Rule V. Dishonesty is never an accident. Good men, like good women, can't see temptation when they meet it.—Business Men's Rules.

Thomas N. Shufelt, whose artistic singing was heard with much pleasure two years ago in Rockland, will receive a warm welcome on the occasion of his second visit for the concert of July 12. In addition to his solo Mr. Shufelt will be heard in a duet with Mrs. Herrick.

Knox county patrons of the Lewiston state fair this summer will have a chance to see Glenn H. Curtis in daily exhibitions with his flying machine. The fair management made a contract with him last week. The feature costs $10,000 but will doubtless be worth far more than that to the fair.

Edward Little high school of Auburn graduated a class of 55 last week. Principal L. E. Moulton, formerly of Rockland high was presented with an album of class pictures. In making this gift, Mr. Moulton said: "Mr. Moulton, in appreciation of your honest work and thoughtfulness during the two years you have been with us, and for the patience you have shown us during that time we would like to give you a gift—not a diamond ring, but an album containing our class pictures. Looking at our pictures in this book may not give you great inspiration. We sadly realize this, but as you probably never will see our likes again we give you our likenesses."

ROCKLAND IN WAR TIMES

Fourth Maine Regiment Aroused Much Enthusiasm on Its Passage Through Boston and New York on Its Way to the Front.

The progress of the Fourth Maine Regiment on its way to the front in June 1867, was told by the Rockland Gazette of June 27 as follows:

Boston, June 18, 1867. Mr. Editor:—Permit me through the columns of your paper, to give you many readers a meagre account of the passage of the "glorious Fourth" through our fair city today. They were received at the depot by the Independent Corps of Cadets, accompanied by the Boston Brigade Band. As the regiment passed up State street, cheer upon cheer rent the air. Fair ladies waved their kerchiefs in the breeze, and the long line of sturdy sons of Maine, with bayonets glistening in the sun, formed a picture that will never be effaced from my memory.

This regiment then marched directly on the common and debouched. By the kindness of Lieut. Strickland, I was admitted within the lines, and was soon busily engaged in going through the handshaking process with my old chums and former schoolmates. (For Rockland is my native place) and congratulating them on their good appearance.

The Rockland band looked finely in their new uniforms, and were the universal theme of comment. They played several national airs, accompanied by the Brigade Band, and made beautiful music. They were loudly applauded by the admiring thousands there assembled. At 6 o'clock the regiment took up their line of march for the Fall River depot. They passed up Beacon, and through Tremont, Winter, Summer, Chauncy, Harrison Avenue, Beech and South streets to the depot. All along the entire route the streets were crowded. Elevated places were in great demand, ladies fair, from galleries and windows, waited farewells to our gallant troops. The cars were in readiness to receive them, and they embarked in good order. At 7.20 the train left amid the wildest enthusiasm. Cheer succeeded cheer until the depot rang again. "Good bye" and "God speed you," was heard on every hand. Waving of handkerchiefs and hats were continued as long as the train was in sight.

As I left the depot to return home, a feeling of pride filled my breast, that I was born in the "Old Pine Tree State" whose hardy sons had bravely gone forth to do battle for our country. God speed them, and may they achieve high honors in the campaign which they have so auspiciously begun.

We copy from the Herald of last Thursday the following account of the arrival, reception and entertainment of our soldiers in New York, and of the presentation ceremonies at the Park. It will be read with much interest by the friends of our volunteers:

This fine body of volunteer militia, from the Pine Tree State, arrived in this city about 11 o'clock Wednesday, June 19. The transport in which they arrived came to their moorings at pier No. 3, North River, where a large crowd of men and women were assembled to greet the stalwart strangers. The men—who are all strong and sturdy specimens of Maine's true nobility, reminding us of the old Northern warriors of Gustavus Adolphus—were soon landed, and put in marching order. The line of march was up Broadway to the Park barracks. Despite the overpowering heat of the sun, there were thousands collected in the vicinity of the Park, awaiting the arrival of the regiment. The men, heavily hampered by their full knapsacks and blankets, marching steadily up Broadway, receiving a continuous tribute of applause as they slowly approached the barracks. Many of them looked worn and fatigued, as well they must have been while tramping under the almost perpendicular beams of a scorching midsummer sun.

Their swarthy cheeks were wet with perspiration and the weight of their knapsacks pressed heavily on them, but they marched with undeviating regularity, and with a firmness of step betokening well developed strength and muscle. On arriving at the Park barracks, on the Bowdoin side, the regiment was marched to the front of the City hall, where they were received by committees of the Sons and Daughters of Maine.

The scenes which then ensued were very interesting, and in some instances ever affecting. Friends, who had not met each other for years, soon recognized each other, and then there were impulsive rushes here and there to shake hands and exchange friendly words of greeting. Some little time was consumed in these conventionalities, and the formal ceremonies of hand-shaking might have lasted much longer but for the stentorian voice of the commanding officer ordering the men to "fall in" and "dress."

The Colonel then came to the front and announced to the regiment that Rev. Isaac S. Kallach, formerly of Boston, would invoke the Divine blessing on their cause and themselves. The men were soon quiet as could be desired, and the clergyman proceeded to deliver a brief but fervent prayer. At the conclusion the regimental colors were advanced in the front. One was a silken federal flag, of the regulation size, heavily fringed with gold. The other was a big blue silk flag, heavily and chastely embroidered. The first was ornamented with the arms of the State of Maine, with the name of the regiment, and the Latin inscription "Dirigo." The other one was inscribed—"Presented to the Fourth Regiment of Maine Volunteers by the Daughters of Maine in Brooklyn, June 19, 1867."

The Rev. Dr. Hitchcock presented the first flag, and in doing so addressed the regiment in very warm and affectionate language. He called them men of the Pine Tree State, brethren, and citizens of the United States. He heartily welcomed them to the city of New York, and assured them of the affection in which all the defenders of the flag are held by the people at large. As a proof of the popular good will towards them, he called for three cheers for the gallant men of Maine, which, it is almost needless to say, were given with a will. The reverend gentleman then continued his short but happy speech. He did not desire to waste words in long speeches which the soldiers cared not to hear. There was a life of duty and action, and as men were going on one of the highest missions they could fulfill, he would say that their errand would not permit of dallying. They were going where thousands had preceded them and where thousands more would follow until the hands of the old chieftain at the head of our armies should be strong enough to trample down treason and secession. This rebellion was a serpent that was hatched 30 years ago. Jackson has scorched it, not killed it. The Fourth Regiment of Maine must put their feet on its head and kill it. (Cheers) They carried bayonets that thought, and he hoped they would make thorough work, first with the bayonet, and then with the sword. Clear out the nest of serpents, so that their hiss may never be heard again. The year 1867 must stand in the records of time by 1776, where we began. We were now just reaching the noonday of our might and power, and we mean to hold and claim the whole continent as ours, from the lakes to the Gulf and from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Our temporary disasters were only necessary visitations of Providence—ordals from which we shall emerge like gold purified in the fire.

Dr. Hitchcock then presented the flag to Col. Berry, who very appropriately replied. He said that his men were footsore and fatigued, by the heavy weights on their backs. He thanked the generous people of New York for all their kindness and the reverend gentleman for the eloquent speech he had addressed them. Then taking the flag, he ascended a small platform and asked, "Shall this flag ever trail in the dust?" Loud cries of "No, no!" "Will you defend it so long as you have a right arm?" "We will—we will," chorused the men of the regiment, and a spontaneous shout of applause broke from the assembled thousands.

H. Brockman then spoke as follows: "Friends, Soldiers, Sons of Maine:—In behalf of the fair daughters of your native State residing in Brooklyn, I meet you here, in their name to welcome and cheer you on your path of duty—to offer you in this beautiful flag of your native state a slight token of the sympathy they feel—aye, of the love they bear to the cause that has called you from your northern homes. They bid me say that in you they recognize the defenders of their state and their country's honor; and that they are proud of the promptness with which your state has responded to the President's call; proud of the equipment, of the material of which the regiments are formed that she sends forth—true, enterprising and industrious people, who have settled in every valley, turned to account every water-fall, covered the whole surface of your state with smiling villages, whitened every sea with the sail of your ship, your infant manufactures sprung up to add their blessings to a happy and contented people.

All these you leave behind—your home and all you hold dear—the wife of your bosom, the gray haired sire, the aged mother, the playful children, brothers, sisters, near and dear friends—all these you must turn from now, and in the stern trial of war again prove your manhood. Degenerated sons of noble sires have sought to overthrow our government; they have trampled our laws under their feet; they have passed acts of secession; they have attacked United States troops while holding peaceful possession of government forts, pillaged our arsenals, piratically seized our ships both in our own ports and on the high seas; raised large armies, and now in the open field are bidding defiance to our government. For these acts we bid you forward—on, on in the defence of our great inheritance—the Union and the constitution.

Soldiers, in the name of the daughters of Maine, I present you this banner—the banner of your native state. Its history is yet to be written—it has yet to be baptized in blood, and no cause so fitting as that of suppressing this great rebellion, of preserving and handing down to future generations the blessings of a free republican government. Men of New England, you have the hardy frame, the iron will, the self-reliance—each of you have a character to sustain. The South have vilified, stigmatized you as cowardly, and asked, "Shall this flag ever trail in the dust?" Loud cries of "No, no!" "Will you defend it so long as you have a right arm?" "We will—we will," chorused the men of the regiment, and a spontaneous shout of applause broke from the assembled thousands.

Col. Berry then introduced the Rev. Mr. Kallach to respond to the presentation.

The reverend gentleman said he was proud to accept the task devolved upon him. He was ashamed of the man who did not love his country, but this could never be said of the sons of Maine. (Applause.) Whoever does not love his country would be unworthy the name of American or of citizen. He would exhort them to remember that not only were they soldiers, but freemen, and to nerve their arms to fight until the last foe expires. The reverend gentleman then continued at some length to address the men, and on behalf of John E. Merrill, a Rockland citizen engaged in business in this city, presented a beautiful camp flag, saying that he felt it a great honor that the banner was presented to a Rockland commander from a Rockland man, by a Rockland boy. (Laughter and applause.)

After the ceremonies of the presentation were concluded the officers retired to the Astor House and the privates to their barracks in the Park. While arrangements were being completed for the departure of the regiment the men were ordered to stack arms, and dispersed around the Park. They left by the late train for Philadelphia, enroute for the seat of war.

PROHIBITION THE BEST

Knox County Reiterates This Belief at Annual Convention in Appleton.

The 24th annual convention of the Knox County W. C. T. U. was held in the Union church, Appleton, last week. Ideal weather conditions made it possible for large delegations to be present from various parts of the county.

This was the first convention of the new county president, Mrs. E. S. Ufford, but the ease and dignity with which she presided gave evidence that she was familiar with the work. There was a fine audience at each session, and the large number of men in attendance was most noticeable. The newly organized Union at North Appleton was largely represented and their zeal and enthusiasm gave evidence that this part of the county will be heard from in September.

An invitation was given to all present to attend a celebration July 4 at the Washington fair grounds, under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. One of the best speakers to be had is to be heard on this occasion.

At 2.30 p. m. nearly 100 children marched with the chorus to listen to an address by Mrs. Scherry whose fine training as an elocutionist makes her talk to the young people most effective.

During the past year the membership of the society has been sadly depleted by death, among the number being Mrs. C. P. Waldron, president for many years of the Spruce Head Union. Tender mention was made of each of these at the Memorial service. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. E. S. Ufford; vice-president, Mrs. R. C. Wall; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Elizabeth C. Newbert; recording secretary, Mrs. Clara E. Light; treasurer, Mrs. Josephine W. Watts. The resolutions were as follows:

PREAMBLE: We reconsecrate ourselves anew to work for God and home and native land.

TOTAL ABSTINENCE: We emphasize the importance of total abstinence as the only safe course for all to follow.

PROHIBITION: We reiterate our belief that state wide constitutional prohibition is the best law ever enacted to apply to the liquor traffic. We heartily endorse all campaigns plans inaugurated by the Maine W. C. T. U. such as the plan for the Young Campaigners, extensive circulation of campaign literature, holding meetings in schoolhouse, hall and church, summer gatherings, etc. We hereby pledge ourselves to work incessantly to carry out the W. C. T. U. plans and purposes to the end that on Sept 11 we may have an overwhelming victory. DEPARTMENTS: We recognize the importance of departmental methods of the W. C. T. U. and accordingly will give our hearty cooperation, emphasizing the educational phases of the various departments.

OUR PAPERS: We recommend that our members should subscribe for, read and circulate the Union Signal, the Star in the East and the Young Crusader.

COURTESIES: Feeling profoundly grateful to the Appleton Union for the hospitality and kindness, we would extend our heartfelt thanks to all who have in any way helped to make our convention successful and enjoyable.

Ermina Hawes, Clara M. Farwell, Carrie E. Ripley.

Somewhere beneath the sun,
These quivering heart-strings prove it,
Somewhere there must be one
Made for this soul to move it;
Some one that hides her sweetness
From neighbours whom she slight,
Nor can attain completeness,
Nor give her heart its right;
Some one whom I could court
With no great change of manner,
Still holding reason's fort,
Though waving fancy's banner;
A lady, not so quently
As to disdain my hand,
Yet born to smile serenely
Like those that rule the land;
Noble, but not too proud;
With soft hair simply folded,
And bright face crescent-brow'd,
And throat by Muses moulded;
And eyelids lightly falling
On little glancing seas,
Deep-calm, when gales are howling,
And swift as wind by every breeze,
Swift voice, like flight of dove
Through minor-arches floating,
With sudden turns, when love
Gleets over near to doting;
Keen lips, that shape soft sayings
Like crystals of the sun;
With pretty half-betrayings
Of things one may not know;
Fair hand, whose touches thrill,
Like golden rod of wonder,
Which Hermes wields at will;
Spirit and flesh to sunder;
Light foot, to press the stirrup
In fearlessness and glee,
Or dance, till fancies chirrup,
And stars sink to the sea,
Forth, Love, and find this maid,
Wherever she be hidden;
Speak, Love, be not afraid,
But plead as thou art bidden;
And say, that he who taught thee
His yearning want and pain,
Too clearly, dearly, bought these
To part with thee in vain.

Holeproof Hose

What Our Six Months' Guarantee Really Means

Holeproof Hosiery is guaranteed to be as free from holes at the end of six months as it is the day you buy it. We give you this guarantee in writing so if any holes appear in six months you receive new hosiery free of charge.

Common hosiery has no such guarantee. It costs you just as much as "Holeproof," but at the end of six months it is worthless. You spend hours darning it when for no extra expense you can have "Holeproof" and do no mending. Why not have the best?

FAMOUS Holeproof Hosiery FOR MEN WOMEN AND CHILDREN

Insist on seeing the original Holeproof trade-mark. Many have imitated the guarantee but none have equaled the quality.

The makers pay 63 cents a pound for Egyptian and Sea Island cotton, but common hosiery is made from cotton at 12 cents a pound.

"Holeproof" uses 3-ply yarn in the body and 6-ply in the heels, toes and knees. Ordinary hosiery uses 2-ply throughout, yet costs you just as much as "Holeproof."

Stop in at our store and examine the hose. See how stylish and comfortable it is—soft, smooth and neat fitting. Learn the facts today.

Installation of Mr. Mousley

Noteworthy Occasion at the Congregational Church—Sermon Was Preached by the Venerable Prof. Small of Bangor Seminary.

The services of the installation of Rev. William H. Mousley as pastor of the Congregational church Wednesday evening were of marked interest.

The council met in the afternoon at 7 o'clock. Miss Alice W. Fiske presided at the organ, and played a beautiful prelude and postlude. Two hymns were sung by the congregation, and the other musical numbers were "Ave Marie," solo by Millard, Mrs. Grace Phelps Armstrong, and "Hark, Hark my soul, angelic songs are swelling," words by Faber, music by Rockwell, duet by Mrs. Armstrong and Miss Anna P. Butler.

The sermon by Prof. John S. Sewell of Bangor, was on the subject of Christ, "tempted on all points as we are." Prof. Sewell is an octogenarian, and it is not too much to say that his sermon was characterized by what is best in new and what is best in old theology. In very tender and reverent terms the reasons were given why temptation must have been very strong with the Master. Every word was distinctly clear, and the audience was deeply impressed by it.

The installing prayer was by Rev. Mr. Allen of Camden. It was touching and appropriate. The right hand of Fellowship was given by Rev. George C. DeMott of Bath. Mr. DeMott preceded Mr. Mousley at Ticonderoga. He spoke briefly and in very appropriate terms. Rev. O. W. Folsom of Bath gave the charge to the pastor, counseling him to cultivate bodily health, intellectual power, spiritual force and an intimate acquaintance with his people and fellow townsmen. The charge to the people was by Rev. Charles A. Moore of Bangor. He commenced by saying that there was no occasion to counsel the people to be good to their pastor, for their past conduct was a guaranty that they would be that. What he specially wished to say to them was to inculcate a high regard for what the pulpit stands for. A reporter's words cannot do justice to what Mr. Moore said to his old parishioners along this line. It is sufficient to say that they and the audience were deeply impressed by it.

The other parts of the program were the invocation by Rev. John H. Wilkins of Thomaston, reading of the Scriptures by Rev. Howard A. Lincoln of Wiscasset, and closing prayer by Rev. George M. Woodwell of South Bristol.

Mr. Mousley accepted the call of the church about a year and a half ago. During this time he has made for himself a large place in the regards of the community. He is a thinker, a good writer, and an effective off-hand speaker. There is no special reason why the service of the formal installation should have been delayed so long, but no more appropriate one could have been held at this time.

Mr. Mousley read a statement of experience and belief, which was very highly commended by the ministers and laymen present. The council after a very brief recess reported itself as unanimously favorable to proceeding with the installation. A recess was then taken for supper which was served to all in attendance and for the excellency of the meal the ladies of the church were very highly complimented.

The installation program commenced at 7 o'clock. Miss Alice W. Fiske presided at the organ, and played a beautiful prelude and postlude. Two hymns were sung by the congregation, and the other musical numbers were "Ave Marie," solo by Millard, Mrs. Grace Phelps Armstrong, and "Hark, Hark my soul, angelic songs are swelling," words by Faber, music by Rockwell, duet by Mrs. Armstrong and Miss Anna P. Butler.

The sermon by Prof. John S. Sewell of Bangor, was on the subject of Christ, "tempted on all points as we are." Prof. Sewell is an octogenarian, and it is not too much to say that his sermon was characterized by what is best in new and what is best in old theology. In very tender and reverent terms the reasons were given why temptation must have been very strong with the Master. Every word was distinctly clear, and the audience was deeply impressed by it.

The installing prayer was by Rev. Mr. Allen of Camden. It was touching and appropriate. The right hand of Fellowship was given by Rev. George C. DeMott of Bath. Mr. DeMott preceded Mr. Mousley at Ticonderoga. He spoke briefly and in very appropriate terms. Rev. O. W. Folsom of Bath gave the charge to the pastor, counseling him to cultivate bodily health, intellectual power, spiritual force and an intimate acquaintance with his people and fellow townsmen. The charge to the people was by Rev. Charles A. Moore of Bangor. He commenced by saying that there was no occasion to counsel the people to be good to their pastor, for their past conduct was a guaranty that they would be that. What he specially wished to say to them was to inculcate a high regard for what the pulpit stands for. A reporter's words cannot do justice to what Mr. Moore said to his old parishioners along this line. It is sufficient to say that they and the audience were deeply impressed by it.

The other parts of the program were the invocation by Rev. John H. Wilkins of Thomaston, reading of the Scriptures by Rev. Howard A. Lincoln of Wiscasset, and closing prayer by Rev. George M. Woodwell of South Bristol.

Mr. Mousley accepted the call of the church about a year and a half ago. During this time he has made for himself a large place in the regards of the community. He is a thinker, a good writer, and an effective off-hand speaker. There is no special reason why the service of the formal installation should have been delayed so long, but no more appropriate one could have been held at this time.

GLADNESS COMES~

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge that so many forms of illness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact that it is the only remedy which promotes internal cleanliness, without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is, therefore, all-important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to purchase and note that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only.

It is pleasant and refreshing to the taste, and acts gently yet promptly on the kidneys, liver and bowels, cleanses the system effectually, dispels colds, headaches and fevers and assists in overcoming habitual constipation permanently, also biliousness and the many ills resulting therefrom. The great trouble with all other purgatives and aperients is not that they fail to act when a single dose is taken, but that they act too violently and invariably tend to produce a habit of body requiring constantly augmented doses. Children enjoy the pleasant taste and gentle action of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, the ladies find it delightful and beneficial whenever a laxative remedy is needed, and business men pronounce it invaluable, as it may be taken without interfering with business and does not gripe nor nauseate. When buying note the name, California Fig Syrup Co. printed on the front of every package. Price, 50 cents a bottle.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

FREE ADVICE TO WOMEN

Women suffering from any form of illness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; this has been established this confidence between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America which has never been broken.

Never has she published a testimonial or used a letter without the written consent of the writer, and never has the Company allowed these confidential letters to get out of their possession, as the hundreds of thousands of them in their files will attest.

Out of the vast volume of experience which Mrs. Pinkham has to draw from, it is more than possible that she has gained the very knowledge needed in your case. She asks nothing in return except your good will, and her advice has helped thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, should be glad to take advantage of this generous offer of assistance. Address Mrs. Pinkham, care of Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Every woman ought to have Lydia E. Pinkham's 80-page Text Book. It is not a book for general distribution, as it is too expensive. It is free and only obtainable by mail. Write for it today.

Those Pies Of Boyhood.

How delicious were those pies of boyhood. No pies now ever taste so good. What's changed? the pies? No. It's you. You've lost the strong, healthy stomach, the vigorous liver, the active kidneys, the regular bowels of boyhood. Your digestion is poor and you blame the food. What's needed? A complete toning up by Electric Bitters of all organs of digestion—Stomach, Liver, Kidneys, Bowels—Try them. They'll restore your boyhood appetite and appreciation of food and fairly saturate your body with new health, strength and vigor. 50c at W. H. Kittredge, Rockland; G. L. CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhoea and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulency. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

HOME DECORATIONS

The decoration of a room may be based upon some special feature of the room—a piece of furniture, a bit of choice china, the coloring of the rug or planned to harmonize with the adjacent rooms.

WALLS—Rich, flat effects are secured by use of Flat-tone finishes. These materials are durable, sanitary and most practical in the home. Used over the old paper, you get the color desired and a durable surface that can be washed with soap and water like the paint on the wood work.

A FLAT-TONE treatment of the old curtains makes them look like new and gives them a color to harmonize with the room.

FLOORS—By using filler stains, wax or varnishes, any shade or finish may be given. For old sort-wood floors, our floor paint or varnish stain may be used to give a lasting surface.

We have finished over 100 rooms the past few months with FLAT-TONE. The first cost is less and being durable, it's the most economical finish all around.

Telephone us and we will call with Color Cards and help suggest combinations. Tel. No. 372

STATE OF MAINE
To the Honorable, the Judge of the Probate Court, in and for the County of Knox.

Respectfully represents Oliver T. Mann of South Thomaston in said County of Knox, administrator of the estate of Fred E. Coburn, deceased, intestate, that said Fred E. Coburn at the time of his decease was the owner of certain real estate with the buildings thereon, situated in the Town of Jackson in the County of Waldo and State of Maine, and being the same as described in the will of said Fred E. Coburn, by his last will, dated Oct. 1st, 1896, and recorded in the Probate Court of said County of Knox, in Book 289, page 106, and bounded as follows:—On the north by land of Joshua Trefethell and a road running between; on the east by land formerly owned by Abram Bradford; on the south by the Thompson farm, being and meaning to the Jack farm, so called, no more or less, and recorded as above, and being the same premises conveyed to said Fred E. Coburn by deed dated September 26, 1908, and recorded in Book 289, page 217, in said Waldo Registry.

That the debts of the deceased, as far as can be ascertained, amount to $300.00. And the expenses of sale, and of administration to 50.00. Amounting in all to $350.00. That the value of the personal estate is 0.00. That the personal estate is therefore insufficient to pay the debts of said deceased, and the expenses of sale and administration, and it is the duty of the said Oliver T. Mann, as administrator, to sell some part of the real estate to raise the sum of $350.00. Wherefore your petitioner prays that he may be licensed to sell and convey at public or private sale, in his discretion, so much of the real estate as may be necessary to pay said debts and expenses of sale and administration.

Dated at South Thomaston, Me., this twenty-third day of May, A. D. 1911.

"THE COMING FOURTH" Arguments That Appeal to Those Who Want a "Safe and Sane" One.

Writing from Warren a correspondent (Mrs. E. E. L.) says: "I have just read your editorial in regard to a safe Fourth. I send you a poem cut from an old paper which perhaps you will publish, as it is on the same line."

The glorious Fourth is on the way! Already are the Yankee boys Preparing for the festive day. Of smoke and smell and din and noise, And the glad day is almost here. In heard the cannon cracker's boom, While popping pistols every where. Foretell small Jack's impending doom.

The glorious Fourth is on the way! Prepare, ye mothers, for its ills, Be reconciled to all its thrills. O, get the sticking-plaster out! The arnica and lint prepare. And tell the doctors' round about There's danger floating in the air!

The glorious Fourth is on the way! The store-man bends a listening ear, And we can almost hear him say: "When mother sends us in dismay As certain sounds come to her ear. O, tell the doctor man to come. Prepared for business on that day, To amputate an arm or thigh—The glorious Fourth is on the way!"

The glorious Fourth is on the way! The mangled limbs he'll amputate!

The glorious Fourth is on the way! The awful day is drawing near. When mother sends us in dismay As certain sounds come to her ear. O, tell the doctor man to come. Prepared for business on that day, To amputate an arm or thigh—The glorious Fourth is on the way!"

Joseph W. Shibles died Tuesday morning at 12.15 o'clock at his home on Camden Road. For about a year Mr. Shibles has been in feeble health and one week ago he suffered a severe stroke of paralysis from which he never rallied. He was born in Rockport and was 59 years of age, the son of Rufus and Eliza Shibles. During the greater part of his life he was employed as quartermaster for a number of years was foreman for S. E. & H. L. Shepherd Co., and later was employed by the Ellis Lime Co. He was a quiet, unassuming man, a kind and devoted husband and father and one of the best of neighbors. He will be greatly missed not only in his family but in the community where he lived. Besides a wife and one son, Guy M. Shibles, he leaves four sisters and one brother: Mrs. Mary Carver, Mrs. Irene Brewster, Miss Ellen Shibles, Mrs. Fred W. Copeland and William Shibles, all of this town. national colors. At the dinner, chicken, ham, lobster, potato salad, assorted cake, ice cream and fruit punch was served to the bridal party at the Reynolds' home. Guests from out of town were served at the vestry by the ladies of Union church circle, under the direction of Mrs. Lizzie Davidson, (Mrs. J. E. Hopkins, Mrs. C. E. Boman and Mrs. Wm. Jameson). The dinner consisted of chicken, fish salad, cake and ice cream. Rev. and Mrs. Lidstone left on the afternoon boat for their home in Union where a reception was held Thursday evening. The abundance of wedding presents included a dozen or more pieces each of cut glass and old ivory, many pieces of silver and linen, choice china, a mahogany music cabinet, $35 in gold and handsome bracelet, The vestry of the groom to the bride was a gold brooch. Gifts to the maid of honor and bridesmaids were collar pins.

At the wharf where the couple were leaving were many friends showering best wishes as well as confetti. A line of school children formed a part of well wishers. These were the children who have loved Miss Reynolds in her eight years of teaching the primary grade. As a popular young lady, a member of the church, of the Rebekah society and Marguerite Chapter the bride will be greatly missed. She carries with her many wishes for a happy and prosperous life. The groom is congratulated in his choice of so estimable a wife.

NEW YORK LETTER

Water Famine and Proposal to Install Meters Starts Discussion of Usefulness of the Daily Dip—City to Have World's Tallest Hotel, with Rooms All Facing One Way

New York, June 24.—To bathe, or not to bathe, promises to become an important municipal question in this city as a result of the threatened water shortage and the proposal to install meters in all Manhattan buildings and to impose a tax for all water consumed above a certain fixed amount. Mayor Gaynor, who has a supply of original opinions on all questions that arise to vex the popular mind, has gone on record against the proposal to measure the water supply. His view is that the thought of the water meter busily clicking off each gallon consumed would cause the heads of families to become peevish whenever their city streets or children took a bath. Apparently His Honor holds to the opinion that the daily bath is a habit confined chiefly to the feminine and juvenile elements of the population. On the other hand a distinguished editor has made the assertion that one bath a week should be sufficient to satisfy the most fastidious and medical authorities have arisen to point out that excessive bathing is injurious to the body because it removes the protective covering of the skin and gives readier access to the dangerous microbes that are blown about with the dust of city streets. In support of this position statistics are adduced to show that cases of extreme longevity are almost invariably found among non-bathers. Meanwhile with a daily consumption of 35,000,000 gallons far greater in proportion to its population than that of any other city in the world and greater than the entire Crotan watershed can supply if the rainfall sinks below the average, the ordinary citizen is wondering whether civic patriotism compels him to forego his desire for cleanliness. One prolific cause for waste is being ended by orders requiring the repair of all leaking taps and the plumbers' wives are planning lavish summer vacations in consequence. The question is not so pressing as it might be otherwise in view of the fact that the severe rainstorms, which have been visiting Metropolis on twelve of the past fourteen days have given most of its inhabitants involuntary and unwelcome baths.

One of the liveliest rate wars that has ever taken place here is interesting New Yorkers at the present moment. The warfare is being waged by the rival steamship companies operating between this port and Bermuda. As the contest has increased in bitterness the transportation rates have gone tumbling. Successive cuts have reduced the cost of a trip to the land of lilacs and oranges to as little as one of the lines is now offering to carry passengers on a round trip to the islands including a three days' stop in one of the leading hotels and all expenses for $18. As well informed transportation men compute that this figure the company will lose an amount at least equal to this on every passenger carried the struggle is not likely to continue very long. There have been rumors of that impending rate war among the trans-Atlantic lines but this seems unlikely for while competition is keen among the various lines they have learned by bitter experience that wars of rates are ruinously expensive and injurious to the public as well as to themselves. An article in the July number of the Outlook tells of some of these contests in the past in which third class tickets for Europe to the United States fell as low as $10, half of which in many cases went to the booking agents. It is pointed out by the article that those very conditions were ruinously expensive and injurious to the public as well as to themselves. An article in the July number of the Outlook tells of some of these contests in the past in which third class tickets for Europe to the United States fell as low as $10, half of which in many cases went to the booking agents. It is pointed out by the article that those very conditions were ruinously expensive and injurious to the public as well as to themselves.

Few days are allowed to pass without the announcement of some record-breaking feat of construction for this city. Last week plans were made public for the largest commercial building in the world to replace Madison Square Garden. This week it is announced that the tallest hotel in the world is to be erected on Seventh Avenue in a section heretofore given over chiefly to old clothes dealers and other shops of queer if not questionable traffic. The plans for the new building indicate, however, the expectation that with the construction of one of the new suburbs along the street it will soon become one of the city's most important thoroughfares. The hotel of skyscraper height is to be 24 stories and 1200 rooms and will be exceeded in size by only two three hotel buildings in the world. The peculiar feature of the new structure, however, is that all the rooms are to have a southern exposure which is the only one that insures a cool summer breeze in New York. This will be accomplished by having the building divided by several courts so that there will be but one tier of rooms in each section. The life of the hotel clerk in the new establishment is expected to be one continuous demand of joy since he will be able to give every guest just the sort of location he is most certain to demand.

A municipal need, the existence of which had not been suspected by most of the citizens of Greater New York, has just been discovered by a member of the state legislature representing the borough of Queens. This statement comes from a bill introduced in the department of agriculture and has been taken to the Mayor urging the inclusion in the new city charter of some provision to stimulate and direct extensive gardening, fruit and berry raising. It is explained in support of the surprising demand that there is nothing like 40,000 acres of vacant land within the limits of the city. Most of this is in small scattered lots but it is held by the origin of the plan that if it can be put under cultivation until it is building purposes a considerable sum will be realized and eminent will be furnished to several thousands of those who are now idly employed. The plan is being actively advocated by its projector and adopted New York may become a competitor of the more thoroughly cultivated of the state as an exporter of prize pumpkins and big at the various agricultural expositions.

AN AWFUL EXAMPLE

At the public evening meeting of the W. C. T. U. annual convention, held in Appleton June 21, our correspondent describes an incident which served as a subject lesson.

A big fellow, who evidently wished to illustrate the benign influence of the saloon and free rum, entered the church where Mrs. Seberry had just reached to leave the store and taking no heed of the command, the lady took a horse whip and applied it so vigorously that he soon left.

A lady who attended the meeting at which this disgraceful affair occurred said she had been in this place two years and this is the first time she has seen a person under the influence of liquor, which certainly speaks well for our village and town.

The beer industry of the United States is undergoing a searching inquiry at the hands of the board of food and drug inspection. Dr. H. W. Wiley, chief chemist of the department of agriculture, and chairman of the board, has given notice of a general hearing on beer in Washington, July 31. For those who attend the hearing Dr. Wiley has formulated a formidable list of questions. These cover the manufacture of beer, the manufacture of beer, the principles upon which the board desires light is the meaning of the terms "lager" and "pilsener" as applied to beer, and "domestic" as applied to beer, ale, porter and stout. Hon. Cyrus Tupper assistant attorney general in answer to a query from Blaine S. Viles of the commissioners of inland fisheries and game, has given his opinion that chapter 185 of the public laws of 1911, which provides that it shall be unlawful to take or have in possession more than 15 pounds of landlocked salmon, trout, muskellunge or white perch, or more than 40 pounds of lake trout, is not in violation of the constitution of the United States and that such law is repealed, takes its place.

A new record in the foreign commerce of the United States, surpassing that of any year's business in history, was made in the eleven months of the fiscal year ended with May. The imports and exports of the United States, as compiled by the Bureau of Statistics and announced today, amounted to $3,312,383,506, which exceeds the record year of 1908 by almost $3,000,000. The balance of trade in favor of American business men from their foreign customers amounts to $501,525,502 for the eleven months.

CHART CORRECTIONS

Local Work of Coast and Geodetic Survey of Importance to Mariners.

Chart corrections of special importance to shipping interests in this section are announced in the weekly "Notice to Mariners" of June 23, as follows:

Pemaquid Ledge Buoy, HS, 2d-class can, replaced June 15 by 2d-class tall-type can.

Burnt Coat Harbor Light Station—Fog Signal established June 20. Bell struck by machinery thus: 1 stroke, silent 15 seconds.

Deer Island Thoroughfare—A rocky ridge about 200 yards long in a general NE'ly and SW'ly direction by 50 yards wide, was found about 300 yards S'ly of Mark Island. The least water on the ridge, 18 feet, was located near the SW'ly end, about 410 yards 184 deg. 25 min. true (S by W ½ W. mag.).

From Deer Island Thoroughfare Light-house and a depth of 24 feet near the NE'ly end. A least depth of 4 feet was found over West Mark Island Ledge instead of 6 feet shown on the charts.

Crotch Island Passage—The channel E'ly of Crotch Island connecting Deer Island Thoroughfare with Merchants Row, has been examined and the following information concerning it is taken from a preliminary report on the work.

The maximum draft that can be safely taken through the passage by careful navigation is 16 feet. The channel at certain points along its W'ly side was found to be narrowed by about 100 feet by granite blocks, largely from Crotch Island quarries. Crotch Island Passage Buoy, 2, was found to be about 175 yards NW'ly of its charted position and is now about 440 yards 147 deg. 45 min. true (S by E ¼ E. mag.) from N'ly end of Crotch Island. A number of pinnacles and boulders obstruct channel in vicinity of buoy, and the least depth, 13 feet, is found just N'ly of it. Rock Island Buoy, 4, was found about 50 yards S'ly of its charted position, and is now about 300 yards 212 deg. 50 min. true (SW. ¾ W. mag.) from N'ly end of Rock Island. An obstruction with a least depth of 13 feet over it lies about 100 yards W'ly of buoy. Owing to a large quantity of kelp the nature of the obstruction, whether rock or wreck, was not determined, but the latter seems more probable.

Passage North of North Haven Island—The following information concerning recently discovered dangers in the passage N'ly of North Haven Island, Penobscot Bay, was obtained by means of a wire drag:

a. A small pinnacle, with a least depth of 14 feet over it, lies 350 yards 23 deg. 20 min. true (NE. 7-16 N. mag.) from the center of the larger of the two dry rocks of Spoon Ledge.

b. A ridge, about 50 feet wide and with 21 feet at its S'ly end, extends S'ly from ledge S'ly of Flank Island. The 21-foot spot at S'ly end of ridge lies about 750 yards 198 deg. true (SW. 15-16 S. mag.) from S'ly end of Flank Island.

c. A rocky ridge, about 20 yards wide, extends N'ly from Grass Ledge, SW'ly of Eagle Island. This ridge has 27 feet on its N'ly end, about 475 yards 17 deg. 20 min. true (NE. by N. mag.) from center of Grass Ledge.

d. A ledge with from 25 to 26 feet over it, about 90 yards long in a general N'ly and S'ly direction by about 20 yards wide, lies in midchannel with its N'ly end about 370 yards 210 deg. true (SW. 15-16 S. mag.) from S'ly end of Eagle Island.

e. A rocky ridge, about 65 yards long in a general N'ly and S'ly direction by 30 yards wide, lies with its least depth, 26 feet, about 800 yards 69 deg. true (E. ¾ N. mag.) from N'ly end of Bald Island.

f. A small pinnacle rock, with a least depth of 32 feet over it, was found E'ly of the Porcupines, about 1,880 yards 168 deg. 10 min. true (S. ¾ W. mag.) from Eagle Island Lighthouse.

THRILLING EXPERIENCE

A Night in the Jungles of Central Africa.

To hear the thunderous roars of the man-eating kings of the forest, to feel their hot breath wafted through the barred windows of a tiny cabin in the jungles is certainly thrilling.

Fritz Brunner, the famous animal raiser with the John H. Sparks shows, which are to exhibit in this city, was raised in a cabin in the wilds of equatorial Africa. His father was an agent of the Royal Zoological Society of Germany and spent many years securing specimens for that institution. Hence from childhood Mr. Brunner was accustomed to hear nightly the roars of monster lions, the hideous tiger's growls and the snarling leopards and hyenas, which would engage in deadly combats around the cabin, often hurling their huge weights against its frail walls and scampering over its roof. As he grew up in these surroundings he became a fearless hunter, meeting the wild denizens of the forest face to face and engaging in fierce struggles with the infuriated beasts. He afterwards became a trainer, and his absolute mastery over the brute creation is not equalled by any living man.

A large steel enclosure will be erected in the center of the exhibition tent, into which the ferocious animals will be turned loose. Mr. Brunner will then enter the enclosure, unarmed, and put them through a remarkable series of performances that will vividly illustrate their tremendous strength and agility. It is a thrilling, hair-raising sight and one that you will never forget.

The program of the John H. Sparks shows is entirely composed of marvelous, expensive and carefully selected features, which makes it so vastly superior to all other similar exhibitions.

AUTOMOBILES ON INCREASE

Business in Buzz Wagons has Taken Big Boom—Knox County Furnishes Many Patrons.

The automobile business is advancing by wonderful strides in the state of Maine, according to figures recently compiled in the office of the secretary of state. There are now 8,493 automobile licenses in effect in this state and 1,205 of them have been granted since Jan. 1. During the month of May alone, 672 licenses or registrations were issued. This is the largest number of registrations in any one month in the history of the office. The largest previous registration was during the month of May in 1910 when 469 machines were licensed to operate. The drivers' licenses show a corresponding increase, there having been 689 issued in May, as against 474 in May of a year ago. The same may be said of the motor cycle registrations and dealers' licenses which have increased amazingly during the first five months of the year.

The following automobiles from Knox county were registered at the office of the secretary of state during the past week:

- No. 8,864—L. B. Keene, 360 Broadway; touring car; gasoline power; horse power, 30; predominating color, blue.
- No. 8,788—Herbert H. Stover, Rockland; touring car; gasoline power; horse power, 26; predominating color, blue.
- No. 8,882—James H. Doherty, 167 Pleasant street, Rockland; touring car; gasoline power; horse power, 22; predominating color, maroon.
- No. 8,840—William Sansom, 87 North Main street, Rockland; runabout; gasoline power; horse power, 16; predominating color, black.
- No. 8,847—M. Frank Donohue, 37 Park street, Rockland; touring car; gasoline power; horse power, 30; predominating color, red.
- No. 8,854—Alfred C. Frost, 62 Monument street, Rockland; runabout; gasoline power; horse power, 14; predominating color, red.

Facts about the Leather Trust and the Bad Quality of Shoes

What under the sun is the matter with leather nowadays! Bennie's shoes are almost off his feet again. Mamie's and John's can't last much longer—the way they are wearing out.

And those shoes were new only a few weeks ago! Well—what can you expect when the shoe manufacturers of this country are in the grip of the Leather Trust?

The Leather Trust is the matter with leather. Shoe leather to-day is no more what it was when you and I were boys than shoddy is good straight woolen.

It has not the substance—the stamina to make a dependable, long-wearing shoe.

It is starved in the tanning and finishing—tanned with hemlock in place of oak, with chemicals, with anything that will cheapen the tanning.

Leather Trust's Greed for Profits

The shoe troubles of the American people are due largely to one cause—the Leather Trust's greed for exorbitant profits.

Nobody will deny that a tannery has a right to a profit. You as a business man certainly would concede the Leather Trust a generous return on its investment and on its cost of delivering the goods.

But, as a shoe wearer, you know that it is not delivering the goods. The ordinary shoe manufacturer cannot protect you. He has to accept Leather Trust leather, and do the best he can with it. The only wonder is that he does as well as he does.

Your shoe dealer cannot protect you so long as he sells shoes made of Trust leather.

But you can do everything to protect yourself. You can buy your shoes independent of all Trusts and middlemen.

You, your friends and neighbors, and the other folks of this town can go to the local dealer who carries Endicott-Johnson shoes.

This Firm Independent of Trust

Endicott, Johnson & Co. are the only shoe manufacturers in America who get their leather independent of the Leather Trust.

They own their tanneries. They tan every pound of leather they put into their shoes. They tan every lot of hides with an eye to the shoe that is to be made of it—perfect the leather for the kind of service it is to give.

The Endicott-Johnson plant is the one place in America where you can see shoe leather tanned by good old-fashioned standards of service to the folks who wear the shoes.

Honest Shoes at a Fair Price

Endicott, Johnson & Co. will tell you—that the Leather Trust never will tell you—that it is perfectly feasible to tan an honest leather, make it up into a stylish, serviceable shoe and sell it at a moderate price.

They will prove it to you by saving you 50 cents to $1.00 on every pair of shoes you buy—and give you leather that you simply cannot get in any other shoe.

Mrs. Sarah Snow of Rockland visited Mrs. Lucy Copeland Saturday.

Nathan Copeland, who has been employed in Portland for the last ten weeks, returned home Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Atwood Pryor of Lynn, Mass., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Berry B. Bucklin recently.

Little Doris Copeland has so far recovered from her recent operation as to be out calling on the neighbors.

"The secret of the destruction of the battleship Maine will never be known," says Gen. W. H. Bixby, chief of engineers in charge of the work of raising the Maine. The destruction of the vessel was such, and the deterioration has been so great that it will be impossible to tell whether the ship was blown up from a fire within or without.

The greatest force, however, was from the inside, indicating that the forward magazine had exploded. Whether this was from a sympathetic explosion caused by a torpedo from the outside may forever remain a mystery.

Gen. Bixby says that unless the fragment of a torpedo is found there is no way of connecting some outside agency with the blowing up of the vessel.

OWL'S HEAD

Mrs. Addie Strout and family, who have spent the winter in Rockland, moved home for the summer, Saturday.

J. Winters of Waterville, with a party of friends, is occupying the Winter cottage at Henrickson's Point.

Charles Carver has gone to Bangor where he is to open a fish market. He leaves many friends here who wish him success.

Rev. W. J. Day of Rockland gave an excellent sermon Sunday from the text found in Luke 4:16. The Scripture was read and prayer offered by E. C. Herrick of Charlestown, Mass. Thanks are due Mrs. Herrick for her kind help in the singing.

M. T. Jameson & Co. are putting up a large building on their wharf in connection with their increasing fish business.

I. W. Feeney is in Boston on a business trip. Ira is a hustler.

School here closed Friday after a successful term taught by Mrs. Maggie Gilchrist of South Thomaston, who is much esteemed by both parents and pupils. Friday afternoon a school picnic was enjoyed at Owl's Head Lighthouse, to which the parents were also invited and 40 hungry people enjoyed a delicious dinner. The afternoon was pleasantly spent in games, baseball and singing by the children. All hope to keep Mrs. Gilchrist next year.

In Social Circles

The arrival and departure of guests during the vacation season is of interest both to them and their friends. We are glad to print such items of social news and will thank our friends to supply us with information in this connection.

F. A. Thorndike and family made a 200-mile journey in their motor car Sunday, visiting Dexter, Bangor and other places.

Mrs. John W. Thomas has gone to her former home in Danville, Ill., where she has a position as bookkeeper for the Danville Water Co. Her mother, Mrs. G. B. Sidelinger and daughter, Dorothy, preceded her there several weeks.

Richard H. Britt and bride have returned from their wedding tour, which extended as far South as Baltimore, and will go to housekeeping in the lower flat of the Shaw house on High street.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Osborn of Belmont are visiting John Ranlett, Jr., Rockland street.

Mrs. Isa E. Beverage of North Haven is spending the week with her sister, Mrs. H. L. Thomas.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Clifford were pleasantly entertained Sunday at Charles Andrews, Mount Pleasant.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Clifford of Glen Cove were pleasantly surprised Saturday afternoon by a large party of friends from Camden, Rockport and Rockland, who came to give them a housewarming at their new home on the Camden road. A most enjoyable afternoon was spent on the piazza where they passed the time playing cards and enjoying the delightful views. At 6 o'clock they were summoned to partake of a picnic supper, after which the evening was spent with music and games. The departing guests wished the host and hostess many years of happiness in their new home.

C. M. Harrington and family of this city and Supt. H. H. Randall and family of Lewiston are occupying the Harrington cottage at Holiday Beach. This week Mr. Randall is attending a convention of superintendents in Providence.

President Huke of the Rockland-Rockport Lim. Co., and family, are at Crescent Beach for two months' stay. This is the Huke family's first season at the resort and the members are deriving much pleasure from it.

Mrs. J. Fred Knight has gone to Charlotte, N. C., where she will remain through the illness of Mrs. Fred W. Glover. Upon her return to the North Mrs. Glover's children will accompany her.

Chandler Wyman of Minneapolis and brother Jasper Wyman of Mill-bridge arrived here a few days ago in the former's steam yacht and were guests of their cousin, Sheriff Tolman. From here they proceeded to Waldo-boro, where they were joined by two other brothers, Jesse of that town and Joseph of Portland. Wednesday the four brothers were guests of E. M. Lawrence on a deep sea fishing trip. Chandler Wyman is a wealthy grain dealer in Minneapolis and is a member of the Chamber of Commerce, and is accounted one of the most influential men in the growing western metropolis.

Mrs. E. F. Russell and daughter Agnes of Vinalhaven were in the city Wednesday on their return from the commencement exercises at Villa Marie, from which Mrs. Russell's daughter Mary graduated.

Miss Maude Sweetland gave a luncheon Tuesday at her Crescent Beach home in honor of her hostess, guest, Miss Lawler of Somerville, Mass.

Beulah May, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Richards, entertained eight of her little friends Monday afternoon in honor of her 5th birthday.

Those present were Carrie Clough, Iva McLain, Lillian Barter, Elizabeth Knight, Marion and Evelyn Mossman, Charlie Gregory and Alexander Donaldson. Games of all kinds were played, and at 4 o'clock they all marched to the dining room, which was very prettily decorated in pink and white, the birthday cake being decorated with candles and carnations. Miss Beulah received some pretty presents.

Miss Belle Spring, who is a teacher in the Hingham, (Mass.) high school, is at her Rockland home for the summer vacation, guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wiggins.

Please send to The Courier-Gazette the names of your summer visitors. Mr. and Mrs. Hugh A. Bain of Riverside, Calif., are guests of Mrs. L. L. Snow.

Mrs. Llewellyn Mills entertained the Wednesday Club this week. Miss Myrtle Simpson won the prize.

Miss Mary Russell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Russell of Vinalhaven, graduated June 21 from Villa Marie, Montreal. Miss Russell was one of three young ladies winning highest honors out of a class of 23, besides which she was first in three other branches.

Mrs. John R. Frohock has returned from a visit with Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Williams in Newton, Mass. Miss Alice Williams accompanied her here for the vacation and will be joined soon by her sister Gladys.

Henry L. Higgins, the well known fish dealer and ex-alderman, is confined home with a severe attack of blood poisoning, occasioned it is supposed by one of his hands coming into contact with a fishbone, which penetrated the flesh. Dr. Alden is in charge of the case, and a trained nurse is in attendance.

CORSETS

We have felt the stimulating effects of Miss Harpole's stay in our Corset Department to such a marked degree that we have arranged to have her remain with us this week.

As we have announced in two previous issues, neither Miss Harpole's work nor our Corsets need any introduction.

Because it is not always possible to fit every customer in any one make, (unless a merchant stocks every model made) we have selected the best numbers from several representative lines which are constantly in stock, and Miss Harpole will gladly give you the benefit of her long experience.

It is quite as important for you to know why you should NOT wear a certain model as why you SHOULD wear another. This fact has been fully demonstrated in the sale of our Gossard models.

EXHIBITION AND SALE OF

600 Choice Oriental Rugs and Carpets

We have the pleasure to announce that Mr. John Peters of Boston will be at our store next week with his annual display of FINE ORIENTAL RUGS. These Rugs are genuine products of the Far East and they have been carefully selected, one by one. Among them are many odd sizes so difficult to secure and old pieces of rare beauty and exquisite richness, which if found in the market today would command a princely sum.

Mr. Peters gives you the benefit of his many years of experience, enabling you to select a rug in an intelligent manner. His reputation for fair and honorable dealing is beyond question, and these Rugs are sold with the distinct understanding that if they are not perfectly satisfactory they may be exchanged at any time.

You will enjoy seeing these beautiful and choice pieces, and we trust we may have the privilege of showing them to you whether you intend buying or not. Rugs are displayed on the 2nd floor. Come and bring your friends.

MARSHALL BRIDGES

At the home of the bride's sister on Spruce street, John M. Marshall of Thomaston and Miss Minerva E. Bridges, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Enos Bridges of this city, were united in marriage on the afternoon of June 26.

There were about 40 guests present, mostly the young friends of the bride and groom. The couple were attended by Enos Bridges and Miss Augusta Bridges, brother and sister of the bride. The house was beautifully decorated for the occasion, and the bridal pair stood under an arch of flowers and ferns while the ceremony was performed by Rev. W. P. Porter, pastor of the Free Baptist church.

A table was loaded with presents for the bride. Among the many gifts were a beautiful berry spoon from her Sunday school class, and a fine quilt from the Ladies' Circle. As the guests busied themselves with the wedding lunch Mr. and Mrs. Marshall were seen descending the stairs, the groom carrying his dress suit case, the bride robed and ready for traveling. Great was the excitement that followed. For once ice cream and cake were forgotten, the guests made a rush for the door, and showers of rice and confetti were rained upon the couple as they ran into the street, and climbed into a waiting automobile which was to take them to Camden. From Camden the young couple took the boat for Boston; they will spend a few days with relatives at Attleboro, Mass., and will return to their home at Thomaston.

Miss Bridges will be much missed by her many friends, and especially by the people of the Free Baptist church of which she has been an active member.

CRESCENT BEACH PAVILION

The season at the Crescent Beach Pavilion has already started with larger crowds than ever known at the beach for so early in the season, and that the program of moving pictures, illustrated songs and dancing is going to be one of the most pleasing summer amusement events is already assured. The regular Thursday night dances opened at the Beach Pavilion Thursday evening, and the attendance goes to show that this particular night in the week is going to prove more popular than ever.

If you were one of the stay-at-homes just ask your friends what kind of a time they had at the Beach and then you will be there the next time. If you are looking for a good time take the Crescent Beach line.

See the big display of fireworks, also all kinds of fruit, cherries, cantaloupes, watermelons and pineapples at Whitney's.

NEWSPAPER WORKERS' LARK

Courier-Gazette Staff Shows Oakland Pleasure-Seekers What a Real Picnic is Like.

The Courier-Gazette force got the picnic fever Wednesday, and supper hour found nine of the members cavorting around Oakland Park as happy as the veriest Sunday school kid. Charlie, as usual, was "the man behind," but it's a 10 to 1 shot he was supplied with a good excuse. One of the female members stayed at home to keep shop. "Her name was Maud."

Supper was first on the program, and here Retta displayed the skill of a born manager. Harry's plate was overloaded with "Copy," but there was no Jones to appeal to, and "Young Mr. Jones" had to go before he fairly arrived—so Harry did the best he could before things got cooled. Three bushels of the left over fruit will be sold at auction to raise funds for the next picnic. It was universally conceded that Grace "took the cake," but sad to relate, most of the frosting remained on the outside of her face. "Vivien" was not dieting so far as anybody could observe.

After supper there was an adjournment to the lake, on the placid surface of which Harry embarked in the battleship Utah, eventually relinquishing the command to Danny, who stood the bombardment and water cure with his usual calm and philosophical manner. Not so with Laura, who allowed there had never been such actions since the paper was displayed. And she knows, born manager. Harry's plate was overloaded with "Copy," but there was no Jones to appeal to, and "Young Mr. Jones" had to go before he fairly arrived—so Harry did the best he could before things got cooled. Three bushels of the left over fruit will be

And Then Some

Did you ever see that person who could change color so quickly as this SCRABBLE piano man? Henry Dixie was never in it for a minute with this human chameleon. However he is situated seems to be to the advantage of the Piano Buyer.

Today he is doing business in a stable on a back street and tells you he can save you all kinds of money because he has no store expense, no salesmen, no team, no commissions.

Tomorrow he has all of these expenses, offers big commissions to anybody who will bring him the name of a customer, is the biggest toad in the pool, has the largest stock of pianos in the State—mind you, that's going some, and that's why he can give you the best piano made for $150; and he is "amused," so is every one else who knows anything about the piano business. We don't believe he really knows the difference, but he does know how to coin names. Notice how apt he is at this. He began early in life but "Scrabble" can certainly coin them, and for $150 he can sell you one of those beautiful specimens of junk with a coined name stenciled on it which will add greatly more to its value than the name of the manufacturer.

That's no joke, either. He really wouldn't dare tell you who made the piano because he has said that the same thing under the maker's name is the cheapest thing on the market, and we have his own hand writing over his signature stating that there is nothing better made.

He will also show you the bills, so that you can know just what the piano cost. Of course these bills are faked up because he is really only an agent for a retail piano dealer in Boston, and we don't think he ever bought a piano in his life. This is what he really means when he says he has the largest store in the State. Not long ago he told you he owned a large store in Boston stocked with two hundred pianos all paid for. If he had been buying pianos from several factories, he would have undoubtedly told you he owned several factories.

WE ARE STILL DOING BUSINESS AT THE OLD STAND and can give you as good value for your money as you can get anywhere on earth. Come in and see the Vertical Grand, hear a real Player Piano, 88 note, playing the entire keyboard. Substantial reduction in a 65-note Player and a lot of music. See the Merrill Piano, which gives such lasting satisfaction; the Christman, so popular for its fine tone and action; the McPhail with its 53 gold medals and awards; the Howard with its easy and responsive action and brilliant pleasing tone.

Boiled Cauliflower

The fine flavor and appetizing cooking of many vegetables greatly depend upon the milk used. Creamy flavor and richness are positively necessary. Use Borden's Evaporated Milk. The result will please you.

BOILED CAULIFLOWER

Remove the outer leaves and cut off the stem close to the bottom; wash in cold water and let soak for one hour; tie in a piece of cheesecloth to prevent breaking. Stand in a kettle of boiling water, add one teaspoonful salt and let boil till tender, about thirty minutes. Take up carefully and put it into a hot vegetable dish. For the sauce, melt a tablespoonful butter, being careful not to brown it, and a tablespoonful flour and mix until smooth; then add one-half cup Borden's Evaporated Milk and one-half cup water, and stir constantly until it boils; season this with salt and pepper; pour this over the cauliflower and serve at once.

ROCKLAND THEATRE

Manager Rosenberg of the Rockland Theatre announces as the attraction at the Rockland Theatre for July 3, 4, and 5 the well known Murray Stock Company, including the funny comedian Peter Murray, and Mable Grande.

Peter Murray

This company while new to Rockland theatre goers, is one of the best and strongest now on tour and is highly endorsed by press and public. Mr. Murray has taken exceptional care in selecting his cast of artists and plays, with a view toward pleasing the more critical of the popular price attraction patrons. Six high class specialties are introduced between the acts, making a continuous show with no waits. Popular prices 25 and 35 cents.

APPLETON

The village primary school closed Friday, Miss Grace Gushee teacher. The Grammar school, Miss Agnes Toys teacher, closed Saturday. We consider ourselves very fortunate in having teachers so well qualified for instructors as these young ladies have proven to be. Following are the names of scholars not absent one day from Miss Gushee's school: Roland Berry, Linwood Esancey, Wallace Wentworth, Finis Morang, Florence Gushee, Maynard Simmons, Leslie Simmons and Harry Morang. Those absent but one day: Frances Kinney and Newell Kinney.

Miss Mildred Wentworth arrived home Sunday from Morrill where she has been teaching.

The Ridge school closed Friday with exercises by the pupils.

Twelve days in succession with rain, hail, thunder, lightning and wind, is the record in this vicinity. During the shower of last week, Tuesday, the barn of Albert Moody was struck, but no one was hurt.

Mrs. Adelaide Oakes and Mrs. Weeks of New York are at the former's home here for a time.

H. F. Hawkes is at home after several weeks in Albany, N. Y.

George H. Page is suffering from a severe attack of rheumatism, being confined a part of the time to the house.

Mrs. H. N. Titus has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. W. O. Norwood, in Hope.

Mrs. Lile Ripley has returned from a visit with relatives in Searsport.

Mrs. Harriet Gay of Medway, Mass., is with her sister, Mrs. Emeline Hall, for the summer.

Mrs. Viloa Pittman, who is in very poor health, is somewhat improved at this writing.

The county convention of the W. C. T. U. met with our local union Thursday, June 22. The day was all that could be desired, and there was a good attendance from the various societies throughout Knox county.

Mrs. Cora E. Seberry, national organizer of New York state, gave a most interesting talk to the children in the afternoon. Nine schools were represented by about 100 children. Our village schools, also the Gurney and Elmwood districts were present in a body. Rev. E. S. Ufford of Rockland also spoke briefly.

In the evening session Mrs. Seberry gave an address that should have been an inspiration for higher and better ideals to each one who was privileged to hear it.

Dr. F. E. Follett has moved into the Sacker-Moffitt house, Broad street—Arthur P. Haines occupies the John D. May house, Grove street.

TRAINED ANIMALS

Four-Footed Actors Help Greatly in Rounding Out the Highly Interesting Circus Program of the Sparks Shows.

The management of the Sparks shows have made it a study for years to give a circus program replete in all particulars, and knowing full well the importance of some high-class animal acts on the program, have this year imported from Germany several acts that cannot fail to create a sensation. The Germans have made animal training a fine art, and some of the most notable animal acts in this country are but copies of the wonderful acts as they are produced across the water.

The acts imported from Germany this season include a spectacular equine drill and pyramid performance by a group of Arabian stallions that is said to be the most beautiful piece of horse training ever attempted. The herd of performing elephants under the direction of their German trainer, Paul Jacoby, will produce groupings, pyramids and maneuvers heretofore thought impossible. A group of forest bred African lions will also hold an important place on this interesting program on account of the wonderful control their trainer, Mr. Fritz Brunner, has over these really ferocious man killing beasts.

The extensive menagerie carried by the show also affords unusual interest to those who are fond of studying animal life. In it are presented many new specimens hitherto unknown to the zoos of America.

Besides the trained animals some of the world's greatest gymnasts, acrobats and equestrians have a place on the bill, and after the grand opening spectacle, which is brilliant in its coloring and massive in effect, the program will go forward with so much vim and vigor, the acts will all be of such a high order and classified to such a nicety, that the most critical audience cannot help but be pleased.

Your step has lost elasticity because your blood has lost vitality, which Hood's Sarsaparilla will restore.

THORNDYKEVILLE

Miss Hazel Merrill of Thomaston, who has been spending the past two weeks with relatives here, returned home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Selden Fuller of Bristol, are visiting Mrs. Fullers' mother, Mrs. Juliana Thorndike.

Arthur Price and wife of Rockland spent Sunday as guests of Mrs. Price's mother, Mrs. Harriet Carlin.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Gardner of Rockland called at H. E. Mank's Saturday.

Lester Merrill and wife spent Sunday in Thomaston, guests of H. G. Merrill and family.

Mrs. H. E. Mank is visiting relatives in Waterville and Boston, Mass.

Frances Howard was a Sunday guest at Myrtle Crabtree's.

Silas Upham and wife and Miss Herick of Camden spent Sunday at their old home here.

Mrs. Perley Merrifield and son Herbert of Rockland were recent guests at A. L. Varney's.

SOUTH UNION

Harriet Williams is at home, returning last week from Eddington, where she has been teaching.

Miss Mattie Luce of Camden is visiting at Mrs. Charles Vaughan's. A reception was given her last week, some twelve of her old neighbors being present.

Miss Annie Williams gave a picnic for her pupils in the Haves district at the foot of Seven Tree Pond last week. All pronounced it a fine time. Cake, candy and ice cream were served.

The worst hail storm since 1820 passed over this place on Tuesday, June 20, about 4.30 p. m. and did much damage. All gardens in this vicinity were destroyed and much damage was done to fruit trees. Some plum trees that were full were nearly stripped, and it is feared that the apple crop is practically ruined, as the hail stones that were as large as walnuts cut into the apples and pears. In some places the hail was piled up three or four inches deep. Several tubs full of hail were scraped up from a wall about four feet wide and many made ice cream. Capt. Harding had a lot of early peas that would have been ready to pick the first of July that were entirely destroyed. The hail remained on the ground all night and on the northern side of buildings did not thaw off till noon the next day. The storm came up from the Northeast and was quite severe at East Union. It did not extend into Warren to do any damage. On the same afternoon lightning struck Thurston's old trimming shop, but not damaging it to any great extent. Damage was also done to crops by the heavy rains and washouts were numerous.

NORTH UNION

A large delegation attended the W. C. T. U. convention at Appleton from this place last week and report a good time.

Miss Sadie Sukeforth is visiting her brother in South Liberty.

Margaret Buttmann has closed the school in this district and returned to her home in Rockland.

Ida Carroll Paine, recently married, has gone to her home in Massachusetts.

The W. C. T. U. of this place will hold a meeting on the Washington camp ground, July 4. Rev. C. C. Tilly of Damariscotta and L. H. Lidstone of Union will speak and others are expected. A picnic dinner will be held. Tea and coffee furnished free. Everybody invited.

"JOHN—HOW DO YOU DO IT?"

It was one of my Lewiston customers who asked the question. Before my coming there he had been paying $30 and $35 to a high-priced tailor for a suit or overcoat. Never had any kick to make about the fit or wear of the garments. But things had got around to the point where to pay $35 for a suit meant a drag on his pocketbook that would be felt for a long time to come. So he had drifted around to me to find out if there is really such a thing as custom made clothes at $15.

That was last September. Several days ago I finished and delivered to him an Overcoat which he had ordered after getting his suit. He says it fits him and looks as well as any $35 Overcoat he ever put on his back and the only difference is in the price. This one has cost him $15. He doesn't understand how I can do it.

Listen, while I tell you the secret. In the first place this business is conducted on a strictly cash basis. You know what this means in the way of lower prices. My high-priced competitor does a credit business—buys on credit and sells a great many of his customers on that basis. An extravagant way of doing business on both sides.

Then again I buy a great percentage of my wools—direct from the mills and save the profit of the jobber and wholesaler. I can do this because I am not purchasing single suit lengths—but whole pieces (40 to 50 yards) at a time. This method of buying is also practised in the selection of my linings and trimmings.

Then at the various workshops economies in production are practiced that are impossible to the small tailor. By employing skilled workers who specialize on different stages of coat construction I obtain a rate of output that is fully 50 per cent faster than under the old method where a coat-maker took a garment in hand and brought it to completion alone. And besides the time saving, my way means better workmanship. "A surgeon for surgery and a physician for illness," is my motto.

To every man who has been paying a tailor high prices for his garments—and to every man who has walked out of a ready-to-wear store clad in a suit that would be a better fit for someone else—I say DON'T. It is no longer necessary to do one or the other. I offer you custom clothes that will fit you and will cost you less than you'd pay for ready-to-wear goods.
