FLY ROD'S NOTE BOOK.

It is a good joke on some of our city boys that is told on the quiet.

One evening this week they were very sure they heard some one calling for help in the woods across the lake. The longer they listened the more sure they were that some one was in need of assistance, so they woke up a guide, and got the boat ready.

When the guide got ready to start, the sound was heard again and he said, "Why boys don't you know that is only a screech owl." Thus the boys lost a chance to be heroes.

IMPORTANT MEETING.

Maine and New Hampshire Fish and Game Commissioners at Errol Dam.

(Special to Maine Woods).

Errol Dam, N. H., Aug. 25, 1911.

Last Friday, chairman Wilson, and Hon. Blaine S. Viles of the fish and game commission were at Errol Dam, N. H., where they had a very pleasant meeting with all the members of the New Hampshire Fish and Game Commission, and consulted together regarding what was best to do about stocking Umbagog lake with fish, etc.

It will be remembered that this lake is located in both states. The commissioners work in perfect harmony and are anxious to do what is for the greatest benefit.

It was decided best to have a screen placed at the outlet of Umbagog lake as thousands of fish go down the Androscoggin river every year and thus are lost.

It was decided not practical to do anything more than is being done at present about stocking the lake with fish.

Umbagog lake, the last in the Rangeley chain, is one of the most beautiful. During the last five years a number of wealthy people have built their summer homes on the lake shore, and hundreds of people are now coming by this route.

MONGOLIAN PHEASANTS TO BE LIBERATED.

SOUTH STRONG.

McLeary's new mill, which has had difficulty in running because of lack of even water enough to cool the gasoline engine is now running regular and on full time. Even the McLeary brook, which usually runs a liberal stream and provides good trout fishing has been completely dried up until the recent rains.

Visitors at Maplewood recently have been Mr. and Mrs. N. R. Knowlton, of Farmington, and Mr. Henry Parcher, wife and two children, from Washington, D. C.; Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Haley, daughter and grandson (Mrs. Josephine Williams and Billy), all of South Gardiner, and Mrs. Minnie Moore, of Hallowell; Mrs. Haley is Mr. Moore's sister, and Mr. Haley is one of the county commissioners of Kennebec county. He is the gentleman who was introduced at the recent Hank's big fair and horse-trot at Augusta as a well-known horse breeder and the largest winner of trotting stakes of any breeder in the state.

Maplewood is selling quantities of sweet corn and early potatoes just at present, and Mr. Moore has one of the finest gardens of any "farmer" about these parts. Among other nice things, he is raising a quantity of muskmelons and a few water melons.

The successful raisers of sweet corn, for the factory, in this vicinity are Fred and Ed McLeary, Walter Bradford, H. O. Lisherness, O. M. Moore, Sam Conant, Harry Hunter and others on the west side of the river.

"Farmer" Moore will undertake to capture first premium this year at the North Franklin fair for best general display of garden and farm products. He hopes to meet generous competition, but he says John D. won't enter any "Farmers' race" where trotting stallions and gentlemen's driving horses are the rule instead of the exception. John D's full name is Rockefeller. He ought to go some.

It has been 12 years since a caribou was killed in this state and the belief has prevailed that the animal would never flourish here again. ## LAKEWOOD CAMPS.

Automobile Better Conveyance Than Buckboard Says the Guests.

(Special to Maine Woods.)

Middle Dam, Maine, Aug. 24, 1911. The August rush in the years past has been small compared to this.

The new forty horse power automobile driven by Bert Carlton, that goes over to Sunday Cove and back in less than the time the buckboard would go half way, is surely a joy ride, and every pleasant day parties come and go, some that have been to Quebec, others going through the White Mountains, all to take the sail across the chain of lakes. I watched one party of eleven with three reservation trunks and eight or ten smaller ones, and many hand bags, etc., all comfortably taken across the five mile carry in forty minutes. There is not one of the rocks left in the road, and the way that big machine is taken around the curves and up and down the hills is truly marvelous.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Gillmore and son, of Newark, N. J., who were here last year came Monday for a ten days' stay.

It is getting to be quite the thing for a party of eight or ten to come over from the Balsams for Sunday dinner.

Mr. W. P. Martin of McClure Magazine, accompanied by his wife are New Yorkers, who are greatly pleased with passing their vacation at this delightful place.

Mr. R. H. Scott and sister, Miss Scott, of Paterson, N. J., who have been here for the past month started homeward Monday, planning to return another season.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Demarert of New Haven, Conn., Mr. B. Harley Mann of Hampden, Conn., Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Woodruff and party of Mount Carmel, Conn., are to spend the remainder of the August days in camp.

The Fish and Game Commissioners, Hon. J. P. H. Wilson and Hon. Blaine S. Viles, were here last week.

Mr. Francis R. Abbott, a Philadelphia artist, who is here for his first visit is greatly taken with the scenery, and is painting some very beautiful landscapes.

The bungalow is taken for a month by Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Mead and son, Kenneth R. Mead, of Greenwich, Conn.

Everyone was glad to see Dr. Chas. M. Ford, of New York, who has been an annual comer for many seasons. As usual he is accompanied by his father, Mr. Sidney A. Ford, is unnecessary for those who keep well all the time. The best way to keep well is by proper diet, sufficient rest, enough exercise, and above all things by keeping the bowels regular. If you are unfortunate enough to be suffering from sick headaches, disordered liver, dyspepsia, or constipation, you can get quick relief by a change of diet, by reforming your habit of hasty eating, by regulating the amount of rest or exercise, and by depending on the True L. F. Atwood's Medicine to relieve you of other disturbing symptoms. You can insure your health against sickness at little expense by systematic use of this old and reliable household remedy. It has helped thousands and is a household remedy today in hundreds of homes. Large bottle, small dose, thirty-five cents at any dealer's. Sample free for the asking. "L. F." of Belfast, N. Y., and they will stay for six weeks.

Rev. Mr. R. M. Bukeley of Dobb's Ferry, N. Y., returned home Thursday, having greatly enjoyed his first vacation at Middle Dam.

Judge and Mrs. Geo. W. Klett of New Britain, Conn., have Camp Satisfaction for a month. It is their first visit to this region.

Mrs. Geo. H. Dayton and daughter, Miss Jennie L. Dayton, of Greenwich, Conn., who came the first of August, plan to remain for another month.

The tent in the grove is taken by Mr. W. V. Lyons of Woonsocket, R. I., who greatly enjoys life in the open; Miss Sarah Wales, his aunt, has a room in the hotel.

Miss Helen L. Woodruff of Mount Carmel, Conn., came up to spend the week with her brother's family, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Woodruff.

On Thursday evening a masquerade party was given by the guests, and it was a jolly affair, when Japanese, milkmaids, Indians; clowns, cooks and society ladies danced the Virginia reel, after which refreshments were served.

Sunshine camp is taken for a month by a party coming for their first visit, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Reynolds and son, Master Geo. S., and daughter, Miss Katherine Reynolds, of Glen Ridge, N. J.

One day this week was given up to out door sports. In the morning the girls and boys had a mile run. Miss Stella Prince of Turner came in first on her side, and Ralph Dana, a Boston boy, made the mile in 7 minutes, 50 seconds. Calavame Van Roden of Philadelphia, won the 50 yard dash. Miss Velma Bumpus, won the girls. The standing broad jump for boys under 16 years was won by Frank Allen. For men, Geo. Fowler made the best jump, 8 feet, 3 inches. The potato race was great fun, in which fifteen joined. In the afternoon there was an exciting game of base ball, when two New Haven, Conn., girls, Miss Alice and Miss Rose Woodruff, were pitchers. Both teams were made up of guests, Capt. Ralph Rich and Capt. R. Dana, Boston boys. Score 36 to 32 in favor of Capt. Dana's team. ## THE BIRCHES.

Popular Guests Celebrate Two Important Events.

(Special to Maine Woods).

Birches, Maine, Aug. 18, 1911.

The height of the season finds all the summer pastimes going, and the record crowd fills the camps on the island.

One of the most delightful social events of the season occurred at Camp Mayflower last Monday, when the birthday of Mr. Henry C. Kennedy of New York and the 21st year of his coming here was happily celebrated in the evening. The guests of the island all called at the camp to offer congratulations and best wishes. Punch was served and a handsome birthday cake, decorated with 21 candles, was cut. Good luck is coming as at the same time Mr.
Kennedy blew out every lighted candle.

Mr. Henry Darrack of Philadelphia, and daughters, Misses E. S. and K.
Darrack, who are spending the summer at Kennebucksport, were here for a short stay this week to try log cabin life, and think of coming here for another summer.

A host of friends were glad to greet Lindley Johnson, Jr., of Rosemont, Penn., who arrived Tuesday to spend vacation days on the island.

Mrs. Chas. Wiley of New York, who although not yet able to walk on account of her sprained ankle, one lightful bridge party to guests on the island, after which delicious re-

Miss Marguerite Fuller of Pawtucket, R. I., accompanied by H. J.
Manchester, of Providence, R. I., were week-end guests of her aunt, Mrs. H. C. Kennedy.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Wilson of New York, who are touring the Rangeleys, spent part of the week in camp here.

Mr. Wm. P. Clark and Japanese valet of New York and friends, Mr.
and Mrs. B. R. Blakely of Griffin, Ga. were here for over Sunday en route for Rangeley.

Camp Springfield is taken until the middle of September by Mr. and Mrs.
Francis Speir and daughter, Miss
Sarah and son, Cecil Speir, of South Orange, N. J., who have for their guest, Miss Agnes Wyly, of East Orange, N. J. This is the first visit to the top of Aziscoos mountain on Thursday, reporting an excellent view over the country.

ter, Miss Florence, his sister, Miss Mary Barker, and Miss Bertha Poore, went over to Andover to attend the wedding reception of Mr. and Mrs.

ing day.

PLEASANT ISLAND CAMPS.

Fly Fishing Excellent the Past Week.

(Special to Maine Woods.)

Pleasant Island, Me., Aug. 20, 1911.

Sitting on the piazza tonight, in company with those who had traveled in foreign lands, all were enjoying the wonderful clouded effects. The smoke from the gentlemen's after dinner pipes curled around their heads, and one exclaimed, "I declare in all my travels there never was a spot more beautiful than this!"
Then he began to tell of some of his wanderings along the broad highway, and we talked of the birds, the wild flowers and the trees of the old forest close by for those who come to the island for the summer all love nature.

The fly fishing for the past week has been excellent. Mr. Humbert B.
Powell, the Philadelphia lawyer, who with his family are for their eighth season in Sunset camp, one night after supper went up Cupsuptic to cast the fly and at one cast hooked two trout, one 2-lbs, the other over a pound, and the way they kept him busy for a time was sport enough to delight the heart of any angler. Two other good sized trout, one of 3-lbs were also netted.

Mrs. Frank N. Belding yesterday, caught on a fly a very handsome trout weighing 3¼-lbs that he sent H. L. Welch to mount. Last Wednesday, Mr. Belding caught a 2¼-lb trout, 3¼-lb salmon and one of 5-lbs.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Latimer of New York, who went home on Saturday, have a good fish story to tell,
as on the same day Mrs. Latimer caught a 3-lb salmon and Mr. Latimer one weighing 5¼-lbs.

The following New York people who are greatly enjoying camp life are Mr. and Mrs. Geo. F. Egelson and daughter, Miss Elizabeth, and friends, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Bramley.
It is their first visit to these lakes.
Mr. Bramley is delighted to find such good fly fishing. He has already on the fly taken one trout over 2-lbs and several pounders. The party are to remain until September.

About two miles up Cupsuptic stream Billy has a log cabin named
"Tumblein" and to this camp parties often go for the night, the fishing is excellent near by. Mr. and Mrs.
Frank Belding, Mrs. E. H. Griffith
and Mr. W. Van Sant, New Yorkers, are now camping there, doing their own cooking and proving themselves equal to the occasion.

Mr. Geo. W. King and son, A. H.
King of East Orange, N. J., who were guests here for ten days, went up to Parmachenee with Pete Lufkin, guide. They report the old trail across in good shape.

Mrs. H. W. Cobb, the New Orleans lady, who has come for her first season, declares it will not be her last, and she and her family are already planning to return in 1912. Mrs.

Cobb and her daughter, with Pete Lufkin guide, went over to Lincoln pond on a camping trip this week and counted 23 deer in the lake and feeding on the shore.

Mr. E. H. Hunter came from Brookline, Mass., to spend Sunday with his wife, who is in camp here
for several weeks.

Mr. Wm. J. Boadman of Boston went home Saturday after a pleasant stay of ten days.

Mr. H. C. Gilchrist of New York was part of the week trying his skill fly fishing and with success, although no big ones were landed.

We think the happiest fishers in the land are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Powell, who from the piazza of the camp which extends out over the lake, spent hours fishing, and they caught many chubs that are game for them. Their father, who believes every chub that is caught ought to be killed, has taught his children the same. Not long ago they discovered an odor about Sunset camp that was not pleasing, and upon investigating the cause found under the piazza there were nearly 50 dead chubs, for the kids were industrious fishermen and intended to do their best to kill chubs. If every chub that was caught in the Rangeley lakes was killed, and not tossed back into the water it would be one of the greatest benefits to improve the fishing for they will eat more small fry than any other fish in these waters.

The handsome sea gulls that fly about the lake coming close to the island are watched with interest by
all. Over across the lake lives Mrs.
Sheldrake and a family of 22 little ones who receive their share of admiration, and the family of loons over by little Birch island can be heard calling to one another at night.

Petress the deer, is everyone's pet, as she walks from camp to camp asking in her own way for candy or cake.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Washburne of Newtonville, Mass., who are here for the summer have had fine fishing
this last week. Their catch included seven trout and salmon weighing from 2½-lbs to 4½-lbs each.

BELGRADE LAKES.

Good Fishing and Many Attractions
At This Noted Resort.

(Special to Maine Woods.)

Belgrade Lakes, Aug. 26, 1911.

A short letter from this place
may not be unwelcome. Everybody is decidedly busy these days. The place is full of people, the hotels are crowded to overflowing and turned away. The guides are all busy because the fishing is good, all hands want to go fishing, and they are always well paid, coming in with smiling faces and a big string of fish.

Secretary Knox of Washington is at the Belgrade with Senator Foraker, and they are proving themselves good fishermen.

All sorts of sports are enjoyed,
golfing, tennis and baseball, horse back riding, automobile parties and picnic dinners in the woods and card parties evenings. All seem happy and enjoying themselves these August days.

Mr. Harry and Mrs. Shaw entertain many callers from the lakes at their summer home on Long Point, called "Shawnee" but in reality 'tis a miniature paradise where all are made welcome.

The writer enjoyed an automobile ride with a party to Farmington, the home of the sweetest singer in the world. Many other things of interest were enjoyed and the party returned well pleased, declaring the road contained the most beautiful scenery
in New England.

Rev. E. A. White, who has supplied the pulpit here this summer held the last service last Sunday.
The church was filled with an appreciative audience and the music was furnished by the orchestra from The Belgrade. Both sermon and music were fine.

The library has been well patroni-ed all summer, and with the benefit from Miss Herson's camp is in a prosperous condition.

Dr. L. K. Austin, wife and party of Waterville and Dr. O. W. Turner wife and party from Augusta in their automobile came to the lakes this Sunday and had dinner at the Central House.

BELGRADE LAKE CAMPS.

Black Bass and White Perch Keep Summer Guests Busy.

(Special to Maine Woods.)

Belgrade Lakes, Maine,

Aug. 26, 1911.

Everybody is enjoying themselves
during these pleasant days at camp, and wishing their vacations were longer.

The bass and white perch are taking hold in fine style, one gentleman, Mr. S. G. Beals from New York catching from 40 to 60 bass a day, and white perch once in a while.
Those who have no guides are having very good luck near camp.

Wednesday evening there was a dance and general good time at the dining room. Everyone dressed in something to suit themselves and the music was furnished by the graphophone. Refreshments were served at intermission. Mr. Ed Beals took the part of a farmer and Mr. N.
B. Smith of a ducky woman. There was a queen, milkmaids, Japanese lady, Yama Yama girl and numerous other characters, and the party did not break up until a very late hour for camp.

There is a camp fire going most every evening at which stories are told and marshmallows are toasted.

Friday the annual camp picnic took place. Fishing was on for the morning to secure enough for the fish chowder for dinner. The party landed on one of the beautiful sand beaches and soon had a couple of fires going and while the guides prepared the chowder which, was fine, some others fixed the rest of the dinner. Fish chowder was served first with sandwiches, then pie, cake and such coffee! Watermelon was furnished by one of the guests and then everyone roasted corn on the end of a long stick cut for the purpose. After everything was cleaned up the boats were once more scattered over the lake to catch more fish with varying success. Those who went to the picnic were: Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Beals, Mr. and Mrs. J.
E. L. Beals, and boy, Mr. Demetre, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Ostram, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Elliott and Miss Elliott
and Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Smith, all of New York.

Two went home after a good time fishing and motor boating, but there are more to come to take their places for the beautiful month of September.

This year the trout fishing season has been extended on these lakes from Sept. 15th until Oct. 1st and everyone is waiting for a chance to cast a fly to the big fellows with the possibility of hooking a 9 or 10-lb salmon. The law says only flies can be used, but then the greater sport comes to those who know how to cast the flies.

THE LATEST PERFORMANCE OF STEVEN'S REPEATING SHOT- GUN.

What follows are the latest Steven's repeating shotgun achievements—all of which proves that the Steven's repeater is the fastest and best balanced gun before the public.

At the recent Western handicap,
Omaha, Nebraska, Mr. C. C. Collins tied for high score with 98x100 and shot a regular No. 522 "Trap Shooter" grade Steven's repeating shotgun.

At Prospect Park, Baltimore, Md.,
Mr. Leo Shaab broke 90 out of 100 doubles with a Steven's repeating shotgun.

At the White City Gun club shoot held at Centralia, Illinois, Mr. S.
E. Shank won the Du Pont trophy by breaking 47 clay birds out of a possible 50, from 18 yards rise, a handicap of two yards. Mr. Shank shot a Steven's repeating shotgun.

INTERESTING LETTER FROM A FORMER PHILLIPS CITIZEN.

Sioux City, Iowa, Aug. 21, 1911.
To the Editor of Maine Woods:

I am prompted to write a line for the "Maine Woods" by reading an account of the recent reunion at West Phillips, written by my old time friend, D. F. Hodges, wherein he refers to the reunion twenty-one years ago, and quotes from his memory some words spoken by me at the time. It is a pleasure to think one is remembered by the friends of so long ago, although my recollection of the incident to which he refers is very dim. I do remember of being present on the occasion referred to, and of Mr. N. C. Brackett being there, and many other dear friends whose memory I have cherished through all the years, and many of whom have since passed away. How well I remember Mr. Hodges, and the many pleasant times we have enjoyed together swapping poetry, and incidentally discussing the merits of our cigars, and I can think of no possible greater pleasure than it would afford me to have him in my office this moment smoking the cigars "on me." Referring, however, to the words he quotes me as saying twenty-one years ago, to the effect that I would not care to go back and live my life over again, I am still of the same feeling; life, as sweet as it may be in many respects, is not made up of enough joy, in my opinion, to counterbalance the sorrow and disappointment that come in the train of experience. I am not saying this as a pessimist, for I aim to look on the brighter side of things, but I could not in any way brook the thought of going all over it again.

I have not written for your pages for quite a time, and the reason is that I do not have anything of a personal interest to write. As I have before said, there are no people here, except our own family who came from that part of Maine, and very few from any part of the State; so there are no personal news except relating to ourselves, and we are plodding along about the same all the time. Personally, I do not realize the flight of time, and make a vigorous kick when any one intimates that I am any older than when I came here twenty-one years ago. Notwithstanding my stationary position as regards age, I am forcibly reminded that others who were about my own age when I came here have grown prematurely old, and many of them have had their obituaries written wherein they were called "old men." How wonderfully some people do get their expressions mixed, Mrs. Sawyer, so far as I can see, is quite as stationary as I am regarding the passing years. Our son, Prince, who was sixteen years old when we left Maine, is now thirty-seven, and doing good work in his profession. He has so far outstripped me that I am generally referred to as "Dr. Sawyer's Father," and with that distinction I have to be content, for this is the age of young men, and if the fathers come in for any reference at all, it is sufficient if their names are coupled with the names of the young, even though it be only for the purpose of defining their personality.

I am very greatly interested in the campaign being waged in the old State regarding the liquor question, and cannot think otherwise than that the prohibition amendment will be retained in the constitution. I realize that there is much of sentiment about a constitutional provision of that kind, for, unlike constitutional provisions in general, it is far from self enforcing; but it registers an idea, and the majority of the people of Maine have for many years felt the inspiration of the idea that dram shops were not legally tolerated, and they have been encouraged to better endeavor in all moral lines. I was always a prohibitionist in theory and fact, but soon after coming to this State I became convinced that the sentiment of our cities was not such as to warrant the keeping of an arbitrary prohibitory law on our statutes, and when I was in the General Assembly seventeen years ago I helped frame the law we now have, known as the "mulct law," which does not in any measure repeal the old law, but allows saloons under rigid regulations, whenever petitioned for by a majority of the voters of a city of the first class, and 80 per cent of the voters in a smaller place. While this is sometimes objected to as being in effect local option, yet it is, in fact much less objectionable than local option, for in this case a man cannot hide his action, as the petition is filed with the supervisors, and is constantly open to public scrutiny, and many persons would refuse to sign, who, if a secret vote was had, would vote in favor of saloons. Our condition is much less deplorable than it was under the old order.

Politically, everything is at sixes and sevens in this state. I may say that it is so all over the country. A lot of selfseeking politicians, ostensibly agonizing over the burdens and wrongs of the dear people, but really out for a job for themselves, have succeeded in dividing the Republican party into factions, and are only found advocating harmony when the time of their own candidacy for re-election comes around. Then they are very solicitous that the "grand old party" shall "forget all minor differences, and roll up a solid vote against the common enemy, the democratic party." They have been playing this battledore and shuttlecock game with the party until we find them joining with the democrats in congress to override the President's veto of bills framed entirely in harmony with the principles of the democratic platforms for the past twenty years. The party is about evenly divided in this state between insurgents and regulars, and if the democrats were in any better condition they could easily carry the state at the next election. But both parties being in about the same divided condition, it almost seems as if there will come out of the chaos two new parties to be known in future as conservatives and radicals. Personally, I am not active in the game of politics, but if I were to attempt to make a speech from the republican standpoint, as it was recognized twenty years ago, I should antagonize many of the most monthly leaders in the party, or who claim to be in the party. As Nasby said at one time of the democratic party, "the republican party is not on speaking terms with itself."

We have had a very hot and dry summer, and at one time it was feared crops would be a total failure; but the rain came in season to save the corn, and we shall probably have as good a crop as usual, and the small grain, I am informed, is generally very fair.

Sioux City is growing very rapidly, and it is made up of a warm hearted, generous people. We have always liked them very much and they always treated us as well as we could ask. Since our coming here we have had a good number of visits from old acquaintances in Maine, and they have brought much happiness to us. Miss Georgie Wilbur was with us a few days last spring, and ran off with the heart of every person she met. We only hope she left her heart with us, so that she will have to return for it before a great while. I presume I have unduly crowded your columns, and wearied your readers, and with kindest regards to all friends, I will close. Yours very truly, P. A. Sawyer.

THE BIRCHES.

One Hundred and Six Guests Enjoying Life on This Beautiful Island.

(Special to Maine Woods.)

The Birches, Me., Aug. 26, 1911.
With one hundred and six guests on the island this is a busy and a happy place for those who have come to pass happy days in the good old summer time, care free, amid the beauties of nature.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Allen of Norwood, Mass. have returned for another season.

Among those who for years have spent this month on the island are Mr. and Mrs. U. C. Crosby, of New York, who are again welcomed by old friends. They have taken Cozy camp and with them for their first season are Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Hamilton, of Philadelphia, who are greatly pleased, and will remain until late in September.

Dr. and Mrs. M. K. Elmer, of Bridgeport, N. J. have been for a week in camp.

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. McCoy, of Rumford, and Miss F. T. Murphy, of Berlin, N. H., were here for over Sunday.

Mr. Edward W. Martin, of Hoboken N. J. on Tuesday joined his family who came early in the season.

Mr. John P. Platten and son, J. Homer Platten, of New York, who last fall had Bob Martin, for guide, when he cut his foot so badly, have come back to have another trip with Bob, and they are having the time of their lives. This week Mrs. Platten and her daughter, Miss Gladys I. Platten, came to spend the remainder of the time with them.

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Leary and Miss Ellen Kelley of Boston, have taken one of the camps for a month and are much pleased with this, their first visit.

Two young gentlemen from New York, Walter C. and Lester E. Riley, of New York find this the ideal spot for vacation days.

Mr. Henry W. Parten and sister, Miss Hulda E., of Yonkers, N. Y. and niece, Miss Gertrude Parten, of Hudson, N. Y. are among the new comers. Miss Gertrude Parten is one of the well-known portrait painters in New York, and her work is well known.

Mr. Cortlandt Parker of Newark, N. J., one of the attorneys for the Erie Railroad Co., is here with his nephew, Malcomb Campbell.

Rev. Dr. Jeffreys of Philadelphia, is now entertaining his sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Hobart and daughter, Miss Marguerite Jeffreys Hobart, of New York.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Newman of Lancaster, Penn., friends of Mr. and Mrs. Hampton Todd, came this week for an extended stay.

Coming in his elegant private car, Mr. Geo. F. Brownell, vice-president of the Erie Railroad Co., accompanied by his wife and two sons, Master George A. and Francis A. Brownell, reached Bemis on Tuesday night. The party came directly here by steamer and are greatly enjoying a few days of log cabin life. The car will wait for them at Bemis.

Mrs. E. W. Martin of Hoboken, N. J. gave an afternoon bridge and tea Wednesday at her camp.

The ladies who chanced to learn on Monday it was the birthday of a delightful Yonker, New York lady, Mrs. Harry Farrington, made her a surprise call and offered congratulations, wishing her many happy returns of the day.

Send in your votes for the Rifle. It will be worth while for it will be a dandy, and may be the means of bringing down your deer.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT.

The Tennis tournament which began on Wednesday, Aug. 16 on the court at Mooselookmeguntic House was largely attended all the week by a very enthusiastic crowd.

There were 32 entries for the mixed-doubles and it has been great fun, for as there were more gentlemen than ladies, they dressed to play their parts, and this they did with skill, both in costume and the way they handled the racket. Herbert Pettee alias, Miss Henrietta, who wore auburn hair in a long braid tied with ribbons and dressed in white linen with a picture hat, was the belle of the tournament.

The following were those who entered: Dr. Mecher and Mr. Fitzgerald; Mr. Pond and Miss Buss; Mr. Jerald Towle and Mr. Donald Appleton; Mr. J. Maher and Mr. Marcellas Heppe; Mr. G. Dunham and Miss Iva Comstock; Mr. J. Hendrickson and Miss Agnes O'Gorman; Mr. M. McLaughlin and Miss Louise Cavalli; Mr. Jas. Charles and Mr. Arthur Cole; Mr. Sayer and Miss Comstock; Mr. James O'Gorman and Miss Margareite Shaw; Mr. and Mrs. Tristram Colket; Mr. A. Warnock and Herbert Pettee; Mr. D. McMahon and Miss Edith Shaw; Mr. R. L. Spotts and Miss Carr; Mr. C. Willets and Miss E. Willets; Mr. H. Callman and Miss N. Weiss.

Six prizes were given, two first, two second and the two consolation. The first prizes were two nice fly rods, won by Miss Weiss and Mr. H. Callman. Second prizes, a silver embroidery set and fishing set. The consolation matches were not completed Saturday on account of the heavy shower.

The score keeper for the tournament was, Mr. Tristram Colket of Philadelphia, and the umpire, Mr. G. H. Pettee, of Providence, R. I.

People from Mountain View, Bald Mountain Camps, The Barker, and private camps, often more than 100 attended the matches. The interest increasing daily. It is the general opinion of the spectators that the tournament was the principal affair of the season to date. Much credit is due Miss Willets and Mr. and Mrs. Colket for the success of the tennis tournament.

GOLF.

The finals of the men's championship was played off on Wednesday and won by J. S. Jones of Dyker Meadow C. C., Brooklyn, N. Y., by defeating C. B. Waterman, Brea Burn C. C., Newton, Mass., by 1 up 37 holes. Mr. Jones exhibition of golf was most excellent, he being 6 down after the morning play. The championship cup won by Mr. Jones was a handsome striking silver one.

The consolation cup of the second eight in the men's championship was played for and won by Mr. C. B. Grady of Baltustrol G. C., N. J., by defeating Mr. J. W. Mills of Oquossoc G. C., 3 and 2.

On Wednesday afternoon the ladies putting contest for the silver cup presented by Mrs. G. S. Schaeffe of New York was an event of much interest and watched by a large number of people from the hotel veranda.

This contest was won by Mrs. C. H. Wood of Buffalo, N. Y., with a score of 44. Over 30 ladies entered for the cup, and in their attractive costumes made a very effective picture as they moved over the green.

The usual Saturday tournament was played by over 20 enthusiastic golfers. Mr. C. G. Koss of Oquossoc G. C., after a tie with Mr. Luther Wood of Buffalo C. C.

The exhibition match on Saturday given by the well-known professionals, M. J. Brady of the Wolloston G. C., of Montclair, N. J., and G. L. Bowden of Rangely Lake House was watched by the largest gathering ever on the Oquossoc links. The exhibition four ball match was won by M. J. Brady and J. S. Jones defeating G. L. Bowden and C. B. Waterman, 3 and 2.

Monday a 36 hole match was played between the two professionals for a purse. The home professional defeating his former instructor by 1 stroke. Both players attracted much attention and were loudly applauded for the perfect strokes they made, as it was the best golf ever watched at the Rangeleys. Bowden played a steady game especially his short game, while Brady was slightly off on his putting.

Notes of the Match.

Brady's exhibition of cleek shots were wonderful, he putting 5 out of 6 balls over the bunker on the hole. The bunker is 210 yards from the tee.

Bowden's driving and also his shot game was of fine calibre, having a little the better of his short game over his opponent.

The enthusiastic golfer who watches the match said that Brady is about the best formed professional in the country, and one of the most interesting to watch.

THE PROHIBITION QUESTION.

A Personal Word to the Readers of the Maine Woods.

When, soon after the New Year, it became evident that our peaceful state of Maine was about to be troubled by a fierce struggle over the retention of the prohibitory amendment, the writer was strongly resolved to refrain from newspaper discussion of the question. He was influenced to such a resolve for two reasons. First—Because it seemed unnecessary, others, many of them better informed than he, appeared ready and even anxious to make known their views, and second—he was troubled by the exaggerations, misstatements and scandalous epithets indulged in by both parties to the controversy. He wished to refrain from a too active participation in a contest so strangely provocative of all baser forms of argument.

Yet, as the magnitude of the struggle has become more and more evident, he has felt an increasing interest, until at last he is sure that the least he can do is imitate the example of the old woman, who in time of war, grasped the fire-poker from its place in the chimney-corner, and hurled it at the enemies soldiers as they went marching past, just to show "which side she was on."

He has accordingly asked permission of the editor to use a little space in Maine Woods during the remainder of the campaign that he may "show which side he is on." He hopes in next week's paper to give some of the reasons for the "faith that is in him."

W. C. T. U. NOTES.

"They Welcome Their Children's Children Who Make Compromise With Sin."

All women of the town of Phillips or adjoining towns, who wish their personality and influence to count for righteousness and social truth and the up building and up lifting of all enterprises that make for that end and the overthrow and downfall of all that destroys the home, robs the children and the child life of their birthrights, are cordially invited to unite with the W. C. T. U. in promoting these ends, also in keeping in touch with, and being informed about the great work of the organization and to come in closer contact with each other of different religious organizations and fraternal orders, and be able to work more unitedly for all good, and whenever convenient to attend a monthly meeting where there will be an earnest endeavor to have pleasant and profitable gatherings.

A vast amount of ill health is due to impaired digestion. When the stomach fails to perform its functions properly the whole system becomes deranged. A few doses of Chamberlain's Tablets is all you need. They will strengthen your digestion, invigorate your liver, and regulate your bowels, entirely doing away with that miserable feeling due to faulty digestion. Try it. Many others have been permanently cured—why not you? For sale by W. A. D. Cragin; Chas. E. Dyer of Strong; L. L. Mitchell of Kingfield; Riddle's Pharmacy of Rangeley.

30 have already enrolled and it is hoped that many will be glad to add their names and influence even though not able to be present often.

The next meeting is Tuesday, Sept. 5, 2.30 p. m., in the Methodist Episcopal church to outline work and gain information. Let all interested women in this work come.

The Lewiston Sun has made a canvas of the members of the legislature that something of an idea of the sentiment throughout the state might be learned by sending out a letter asking the following questions:

1. Do you favor the repeal of the prohibition amendment?
2. If yes, do you favor substitution of license for prohibition?
3. What form of license?
4. If no, have you any suggestion as to improvement of the prohibitory laws? (State it.)
5. If the state votes yes, ought Gov. Plaisted to call an extra session of the legislature to consider putting license in place of prohibition?
6. Would you at such extra session vote for license?

It may be of interest to the constituents of our representative, Harry B. Austin, of Phillips to read his answer as copied from the Sun, viz: "No," to all questions, and remarks that the present legislature was not elected to make liquor laws. He says, let a legislature elected on that issue meet it in the future.

Mr. Hiram Ricker, proprietor of the Poland Spring House, and Rev. and Mrs. Livingstone, arrived in town last Friday and put up at The Elmwood. They had been touring the county in the interests of prohibition, and giving out literature all along their route.

On Friday afternoon Mrs. Livingstone, who is state president of the W. C. T. U., of Rhode Island, addressed the ladies in behalf of the work of prohibition and of the W. C. T. U., and of how necessary it was for the women to join hands in this great issue.

In the evening a prohibition rally was held at the Methodist Episcopal church with speeches by Rev. Mr. Livingston, Mr. Ricker, and Mrs. Livingston gave addresses which were listened to by an attentive audience. The young campaigners also had a part on the program in singing the stirring campaign songs.

Mrs. Livingston is one of the leading workers in the W. C. T. U., and gave a very forceful address. In her speech she referred to the finished product in the manufacturing world in relation to the raw material, and of how much more value it was, and then of the finished products of the liquor business which was a telling illustration.

At the meeting of the W. C. T. U., it was decided to have a parade on election day of the Young Campaigners and school children, with floats for the younger children. We wish all the children and boys and girls would take part in this parade.

Thirty years of association—think of it. How the merit of a good thing stands out in that time—or the worthlessness of a bad one. So there's no guesswork in this evidence of Thos. Ariss, Concord, Mich., who writes: "I have used Dr. King's New Discovery for 30 years, and it's the best cough and cold cure I ever used." Once it finds entrance in a home you can't pry it out. Many families have used it forty years. It's the most infallible throat and lung medicine on earth. Unequaled for lagrippe, asthma, hay-fever, croup, quinsy or sore lungs. Price 50c, $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by W. A. D. Cragin; Chas. E. Dyer of Strong; L. L. Mitchell of Kingfield; Riddle's Pharmacy of Rangeley.

WANTED—A man on a farm. Address O. M. Moore, Farmington, Route 4. Phone 18-31, Farmers' line.

ONLY A MASK.

Many are not being benefited by the summer vacation as they should be. Now, notwithstanding much outdoor life, they are little if any stronger or than they were. The tan on their faces is darker and makes them look healthier, but it is only a mask. They are still nervous, easily tired, upset by trifles, and they do not eat nor sleep well. What they need is what tones the nerves, perfects digestion, creates appetite, and makes sleep refreshing, and that is Hood's Sarsaparilla. Pupils and teachers generally will find the chief purpose of the vacation best subserved by this great medicine which, as we know, "builds up the whole system."

Guide's Contest in Maine Woods closes in September. The smartest guide gets a Rifle for fall hunting FREE.

INFLAMMATION AND PAIN

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Creston, Iowa.—"I was troubled for a long time with inflammation, pains in my side, sick headaches and nervousness. I had taken so many medicines that I was discouraged and thought I would never get well. A friend told me of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it restored me to health. I have no more pain, my nerves are stronger and I can do my own work. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured me after everything else had failed, and I recommend it to other suffering women."—Mrs. WM. SEALS, 605 W. Howard St., Creston, Iowa.

Thousands of unsolicited and genuine testimonials like the above prove the efficiency of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is made exclusively from roots and herbs.

Women who suffer from those distressing ills should not lose sight of these facts or doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

If you want special advice write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. She will treat your letter as strictly confidential. For 20 years she has been helping sick women in this way, free of charge. Don't hesitate—write at once.

MONGOLIAN PHEASANTS TO BE LIBERATED.

Spokane, a few days ago, said among other things:

"It is the policy of the government to convert all the reservoirs on federal reclamation projects into national bird reservations, as has been done on the Conconully reservoir, where I have just completed an investigation of conditions. In my report to the department I shall strongly recommend the use of land in the vicinity of the reservoir for the propagation of game birds. Local men will be secured to enforce the rules and regulations of the department, which prohibit shooting and hunting at all seasons. The penalty for violation of the law is any sum not exceeding $500, or imprisonment of not more than six months, or both.

"I feel that the people of north central Washington fully appreciate the purpose of the department in establishing the Conconully reserve and I have reason to think that the sportsmen and citizens generally of the state of Washington will cooperate with the government in the preservation of game birds. I was most favorably impressed with the sentiment I found and I look for highly satisfactory results.

"I shall recommend Conconully and Okanogan county as an ideal place for the propagation of game birds and in all probability the department will send some of the various kinds adapted to this altitude and climate. I was informed that experiments have been made in Okanogan county with Chinese pheasants, and that they are doing fairly well. It has been our experience, however, that this variety is too easily preyed upon by wild animals and larger birds, and that the Mongolian pheasant is better adapted to this country. The people of the county are expected to take care of the young stock until the proper season for liberating them. The department probably will send some Mongolian pheasants and other varieties of birds for experimental purposes."

The Conconully reservation was established by order of President Roosevelt and embraces the area covered by the irrigation reservoir and the adjacent territory as a preserve and breeding ground for game birds.

THE BARKER.

Capt. Barker's Camps Filled to Overflow With Summer Tourists and Fishermen.

(Special to Maine Woods.)

The Barker, Maine, Aug. 22, 1911. As we passed here the other morning in the steamboat a stranger said, "Only look at that row of pretty little houses, why I declare if they are not everyone of them log houses, do people live there?" Several smiled, as someone told them of the delightful way people from New York, Philadelphia and other cities spent their summer at The Barker, each family having their own home camp.

Last evening as I accepted the invitation, "come down to our camp this evening," and entered the big living room where an open fire added warmth and cheer, I wished everyone could pass vacation days as my friends are doing. Every comfort and no care of house keeping, and while one is at their meals or on the lake, like magic the camp is put in order.

At this time among the nearly 100 guests being entertained are some well-known persons: United States Senator James A. O'Gorman of New York and family, including Mrs. O'Gorman, their daughters and husbands; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Duffy, child and maid; Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Malone, their son in law, Mr. James E. McDonald, and daughters, Misses Dolorita, Alice, Anna, and Agnes, and son, James A., Jr. The party have three cabins. The Senator, who takes long walks over the trails, is very much pleased with this region, and declares it is the place to come for rest and comfort. The young people spend most of their time out of doors.

On Monday Daniel McMahon of New York got up a picnic party over to Wildwood camp. Nearly 30 started off in motor boats, first taking a sail over the lake, then landing for the guides to cook the dinner.

Mr. A. M. Thery of New York has returned for another season.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis M. Reinack of New York, after a pleasant stay of ten days started homeward via Dixville Notch, taking the Quebec and Thousand Island trip.

Mrs. R. J. Vance and daughter of New Britain, Conn., arrived Saturday. Jack Vance has been here since early in the season.

Mr. Irving H. Blatt of New York has joined his sisters who have for several weeks been in camp.

Miss Cora F. Calburn and Miss Hilline Foster of Boston are for two weeks enjoying life at The Barker.

Capt. Barker's new and attractive home camp is taken for a month by two New York ladies, Mrs. Jean May and Mrs. M. F. Murdock.

Port Lodge camp, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Scott and daughter, Miss Alice, of Newton Center, Mass. are occupying for a two weeks' stay.

M. H. Ramsay, Jr., and friend, Jas. J. Newman, two young gentlemen of Brooklyn, N. Y., have taken rooms in the hotel for a month.

Mr. Vee Small, the clerk, spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Small, in Farmington.

The guests took great interest and were proud of those from this hotel who played in the tennis tournament at Haines Landing last week.

Those who love the plug fishing spend much time on the lake and the fish record tells of the following salmon caught the past week: Master Wm. Hendrickson, of Ridgewood, N. J., with Ernest Demeritt, guide, a 3-lb salmon; Mr. S. Simonson, New York, 3-lb salmon, Frank Fall, guide; Mrs. J. Goodfriend, of New York, with Gard Hinkley, guide, caught a 6 1/2-lb salmon and Gard Hinkley fishing with a smelt line caught a 5 1/2-lb salmon; Miss Genevieve Clendinin, of New York, 4 1/2-lb salmon; Jack Hendrickson, of Ridgewood, N. J., Ernest Demeritt, guide, 6 1/2-lb salmon; Norman Watkins, Philadelphia, 5-lb salmon, Archie Bennett, guide; Mrs. L. M. Reinack, of New York, 4-lb salmon, Oscar Parker, guide.

The nights and mornings are delightfully cool, and the clear blue sky with the clouds passing over gives a wonderful shadow effect on the mountains.

SEDGELEY, HOYT & CO.

(By G. B. Sedgeley)

Rum and Law

I do not believe, under any condition, in the expensive, damaging, and offensive habit of taking a drink of rum, beer, or old cider.

Maine has had a Prohibition law for sixty years. And for what? To prevent men and women from drinking rum. Has it done it? Not exactly. In every village the size of Phillips, there are a half-dozen, or more successful men, good men for any town to have, who have rum at their homes, or some other convenient place, and drink every week or oftener. This is no secret. Everybody knows it. Children ten years old can give their names. Some of these men are working to retain the Prohibition law. Somehow, I don't feel that their arguments can have a great, or a very good influence on anybody. They don't practise what they preach. But still they want the law so poor men and boys can't get what they have. Don't fool yourselves. Every boy that goes after rum will find it someway.

There is such a thing as having too much law. There is already too much law about rum. No state rum law whether it be a prohibition, or license law can ever be satisfactorily enforced. Why? Simply because of public sentiment. Public sentiment is a powerful thing to deal with. It treads things it don't like under its feet. The law against stealing is not nullified. The law against murder is not nullified. These laws are satisfactorily enforced because public sentiment demands it. The laws regarding brook-fishing are not satisfactorily enforced because of public sentiment. To illustrate. If a person saw a murder committed he would report it. A dozen persons sometimes sees fishing laws broken but don't report to the officers.

I believe, all things considered, that no rum laws, either state or federal, no revenue from the manufacture, or no license to control the sale of liquor would be an improvement over present conditions. Every good citizen knows that if there was no such thing as a divorce law, society would stand on a higher plane. Is it morally right for the government to have a law to license anything so bad in its results as the rum business? If the United States government sells a license for money to a person giving him the legal right to sell rum it should then be the government's duty to protect that person against any state made law. The Maine Prohibition law is to prevent the sale of rum. The government's license law allows its sale. How then can these two conflicting laws be successful with the sentiment of the people about equally divided?

After all that is said and done the sum of the whole thing is this:—If a boy or girl, man or woman want to make good, and live a decent life they will do it, no matter how much rum may be around. And if they do not want to make good, and live a decent life they will not, you cannot make them, even if they never see a drop of rum.

MOUNTAIN VIEW.

Delightful Chicken Dinner Given to Thirty-two Guests.

(Special to Maine Woods).

Aug. 19, 1911.

"Standing room only" has been the saying here the past week as automobile parties would have to go on. Extra beds have been put up and people waiting to take the places of the departing guests, and it is expected the crowd will keep up later than usual in September.

The event of the past week was the dedication of the Catholic church at Oquossoc. Many of the guests from this hotel attending, and all greatly enjoyed the service.

The Rt. Rev. Bishop Walsh, and

More people, men and women, are suffering from bladder and kidney trouble than ever before, and each year more of them turn for quick relief and permanent benefit to Foley's Kidney Remedy, which has proven itself to be one of the most effective remedies for kidney and bladder ailments, that medical science has devised. Sold by W. A. D. Cragin.

party including Rev. Fr. N. Horan of Calais; Rev. Fr. James A. Carey of Portland; Rev. Fr. A. J. Barry of Rumford; Rev. Fr. A. McDougall of New Brunswick, were the guests of the pastor of this parish, Rev. Fr. T. J. McLaughlin of Farmington, during their sojourn here. The Bishop and party greatly enjoyed their stay and the courtesies received. An automobile was placed at their disposal. They had a sail Monday afternoon on Mooselookmeguntic lake. Mr. McLaughlin of Philadelphia, who with his family is here for the summer took the party around Rangeley lake in his motor boat, and all expressed themselves as greatly pleased with this place.

Mr. E. Bengier has returned from a business trip to New York, and will pass the remainder of the season with his family here.

Mr. Henry F. Holloway and sons,

Do not allow your kidney and bladder trouble to develop beyond the reach of medicine. Take Foley's Kidney Pills. They give quick results and stop irregularities with surprising promptness. Sold by W. A. D. Cragin.

Roger T. and Henry F. J., of Montclair, N. J., came today to join Miss Holloway, her mother having recently gone home.

Julia M. Off of New York and Miss Dorothy Dyar of Washington, D. C., who were touring the lakes, spent part of the week at this hotel.

Mr. R. F. Andrews of Boston, who has been here several seasons, came Friday for a week's stay, accompanied by his wife, their sons, John E. and William G. and their daughter, Miss Dorothy Andrews.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Kuanber and daughter, Miss Edna Louise Kuanber of Brooklyn, N. Y., who have been here several seasons, came Friday for a short stay.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gilmore of Brookline, Mass., and Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Millham of Rochester, N. Y., were here for the week-end en route for their homes.

Mrs. J. A. Sawtelle and daughter, Miss E. A. Sawtelle of Brookline, who have been spending the summer in Alaska were greeted by old friends on their arrival this week. They intend to remain here for a month or six weeks.

Mr. A. W. Bissell of New York came Thursday to pass the remainder of the season with his mother, who came several weeks ago.

Mr. C. Edgar Sutphen and daughter, Miss Annie Janet Sutphen of Newark, N. J., arrived on Tuesday to remain until October.

Everyone this week has taken a great interest in the tennis tournament that has been played on the the Mooselookmeguntic House court and crowds have gone over each day.

Mrs. Charles A. Schieren, wife of ex-Mayor Schieren of Brooklyn on Wednesday took a party of lady friends for an automobile ride to Strong and return, stopping at Phillips for dinner.

On Friday evening Mr. W. J. McLaughlin of Philadelphia gave a chicken dinner at the home of Mrs. Quimby, which was an event of special interest for the guests and a happy and memorial occasion. Plates were laid for 32. Among the guests are those of especial talent. The dance of the Navajo Indians was very true and interesting as executed by Mr. Carlton of Philadelphia. But the opinion was that the laurel of literature should be placed upon the brow of the talented Miss Margareite Buss, who in a wonderful manner wove the names of the guests into a description of the occasion, leaving the agatives which were supplied by the guests without anyone knowing in what connection they would be used, until the article was read by Miss Buss, who made the hit of the evening. The guests were taken to and from the dinner in automobiles and everyone expresses hearty thanks for the host who is always by his thoughtful kindness adding much to the happiness of those around him.

UPPER DAM.

Fish Stories More Plentiful Than Fish Just Now.

(Special to Maine Woods).

Upper Dam, Maine, Aug. 19, 1911.

If one comes here now, they need not fear but what they will have good things to eat and plenty of them, but it is like a Chinese puzzle to know when to find a place to sleep. One cannot go to the neighbors for they are miles away, but this is the happiest full house in the lake region.

Just now the new comers are being highly entertained by the fish stories of "that 8-lb salmon," "the 6-lb trout I caught," "When?" is the question, for although the big fish are daily seen not one of the expert anglers here have been able to cast a fly that tempted even a two-pounder to rise, for the past ten days. Fisherman's luck; but as long as every one is contented and passes the joke along it is just as good a place to fish as can be found.

Tonight, Mr. Thomas L. Barber of South Framingham, Mass., one of the best known anglers, who has been an annual comer for nearly half a century, accompanied by his wife and daughter, Mrs. Arthur B. Calkins Loss of Time Means Loss of Pay. Kidney trouble and the ills it breeds means lost time and lost pay to many a working man. M. Baint, 1214 Little Penna St., Stretcher, Ill., was so bad from kidney and bladder trouble that he could not work, but he says: "I took Foley's Kidney Pills for only a short time and get entirely well and was soon able to go back to work, and am feeling well and healthier than before." Foley's Kidney Pills are tonic in action, quick in results—a good friend to the working man or woman who suffers from kidney ills. Sold by W. A. D. Cragin.

of New London, Conn., arrived and will for the remainder of the season occupy the same camp as usual. Their old guide, John Chadwick, is with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. B. Fair and daughter, Miss Beatrice E. Fair, of Havana, Cuba, were greeted by many friends on their arrival Thursday. They have been touring the States and Canada in their automobile and are delighted to return to Upper Dam.

Mr. Frederick L. Jerris, a well-known Portland lawyer accompanied by his sister, Miss H. L. Jerris, and Mr. Edward P. Green, came today for a stay of two weeks.

Mrs. F. R. Baker and little daughters, Florence and Elizabeth and maid of Brooklyn have taken one of the camps until October. Clayton Sweat, will guide the party. Mrs. Wm. B. French of Brookline, Mass., is this season occupying the camp with her friend, Mrs. Barker.

Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Thomas, of Andover, and Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Melcher of Rumford are now at Rishardson pond on a camping trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. B. Beaver have returned to Lewiston and Camp Kirk is taken by a well known New York gentleman, S. Spaulding Fountaine of the New York World, accompanied by his wife, child and maid. This is the first time Mr. Fountaine has visited the Rangeleys and although his friends, Messrs. Van Dusen and Miner have for several years been telling all kinds of fish stories about the trout and salmon they have caught there have yet no fish been taken since his arrival to prove the statement, yet the old steelyards that have done duty can be seen hanging in their accustomed place.

Mr. John H. White and E. P. Bullock of Lewiston accompanied Mr. Walter H. Sawyer, who spent Sunday with his family.

Afternoon teas, auction bridge swimming parties, and picnics make life gay for the ladies.

Mrs. L. Arthur Reese of Philadelphia has joined her husband for a month, and her sister, Mrs. Samuel P. Graham of Louisville, Ky., is with her.

Mr. W. L. Claiborne of Sewanee, Tenn., spent a few days here this week while taking a trip through the lakes.

Mr. Horace C. Dunham, an artist, of Auburndale, Mass., is here for another season.

There is a good prospect of the continued crowded house for the next two weeks and more to remain during September than ever before.

Mrs. Thomas W. Miner, has returned from a few days at her New York home.

The rain is welcomed for the water continues to be very low in the lake, so that the Olivette is not making the usual trips to Bemis.

MOOSELOOKMEGUNTIC HOUSE.

(Special to Maine Woods).

Haines Landing, Me., Aug. 19, 1911.

This hotel and camps never entertained a more delightful crowd than now make merry the days. Tennis has been the attractive feature of this week's sport, and everything else has waited.

Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Hill and family, who came from Memphis, Tenn., in their touring car, after a happy stay of ten days in camp here, left Sunday for Kineo.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Burman of New York are here for their first trip remaining until September.

AMONG THE CHURCHES

At the Methodist Episcopal church Sunday morning Rev. Mr. Millet spoke, taking for his text Luke 10: 28, "And he said unto his, thou hast answered right, this do and thou shalt live."

Very soon after Jesus began his public ministry many were interested in what he could tell them about life and the future. They sought him asking him about it. Nicodemus came, and many others. One ruler a young man, came asking what he should do that he might inherit eternal life. Jesus told him of the commandments that must be kept. To another he had said that all the commandments were gathered together in two, to love God with all his heart, and to love his neighbor as himself.

After Jesus' death the question which the disciples met was concerning the resurrection of Christ. It was the great fact of his resurrection and life that they sought to establish. This was the battle ground upon which they met their opponents.

There was a condition in the promise of life that Jesus gave. "This do, and thou shalt live." Life is not measured by years, but by deeds. We live in the lives of others, in what we have put into their lives. He that loveth his life shall lose it. He that poureth out his life in service to others shall have eternal life.

This is not a cross that is laid upon the church of God, this life of service for others. It is a privilege, a glorious privilege. Thus we make the past live in the present. We need religion in our lives that we make of them not something just for the present, but for eternity.

I remember a teacher in my home town whose life has been a help to his pupils who today speak of the good which he brought into their lives. We need in our schools teachers who shall realize that it is their privilege to help to establish in the lives that come under their training, principles of righteousness and obedience to God, and who shall be faithful to the responsibility resting upon them.

We all need to wake up to the truth which we must face, we are responsible to others for our opportunities of service to them, and for the chance we have to put good into their lives.

Live for others, and God's blessing will come to you for it is true that he who loses his life shall save it. It is true that it is more blessed to give than to receive. If any course be right to take, do not fear to take that way.

In some schools the Bible is put away, and its authority is not taught or recognized. If the question, shall we have the Bible in our schools, ever comes before you, vote for the Bible.

The cause of temperance has suffered because we have not done what we could. We have not enforced the law. But I believe that if we go into the fight with whole hearted purpose to do the best we can in this matter, for the good of the state, for the cause of righteousness, for the eternal good of each citizen, we shall win. We may need to go down into the valley of humiliation, but please God, we shall climb to the heights where we live in his presence. Ask God to keep you true to all that you know is right. This do, and ye shall live."

AN APPRECIATION.

(Special to Maine Woods.)

Round Mountain Camps,
Aug. 18, 1911.

Eleven miles from Eustis, by easy buck-board ride, a little lake lies high among the mountains. A row of cabins, sheltered by spruce and beech, fringes its upper shore. Clean and fresh they rise above the screening branches—a spot of life and light; an answer to the sportsman's call.

Nature has given this camp its name—Round Mountain—by a diadem of eight huge hills which circle the lake and give back its beauty, smile for smile. Up there green sides the mist floats in mantling blue and from their woods the soft lull of whispering trees sinks down at twilight, as trout and salmon jump in the water below.

Against the lower shore the beavers' homes appear, like mushrooms spring up over night. Beyond stretches the wilderness of green, until this downward view is closed by mountain tops, that rear against the sky in misty, dreamy hue.

The strength of the hills, the magic of the woods is in the air to give peace and sweet contentment. Along the trails, the streams, where forest odors have their birth, one can revel in nature's luxuries. Each bend, each turn gives some new picture. Here the black bear in his roving has torn a ragged stump in search of ants. Afar the deep rolling drum of the partridge sounds, while near at hand the deer, with pointed ears, looks an instant, then plunges in the thicket. The sunshine steepens the grass and moss. Waving trees and water tones blend their music to the ear.

Round Mountain gives all this and more. The spell of the woods, the streams, the lakes lies over it to make life sweeter, richer, fuller for those who thrill with love, of glorious nature and marvels at her handiwork.

"Sweet sylvan lake! In Memory's gold
Is set the time, when first
My eye;
From thy green shore beheld
Thee hold,
Thy mirror to the sunset sky!"
Merl Dixon Graves.

ATTACK LIKE TIGERS.

In fighting to keep the blood pure the white corpuscles attack disease germs like tigers. But often germs multiply so fast the little fighters are overcome. Then see pimples, boils, eczema, salt rheum and sores multiply and strength and appetite fall. This condition demands Electric Bitters to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys and to expel poisons from the blood. "They are the best blood purifier," writes C. T. Budahn, of Tracy, Calif., "I have ever found." They make rich, red blood, strong nerves and build up your health. Try them. 50c. at W. A. D. Cragin's; Chas. E. Dyer's of Strong; L. L.
