwin Ames, Mrs. Frank Sawyer, and Mrs. Robert Smith. The removal of the office of the Smiling Cow Gift Shop made the expansion possible. Thomas Bland was the builder and Bert Brooks did the electrical work. The store was enlarged by about a quarter by the alteration. Photo by Bob Mayo

WHAT GOES UP MUST COME DOWN — Donald Robishaw of the Rockland Fire Department tosses a balloon into the net that formed the centerpiece of suspended decorations at the annual Firemen's Ball held Friday night in the Community Building. The net which contained 288 balloons was released during the height of festivities and the balloons cascaded down on the dancers below. The dance featured the music of Russell Jack and his orchestra. Shaw, Mrs. Neva Bennett, Mrs. Doris Pitcher and Mrs. Velma Harding. Miss Coppock and Winthrop Adams, Gray Man, who work in Togus every Monday, also assisted at the summer picnic given 27 patients by the Knox County Chapter. At the request of the Chaplain's Office they brought home to Camden a discharged patient. She said that playing cards were always needed; anyone having clean used packs kindly phone her at Cedar 6-2423.

Miss Doris Schirmer, chairman of Motor Corps, reported various trips made by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bland, Lew Tiffany, Neil Penbody and herself collecting furniture, clothing, cakes, transport a blood donor, the Chapter Junior Red Cross Chairman to the schools, and many things to Augusta State Hospital.

Mrs. Preston Wyson, Chairman of Production, said that she and her workers had made ditty bags, afghans, baby sets, beanies and washed and mended our flags. They will start shortly on ditty bags in red and green to be filled with Christmas presents for Togus and the Augusta State Hospital patients. It was voted that material and yarn be purchased for her department.

Mrs. David Hart, Water Safety Chairman, reported on her Free Swim Class held in conjunction with the 'Y' last summer. Mrs. Hart, Mrs. Edna Bland and Mrs. Florence Cotta registered 63 children; of these 50 completed the course, 18 received 'Y' certificates and 28 Red Cross Certificates. Instructors were William Lunt and Miss Anne Weymouth for the 'Y', and Mrs. David Getchell for Red Cross. They were assisted in the pool by David Ames, Donald Heal, Richard Cox, Thelma Leonard, Margaret McKee. The classes were strictly and efficiently taught, teachers well liked and the children very happy.

Miss Kent reported for Home Service four cases: one serviceman, one serviceman's family and two civilians; for Canteen Service, that a disaster unit was set up in the Baptist Church for Hurricane Donna. Those in charge were Mrs. Lillian Herrick, Mrs. Lucinda Waterman, Mrs. Alton Green, William Lunt and Mrs. Mary Goodman, R.N., on call. People were notified by WRKD of the location, families in low-lying areas advised to evacuate if situation became dangerous. Two townswomen took refuge there.

Regarding the return to the Camden and Rockport schools of the Junior Red Cross program this year, Miss Kent said that Miss Elizabeth Leavens, County Junior Red Cross Chairman, had given the superintendent a complete outline of the program to put before his board. The unit said it was very disappointed that both school boards turned down the program this year again.

For Disaster Relief and Donations, Miss Kent reported that furniture, clothing, china, magazines, books and records had been given the Branch by 12 people and the Auxiliary of the Camden Hospital. Most of these things had already been sent to Togus and Augusta State Hospital. Permission by the Hospital Board had been granted through Robert Laite to store in the basement with the C-D Disaster material some beds, springs and mattresses until needed.

Regarding the Walking Blood Bank, which has called many donors for both hospitals in the county since 1952, the board felt that as Dr. Albert Hunter would shortly have a file of more than 1000 typed donors the hospitals would no longer need assistance except in time of emergency and would retire the service. Dr. Hunter and the chairman agreed that if either needed the help of the other organization it would be forthcoming.

Tickets can be bought from Miss Kent for an illustrated Lecture on "Hawaii and its Volcanos" by Mrs. Pauline Biggs, to be held Monday at 8 p. m. in the Congregational Church, Rockland, for the benefit of the Knox County Chapter of the Red Cross.

Those present were William Morris, Miss Marion Coppock, Mrs. David Hart, Mrs. Ann Foster, Miss Doris Schirmer, Miss Helen Toombs, Mrs. Kadio Gardner and Mrs. D. Preston Wyson.

How Not To Get Lost In Woods

AUGUSTA — The often frightening event of being lost in the woods can be avoided, just as hunting accidents can, by using common sense and taking certain precautions.

One of the most important of these safeguards, according to the Maine Department of Inland Fisheries and Game, is letting someone know where you will be hunting. Your family should know, and so should the game warden in the area, as well as the operator of a hunting camp if you are using a commercial lodge. The license number of your car should also be known to these people.

If you're not too familiar with the area, be extremely careful; it's easy to get turned around in the woods, especially on cloudy days when there's no sun to guide you. Carrying a compass and a topographical map of the area is a good idea (be sure the map is handled so that it doesn't flash white in the woods).

If you have a compass but no map, keep landmarks in mind. Glance behind you now and then to see how the land looks from the other direction.

If you should get lost, try to keep calm. Panic will only make the situation worse because it destroys your ability to think straight. Sit down somewhere and think things out. Decide on a course of action and follow it. If you're not too far from where you entered the woods, and you know someone knows about where you are, sit tight. Signal shots — three, spaced equally — may direct searchers to you.

Build a fire in a safe place and keep it smoky by loading on green growth or leaves. Be sure it doesn't get out of control. The smoke can be seen for a long distance, especially to wardens in the planes that will be searching for you. If you can find an open space or a hilltop or the edge of a lake or stream, stay there where you can be spotted most easily from the air. Don't try to cross a bog or swamp, and don't try to travel at night.

You'll be much more comfortable, though lost, if you have something to eat, such as some chocolate, cheese, raisins, or other food with plenty of energy giving qualities. If you have remembered to take a hatchet and a sharp jackknife with you, you can build a shelter if you're out overnight. A flashlight could come in handy, too. And your matches should be kept in a waterproof container. Gather plenty of firewood before it gets dark.

Keeping your head will reduce getting lost to nothing more than an unpleasant experience. Using your head before entering the woods will minimize the chances of being lost in the first place.

St. George

The Ladies' Circle of the Wiley's Corner Baptist Church met with Mrs. Dorothy Rackliff of Spruce Head Nov. 15. Mrs. Ardelle Hazelton, president, was in charge of the business meeting. Mrs. Winnie Milne, Love Gift chairman, presented a short play, "Thank You For Calling", with Mrs. Hazelton and Mrs. Marion Barnes acting the two speaking roles. Mrs. Betty Kinney gave a paper on the Pilgrims and the first Thanksgiving following the opening of the Love Gift boxes. A choir number was sung without accompaniment by five members of the church choir, Leola Robinson, Etta Hall, Ena Hawkins, Dora Hawkins, and Mrs. Barnes. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Rackliff at the close of the program, assisted by Mrs. Agnes Elwell.

A PROJECT WORTHY OF YOUR ASSISTANCE

On Tuesday, the trustees of the Home for Aged Women on North Main Street will hold their annual Donation Day. It is on this one day each year that the public is asked to donate foods for the home which may range from the easily kept staples such as sugar and flour to all manner of canned fruits, vegetables, juices and milk as well as jams, jellies and potatoes. Cash donations will be most acceptable to the trustees who are charged with the operation of the home which houses several aged women. The Home is not an institution supported by public funds, but must depend upon the generosity of the public and the efforts of the dedicated women who make up the board. They ask your assistance this year. Donations may be left at the home any day now, or during a call at the home during the hours of the Donation Tea Tuesday afternoon from two to four o'clock.

MAKE PLANS FOR SPRING FUND CAMPAIGN BY KNOX COUNTY RED CROSS GROUP

Plans for the annual Red Cross Fund Drive to be held in March were made at a meeting of the executive committee and the board of directors of Knox County Chapter, American Red Cross, Monday evening, at the headquarters on School Street. A report was given on tickets sold for the "Tour of Hawaii", a benefit motion picture show to be given by Mrs. Pauline Biggs for the Red Cross, Nov. 21.

Horatio C. Cowan, chairman, reported on the work of the chapter for the past month: 444 hours were given at Togus by the volunteer Gray Men and Ladies, this was more than twice the number of hours given by any other chapter. In production, 20 pairs of slippers, 41 ditty bags and 67 Christmas bags and 11 birthday cakes were sent to Togus.

The members of the eighth class of Nurses Aides in training at Knox County General Hospital completed the theory of the course and are working in the hospital under supervision.

Junior Red Cross shows enrollment in 10 schools in the county, representing 1,368 boys and girls.

Their contribution of school work to Togus in October was 345 Halloween tray mats, 215 tray favors, 49 nut cups and cross-word puzzles. Miss Leavens went to the Lewiston-Auburn Chapter as the State Consultant in Junior Red Cross.

At the Knox Hospital there are 13 Gray Ladies working as hostesses during visiting hours in the afternoon — some are to be trained to relieve at the switchboard over the supper hour.

There were 30 Home Service cases served through the office in the past month. Three Nurses Aides served as volunteers at the Tuberculosis x-ray clinic.

John R. Egerton, recently appointed Area Fund Chairman, has been visiting chapters and attending meetings. Clothing was collected and given to victims of a one family fire and two layettes furnished to two families. Two Senior Girl Scouts, Ann Walker and Carol Aho of Rockland are serving weekly as office aides. Letters have been sent to organizations asking if they are interested in helping in the annual Red Cross Christmas program at the Augusta State Hospital.

FUTURE OF NEW SHARON PLANT OF MEDOMAK CANNING RAZED BY FIRE NOT DETERMINED

WINSLOWS MILLS — Plans for the New Sharon operation of the Medomak Canning Company which was razed by fire, Saturday, have not been decided, Theodore Bird, head of the firm, said Wednesday. The near million dollar blaze wiped out that Franklin County town's only non-agricultural industry.

Bird said the company has been busy since Saturday evaluating the loss. He also said, "It is only fair to the people of New Sharon to let them know first when we make a decision." The plant, under the management of Sebastian Groder, formerly of Rockland, was virtually flattened by the flames which were discovered early Saturday. Firemen from several surrounding towns battled valiantly but were unable to contain the fire.

Medomak Canning bought the plant in 1934 and canned squash, pumpkin, corn and string beans. The pumpkin and squash went into the firm's well known brand of One Pie pie fillings. Not only did the plant employ some 200 people during the packing season but served as the market for vegetables grown on farms in the New Sharon area. The town is located nine miles from Farmington.

Artist

Wendall Hadlock, Museum director, was quoted in Boston as saying that there was no concrete offer of the collection ever made and in regard to the one-man show that no dates ever were set.

The bank spokesman said, "Mr. Kent's actions (in giving the collection to Russia) speaks for itself."

God gave women a wonderful sense of humor, so they wouldn't be laughing at men all the time.

A WHOLE OF A TALE OF A NAME . . .

A Mussel Is A Muscle, Is A Moscule, Is A Muskyl

Correct spelling of proper names has been a headache of the newspaper business since the first papers were lifted from the hand press. Mrs. Clemmie Pease of Owls Head can offer a bit of sympathy in view of her experience on behalf of the new historical society in the Owls Head-South Thomaston area.

In the formation stages, it was decided to name the society for the channel which runs up by Owls Head and South Thomaston.

The charts said MUSCLE RIDGE but the dictionary said MUSSEL. So it was up to Historian Clemmie to find the correct spelling.

Social Security Offered To Hot Lunch Workers

SOUTH THOMASTON — Workers in the hot lunch program of School Administrative District 5 may become covered by Social Security after Jan. 1 if they so desire, it was voted by the directors of the district, Thursday night, at Gilford Butler School.

About 16 to 20 workers would be affected. Any new employees automatically would come under social security. The hot lunch group was the only one not covered by some kind of retirement system.

The board approved hiring Ralph Hopkins as part-time janitor at the Gilford Butler School in South Thomaston. His salary was set at $32.50 per week for a 30-hour week.

An official seal for the district was adopted. It was a combination of two of several sketches by Owls Head artist Everett Blether, who is assistant advertising manager for The Courier-Gazette.

Additional insurance coverage was voted to cover any water damage from accidental discharge of sprinkler heads at the high school and McLain School buildings. It covers anything but fire which comes under other coverage. The total cost per year is $94.94. The insurance committee noted that installing sprinkler systems in the two buildings has dropped the rate.

VFW Offer

An offer to build at least one and possibly more bus stop shelters from the Rockland Veterans of Foreign Wars Post was accepted with thanks. The post will build the shelter and place it where the board directs. Walter Dow, post commander, said his group originally had planned to put up a shelter near Sam Gray's Store on Camden Street but would be happy to place it anywhere the board said. The transportation committee will work with the VFW on placement. Dow said the shelter would cost about $40.

A special meeting was set for Dec. 8 to elect a new chairman following the Dec. 5 city election in Rockland. Unopposed for re-election are Chairman A. Alan Grossman and Dr. Russell Abbott.

Food Sense—Not Nonsense

By MARJORIE MAYO

Families will be gathered around the festive board Thursday to celebrate Thanksgiving, the most American of all holidays. People will be traveling from all parts of the country to be with their relatives to give thanks for all blessings received during the year. The happy voices of children and adults will be blended with the wonderful odors of the bounteous feast being prepared in kitchens all over America.

The first Thanksgiving dates back to 1621, when the Pilgrims instituted a day of feasting and prayer giving thanks for the harvest from their new gardens and for the fact that they had survived their first year in this country. With Indians as guests, the women of the Pilgrim colony served from tables set up outdoors, game, fish, wild fruits from the forest, cornbread, and vegetables from their gardens. They had spent days preparing this feast which included wild turkey and venison.

The sources of my information dispute the actual date of this feast of thanksgiving, so I am unable to quote the exact day that our Pilgrim Fathers gathered with their Indian friends for this harvest festival. One source says it was Dec. 13, 1621, another October of that year, and another states that it was just after the harvest. Whatever day it was celebrated, it is the origin of our modern Thanksgiving Day. President Lincoln in 1864, issued a proclamation in which he "appointed and set aside" the last Thursday in November as a national day of thanksgiving.

Today with all the modern conveniences, the housewife can prepare a sumptuous Thanksgiving dinner for her visiting relatives in a very short time.

Following is a delicious menu:

- Onion Flavored Cream Cheese
- Frozen Peas Creamed Onions
- Mashed Turnip or Squash
- Tossed Salad Olives Pickles
- Cranberry Sauce Hot Rolls

- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup molasses
- 6 tablespoons shortening
- 2 cups flour
- 1 cup raisens or dates cut up
- 1 teaspoon soda
- 1 teaspoon salt
- Cream sugar and shortening, add molasses and beat. Sift together flour, salt, and soda, adding to the mixture alternately with the milk. Save out enough of the flour to sprinkle over the fruit. Fold fruit into the mixture. Pour into a greased pudding mold, cover and steam for two hours. Serve with hard sauce or nutmeg sauce.

The recipe for my squash muffins which was printed some time ago had the amount of flour left out. I am repeating the recipe here. These muffins could be served with the Thanksgiving dinner menu.

- 1 cup squash
- 1 egg
- 1/2 cup sweet milk
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 2 cups flour
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 2 tablespoons shortening
- Put squash in mixing bowl, add sugar and beaten egg and mix thoroughly. Add milk and flour mixture, beat until flour is dampened. Either dry or watery squash may be used, but if watery, use less milk. Fill greased muffin pans two-thirds full and bake 25 minutes in a 425° F. oven.

TO GIVE THANKS

Danny and Tess took part in the Thanksgiving tableau at school last week, and they did a good job. As I looked at them, I thought of the real Pilgrim children and that first Thanksgiving.

Our forefathers weren't inoculated against childhood illnesses. They didn't have miracle drugs and warm clothes. They certainly didn't have more than they could eat. They faced incredible hardships, with 10 bright toys for special rewards, no candy bars. But they knelt down in the cold with their parents and gave thanks to God just for being alive.

Can we do less today? Can we possibly do less, this Thanksgiving, than go to Church and humbly give thanks to our Creator for His wonderful gift of life?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

A Lunchbox "Must"

WHEN the school bell rings, Mother once again starts thinking of the body-building protein which should be included in every lunchbox. Meaty Maine Sardines are extremely high in protein and are the perfect filling for delectable sandwiches. As a plus factor, these sardines are also rich in calcium and other minerals and tend to build muscles instead of fat.

EDUCATION AND BOOK WEEKS
BUSY TIMES AT UNION SCHOOL

UNION — Throughout American Education Week, Nov. 6 to 12, there were 91 visitors calling on the grade pupils and their teachers at Union Central School. Sixty-six parents and friends visited classes; while 25 persons attended a tea sponsored by the grade faculty members. A short musical program was presented by Freeman Garniss. Charlotte Nute and Nancy Prescott of the Future Teachers Club of Union High School poured and served refreshments. A special welcome was extended to Miss Harriet Williams, a former veteran teacher in Union High School.

In observance of National Book Week, Nov. 13 to 19, the grade school pupils had as special guest, Mrs. Robert Farris, librarian of Union. Mrs. Farris visited all pupils in grades one through five. She brought to them a timely message concerning books and made an outstanding contribution in creating interests among pupils to visit the library and to read more books. NOTES OF A POULTRYMAN

By Henry Teague

As every egg producer knows, production of eggs in a good healthy flock should rise rapidly to a peak of 85 per cent or more and then gradually decline for the next 10 months or so. If the flock is really good, it should average above 65 per cent for the year on a hen-housed basis. That would give an average rate of lay per bird of 240 eggs.

There are so many pitfalls along the way that very few if any poultrymen can boast of this production year after year, although I know quite a few who have flocks of this quality quite frequently.

There seems to be some years when flocks as a whole do better than other years. It is sad to relate, but what information I have obtained indicates that this current laying year is not one of the best. Many flocks are peaking at 75 per cent or less.

There are many reasons why a flock never attains an 85 per cent peak but when the problem is quite general, a general diagnosis is really hard to come by. Trouble in specific cases can start away back in the breeder flock. The next spot of trouble can be in handling and care of eggs and problems do occur during the time the chicks are being transported if the truck is too hot or too cold.

How much protection does the poultryman have during this time which is wholly out of his control? None at all is the answer. If the chicks are definitely in poor condition when they arrive the hatchery will generally refund on chicks lost during the first few days. The result may be a short flock for the space allowed in the laying house. Worse still, there may be a lot of chicks which survive the grace period which have been damaged enough so that they never fully recover.

Actually, I believe that a poultryman should refuse to accept anything but a flock of chicks in top condition. The financial loss is altogether too great.

The poultryman has plenty of problems to contend with after the chicks arrive without assuming financial responsibility for problems that are not of his making.

K-L Extension Membership Nears 1,000 Mark For '61

Knox-Lincoln County Extension Association membership is nearing the 1000 mark according to a release from President Ted Ross of Alna. The Association is the local unit cooperating with the Maine Extension Service and the USDA and forwards 4-H club, agricultural and home demonstration educational work in the County.

At present, there are 312 men and 615 women who have joined for 1961. Of the 1190 members for 1960, 67.6% have renewed. There are 804 renewals and 123 new members. Included are 158 family memberships.

Largest community group is Union where Community Chairman Barbara Moody reports 63 members so far. This equals last year's membership in that group. Other women's groups that are within one of last year's membership, or groups having gone over last year's totals are Cushing, Owl's Head, West Rockport, Sheepscot, Thomaston (with 100% renewal) Walpole, and Warren Day. Chairmen of these groups are: Jeannette Orff, Joyce Willet, Dorothy McCormick, Winona Chase, Eleanor Clark, Elizabeth Rice and Athleen Damon.

One hundred percent renewed men's groups, and their chairmen are: Alna, Ted Ross; Appleton, Roland Gushue; Bunker Hill, Eben Haggett; Edgcomb, Melville Greenleaf; and West Rockport, Henry Keller. Dresden, Thomaston and Hope each need only one more to equal last year's totals. Chairmen of their groups are Frank Houdette, Hil Seekins and Ralph Wentworth. Although not 100% renewed, Washington, Willard Ware, chairman, reports one more member than last year.

Membership Chairman Millard Clark points out the advantages of Extension: to the county learning to live and work better for our individual benefits as well as community and county benefits through the work of agents in Agriculture, Gil Jaeger; Home Demonstration, Miss Patricia Leavitt; and 4-H Clubs, Mrs. Loana Shibles. All interested in this work are urged to join. Dues may be given to those above, or sent to the office, box 415, Rockland. Dues are only $2 for men, $1.50 for women or $3 for husband and wife membership.

Patty's Potpourri

Miss Patricia Leavitt
H. D. A.

"Tis easy to see, hard of foresee" so said Benjamin Franklin. Perhaps as we look around in our homes, our town, and our county we realize how true this is.

In a recent magazine I found this depressing note, but if it helps you to be more careful of ordinary household supplies storage, I'll be glad that I included it in this week's column. A little 16-month old Oregon girl was playing with the many intriguing boxes found under the kitchen sink. She ate some of the detergent used in automatic dish-washers which was kept handy there. "When seen by a physician an hour and a half afterward, her windpipe had swollen nearly shut and it was necessary to perform a tracheotomy to permit her to breathe." For 24 hours she seemed to be doing well but then her condition changed and the second day she died.

Each year more than 2,500 people die from accidentally swallowing this type of product. Nine tenths of these victims are children under five. Usually these are not neglected children either. We need to prevent this type of accident; in most cases common sense is the prevention. Look in your cupboards, medicine cabinets, garage. Remember what detectives small children are.

If your extension group wants to nominate a person for Outstanding Homemakers, the next four weeks is the time to do this according to a University of Maine dispatch. These should be sent in to the County Office by Dec. 15. Last year we had a winner, Mrs. Martha Campbell, Warren. I'm sure we could have another if nomination forms were completed.

If you've done your weekly shopping, perhaps you've taken the time to paste your stamps in the booklet. Something new in the last few years? Heavens no! The first use of premiums began in 1851 when a soap manufacturer began offering premiums with the purchase of his soap. The trading stamp well known today came into use shortly before 1900. At first this growth was slow and confined to gasoline stations and hardware stores. Then in 1950 food stores picked up the plan and now over 56 percent of the nation's stamp business is done by the retail store.

Locally grown hardy vegetables: beets, cabbage, carrots, spinach, potatoes, turnips, and the many squashes are good values now. A variety of vegetable salads should be easy for you. Program scheduling meetings are coming up beginning Nov. 30. The schedule for the meetings is Nov. 30, Farnsworth Rockland; Dec. 1, Wiscasset Court House; Dec. 2, Waldoboro Municipal Building; Dec. 5, Methodist Church, Union. These will help all new Extension officers set up next year's program.

If you're a Grange member and follow the many fall contests closely, perhaps you know that Cecil Blanchard won second prize in the State Grange Baking Contest. That's my aunt, I'm proud to say! For this week's recipe, I'll use her winner as I'm sure she would

NOMINATIONS AS TOP FARMERS AND HOMEMAKERS TO BE MADE BY ANYONE IN COMING WEEKS

ORONO—During the next four weeks is the time for people in Maine to nominate individuals to be considered as Maine's Outstanding Farmers and Homemakers. So reported today H. Earl Megquier of Gray, president of the Maine Extension Association.

By Jan. 1, 1961 each County Extension Association will forward the name of one farmer and one home maker to be considered by a state committee.

The committee will select the four nominees to be honored by the University of Maine at Farm and Home Week next spring. The plan under which selections are made reads, "Anyone at Any Time may nominate a person as an Outstanding Farmer or Homemaker." It's important that county Extension offices receive nominations prior to Dec. 15. All 16 County Extension offices have blanks that individuals may use in making nominations. Organized groups should not make nominations.

Anyone who wants further information about the plan may write, phone, or see one of his County Extension agents or he may contact the Maine Extension Association, Winslow Hall, Orono.

The University of Maine first honored Outstanding Farmers and Homemakers in 1929. In all, 69 farmers and 68 homemakers have been honored at Farm and Home Week over the past 31 years.

Last year's recipients of this award were Woodbury L. Berce, of Washburn; Martha L. Campbell of Warren; Vaughn E. Hurd of Knox; and Katherine W. Nuite of South Sangerville.

THE GRANGE CORNER

NORTH HAVEN GRANGE

By Lucy Hopkins

The ladies of North Haven Grange will meet at the lodge hall on Saturday, Nov. 19, in the afternoon to tack a quilt. Any male members who have the time to spare are asked to come and do odd jobs around the hall. Nancy Crockett and Sharon Beverage have volunteered to paint the sign. A pot luck supper will be served at 6 o'clock followed by the regular meeting and the new officers will be installed at that time by Mrs. Winnie Ames.

SEVEN TREE GRANGE

By Aubrey Hawes

Twenty members from our Grange attended the installation at Pioneer Grange Wednesday evening and our officers were inducted into office along with officers of Pioneer and South Hope Granges. State Deputy Ronald Dolloff and his staff did a very efficient job considering the difficulties under which they worked installing three granges at one time.

We entertained 13 members from the Traveling Grange group at our meeting Wednesday evening, Nov. 9.

During the business session it was voted to list our meeting nights in the Band Calendar again this year.

Sister Mildred Burns reported a new flag standard was awarded to Seven Tree Juvenile Grange for being an honor Grange this past year.

Bessie Carroll gave an interesting report of State Grange session to which she was a delegate.

OCEAN VIEW GRANGE

Brian Routledge was re-elected master of Ocean View Grange at Martinsville at the meeting Nov. 14. Other officers, who will be installed in a semi-public session at a later date, are: Nancy Link, overseer; Shirley Bicknell, lecturer; Richard Wall, steward; Jim Chadwick, assistant steward; Montford Hupper, chaplain; Ethel Coffin, treasurer; Rachel Routledge, secretary; Arthur Carter, gatekeeper; Phyllis Chadwick, Ceres; Louise Wilson, Pomona; Virginia Fay, Flora; Meta Holley, lady assistant steward; and Everett Watts, member of the executive committee.

Mrs. Mildred Pierson acted as secretary for the evening. A donation was voted to the Home for Little Wanderers. The $100 bond won for community service was bought at face value by the Earnest Grangers Club and the money added to the furnace fund. Detailed estimates for installing this furnace are to be brought before the Grange at the next meeting. Reported ill were Mrs. Nina Hooper and Mrs. Robert McKinney who are patients at Knox Hospital. Cards were signed for them.

The lecturer's program opened with the opening thought by Mrs. Coffin and a stunt game was played by all present under the leadership of the incoming lecturer, Mrs. Bicknell. A comedy skit was given by Brothers Hupper, Watts, Chadwick and Link. Mrs. Barbara Hupper was at the piano for the program. A musical game was won by Mrs. Link and the lecturer's march by Larry Daniel. Happy Birthday was sung to Miss Marilyn Wiley. The closing thought was given by Mrs. Fay.

Serving on the refreshment committee for the Nov. 21 meeting will be Mrs. Harriet Tibbetts, Mrs. Virginia Wall and Miss Wiley.

The Earnest Grangers met with Mrs. Routledge Nov. 17 to complete plans for a Christmas fair and supper which will be held at the Grange Hall Dec. 12.

MAPLE GRANGE

The regular meeting of Maple Grange was held with Douglas Ross in the chair. Installation of officers was held with Deputy Ronald Dolloff of Meenahga Grange and his installing staff presiding. He was assisted by Lillian Dolloff, Helen Carpenter, Dora Sukeforth, Pamela DiNapoli, Wilbur Vannah and Ida Bennett.

The following officers were installed: Master, Dorothy Ross; overseer, Harold Smith; lecturer, Douglas Ross; steward, John Reed, Jr.; assistant steward, Elaine Reed; chaplain, Patricia Mank; treasurer, Elizabeth Weaver; secretary, Florence Smith; gatekeeper, David Lawson; lady assistant steward, Patricia Walter.

Flora, Ceres, Pomona and executive committee will be installed at a later date. The work was beautifully done and much appreciated.

At the next meeting we will have "musical bingo" for a program. Visitors were present from several Granges. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

GEORGES VALLEY GRANGE
Our 1961 officers were installed at our regular meeting Nov. 15 by Past Deputy Lester Delano and staff of Acorn Grange. His staff was thus Delano, who later was emblem bearer, too; and marshal, Evelyn Delano; regalia bearer, Irene Delano; chaplain, Annie Doe; and pianist, Fannie Davis. Much credit is certainly due this perfect team. Congratulations Lester.

Officers installed were: Master, Clifton Fuller; overseer, Joseph Moody; lecturer, Sheila Hart; steward, Charles Griffin; assistant steward, Kenneth Stockbridge; chaplain, Marguerite Griffin; secretary, Hilda Stockbridge; gatekeeper, Frank Hart, Sr.; and Flora, Edna Gurney, a 50-year member. The remaining officers will be installed later.

A reinstatement was received and yours truly understands several deaths will be coming in soon. Maybe Georges Valley will not die after all.

The appointed officers were appointed but I did not get the list from the master so will be printed later.

Maynard Brown remains at Camden Community Hospital.

County Agent's Corner

By Gilbert Jaeger,
County Agent

Dear Farmer:

The last two days were spent in a Poultry Refresher course. The Poultry may have been refreshed, but this was a solid two days of interesting items. First, we visited some farms and had them discuss with us, their poultry enterprises.

The first farm we visited was William Moeller's plan in Washington. The others were fully automated houses with slats, pit cleaner, etc.

At Bill's place, our recent time studies show that he is handling eggs at the rate of 7.2 minutes per 100 eggs. At another farm, fully automated; the plan, if it works, will handle eggs at the rate of seven minutes per 100. There are some who feel that the amount of labor estimated for the plan at this automated farm is a bit low. Regardless, we cannot help but wonder how far one should go to invest all this money involved at 12% interest (which one man said he is paying) if, by using our imagination and ingenuity, we can do the same thing for only about $300 cash outlay as Bill has. This is our fans, automatic feeders and waterers.

Incidentally, both farms particularly involved here have the same marketing system i.e., plant grading.

Take a check on your own egg handling time. Are you in or out of line? We spent a considerable amount of time on ventilation with three equipment dealers taking part in the discussion. As a result, I still sincerely hope that anyone planning fan ventilation will talk to me before, after, they buy fans.

I was impressed by the constant improvements in the diagnostic work being done at Orono. They are receiving, more and more, only the more difficult problems. The length of time needed for proper study and diagnosis was discussed and we can appreciate it. For instance, several procedures require two days to complete and, due to facility and personnel limitations, can only be done twice a week. Others require five days of procedure before the resultant tissue specimens can be examined for diagnosis. There is no known way to speed these things up, either. More on these and other items next week.
