

THOMAS J. LYNCH, ESQ., OF AUGUSTA.

WHEN you go up Water street, Augusta, with your load of legal cares,
 Or a touch of doubt about the probate of a will,
 It's "Lynch" whose name you ought to seek, above the office door,
 And Lynch whose help will surely fill the bill.
 For he's had twenty years of service in a line of public work,
 That calls for men of zeal and honest worth;
 And if training counts for anything, in sizing up its trend,
 It's up to him to know it from its birth.
 You will note the artist's story of his active busy life;
 I could add a note, that's personal and true,
 I could tell you of the things he's done, to help his fellow men
 The things he's tried to counsel and to do;
 But I know he'd feel offended, at my eager "butting in,"
 So I'll let it go as pictured, here above
 And I'll simply write as epitaph, this undisputed fact.
 "He's the old-fashioned kind of Democrat we love."
