PLANS NEARLY READY

Old Home Week to be the Biggest Time Ever Held in Kennebunk

Parade Expected to be the Finest Ever Seen in This Part of the State

Athletic Sports, Band Concerts, Horse Races, Fire Works and Other Attractions

Only a short time now remains before Old Home Week festivities will be gin and the citizens of this town are making every effort to render the celebration a complete success.

For the last week plans have been carefully outlined for the decoration of private and public buildings and it seems highly probable that next week will see Kennebunk in the gayest of gala array. The old Lafayette elm has been wired for electric lights and in the evenings the bright globes twinkle among its huge spreading branches like fairly lamps, and a wonderfully beautiful effect is produced.

Although an extra 1,000 invitations were printed making the total number 3,500, the demand is still unsatisfied.
It is most likely that a host of people will visit Kennebunk at that time so lavishly have these been distributed and so elaborate is the program of entertainment as planned.

Some beautiful floats have been designed for Wednesday's parade, the route of which will be as follows: Formation at Upper square near town hall, march down Summer street to Boston & Maine station, to Winter, Winter to Park, Park to Grove, Grove to Main, Main to Fletcher, Fletcher to Storers, Storers to Main, Main to Pleasant, Pleasant to High, High to Friend, Friend to York, York to Swan, Swan to Brown, Brown to Main, up Main and pass in review. The review stand will be near W. A. Hall's.

For Sunday appropriate church exercises will be held which will open the week for the homecoming of the sons and daughters and all who have a fondness for the old town.

With the gift of pleasant weather freely bestowed it seems far from likely that anything can mar the pleasure and success of the coming festivities.

FORMATION OF MARCH

General orders for Old Home Week parade Wednesday, July 31.

Order I Parade will assemble at 9:30 A. M.

Order II Parade will start promptly at ten o'clock.

Order III First division, consisting of Boy Brigade and all Horse Companies will form on Portland Street, right resting near Unitarian church.

Order IV Second division, consisting of Veteran Firemen, will form on on Summer Street, right resting near Town Hall.

Order V Third division, consisting of four Horse Floats and all four Horse Teams will form on Fletcher Street, right resting on Main Street.

Order VI All two Horse Floats will form on left of four Horse Floats.

Order VII Private Carriages in Parade will form on Dane Street, right resting on Main Street.

Order VIII All Trades Floats will be on left of Private Carriages.

Order IX Automobiles will form on Main Street, right resting on Dane Street.

C E RICHARDSON,
Chief Marshal

In order to avoid accidents it is necessary to start the parade promptly at 10 o'clock.

Evening of Mystery

An entertainment will be given by H.
W. Rankin, magician, at the Mousam Opera House Friday evening, July 26.
Mr. Rankin has an excellent reputation as an entertainer in sleight-of-hand tricks that keep an audience alert and interested from start to finish and it is probable that many will be anxious to witness his performance here Friday evening. The proceeds are for the benefit of the Good Templars.

Hearing Held

An investigation into the fire at the Davis stable was held at the Town hall last Thursday afternoon at 2:30 and was strictly secret.

Selectmen Asa Richardson and David Toothacher presided, while T. E. Hartnett represented the state fire commission and Country Attorney Fred A.
Hobbs was present in his official capacity. Hon. E. P. Spinney of North Berwick was present in the interest of Mr. and Mrs. Davis who attended only the first part of the hearing.

Nine witnesses were examined, but all results of the hearing have been kept strictly secret. Mrs. Davis still firmly maintains her desire to clear her husband of what she regards as false charges.

Stores to Close

The following petition has been circulated among local merchants:

"We, the undersigned, merchants of Kennebunk, believe it to be for the interest of all, and to the detriment of none concerned, also wishing to assist in carrying out the original plans of the Old Home Week committees, do hereby agree to close our places of business during the whole day of July 31, 1907.
Signed; Harry E. Lunge, W. M. Dresser, O. E. Curtis, F. M. Durgin, J. A. Marco, F.
O. Rice, W. D. Hay, Littlefield & Webber, Miss Gordon and other national workers will take part in the day's program.

More touring cars are passing through this village at present than has been the case before. The cars include some of the largest and finest makes.

A severe fire occurred at Sanford Sunday morning in the two story block owned by F. C. Leavitt. Firemen worked for more than two hours before it was under control. The loss is estimated at $10,000.

The Portland district camp meeting held under the auspices of the M. E. churches of York and Cumberland counties, came to an end Thursday evening when a farewell service in charge of Presiding Elder B. C. Wentworth was held.

Friday evening the Biddeford Journal stated that it would be impossible to open the new trolley line from here to York Sunday in an attempt to prove the Boston Herald's statement to that effect erroneous. As declared by the Enterprise last week the opening occurred Sunday.

A Marco has moved into a house on

The total receipts were $33.50.

Those who have pledges on the Old Home Week subscription list are requested to make payment to the several committees on or before Saturday.

Sunday evening all the churches will unite in a service at the Unitarian church at 7:30. Rev. Edward Lord Clark, D. D. will make the address.

Several merchants of this town have placed settees in front of their places of business, which are found convenient by those who are waiting for cars.

Captain John C. Lord is expected next week to make a short visit with his son, Arthur Lord. While here Captain Lord will attend the Lord Reunion at No. th-Berwick.

There will be no special exercises at the Methodist church Sunday, although a sermon appropriate to the advent of Old Home Week will be delivered by Mr. Norcross.

A decorator from Portsmouth, N. H. will arrive tomorrow morning and any merchant or citizen wishing to engage his services can do so by notifying W.
H. Littlefield.

The dedication exercises of the Parsons public library will take place Friday, August 2, at the Mousam Opera House at 3 o'clock. The public is cordially invited.

On Tuesday a party of four took dinner at the Fleetwood, having come from New York to Portsmouth in their private yachts and from that point to this village by trolley.

Store windows here are looking pretty with the decorations for Old Home Week, and merchants have put in a stock of goods so that residents here will be able to find ample means for decorating.

Reports from neighboring towns state that farmers are rushing their haying just as rapidly as possible to take advantage of favorable weather. While Acton farmers say the crop is light in that town it is generally considered in most places to be the best in years.

The Historical Committee of Old Home Week is to have a custodian at the old public library building to take care of the antique articles loaned for this occasion. Those who have demurred when asked to donate articles may feel assured that they will be carefully guarded.

Under the direction of Jones and Clark work began on the erection of a house at Sanford last Thursday. The building will be a large two story house modern throughout, to cost about $3,000. The same firm has also taken the contract to erect a private waiting station on the Atlantic Shore Line near Bald Head Cliff for a New York party.

A shoot was held at the Leatheroid Field Tuesday evening at which the highest score was obtained by F. C.
Cousens with a record of 19, James Holland being a close second with 18.
Another shoot will be held Saturday afternoon in preparation for the tournament Old Home Week at which four of the best shots in New England will be present, among them Will Darton.

ON CARE OF DOGS.

How to Feed, Wash, Exercise and House Them.

Remember that a dog digests its food very slowly, so should never have more than two meals a day when in health.
The food should be plain, wholesome and nutritious. Above all things, says Country Life In America, avoid preserves and sweetmeats of all kinds, sugar, hot toast, tea and other stuff of that kind.

Feed your dog regularly. If you give him one meal a day, let it be at midday; if two, morning and evening and always at the same hour. Let the animal eat until he is satisfied, for if he is fed regularly you need have no fear that he will gorge. If your pet is to be kept in the house, he will require very little meat, a small piece every third day with a bone to gnaw on. A bone is a great aid to digestion and keeps the teeth in good condition.

Give bread soaked in meat gravy, biscuit soaked in milk, oatmeal or rice or potatoes and once or twice a week green vegetables. Scraps of beef, mutton, etc., from the table are all that is needed in the way of meats. Avoid giving liver.

Dog biscuit is good for a change.
Many owners feed fish now and then to their dogs, but we have had dogs that such food always caused to suffer from skin disease.

Let your dog have water as often as he wants it. Give your dog regular exercise. Do not take him out for an airing at the end of a chain. That is not exercise. Turn him loose and let him run. Exercise either before feeding or some time afterward, for exercise on a full stomach is likely to cause fits.

Do not wash your dog more than twice a month. If you keep his coat well combed and brushed, once a month will be often enough. When washing, use tepid water and some good dog soap, as in this way you will kill fleas and clean the dog at the same time.
Rinse out the soap thoroughly and then douché the dog in cold water, after which rub dry.

If you keep the dog outside, provide a good dry kennel with a southern ex-posure and with clean bedding of wheat or straw. Change the bedding frequently and sprinkle a little oil of peppermint over the straw now and then—just enough to let you know it is there. If you can get the dry peppermint, use that. It will help to keep the dog clear of fleas.

Remember that if the kennel is not clean and dry and cheerful or if your dog is pampered or overfed he will be likely to have distemper.

How to Float.

To float go out into the water as far as your waist. Throw yourself on your back facing the shore. Hold your chin up as high as possible. This will submerge your ears, but don't let this strange sensation worry you, says Country Life In America. If the water closes over your head, simply close your mouth and remain still and straight; you will go under for a second only. Now throw your arms out wide behind your back and throw out your chest. Hold your chin high. Inhale through the mouth. Exhale through the nose. You are now in the ideal floating attitude. Never lift your head. Keep straight and still, chest up, toes showing, chin high and ears submerged. Try to float as long as possible, because this exercise forms the basis not only for swimming on the back and for life saving, but also for sustaining yourself quietly in the water for hours. A thirty minute float is a very respectable performance.

How to Choose Becoming Hats.

If a woman has sharp or decidedly prominent features, let her avoid hats that are set back or off the face. Such a woman should wear a hat brought well forward, her hair should be as fluffy as possible, and a becoming veil will do wonders. Sharp outlines in hats should also be avoided by her.
Lace edges and indented brims are good. If the features are irregular, a hat with the brim crushed here and there is usually a suitable setting. On the other hand, the woman with a small or flat nose should not wear a hat that projects sufficiently to make the nose appear even more insignificant or a large hat that dwarfs it. A hat under medium in size and with small flowers or short tips or rows of moderate size should be worn.

How to Make a Nerve Pillow.

The "nerve" pillow is something which physicians recommend and which can be easily made at home.
Gather or buy a quantity of dried herbs, such as hops or catnip leaves, barberry, sweet fern, adding to them sweet grass, balsam pine and as many sweet smelling sleepy things as one can think of. Dry and powder and mix all together, says the Kansas City Times. Then fill the "nerve" pillow with the sachet powder thus formed.
Stuff the pillow with down or cotton batting or feathers and scatter the powder thickly through the filling.

Rogers Estate

One of the Finest Summer Homes on the Maine Coast

W. A. Rogers of Buffalo has built one of the most elaborate and spacious mansions on the coast of Maine. The estate on which this beautiful summer home is located comprises a stretch of land containing many acres, about which a wall of crushed stone and cement is being constructed. Many trees and shrubs have been planted and it is the aim of the owner to bring the grounds under cultivation and render them a fitting background for the palatial residence.

It was the plan to have this house completed by July 1, and since January between two and three hundred workmen in charge of McInnis of Boston, the contractor, have been busily engaged. It is now possible that the building will be completed soon. Mr. and Mrs.
Rogers have recently come here and are preparing to move into their new summer home.

A separate building will be devoted to laundry purposes. The main floor of the dwelling house contains servants dining hall, kitchen, pantry. There is also a private entrance, office and coat room which contains a device for the drying of wet garments. The dining room is furnished in Flemish oak, and an elaborate mantel is one of the attractions of the room.

French windows are a pleasing feature of the writing room, which has a tiled floor. The dimensions of the living room are 43x30 and this apartment is constructed in a semi-circle and finished in painted wood.

The main hall is also fitted with tiled floor and it is the plan of Mr.
Rogers to place in this room an elaborate and costly mantel purchased in Europe.

On this floor also will be reception room, library and flower room, a feature of nearly every department being the large open fireplaces. The porches which face the south and east are supported by cast concrete columns.

In addition to sleeping rooms, and twelve servants rooms the house contains eleven bath-rooms which are finished in oak and equipped with shower baths.

No expense has been spared in making this one of the most elaborate and beautiful summer homes in New England, which cannot fail to be a source of delight to its owner as well as an actual benefit to Kennebunk Beach as a summer resort.

How to Save Asphyxiated Persons.

Asphyxiation is such a frequent happening that every one should know just exactly what to do in an emergency. In this condition there is actual blood poisoning. The illuminating gas, escaping freely, joins with the coloring of the blood, so that the blood can no longer take up oxygen. The first thing to be done if you are in the room is to get a supply of fresh air, and that quickly. If the window sticks, break it with a chair, a flatiron or anything handy. If nothing else offers, wrap any thick cloth around your fist and use that. If you are outside and have to go in, wet a towel in cold water, bind closely over nose and mouth after taking several long breaths of fresh air, then go in and get the window open. As soon as possible carry the patient to a room where the air is fresh. If the patient still breathes, apply hot and cold shower baths alternately until he can take a long breath. If the breathing has entirely stopped, apply artificial respiration.

How to Make Chicken Mold.

This is a tasty supper dish that may be made from a fowl that is too old for cooking in the ordinary way. After it is plucked and drawn wash the fowl and put it into an enameled saucepan with cold water to cover; add a small onion, two cloves and four peppercorns and one slice of lean ham; place over a moderate fire and simmer gently until the meat falls from the bone. When about half done, add a teaspoonful of salt. When done, take the meat from the bones and cut it into small pieces not over one-half inch square; put the bones and skin back into the saucepan and boil until the liquor is reduced to one and a half pints, then strain and season to taste.
Mix with this the chicken, pour the whole into a mold and stand it in a cold place overnight. When hard and cold, turn out of the mold, garnish with parsley and serve.

Trolley Line

New Extension From York Beach to This Village.

Last Saturday a car containing Manager Meloon made a trial trip from Ogunquit to Kennebunk over the newly completed line. Other occupants of the car were: Vice President I. L. Meloon, Dr. Bishop of York Harbor, Hazen Z. and Frank H. Ellis of York Beach and at Ogunquit the party was joined by E. M. Goodall, George Goodall, Louis Goodall, Fred J.
Allen, all of Sanford, and officials of the company, J. W. Tobin of the firm of A. H. Bickmore & Co., of New York, who own the road, and Mrs. Tobin. Mr. Tobin had as guests, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Reed of Ottawa, Canada, F. P. Roberts of Lee, Mass., and N. P. M.
Jacobs of Sparhawk hall, Ogunquit.

At different points along the route the party was increased by persons who had been instrumental in securing the construction of the road. All along the trip the first car and its occupants received an ovation, flags and bunting were displayed at many houses, and the occupants stood outside and waved flags and handkerchiefs enthusiastically as the car passed through the towns of Wells and Kennebunk.

Cars have been running from York Beach to Ogunquit hourly since July 4th, and on Sunday the entire road from York to Kennebunk was opened for public travel.
The running time now varies from an hour to an hour and a half owing to the condition of the roadbed. When the work of ball-asting this is done it is thought that the entire trip can be made in 45 minutes. Cars leave York Beach and this village on the half hour.

This road passes through a most beautiful and varied stretch of shore and country scenery, embracing the historic towns of York Eliot, Kittery, Wells on the western division and on the eastern division the famous summer resorts of Kennebunk, Kennebunkport, Kennebunk Beach, Cape Porpoise, also the manufacturing town of Sanford, and a picturesque line to Biddeford through a stretch of luxurious pine forests and verdant fields.

From York Beach the newly extended line goes to Bald Head Cliff the site of the Cliff House, a popular summer resort, and thence on through beautiful country scenes to the picturesque town of Ogunquit, which for its grand ocean views has sometimes been called "The Artist's Haven." Ogunquit From Ogunquit the line follows the main road through Wells, passing through fertile farming lands and across the Webhannet river, which is considered one of the most picturesque bits of scenery on the Maine coast. Thence from Wells into the beautiful town of Kennebunk. All along the road every care has been taken to preserve the beauty of the large trees and wires have been strung with this end in view.

The distance of the new line will be about sixteen and one-half miles, and it is now the plan of the company to reduce the running time to 45 minutes. The rolling stock is of the most modern type, the cars being semi-convertible, large and comfortable and geared for high speed. The equipment of the company also includes three electric locomotives for use in hauling freight and express.
Power for the new line will be obtained from a 2,000 horse power plant and the Kennebunk 500 horse power plant and those of the western division.

1 Continuous Blast, Paper Mill

3 Blasts, Engineers Signal

ALL OUT—Two blasts.

On the pole near the fire alarm box is a small box with a glass front, containing the key. To ring in an alarm, break the glass, open the fire alarm box, pull down the lever, and releasing it, let it fly back.

The alarm consists of four rounds of the box number.

School Signals.

Two blasts at 8 a. m. will mean no school in the lower grades—meaning the Intermediate and Primary Schools.

The same signal at 11 a. m. will mean either one session, or no school in the afternoon.

Three blasts at 8 a. m. will mean no school in all the schools—when sounded at 11 a. m. it will mean either one session in the schools—or no school in the afternoon.

One session will mean that school will keep until 1 o'clock—except in the primary grades and they left to the judgment of the teachers

ART IN SPUN SUGAR.

Baskets Made For Serving Candy and Ices More Elaborate Than Ever.

Spun candy has never been spun into such beautiful baskets for ice cream or candies as this season. The candy spinner has reduced his art to perfection.

For a number of years spun candy baskets have been a popular method of serving ices or candies at luncheons and dinners. But this year a greater daring in novelty of design and beauty of workmanship has glorified the spun candy basket into a positive work of art. All baskets are adorned with flowers.

"My customers stop to look at them as they would at beautiful real flowers," says a baker who goes in for confectionery.

Candy spinning is hand work. One feels this in looking at the baskets, for they have none of the stereotyped look of work done otherwise. Even baskets made to be alike have little differences. High luster and exquisite coloring are characteristics of the baskets. None of the coloring used dulls the luster. The coloring follows close to nature.

The great La France roses which are done so remarkably well this year would not suffer by comparison were the real thing held next to them. The same is true of the purple orchids, which have caught the real orchid shades almost to perfection.

One basket to be used as a general serving dish is a great white garden hat trimmed with a big white plume, clusters of purple orchids and bows and strings of ribbon, every bit of it candy. The curled brim of the hat makes the basket sides. When used, a bed of spun candy is laid in the hat as foundation for individual ices.

Another hat basket follows the same model, but pink roses take the place of the orchids, and the ribbon is pink instead of lavender.

On small individual baskets to be set at each place at the table the floral decoration is usually in a small flower like the violet, rosebud, lily of the valley or orange blossom, but often it is one big single orchid or rose.

Some of the daintiest of small baskets are made of one single large flower, without any basket foundation, the cup of the flower holding the ice or candies. Others are little bonnets of the 1880 period.

FRUIT PUDDING.

Desserts That Are Wholesome and Good For the Children.

Children do not like to be served with a dessert prescribed as "good for them." Nevertheless at this season of the year fruit puddings in various guises should be served to young people. Here is a good recipe for prune pudding: Split square sponge cakes (if they are a bit stale it will not matter) and hollow out like little boats. Fill the cavity with stewed prunes from which the pits have been removed and the pulp whipped lightly with cream. Heap each filled cake with a meringue made from whites of egg and pulverized sugar. Color these golden brown by holding a redhot coal shovel over them or placing them under the broiler lights of a gas stove. Serve very cold.

Orange jelly is another good dessert. Dissolve a tablespoonful of gelatin in a little hot milk. Grate the rind of an orange. Take two good sized lumps of block sugar and rub them briskly over the rind of an orange until yellowed and flavored. Put these lumps of sugar into a bowl and pour over them the juice of two oranges which has been strained. Add a tablespoonful of granulated sugar and the yolk of one egg. Beat thoroughly and strain this mixture into the dissolved gelatin. Fold lightly into half a teaspoon of whipped cream and pour into individual molds. Serve in paper cups or on paper dollies with a maraschino of crystallized cherry on the top of each mold.

KITCHEN KINKS.

Add salt to cereals just before cooking begins.

Throw salt on fat that has caught fire and is blazing up.

Cereals are richer if a little milk is added to the water in which they are cooked.

To keep lemons fresh put them in an uncovered jar of cold water and change the water every few days.

Melted butter will not make good cake. If the butter is too hard to cream, bring it into the warm kitchen beforehand.

Cook cereals in a double boiler or else stir them constantly to keep them from sticking. Soaking the cereals overnight in the water in which it is to be cooked is a great advantage. It saves time in the morning and makes the food delicious.

For Hubby's Birthday.

Give your husband and some of his near friends a bohemian supper on his birthday. Decorate your dining room with odd plates, pewter flagons and staves. If you can secure tiny stiff trees, use these for a hedge across the windows and alternating with candles across the mantel, or plants of any sort will do. Have a bare top to your table and a mass of scarlet flowers or a bowl of red and yellow fruit in the center. For a before supper entertainment have caricatures and cartoons hung about the walls. Find a variety of toasts with which to decorate name cards made from rough brown paper, or you can secure name cards with English scenes on them or picture postals. For supper serve rye bread, cheese and ham sandwiches, sliced raw onions, potato salad, pickles, coffee, celery and cheese. You need plan no further entertainment for the men. They will enjoy stories around the table.

Mr Robert Guyot and family are spending a few days at Harpswell.

Mr Cornelius Cheney of Boston is spending a few weeks at Mrs Louis Nelson's.

The funeral services of Mrs Annie M Pinkham took place at her late home here last Saturday afternoon, and was attended by the pastor, Rev S E Leech. Her death took place last Thursday morning at the Trull Hospital in Biddeford where she had been some weeks for treatment. She had been for years a patient sufferer, but the past few weeks she failed very rapidly. Her first husband was Captain George Perkins of Biddeford, and some years after his death she married Mr Seth H Pinkham of this place. Her home had been that of her father, "Uncle Jerry" Towne. Mrs Pinkham was a woman of high intelligence, kind to everyone, and a member of the church, a Christian not in name but in deed. She will be greatly missed by both neighbors and friends. She leaves one brother, Mr Frank Towne of Phoenix, Oregon, who hastened to his old home a short time ago at the news of his sister's failing health. Her death will mean a loss to the community in which she had lived so long. Her age was sixty-seven years.

Birthdays are very pleasant occasions when one has a host of friends, and such was the case with Dr Badgley of Portland, Oregon, who is at the Stone Haven for the season, and who celebrated his birthday last week. His mother arrived from Oregon in time for the festivities, and the chef probably saw that the birthday cake was not lacking. A friend happening to go up to Mr Badgley's room that morning, found that gentleman before a mirror, repeating those well-known lines of Bryant:

"Yes, time will seam and blanch my brow, Well, I shall sit with aged men, And my good glass will tell me how A grizzly beard becomes me then."

On going to the Post Office Mr Badgley was treated by Postmaster Fletcher and other friends to Manuel Garcia and other fine brands of cigars. Altogether the birthday at Cape Porpoise was a pleasant one.

Flag Defies Workmen

Mrs George Bragdon of Wells, held a crew of Atlantic Shore Line workmen at bay for several hours when they attempted to cut a limb from an elm tree on her property. Draping the branch with the flag of the United States the woman dared them to continue with their work and pull the flag down. Engineer Taylor finally effected a compromise and the limb was taken off, the company settling for the damage.

DIRTY MONEY.

A Large Part of Our Paper Currency Is Not Fit to Handle.

Recent cases of blood poisoning from handling dirty money furnish a striking illustration of the unsatisfactory condition of the paper currency of the country in this important respect of cleanliness. It has often been asserted that the dirty notes which pass from hand to hand in this community serve as vehicles for the dissemination of disease, but it may be doubted whether these reiterated statements have carried much conviction with them.

The average man does not exactly disbelieve them, but he has an idea that they are exaggerated, that there is no real danger from the source mentioned, and he is generally too glad to get money of any kind to be very particular about its physical quality. He thinks that there is not much risk of his contracting any disease from all the money he has occasion to handle, and, anyhow, he is perfectly willing to take his chances.

That kind of feeling can be understood, and yet it shows some lack of thought or sense. There are noxious germs on much of the paper money in circulation. Considering how many hands it passes through and all the kinds of people who have had it in their possession it is natural, it is almost unavoidable, that there should be, and that these noxious germs may prove infectious has been proved more than once.

As a matter of fact, a large part of the paper currency in circulation is not fit for a nice, clean, self-respecting man to be carrying around concealed upon his person. In other large cities where there are numerous banks the conditions are not so bad, because the banks refrain as far as they can from giving dirty notes to their customers, but in the country, where greenbacks and treasury notes are passed around until they will scarcely hold together, a state of things exists in this connection which is distinctly injurious and discreditable.

It has been proposed as a remedy that the use of paper money in denominations lower than twenty dollars be discontinued and that gold and silver coin be exclusively employed in retail transactions. That this would not be impracticable is proved by European experience. There is practically no paper money in England.

The smallest bill is the five pound note of the Bank of England, which the person tendering is liable to be asked to indorse, so seldom is it seen. Americans have for too many years been accustomed to the convenience of a paper currency to be willing to give it up. Yet the problem is not insoluble, and some other remedy should be sought for and applied when found.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Earthquake Curiousities.

During the earthquake in Jamaica in January four statues in the public square, all within about 100 yards of one another, underwent remarkably varied experiences. The statue of Queen Victoria, on the south side of the square, was turned slightly to the left. Another statue in a corresponding position on the north side of the square was turned to the right. A statue facing northeast was thrown to the ground and broken in pieces, and one facing west was snapped in two in the middle, and the bust dropped upon the base of the pedestal without being overturned. Streets running north and south were filled with fallen walls, but those running east and west were less obstructed, mainly because the earth movements were in that direction.—Youth's Companion.

"Deaf Mutes" Talk.

It is a misnomer to refer to any one as "deaf and dumb." Except in rare instances a child is mute, not on account of any malformation of the vocal organs, but because it is deaf and has never heard a spoken language. The loss of the sense of hearing should therefore not necessarily mean deprivation of the power of speech also. It is only within recent years, says the Scientific American, that we have come to realize this fact, and in up to date institutions the old fashioned finger alphabet is now unknown. Every child is taught to speak in the natural way by means of the vocal organs.

Felt Lined Tires.

A piece of felt interposed between the air chamber and the envelope is a French solution of the tire puncture problem that seems to have given good results. The felt is about half an inch thick, its width depending on the size of the tire, and it is held in place by the outer envelope at its edge and cemented to the inner surface of the protecting band. It soon adjusts itself to the shape of the tire. Before a nail or other sharp point the felt tends to give way instead of being penetrated, and the resistance usually prevents puncture, though not invariably.
