Scarborough High School

Scarborough, Maine

"Where the mind is without fear and the head is held high Where knowledge is free

"Know from the bounteous heavens all riches flow;
And what man gives, the gods by man bestow."

Our Lives Are Enriched By Our Experiences

What treasures we have! The sun, shining down on the glittering sea, brings us warmth. A loving circle of friends and family surrounds us. Life surges through our bodies. An endless curiosity activates our mind. We search—in books, in experiences, in activities and are guided by those who have found such a search fascinating.

It is with an awareness of these riches which we have discovered during our years in Scarborough High School that we, the staff of FOUR CORNERS 1967, choose "ENRICHMENT" as our theme.

Anne Elizabeth Ferguson

With deep love and appreciation for your constant gift of yourself to all your students, we, the class of 1967 dedicate our yearbook to you, Miss Ferguson, as our gift of ourselves to you.

The brutal realness
of the world
discouraged students and they fell

(it snowed
and snowed
and snowed)

A hand of gentle goodness held their minds above the dismal spell

(a bough
withstood
the storm)

The teaching deed reveals her heart:
within, great love and sweet care dwell

(from snow emerged
the bud)

Your teaching is a gentle hand that but leaves the door ajar.

Your faith, a fragrance that lingers where you are

Your heart, a cup overfilled with church and school and home

Your life, a sacrament of lowly deeds beneath a sacred dome.

SHS Moves Forward

One of the characteristics of the present administration has been change—change to make student life easier and more enriching.

The most noticeable change is in the new time schedule. School now begins at 8:00 A.M. and closes at 2:00 P.M. Some of the advantages are more freedom to participate in chorus and band, a longer lunch hour, fewer classes missed by members of the athletic teams, and finally, a special help and make-up period from 2:00 to 2:30 P.M.

Throughout the past year much has been done to improve the interior of our school. Some classrooms have been redecorated and the ceiling of the Industrial Arts room has been soundproofed. These improvements tend to make our school more efficient and enjoyable.

Another innovation, probably less noticed by the student body, is the project "Liberty" (Library, Education, and Reappraisal for Today's Youth). This program has proved very rewarding in that it has provided more individual library help and longer library hours during lunch hours and after school until 4:00 P.M.

There is more to be learned in school than the lessons presented in our classes. One of the best ways to provide this instruction is through the assembly programs provided by the administration. Two of the most enjoyable to Scarborough students were performance of the string quartet and a talk on "The Cars of Tomorrow" by a representative of the Fisher Body Company.

Mr. John Smith

We Hear New Ideas

Student teachers from nearby colleges enriched our curriculum by presenting new ideas and materials to their classes. Mrs. Marion Adams told us many interesting facts about economics. Having been raised in Iowa, Mr. John Smith was well equipped to acquaint us with the farm problems of today.

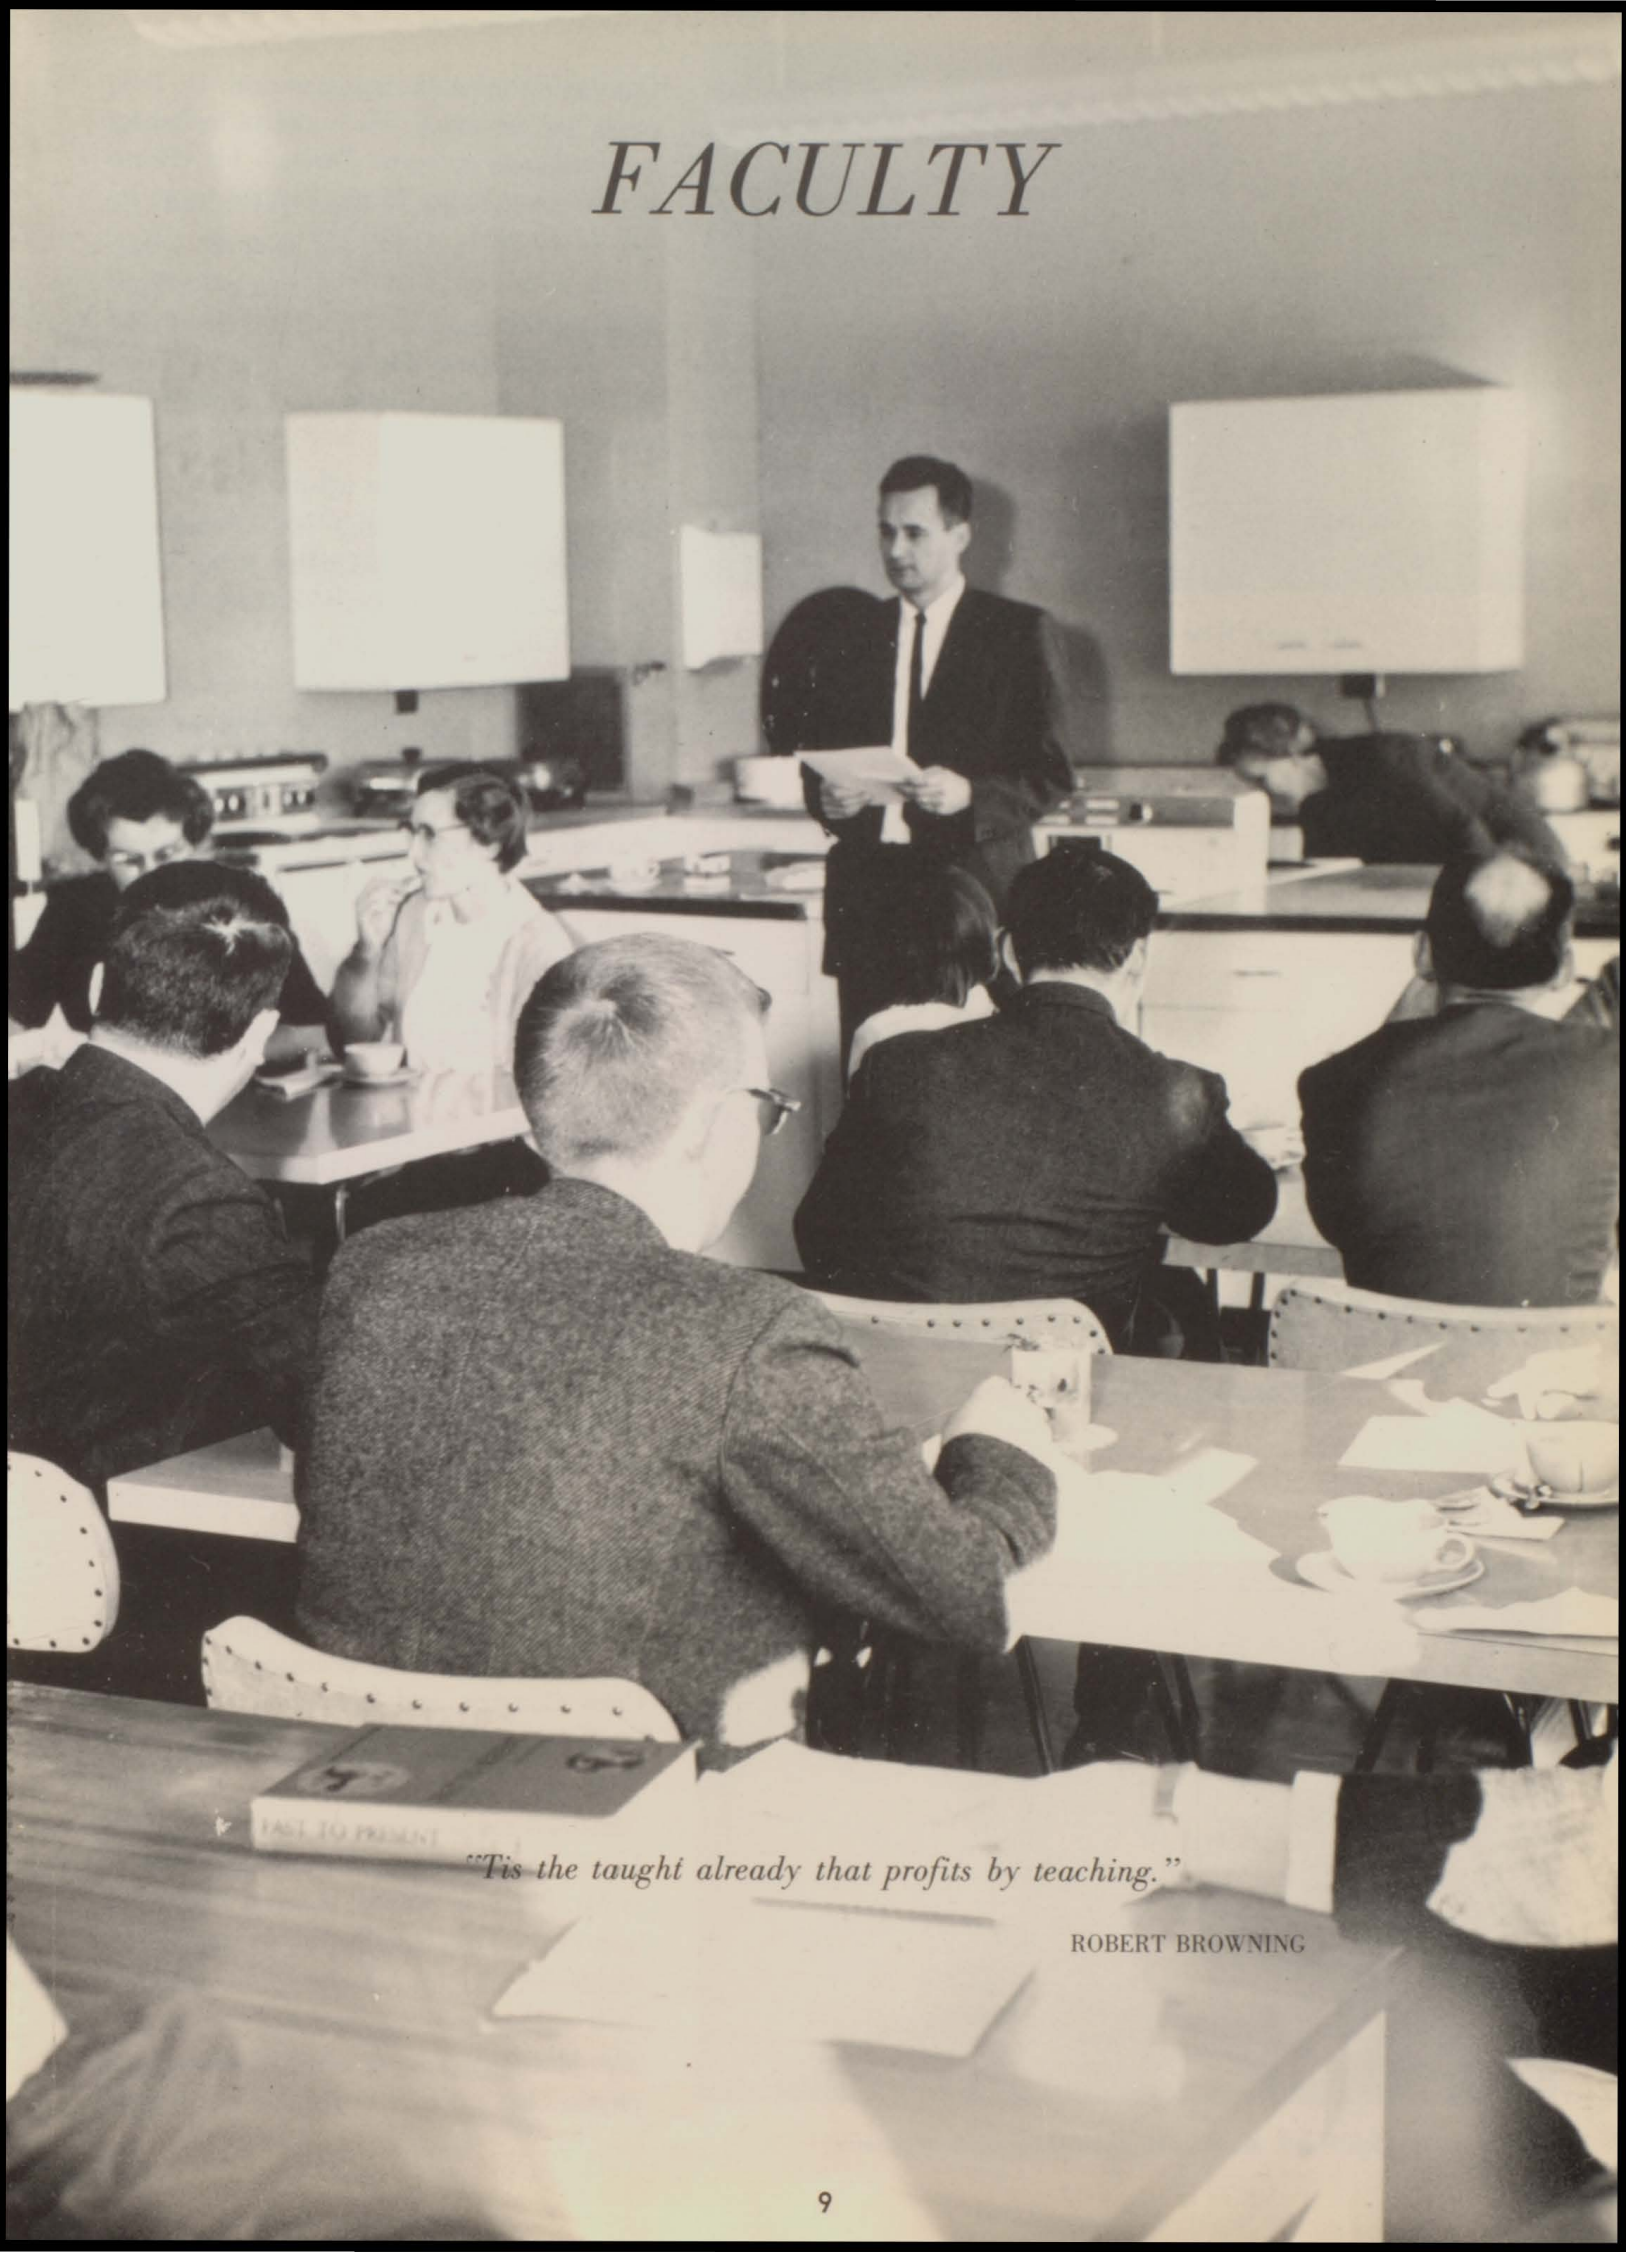
Miss Phillipa Houser's and Mr. Gerard Tanguay's musical talent enabled them to assume the direction of the band and glee club.

New ideas contributed by Mr. Thomas Wheeler, Mr. Murdock Patten, Mr. Ralph Jones and Mr. John Costello added to the students' knowledge of Industrial Arts.

The Student Council, working with the administration, planned many interesting assemblies. Among these were a program offered by the Fisher Body Company on the design of automobiles and a string quartet, which entertained us with both classical and popular music.

Culture comes to Scarborough High.

FACULTY



"Tis the taught already that profits by teaching."

ROBERT BROWNING

J. Fillmore, A. Packard

Our Band, under the guidance of Mr. Fillmore, put on many fine concerts including two exchange concerts. Through his efforts the Western Maine Music Festival came to S.H.S. this year.

Through his musical production Mr. Packard has enriched our school year. Under his direction our Chorus has greatly improved.

Having traveled widely, Mr. Panagakos has ample experience to relate to his classes in history and P.D.P.'s. He also advises the Ski Club.

P. Panagakos, S. Fengler, R. Carlson

Mrs. Fengler, our American history and geography teacher expects and receives hard work from her students; however, her stories of college life add humor to her classes.

In his first year at S.H.S. Mr. Carlson has impressed us with his discipline and humor. He teaches biology, history, and geography.

Mr. McFarland realistically brings the events of today into his history and P.D.P.'s classes. He is the successful coach of our Basketball and Baseball Teams.

Never say you can't do something in Mrs. Blanchard's health and physical education classes—at least try! One thing about the girls on her Hockey, Basketball and Softball Teams, they're certainly physically fit!

E. McFarland, M. Blanchard, D. Howard, R. Plummer

Mr. Howard energetically applies himself to teaching math, algebra, and physics. His other interests include coaching our Track, Cross Country, and Swimming Teams. He is also supervisor of the audio-visual equipment.

In his physical education and health classes Mr. Plummer stresses physical fitness and teamwork. This is reflected in the success of his Soccer and J.V. Basketball Teams

Mr. Morrison, who teaches chemistry and physics, has patience and a sense of humor, both of which are needed when his students take over the lab.

Mr. LaValliere adds a spark to our math classes through his skillful teaching of geometry and advanced math. His other interests are coaching the Boys' Bowling Club and directing the business section of our yearbook.

With his knowledge of French, Mr. Arsenault brings alive the culture of that country for his classes. His patience guides students in this foreign language.

As director of the work-study program, Mr. Huntress ably assists the boys in coordinating their jobs and academic subjects. He also teaches an industrial arts class.

Mr. Hallett willingly serves in each of his many capacities with cheerfulness and diligence. In addition to teaching industrial arts, he is Athletic Director, Adviser to the Yearbook, and Assistant Principal.

Mr. Plaisted, teacher of industrial arts, enjoys working with his students to give them experience for future jobs. Our Student Council is under his guidance.

Through extensive travel Miss Young brings a broader meaning of Latin and French to her students. She continues to teach the culture of the Roman Empire through the Latin Club.

Through her Home Economics class and the Future Homemakers of America Club, Mrs. McMackin teaches her students to live in a mannerly fashion.

Mrs. Heywood, our librarian, cheerfully aids students in unlocking the door to learning through research. She also coaches the Girls' Bowling Club.

Miss Jones fills her English classes with zest and humor. Although her students may complain about the homework, they realize that it is given to improve their method of thinking.

R. Morrison, B. LaValliere, G. Arsenault

D. Huntress, G. Hallett, R. Plaisted

Miss Young, Mrs. McMackin, Miss Jones, Mrs. Heywood

We sometimes gripe about economics and English assignments, but we realize that it is Mr. Day's purpose to make us better students. He is also coach of the Debating Team.

Whether we are learning to use a microscope or dissecting a frog in biology, Mrs. Lee is always ready to assist us. She is the adviser of our Medical Club.

As our inspiring English and algebra teacher, Mrs. Lary is sincerely interested in the enrichment of her students' futures. Since she is Senior Play coach and adviser of the FTA, National Honor Society, Periscope and graduation activities, she never has a dull moment.

M. Day, L. Lee, M. Lary, J. Moore

For his expert advice on our problems and careers, we thank Mr. Moore, our guidance counselor. Although very busy as the moderator of the Youth Festival, he still finds time to publish a guidance bulletin.

P. Fowler, P. Hay.

Teaching driver education, Mr. Fowler calmly readies students for the perils of the road.

With nerves of steel Mr. Hay instructs new drivers in the art of driving safely. He is also the adviser of the Interact Club.

Through hard work and scholarship, Miss Ferguson teaches her students to think clearly. She is also to be commended for the fine one-act plays, which she directs each spring, and the FOUR CORNERS, which is produced under her guidance.

A. Ferguson

R. Graves, N. Clark

Students' errors in transcription, bookkeeping, and shorthand might give many teachers a headache, but Mr. Graves deals with all our problems efficiently and patiently. He is bookkeeper of the many activities of the school and coach of the Golf Team.

With humor and skill, Mrs. Clark tries to emphasize the speed and accuracy of the business world to her typing and shorthand students. She is also coach of our Cheerleaders.

Mainiacs Govern At Dirigo State

BOYS' STATE: S. Boothby, Del.; B. Googins, Alt.; R. Babkirk, Alt.; D. Perkins, Del.; R. Pemberton, Del.; C. Higgins, Alt.

School was hardly over for the summer, when the Scarborough delegates to Girls' and Boys' State left to fulfill their official posts. They temporarily departed from the world of carefree summer activities to learn the intricate workings of government. Dirigo State gave the delegates a preview of their future roles as voters and community leaders. Lectures on government procedures given by experts made the delegates aware of the problems and decisions facing our government.

One delegate expressed her new awareness by saying, "Because of the knowledge gained by attending Girls' State, I can be a better citizen in my community."

The session was not all work. It was highlighted by sports activities, talent shows, and the opportunity to meet exciting new people. The Boys' State delegates had only one criticism: No girls!

Speaking to various civic organizations, the delegates to Dirigo State have enriched the community with their knowledge and experiences.

Mighty Senior

The Seniors at Scarborough High School were active in all aspects of school life. Inquiring minds eagerly sought solutions to complicated mathematical equations in the first calculus class ever offered to seniors at Scarborough High. Girls displayed their domestic talents (or lack of them) in a home economics class for senior girls only. Seventeen outstanding class members were awarded the accolade of membership in the National Honor Society. Susan Dudley became a finalist in the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test. From three years of study at Scarborough High School, the seniors received a substantial background to enable them to face the problems of the future.

In addition to scholastic activities, the seniors displayed their qualities of leadership in clubs and sports. Most of the prominent positions in the school-sponsored organizations were filled by capable seniors.

"It's good in many important respects, dear, but . . ."

Did you say your name was Sophia Loren?

Take The Lead

Cooper Higgins was elected President of the Student Council in a close November election. The first pep squad was organized by enthusiastic Lynne Murphy with the co-operation of other classmates. The teamwork displayed by the senior members of the boys' varsity basketball team resulted in many victories and eventually a place in the State Tournament. Although the girls' basketball team did not fare as well, Captain Jean Shorey made the All-Star Girls' Basketball team.

The musically inclined won the honor to participate in the All-State Music Festival. Flutists Susan Snow and Carolyn Presby shared the honor of playing solos at the Open House.

Jean Shorey's and Roxy Bernstein's artistic abilities were constantly in demand. Rodney Babkirk's knowledge of electronics enabled him to create a project which won him the honor of representing Maine at the National 4-H Congress. He explained this project in a most interesting assembly speech.

They Pause To

Promising actors and actresses made their debut to stardom in the senior play, "You Can't Take It With You;" in fact, they did so well that they presented the play at state competition. The year was highlighted by exclusive senior parties, where guests did not always maintain their senior dignity!

In May, when clubs started electing next year's officers, the seniors realized that their reign was coming to an end. Joy was mingled with sadness at the Junior-Senior Farewell Prom.

Say Farewell

Practicing for Graduation exercises to the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance", the seniors slowly grasped the realization that soon they would be going their separate ways.

Seniors Receive Honors

P. Currie—vice president, L. Hart—president, S. Snow—secretary, D. Wentworth—treasurer.

The members of the National Honor Society, chosen by the faculty in their junior year, welcomed their new comrades who were elected in December 1966, in a private ceremony using roses and candles. The following day the senior officers, President Linda Hart, Vice-President Paula Currie, Secretary Susan Snow, and Treasurer Deborah Wentworth initiated the newly elected juniors.

To qualify, students had to fulfill high standards of scholarship, service, leadership, and character.

The purpose of the National Honor Society according to its national constitution is "to create an enthusiasm for scholarship, to stimulate a desire to render service, to promote worthy leadership, and to encourage the development of character in the students.

Jolly Juniors Lead . . .

In September we arrived as the new Junior Class with a certain familiarity with our surroundings. During our first class meeting, we broke with tradition by electing Joanne Greenleaf (a girl!) as our new class president. As our other officers, we elected J. Hudson Briggs, vice-president; Deborah Higgins, secretary; and Peter Vose, treasurer.

These leaders have shown themselves worthy of our confidence.

Our junior representatives to Student Council have served the entire school as well as serving us. The Band chose Pamela Carter as its first Council representative.

Spirited Lives

Pamela Warren was elected Council secretary. Both Steven Bennett, the victor, and Kathryn Knight campaigned energetically in a race for Student Council vice-president.

In October Mr. Tupper finally arrived with our long-awaited class rings. Everyone was pleased with his individual selection.

November brought our traditional Thanksgiving assembly in which fifteen juniors participated. Each expressed his feelings about Thanksgiving in an interesting story or poem.

The interests of the members of our class were many and varied. Our enthusiasm for sports was reflected in our active participation in fall, winter, and spring sports. Many junior boys were active in soccer, track, bowling, and baseball. We also had ten juniors on the boys' basketball teams.

Nor did the girls lack athletic ability: many participated in field hockey, basketball, bowling, and softball. Five junior cheerleaders, in an effort to raise school spirit, helped organize pep rallies. In one of the most successful of these rallies the "all-wise" Spirit Computer voted us last in school spirit. (It was rigged!)

In the realm of music five of our members performed with batons as majorettes, while others in the band and chorus entertained us with their music.

Action Everywhere

We spent much of our time in the activities of clubs such as Medical Club, Future Teachers of America, Latin Club, Ski Club, Future Homemakers of America, and Interact Club.

Serving on the Library, Projection, Yearbook, and Office Staffs were many dedicated juniors who gave their time and talent for the betterment of our school.

Our junior year has been one of opportunity and advancement, as we have sought to enrich our minds and lives with knowledge and experience. We have treasured the remembrance of this period of action and growth.

Silly Sophomores

With shaky legs and feeble hearts, we walked through the doors of Scarborough High School on September 7. After that first day we found that the cold brick building which had stared down at us for three years was not as forbidding as it had seemed. To insure ourselves of proper treatment and to become better organized at the high school, we elected our class officers. Douglas Babkirk became our fearless leader with reliable Jane Thurston backing him. We entrusted Bethany Baxter with the incoming and outgoing finances of the class. Sheridan Newcomb became our efficient stenographer.

Having elected our class officers, we were still suspicious of the upperclassmen, for we wished not to be deprived in any way of enriching our lives to the fullest extent. Therefore, we elected Douglas Babkirk, Joyce Delaware, Susan Dionne, Susan Mattatall, Bette Jean Prout, and Jane Thurston as Student Council representatives. It soon became clear to us why we had no "afterthoughts" about opening that door on September 7.

Some of more sports-minded sophomores participated in athletics. These sports included basketball, baseball, track, soccer, and cross-country for the male portion of our class. We were proud to claim that two of our boys, Gregory Scott and Daniel Plowman, even made the varsity basketball team. The girls played softball, field-hockey, and basketball. We, as sophomores, are proud that we accepted the daily routine of Scarborough High School and all of its responsibilities, for we know that by doing this we have enriched our lives in preparation for the many opportunities of the future.

Lead Us Onward

The seat of our student government, our Student Council, is a closely knit team working towards better relationship and benefits for both students and faculty. Their regular meetings in the Industrial Arts room, with the guidance of Mr. Plaisted and direction of President Higgins, bring the hopes and necessities of the school community to reality. A lively campaign and fiery speeches spurred on the election of officers for the year. The officers are Cooper Higgins, President; Steve Bennett, vice president; and Pam Warren, secretary. Among the accomplishments of this year's Council are the United Fund Drive, the successful apple machine, and the informative assembly programs. We salute the Student Council for their time and effort given to make this school year successful and happy.

Election Hopefuls.

Marvels Of Science

From experiments with fruity fruit flies and beep-bopping Daphnia to measuring horsepower by running up stairs (maybe falling up stairs), sciences aid the students in understanding everyday experiences.

And Wonders Of Health

Exercise and the knowledge of health offered the students by our teachers, Mrs. Blanchard and Mr. Plummer, aid in the development of a healthier society. Through a curricula ranging from sporting activities to the classroom lecture, our high school provides the rigorous physical and mental preparation needed for tomorrow's leaders

'Readin' An' Writin'

From A Tale of Two Cities for the sophomores and Washington Square for the juniors to Hamlet for the seniors, students of English work their way toward a greater understanding of other times, people, and places ever remaining conscious of the relationship between them and now. From the glorious incomparable words of Shakespeare to the old reliables—grammar and punctuation—the students learn to become more proficient in communication and in the appreciation of the words of others.

One of the many courses offered to the student body is the science of mathematics. Through the knowledge gained from geometry, algebra, advanced math, and calculus, the student is prepared to venture into a technical society where mathematical skills are a necessity.

Students in our new calculus course explore at college-level its fundamentals. Functions and equations begin to take meaning as they are related to everyday situations.

In all our mathematics courses we must substantiate our statements by proof. This practice increases our capacity to think analytically.

The Past

The Civil War and the culture of our time are only two of the major highlights presented in the history and geography curricula. Whether discussing historic events or delving into the population explosion, students learn the fundamentals of the world around them.

To the leaders of tomorrow, economics lends an informative as well as interesting insight into the economy of our nation. Stock markets, strikes, and labor-management relations are just a few of the fascinating aspects of economics.

And The Present

Through effective courses in typing, shorthand, and bookkeeping, individuals aspiring to careers in the business world may learn the methods, materials, and skills necessary for a life of productive employment. Practice in the school office enables these students to develop an awareness of actual office administrative procedures. Their duties include typing absence lists, collecting attendance slips, receiving phone calls, delivering messages, and performing many other services which help to make an office more efficient.

"Latin came and saw and conquered—me."

We Are Introduced To . . .

A Culture

Exceptional ability characterizes the instructors of Latin and French at Scarborough High. For Miss Young and for Mr. Arsenault there is beauty and lyricism in the French language. A well-equipped electronic tape laboratory is available for teaching French students proper pronunciations and diction from French-speaking people.

Displaying patience and understanding of our weaknesses, the language teachers help us to fully understand the complexities of foreign and ancient tongues.

"I can finally parle Français."

"Où-La-La"

Mrs. McMackin demonstrates the fundamentals of preserving.

And A Career

The Industrial Arts, Home Economics and Work-Study programs enable interested students to learn skills, procedures and concepts essential for a productive and active life in the home and in the complex world of industry.

Home Economics prepares young women for the many and varied situations encountered in managing a home and family. Of equal importance to young men is the Industrial Arts program which aims to instruct future bread-winners in the materials, processes and practices of various fields of employment.

The boys in our Work-Study program, only recently initiated at Scarborough High, work in an on-the-job learning situation on a half day basis to obtain their skills for future employment.

"I don't know what it is, but I made it."

"If I hit my thumb once more . . ."

Mr. Huntress gives the Work-Study boys some pointers.

Services Present Learning Experiences

Several services at Scarborough High make it possible for students to learn about life in addition to their regular subjects. The well-stocked library, with ample material for projects and for the usual homework, increases the opportunity to learn. The wealth of fiction encourages the students to read for enjoyment and entertainment.

Hear The Sound of Music

Our chorus, under the able direction of Mr. Packard, was active in the community as well as in the school. Once again the chorus broadcast its Christmas Concert over WCHS. Shortly before Christmas the chorus carried the holiday spirit through their music to local grammar schools and to nursing homes.

There are songs we must sing.

"We live a life of ease."

In April of 1966 the chorus staged a musical entitled "Finian's Rainbow". Credit is due to the many non-chorus members who helped the chorus make a success of this musical. The chorus is planning to present another musical this spring which will bring enrichment to the participants as well as to the audience.

Scarborough welcomes the Western Maine Concert Festival.

Music Fills The Air

S.H.S. is well represented.

The annual Western Maine Concert Festival, held here November 19, 1966, was not only an honor for the participating musicians from the many schools but also an experience never to be forgotten. Leading conductors in New England directed the students throughout long hours of work during the day. Combining efforts and talent into a musical accomplishment, the evening performance greatly enriched all who attended.

Scarborough had never before been honored with the presence of Maine's best band, orchestra, and chorus students. This program was the greatest musical success the town has seen—made so through the efforts of the students and through the work of Mr. Fillmore, who carried all the responsibilities on his shoulders.

The all-girl chorus entertains.

"And The Band Played On"

"Did you say 76 trombones?"

"Hey! I've got a new Secret!"

With carefree harmony, the 1966-67 band fulfilled its traditional role of ringing out the Scarborough High School spirit by adding the final sparkle to the Memorial Parade, Senior play, open house, concerts, assemblies, pep rallies, and basketball games. In addition, the band reached new heights. Besides hosting the Western Maine Music Festival, we had greater representation than any other band. For the first time we sponsored the annual Winter Carnival, which became the most popular event of the year and which closed with the biggest dance. In 1966 there were two exchange programs, Somersworth, New Hampshire and Bonny Eagle, which proved richly rewarding in both the musical and the social arts.

Mr. Fillmore, in whose fine character and leadership there was much school pride, graduated his first three-year band members. In the flute section were Judith Kenoyer and the first SHS band soloists, who were also the All-State representatives—Carolyn Presby, and Susan Snow, orchestra. Gail Wolfe, noted for fine performances in both music and stage entrance, and Richard Quinney, who knew how to "jazz up" the dullest drum parts, played together in the percussion section. John Gardner and Stephen Fisk trumpeted the "CHARGE". Our fine Senior clarinetists were Deborah Wentworth, Paula Currie, and Karen Kinney. Since the band this year involved so many rehearsals and activities, it was one of the most profound and profitable facets of the SHS curriculum.

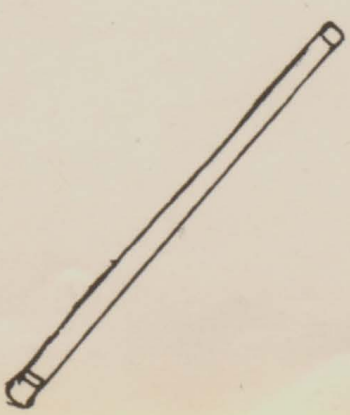
Step High, Girls

The Majorettes were a group of enthusiastic girls who through many hours of rehearsal, headed by Captain Marsha Grondin, perfected precision routines which they performed at concerts, parades, and basketball games. These girls were outstanding in their performances, showing the many onlookers how talent with hard work can be an asset to a school as well as to an individual. Performing at exchange concerts with other schools, the girls represented us in such a way that we could be nothing but proud of Scarborough High School Majorettes.

"These boots were made for walking."



Presenting a charm for inexpressible gratitude.

Well, Sir, here we are again.

Mr. DePinna, have you put on weight?

You Can't Take

"You Can't Take It With You" was the philosophy of the unique and blissful Sycamore family of the 1930's that led them to pursue their interests, unrestrained by routine or desire for fame and fortune. Grandpa Vanderhof (Stephen Boothby) collected snakes and attended commencements; his daughter Penny Sycamore (Susan Dudley, Carolyn Presby) composed plays on a typewriter; and all the while Penny's eager, but untalented daughter Essie (Earlene Ahlquist, Karen Kinney) danced and made "Lovedreams". Her dancing teacher, the blunt but kindly Russian, Boris Kolenkhov (Richard Quinney) was unforgettable with his remark, "It stinks."

Essie's nondescript husband, Ed (Stephen Fisk) accompanied her on his xylophone with originals like "that Beethoven thing he wrote", and printed everything on his printing press. Essie's mild-mannered, industrious father, Paul Sycamore (Richard Hart), with the help of Mr. DePinna (Philip Haigis), made fireworks in the basement, and "just played with his toy boat."

Gay Wellington, (Marcia Faunce, Linda Hart) the dipsomaniac actress, who never touched a drop after curtain time, (except for intermissions), read Penny's plays for her. The Negro help attended the chores—Rheba (Nancy Baldwin, Jean Shorey), with her "Damn those flies!" and Donald (Thomas Greene, John Gardner) with his "That's naize."

There was a young lady . . .

Shut up you!

Finish up the fireworks.

There was a party, apres.

You're of a whole different kind of people.

The Kirbys make a surprise appearance.

It With You

The household might have continued to run smoothly, except for the wish of the lovely, fresh, young and "normal" Alice Sycamore (Susan Snow, Judy Kenoyer) to impress her handsome, successful fiance, Tony Kirby (Cooper Higgins) and his dignified parents: Mr. Kirby, a wealthy Wall Street executive (Barry Googins) and Mrs. Kirby (Debbie Libby, Paula Currie) with her "Even when", and Tony's kid sister, Joan (Debbie Wentworth, Cheryl Mattatal). Despite the invasions of the frustrated revenue man Henderson (Mark Newth, Rodney Babkirk) with his "Shut up, you", Mac (Philip Nelson) and Jim (Philip Caesar) the story ended happily with a "blintz" feast prepared by the Grand Duchess Olga Katrina (Lynne Murphy, Carol Rancourt).

With the artful dedication of Coach Mrs. Lary, with the help of the prompters (Sharon Hart, Rachelle Breton, Deborah Paul, Gail Wolfe and Melodie Provost) the play proceeded so smoothly that a former Colby dramatics coach called it a "really professional job". In addition to the play itself, two cast trips to see it performed last summer (once by a professional group starring Charlie Weaver), and finally a swinging cast party, made the entire experience a high point for the participants. Over 128 rehearsal hours between June and the performances of casts X and Y on October 28 and 27, respectively, made the 1967 Senior Class play, in profits and popularity, the most successful in SHS history.

Show I tol' HIM!

Behold the Grand Duchess.

A little pre-primping.

Pull it in please.

Essie, please!

"What's up, Paw?"

"To the swimmin' hole with Bill?"

"The Play's The Thing"

A great deal of credit should go to the coaches, Mrs. Lary, Miss Ferguson, and Mr. Day, who gave of their time and talents to direct the Dramatic Club students in making Scarborough High School's plays the best possible.

These students gave of themselves to enrich the lives of others through the one act plays and the Senior Play. "It's Cold in Them Thar Hills," directed by Mrs. Lary, was a one act play about a family of hillbillies who tried to get their oldest daughter, Snoddy, married off to a city slicker. Paw seemed to feel the only way would be to use the persuasion method, the shotgun.

Miss Ferguson directed the second one act play, "The Revolt of Mother." Mother had always wanted a new house, but Paw felt a new barn was more important, so one was built for the stock. To father's dismay mother decided the stock could have the house and the family would move to the barn.

To change the mood a little, the third one act play, "More Perfect Union", directed by Mr. Day, was about a twentieth century group of glee club girls who dealt with a problem of prejudice in their high school. Each girl's opinion was taken into consideration before anything was done to right a wrong.

Books Are For Reading

The Scarborough High Library Staff was a faithful help to all students during the year. It was made up of those students willing to give their time to checking books, helping students with the card catalog, and assisting with the vertical file. Because of Mrs. Hart, our new library aide, and the devotion of Mrs. Heywood, the library was open longer. Mrs. Heywood arrived to open the library at seven-thirty in the morning with Mrs. Hart coming in at nine. In the afternoon students could take advantage of our library facilities until four in the afternoon. We wish to thank the library staff for their help and service in maintaining a very fine library for each of us to enjoy.

PROLOGUE: SPRING 1966

Armed with the determination to produce the best yearbook ever put out by Scarborough High, the staff of the 1967 FOUR CORNERS began work on their masterpiece. The first item on the agenda was choosing the theme, enrichment, which we have attempted to follow closely.

Mr. Hallett then showed us how to crop pictures and to lay out pages. Having learned this, we adjourned for the summer.

INTERIM: SUMMER 1966

Summer was a time for pictures. The editors arranged to have a sea scene taken for the endsheets. Many seniors were already having their pictures taken for the Periscope Section, the section devoted to the seniors.

RISING ACTION: AUTUMN 1966

The senior class could be recognized by a universal limp after they had spent many hours collecting a record-breaking amount of ads.

The business staff now sped into action—typing ads, cropping pictures, laying out pages—as they worked feverishly to finish seventy ads before the first two deadlines.

Meanwhile the Periscope Staff busily interviewed the seniors in order to prepare their write-ups. By the second deadline we had finished half the book.

CLIMAX: WINTER 1966-1967

Though a blizzard added to the chaos of picture day, we accomplished everything that we had planned, in great part because of the cooperation of the student body. The looming deadlines activated the editorial staff. Sports editors gathered action shots; class editors fretted over write-ups; those working on activities and music and dramatics spent long hours setting up their pages. A helpful faculty member was always there to advise an editor in trouble. Willing typists typed out page after page with efficiency. At last, pictures, write-ups, and lay-outs fell into place. The yearbook was ready for press!

EPILOGUE: SPRING 1967

A staff of excited editors pored over the results of their work. Proud and happy, filled with gratitude for all the willing advisers who had made such a production possible, they presented their gift to the students of Scarborough High School—the recorded memory of the high school year 1967.

With such a gift of remembrance, the FOUR CORNERS would enrich the lives of its readers.

They Follow Hippocrates

Our Medical Club serves as an occupational insight for many students interested in the field of medicine. The officers for 1966-1967 are Cooper Higgins, president; Karen Kinney, vice president; Kathy Knight, secretary; and Susan Snow, treasurer. Along with Mrs. Lee, our club faculty adviser, and Dr. Robert Andrews, who as a member of the Cumberland County Medical Society Committee sponsors our Club, our officers plan an activity for each monthly meeting.

This year the sixty-five members of the Medical Club have attended many interesting programs. These have included a panel discussion on the various programs of nursing under the direction of Mrs. Carolyn Perkins; a lecture on careers in medicine by Dr. Donald Mott; a discussion on cancer by Dr. Stanley Herrick; and a tour of a hospital.

"Dicō, Quiritēs, have you heard the news of the Soliditas Latina?" Yes, the Junior Classical League, known as the Latin Club, again has had an interesting year of programs devoted to the study of the history, language, customs, and culture of the Roman civilization. Among the most noted events of the year was the candlelight initiation of new club members and the lively Latin banquet and arena show. The members of the Latin Club, under the guidance of Miss Young, learn more about the classical aspects of history in a fun way. The Future Teachers of America elected as their officers the following: Paula Currie, president; Karen Kinney, vice-president; Linda Hart, secretary; Mary Lamont, treasurer; and Debbie Libby, historian. Mrs. Marguerite Lary, a teacher devoted to her work and to her pupils, instilled in the members of the F.T.A. admiration and respect for the teaching profession. The Future Teachers were successful in putting on their annual Harvest Supper in October.

In order to raise enough money to offer a scholarship to a worthy senior, the Future Teachers sold candy at a basketball game and sponsored a Christmas dance. F.T.A. members had an installation ceremony with their sister chapters at Westbrook. The F.T.A. has done much to encourage students to enter the rewarding profession of teaching.

Girls Prepare For Kitchen Duty

Running a home successfully, making each family member happy and responsive, is a big job set aside for the women of tomorrow. Here at Scarborough High, the Future Homemakers of America Chapter helps to better prepare the girls for their future roles as homemakers. The regular monthly meetings serve to promote students' interest and activity. The girls work hard at many projects of service. This year they held a clothing drive for the Save the Children Federation and collected items for the Steven's Training Center for girls. They also entertained the faculty at a banquet planned, prepared, and served completely by the members of F.H.A. The F.H.A. also awards a scholarship to a deserving girl through money-raising efforts such as the annual Halloween Dance, Cooky and Fudge Sale, and half-time refreshments. We congratulate the F.H.A. and Mrs. McMackin for their service and progress toward preparedness for the future.

The Rolling Stones Strike

Bowling pins fly when the Scarborough bowling teams arrive at the alleys. The Boys' Bowling Club consists of four teams of five boys each. They bowl against South Portland, Cape Elizabeth, Old Orchard, and other Scarborough teams. The highest average goes to Robert Osborn.

The Girls' Bowling Club has nine teams. They play against teams from Old Orchard and Cape Elizabeth High Schools. The highest single string score is held by Charlotte Hall, who picked off 129 pins. Many of the girls average in the 80's. The Big 20 alleys award beautiful trophies for high single and first- and second-place teams at the end of the season.

Keep A Steady Eye

Scarborough High School made its first attempt to organize a rifle club this year. Under the direction of Mr. Foley interest grew quickly. Several girls were interested enough to join the club. The Rifle Club held classes and practice sessions at the Scarborough Rod and Gun Club. The purpose of the Club was to give the students a working knowledge of rifle safety and to provide them with an opportunity for recreation.

Under the careful supervision of Mr. Robert Graves, the golf team provided its members with recreation, teamwork, and instruction in good sportsmanship.

The team practiced at Willowdale, their home course, to sharpen their game. They walked away with the League trophy after their first year as a team, because of a demonstration of fine golfing throughout the tournament.

Get Behind

"Take it easy, Phin"

The jinx was on the Scarborough Booters this year as they suffered a losing season. After Coach Plummer put the boys through two weeks of strenuous physical exercise to remove the summer laziness, the boys seemed to be "up" for the first game. However, they dropped the contest by one goal and were to lose six more by the same margin before the season was over. In the eighth game of the season, the boys finally battled Gorham to a one to one draw. Then the sweet breath of victory was felt in the next two games with Scarborough beating Falmouth and Gray-New Gloucester. The best, however, was in a losing effort to Yarmouth, which eventually won the Soccer title with an unbeaten record.

The high scorer for the Redskin eleven was Cooper Higgins, who rustled the netting with five goals, followed by Tom Green with three. Six underclassmen also added eight goals during the frustrating season. Mike Bayley and Barry Googins turned in stalwart defensive jobs in the Falmouth victory from their full back positions.

The Ball

Bubbling with enthusiasm, the girls' field hockey team practiced hard and faithfully in an effort to meet the opponent's challenge. Leading the team in their crusade were seniors Jean Shorey, Debbie Wentworth, Debbie Libby, Sue Snow, and Lynne Murphy. Taking up the challenge along with the seniors were outstanding juniors Susan Whitehead, Doddie Rhoda, and Kathy Knight, and sophomores Pat Dunton and Beth Baxter.

Although often struck by defeat, the team vigorously continued their effort. By winning the biggest game of the season against Cape Elizabeth, the girls demonstrated how a little spirited determination can carry a team a long way.

A weary team comes off the field.

The record of the cross country team was very irregular due to the size of the squad. There were only seven members on the team. Although their record was only one win and seven losses, there were several highlights in the season. One was their outstanding performance at the Southwestern meet. Edward Gervais, Gerald Hillock, and the Wiley brothers, Ray and Dave, ran extremely well as our team placed third in competition with thirteen other schools. Another fine performance by the cross country team was the perfect score they received against Yarmouth. The first six men across the finish line were all from Scarborough.

Eddie Gervais, a sophomore, was Scarborough's outstanding runner. Three juniors, Jerry Hillock, Ray Wiley, and Dave Wiley, consistently finished well for Scarborough. Tom Philbrook, Bruce Douglass and Tim Tracy rounded out a Scarborough squad which, if not often a winner, proved to be a dangerous opponent at all meets.

"Catch me if you can"

The S.H.S. track team breezed through the spring season catching honors for the school as they dashed past. Out of breath from the running competition, the team failed to place as high in the field events. The highlight of the season occurred when the 440 relay team (all sophomores) tore up the cinders, winning the Tri-C relay and were only .3 of a second off the course record.

High scorers, under the direction of Mr. Howard, were Gerald Hillock (37 pts.) Vic Iaconeta (26¾ pts.), and Bruce Alward (26 pts.). Eleven of the boys earned letters, including seven underclassmen.

"Eber" takes the lead.

Redskins Clinch

Counted out by the experts, the inexperienced Scarborough boys started off the season in high-flying fashion, downing the Gorham Rams in an early season upset. The hustling Redskins split their next eight and then defeated the Windham Eagles to capture valuable tourney points. Suddenly the team began to mesh together and the wins piled up. The team won six of their last seven games and found themselves securely lodged in fourth place in the Western Maine L standings. The most satisfying win came in the 13th game of the season as the aroused Redskins bombed Cape Elizabeth by 18 points. This game was won by a tight defense and "a lot of heart" on the part of our boys. The only dismal part of the season occurred when Dennis Phinney was injured before the first game and was not able to play for the rest of the year.

The top scorers for Coach McFarland's netmen were Cooper Higgins, Darrel Perkins, and sophomore Greg Scott. Scott also led the rebounders with senior Dennis Chadburn second. Both boys captured over 100 rebounds apiece during the season. Senior Dale Leighton, and Tom Green along with the vastly improved underclassmen, turned in some key performances and strengthened the surprising Redskins bid for state recognition in the tournament at Lewiston.

Our Jayvees, under the excellent coaching of Mr. Richard Plummer, compiled the outstanding record of 13 wins and 3 losses. One of the defeats, an 83-82 loss at the hands of Greely, can hardly be considered as such since the boys fought back and almost won the game after trailing by as much as thirty points in the third quarter. Highlights of the season were defeating tough Gorham twice and pulling out a one-point victory over a fine Windham team. Through the season Phil Hersey and Huddie Briggs, served capably as co-captains. Tommy Kane, Chris True, Buz Atkinson, and Dick Collins, a sophomore, all played fine games. Danny Plowman and John Pennell, both of whom saw action with the Varsity, also had key rolls with the Jayvees.

Dick goes up for two.

Got That Spirit!

This year's peppy Cheerleaders led by varsity Co-Captains Marcia Faunce and Debby Libby and junior varsity captain Sue Snow have had great success in instilling in the student body a new, spirited enthusiasm. By using clever and unique ideas, the cheerleaders have made rallies more meaningful and exciting not only for the basketball teams but for the student body as well!

Good Sportsmanship and faithful Dedication were the most outstanding players on the girls' varsity basketball team this season. Although wins were few, point differences were not always great. With the excellent rebounding of Lynn Murphy and Mary Jo Flaherty, ball-handling of Debbie Wentworth and Joanne Greenleaf, and shooting of Jean Shorey and Sara Cott, the team offered real action and good competition.

Individual honors came to two members of the team: Sara Cott, SHS foul-shooting queen, and to Jean Shorey, appointment to the South-Western Maine All-Star Team.

Off Your Feet, Girls

Under the direction of Coach Blanchard, the girl's junior varsity basketball players organized themselves into a promising team. Through their efforts they achieved a record of 4 wins and 8 losses.

On the defense against opposing forwards were Bev Hall, Sharon Bouchard, and Karen Link. Racking up the points for Scarborough were Beth Baxter and Phyllis Bayley, who shared high scoring honors with Cindy Milliken and Ina Hall.

The Scarborough Diamondeers suffered a rather dismal season in "66" after winning their first game. During the practice sessions the boys concentrated on their hitting by facing the whirring arm of "Iron Mike," the pitching machine. Because most of the players were inexperienced the team won only three games. Probably the most exciting game was with Bonny Eagle as the "Redskins" lost 6 to 5. Bonny Eagle was on the ropes until they broke through with two runs in the last inning. The poor season was no reflection on the expert jobs Coaches McFarland and Plummer did in teaching the players the finer points of the game and the importance of sportsmanship in athletic competition, whether one wins or loses.

"OUT!" Although this word symbolized the crushing defeats of the girls' softball team, the girls charged with spirit and determination, have made the season one of building confidence and experience, especially for the many sophomores on the team. This active group of underclassmen included: Joanne Greenleaf, Bev Bearor, Linda Carbone, Sharon Bouchard, Linda Alward, Pam Carter, Sherry Steele, and Irene Doody.

Under the direction of Coach Blanchard, able Manager Sandy Howe, and skillful help of senior veteran Cheryl Moulton, juniors Debbie Wentworth, Cheryl Mattatall, and Charlotte Hall, the team grew proficient in the rules and techniques of the game.

You'll always find Rodney in the center of things!

I'm taking a poll . . . Who did you vote for?

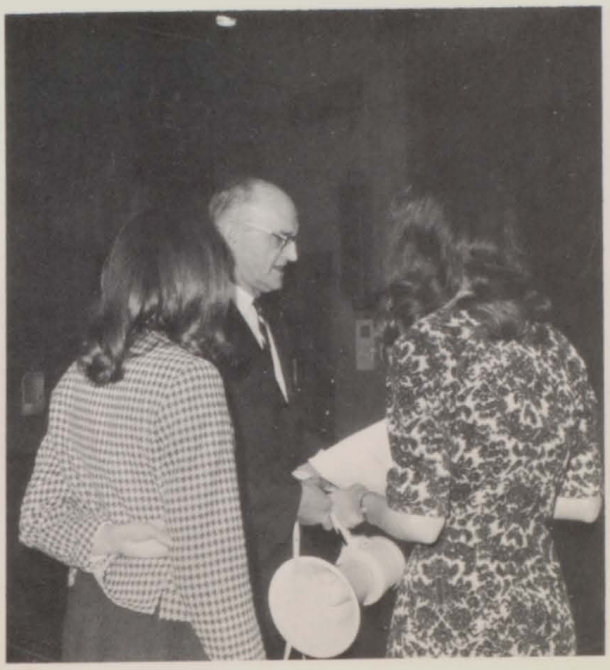
Is this Scarboro or ancient Rome?

OCTOBER Our apple machine finally arrived. Student Council elections took place. Teachers and students presented an informative Open House for parents

NOVEMBER The Latin and F.T.A. Clubs held initiations of new members. Following these events, the Western Maine Music Festival came to Scarborough. At the annual Thanksgiving assembly the Juniors' Thanksgiving Day themes and poems brought fine entertainment.

DECEMBER Our first basketball game started the season off with our victory over Gorham. In addition, we held the first picture-day for the FOUR CORNERS and Santa visited our Christmas assembly.

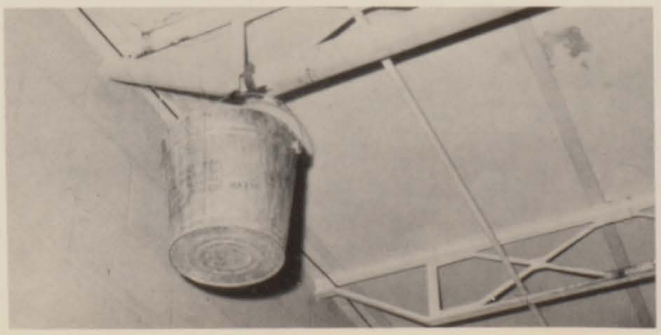
Boy, are we healthy!



The problem of making yourself heard amid the confusion of picture day has at last been solved!

Have you been good to all the students this year?

JANUARY Christmas vacation over, we returned to school just in time for midyears and the January thaw.



The old, broken bucket that hangs in the hall!

Watch this—maybe I'll hit the pins this time!

Warm weather and graduation look equally far away.

FEBRUARY We all enjoyed February with its much needed vacation. Making the tournament, which was held at Lewiston, lifted everyone's spirits.

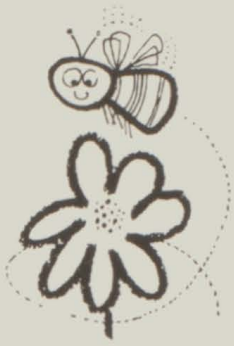
Of course, to help pass the time, we danced a lot.

Is this really the great basketball team that made the tournament?

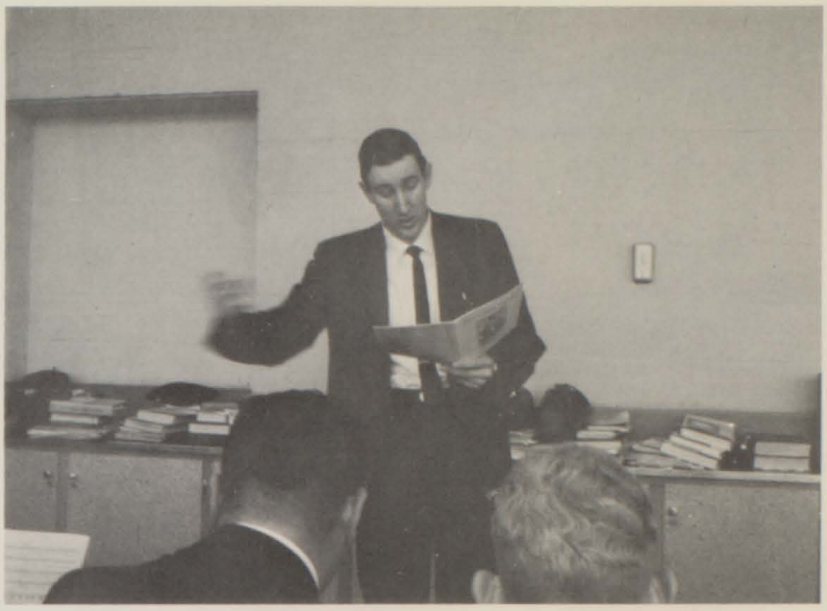
Our golf team gets in shape early!

MARCH It was a long month with little time off, but luckily spring was in sight to put an end to our traditional 3rd quarter slump.

APRIL Many people enjoyed Mr. Packard's annual musical "Once Upon a Mattress." Teachers issued rank cards, but only a few students enjoyed this event.



Our yearbooks arrive at last!



Rehearsing for the musical is a long and rough job.

After all this work the prom had to be a success!

MAY Between baseball, track, and golf, May was an athletic month. It was also the month when yearbooks arrived, and the Juniors held their Junior Prom.

JUNE In September, June had seemed far away; however, as graduation approached with its mixed emotions, we realized that another year had actually passed very quickly.

Did you think we'd ever make it this far?

We have our final fling.

Our Toils Are Ended

We end our work with satisfaction and even regret, for it has been fun as well as hectic at times. Deadlines, the old bugaboos of editors, have not conquered us, though they have taken their toll in headaches, sleepless nights, and every form of anxiety imaginable.

We doubt if we could have succeeded in getting the FOUR CORNERS to press without the valuable aid of our faculty advisers. Mr. Gerald Hallett, our man-of-all-trades, has taken and developed endless pictures, has helped us with lay-outs, and has given us needed advice. Mrs. Pauline Jones, advising, prodding, and proofreading has given us welcome support. To them go our gratitude.

We also wish to thank Mr. Melvin Day, who supervised the class editors; Mrs. Natalie Heywood, who aided the activities editors; and Mrs. Marguerite Lary, who was in charge of Periscope.

Although Miss Ferguson could not be with us, she brought us many inspirations and useful ideas.

In our endeavor to present this edition of the FOUR CORNERS to you, we have added the riches of experience and fulfillment of responsibility to our lives. We hope that as you read this memory of your high school year 1966-1967, your lives, as ours, will find enrichment.

ADVERTISEMENTS

On a bright Monday morning in September, one hundred and three Scarborough seniors sped out to invade the abodes of many neighboring businessmen and returned triumphant. Garnering the ads they had collected and classifying them as either new or repeat ads were Mr. LaValliere and his hard working crew. Laying out the ad pages, typing them up, and cropping the accompanying pictures was no easy task. The calm capability of the business team began to falter as they eyed the looming deadline.

The editor-in-chief was always there to prod them on. "How many pages will you have ready?" she continually asked Mr. LaValliere. His pained expression ("She must be kidding!") told her of his trials. "Tomorrow", he would whisper hoarsely. Placated only for the moment, she warned, "Remember the deadline!"

Three months of frantic work, and the ad pages were completed and sent to the publishers.

A new phase of work for the Business Staff began: to take subscriptions for the 1967 Yearbook. Twelve hardy homeroom representatives were selected to collect the money. Finally, a proud team of business managers examined the results of their labors. By making the production of this yearbook possible, they had enriched their lives through the acceptance of responsibility and had brought pleasure to the readers of the—
