SUPREME COURT.

FRED L. ELLSWORTH MULCTED IN SUM OF $230 FOR ASSAULT.

Interesting Testimony of Vicious Assault In Salem. Ellsworth Said He Was Called Rumseller—Other Cases of County Interesting.

(Special to MAINE WOODSMAN.)

FARMINGTON, May 27, 1908.

The most important case to upper Franklin county tried in the Franklin Supreme Judicial court was that of Benjamin Dodge of Freeman vs Fred L. Ellsworth of Salem, in a suit for $1000 damages for an assault alleged to have been committed on his person May 5, 1907, in the town of Salem, and in which the jury found a verdict for the plaintiff in the sum of $230.64 for the plaintiff. E. E. Richards of Farmington represented the plaintiff with D. R. Ross of Phillips, and Joseph Holman the defendant.

Dodge testified that he was a farmer and lumber operator and had also served as selectman. As foreman of the Crossman mill at Salem drew $75 a month. Sunday, May 5, he drove into the village of Salem and while seated in his buckboard near the post office, clothed in a heavy ulster, he was approached from the rear by Ellsworth who came running from the stable across the street hurling curses at him, and was struck a heavy blow from behind by the defendant which stunned him. He was then struck by Ellsworth over a score of times inflicting severe bruises, his eye being blackened, his ear cut and a metallic bridge in his mouth broken together with the teeth. Ellsworth then threatened to beat his brains out with a whip which he took from him.

Dr. Bell of Strong was called and attended him at his home where he lay ill for some days, being unable to attend his regular business which he had to give up and went to his farm where he suffered for six months afterward from the effects of the beating. He testified to mental sufferings caused by the remarks of neighbors on the assault and said that he suffered $300 actual money loss from the assault.

Dr. Bell testified to the injuries found upon Dodge's person which were severe enough to incapacitate him from his work at the mill.

Walter S. Heath, postmaster at Salem, testified assisting in partly warding off the defendant from Dodge and corroborated Dodge's account of the assault.

Fred Dodge, son of plaintiff, told of his father's condition during the summer and described the assault.

The defendant on his part admitted his liability but pleaded great provocation. He said he had been falsely accused by Dodge of being a rumseller over the telephone and claimed that plaintiff's injuries had been greatly exaggerated. Ellsworth further testified that he had served for years as selectman of the town and that a few days before the assault Dodge had called him up on the 'phone and inquired if he had gotten over his drunk yet and said that he (Ellsworth) might as well run a rum shop as to supply rum as he was doing. He offered to settle the matter with the fists and when he met Dodge, he hit him on the head and three or four times in the "mug," and them some more. Dodge brandished his whip which he took from him. Several other Salem people testified.

The case of Joseph Fleet et al vs Walter E. Dyer, both of Strong, an action of trespass for the cutting of certain trees on the land of the plaintiff in said town. The land of the parties adjoined and the point at issue was the dividing line.

After hearing part of the evidence, it was agreed at the court's suggestion that the case be referred to referees. D. W. Berry of Carthage and James Morrison of Phillips were appointed as the referees, with full power, the hearing to be held within 30 days and the award to be given as of the present term.

The court heard several divorce cases Saturday afternoon.

In the case of Clyde H. Ellis vs Daniel Ross, both of Rangeley, an action in account for $75 for furniture and fixtures, Richards for plaintiff, Ross for defendant, the court withdrew it from the jury and took it under advisement.

The same disposition was made in the case of C. D. Charles and Edgar E. Chase vs Eben H. Schofield of Weld an action for covenant broken.

The case of Philander E. Noyes vs George M. Goding and John O. Legroo, parties of Wilton, controversy over an orchard went to the Law court.

Monday the court took up the case of Fred C. Hutchins of Chesterville vs Newall R. Knowlton, W. H. Pearson and the Henry W. Gilman, formerly selectmen of the town of Farmington, for personal injuries received in consequence of a runaway accident caused by a pile of plank lying in the highway. The jury reported a disagreement.

In the case of the inhabitants of Chesterville vs Fayette to determine the pauper settlement of one Oliver B. King, a verdict for the defendant was found.

NEW BANK BUILDING.

Phillips Savings Bank Will Build One Soon.

At a meeting of the trustees of the Phillips Savings Bank held last Wednesday, it was voted unanimously to build a new brick bank building this year. It is to be two stories with a large well lighted office in the second story. It will be located on the bank's lot where Mrs. Parker's milliner's store now stands.

The deposits and general business of the Savings bank have increased to such an extent that it is thought advisable to locate on the street and to have more commodious quarters. The building of the new modern building will in no way affect the depositors or the interest on their deposits as the bank has a reserve fund that is more than ample for that purpose.

For more than a year past the bank has been paying 4 per cent upon its deposits, a rate equal to that paid by any other bank or trust company in Maine.

TIMBERLAKE'S NAME

MENTIONED AS SUCCESSOR TO HON. SETH M. CARTER.

Phillips' Lawyer Highly Recommended As Chairman of Republican State Committee—What a Second District Man Says of His Qualifications For Important Office.

There is much conjecture as to the successor to Hon. Seth M. Carter of Auburn as chairman of the Republican state committee, a position which he will resign at the state convention in Bangor when a new chairman will be appointed as his successor.

A name prominently mentioned as his successor is that of Hon. F. E. Timberlake of Phillips, who since completing his term of office as state bank examiner has been associated with Mr. Webb under the firm name of Timberlake & Webb, investment brokers on Exchange street, Portland. Mr. Timberlake still maintains his voting place in Phillips, where he for many years practiced law and where he still retains his law office.

Speaking of the probable successor to Chairman Carter the Portland Express quotes a prominent Second District politician as follows:

"For the important position of Chairman of the State committee to succeed Mr. Carter I know of no man in the State so well qualified for the position as is Hon. F. E. Timberlake of Phillips. He is not in office and is a candidate for no office. He has been a member of the state committee and has done valu-

BIG FOREST FIRE.

Serious at One Time Threatening Destruction to Buildings.

(Special to MAINE WOODSMAN.)

STRONG, May 27, 1908.

Fire that had been smouldering in the sawdust pile on the site of Fred Nutting's portable mill last winter, broke out and spread through dry refuse to the surrounding uncut wood and made a big blaze Sunday afternoon and night.

For a long time it was feared that the buildings on the old Allen place would be burned as they were in the line of the fire. Had there been a wind nothing could have saved them though when the fire got into the green woods it materially lessened in force and during the night nearly died out.

Not as much damage to living lumber was done as was feared. A big crew were fighting the fire until about 2 o'clock in the morning. No worked lumber was endangered and by setting back fires the spread of the fire into the standing lumber was prevented. Very little loss resulted. About 300 acres were burned over.

The officiating clergyman united the parents of the bride in marriage 29 years ago.

After the serving of a wedding breakfast the happy couple left on the afternoon train. The bride is a graduate of the Farmington High school and a very popular young lady. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rollins of Chesterville and is a graduate of the same school and of the U. of Maine. ## FRANKLIN'S POLITICS.

COUNTY CONVENTION WILL BE HELD IN FARMINGTON JUNE 2.

Only Contest Apparent Will Be Over Office of County Commissioner, For Which There Are Three Candidates—Fight For Representative From Phillips District—Political Notes.

The Franklin County convention will convene at Music hall, Farmington, Tuesday, June 2, at 10 a. m. and the only contest now apparent is for the office of county commissioner, for which there are three aspirants to succeed Chairman C. R. Hall of Wilton. They are L. A. Worthley of Strong, Henry W. Coburn of Weld and Edgar Wills of Salem.

County officers to be nominated are sheriff, senator, a county commissioner, judge of probate, county treasurer and members of the county committee. There will be no opposition to the re-nomination of Dana O. Coolidge for sheriff, and Mr. Frank A. Emery of Jay will be nominated to succeed Hon. H. H. Rice of Farmington. Mr. Emery is a representative business man and will honor Franklin county in the office of senator. J. H. Thompson of Farmington, present judge of probate, will meet with no opposition for the office, and J. Prentice Flint of Farmington, appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the removal of Carleton P. Merrill to Skowhegan, will be nominated as county treasurer without opposition also. Mr. Flint is cashier of the People's National bank of Farmington.

Hon. N. P. Noble of Phillips will preside over the convention which is entitled to 141 delegates.

On June 6 at Phillips will be held the caucus for the nomination of a candidate for representative for the Phillips district. It is the turn of Avon, Salem and Madrid to send the representative this term and there are three candidates, N. P. Harris, of Salem, J. A. Norton and G. F. Beal of Avon. The contest between these three gentlemen is a lively one.

There is also a contest over representative nominee in the class towns of Farmington Temple and Chesterville. It is Temple's turn to send. Charles Hodgkins is prominently mentioned.

Frank Blanchard of Wilton is candidate for representative from the towns of Jay, Carthage and Wilton. It is said that former county attorney H. S. Wing will stand for the Kingfield district.

It is a matter of much congratulation that the Republican party of Franklin county presents such a solid, harmonious front in the coming election, and it can be safely predicted that she will roll up one of the largest Republican majorities in her history, giving the state, national, county and congressional tickets her undivided support with all her old time vigor.

CONDITION IMPROVING.

County Attorney Blanchard Has Passed Crisis of Illness.

(Special to MAINE WOODSMAN.)

WILTON, May 27, 1908.

The condition of County Attorney Blanchard, who is suffering from rheumatic fever complicated with a lung trouble, still remains serious, although the crisis has been passed. Monday night he was delirious but rallied Tuesday and the physician in attendance looks for recovery. Today he showed considerable improvement and his host of friends hope for a rapid recovery.

HON. F. E. TIMBERLAKE

East Dixfield, where he has since resided. A year ago February he was married to Annie L. Cragin of Lawrence, Mass.

Besides his mother, Mrs. D. A. Conant, he leaves two brothers both in the mill business, Westley E. of Canton, and Frank L. of Wilton, and four sisters, Mrs. John A. Ellsworth of Salem, Mrs. Katherine W. Page of Lewiston, Mrs. N. L. Mower and Mrs. W. E. Lawless, Auburn.

Amanda M. Worthley.

Amanda Malvina Worthley was born in Phillips, Maine, Jan. 16, 1834 and died in Saranac Lake, N. Y., in the midst of the Adirondack mountains, May 9, 1908. She was married May 18, 1862, to Hiram A. Wright of Strong by her cousin, Rev. A. S. Ladd. Mr. Wright died March 12, 1883.

Mrs. Wright was a noble woman. She was of that calm, deliberate temperament which wins friends wherever she finds her lot in life. Her church membership, which began in early years, was characterized by faithfulness and devotion. She leaves one daughter, Mrs. Abbie W. Thomas, with whom she has made a very pleasant home.

Farmington P. O.

Postmaster Moore will make application in July for the consolidation of the post offices at Farmington Falls, West Farmington, Fairbanks and Allens Mills with the local office with the hope that thereby the receipts will be increased to $10,000 yearly, in order to secure letter carriers. The Farmington post office goes into the second class July 1.

able work for that organization when he was not a member of it. While Hon. F. M. Simpson was the chairman no man did so much work for him and rendered such valuable service as did Mr. Timberlake. In the campaign of 1905 Mr. Timberlake aided in the conduct of this campaign, and I happen to know that no man was more relied upon by Mr. Carter than was Mr. Timberlake.

"Mr. Timberlake is well acquainted in every section of the state. He is personally acquainted with Republicans in every school district. He is a man of the very best of judgment. He is always cool and never loses his head. He is, with all else, a Republican who has always stood by the principles of the party.

"Mr. Timberlake is a voter in the Second District, and as the candidate for the governorship will come from that district, it is eminently proper that the chairman of the committee should also be from that district.

"I know of no man who is so well fitted for this very important place as is Mr. Timberlake, and I would like to see him in the position. I have no wish to appear to dictate at all in this matter, but offer this as a suggestion. I am certain that it is one which will meet with the approval of Republicans in all parts of the state. With Mr. Timberlake as chairman it would be certain that every detail of the committee work would be a better and more systematic canvass made than the party has had in many years."

Going to Weld.

On Memorial Day many will go to Weld where there is to be a big wrestling match.

AMONG THE CHURCHES.

At the Union church the annual Memorial sermon before the veterans of the G. A. R. was preached by Rev. Mr. Hutchins. Members of James E. Cushman Post escorted by the Junior Order of American Mechanics were present.

The church was prettily decorated with flags, with flowers and with bunting and upon two panels of green lettered in white appeared the words, "In Honor of James E. Cushman Post," "We Honor All Who Wore the Blue."

The choir consisting of Misses Algine Pratt, Mildred Mahoney, Estelle Barker, Birdena Plaisted, Messrs. Frank Hood and Daniel Miner, with Miss Della Ross as organist rendered the following musical program:

Organ Voluntary
Coronation
Anthem
Hymn
Response
Anthem
Hymn

The Comrade's Greeting
The Patriot's Prayer
Hear Thou Our Prayer
Sweet Be Their Sleep
America

The text used for the sermon was Acts xx, 28, "And the chief captain answered, 'With a great sum obtained I this freedom.' And Paul said, 'But I was free born.'"

Paul, the missionary, apostle, had returned to Jerusalem. He had been to the temple, had spoken of Jesus Christ, his Lord, whom the Jews had crucified. A mob had thronged about him and full of vengeance had sought to treat him with violence and soldiers were sent to quell the tumult. They took Paul in custody. When the chief captain saw the wrath of the people against Paul he commanded that he be examined by scourging. As Paul was being bound he said that he was a Roman citizen whom it was unlawful to scourge without trial. Rome was then ruling the known world. Scattered throughout the subject provinces were some, a very few, who although not Romans, had the privileges of Roman citizens. One might have acquired this citizenship through his ancestry. His father, or perchance his grandfather, might have gained it through some service rendered the Roman government thus giving to their posterity the advantages belonging to it. But it could be purchased only at great price. When the chief captain heard that a Roman citizen was about to be beaten he hastened to ask of Paul if he were a Roman and being told that he was he said, "With a great sum obtained I this freedom," or as the revised rendering says, "this citizenship." Paul made answer, "But I was free born."

Since your return from the conflict in 1865 you, veterans, have seen many things that are sad. You came to neglected farms and depressed business, to desolated homes and saddened hearts. But you have also seen much that is good, much new freedom. You have seen the rivers once more turning the wheels of factories and commercial and manufacturing prosperity return to New England. You have seen the great West developed and yielding the treasures of its wonderful resources. You have seen differences arising between capital and labor many times overcome. You have seen great inventions and discoveries which have wonderfully added to the pleasure and prosperity of mankind. You have seen a freedom of mind resulting in the fearless attacking of evils to be abolished, you have seen a spiritual or religious freedom to which the former bondage to creeds is giving place. Not only in your own land have you seen these blessings appearing, but looking out upon the world you see that the progress is world wide. The common people every where are living under happier conditions. Their voice is more and more heard and as you look you may say, "A part of that process I was; With a great price obtained I this freedom."

We think of the dark days before the war. Not only had state after state in the South withdrawn from the Union, but New Jersey was said to contemplate doing so. New York City had threatened to establish herself as an independent nationality. Intense feeling characterized both North and South. The South finally decided upon an action which should definitely declare her position and which should unify her forces. Fort Sumpter in Charleston harbor was held by a garrison of Union men commanded by Major Anderson. Supplies were to be sent them from the North. Learning this General Beauregard planned an attack upon the fort unless the demand to lower the Union flag was heeded. Major Anderson was given a certain length of time in which to comply with the demand. On the morning of April 12, 1861, through the fog and mists could be seen the stars and stripes waving above the fort. The bombardment was begun. From one side and another the projectiles were hurled against the fort.

After two days, the provisions exhausted, the flag cut down, the fort in flames. Major Anderson was compelled to surrender his force of only a little more than 100 men to General Beauregard who was commanding thousands. It had been thought to unify the South, but the North also responded almost as one man, when the news came to the North the press, not only the republican press, but that of all parties responded with loyal and patriotic appeals. Stephen A. Douglas the "Little Giant" of oratory in the ranks of the democrats declared that no middle course was longer possible.

From that time on you know the cost. With a great, an inexpressible price, you purchased freedom. You remember the partings when you left those who were dear to you as you marched away. You left your farms, often to neglect; you left your business and all personal interests. You know the cost in your own heartache and sorrow, in the hours at the front, in the shock of battle which turned boys into patriots, in the new and terrible earnestness that was born in those days of stress and struggle. You know the cost in death.

We remember these things and remember those at home in sorrowful, agonized waiting. Ah, with a great, with an inexpressible cost was purchased this freedom.

Some one has written the dream of "The Old Guard" as he is waiting for his coming rest;

Alone in the dusk at his door he stands,
The last of the brave Old Guard
His comrades are scattered in distant lands
Or at rest in the old church yard.

But loud in his dreams he can hear once more
The sound of the bugles' blast
And the measured beat of tramping feet
In the night goes ringing past.

AMONG THE CHURCHES.

Far o'er the sea with the foe at hand,
He stands in the ranks once more,
The Old Guard around him, a gathered band
The comrades he loved of yore.

But loud in his dreams peals the trumpet blast
That calls them to fight again;
And the swords flash out with an answering shout,
As they charge o'er the sunlit plain,

It is only a dream of the years gone by,
And it fades from his sight at last,
Alone once more 'neath the darkening sky
The spell of his dream is past.

'All his battles are o'er; he will face no more
The wild storm of shot and shell,
For at last cometh rest to the bravest and best
Like the Old Guard who fought so well."

While you, veterans are waiting for your coming rest another freedom is for you, a higher freedom, the freedom of the heart, freedom to know God, to love God, to be his sons.

You remember the great review of the army at the close of the war in 1865. You know the anxiety of the young officers that they should be prepared for their work on that day; how they spent days in perfecting their acquaintances with the manual of arms. These are good days for preparation for the great review which is coming for us all, good days to guard against mistakes for that time, good days to learn the teaching and the meaning of the spirit of freedom given us by Jesus, and by the martyrs.

My text was in two parts and I have left but short time for the other sermon. "But I was free born." This was Paul's answer to the statement of the chief captain that with a great price he had purchased his freedom.

We are born to this freedom which others purchased at such countless cost. Lincoln in that memorable address at Gettysburg spoke of this nation conceived in liberty, dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal. Shall we perpetuate the freedom thus conceived and thus dedicated? Our answer is fraught with tremendous meaning to, not ourselves alone, but to all the world. Shall we prove the stability and worth, prove the possibility of a self-governed people? Let us honor those who wore the blue, honor all those who helped to purchase our freedom, for there were many who were barred from going to the front, who gave for the cause of freedom and the Union, the young life of their homes, who gave of their means, their time, and their influence for their country's sake.

There is a story told of Rome of the days about which it is difficult to separate history from legend. It is related that an opening appeared in the ground threatening the city with destruction. Appealing to the oracle the inhabitants of the city were told that they must cast into the chasm their greatest treasure if they would secure removal of the danger. We are further told that mounted on his charger one of the city's noblest sons rode into the chasm, rightly believing that no greater treasure could be found than noble, patriotic manhood; as the rider disappeared the fissure was closed, and with his life he had purchased the city's safety.

Craven indeed must he be who remembers not those who gave their lives, those who imperiled their lives, to save this land to the Union and to purchase human liberty. In Sweden pictures of those who have done noble deeds in their country's service are given a prominent place in their public institutions. The children are taught to remember and to revere them. The stories of their lives and deeds again and again repeated are used to impress upon the children the value of the virtues of patriotism, of bravery, of loyalty.

So we in our observance of Memorial day would inculcate and strengthen patriotic love. We would remember those who paid the great cost of our freedom, but we should also remember that upon us who are because of them, free born, rests the great responsibility of upholding the institutions and the principles for which they suffered and died. Let us emulate their patriotism and their bravery. Let us say there shall not perish from the earth a government for the people and by the people. God help us to remember all that has been given us, to remember those who at great cost purchased our freedom, and to remember our own responsibility.

IF MOTHERS ONLY KNEW

When children are cross, irritable and peevish it does not signify that they have bad tempers; it shows that there is something wrong with the child which it is not able to explain, and which the mother—if she only knew—could easily and quickly cure. Mothers, study your child's symptoms; if cross, peevish, nervous, grits the teeth, wets the bed, picks the nose, has variable appetite or bowels, suffers with wind-colic or headache, is irritable and restless, has furred tongue or offensive breath, you may be sure that child is troubled with worms, which cause nearly all the ills of childhood.

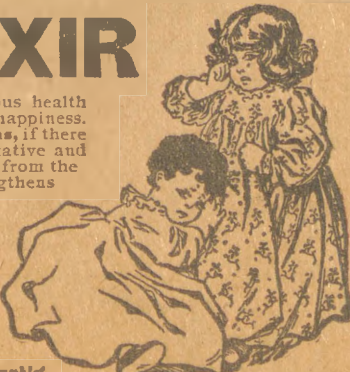

Don't delay—disease comes suddenly—a few doses of the wonderful old-time remedy—will give your children that vigorous health which is so important to their future happiness. Dr. True's Elixir expels the worms, if there are any—if not it acts as a gentle laxative and tonic. It cleans out all waste matter from the stomach and bowels, tones and strengthens the entire system of adults as well as children. Dr. True's Elixir is a safe, pure, vegetable tonic and has been the standard household remedy for fifty-five long years. Sold by all druggists, 35c., 50c., $1.00. Write for free book, "Children and their Diseases."

Maine's Next Governor.

THE Republican campaign for governor of Maine is now practically over and even the staunchest supporters of Hon. William T. Haines, of Waterville, concede that Hon. Bert M. Fernald will receive the nomination at Bangor on the first ballot by a good majority. To the loyal republicans who have supported the candidacy of Mr. Fernald from his announcement there has never been a doubt as to the result, and the political events of the past week indicate clearly that the claims of Mr. Haines and his ardent supporters were founded mostly on blind enthusiasm.

Mr. Haines lost in the districts where he was said to be very strong and the gains of Mr. Fernald in the so-called Haines' strongholds were a tribute to the gentleman from Poland and to the sound Republican principles he stands for, in contrast with the Haines policies of resubmission and his views on taxation which are clearly out of line with the republican party.

The death knell of resubmission, which was sounded long ago in the campaign, took the life out of the candidacy of the Haines' campaign and Mr. Haines' views on taxation, his contention that druggist should be licensed and the further fact that it is deemed unwise for Kennebec county to present a candidate for governor just now, and the universal feeling that Mr. Fernald is the logical candidate after the strong showing made in the convention four years ago, all pointed to Mr. Fernald's nomination and election.

The outcome in contests of this kind cannot usually be forecasted weeks in advance of the convention, but the odds

GOOD RESULTS FOR 20 YEARS

Carmel, Me., 1906.

"We have used 'L. F.' Atwood's Bitters in our family for twenty years or more, always with good results."

Yours truly, Mrs. Cyrus Wilson.

When good health reigns in the family, happiness is supreme. The "L. F." Atwood's Bitters are the ideal family remedy, because they are absolutely safe, sure and reliable in their medicinal action. 35c. at druggists.

are so strongly in favor of Mr. Fernald that even Mr. Haines' most loyal supporters must admit of his defeat and the announcement recently by Mr. Haines that he had not withdrawn from the fight was, at the best, a confession of weakness.

In Franklin county Mr. Fernald has found a loyal support, and in fact the entire Second District has stood manfully by him, while in the recent caucuses he developed remarkable strength in sections at first said to be devoted to the Haines policies.

In Mr. Fernald we believe that Maine will have one of her greatest governors, a man who stands close to the people, a business man of sound judgment, one whose views on taxation and on the great questions which concern the people of the state as a whole are sane and safe. Mr. Fernald stands squarely on the Republican platform. He is thoroughly conversant with state affairs and will sweep Maine on election day.

The World's Best Climate is not entirely free from disease, on the high elevations fevers prevail, while on the lower levels malaria is encountered to a greater or less extent, according to altitude. To overcome climate affections lassitude, malaria, jaundice, biliousness, fever and ague, and general debility, the most effective remedy is Electric Bitters, the great alternative and blood purifier; the antidote for every form of bodily weakness, nervousness, and insomnia. ## Pounds and Weights.

Here is a question that will tax the arithmetical powers of a youth. Suppose that for some reason or another a shopkeeper who sold goods by pounds and half pounds, but never in quantities exceeding twenty pounds at a time, was told that he must transact all this business with four weights only, what must these four weights be? The answer is half pound, one and a half pound, four and a half pound and thirteen and a half pound. With these it will be readily seen that any weight from half a pound to twenty pounds may be determined in pounds and half pounds.—Gateway Magazine

The Child's Advice.

Little Arthur stood peering down into the countenance of his baby sister, whom the nurse was singing to sleep. "Say, nurse," he finally whispered, "it's nearly unconscious, isn't it?" The nurse nodded in the affirmative and sang on. "Then don't sing any more or you'll kill it!"—Lippincott's.

A Woman's Back

Has many aches and pains caused by weaknesses and falling, or other displacement, of the pelvic organs. Other symptoms of female weakness are frequent headache, dizziness, imaginary specks or dark spots floating before the eyes, gnawing sensation in stomach, dragging or bearing down in lower abdominal or pelvic region, disagreeable drains from pelvic organs, faint spells with general weakness.

If any considerable number of the above symptoms are present there is no remedy that will give quicker relief or a more permanent cure than Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It has a record of over forty years of cures. It is the most potent invigorating tonic and strengthening nerve known to medical science. It is made of the glyceric extracts of native medicinal roots found in our forests and contains not a drop of alcohol or harmful, or habit-forming drugs. Its ingredients are all printed on the bottle wrapper and attested under oath as correct.

Every ingredient entering into "Favorite Prescription" has the written endorsement of the most eminent medical writers of all the several schools of practice—more valuable than any amount of non-professional testimonials—though the latter are not lacking, having been contributed voluntarily by grateful patients in numbers to exceed the endorsements given to any other medicine extant for the cure of woman's ills.

You cannot afford to accept any medicine of unknown composition as a substitute for this well proven remedy or known composition, even though the dealer may make a little more profit thereby. Your interest in regaining health is paramount to any selfish interest of his and it is an insult to your intelligence for him to try to palm off upon you a substitute. You know what you want and it is his business to supply the article called for.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the original "Little Liver Pills" first put up by old Dr. Pierce over forty years ago, much imitated but never equaled. Little sugar-coated granules—easy to take as candy.

A Novel Idea.

It is free and deeply interests everybody who has aches or pains, or who is weak and sickly. Anyone can learn the surest and quickest means to get strong and well by accepting that splendid free offer of the great specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, Dr. Greene, of 34 Temple Place, Boston, Mass. He has established a system of letter correspondence through which all sick and suffering people can learn exactly what ails them, and how to get well, without expense and without leaving their homes. All they have to do is write to the Doctor, stating each symptom from which they are suffering, and he will answer their letter, explaining their case thoroughly, telling just what the trouble is and what to do to be cured. He gives the greatest care and attention to every letter, and tells the cause of each symptom so plainly that patients understand instantly just what ails them. And all this costs nothing. It is a splendid opportunity for those who cannot afford the time or expense to go to the city. Dr. Greene makes a specialty of curing patients through letter correspondence. He is the most successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, and is the discoverer of that wonderful medicine, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. Those who write to him get cured.

Serious Results Feared.

You may well fear serious results from a cough or cold, as pneumonia and consumption start with a cold. Foley's Honey and Tar cures the most obstinate coughs and colds and prevents serious results. Refuse substitutes. W. A. D. Cragin.

TO CURE NEURALGIA.

Necessary to Treat Nerves Both Internally and Externally.

Neuralgia is a disease of the nerves, and to give immediate relief to the pain and effect a complete cure, it is necessary to use both internal and external treatments. This explains the remarkable success of Neuralgic Anodyne in curing neuralgia, no matter how acute or long standing.

It gets right at the nerve centers. A small dose is taken internally, thus soothing and quieting the whole nervous system. At the same time, a little is rubbed on the affected part and goes through the pores of the skin to the aching tissues, giving relief to the distressing pains.

A 25c bottle of Neuralgic Anodyne will do a world of good, as it cures neuralgia, headache, toothache, and in fact all aches and pains where the nerves, muscles and tissues are affected and aching.

Large bottle for 25c. Money returned if it does not cure. The Twitchell-Champlin Co., Portland, Me.

Phillips and Vicinity.

Before the governor and council at Augusta, Friday will come up the hearing on the pardon petition of Walter H. Moore, of Wilton, who is serving a life sentence for assault and robbery, the story of which recently appeared in WOODSMAN, the sentence having been imposed under the old statute which compelled the judge of the supreme court to administer a life sentence in case of a conviction for assault and battery. The petitioners for Moore's pardon believe clemency should be shown him as the statute has since been changed, making the penalty 20 years' imprisonment for a crime of this nature and from the fact that he has served 19 years. A pardon was denied Moore by the governor and council six years ago.
