Peaks Island House

HOUSE FILLED FOR MONTH OF AUGUST.

Many New Arrivals During the Past

Last week saw the biggest influx of visitors at the house this season, over 120 new guests arriving for stays of some duration, while counting in the transient visitors, a number several times the size of that figure was reached. The season this year has been very satisfactory in spite of the discouraging weather and the first part of August and the numbers of new arrivals have encour aged Prop. R. E. Rowe greatly. Most of those at the hotel now are planning to remain for the rest of the month or up to Labor Day, so that it seems probable that the hotel will be well filled until its close.

The usual Sunday evening concert was given last week and proved a most excellently rendered one. The numbers, which were almost without exception ones well-known by the audience, were played with much ar-Mr. Plummer Nevins of Lewiston tistic feeling and understanding; and the Jordan White cottage, "Linting the efforts of the musicians were greatly appreciated by those fortunate enjoy a most delightful vacation.

He is a graduate of Pratt Institute in Brooklyn, and is an expert illustrator, it being under the direction of Mr. Rowe that his attention was first turned to this line of work. A very clever little specimen of his work was the poster put up last week to advertise the mask ball which is to be held in the hotel ballroom on Friday of this week.

Mrs. Tilden has been at Chebeague for the first part of the summer season. Professor Tilden is last week for a week's stay at "Bonprofessor of civil engineering at the Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore.

S. DeWitt Lent and Miss Charlotte Eliot Lent of New York City arrived here last week for a stay of several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Sinsheimer of New York who have been guests here for the past month left last week for their home after a delightful stay. One of the most delightful features of the summer this year have been the two musical recitals given by Mr. and Mrs. Sinsheimer at Cottage Hall, which were both attended by practically the entire summer colony.

Other arrivals of the past week include Mrs. Dudgeon and Miss Edith Dudgeon of East Orange, N. J.: A. Holden of Springfield. Mass.; Miss Jennie Sloane of Ard-more, Pa.; Mrs. A. H. Everett and Miss E. Everett of New York.

The Johnson.

During the past several summers the Johnson has been one of the leading hotels at Bailey Island, and this year is proving no exception. Since early in July the house has been practically filled and is booked so for the remainder of the season. The reasons for this are not hard to find as the comfort and attention afforded the guests here are always apparent to the most casual visitor.

A delightful picnic was held by some of the guests here on Monday of last week at Great Mosher Island, the trip over being made by motor boat. Those who participated were: Miss Julia Kleiman, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Ford and Mr. James Satterthwaite.

Esther A. Hunt of Milton, them here, as well as Mr. James F. Mitchell of the same city.
Mrs. E. R. Olin and Mrs.

rived here last week for an extended outing. With them are Miss Adele A. Frank and Miss Ida I Frank and Miss Ida L. Woolworth, also of Brooklyn.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert P. Lansdale of Rochester, N. Y., with their sons Mr. H. P. Lansdale, Jr., and Mr. Robert Lansdale, were among the more recent arrivals at this house.

The Seaside.

The home-like Seaside House is as always doing a very fine business this year. The transient and regular trade has been very satisfactory to the proprietor, Mrs. F. E. Cram, and indeed it has been one of the best years the house has known since its establishment several years ago. Mrs. Cram is an excellent cook and boarders find their table well supplied at all times with an abundance of wholesome, well-cooked food in variety enough to suit even the most fastidious. The bookings for the remainder of the season have been most satisfactory and give promise of rounding out in suitable fashion a season that has been well up to the average since the opening of the house early in June.

July was a very good month with the hotel well filled all through the greater part of the month and August is always a banner part of the year. The guests at the house are never at a loss for ways to spend summer hours happily. Boating and fishing parties are as popular as ever this year, while cards and music limve their devotees as well among the guests.

Mrs. B. G. Jones of the east end summer colony is entertaining her sister of Montreal, Canada, here for a few days.

One of the prettiest events of the season here was the marriage of Miss Grace McVane of the island to Sergeant John Oliver Brown of New Jersey. The bride, who is the daughter of Captain Peter McVane, is well known and popular on the island. The groom is connected with the Medical Department of the U.S. Army with headquarters at Fort Mott, New Jersey. The wedding took place at 3.30 in the afternoon, and Rev. Arthur Leigh of Portland and Yarmouth was the officiating clergyman. The bride was charmingly dressed in white crepe meteor with shadow lace trimmings, and her veil was caught with ferns and she carried roses. The Sampson c, Earl Evans 1b, Morriss best man was George Johnson of the Muran 2b, Allan Hill 3b, Edgar Cobb island, and the maid of honor Miss Annie MacVane, a sister of the bride. The flower girls were Virginia Swett and Alice Leigh. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride on Beach avenue, at which refreshments of ice cream, cake, fruit, punch, etc., were served. After the reception the bride and groom left in Mr. C. T. Swett's yacht for Yarmouth to spend a short time with Mr. and Mrs. Leigh, after which they went on a trip, but will be at home at Fort Mott, N. J., soon. GOOD ROADS.

We have several times before remarked in our columns upon the general need of good roads in the bay. On most of the islands the majority of the roads are almost backwoods trails, pretty and attractive enough perhaps, but hardly the thing for carriage or automobile traffic such as most of the islands have. Moreover, these roads are poorly kept up and indeed, as a rule, rarely attended to in any way at all. We can remember back in the times when bicycles were so much in favor, a little book issued for cylists in rule in relict in the second for cylists. issued for cyclists in which mention was made of the fine shellroads at Chebeague. It seems a good deal as if the inhabitants of that island were still living on their past glories in this respect. To be sure the shell roads are still there, both of them, but they form only a small part of the number of miles of road on the whole island. And the other roads are almost without exception, poor. The roads at the other islands are in much the same condition. Dusty and sandy in dry weather, and god old-fashioned mudholes in wet, they are bad for walking, driving or any other use to which a road is usually put. It seems to us that one of the most effective ways by which to remedy this state of affairs and provide for high-ways of which the islands might justly be proud would be through the agency of improvement societies. Some of the islands already have such organizations and they have as a rule, done good and effective work. Let them turn their attention to this cry ing need and perhaps the situation will be relieved.

Cliff Island

Aucocisco House, middle of August finds the Aucociso taking its accustomed place in the social life of the bay. Situated as it is on a charming island, where there is every facility at hand for enjoyment, it is no wonder that the people flock to it in such numbers that its accommodations are all tak-en early in the summer until the closing date. Then, too, the accommodations themselves are worthy of the best, for they are kept up to a very high standard, and no pains are spared to have everything just exactly right for each individual guest.

Although last week was rather foggy, the guests at the house made themselves comfortable at the hotel itself, or took their daily jaunts to places of interest on the island. With ing date. Then, too, the accommodaplaces of interest on the island. With the coming of the nice weather, boat-ing and fishing trips are the order of the day.

The past week was a notable one as far as new arrivals are concerned, a very unusually large number arriv-ing and booking accommodations. Among these are noted people from New York, Cambridge, Massachusetts, Spencer, Philadelphia, Baltimore, East Orange and Fishkill-on-Hudson. The complete list of the guests will be found on page seven as usual in the register of tourists.

The Aucocisco people were active participants in the Library Sale yes-terday and a large share of credit goes to them for its success.

These people are all enthusiastic about the island in general as an ideal place to spend a quiet vacation, and praise the Beeches as an ideal place for their headquarters while

Library Sale.

The long looked-for and long-awaited library sale took place yesterday, and all the expectations and desires of the promoters were realized in the highest degree. The attendance on the sale was large, the donations generous, the service excellent and the whole affair was a success from the beginning to the end. No pains were spared by the ladies in charge of the sale to make everything go smoothly and to them goes the major share of credit. The thanks of the committee is extended to all who in any way helped to make the sale a success, for the worthy object, money for the island library, commended itself to everyone on the island, and they responded generously, as they always have, to the call. The amount cleared has not yet been determined, but will be appear as soon as a prounced in this paper as soon as he is a prounced in this paper as soon as he is a prounced in this paper.

> Mrs. Theo Shields has announced a class in Ear Training and Songs on Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings for the remainder of the season. Already the class is a success and many are in attendance each session. Mrs. C. M. Valentine of Closter, J., arrived Tuesday last at the island for a visit at the Plack cottage as guest of Mrs. Plack. The usual church service was held ast Sunday afternoon in the church sible. building on Church Road, with Rev. Mr. Kloman officiating. Mr. Kloman will come every Sunday for the remainder of the season it is expected. Dr. C. B. Cragin of Rondout, N. J., left last Friday from Mr. George W. There was a Christian Science service held last Sunday at 5 n. m. at vice held last Sunday at 5 p. m. at Redfern cottage. These services will be continued for the rest of the summer at the same place and hour. It will be remembered that last year there was a "pop" concert after the Library Sale which was very successful. This year something a little out of the ordinary was tried again with much success. This was a combination concert and vaudeville held in the Library Building on Satur-day night, instead of the night of the A large number of people were present, and were delighted with the various and numerous selections and numbers. Almost everyone on the island who is a regular summer resident took his part in the affair and it was a decided success from start to finish.

Little Diamond I.

This "gem of Casco Bay" is enjoying a fine season. Almost all of the cottagers are back again and are en-joying their vacations and are entertaining many guests from near and far. The new casino near the steamer pier is proving its worth as a center for the social life of the island, just as Elwell hall is for its sister island, Great Diamond. The people of the island are deserving of great credit for the erection of this casino, for it was only about two weeks after the idea was suggested that the casino was dedicated with appropriate ceremonies. Although the weath-cago, Ill., are being pleasantly entertained at present by Mr. and Mrs. George P. Hill at the latter's cottage on the shore.

Night firing at Fort McKinley has been announced for this week and the residents are putting their crockery in safe places on their shelves lest it be jarred down by the heavy shock of the guns. The firing is an annual event here, and the residents have learned to accustom themselves to it with as little annoyance as pos-

To The Tourist or Visitor

We invite you to come in and see our Interior store decorations-carried out entirely with Birch Bark from the giants of the Maine Forests, Odorous shrubs and Fir trees from the Maine woods. Hundreds of blooming plants, elegantly mounted heads of our native Moose, Caribou and Deer, as well as countless birds of many species, are all used most artisically, presenting a picture at once restful, interesting, instructive and most pleasing.

It is indeed pleasant, too, to shop in such an environment, more especially in a store which is modern in every sense, with merchandise of absolute dependability and a scale of low prices which have made this store Portland's Popular shopping place.

expecting another prosperous month to add to their last month's

Mr. Harry Rowe and Mr. Edward Bigelow of Auburn entertained a party of friends here last week and gave them a most delightful outing.

Mr. Preston Clark arrived at Pott's Harbor last week in his motor boat, "Pocahontas." He had a party of sixteen on board who spent several days here at the point.

Professor Agassiz, grandson of Louis Agassiz, the famous zoologist, was among the yachtsmen who anchored here last week. He is cruising in his schooner yacht ,"Kirrin,' and stopped here to visit Dr. Kings-ley at the Tufts College laboratory here, where many noted biologists years, is back again for a two weeks' visit, which he expects to enjoy just as much or more than the six preceding ones. Mr. C. A. Pinkham, Mr. Robert S. Pinkham, Mr. J. A. Menno and Mr.

E. O. Bockayne of Wollaston, Mass., stopped in here in their schooner yacht, the "Claytonia," on their way down East on a cruise near the steamer landing. Another new arrival at the Strout house is Mr. George Sampson of Worcester, Mass., who arrived last week for a short stay.

Dr. H. B. Williams and his son Stanwood Williams of Milton, Mass., and his son are here now as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin S. Hamilton at their pleasant Harpswell home, and are having a most enjoyable visit.

Captain Thomas Fox of Boston enchored here last week in Pott's Harbor. He is cruising east in his schooner yacht the "Tangent. Mr. Edgar Hatch of Portland is among those who arrived at the point last week for a short stay. Mr. and Mrs. James Smith of Philadelphia are visiting Mrs. E. B. Pendlebury. They are most enthusiastic in their praise of Harpswell and we will all agree with them that it would be hard to find a more delightful place in which to visit. Miss friends. Jean Pendlebury has returned to Harpswell after a visit to Miss Margaret Embery at Cape Elizabeth.

There have been many arrivals at Mrs. J. H. Stover's during the last week. Dr. and Mrs. William A. Locey are here from Evanston, Ill.; Rev. Mr. McCauley and son have arrived from New Jersey; Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Kimball from Everett, Mass., and Miss Duhrin and Miss Duffy from Philadelphia, Pa. They are all enjoying a fine outing here in Maine.

Miss McClellan of Portland is now visiting here aunt Mass.

Miss McClellan of Portland is now visiting her aunt, Mrs. A. M. Pack-ard, at her cottage in the Auburn colony and is having a most enjoy-able time. Miss Elizabeth Hall of Medford, Mass., who has been having a delightful visit here as the guest of

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Blake for the last two weeks has now returned home. Mr. T. J. Arnold, who has just re-turned here after a few days in New York, gave a lawn party last week in honor of the fifteenth birthday of his daughter, Miss Florence Arnold. After playing games on the lawn, the guests adjourned to the hall where refreshments were served. The chief attraction of course was the big birthday cake with its fifteen music lovers of Portland and Casco Bay. Seldom do people from away the opportunity of hearing such wonderfully rendered music as Mr. Macfarlane gives. C Pearle Hindershot.

LATEST HAPPENINGS AT SOUTH HARPSWELL HOUSE.

News and Arrivals During the Past Week.

The guests at this always popular hotel are surely enjoying life these days and there is not one of them who does not find regret in the fact that the time here flies so fast. The house is well filled with a crowd of guests who find each other most congenial companions and they are all having the time of their lives enjoy-ing the thousand and one amusements offered by the seaside.

Three prominent guests who are recent arrivals here are the Hon. L. P. Stock, Mr. W. W. Blodgett and Mr. C. T. Braley, all of St. Johnsbury, Vt., Mr. Stock was formerly Lieutenant Governor of Vermont and is now Judge of the Superior Court in that State. Mr. Blodgett is superintendent of the Fairbanks Scale Company, the largest platform scale manufacturers in the world. Mr. Braley is both clerk and treasurer of St. Johnsbury, one of the foremost Vermont cities.

The Rev. and Mrs. E. A. Bullard and family returned recently to their and family returned recently to their Massachusetts home, after spending a very happy month at this house. On Thursday night of last week a very enjoyable dinner was given here to the young people at the Old Fort Homestead, who came down to the number of twenty-five to be the guests of the establishment and added much to the merriment of the eve-

Among recent arrivals numbered Mrs. P. F. Blodgett of Montpelier, Vt., Edith A. Forestall of Tewkesbury, Elizabeth B. Elbert of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Sawyer of Miles city.
