Blood Humors

It is important that you should now rid your blood of those impure, poisonous, effete matters that have accumulated in it during the winter. The secret of the unequalled and really wonderful success of as a remedy for Blood Humors is the fact that it combines, not simply sarsaparilla, but the utmost remedial values of more than twenty ingredients. — Roots, Bark and Herbs, — known to have extraordinary efficacy in purifying the blood and building up the whole system. There is no real substitute for Hood's Sarsaparilla, no "just as good" medicine. Get Hood's today, in liquid form or tablets called Sarsatabs.

SLOWLY BUT SURELY they find THOMAS dropping Pianos all around them and everybody satisfied with THOMAS Pianos, so they figure what shall be done with THOMAS.

"We can't meet his prices and make any money. Our expenses are so large that they would mean ruin. So we will hit him under the 'belt,' use our tongues; anything, any old way to beat him."

Reminds the public of a breechy cow looking for the weakest part of a fence to jump it.

FACTS—THOMAS HAS CUT THE OLD PRICES IN HALF. This is awful painful to my competitors I know. No use mincing matters, come and see for yourself.

MR. PUBLIC—You know as well as I do, the "just for fun" sales and "puzzle contest" sales are simply "baits to catch the goose."

LISTEN—I am now selling new, right from the factory, for $150, the same make Piano, same style, same everything that my "loving" competitors have been selling for years for $250 to $300. Just think of it—who wonders they are "scrabbling"?

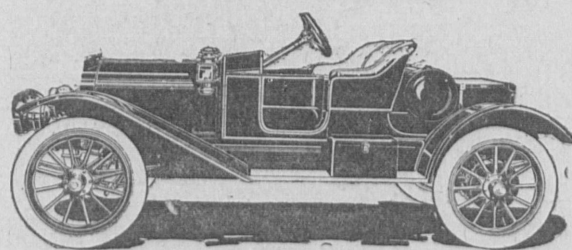

ANOTHER BUNCO or GOLD BRICK TRICK—Allow you $100 to $150 for an old square piano or an old organ or melodeon in the way of trade that you would be glad to sell for $10 cash. You afterwards see it advertised for little or nothing sale. A wfully simple, isn't it?

POINTS—I am at the same old stand, selling on easy terms. A GOOD, RELIABLE, STANDARD MAKE PIANO for $150. I carry the Largest Stock of Pianos to select from in the State of Maine. Come and see with your own eyes.

NEWSPAPER HISTORY

The Rockland Gazette was established in 1846. In 1874 the Courier was established, and consolidated with the Gazette in 1882. The Free Press was established in 1885, and in 1891 changed its name to the Tribune. These papers consolidated March 17, 1897.

It is written, not "blessed is he that feedeth," but "blessed is he that is poor." A little kindness is often worth more than a great deal of money.—Ruskin.

George M. Smith of Monhegan has caught the king of Maine lobsters. The giant crustacean was pulled in with a fish trap. When it was brought to the shore it proved to be 20 1/2 inches long from the tip of the nose to the end of the tail and weighed just 17 1/2 pounds. The lobster was caught two and three-quarter miles south-southeast of Monhegan.

The value of wealth produced on farms of the United States was $8,920,000,000 during 1910, as estimated by the Department of Agriculture in a statement just issued. This is an increase of $104,000,000 over 1909. Texas with her 10,000,000 acres of cotton, wrested from Illinois during 1910 the honor of being the first state in the Union in value of principal farm crops, which aggregated $564,110,000.

In trials on the Potomac River it is said that a new gasoline speed boat recently launched at Alexandria, Va., and owned by W. F. Harris, of the Thousand Islands, attained a maximum speed of 42 miles an hour. This record was unofficial, but it was faster by seven miles than any water craft ever before had made. The new boat is 26 feet long and has twin engines of six cylinders each, giving a horsepower of 250. The craft has not yet been named. It was built to defend the Harnsworth International Motor Boat trophy in the coming races at Huntington, Long Island and to challenge for the Gold Cup during the Thousand Islands racing season.

Material growth in the popularity of the postal savings bank system, is indicated by a statement issued Monday by Postmaster General Hitchcock, concerning the operations for the 48 installment depositories, which began business Jan. 3 last. During April, deposits aggregating $82,646 were made. In January 3,830 separate deposits were made, aggregating $61,805, or an average of only $16.14. Depositors on July 1 may convert their deposits into United States bonds bearing 2 1/2 per cent interest. The bonds have been prepared in denominations of $20, $400 and $500. The bonds will be issued to every depositor who may apply for them on the proper form before June 15. The bonds will be issued only to depositors but may be sold or assigned at any time. They are exempt from all taxation.

MODERN CLIFF DWELLERS

Boze Tells of Conditions in Boston.—We of the Country Have the Bulge on Them.

In ancient times our ancestors were compelled from necessity to live in cliffs. Even today the Zuni Indians dwell in houses cut out of the solid rock, gaining admittance to their cliff dwellings by the aid of a rope ladder which is pulled up at night so that no enemy can reach them. In our modern cliff dwellings, the ladder—either elevator, stairs or both—is available night and day, with the outside fire-escape for the second story worker. When you look around the residential portion of a large city, where the houses are in blocks of three, four, six and eight stories, you will readily see that the term cliff-dwellers is rightly applied.

In my own case I have been a cliff-dweller for nearly twenty-five years. Coming from my home in the good old Pine Tree State, where air and sunlight are free, I first went to live at the South end of the city of Boston. From there to East Boston was my next move, thence to the west end of the city, then at my present abode for nearly eighteen years. In my wanderings I have lived in six different dwellings, and from not one of them could I see a tree, a bit of grass, or any green thing growing. And yet we say that we "live" in the city! We don't, we merely exist for the purpose of paying the landlord his rent the first of each month. Where I am at present is in a four-flat house on the corner of two streets, one of which leads directly to the Charles River, which we can see by climbing three flights of stairs to the roof. Fine outlook when you get there, but one can't be climbing stairs all the time to get an outlook.

When we first came here there were single houses around us, occupied for the most part by the owners of the same, two, two and a half, and none of them over three, stories in height. When the owners passed away the heirs, not caring to occupy, sold those houses in lots of the rooms, four and six, and seven apartment houses overshadowed our four-flat houses, so we hardly get any sun. My wife was saying the other morning:

"Since they have put up that last block, there isn't sun enough comes in the window in the morning so that the canary can dry himself after his bath."

You can imagine from that how much sunshine there is for the four persons who inhabit this flat. We are fortunate that we have no dark rooms, although our kitchen comes very near to it on a dark day, since they built up in the rear of our block.

At the "1915" Exposition held in Boston last winter, there was shown a facsimile of a tenement in the North end of the city. In some of the flats neither daylight nor sunlight ever enters. In some of the rooms, four and even six persons live and you can just imagine what that means. In this block 90 per cent of the land is occupied by the building, leaving only 10 per cent for air and light. In this section there are 173 persons per square acre, said to be a record, the largest number per acre of any city in the world. We are not boasting of this, for it is a condition very much to be deplored; but allude to it just to call attention to the conditions under which people live in a large city. The people in the country who live in detached houses, with a chance to get out of doors on the green earth without going two or three floors up, haven't the faintest idea how the city cliff dwellers live.

Of course the question naturally arises—"Why don't you move to the suburbs?" Sometimes that is easier said than done. Rents are as high in the suburbs as they are where we live, and then comes the cost of transportation and lunches. With a five cent fare it means practically four dollars a month for fares, and lunches, where one works four evenings a week, will add ten dollars more to that, so if your rent was $25 in the city and the same in the suburbs, you must add $14 for the privilege of living a suburban life. That is why a great many of us are still city cliff dwellers.

It is an artificial life at the best. Your pleasures for the most part are the theatre and other places of entertainment. You have no neighbors or neighborhood life. You do not know the people who live in the house with you, and it is better that you don't. It is the old story—"We're here because we're here." A former school teacher who resided here last winter said to me one day when I was calling upon her:

"The greatest premium in Boston seems to be on air and sunlight." Coming from a home in Maine where she had an abundance of both, one can readily understand how strongly that appealed to her.

We are becoming a race of city cliff dwellers, and not home owners, and as some old sage has wisely remarked—"Men will not shoulder a musket in defence of a boarding house," meaning in a broad sense that the fighting spirit is inspired in a man when an attack is made upon his home, but the house of his landlord is a different story.

We are losing the patriotic spirit of our forefathers by becoming cliff dwellers. Boze.

LONG HOSPITAL EXPERIENCE

Nelson Fales of Thomaston Had More Than His Share of It During the Civil War.

Nelson Fales of Thomaston, a prominent Grand Army man, hands The Courier-Gazette a copy of the Armory Square Hospital Gazette published at Armory Square, Washington, Aug. 20, 1864.

One of the leading editorials in this little publication, tells of the Jacques Gilmore embassy, which approached Jeff Davis on a peace mission. From it we quote as follows:

"If Jeff Davis is sincere, a Democratic president will be precisely the same to him as Mr. Lincoln. If he is false and treacherous, he is to be subdued by the same weapons, and all peace parleying is worse than thrown away."

But again, Jeff. Davis is reported as saying that the rebels are not fighting for slavery—care nothing about that, the North may have all the remaining slaves, if it will only take care of them, and this is a dash of cold water on the flaming trade of copperheads against the Administration's anti-slavery policy, which they pretend is the sole obstacle in the way of restoring the Union. But for that, they say, Jeff. Davis would listen to peace—he says that that is of no consequence in his eyes. Here, again, if he speaks the truth, peace is no nearer under one kind of political administration than another; if he lies, peace stands the best chance of realization under the war policy that will deal most vigorously with such an arch villain as well as traitor, and peace can come from such a policy alone. And such, we are confident, will yet be, if it is not now, the conclusion of the great mass of patriotic men."

Mr. Fales was a member of the 7th Maine Regiment, and had more than his share of hospital experience. May 4, 1863, he sustained a compound fracture of the left thigh, from a musket ball, and from June of that year until October of the next he was flat on his back in a hospital. Indeed he was given up as mortally wounded, and his career would surely have ended on the field had it not been for the intervention of an officer, who saw that he was given prompt surgical attention. It was also Mr. Fales' lot to see the interior of a Rebel prison, but he had the good fortune to be paroled at the end of 15 days, and he had only a glimpse of the misery and suffering which laid so many of his comrades low in those cruel days.

DINING IN STYLE

A Gloomy Correspondent Tells How He Went Through With It.

Dear Courier-Gazette—

The other evening I dined at the St. Regis, but that's the last time, unless J. Pierpont Morgan or some other responsible gentleman invites me.

They make your coffee on the table in a silver percolator (which you buy outright.) When you order a salad you pay for plowing, rail charges, insurance, refrigerating, preparing and serving, interest on investment, and depreciation, on an acre each of lettuce and asparagus, for one gallon each of the various condiments to which is added a general charge of ten per cent to cover incidentals.

I might go into details, but while the memory is still so fresh I fear I might have hysteria.

I would add, however, that each waiter has one assistant (or accomplice) who performs certain acts, such as keeping your water glass filled, examining your hat to see if it is a Dunlap, Knox, Knapp, Felt de Luxe, or merely a hat that also serves butter, switches out the empties, makes room for the perishables and looks at the inside collar of your top coat to see if you are a gentleman or a "Muthelmer," but his most important duty is to stand by when "Tompkins" offers your check, so when you faint and fall from your chair you won't drag the tablecloth off and destroy a lot of china.

I was calm and collected myself, as I had fortified myself with a cab driver's size drink of Gibson's Monogram. I figured over the check, called "Tompkins'" attention to a thumb mark on it, told him I would as soon be handed a soiled napkin as a soiled check, and he really thought I was in earnest.

I figured this saved me fifty per cent on the tip. Then I stalked out and bought a Henry George cigar. It was high time I suffered for indulging my sinful passion for food served in places not for such as I.

I thought of the old proverb—"A wise man's day is worth a fool's life." Your Wise(r) Friend.

BUFFALO BILL TO RETIRE

Many Interesting Features Will Be Presented.

Considerable interest has been aroused in this vicinity through the announced appearance of Buffalo Bill's Wild West and Pawnee Bill's Far East at Portland June 5.

Col. William F. Cody, the original and only "Buffalo Bill" travels with the big exhibition and positively appears at every performance, rain or shine, but this will be his farewell performance in this section as he is soon to retire. Arrangements have been made with the railroad officials to run excursions at special rates from the various stations along the line and there will be special provisions for the accommodation for those who wish to visit the exhibition. To the small boy and grown-up "Buffalo Bill" will be the chief attraction, for his fame is not dimmed by the years which have lapsed since he helped write the story of the West through his heroic deeds. One of the principal contests of the red men, in which he took active part, will be pictured in the open-air melodrama. The battle of Summit Springs, an engagement in miniature introducing more than one hundred Indians and as many cavaliers and soldiers. Contrasted with this scene will be an Oriental spectacle which will picture the gorgeous beauties of the Far East, its pageantry and people, its pleasures and pastimes, and its strange costumes and customs. Turning again to American history, there will be an Attack Upon an Emigrant Train and a Holiday at "T-T" Ranch. Rossi's Musical Elephant will be a particular feature of the Far East scene, and as an individual feature of the Wild West section of the exhibition Ray Thompson's Trained Western Range Horses will be shown in feats of grace and equine skill. Sharpshooting by Johnny Baker will be a particular attractive feature, and a bunch of bucking bronchos will furnish the principal comedy element of a truly exhilarating and strenuous exhibition.

The Standard Oil Company of New Jersey and its 19 subsidiary corporations were declared Monday by the supreme court of the United States to be a conspiracy and combination in restraint of trade. It also was held to be monopolizing interstate commerce in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law. The dissolution of the combination was ordered within six months. Thus ends the tremendous struggle of years by the government to put down by authority of law a combination which it contended was a menace to the industrial and economic advancement of the nation.

The Years

Sunrise, and noon, and sunset,
And day slips into day;
Twilight, and dark, and daylight—
A year has rolled away.
Budding, and bloom, and falling,
Green trees, and leafless boughs;
Seedling, and growth, and harvest—
So dies an old year now.
Singing, and sighs, and silence,
The frowns and the smiles,
Telling, and stress, and resting,
And grave or gay or merry;
Days that have brought their honors,
And days that left their scars—
Over it all the marvel
Of each night with its stars.
Dreamings, and hopes and plannings,
Tasks that begin and end;
Hours that have brought the silence
Alike to foe and friend.
Words that were said or merry,
Laughs that were bitter-sweet;
Greeting, and hail, and parting—
The old and new year meet.
Sunrise, and noon, and sunset,
Day will slip into day;
Twilight, and dark, and daylight,
The year will roll away;
Sunshine, and song, and sadness,
Fair dreams that come in sleep,
Bird song, and nodding blossoms—
These are we fain to keep.
Darkness, and light, and shadows,
Sorrow, and golden cheer,
Blend into God's completeness,
Into the finished year,
Into a memory fabric
Woven of shade and shine—
These are the years unfolding
In lives like yours and mine.

CIRCULATION AFFIDAVIT

Rockland, May 20, 1911.
Personally appeared Neil S. Perry, who on oath declares: That he is pressman in the office of The Courier-Gazette of May 19, 1911, there was printed a total of 4,478 copies before me:
J. W. CHUCKER
Notary Public.

The City Council has taken the decisive step toward the refashioning of Sea street and the citizens will hope to see the work pushed forward with all possible despatch. When the plans are finally brought down to the working point we hope sight may not be lost of the suggestion urged by The Courier-Gazette earlier in the discussion of this matter, namely that in the work of rebuilding the utilitarian may not alone be considered. Those present at the recent memorable meeting of the Board of Trade will recall the emphasis laid by Prof. Sprague upon the need of city beautifying, and he particularly called attention to the fact that Rockland has right here at home the evergreen trees which properly planted make an in-expensive but most effective note of ornamentation. Is it not possible that this suggestion might in some manner be worked out in connection with the Sea street job? Let us beg of the committees having it in charge that they give earnest consideration to this very important feature.

The Sunday closing of the Rockland postoffice, which goes into effect tomorrow, is in line with the policy being applied throughout the country to all offices of the first and second classes. The chief purpose in view is the securing of freedom and rest on one day of seven for the postoffice employees. The public has in a general way long been accustomed to having its mail on Sunday, if not by house delivery, at least by calling at the postoffice, and naturally when the privilege is interfered with a chorus of objection might be expected to arise; but where this new system of closing has been adopted scarcely a murmur is heard. On the contrary, everybody seems to be on the whole glad that they can gorge on one day of the week all matters having to do with the business of letter reading and writing.

It costs something to keep Rockland's streets sprinkled, of course, but we repeat what we have previously urged, that the work be extended by the purchase of two or three additional watering carts, so that the dust laying may be effectively accomplished, and not left as it now necessarily has to be, half done. And how about making a try with some other material than water? We hear of communities that keep their street dust laid by the employment of oil. Would it not be possible to learn from some other cities how this can be done—and then do it here?

"Where are the men of Rockland?" asks Rev. Mr. Garland, the new pastor of the Methodist church. "I perceive that they do not show up at church on Sunday evenings. The women are there, but where are the men? This is something that needs attending to."

JUDGE SAVAGE CONFIRMED

The appointment made by Governor Plaisant since the last Council meeting of Hon. Albert R. Savage of Auburn as associate justice of the supreme court, was confirmed Wednesday by the Executive Council. The opposition to the confirmation of Justice Savage was not strong enough to prevent the confirmation, although it is understood unofficially that a test vote stood four to three, in favor of sustaining the Governor's appointment.

BOUGHT GINN'S POINT

New Corporation Obtains Valuable Seashore Property, and May Build Summer Hotel.

The Ginn's Point Land Co. is the name of a new corporation formed in this city yesterday at the office of E. B. MacAllister. It has a capital stock of $10,000, and the following officers: Alfred S. Black, president; Blanchard B. Smith, treasurer; and E. B. MacAllister, secretary. The other incorporators are A. C. McLoon, John L. Donohue and Fred C. Black.

The corporation has purchased the valuable shore property near Crescent Beach, known as Ginn's Point. The deal was consummated several weeks ago, but the deeds did not pass until Thursday. The property has been surveyed, and plotted into cottage lots.

The charter of the new corporation gives it the power to establish hotels, restaurants, etc., and one of the incorporators stated yesterday that something of the sort may be done there.

George Beveridge, who has been making his home with Lewis Studley, has gone to live with his daughter in Chicago. He was the oldest man in Warren, his age being 86 years, and had been presented with a gold headed cane by the Boston Post. He had to leave his cane behind, which he was sorry to do. He likes in Chicago very much. Robert Johnston returned home Saturday from Rockland where he had been employed. Forest fires are numerous around here. Wednesday there was a large fire near Fogler's crossing.

REV. JESSE R. BAKER

Sudden Death of Well Known Insurance Man and Retired Clergyman.

Rev. Jesse R. Baker of the well known insurance firm of Cochran, Baker & Cross, and one of the oldest members of the East Maine Methodist Conference, died very suddenly at his home on Franklin street at 10:45 Wednesday night, a victim of heart disease. He had attended to business affairs at the office as usual during the day, and was ill but a short time before the end came. Mr. Baker experienced a serious ill-turn something more than a year ago, and was not aware that the dread summons was near at hand. He met the situation with the accustomed calmness and faith, and although he had been less at his office since last January, his daily routine differed but little from that which marked his business career for the past 22 years.

Mr. Baker was born in Wiscasset, Sept. 21, 1832, a son of Daniel Baker. He obtained a theological training and education at Bucksport Seminary and Kent's Hill Seminary, but was destined to have a considerable experience at trade before entering the ministry. His first business venture was a grocery and bakery in Portland. He removed to Thomaston in the mid-fifties and was in trade a number of years. He then came to Rockland as clerk for E. H. and G. W. Cochran. After holding this position a few years he engaged actively in the Methodist ministry, holding pastorates at Cross Hill and Riverside, Friendship, Clinton, Union and Waldo, in the order named.

In 1889 the Cochran insurance agency underwent an important change. A. W. Sewall, who had been a member while Mr. Baker was in the ministry, retired to become a special agent, and Mr. Cochran admitted as new partners Rev. J. R. Baker and C. C. Cross. The firm name became then, as it is today, Cochran, Baker & Cross. Mr. Baker continued to be identified with the East Maine Conference and occasionally supplied pulpits in this vicinity. He was a member of Pratt Memorial M. E. church and for a long time was president of the board of trustees.

He was a former president of the Knox County Board of Underwriters, and one of his last acts was to attend a meeting of that association on the afternoon before he died.

A fitting tribute to the deceased would tell of his absolute integrity in business affairs of devotion to his church and his fellow man, and his great love for a family which has fully justified his hopes and his ambitions. Modesty and unostentation marked his every step in the daily walks of life, but they did not serve to hide a noble and useful mind.

Mr. Baker is survived by his wife, who was Ellen J., daughter of the late E. H. Cochran, and four children: Prof. Harry T. Baker, who is having a year's leave of absence from Beloit College, Wisconsin; Lillian M. and Arthur S. Baker, who are connected with the insurance office; and Percy H., instructor in French at Brooklyn polytechnic preparatory school.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 2.

MRS. HARRIET L. AYERS

Harriet L., widow of George F. Ayers, died at her home on North Main street Wednesday after a long period of invalidism, aged nearly 80 years.

The deceased was born in Camden, Sept. 21, 1832, a daughter of Capt. Ephraim and Sarah Hunstable Hosmer. She was married to Mr. Ayers in Camden 63 years ago, and they began house-keeping in what is now the Home of Rockland Lodge of Elks, corner of Main and Granite streets. Her husband died 10 years ago. Four years later she experienced a paralytic shock which left her a helpless invalid, deprived not only of the power to move about, but of the use of her hands. It did not, however, deprive her of that sunny and gentle spirit which refused to see the gloomy when the cheerful was to be had and which transformed her last stricken years into hours of succeeding pleasure. She had the confirmed invalid's love of companionship, and the basket of flowers which found its way into the sick room was to her like a heaven-sent message. She deeply loved her family and her great love was repaid by the devotion which was heaped upon her when age and infirmity cherished tender care. Mrs. Ayers was not a church member, but had attended and aided the Universalist church all her life, while able to do so. Rev. Mr. Allen will conduct the funeral services this Friday afternoon at 2.30.

Mrs. Ayers is survived by three daughters—Mrs. L. Frances Ingr

The dedication of Masonic Temple takes place next Monday afternoon, when the services will be performed by Grand Master Ashley A. Smith of Bangor and the other members of the Grand Lodge. All members of the order who meet in the temple are invited to attend. In the evening there will be a reception, concert and dance, and Col. E. K. Gould will deliver a very interesting historical address. The orchestra on this occasion will be made up as follows: Conductor and violin, Dr. I. E. Luce; 2d violin, Mr. Kerr of Augusta; 2d violin, Mr. Brown of Lincolnville; viola, A. T. Crockett; flute, W. F. Tibbets; clarinet, Raymond Wedge; cornet, Ralph Fitch; cello, Mr. Sprague of Bangor; trombone, C. W. Bradley, Jr.; bass, Willis Marston.

The annual sale and social of the Eastern Sewing Circle was held at Temple Hall, Tuesday evening. With so many attractions on the same evening the attendance was very large. The sale, but nevertheless $55 was added to the treasury. The object of the Club is to work for charity and the members wish to thank all those who so kindly donated. The officers, Mrs. L. R. Campbell, Mrs. L. E. Luce, Mrs. A. T. Whittier, worked untiringly to make it a success with the assistance of a willing committee. The cake table was tastefully arranged, and was presided over by Mrs. Clarence Payson, chairman. Mrs. Robert Messer, Mrs. Gertrude Packard and Mrs. Nellie Bird. Mrs. C. E. Bicknell was chairman of the apron table, assisted by Mrs. C. O. Perry and Mrs. Alonzo J. Spaulding. The candy table was in charge of Mrs. Carrie Baker and Miss Mildred Baker. Mrs. W. T. Rawson disposed of mystery packages and Mrs. Clara Smalley sold holders. The lucky purchaser proved to be Arnold H. Jones, who was given a handsome quilt. L. F. Chase guessed the nearest number of beans in the bottle and was awarded a pair of Mexican towels. During the evening bridge was played and dancing indulged in, with delicious punch and cake served by Mrs. Freda Hahn and Mrs. Emma Collamore.

Frank O. Haskell has bought from Walter M. Tapley the stock and fixtures of the Haskell grocery at the South end, and for the next 30 days will conduct a less than cost sale, particulars of which will appear in an advertisement in this paper next Tuesday. Edwin F. Haskell will manage the business.

"Is There a Personal God?"

F. J. Bicknell's Desire to Hear Lecture on That Subject Aroused Argument in Baptist League.

The Baptist Men's League held its final meeting of the season Wednesday night, and in many respects it was the most interesting session of the year.

Helping to make it so was an animated discussion on an important subject, not indicated on the program, but which provoked a debate of much greater warmth than the innocent cause of it could possibly have foreseen.

Is there a personal God? The desire expressed by F. J. Bicknell to hear a lecture on that subject precipitated the debate. Mr. Bicknell said he has long wanted to hear that question discussed by some learned speaker, preferably not a minister.

"What I want to hear," said Mr. Bicknell, "is a cold, intellectual discussion, possibly by some distinguished lawyer. There are a few who profess to deny the existence of a personal God, but on the other hand there are very few of us who can give a logical explanation of our belief that there is one. It is not enough for thinking men to believe in God just because their fathers and mothers did before them. Such a lecture will cost considerable money, but I personally will give $25 for that purpose, if that amount is necessary above the receipts."

Silence, deep and long, followed Mr. Bicknell's proposition, until he and another member engaged in a debate as to which should present the matter to the League in the form of motion. At this point G. A. Stuart, superintendent of schools, flung down the gauntlet.

"In my opinion," he said, "this would open too wide a field. We have had so much of the higher criticism in the past 15 years that the younger generation don't know where they are, and I shouldn't feel like voting in favor of having such a lecture here. Instead of putting more doubt into the minds of our young people we should give them something stable to dwell upon. Isn't it time we settled down to something solid? I am afraid of the effect of such a lecture upon the young people, and I think we should deliberate upon this proposition all summer."

"It was certainly my intention to have a speaker who would discuss the matter from the standpoint of the affirmative," said Mr. Bicknell. "But I venture to say that there is not one in 100 members of the Christian church who know much about the impregnable rock on which faith is based."

The patience of Rev. W. O. Holman had been overreached. "I had not expected to say anything on this subject," the work has commenced on the new fire escape on the southern side of Masonic Temple.

Dr. J. H. Damon and Frank B. Miller are in New York, important witnesses in the case of the State vs. United Wireless Telegraph Co.

F. J. Perry and Ed. Pendleton, of Clifton & Karl's force, have returned from Sargentville, where they have been the past four weeks doing the interior of the summer home of Mrs. Julia H. Sweet of Concola Manor, Mt. Vernon, N. Y.

The remains of Frederick E. Jones, who committed suicide in a Back Bay hotel, Boston, were brought here Wednesday for interment. Jones was a former Rockland woman. Her death two years ago plunged her husband into a state of despondency, which, coupled with a nervous trouble, led to his suicide. Mr. Jones was last seen alive when he went to his apartments in the hotel last Saturday. He was found lying on the floor with a revolver beside him, and a bullet wound in the temple. Mr. Jones was 50 and an expert in railroad auditing and accounting.

Work has been resumed upon the Rockland-Rockport trunk line, which was begun last year. The construction is of bituminous macadam and the work is being done by Coleman Bros. of Boston. About two and three-quarter miles was built last year and it will require the building of two and one-quarter miles to complete the work as originally planned. A section was built in the middle last year and the work to be done this year will be upon the Rockland and Rockport ends of the work. A recent inspection of the work by Commissioner Hardison showed that for the most part it has stood the winter in fine shape.

The May meeting of the Methodist Brotherhood was held last Monday evening. The usual supper preceded which was followed by the business meeting. The new pastor Rev. Mr. Garland being present for the first time was introduced to the members. The address of the evening was given by Fred M. Preble, D. D. of Auburn, pastor of the Court street Baptist church, who took for his subject "The Pulpit and the Pew." Dr. Preble presented his subject from two standpoints—what he should want in the pulpit were he in the pew and what he should want in the pew if he was occupying the pulpit. It was a most excellent presentation of the subject and was much enjoyed by all. The last meeting of the season will be held June 19 and Hon. William H. Looney of Portland will be the speaker.

Adriel F. Ulmer, a prominent resident of the Highlands, died Wednesday at 4 p. m. An obituary will appear in our next issue. Funeral services will be held from the residence Saturday at 2.30 p. m.

Rev. Russell Woodman attended the annual meeting of the Baptist Church of the State of Maine at Riverton Park Wednesday evening. Bishop Codman gave a characteristic address, handling certain ecclesiastical matters without gloves. "Sometimes," said Mr. Woodman, "I think the Episcopal church is altogether too respectable and over-refined, because our clergy are so carried away with the beauties of the prayer book service and the ritual of the surpliced choir and ornate cereals, that they are anxious to have guilds and organizations, where they meet over and over again the same souls, already won to Christ, that they forget the greater object of winning the masses."

The handsome new Maine Central steamer Mooselook, built for the run between Mt. Desert Ferry and Southwest Harbor, arrived here Wednesday, and is at Maine Central receiving her furnishings, finishings, and incidentally, lots of admiring attention. The craft was built at the Bath Iron Works, and like all their productions a great credit to the yard. Her principal dimensions are as follows: Length over all, 194.11 feet; length load water line, 185.2 feet; beam over guards, 36.8 feet; beam, moulded, 30.6 feet; depth moulded, 14.6 feet; draft about 10 feet. The hull is of steel up to the saloon deck, steel bulwarks and sides forming the structure between the main and saloon deck instead of using the old fashioned wood studding and sheathing. The finish of the saloon, social hall, dining room, ladies' room, smoking room and staterooms is of the prettiest mahogany obtainable and the effect is magnificent. The windows are casement in mahogany, and overhead in the dome in the cabin is fitted a false ceiling of composite board with panel effect, the ceilings being painted in light color. The stairways for the passengers are of solid mahogany in elaborate design. The pilot house is finished in cherry. The steamer has already shown her ability to make better than 19 miles an hour. She represents an outlay, when completed, of more than $130,000.

The Mather greenhouses are fully stocked with the beautiful flowers for Memorial Day. Pieces are made up to sell from $1 up. All the spring bedding plants.

WITH THE CHURCHES

St. Peter's church: Matins, Litanies and sermon at 10.30. Evening service at 7.30. Sunday school at 12.

First Baptist church: Preaching at 10.30 by the pastor, W. J. Day, subject, "A Lover of Husbandry." Bible school at 12. Evening service at 7.15, subject, "The Last Judgment and Other Judgements."

Free Baptist church, St. Peter's pastor. The subject for the morning sermon will be "The Minister's Failure." Sunday school at 12.15. Wednesday evening meeting at 7.30.

Galilee Temple: Rev. Mr. Ufford will preach at 10.45, subject, "The Christian's Duty." One of the beautiful stories about Jesus. Sunday school at 12. The children are preparing to give a concert on Children's Day. Gospel meeting at 4.30 assisted by helpers. Popular evening service at 7.15.

Services at the Congregational church with preaching by the pastor, Rev. W. H. Mousley, Sunday at 10.30 a. m. and at 7.15 p. m. Subject for the morning service, "Investments." Subject for the evening, "Adaptation." Mrs. Armstrong will sing at the morning service "Father in Heaven," by Luigi Luzzi, and at the evening service she will sing "O, Loving Father," by Teresa Del Riego. Sunday school and Bible classes at noon.

Next Sunday morning at the Methodist church the pastor will preach from the subject "The Compulsion of Persuasion." As a race we are being compelled toward the ideals of life because we are persuaded they are our proper heritage. The choir will render the anthem "Father in Thy Presence" by Wodell with solos by Mrs. Copping and Robert Adams. "Sabbath Bells," by Bond, will also be sung by a double trio, consisting of Miss Hovey, Mrs. Kossuth, Miss Stover and Miss V. Nelson. Mrs. St. Clair and Miss E. Nelson. In the evening the pastor will preach from the subject, "Wanted, a Man," on condition that at least 50 men are present, not otherwise. Mr. Garland believes there are no reasons why the men could not appreciate the Sunday evening service. He frankly maintains that the claim of God and the church is equal both for men and women. The singing by the chorus choir and congregation is an attractive feature. The message is distinctly personal and the speaker desires it to be helpful. Unless there are 50 men the subject will be "Found Wanting." Now men, wake up, and don't be found wanting.

Bargain Day at E. B. Hastings & Son, Saturday.

The "ancient prayer" chain letters are still going the rounds, and a prominent Rockland druggist has received one of the "Spanish prisoner" letters. At last accounts he had not separated himself from the small amount hinted before formulating any plans of work for the coming year.

The new-state horticulturist, Albert K. Gardner of this city entered Tuesday upon the duties of his office. Mr. Gardner will thoroughly familiarize himself with the duties of the position before formulating any plans of work for the coming year.

DISCRIMINATION WINS !!!

In every walk in life discrimination between the true and the false wins and enjoys success. In questions of form, of style and of values, whether financial, commercial or medicinal, the judgement of the men and women who select and appreciate and utilize the true and genuine product, proves most profitable and most satisfactory to themselves and to all who follow them.

Therefore, in connection with so important a subject as the physical well-being of the people, the most eminent physicians insist on full information as to the wholesome nature and truly beneficial character of the component parts of the remedies used and prescribed by them, and the wise manufacturer not only supplies them with the knowledge desired, but also combines for them in proper proportions the very substances most approved by them and omits every objectionable substance. The world-wide acceptance of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna by physicians and the well-informed of the world, as the best of family laxatives, is due to the universal satisfaction which it has given for more than a quarter of a century and also to the fact that it is a remedy of known quality and known component parts and to the further fact that the California Fig Syrup Co. presents it to the world simply as the ideal strengthening personal laxative to cleanse and sweeten the system gently, yet effectually, and to dispel colds and headaches and to assist in overcoming constipation. To get its beneficial effects—always buy the original and genuine, for sale by all leading druggists. The full name of the company—California Fig Syrup Co.—is always plainly printed on the front of every package.

NEW YORK LETTER

Ten Billion Nickels Yearly for Carfare—Passengers Carried Last Year Equalled Total Population of the World—Freighters of Great White Way Grange Over Proposed Tax on Champagne.

New York, May 18.—That the residents of this city will within a generation be spending $500,000,000 annually for ten billion car rides is the almost incredible report of experts who have been studying this matter. Allowing three miles as the average length of each ride this means that New Yorkers before 1950 will be traveling 30,000,000,000 miles each year in subways, elevated trains and surface lines. In other words this annual travel will be equal yearly to 1,200,000 trips around the earth or more than 3,000 a day. To make another comparison this total mileage is equal to 333 trips to the sun, or nearly one a day, and to 40,000 trips to the moon. Enormous as these figures may seem they represent a most conservative estimate based on the growth of the car-riding habit in this city during the last half century. In 1860 the surface railways in what is now Greater New York carried 50,000,000 passengers and in 1910 about 1,500,000,000 a number just about equal to the total population of the earth. Each New Yorker took 312 car rides last year and the total would have been furnished about 17 rides to every man, woman and child in the whole country. The ten billion nickels which it is estimated will be collected annually by the transit lines before 1950 will represent a sum equal to one-half of the present yearly expenditures of the federal government. That it will be necessary literally to honeycomb the city with subways and griddle it with surface and elevated lines to handle the enormous traffic is now foreseen, the only question being whether there will be room enough to accommodate the transportation. If sufficient space is to remain in which passengers can live and conduct their business.

Frequenters of the Great White Way who consider it in bad taste to be seen about their favorite haunts in daylight hours characterize the present year as the most doleful in their memory. Its very opening was unpropitious and presaged trouble. New Year's eve is always a night of revelry along Broadway but as it fell on Saturday night this year no drinks could be sold after midnight, which is the hour at which the true Broadway really begins to live. The gloom caused by this sad occurrence had not yet disappeared when a lobster famine broke in sight. For a time it was feared that many deaths from starvation might occur, since lobster is popularly supposed to be the only food which is eaten by those who frequent Broadway's great restaurants and hotels. The timely arrival of a large shipment from northern waters, however, averted such a catastrophe. Now, however, has come the worst blow of all in the form of a bill which has been introduced at Albany which proposes to impose a tax of fifty cents on each bottle of champagne sold—that is to increase the price of "joy-water" to five dollars a quart. As a result another layer of gloom has fallen on Broadway, and the New Year's eve has been the walls of woe from the frequenters of the district who hold that this bill proposes to tax a necessity of life. However, as there are about 10,000,000 quarts of champagne consumed in this state annually, many believe that in this city, the new bill would produce a tidy revenue for the state. Should the measure pass deaths from thirst may be expected, but pass or not it is certain that the senator whose name it bears has lost for ever the Great White Way vote.

Capt. and Mrs. A. S. Crockett, Otis and Allen Drinkwater were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Harkness.

J. B. Nichols, son and friend of Woburn is visiting friends here.

Health For Sick Women

We know of no other medicine which has been so successful in relieving the suffering of women, or secured so many genuine testimonials, as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

In almost every community you will find women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Almost every woman you meet has either been benefited by it, or knows some one who has.

In the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., are files containing over one million one hundred thousand letters from women seeking health, in which many openly state over their own signatures that they have regained their health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has saved many women from surgical operations.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is made exclusively from roots and herbs, and is perfectly harmless.

The reason why it is so successful is because it contains ingredients which act directly upon the female organism, restoring it to healthy and normal activity.

Thousands of unsolicited and genuine testimonials such as the following prove the efficiency of this simple remedy.

Coloma, Wisconsin.—"For three years I was troubled with female weakness, irregularities, backache and bearing down pains. I saw an advertisement of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and decided to try it. After taking several bottles I found it was helping me, and I must say that I am perfectly well now and can not thank you enough for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me."
—Mrs. John Wentland, R. F. D., No. 3, Box 60, Coloma, Wisconsin.

Women who are suffering from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of these facts or doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

MARRIED FIFTY YEARS

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Simmons of Hope Descended From Old Revolutionary Stock.

The friends of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Simmons of Hope are giving them the "glad hand" upon the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding, which occurred May 12. The day was passed at home on the farm where their time has been spent. The wedding ceremony was performed fifty years ago, receiving friends, "cards" and presents, among which were gold pieces from the two daughters, Lizzie and Emma, and a check for a generous amount from the son, Alonzo.

Elder John Rhines of Camden, well known there, and then, as the "blind preacher," tied the nuptial knot. Mrs. Simmons, whose maiden name was Nancy H. Meservey, was the eldest daughter of Alonzo Meservey, a lumber and mill man of North Appleton. Both are of old Revolutionary stock, the Simmons' being also well known on the farm where their time has been spent. Mr. Simmons is an expert in handling and driving oxen, as many a hard fought and closely won "pulling match" at the various town and county fairs has proved. His whole life has been spent on the farm where he was born, with the exception of two trips to California, where he engaged in lumbering operations in the mountains.

His hill, at ox-leaving stock, is a severe test, it being almost a common thing to have a whole team crushed to death, the teamster also sometimes. His only mishap of importance was the killing of one ox accidentally.

Three children were born to them—Lizzie, whose husband is Eugene Larabee, a former Rockland boy, for years engaged in the shoe business in Marlboro; Alonzo M., who married a Marlboro girl, is also engaged in the shoe business, and is known as a successful inventor, having patented several important improvements in shoe manufacturing machinery; Emma married Freeman Banks of Marlboro, for many years foreman of one of the largest lumber dealing firms in the city, and is now a silent partner in the firm.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, brick-dust or sediment in the urine, head ache, back ache, lame back, dizziness, sleeplessness, nervousness, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and better health in that organ is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. Swamp-Root corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It is the highest because of its remarkable health restoring properties. A trial will convince anyone.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, and don't let a dealer sell you something in place of Swamp-Root—if you do you will be disappointed.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

VISITING KNIGHTS APPRECIATED

Entertainment Which Limerock Council and Ladies of Columbus Gave.

The Catholic Opinion's report of the Knights of Columbus Convention in this city last week is full of commendation for the local Knights and the Ladies of Columbus. From the report we quote the following:

"The members of the Ladies' auxiliary were highly complimented during the evening for the splendid repast, and it was clearly shown that all the hustle and enterprise, for which Limerock Council is noted, is not confined to the male members of the order, the women being entitled to a good share of the honors."

The committee of arrangements, which was composed of C. Angus McInnis, John R. Cousins, P. J. Burns, J. H. McGrath, Maurice Costello, Valentine Chisholm and T. E. McNamara deserves only the highest praise for the excellent manner in which the convention was conducted.

"The members of the Ladies of Columbus who were chiefly responsible for the serving and preparation of the fine banquet were the following: Frances Hanrahan, Nellie Sullivan, John McInnis, Lucy Ball, Anna Carini, Margaret Sullivan, Mamie Nolan, Mrs. M. J. O'Connor, Helena Hartnett, Mary C. O'Neill, Mrs. T. M. McLaughlin, Elizabeth Donohue, Amelia Sofayer, Katherine Glynn, Mrs. Eugene Harrington, Katherine Costello, Mary Costello, Mildred O. Ryan, Vittoria A. Carini and Florence A. Haley."

EDUCATORS IN CAMDEN

Knox County Teachers' Convention the Best Yet—Work for Record-Breaking Geniuses, Said President Alley.

The Knox county teachers' convention in Camden last Monday is counted the most successful gathering the Association has yet held. The day was an ideal one for the occasion, the attendance was large, the array of speakers was an especially fine one, and really the only regret attaching to the program was that the time was too short to do full justice to the elaborate program.

The morning session, commencing at 10, was held in Camden opera house where the visiting educators were welcomed by eloquent terms by J. H. Ogar, editor of the Camden Herald. Prayer was offered by Rev. L. D. Evans of the Camden Congregational church.

The matter of teachers' pensions was interestingly discussed by Adelaide V. Finch, principal of the Lewiston Training school. Miss French would have teachers pensioned by the state after a certain length of service, with supplementary pensions furnished by the city or town, or by contributions made for that purpose. She pointed to Rhode Island as having an especially satisfactory law. She would also have the state Legislature affix a minimum salary for teachers, and make a requirement that all teachers hold state certificates.

The department sessions, held in the high school building, commencing at 11 a. m., proved of much value and interest. The sessions for the rural section were held in Room 6, with Supt. W. M. Teague of Warren as chairman, and included the following topics: "Rural School Problems," Supt. DeForest H. Perkins, Skowhegan; "The School Improvement League," Supt. Teague; "Fitness for Teaching," Miss Lillian I. Lincoln, Farmington.

The department sessions for the grade section were held in Room 1, with Supt. B. E. Packard as chairman, and the following matters were treated: "Class Exercise in Handwriting," Miss Della H. Bemis, Camden; "The Importance of Drill and Number Work," Supt. John A. Cone, Brunswick; "Manual Training a Mile-Stone," Miss Jessie S. Keene, Gorham Normal school; "History in the Grammar School," Prin. A. Y. Stevens, Rockport.

The high school section held its sessions in Room 7, with State Inspector J. W. Taylor as chairman. Mr. Taylor's topic was "Three Vital Issues in High School Teaching." Miss Anna Coughlin conducted a teaching exercise in English, which was spoken of as one of the best features of the day. The question: "May the Principles of Method as exemplified in the best Grade Teaching be used to advantage in the high school?" evoked a spirited discussion.

When the noon hour arrived most of the visitors betook themselves to the Congregational chapel, where an excellent dinner was served by Camden high school girls. The funds will help the Camden high school team in its pennant-winning aspirations.

The afternoon session, held in the opera house gave the large audience an opportunity to listen to three addresses of exceptional timeliness and interest.

Robert J. Alley, president of the University of Maine, took for his subject, "The Care of the Individual in Education." There are three kinds of lies, President Alley said—the white lie, the black lie, and statistics, where you get things in mass. What we should do is to get back to the individual in education and not the 30 or 40 in the composite. It is high time that we look for the bright minds as well as the weaklings. We have not enough genuineness in this country. Pick out the bright minds. There are no two pupils alike and no two heads alike. Watch the individual peculiarities. There is the genius that might not understand grammar or arithmetic, but which may shine in the artistic or poetic. Find what the pupil is born long in, as well as he is born short in. Look for world record-breaking geniuses. A man has no right to draw salary as a teacher unless he studies and knows the individuals.

President Alley also declared that the teacher should know whether his pupils are receiving proper food sustenance and whether he needs medical inspection and attendance.

It was Knox county's first opportunity of hearing the University of Maine's new president, and putting his pupils at a pleasant session of impression.

Rev. I. H. Lidstone of Union favored the convention with a paper on "Boy Problems," which was in substance the lecture which has been listened to with so much interest by the several men's leagues in this city. It's a poor school that has no lively boys, this frank pastor told the schoolmarm.

State Supt. Payson Smith, who is looming big on Maine's educational horizon, answered the question: "Why are we educating?" To develop a high type of citizenship, was his reply. Intelligent citizens, responsible citizens and useful citizens must be the product of our public schools. We must look ahead and see what the boy or girl is likely to be in 20 years. We must instill in them the need of independence. We must study the needs of society.

Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: President, Supt. B. E. Packard, Camden-Thomaston; vice-president, Supt. Tyler M. Coombs, Vinalhaven; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Nancy Tribou, Rockport; executive committee, Principal R. A. Rowe, Warren; Miss Beulah Sylvester, Rockland; Principal Ralph Robinson, Thomaston.

It was voted to hold the next annual convention in Rockland.

WARREN

John Clements is planning to build a house on his farm at North Waldo-boro.

Mrs. Alice Burns and daughter of Lewiston arrived Wednesday and are guests at Mrs. Maria Dunbar's, Cornhill.

Good Will Grange at East Warren entertained St. George Grange Thursday evening. Supper was served to the guests and a pleasant session enjoyed.

Mrs. Margaret Montgomery returned from Readfield Wednesday, where she visited her granddaughter, Mrs. Ida Mallett.

Mrs. Helen Moody went to Portland Tuesday as a delegate to the convention of the Pythian Sisters, which is in session this week.

Mrs. A. P. Gray was in Rockland Tuesday and Wednesday, a guest of her brother, F. L. Newbert.

A. P. Gray went to Portland Wednesday where he attended the Grand Lodge K. of P.

Mr. Stickney returned Wednesday from his trip into the country, peddling goods.

Edwin Crawford and daughter Mabel of North Warren were guests at W. L. Lawrys Wednesday.

Alcwives are being dipped quite plentifully now. Everyone is being supplied with a mess of fresh ones.

GREEN-KORITZKY
Two hundred guests with a few exceptions Hebrews, assembled at Gra d Army hall Tuesday evening to witness the wedding of Jacob Green and Miss Lena Koritzky.

The ceremony took place at 8 o'clock and was performed by Rabbi Perlestein. H. Green of Malden, Mass. was the groomsmen, and Miss Fannie Alperin of this city was bridesmaid.

The bride was gownned in white net over messaline, and wore a bridal veil fastened with lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid wore a gown of blue messaline. After the impressive Hebrew marriage service had been conducted the members of the bridal party and guests formed in a grand march and proceeded to the banquet hall, where an excellent supper was served.

The remainder of the evening was devoted to dancing and merry-making, the music for which was furnished by Maddocks' orchestra.

A score or more of telegrams, in poetry and prose, appertaining to the event, were read by Manager Al. V. Rosenberg of Rockland Theatre. Some of the guests are wondering if he adhered strictly to the text in each instance.

Among the guests from out of town were H. Green, Malden; S. Koritzky, Boston; Mrs. J. Aultman, Mrs. E. Morris, Mrs. Joseph Gelpert, Miss Nettie Gelpert and Miss Mary Koritzky, Bangor; Mrs. N. Shapiro, Bar Harbor; Abraham Cohen, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Crockett and Mrs. Samuel Freedman, Miss Dora Freedman and Miss Flora Freedman, Stonington.

The bridal couple are on a week's honeymoon tour, after which they will go to housekeeping in this city.

IS THE PLACE

It's Up To Rockland High

Camden High Plainly Outclasses All Other Competitors in Knox and Lincoln League—Has Scored 80 Points to Opponents' 8.

Camden High tightened its grip on first position in the Knox and Lincoln League Wednesday by its victory at Thomaston. The Megunticook boys are not only morally certain that they will lug off the pennant, but are hoping to finish the league season without a defeat. This is a pretty ambitious program, but perhaps justified by the results already achieved. In its two games with Vinalhaven victory went to Camden High by scores of 10 to 1 and 26 to 1. The game with Lincoln Academy was won by Camden 27 to 7, and now Camden has beaten Thomaston 17 to 0. In other words the leaders have made 80 scores to their opponents 8, a record that is without parallel in Knox county baseball. It remains with Rockland High to stop that triumphant march, and we must confess, Rockland High has not yet shown the class. The League standing:

Team	W	L	P	Pts
Camden High	4	0	0	1,000
Rockland High	1	0	0	1,000
Vinalhaven High	2	2	0	500
Thomaston High	1	3	2	250

Camden High scored an overwhelming victory over Thomaston High at Thomaston, Wednesday afternoon. The visitors made the circuit of bases 17 times, while Thomaston was unable to get a man past second base, and only one man that far. It was a hopelessly one-sided game after the first inning, but remained interesting throughout.

it is knocked into their territory. It looks at this writing like the classiest baseball machine that Camden High has ever produced, and the best in Knox county since the days of "Jack" Frost, whose record of 21 strikeouts in a single game will probably be the record for some years to come.

As usual Camden High has developed a sprinter. His name is Upton. He measures six feet when he yawns, and he scoots around the bases with the speed of a distracted hen pursued by an angry female. He can hit the ball hard and often, but seems to prefer being hit by it. Twice in Wednesday's game he essayed the role of a human target and the harder he was "patted" the broader he smiled.

"Ty Cobb" of the Knox and Lincoln League will be a good man to watch in the coming games.

Camden High also has a sturdy catcher in Blackington. The manner in which he accepted his 14 chances Wednesday was a pleasure to lovers of the national game.

In the face of the slaughter Thomaston did not lose heart. Each member of the team played as hard after that fatal 3d as though it were a neck and neck race. Cogan's phenomenal left-hand catch and H. McDonald's catch were among the notable features of the game.

MADE GOOD RUN

The three-masted Rockland schooner Helvetia arrived Saturday from Jacksonville, Fla., with a cargo of hard pine lumber for the Richardson-Dana Co. The round trip out and back was made in just one month, including the time spent in taking on her cargo of lumber, the schooner being favored with good weather most of the time, and making an unusually good run.

HAD LOBSTERS GALORE

They Were Big Ones From Nova Scotia and Overflowed the Higo.

The following communication from Boothbay Harbor, under Monday date, will be read with much interest by Knox county lobstermen:

The auxiliary lobster boat Higo, owned by Fred Higgins, which broke all records a week ago today when she came in from Clark's Harbor, N. S., with 7,000 lobsters from a five days' trip, exceeds her previous record today when she arrived from another five days trip to the same spot and brought in 7,600 lobsters.

Although the well of the Higo is built to hold at least 8,500 of the ordinary Maine lobsters, the Nova Scotia lobsters are of such size that the boat's well would not begin to hold this number and her deck was loaded down with lobsters in crates and the crew had hard work to get about the boat owing to the immense deck load. The entire cargo was put in the Higgins lobster pound and the boat will start tomorrow for another trip to the same port.

There is a great difference in the size of the Maine and Nova Scotia lobsters which seems to reflect against our Maine lobster laws for along the Nova Scotia coast there is a close time from June to January 1, thus giving the lobsters ample time to grow. As proof of this the average Maine lobster weighs only about a pound and a half or a total of 140 pounds to 160 pounds to the 100 lobsters while the Nova Scotia lobsters are averaging three pounds in weight.

The Nova Scotia lobsters can be purchased at the present time for 15 cents each while the Maine coast lobster is varying in price from 15 cents and 18 cents each and are scarce too as the lobstermen complain, but their price is held down to the present rate owing to the prevalence of the Nova Scotia breed now being imported into the states.

OUR VETERAN HORSEMEN

Turner Tells Us About Charles Burkett,
C. W. Bisbee and David L. Cross.

In Charles Burkett we see a man who distinguished himself in the days when the Knox county trotter was in his infancy, and quite a notable figure was the keen eyed little man from Union upon the Maine turf some forty years ago. Mr. Burkett will be remembered in history chiefly by his association with Red Jacket, one of the most noted trotters of his day, and the first important horse which Knox county sent forth to do battle on the turf. It took a sterling trotter to take the measure of this son of Hiram Drew, and our Union outfit was ever ready to accept the issue with any proposition which might appear. Mr. Burkett campaigned the little stallion for several seasons over the Maine tracks, against the ablest of his kind, winning more than his share of the races. Mr. Burkett assures us that Red Jacket's accredited mark of 2.37, obtained at Bangor in 1873, is wrong—that it should be 2.34. However that may be, there is no doubt that this old-time trotter was a consistent race horse, one of the best of his day and place.

Our Union man's next and fastest horse was the mare Lucy A., but while this erratic daughter of Anderson's Knox possessed extreme speed, and is credited with a fast trial over old Beacon, unkind fate decreed against her. In our time we have seen Mr. Burkett working Helen F., Vermont Chieftain and others; with Helen F. he won several races.

A farmer and mechanic by trade, our East Union neighbor took naturally to the light harness horse and his skill with the ribbons was an accepted fact with those who knew him. May many pleasant days be yet in store for our veteran.

C. W. Bisbee

Almost contemporaneous with the career of Charles Burkett and Red Jacket was that of "Clum" Bisbee and Uncle Ben. Many of our readers personally know Camden's popular dentist, Dr. Frank Bisbee, and many more will recognize him as the driver of Delima Deane, a pacer whose brilliant and successful work a few years since attracted much attention both to herself and her driver. But comparatively few are aware that this clever amateur reinsman is brother in blood to C. W. Bisbee, now deceased, a man who played an important part in the trotting annals of Knox county and Maine three and one-half decades ago.

It was way back in the seventies, when the State Fair was being held in Portland, that "Clum" Bisbee appeared upon the scene with a trotter hitherto unknown to fame; and at the conclusion of the green race "Uncle Ben," as the horse was called, was pronounced the winner, with a mark of 2.39 1/4, faster time than had been made by any other horse during the meeting.

Uncle Ben, a combination of the Knox and Drew blood, we think, is described as being a handsome horse, a grand roadster, and a race-horse it is only necessary to know that he won fifteen races out of sixteen starts in a single season. He was a wonderful finisher, never being beaten out when on even terms at the head of the stretch.

Those conversant with racing matters, and familiar with the difficulties of keeping a horse in condition for a period of necessitating sixteen races, will readily recognize in this old-time horseman ability of the higher standard; and it might be well to remark that Brother Frank, who was then active as care-taker, must have discharged his duties in an intelligent and faithful manner.

C. W. Bisbee was one of Knox county's earliest and most distinguished turfmen, and truly one of the most successful who ever went down the lines in Maine.

David L. Cross

Just over the Knox county line from Camden lives one of the oldest and most remarkable horsemen who ever camped upon a New England trotting park. We refer to David L. Cross of Lincolnville, a man well known in racing circles for nearly half a century. From its pristine day until sixteen years ago Mr. Cross was associated with the Maine turf, taking an active part in its numerous meetings; and even upon the rings of Massachusetts and the Maritime Provinces our hero was no unfamiliar figure.

It was just 60 years ago, upon the old Cambridge track in Massachusetts, when our veteran, behind a horse called Robin, made his initial start to trotting fame. Since then an interesting volume could be written of his busy life, but being a Waldo county man he is somewhat removed from the realm of these articles, so we will lightly skim along.

Some of our older readers may remember the stallion Buchanan, which Mr. Cross once owned, and how he gained the stallion championship of Knox and Waldo counties by defeating Red Jacket at Rockland and the "Heyford horse" at Belfast. They may also recall his brilliant campaign with Hector, and how he won every race for the season. The success attained by this able trainer attracted the attention and patronage of owners throughout New England and even New York state, whence he received two of his best trotters, Henry F. and Ben Star. With the latter horse he defeated our Bisbee trotter, Uncle Ben, and with Henry F. he won races all along the line to St. John, where he gained one of his greatest victories.

It was over the course at West Camden that Mr. Cross did much of his training; and here he brought out the sensational Isaac A. With this horse he had the honor of defeating his distinguished sire, Watchmaker, one of the fastest and most noted trotters then in Maine.

During his 40 years with the harness horse Mr. Cross never had one train off or go wrong in any way—a wonderful record indeed, and the fact of his never sustaining an injury or serious accident of any kind would almost indicate his bearing a charmed life. Some keen and able critics, who had an opportunity to study his work, unhesitatingly pronounced David L. Cross a most skilled trainer of his time; and they also affirm that, could his operations be confined to our present day, he would prove now, as he did then, a pre-eminent horseman.

Although our veteran has already reached the honored age of four score years, his clean and manly life entitles him yet to many happy days ere the final sunset of his memorable career.—H. L. Turner of Union in Turf, Farm and Home.

HOME DECORATIONS

The decoration of a room may be based upon some special feature of the room—a piece of furniture, a bit of choice china, the coloring of the rug or planned to harmonize with the adjacent rooms.

WALLS—Rich, flat effects are secured by use of Flat-tone finishes. These materials are durable, sanitary and most practical in the home. Used over the old paper, you get the color desired and a durable surface that can be washed with soap and water like the paint on the wood work.

A FLAT-TONE treatment of the old curtains makes them look like new and gives them a color to harmonize with the room.

FLOORS—By using filler stains, wax or varnishes, any shade or finish may be given. For old sort-wood floors, our floor paint or varnish stain may be used to give a lasting surface.

We have finished over 100 rooms the past few months with FLAT-TONE. The first cost is less and being durable, it's the most economical finish all around.

Telephone us and we will call with Color Cards and help suggest combinations.
