Sir

Mr Geo Weston of this town wants an appointment in the Cavalry of Capt. or 1st Lieut.

Weston is, and always has been a strict temperance man lacking nothing - he is a man of courage, activity and ability, and I think will make an excellent officer. Look at the man, and see if I am not right, I hope he will be appointed. The service wants men, - live men whether they have influential friends or not. and Weston is one of that sort. I don't think there is a better horseman in the world than he - his experience between Maine & California has been large enough to teach him the art.

Respectfully yours.

G. P. Serravallo
