Be wiser than other people if you can, but do not tell them so.—Chesterfield.

President Taft Tuesday signed the re-apportionment bill under which the House is increased from 391 to 433 members with two more if Arizona and New Mexico are admitted to the union.

In the 49,753 Baptist churches of the United States there are 5,283,944 members. The church expenses for the year were $19,122,261; the foreign missions' receipts $1,057,418; home missions $835,741, and state missions $1,415,743. There are more than 35,000 ordained ministers, and during the past year there were nearly 300,000 baptisms.

Official figures show that Bangor's actual loss in the recent conflagration was but little more than $3,000,000. The figures are staggering enough in themselves but not to be compared with a loss of ten millions, which was at first reported. As in the case of neighbor Camden it will not be many years before Bangor can look back upon her fire as a blessing in disguise.

Don't think that eruption of yours can't be cured. Take Hood's Sarsaparilla—its virtue is its power to cure.

IF THE MAN IN THE MOON WERE A SMOKER

He would certainly choose J. W. A. cigars. For they are certainly stars. They have a flavor all their own, one you don't tire of as you do that of ordinary smokers. Try a J. W. A. Regalia and we miss our guess if you don't adopt it as your favorite brand. It has that "want more" flavor.

The Story of Washington

As Told by Senator Staples at Centennial Celebration of That Town Tuesday—Originally Known As Putnam Plantation.

The history of the town of Washington is not fraught with any thrilling adventures; no great disturbance has ever rocked the citizens to any great contention. Situated inland, no excitement that has oftentimes in the early history of the settlement of Maine, created great commotion among its people, as in the seaboard towns.

The lateness of the settlement of the town forbids any mention of the bloody deeds of the redman, who long before the settlement, roamed unmolested, through the forest, and fished in its lakes and rivers, that at that time must have been abundant, in Medomak Crystal, and Silver Lakes, now the pride of Washington.

Washington was formerly included in the Falmouth and Waldo patents, formed from the western part of Union, and adjacent shores. It was incorporated under the name of Putnam, Feb. 27, 1811, the name being changed June 21, 1823.

The first settlers came from England in 1779, and were Thomas Nelson, Randel Nelson and John Butterfield and Alice Butterfield, who was the wife of Thomas Nelson. They settled near what is now called Stickney's Corner. Their trading port at that time was Wiscasset, and they wended their way there sometimes on foot, and often on horseback, guided by spotted trees.

The first frame house was built in 1802 on the spot where the William Humes residence now stands.

The second frame house was built in 1808 and known as the Bailey house, situated in what is now the village, near the residence of Rev. George H. Lincoln, and the timber from it was used in building the office of L. M. Humes.

The first log house was built in 1798 by Randel Nelson on the spot at Stickney's Corner where J. D. Clark now lives.

It is related that at the close of the war of 1812 Jerusha Pelton, wife of Simon Pelton, who then lived on the farm now owned and occupied by Fred Folsome, was called upon one day by a soldier, fully armed, and asked for food, which the good lady gladly furnished the defender of our country. During the day her patriotism was tested, also her larder, as 90 soldiers called and were fed by this patriotic and generous woman, whose descendants possess the same love for the flag as did her ancestors.

In 1870 some settlers living on the Stevens place in Union, just beyond the Medomak bridge, seeing for the first time smoke arising in the forest of now Washington, took their compass and started out to ascertain if someone had settled upon this territory, hoping to find some neighbors, and to their great delight found the Nelsons and Butterfields encamped in the woods, in what is now known as Stickney's Corner, where they toiled and established homes, and lived and died.

Alexander Humes, a Scotchman, came to Washington in 1810, and settled upon the farm where the late John Humes lived, and the place now occupied by Daniel Weaver. He was the father of John and William Humes, and the grandfather of William Humes, one of our present townsmen.

Elizabeth, wife of Alexander, was from New Castle, on the Tyne, in England.

John Butterfield, one of the first four settlers, married a Miss Dodge from Jefferson, and they raised a family of five children. Mrs. Butterfield died and Mr. Butterfield married Sally Slater, the daughter of the late William Slater, one of the early settlers of our town. Capt. Slater was a noted character, and accumulated considerable wealth. He was with Lord Nelson in the great battle of Trafalgar. He was considered a hero of that engagement, which was told by him in a very interesting manner.

Richard Pierpont was one of the early settlers in this town. He came from England, and while there he learned the weavers trade, and worked some at his trade after emigrating here. He was also an artist in the manufacturing of confectionery, and many are now living who remember his attendance at our elections, with a supply to sell to the hungry politicians, and candidates for office, and each rival candidate would seek to gain favor by a liberal donation of "Pierpont" candy. He married Sarah Slater, a sister of Capt. William Slater, and raised a family of three children, Thomas, John and Catherine, old respected citizens, whose descendants are honorable men and women. George Light probably came to Washington before 1800. His son Henry was killed in the war of 1812. The wife of George Light was Hannah Harvey, from Bristol, Me., of English descent. She could remember instances of the Revolutionary War, and could remember when peace was declared. She died in 1866, with Washington Light, her oldest son.

Peter Light, the grandfather of Joseph and William Light, and great-grandfather of our genial hotelman, W. W. Light, was born in Germany in 1741, and died in 1837. During the Revolutionary War, he was master of a coasting sloop, and was captured by a British cruiser, near Damariscotta Bay. The Americans were all put in irons except Capt. Light, he evincing no desire to escape, was permitted to go out unattended. Availing himself of this liberty, he left his guard asleep and went ashore, set all the cruisers boats adrift save one, with which he went aboard the English vessel, supplied himself with pistols, muskets and ammunition, returned to his own vessel and escaped. The grandfather of Joseph and William Light settled in Washington at an early age. The Light family have added much to the prosperity of the town, and have ever been regarded as desirable citizens.

The Farrar family of our town is of Scotch origin. John and James first settled in the town of Bremen. John Farrar the 2d, and some of his sons served in the Revolutionary War. His son, John 3d, was taken prisoner, and escaped in a shrewd manner. He was placed in a barn, owned and occupied as the British supposed by a Tory, but who in fact, sympathized with the Americans. They placed John in a cart covered him with dressing and hauled him into the field and dumped him, and he escaped and reached the American lines. This man died in our town in 1847 and is buried in the village cemetery. Space will not allow me to trace the genealogy down to the present time. James and Worcester, who were known by many citizens, died in this town after a long life of usefulness, and died respected and lamented.

The Farrar Bros. built a mill on the site of the present Farrar Mill, which was destroyed by fire, but rebuilt and stands today. For three generations they were millmen, and the present Farrars still cling to it. In 1857 James represented the town in Legislature. The family have always occupied a prominent place in the history of our town.

Feb. 27, 1811, the people were coasting about for a name to be used in the incorporation of the plantation. Being of high patriotism and admirers of Gen. Israel Putnam, whose exploits are recorded on the brightest pages of American history, they selected the name Putnam. From Feb. 27, 1811, to Jan. 31, 1823, it remained as Plantation Putnam.

Then again the people cast about for a name for the town, and the reverence for the patriots of the Revolution still lingered in the minds of the people, and they most appropriately went from the hero Putnam to George Washington, the Father of our Country, and in honor of the noble deeds rendered the American people they agreed upon Washington as the new name for the town.

The incorporators, in 1811, were Mark Hatch, John and James Laughlin, John Bowman, David Colamy, Benjamin Speed, William Starrett, Thomas Nelson, James Daggett, Samuel Stickney and Sanford Rhoads.

Among the officers elected at the first town meeting were the following: Joseph Rust, moderator; William Starrett, town clerk; William Starrett, Joseph Rust and Capt. Mark Hatch, selectmen and assessors; Charles G. Patrick, town treasurer.

Space will only allow a short mention of each family. Through the courtesy of Katherine E. Humphrey of Lowell, Mass., I am able to give the early history of the Lenfest family. The name was originally spelled Lenfestey and the progenitor of this family, in America, is authentically known to be of Norman extraction. This family was first heard of at Caen, France. After numerous persecutions, (as they were Huguenots) they emigrated to the Isle of Guernsey, settling at St. Peter's, in the woods, where in 1676, Marie Lenfestey, wife of Peter Lenfestey, and daughter of Nicholas Ellis, had a land grant, as dowry, deed issued by Sir Edmund Andros, then Governor of the Isle of Guernsey. This deed having the old seal of Guernsey upon it, is now in the possession of Edson K. Humphrey of Lowell, Mass., great grandson of the American progenitor.

Peter Lenfestey, the emigrant, came to America in 1751, age 12 years, and was one of the founders of the City of Lewiston, where his children were all born. James, Nicholas and Peter, settled at Washington, all of whom raised large families, and who have been thrifty and industrious people of this town.

William Starrett, who is mentioned among the prominent men of our town, was the real founder of our now beautiful village of Washington. He was a man of good business qualities, and figured in all of our town meetings in the early history, as one of its prominent officers. He was a cousin to Deacon Calvin Starrett, who died in Washington several years ago. Upon his death he left quite a legacy to the Congregational church of our town.

John Bean 90 years ago came to live in the Plantation of Putman, now called North Washington. He came to Washington to Bristol in his mother's arms, on horseback, through a narrow trail, to occupy a cabin among the trees. The grandfather of John Bean lived in New Hampshire. He was a soldier in the Revolutionary War and served his country well. His only surviving child, a daughter, Mrs. Addie A. Hussey, has kindly furnished some historical events, and has shown a great interest in this celebration.

When John Bean came to Putman there was very little money in circulation, and our ancestors at that time would exchange crops, cattle, lumber, etc., for what they actually needed. At that time John Bean and his neighbors were obliged to go to Bristol to get their grain ground, but soon after there was a mill erected at Jefferson for that purpose, and later one in Putnam.

Flour was kept especially for company; corn bread was the staple food; in those days a biscuit was a rarity more than pound cake at the present time. John Bean lived for a long time in a log cabin, until he erected a house, the timber being hewed, and shingles sawed out by hand. When it was torn down three years ago, the timber was sound and was used for another building.

Mrs. Hussey asserts, and seemingly with good authority that the oldest house in town is the John Gilpatrick house situated on Marr's hill, for many years occupied by Marcellus Newhall. In what is now West Washington, the Stephen Newhall house was built 84 years ago, and the Amos Newhall house 88 years ago. Both are standing and occupied at the present time.

The McDowell family originated from Deacon John McDowell, who came from Scotland to Massachusetts in 1790. He worked for a wealthy man in Boston, a Dr. Leach, who failed, and in order to get his pay, he took 215 acres of woodland in what is now Washington, Me. Their transportation from Boston was by vessel to Waldo-boro, about the year 1798, and by ox team to Washington. They landed at the foot of Medomak Pond and their Rockland has been well represented at the Hanks meet in Augusta this week. Some of the boys are busy explaining why the backs of their necks are so badly sunburned.

In spite of the dense fog which made it rather unpleasant to walk, there was a good sized attendance at the Wednesday evening band concert at Oakland. The Thomaston Band gave a good program.

In our Saturday issue it was erroneously stated that the late Gabriel D. Crase died at the home of Mrs. Samuel W. Hewett, where he was faithfully cared for in his last illness. The item should have read "Mrs. Sewall Hewett."

The steamer Sieur de Monts is making excursion trips at excursion rates Wednesday and Saturday between Rockland, Islesboro and Castine. The boat leaves Rockland at 4.15 p. m. and Castine at 6.25 p. m., with dollar rate for the round trip.

There will be a fast and exciting game of baseball at Crescent Beach Saturday afternoon, Rockland vs. Camden. Last Saturday Camden defeated Rockland 5 to 4. Rockland is anxious to turn the tables. Game called at 2.45, admission free.

Representative Arthur B. Packard of Rockport collapsed in front of S. H. Hall's store Thursday and was taken to a physician's office. On his way home he experienced another fainting spell. Overwork and irregularity of meals are ascribed as the cause of his ill-tum.

A torii has been erected at the southern end of the lake promenade at Oakland Park, and two more are contemplated. If your knowledge of Japanese is limited, and you want to see what a torii is, pay a visit to the Park one of these fine days. Better than patent medicine.

Secretary Brunberg, who has been hardening some new muscles during his summer vacation on the farm, resumes his duties at the Y. M. C. A. today. He hasn't promised us a bagful of those nice apples that grow in his Megunticook orchard, and not for the world would we hint at such a thing.

William H. Thomas who has been in the employ of Thorndike & Hix the past seven years, has resigned that position to take the local agency of the Middle States Oil Co., refiners. Mr. Thomas has a wide acquaintance along the coast, a good knowledge of the territory he expects to cover, and the qualifications that make a successful salesman. His friends look for him to make good.

Rev. R. W. Phelan of St. Mary's church, Bath, who has been abroad for the past three months with Rt. Rev. Mgr. McDonough, V. G. of Lewiston, arrived home Sunday evening. A welcome to celebrate his home coming was given by the "Children of Mary" in Music hall Wednesday evening. Much pleasure is expressed on all sides at the safe return of Father Phelan and in the great benefit he has derived from his vacation abroad.—Bath Times.

The summer people of Pleasant Beach had a most enjoyable picnic at Hewett's Island Wednesday. Bert McLeen furnished conveyance, the sloop "Alva." After dinner the gentlemen of the party indulged in a lively game of baseball. On the return to the beach the fog became very dense, but it takes more than fog to dampen the spirits of the Pleasant Beach people.

Mrs. Charles Brown and Blanche Owen of Winthrop, Mass., are the guests of Mr. Warren B. Gardner.

A petition has been filed at the executive department for the pardon of Domenico Tett of Rockland, sentenced to the state prison in 1907 for the murder of Raphael Contorli. The sentence was for life. In his petition he claims that he is not guilty and that the person killed was his friend; that he had no quarrel with any of the persons present and no motive for assaulting anyone. His petition is said to be signed by court officials and a number of the jurors before whom the case was tried.

Well, there will be some crowd at Crescent Beach Sunday.

THE CHILDREN ENJOY

Life out of doors and out of the games which they play and the enjoyment which they receive and the efforts which they make, comes the greater part of that healthful development which is so essential to their happiness when grown. When a laxative is needed, the remedy which is given to them to cleanse and sweeten and strengthen the internal organs on which it acts, should be such as physicians would sanction, because its component parts are known to be wholesome and the remedy itself free from every objectionable quality. The one remedy which physicians and parents, well informed, approve and recommend and which the little ones enjoy, because of its pleasant flavor, its gentle action and its beneficial effects, is—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—and for the same reason it is the only laxative which should be used by the fathers and mothers.

If you would have them grow to manhood and womanhood, strong, healthy and happy, do not give them medicines when medicines are not needed, and when nature requires assistance in the way of a laxative, give them only the simple, pleasant and gentle—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna. As you value the health of the little ones, do not accept any of the substitutes which unscrupulous dealers sometimes offer to increase their profits. Please to remember, the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—is printed on the front of every package. To get its beneficial effects it is necessary to purchase the genuine only. Buy a bottle today to have in the house when needed. Put up in one size only. Regular price 50c a bottle and for sale by all leading druggists.

WEST APPLETON

Miss Leola Ripley, our "Hello Girl," is at her home for a few days' vacation.

Mrs. Harrie Fogg and little girl are at home after a two weeks' visit with her parents at Seaside.

The West Appleton Sunday school held a picnic at Marsh shore last week.

George Robinson is very sick with rheumatism.

The strong eat well, sleep well, look well. The weak don't. Hood's Sarsaparilla makes the weak strong.

WALDOBORO

George Haskell and family of Chicago have arrived and will spend the month of August here.

Miss Ruth Turner, who has been the guest of Miss Madeline Cooney, has returned to her home in Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Winslow made a week-end visit at Martin's Point, guests of G. W. Sweetland.

Mrs. George Haskell and two daughters, Lucille and Catherine, are at the Haskell homestead to spend the month of August. Mr. Haskell will join them later.

G. W. Singer of Damariscotta was in town recently.

Mrs. Della Hastings of Somerville is visiting her sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Genthner.

Albert Brown of Winchester, Mass., was visiting in town last week. He left for home Aug. 5, accompanied by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Brown.

Mrs. Milton McIntyre, who has been critically ill, is improving.

Rev. G. W. Sibley and Miss Sibley of Wayne were in town the first of the week.

Thomas Gay, who has been the guest of his brother, J. T. Gay, at the Point, returned to his home in Damariscotta last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Weaver of Lynn, Mass., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Fred Shuman.

Charles N. Winslow is at home from Portland for his vacation.

Frank Creamer of New York is the guest of the Cooney's at Glenhurst.

Albert Lang of Boston the guest of the Sweetlands at Martin's Point.

Mrs. E. R. Benner is spending a few weeks with her son, Allen R. Benner, at the Point.

The funeral of Miss Eva Winchenbach took place Thursday afternoon, Aug. 10, at 2 o'clock, at the home of the interment at South Waldo.

James P. Boyd returned to his home in Springfield, Mass., last week.

Mrs. Kate Lent Stevenson of Boston was the guest of Mrs. Helen Daggett during her stay in town.

The ladies of the Methodist church held a successful sale Tuesday afternoon last week.

Attack Like Tigers

In fighting to keep the blood pure the white corpuscles, attack disease germs like tigers. They often multiply so fast the little fighters are overcome. Then see pimples, boils, eczema, salt rheum and sores multiply and strength and appetite fall. This condition demands Electric Bitters to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys and to expel poisons from the blood.

"They are the best blood purifier," writes C. T. Budahn, of Tracy, Calif. "I have ever found." They make rich, red blood, strong nerves and build up your health. Try them. 50c at W. H. Kittredge, Rockland; G. I. Robinson Drug Co., Thomaston; R. W. Wiley, Vinalhaven.

ACCUSED OF STEALING

E. E. Chamberlain of Clinton, Me., boldly accuses Bucklen's Arnica Salve of stealing—the sting from burns or scalds—the pain from sores of all kinds—the distress from hemorrhoids, piles, "it robs cuts, corns, bruises, sprains and injuries of their terror," he says, "as a healing remedy its equal don't exist." Only 25c at W. H. Kittredge, Rockland; G. I. Robinson Drug Co., Thomaston; R. W. Wiley, Vinalhaven.

EAST LIBERTY

The sewing circle, which met at Mrs. O. W. Newhall's Wednesday, Aug. 3, was the pleasantest event of the week. About 65 were present. The first part of the afternoon was spent in sewing patchwork; the latter part was the arrival of a hungry neighborhood of men folks and the departure of a goodly lot of food.

The McLain reunion was held at George McLain's Aug. 1. A good number was present and after indulging in croquet and other amusements, interspersed with ice cream, the family took their departure, declaring that the day had been very pleasantly spent.

Mrs. W. A. Whitten visited Mrs. Mary A. Davis recently.

Burnett Wellington and Elwood Hart while returning from the village one evening recently, were confronted by two men, and told to throw up their hands while their pockets were lighted. Up went their hands, but the highwaymen found it impossible to lighten their pockets as neither pocket contained even so much as a pocket knife. No similar cases have been reported so it is evident that these men must have thought liberty an unprofitable place for their business.

Mrs. Martha Whitten called on Mrs. Nettie Nash last week.

Mrs. Nettie Daggett and daughter Georgia were the guests of her father, Joel Jackson, the latter part of last week.

Mr. W. A. Whitten called on Mrs. Helen Eastman Saturday.

EAST WARREN

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cates spent part of last week in Rockland, the guests of their son, James Cates.

Mrs. Alfred Pettie and daughter Bessie are visiting at E. B. Clark's.

Mrs. Roger found it impossible to lighten their pockets as neither pocket contained even so much as a pocket knife. No similar cases have been reported so it is evident that these men must have thought liberty an unprofitable place for their business.

SAVED FROM AN OPERATION

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Peoria, Ill.—"I wish to let every one know what Lydia E. Pinkham's remedies have done for me. For two years I suffered. The doctors said I had tumors, and the only remedy was the surgeon's knife. My mother bought me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and today I am a healthy woman. For months I suffered from inflammation, and your Sanative Wash relieved me. Your Liver Pills have no equal as a cathartic. Any one wishing proof of what your medicines have done for me can get it from any druggist or by writing to me. You can use my testimonial in any way you wish, and I will be glad to answer letters."—Mrs. CHRISTINA REED, 105 Mount St., Peoria, Ill.

Another Operation Avoided. New Orleans, La.—"For years I suffered from severe female troubles. Finally I was confined to my bed and the doctor said an operation was necessary. I gave Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial first, and was saved from an operation."—Mrs. LILY PEYRON, 1111 Kerlerec St., New Orleans, La.

The great volume of unsolicited testimony constantly pouring in proves conclusively that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a remarkable remedy for those distressing feminine ills from which so many women suffer.

CUSHING. Miss Alice Lounsbury of Concord, Mass., is at Vinal Wallace's.

Mrs. Mary Haraden, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Greene of Mansfield, Mass., and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Winchenbach of South Waldo, were guests of Mrs. J. A. Woodcock recently.

Mrs. Robert Wilder, who has been with her daughter, Mrs. W. S. Farnham, for some time, returned to her home in Washington.

Miss Olive Farnham has gone to Presque Isle.

Osmond D. Robinson visited relatives at Belfast last week.

Mrs. Ethel Kenney of Newburyport, Mass., is with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Payson.

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Fales, Carl and Willard Fales, have been at Gay's Island the past week.

James Kenney and friend of Newburyport, Mass., were at Charles Payson's Sunday.

Vernon Wilder of Washburn was in town recently.

Misses Lillian Orff and Eula Young were guests of Carrie Geyer one day last week.

Mrs. Melisse Grover and grandson Walter Brown, are to go to Portland this week, where he has employment.

Miss Ida Elliot and young lady friend are occupying Dr. Henry Elliot's cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Ames are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, born July 27.

G. I. Young was home from Thomaston Sunday.

WALDING, KINMAN & MARTIN, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Testimonials sent free. Price 75 cents per bottle. Sold by all Druggists. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Thirty Years Together. Thirty years of association—think of it. How the merit of a good thing stands out in that time—or the worthlessness of a bad one. So there's no guesswork in this evidence of Thos. Ariss, Concord, Mich., who writes: "I have used Dr. King's New Discovery for 30 years, and it's the best cough and cold cure I ever used." Once it finds entrance in a home you can pry it out. Many families have used it forty years. It's the most infallible throat and lung medicine on earth.

Unquestioned for lagrippe, asthma, hay fever, croup, quinsy or sore lungs. Price 50c, $1.00. Trial bottle free. G. I. Robinson Drug Co., Thomaston; R. W. Wiley, Vinalhaven.

MAN'S CORNER. Mrs. Rebecca Blackington of Rockland and Mrs. Orrin Black of Waldo, were in town one day last week with Matilda Feyler.

Miss Lucy Miller spent the afternoon and evening recently with Colice and Everett Clarry.

W. E. Mank, Orrin Feyler and E. K. Washburn have their hay all harvested.

Carl Martin of Peabody, Mass., joined his wife and two children Wednesday. Mr. Martin has been visiting Mrs. Mabel Mank.

Last Sunday Mrs. W. E. Mank and mother, Mrs. Feyler, Mrs. Carl Martin, two sons, Charlie and Francis, and Miss Lucy M. Miller drove to Union, East Union, South Hope, Camden, back of the mountains around the Turnpike and back through West Rockport, Pleasantville and Warren. (This horse is worth mentioning and works every day.)

Miss Elsie Newbert called on Mrs. Matilda Feyler one day last week. Forty automobiles passed through here one day recently.

Mrs. Moses Newbert is on the sick list. She is attended by Dr. Nash of Jefferson.

Quite a number around here are planning to go to Washington Tuesday. One day last week W. E. Mank sent 1250 1/2 quarts, or 1000.04 worth of blueberries up to Winslow's Mills.

Llewellyn Feyler, Miss Lucy Miller and Glenwood Ross are cutting the hay on the Ausquor Benner place.

HOME DECORATIONS

The decoration of a room may be based upon some special feature of the room—a piece of furniture, a bit of choice china, the coloring of the rug or planned to harmonize with the adjacent rooms.

WALLS—Rich, flat effects are secured by use of Flat-tone finishes. These materials are durable, sanitary and most practical in the home. Used over the old paper, you get the color desired and a durable surface that can be washed with soap and water like the paint on the wood work.

A FLAT-TONE treatment of the old curtains makes them look like new and gives them a color to harmonize with the room.

FLOORS—By using filler stains, wax or varnishes, any shade or finish may be given. For old sort-wood floors, our floor paint or varnish stain may be used to give a lasting surface.

We have finished over 100 rooms the past few months with FLAT-TONE. The first cost is less and being durable, it's the most economical finish all around.

goods were rafted up the pond to a log house that was at that time being erected, located on what is now the Poland orchard, near Medomak Camp. Deacon John died at the age of 90 years.

Three of his sons lived and died in Washington, John, James and William. They lived upright, honorable lives and died respected by all. Their descendants are scattered in different states, but in their different lines of life have proved them to be worthy sons and daughters of their sires.

The Sukeforth family have occupied prominent position. Robert Sukeforth was one of the early settlers, and was the son of Andrew, who came from Germany. He was a very strong man, and, it is said, at one time he brought two bushels of rock salt home from Waldoboro, on his back. He died at an advanced age, in Washington, where he was living with his son. Many of his descendants are living in Washington, and are respected for their industry and good citizenship.

Early in the 19th century, quite a portion of the northern part of the town was owned and populated by the Howard family. Micah Howard came from Massachusetts in 1809, and settled in North Washington. He built a house in the lower field, (then a forest) of what is now called the Micah Howard place. He was in the war of 1812, and was lieutenant. At the age of 50 years he was ordained Baptist minister. He died in Washington. His son Francis was a Free Will Baptist minister, and life resident of this town; was twice married, and had a family of 17 children, of whom three are now living.

Jonathan Howard, the youngest of his brothers, came to Maine in 1820 and married Elizabeth Gilpatrick, daughter of Charles Gilpatrick, who lived on the place where George Hubbard now lives.

On the farm of Jonathan Howard, the abandoned paint mine may be found, where in the 50s red and yellow paint was mined.

Each generation of the Howard family, by their industry and moral rectitude, contributed in a great measure to the success of that part of the town.

There are only two of Jonathan Howard's children living, Charles P. and Rev. J. B. Howard. Both served in the war of 1861. We have five at that time Clark's Corner, so-called, was a lively place. Squire James Clark, as he was called, kept an old-time tavern; also a store, in a large two-story house. This building was burned 60 years ago.

Wild animals were plenty in those days, and places on the Jonathan Howard farm can be shown today where Elizabeth had a desperate encounter with a bear. Surrounded by her young children, she fought desperately and slew the bear.

The town until recently has not had very great educational advantages, although it has sent out many young men who have reflected credit upon the place of their birth. We have five physicians who were born and educated in Washington, who rank high in their profession; namely, Drs. Pierpont, Sukeforth, McCurdy, Burns and Overlock.

The oldest inhabitant of our town is William Jones. He was born here and is hale and hearty at the age of 96 years.

The Burns family is of German descent. The name originally was called Burnheimer, but in later years was modified to Burns. Thomas and James, who lived in our beautiful village, added to its growth and beauty by their energy and perseverance.

William Young came from Bristol in the early history of the town and settled at Razoville. At one time he represented in the Legislature of Maine the towns of Union and Washington. He lived to the age of 88 years. He has only one descendant, in the person of W. M. Staples, who resides in this town.

The history of the town would not be complete without mentioning the names of Dr. Rider, John L. Rockwell and Rev. Elijah Crooker, three men who have figured in days gone by as prominent men in our town. Their manhood and sterling qualities will cause them to be remembered, as among men whose example can well be followed by the rising generation.

The history of the mountain section of our town has been furnished me by our esteemed townsman Hiram S. Evans. Enoch Gove was one of the early settlers were of Scotch and English origin.

Washington village was in those days called Starrett's Mills, named for William Starrett.

George Babb was the first man to teach school in Washington.

The town is in its primeval state. Our magnificent water powers are unimproved, and stand ready to know the wheel of industry in the interest of a higher development financially and socially. Selfishness is not a virtue, but carried beyond a reasonable limit, becomes a crime and a blight upon the progress of any town.

Guard it, and let our slogan be an uplifting of the people, and the development of our town which nature has so lavishly furnished to its people for their benefit.

The rattling of the electric cars will soon be heard and will open up our resources to the markets of the world. The hum of industry will be heard up and down our valleys, driven by the waters of the beautiful Medomak.

One hundred years ago today the ground upon which we stand was an unbroken forest. Not a dwelling house existed. I dare lift the veil, and gaze into the future of our town. I behold great achievements, which will occur in the near future.

Written by Oscar R. Johnson of Warren, Arizona, and read by Mrs. Blanche Moody Johnston of Washington.

A hundred summer's skies have blushed before the eyes of dawn.

A hundred gifts has autumn poured from out her lavish horn.

A hundred winter's joy breath has hushed the brooklet's tune.

A hundred spring's sweet sunny smiles has made the roses bloom.

A hundred years have passed away, a hundred years have gone, since to our dear old mother state our pretty town was born.

The mother state, Massachusetts then, sought thru the halls of fame.

For some cognomen written there, to give the child a name.

'Twas christened "PUTNAM," and this name for many years it held.

Until 'twas changed to "WASHINGTON," the name we love so well.

Let's stroll back thru the realms of time, and hear her history fair.

Just speak the name of some good men, we have recorded there.

The dust here is now at rest, we shed for that no fear.

For well we know the souls set free, and mingling with us they stand.

So real that we can almost reach and take them by the hand.

We see their grave-stones gleaming white, and at the daylight close.

Never Travel Without Sanfords Ginger

It quickly checks stomach and bowel disturbances due to excessive heat or sudden change of water, food and climate; dispels fatigue, indigestion, weakness, nervousness and sleeplessness, knocks out cramps, pains, colds and chills, and wards off many a threatening illness.

early settlers. He settled on the farm now owned by Robert Sukeforth, about the year 1795. Chadrick Jones was also one of the first settlers; then came Benjamin Jones, John Cunningham, Peter Lenfest and James Lenfest, who would be considered by Ex-President Roosevelt as desirable citizens because they together raised a family of 52 children.

The mountain section in the prosperous days of shipbuilding, was noted for its hardwood lumber. Many frames were cut and hauled to Wiscasset and Waldoboro. The town can point with pride to the sterling integrity and great patriotism of the Cunninghams, Lenests, Lenests and Jones' and their descendants.

The Johnston family is deserving of mention as their ancestry dates back to 1754. Thomas Johnston, Senior, came from Scotland. He died in 1814. His son, Thomas Johnston moved to this town at an early date, and raised a large family of children, among whom were Isaac W. Johnston, who died here and whose widow and daughter still live in the village.

Miss Emma Johnston has in her possession a Bible printed in 1791, and is a revision by King James. It is a valuable volume, worthy of perusal. The Johnston family since the early history of the town have been prominent in the social and political affairs of the town and are among our best and most esteemed citizens.

Samuel Clark was born in England in 1780, and about the year 1798, came to this town and married Elsie Butterfield, the first girl born here. He settled on the farm now known as the Enoch Flinders farm, where he lived and died.

The first sawmill was built where Charles Vannash's mill now stands, by Elsha Clark and David Shattuck. The first sawmill was built by the Newhalls.

Joel Pelton and Elsha Clark came to this place to live in 1812. John Bowes and Colamy came early. Colamy settled on what is now known as Colamy's ridge.

It will be noticed that most of the early settlers were of Scotch and English origin.

Washington village was in those days called Starrett's Mills, named for William Starrett.

George Babb was the first man to teach school in Washington.

Enclosed by many a wooded hill, beneath its azure skies,
Quite near the center of the town, a little hamlet lies.
I've viewed it from a neighboring hill, the sun was sinking low,
When every shadow was hidden deep beneath a coat of snow.
Deep fringed the eaves with crystals hung, and in that quiet light,
Reflecting, flashed their tiny sparks, like fire-flashes after night.
Now, while I roam—far, far, from home, a sad-seem's seem to steal
Upon me, and I've lost the joy that once I used to feel.
I love the land where I was bred, my friends so warm and true,
How gladly would I take the old, and give back all the new.

Deep hidden by her wooded shores, where silvery ripples break,
Robed in the hue of twilight skies, lies old Medomak Lake.
Ah—lovely lake! far on thy deep I've seen thy surface shine.
While sweetly slept the waters dark, beneath the whispering pine.
How oft I've watched the setting sun coquetting with its rays,
And like a maiden coy you blushed and trembled 'neath his gaze.
I've sat upon the shady shore and in thy mirror I have I seen
I've seemed to see reflected there sweet faces of my friends and mine.
I've seen the daisies nod and sway upon the grassy brink,
I've seen the cattle kneel deep stand, and of thy water drink.
I've watched the tempest gather black and spread the surface o'er
While with you anger frothed and surged to hear the thunder roar.
I've seen thy surface calm and still, and in the morning shine
I've watched the birch and maple lean and their leaves to the breeze
My friends—such limped waters dark, such calm refreshing shore,
Deserted the name "Medomak Lake" to charm it ever more.

Some towns can boast of statesmen great, who served their nation well,
But we remember some today who for their country fell.
For when the awful war broke out between the North and South
She sent the bravest to the front to face the cannon's roar and wide
Their bones lie now in southern lands—there, where the suffering that they bore thru that war's awful fray
For all the suffering that they bore thru that war's awful fray
For all the suffering that they bore thru that war's awful fray
For all the suffering that they bore thru that war's awful fray

The horologe of Eternity strikes, I hear it soft and low Lovers, those hundred years are like a hundred days, when
The great transcriber, Time, has placed our triumphs, what defeat
No human hand will open them, no human eye explore
What glory, what sorrow and what mirth, what struggles what retreat,
What tears, what smiles within them lies, what triumphs, what defeat
We cannot change the records past, what's written there shall be
The future's blank and unsoiled page lies open now for thee:
Take heed, O bard, Al! ponder well; what's written there shall be

WASHINGTON CENTENNIAL ODE
(Tune, "Yankee Doodle")
Written for the centennial by Mrs. Abbie Moody of Washington.

These people all have come to town
To see the Celebration,
From East and West and North and South
And all parts of the Nation.

Chorus—All the people came to town,
To celebrate with bounty,
From East and West and North and South
Of Washington, Knox County.

They came on foot or in a cart,
No matter what their station,
To see the Celebration,
From East and West and North and South
To see the Celebration.

They love the dear old native place,
And hark to "like old creation,"
To see the Celebration,
From East and West and North and South
To see the Celebration.

And now the happy day is o'er,
We will go with our relation,
For we glad we came today,
To see the Celebration.

late residence. He was one of eight children, being next to the youngest, and in his departure Rockport loses the last of a family who for many years has been identified with the business interests of this town. July 17, 1858, he married Amanda Stetson Tibbets of Camden, their married life covering a period of 53 years. A few years after his marriage Mr. Carleton built and moved into the residence which he has since occupied and to which he was greatly attached. For about 30 years he was employed in teaming lime rock for the well known firm of Carleton, Norwood & Co., retiring 18 years ago to look after the interests of his farm. Besides a wife he leaves ten children—five sons and five daughters. Mrs. Walter Perry of Medford, Mass., Miss Clara Carleton of Boston, Edward F. Mrs. Annie J. Gardner, Miss Emily T. and Wilbur B. of Rockport, Burton L. of Warren, Mass., Ernest of Camden, Walter T. of Rockport and Miss Marian S. of Boston. Funeral services were held at his late residence, Camden road, Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. Henry Jones, Rector of the Episcopal church of Camden officiated. The pallbearers were Capt. Frank Carleton, William E. Carleton, R. W. Carleton and Charles A. Carleton, nephews of the deceased. Interment was in the Carleton cemetery, Union street.

Mrs. M. F. Calderwood, daughter Bernice, and little son Stuart of Northfield, are spending the month of August at the homes of Mrs. A. D. Orne and Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Orne.

Possibly you have summer guests at your home whose names have not appeared in our social column. Those guests would like to have Rockland friends know they are in town, and there's no medium equivalent to the Courier-Gazette. A telephone message, a post card or a word to the reporter will fix matters.

Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Dow of Houlton are guests of Mr. Dow's mother for two weeks. He reports very little excitement in his part of the county regarding the special election soon to be held, the sentiment in Aroostook county being overwhelmingly against repeal.

Mrs. W. H. Spear entertained the Wednesday Club at Oakland Park. The prize was won by Mrs. F. A. Winslow.

Mrs. Gardner Wilcox and daughter Florence of Manchester, N. H., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Allen, Limerock street.

Hon. C. E. Littlefield, who has been spending the past two months at his Rockland home, returned to New York Monday.

Merrill C. Jenkins of Hartford is making a week's visit with his brother, J. S. Jenkins.

A. S. Black and family have returned from their sojourn at Megunticook Lake.

Miss Frances Sweetser, Miss Louise Manning and Miss Nettie Jordan resume their duties at Hewett's next Monday after two weeks' vacation. Miss Sweetser visited at Stonington and Miss Jordan at Cushing. Miss Manning had not caught the "fever" at last accounts.

John de Orsay and family of Waterville are guests of Mrs. de Orsay's brother, Fred M. Smith, at Crescent Beach.

Mrs. H. H. Flint entertained the Friday Club at her cottage, Holiday Beach, Tuesday afternoon. The bridge prize was won by Mrs. Elmer Marston.

Miss Ethel Crockett is home from Boston on her vacation.

Mrs. Elmer Marston of Portland is spending the week with Mrs. H. H. Flint.

An afternoon tea was given in honor of Miss Nina A. Gardner at Ingraham Hill Grove, Wednesday afternoon, by her young lady friends. Dainty refreshments were served followed by a novel utility show. A rustic well was built and filled with mysterious looking packages wrapped in green paper and tied with green ribbon. Long streamers from the buns hung over the side. One long band extended to the serving table and directed Miss Gardner to the concealed spot. There was much merriment and laughter as the bundles were drawn forth and unwrapped.

Mrs. Edith Bachelder, Miss Eliza Swan and Miss Orissa Fogg are having their vacation from Fuller-Cobb's. Miss Fogg is visiting at Lake City.

Mrs. W. H. Bennett of Hyde Park, Mass., is visiting her brother, G. W. Bachelder. Her husband and daughter Helene are visiting relatives in Union.

Mrs. G. W. Bachelder entertained the Thursday Club Thursday afternoon in honor of her guest, Mrs. W. H. Bennett. The bridge prizes were won by Mrs. Charles Fales and Mrs. E. K. Leighton.

WHARF DAY AT ELMORE

Thriving Little Summer Resort Which Is Blessed With Public Spirit.

A visitor to Tenant's Harbor for the last two summers has noticed unusual signs of activity on the South Side or "The Neck." Last summer this culminated in the removal of the old Smith & Aldrich wharves and the starting of a new one at the David Hart wharf.

On July 5 of this year the old-timers opened their eyes in astonishment as the Monhegan landed at the Elmore wharf. Next came the news that hereafter no one need journey from Port Clyde when the tide was low as stops at the E. S. S. Co. would be made at Elmore when tide prevented landing at Tenant's Harbor.

Monday, Aug. 7, as one came up the harbor he wondered at the large display of flags along the railing of the new wharf. He was soon enlightened as he stepped ashore to be tagged with a souvenir announcing that it was "Wharf Day," and for which he was asked to contribute his little mite.

A poster at the postoffice gave them further information of a ball game between the off-time foes, Tenant's Harbor and Elmore ("The Neckers"), to say nothing of a supper following this excitement.

Suffice it to say that at the ball game enough excitement was furnished for the large number of spectators. Among the players were such old acquaintances as Howard Wall, Sewell Wager, Jesse Murphy and Everett Pease. The score doesn't matter except to the satisfaction of "The Harbor" team.

About 100 sat down to supper, after which the crowd amused themselves until a late hour with grab-bags, auctioning of articles put up for sale, the drawing of rugs, etc. Last but not least in importance to those in charge was the comforting news that about $65 had been collected during the day and that all debts owed outside the Village Improvement Association had been paid. The Elmoreites claim a unique record in building a steamboat wharf and paying for it in one year after the construction was begun.

THE LIQUOR SCARECROW

[Lines suggested by an article in last week's Opinion.]

Take courage Prohibition folks, We're surely bound to win, The Boston Rum Trade's on our side, Behold the cash pour in.

The Rum House is divided; How can it longer stand? Fights Prohibition elsewhere, Here gives it welcome hand.

Some License papers want repeal And drunkards just a few, But fifteen hundred men sell rum And on our side stand true.

They'll fight with money, voice and vote For Prohibition laws, And all their influence great will use To aid our righteous cause.

Of all our staunchest workers wise That ever came to Maine, Is one who came from Boston down A riding on the train.

An agent highly paid he came From sales he had to win, Our Temperance cause he came to help Put license on the bum.

Now to our Prohibition camp He wended not his way, But to the Liquor dealers here He went and said his say.

"If you should Local Option win We'll lose our trade in Maine, You'll get it all for your sweet selves The gold and all the gain."

Then keep your Prohibition law, It suits us very well, For we get all your wholesale trade You do not get a smell."

'Tis said the wise rum-sellers here This proposition fine With cash behind it hit at once, And swallowed hook and line.

Rigged up in rum rags reeking rank O' what a scarecrow great! The License papers folded hope! They're in a desperate strait.

THE MIDSUMMER FAIR

The annual midsummer fair at the Congregational church Wednesday afternoon and evening proved a great success under the leadership of Mrs. W. H. Mousley, president of the Woman's Association, with her corps of efficient helpers. The vestry of the church was beautifully decorated with flowers and goldenrod and other wild flowers, under the direction of Misses Gwendolin and Edith Perry. The tables and booths bore a profusion of garden flowers and potted plants, and were laden with fancy and useful articles.

The chairs of the various tables and booths were as follows: Dollar table, Mrs. W. S. White; apron table, Mrs. A. W. Butler; cake table, Mrs. A. E. Keyes; fir pillows, Mrs. A. C. Hahn; linen table, Mrs. C. F. Wood; fancy table, Mrs. E. D. Spear; candy, Miss Elizabeth Farwell; ice cream, Mrs. S. H. Webb; iced tea, Miss Lou. C. Stebbins; bag, Miss Edith Perry; rugs, Mrs. L. F. Starrett; baskets, Miss Esther Mousley and Miss Esther Prescott; supper, Mrs. George Foster, Mrs. W. M. Purinton, Mrs. W. H. Mousley.

The evening entertainment was under the direction of Harriet Shaw, organist, Boston, who was assisted by Miss Mary Jordan, violinist of Thomaston and William Jones, baritone, of Hartford, Conn. The following program of high merit, and splendidly rendered, was presented:

Organ—Sonata No. 6 (Choral and Allegro) Felix Mendelssohn

Baritone—The Penitent, F. Thome

Violin—Andante Religioso, Alexander Gullman

Organ—(a) Sonata No. 7 (Reveries—Dreams) Alexander Gullman

Violin—Meditation from "The Sorcerer's Apprentice" F. Massenet

Baritone—Blow, Blow, Thine Winter Wind, J. Sargeant

Organ—(a) "The Sea A. D. 1620," Edward MacDowell

(b) Sketch "At Twilight," C. Stebbins

Violin—(a) Abundant, Robert Schumann

(b) Menuet, L. van Beethoven

The fair is understood to have netted more than $5000, a pretty good achievement for a muggy day. Mrs. Mousley and her co-workers are to be congratulated—even more so the church.

RESUMES OLD METHOD

The new warden of the state prison, Fred B. Wiggins, has decided to change the system of feeding the prisoners, which he found in vogue at the state prison when he assumed charge. Under the old plan introduced by Warden Norton the prisoners were served their meals at common tables. It was Warden Norton's idea that in this way the general health and wellbeing of the prisoners would be promoted and there would be less waste than in the case when the meals were served in the cells. But the new warden has seen fit to change this system and beginning the middle of August will serve the prisoners their meals in the cells.

MISS ROWAN SPOKE

If Prohibition Doesn't Prohibit Why Does Liquor Traffic Fight It?

The Sunday schools of Knox county were well represented at the rally day picnic at Oakland Park Tuesday. The young folks found many diversions to occupy their attention and in the afternoon Farnham's orchestra furnished a continuous concert.

Before coming to Maine she was told that she would find open saloons in all the cities. At no place has she found an open saloon. As long as the constitution prohibits the sale of liquor, dealing in alcoholic spirits will be outlawed and those who engage in the trade will offend against society and be disgraced.

She spoke of the means used by the liquor dealers in making the saloons as attractive as possible and compared the common and more elaborate saloons. "They are not in the state simply demanding our dollars and cents but they demand something far more precious," she said. "They not only demand but obtain our boys and girls. It is barter, not money, lives. Boys and girls must be furnished and they must come from some home."

Miss Rowan is National Secretary of the Loyal Temperance Legion of the W. C. T. U.

"We advocate constitutional prohibition," she says, "because then it can be changed only by the people, whereas statutory law can be changed by the legislature. We do not remove from the books every constitutional and statutory law because it has not definitely and absolutely eradicated the evil it was framed to fight against. No law ever absolutely prohibited and this one does not and cannot. As long as liquor is manufactured it will be sold."

Miss Rowan emphasized the point that if the prohibitory law does not prohibit in Maine, why is it that the liquor traffic is making such a fight against it?

STATEMENTS DON'T JIBE

North Haven, Aug. 9.

Editor of The Courier-Gazette—The editor of the Rockland Opinion in his Aug. 4th number in discussing the present issue in Maine makes the following statement: "The question of repeal is not a party one at all." Then in the next column he says quoting Senator Johnson: "Anyone outside of our state therefore, who visits it with the idea that he will assist in a great moral movement by opposing the Democratic party in Maine in the campaign for the removal from our Constitution of the amendment which prohibits the sale and manufacture of intoxicating liquors, etc., will only assist the Republican party in its attempt to regain control of the state, etc."

These two statements don't jibe.

Where is the consistency, where is the logic in them? It looks as if the Opinion editor has more mud in his head than he has been slinging at his respects to the repeal arguments through your paper. This communication is of just as much weight as that of it were not written by any "Anonymous Skunk."

SALOONS AND SUICIDES

West Virginian Tells Why License is a Failure—Industries Homed by Rumshops—What Congress Will Do.

Thomas N. Hare, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League in West Virginia has been campaigning in Knox county one week and has yet found no evidence of any strong sentiment in favor of repealing the prohibitory law. He was told before he came here that Knox county was the hardest proposition he would have to tackle, but from what he has seen thus far he is inclined to the belief that a surprise will be in store for the saloon interests when they hear the vote announced on the night of Sept. 11.

A man of rugged physique, powerful voice, and engaging Southern manner, Supt. Hare is today one of the most successful workers in the cause of prohibition. He has campaigned in 30 states and knows how to differentiate between gulf and sincerity. He sees, hears, and talks with all manner of people and knows by heart all of the familiar arguments advanced by the liquor element, including Maine's new society with the long name.

"License," said Mr. Hare to The Courier-Gazette reporter, "is the most complete failure so far as it concerns the regulation of the liquor traffic. In West Virginia, my state, it neither limits the number of saloons nor improves their character. My city, Charleston, has 22,000 population and there are 35 saloons within its immediate vicinity. The license fee there is $2500. Our county was dry for 20 months and the president of the county court published a statement that the yearly expenses were $65,000 less than they were during the wet regime. McDowell county, West Virginia, has 198 convicts in the state prison, or more than the entire state of Maine has at present. Ninety-eight of the McDowell county cases are the direct result of drunkenness or drunken brawls."

"License laws are enforced in no state and the traffic controls policies invariably in license cities, and in order that it may control affairs in its own interest. License carries with it many other evils, brought in as a consequence of competition. Gambling is carried on in connection with saloons and suicides are very frequent."

"This is my third visit to Maine and I am not unfamiliar with conditions here. I know that the law is strictly enforced in some localities and closely handled in others. Congress will get control of the situation at its next session, passing the Miller-Curtis bill which gives dry states control of liquor at the moment it comes within their borders. This would have become a law 10 years ago if arbitrary Joe Cannon had permitted it to reach the floor of the House."

"While the Anti-Saloon League is everywhere opposed to license, it accepts local option in New Jersey for the reason that any attempt to secure statewide prohibition there is hopeless. Under local option we fight for sections of the state that we may use them as object lessons."

"In Maine I hear the old argument that if the laboring man could be permitted to purchase a glass or two of beer he would be satisfied with that, and go home sober. This is not the experience in Wheeling, West Virginia, where there are 100 saloons to 45,000 population. Many of these saloons are located close to the iron manufacturing. The workmen who use liquor have standing accounts in these saloons. They go in by the dozen and drink a round at each other's expense. On paydays they don't go home at all."

"West Virginia, Virginia, Nebraska, Ohio, Indiana and Idaho are now struggling for statewide prohibition and if Maine repeals its law, it will be death to our hopes then. That's why the brewers are fighting so hard to defeat prohibition in this state."

IN SPORTING CIRCLES

The Wiscasset ball team is hunting for trouble and honestly hoping to find it. Having beaten Boothbay, Lisbon Falls and the Henry Cabots of Brunswick, the shire town of Lincoln county feels itself "some pumpkins," and is ready to meet any fast team that will show up. If you doubt this statement write to W. Sewell, the manager.

The Camden-Rockport Y. M. C. A. team defeated Rockland Y. M. C. A. at Oakland Park Tuesday by a score of 23 to 3, and the conscienceless scamps of the nerve to gloat over it. The Rockland Y. M. C. team is made up in large part of old timers, who have been having lots of fun at Oakland for several seasons, with no idea whatever of butting into the professional class. The Street Railway team has been its opponent, and is of about the same calibre. Camden-Rockport Y. M. C. A. asked leave to make it a three-cornered series, and was cordially invited into the game with the understanding that the up-track team would be diluted to about the same strength as its opponents.

A Rockland picked-team defeated the Crescent Beach team 16 to 14 at Crescent Beach Wednesday. The seaside athletes have not lost their confidence, however, and are "coming back" at Rockland one of these fine days.

The man who "knew the Athletics would win" is now much in evidence.

Rockland took another game from Camp Durrell at Crescent Beach Thursday by a score of 11 to 7. Greeley, the good natured twirler of the Campers, was no mystery this time. Long hits were made by Lamb and Fuller. Cottrell was effective. The same teams play next Thursday, and the Rockland and Warren Old Timers play at Crescent Beach Saturday of next week.

CRESCENT BEACH PAVILION

Another big crowd and another big time is what is promised at Crescent Beach Sunday afternoon and evening; and that everyone will have a good time goes without saying. There will be a great musical program by the Boys' Band, while the 15 bushels of clams are being baked. Special pictures and songs, and bathing. Everyone who is out for a fine time at the Beach is sure to have it. Remember special and regular cars leave the foot of Park street 10 minutes of and 20 minutes past every hour every day long.

This Saturday night there is another special dance at the Beach Pavilion and everyone is sure to be at the Beach tonight. The time of your life. Come one, come all, a great time tonight.

Dr. E. Holden Lansing

Will Remain 30 Days Longer on Account of Great Number of Patients

Life Work and Methods of Eminent Physician Now Located in Rockland

Sixteen years ago, Dr. E. Holden Lansing, one of the pioneer physicians in the modern successful fight against so-called chronic and incurable diseases, spent a few months in Rockland, his offices being located in the Pillsbury block. He developed an extensive practice and has established himself as a reputable and trustworthy specialist.

Dr. Lansing is a graduate in medicine and surgery of the far famed American Eclectic Medical College of Cincinnati, Ohio, and served, as already alluded to in the United States army. He is a member of the G. L. Nevins Post, No. 1, Rockford, Department of Illinois, the oldest Grand Army Post in the Union.

Impelled by an irresistible desire to become a benefactor to the sick, he spent long years in earnest study manfully climbing the thorny path of the profession and overcoming by persistent efforts the obstacles that confronted him.

Educated in the West, he commenced to practice in Illinois. During the past twenty years he has not only visited nearly every State and Territory in the Union, doing business in every large city in the West and South, but has visited at several intervals the hospitals of Europe's principal cities, namely: Liverpool, Dublin, Berlin, Vienna, Paris, supplementing his already vast knowledge with the highest achievements the medical leaders of the Old World have gained.

In 1883 he visited Texas, spending about nine months annually in the principal cities of that state until 1887, when he opened the Lake Charles Infirmary, at Lake Charles, La. Two years later, on a visit to Salt Lake City, he discovered a larger field for his usefulness and disposed of his Louisiana interests, and established the Utah Medical and Surgical Hospital at Salt Lake City.

There are men who seem to have a lucky hand, whatever they undertake turns successfully; so with Dr.

Lansing. But if you look behind the scenes you would find that luck, in his case, means natural gift and talent, coupled with unerring judgment and hard work.

Twenty-two years ago last fall he started for a three months' professional trip into the State of Maine. His success was such that he was unable to leave the State. Wherever he went the blessings of those whom he had restored to health and happiness followed him, and the local newspapers paid him the highest tributes. Suffering humanity has found in him a true helping friend.

He makes no charge for consultations, and if he is unable to cure you, he tells you so frankly, with that open-heartedness for which he is notable.

Last season he cured permanently over one hundred cases of cross eyes, hundreds and hundreds of cases of catarrh, and even the worst specimens of piles and hemorrhoids were overcome, two hundred and forty-four cases of deafness were radically cured by his method, and so many happy souls owe it to him that they hear again the sweet voices of their dear ones.

A long array of cripples suffering from rheumatism, gout, kidney trouble, countless numbers of ladies whom Dr. Lansing has permanently cured from various troubles peculiar to their sex, praise the man of this humble sketch more than the best writer was able to picture.

A physician rendering such help deserves to be patronized, aided and encouraged. Success is his, whatever jealous rivals may have to say.

Dr. Lansing differs from most physicians; he advertises his business, and he has been criticized for doing so. No fair-minded person will find fault with Dr. Lansing for advertising his business, surely not if he has a right and a duty to advertise himself, as long as he backs up fully what he claims, and so far he has always done so.

Dr. Lansing may be found at the Lindsey House, and on account of his large number of patients, he is obliged to continue his stay 30 days more.

GAVE HIMSELF AWAY.

Miss Bilyuna—Am I the first one you ever loved?
Lord Gethecoyne—Yes; you're the first girl I ever knew who had all her money in her own name.

READ AT COMMUNION

Letter from Absent Pastor Heard by First Baptist Congregation.

At the communion service in the First Baptist church Sunday morning there was read the following letter from Rev. W. J. Day, who is spending his vacation abroad:

London, July 18.
Dear Brethren and Sisters:—I cannot write to each of you separately, therefore I am sending a little note to you all, to be read at the communion service the first Sunday in August. You will be glad to know that I have been privileged to enjoy every moment of my vacation. The weather has been splendid and I have been in excellent health.

I have finally reached London, where I purpose spending a few days. There is so much of interest in this old world to see, and so little time in which to see it, that one scarce knows what to omit. You may be sure that I am seeing all I possibly can. My eyes and ears are well open.

My people at home have been often in my mind. I have not neglected to pray for the church and all its interests; and I have seen that you were remembering me. Continue so to do, until in the goodness of our Heavenly Father we are again reunited in the Master's service in September. "God be with you till we meet again."

Your Pastor,
W. J. Day.

The above letter was contained in a personal communication to Rev. W. O. Holman, in which Mr. Day stated that he had about concluded his London visit and was going to the continent to gratify a long-standing desire to see Switzerland.

ONLY A MASK

Many are not being benefited by the summer vacation as they should be. Now, notwithstanding much outdoor life, they are little if any stronger than they were. The tan on their faces is darker and makes them look healthier, but it is only a mask. They are still nervous, easily tired, upset by trifles, and they do not eat nor sleep well. What they need is what tones the nerves, perfects digestion, creates appetite, and makes sleep refreshing, and that is Hood's Sarsaparilla. Pupils and teachers generally will find the chief purpose of the vacation best subserved by this great medicine, which, as we know, "builds up the whole system."

BORN AT VINALHAVEN

Perhaps That Accounts for Dr. Packard's Rapid Advance in Profession of Dentistry.

The following clipping from "On the St. Lawrence," published in Clayton, N. Y., will be read with pleasure by many persons in Rockland and Vinalhaven:

"W. Thornton Packard, who received his degree from the University of Pennsylvania in June, was selected Saturday from several candidates for the position of attending dentist in the public school dispensary which is to be established in Syracuse in September.

"In its efforts to find a young man suited to the requirement of the position the Syracuse Dental Society has nearly exhausted the graduating lists of all the large Eastern colleges, which included the study of dentistry on their curriculum. Dr. Packard has the commendation of the Pennsylvania faculty. His home is in Clayton. The work will be financed by popular subscription, and at least $1,500 will be needed the first year. For the examination of the children on practically the same lines pursued by the medical authorities, the school officials will be asked to set aside an hour daily for a month or so."

Dr. Packard is a son of Mrs. Emma F. Packard of Clayton, N. Y., formerly of Rockland, whose husband, also a native of Rockland, was foreman for some years of the Booth Bros. and Hurlburt's Ice Granite Co. Dr. Packard was born at Vinalhaven.

For pimples, blotches, bad complexion, Hood's Sarsaparilla is the medicine to take—it has established this fact.

ROCKLAND THEATRE

Klark-Urban Company Plays Here All Next Week.

No company traveling today has a more enviable reputation than the well known and popular company bearing the name of Klark-Urban, who will appear at the Rockland Theatre for six nights and Saturday matinee, commencing Monday evening, Aug. 14. It is a company of the highest caliber, and the organization that is accepted throughout the country as a standard of excellence, and the reputation that it has acquired during the past ten years of unvarying success will be more than sustaining during the present season. The company is headed by Miss Maisie Cecil and Harden Klark, and the supporting company is large and well balanced, containing in its roster some of the best artists in the theatrical profession. It is perfectly equipped with all the attributes necessary for first-class performances, every play being presented with all special scenery, beautiful and expensive wardrobe, the ladies alone wearing over one hundred beautiful gowns during the engagement. The following is the list of plays to be presented: "Capt. Clay of Missouri," "In the Bishop's Carriage," "The Little Gray Lady," "Cameo Kirby," "The Belle of Richmond," and "A Woman's Sacrifice." The following high class vaudeville will be introduced at each and every performance: Fred Bollinger, aerial artist; "Robetta," bounding rope and slack wire; Grace Leith, The Funny Old Maid; Marie Hodgkins, vocalist; Billy Webb, comedian, and dancer; Schriber and Urban, musical artists. Seats on sale at box office Saturday, Aug. 12.

ITCHING SKIN QUICKLY COOLED

Hot weather means skin trouble for many people, but now you can stop the itch instantly.

Just a few drops of the cooling and healing winter green lotion and the itch is gone—not in half an hour—not in ten minutes—but in five seconds.

This simple wash is known as D. D. D. Prescription for Eczema, and usually sells for $1.00 a bottle, but now by special arrangement you can get trial size bottles for 25 cents. This will be enough to show you why we always recommend D. D. D. for all skin troubles. D. D. D. gives instant relief.

Leather Trust Skins the Shoe Wearer Both Ways

The price of Trust-tanned leather is up—its quality is worse than ever before in the history of the trade.

The cause of it all is that the Leather Trust shut down its tanneries—and is putting its second-grade leather on the market at an increased price.

How many ordinary shoe manufacturers do you suppose can afford to refuse this second-grade leather? Not one! You, the shoe buyer and wearer, have got to keep both eyes open and protect yourself.

You can get honest shoes if you want them. You can get them 50 cents to $1.00 cheaper than you are now paying for ordinary shoes.

Right here in this town you can get Endicott-Johnson shoes—made by the only shoe manufacturers in America who tan their own leather—Independent of the Leather Trust.

Endicott, Johnson & Co. buy their hides in the open markets of the world. They own their tanneries. They build their shoes from the ground up of honest leather. They sell direct to your home shoe dealer.

The Endicott-Johnson dress and business shoe is the ENDWELL (Good-year Welt). It sells for $3.00, $3.50 and $4.00. It is a handsome shoe. It will give you service and comfort that you cannot get in any other shoe at any price.

You are not limited as to style in ENDWELL shoes. You can have any last and shape of toe—right up to the minute. Shoe or Oxford—Lace and Button—your choice of all the colors of leather.

Identify it by this name—stamped in every shoe—
